Around Town

Although it was just one of many, Hereford had a good show on television from the State Fairgrounds Monday. Bill Lenderman and Don De were really "selling" Deaf Smith area. The Big Band and the Lampers, stage band, presented some fine musical entertainment. Understand the State Fair is another thing success. Only drawback is that it surely draws a lot of money away from home, never to be seen in.

You haven't seen the Hereford Junior High football team yet, you've really missed it. They play a good brand of football for their size and experience. There are so many boys, they want to play on the seventh grade team that the assistant coaches do not want to keep a record of wins and hasn't played. It's like everyone on the team got into the game, which is our contention that high school should be de-emphasized to the extent that maximum number of boys play. Of course, they should play to win, but on that participation is par-ally vociferous to the point of being obnoxious, the former Aggies around town have been noticeable by their absence this week. Tech boosters, after recalling a total of victories in two full seasons, usually have one good season against South Conference foes. Maybe was it.

You don't believe things in a whirl around town. See Page One, Section 1. Nuff said.

COMMUNITY CENTER MEETING—Thirteen members attended a joint meeting of the Community Center finance and planning committees in the City Manager's office Tuesday evening. ## Committees Begin Work On Proposed Youth Center

Thirteen members gathered for a joint meeting of the planning and finance committees of the proposed Youth and Civic Center in the City Manager's office Tuesday evening and discussed tentative plans for the building.

Earnest Langley was elected to serve as chairman of the planning committee in future meetings. The committee set its next meeting date at 5 p.m., Sept. 30, in the City Manager's office.

City Manager Dudley Bayne showed proposed plans of the building to the group and explained details. He pointed out that, under the current plans, the building will cover 8,084 square feet. He added that the size of largest room, the banquet room, would be 64 by 40 feet.

Don Zimmerman, co-chairman of both committees, presided over a discussion of the proposed construction and operation of the building. Zimmerman said that the building would be constructed so that additional facilities could be added easily.

In voicing suggestions and criticisms of the building, all members agreed that the tentative plans so far were in good order. Langley expressed the opinion that the most difficult planning of the building was already completed.

Zimmerman said he thought it might be a good idea to invite various representatives of organizations to future meetings and asked that members of the planning committee contact organizations to find out what steps should be taken in providing an adequate building for the benefit (Continued on Page 1)

30 Days, Costs Given For Theft

Two Latin-Americans pleaded guilty to charge of theft in County Court last week.

Jesse Alonzo and Lolo Jimenez of Amarillo were sentenced to 30 days in County Jail and were assessed costs of court.

The pair, brought in to Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department on a "citizen's arrest" by W. W. Rhodes, manager of Highway 60 Service Station, last week, were charged for the theft of an automobile tire from Rhodes' station.

Schroeter Wins First Contest

It took 15 correct picks to get in the running on The Brand's first 1958 weekly football contest. And it took the tie-breakers to decide the initial winner from among the four who had 15 winners.

Paul Schroeter, Box 73, took first place honors. He will receive a $5 certificate good for trade at the Hereford Creamery.

In second place was Ruth Loerwald, 405 McKinley, followed by Bill Knox, 244 West 4th. Second place is worth $3 cash and third gets $2 cash.

All prizes may be picked up at The Brand office. And don't forget to turn in your entry before 5 p.m. Friday in order to be eligible for the weekly prizes and the grand prize of two tickets to the Cotton Bowl game on New Year's Day.

In Community "C," elected were: Northcutt, chairman; Glenn Burrus, vice chairman; Lewis Smith, member; Harold Head, first alternate; and Ralph W. Mitchell, second alternate.

Elected in Community "D" were: Pinnell, chairman; Jack Fortenberry, vice chairman; J. V. Ferrin, member; James R. Overstreet, first alternate; and Glenn B. Allred, second alternate.

All community and county committees will take office Oct. 1.

All County Committeemen Elected For ASC

Members of the Deaf Smith County committee of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office were elected to office at a meeting Monday evening in the community room Wednesday.

Attending the meeting as community chairmen were Elmer Northcutt, chairman; Elmo Pinnell, vice chairman; Mike Betzen, secretary; and C. R. Dameron, member.

Community committeemen of the ASC office recently were elected by farm owners and operators and their wives.

Elected to office in Community "A" included: Dameron, chairman; Virgil P. Walker, vice chairman; George W. Duncan, member; T. L. Sparkman Jr., first alternate; and J. D. Gilbert Jr., second alternate.

Elected in Community "B" were: Betzen, chairman; Jay Fortenberry, vice chairman;

Begin Milo, Cotton Work

Area elevator operators reported Wednesday that maize is already being harvested by growers and the outlook for the 1958 crop looks good.

Maize harvest is expected to be in full swing from 10 days to two weeks. Moisture content of the grain which has already been brought in to elevators has tested from 12 1/2 per cent to 16 1/2 per cent.

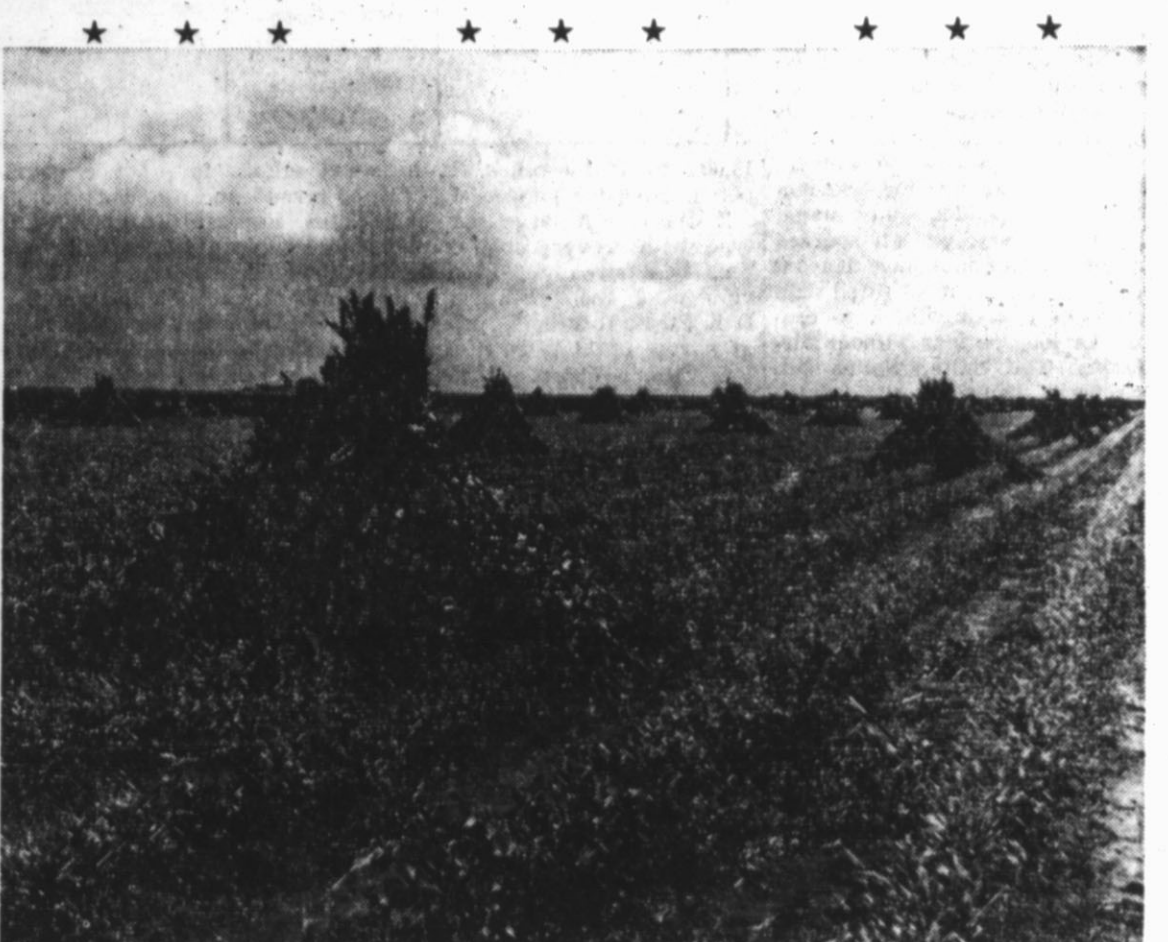

John D. Pitman of Pitman Grain Company estimated that less than 10 per cent of the maize crop has been cut so far. Pitman and other operators said that maize harvest will get into full swing soon if the weather remains the same as it has in the past few days.

