

Carter, Reagan Command Delegates in Texas

By GARTH JONES

Associated Press Writer

President Jimmy Carter and former California Gov. Ronald Reagan coasted into the week on wide leads from Texas' Democratic and Republican primaries, but the hot topic among political observers was the block of voters who pulled the "uncommitted" lever.

On Monday Texas Gov. Bill Clements endorsed Reagan for the GOP presidential nomination. He already has sworn he will do everything he can in Texas, or elsewhere, to defeat Carter.

U.S. Rep. John Anderson, who dropped out as a GOP presidential aspirant, was scheduled to start a petition drive in Texas to get on the November ballot as an independent candidate.

Carter easily overwhelmed Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass. — more than 2-to-1 — in the Democratic popularity contest Saturday.

There was no sign the aborted hostage rescue try affected Carter's predicted win over Kennedy.

On the other hand, there was ample evidence that Bush's last-minute campaign drive almost caught front-runner Reagan, who was not declared victor until early Sunday.

The latest unofficial results on the presidential preference primary:

With 99 percent of the Democratic vote counted, Carter had 766,704 or 56 percent; Kennedy 310,701 or 22 percent and uncommitted 256,240 or 19 percent. California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., who withdrew but still had his name on the ballot got a small vote.

With 99 percent of the Republican vote counted, Reagan had 263,017 or 51 percent; Bush 242,332 or 47 percent and 7,916 or 2 percent uncommitted.

Reagan's win in the GOP popularity poll indicated he would get 62 of Texas' 80 delegates to the national convention and Bush 18.

The large uncommitted vote among Democrats puzzled party officials. Some said it was caused by farmers protesting Carter's economic policies, others said some Democrats traditionally vote uncommitted, and others said it was a sign the voters did not like either candidate.

In the statewide races, State Rep. Buddy Temple, D-Diboll, upended Texas Railroad Commissioner John Poerner of Hondo, who after serving on the important oil and gas regulatory body for two years was seeking a six-year full term. Temple will meet former state Sen. Hank Grover, Houston Republican, in November. Grover was victor in a three-man GOP primary race.

Railroad Commissioner Jim Nugent, Kerrville, survived a strong campaign against him by former magazine editor Jim Hightower. Austin, an avowed

Sarpalius Rolls to Senate Nomination

McCathern 'Proud' Even in Defeat

Gerald McCathern, defeated in the Democratic primary race for state senator, Monday expressed appreciation "to our workers and supporters from the bottom of my heart for their confidence and faithfulness. I will always remember their kindness....I think we can be proud in saying we tried."

While the majority of the voters "did not agree that I could represent them," said McCathern. "I hope that they were not voicing disagreement with the issues I tried to bring to the people in a positive manner."

McCathern listed several of these issues which he thinks incumbent Bob Price and challenger Bill Sarpalius should consider, and which he hopes voters will want some answers.

"We must be realistic concerning our economic situation. Just to maintain our present educational program will require a considerable increase in funding, and I believe we have two choices—either increase the ad valorem tax or implement a state sales tax."

McCathern noted several issues connected with agriculture, pointing out that it is the state's largest industry. "Ag prices are dragging our nation toward another depression, a reality that our population must realize and face."

He claimed that large special interest groups have taken a stand against agriculture on several issues—one being a proposed 5-cent road tax exemption for gasohol. "The large state road-building lobby and the oil and gas lobby oppose this exemption."

McCathern said most grain-producing states had already passed this exemption. He added that some state had passed an interstate grain compact: The Texas House

City Increases Green, Cart Fees

It took three votes and some heated discussion for Hereford city commissioners to raise golf course green and cart-fee Monday night in regular session.

A 3-2 vote, with Mayor Bartley Dowell and Commissioner Ed Coplen dissenting, finally raised green fees from $3.50 to $4 on weekends. The present 18-hole, weekday rate was left at $3 and the commission instituted an after-6 p.m. rate of $2.

The present nine-hole rate of $1.50 was abolished by the close vote.

Commissioner Emory Brownlow abstained from voting the first two times because he said he favored a $5 green fee. The 2-2 deadlocks forced the third vote.

Golf-cart rates were raised from $8.50 to $10. The

Embassy Siege Over

LONDON (AP) — British commandos swung down ropes from the roof of the Iranian Embassy and in a paralyzing hail of explosives and gunfire killed three

Teeth Identify Man's Body

A decomposed body found April 27 seven miles east of Hereford has been identified as 31-year-old Wayne Poco, a transient from Cash, Okla. Justice of the Peace O.K. Neal officially identified the body today after Hereford dentist Richard Sheppard matched dental records from Lawton, Okla., Indian Hospital with the dead man's teeth.

Poco's death was ruled accidental by Neal after the body was recovered in weeds south of the railroad tracks on U.S. Highway 60. An autopsy showed that Poco had fallen from the train, causing his death.

Arab-Iranian terrorists captured two others and rescued 19 hostages to end a six-day siege.

"It's a victory, lads!" shouted a British hostage, BBC soundman Sim Harris, grinning and punching the air.

Home Secretary William Whitelaw said the daring assault Monday night, ordered after the terrorists murdered two Iranian hostages and threatened to kill another every half-hour, showed "we in Britain are not prepared to tolerate terrorism."

Whitelaw said he ordered the raid after the gunmen dumped the body of the embassy's press attache, Abbas Lavasani, 25, out the embassy's front door shortly after 7 p.m.

