Only Proposals To Be Cut, Not Actual Spending

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK AP)--True or false? Since the administration has concluded that government outlays beyond income can produce inflation, the newly revised 1981 budget proposals will reduce federal outlays.

False. Federal spending will rise. The revised budget proposal would increase outlays by at least $42 billion, from $568 billion to $569 billion in fiscal 1980 to $611 billion to $613 billion in 1981.

If you thought federal spending was to be cut you may have failed to distinguish between the President's proposals to spend, which are to be cut, and actual spending, which will not. The cuts are in proposals. The distinction has been blurred, but so has much more of the new set of budget proposals. Puzzling many people is how higher oil taxes.

borrowing costs and wage guidelines can be antiinflationary. And, in the short run, they cannot be. Many economists now look toward even worse inflation this spring.

Over a longer time such measures conceivably can cut the rate of price increases. That is, if oil taxes reduce consumption, if interest rates discourage borrowing, and if wage increases encourage produc-

However, the three items shouldn't be grouped at

The oil tax is aimed at raising revenues as much as it is intended to cut consumption. Higher wage guidelines are meant primarily to ease the burdens of inflation rather than to lower it. Only the higher interest rates are aimed solely at cutting inflationary demand.

And that presents another puzzler--why should a government whose debts have risen from less than $410 billion in fiscal 1971 to nearly $1 trillion in 1981

presume to tell people how to handle their money

Stated differently, the rest of the economy as a whole, made up of local and state governments and private enterprises, is relatively weaker. Federal goverment is the growth industry. It's budget has jumped from $188.4 billion in 1971 to more than $600 billion in 1981.

The only way the federal government can continue to spend more than it receives in revenues is to dilute the value of existing dollars; that is, to transfer money to itself from others via inflation.

The process has been going on for years, and recently it accelerated, which suggests that the big problem has been not so much with the private sector. which is slated to pay a bitter price, but government.

PRESIDENT CARTER'S SO-CALLED BUDGET message Friday floated over my head like a lead balloon.

If you're an average taxpayer and consumer, you have good reason to wonder if you heard a budget message. What we heard were proposals to balance the budget by socking the taxpayers AGAIN!

The President warned the fight against inflation would be "painful." but he didn't spell out who was going to be hurt. Nowhere did we find cutbacks on the bureaucrats who seem to have control of government. # Legal-Aid Funding Resolution Passes

SAN ANGELO - West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association last week passed a resolution asking Congress to discontinue funding for Legal Services Corporation, a non-profit agency which provides free attorneys to persons who financially qualify.

The statement approved by the association is a combination of proposed resolutions submitted by Deaf Smith and Tom Green county commissions. Deaf Smith County Judge Glen Nelson attended the association's annual convention and submitted a resolution passed last week by county commissioners. Legal Services Corporation (LSC) allocates tax money to operate entities such as the Hereford office of Texas Rural Deaf Smith County commissioners and other public officials in Hereford have become incensed over class-action lawsuits filed by TRLA on behalf of migrant farmworkers who claim their civil rights have been violated.

A pending TRLA lawsuit was filed agianst Sheriff Travis McPherson, three local Texas Department of Public Safety troopers and Amarillo Border Patrol Agent Tom Smiley in an effort to stop the purported practice of arresting citizens believed to be illegal aliens.

Neither the Deaf Smith County nor Tom Green resolution was passed in its entirety.

The portion of the Deaf Smith County resolution approved by the association states that TRLA has a statewide operating budget of $2.7 million and that services rendered by TRLA are "far outweighed by the expenditure of tax monies." The Deaf Smith County portion of the Association's resolution also states that the "philosophy and practice of utilizing the services of non-profit corporations funded by the Legal Services Corporation to sue and seek money damages from other tax-supported governmental bodies, whether state or local, is patently offensive and a blunt failure to reaffirm

Britannica Sales May Be Limited

WASHINGTON (AP) . The government soon may start enforcing m order that lawyers for Encyclopedia Britannica say could cut the company's door-to-door sales in half.

The Supreme Court, in an 8-1 vote Monday, left intact a Federal Trade Commission order requiring Britannica's sales agents making home visits to first hand out what amounts to warning cards.

The three-by-five cards must state: 'The purpose of this representative's call is to solicit the sale of encyclopedias."