John McCleskey, manager of Hereford Gin, reports a "fair yield, excellent grade" of cotton this year. Through Wednesday morning, 16 bales had been ginned there.

McCleskey said the lack of cotton pullers in this area had slowed down the cotton harvest considerably. He predicted a larger supply of cotton pullers later, however.

Pat Patterson, local representative of the State Employment Service, said the supply of migrant laborers in the area is barely supplying the demands of the maize harvest.

Patterson said that cotton growers in the area needed a-

Reserve Program Deadline Friday

Friday is the latest date that requests for establishing a rate under the Conservation Reserve Program can be accepted, reminds Faust Collier, office manager of Deaf Smith County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

If the rate offered is satisfactory to the applicant, Collier said, Oct. 17 will be the latest date for contract commitment.

Collier asked that when interested farmers go to the county ASC office to make application, they take information about the acreage of each crop on their farm for the past two years and the average yield of the main three crops so that maximum payment rates can be determined.

Collier said the Acreage Reserve Program, usually known as Soil Bank, for reducing allotment crop acreage is not available for 1959.

He reminded producers that they should compare the net income they normally receive from the operation of their farm with the net income they will receive under the Conservation Reserve Program if they place all or part of their eligible land in the program.

'Whiteface' Makes Fall Appearance

First issue of the 1958-59 Whiteface, official publication of Hereford High School, appears on the front page of Section Three of this issue of The Brand.

The student-written paper will be published in alternate Thursday issues of The Brand until school closes next spring.

News and chatter about people and events at Hereford High will get complete coverage on this page.

Big, Single Wing Bulldogs Contest Whitefaces Friday

Hereford football fans probably will get just one good look at the powerhouse single wing formation and that will be Friday night at Whiteface Field. The Plainview Bulldogs will use a potent attack from the single wing, one of the few teams in Texas high school football which does use the attack.

Scouts and observers have been impressed with the size of the Plainview squad, but pointed out the team can be outrun. In their first game of the season, the Bulldogs were outrun, around end, by the speedy Littlefield Wildcats. Dropping a 14-8 decision to the Wildcats, Plainview came back last week to defeat the Brownfield Cubs, 14-0, and even their record at one.

Hereford's Herd still is looking for its first win, having been defeated by Canyon, 17-8, and by Dimmitt, 6-0. Plainview's attack this year has been hurt by the loss of All-State tailback Jesse McGuire. However, an effective replacement seems to be Elgin Conner, who has scored 12 points in two games. He is being aided by wingback Ronny Stokes, who has tallied the remaining 10 points chalked up by the Bulldogs this year.

Hereford head coach Bobby Williams reported his squad would be at top strength for their test against the AAAA Bulldogs. Hereford coaches reported they have been encouraged by the improvements shown in workouts this week. Line play is getting stiffer with each game, Williams said, while the backfield is beginning to hit with more drive and authority.

HEADING HOME, Jimmy Haney, Hereford seventh grade griddier, had a big Tuesday night as he scored two touchdowns. Here he outruns Canyon fans to score on a 70-yard run from scrimmage. (Staff Photo)

According to scouting reports, Plainview has one of the largest teams in the Panhandle area, with tough defensive play all along the line.

Cited as top Bulldog linemen have been Perry McWilliams and Bobby Huntington.

Coach Williams reported that C. D. Fitzgerald, who was shot in the foot this summer, is working out with the team, but probably will not be able to play for at least three more weeks. The husky senior fullback had been counted on to supply backfield power this season, but the injury may keep Fitzgerald from going top speed all season, Williams said.

Hereford's junior high teams Tuesday night split a pair of games with Canyon at Whiteface Field.

Oklahoma Nabs Another Sought For Well Theft

Beverly Gene Bradford, 30, charged with theft here, was turned over to Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department by authorities in Venita, Okla., Saturday. He was being held here this week in connection with a ring of oil pipe thefts, which extended from oil fields in West Texas to sales outlets in Oklahoma.

Justice of the Peace Berry Miles set bond for Bradford at $3,000 Monday. Bradford made bond and was released Tuesday afternoon.

The case touched Hereford July 28, when Joe Evans and Henry Sears reported theft of around 244 joints of 30-foot pipe which had been pulled from the LaMance test well, west of Hereford. Value of the pipe was estimated from $3,000 to $3,500.

Charged here last month in connection with the case was Dale Berry of Lubbock. Sheriff Charles Skelton said that one more member of the gang would be charged when apprehended. Bradford was transported to Hereford by Deputy Sheriff L. R. Cherryhomes.

Miller Acts As County Judge

In absence of County Judge Homer Henslee, who is now on vacation, Bruce Miller, Hereford attorney, has been elected to serve as special county judge until Henslee's return.

Miller was elected by the Deaf Smith County Bar Association Friday to fill the temporary vacancy left by Henslee.

Henslee left Hereford Thursday and is expected to return Oct. 1. Through Tuesday, Miller had heard four county court cases.

Herefordites At Hiway Meetings

Definite progress is being made on securing federal designation for Highway 51 as International Paris Highway. The report was made by three Herefordites who attended a meeting Monday in Odessa of the Highway 51 Association. Delegates from Hereford included Jimmie Allred, Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce highway chairman, Police Chief Henry Aycock and J. C. Allred. Association members who attended the meeting were lunch-

How We Stand In The SUB WAR

Atom Fleet Keeps U. S. In the Race

By BERNARD GAVZER
The United States has lagged behind Russia in flinging massive satellites into space but it is first in another direction: beneath the sea. The success of the Nautilus, Seawolf and Skate — first operational atomic-powered submarines in the world — out-distances the Russians by perhaps three years.

But in numbers of conventional submarines, the Soviets have a lop-sided advantage. Numbers vary, but all sources agree the Russians have at least 475 submarines, most fitted with snorkels enabling them to cruise for long periods without surfacing. The United States sub strength, including the three atomic powered boats already in the fleet, is set at 110 by the Defense Department.

Top Navy officials admit Russian submarines have been operating close to both our Atlantic and Pacific shores. Intelligence sources estimate the Soviet fleet has about 250 modern submarines capable of sailing to any point on earth.

Major Red Types
The three major classes forming the present attack force of the Russian fleet are:

W Class — A sea-going patrol type with a sailing radius of

U. S. NUCLEAR SUBMARINE FLEET
COMMISSIONED	LAUNCHED	UNDER CONSTRUCTION	AUTHORIZED BUT NOT STARTED
NAUTILUS	TRITON	4 EQUIPPED WITH GUIDED MISSILES
SKATE	SKIPJACK	9 EQUIPPED WITH BALLISTIC MISSILES
SEAWOLF	SEADRAGON	12 ATTACK TYPE
	SWORDFISH
	SARGO

13,000 to 16,000 miles. It has potent offensive power.

Z Class — A large sea-going type with a very long range. This is a streamlined, modern version of the pre-World War II K Class. It is being produced at a rate of 18 to 20 a year.

