Amarillo Firm Bids Low On Street Work

Drenching Spring Rainfall Brightens Farming Outlook

Dark, threatening clouds hanging over the area late Friday afternoon made no false promises as Deaf Smith was soundly drenched with torrential rainfall Friday night, leaving from one to 1 1/2 inches of moisture on thirsty cropland.

The heavy rainfall, which began about 8:30 p.m. Friday, followed two unusually wet snowfalls welcomed by county farmers earlier this month.

Hereford's official moisture gauge recorded only .66 of an inch of rainfall, but farmers in other parts of the county reported up to 1 1/2 inches. Friday's moisture brought the month's total to 1.98 inches in Hereford, and the year's total to 2.56.

The four-hour rainfall will further rejuvenate the dryland wheat crop in the northwest portion of the county and save another expensive watering operation for wheat under irrigation.

For many potato and onion producers, it will serve as a pre-irrigation operation but will delay planting for a few more days. About 20 per cent of the potato crop has been planted, and onion planting should be completed in a period of two weeks, weather conditions permitting.

Earl Plank, 3 1/2 miles northeast of Hereford, reported rainfall at about an inch. Carl Wimberley, who farms a mile west of Dawn, said the rain left another .75 of an inch to the 1.08 received during the snowfall last week.

Jim Perrin of Westway reported 1 1/2 inches with a sprinkling of hail. The hail caused no damage to his wheat, he told the Brand Saturday morning.

Jack Streuss, who resides five miles south of Summerfield, reported a "good rain," and Joe Reinauer of Westway said that area received an inch and a light hail, which caused no damage.

The moisture was especially helpful to potato and onion growers.

City Commissioners took the low bids for bonds and construction Friday afternoon on an extensive street improvement program.

Gilvin-Terrell of Amarillo was awarded contract for $182,912.83 for paving and resurfacing many streets in Hereford. He bid on hot mix topping.

Only three contractors submitted bids for the large program. Lewis Construction Company of Dumas bid $124,672.21 for the job, using the asphalt penetration alternate to hot mix.

Third contractor bidding was E. D. Baker Company of Borger. The company bid $220,842.93 for hot mix and $144,415.43 on the triple course penetration alternate.

Work is scheduled to start within the next two or three weeks. Completion is estimated within 90 calendar days.

Columbian Securities Company was the low and successful bidder on the bond. The company offered an effective interest of 3.1484 per year. Bob Davis, representing the successful bond issuer, told city officials that L.A. Beck municipal bonds sold Thursday for an interest rate of 3.30.

Columbian offered 3 and 3/4 per cent rates on the first group of bonds, 3 per cent on others and 3.20 on the final groups. The bonds are issued for 12 year and are callable for payment before maturity.

There were nine companies bidding on the bonds. The effective interest rate bids ranged to a high of 3.4569. Gross interest rate on the low bidder was $49,942.50, less $39 premium for a net interest cost of $49,903.50.

City Commissioners expressed satisfaction with the bids, although the construction bid is slightly higher than the $180,000 bond issue approved Tuesday. Earlier this month the Commission had approved a budget which included $20,000 for capital expenditures.

This fund, they had stated, would be used for street repairs if the bond issue did not carry. Since it did carry, they will use about $11,000 for the first year bond payment while the remainder probably will be used to pay the extra $2,912, plus other election and bid expenses, which were not included.

Absentee Voting Nears Deadline

Absentee voting for Deaf Smith County and Hereford Rural High School District board elections will end at 5 p.m. Tuesday, March 28, in the County Clerk's office.

In spite of heavily-contested races for two Hereford District board posts, only 16 absentee ballots had been cast in the County Clerk's office Saturday morning. Six candidates, including two incumbents, will be on the ballot for the two posts.

No ballots had been cast Saturday morning for candidates in three county and one Walcott board posts up for election. Only one race on the county school board is contested, while the Walcott post has only one candidate.

Both school board elections will be held Saturday, April 1. Absentee balloting for a special election for United States Senator from Texas and for the posts of mayor and two commissionerships in the Hereford general city election will end Friday, March 31, at 5 p.m.

Around Town

Second of the 71 candidates for U. S. Senator will visit Hereford Tuesday, March 28. If the other 69 intend to get around they'd better hurry, since the election is April 4. U. S. Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth will be here Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Wright. They will be guests at an informal luncheon at the Country Club at 12:30 p.m. You may call EM4-2042 or EM4-3500 for reservations.

St. Anthony's Parochial School received word Saturday morning that one of its entries in the annual Panhandle Science Fair had won first place. The honor went to an experiment on sources of bacteria prepared by the fifth grade boys. It was judged best in the intermediate biological division of the show. Other winners had not been released Saturday.

All area vegetable growers are invited to attend a meeting of the Top O' Texas Vegetable Growers Council on Monday, March 27, at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held at the First National Bank Community Room.

Did you happen to notice the five people standing around watching two Southwestern Public Service Company men working in front of the Post Office the other day? Usually they don't attract so much attention as they do their work. Could it be the crowd was so interested because Bill Drummond was using a shovel?

Alkman PTA members this week are canvassing residents about supporting state education legislation. The action is called "Operation Alert" and is being directed to Sen. Andy Rogers for consideration.

Name Managers, Schedules, Try-Outs For Little League

Officials of Hereford's Little League program this week finished organizational plans for the 1961 season.

President J. R. Allison announced the following board of directors: Allison; Jim Hartman, vice president; O. Z. Golden, secretary-treasurer; A. T. Mims, player agent; Debs Knox, umpire in chief; E. F. Cain, purchasing agent; major league representative Roy Hartman; and the Dodger minor league coach, not named.

Try-outs for Little League players will be held April 17-20. Player auction is slated for April 21, with announcement of team assignment on April 22.

Those not selected will have one additional day of try-out, April 24, with minor league auction on April 25 and the team rosters announced on April 26.

This year there is an important rule change regarding age of boys who play in Little League. The minimum age has been raised to nine years of age before August 1, 1961. Another change raises the number of 12-year-olds to seven from six, with six who are 11 and two who are 10 and 9.

The manager selection committee, including Ted Higgins, Buddie Evans and Wayne Phillips, announced the following major league managers: S. T. Loerwald, Dodgers; Bill Drummond, Giants; Ken Kendrick, Cardinals; and Roy Hartman, Yankees.

Marvin Coffey and Roy Boyer will assist in coaching the Giants, while Marvin Knox and Jerry Murphy will coach the Yankees.

L. B. Russell will manage the minor league Cardinals, while P. T. Clark will manage the minor league Pirates. Managers have not yet been selected for the minor league Dodgers, Giants, Yankees and Braves.

Harold Loerwald will be official scorekeeper. Additional scorekeepers and minor league managers are still needed, Allison said.

The season will open on May 8. There will be two games played on each scheduled day of play, with the minor league game starting at 6 p.m. and the major league game starting at 8 p.m.

Pampa Takes 10-8 Victory In See-Saw Battle Friday

Three home runs, two by Hereford and one by Pampa, highlighted a baseball game here Friday that became as gloomy as the clouds overhead.

Once again, Hereford was unable to hold a lead as walks turned into runs. The Harvesters picked up two runs in the top of the seventh to break an 8-8 deadlock, then put Hereford down in order to preserve a 10-8 victory. Both runners scored after getting bases on balls.

Edwin Thomas picked up a pitch off his shoe tops and blasted it over the center field fence in the bottom of the second to give Hereford an early 1-0 lead.

It was tied up in the third as Butch Frazer looped one over left field for the Shockers. But the Whitefaces came back in the last of the third with two more runs and a 3-1 edge. Gary Kendrick's sacrifice bunt turned into a hit as he beat out the throw and both runners advanced on Ronnie Botkins' bunt. Kendrick's and Willoughby looped in on Dan McDowell's double.

In the first of the fourth, Pampa came steaming back with four runs on four hits. It was a case of two doubles, two

Farm And Home Show Plans Are Studied Friday

Farm and Home Show portion of the Harvest Festival should be bigger and better this summer if plans made Friday morning are any indication.

Members of the Festival planning committee met for a breakfast meeting to discuss the exhibits and financing for the entire celebration, slated July 24-29.

This year the home show will be open during the evenings only. Show hours will be 6:30-10 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday. The Festival has been assumed that the regular wrestling program will be suspended so the exhibits may be kept open the final night of the show.

The 4-H Club Leaders Council handles the Farm and Home Show. Mrs. J. W. Thomas said Friday that the group plans to sell about 60 booths this year with added space available.

Some out-of-town exhibits will be solicited, she said, but will be promoted as non-competitive with local merchants and exhibitors.

Plans are being made for some type of free gifts to be

REAL CHOW HOUND This wise old dog named Boy really takes the frosting off the cake. Boy, a huge red-brown dog of Chow and German shepherd heritage, turned 15 and his mistress, Mrs. Joe Chatelain of Dallas, threw a big party. In attendance were 11 youngsters in the neighborhood and a new playmate, a monkey named Cricket. By some dog expert's reckoning, Boy would be about 105 human years old. It was the first time Boy was allowed to approach the table like this, and he acquitted himself handsomely. (AP Photo)

Cowboying goes modern: Junior High coach Jerry Don George sent his physical education class out for a long run in the north part of Hereford Friday morning. He herded them back to the school with a bus. Although it was to pick up those who dropped out... it came back empty. The boys probably were afraid that Coach George would run over them if they lagged behind.

