Commission Studies New Lights for Main

Main Street may well take on a new look, at night time, according to a proposal to the Hereford city commission this week by the Southwestern Public Service Co.

The commission passed motions on four subjects concerning the city sewer, fire truck bids, asking for trash truck chassis bids and increase of car expense allowance for the city manager.

PROPOSAL TWO read: "Replace twenty 20-foot steel poles and 6,000 lumen luminaires on Main St. with 25-foot steel poles and 20,000 lumen 10.5-foot ornamental color-corrected luminaires; and to replace 10.5-foot ornamental steel standards and 4,000 lumen glassware with nine 20-foot steel poles and 10,000 incandescent luminaires, on Third St., one block each way from Main St. Estimated cost to install, $11,032.

The lights proposed for Main street would be similar to those on 25 Mile Ave., with the exception of being color-corrected.

The commission strongly discussed expanding the Main St. part of the proposal, extending the new lighting all the way to Park Ave.

Though the cost of installation would not be charged to the city, the expenses per month could raise from the $67 now paid to $143, not including the additional lighting from Fifth St. to Park Ave.

A representative from the light company is to meet with the commission at their next regular meeting to further explain the proposal, and the additional cost for the northern expansion.

EARLIER MONDAY afternoon bids were opened from seven companies on the addition to the sewage treatment plant. Hester Construction Co. of Lubbock was the lowest, at $44,600. Second lowest bid was from the S. G. Stockton Construction Co. of Amarillo, $44,624.

The only local bidder was Parker Bros. The low bid was about $11,000 less than that expected by city engineer Bill McMorries of Amarillo, who estimated the cost at a round $55,000.

"Construction is slow now," commented McMorries. "Any later in the season and the bids would have been around my estimation. The companies just want to keep their employees busy now."

The Hester bid stated construction would begin in 30 days and would be completed 60 days later. A formality must now be undertaken in sending the Hester specifications to the State Health Dept. in Austin for approval before the contract can be officially awarded by the commission. This usually takes about 10 to 15 days, according to city manager Bayne.

ALSO UPON approval by the state office the city commission will purchase a new fire truck from the Howe Fire Apparatus Co. (Continued On Page 2)

March of Dimes Gets Local Push

The people of Deaf Smith County will be asked by various people and medias Sunday to contribute to the annual March of Dimes drive as local talent and workers join the movement.

Two routes will be used Sunday to reach the people for donations, radio and television. Local workers will be on both. The Hereford Jaycees will be holding their "Radiothon" and the Hereford Lions Club will man telephones answering donation calls in response to the Amarillo Channel KVII-TV "Telethon."

Last year Deaf Smith residents donated $2,966.95 during the Sunday promotion. The "Telethon" donations amounted to $1,417.57 and the "Radiothon" brought in $1,549.38.

OF THE $5,600 donated to the March last year, half was sent in to the national foundation and the remaining stayed for local help.

The "Telethon" will begin at 10 p.m. Saturday over Channel 7. Lions Club members, eight in all, will man the telephones of the Hereford Medical and Surgical Clinic until 1 a.m. Sunday.

Those who will hold down the Saturday night shift are Paul Conway, Paul Harvey, Kenneth Cowan, Larry Caylor, Deward Robertson, Harry Linderman, Wayne Lawrence and A. J. Schroeter.

Year's High Mark HERD SLASHES 'CATS, 84-47

Showing a well-balanced scoring attack, the Hereford Whitefaces cruised past the Dept. Littlefield Wildcats, 84-47, in a District 1-AAA game here Tuesday night.

Six of the eight Whitefaces who played scored 10 points or more, with Donnie Rentro notching high point honors with 15. Jim Curtininger, Fred Lookingbill and Terry Higgins each had 14 while Bobby Shelton hit 11 and Steve Sledge scored 10. Miles Stephens was high for the Wildcats with 12.

Hereford evened its conference record at 1-1 and pulled into a second place tie with Phillips, which lost to Dumas, 57-52, Tuesday. Dumas now holds the district lead with two wins and no losses.

Second Snow Aids Wheat, Pastures

The year's second snow Saturday and Sunday brought up to one-half inch moisture in some parts of the county, giving a good soaking to winter wheat and pasture-land.

In Hereford proper, 30 of an inch was measured by weather observer Clay Angelo, bringing the year's total to 1.29. Angelo estimated the two-day snowfall at 2 1/2 inches.

FARMERS AND ranchers from all over the county were enthusiastic about the moisture content of the snow. At this time last year, the area had received no moisture.

Mrs. W. J. Albracht, three miles east of town, reported 40 of an inch. "It rained enough before the snow so that it helped the snow really soak in good. It's very beneficial for the wheat and pasture," she said.

"It's much better than last year," said Carl Allison, 17 miles to the northwest. Allison estimated .35 to .40 of an inch.

H. D. Buse, 26 miles west, said, "It will be a help, keeping the land from blowing. We've got prospects for more moisture, too."

"I think it will be good for the wheat crop. It's far better at this point than last year," said Olin Parris, 10 miles southwest.

AT DAWN James Akton measured .45 of an inch. "If we had more rain it would probably be of more use to the pastures, but this sure is good for the dry land wheat," he said.

"The wheat looks good and we'd like to have more moisture on it. There's a lot more than last year," noted Mrs. J. R. Overstreet, 30 miles to the northwest. She measured .40.

Mrs. Herb Schmidt, 11 miles southeast, measured one-half inch and pointed out the moisture will boost the barley as well as the wheat.

There were no injuries and the bus was not damaged. Damage to Hodges' car was estimated at $200. Sunday at 6:55 p.m. two trucks collided on Highway 60, 1.4 mile west of Hereford with no injuries and minor damages. Felipe Hion-Josa, 47, driver for Jack Rentro, was given a ticket for driving on the wrong side of the road after his truck collided with a Hill Union truck driven by Thurman Hand, 40, of Albuquerque. Damages totaled $125.

After opening bids several weeks ago, the commission had the lowest three companies' products inspected by representatives and their recommendations were presented Monday night.

The Howe truck was recommended by the fire department. Its motor will have 251 horsepower and will pump more than 750 gallons of water per minute.

Other specifications include an enclosed cab, continental six-cylinder in-line engine which will turn 3,200 RPM and has a 602 cubic inch displacement.

Originally bid at $19,971, additional horsepower and other improvements were asked for an increase of $141, with a total cost of $20,112. Delivery date, according to the bid, is supposed to be 90 working days.

Earl Phillips, HVFD representative Monday night, said the specifications on the truck were more than those required by state authorities, and he was sure they would be approved. The contract will be signed upon notification from Austin.

The commission voted to increase city manager Dudley Bayne's auto expense allowance from $50 to $100 per month.

Bayne told the commission the present allowance failed to meet the expenses of using his own car for official work, when depreciation and upkeep were included.

A recommendation for two paid firemen for the city was requested by HVFD representatives Phillips and Glen Witherspoon. They proposed hiring two men, each to work a 24-hour shift and be off 24 hours, using the present living quarters as an on-duty headquarters.