"It was clear that failure to take further action was going to cost lives," the home secretary told a news conference.

Six or eight commandos from the Special Air Services set off a deafening explosion from the roof of the five-story town house just off Hyde Park at 7:23 p.m. Apparently it was a "stun grenade" — used by the West Germans to capture a hijacked airliner in Somalia in 1977 — to immobilize the gunmen. The commandos lowered themselves on ropes to the second floor of the building, both front and back, threw more explosives in the windows and then stormed in with automatic weapons blazing. At least eight of the men were inside within 40 seconds.

Showers Fall In Local Area

By JIM STEIERT

Brand Farm Editor

Thundershowers rolled into the Deaf Smith County area from the west Monday afternoon depositing much-needed moisture on the dryland wheat country to the west of Hereford and unloading their heaviest rainfall totals to the northwest of Hereford.

Dark, heavy clouds moved over the city of Hereford before mid-afternoon Monday and the cloudburst had all the makings of a summer thunderstorm, complete with brilliant lightning displays and booming thunderclaps.

Intermittent showers continued into the evening and when the weather broke today a total of .18 inches of precipitation had been recorded for the city of Hereford by KPAN radio.

Calvin Mitts reported one of the heaviest rainfall totals in the local area from Monday's showers as .60 inches of moisture was recorded at Northwest Grain, located west of the Farmer's Corner area.

Pioneer Fertilizer at Milo Center reported .45 inches of rainfall and H.L. Hershey logged .20 inches of rainfall at his farm 13 miles northeast of Hereford.

Some substantial moisture reports were received from scattered areas of the dryland country in the county's far western sector.

The Reinauer Ranch reported in excess of one inch of rainfall, according to Mrs. Eldred Brown, who drives a bus route for the Walcott School in that area.

Another area of that ranch had a .70 inch rain report.

At the Eldred Brown farm 28 miles west of Hereford .30 inches of rain was recorded while a .50 inch rain was recorded in the vicinity of the J.F. Martin farm at Walcott.

Mrs. Clint Homfeld also reported .50 inches of rain at the Homfeld farm 47 miles northwest of Hereford.

Over an inch of rainfall was reported from the Rhea community in neighboring Parmer County, and Mrs. Brown reported that water was standing this morning near the Walcott community.

Rotary Club Sponsors Scott Show

Tommy Scott's "Old-Time Medicine Show," seen on Walter Cronkite's CBS Evening News, will be in Hereford for a 7:30 p.m. show today in the Hereford High School Auditorium.

The Hereford Rotary Club will sponsor the show as a fund-raising project.

Scott's is the last original medicine show. It will feature Clyde Moody of the Grand Ole Opry, "Gong the Gorilla," sharp shooting, juggling and other fun events.

A talent show for local residents will also be part of the show. Participants are asked to be at the auditorium by 6:30 p.m.

General-admission tickets will be sold at the door for $3 per person. Several local merchants are providing free coupons for the show.

Bradly, Coleman Win Places on Commission

Their hometown folks set the trend for State Senate candidates Bill Sarpalius and Gerald McCathern in Saturday's Democratic primary.

Sarpalius picked up 65 percent of the vote in Deaf Smith County and rolled to an easy victory over McCathern in most counties in the 31st Senatorial District.

The race between the two Hereford residents was generally expected to be much closer. Even Sarpalius, who picked up an unofficial 36,596 votes in the 26 counties of the 31st District to McCathern's 15,346, was surprised.

"I just wasn't sure we'd do that well. I was pleased with the support we got through the entire district. I was really pleased with Hereford. That surprised me, too—I felt good about Hereford but I didn't think we'd carry it as strong as we did," said Sarpalius, a field representative for Center Plains Industries in Amarillo and former assistant to Speaker of the House Bill Clayton.

Approximately 2,500 persons voted in the local Democratic primary, while about 350 Republicans voted. Totals were not official because some Democratic precincts failed to include totals on their election returns.

Totals and candidate votes will be determined when returns are canvassed.

An upset locally was Bill Bradley's victory over J.F. Martin in the race for county commissioner, Precinct 1. Bradley received 386 votes to Martin's 381 for the nomination. Martin, the incumbent, held the edge in voting box 7 (30-29), and in absentee ballots (39-25), but Bradley picked up 332 votes in box 1, compared to 312 for Martin.

In the Precinct 3 race, incumbent Bruce Coleman defeated Troy Moore, 556-445, carrying all three boxes.

But, the race of most local interest was that for the Democratic nomination to the Senate. Hereford was assured of a candidate against Price said he would have been more concerned about McCathern had the AAM leader won.

"I don't think I'll have any problem beating Bill. I thought McCathern would have been the tougher opponent, but the people in the Democratic party evidently felt differently. Maybe this tells us that when a candidate shows so much concern for primarily agriculture, people feel he is a one-issue candidate." Price told The Brand.

Running unopposed in statewide races were State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, who received 2,129 votes in Deaf Smith County, and U.S. Representative Kent Hance of 71 percent in Hutchinson (Borger).

Price said he, too, was surprised at the Democrat's strong showing.

"I really thought McCathern would win," Price said from his ranch in Pampa. "I thought he probably had a bigger following than Sarpalius through American Agriculture and I thought he had an age advantage because he was older."