Hereford Explorer Scout Post 50 will wash cars at two locations on Saturday, April 1, as a fund-raising project. Locations are 110 Avenue D and 429 Avenue K. You can call EM 4-1204 or EM 4-3284 for reservations.

Next Friday, March 31, and the following Monday will be school holidays for Easter.

Remember that the deadline for buying vehicle licenses is Friday, March 31. You have until April 15 to get vehicle inspections.

Hereford's baseball team has no games scheduled until Saturday, April 1, when Portales will come here for a doubleheader. First game is to start at 1 p.m. Of course, some of the games which were postponed may be scheduled for earlier this week.

All 71 Senatorial candidates feel to run is their fate. But when counting ends, so late, some will have been left at the gate.

Hereford took its turn in the fourth with four runs and a 7-5 lead, Edwin Thomas singled, Wesley Poarch walked, both stole bases, Ken Loerwald was safe on an error and pinch hitter Jimmy Collier singled. An error and a fielder's choice added to the scoring. Bill Steele relieved Kendrick in the top of the fifth, but immediately found himself in trouble. With one out, he gave up two singles, then walked two to push in a run. That knotted the score at 7-7, but Charlie Burrus blasted a homer to give Hereford another lead in the last of the fifth. Jimmy Collier came in to pitch for Hereford in the sixth, but also had his troubles. He walked one man. With two out, a single and an error gave Pampa the tying run. This was due, he said, be-cause the Texas Highway De-partment was not letting summer construction contracts at the time of the first elec-tion and bid call.

Less than a half-dozen potato planters were in potato fields in the county Friday afternoon before dark clouds made their appearance. Winds up to 35 miles per hour stirred up a mi-nimum of dust, as most soil was still dampened from the snowfalls.

How Can I?

Q. How can I facilitate the removal of paraffin from a jelly glass?
A. The best method is, when making jelly, after filling the glass, lay a strong piece of string about six inches long over the top. Pour the paraffin over the cord and let harden. When the jelly is to be used the paraffin will slip out easily by taking hold of each end of the string and pulling.

How Can I? By Anne Ashley Q. How can I clean dust from a black straw hat? A. Instead of using a brush, rub the hat well with a piece of black velvet. The velvet removes the dust more completely than brushing. Q. Is there any way I can renovate our family shoe brush which has become so full of wax polish that it no longer does a good job? A. You can clean this brush by soaking it in some gasoline, and then spraying it with a hose. Q. How can I keep new clothes from breaking? A. Soak them for 30 minutes in a vessel of boiling water, to which a little baking soda has been added, and they will not break so readily. Rinse them in cold water and let them dry in the sun. Q. How can I retain the softness of chamomile gloves after washing them? A. After washing the gloves, rinse in clear warm suds, to which a few drops of olive oil have been added. Q. How can I set dark colors in wash materials? A. Vinegar is excellent for setting dark colors in wash materials, using one-fourth cup of vinegar to one quart of water. Q. How can I strengthen buttonholes? A. Two rows of stitching around a buttonhole will strengthen it, and there will be no more annoyance of having the buttonhole tear at the edges.

INDIAN RESTORATION
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — A early 19th Century Indian village may spring up near here, if a state planning official has his way. He has recommended that a Cherokee Indian village be restored on the spot on the Tennessee River Gorge where it was destroyed in 1803. The restoration, near South Pittsburg, Tenn., would be part of the scenic development of the gorge.

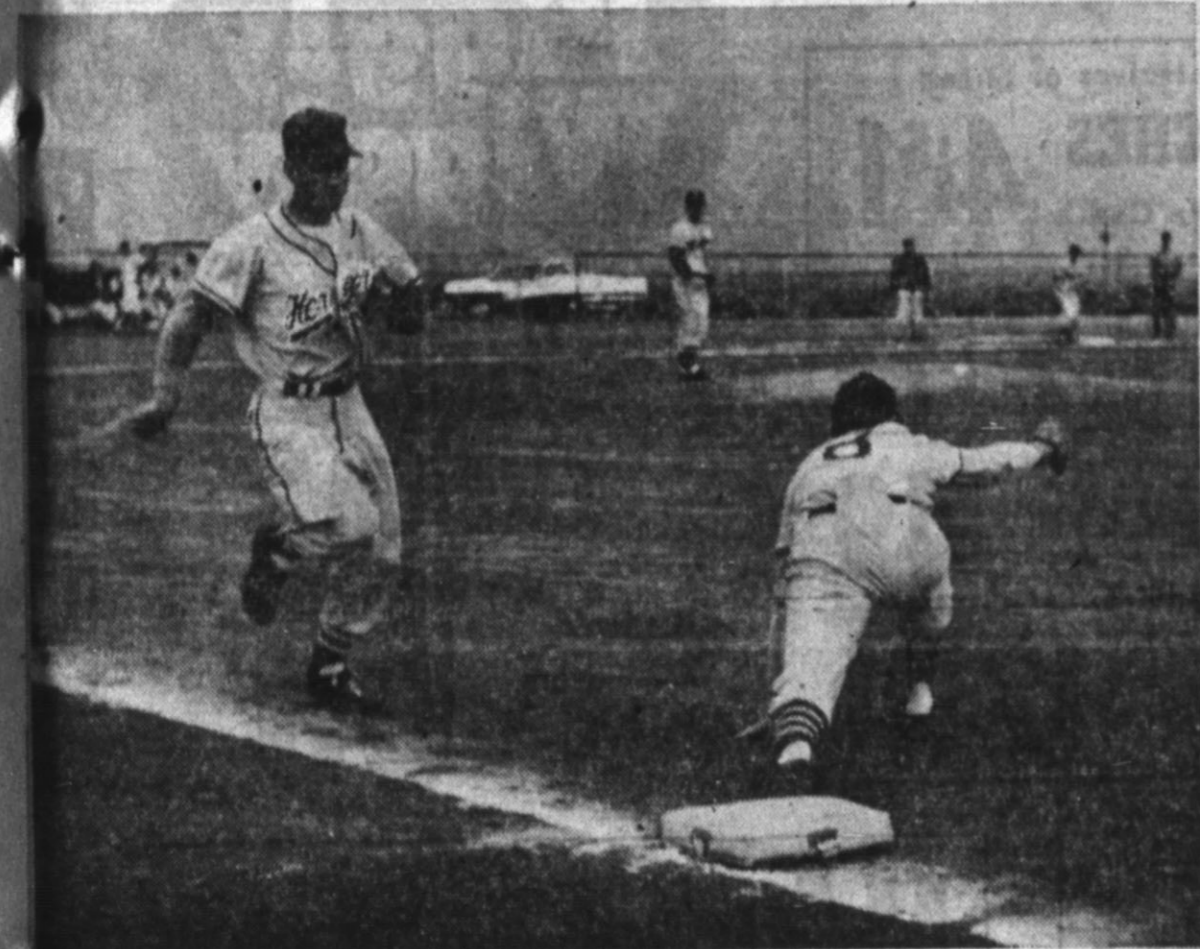

STILL MAKING SORGHUM
GEM, Ohio — Earnest H. Ball has worked for 59 years at a now-disappearing trade. Each fall, he operates his sorghum mill in this southeastern Ohio village. "Making molasses has been mostly a family affair," he says. "The most dependable helper I have had over the years is my missus." Mr. and Mrs. Ball have 11 children.

One more week and Easter bunnies will be running all over the place. I have been looking high and low for an Easter basket, but can't find any I like. I finally decided maybe they took all of the baskets and made ladies hats out of them, especially after I had a good look at some of the new styles. Mostly, though, I hear people talking about politics. Notice where candidate Jim Wright will be introduced at a special luncheon Tuesday, March 28, at the Hereford Country Club.

Also note considerable interest in the race for Mayor of Hereford. There will be a run-off in this race, if necessary. The procedure is specified in our charter, but has never been necessary, at though we have been operating on the charter since 1954. Mostly, we don't have two candidates, much less three.

I got some straight dope this week that John Aiken is interested in latching onto a banjo. Like a lot of old boys, John has a certain amount of "ham" that is bound to pop out. The way I get the story is that John did the crooning for an entertainment unit with his outfit during the war. I checked with Glenn Nelson, who says that John is pretty good, especially on hillbilly stuff; he says John can put across Pappy O'Daniels' old theme song like nobody's business. Personally, I will have to hear it to believe it, but I wouldn't bet anything that he cannot produce. Next thing you know, he will be hunting coons and possum.

A lot of our dreams and early ambitions get sidetracked along the way. This year I had decided for sure that I was going to buy a boat and motor, but wound up buying the little woman a new lawn mower instead. It looks like someone would come up with a combination lawn mower and outboard motor. If they have, I sure couldn't find one.

Bill Thompson, C-C manager, is a former paratrooper, and he was telling a group the other day that the first five times he rode in an airplane he never stayed with it long enough to land. He said they started by dropping him "English style," which means going out through a hole in the bottom where a gunner's bubble was originally placed; later he went out "American style," which means jumping through a side door. Bill says the first conventional landing he made in a plane was quite a thrill, pretty well equal to his first parachute landing.

Sometime when you catch a Sunday afternoon without a lot to do, drive over and browse through the Museum at West Texas State College. Boone McClure, the director, has done an excellent job, and there are many displays which everyone is bound to appreciate.

