

Carter Finally To Hit Campaign Trail

By O.G. (Speedy) Nieman

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says most people can stand tragedy but few can master the small irritations of life.

The way to have good government is to have honest voters, as well as honest officials.

SATURDAY IS PRIMARY ELECTION day, or party elections, when both Democrats and Republicans conduct their own balloting. As reported in The Brand, Democrats will vote in their usual 11 voting boxes, while Republicans will vote at La Plata school.

Good government starts at the grassroots, so study the candidates and make your decisions known at the polls. Remember, your vote is as unique as your fingerprint—only YOU can cast your vote!

TWO BIG CIVIC EVENTS are on the community agenda this weekend. The National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center will conduct a special spring "Top Hand" Art Show Saturday and Sunday. The event is scheduled from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and noon to 5 on Sunday in the HOF Center located at the library. The public is invited.

And, the annual Heart Ball is scheduled at the Hereford Country Club Saturday night. Tickets are $100 a couple and will include dinner.

ONE OF THE ONGOING PROJECTS of the past presidents' committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce is to make visits to the corporate offices of local industries. We had the pleasure of making such a trip Tuesday to the Frito-Lay office in Dallas, accompanying Joe Shollenbarger, Neil Cooper and John D. Bryant.

Besides visiting the national headquarters in the Frito-Lay Tower in downtown Dallas, we made a tour of the Irving plant, as well as the research and development labs. Needless to say, there is much more to the snack-food business than we ever stopped to consider.

Frito-Lay has approximately 40 plants across the nation and last year had gross sales of about $1.3 billion. Through the labs in Irving, the company is continually researching and test marketing new products. The outstanding national research facility enables the company to produce its own varieties of potatoes and corn products that meet rigid quality standards. After touring the production plant at Irving, we won't be worried about eating any of the snack food items produced by the firm!

Another important reason for Frito-Lay's success is its proven merchandising and display techniques. The

Large Primary Turnout Possible

State Senate and Deaf Smith County Commission races are expected to attract a large local turnout to Saturday's Democratic primary.

Voting will be conducted at regular polling places throughout the county. Republican voting will be done at La Plata Junior High School.

Absentee voting ended Tuesday, with 191 ballots cast, indicating the possibility of a large turnout for Saturday's primaries. There were 174 Democratic and 17 Republican absentee votes cast.

Two Hereford men—Bill Sarpalius and Gerald McCathern—are seeking the Democratic nomination for the State Senate. Sarpalius is a businessman and former administrative assistant to Speaker of the House Bill Clayton, while McCathern is a farmer and has served as a national leader in the American Agriculture Movement.

County commission, Precinct 1, candidates are incumbent J.F. Martin and Bill Bradley, while incumbent Bruce Coleman and Troy Moore are seeking the Precinct 3 Democratic nomination.

Unopposed on the Democratic ballot are Sheriff Travis McPherson and Tax Assessor-Collector Nell Miller.

Senator Bob Price, seeking re-election to his District 31 seat, is unopposed on the Republican ballot.

President Jimmy Carter, Edward Kennedy and Jerry Brown are presidential candidates on the Democratic ballot. Republican voters will select either Ronald Reagan or George Bush.

Kiwanians Schedule Anniversary Fete

AUBREY IRBY

Thirty years ago, the Hereford Kiwanis Club was organized and a special Anniversary Banquet is to be held Friday night at Community Center with a capacity crowd of 250 expected to attend.

Featured speaker for the occasion will be Aubrey Irby of Tyler, Kiwanis International trustee. He will be a candidate for international vice president when the Kiwanis International convention is held at Anaheim, Cal., in June.

Who's Behind That Chip?

JoAn Dwyer, whom Speedy Nieman, left, jokingly said received too much publicity in The Brand, "hides" from the photographer after receiving the coveted Bull Chip at this morning's Fun Breakfast. Lyndon Allred, right, co-master of ceremonies, reads the inscription on the plaque, which honors Mrs. Dwyer for community service. Save-A-Dollar sponsored the chamber breakfast. [Brand photo by Paul Sims]

Dwyer Receives 'Chip'

JoAn Dwyer, executive director of Big Brothers-Big Sisters and local civic leader, received the Bull Chip award for community service during this morning's Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast.

A Hereford Community Center crowd applauded the announcement made by Speedy Nieman concerning Mrs. Dwyer. Nieman, publisher of The Brand, jokingly said the "Bull Chip Selection Committee" picked Ms. Dwyer because she had agreed not to appear in any more pictures in the newspaper.

Ms. Dwyer's photograph appears often in The Brand due to her involvement in civic affairs.

In a drawing for chamber members only this morning, Joan Coupe of Hereford Travel Center won $200. In drawings for $75 and $25, Ruth Newsome and Cherie Anstey, respectively, won.

Barbara Mannig won 20 gallons of gasoline from Save-A-Dollar, which sponsored the breakfast.

Steve Nieman of Southland Life Insurance Co. and Craig Smith of Hereford State Bank won Community Concert Association tickets in another drawing.

Nieman was recognized as a new chamber member, along with Jay Patel, Holiday Motel, Mel and Shirley Robinson, Sugarland Drug; Don Tardy, Don Tardy Real Estate; and Gary Phipps, Rix Funeral Home.

Upcoming community events announced at the breakfast included:

--Pigs, Pearls and Poison Ivy" concert by the Hereford Chamber Singers at 4 p.m. Sunday in First Baptist Church.

--Heart Ball, sponsored by the local heart association, from 8-12 p.m. Saturday at Hereford Country Club.

--National Cowgirl Hall of Fame Spring Tophand Art Show Saturday and Sunday in the lower floor of the library.

sociation's spring drive June 9-16.

Arabs Continue Holding Iranians In Embassy

LONDON (AP) — Arab gunmen holding the Iranian Embassy in London freed one of their British hostages today and let two death deadlines pass for their dozen or more Iranian captives. They gave no immediate indication of their next step in the tense showdown with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's regime.

The three Arab-Iranians had threatened to blow up the embassy, themselves and the Iranian hostages unless Iran freed 91 Arabs imprisoned in Khuzestan, Iran's oil province on the Iraqi border, by noon today — 7 a.m. EDT.

The gunmen have promised not to harm non-Iranian hostages. At least three non-Iranians were reported among the total of 19 hostages.

Before the first deadline passed, Iranian Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh told the gunmen by telephone that Iran would not meet their demands and that if embassy hostages were harmed an equal number among the 91 Arabs would be executed, the official Iranian news agency Pars reported.

The noon deadline passed without incident, and 45 minutes later the gunmen issued another ultimatum for 2 p.m. — 9 a.m. EDT — demanding that Iran acknowledge by then that it had begun negotiating with the British government.

"This is not a sign of weakness but of humanitarian duty," the trio said in the statement, which was telephoned to police who then read it to reporters.

A Foreign Office spokesman told reporters after the second deadline was set, "We are in close touch with the Iranian authorities about the handling of the situation in London."

By 2 p.m. there was no new public word from Iran. But as the deadline passed there also was no indication the death threats had been carried out.

Earlier today, the gunmen freed one non-Iranian, Chris Cramer, 32, a British Broadcasting Corp. producer who was applying for a visa when the embassy was taken over. Police said he was freed WASHINGTON (AP) — After being taunted for months to join his rivals on the campaign trail, President Carter plans to leave the White House for "limited" politicking. But Democratic challenger Edward M. Kennedy and Republican front-runner Ronald Reagan still complain.

In a startling reversal, the president told a group of community leaders in the White House Wednesday that the crises which have kept him near his office since the seizure of the U.S. Embassy in Iran last November have become "manageable enough" to allow him to travel.

But press secretary Jody Powell said the president still would not engage Kennedy in a long-challenged debate, since the chief executive "sees no purpose to be gained" by such a confrontation.

Kennedy told a news conference in Indianapolis that the president's decision was "a victory for the American people," but renewed his demand that the president meet him face to face "anyplace...anytime in this country."

The Massachusetts senator huffed that "I can understand why he might not want to debate, because I think he will find it difficult to defend 18 percent inflation and 18 percent interest rates."

Reagan, in Dallas, scorned the announcement, saying that Carter now appears to be claiming that "the burdens have been lifted off him resolutely about the hostages which had been his reason for staying in there. He had said he would stay and not do any politicking until they were safely home. "If he feels freed," Reagan declared, "I wonder if he feels the hostages now somehow are freed."

Carter told his White House audience that he would keep the plight of the hostages "vividly in our minds and hearts." But he went on to say that "a lot of the responsibilities that have been on my shoulders in the past few months have now been alleviated to some degree."

A presidential aide who requested anonymity said Carter's schedule probably wouldn't involve any travel until the end of next week. Until now, his only forays since the hostage-taking have been to nearby Camp David and a trip Monday to a military hospital in San Antonio to visit the commandos who were injured in the aborted rescue attempt in Iran.

Carter had dropped no hint that he would hit the campaign trail soon during his nationally televised news conference Tuesday night, but aides said that was the day in which he had signaled to them his change of heart. And they admitted that the question which brought

Fed Report Says Commodities Slide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices of agricultural commodities at the farm have continued to slide, including substantial declines for livestock and grain.

The Agriculture Department said Wednesday that preliminary figures for April show the index of farm prices dropped 4.5 percent from March, the third month in a row prices averaged below year-earlier levels.

Officials said the decline helped depress the "parity ratio" to a 47-year low.

Lower prices for cattle, calves, hogs, soybeans, wheat and corn contributed most to the decline from the March average.

Higher prices were reported for lettuce, hay, cucumbers, apples, tomatoes and onions, which helped offset declines for the other commodities.

Compared to a year earlier, the April farm price index was down 9 percent. In February, prices began to slide below year-earlier levels for the first time in more than two years.

Meanwhile, prices farmers pay to meet expenses were unchanged in April, but still averaged 11 percent higher than a year ago.

According to the preliminary April figures, prices of meat animals dropped 8 percent during the month. That left the index of prices for livestock, mainly cattle and hogs, 21 percent

Hail Accompanies Storm To Portions of County

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Turbulent weather conditions remained in the area Wednesday night as a fast-moving thunderstorm system built in the west then drifted to the north and east of Hereford before unloading moisture and hail.

The thunderstorm system spawned at least one funnel cloud, which was reported by a Randall County sheriff's unit.

That cloud was sighted aloft and failed to touch ground.

Turbulent weather activity was also observed to the north of the Westway community in Deaf Smith County where dust columns were lifted in a vertical direction toward heavy clouds overhead, but no funnel was sighted.

Clouds rolled past Hereford to reform to the northeast, and there were reports of marble-sized hail north of the Dawn community.

Rick Hales, who conducts farming and ranching operation seven miles north and two miles west of Dawn reported that a hailstorm broke in that area about 8:30 last night.

According to Hales, hailstones of marble size to quarter diameter "nearly covered the ground" in a storm that lasted less than 30 minutes.

"The hail was fairly soft but still didn't do us a lot of good. It could have been worse though," Hales commented.

Hales reported that the hailstorm activity was confined to isolated pockets and that the brunt of the storm ranged across roughly a three mile area.

No hail was reported at Farmer's Elevator, approximately two miles south of the Hales farm, but hail activity was reported a few miles north of the Hales farm.

"It's hard to tell if the weather damaged the wheat or not. I think it's young enough it won't have been

Judge Hands Out Prison Sentences

District Judge Wesley Gully Wednesday sentenced two Hereford men to the state penitentiary after they violated the terms of their probation.