In addition, the company must tell consumers in its ads and promotional announcements that requests for more information may lead to a home visit by a sales agent.

The FTC order. Britannica told the high court, "will actively discourage the customer from listening to Britannica presentations.'

The 1976 order, upheld by a federal oppeals court last Aug. 2, came after the FTC found that many sales agents gained entrance into a home by claiming to be taking a survey.

U.S. Worried About

Iraq Nuclear Power

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration is worried that Iraq, a militant Arab state, may be the latest country moving toward development of nuclear weapons in the volatile Middle East.

State Department officials said Italy's sale of sensitive nuclear technology to Iraq could escalate nuclear proliferation dangers in that tense region.

Officials who asked not to be identified said Israel already is considered capable of producing nuclear weapons on short notice, and Islamic states including Libya and Pakistan are believed actively pursuing nuclear capabilities.

They said Iraq probably won't be able to explode a nuclear device for several years, but one official noted, "The Iraqis have said they want to be with the frontrunners in this area."

The State Department has objected to Italy's nuclear cooperation with the Iraquis.

Nuclear fuel is not usable in nuclear weapons, but once it has been used in a nuclear reactor, its chemical composition changes and a small amount of plutonium is present. If the plutonium can be separated, it can be readily made into a nuclear explosive.

Lwant to be among the first to congratulate our sheriff on taking a stand for us. It's about time we take a stand and say we've had enough and he is doing just that for us, the taxpayers. So, come on and let's hear it for Travis and the department.

I. for one, as a taxpayer and citizen of this county and country, am sick and tired of, paying through the nose to these people that are able-bodied, yet they set back and take from us, then kick us in the teeth and laugh while they are doing it. I don't begrudge anyone, of any race or creed, a job or an education, but I say let them get it the same way we all got ours--by the seat and worry of an honest job.

If anyone wants something bad enough they'll earn it. When they earn it, then they will prize it a lot higher and take of it. As long as we hand it to them, they are going to except it and laugh at us because they are getting the best of us and here we set

We've the rights the same as anyone, maybe more so because we are paying for it. ¿Let's exercise that right and support Travis and the department because it is for all of us and our kids that are following after us.

At Wits End By ERMA BOMBECK

I've always hated being short. There are a lot of reasons for

All the short guys who were supposed to feel secure aroun me and buzz my house every weekend didn't and never did. People feel a compulsion to hug you because you remind them of a stuffed animal they had as a child.

And every kitchen I've ever owned was built to accommodate Julia Childs (6-2).

It's a tall world and to reinforce my theory, there's a new book coming out next month called "The Height of Your Life," written by Ralph Keyes.

He writes that our height is our destiny and there is a strong and pervasive bias in our society in favor of tall people. It's true. The more successful you become, the taller people think you are.

The taller you are, the more money you make.

Tall women are even more fertile. (Two advantages out of three isn't bad.)

One of the things I never considered until I saw it in print was the relation between height and jobs. If you're short and female this will really frost you.

'Miss Americas "average" 5-7 and the contest is gradually swinging toward taller girls year after year, suggesting that the pageant management does not see a short girl as representative of America and its ideals. Models are traditionally moose-like. One agency said the ideal woman model measures 5-7 to 5-9. I should know. I buy all of her clothes and shorten them. Tall chorus girls occupy the center of the chorus line and get paid more for being there. The stubbies are put on the ends. One show in Vega advertises 5-8 and up!

So what are the job opportunities left for short women? According to Mr. Keyes: ballclub mascots. Short people are always needed to fit the chicken outfits.

Psychologists. Rock stars, radio and TV reporters, and military heroes. (No wonder they want us for the draft.)

Theatrical agents are usually short, and saints are notoriously built close to the ground. And we all know how many openings there are for saints.

They could add "writer" to the list. Most of us are small in stature, or maybe we just don't bother to stand up. Oh, well, if we write tall...maybe no one will notice.

To Offer Seminar

(Final of a two - part series) COLLEGE STATION - Do efficiency - boosting devices really make a difference in a fireplace?

One energy expert who put accessories to the test concluded that they indeed can boost efficiency into the 20-30 percent range -- a that matches inexpensive wood stoves, Dr. Jane Berry says.