Senate Acts Swiftly

On Registration

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter's draft registration plan is moving faster through the Senate than it did through the House, and that's troubling opponents of the plan.

The Senate Appropriations Committee was meeting today to vote on whether to spend $13.3 million to begin registering young men this summer. One week ago, the plan was approved by an Appropriations subcommittee.

By contrast, seven weeks elapsed in the House between subcommittee and full Appropriations Committee action on the proposal. The House approved the plan April 22.

With the proposal facing its last battleground in the Senate, Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., and others are planning to wage a filibuster against registration when the plan is brought to the floor for the final debate.

Hatfield's staff said the filibuster is "clearly the best shot" to stop Carter's program.

USDA Criticizes

Food Monopolies

WASHINGTON (AP) - The trend toward monopolies in the food industry means Americans are being overcharged at least $16 billion a year for what they eat, according to the Agriculture Department.

A USDA staff study to Congress Monday said "the number of competing firms in providing food within individual states provides more potential for exercising market power" and thus setting prices.

But Howard W. Hjort, the USDA's chief economist and the man who gave the study to the House Small Business subcommittee, had no immediate solution to the problem. He declined to endorse proposals for curbing monopolies.

USDA economists said some of the overcharge goes to company profits, but some of it results from advertising, a cost which is passed on to consumers.

Hjort told the subcommittee that in 1975, "at least $10 billion and possibly as much as $15 billion was lost by consumers due to monopoly in the U.S. Food manufacturing industries."

Bodies To Return To United States

The bodies of the eight American servicemen killed in the attempt to rescue the U.S. hostages in Iran were on their way home today.

Eight wooden coffins left Tehran aboard a Swissair jetliner for Switzerland. They were escorted by Archbishop Hilarion Capudji, who was to deliver them to the International Red Cross in Zurich.

Capudji, the Greek Catholic prelate who spent three years in an Israeli jail for running guns to Palestinian terrorists, said the bodies would be delivered to the families of the men in the United States. Radio Tehran reported,

The U.S. government refused to discuss the procedure to be followed, apparently fearing that if much was made of its part in the matter Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's anti-American government might cause further delays.

However, it was expected that the Red Cross would deliver the bodies to the U.S. government, and the Defense Department would return them to the families of the men after they were identified and prepared or burial in accordance with military regulations.

Yugoslavs Mourn

Dead Leader Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) - Endless lines of sorrowing Yugoslavs filed past the closed casket of President Josip Broz Tito today as Belgrade prepared for the state funeral Thursday.

The lines of mourners stretched for blocks in two directions outside the Parliament building where the light brown coffin containing the body of the father of the postwar Yugoslavia lay on a catafalque beneath the dome of the rotunda.

The doors were to remain open day and night until the funeral.

Tito died Sunday, three days short of his 88th birthday, in the Ljubljana Hospital, in northwest Yugoslavia, where he had been a patient for nearly four months. His special train brought the body to Belgrade Monday, and all along the route mourners stood beside the tracks to see it pass.

A crowd of 200,000 greeted the train in Belgrade, and tens of thousands of others attended ceremonies in Ljubljana, Zaireb and other towns along the route.

consumer advocate. Nugent meets Austin attorney H.J. "Doc" Blanchard, who had no GOP opposition.

The top upset in statewide circles was the defeat of the dean of the Texas Senate, Sen. Bill Moore, D-Bryan, by former Bryan City Attorney Kent Caperton, who has a GOP opponent in November.

Pre-primary public opinion polls indicate the November battle between Carter and Reagan will be bitter and close in Texas. Reagan carried Texas in the 1976 nomination fight against President Gerald Ford, then Carter defeated Ford in Texas by 129,000 votes.

In the congressional races: Veteran U.S. Rep. Jack Brooks, Beaumont, claimed victory early Sunday over W.L. "Bubba" Pate, Beaumont bus company manager, with a margin of only 50.01 percent in Dist. 9. But late returns still could force Brooks and Pate into a runoff.

Railroad Commission Democratic incumbents John Poerner and Jim Nugent carried Deaf Smith County. Poerner lost the statewide nomination to Buddy Temple, however.

President Carter whipped Ted Kennedy, 1,093,440, in local voting and won the statewide race for state delegates Saturday. In the Republican primary, Texas winner Ronald Reagan received 308 votes to George Bush's 34 in Deaf Smith County.

Price received 282 votes in the local Republican primary. Local winners in the Democratic primary included James Wallace, Sears McGee, Robert Campbell and C.L. Ray, associate justices.

Supreme Court: Marvin O. Teague, Mike McCormick and Tom Davis, judges, court of criminal appeals; James Whiteside, board of education; Charles Reynolds, Carlton B. Dodson, and Richard Countiss, associate justice, Court of Civil Appeals.

Unopposed local candidates included Sheriff Travis McPherson, 2,370 votes; and County Tax Assessor-Collector Nell Miller, 2,405.

Henry C. Grover carried the local Republican vote for the railroad commission against E.W. Kidd and John

In a hot race for the Texas Supreme Court, Judge Jim Wallace, Houston Court of Civil Appeals, and Judge John Phillips, Austin Court of Civil Appeals, square off in a runoff after pulling far away from San Antonio law professor Wayne Scott. The winner faces Republican Jim Brady, Austin, in November.