The commission, however, proposed hiring two men, working one man five days and the second the remaining two of the week.

NO DECISION was reached either way, and the search is still on for a replacement for Angelo. One man had submitted his application, but it was disapproved shortly after being read. Another name was recommended, and the man is being approached for the position.

Bids on a 1958 two-ton trash truck chassis will be opened by the commission Feb. 17 at 2 p.m. in the city manager's office.

Water takes nearly a month to travel from the source of the Blue Nile (in Ethiopia) to where it becomes the Nile River.

Bill Dameron, Hereford rancher, Monday was named to the board of directors of the Panhandle Livestock Assn. during the annual meeting in Amarillo at the Herding Hotel.

Night classes in shorthand and typing will be organized late this week or early next week, according to Joe Smith, instructor. Persons wishing to take the classes should contact Smith at the high school or at home.

Chinese Slit Skirts Go Daringly Higher

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
Mrs. Louise Tong, a dress and art shop saleswoman, says:
"The original cheongsam slit is supposed to measure 10 inches, like the one I wear. It is unthinkable for a girl of better class to wear it higher."
Here are some other views on slit skirts:
A just-arrived American tourist (male, name withheld): "I could not believe my eyes. They (cheongsams) are very sexy. I forbid my wife to wear one."
An American sailor, Machinist Mate 3/C Angel Meneidez of 2136 Saint Louis St., Tampa, Fla.: "Chinese girls look nice in slit skirts. Some of the fellows bought them for their girls back home but I don't think they will look good on American girls."
My wife: "Please buy me one."
The prescribed slit length. Chinese stylists say, is eight to ten inches — four or five inches below the knee and four or five above. Many Chinese women consider anything more than this indecent. They say, with a touch of venom, the higher the slit the less respectable the woman.
Chinese men rarely give the slit skirt a second look.
Sailors of the U. S. 7th Fleet, on shore leave, give the slit skirt a second look and a third.

Look Who's New!

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kreig are the proud parents of a boy, Davy Walter, who was born at 8:30 a.m. on Jan. 20 and who weighed pounds and 4/4 ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lenienick of Hereford.

A Philippine National Guard division was organized, trained at its services offered to the United States in 1917. The division was incorporated into the United States Army on Nov. 20, 1918.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

How can I clean soiled photographs?
If the photographs are soiled with dust and handling, wipe them with a wad of cotton dipped in a solution of warm water and ammonia. Wring the cotton before applying. Then dry the photograph with a clean cloth.

How can I take away the appearance of soap?
Try dropping the white of an egg into the soup, and when it has removed it. This will take away any impurity that is in the soup.

How can I make the teeth whiter?
The application of a solution of peroxide of hydrogen diluted with one-half water will be helpful.

How can I remove fat from my hands?
If unable to do so with a cleanser, wet a clean cloth with cold water, wipe over the top of the hands and the hot fat will adhere to the cloth. All fat should be removed from the top of soup, as it is digestible.

How can I treat the white spots between the bricks in a fireplace?
Use a small pointed brush to paint them with black lacquer. The fireplace will be modern and clean-looking when it is finished.

How can I remove a stamp from an envelope?
Soak a blotter in water, then place it over the stamp and hold it there for a few minutes.

How can I retain the sparkle of decanters?
In order to do this the decanters must be cleaned even if they are new. The work can be made easier by using a solution of a little ammonia with a handful of salt. Rinse in the decanter and shake thoroughly, then rinse in cold water.

What is a remedy for gold when they do not appear as usual?
It will often help them if one spoonful of salt is added to each of water.

How can I make pie crust and brown?
Add a teaspoonful of sugar to the crust. It will not be noticed to the taste.

How can I mend rugs?
Mend the rug as soon as it is worn. Mending tissue is alive when put on the back because a hole is worn through. Or it with colors of the rug.

How can I store walnuts and nuts for the winter?
Pack them in boxes or jars in layers of sand. If they already become shriveled, them over night in a vessel of milk, or even a solution of milk and water.

How can I remove medicine from white fabric?
Paint the stains with tincture of iodine, then soak in a strong solution of ammonia for 30 minutes and follow by washing thoroughly.

How can I remove obstinate stains from the fingers?
Use well-soaped pumice stone in hot water. The lighter stains are removed with plain lemon juice.

How can I wash dressings?
Use lukewarm soapy water and a teaspoon of baking soda. Rub on a small brush and brush sides of the shields. Rinse in water of the same temperature and in a shady place.

How can I prepare an inviting bath?
When one is tired, and every muscle seems to ache, a warm bath at bedtime, to which has been added 1 cup of Epsom salts and 2 tablespoons of mustard, is effective.

How can I separate two wine glasses that have stuck together?
Pour cold water into the inner, and place the outer one in hot water. They will separate.

How can I freshen day-old bread?
Place them in a paper bag, twist the end shut. Dip the bag in water and remove immediately, then put the bag in a hot oven and by the time the paper is dry the rolls will be just right.

How can I remove rust from a knife?
Plunge the rusty knife blade in an onion and leave it there for an hour or so. Then polish in the usual way.

How can I keep lettuce, celery, parsley, and mint fresh for a long time?
Wrap in a cloth wrung out of water and keep in the refrigerator.

How can I prevent starch sticking?
Starch will not stick if a drop of kerosene, or a little lard, is added to a small basin of starch when allowed to come to a boil.

Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thursday, January 23, 1938

often you hear people wonder whether Hereford is still going or not? There won't be an inclusive answer until they next census in 1960. However we made a survey in the town department this week in Minor reports the following for Hereford: Houses Occupied 110, Houses Unoccupied 10, Under Construction 5, Business Houses 10.

Last official census gave a nose count of 5,207. If the national average of one-third persons to the acre and multiply it by the number of houses, you get an estimated population of 6,810 — an increase of 1,603 people. This is a 30 per cent increase in the past years. While the total is not a very impressive gain against a city of 10,000, I would imagine a percentage gain is better.

18 houses now under construction is also interesting in the fact that shows a growth in the dead-end building is always at a job.

primary object in the survey was to check distribution and get out with 1938 Brands go-city delivery, news stands, etc. This, of course, includes mail distribution, all routes or in boxes. It is a lot of trouble to tabulate, but sure it will quell those reading Toastmasters. They are making a lot of left-cracks. Just because they see comics on the air, they think it gives them a license to deal harshly with honest citizens.

Sunday they said: "The fastest growing news in Hereford — in spite of all columns."

These boys are trying to get a feud started. They mean to say something bad about completion and the frame work up on another. Looks as if things will be going full tilt come Spring. A lot of people were against the airport bonds, but they are going to be proud of the new facility once it gets open and operating. I hear that Howard Gault recently got the bug and wound up with a nice plane. The number of plane owners will continue to grow, especially once the airport starts operating.

Meanwhile, don't let your wife put your overcoat on one of those rummage sales. You'll still need it before winter ends. We are going to have quite a bid or bad weather between now and March. More moisture, too. I started back in 1935 predicting a big wheat crop for 1938 — and you can see how things are shaping up. We are going to get it sure as the world. Probably some more bad weather over the week-end; next week at the latest.