Billy Chance, who was on probation for theft over $200, was sentenced to seven years in prison. Francisco Garcia, on probation for possession of heroin, was sentenced to eight years by Gully.

Stanley Paul Powell pleaded guilty to forgery and received a four-year probated sentence and $1,000 fine.

Militants Claim U.S. Agents Hit Embassy

By The Associated Press
Militants occupying the U.S. Embassy in Tehran said a revolutionary guard wounded overnight in an attack on the embassy by "U.S. agents," and counter-revolutionary elements placed several bombs in parts of Tehran today during International Labor Day observances, Tehran Radio said.

All the bombs were defused, according to the radio.

Another broadcast said more of the American hostages had been transferred out of Tehran, this time to southern Iran, as part of the militants' continuing effort to foil another U.S. rescue attempt.

Some 40,000 Iranians gathered outside the embassy for a May Day rally. The Islamic Council of Workers said in a statement to the rally that it condemned the recent Q.S. commando effort to rescue the hostages and urged workers everywhere, especially in the United States, to resist what it called the "crazy acts" of President Carter.

Liberals Fail To Rework Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — House liberals have failed in their bid to rewrite the 1981 balanced budget to make it less painful to the cities, the poor and the elderly.

They now will try to stop the Republicans from cutting even more deeply into social programs.

The liberals were beaten four times Wednesday in efforts to restore social spending cut by the House Budget Committee in its proposed $611.8 billion balanced budget for fiscal 1981.

The four defeats — three times by embarrassingly large margins — signaled the end of liberal amendments that can be offered to the budget under special ground rules approved for the debate.

Starting today, the House will begin considering Republican proposals that would cut more deeply into domestic programs, boost defense and provide a business tax cut.

U.S. Says No To Arab Resolution

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States cast its 22nd Security Council veto to kill an Arab resolution calling for Palestinian statehood, contending that it offered "no prospect for making practical progress" toward peace in the Middle East.

The council session Wednesday was delayed by two photographers for an ultra-leftist American newspaper who splashed red paint on Deputy U.S. Delegate William vanden Heuvel's neck and most of Soviet Ambassador Oleg A. Troyanovsky's face, shouting "May Day!" and "Our flag is red — not red, white and blue! Down with Soviet-American war moves!"

"It's just one of those exercises in diplomacy," said vanden Heuvel. But both he and Troyanovsky retired from the council meeting to clean up, leaving others to speak for them.

Unemployment May Hit 8 Percent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment could hit 7.5 percent later this year and 8 percent in early 1981, says Alfred Kahn, President Carter's chief inflation adviser.

The Carter administration has not previously used such high figures. But a spokeswoman for Kahn said he had intended his projections to be consistent with those of the administration.

"He certainly did not mean to deviate from official forecasts," said the spokeswoman, Betty Ross.

However, several high-ranking government officials say privately that they think unemployment will reach 8 percent in the recession now widely throughout to be underway.

Unemployment was 6.2 percent in March. Jobless figures for April will be released by the Labor Department Friday, and most economists expect them to show another rise in unemployment.

Banquet

sends MHRM students to Camp Wigwag each summer, sponsors a mop and broom sale to help the Lighthouse of the Blind, is a supporter of the Opportunity Plan scholarship fund, and helps with Meals on Wheels.

A number of past club presidents are scheduled to attend the banquet, including 16 who are still in the club. These are Patton, Dowell, Sharp, Phillips, Gene Campbell, Herring, Bobby Owen, Armon Lauderback, Rodney Laubhan, Don Lane, Howard Birdwell, R.C. Hoelscher, Ed Coplen, Bud Eades, R.L. Blakely, Bub Sparks, and Boyer.

Three members—Dowell, Phillips and Sharp—are scheduled to receive 30-year Legion of Honor pins-Friday night. Another member, Patton, will get a 25-year pin. Frank Ball, on senior membership, now holds a 25-year Legion of Honor pin.

Irby, the featured speaker Friday night, joined the Tyler Kiwanis Club in 1960 and held most club offices before being elected lieutenant-governor in 1966. He served a governor in 1969 and has served in numerous district and international posts since that time. He has been an international trustee since 1978.

Irby is a life member of Kiwanis International and of the Tyler Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is a Baptist, Mason and has earned the Silver Beaver in Boy Scouts. He has served on boards and been an officer in numerous civic organizations in Tyler.

He and his wife, Margaret, have three children. Irby is in the investments business.

Other special guests scheduled to attend the dinner Friday night include governor-elect Arthur Swanberg of Dallas; several lieutenant-governors from other divisions; Fred Thompson, past governor from Pampa; Gail Shannon, past governor of the Southwest District; several lieutenant-governors, and several other past division officers.

hurt too much," Hales commented.

The Wildorado community in neighboring Oldham County received an estimated one inch of moisture and Bill Cleavinger who farms five miles south of Wildorado recorded .50 inches of rainfall at his home.

"We were in between the bad weather here. All the heavy storm activity was to the south of us," Cleavinger explained.

In the city of Hereford only a trace of moisture was logged, while in the far northern Panhandle .14 inches of rainfall was logged at Dalhart.

Scattered showers occurred during the night over the Panhandle and in portions of Central and Southwest Texas.

Lows this morning were mostly in the 50's and 60's, and most areas reported only a trace of rain.

Scattered thunderstorms and showers are expected to continue in West Texas through Friday with lows tonight in the 40's for the Panhandle to the mid-50's in the Big Bend.

Highs in the Panhandle are expected to reach the 60's ranging to the 80's in the Big Bend.

Gunmen

because of a stomach ailment, which the BBC said he contracted on a recent foreign assignment. Hunched over as though in pain, he was taken off to a hospital.

In addition to Cramer, the non-Iranian captives in the embassy included at least two other Britons and a Lebanese. But the gunmen telephoned out a statement that the "British hostages, as well as all other non-Iranian hostages, would not be harmed."

This raised the possibility that more than four non-Iranians were in the embassy just before noon when the three Arabs slipped in a back door and took over the mansion on a fashionable residential street a block from Hyde Park.

Cramer said Wednesday that in addition to the prisoner release, the Arabs demanded autonomy for oil-rich Khuzestan, where Arabs are the majority ethnic community; that the 91 prisoners be flown to London, and that the prisoners, the embassy hostages and themselves be flown out of Britain to an unannounced destination.

Patrick Cormack, a member of Parliament from Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's Conservative Party, said the government should demand that the 53 American hostages in Iran be freed along with the 91 Arabs. But the British government sent a message to the Iranian government expressing determination to end the takeover speedily "and so far as possible without casualties."

One of the male hostages was reported wounded during the embassy takeover, but he was not identified, and police said the gunmen refused the offer of a doctor. But they released an Iranian woman suffering from shock late Wednesday afternoon.

Police said the gunmen also refused offers of food. Hundreds of policemen surrounded the embassy and marksmen were planted on neighboring rooftops.

The gunmen identified themselves as members of "The Group of the Martyr." They said they were Arab; Iranians who wanted freedom for what they called "Arabistan," the old Arabic name for Khuzestan Province. Arabs in the region are Sunni Moslems, and they have been battling Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's Shiite regime for more self-government since the ayatollah's revolution 15 months ago.

Prices

below a year ago.

Department economists are predicting retail food prices will rise by 8 percent to 9 percent in 1980, but add that the actual increase could range between 7 percent and 11 percent, depending on inflation, weather and what happens to food supplies in foreign countries.

On average, retail food prices rose 10.9 percent in 1979, the largest annual increase in five years.

Economists do not consider changes in the farm price index for a single month to be reliable indicators of future trends at grocery stores. For example, in 1979 farm prices increased in six months, dropped in four and remained unchanged in two.

So far in 1980, they declined slightly in January, edged up in February, dropped in March and, according to the preliminary figures, continued declining in April.

More than 60 cents of each food dollar spent by consumers goes toward paying middleman expenses for transporting, processing and merchandising food after it leaves the farm.

Farm prices in March averaged 234 percent of a 1967 base price average used for comparison. The index was 238 percent in February.

The April parity ratio for farm commodities was 60 percent, compared to 63 percent in March. In April 1979, it was 73 percent.

According to department records, the April parity ratio was the lowest since the 54 percent of April 1933.

At 100 percent, the indicator would mean, theoretically, that farmers have the same buying power they had in 1910-14.

For example, the average actual price of wheat in April — according to the mid-month reading — was $3.40 a bushel. That was 53 percent of the April parity price for wheat of $6.43 a bushel.

The report also said:

—Cattle averaged $60.40 per 100 pounds of live weight nationally, compared to $64.30 in March and $73.40 in April 1979. Those are averages for all types of cattle sold as beef.

—Hogs averaged $27.60 per 100 pounds, compared to $33.40 in March and $44.10 a year ago.

—Corn was $2.31 a bushel, compared to $2.40 in March and $2.27 a year ago.

—Wheat prices at the farm, according to the preliminary figures, averaged $3.40 a bushel against $3.64 in March and $3.01 a year ago.

—Rice averaged $11.60 per 100 pounds, compared to $11.70 in March and $8.52 in April 1979.

—Soybeans were $5.50 a bushel against $5.94 in March and $7.06 a year ago.

—Upland cotton was $8.1 cents a pound on a national average, compared to 60.7 in March and 54.7 a year ago.

The president expanded at some length on his answer, saying the attempt to free the Americans still held captive was "completed," as were decisions to impose economic sanctions against Iran as well as key domestic moves such as his anti-inflation program.

Carter's decision to campaign came, as Kennedy himself noted, after several defeats by the senator, including the Michigan caucuses last Saturday, the Pennsylvania primary on April 22 and the New York and Connecticut primaries a month ago. Nonetheless, the president still holds a commanding lead in convention delegates, 1,109.3 to 639.1, with 1,666 needed to nominate.

Bush Rips Carter Policies

HOUSTON (AP) — George Bush, facing an uphill battle in the Texas presidential primary Saturday against Ronald Reagan, continued his attack on President Carter's foreign policy and expressed reservations at the appointment of Sen. Edmund Muskie.

"We have a president with no experience in foreign affairs," Bush told a partisan crowd Wednesday night at a "People's Press Conference," which was being taped for television use.

"I say we should not have that again."

Earlier in Fort Worth, Bush also said the Senate should use its confirmation hearings on Carter's appointment of Muskie to Secretary of State for a "thorough review" of the administration's foreign policy.

Bush accused Carter of sending "conflicting signals" to the world by choosing Muskie.

The former CIA director called the senator from Maine a "decent and honest man," but said Muskie's opposition to the B-1 bomber and the deployment of the neutron bomb would cause Carter problems.

"We don't need two secretaries of state," he said, referring to Muskie's opposing views, "...or three, as when Andrew Young was ambassador to the United Nations."

HOUSTON (AP) — A Conroe, Texas, businessman has been indicted by a grand jury for allegedly conspiring to smuggle $400,000 of marijuana into the country every three days.

Bob G. Anderson, 43, who owns a car rental agency and real estate business, was indicted Wednesday after being arrested April 7 in Brownsville, Texas.

Federal agents said Anderson reportedly put up $88,000 to hire a pilot and smuggle the marijuana out of Veracruz, Mexico.

Agents said the pilot was to make a trip every three days and bring the marijuana to Conroe.

HOUSTON (AP) — A 38-year-old steelworker has been indicted by a grand jury on five counts of involuntary manslaughter in connection with a March 30 fire that killed five members of his family.

The panel said Wednesday Lee Arthur Bryant was negligent in leaving a skillet containing cooking grease on a stove in his home.

The grease started a fire that killed Bryant's wife, her two daughters, his stepdaughter and her son.