Most of the old boys who filed in land in Nevada seem to be keeping their interest in the project. N. D. Bartlett is going out pretty soon to finish up some wells and get improvements under way. Neil Cooper has already completed his second well, and Grady Rogers is quite enthusiastic over the prospects in his area. The improvements seem to run pretty steep but, once things get going, most of them expect to have some reasonably priced land. I keep telling them it will be hard to show any net profit so long as they have to pass Las Vegas and Reno, but they refuse to take me seriously.

questionable honor of being the first dandelion digger in 1961. Doc apparently believes in nipping them in the bud, anyhow he has been grubbing away for the past 10 days — and seems to dearly love it. Charles Hoover, on the other hand, took care of his dandelions still earlier, according to reports from my yard scouts. They say he ran the whole doggone yard in concrete, which seems to be the only sensible approach to the problem for the man who doesn't fully appreciate the advantages of yard work.

I need some accurate reports on the fruit crop. Did the last freeze get the pears, apricots, peaches and cherries? I figure Wallace Cox will have some fruit if anyone does, but even Wallace strikes out every so often.

I have been telling Nolan Grady that he will have to learn to drink at least 25 cups of coffee per day to be the kind of postmaster that Jim Lipscomb was. Nolan says he wouldn't mind the coffee, but he just flat can't find the time. He figures after he gets on to the routine maybe he can guzzle a few cups.

Sometimes I am amazed at how many things I miss. Saw Mrs. Emmett Milburn with her arm in a sling this week, and found out that it was broken some three weeks back. She says she just plain fell, and it makes her mad every time she thinks about it; besides, it is hard to play pridge with one hand.

I hear that Ernest Wade has sold his cleaning plant following an illness resulting from a collapsed lung while making a machinery installation. Ernest is still under doctor's orders, but seems to be coming along in pretty good shape. Ervin Robinson was elling me how he and Ernest used to play around here when they were kids, but Ervin says it was longer ago than he likes to remember.

The rain Friday night really brought out the chlorophyll in the stand of wheat on the courthouse lawn and, if this patch is any indication of general crop prospects, things are looking up. I don't know if the commissioners hope to pay off the courthouse improvement bonds, come harvest, but the wheat is a nice barometer. It will save many inquisitive souls a trip out in the country to find out how the crops are doing; besides, it holds down the top soil and weeds and has a tendency to kill out Johnson grass, if any.

These golfers think they are pretty smart with the electric cars which prevent all of that walking and exercise, but science is also taking care of the fisherman. Now they have a gadget which is spring wound, like a clothes line reel. You bait it up, and when the fish bites it automatically reels him in; all the fisherman has to do is come down from his air conditioned quarters every few hours and gather up his catch. He could even make the rounds in one of those golf carts, if he was so inclined. This, my friends, is a new high in modern day sportsmanship.

WOMEN OF INTEREST

Sewing Machine Can Be Gal's Best Friend

BY MONA JETTE
Brand Women's Editor

Ordinarily, the home of Mrs. Roy Pruit on the Dimmitt Highway is a smooth-running operation. But with the approaching marriage of her 19-year-old daughter, Royce Lee, it can best be described as topsy-turvy.

Pearl Pruit is a seamstress far above the par of excellence. At the time being she is sewing deep in the making of her daughter's trousseau and wedding gown. Added to her list of "musts" are a maid of honor's dress for her other daughter, Merry Kay, and a dress for herself to wear to the wedding.

"I'll probably be right behind Royce Lee as she goes up the aisle, putting the hem in her skirt," she laughed.

Our busy seamstress is the former Pearl Hoover. She was raised in this area, but was graduated from high school at Bellview, N. M. She attended Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, N. M., before accepting a teaching position at Hondo.

"I taught the third and fourth grades in Hondo . . . and that's where I met and married Roy," Pearl explained.

In 1943 Roy and Pearl and their two baby daughters moved to Deaf Smith County. For the past 12 years, Roy has been employed as foreman for the Reinauer Brothers Ranch.

Two years ago the family moved to their home on the Dimmitt Highway from the western part of the county. There Pearl has plenty of room for her sewing and her extensive plate collection. She has over 80 plates from every corner of the United States and many foreign countries.

Pearl's kitchen is her "workshop." Here is where she cuts out her patterns, scattering them in happy profusion over the top of her kitchen table. She also has a knack with growing "things" and the room is attractively accented with shiny ivy in colorful planters.

"She's a good cook, too," chimed in 18-year-old Merry Kay. "She is always springing some fancy dessert or new recipe on us."

"But I guess my biggest vice is reading," Pearl confessed, though not in the least ashamed. Just like many of us, she enjoys curling up in a chair with a good book.

Pearl, an attractive brunette who has often been mistaken for her daughters' sister, also is very interested in 4-H and FHA work. She served as a 4-H club leader for seven years, before her failing health forced her to abandon most outside-the-home activities.

The next several months look as if they will be busy ones, even for anyone as energetic as Pearl. Royce Lee's wedding will take place April 14 and Merry Kay will graduate from Hereford High School in May.

She just held her nose and dove right in. So far, the water must be fine, for in the past two weeks she has sewn two suits, five dresses and a formal.

And after the pace lets up? "Maybe she could work on her crocheted bedspread," laughed.

Meat Cookery Is Program Feature

Mrs. Argen Draper, Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Agent, was the special guest at a Tuesday meeting of the Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club, which met in the Bull Barn kitchen. Topic of her program was "Cuts of Meat" and "Meat Cookery."

Mrs. Draper prepared an entire meal, with Ground Beef Pie as the entree. She demonstrated with different cuts of meat the proper way to cook with dry heat, moist heat and cooking with fat.

In cooking with dry heat, which includes roasting, broiling and pan-broiling, Mrs. Draper stressed the need for a good cut of meat, whether beef, pork or lamb.

Moist heat is braising and cooking in liquid, and most cuts suitable for this type cookery need herbs or tomato sauce for tenderizing purposes.

Cooking with fat included either pan-frying or deep-fat frying.

Featured on the menu were Ground Beef Pie, 24-Hour Slaw, green beans with mushroom sauce, French bread with garlic butter, white feed cake, coffee and tea.

During the short business session, the club voted to entertain the Westway Home Demonstration Club with a tea April 18. The president, Mrs. Philip Shook, appointed Mrs. John C. Robinson as chairman of the refreshment committee.

Mrs. Stanley Stutts was welcomed as a new member.

Attending were Mesdames Eugene Campbell, Richard Clark, Melvin Shaw, Ray Evans, Jerry Brown, Phillip Shook, John C. Robinson, Charles Brothers, Stanley Stutts and guests Argen Draper and Loretta Fowler, assistant home demonstration agent.

Many readers, interested in a new ground beef dish, might like to clip the following:

Ground Beef Pie
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 cup each of onion, celery and green pepper salt, pepper and chili powder to taste
1 quart cooked spaghetti or small elbow macaroni
2 cans tomato sauce
Brown ground meat, onion, celery and green pepper well. Add spices and tomato sauce, simmering gently for 30-40 minutes. Add spaghetti or macaroni and cook for five more minutes.

Recipe can be doubled to meet family's needs.

ARGEN DRAPER, county home demonstration agent, presented a program on "Meat Cookery" at a meeting Tuesday of the Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. Draper prepared the noon meal for members and guests, lecturing as she cooked. (Staff Photo)

Guest Day Slated

The Hereford Music Study Club will present Mrs. Sam Jolly of Canyon as guest soloist for their program of sacred music.

The special Guest Day program will be held Monday at 2:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church. Mrs. Cliff Estes, president of the club, is extending a cordial invitation to the public to attend. Theme for the program will be "The Power of Music in Worship," with particular emphasis being placed on Easter music.

Mrs. Jolly, the former Nola Margaret Blue, is a former resident of Hereford. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Blue. Her organ accompanist will be her sister, Mrs. Bill Brady, member of Music Study Club.

Mrs. Jolly was graduated from West Texas State College in Canyon with a major in vocal music. She presently is serving as choir director for the First Christian Church of Canyon.

Farm And Ranch Holds Luncheon

Mrs. Arlie Dean was hostess to the Farm and Ranch Club Thursday as members gathered for their regular luncheon meeting.

Bill of fare included Fish Bake and tartar sauce, potato-mushroom casserole, assorted salads and slaws, devil's food cake and coffee.

The serving table was laid with a handmade white crocheted cloth, centered with arrangements of spring flowers and colorful Easter eggs in nests.

The rooms throughout Mrs. Dean's home were refreshingly accented with bouquets of jonquils, hyacinths and forsythia. Added conversation pieces were her antiques, which were shown to an advantage in her new home.

Mrs. Jack Weaver presided over the business meeting. Club president Mrs. Herschel Burrows was unable to attend. Members made plans for a Guest Day Tea April 19 at 3 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center. Farm and Ranch Club will also be one of the hostess clubs at the Federated Luncheon April 28.

Mrs. Paul Rudd brought the program on "Education in Hawaii." She discussed the early explorers to the islands and how they were amazed to find inhabitants whose implements contained no metal. Even without the fine cutting edge of metal, these people still managed to execute beautiful wood carvings.

"The boys and girls were taught the things their parents knew, such as building shelters, carving and house canoes," Mrs. Rudd said.

Once Over Lightly

Another long winter is finished, (I hope) Of course, if everyone listens to Jimmie Gillette and Tuck as they try their hands at the thankless job of forecasting the weather, you can't be sure.