IF YOU NOTICED a faint aroma of sheep and Black Angus cattle while drinking coffee around town this week, it was probably due to the fact that Lyle Blanton is back in town and making the round. Lyle spent so much time in South Dakota last year that he now says "creek" when he means "creek," but otherwise he is in the same Old Lyle. It seems like old times to have him in circulation once again.

Ezra Norton can get more worried over the tax situation than anyone I know. This is probably because he has a lot of property, giving him a deep personal interest. Ezra thinks the whole shebang — City, County and Schools — needs to be equalized and re-evaluated.

NOW IS THE TIME to pay your poll tax. They are coming in fairly well, but have a long way to go. This will be a heavy election year on county offices — and it is safe to bet that we will have another school bond election sometime during the next 12 months. This is one year everyone should definitely pay his poll tax.

IN NEW MEXICO Mrs. Frank Bezner and children were in Truth or Consequences, N. M., over the weekend to visit with relatives.

No Winners

Local Boys in Amarillo Show

Six Hereford boys showed their livestock in the Amarillo Stock Show this week. Though none were first place winners, one did rank fourth in his division.

In sheep judging, Pete Plank showed the fourth best heavy crossbred, while his brother, Dick, came in fifth in the same category.

Buddy Godwin had a fifth place sheep in the light crossbreds.

THREE OF THE six boys showed calves, two Herefords and one Angus. Eugene Vasek showed his Angus in the heavyweight division, while Lewis Barnett placed 21st in the Hereford heavyweight and Gary Guseman placed 31st.

"It was a fine show," said county agent J. W. "Lefty" Thomas, "and there was a lot of competition. The boys gained a lot of experience and it was the first showing up there for all of our boys."

There were no hog or poultry entries from Deaf Smith.

VISITS RELATIVES

Ray Williams Jr. of Austin, Nev., visited his grandmother, Mrs. E. F. Williams, and his aunt, Mrs. M. C. King, over the weekend. He was en route to Sheppard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls.

THE REAL THING—Sheriff Charles Skelton exhibits the most recent addition to his gun collection, a brand-new Colt Buell Special. The .45 caliber gun has a 12-inch barrel and is like that used by television's Wyatt Earp. Skelton said the gun "is more of a novelty than anything. It had its uses in the old days but not now." Hereford H.D. Holds Program

Mrs. Argen Draper presented a program on the forward look to the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club at its meeting in the home of Mrs. R. E. Barrett last Thursday.

Dawn H. D. Club Meets Mrs. Draper

Mrs. Argen Draper, home demonstration agent, pointed out ways in which the farm homemaker could better manage the recreation, purchase of food and clothing and keep the family moral at a high during these years of dwindling farm income and increasing cost of living.

Happy Homes 4-H Studies Procedure

A demonstration on parliamentary procedure was given to the Happy Homes 4-H Club by Mrs. A. Ott. The meeting was held in the home of Genea Logan on Jan. 19.

Relatives Visited

Mrs. and Mrs. Willis Dufur and family visited relatives at Endeavour, Okla., over the weekend.

Record Cotton Year Forecast

Texas cotton growers should have a record-breaking year in 1958, according to Fred C. Elliott, cotton work specialist of Texas A. & M. College. The prospects are good that the 91-year old production record of 325 pounds of lint per harvested acre, established back in 1866, might be broken, he said.

Seed Storage Is Big Threat

AUSTIN—Coming hard on the heels of the worst cotton harvesting conditions in 50 years is a serious aftermath which threatens to affect most Texas cotton farmers — inflation on the short crop of good quality cotton planting seed, state agriculture commissioner John C. White said this week.

Dependable cottonseed is short this year, and as a result, the farmer stands danger of being exploited by unscrupulous speculators who would not only jack up prices on cottonseed, but on near worthless cottonseed at that.

In spite of the fact that Texas has good, sound laws which require accurate labeling of seed offered for sale and which establish dependable germination standards, conditions are ripe for black marketing and misrepresentation of seed to the farmer.

This is because much of the cottonseed from Southern states this year will be completely worthless for planting purposes. Already, seven of the major cotton producing states have had to lower their minimum per cent of germination to as low as 50 per cent of germination. Seed will be offered for sale which normally would be fit only for crushing at the oil mill.

Although Texas suffered the same bad harvesting conditions as did the other states, Texas certification standards have thus far remained unchanged. This means that, with optimum planting conditions this spring, it is possible there will be enough reliable seed to take care of the state's needs.

But good seed is not plentiful, and the speculators who free-lance for profits on such disasters are aware of this and are already set up for business.

Spring planting in most areas is still some weeks away. It is not thinking about getting ready to plant, and the farmer's most reliable source of dependable seed is, as always, his certified seed dealer whom he knows and trusts.

Thanks, Folks!

By ARGEN DRAPER
Thanks, folks, for your kind words about the award I received last Thursday night. My deep appreciation goes to all of you who have helped in doing the job. The nature of the job of home demonstration agent is such that it takes about everyone in town and the county to put it over.

Local Classroom Teachers Meet

The Hereford Classroom Teachers met in regular session Monday night in the Hereford High School library with Mrs. Merlin Kaul, president, presiding.

Mrs. Helen Yeager gave a report on results obtained from a research on schools which had tried the four-quarter method of running their schools. Of interest was the fact that Amarillo tried the method in 1920. All attempts seemed to have been in vain, she said.

Mrs. Kaul announced two meetings to be held soon for classroom teachers. The Regional Convention in Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 31 and Feb. 1. The program for classroom teachers in connection with the American Assn. of School Administrators in St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 22-25.

About 60 teachers attended the meeting.

Panhandle Youth Committee Meets

The Panhandle youth committee for the Junior Odd Fellows and Theta Rho girls met in the Odd Fellow hall Sunday afternoon with Guy Lawrence presiding.

The purpose of the meeting was to formulate plans for the district meeting which will meet in Hereford, April 12 and 13.

The work of the Junior Odd Fellows and Theta Rhos consists of team work and individual charges in club work. A dance was planned for Saturday night. Sunday morning a local preacher will be asked to conduct the Sunday morning services at the hall.

Attending from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Lattimer and daughter Joyce from Borger, Mr. and Mrs. John Killian, Mrs. Ruth Lawley, Linda Wilhelm, Linda Hear, Barbara Whitman, Betsy Qualls, Rita Oglesby, Bill Kirham, and Russell Hollis, all of Pampa. Others attending were Melba Gay Lawrence, Linda Inman, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Combs, Mrs. Roy Calvert, and Mrs. C. D. Fitzgerald, Mother Advisor of the local club. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served to the guests.