Q Class — Post World War II boats, these have better streamlining than either the W or Z classes but are smaller in size (over-all length of 180 feet compared to 245 for W Class and 310 for Z Class) and have a shorter range.

The Soviets also have a vast flotilla of more than 150 M Class coastal submarines.

The Russian sub production rate, since 1950, has been estimated at six times that of the United States. However, some sources report building of conventional submarines has slowed down because of a Russian crash program for cargo ships and efforts to produce atomic powered and guided missile subs. Experts assume Russia has equipped some of its subs with guided missiles, but no number has been hazarded.

Atom Put to Work
Although the United States still is building some conventionally powered subs, the effort now is to capitalize on its nuclear-powered lead. Besides the three A-sub's it has in commission, the U. S. Navy has five others in the water, 14 in various stages of construction, and 11 more authorized.

The Nautilus, Seawolf and Skate are classified as attack types. The Triton, which slid down the ways last month, is the largest submarine ever launched and intended for radar-picket duty. The Skipjack, also in the water, is the first of a radical new design providing unprecedented maneuverability (it is literally "flown" in the water with airplane-type controls).

Among the 25 A-sub's under construction or authorized are nine which will be equipped to fire the 1,500-mile ballistic missile Polaris from beneath the sea, and four capable of launching the 1,000 Regulus II guided missile.

Missile Equipped
The Navy has limited submarine-launched missile capability now. The Barbero and Tunny, conventionally powered with snorkel breathing devices, have both fired the sub-sonic 500-mile Regulus I. The Grayback and the Growler, also with conventional power plants, were modified in final stages of construction to carry the Regulus II.

The remainder of the 100-odd U. S. operating fleet is made up largely of Gato and Balao Class boats, about half of which have been equipped with snorkels.

The Russians claim they are building subs in order to protect their long coastline. But Western navy officials say the reason is simply to build up a force which can cut Allied supply lines in time of war.

Some measure of the hazard can be understood when this fact is considered: Nazi Germany nearly severed transatlantic shipping lines early in World War II with a U-boat fleet which never rose higher than 166 operational vessels. The Russians have about three times that many right now.

Slight Injury In Sunday Wreck

A woman escaped serious injury one-half mile west on the Harrison Highway Sunday evening, when her car went out of control, hit a mail box and the end of a culvert and came to a stop after skidding 75 feet.

Treated for minor lacerations of the face at Deaf Smith County hospital was Mrs. Marie Armstrong of Clovis, N. M., Deputy Sheriff Bill McCarter, who investigated the accident, said that Mrs. Armstrong's 1950 model car apparently went out of control as she was traveling east on the Harrison Highway at about 6:30 p.m. The car, he said, left the highway on the left side.

Quite the opposite, they say. Because fishermen are reluctant to talk about their exploits, they pose a serious handicap to scientific fish management. Fishermen probably keep things to themselves, they add, because big stories draw competition.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. What is a good streamlining exercise for waistline, hips, and thighs?

A. Lie on floor, arms outstretched shoulder-high, palms down. Swing left leg across the body trying to touch the right hand, and return. Do the same with the right leg, swinging it across the body and trying to touch the left hand. Keep repeating in good rhythm.

Q. I've heard of the application of rouge on the chin. What is the purpose of this?

A. Rouge on the tip of the chin seems to shorten the chin and the face. So, rouge is good here if your chin is long or sharply pointed. Or if your face is long and thin. Rouge on the chin must always be very faint and well blended, of course, and must not look like a frozen red tip!

Q. How can I make a quick emergency repair to my makeup without removing the old and applying new?

A. If you'll pat over it lightly with a cotton pad dampened with skin freshener or astringent, this will remove much of the accumulated oil, grease, and grime.

Q. What special care can I give to a very oily complexion?

A. Use a complexion brush at least three times a week. The oily condition is partly due to a sluggish circulation — so whip it up by scrubbing. Try to get sunshine on your face whenever possible — when the skin is free of all cosmetics.

Q. What do you think is important for the youthful appearance of a middle-aged face?

A. To maintain, through the deft application of your makeup, the upward curve of your eyebrows and lips. Your best help here is a photograph of yourself between ages 20 and 25. Use this to copy the curve of your brows, mouth, and other youthful facial features.

Q. Is it really necessary for me to wear polish on my fingernails for beauty's sake?

A. Certainly not. Many women look beautiful with natural nails buffed to a high polish with nail powder.

Q. Does it make any difference, when one is trying to reduce, how the daily intake of calories is divided up among the three meals?

A. No. Just be sure to hold your daily intake to not more than about 1,400 calories. Most women reduce successfully, and without discomfort, on about 1,200 calories per day.

Q. How is a girl supposed to know whether or not to full evening dress for a social affair?

A. Usually the form of invitation will tell you this. The word "formal" printed or engraved invitation, if the invitation issued personally or by phone, the hostess should the type of dress expected you are uncertain, it is better to ask than to be py after you arrive when you are out of step with the guests present.

Q. I've heard that cod liver oil is an old remedy for itching scalp — taken in of course. Is this true?

A. Yes; and it's still one. It tends to tone up of the entire body. The practice is to take a teaspoon cod liver oil daily for a or more days.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remove a broken cork that has slipped down into the bottle?

A. Pour in enough household ammonia to float the cork, let it stand for a few days, and it will break into fine pieces. It can then be removed without difficulty.

Q. Is it possible to restore paint in a can if it has become hard and useless?

A. This can be done sometimes by pouring an inch of turpentine on top of the paint and letting it stand for a few days. Then stir with a stick until soft.

Q. How can I sweeten milk that is beginning to turn?

A. Add enough carbonate of soda to cover a dime for each pint of milk, and boil. This will make the milk sweet and will preserve it.

Q. Please give a few of the standard kitchen measures.

A. One salt spoon equals three-quarters of a teaspoon; three teaspoons equal one tablespoon; sixteen tablespoons equal one cup; two cups equal one pint.

Q. How can I prevent the dresser top from becoming stained with perfumes and various lotions?

A. This will not happen if a sheet of waxed paper is placed underneath the dresser scarf.

Q. How can I efface ink stains from wood?

A. Apply equal parts of linseed oil and vinegar. Use a soft cloth for applying the solution.

Q. How can I remove scratches from table silver?

A. Buy a small quantity of putty powder at the drugstore. Put this in a saucer with enough olive oil to make a paste. Rub this on the silver with a soft cloth, then polish with a chamomile.

Q. What can I do when it is doubtful if there will be enough scrambled eggs to serve everybody?

A. For each two eggs soak a half slice of bread in milk, mashing it with a fork, and adding it to the eggs. Beat the bread pulp together with the eggs and scramble in usual manner.

Q. How can I prevent a sewing machine from dropping stitches?

A. The tension should be adjusted; but before doing this, give the machine a thorough oiling. Oftentimes this is all it requires.

Q. How can I prevent a skin from forming over the top of a custard when cooling?

A. This will not occur if a cloth, or sheet of paper, is placed over the top of the receptacle while the custard is cooling.

Oceanographers call a seismic sea wave a "tsunami," which is the Japanese word for "harbor wave." It is man-made harbors which receive the most damage from a "tsunami," which are caused by undersea earthquakes.

I'm The Petticoat Type. Claims Singer Alice Lon

By DOROTHY ROE
At Women's Editor

"You can talk all you want about those slinky styles," says Alice Lon, the Texas thorough, "but I'm the petticoat type."

Fert, pretty and strictly feminine, Alice began her singing career in Kilgore, Tex., at the age of 6, and has been at it ever since.

"My mother used to make all my clothes, especially petticoats," says Alice. "She said a girl ought to have plenty of trills and ruffles, and that's what I think, too. That's why I'd never dream of appearing on stage or television without one of my favorite petticoats—they do something for me. I have dozens, in all colors."