And, the more costly fandriven accessories can push efficiency ever higher, the housing and home furnishings specialist adds.

Devices which draw combustion air through the floor or ashpit to the fire -and prevent heated room air from being drawn up the flue -- tend to produce the highest efficiency boost for the lowest cost, she says.

Dr. Berry is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Efficiency boosters are designed to overcome one or more of the shortcomings that reduce fireplace efficiency.

Generally, there are four types of accessories: RADIATION ENHANCERS increase the amount of heat radiated into the room. These units rearrange the fire or fireplace structure to expose more hot coals for heating a room, since in traditional fireplaces the logs block coals. ALTERNATE - AIR SUPPLIERS bring combustion air into the fireplace from an outside source. Several companies make steel fixtures that fit over the

With this type device, outdoor air is brought directly to the fire, thus eliminating the greatest problem with fireplaces -- CONVECTORS help normal radiation by circulating air around the fire in hollow pipes and forcing it back into the room.

Unlike stoves that heat by both radiation and convection, fireplaces heat only by radiation, so convectors add this feature.

FIREPLACE STOVES are more complicated and expensive, but they can turn an inefficient fireplace into the equivalent of a high - efficiency wood stove.

Herd Golfers Finish 7th In Tourney

By MAURI MONTGOMERY Brand Sports Editor

The first two lumps the Hereford varsity golf team took here in their own tea party this past weekend were hard to swallow--in this instance the lumps were the first two holes of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Invitational Golf Tournament.

And as the Division I tea party concluded, it became evident that lump No. 1 and lump No. 2 were just a little too rich for the golf squad as it took a 7th place berth out of nine team field, in the Friday-Saturday affair (only after stroking a 30 over par tally on those first two holes).

'Those first two were definitely the key to our performance this weekend-not very good," said head coach Raymond Schroeder. "If we had managed to play those at par rather than 30 over it would have put us around 11 shots short of first place and the mere fact that we layed those as bad as we did on our own course illustrates our inexperience. It was just a matter of nervousness I guess."

Herd Girls 2nd, Boys Third in Track

By MAURI MONTGOMERY Brand Sports Editor

If there were any two things that probably disenchanted head varsity track coaches Martha Emerson and Lester Kirkland the most about the respective outcome of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Invitational Meet here Friday and Saturday, it must have been the faint hint of a little gust here and there (25 mile hour winds) and the fact that their squad just didn't win the meet dag-nabbit!

The Whiteface girls harrier squad slipped past a viable Borger bulldog team with 90 points and trailed Canyon who mustered the winning spot of the meet with a tally of 1461/2 as they landed a second place finish out of a six team field with 100 points.

And the key to that second place rested with finishes in the long jump (the only field event the Herd placed in), 440 relay, 440 meter run, 220 meter dash, 880 relay and the mile run.

HHS jumper Theresa Schilling grasped the second longest leap of the day in the long jump competition as she bounded for 14-41/2 behind Deanna Henwood's winning jump of 14-61/4.

And sprinter Darlene Sanders compiled the biggest highlight of the day for the women's squad when she excelled with a first place in the 220 at a time of 25.7. The office at 807 W. Park in Hereford, Texas.

HHS Trackster also took a second in the 100. Teammate Deborah Rogers also grabbed a finish out of the 220 with a third quarter time of 26.7.

Other bright spots for the Whitefaces in the meet included a 51.2 finish in the 440 relay good for third place, HHS harrier Louise Mays' third in the 440 meter run with a time of 61.6 and Beatrice Moreno's second in the mile run as she clocked a 6:16.6.

"We did pretty good this weekend and are still capable of doing better, but until we get some of our injuries healed up we'll still be lacking in some areas," said girls coach Martha Emerson. "Lindy Walterscheid who is one of our top runners is still having foot problems and Beverly Nixon who really helped us out last year is still recuperating from the knee injury she got in basketball. So if we can get those people back in good shape for the mile and the 100 we're going to be doing all right." "I was really pleased with our performances in the 100,

220 and 440 because we had some people grab some places in those events that we didn't have placing before and hopefully we can come up with some more (place) when we get some more depth on our squad," she

In the boys case, the Herd rounded out the meet with a third place 70 following a brisk performance by the Plainview Bulldogs with 114 and second place finisher Canyon which stole 1071/2 points.