Bryant had originally been charged with arson, but the charge was later dropped.

Hereford police Wednesday investigated an accident in the 200 block of N. Main, which injured 16-year-old Juanita Zepeda of 922 S. Main.

Miss Zepeda was riding in a van, which was northbound on Main when it was struck by a car traveling west on E. 2nd.

She received minor injuries and was later released from Deaf Smith General Hospital. Police issued four traffic citations Wednesday.

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) — Most of the 25 American Methodist missionaries in Liberia and their families were fleeing abroad today because the country's Methodist bishop, ex-Vice President Bennie Warner, announced he had set up a government-in-exile in the neighboring Ivory Coast. Warner, who was in the United States when Master Sgt. Samuel K. Doe and a group of enlisted men overthrew and killed President William Tolbert, claimed in a broadcast he had all the military force he need to oust the new government. Doe's officials ridiculed Warner's claims, but Methodist leaders feared a backlash and ordered their missionaries out. The U.S. Embassy said it they did not feel the 6,000 Americans in Liberia were in danger and did not plan an evacuation. The Lutheran, Baptist and Roman Catholic missionaries said they had no plans to leave.

NONG KHAI, Thailand (ap) — Thai officials have returned a Laotian air force trainee who asked for asylum but later changed his mind, authorities said today. The sources said the trainee and his flight instructor flew to Thailand in March in a fighter-bomber, but later the trainee said he was homesick and wanted to return.

He was turned over to Laotian officials on Wednesday, but the flight instructor and the plane remain in Thailand, officials said.

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — The best way to achieve birth control is "not to like someone," according to President Joao Figueiredo. "If you really like somebody, in my opinion there's no human force that can prevent conception," the 62-year-old former army general told high school students during an informal chat this week on sex and morals. "Sex is only meaningful when there is love and caring. Otherwise it's not sex. It's something else."

Pope Hopes To Ease Zaire Church Tension

KINSHASA, Zaire (AP) — Sunday evening Mass at Kinshasa's Notre Dame cathedral is a toe-tapping blend of African drums, throbbing African rhythms and Roman Catholic ritual brought to the Congo by European colonizers a century ago. But profession of a "colonial" faith by nearly half the people of a country in search of its African roots has been a cause of friction between church and state which Pope John Paul II hopes to ease with his visit to the former Belgian Congo this week.

Arriving Friday for the first stop on his six-nation African tour, the Polish-born pontiff will be welcomed by President Mobutu Sese Seko. A Catholic who was baptized Joseph Desire Mobutu, he is also Zaire's autocratic, self-styled guide, founder-president and author of an Africanization program which in the 1970s tried to curtail sharply the power of the church.

Programs this week on Tele Zaire, the government TV network, depicted the pope as the "defender of the poor and a friend of the weak." The deputy minister of information organizing the papal visit, Bolela Wa Boende, called it "not only an affair of the church or of the government but a national affair."

Though church-state relations have improved in recent years, many among Zaire's 11.7 million Catholics — about 45 percent of the population of 26.5 million — hope the papal visit will help to improve the lot of the church in the long term.

A Belgian Catholic missionary who has lived in Zaire for 25 years said he hopes the visit will also have some moral impact on the Zairean authorities. In a country larger than the United States east of the Mississippi, the mass of the population lives barely above subsistence level while Mobutu is described as living in luxury. Allegations are frequently made of widespread official corruption.

"If the pope can manage to make the Zaireans more Christian, and live that Christianity," said the priest, who declined use of his name, "there will be change. The authorities will be there, too, and hear what the pope says."

It was in 1971 that Mobutu, 49, a former army colonel who seized power in 1965, ordered a return "to truly African authenticity of life so that Zaire may discover its true personality."

Teaching of religion was abolished in all schools and portraits of Mobutu replaced the crucifix in classrooms. But the restrictions proved unpopular and unworkable, and over the past few years they were lifted. Church and state began a reconciliation. Cardinal Joseph Malula, who lived briefly in exile at the Vatican during the repression, will be with Mobutu at the airport to welcome John Paul II.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texans would have a better idea of what the state Railroad Commission does if commissioners would get out of their Austin offices periodically, candidate Buddy Temple said Wednesday.

The Diboll Democrat, who is trying to unseat Railroad Commission Chairman John Poerner, charged his opponent "has a history of not doing anything... other than issuing press releases blaming everyone in the country" for the current energy woes.

Temple said polls he has seen indicate his campaign for the nomination is in "very, very good shape."

The East Texan said he can see some advantages to making the Railroad Commission job an appointed post, as are seats on most state regulatory commissions.

However, he added, "It's hard for me after 11 months of campaigning to say it should be an appointed job," he said at a Capitol news conference.

Temple said he supports a change in the commission name. He suggested something that would more clearly describe the commission's function in transportation and energy matters.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Crowded dockets in Texas courts could be eased by a volunteer arbitration service to settle minor disputes, Judge Jim Wallace, candidate for the Texas Supreme Court, said Wednesday.

Wallace, now a member of the Houston Court of Civil Appeals, said his campaign travels throughout the state reveals two major complaints about Texas courts.

"It takes too long for a case to come to trial and the cost is prohibitive to a lot of our population," he told a news conference.

He proposed that those involved in a minor dispute be allowed to discuss their differences with a disinterested third party.

"In Houston and other places where this has been tried about 25 percent of these minor or 'dog' cases are settled before they ever come to trial," he said.

Wallace said such procedures could be handled economically on the county level with volunteers, such as retired lawyers and judges, donating their time. The cases would be referred to arbitration by the district attorney.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — John A. Sarge, 27-year-old steelworker from Houston, told a news conference Wednesday he plans to run for the Texas Railroad Commission on the Socialist Workers ticket.

"I believe that an economic war has been declared on working people and the poor by big business and the government," Sarge said. "This war is being spearheaded by the oil monopolies."

Sarge said oil companies "in collusion with the Democrats and Republicans are preventing the Iranian people from bringing the former shah of Iran to justice... moreover they are trying to push the American people into a second Vietnam. Their aim is not to protect the American hostages but to guarantee oil company's profits." In order for Sarge's name to appear on the November ballot he will have to gather petitions from more than 24,000 eligible voters who did not vote in the May 3 Democratic or Republican primaries.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas Railroad Commission Chairman John Poerner charged Wednesday that the East Texan who is trying to unseat him has run a negative campaign that has offered few solutions.

"Buddy Temple is anti-energy, anti-consumer, anti-commission and anti-Texas, when you add up the attitudes he has revealed in his bid for the nomination," Poerner said in a release issued here.

Temple and Poerner are on the ballot in Saturday's Democratic primary. Poerner also charged a Temple television advertisement concerning coal hauling rates is misleading. In the ad, Temple says Poerner has done nothing to stop large increases in the cost of bringing out-of-state coal into Texas.

"Temple has persisted in using a television political ad that misinforms and misleads the public about coal haul rate setting — a function of the federal Interstate Commerce Commission. Yet, he implies the railroad commission is at fault," said Poerner.

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Farm labor leader Cesar Chavez campaigned here Wednesday for Edward M. Kennedy, saying the democratic presidential candidate has a record of concern and action for farm workers. Chavez said Kennedy fought to end discrimination against Hispanics and other minorities.

He noted the United Farm Workers of America endorsed Kennedy for the nomination. He said Kennedy's record of high spending was justified because of the social goals the spending attained.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Republican Henry Grover has reported raising $11,450, largely from three donors, in his race for the GOP nomination for railroad commissioner.

Grover said in a report filed with the secretary of state that he has spent no money.

Grover's opponent in the Republican primary, John

Thomas Henderson of Austin, reported no expenditures or donations, saying his campaign is self-financed.

"The two candidates seek the Railroad Commission slot now filled by Democrat John Poerner."

Also reporting no donations or expenditures were H.J. "Doc" Blanchard and W.E. "Billy" Kidd, GOP primary candidates for the position held by Commissioner Jim Nugent.

Grover failed to report his campaign expenditures for the first three months of 1980 but the secretary of state's office said his campaign manager called and said the document evidently had been lost in the mail.

Dispute over Loot Blamed on Prison Slayings

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — State police Maj. Quimby Johnson said Wednesday a dispute over loot among members of a crime ring apparently was the motive in the recent slayings of two former inmates of a federal prison in Kansas.

Johnson, director of the state police criminal investigation division, said investigators have questioned persons in four states in the slayings of James Harrison Newton, 43, of Basehor, Kan., and Homer Lewellen, 45, of Leavenworth, Kan.

Johnson said Newton and Lewellen apparently were members of a crime ring that was operating in Arkansas and surrounding states.

He said the ring is believed to be responsible for several crimes, including the attempted robbery of a jewelry store and a kidnapping in Joplin, Mo.

Both Lewellen and Newton were former inmates in the federal prison at Leavenworth. Johnson said a number of other former Leavenworth inmates have been questioned in the slayings.

Johnson confirmed that Lewellen, Newton and possibly other former inmates formed the crime ring after they were paroled from the prison.

"We're still running down former inmates at Leavenworth and people we know were associates of Newton and Lewellen," Johnson said. "We think the killings may stem from another criminal case."

Johnson declined to disclose information about the specific crime about which the dispute arose. However, he did say that investigators do not believe that the dispute began because of the unsuccessful jewel heist in Joplin.

Authorities are questioning persons in Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas and Arkansas.

The investigation was started after Lewellen's body was found April 14 by a passing motorist alongside Interstate 40 near Morrilton.

Conway County Sheriff Carl Stobaugh said it appeared that Lewellen had gotten out of a vehicle on the shoulder of the road and that another person in the vehicle shot him in the back of the head with a .20-gauge shotgun.

Newton's body was found by a fisherman April 19 in Crooked Creek in Lonoke County. He had been shot in the neck and his body had been weighted by a concrete block tied to his waist.

Lewellen's pockets had been emptied except for 31 cents and some attorneys' cards. The cards were used to locate a former Leavenworth inmate in the Pulaski County community of Sweet Home who later identified Lewellen's body.

The former inmate told authorities that Lewellen visited him April 6 and told him that he needed $30,000 because of a charge pending against him.

At that time, Lewellen was fighting extradition to Missouri where he faced a charge of attempting to kill the Cole County sheriff. Missouri authorities say they also were preparing to file kidnapping and aggravated robbery charges against Lewellen in the attempted robbery of the jewelry store in Joplin.

Police say that robbery was unsuccessful because the elderly store owner arrived at the store early and accosted the robbers. After the owner feigned a heart attack, the robbers took his wallet and fled.

Calif. He asked for $10 million in damages, an accounting of proceeds from "Song of the South" and all related ventures and a 5 percent ownership in Walt Disney Corp.

"Walt Disney had an absolute legal obligation to ascertain the true ownership of this work but never did so," the suit contended. "The true author of this work received neither material compensation nor the equally important public acclaim."

Richard T. Morrow, vice president and general counsel of Walt Disney Productions, said, "There's no question Ray Gilbert was the author of the song. He wrote a lot of music for us." Morrow said he has not seen the lawsuit.

Walt Disney Sued over Song Credits

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Zip-a-dee-doo-dah" has been zapped in a lawsuit that claims zero credit was given to the real authors of one of Walt Disney's best-known movie songs.

Judge E. Peterson of Washington said he wrote the lyrics to the song in 1939 and James A. Payton, otherwise unidentified, wrote the words.

Peterson, in a suit filed in U.S. District Court, called the song a "statement of America's yesterdays, a musical child that Samuel Clemens would have been proud to call his own."