Alice's 48-yard petticoat has won nationwide fame since she has been appearing as featured singer with Lawrence Welk's orchestra.

Alice's directions proved a little baffling, so the problem was turned over to local sewing center experts, who went into a huddle and came up with the following instructions:

Materials needed: nine yards nylon net, 72 inches wide; 48 yards satin ribbon, one inch wide; two yards satin ribbon two inches wide, one hook and eye.

This petticoat is made in three sections: a circular section at the waist, with two rows of ruffles edged in satin ribbon. For the first section, cut off one yard of net. Fold in half crosswise so you have a piece 36 by 36 inches. Find center of net square in order to draw two concentric circles—one for the waist and one for the lower edge of the first section.

To draw circle for waist, attach pencil to string and hold end of string to center of net square with a thumbtack. If your waistline is 25 inches, a 4-inch length of string will be aline. For example, if the ed length of the pettico be 28 inches, and you 18 inches for the ruffle top section will be 10 deep. With string still to center of net square, en string by 10 inches a section circle. Cut out waistline, and cut arou and circle. You will need a doughnut-shaped piec

Curb service, once dispensed through practically every drug store in the country, is now pretty well confined to restaurants, theatres and banks. Of all the changes in merchandising and service in the past quarter of a century, the banks have unquestionably made more headway than any other business—even including the supermarkets.

WHAT WE NEED right now is a carrot juice canning plant. The market is away below previous years, and grading is strict. Carrot juice, meanwhile, is becoming more and more popular around the country. I also gather that it is fairly easy to extract and can.

Pure Water From Sea Closer

Larger Plans Will Reveal Vital Information On Costs

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—American researchers are getting ready to take a long step toward the large-scale production of fresh water from the oceans. Purification methods tried out at the pilot plant level in the past five years are beginning to show some indication of what such water will cost. Still larger installations, giving much more definite information, are now in the offing. Just before adjourning, Congress approved a bill authorizing construction of five experimental desalting plants in various parts of the country.

that municipalities will start using it when the cost settles to 50 or 60 cents a thousand. No one can say exactly when either of these prices will be reached. Out of some 20 different ways of purifying sea water, there are about five really promising ones, says the OSW. They are (1) evaporation by artificial heat, (2) evaporation by solar heat, (3) various kinds of filtering, (4) freezing, and (5) chemical or electrical purification.

Water is always evaporating when not confined. It can turn to steam without coming to boiling heat. The steam on your bathroom windows after a hot shower is evidence of this. When steam from salt water settles on a cool surface it condenses into fresh water droplets.

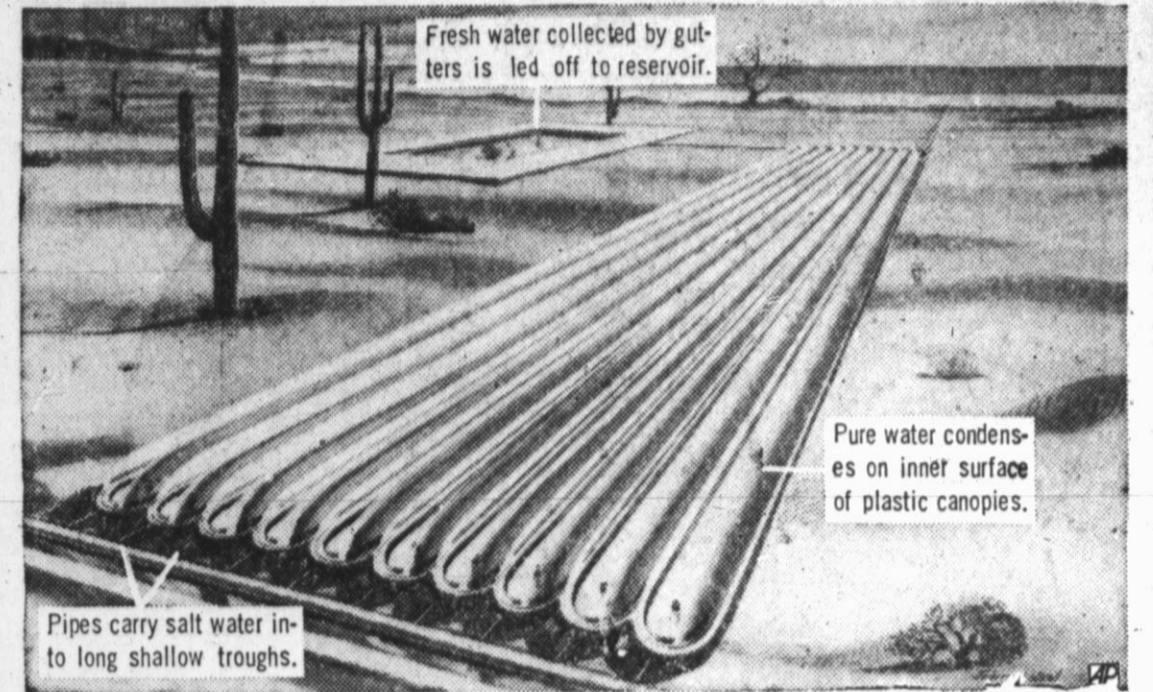

Evaporator systems take advantage of this process. Some of them utilize waste heat from steam plants or other industrial installations to heat the sea water a little, causing a speedup of natural evaporation.

To utilize the sun's heat, some plants are in the form of large, shallow troughs covered with tent-like blankets of clear plastic. The transparent plastic lets some of the sun's heat through to the water, speeding evaporation. The under side of the plastic collects the steam. Air on the outside of the tent gives just enough cooling to condense the steam into droplets which run down the inside of the tent into gutters and are drained off.

The U. S. Interior Department's Office of Saline Water says best of these processes probably could produce fresh water on a large scale at $2 to $3 a thousand. This doesn't look expensive but alongside present costs for naturally fresh water it is astronomical.

Some irrigation districts supply water for only a few cents an acre foot, but the range is up to $7 or more. An acre foot is about 325,000 gallons.

The OSW in his current report says the use of fresh water from the sea probably will begin when the cost gets down to $1 a thousand gallons and for use. This would minimize the evaporation slowdown. Another process speeds evaporation by whirling the sea water in a drum that looks like a big spinning top. This spreads the water into a very thin layer on the inside of the drum and increases the evaporation rate enormously. But it also can cause the salt water to form a scale on the inside surface and destroy its efficiency. So the researchers are looking for a way to lick the scale problem.

Some experimenters are making membranes which will filter the salt particles out and let the water molecules through. Others are working on ways to lure the salt particles out of the water by electrical means. Still others are freezing salt water into slush, causing a separation of the water and its salts.

Gain Expected In Beef Supply

Beef is on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list for October. It is the first such listing for this favorite meat for 1958.

October supplies of beef are expected to be seasonally large as fed cattle marketings increase and coincide with marketings of grass-fat cattle. The number of fed cattle going to market this fall is expected to exceed last fall's total, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Broilers, fryers, cheese and apples have been designated as the foods to feature in October meals because of heavier than usual supplies. Three other meats, hens, lamb and pork, are also listed as plentiful in the southwestern area. Other October plentifuls include small and medium eggs, potatoes, honey, canned ripe olives and peanut butter.

Bible Words for Today

JOHN 9:1-7—"And as Jesus passed by he saw a man which was blind from his birth... and said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam... He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing." (King James)

Most of us are from Missouri...you've got to show us before we believe anything. "Seeing is believing," we say, with smug complacency.

Many of us who preach and teach Christianity have accepted that approach. We resort to "proofs" of God's existence, "proofs" of the possibility of the miracles, "proofs" of Christ's resurrection. We rationalize the Biblical narratives and offer a "weak tea" kind of Christianity which appeals to few and challenges no one.