Associate Justice Sears McGee, the only successful incumbent, finished a close race with Rowlett attorney Lawrence Bergman. He has no Republican opponent.

Republican voters approved by more than 80 percent two referendum questions on their ballot. One asks the Legislature to approve statutory and constitutional changes that would allow citizens to initiate legislation by petition. The other asks the Legislature to approve wiretapping by state police in the fight against drugs. Both are pet projects of Gov. Bill Clements and will be presented to the 1981 Legislature.

Thomas Henderson, H.J. "Doc" Blanchard was proposed for an unexpired term on the commission.

County chairmen elected Saturday were Democrat Robert Strain and Republican Garth Thomas.

Republicans in Deaf Smith County favored both state referendums on the ballot, overwhelmingly saying yes to the wiretapping and initiative-and referendum issues, AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - A special budget provision that lowers state spending on the Texas Agricultural Extension Service when federal funds increase is valid, Attorney General Mark White said Monday.

White's opinion was requested by Chancellor James Bond of the Texas A&M University System.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Higher education authorities created by cities to lend money to college students must abide by the Texas Open Meetings Act, Attorney General Mark White held Monday.

"A higher education authority is supported by public funds acquired through the issuance of revenue bonds. Therefore, it is a governmental body subject to the Open Records Act," White's opinion said.

The opinion went to Rep. Wilhelmina Delco, D-Austin, chairman of the House Higher Education Committee.

White said members of higher education authorities are not required to file financial disclosure statements with the secretary of state since they are "instrumentalities of local government," not the state.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Gov. Bill Clements named Hector Gutierrez Jr., Fort Worth, on Monday to the Texas Industrial Commission for a six-year term.

He fills the unexpired term of L.T. Faircloth, Richardson, who resigned.

Clements also appointed Bobby Joe Looney, Mansfield, to the Fire Fighters Relief and Retirement Fund board of trustees.

Dr. Robert E. Hayes Sr., Marshall, president of Wiley College, was appointed to the Education Commission of the States. He replaces state Sen. Oscar Mauzey, D-Dallas.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Field testing on a new chemical for imported first ants began Monday in five East Texas counties, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown said.

Much of the land is Texas Department of Corrections property in Madison, Houston, Brazoria, Fort Bend and Jefferson counties. He said the new chemical is Amdro, developed by American Cynamid Co. He said the chemical is not cumulative and does not pose a problem to wildlife.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Texas lawyers have selected Wayne Fisher of Houston as president-elect of the State Bar. He will assume his duties at the Bar Convention in Dallas, June 10-13.

Fisher defeated Fred Werkenthin of Austin for the position. As president-elect, Fisher will succeed Franklin Jones Jr. as bar president in 1981-82.

Fisher, a native of Cameron, received his law degree from Baylor University in 1961 and since graduation has practiced in Houston. He is a partner in the firm of Fisher, Rich and Gallagher.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Chairman Chester Upham of the Texas Republican Party said Monday the GOP outdrew the Democrats in the state's five largest counties in Saturday's primary election.

Election returns, he said, showed a total GOP turnout of 324,801 from Dallas, Harris, Tarrant, Travis and Bexar counties, 80,840 more than the Democrats drew.

"Nearly two-thirds of the voters living in the state's populous areas expressed their preference for the Republican Party and found our candidates more deserving of their support," Upham said in a statement.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Neither professional corporations nor professional associations are prohibited from making campaign contributions, Attorney General Mark White held Monday.

White's opinion was requested by Criminal District Attorney Bill White of San Antonio.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - A special Texas Solar Energy Committee will get a look at out-of-state solar and wind energy facilities this week when it visits sites in New Mexico and Colorado.

"Texas has an abundance of sunshine and we ought to learn how to put it to its most effective use as we have our other natural resources," said Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace. "We have moved too slowly in using the resources of the sun and wind in Texas."

Wallace's solar committee will tour Sandia Laboratories in Albuquerque, N.M., Wednesday and the Solar Energy Research Institute at Golden, Colo., on Thursday.

Executive Director Milton Holloway of the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council has estimated solar radiation falling on Texas is equal to the energy yield of two billion barrels a day, while winds - although no rainfall totals were given from that location.

Rains probably came too late to save much of the dryland wheat crop in the far western portion of the county, although sufficient moisture may give scattered fields a chance to make a small amount of wheat.

Stored soil moisture could make for a good start for a summer sorghum or forage crop, however.

South of Hereford only .10 inches of rain was recorded at Easter Grain, while to the northeast of Hereford no rain was recorded at Farmer's Elevator, north of Dawn, but accumulations from farms surrounding that location were as high as .20 inches.

Scattered thundershowers were reported across North Central and West Texas and patchy fog was noted on the Texas Coast this morning.

City

nine-hole rate will be $5.

Professional Mike Horton was on hand to recommend the increase in cart-rental fees.

"The reason is that Hereford is presently on the low end of the scale as far as other area golf courses are concerned," said Horton, adding that interest rates on new carts have steadily increased recently.

Bro' low first said he favored doing away with the 50-cent revenue the city receives off each cart for nine holes ($1 and 18) and increasing green fees "rather than increase golf-cart fees by $1.50 a round."

Dowell said green fees should not be increased.

"I don't think anything should be changed other than a hike in golf-cart fees because we went over this in the budget when we approved it," the mayor said.

passed such a proposal, but it was defeated in the senate. "I hope Mr. Price and Mr. Sarpalius will not be overly influenced by contributions made by political action committees and from people associated with the state road contractors, the oil and gas industry, and the grain trade."