But when children take off their shoes to run barefoot through the newly green grass and the man of the house starts polishing up his golf clubs and fishing pole, you don't need a homemade weather prognosticator to give you the answer.

It really is spring. After the sun made its appearance again from the recent snows, we took a deep breath, attached bits and harnesses firmly and took the children out shopping for their new Easter outfits.

Now, that was an experience! First came the choosing of shoes. With cries of "No, you cannot wear cowboy boots with your Eton suit" and "No, dear, that's the box" (this last by my middle child, who has more than the required amount of footage "turned under") we toured the stores, leaving in our wake stunned, glassy-eyed clerks.

Next item on the list is dresses. After oh-ing and ah-ing over dainty creations, we finally find two that meet the approval of all concerned. (Including my pocketbook) We narrowly avoided a catastrophe in one shop, as we engaged in a frantic tug-of-war with the youngest over an elegant little number of pale blue silk. (The price tag read $29.95.) She would have looked cute as a bug on Easter Sunday with a seam running from collar to hem... front AND back.

With the dresses out of the way, the girls figured it was an opportune time to tell me they needed new can-can petticoats. I had the understanding that they could still wear last year's. But that was before I was told that the eldest had gotten busy with a pair of scissors and used his handiwork for kite-tails.

Well, it could have been worse. He could have used my best negligee, but I caught on to him a long time ago. I hid

Victory Walks Away From Herd Against Palo Duro Dons

A four-run lead literally walked away from Hereford Thursday as Palo Duro rallied for an 8-6 victory in Amarillo.

Free passes to first base provided the runners that the Dons needed to win their fourth straight game of the season. Both teams were limited in their hitting.

The Whitefaces, looking rusty after a long, enforced absence from practice, jumped into a 4-1 lead in the second and 5-1 in the third, but saw it vanish quickly. Later they were down 5-8 and could just get one run.

Robin Byrd opened up with a walk from Palo Duro in the last of the first, going to second on a steal and coming in on James Covington's single.

Hereford got out in front in the second with four runs. Edwinn Thomas and Charlie Burrus singled and moved another base on an error. Charlie Thomas walked to fill the bases and Wes Poarch walked to push in one run. Ken Loerwald sacrificed in another run, Mickey Stevens singled in a run with the fourth tallying on a wild pitch. The Herd added another run in the third as Edwin Thomas got on by error. He moved around on a walk, a hit batter and another walk.

Jennings, Steve Carter and Dale Pitts tallied for the Dons in the bottom of the third on two walks, two errors and two stolen bases.

Palo Duro went ahead 6-5 in the fourth on two walks and a double that bounced over the center field fence after being swatted by Dale Pitts.

In the sixth, Gordon Nelson singled and came in ahead of Jimmy Jennings after a mighty home run over the left center field fence. Palo Duro then had an 8-5 lead.

Hereford could muster just one run in the seventh as Dan McDowell singled and came in on a wild pitch and two errors. A double play by Palo Duro, their second of the game, ended the contest.

Starter Mickey Stevens was charged with the loss. He pitched three and two-thirds innings. He gave up six runs on two hits, and walked nine. He was relieved by Drew Kershen, who worked two and one-third innings, allowing two runs on three hits. Stevens struck out three and Kershen one.

James Covington started for Palo Duro, but switched to center field after two innings. He allowed four runs on three hits, walked two, struck out one and made two wild pitches. Tony Thompson came in and took credit for the win. He pitched five innings, gave up two runs on one hit, walked five and hit one batter.

The loss was the third for Hereford against a single win. Six errors were charged Palo Duro and two against Hereford.

Once...

Back at the lingerie counter, two ecstatic little girls are fitted in stiff white erinoline, as I wearily count to ten and glare balefully at a smug little boy, smiling as he shares his sisters' joy at their ill-gotten finery.

With the addition of white lace bonnets and purses, the shopping is finished with a gasp of relief. Now all I have to do is give two permanent waves, dye three dozen Easter eggs and press my shantung suit (worn for the sixth straight year) and I'm all finished. There is just one consolation... and that is the fact that the next month brings Mother's Day. Where did I lose out? I thought every day was Mother's Day!

How many of you read the recent newspaper article by the woman who had successfully combined the jobs of career woman and motherhood? She stated that she had learned to be two women. I know just how she feels, for I've had to do the same thing. I'm also two women... which is the same thing as one woman... split right in half.

Also heard about a most interesting professor on the staff of West Texas State College who stoutly comes out against "capital punishment" for children. She firmly believes that no child should be spanked for any reason, no matter the crime. At this time I would like to extend a cordial invitation to her to spend several days with my offspring. She could revolutionize teaching!

All in all, tho, isn't it a wonderful life? When my small son looks at me adoringly (blind to weird wire-brush cur-

Formal Fashions Simply Elegant

If the success of your social life is based on a sensational dress for a gala evening, then this should be one of the most exciting, fun-filled seasons ever.

After-five, ball and date-time gowns have never been so gorgeous. Fashion puts emphasis on fabric in ariest chiffons, soft whispering silks, hand-somely-luxurious cottons and a wide variety of elegant-look blends.

"Jewels," embroideries and dramatic accents are used to trim the bodice, the hems, the drapes and bouffant dress themes, for a look of sparkle to rival a queen's gems.

Color has never been more dramatic in its range of bold, crisp, misty or variegated hues and tints. So, check you calendar of gala events, check your favorite shops and prepare yourself for the heady excitement of the social butterfly beauties.

Program Given By Wes Izzard

Wes Izzard, publisher-editor of the Amarillo Daily News, spoke on the subject of conformity at the noon meeting of Hereford Kiwanis Club Thursday in I. O. O. F. Hall.

Izzard pointed out that mankind has advanced more during the past four decades than in all previous years. He said the advance has resulted from more effective use of human energy.

The speaker said abandonment of the doctrine of individualism is dangerous to our society. He contended that many people are not developing personal convictions and "sticking by them."

Vow Are Repeated Saturday Evening

Miss Joyce Elaine Curtis of Hart and Harvey Warren Garrison of Hereford were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony read Saturday evening, March 25, at 8 p.m. The Rev. R. D. Browder, pastor, performed the ceremony in the First Methodist Church at Olton.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Curtis of Hart and Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Garrison of Hereford.

Escorted and given by marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white hand-clipped Chantilly lace over white silk organza. The fitted bodice was topped with a scooped neckline, delicately scalloped and heavily encrusted with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Long tapered sleeves, accented at the wrists with self-covered buttons, formed deep petal-points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with a pouff back, extending to a chapel train, and the skirt front was emphasized with appliques of Chantilly lace, sprinkled with sequins and pearls.

Her finger-tip veil of imported French silk cascaded from a lace crown, which was outlined with pearls and sequins. To complete her bridal costume, she carried a white Bible topped with a single white orchid surrounded by tiny pink rosebuds.

Vows were exchanged as the couple stood beneath an archway entwined with white gladioli, pink rosebuds and greenery. White wedding bells were attached at the peak of the archway. Standing at either side were basket arrangements of white gladioli and pink roses. Twin candelabra holding 15 tall wedding tapers cast a soft glow over the nuptial alcove. Family pews were marked with candles clustered in greenery and tied with white satin bows.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Phil Nelson of Olton, Miss Sue Coleman of Wilson and Miss Lawana Oliver of Halfway assisted as bridesmaids. Sharon Garrison of Hereford, sister of the groom, was junior bridesmaid. Debbie Funderburk of Corpus Christi, cousin of the bride, and Jo Beth McCracken of Tulia were candlelighters. Colors of the rainbow were used in the bride's attendants' attire. Their dresses, ranging over the color spectrum in soft, muted shades, were styled of silk organza over acetate with deep collars, nipped-in waists and balloon skirts. Each carried a single long-stemmed pink rose.

Jerry Hodges of Hereford was best man, assisted by Bob Bowden of Hart, Allen Cansler of Hereford and Don Curtis of Olton, brother of the bride, as groomsmen.

Ringbearers were Ronnie McCracken of Tulia and Jimmie Don Davidson of Quitaque. Freddie Davidson of Quitaque and Winfred Hair of Olton ushered. Mrs. Delmer Givens, organist, played traditional nuptial selections prior to the ceremony and accompanied Mrs. Joe Harper, soloist, as she sang "Through The Years" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Following a reception for the newly-weds in Fellowship Hall of the church, the couple left for a short wedding trip. For her going-away costume, the bride chose a navy blue silk shantung suit with white accessories. The orchid from her bridal bouquet was worn as a corsage.

Your Children Need Post School Snacks

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.

Almost every child wants something to eat when he comes home from school in the afternoon. Teen-age youngsters especially are famished by mid-afternoon. They raid the ice-box, the cookie jar, the bread-box, and sometimes they eat up what you had planned to serve the family for dinner. These snacks often interfere with appetites for dinner, especially if the snacks are mostly sweets. Then the youngster passes up the good nourishing food you have prepared for him and you begin to worry about his health.

This is a little problem that exists in nine families out of ten all across the country. Some families just live with it, nagging sometimes when mothers become especially annoyed. Others try to forbid food in the midafternoon, others supply a bowl of fruit and hope the youngsters will be satisfied with that — usually they are not.

Why not just face the facts. Kids are hungry after school, but you also want them to eat enough good body building foods to keep them in robust health.