Rites at Dimmitt For J. W. Turner

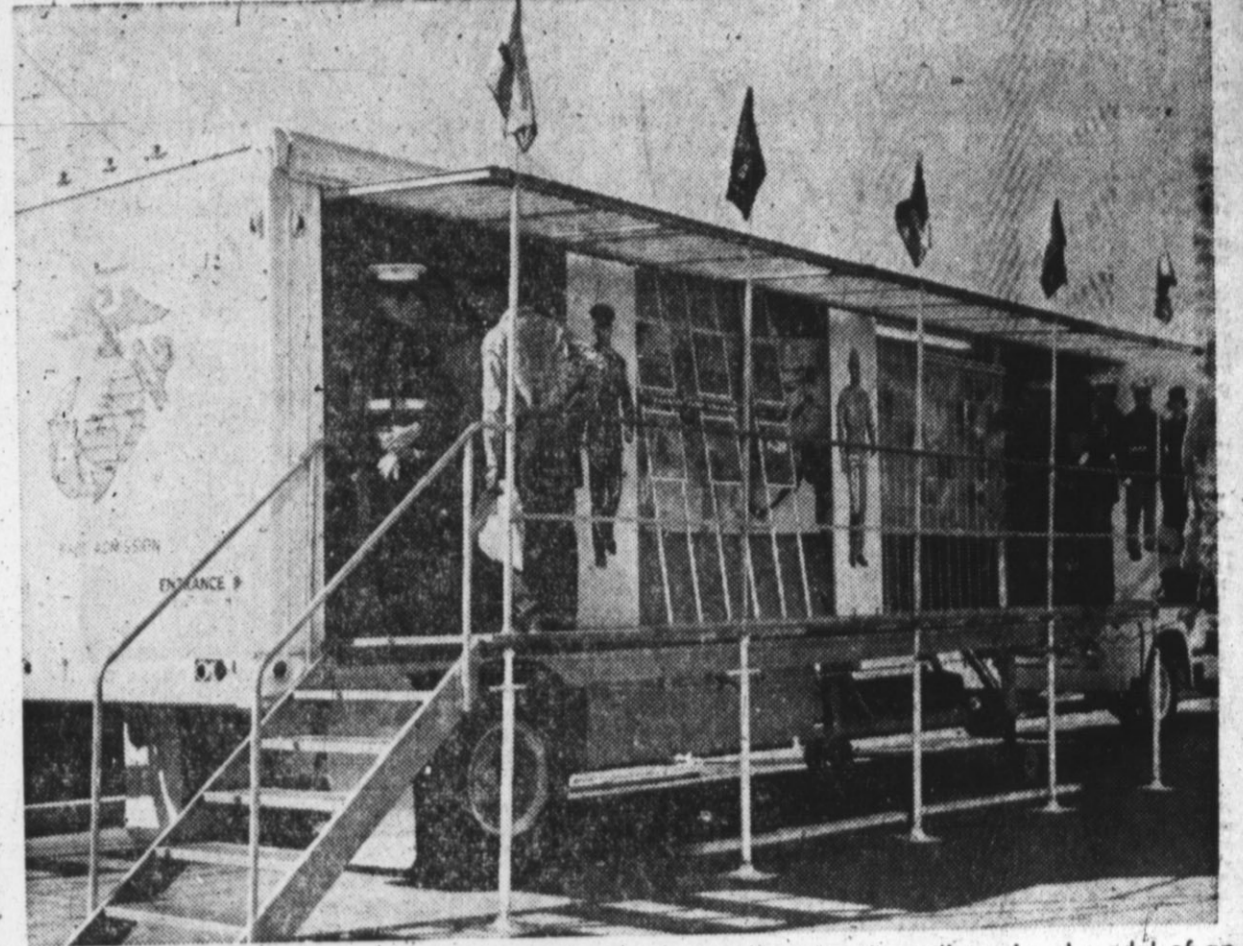

Funeral services for John William Turner, 69, of Dimmitt were held Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church at Dimmitt. He was the brother of Mrs. Clarence Williams of Hereford.

Garden Beautiful Club Sees Film of European Gardens

Garden Beautiful Club members enjoyed a film tour of Europe and some of its beautiful garden spots at the meeting held Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Pool. Mesdames Ray Cowser and Gerald Wilson were assistant hostesses.

Mrs. Liston Wilson showed films of her recent trip to Europe, giving a descriptive narrative of historic places and scenery. Especially enjoyed were the films of the famous gardens of Holland and the gorgeous tulip beds and fields in full bloom.

Mrs. Tom Carter spoke on "Antiques in Glass," giving the history of several patterns and displaying pieces in her own collection.

HERE THURSDAY—This Marine Corps traveling exhibit will be in Hereford from 4 to 10 p.m. today at the corner of Third and Main. Latest weapons and a three-dimensional model of an assault by helicopter are included in the exhibit.

J. H. Woods, one of our local sheep men, is on the road with 8,000 head of sheep which he bought at Ft. Stockton, Texas. John McLean is nursing a bruised and swollen throat this week as the result of sudden contact with a clothesline as he was flying along at the end of a chain attached to a run-away cow. The cow had been troublesome about getting in a lot and he had thrown the staking-chain over her head to lead her in. In the resultant commotion his chin hooked over the top of a clothesline and Mr. McLean was flipped over backward rather forcibly. He is recovering splendidly and with the exception of a sore and bruised throat and the effect of sudden throating is none the worse for the accident, which could easily have been very serious.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY CONTROL is expected to be a hotter issue this year than most campaigns for Capitol posts.

Stage is set for the first round of customary shin-kicking and name-calling at the State Democratic Executive Committee meeting here Feb. 1. SDEC is largely made up of conservatives favorable to Governor Daniel. Their critics and opponents are the Democrats of Texas, a liberal group which contends its partisans were in the majority at the last state convention, but were unfairly squeezed out of party posts.

DOT has drawn up a proposed "code of ethics" which, it says, will prevent any fast shuffles at future conventions. At the Feb. 1 meeting DOT representatives will urge the Executive Committee to adopt the code.

RATTLING THE BARS—More housing, more paroles, more industries are recommended by the Board of Corrections to relieve "a potentially explosive situation" in Texas prisons.

Board said it will probably ask next Legislature for $7,500,000 housing appropriation. Mgr. O. B. Ellis' report to the board on prison "rumbling" said that with the inmate population at 10,500, at least 75 per cent have to be crammed into "tanks" (one-room barracks) with 400 sleeping on the floor.

Board also urged speed in getting into operation the paid parole supervisor program, authorized by last Legislature. Supervision system is designed to permit more paroles. About one-third the required number of supervisors has been hired so far. Federal government threw a monkey wrench into prison operations by cutting back on the prison farms' cotton acreage, said the governing board. It said more work opportunities for prisoners must be developed.

GOLDEN AGE AIDS—Ways to improve the outlook for Texas' older citizens are being sought by a 15-member committee of legislators and private citizens.

Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro was named chairman at the first meeting of the panel.

It's not "just an old age pension committee," said Martin. It'll consider such sticky problems as the number of aged persons in mental institutions because no one knows what else to do with them. Also the difficulty oldsters have finding employment even with valuable training and experience.

Percentage of "over 65's" in Texas population has doubled in past 50 years.

Cost of Cotton Disease Was High In Texas in '57

COLLEGE STATION—Texas cotton producers literally took it on the chin from a lot of sources in producing their 1957 crop. Floods, hail storms, insects and unfavorable weather during the normal harvest season all took their toll but, reminds Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, cotton diseases got in a lick and cut production in the state by about 10 per cent.