McCathern also claimed that people associated with the large natural gas companies have contributed money into the senatorial campaign. "Irrigation gas users have been seeking legislation that would place irrigation gas pricing under the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission."

"The large natural gas companies have successfully fought this legislation for several years," said McCathern. "I hope Mr. Price and Mr. Sarpalius will not be overly influenced by these contributions."

McCathern said other subjects concerning agriculture which should be addressed by the state legislature "are if they could be harnessed - would provide energy equal to another bill on barrels per day.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The Texas Railroad Commission has scheduled a June 10 hearing to hear an application to increase the most efficient rate of production for the Yates Field Unit in Pecos and Crockett counties by 25,000 barrels a day.

Marathon Oil Co. filed the application to raise the efficient rate of production to 150,000 barrels a day.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Wildcaters reported 33 gas and 20 oil finds in the last two weeks of April, the Texas Railroad Commission said Monday.

Exploration activity also resulted in 209 dry holes.

Thus far in 1980, the commission said, 247 oil discoveries have been reported, compared with 151 during the first four months of 1979.

Gas discoveries this year total 440, compared with 462 during the like period of a year ago.

New oil well completions total 3,866 this year, compared with 2,482 during the first four months of 1979. Gas well completions total 1,783, compared with 1,849 last year.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The Texas Railroad Commission has approved a gas rate increase for the Ramsey Unit of the state prison system that will cost the state an average of $3,000 a month.

The prison system accepted the new rates and waived a hearing on the increase proposed by Unit Gas Transmission Co. of Houston.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Rep. Bill Caraway, D-Houston, one of three candidates for 1981 House speaker, said Monday the primary elections would have only a mild effect on the speakership race.

He said the four representatives who were defeated were pledged to John Bryant or Gib Lewis - who is a candidate only if Speaker Bill Clayton does not run.

"In my opinion, House membership will be more independent next session, and that cannot help but aid my race for House speaker," said Caraway.

Koenig Receives Honors

LUBBOCK - Gregory P. Koenig of Hereford recently received five honors at the Annual Spring National ROTC Awards ceremony at Texas Tech University.

Koenig, a senior agricultural engineering major at Texas Tech, was named the recipient of the Texas Tech University Army ROTC Award, the Red Raider Orienteering Club Outstanding Orienteer Award, the Department of Army Superior Cadet Award, the George C. Marshall ROTC Award and the Texas Tech Professor of Military Science Award.

Koenig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Koenig of Hereford.

Police Investigate Beating

Hereford police were called to a resident Monday night to investigate a report concerning a man who had been beaten up by two or three individuals.

Investigating officers at 200 E. Gracey took the man to the hospital, where he was treated, then to Deaf Smith County Jail, where he was charged with intoxication.

Ann Landers

Bad Oral Hygiene

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 13-year-old with a very strange problem. It's my orthodontist. He has bad breath. I thought people in this line of work were supposed to be specialists in oral hygiene.

My appointments last nearly an hour. By the time I get out of his chair, I am ready to pass out.

Please print a solution to this problem. I am a faithful reader in Staten Island. Sign me -- Grosse.

DEAR GROSSED: Your orthodontist does not realize he has the problem, or he would do something about it. You could do him a big favor by letting him know.

Very few 13-year-olds (or adults, for that matter) have the nerve to say to a person, "You have bad breath." So I suggest that you clip this column out of the newspaper and mail it to him -- no signature, of course.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I loved your answer to the wife who did the cleaning, cooking, baking, marketing, laundry, mending and canning, took care of the yard, kept two cars washed and waxed, drove the kids to Sunday School, piano lessons, dental appointments, etc. Her husband wanted her to get a job because "everyone's wife is working but you." You said, "Mr. Money-Hungry is in a semi-conscious state. Tell him to put a rubber band around his head and snap out of it."

I am a 25-year-old woman with a full-time job, two pre-schoolers, a house, a car, a yard, etc. My husband is also in a "semi-conscious state." I have to remember to buy gifts for all his relatives' birthdays, anniversaries and again at Christmas. If I forget to mail his union dues, I get yelled at.

I am not asking for advice. Ann -- it's too late for that. Just tell me where I can get a giant-sized rubber band for the lummo's extra-large, egotistical head. Would one be available at a grocery store, liquor store, gas station, drugstore, department store, hardware store or post office? I'm there every week. -- Your Average American Wife

DEAR AVERAGE: A rubber band won't do for that clown. Try an old inner tube from a Mack truck.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What can I do about the deluge of mail-order catalogs that keep coming to my home? In the last few months I have sent out 30 letters requesting that my name be removed from their list. Eight of these requests have been ignored.

Is there a postal regulation against a mailer sending unwanted material -- or an effective consumer action to halt the flagrant waste of paper and postage?

I deplore this ridiculous extravagance, not to mention the added load for the mail carrier and the intrusion on my privacy. There must be millions of others who share this problem. Please print a solution for all of us. -- Swamped At The Doorstep

DEAR SWAMPED: There is no postal regulation against sending unwanted material. If you would like your name removed from the catalog list, write to: Direct Mail Marketing Association, 6 East 43rd St., New York, N.Y. 10017. Request a mail preference application. Fill it out and return it. The association will warn the offenders to stop sending material to individuals who ask to be dropped from their lists.