Peterson claimed the song "suffered and still suffers from the curse of illegitimacy" because the real authors "were denied the recognition...that was their just due for the authorship of this masterwork."

According to the suit, a "long-forgotten impresario" in Washington was responsible for hiding the real authorship and giving credit to two other men.

The song then was sold to the Disney studios and became the theme song of the movie, "Song of the South."

Peterson sued Walt Disney Productions of Burbank,

Oilers Trade Tatum In Draft Get Craig Bradshaw

NEW YORK (AP) — Tatum and Bradshaw. The names, linked together before, are entwined again. But one of the faces is different.

It doesn't belong to Terry Bradshaw, the quarterback of the Pittsburgh Steelers, whose 1972 playoff pass became Franco Harris' "immaculate reception" when Oakland's Jack Tatum deflected the ball.

Instead, it is Craig Bradshaw, Terry's kid brother, a reserve quarterback at Utah State in 1979 and, on Wednesday, a seventh-round pick by the Houston Oilers in the National Football League draft.

Tatum, once an All-Pro defensive back, once one of the most feared safeties in the business, was part of the three-for-one deal which enabled the Oilers to pick the younger Bradshaw — which shows just how much Tatum's market value has plummeted.

In exchange for Tatum and Oakland's seventh-round pick this year (Bradshaw) and next, all the Raiders got in return was running back Kenny King. As a rookie last year, King, a third-round pick out of Oklahoma, carried the ball three times for nine yards.

Tatum and Bradshaw were the only real "name" players mentioned during Wednesday's conclusion of the two-day, 12-round, 17-hour, 333-player draft. Among the other veterans changing teams — each in exchange for a low-round pick this year or next — were running back Don Hardeman, from Baltimore to Denver, tight end Paul Seal, from San Francisco to Tampa Bay, and defensive end Willie Fry, from Pittsburgh to San Francisco.

This year as last, the last of the draftees was picked by Pittsburgh. This time it was Tyrone McGriff, a guard from Florida A&M.

In all, the 28 teams drafted 165 offensive players (45 running backs, 39 wide and Oklahoma were next with nine apiece), while the Pacific 10 was the top conference with 41 draftees to the Southwest Conference's 38.

Tatum's fall from grace shows what can happen when Darryl Stingley collided in midair on a pass play. The Patriots' young wide receiver was paralyzed from the neck down. Although Tatum was absolved of any guilt, it clearly affected him. His intensity and effectiveness seemed to dissolve.

And because he never contacted Stingley during his lengthy hospitalization (Tatum said he was told not to), the Patriots characterized him as callous, a label which further blackened his reputation.

Then, in 1979, he helped to smudge it some more. He wrote "They Call Me Assassin," a provocative book in which he admitted he and Atkinson had conducted their own little game of "knockout" wherein each tried to outdo the other in injuring or kayoing opposing players.

"I haven't read the book, but I think it was written to sell," said Oilers Coach Bum Phillips, insisting it had no bearing on the trade. "I've never seen him do anything I wouldn't want one of my players to do."

Tatum, too, said he thought the book was only incidental. "Al Davis just wants to rebuild the team and give the younger guys a chance to play. I really don't think the book had anything to do with it."

And Oakland Coach Tom Flores noted: "We had no problem with Jack ... But we felt we had to make a move to let our younger players play."

What cleared the way for the trade was the Raiders' acquisition on Tuesday of Burgess Owens, a starting safety for the New York Jets. "When they traded for Owens, I knew some kind of deal was up," Tatum said. "It didn't surprise me at all. It's not a bad move for me at this time in my career. I'll be playing for a contender with a shot to get to another Super Bowl."

That presumes he'll stick with Houston. When the Raiders shipped quarterback Ken Stabler to the Oilers he filled the void created by Dan Pastorini's departure to Oakland. But Tatum is joining a defensive unit which already has an All-Pro (Mike Reinfeldt) and a playoff sensation (Vernon Perry, with his five interceptions) in the starting safety positions.

"He is a proven player who can help us attain our goal," Ed Biles, Houston's defensive coordinator, said of Tatum. "All he does is strengthen our roster."

If Bradshaw finds a home in Houston, he'll likely become the No. 3 quarterback behind Stabler and Gifford Nielsen. Guido Merckens, a reserve wide receiver and safety, was listed as the third-string quarterback in '79.

Despite being the backup at Utah State to Eric Hipple (drafted in the third round by Detroit), the 6-5, 215-pound Bradshaw managed to complete 52 of 112 passes for 1,021 yards and nine touchdowns, one of them a school-record 96-yarder, in 1979. "The scouts say he can throw a football through a wall," Phillips said.

The Conspiracy Code-Named 'STEPPING STONE'

They were all there—congealed into one mighty band of ex-head mentors for the Hereford Whitefaces. The assortment, on the brink of total chaos, was preoccupied with the trivial sports years each was rendering. And this meeting, (some time in the not so distant future) became a Hereford reunion of sorts, lacking only the mention of Hereford itself.

But unpretentious and innocent as it may have seemed to a casual passer-by, it amounted to much more—it was The Conspiracy Code-Named STEPPING STONE.

AMONG THEM—the Hall of Famers—was basketball ex Ron Mayberry. This man had a dossier as hefty as a Webster's dictionary. He had single-handedly lead the Whitefaces to a sprawling 88-33 record during his four year stint in Hereford. From Hereford, he had stepped-on to Odessa Permian where he amassed a 45-19 ledger over two campaign's time and from Permian he went to Midland in the dual role as a basketball and golf mentor.

THEN, AMONG the other honors garnered, Mayberry cinches a spot as top ranking officer of the Odessa Jr. College cage team. There he lead the previously 7-24 and 6-20 squad to continuously better marks of 18-11, 22-10, 23-8 and 22-9 before filling a stint as head-man-at Plainview's Wayland Baptist College.

AND FINALLY tiring of the Jr. College scene, Mayberry pushed Texas' Abe Lemons out of the saddle to become one of the Longhorn's all time winning coaches. Latest rumor had it that he was negotiating terms for coaching duties on the Boston Celtic squad.

Ex HHS track contender and coach Barry Goodin, lean as a greynound in its prime, was over in the corner talking about his disappointment in the termination of the Olympic Games. His disappointment was justifiable considering he had moved up to chief U.S. Olympic trainer and coach after serving as head man for Wayland Baptist, and then a stint for the UCLA Bruins.

Another Ex-Man (former top HHS football assistant), David Bornstein was talking a little grid strategy in the center of the throng—explaining the pros and cons of the veer and I formation by scrolling countless chalk alignments on top of the 1938 vintage Balwin grand piano.

I HAD HAD the opportunity to train under Bornstein as a sophomore green-horn for the HHS football program, and still avoid memories of those styling days when he assured me that I DID want to run a two mile cross country for training purposes despite my head shake to the contrary.

"YOU'RE READY to get after that run out to the caliche pits today aren't you Montgomery!" he would say.

"Wellllll?" "Ugh?"

"Well what—sure you are!" he'd add convincingly.

But his somewhat CULT dominance had payed off for him further down the line. He had been cited in Dave Campbell's 'Texas Football' magazine in 1980 for his winning exploits.

SERVING FIRST in Borger for six months, Bornstein left Hereford after four rigorous years. Afterwards, he brought Stratford out of a 10 year losing slump and compiled a 35-2-3 overall mark before taking over the duties at Seminole. There he extinguished a former 4-16 record only to lead the Indians to back-to-back co-championships in his first year at the school.

Later he was named as offensive coordinator for the Texas Tech Red Raiders in 1984 and eventually took over coaching duties for the Raider squad following his predecessor Rex Dockery's frequent losing Southwest Conference inventory over the years.

AND THE list went on and on. Mike Wartes, who once had been billed as the strongest field general to grace a Whiteface grid crew (and later lead the Muleshoe Mules to greater heights) along with the likes of Keith Kitchens—a miled mannered map able to win 2-2A district championships in a single bound at Shallowater.

There were so many at the meeting of the high-steppers, that it was quite difficult to remember all their names. Ex-football and Athletic Director Don Cumpston had abandoned coaching altogether and was now owner of the Dallas Cowboys. Bobby Decker was coaching the San Antonio Spurs upon latest reports, and there was baseball mentor David Ashby who had gone nine rounds with Billy Martin and punched his lights out in the 10th for rights to the Oakland A's manager spot.

YEAH, THESE men were all greats in their respective fields.

But, where was Hereford in all this? It was still the king-of the stepping stones like many other communities of its size. Having relinquished enumerable state finalist coaches before those state berths ever developed, Hereford had become a well polished rock. Yet, it still had managed to squeeze a few renowned clubs out of the stone in between personnel changes.

THE LAST TIME I went through Hereford (not a town anymore, but verging on city status) the community had raised tribute to the many exceptional coaches furthering their successful careers at various other locales.

It was somewhat modest, but captivated enormous impact for those who had known the whole story behind Hereford athletics.

FINISHED COMPLETELY in bronze was a sizeable boulder with a pair of worn-out shoes resting on top, and underneath the statue read "A good man is hard to find, but even harder to keep around after he's had a whiff of state playoff action."

Directly under that inscription was a large sign—Wanted, football, basketball, baseball, and track coaches with experience. No prerequisites necessary, but must sign contract to stay in school district for period of at least six years. Call 364-0617.

Los Angeles Goes To NBA Championship

Jabbar Leads Lakers To Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There will be no more miracles by the defending National Basketball Association champion Seattle SuperSonics this year. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, with a little help from his friends, made sure of that.

Seattle fought from the brink of elimination in its Western Conference semifinal series with Milwaukee, coming from a 3-2 deficit to beat the Bucks and earn a shot at Los Angeles in the conference finals. The Sonics fell behind again, but the Lakers wouldn't let them off the hook.

With Abdul-Jabbar performing brilliantly, even for him, the Lakers finished strong, as has been their pattern recently, to end Seattle's season 111-105

Wednesday night and earn a berth in the NBA championship series against Eastern Conference titlist Philadelphia.

So the Sonics were eliminated, meaning that the 11th straight year there won't be an NBA champion successfully defending its title. That hasn't happened since the Boston Celtics won in 1967-68 and again the following season.

There will be a couple of red-hot teams competing in the NBA finals, the Lakers, who are 8-2 in postseason play, and the 76ers, who are 10-2 in playoff action.

Los Angeles lost the opener of its best-of-seven series to Seattle 108-107 at the Forum, where the Lakers were 37-4 during the regular season, and will open the finals against the 76ers Sunday afternoon.

But after that setback, the Lakers blew the Sonics away in four straight. Seattle was bidding to become only the fourth team in NBA history to come back from a 3-1 deficit in a playoff series, but it wasn't to be.

Abdul-Jabbar had game-high totals of 38 points, 11 rebounds and seven blocked shots Wednesday night. He scored 12 points in the fourth quarter, including a skyhook with 3:13 to go that gave the Lakers a lead they would hold the rest of the way.

It looked for a while that there might be a Game Six. Seattle led 59-46 late in the second quarter, 62-54 at halftime and through most of the second half. But the Lakers scored 14 of the game's final 21 points to win going away.

Twenty-year-old rookie Earvin "Magic" Johnson, playing with the coolness of a 10-year veteran, had 20 points, 10 rebounds and 10 assists for the Lakers. Norm Nixon and Jamaal Wilkes added 19 and 15 points, respectively, for Los Angeles.

Dennis Johnson led the Sonics with 29 points, including a 40-foot three-point field goal as the third quarter ended which gave his team an 84-82 advantage heading into the final 12 minutes.