He says the state average, however, doesn't tell the story because in areas where diseases struck the hardest, losses ran into ruinous figures. The three diseases which caused most of the damage were listed by Smith as bacterial blight, root rot and seedling diseases. These same diseases have been listed for the past six years as big trouble makers for cotton growers.

The specialist advises farmers to become familiar with the diseases most common in their area. This knowledge will enable them to plan a systematic control program. Detailed maps of the fields on which are shown areas known to be infected with cotton diseases are an aid in combatting this production problem. These spots or areas can be left out of cotton and handled in a different way.

There isn't much that can be done about most cotton diseases after the crop is up and growing. Here are suggestions from Smith on practices which have proved their value in cotton disease control. All planting seed should be treated; whenever available disease resistant varieties should be planted; cultural practices and crop rotations are of great value in control programs and he advises against mixing high and low quality planting seed.

Low quality seed may be the source of infection of many diseases. The application of a complete fertilizer with a high phosphorus content will aid in controlling seedling diseases and no planting should be done until the soil temperature is 70 degrees F.

tested, can keep his job as the result of a Supreme Court ruling.

At issue was whether the Board of Insurance or court handling the receivership should name the attorney. Allred was appointed by a local district court.

High court said, in effect, the board has first appointive power, but the court can step in where necessary.

Indians Women's Club Unites Lonely Wives

By ANNETTE DAVIS
(For Jane Eads)

WASHINGTON—Washington can sometimes be a lonely place for wives whose husbands' official duties bring them here from other countries.

To acquaint the newcomer from their land, the women of India have formed an Indian Women's Assn. or, as they call it, Chetana. Translated, this means "awakening" or "inspiration."

The idea originated with Mrs. Hilda Raj whose husband is director of the Asian section of the International Monetary Fund. Before coming to Washington, Mrs. Raj taught anthropology at the University of Delhi and now she is working on a Ph.D. in sociology at American University. But, she said, despite this activity, she feels the need to meet with other Indian women in the area.

The group was formed, she says, "to give us a chance to forget ourselves and get together as Indian women. Otherwise we might never know one another in Washington."

At present there are 82 members of the association. They meet once a month in the Indian Chancery, sometimes to talk, other times to plan outings.

Last year they toured the FBI, the Pentagon, the museums of Washington, and a flour mill. At Christmas they dressed dolls in Indian clothes and sold them for charity to American friends.

Smaller groups within the organization have formed music, drama, and cooking circles.

Mrs. Saudamini Mehta, wife of the Indian ambassador, is president of the group. She has organized several fashion shows to exhibit the brilliant hues saris worn by Indian women.

The sari is a straight piece of cloth five or six yards long with a designed border along the selvage. It is wrapped around the waist and draped over the shoulder. Party saris are made of silk woven with gold thread but many of the saris worn in Washington are made of nylon. Unlike her American counterpart, the Indian woman does not discard her clothes because of style. "The fashions change," Mrs. Mehta told me, "but only in the borders of the sari."

Literate Princess Comments On Quality of U. S. Writers

By EUGENE LEVIN

ROME (AP) — Out of Rome's "Street of the Dark Shops" comes a literary review training a beam of light on the work of the world's blossoming young writers.

What does that light reveal? The new generation of writers are not experimenting with language, they are refining it.

The United States has a large and varied share of the world's writing talent.

These are two of the observations of the editors of "Botteghe Oscure," an uncommon literary review with an international flavor so strong a single issue may contain four languages.

The review, which appears twice each year, has earned an excellent reputation during its 10-year history. Its editor, founder and main financial-backer is Princess Marguerite Caetani of Rome, American wife of an Italian nobleman. The review's headquarters are in the Caetani family palace on Rome's 2,200-year-old Via delle Botteghe Oscure, or "Street of the Dark Shops."

PRINCESS CAETANI, editor of "Botteghe Oscure."

"Botteghe Oscure" publishes poetry and fiction, usually in the writers' own languages. Unlike many literary reviews, it carries only creative work and no criticism.

But in an interview Princess Caetani provided some critical comments on the work of the young writers around the world who contribute.

The princess, who was born Marguerite Chapin 76 years ago in New London, Conn., said these new writers do not seem to engage in much experimentation with language, as Joyce did.

"Instead, they appear to be trying to consolidate and refine the use of the written word."

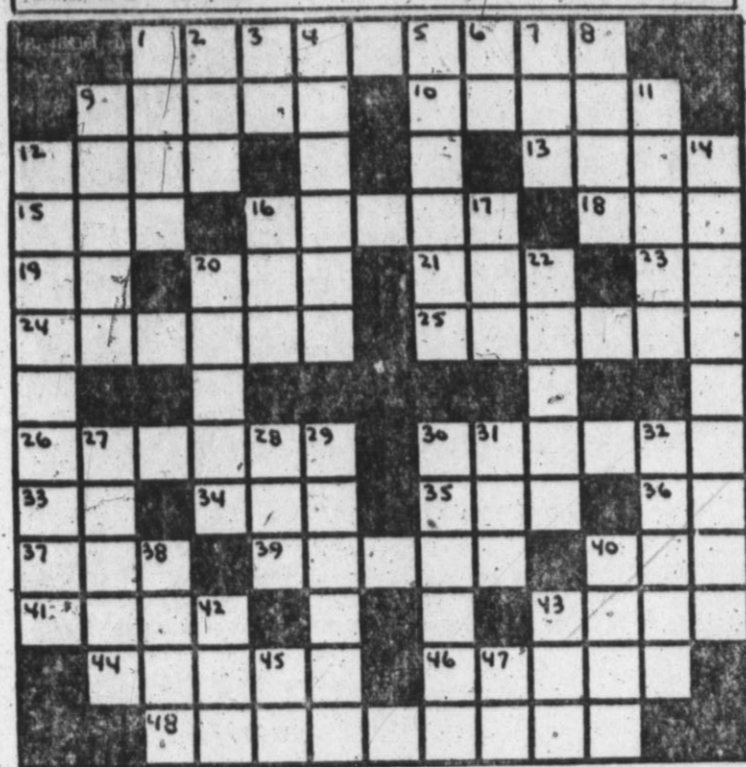

From America comes work that appears to be more lively, more varied, more original than what is produced in Europe," she said.

"Perhaps it is because the United States is so much bigger, so much more diversified."

"There is quality in the writing of young British writers, but less variety than we find in the Americans."

"The French have come up with relatively little. We have found many interesting, accomplished writers and poets whom we have published. . . . But on the whole current French writing is not so exciting. There are too many prizes. People there are writing to win prizes. They write alike. They all write about Paris."

And what do the young writers write about?

"Mostly about people," said Eugene Walter, a writer from Mobile, Ala., who has been a chief editorial assistant to the princess since 1950.

"What's the world all about? What's coming next? What do we do next? These are the questions young writers of today pose," said Walter. "Before World War II the questions were: What do we say next? How do we say it?"