We put the cart before the horse. Contrary to modern axiom, seeing is not believing. Had the blind beggar at the gate withheld his faith until he saw, he would never have seen. No...understanding comes from faith...believing is seeing. It can be for you as it was for him if you will have it so.

ADVENTURES IN ADVERTISING

Mark Twain's Story OF THE READING SPIDER

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper. One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local newspaper.

PLAY SAFEWAY'S CROSS-OUT GAME

GAME NUMBER 9 JUST LIKE BINGO

9,500 PRIZES WORTH $95,000

1. Just like Bingo . . . First, check the numbers which appear in the newspaper ad. Then X them out (in pencil) if they appear ANYWHERE on your "cross-out" card. Numbers on your "cross-out" card do not have to appear in the same position as printed in the paper. If you have 5 numbers, across, down, or diagonally . . . YOU WIN!

2. If you do not win, erase your X's and play the card again. Any card may be played against any ad during the 12 weeks.

3. In each week's SAFEWAY newspaper ad, 20 numbers will be enclosed in a square, circle, diamond, etc. You can match these numbers with the numbers on any card.

4. If you have five numbers in a row — down, across or diagonally — you have a winning card. To receive your gift return your card as instructed on the back.

5. The card can be played on any of the newspaper ads or reprints, during the twelve weeks, but cards are winners and redeemable only if played on an individual week's newspaper ad or reprint in stores and all 20 numbers that week in the newspaper ad are surrounded by the same shape—circle, square, diamond, etc.

6. We reserve the right to correct any typographical or other error or errors which might appear in any published material in connection with this game, and to reject winning cards not obtained through legitimate channels.

Here We Go Again-This Time With Hula Hoops

First there was flagpole sitting, then goldfish swallowing. The yo-yo fad began in 1951—but now the hula hoop craze has hit the country's younger set. And how!

The craze hit Hereford youngsters almost immediately. Out of bed—hula hoop. After school—hula hoop. Before going to bed—you guessed it!

Long an important part of a juggler's gear, the youngsters must have thought it looked easy and tried it themselves. They found it was not so easy, but soon mastered the hip-movements necessary to keep the hoop gyrating. Some have mastered it so well that they can keep as many as six hoops going at the same time.

Many mamas and papas have tried it, but after a few attempts they usually resign to the classification of spectators. The kids seem to be the only ones who have what it takes.

The hula hoop is made from a piece of hose, ranging in length from seven to 12 feet, a hose connection and a piece of tape. Some have made their own hoops from a bicycle tire or innertube.

Besides gyrating hula hoops around their necks, waists or knees, youngsters roll them with sticks and use them as a jump rope.

If the craze progresses as it has in the last month, Americans may become a race of jugglers. Anyhow, the next generation promises to be a well-coordinated one—with the advent of the hula hoop.

'NOT SO HARD,' Donna Cole says as she twirls five hoops at the same time. Donna said she could twirl hoops, but she had to scour the neighborhood to find the five hoops shown above. Donna is the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Cole, 810 14th St. She is in the seventh grade at Stanton Junior High School. (Staff Photo)

'WHEN THE TIME doesn't affect Charles Schneider's favorite pastime of twirling his hula hoop. His mother says that playing with his hoop doesn't seem to give him indigestion. Charles, 13 years old, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schneider, and he is a sixth-grade student at Anthony's school. (Staff Photo)

TWO 1958 FADS are denoted above as Helen Sears, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sears, 145 N. Texas, twirls a hoop in her new sack dress. Apparently the stories of the Roarin' 20s are attractive to today's youngsters as a new age of fads and sack dresses are popular with them. Helen is a freshman at Hereford High School. (Staff Photo)

NOT AN EXPERT YET, but Lin Hope Mays, 13 months old, attempts to twirl her baby-size hula hoop like the other children in her neighborhood. Lin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrell Mays, 620 Blevins. (Staff Photo)

BOOK IN HAND, Leann Petree studies a school lesson as she twirls her hula hoop. Leann, 10 years old, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doc Petree, 213 Ave. K. She is a fourth-grade student at Aikman school. (Staff Photo)

'HOW DOES HE DO IT?' says Irving Alexander as he watches his son, Sheldon, seven years old, is in the second grade at Central School. He and his family live at 119 Beach. (Staff Photo)

A HULA HOOP CONTEST is a popular sport with youngsters in Hereford. Engaging in a contest are, left to right, Steve Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Hodges, Trent Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. No need to blot the blood of ten that brow, Bub, they's more to come. Some of the guessers feel poorly enough but imagine the slough of trouble that Dickerson of UCLA, Tatum of NC, Dodd of G. Tech, Mont of Maryland, Elliott of Cal, Neely of Rice, Engle of Penn State, Myers of Texas A&M, et ux, are in. That new PAT rule may prove to be the looked-for breaker, judging from the absence of same last week end. Speaking of that new rule, how about the coach who averred he would take the cry of the crowd to indicate what they wanted done on the PAT. My observation is, that the only attention the average coach would accord the crowd would be to approximate its count. Plainview at Hereford, 27-7. Wisconsin at Miami, dnp. Wis. Could be rough, indeed, especially if the monsoon is on & hot to boot.

Texas at Tulane, 20-6. Texas. Should be more pleasant than their other New Orleans trip in '58.

Donovan, Chene In Mat Re-match Saturday Night

Iron Jaw Doug Donovan took a bloody and disputed third fall from Amazing Larry Chene Saturday night in the Bull Barn. There was so much protest that the promoters have arranged a rematch for this coming Saturday.

Iron Jaw Donovan took the first fall in 15:35 with a body press after a fierce slug-fest that should have been conducted with gloves. Larry Chene bounced back to grab the second fall with a flying head scissors in 5:15.

During the scramble for the third fall, Chene was battered around the head. Donovan took a questionable third fall as spectators said both men had their shoulders to the mat at the same time. But referee Frankie Murdock gave the decision to Chene.

The two were insistent upon having a return match. In the other main event Ricky Romero, popular with local grappling enthusiasts, took a match from Dory Funk.

Funk went into his famous spinning toe hold to take the first fall in 13 minutes. Romero came roaring back to garner the second fall with a standing crucifix hold in 13:20.

Funk took the third fall, but it cost him the match. He used a spinning toe hold again — but this time he had Romero pinned on the floor instead of in the ring and referee Murdock disqualified the Umberger grappler.

In addition to the return match between Donovan and Chene, Saturday night's card will include Lolita Martinez going against Cathy Starr for two out of three falls.

After the program, the group retired to the lunch room for the tea. The girls served the butter cake from the 4-H recipe used in the bake show this summer. Copies of the recipe were passed to the group. Strawberries were served with the cake and fruit punch. A total of 60 guests were present.