John Johnson and Gus Williams added 19 and 18 points, respectively, for Seattle. Fred Brown, who scored 34 points in Game One, had only 10 this time, just two of them in the second half.

The Lakers earned the homecourt advantage over the 76ers by a whisker. Los Angeles was 60-22 during the regular season, Philadelphia, 59-23.

Game Two will be played at the Forum next Wednesday night, with Games Three and Four at Philadelphia on May 10-11.

Take Fifth Win In A Row

Astros Pound Reds

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

It has been nearly nine years since Joe Morgan had hit one out in a Houston uniform, and the long ball came in a rare home-run binge for the singles-hitting Astros.

Even lanky right-hander J.R. Richard got into the act as the Astros pounded out three homers and whipped the Cincinnati Reds 5-1 at Riverfront Stadium. The Astros' fifth win in a row moved them into first place in the National League West, a half-game ahead of the Reds.

"I was still trying to find myself early in the season," said Morgan, whose last homer as an Astro came on Sept. 19, 1971, the year before he was traded to Cincinnati. Back in an Astros uniform via the free agent route, Morgan hit a solo homer in the sixth inning and cracked an RBI single in the eighth to give Richard his fourth victory without a loss.

"I definitely think I'm going to hit a lot more home runs this year," said Morgan, who hit only nine out in 127 games last season with Cincinnati.

Richard and Cesar Cedeno homered for Houston in the fifth inning, and Richard allowed three hits and struck out eight before leaving with one out in the eighth inning and a stiff arm.

The loser was Tom Seaver, 1-1, who yielded all three Houston home runs. Asked about the duel with Richard, Seaver said: "I lost, that's all. It's just one game. You've just got to go back and get them, that's all."

In other NL games, Pittsburgh blanked Montreal 5-0, the New York Mets shut out Philadelphia 2-0, St. Louis whipped the Chicago Cubs 8-2, San Diego edged Atlanta 2-1 and Los Angeles got by San Francisco 4-3.

Pirates 5, Expos 0
Jim Bibby picked up his third win without a loss, scattering six hits, and Phil Garner celebrated his 31st birthday with a pair of home runs for the Pirates. Bill Robinson also homered as Pittsburgh won its fourth in five games with the Expos this season. Expos left-hander Bill Lee lost his third without a win.

Pittsburgh Manager Chuck Tanner learned earlier Wednesday that pitcher Bert Blyleven had quit the team. Tanner was asked if the win had salvaged an otherwise rough day.

Genuine Risk Favored In Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A lot of horsemen are wondering what a nice filly like Genuine Risk is doing running against colts and geldings in Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

Mrs. Bert Firestone's filly is bucking the odds for the 1-mile event at Churchill Downs which had only one filly winner in 105 runnings. And that was back in 1915 when Regret led all the way to turn back 15 rivals. The last filly to start in the Derby was Silver Spoon who finished fifth in 1959.

"Yes, I do think we can win it," said Mrs. Firestone Wednesday. "I wouldn't be here if I didn't think so. My husband and I didn't come here for the Derby parties. She's bred for the distance."

Trainer Leroy Jolley, who saddled 1975 Derby winner Foolish Pleasure said immediately after a third-place finish in the April 19 Wood Memorial at Aqueduct the daughter of Exclusive Native-Virtuous wouldn't go in the Derby. She previously had won all six starts against fillies.

Genuine Risk also was nominated for the rich Kentucky Oaks for fillies here Friday and for New York's Triple Crown for fillies.

Jolley denied that he was overruled on the Derby by the Firestones, but said the change of mind came about when the expected Derby field dropped from more than 20 to about a dozen.

"We just didn't come here to be in the parade," Jolley said. "I think she is a legitimate third choice (behind Plugged Nickle and Rockhill Native) and she could win it."

When the entries were taken today for the $200,000-added first leg of thoroughbred racing's Triple Crown, those three were expected to be opposed by ten others: Bold 'n Rulling, Degenerate Jon, Execution's Reason, Gold Stage, Jaklin Klugman, Rumbo, Super Moment, Tonka Wakhan, Withholding and Hazard Duke.

Genuine Risk, who will have Jacinto Vasquez aboard, will have a five-pound sex allowance;

We've owned our house for 5 years but we rented it out during the 2 years my job took us to Europe. Will that 24-month absence prevent us from qualifying for the "over-55" tax exclusion when we sell the house?

Loosely speaking, the exclusion you mention says: For one time only... if you or your spouse are 55 or older... if you sell your principal residence for a profit and the profit is any amount up to $100,000, you may exclude from taxation that profit. More specifically, the requirements say: 1) you or your spouse must be 55 before the date of sale. 2) You must have owned and occupied the house as your principal residence for 3 years of the 5 years that precede and end with the sale date.

Grocery Bills Up in April

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
Grocery bills went up by a full percentage point during April, according to an Associated Press survey, which shows the increases spread across almost all the shelves in the supermarket. More than half of the items checked rose last month in at least four of the 13 cities surveyed by the AP. Less than a third of the items declined in four cities or more.

The AP drew up a random list of commonly purchased food and non-food products and checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973. Prices have been rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

The latest survey showed that the marketbasket total went up during April at the checklist store in eight cities and decreased in five cities. Overall, the marketbasket totals were an average of 1 percent higher at the start of May than they were a month earlier.

In March, in contrast, the marketbasket declined at the checklist store in eight cities and rose in five, leaving the average bill unchanged, according to the AP survey.

Although the April increases were widespread, they hit hardest at non-foods. The non-foods represented 23 percent of the items checked, but accounted for 30 percent of the increases. Fabric softener went up at the checklist store in nine cities — more than any other item. Pork chops, paper towels, butter, eggs, detergent, milk and sugar also increased at the checklist store in at least four cities.

The good news last month came at the meat counter. The price of a pound of chopped chuck went down at the AP checklist store in eight cities. Beef production is still lower than it was a year ago, but output during the rest of 1980 is expected to be close to 1979 levels.

Prices for pork chops and eggs — two alternatives to beef as a source of protein — have gone down over the past year because of abundant supplies, but the April picture was mixed. The AP survey showed pork chops went up in six cities and down in four; eggs went up in six cities and down in six. The only item besides chopped chuck, pork chops and eggs to decline in at least four cities was frankfurters, down last month at the checklist store in five cities.

The AP did not try to weight the survey results according to population, density or in terms of what percent of a family's actual grocery outlay each item represents. The AP did not try to compare actual prices from city to city. The only comparisons were made in terms of percentages of increase or decrease.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, milk, frankfurters and granulated sugar. A 15th item, chocolate chip cookies, was dropped from the list after the manufacturer discontinued the package size used in the survey. The cities checked were: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, R.I., Salt Lake City and Seattle.

—Names in the News—

CLEVELAND (AP) — Luciano Pavarotti, whose world-renowned voice made him the star of New York's Metropolitan Opera, hopes his tennis game will get him to Hollywood. The 44-year-old Italian tenor says he plays an hour of tennis daily and is on a 2,000-calorie-a-day diet. That's helped him lose 30 pounds so far and if he loses 50 more, he'll be ready to appear in a movie. But he won't tell the name of the film — "that's a secret." Pavarotti talked with reporters Tuesday before two hours of doubles with some Cleveland businessmen. The Met opened here Monday with a gala and dinner party before its production of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera."

The opera singer confessed he gets butterflies in his stomach before "and someone who is not nervous before a performance and I'll show you someone who is not speaking the truth," he said.

SEATTLE (AP) — Actor Martin Sheen says his role in "Apocalypse Now" made him graphically aware of the problems veterans suffer — and he's advocating an anti-draft plank in the national Democratic platform.

"As we are leading toward the draft, we must be aware of where the draft may lead us," he told the National Democratic Platform Committee on Wednesday. Sheen said his role in the film about Vietnam helped forge his interest in a crusade against the draft.

"I had two brothers in the Marines," he said. "One went to Vietnam and came back really scrambled. Going back to some of the places where he served and talking with the veterans, I began to see what he lived through."

"And now, since he saw the film, he's begun to talk to me about his experiences for the first time. He's coming out ok."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Former Secretary of State Cyrus Vance will deliver the June 5 commencement address at Harvard University that promises to be a major foreign policy speech, school officials announced.

David Aloian, executive director of the Associated Harvard Alumni, said Wednesday Vance accepted the school's invitation in early March. Vance resigned Monday after disagreeing with President Carter's decision to send a rescue team to Iran to try and retrieve the U.S. hostages.

"He has made it known that he intends to make a major foreign policy address," Aloian said.

Aloian also announced that newsman Walter Cronkite will deliver the Class Day address on June 4. Cronkite retires later this year as anchorman for the CBS Evening News.

—National Briefs—

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The attorney for Barbara Timm paid for her trip to Iran last week to visit her hostage son with money contributed by a "peace group."

Mrs. Timm, mother of Marine Sgt. Kevin Hermenting, had previously declined to explain how the trip was financed. But she said in a radio interview that the money came from her lawyer, Carl McAfee of Norton, Va., and a peace group with which he is associated.

McAfee was involved in securing the freedom of other hostages, including U.S. spy plane pilot Francis Gary Powers and the sailors of the USS Pueblo.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 13 prisoners who escaped from the San Francisco jail over the weekend apparently used two pistols smuggled into the facility along with hand-made knives, investigators say.

Meanwhile, police Wednesday surrounded a Mission District residence and captured three more of the prisoners who escaped Sunday in the largest jailbreak in the city's history.

Authorities said five escapees were recaptured earlier, including two apprehended in a raid Monday. The five were ordered held on $1 million bond each pending a May 12 preliminary hearing on charges assault, robbery and escape.

NEW YORK (AP) — A $510 million lawsuit has been filed by a Staten Island family against the owners of a condemned New Jersey chemical dump where explosions and fires sent a cloud of acrid smoke over the metropolitan New York area last week.

The suit, filed Wednesday, accuses the Chemical Control Corp. of Elizabeth, N.J., and six of its current or former officials with recklessness, carelessness and negligence. The complaint filed by Patrick McCloskey and his wife and two children seeks $10 million in compensatory and $500 million in punitive damages.

LA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Whether a former Marine photographer's recently detected lung cancer is related to a 1953 atomic test will be examined by the Veterans Administration.

Malcolm Miller was one of two photographers assigned to take photos of the aftermath of the 23-kiloton test at Yucca Flat, Nev. He photographed the test area for several days.

A lung cancer consultant for the American Cancer Society said he has never seen the variety of cancer the former Marine has contracted in a person like Miller who has never smoked cigarettes.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Two rare Asiatic lion cubs have been born by Caesarean section at the New Orleans Zoo, raising to 28 the total number of the cats alive in this country, officials say.

The cubs were born last Wednesday in a litter that included two stillborn cubs. Veterinarians revived them by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Western Town Depicted In County Agent's Home

By DENISE SMITH
Brand Staff Writer

Ingenius sculptures of a miniature western town handcarved by Jimmie Walker can be seen embedded in the walls of the family home in Vega.

Located in the north end of the three bedroom home, 34 engravings depicting a church, school, livery, hotel, bank, post office, barber shop, saloon and jail are handcarved into the wainscot. The tiny Western town, covering 105 feet, took Walker 80 hours to complete.

"People are really surprised to hear how many hours it took me. I actually finished the 34 relief carvings in a couple of months working on and off during that time," Walker stated.

Each carbon, a foot apart, represents a year in the young county agent's life, equally his present age of 34.

On the north wall, Walker engraved old rusty farm antiques such as a wagon wheel and water bucket. Running along the opposite wainscot are the remains of a ranch house.