Prepare for an after school meal. Label one shelf in your refrigerator "Mabel" or "Tom." Every morning when you are cleaning up after breakfast put something good on that shelf. Something that tastes good and that the child likes and something that is good for him — not cake or pie or heavy sweets but good protein food, cheese, hard boiled eggs of maybe even deviled eggs, a piece of cold meat. Add a piece or two of fruit and something to drink, either milk or fruit juice. Make the shelf something the youngster looks forward to. Explain to him why you don't want him to fill up on sweets just a little while before dinner. He will cooperate especially if he enjoys the food you fix for him.

If he eats a little less at dinner there is nothing to worry about, because the food he has had in the afternoon was as good for him as the dinner food.

Every last one of us likes to have others do things for us. It makes us all feel good inside to know that someone cares enough about us to go to trouble for us. Your teen-ager will appreciate your efforts and you can often improve your relationship with your often rebellious adolescent by going to some trouble to fix him a good after school snack.

Of course you may find that you are appreciated not only by your own child but by the neighborhood as well. Not only the trouble of preparing the food, but the expense can become considerable. If you find you're feeding an army, put up a little box and simply say the expense is getting you down and you would appreciate a few contributions. Let them give you what they'd otherwise spend in the corner drugstore. They'll do it and your child will be the envy of the crowd for having such a swell mother.

How Can I?

Q. How can I shrink some woolen materials?

A. Take a bed sheet or other large white piece of thin material and wet it. Spread the wet sheet on an even surface. Open your woolen material completely and spread over the wet sheet. Now clip the fabric selvage every few inches. Spread a second wet sheet over the woolen fabric, pat lightly over the entire area, and let stand overnight.

Q. How can I remove burnt food from an aluminum cooking vessel?

A. By placing it dry over a fire. As soon as the food is charred, it will loosen and should be removed immediately. Acids such as tomato or lemon juice, will brighten cleaned aluminum.

Q. How can I clean the vertical tube of a coffee percolator?

A. One way is to run a pipe cleaner through it. Or, fill the percolator with water, add four tablespoons of salt, put the tube into this, and let it perk for 10 to 15 minutes. If this should dull the luster of the percolator, restore it by boiling vinegar in it, or water with pieces of raw lemon.

Outcome Of Texas' Senate Race Is Important To The Entire Nation

With election of a U. S. Senator from Texas scheduled for April 4, interest in the race is currently increasing throughout the Panhandle. Importance of the job is attested through the record of Lyndon B. Johnson, who resigned to become Vice President of the United States.

Voting for the new senator will not be easy, including the fact that the ballot contains 71 names making it difficult to locate any one particular candidate, even for those who already have their minds made up as to who will receive their vote. For those who are undecided, it will literally be a dilemma.

To be considered is the fact that many of the contestants will not have an outside chance. The names we hear most often are: William Blakely, John Tower, Will Wilson and Jim Wright.

Will Wilson, as Attorney General of Texas, is widely known and will undoubtedly get a large block of votes due to his record and general political machinery throughout the state. Wilson, in our opinion, could be an excellent choice in that he does not seem particularly allied with either the conservative or liberal elements in Texas politics. His services as a judge indicate that he might well serve the interests of the people. Also important, he is young enough to stay in Washington sufficiently long to gain recognition on a national scale, which has been important in the records of Sam Rayburn and Lyndon Johnson.

John G. Tower, the lone Republican candidate, is also well known to Texas voters due to the strong race which he ran against Lyndon Johnson last November. It is probable, on the other hand, that much of the Democratic vote which went to Tower at that time will swing to the Wilson and Blakely camps in the forthcoming special election. It will definitely test the Republican strength in the Lone Star state as no other election has done in recent years.

William Blakely, recently appointed to fill the unexpired term of Johnson, is considered by most people in this section as a conservative, which caused him to run a strong race against Ralph Yarborough a few years back. Add to this the fact that he is now doing an excellent job in Washington, and he is bound to be a formidable contender. His age is probably the greatest liability Blakely will be required to overcome.

Jim Wright is pretty well accepted as the liberal candidate, chiefly because most of his support appears to stem from the ranks of former Yarborough supporters, and, needless to say, he has many friends in this particular section. Wright, a Representative from the Ft. Worth area, is seeking the office as a promotion on the basis of his record. Wright's age is certainly in his favor.

Arguments concerning the individual candidates, as usual, are numerous and varied. It does seem logical, however, that Texans have plenty of candidates in the race, and many of them are well qualified to fill the office capably. Now, it is a matter of the voters selecting the type of man they want and casting their vote in the interests of the nation, as well as the interests of their own territory.

Chance To Help Area Pioneers

Pioneer Day, 1961, has been scheduled for May 31, and is currently demanding considerable interest in the community.

During recent years this event, apparently at the request of the pioneers, has shifted from a spotlight place into an annual assembly. Much of the fanfare which formerly surrounded the event was deleted because those who attended the function found it difficult to appear in parades or carry out a difficult schedule. The same thing, we notice, has developed in other Panhandle Communities.

Nevertheless, most people including descendants of the early settlers do still anticipate the annual occasion with pleasure. It is a wonderful time to renew acquaintances, visit and exchange tall tales about the early days when most of these people lived in dugouts and shacks, and traveled by wagon or buggy.

We were especially interested to note that emphasis will this year be placed on former Hereford Christian College students. This particular facet in local history is one seldom eulogized, and it needs to be carefully recorded for future generations. There is also some discussion that the pioneers may develop a plan of some sort to establish or encourage a museum, and the movement certainly merits general support.

If these intrepid settlers made history and laid the foundation for our present way of life, the least we can do is help them record those early day activities.

ONE OF the things we have to be thankful for is that we don't get as much government as we pay for.

RUSSIAN DOG—PLUS A MAN?

Orbiting and safe return of the Russian dog Chernushka have sent U. S. commentators into flights of fancy. The Reds, they divine, are about to orbit a man and are therefore months ahead of us in the space race!

There is some reason to believe they have already tried this—disastrously. But if they try again tomorrow—and win—it could prove nothing more than their subnormal respect for human life. This they have demonstrated repeatedly in their purges and massacres from Hungary to the Ukraine. Let's take it easy.—U. S. Press Association.

Construction Firm And County In Agreement

50 YEARS AGO

The county and the construction company reached an agreement whereby a compromise was made concerning the finish of the new courthouse. The agreement as signed and recorded as follows: Whereas certain differences have arisen between Deaf Smith county and Falls City Construction Company, the contractors for the new County Court House building, respecting certain notes on the fire-proofing plans submitted by said Company with its proposal and as to whether said notes constituted the interpretation of the contract between said Court and said Company. Now therefore be it agreed by and between said Court and said Company and be it further ordered, adjudged and decreed by said Court as follows: Said notes on the fire-proofing plans by said Company with its proposal are hereby recognized and declared to be the interpretation of the contract between said Company and said Court, with the following exceptions. The Tile Floor as marked on the plans for said building on the first, second and third floor plans and in the public toilet room in the basement of said building said floors shall be laid with ceramic tile. A cinder fill shall be placed between the floor strips in the District Court room of said building. Art glass shall be placed in the ceiling lights of the District Court room and over the stairways of the design satisfactory to the said Court. The wiring in the ceiling of the District Court room shall be laid in conduit. A marble cap six inches wide shall be placed around the walls of the District Court room to form a cap for the wainscot. The two main stairways from the first to the second floor of said building shall be provided with marble treads one and one-fourth inches thick and risers seven to eight inches thick.

25 YEARS AGO

A thorough survey of tax records and all lands of Texas is being carried on at the courthouse for Deaf Smith county under the supervision of Cliff Estes as project superintendent by the following: A. C. Thompson, Mrs. Lucy Roberts, Mrs. H. E. Weathered, Mrs. Callie Lindsey, Miss Nita Powelson, Cecil R. Walker, Iris N. Bohannon, Earl Wood and Earl Phillips. The much-talked-of survey is expected to eventually result in the collection of thousands of dollars from property values now escaping taxation. When the survey is completed there will be available for county record a complete picture of every acre of land in any subdivision in the county. Similar surveys are under way or planned for every county of Texas as part of a state-wide WPA project for the purpose of securing the renditions of every acre of land for taxation at a fair and equalized value; to eliminate duplicate of double assessments of taxes; to provide county commissioners with all the information to equalize the values in the county; to furnish tax collectors with all the information to guide them in the passage of corrective tax laws in the future. The work has been outlined for a twelve-month period. The information gathered will be available as public record and will be of value to school districts and cities as well as to the county.

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL

Isn't it amazing that when we study art of long ago that we can see the same blending of colors, almost the same tint that was used in pieces of art that are ageless?

The Panhandle or Golden Spread has an artist that knew and loved the many tints of the sun and the sky, the horizon as it spread into the distance in its many, many colors. He loved the colors of the cattle on the plains as they walked into the horizon against the vari-colored sky and painted pictures of them in a way that has never been matched.

This man was Frank Reaugh (Ray). He was an Irishman and St. Patrick's day brought to mind not only the man but also the many magnificent paintings he left behind him. He painted the longhorns as they were, without adding or taking away the form of their muscles, long and lithe and rippling, for the longhorn had need of those muscles if he was to hold his own against the long, dry, hot days when he must go for miles to find water.