"Even though we finished third we were real tickled with the way our kids competed this weekend," said Kirkland. "Nearly everybody we had did as well or better than they did last year and that's what we're working and looking for because all the work we do now is in preparation for the buggy.

Trackster Felix Soliz scuttled over competitors in the 880 meter run and won the event with a time of 2:01.6 in what turned out to be the only first place finish for the Herd in the meet.

In the field event competition, John Warden ignored further throws chunked in the preliminaries by his counterparts and lobbed a 49-5 in the shot put for a third place finish and medal in the event.

Other highlights of the day for the track squad came in the form of a third in the 440 relay as the sprint squad finished with a 44.3 and Joe-Soliz placed third in the mile run with a time of 4:50.00.

"We're getting better as we go along which is the most you can ask of any team and when you have guys go out there and keep trying to improve you're bound to be a lot better in the long run because you don't know you can be beat," Kirkland said.

The Hereford Whiteface baseball team tackled all the spoils of victory Saturday as they whipped the Dumas Demons 9-0 in the final game of the Hereford Baseball Tournament.

9th-7th Grade Teams Win

By TOM CANAVAN Associated Press Writer

Denny Crum and Larry Brown feel they owe something to UCLA - but each may want to repay the debt differently.

Crum has twice taken his University of Louisville basketball team to the NCAA Final Four. And twice his Cardinals have had dreams of a national championship shattered by UCLA's Bruins.

Crum took his first Louisville team to the 1972 NCAA semifinals, but UCLA, led by Bill Walton, drubbed the Cardinals 96-77 on the way to the championship. And in 1975, it was UCLA again derailing Louisville with a 75-74 overtime decision in the semifinals.

In each of those games, Crum faced John Wooden, who coached Crum at UCLA in the 1950s and later made him a UCLA assistant.

But things are different this year. And Crum is hoping this third trip to the finals, in Indianapolis, may be the charm that carries second-ranked Louisville, 31-3, to its first-ever national title.

Louisville tangles with lowa, 23-8, in Saturday's semifinals, with the winner advancing to Monday's finals against the winner of Saturday's other semifinal matching Purdue (22-9) and UCLA (21-9).

Cowboy Officials Refuse Comment on Hegman

DALLAS (AP) - Dallas Cowboys officials have refused to speculate what action they might take against linebacker Mike Hegman, indicted on a felony charge of forging more than $10,000 in checks.

"We had heard some time ago that Mike was having some trouble but that it had been taken care of," said Cowboy Coach Tom Landry, when informed of the criminal charges.

The indictment, returned by a Dallas County grand jury Monday, said Hegman forged his roommate's signature on 27 checks totaling $10,534 between September and December.

The checks belonged to Charles Mayhew of Mesquite, who was staying at his family's ranch near Austin last fall while Hegman remained at Mayhew's townhouse. Mayhew said that in

Olympic Boycott Study Resumes

December, Republic National Bank told him his account was overdrawn. He said he realized several personal checks were missing and confronted Hegman. He then filed forgery affidavits on all 27 checks with the bank.

The bank interviewed Hegman, then filed the complaint that led to the indictment.

"His roommate called us," Landry said Monday. 'We knew about it but thought things were all right. Obviously, they aren't."

The linebacker just finished his fourth year with the Cowboys, and earned a starting position after "Hollywood" Thomas Henderson left the team last

Landry, player personnel director Gil Brandt, and general manager Tex Schramm would not comment what the Cowboys might do if Hegman were convicted on the offense, which is punishable by two to 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine. Hegman was unavailable for comment. According to papers accompanying the indictment. Republic is liable to Mayhew for honoring the checks over the forged signature and arrangements have been made for repayment.

"Our customer (Mayhew) filed the information with us about the checks and we rembursed him and also: went to Hegman, trying to clear the matter up," said. Bill Gall, senior vice president of marketing and public affairs for Republic, National Bank. "Our security. people also were in touch with the Cowboys' Gil Brandt to inform him of the situation."

"I really don't have any comment on the matter at this time," Mayhew said. "It's in the hands of the district attorney."

Olympic Committee continued to express dismay over the conclave.