The center of attraction are five small merchants offices. As the core of the miniature buildings, Walker used old post office boxes and placed them behind the carvings to be used by family members as banks.

Walker first began carving at the age of 15, learning on a trial-and-error basis. While in college, the young farmer experimented in carpentry work, finding the job a challenge.

"I just like working with my hands and wood. I really like the feeling of the different grains in wood," the Oldham County agent explained.

Recently the artist finished a miniature scene of a cowboy on a horse roping a calf. The finished product required 120 hours of tedious labor and would sell for $1500. Walker stated that because of the high price of woodcarving, he wouldn't sell a scene like this.

Working with a wooden chisel, Walker points out that taking wooden objects and carving them into wood gives the design a natural look, because of the association between the two.

Perferring to work with white pine because of the soft texture, Walker stated that hard woods would be prettier.

Often the young farmer would visualize a unusual scene on the farm or while working and return home that evening and recreate the actual scene. This technique was used in a miniature sculpture of a donkey tied to a calf.

"My first wood carvings were a set of praying hands embedded on a wooden box. Since then the praying hands have become quite popular and I have had requests for several others," Walker replied.

"An imagination is needed in any wood carving. I would like to do a headboard for our bed and carve a large scene into it," he added.

Beginning with a 5x12 block of wood, approximately 10 inches tall and 13 inches long, Walker is able to carve a 3-3/4 lb. steer from the mass of wood. Based on carpenters wages, the finished steer would range in the price of $320.

Most of the artist's work is done in the fall and winter. Money earned from the art pieces is used to buy appliances or needed accessories for the home in "a Piggy Bank System."

Walker's wife, Margaret, does his wood staining and any painting he needs. Wishing to not cover the grain of the wood, Walker stains everything he carves to emphasize the natural texture.

Walker's wife is also a talented artist. She has been doing decorative painting for seven years, showing five of those years in art shows throughout the Panhandle.

"Her stuff looks different. It appeals to people. She does real good old country type stuff and is very successful at it," stated her husband, who recently began work with bronze sculpture.

The couple together have shown their art work in several Hungry Artist Shows and have their art pieces displayed in private collections around the Panhandle.

Another hobby shared by the couple is the collecting of antiques. Picking up antiques from farm sales and various other places, the couple furnished their home with the collected pieces.

The family of five gardens, each having his or her own favorite vegetable to grow.

"Everyone raises what they like and then we share with one another. This way I don't have the responsibility of taking care of the whole garden," stated the young father.

Mrs. Walker, the mother of three, Tracy age 11, Cody age eight, and Dusty are three, raises dogs in her spare time.

She breeds Cocker Spaniels and Siberian Huskies.

When she is not painting or working with her youngest child, Mrs. Walker is chairman of a book committee which is currently compiling a history of Oldham County.

She is an active mother in the local 4-H organization in which her two oldest sons are members, an avid bridge player and seamstress.

Her church work with United Methodist Church is considered a hobby by her also.

The couple were married during Walker's sophomore year of college at Oklahoma State University. In college, Walker majored in animal science and received his bachelor of science in economics in 1968.

Walker, raised south of Stillwater on a small farm, was the assistant County Agent from 1968-72 in Plainview. He has resided in Vega for eight years, owning a 100-acre farm.

"We like the quietness of the farm. Life is simple and the people are just great," the couple commented together.

Besides his talent in hand-carving, Walker is skilled in musical instruments, among them being the fiddle, banjo, and guitar. He enjoys working with his cattle and children.

In his county position, the young farmer is currently working with the Vega community to develop educational programs, community improvement, and the development of a water district in Vega.

"I have a hard time separating my home life from my job. I enjoy working with people so much and find it a rewarding experience," commented Walker.

Anyone interested in viewing Walkers work is asked to "feel free" to call 267-2631 in Vega.

At Wits End

By ERMA BOMBECK

You want to know how to get every mother in the world on her feet and moving?

Just stand in front of her and say, "Don't get up! Just tell me where (whatever she's looking for) is."

I have seen women pull themselves out of bed three hours out of surgery following that line. It's like waving a red flag in front of them.

For some weird reason the entire family seems to feel that the mother is a walking Dewey Decimal System for every item in the entire house.

I figured out once that I spent 23 hours a week looking for things—I knew where they were all the time but in the words of the family "just wanted to feel important."

Why do mothers do it? Why don't they just sit there and give directions? I thought you'd never ask.

Men suffer from a congenital disease called "front-of-the-shelf-paralysis." It's a curious malady where the vision remains at eye level and freezes. The arms remain motionless at their sides and they are incapable of moving anything to see what is stored behind.

Watch them sometimes when they're looking for something in the refrigerator, medicine chest, or shelf in the garage. They survey the contents in a blink, then yell to wherever you're sitting, "IT'S NOT HERE!"

It's only after you are standing at their right-side and pushing aside a single item in the front row that their eyes show recognition. Then they turn to you and ask, "Why do you have to hide things?"

Children, on the other hand, suffer a different set of symptoms. They carry a disease called, "Convenient Blindness." It comes and it goes. They see what they want to see. If they're looking for a laxative, boots, report card, or garbage to take out, their faces go blank, their eyes become set and they see nothing.

It's the same look they reserve for when they're told that the first one who sees the dog's contribution to indoor pollution has to clean it up. On the other hand, if they're looking for your tennis racket, change in the lining of your purse, or Easter candy that is hidden, they are capable of seeing through doors and walls.

I said to the family the other night, "I'd like to run away from home. Where is Cleveland? Don't get up. Just tell me where it is."

They didn't get the joke.

Plainview Slates Pioneer Round-Up

"Down Memory Lane" has been chosen as the theme for the 52nd Pioneer Round-Up to be held on Saturday, May 17, in Plainview. Complete plans for this annual event are taking shape, according to Lou Ella Scarbrough, president of the sponsoring organization, the Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club.

The traditional square dance will conclude the activities and the guest caller will be Ray Johnson of Amarillo. Helen Pemberton is dance chairman.

Johnson is a veteran square dancer as he and his wife, Barbara, began dancing in 1962. They have held many club offices and are past presidents of the Panhandle Callers and Teachers Association, the Amarillo Square and Round Dance Council and the Panhandle Square Dance Association.

He has been calling for 16 years and has called in six states, mostly in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and New Mexico. He has been one of the callers at Red River Memorial Day and Aspenade Week-ends for five years. He serves as caller for four clubs: Pairs 'N' Squares, Whirleybirds and Workshopers, all of Amarillo and Calico Capers of Pampa.

He is a graduate of Texas Tech University and is a registered professional engineer. He is employed by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Mrs. Pemberton and Johnson cordially invite all "square" dancers to attend the Pioneer Round-Up and participate in the square dance which will begin at approximately 9 p.m. on Saturday night at the Hale County Agriculture Center. Everyone is also invited to enjoy the waltz, polka, "Put your little foot" and other couple dances.

Miss Scarbrough states the price of the tickets is $3.50 (tax included). This covers all activities beginning with the supper at 6:00, the program at 8:00 and the square dance which follows. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club.

Also everyone is invited to shop that day for baked products at the Kuntry Kitchen beginning at 10 a.m. at the Agriculture Center.

Flowers Make a Day

Flowers are not only for special occasions. Just one small flower arrangement placed in a room for no apparent reason can help lift your spirits and spruce up your home. It can make an ordinary day extraordinary.

A few brightly colored flowers divert the eye from a scuffed wall or frayed slipcovers. And if your home is newly decorated, flowers will add accents of color and warmth that make your decor look even better.

Flowers on the kitchen table may not make the routine grapefruit diet in the morning taste like eggs benedict, but they will create a pleasant ambience in which to eat.

Flowers by the bed are a joy to behold upon awakening, bleary-eyed, in the morning, and retiring, bleary-eyed, at night. Flowers in the bathroom are exciting simply because you may never have thought to put them there.

Another way to add some zing to the petty pace of every day is to wear flowers. Here are some ideas for women. Attach one orchid to a comb and wear it in your hair. Fasten a few flowers to a ribbon for a choker or bracelet. Pin a flower to a scarf or hat. Line a costume jewelry necklace with flowers.

Wildlife Paintings To Be in Art Show

The wildlife paintings of Ricky Kim Poarch, a new Panhandle artist, will be among the works of five artists to be featured at the Spring "Top Hand" Art Show Saturday and Sunday in the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage.

A former resident of Hereford, Poarch invests long hours of research and field study before beginning a painting. "I believe that through the study and understanding of wildlife, perhaps we can better understand ourselves and the value of life itself," the artist stated.

A personal goal for Poarch is to paint a series of works featuring endangered species exclusively. A personal love of wild birds and animals has inspired Poarch to specialize in nature artwork.

He is an active member of Ducks Unlimited and the National Wildlife Federation. Several of his paintings are featured in private collections, and he has participated in various art shows in Amarillo, where he now makes his home.

Poarch is married to the former Joan Josseland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Josseland of Hereford.

The public is invited to attend this weekend's art show, which will also spotlight the artwork of Travis McPherson, Keith Avery, Kenneth Wyatt and Andy Wilks. The show will be open from 11 a.m. - 5 p.m. Saturday and from 12 noon - 5 p.m. Sunday in the Hall of Fame, 211 E. 4th St.

EH Council Hears Delegate Reports

Reports from the delegates to the District TEHA meeting at White-Deere were heard Monday during a luncheon meeting Monday of the Deaf Smith County Extension Homemakers Council. The council convened for its regular monthly business session in the Heritage Room of the library.

District delegates reported that awards were presented at the recent White Deere meeting and the new district director elected. Deaf Smith County was represented by 13 EH women, including three voting delegates - Mariellen Homfeld from Bippus Club, Terri Johnson from Westway Club and Cindy Norvell from Palo Duro Club. Each delegate expressed appreciation to the Council for sending her to the district meeting.

In other business considered by the Council, it was announced that the annual Health Fair is scheduled from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. Tuesday, May 13 at the Community Center. The EH Council will operate a concession stand during the Health Fair, which will feature approximately 20 exhibits, health tests and screenings. The Fair will be open free of charge to the public and transportation will be provided if needed.

The Council also made plans for a Testing Bee in September and acknowledged an invitation to host the district meeting in 1982. It was announced that each club is to elect a nominee for the state meeting, scheduled to take place in October. Members were reminded that the Deaf Smith TEHA chairman will be elected in August.

Terri Johnson presented Council chairman Louise Packard with a flag from the Associated Country Women of the World for 100 percent participation in this county's Pennies for Friends program.

Mrs. Packard expressed appreciation to Ford EH Club for hosting Monday's luncheon. Opening exercises included a poem, "You can't Win" read by Naomi Stockesberry, a member of the Ford Club. Visitors were welcomed.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given.

Rock Club Plans To Enter Exhibit

Plans to participate in the Amarillo Gem and Mineral Show on May 3-4 were finalized by members of Deaf Smith Lapidary Club Monday night during a business meeting in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Members were to have met Wednesday evening in the Cecil Lady home to prepare their exhibit for the Amarillo show, which will be held at the fairgrounds.

In other business considered by the club, it was tentatively agreed to have a picnic during the month of June. Also, the time of the regular monthly business meeting was changed to 8 p.m. with the advent of Daylight Savings Time. The meeting was conducted by president Dale Henson.

Pete and Mildred Davis from Golden Spread Rock Club in Amarillo were the guest program speakers. They discussed investments in precious metals, diamonds and colored gemstones. Also, the couple offered advice on the best techniques for polishing and cutting opals.