The longhorn had to return over more long miles to find enough grass that had not been tropped so near the soil that it was impossible to eat enough to sustain him through the froths and through the long cold winters with the "Blue Northerners" whistling across the prairie and through his fuzzy winter coat. But somehow, somehow he survived until man came along and made a dust bowl out of his home and placed barbed wire fences to close him in and take away acres and acres of the short grass to which he was accustomed.

Reaugh also had the ability to paint the horizons into unmeasured space with their colors of soft grays, the greens and blues that made up the distance and retained the glow that distance gives. The soft pinks in the early twilight turning to brilliant red as the sun sank lower and lower to disappear. But the colors remained for sometime to enthrall the lone cowboy as he rode toward the bunkhouse for a night's rest.

The pictures of Reaugh remind me of copies of the cattle painted upon the walls of the cave in France. Their coloring, the ripple of muscles and the curve of horns are much the same as in the paintings of this man who loved the west and took such a delight in painting it the way he saw it in (Continued on page 2)

SCHOOL NAME IS CHOSEN

The new elementary school in northeast Levelland will bear the name, "Capitol Elementary." Trustees selected the name at a special meeting Monday night in which they interviewed two applicants for superintendent, ratified an agreement with the city for payment for water and sewer lines to the new school, and amended the budget to include a $15,525 expenditure for purchase of the Levelland office building on Houston street as a school tax and administrative center.

Trustees at one time were in conference by telephone with members of the city council, meeting halfway across town at city hall, concerning a name for the school. It was felt that the same name might possibly be chosen for the school and the east street in front of the new campus. However, while trustees were making a decision between Capitol Elementary after state capital lands from which the plot came and "Yucca Elementary" councilmen named the street after retiring Mayor J. Spencer Ellis. The name Yucca following the plant trend used with Cactus Elementary, found favor with some of the trustees. They agreed on Capitol Elementary, however, after one trustee suggested this name had a little more scholarly sound than Yucca. Trustees also designated the spelling of the word which should be used.

DELINQUENT TAX SUITS

Randall Commissioners decided Monday to join the city of Canyon in delinquent tax suits presently being filed. Lair and Williams are handling the cases. Bill Money, tax assessor-collector, brought up that suits should also be filed pertaining to some lots in the Palisade. Money said owners of some of the lots could not be located and these pieces of property should be disposed of at public sale. Commissioners decided to wait on any action concerning the Palisades lots pending results of the city suits. Bill York, city manager, and Charlie Foster, Canyon fire captain, came before commissioners to see about renewing the county city fire contract. The county paid approximately 40 percent of the fire department's $9,000 budget last year and C. Y. Johnson pointed out that Happy and Amarillo only received $25 per call. Johnson said the city of Canyon was receiving $163 per call. He then proposed that the county pay Canyon the same price as other departments. York told commissioners he would take the proposal before city commissioners at a Friday evening meeting. He said he would report back to the Monday meeting of the Randall commissioners.

EXTENSION LINE EMERGENCY TOLD

The urgency of getting a sewer line extension laid to the new high school site was stressed at the regular City Council session Monday night. Supt. T. A. Roach and supervising engineer, Mel Studer, appeared before the council and said that further delay in getting the sewer-extension laid might result in a delay in finishing the new high school. Studer told the council that he estimated the first of September would be the latest date the sewer connection could be made without delaying completion of the building which is tentatively set for Jan. 1, 1962. The city is ready to lay the extension except for about 3300 feet across the southeastern part of town in which they are having trouble in reaching an agreement with owners for easement privileges.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm asks a question this week that's hard to answer.

Dear editor:

A friend of mine who went to grammar school with me and now lives in Amarillo came by this bindweed farm out here the other day and after parking his car carefully to avoid a stack of wire and posts I've been meaning to move since I left them there three or four years ago, got to kidding me about the farm situation.

"Well," he asked, after I'd showed him which side of the front step to step on without getting hit with the other end, "your government checks coming through on time every month? What's the support price now on bindweed? How much extra you getting this year to retire some more land? How you tell your retired land from your cultivated land? Just thought I'd stop by and see where us city folks' tax money is going."

I'm not much at talking, but I had been reading a newspaper earlier in the day so I asked him:

"By the way, how much is Amarillo going to get out of the Administration's urban renewal program?"

"How's that?" he asked.

"Don't you keep up with the news?" I asked. "I see by the paper today that there's a drive on to save the cities. It's a fact. We got marginal cities the same as marginal farms. Looks like cities have been planted too thick, the same as crops. Here, read this."

I showed him the paper, which said President Kennedy has sent Congress a $3,250,000,000 (that's three and a quarter billion) bill to "reinforce the big cities in their desperate struggle against blight and decay." Under the program, a city man could get a 40-year mortgage with no down payment to build a house, in order to "upgrade decaying neighborhoods."

"What's the matter with you city folks?" I asked. "Can't you run your towns without help from Washington?"

"I don't think you have a true appreciation of what this particular piece of legislation is designed for," he said, or words to that effect, adding that he had to be going, it was getting late, and he sure enjoyed visiting with me.

I'm not saying the cities don't need this money. All I'm saying is that if I'm supposed to get a government check every month, what happened to it?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Tax Inventory Is A Good Sign

The fact that Hereford's $180,000 street improvement bonds passed this week, where the same amount of money was turned down a few weeks ago, definitely indicates that the proposed widening of Third Street was not a popular measure.

The small majority in the second election indicates, at the same time, that people are quite reluctant to increase taxes. People are willing to make necessary repairs to protect their investment, it seems, but they will definitely have to be sold on worthwhile advantages before they will endorse capital expenditures. The fact that 281 people voted for the issue this time as compared with only 254 the first round indicates that some of the voters did change their minds when the issue was shifted from expansion to strict maintenance.

Outcome of the election seems to fairly well represent thinking all over the country, including business. People at this particular time are anxious to see what will happen next, especially before they undertake expansion and further indebtedness. Heavy taxes, along with ever-increasing school costs, create a reluctance to expand in other fields.

The situation is no doubt good. The people of this country do need to take inventory on all fronts. They need to spend their money more carefully. The fact that they recognize the importance of repairs, too, is a point in their favor.

At the same time, we hope they will fully realize that money spent on the local level can be controlled, while federal spending is far beyond their scope. This, it seems to us, is the world's greatest argument against federal control and federal spending. From this situation stems an old adage, "Government nearest to the people is the best possible form on government we can have."

Area Delegates At Credit Union Meet

Mrs. Dyalitha Benson headed the Hereford credit union delegates to the 27th annual meeting of the Texas Credit Union League at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Dallas Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week.

At the start of 1961 there were 1,166 credit unions in Texas, with over 650,000 members and more than $300,000,000 in assets.

There are 86 credit unions in the Panhandle district of the Texas Credit Union League.

Over 2,000 delegates from Texas credit unions were expected to attend the Dallas meeting, which features educational sessions on family financial counseling and the extension of the credit union movement into all countries of the free world.

League officials point to the fact that there were 110,034 bankruptcies filed in this country in 1960, and that 90 percent of these were individuals. They say that the credit unions of Texas must take the lead in providing family financial counseling in order to teach people how to save, how to borrow, and how to get the most out of their money.

The credit union movement also has been sending its representatives to the free countries of the world in order to teach people how to help themselves by saving their money together and making low cost loans to each other through credit unions.

To date, credit unions have been organized in over 50 countries, but there are none of the self-help groups behind the iron curtain.

The overseas program is carried out at no cost to the government or any foreign government, and is paid for entirely by the Credit Union National Association.

Policyowners of the Members Mutual Insurance Company, owned by Texas credit union members, held their ninth annual meeting simultaneously with the league.

Mrs. Benson of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union is on the board of the Texas Credit Union League.

He said his best pictures, painted during the years between 1876 through the 1880's, more nearly showed the country as it was in its virgin beauty, and these pictures have the coloring of the cattle of the long ago paintings on the walls of a cave.

Frank Reaugh had at least 95 pastel crayons or "working sticks" as he called them and would frequently make of her tones of different colors. He loved working with cattle and once said: "No sooner would I get settled on the prairie with my easel when the longhorns would come running wildly, but would stop suddenly and gaze in wonder as I sat and placed them on canvas. They made very good models. If I moved suddenly they would scatter in alarm and circle around to come in from another direction and repeat their first performance."

Reaugh studied many years, but his art never changed and he was never happier than when painting his beloved west.

He died in May of 1945 and left his many paintings to the Panhandle-Plains Museum in Canyon and others to the Texas Technological Library in Lubbock.

Doesn't that make you wish just a little that Hereford had a museum?

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Sugar Story Complicated

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

The mysterious and complicated activities that have surrounded sugar activities in this country for a number of years will probably continue to be shrouded in mystery, at least temporarily.

It is difficult for the people of this country to understand the back filling, the double talk and in many instances misrepresentation by implication that seems to accompany any attempt to uncover any information about sugar operations in this country. It is high time for a complete and full scale investigation of what is going on in this business, and I intend to do my level best to find out.

Those of us who have tried to work to the end that this country may become more self-sufficient in its sugar production have tried to handle the matter on a reasonable, agreeable and non-controversial basis. However, we have been met with a total disregard for the rights of American people, and especially farmers who are and might be affected by this problem.