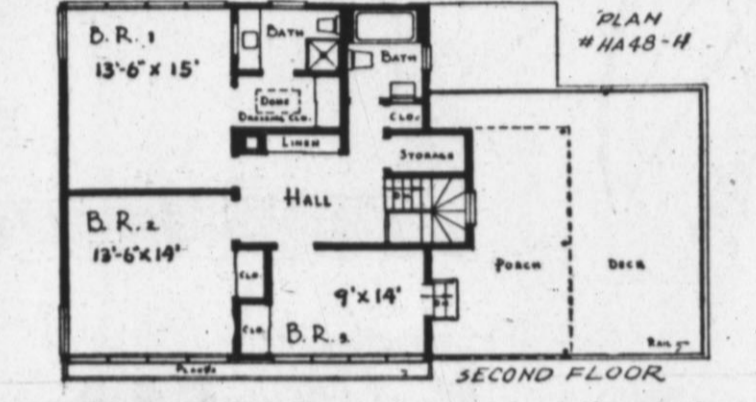

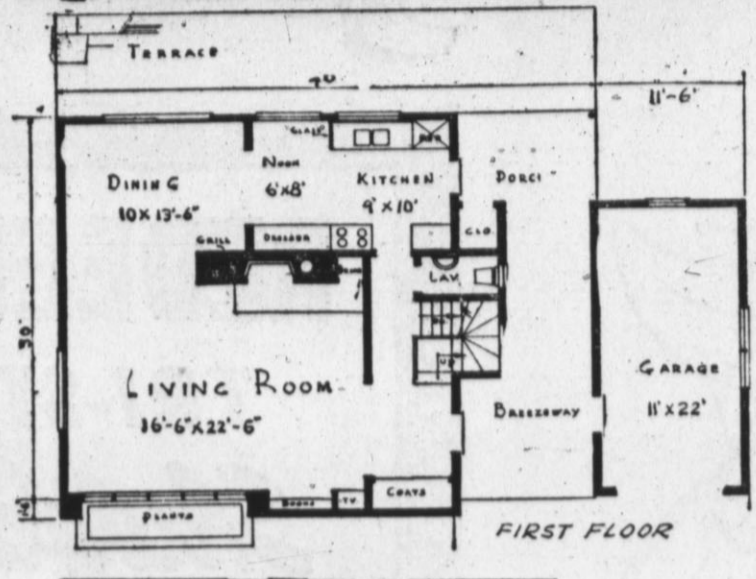

Miss Rosemary Gerber of Amarillo, bride-elect of Johnnie Heiselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Heiselman, was honored with a bridal shower last Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Oscar Bronniman. Big fashion news! This is really going to be a colorful season. Colors are going to be dull, but vivid. The main colors will be blue, red, green, and brown, in every shade. Failseys and plaids will predominate in fabrics. If you don't like hats, try one of the new "headache bands". They should be quite popular. Leotards are making a big hit. They come in a range of colors. They look best with sweaters and skirts or bermuda shorts. Big, bulky sweaters are in. They come in all shapes, colors and lengths. They range from waist lengths on down. They come in all kinds of fabrics — wools, nylons, orlons, banlons, and fur blends. The two-piece chemise is really popular, although the trapeze seems to be taking its place. The tight-tapered chemise coats will be quite popular.

TCU Chemistry Dept. Approved

The chemistry division of Texas Christian University has been approved by the American Chemical Society, the highest accrediting agency in the field, according to M. E. Sadler, TCU president. The action, taken on the recommendation of the society's committee on professional training, gives the TCU department the highest possible accreditation, according to Dr. Henry Hardt, chairman. The society makes selections for accreditation in conjunction with the Southern Association of College and Secondary Schools in the area. TCU's application for approval of the society was made more than a year ago. A committee, composed of President Jones of Texas Tech and Dr. Kenneth Crook of the University of Oklahoma, visited on the campus for several days making an inspection tour. Recently, Dr. Hardt appeared before the society's committee in Chicago. In making the accreditation, such factors as buildings and facilities for chemical work, number of doctorates on the staff, equipment issued to students, research programs, teaching loads in the field and many others are considered. "Naturally we are delighted," Sadler said. "This accreditation is the highest possible for the university in chemistry. We are very pleased that the quality of our work warrants such recognition."

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Teacher Pay Raise Issue May Return Next Session

By VERN SANFORD

Teacher pay raises, an issue that has packed legislative galleries in past years, will probably return next session.

Base pay raises of almost $600 a year will be recommended to the Legislature by the Hale - Aikin Committee. This group of 24 lawmakers and private citizens has spent almost two years in a massive study of ways to improve Texas' public school program.

Its recommendations, now being readied for final presentation, would, for the most part, involve extra spending running into the millions. Cost of moving up the floor on teacher salaries is estimated at $70,000,000 a year.

Advocates say better salaries are necessary to attract and hold enough good teachers. But even within the committee there were objections.

Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi, co-chairman, voted against the raise recommendation. He said this, plus other proposals would mean "about a quarter of a billion dollar tax bill."

Other committee members said they felt the problem was not a shortage of teachers, but unequal distribution. While small districts may have trouble filling faculties, they said, some cities have a surplus. Many legislators, elected on "economy in government" platforms, can be expected to echo Hale's sentiments. Since a huge state deficit is foreseen without raising the cost of anything, the squeeze could be especially acute.

Teachers, always a potent force because of their number, might be substantially reinforced by the current concern to "catch up with the Russians" in education. A head-on clash between these groups and the economy forces might well provide the flashiest fireworks of the next session.

Another Hale-Aikin Committee suggestion: Texas should quit accepting federal money for the school lunch program and vocational education.

Federal funds now received are estimated at $9,000,000 a year. Committee said local districts and parents should pay for these services.

It did recommend, however, that federal aid be continued to districts where military installations bring in a large non-tax-paying attendance.

Other committee recommendations:

1. State should quit levying property tax, leave this source to local districts.
2. Permanent School Fund should be kept as an endowment, not spent for current needs.
3. Counties, not state, should bear the cost of maintaining

Caprock 4-H Club Meets

The Caprock 4-H Club held its Achievement Tea in Adrian School Sept. 17.

The program consisted of a dress revue, with Mrs. John Horton serving as commentator and the girls modelling their dresses.

Doris Horton and Vicki Burns presented an electric demonstration. Glenda Homfeld gave a report on her trip to the District 4-H Camp and Kathleen Kromer talked on meeting with the Optimist Club at Hereford to tell about 4-H Club work.

Miss Jeanette Faulkenberry and Miss Marion Cox, food specialist from College Station, were special guests.

Members served refreshments of cake, strawberries, whipped cream and punch, which they had learned to make at their meetings.

county school superintendents' offices.

Texas Securities Board reviewed its first year as a separate state agency and declared the "investment climate" had improved under tougher regulation.

Securities Board was set up by the last Legislature by combining functions formerly handled partly by the Secretary of State's office, partly by the Insurance Department.

Texas' investment climate "was very poor" when the new law went into effect, said Board Chairman Maurice Bullock. Score for the "tightening-up" years: (1) a drop of 37 per cent in the number of licenses securities dealers, (2) investigation under way in 215 cases of possible securities law violation and (3) 75 cases referred to dis-

Child Study Club Meets Thursday

The Hereford Child Study Club met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Art Stag, with Mrs. Helen Coffman, president, presiding over the meeting.

A short business session was held and Mrs. J. C. Reese distributed yearbooks.

Guest speaker for the evening, Mrs. Carl Perrin, was presented by Mrs. Garland Solomon. Mrs. Perrin showed colored slides taken while she was traveling through Europe. She presented a talk on the European people and their customs, stressing the fact that there would be more understanding between nations if we got to know each other better.

A gift of appreciation was presented to Mrs. Perrin.

Members attending were Mesdames Helen Coffman, J. C. Reese, Don Steele, Frank Farmer, Ed Wilson, Tommy Braddy, Earl Huckabee, Garland Solomon, Maurice Tannahill, Art Story and Morris Easley. The next meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 2, in the home of Mrs. Tommy Braddy, with Mrs. Maurice Tannahill as program chairman.

trict attorneys over the state. Bullock said the Board's aim was to weed out the wild promotion schemes so as to restore confidence in Texas securities, but not to be so zealous as to discourage legitimate offerings.

Several parks now under the administration of the State Parks Board should logically be in the hands of local communities, according to State Auditor C. H. Cavness. Cavness' audit report on the Parks Board noted that Gonzales State Park had been turned over to the city of Gonzales. Others used on a community basis also could be community operated, he said.

Cavness also noted the addition of six new parks to the state system.

Twelve state colleges have sold $12,375,948 in building bonds — after adjusting to "buyers market" difficulties.

Representatives of the schools, meeting in Austin, first offered $17,500,000 worth of bonds on a 10-year payback basis, but got no offers. Several of the schools already had let contracts for construction, feeling sure the bonds would sell.