Door prizes were won by Edwina Thomas, Sam Morgan and Helen Nunley.

In addition to the guest speakers, Edna Cook of Phoenix, Ariz. was introduced as a visitor.

The club's next meeting will be May 26 in the Flame Room.

In attendance Monday night were Messrs. and Mmes. Clarence Botts, Preston Gee, Cecil Lady, Howard Hershey, Jake King, Tim Dawson, Jack Nunley, Sam Morgan, Bub Newell, Dale Henson, Ralph Packard, Bud Cawthon, Julian Perrin, Bert Brown, Garth Thomas, Lester Rape and Roy Martin.

Others present were Joe Williams, Baxter London, Weldon Roberson, Betty Rice, Carrie Mae Doak and Henry Weddel.

Rosalyn: Jimmy To Win

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP)—Even with his recent setbacks, President Carter will be a big winner over Sen. Edward Kennedy in Saturday's non-binding Texas primary and the subsequent precinct caucuses, predicts First Lady Rosalynn Carter.

Mrs. Carter campaigned Wednesday afternoon deep inside San Antonio's impoverished Mexican-American barrio, appealing in Spanish and English for support for her husband in what is Kennedy's Texas stronghold.

Earlier in the day, she campaigned in a plush downtown Houston hotel and appealed for support from black voters at a Baptist church in Houston's predominantly black Fifth Ward.

President Carter has refused to personally campaign for his re-election since the Iranian crisis began six months ago, but Mrs. Carter has been making numerous appearances across the country.

The president is favored to defeat Kennedy in Texas, despite last week's unsuccessful hostage rescue mission in Iran, the resignation of Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and Kennedy's popularity with the state's large population of Mexican-Americans.

Texas has 152 national convention delegates at stake.

"I feel very confident about Texas," Mrs. Carter told reporters upon her arrival here.

Asked if those recent setbacks might cause her husband to lose the primary, she replied, "We're not going to lose Texas."

She said the aborted rescue mission has prompted a nationwide outpouring of support for her husband. "I think people thought it was the right thing to do," she added.

Mrs. Carter was in San Antonio only two days after her husband made a rare foray away from the White House and flew here to visit the five hospitalized American commandos. Kennedy campaigned here Monday night and Tuesday.

Kennedy and farmworker leader Cesar Chavez received a rousing welcome from thousands of Mexican-American supporters in their Monday night rally in San Antonio's traditional Mexican marketplace.

Kennedy also drew a heavy turnout of Hispanics in Houston on Tuesday.

The Massachusetts senator is extremely popular among Mexican-Americans, who comprise much of the population of South Texas and more than half of Bexar County's million residents. Mrs. Carter was greeted Wednesday by a crowd of more than 300 at a Christian community center in the middle of a deteriorating, crime-racked Mexican-American housing project just southwest of downtown San Antonio.

She told the predominantly Hispanic crowd, "The president has appointed more Hispanics to positions in government than all other presidents combined. That is so important. It can make a difference in the way a government works."

Mrs. Carter opened her speech in Spanish, telling the crowd that the president "is thinking of you and wishes he could be here with you."

She ended her speech with an appeal in Spanish for votes and caucus support Saturday.

The community center hosts many programs for the elderly, and Mrs. Carter vowed that social programs, especially those for the elderly, would not be cut in the face of inflation.

"I feel confident we will have the support of the Mexican-American community," Mrs. Carter told reporters. "I think the president has a very good record in working with the Mexican-American community."

She courted black support in Houston, appearing before a crowd of 1,500 blacks at the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church.

"He has appointed more blacks to high offices than all other presidents combined," she said of her husband. "He has appointed 30 black federal judges; all needed to give us justice."

Mrs. Carter was faced with numerous questions about Iran while in Houston and San Antonio.

News From The Lodge

By SUSAN OWENS
Community Relations Chairman

Money - or the lack of it - seems to be part of most conversations these days and the Camp Fire Lodge is no exception. We have had to take money from the camping fund and put it into the general fund so that we can keep the lodge door open and keep providing quality programming for our youth.

Therefore, a decision had to be made as to what our priorities in Camp Fire are. We have taken the Camping money and put it in the general fund. We will not be taking campers to Camp Summer Life in New Mexico.

Let me tell you about El Tesoro. El Tesoro is a resident camp on the shores of the Brazos River in the de Cordova Bend area 35 miles from Fort Worth.

El Tesoro's camping program is based on the philosophy and objectives of Camp Fire, the emphasis on the small group, individual attention, acceptance of differences, the child-centered approach, and a program focused on appreciation of the out of doors, democratic group living, non-competitive sports, skill development, physical, mental and emotional health, concern for others, fun and friendship.

El Tesoro is accredited by the American Camping Association, licensed by the Texas Department of Health Resources, and operated by the First Texas Council of Camp Fire, Inc. under the Camping and program standards of Camp Fire, Inc.

Staff members are carefully selected for their positions. All participate in extensive training before the summer begins. All water-front staff are certified by the American Red Cross as Water Safety Instructors. The average age of the counselors is 25 years old.

The safety and security of your child is of utmost importance to the staff. A counselor always sleeps in the cabins with the campers and the camp director and camp ranger can be reached at all times by CB radio in case of emergency. Every effort is made to keep El Tesoro a safe and happy camp for your camper.

Transportation and counselors to El Tesoro will be provided by the Hereford Council to El Tesoro. The counselors from Hereford will not stay in El Tesoro.

Information and registration forms may be obtained from Camp Fire leaders or the Camp Fire Office. Registration itself will not be handled through the Camp Fire Office. Each camper must mail his or her own registration to Fort Worth.

The Hereford Council recommends that your camper goes the week of July 13-18th. There are other dates available and if five or more campers choose another week to go, the Local Council will provide transportation.

Leaders Meeting will be this Friday morning at 9:30 and Friday evening at 7:30, May 2nd.

Leader's Training Sessions will be May 14, 15 and 16 at Veterans Park. The sessions will be from 9-11:30 a.m. each morning.

Wo He Lo.

Ann Landers

Homey Hints

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I like both you and Sylvia Porter, but that answer you gave to the woman who wanted to know how to save money was ridiculous. You said Sylvia was one of the smartest people you knew and then went on to list some of her homey hints on how to SPEND money, not save it. "Buy furs in August—air-conditioners in February—TV sets in May—water heaters in November." You gotta be kidding. Suggesting that people buy "out of season" is no solution for people who can't pay their bills. Sign me—Unfurred In Pittsburgh

DEAR PITTS: I thought that column was very good, but it certainly irritated a lot of readers. Here's another letter from a disgruntled critic:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your suggestions via Sylvia Porter on how to cope with inflation showed a surprising lack of awareness. That "buy-buy-buy" advice may be fine for Lake Shore Drive and Park Avenue, but it had very little to do with the millions of silent poor.

We now use baking soda to brush our teeth. (Toothpaste is out of the question.) We save shards of soap; add water, boil and make a bar. We have forgotten what beef, pork and lamb taste like. Yes, we have heard about food stamps, but those are for other people, not us. Our thermostat is set at 65, not to save energy but to keep the bill down. Extra socks and sweaters help a lot.

For amusement, we ride our old bicycles to the library. That's where I read your column (can't afford to buy newspapers). Yes, we are the silent poor, and there are more of us around than you suspect. No signature, just—Seen Better Days

DEAR BETTER DAYS: Thanks to you and all who wrote. You are right, and I admit your letter shook me up. I wish you weren't so proud about food stamps. The program was designed to help people like you. Please reconsider.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: "Sinking fast in Georgia" was certainly loyal to her gender when she included sex in the list of negative things she did for the man she loves. To quote: "I cook his meals, clean his house and sleep with him whenever he wants me to." She could have added, "I also take out the garbage."

A man would say, "Yesterday I had a great day. My boss gave me a raise, I enjoyed a gourmet dinner and slept with a wonderful woman."

I guess one of the principal differences between men and women is the list they put love-making on.—The Oldest Story Ever Told

DEAR OLD STORY: Please don't assume that all women are like "Sinking Fast" and all men are like you. It's a mixed bag in both camps, and I hear from all of them. Thanks for the input, Romeo.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 15-year-old southpaw who would like to speak out in behalf of all left-handed people. Our life is not easy.

Most folks consider us a nuisance to sit next to at the table. My mother solved this problem by putting me at the end.

Nearly every gadget you can think of is designed for the right-handed world. If you don't think this is an inconvenience, just try to use a corkscrew with your left hand. Even pens smear when you write with them.

Some left-handed people have learned to do things with either hand. (They are called ambidextrous.) Most of my friends who are right-handed can't do anything with their left hand.

I have been reading you in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for many years and would be thrilled if you would print my letter.—Missouri Southpaw

DEAR PAW: Here's your thrill. Thanks for writing.

Lance Acquitted on 9 Counts of Bank Fraud

ATLANTA (AP) — Former U.S. budget director Bert Lance was acquitted today on nine counts of bank fraud after a 16-week trial. A mistrial was declared on another three counts because the jury was deadlocked. Lance's attorneys asked U.S. District Judge Charles A. Moyer Jr. to declare directed verdicts of acquittal on the three remaining counts. Moyer said he was not ready to decide immediately, but called attorneys for both sides into his chambers. "We're delighted about the not guilty verdicts," Lance said. "It's what we thought all along it would be. We're terribly delighted and pleased."

Bank of Georgia was a misapplication of bank funds. As the jurors filed out, several of them smiled and waved broadly to Lance and his co-defendants. The defendants, their lawyers and relatives laughed and waved back. "I wish we had had time to thank the jury," Lance said. Prosecutor Edwin Tomko, who has worked on the case for more than two years, said the jury's action was not a personal disappointment. "How can you be disappointed when the jury has spoken," Tomko said. "The government presented its case. If the government was always right, we wouldn't need a jury."

"We all felt strongly that he was a good man - a man of character. But liking him didn't have anything to do with it. Looking at the documents is what held us up." Mullins, a former pharmacist from Lance's hometown of Calhoun, said, "I've got a burden lifted off my head." Mitchell told reporters that it was his case which was decided on Monday and reported to the judge as a sealed verdict. On Tuesday, prosecution and defense lawyers met privately with Moyer just before the jurors were sent home, but afterwards the attorneys said they had been admonished not to reveal anything about the discussion. Lance is a close friend of President Carter. His co-defendants are north Georgia businessmen and have been friends of Lance for years. The jurors first announced they were deadlocked on Saturday, after 33 hours of deliberation spread over six days. Moyer informed the jury Monday of their sworn duty to reach unanimous verdicts, then on Tuesday urged them to consider the cost of the proceedings and the effect on the defendants if the case is not resolved. "If there is a way to avoid it, a defendant should not be required to run twice the gantlet of a criminal trial," the judge said. "He should not have to bear the mental and financial strain again."