CONFIDENTIAL to Where Shall I Run To?: Don't run. Face it. Winston Churchill said, "If you meet trouble promptly and without flinching you reduce the problem by half." I second the motion.

"Sexual freedom" presents a difficult decision for teenagers and their parents. Ann Landers offers down-to-earth advice in her new booklet, "High School Sex and How to Deal With It -- A Guide for Teens and Their Parents." For each booklet, send 50 cents plus a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Wyche Discusses Anniversary Tea

Final plans for the 50th anniversary tea of Wyche Extension Homemakers Club on June 1 were discussed by members Thursday afternoon during a business meeting in the Community Center.

Mrs. Robert Trowbridge, president, called the meeting to order. The club secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting. It was announced that the club's next business session and program are scheduled May 15 in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Each member responded to roll call by listing "The last item I left out of my suitcase because it wouldn't fit." This introduced the program topic, "Packing for Travel," presented by Extension agent Louise Walker. She outlined three main ideas for successful packing: one should 1) take three days to plan, 2) choose proper luggage, and 3) work out a system of packing. Mrs. Walker was introduced by Mrs. Ira Ott.

The opening exercise was a brief reading by Mrs. G.W. Duncan.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Packard and Mrs. Harley Ward to Mmes. Edwin Axe, G.W. Duncan, Frank Duncan, Tom Draper, Leo Hellman, E.C. Hewitt, Wayne Jones, Homer Logan, Ott, Bob Thuet, Trowbridge and Harold Wheeler.

THE MAN THEY COULDN'T ARREST

The Jewish leaders were puzzled by this statement. "Where is he planning to go?" they asked. "Maybe he is thinking of leaving the country and going as a missionary among the Jews in other lands, or maybe even to the Gentiles!"

What does he mean about our looking for him and not being able to find him, and, "You won't be able to come where I am?"

On the last day, the climax of the holidays, Jesus shouted to the crowds, "If anyone is thirsty, let him come to Me and drink."

For the Scriptures declare that rivers of living water shall flow from the inmost being of anyone who believes in Me."

(He was speaking of the Holy Spirit, who would be given to everyone believing in Him; but the Spirit had not yet been given, because Jesus had not yet returned to His glory in heaven.)

When the crowds heard Him say this, some of them declared, "This man surely is the prophet who will come just before the Messiah."

Others said, "He is the Messiah." Still others, "But he can't be! Will the Messiah come from Galilee? For the Scriptures clearly state that the Messiah will be born of the royal line of David, in Bethlehem, the village where David was born."

So the crowd was divided about Him. And some wanted Him arrested, but no one touched Him.

The Temple police who had been sent to arrest Him returned to the chief priests and Pharisees. "Why didn't you bring him in?" they demanded.

"He says such wonderful things!" they mumbled. "We've never heard anything like it."

"So you also have been led astray?" the Pharisees mocked.

"Is there a single one of us Jewish rulers of Pharisees who believes he is the Messiah?"

These stupid crowds do, yes; but what do they know about it? A curse upon them anyway!"

Then Nicodemus spoke up. (Remember him? He was the Jewish leader who came secretly to interview Jesus.) "Is it legal to convict a man before he is even tried?" he asked.

They replied, "Are you a wretched Galilean too? Search the Scriptures and see for yourself -- no prophets will come from Galilee!"

American manufacturers are expected to step up their overseas expenditures on plant and equipment by at least 16.9 percent this year. But capital spending in the U.S. is forecast to rise by only about 8 percent.

At Wits End

By ERMA BOMBECK

It astounds me that one out of every two teenagers in this country finds his parents' lifestyle unappealing and has no intention of following in their footsteps.

Fifty-four percent of America's teenagers, according to a recent Gallup Poll, said their parents are boring. They don't go out and do things. They don't see people or go on vacations. They don't pursue another career or pick up and move. If they could make a change in their own lives they'd have more free time, fewer children, stay single longer and "be rich."

Parents! Aren't you sick you didn't think of those things first?

If you kids could indulge me a bit, I'd like to tell you a story. Once upon a time, there were two young people who were bored to death with their parents' lifestyle. Their parents stayed home-all the time, didn't see people, never seemed to have a lot of money, go on vacations, or show much imagination. The young people made a vow to be different. They were going to get a boat, but you came along. They were going to go to Kauai and surf, but your sister arrived. They were going to take up golf, but the price of a sitter was too high.

Next thing you know you were teenagers. Not ordinary teenagers, but teenagers with crooked teeth, virgin feet, and a baton-twirling wish.

You needed allowances, your own phone, 400 friendship cards at graduation and an herbal connection for your hair every three days.

Your parents thought of going out, but their clothes were already at a party -- and so was their car. The vacation went to the tennis camps and the entertaining took second place to the slumber party which hosted a third world. Their careers, wishes and dreams were listed way down on the priority list ... under college for the children, loans for cars and weddings.

The thought of showing some imagination and moving elsewhere was built around you ... finishing school, leaving friends and being able to adjust to a move. They settled for what their parents settled for.

As for riches ... you've got me there. They never made it to the big cruiser, the white shag carpet in the bathroom and surfing in Kauai.

But ... don't tell your parents. They had you and they think they're rich!

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Would you please print the following letter to Don Brush, Hereford chief of police?