Princess Caetani said that "rather astonishingly" there was no mention in today's young writing of the atomic bomb, or the cold war, or other current topics in the same way as young writers in the 1930s treated such themes as nazism and fascism, depression and approaching war.

Walter's explanation: "The realistic writers of the 1930s were dealing with current problems and impending disaster. Then the disaster came. The crisis has remained. It is a disaster and crisis of such tremendous size, of such unknown qualities, that writers to day — young and old — cannot deal with it. They need detachment and perspective, which are not possible now."

Therefore, in their search to grasp the meaning of the world to day, Walter said, writers deal with people and write about how people react to events, rather than writing about the events themselves.

Have the young writers come up with any answers to their question about the world of today? Generally, they have not, say the editors of "Botteghe Oscure."

Light Leads Our People

Each day a new door opens. What it reveals on the other side, for the people who must pass over its threshold, depends upon the conditions under which they lived their yesterdays.

Those in some countries look through the door upon a new day shadowed with oppressions, where there are few freedoms, tyrannies abound and living is hard and cold.

Those of us in America are more fortunate. Opening the door each day, we are met by the light of freedom which has led our destiny for many years. Protecting that freedom has been — and always will be — a Press that will not succumb to dictation or overpowering despotism.

For the light that leads to all freedoms is Freedom of the Press: Education . . . information of all kinds . . . news of all that transpires . . . and the open discussion of opinions and ideas that sharpens understanding.

Complete freedom of speech and of the press is the light that builds understanding, helping all mankind to advance onward and upward through the opening door of each tomorrow.

Crocodile Hunting on the Nile A Sport for the Faint-Hearted

By E. A. JONES

MPALA, Uganda. — The swamps of central Uganda, where the Nile meanders through a forest of 10-foot papyrus and huge masses of floating weed, are a paradise for crocodile hunters. Africans in the area do a flourishing trade in crocodile skins. Last year about 3,500 skins ended up in shoes and handbags in fashionable stores in America and Eu-

There are several methods of crocodile hunting. Shooting is no good, as a dead crocodile sinks to the bottom and by the time it floats to the surface its skin is ruined.

The method is to fish with a hook on a wire harpoon. The harpoon is inserted in an inflated pig's bladder, which is set adrift. The harpoon is attached to a mouthful of meat and a meat hook in its gullet. The harpoon is harpooned crocodiles from a boat by torchlight at night. I've seen several crocodiles harpooned. Preparations were simple. Harpoon points were sharpened and the harpoon was attached to a wooden shaft with loose wooden hafts to free when the barb had gone in. A length of wire with a hook at the end was attached to the harpoon head. Powerful flashlights and a couple of meat chops completed the hunting kit. The harpoon awaited us at the landing place, where our African hunters produced their canoes. Heavy, hollowed out tree trunks, the ancient dugouts rose only about four inches above the water and threatened to roll under at the slightest movement. Water trickled and splashed through cracks in the sides.

The water was dark and smelly and a pallid marsh-glow showed where opened channels wandered through acres of weed. Despite severe misgivings, we climbed aboard and wobbled away from the bank.

Sebi, my harpooner, swept his torch over the swamp. Floating weeds gleamed silver-green in its beam. Nameless swirls and splashes rippled the surface as the light passed.

The beam of light steadied when twin red lights glowed and flickered from a black mess of papyrus roots. "Gonya," breathed Sebi. He kept the torch trained on the red gleam of the crocodile's eyes as the paddler swung the canoe and sent it gliding forward. As we crept nearer the horny black ridge of the crocodile's spine shone wetly above the surface. Its fat body showed greenish-gray in the halo of light which spread under the water. I leaned out for a better view.

THE RED LIGHTS flicked off, the water swirled softly and there was a faint rustle among the papyrus stalks. Sebi cursed in Arabic. "When you leaned out the gonya saw there was something big behind the torch and took fright," he explained.

For hours the dugout slid quietly through the swamps. Twice more crocodile eyes glowed red in the torch beam, but each time they swirled beneath the within striking distance. One of surface before we could get the other canoes was luckier. It ran into a pack of young crocodiles and bagged two. "Only small crocodiles left now"

Floor Wax

A good floor wax can be made by melting 1/3-cup of beeswax and 2/3 cup of paraffin wax; to this add two cups of kerosene. Apply with a cloth. Be very careful when the kerosene is added to the warm wax. It is better to take outside or allow the wax to cool.

The Winter Coat

When buying the winter coat, do not think that the weight of the coat determines its warmth. A light-weight, fluffy material is oftentimes warmer than a much heavier garment.

Tomatoes

Dip the tomatoes in very hot water and see how easily the skins are removed. Then chill in the refrigerator.

A Broken Candle

When a tall candle has broken in the center, and is otherwise good, light an old candle of the same color, and let the drippings of wax seal the broken place in the other candle. Any surplus wax where the repair has been made can be easily scraped off with a knife.

Parsley

Parsley can be kept throughout the entire winter if it is placed in a sunny window. It affords a garnish whenever wanted, and also makes an attractive plant.

Mustard Plaster

Neither hot water nor cold water should be used when making a mustard plaster. The water should be tepid.

Pastel Shades

The delicate pastel shades on a garment can be prevented from fading if the garment is soaked in a solution of two quarts of water and a small quantity of sugar of lead. Let it remain in this solution for about 10 minutes, then wash in the usual way.

Exercise

The person who gives his body the proper amount and kind of exercise will seldom have a cold. Nothing is better than walking in the open. Step briskly, hold the head erect, let the arms swing, and breathe deeply through the nose.

Cranberry Stains

Cranberry stains can be removed from linen by washing with

The Laundry Tub

When there is a leak in the laundry tub, try thinning some plaster of Paris with water, and rubbing it thoroughly into the crack. Let it dry for two or three days before using the tub.

Stained Wall Paper

One of the best methods of removing stains from wall paper is to wet with water and cover it well with fuller's earth. Lacking fuller's earth, you can use cornstarch. Let the powder dry completely and then brush off with a soft brush.

Plant Tonic

Save all the egg shells, put them in a large bottle, fill the bottle with water, and use this water on the plants.

Paint Brush

It doesn't matter how hard the paint brush may have become, it can be cleaned and softened by soaking it in a bucket of water to which a little lye has been added.

Woolen Garments

The majority of spots on woolen garments can be removed as follows: Dissolve as much borax in water as possible to dissolve, dip a cloth in this borax water and wipe the spots.

Lettuce and Parsley

Keep a glass jar next to the ice in the refrigerator. If the cleaned lettuce and parsley are kept in it they will stay fresh for a much longer time.

Patent Leather

The luster of patent leather shoes can be brought out by rubbing with a soft cloth dipped in turpentine.

Zippers

If the zippers on the galoshes are rusty and difficult to slide, oil them. Ordinary machine oil may be used, but care should be taken that it does not get on any of the fabric.

White Fox Fur

Mix equal parts of magnesia and dry flour thoroughly. Rub this into white fox fur and it will help wonderfully to whiten it.