On July 3, 1960, the last day of the long session of Congress last year, a bill extending the provisions of the existing Sugar Act was being considered by the Congress. The Act would have expired on December 31, 1960, at a time when Congress would not be in session. Hence, it was necessary to pass permanent legislation before Congress adjourned or extend the Act so that there would be time after Congress returned either in 1960 or in 1961 to pass such legislation.

The fight was bitter because of several issues. One was the fact that under the Act 45 per cent of our domestic sugar needs came from foreign countries. Two-thirds of that amount was being purchased from Cuba. All of you know what Cuba had been doing. The Congress stayed in session all that night fighting over the Sugar Bill.

The Conference Committee, made up between the Senate and the House of Representatives, finally reported that a bill had been agreed upon which would permit the President to reduce the quotas of foreign countries (this meant Cuba) and reallocate in accordance with a procedure agreed upon in the bill. As a part and parcel of the agreement, the Conference Report included the following statement:

"As a part of the understanding reached by the conferees, it was agreed that the conferees on the part of the House would undertake to pass a Sugar Bill and transmit same to the Senate on the earliest possible date after the reconvening of the House in August."

The Conference Report was agreed to by the House primarily because of such agreement and understanding. August, 1960, came and went with no Sugar Bill, but with the understanding that action would be taken in the early days of the 87th Congress and before the Act expired on March 31, 1961.

A number of us have been pressing constantly for action since this Congress convened. However, our pleas have fallen on deaf ears. Instead of a proposed permanent legislative or the consideration of permanent legislation, all that is being considered is an extension of the present Sugar Act for an additional 21 months.

This is not in keeping with the promise made on July 5, 1960 to the American farmer and the American people. And I would point out further that the consideration given this Bill has been behind closed doors and not in accordance with the understanding of a number of Members of the Congress that they would be afforded an opportunity to be heard. The only person who was permitted to testify on the subject was the Secretary of State, Dean Rusk.

The Bill is being brought before the Congress (and, incidentally, will have been before the Congress before many of you receive this newsletter) under a proceeding which prohibits any amendments and limits debate to 40 minutes. Even the Rules Committee has been circumvented.

The extension of the Act for 21 months means this — the Cuban quota of approximately three million tons of raw sugar, if not purchased from Cuba, must be purchased from other foreign nations. In other words, the American farmer is denied the right to participate in any portion of the quota which is taken away from Cuba. It will go as a windfall to other foreign nations, many of them Latin American nations.

We are all interested in helping Latin America, but the President has only recently indicated a request for $600 million for that purpose. How can the taxpayer of this country assume a burden of that kind if they are to be denied the right to produce products necessary to provide for their own subsistence?

Young Farmers Hold Meeting

Hereford Young Farmers held their regular meeting Tuesday night in the high school agricultural building. There were about 25 members present and several guests.

Bob Hicks presided over the business meeting.

Layton Sawyer introduced Dean Herring, local John Deere dealer. Herring introduced Dave Palmer and Sam Fletcher, field representatives for the company.

Palmer gave a talk on how to maintain farm motors. Fletcher showed a short film on new tractors.

The next regular meeting will be on April 18.

Slate Ceremony At Church Here

The annual joint religious ceremony for the Legion of Mary groups in the Catholic Diocese of Amarillo will be held in St. Anthony's Church in Hereford on Palm Sunday, at 4 p.m.

The Legion of Mary is a lay action group of Catholic men and women dedicated to furthering the work of Christ.

Addresses by Bishop John L. Morkovsky of Amarillo and the Rev. James Sondermaier, spiritual director of the Dalhart group, will follow special prayers. Members will form a procession and move to the altar, where they will recite an individual act of consecration. The ceremony will be concluded by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Expected to attend are 250-300 men and women from Amarillo, Dalhart, Canyon, Lubbock, Midland, Big Spring, San Angelo, Sonora and Big Lake.

St. Anthony's Parish will be host to the meeting.

quota assigned to domestic producers who must carry the tax load would go a long way toward solving three problems. One, it would help the economic situation in areas that can grow sugar beets. Two, it would permit the planting of sugar beets, a non-surplus crop, and thereby reduce surplus crops. Three, it would help to stem the outflow of gold from this country.

And, I might add, that it would not hurt our foreign relations, because the foreign countries would not lose any tonnage. In fact, they would be gaining the remaining 75 per cent of the Cuban quota. But it would appear that those interests who have gained control of the sugar business are so overcome by their own greed that are willing to risk anything to prevent additional domestic production of sugar or permit the people to be heard on the subject.

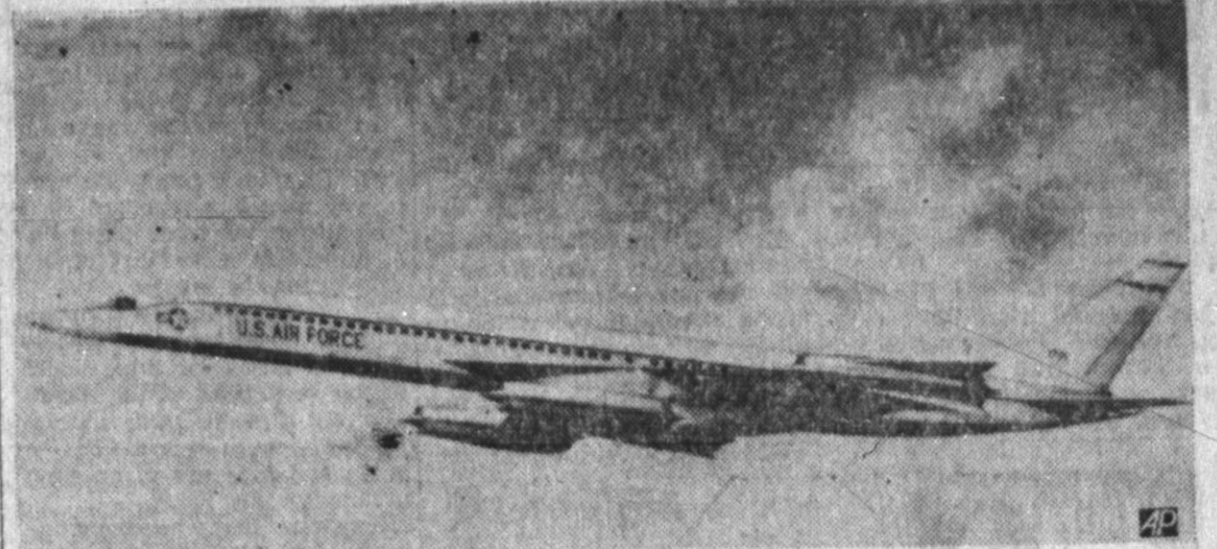

If this present proposed extension is jammed through the Congress, I would say to those responsible that it would be to remember the old Indian saying: "If you fool me once, it's your fault. But if you fool me twice, it's mine."

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS

Remember the famous "No. 98"? It's a figure that once had a magic meaning for sports fans . . . because it was worn on the football jersey of one of the gridiron's greatest halfbacks . . . and that number has been permanently retired by every team for which he played.

Now a popular sports broadcaster, Tom Harmon won his fame first on the football field for the University of Michigan. Just how good was he? Well, take his greatest year, when he was a senior at Ann Arbor. That was the year "No. 98" averaged over 168 yards per game, running and passing. He led the nation in total offense, scoring and punt returns; he was third in passing, and close to the top in just about everything else!

That year All American Tom Harmon won the Heisman Trophy, The Walter Camp Trophy, the Knute Rockne Trophy, and the AP award as the "Outstanding Athlete of the Year."

Remember the year? Cars cost less in those days . . . but incomes were a lot lower, too! Buyers shopped carefully . . . looking for the best deal on the car of their choice . . . a deal that meant honest savings!

The year was 1940.

America's choice this year for the "Outstanding Car of the Year" is the brilliant new 61 Ford. And you'll find your best deal on a new 61 Ford . . . with the highest trade, the best bank financing, at your reliable dealer, CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR Co., Inc., W. Hwy. 60 at Miles. Phone EM 4-2727.

You Can Have The Outdoors - - He'll Take A Roof Overhead

BY RON AUTRY
 NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — So you want to take your son on a camping trip? Well, it's no picnic. My 12-year-old and I have just returned from three days in Vermont. We wanted to get away from it all and commune with nature on a lonely trail. Here are a few random thoughts to keep in mind on your trip — random because I still haven't recovered:
 Few trails have hot and cold running water. You are the one who runs — back and forth to the stream to get water, to fill canteens, to wash dishes. Even fewer trails have electric stoves. Plan to spend a few hours on each meal. Build the fire, rebuild it, cook, re-cook food that didn't get done, eat, wash dishes — start building a fire for the next meal.

In between meals, you can watch leaves and birds — and swat flies and gnats. Be certain to take bug repellent — it will attract the insects and enable you to have an infinite variety always present.

Be certain to include a mountain climb on your itinerary. You can climb for three hours to the very peak of the mountain, eat a picnic lunch and enjoy the view. You will find the gnats and flies are of an even greater variety there.

Remember that when the guide book says a mountain path is moderately steep, it means it is too steep for a moderate mountain goat. Don't try it.

You will find it wise to have balsam branches under your sleeping bags. They will make things easier when you're lying awake all night listening to the porcupines.

A porcupine is not an animal. He is a noisy eating machine, who especially likes camera cases. You will find his bark and his chewing somewhat distracting.