Bonds were then re-offered on an 8-year basis and partially sold. Remaining bonds may be offered later.

Demand for Texas surface water is expected to triple in the next 50 years. Prediction is by Harry P. Burleigh, area engineer for the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Where will it all come from? Burleigh says enough water is now being wasted to meet that demand. Problem of saving it is up to engineers to solve. Needed is a simple, low-cost means of capturing run-off water now flowing into the Gulf of Mexico and delivering it to points where it is needed.

Burleigh was one of 10 speakers at a water conference sponsored by Texas A&M College. Gov. Price Daniel praised the recently adopted statewide water program and urged against sliding back into apathy as a result of recent drought-breaking rains.

Revision in the rate structure for city water users was proposed as one means of conservation. Lubbock hydrologist W. L. Broadhurst said that increasing the rate instead of decreasing it as more water is used would cut down ho-

waste. Two-thirds the way 1958 the State Highway Department already has as much highway construction under contract as an entire record-setting 1957.

Total for this year is $224,000,000 this month bids opened in a two-day session for this month's projects amounted to $432. Department spends Texas roads in the next years is expected to reach billion dollars, Highway Commission Chairman M. Formby said.

QUICK ANSWER

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Young Francis Davis was filled with pride at his first test of responsibility — mailing a letter for Mommy. But nobody told him about mail boxes and fire alarm boxes.

When he couldn't find a slot to insert a letter in the big box on the pole, the 5-year-old tried pulling the lever on the box. He was still trying minutes later when nine Pottsville fire trucks, sirens screaming, arrived.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

National Education Bill Now Public Law

To the people of the 18th District:

As many of you know, one of the final acts passed by the 85th Congress was the National Defense Education Bill.

This measure was highly controversial since some thought it might tend toward federal control in our educational processes. The bill has been signed by the President, however, and whatever its merits or demerits, it is now public law.

I have received many inquiries concerning the provisions of this act, and I feel it might be well to outline some of them to you.

The program will be administered by the Commissioner of Education in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, through the appropriate State Education Agencies. There are several provisions of interest, but the one on which most questions are currently being asked is the provision for student loans. These loans will be available to students for higher education and will be made by the educational institution itself, subject to the provisions of the law which, broadly, are:

The student must be acceptable to the college or school by virtue of completion of secondary work — in most cases a high school graduate. The student must show his actual need for the loan in order to pursue or complete his education.

The loan may be used for any subject, but special consideration will be given to students with a superior academic background who express a desire to teach in elementary or secondary schools, and to students whose academic background indicates a superior capacity or preparation in science, mathematics, engineering, or a modern foreign language.

The student loan cannot exceed $1,000 per year or $5,000 total. Repayment of the loan at three per cent interest must begin one year after separation from the accredited institution.

Up to 50 per cent of the loan and interest is cancelled if the student pursues a vocation of full-time teacher in a public elementary or secondary school in a state for as many as five years after being separated from the college or institution. The college will contribute 10 per cent to the student loan fund, while the federal government will contribute 90 per cent.

Any school is eligible to participate in the program, if that school is located in a state or territory of the United States; if they admit as regular students only graduates from secondary schools or the equivalent; if the school is legally authorized to provide a program of education beyond secondary education; if the school awards a bachelors' degree; if it is at least a two-year program acceptable for full credit toward a bachelors' degree; if it is a public or other non-profit institution, and if it is properly accredited.

If any of you are interested in details of this program, I will be happy to supply any information I can or you can secure it from the school which you plan to attend, since the administration of the program will, for the most part, rest there.

The law also provides for a program of grants to state educational agencies to be used in local public elementary or secondary schools or junior colleges, for minor remodeling and acquisition of laboratory or other special equipment for science, mathematics, or modern foreign language teaching, as well as grants for expansion or improvement of supervisory or related services in secondary schools for science, mathematics and modern foreign languages. In addition, loans will be available to non-profit, private elementary and secondary schools for the same types of projects.

A program of National Defense Fellowships is also authorized for graduate students, particularly students interested in teaching in institutions of higher education.

There are other provisions of this new law, and I will be happy to answer any question if you cannot get satisfactory information locally, let me know and I will try to find the answers to your questions.

NUTTY DIVIDEND
QUINCY, Mass. — Dig those nutty spuds!

Inside every potato in a five-pound bag she purchased, Mrs. Gustave A. Oster III found a nutlike object which tasted vaguely like a walnut or a water-chestnut.

An agricultural expert theorized the potatoes were grown in either Virginia or North Carolina. In these states, he noted, there is a growth called "nut grass."

He suggested that the grass had been so thick in the potato fields as to penetrate the potatoes, growing their nuts inside. But the official, a potato expert for some 40 years, said he had never heard of a whole field of potatoes being so affected.

Increased wheat yield bushels per acre

Billingsley, successful High Plains farmer, says: "I applied 100 pounds per acre of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia plant to my irrigated wheat and increased my yield from 42 bushels per acre. I figure my net profit increase around $40 per acre." Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields... and more profitable land. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound. Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in fall on maize land. They know that the 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia is you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago
The farmers around Hereford are now busy filling their big silos with the succulent crops of kafkir, maize and sorghum. This is the first season that silos will have been in use and the number that have been put in shows the confidence the farmers have in the feeding value of silage. There are some twenty silos of different capacities in the vicinity of Hereford, but a greater number of them are of the 250-ton capacity. And then there will be found the stave silo, the "common sense" style, two ground or pit silos and one concrete block silo. The total tonnage is 3,725 tons, or about seven and one half million pounds of silage. This is a good beginning and means a new era for the farmers of the district. It means better beef, more cream and butter and a greater profit to the farmers for the feed they raise. Two or three cutters are busy filling these silos with the green cut stuff from the fields. In addition to the number put up around Hereford, Castro county has as many.

25 Years Ago
Miss Lillie Hostetler, county librarian, reports satisfactory progress toward organization of college classes as an extension of West Texas State Teachers College. Fifteen students are required for each class. For a small fee the group is furnished with an instructor from the college who attends weekly meetings of the class in Hereford. Miss Hostetler asks that all interested in college courses of any kind get in touch with her at once.

for advertising, too!

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. We have access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. # If it be Possible

LET THIS CUP PASS FROM ME Matthew 26:39

Even the Son of God could not always have His way. The cup did not pass.
He drank it in calm, deliberate and majestic mood. God did not take away the cup but He did stand by in loving sympathy. In drinking that bitter cup Jesus became the Saviour of the world. God gave Him strength for the heroic deed and through His suffering He became perfect. You and I hold back and cry the same prayer. We tremble at the ordeal ahead and our faith shrinks when we know we must suffer the fate... lift the heavy load. But suffering seasons God's children and links them to Him for high adventure and noble service through His church.

But all these must be withstood; we must hold fast the form of sound words that hath been delivered to us. It Pays to feed your crops nitrogen the fast, Easy URAN WAY

URAN WAY URAN supplies nitrate and ammonia nitrogen, an excellent combination to feed crops speedily and well—from sprout to harvest.

URAN SPREADING—You can see where URAN goes on you spray it on. Even coverage makes uniform, lush crops and assures thorough, even decay of residues plowed under. Ideal also to mix with soil pesticides or weed killers.

When you plow under straw and stubble or work into the soil before planting, it is wise to add fertilizer. Here's why. The billions of soil organisms that the plowed-down stubble and make it into soil-building humus, use up large amounts of nitrogen, phosphate and potash to grow and multiply and do their work.

If sufficient nutrients are not available, the digestion of the raw organic matter will be slowed down. Carbon will be absorbed into the soil and more of it will be released in the form of carbon dioxide. The process again in the repeated cycle of the growth, death and decay of the bodies of the microorganisms.