Officials from the United States, Britain, Australia, Sudan, Saudi Arabia, Kenya and the Netherlands, plus observers from Canada, Portugal, the Dominican Republic, Costa Rica and the Philippines stressed that no formal decision would be reached today, at the end of the two-day meeting.

"It is not for governments to take decisions" on sports matters, said Douglas Hurd, British minister of state.

But he said he believed that if the United States refused to send a team to the Moscow Olympics in response to the Soviet military presence in Afghanistan, other "major sporting countries" could follow suit and that "there is. likely to be a growing interest in the possibility of other high-level games....

"We know that some sporting organizations in certain countries are seriously concerned at what would happen if no Americans compete in Moscow, and they are beginning to think in terms of other plans. Our aim is to help them."

The U.S. Olympic Committee's House of Delegates will meet in Colorado Springs, Colo. next month to receive a recommendation on a course of action from its administrative committee which met last week and drafted a still-secret resolution on the matter. The USOC is expected to wait until just before the May 24th deadline for accepting or rejecting the IOC's formal invitation to participate in the 1980 Summer Games in the hope that Soviets troops may withdrawn from Afghanistan by then. President Carter has called for U.S. athletes to boycott the Games.

In Lausanne, home of the IOC, a spokesman for the organization said he could not understand why the meeting in Geneva was taking place since the various; national sports federations would not support a boycott without the consent of their international parent bodies that that those parent organizations were unlikely to change their stance to conduct the Games in Moscow, regardless of the American position.

In London, Britain's Parliament voted 315-147 to condemn "the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan" and backed the government's efforts to support the proposed American boycott. But Sir Dennis Fellows chairman of the British, Olympic Committee noted that the BOC decision won't be made until March 25% although it will take the Parliament vote into consideration.

Sweden's Olympie committee, meanwhile, said it would participate in the Moscow Games, And East Germany warned that any West German decision to boycott would endanger sports links between the two.

The Sports Festival actually began last weekend when we had over 600 junior high athletes in town for a track meet.

This past weekend, we had even more people in Hereford.

More than 1,000 tracksters along with 100 golfers and baseball players were here to perform. In addition to the athletes, we also had a number of coaches and fans here for the weekend representing 16 Texas and New Mexico towns. All aspects of the weekend were very successful. This success was due entirely to the hard work and dedication of the athletic department of the Hereford school system and the time volunteered by Chamber of Commerce members and I'm proud to be a resident in Deaf Smith County: I'm proud of what Deaf Smith County has to offer; I'm proud of the people who live here. Most important to me, however, I'm proud to be a citizen of a country where anyone can work as hard as he is able to accomplish his goals and desires.

It is so important to speak with optimism as we speak of our county, but even more important we must always speak the truth. Hereford is a good town, a town with future and Nationally, politicians tend One of the most frequent to be intimidated by the 13 criticisms of workfare is that million votes of the welfare it "costs more than it saves." Not in Tennessee, it doesn't.

One state at a time, however, welfare rolls are being pruned.

It's called "workfare." If you are able to work you work--or your welfare payments are cut off. And 21 states are thus creating more taxpayers. Tennessee decided last year to cull its welfare rolls

We've seen too many "welfare Cadillacs," too many people trading food stamps for booze and cigarettes, too many unmarried women having too many babies just so they can collect larger government checks. Dues-paying Americans, hard strapped to make mortgage payments at inflated interest rates, have seen so-called "poor families" occupy "government housing" for almost nothing down and negligible payments at cut-rate interest -- housing which many of them abused, wrecked and abandoned.

And there are thousands such in several cities. It's the federal programs for the poor which are the most mismanaged, misused and wasteful. But as 21 states demonstrate that workfare works, our federal government-albeit timidly--is beginning gradually to take steps in that direction. The U.S. Department of Agriculture tested the idea last year in five counties and two cities of requiring food stamp recipients to accept available jobs.

And with such successmost just dropped out of the food stamp program or found jobs on their own-that the USDA is expanding the program this year to an additional 14 counties.

Your congressman gets a lot of heat from the freeloaders and their organizations. This is a good year for him to answer to taxpayers the question: "Where do you stand on workfare?"

LONDON (AP) - There isn't a lot to giggle about in the film. "Kramer vs. Kramer," but its 8-year-old star got a laugh out of Queen Elizabeth II.