You will find, however, that this can be lessened if you will arrange for a hornet sting and several gnat bites in advance. This is not difficult to achieve. If possible, arrange to have

A Hunter's Jungle On 52nd

BY FRANK ECK
 (AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor)
 Although he made fame playing tennis with the late Bill Tilden, Francis T. Hunter has had even more success as a hunter of wild animals. Record books show his tennis feats but it takes prodding to get Frank Hunter to talk about hunter Hunter.

His New York town house, where 22 servants once catered to society's whims, is a veritable jungle. No matter where you look a head of some wild beast stares down with life like eyes.

People from all parts of the globe come to see this private museum of natural history one block from Radio City. The jungle on 52nd Street is divided into two parts. There's the American room and the African room. Both are a taxidermist's delight since the collection represents more than a score of years.

"I've been hunting 25 years," says Hunter casually, stepping from leopard skin to lion.

"You might call this the big traffic cop on hand. The first night our party of five was alone. The next night we had 12 other people camped around our shelter deep in the woods. Not counting one dog and many porcupines.

It was hard to know when you started to the latrine area in the dark whether you preferred to step on an Explorer Scout or a porcupine.

It took us eight hours next day to reach home, dirty, tired, hungry and disagreeable.

Never before had the old bed, the small bathroom and the shallow sink looked so good. I put down my heavy pack with a sigh of relief. Never again, I thought.

But my son had other thoughts. He already had forgotten his fall into a stream, the insects, the powdered eggs.

"When are we going back, Dad?" he asked.

ALARM SYSTEM

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Tallahassee merchants have set up a cooperative alarm system to cut down losses from worthless checks passers and shoplifters.

When a storekeeper detects a bad check or sees a shoplifter making off with goods, he calls the sheriff's office and gives all the information available about the offender. A deputy calls two merchants and each calls two more and so on until the alarm is out all over town.

If the shoplifter or bad check writer tries his tricks at another store, there's a good chance he'll be nabbed immediately.

Any close calls?

"One," Hunter replied solemnly. "A big hippopotamus almost upset our native canoe in the crocodile infested Tana River at the end of the 1958 African trip. I killed him at six feet only after our native canoe boy had jumped into the river and drowned."

That trip also produced a 55-minute sound color motion picture which Frank Hunter shows to businessmen in connection with the wine and liquor importing and producing firm he heads.

One of his proudest American room possessions is the head of a Kodiak bear, taken during a 1953 Alaskan trip.

"This fellow," says Hunter, "stood 13 feet high and it took six shots to drop him."

The room contains a moose with a 58-inch horn spread. It was bagged 200 miles north of Ottawa in 1949. The American room naturally has little jungle but also holds game fish and birds.

Will Styles Of 20's Roar Back?

BY JOY MILLER
Women's Editor

"This is our ideal," gushed a woman's magazine in the Twenties. "Gone are the busts, the hips, the curves of yesterday. Woman's figure is the exclamation point of the world!" Today, as if women didn't have enough to ponder about with culottes, the Jackie look and liquid diets, along comes the Paris haute couture in a flap about the flapper.

It's going to be the Roaring Twenties all over again, whoop some extroverts, gleefully eyeing the flat-bosomed, low-waisted, flared-hem silhouette dominating the Paris collections.

But cooler — if unshingled heads are bound to prevail. Most experts agree fashion is geared to go only forward. It can be seized with nostalgia, influenced by the past, inspired by a recollection (in Paris' case, by a movie on the Twenties) but what emerges is a new silhouette designed for the contemporary woman.

If we women are going to be flappers, we'll be new, 1961 kind of flappers, not the Twenties version the same magazine described thusly:

"Eyebrows plucked to a thread, hair skinned severely back — smooth, straight and shiny — face hard and brilliant as a poster — a portrait of fashion today. Only three decades from the Age of Innocence to This Freedom!"

"Everyone is so engagingly frank . . . ladies restore their complexions at the table between each fox trot and 'make it snappy' is the latest word."

"We're now more than three decades from That Freedom. And you can bet your old tin lizzy that the movies of the Twenties — modes and manners — still are going to look pretty funny to us on television, flapper revival or no flapper revival."

HATCHING MUSCLE
CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — A Southern Illinois University professor says a special hatching muscle enables baby chicks to break out of an egg.

Harvey Fisher, chairman of the SIU zoology department, says when the chick reaches full development inside the egg, its brain signals a muscle which stretches from the back of its head to the nape of its neck.

The muscle pulls the head back and forth in a pecking motion and eventually cracks the shell. Fisher spent part of the year at the Delta Waterfowl Station in Canada watching birds hatch.

Dry-Cleaning Fluid

A dry-cleaning fluid that combines the efficient grease-dissolving powers of naphtha and carbon tetrachloride in proportions that are non-inflammable can be made as follows: Mix together three gallons carbon tetrachloride, 1-3/4 gallons of deodorized cleaner's naphtha, 24 fluid ounces benzol, and two ounces chloroform.

Bead Cleaning

To clean pearls and amber beads, rub olive oil on them with a piece of flannel or chamois. Go easy on the amount of oil and the pressure of your rubbing!

Flower Arrangement

If cut flowers are used in a bowl, cover the bottom thickly with small colorful pebbles and use them as supports for the flower stems. They make the glass holder a much more attractive decoration.

Too-Tight Gloves

If the fingers of a new pair of gloves are a bit too tight for comfort, insert a clean, cold curling iron into each finger. Open the iron slightly to stretch gently, pulling the iron out slowly at the same time to avoid "fan" shaping of the fingertips of the gloves.

Old Furs

Old furs will look like new if wet with a hair brush and brushed against the nap. Allow to dry in the air and then beat slightly. After they are dry, comb the hair out carefully into place.

Double Thread

When sewing with a double thread, make a knot in each end and draw through as usual. This will keep the thread from snarling.

The Linen Closet

You can save room in your linen closet if you'll roll your towels, instead of folding, for firmer packing. The towels will be rotated in use if you put the fresh rolls on top and take from the bottom, allowing the fresher rolls to drop down into the empty spaces.

Onions

Some people like onions but seem unable to digest them. If the onions are sliced, boiling water poured over them, and allowed to remain for two minutes, then plunged into ice water, they can be eaten without fear.

Shortening

Save all lamb fat. It makes an excellent shortening for gingerbread and cookies.

To My Friends, The Voters Of Deaf Smith County

April 4 you will again have the opportunity to help chart the future of our nation . . . your future . . . by the vote you cast that day.

What are we to decide? That day we are to vote on the question of whether we shall accept socialism in which we submit our individual freedom in the interest of the state or whether we shall honor the individual freedom of man our founding fathers intended for us to have.

The Republican party represents this idea of individual freedom. It is with this thought in mind that we appeal to you, the voter, to support John Tower in the forthcoming election. We, who call ourselves Republicans, cannot stand alone in this fight for individual freedom.

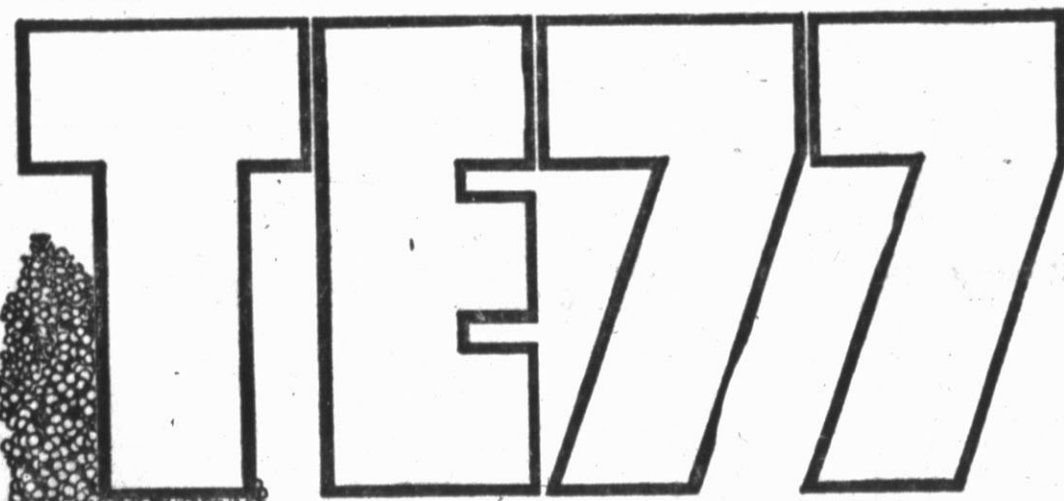

Without the support of you, the voter, we shall be crushed and destroyed by the onrushing power of a socialist government and organized opposition to socialism shall pass from the scene.

These words are written so that you, the voter, may know that if your individual freedom is precious to you as it is to us, if you value the right and the privilege of being your own boss, to do as you please, when you please, then your best opportunity to retain that freedom is to send John Tower, the Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate to Washington with your vote April 4. Your vote is going to decide the future of our nation.

Sincerely,

Republican County Chairman
Pd. Pol. Adv.

Beauty At Home

Q. I have wild and unruly eyebrows, with the hair growing in all directions. Is there anything I can do to bring them under control?
A. Frequent brushing will help control the brows. Use some transparent mustache wax or wave-set lotion for control, too. Brush it into the brow line, then brush the brow into shape.

The term terra cotta is derived from the Italian and means "fired earth." It was used extensively as a structural decoration by the early Greeks when it was produced with ceramic glazes as well as natural finishes.