Potato Salad

When hot potato salad is desired, the French dressing should be heated, as a cold dressing will make the salad neither hot nor cold.

Cleaning Windows

All dust should be brushed off the glass before cleaning a window. Never use soap or it will leave an ugly film on the glass. And never try to clean a window while the sun is shining on it. Ammonia, kerosene, borax, and alcohol are all excellent agencies.

40 Million Women Can't Be Wrong

AP Newsfeatures

Forty million American women can't be wrong.

As the government releases monthly bulletins concerning the rising cost of practically everything, women are turning to their sewing machines in droves, combatting inflation in their own quiet-but effective way.

According to a recent survey conducted by local sewing centers throughout the country, 40 million women spend an average of a full working day each week at their sewing machines. This comes out to a cool couple of billion total sewing days a year, and it doesn't take an Einstein to figure that a lot of sewing gets done during that period.

About 28 million of these women make dresses, while 26 1/2 million make children's clothes; 22 million make blouses, 8 million make suits, and 5 million make coats. On the home furnishings front, 29 million make curtains and draperies, and 11 1/2 million make slipcovers. Some of them sew in all categories.

WHEN YOU consider that the equivalent of a $15 dollar dress can be made by the home seamstress for about $5, at a saving of $10, the savings accomplished by women who sew reach an astronomical figure.

Economy in itself is not the primary reason for home-sewing, the survey found. In the first place, sewing is not done primarily by low-income groups. Sewing machines are owned — and used — by 75 per cent of non-farm families with incomes of $140 per week and up.

Fashion is pretty important to women who sew, and many women have taken to creating the newest styles on their sewing machines. In addition to the obvious economy, they have found that they can achieve better fit and more individual styling by making their own.

There is one more factor to this sewing boom. By saving money with her sewing machine, the American housewife has more to spend on other things. She can buy better shoes, handbags, and hats.

There is another interesting side to all this. Psychologists today worry about the effect of increased leisure time, what with automatic washers and such. They contend that Grandma got a lot of creative satisfaction from making her own soap, churning her own butter, and so forth, and that modern women are suffering from lack of creative fulfillment.

THE INCREASE in sales of sewing machines indicates that women who sew are getting plenty of creative satisfaction, and that the brain trust would do well to worry about something else. One leading sewing machine company reports that sales of the higher-priced automatics account for a quarter of their complete unit sales, and officials of the company attribute this interest to the growth of creative sewing with the accent on fashion.

The automatic machines have played a large part in the expansion of the sewing machine market, since the new devices make it easy to do decorative stitching, create special effects, and add extra fashion appeal to any garment. Women also appreciate the convenience of construction sewing done on an automatic machine. Such jobs as overcasting seams, hemming, bar tacking and buttonholes may be done quickly and easily.

Of women interviewed in the survey, a hefty percentage listed "creative satisfaction" as their primary reason for sewing. A larger percentage put economy first, but 89 per cent put creative satisfaction in either first or second place.

 Lest we forget: When God takes something from us, He does so only to give us something much better and nobler. All things must finally be given up when death claims us. Sun, moon and stars, yea, the whole world shall pass away. The supreme question is: Am I in Christ, and is Christ in me? If so, He will give you all when all seems lost: a new home, new friendships, new fellowships, a new white garment. All this He has promised to them that love Him. The Word; In Him He gives us all! is no poorer and no narrower than the eternally bounteous God and His heaven. Since Christ came into the world, all that is divine, glorious, and blessed is to be gained through faith in Him.
 A most cordial welcome to you.

MAKING PREPARATION

... but maybe too late!

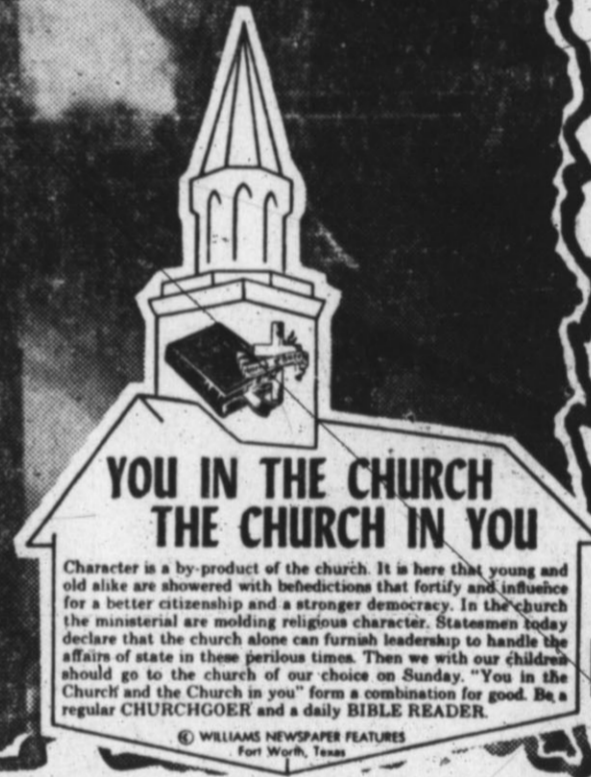

True we have our furnaces fired, our machinery greased and men to man the tasks... but where is God?

Nations are tampering with His creation and threatening every day to blow it to bits... with no thought of God.

His church is on the corner and His servants are telling His simple story but it means little to men bent on destroying things and people. No nation can curse God and get away with it.

He will paralyze them as He did the serpent.

Likewise, He will deliver them as He did those in bondage long ago when they seek Him. Whenever and wherever men humble themselves God will make a way. Why not spend some time making preparation for a greater day... the final day?

YOU IN THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Morning Cookies Good With Tea

CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

IF YOU EVER WANTED to eat a cookie with a cracker-like bland and not really something to nibble with a morning cup of tea or coffee, something for youngsters to taste is still fresh enough to appreciate a simple flavor. This cookie recipe is one you will want to try. The dough has a special way and has an interesting texture; you'll find it easy and fun to knead it a few minutes as called for in these directions.

MORNING COOKIES

Ingredients: 3/4 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs (beaten), 2/3 cup sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 cup oil, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons water, 1/2 cup sesame seeds.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat 2 eggs with rotary beater (hand or electric) until thick and lemon colored. Gradually beat in sugar; mixture should be ivory colored. Add corn oil alternately with orange juice, beating constantly, then milk. Stir 1 1/2 cups of the sifted ingredients alternately with milk into the first mixture. Clean rotary beater, beat 2 whites until stiff but not dry. Into flour-egg mixture. Fold remaining dry ingredients. Turn out on a prepared pastry or floured board; knead by about 2 minutes. Roll 1/8" thick. Cut with cookie cutter in desired shape and place on greased cookie sheets. Beat 1 egg white enough to blend; brush cookies; sprinkle with sesame seeds. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes. Cool on racks. Makes about 6 dozen medium-sized cookies. These keep well for weeks in a covered container.

CRACKER-LIKE COOKIES—These cookies have a cracker-like quality in that they are bland and not really sweet. They are made with a special dough and are good with morning coffee or tea.