Dear Chief Brush:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my personal thanks to you and the members of your department. My father was killed in a traffic accident in Hereford on April 29. On May 1, he was buried here in Hereford with a funeral escort supplied by numerous officers from your department.

Being a police officer from California, I can certainly appreciate the courtesy, professionalism and assistance which was exhibited by those officers involved. If these officers are indicative of the calibre of personnel within your department, you truly have a fine department.

I would like to express the gratitude of my entire family for making this occasion not only easier to accept, but more meaningful. You and your personnel are truly a credit to yourselves, your department and the law enforcement profession.

Sincerely,
Randy J. Sonnenberg,

Mrs. Billie Sonnenberg

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter in support of a few very talented very intelligent students at Hereford High School.

My family and I attended the All School Play put on by students at Hereford School. These students and their director, Mr. Claypool, did an excellent job of entertaining the audience. They worked very hard learning their lines, working on the set, which was by the way exceptionally well done, and putting on one heck of a play.

The thing is that all this talent and hard work was unheeded by so many. Their fellow students would not even take the time out of their so called busy Saturday night to give them the support they would have appreciated so much. They were to busy running up and down the streets and wasting gasoline instead of enriching their minds by attending the play.

I was very surprised at the very few people that attended the play. There were empty seats all over the auditorium. Yet you wouldn't find an empty bleacher if it had been a football game. Seems as though sports in our high school is more interesting than watching an excellent play. Yet these very students that performed and worked on the play will be at that football game to support their fellow students. They were not given that same consideration.

Believe me I have nothing against sports. I think it is good for every student; but there are other things in life besides a football game, a baseball game, a basketball game, etc... These students worked long hard hours getting ready for this play. It was one of the most enjoyable and funny plays I have seen in a long time. The few people that did attend were entertained and I don't think there was a single person that could say they didn't enjoy it.

I just want to say thank you to the students and to everyone else involved in the play that I for one am proud of each and everyone of you. The ones that stayed away were the losers, not I.

It would be so nice if all the students would support each other in their endeavors. No matter what you are involved in you all need the support and encouragement of your peers. It wouldn't take but a few short hours out of your busy schedule to show this support.

Thank you,
Charlene Sanders

Paul Harvey News The Other Minorities

What about the "other minorities?"

How about the Jewish Americans, Polish Americans, Chinese Americans? Unquestionably, these are minorities and each, frequently, is put upon.

Yet modern liberals demanding "social justice" and demanding "an end to discrimination" do themselves discriminate in which minorities they choose to rescue.

The Detroit News recently, editorially, listed examples of discrimination against the "non-poor."

I know it sounds strange. Such has been our preoccupation with the rights of the poor that we have not recognized any converse obligation.

Recent generations have been indoctrinated with the notion that anybody who is less gifted and less energetic has certain claims on the property of those who are more talented and more industrious.

That, indeed, is the rationale for the progressive income tax. Anybody who will work hard and profit and prosper is taxed disproportionately more in order that his money might be handed over to those who are less hard-working, less productive -- even non-productive.

It began with the premise which is at least partially Scriptural that the haves should share with the have-nots food, clothing and shelter.

But then the egalitarians were not satisfied just with helping the poor; they wanted to hurt the non-poor.

The Free Press editor cites in evidence cross-town school busing.

This authoritarian device, conceptually flawed, has proved to be a horrific experience; a terribly wasteful, dangerous, costly, hate-generating, education-destroying failure.

Yet it is perpetuated by the great levelers who enviously decree that if they can't have the good things of life they don't want anybody else to have them.

So we give money and goods and favored treatment to people who have not earned it -- while lowering the standard of living for those who have earned it.

Acknowledged, there are distressed persons who merit assistance because their predicament is not their fault.

But there are also have-less individuals who deserve less because they refuse to live orderly lives.

Britain's Prince Philip has described his country's similar situation like this: "We remained for so long preoccupied with humoring and rewarding the unsuccessful and the unfortunate, until now everybody in Britain is unsuccessful and unfortunate."

Even now -- as our President seeks to curtail federal extravagance in an attempt to knock some cents back into our dollar -- the neo-socialists proclaim him to be "an enemy of poor people."

"How dare he curtail handouts for minorities!" Which minorities?

World's End Rescheduled

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — Due to analytical difficulties, the end of the world has been rescheduled for Wednesday, according to a religious sect.

The world was supposed to have ended last Tuesday afternoon, according to Charles Gaines, the 50-year-old leader of a sect that is an offshoot of the Baha'i faith. Baha'i leaders disclaim any connection with the group.

The prediction of a holocaust for April 29 at 5:55 p.m. MDT was in error because sect members were not interpreting Biblical time references correctly, Gaines said.

"There's going to be an atomic explosion Wednesday, or the death of the person that is going to cause World War III," Jensen said in an interview.

Gaines and others scattered throughout the Rocky Mountain region have built and stocked fall-out shelters in anticipation of the beginning of vast changes forecast in the Bible's Book of Revelations.

In Missoula, Mont., Leland Jensen, who calls himself the group's national leader, confirmed Gaines' prediction. The nuclear holocaust will begin, Jensen said, sometime between 6 and 8 a.m. MDT Wednesday.

Sect members in places such as Cody and Sheridan, Wyo., who were ready for last week's events, also will be prepared for Wednesday, Jensen said.