'House Plants' Meeting Subject

"House Plants" was the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Dawn Home Demonstration Club Friday, Sept. 19, in the home of Miss Lulu Botsford. Miss Botsford showed some of her plants and explained that most house plants should be watered only when they appear a little dry and that a fertilizer should be applied once a month. "Good drainage is important and should be provided by putting a few pebbles over the drain hole in the bottom of the pot," said Miss Botsford. Mrs. Muri Little supplemented the program with pictures, showing the various places house plants may be placed in the home to add interest and beauty. Officers elected for the coming year who will be installed in January are Mrs. Muri Little, president; Mrs. Orval Galley, vice president; Mrs. Ray Stewart, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Orval Galley, council delegate; Mrs. Zed Stewart, alternate council delegate; and Mrs. Leroy Johnson, parliamentarian. Plans for a club Thanksgiving supper were presented to the club and approved. A "Turn Back The Years" party was planned for the club members and their families for the night of Sept. 26 in the quonset barn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart. ## Council Lists Fire Defenses

COLLEGE STATION — Fire prevention is the best defense against fire. By not giving fire a place to start reports the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the nation's annual farm fire losses of about $150 million can be cut in half.

The Council points out three general safeguards against fire, which if practiced by all farm families, could cut farm fire losses in half.

First, they say, use foresight and care to avoid all needless fire hazards in building, equipping, maintaining and using farm property. Management of the farm and woodlands is included in this suggestion.

Secondly they warn that farm families should be prepared to fight a fire as soon as it is discovered. Prior training for all members of the family in the use of safe and effective fire fighting equipment is suggested by the councilmen. Fire extinguishers should be checked regularly and kept in readiness wherever needed — in and near the home and other buildings, and on trucks and tractors.

Thirdly, they suggest organizing to provide community fire protection with trained men and equipment sufficient to put out, or control large fires. Such a community effort makes for more protection of life and property and better fire prevention, they say.

Finally the state safety group advises all farm families to do some hazard hunting in their homes and on their farms. Since approximately one-third of all farm fires start from defects in heating and cooking systems, they suggest that flues, chimneys, spark arresters and cooking equipment be checked first.

Then check for inadequate, defective and misused electrical wiring systems or appliances. Give the fuel storage facilities a close check and make sure the storage area is neat and arranged for fire safety. All lightning rods should be checked to see that they are grounded and securely connected and surge arresters at electrical entrances should be checked.

In A Ready-Made dress", "A Disappointment In A Dress" and "What I Consider A Good Fit And Good Style."

During the business meeting, the club voted to sponsor a Camp Fire group.

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames Wilma Bryan, O. C. Williams, R. A. Fullwood, Argen Draper, Marvin Kendrick, O. L. Williams, A. E. Hodges, A. A. Hare, W. H. Russell, Mary Bodkin, Otto Olson, Miss Roberta Campbell and a visitor, Mrs. Rieger.

The next meeting will be in the form of a tour of the Hereford industries Thursday, Oct. 2.

Farming Gains In Importance

Almost two out of every five Texans are engaged in agricultural production or in supplying machinery and other farm and ranch needs or in processing and distributing farm and ranch products. This amounts, says John McHaney, extension economist to approximately 40 per cent of the State's population.

It is true, he points out that 34 per cent of all Texans live on farms in 1940, compared with only 11 per cent today, but this in no way means that agriculture is of less importance.

Today 11 per cent of those engaged in agriculture are classed as suppliers as compared to four per cent in 1940 and 18 per cent process and distribute farm products compared with only seven per cent in 1940. This shift is of great importance, says the economist, for it means that others are now doing jobs which once were performed in a large measure by the producer. It has added efficiency to the industry and permitted the producer to concentrate on production.

In 1940 the average farm in Texas consisted of 367 acres. Today's farm contains over 500 acres and is highly commercialized with thousands of dollars invested in capital operations. Farmers are buying more items in town and marketing more agricultural products than ever before in history but it must also be remembered, says McHaney, that costs of operation are also much higher.

The self-sufficient farm is no more. Texas farmers and ranchmen annually go to the market place for about $59,000,000 worth of machinery, $106,000,000 worth of petroleum products, spend $44,000,000 for construction materials, $18,000,000 for pesticides, $11,000,000 for lime and commercial fertilizers, $221,000,000 for feed and approximately $884,000,000 for other goods and services. Such business transactions, says the curve of the horns almost knocked him off balance. He broke the banderillas off to six inches instead of the usual 30. He turned his back to the bull and took its charges without even looking. He thrilled the crowds by making 24 consecutive "natural passes."

He knelt in the animal's face right between the spiral of horns, and leaning forward, he kissed the bull between the eyes; then he took the tip of the bull's left horn between his teeth. His control over the animal was so great as to be fantastic.

And fantastic it was, for when Pacote closed in for the kill, using only a common pocket handkerchief for a muleta, the massive head lifted and Pacote felt the treacherous horns tear through his flesh. Man and beast had killed one another.

While reading this book, one will discover that bullfighting is not a sport, but rather an art or a science, to be studied and learned with practice. It is a colorful, dramatic, emotional, yes, even beautiful thing.

Tradition has made this thing of bullfighting a symbol. This is the sun, the blood, the dust, and the dying of Spain; the head of a bull its emblem, elaborate black lace its frame, the fiery music its background — this is the glory. This is the MATADOR.

OFF THE Shelf

By V. J. SANDERS
In his book MATADOR, Barnaby Conrad portrays an intimate, emotional view of bullfighting. The book was recently released as a television production under the title "Death Of Manolete", changing the name of the main character.

The author, Barnaby Conrad, a bullfighter himself, has the gift of bringing his readers into the story in such a way that they become as one with the matador, living and feeling every emotion that he feels.

The story begins in Sevilla, Spain, the spiritual capital of bullfighting on a Sunday morning in May. Francisco Torres y Nunez, called Pacote, the greatest matador of his age and considered one of the three greatest bullfighters who ever lived has been goaded into a last performance after having announced his retirement.

The rest of the book, except for the last few chapters, is dedicated to mounting tension, expressing Pacote's terrible and paralyzing fear of the coming fight, and the influence his fear has upon the people around him. The hours drag by and Pacote gets drunk before the fight, which is almost sure death for a matador. But, ironically, his fear, which prompted him to get drunk, returns tenfold, and now acts as a sobering agent.

The fight that follows is one of the most magnificent passages that has ever been written on bullfighting. The ridicule of the crowds, who a few hours ago had worshipped him, drives away his fear and gives him a daring that is dangerous.

In the fight, Pacote performed every fantastic feat a matador could possibly perform. He knelt in front of the charging bull. He passed the bull in so close to him the rounded

Wildlife Included In Soil Program

COLLEGE STATION — Conservation practices which provide habitat and protection for wildlife quality for assistance under the conservation reserve phase of the Soil Bank program. Up to 80 per cent of the cost of putting cropland into wildlife habitat plus an annual rental each year the land is under contract, will be paid by the Soil Bank program, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

Under the program, Cooper says farmers have a choice of five or 10 year contracts for planting trees or shrubs on conservation reserve acres. Cost share payments for such plantings cover land preparation, planting, mulching and in some cases, cost of necessary soil building elements. Also included are food plot plantings to attract and hold quail, doves, deer and wild turkeys. Food plots located adjacent to protective cover of water may include domestic grains as well as natural foods, says Cooper.

Water habitat for ducks, geese and fur bearing animals are also included under the program. In addition to the restoration of former marsh lands by plugging drains, ditches may be dug or a series of shallow water areas may be provided on reserve acreage.

For those interested in fishing, the conservation reserve program includes the construction of ponds. Cost share payments are available for the construction of fish ponds and annual rental payments are made under five or 10 year contracts at the choice of the farmer.

Details of the wildlife practices under the conservation reserve program are available at