Justin Henry, who stars with adults Dustin Hoffman and Meryl Streep in the hit movie, met the Queen of England on Monday at a royal command performance of the Oscar-nominated story of a custody battle.

The Queen asked Henry if he thought the movie would make her cry.

"You might," the blond youngster replied. "It made my mom cry four times." The Oueen laughed. It could not been seen whether she shed a tear during the movie.

Henry attended the screening, which raised $128,860 for the Cinema and Telvision Benevolent Fund. despite a bout with tonsilitis.

Meanwhile, Hoffman who was recently divorced told reporters he intends to remarry, but would not say to everything I want," says Phyllis George Brown. "I wanted a pear-shaped diamond and I got that. I wanted to fall in love with a Southern gentleman, who was handsome and successful, and I have that.

"I wanted to live in a beautiful Southern mansion. and now I not only live in the governor's mansion but John and I just bought a big, white federal home of our own.

"And on top of everything," she says, "I'm pregnant."

The former Miss America and sportscaster described her life as wife of Kentucky Gov. John Y. Brown in an interview in the April issue of Ladies' Home Journal.

NEW YORK (AP) - Roger Mudd, passed over as the successor to CBS anchorman Walter Cronkite, is on the verge of signing a lucrative contract with rival network NBC, says the New York Daily News.

"It depends on what you mean by on the verge." the News today quoted the veteran newsman as saying.

"When all the wires have been pulled out of the wall it takes time to make a decision. I won't be making one for at least a couple of weeks."

The News said Mudd had had offers from several areas since CBS announced that Dan Rather would become anchorman when Cronkite leaves the post.

NEW YORK (AP) - Two days ago, angry Roosevelt Island residents shouted down actor Sylvester Stallone. Now, says a spokesman for the residents, a compromise has been reached that will mean $20,000 for the island's youth.

The dispute began when Martin Poll, who is producing Stallone's new movie, "Hawks," planned to film a major scene aboard the tramway that connects the island with Manhattan. The scene was to be shot when the tram was closed for repairs - but the parts didn't come and residents didn't like the idea of being Residents Association President Louis Carbonetti says under a new agreement residents can have the tram during rush hours and the producers get it during the day and on Saturday. Poll also agreed to donate $20,000 to the island's youth program.

New Zealand

New Zealand, composed of the large North Island and South Island and several smaller islands and groups, has an area of 103,736 square miles, about that of the state of Colorado. Abel Janszoon Tasman, a Dutch navigator, was the first known European visitor, in 1642. Capt. James Cook explored the coasts in 1769-70 and British sovereignty was proclaimed in 1840 with organized settlement beginning the same year.

Federal Paperwork

Because of government regulation, private companies have to fill out over 4,000 different forms each year, The Conference Board notes. The Federal Paperwork Commission estimates that it costs up to $32 billion a year to handle the federal paper load imposed on the private sector.

HEALTH Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. Vitamins and

blood pressure

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm wondering if vitamins have any effect on high blood pressure. Does constipation have anything to do with high blood pressure? I have them both. I'm 66 years old and have had bowel trouble or dry stools for some time. Could you give me some advice? As long as my bowels are active, I feel pretty good. Is there something I could eat or take for this prob-

DEAR READER - If left alone there's no real relationship between high blood pressure and constipation. However, there are a number of medicines used in the treatment of high blood pressure that can contribute to constipation or make it worse. These include the diuretics or water pills that are frequently used to help lower blood pressure. In these instances, the loss of water may cause the bowel to extract more water from the undigested food residue which ends up producing hard dry stools. If that's a particular problem, it's wise to discuss the and see if there's some way that your medicines can be adjusted to decrease the severity of the problem.

Otherwise, many people who have simple constipation are benefited by increasing the bulk in their diet, particular larly cereal fiber as found in bran, or they may want to use one of the bulk expanders such as Metamucil. Drinking lots of water also helps and developing a regular bowel habit will help. I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-1, Irritable or Spastic Colon and Constipation, to give you some more information on what you could do to train your bowel. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Also I'm sending you The Health Letter number 1-8, Blood Pressure. There are no vitamins that will correct elevated blood pressure but elimination of excess body fat will