HEALTH Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. Early cataracts

DEAR DR. LAMB — Recently I went to my eye doctor for a checkup. He said my eyes were healthy but I have nuclear sclerosis. I do not see to read as well as I did before. He said something about transparency. Like others, I value my eyesight. Can you tell me something about this? DEAR DR. LAMB — He's telling you that you have early cataracts and was talking about changes in the lens. Many people don't understand that a cataract is inside the eye and not on the eye. The lens is a jelly-like globular structure inside the eye that focuses the images that you see, somewhat like the lens in the camera focuses for you to take a picture. The lens is constantly regenerating itself just like the other cells in your body but it can't shed the old cells like your skin does. These old cells are clumped together and moved to the inside of the lens. In the early stages of cataract formation a little spot of these old clumped cells develop. This little spot is sometimes called nuclear sclerosis. I'm sending you The Health Letter number 13-6, Your Cataracts Are Coming, so that you can understand better what happens to the lens as people get older. It happens to everybody to some degree. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. I really don't know why you're having trouble with your vision because there are many other things that can affect eyesight other than cataracts or nuclear sclerosis or even changes in the lens. But if you happen to be developing cataracts and they affect your vision to the point that it can't be managed with eye glasses, there's a strong likelihood that something can be done surgically to significantly improve your eyesight. DEAR DR. LAMB — What is exophthalmic goiter? And what is Graves disease? Is a poor life full of stress and fear a possible cause? I am a 60-year-old childless woman who works very, very hard and am under stress most of the time. What makes pressure behind the eyes at night? DEAR DR. LAMB — Graves disease refers to an overactive thyroid condition. It's often associated with nervousness, tremulousness, weight loss in the face of eating lots of calories and bulging eyes. The bulging eyes are called exophthalmos. The goiter refers to an enlargement of the thyroid. So you have an enlarged thyroid gland which is overactive and associated eye complications. The eyes are literally pushed out of their socket because of the accumulation of lymph cells and fluid in the tissues behind the eye and in the muscles that control the eyeball itself. The eyes do need protective measures to prevent them from drying out if the eyelids don't meet properly over the protruding eyeballs. Usually most of eyes bulging will recede after the thyroid condition has been adequately controlled a sufficient length of time. The cause of such overactive thyroid conditions is really not known. It used to be thought that it was related to stress but that can't be proved. DEAR DR. LAMB — Four years ago when I was 28 years old I had a complete hysterectomy but the ovaries were left. I had a type 3 Pap test and coning revealed that I had cervical cancer. Now my husband's only sister who's 36 is having surgery for cervical cancer. Their first cousin has also had a hysterectomy for cervical cancer at age 30. Dr. Lamb, does this high incidence of cervical cancer affecting me and my husband's sister and cousin sound statistically improbable? We all grew up in the same small town and I think the same doctor delivered all of us. Could there be a connection?

DEAR READER — It's difficult to make any conclusions simply because a number of people in the same family have had cervical cancer. After all, cervical cancer is the second most common form of cancer in all women, exceeded only by breast cancer. You may have read that the second most common cause of cancer deaths in women is cancer of the colon and bowel or more recently cancer of the lungs. That's because even though cancer of the cervix is the second most common cancer, it's now treated so effectively in so many cases that the death rate from cancer of the cervix has been significantly decreased. That decrease has been because of regular examinations resulting in early detection. There is an inherited tendency to develop cancer. What that really means is that some people don't have the same resistance to developing cancer as do others. To give you more information about cancer, I'm sending you The Health Letter number 14-8, Cancer: A Fact of Life. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. There is some suspicion that cancer of the cervix may be associated with herpes virus which can be transmitted like other infectious diseases. These viruses have been isolated from cancer tissue and other viral products have been noted in cervical cancer tissue. The problem is that just finding viruses doesn't mean that they caused the problem. Quite the contrary. It could be that for reasons we don't understand that cancer tissue is particularly good tissue in which to grow viruses. After all, cancer cells are accelerated wild growth. That could mean that they stimulate the growth of other things as well. Because you've had a hysterectomy, I am also sending you The Health Letter, number 14-12, Hysterectomy, Cystocele and Rectocele. It includes a discussion of the effects you can expect afterward. Since your ovaries were not removed and if their circulation was maintained in spite of the surgery, you should continue to have your normal hormonal cycle. You will continue to ovulate and you should have a menopause at the expected age. A lot of the variations noted after hysterectomy depend on whether the ovaries have been removed or not and whether a woman has already gone through the menopause or not. Many of the changes attributed to a hysterectomy are in fact not related to the operation at all.

The Newspaper Bible

HE'S A WONDERFUL MAN! AFTER this, Jesus went to Galilee, going from village to village, for he wanted to stay out of Judea where the Jewish leaders were plotting His death. But soon it was time for the Tabernacle Ceremonies, one of the annual Jewish holidays. And Jesus' brothers urged Him to go to Judea for the celebration. "Go where more people can see your miracles!" they scoffed. "You can't be famous when you hide like this! If you're so great, prove it to the world!" For even His brothers didn't believe in Him. Jesus replied, "It is not the right time for Me to go now. But you can go anytime and it will make no difference. For the world can't hate you; but it does hate Me, because I accuse it of sin and evil. You go on, and I'll come later when it is the right time." So He remained in Galilee. But after His brothers had left for the celebration, then He went too, though secretly, staying out of the public eye. The Jewish leaders tried to find Him at the celebration and kept asking if anyone had seen Him. There was a lot of discussion about Him among the crowds. Some said, "He's a wonderful man," while others said, "No, he's duping the public." But no one had the courage to speak out for Him in public for fear of reprisals from the Jewish leaders. POLLY'S POINTERS Polly Cramer =Wax dripped on brass=

DEAR POLLY — A candle dribbled wax all over my lovely brass candlestick. I have tried every way to remove this hard wax but cannot budge it. I thought you might know of a way that would not damage the candlestick. — VIRGINIA DEAR VIRGINIA — Hold your candlestick under hot running water until it softens and loosens the wax a bit. Then pry it loose with a piece of heavy cardboard. Never use a sharp instrument that might scratch the brass. This should cause the wax to come off in chunks and then more hot water will soften any remaining bits. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When I was antiquing some furniture I decided to put the screws, knobs, etc. through the back part of an egg carton and the points went through just great. When I was ready to paint these pieces I took the carton to the basement and spray painted them all at one time. It took just a few minutes to do the knobs, handles and screws. — LOU DEAR POLLY — The reader with the rusty iron porch railings should first paint them with an oil-base aluminum paint, let them dry and then paint with the preferred color. This has always worked beautifully for me. — GRANDMA DEAR POLLY — When I wash blouses, shirts, etc. that are to drip dry and I only have metal hangers, I fold one or two paper towels over the ends of each hanger to prevent marks on the garments. — DELORES DEAR POLLY — I think the lady who siphons fat from meat drippings has a lot of extra work and bother. I pour my meat drippings into a cup or bowl that I put in the refrigerator. The next day the fat is solid and on top and I just lift it out and discard it. No fuss, no muss and no fat. — VI DEAR POLLY — A simple and easy way to put on boots is to put a plastic bread wrapper over your shoes and they will then go on with no trouble. — OPAL DEAR POLLY — When cooking greasy foods such as duck, pork roasts, etc. and you do not have a wire rack use the rings from canning jars. Also, they are easier to clean than a rack. — SHIRLEY

PUBLIC NOTICE Dick Barrett Produce, Inc., P.O. Box 750, Hereford, Texas 79045, has applied to the Texas Department of Water Resources for a renewal of Permit No. 01234 to continue the requirements and conditions of the permit which authorizes an average discharge of 300,000 gallons per day of wastewater effluent from a vegetable packing plant. The plant is located adjacent to the eastern extension of New York Avenue and south of the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railroad right-of-way in the southeast portion of the City of Hereford in Deaf Smith County, Texas. The effluent is discharged to Tierra Blanca Creek; thence to the Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River in the Red River Basin. The permit, if renewed by the Commission, will specify conditions and limitations generally the same as those currently enforced by the existing permit. The expiration date of the existing permit is June 24, 1980. It is proposed that the expiration date be specified as midnight, five years after the date of Commission approval. LEGAL AUTHORITY: Section 26.028 of the Texas Water Code, as amended, and Chapter 25 of the Rules of the Texas Department of Water Resources. No public hearing will be held on this application unless an affected person who has received notice of the application has requested a public hearing. Any such request for a public hearing shall be in writing and contain (1) the name, mailing address, and phone number of the person making the request; and (2) a brief description of how the requester, or persons represented by the requester, would be adversely affected by the granting of the application. If the Commission determines that the request sets out an issue which is relevant to the waste discharge permit decision, or that a public hearing would serve the public interest, the Commission shall conduct a public hearing, after the issuance of proper and timely notice of the hearing. If no sufficient request for hearing is received within 45 days of the date of publication of the notice concerning the application, the permit will be submitted to the Commission for final decision on the application. Requests for a public hearing and/or requests for further information concerning any aspect of the application should be submitted in writing to Larry R. Soward, Assistant Chief Hearings Examiner, Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, Telephone (512) 475-1311. Issued this 25th day of April, 1980. # Their Love's Special

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP) — Virginia and Roger fell in love at a crafts class held at a home for the mentally retarded. The matchmaker was Virginia's papier mache rabbit.

That was a decade ago. Roger was 21, Virginia 18. Things clicked like they do for other young lovers, but unlike most couples, Virginia and Roger faced financial, social and physical obstacles some people said were insurmountable.

Their IQs were below 80. Virginia dragged her left leg and tired easily because of birth defects and neither had ever lived without special care.

Today, they are husband and wife. And the story of their special love and struggle has made them minor celebrities.

A paperback version of their story, "Like Normal People," came out this spring. Written by Roger's brother, Washington Post reporter Robert Meyers, the book was made into an ABC-TV movie that aired April 13, 1979, starring Shaun Cassidy as Roger and Linda Purl as Virginia.

Their life now is stable and close, but "it was like a bumpy road for the first five months — and that's why we had the psychiatrist," Virginia says.

The psychiatrist, paid with public funds, visits only occasionally now, "just to show us simple ways to stretch our money," she says.

Still, the road for a mildly retarded married couple in 1980 is far from smooth, they say.

ment house, but he was recently turned down for a job he really wanted — stockboy at the corner convenience store. He says he dreams of a profession.

"The community won't accept me — I can't understand it," he says.

But Virginia is proud of how well her husband has done, and together they're saving for a plane trip to visit relatives in New York state this August.

"We'll put aside $150 — and that's no April Fool's joke," Virginia said in a recent interview.

Their second-floor apartment costs $220 a month — up $15 from what they paid for the ground-floor unit they rented as newlyweds back in June 1977.

A check for $660 comes every month, a combination of state and federal funds under the Supplemental Security Income Law. They plan to "get off the program and really on our own" someday.

Meanwhile, they bank a monthly check from Roger's brother and they keep their financial records straight with three savings accounts.

But their unexpected fame last year complicated their

FTC Out of Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission is fresh out of money because Congress, at least temporarily, has failed to enact new legislation to pay the bills.

Similar things have happened in the past, but this time there's a new wrinkle: The attorney general says the agency has no choice but to shut down.

The FTC's 1,700 employees were told to report for work today, but only "for the purpose of closing down the agency." Asked what this meant, one official said: "We can secure our files. Things like that. But we can't do our regular work."

The money stopped flowing despite a House-Senate conference committee's approval Wednesday of a compromise bill funding the agency for three more years.

Before that action can be converted into dollars and cents, however, the conference committee report must be written and submitted to both the House and Senate for final approval before being sent to President Carter for signature into law.

As a stop-gap solution, the House Appropriations Committee was expected to take action today on an emergency bill that would supply $55 million to the FTC until the permanent measure is enacted.

Federal agencies, including the FTC, have been left without funds for short periods on similar occasions in the past. In most cases they continued some activities on the assumption the legislation would be approved quickly.

However, a recent opinion by Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti said that business-as-usual approach in the absence of official funding violates a 110-year-old law. He indicated the law allows no spending beyond what is required to shut down agency operations.

"No statute permits federal agencies to incur obligations to pay employees without an appropriation for that purpose," Civiletti said in an April 25 letter to President Carter.