These Cookies Are Crisp, Thin

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

THAT ALL-AMERICAN PEANUT BUTTER COOKIE is like the little girl with the curl: When it's good it's very good, and when it's bad it's horrid! We're happy to say that this recipe for Peanut Butter Crisps is one of the best we've ever tested. It's a crisp cookie, fairly thin, delicately spiced and keeps well in a tightly closed container.

SPICED PEANUT BUTTER AND DATE COOKIES

Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1/2 cup margarine, 1/2 cup crunchy peanut butter, 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup finely chopped dates.

Method: Sift together the flour and baking powder. Cream the butter, peanut butter, nutmeg, ginger and sugars. Beat in egg thoroughly; stir in dates; gradually stir in the sifted dry ingredients. If desired chill several hours, until stiff enough to handle easily; shape dough into balls the size of a small walnut. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Flatten as thin as possible with tines of a fork dipped in water. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 12 minutes. Cool on wire racks. Store in a tightly closed container. Makes about 50 cookies.

SPICING COOKIES AND CAKES
A knowing hand with spices will often add an interesting flavor to cookies. Here are some suggestions:

Sugar cookies take a hint of ground nutmeg.

Add a dash of powdered all-spice, along with cinnamon and cloves, when you are making apple pie or spicy applesauce.

Mace gives pound cake and sponge cake old-time flavor. If you have pumpkin-pie spice

SPICE AND DATES ADD INTEREST to old-fashioned peanut butter cookies.

MARCEL RETURNS
NEW YORK (AP) — Marcel Marceau, French pantomimist who was the one-man hit of Broadway two seasons ago, is planning a return engagement on the Great White Way this fall.

on your kitchen shelves, you'll find it's handy to use in any dessert that will benefit from a combination of cinnamon, cloves and ginger.

Cinnamon adds interest to plain chocolate cookies.

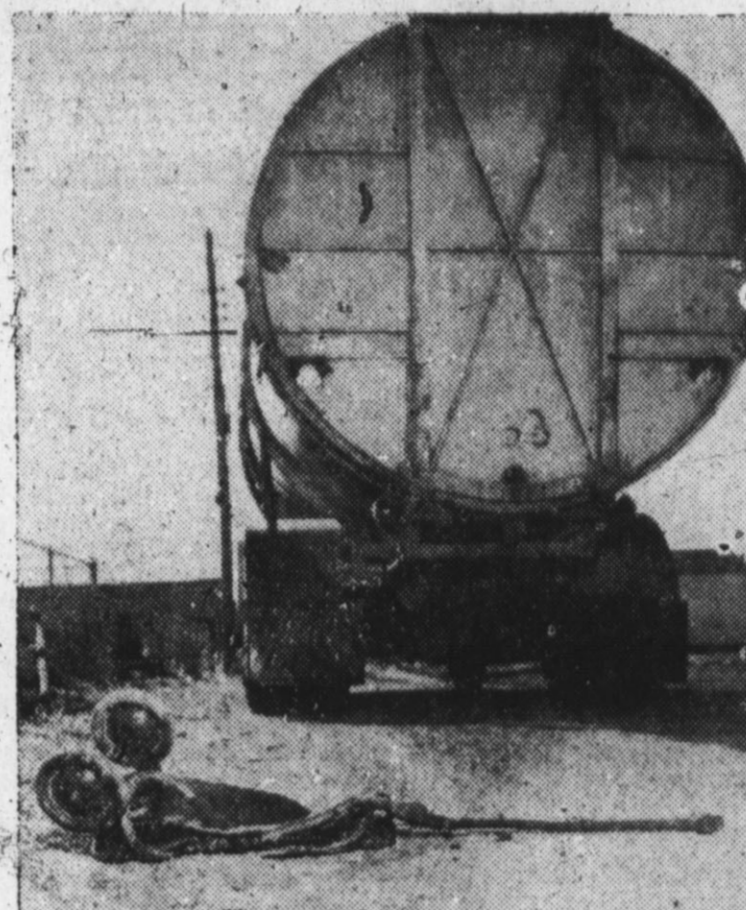

Mix cinnamon with confectioners' sugar and use for sifting over doughnuts straight out of the deep-fat kettle or bought and heated.

Add a little nutmeg to whipped cream to be served with cottage pudding and fruit sauce.

Nutmeg and cinnamon are both good to add to an apple quick loaf; a little powdered clove goes well in a prune quick loaf.

Some cooks like to add cinnamon and mace to chocolate cake mix.

Sweet small muffins, made to serve with tea, take to a pinch of nutmeg.

4-H ROUNDUP

Clubs Studying Parliamentary Procedure Now

Parliamentary procedure is the etiquette of organization. It should be applied so that the will of the majority may be determined and carried out, while at the same time the rights and privileges of the minority are protected.

The first rule of parliamentary procedure is the first rule of etiquette: "Politeness is to do and say. The kindest thing is the kindest way."

Parliamentary procedure and the duties of an officer is the subject matter for 4-H club programs this month. It is one of the aims of those who work with 4-H club members to teach them to be sure of themselves and have the situation in hand whether they are in the home or presiding at a meeting.

Present were Becky Jackson, Linda Boardman, Patsy Story, Mandy Moore, Glenda Fuhrmann, Babs Gholson, Vinita Pitts, Gwen Albracht, Merle Carmichael, Kathy Bilibrey, Nancy Parsons and Jennifer Hagar.

Happy Workers
Mrs. Dorotha Prowell gave a demonstration on specification for demonstration contest and Texas 4-H awards program to the Happy Workers 4-H Club at its meeting in the home of Janis Dean Friday. She presented each of the members with a 4-H calendar.

Caprock

Lower Feed Grain Priced Predicted

COLLEGE STATION — Feed grain prices will probably average much lower in the marketing year ending Oct. 1, 1958, than for the same period in 1956-57, according to John G. McHaney, extension economist. This prediction, he says, is based on lower 1957 support prices, a large 1957 crop and the large supplies already on hand.

Because of record feed crops in 1957 the total feed concentrate supply has increased to a new record of 213 million tons for 1957-58. The utilization of feed concentrates during the present season is expected to be three million tons larger than last year. But the supply is large enough to take care of this increase and still boost carryover stocks another 10 million tons at the close of the 1957-58 marketing year, says the economist.

The corn supply is estimated at 4,663 million bushels — another new record. Exports are expected to continue heavy but total utilization will be a little smaller than last year. As a result, the carryover at the end of the present marketing year will be larger — maybe 100 million bushels larger — than last year.

The present grain sorghum supply for 1957-58 is estimated at 595 million bushels — more than twice as large as the big last year. Consumption should be well above that of last year exports are expected to be some competition from corn ports, points out McHaney, carryover stocks at the end of the present marketing year probably total around 250 million bushels as compared 81 million bushels on Oct. 1, 1957.

Barley production in 1957 near record carryover stock July 1, 1957, has boosted the 58 supply to a new record, 1 cent larger than last year.

The hay supply is also up 1 cent to register a new record to continue much lower than year, says the economist. In the latter part of 1958 will depend on the 1958 crop. With favorable weather, we expect large crops again.