Gaines said he moved to Durango from Albuquerque, N.M., two weeks ago to prepare a shelter with 12 followers in the Durango area.

Gaines said he wasn't worried about being ridiculed.

"They laughed at Noah," he said.

ERA Backers Boycott Tourism

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Tourism officials say it smacks of blackmail and opponents say it won't work, but backers of the Equal Rights Amendment are asking vacationers to stay away from Florida until the Legislature approves the ERA.

The National Organization for Women announced on Monday it would expand its Florida boycott from conventions to all tourism, and it delivered 4,000 cards from around the nation in support of the boycott to Gov. Bob Graham's office.

"When somebody pulls this kind of nonsense, it smacks of blackmail and I don't like it," said Warren Erickson, executive director of the Miami Beach Convention Bureau. He said Miami Beach has lost $15 million in tentatively booked convention business and millions in potential business from the previous stage of the boycott.

But the new tactic won't make much of a dent in the state's $16 billion tourism industry or in the Legislature, contends Senate President-designate W.D. Childers, a Pensacola Democrat.

"People who want to come to Florida to go to Disney World are going to come," he said.

"I think it will just go unnoticed as far as the Legislature is concerned. We are not going to vote based on tactics like that. The issue is not going to be decided on squeeze plays," Childers said.

In 1978, Missouri — also the victim of a convention boycott over the ERA — filed a suit against NOW, claiming the boycott was a restraint of trade specifically designed to bring harm to Missouri residents. In its arguments, the state said Kansas City and St. Louis had lost $19 million in convention business because of the boycott.

The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals found the boycott to be legal.

The ERA has been ratified by 35 state legislatures, but four have voted to rescind that approval. Congress must decide whether the reversals are valid, the Justice Department has said. A total of 38 states must ratify the amendment by June 30, 1982, for it to become part of the U.S. Constitution.

Warbler's Home Destroyed in Fire

MIO, Mich. (AP) — A raging brush fire swept through the only nesting area of the rare "Bird of Fire" and burned out of control today after scorching 30 square miles of forest land and forcing more than 1,000 people from their homes in Huron National Forest.

One firefighter died in the blaze, forest service officials said.

The fire was set intentionally Monday by the Forest Service to clear timber from the nesting area of the endangered bird, the Kirtland's Warbler, authorities said.

The songbirds, which numbered 422 at last count, thrive only in jack pine stands that grow when the heat from fire opens jack pine cones and releases seeds, forest service officials said. Fire also prepares the forest floor for their growth.

But winds gusting to 25 mph fanned the flames beyond the 200 acres officials planned to burn, spreading the fire from the nesting area near Mio, about 50 miles west of Lake Huron, toward the lake.

An unidentified Forest Service firefighter was killed, and another unidentified person was severely burned, authorities said.

The entire populations of South Branch, Jose Lake and Chain Lake were among the people who fled their homes. "The sky was full of smoke all day long," said Ed Mielcreek, who left his home in Chain Lake when the flames were four miles away.

He and some 200 others spent the night on the floor at Hale High School near South Branch.

As Forest Service firefighters from Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin battled to contain the blaze, two other fires raged in Michigan's northern Lower Peninsula. Some 1,500 acres burned in the Mackinaw State Forest, 50 miles south of the Straits of Mackinac. Another fire destroyed 500 acres of the Tittabawassee River State Forest, about 25 miles west of Saginaw Bay.

The causes of those fires were not known and damage estimates were not available.

The tiny yellow-and-blue Kirtland's Warblers have not arrived from their winter home in the Bermudas; they are due in late May or early June.

Final Slide

HHS pitcher and shortstop comes sliding into third base during the opener of a final district double header between the Whitefaces and the Lubbock High Westerners here Saturday. Suarez was called safe and went on to tie the score at 4-4

Following the third baseman's miscue on the slide. The Whitefaces lost the ball game 13-8 however, and followed the defeat with another 4-2 loss in the nightcap to complete a winless second-half district ledger. [Photo by Mauri Montgomery]

Whitefaces End Baseball Season With Doubleheader Losses to Lubbock

By MAURI MONTGOMERY
Brand Sports Editor

The Hereford varsity baseball team rounded out its second-half district play slate with a perfect 1000 record, but it was perfect only on the other end of the scale as the diamond crew lost its final double header sweep 13-8 and 4-2 to the Lubbock High Westerners here Saturday, and compiled a winless 0-4 mark in the last half of district play.

Yet, even that final loss—as disappointing as it may have been—couldn't put a damper on head coach David Ashby's feeling at the conclusion of the year.

"We got hurt this year by the inexperience bug and there wasn't really anything anybody could do about it—it just had to run its course and the course didn't end up so bad," Ashby related. "We went 13-17 overall this year and posted a 3-13 record in district play which wasn't that bad considering we were a young team."

"It (this year's results) was a vast improvement over years in the past—last season we turned in a 0-16 mark for district play so I think we are improving and will continue to do so next year."

The Whitefaces looked like they might finish out the '80 campaign with a victory under their belts in the opener of the twinbill as the squad pulled out to an 8-6 lead after three innings of play, but one very crucial thing happened after that third inning.

Namely, the Herd's inability to score any more runs, plus the fact that three HHS hurlers were unable to stop the Lubbock hitters.

And the combination of the two riddled the Whitefaces for no more runs over the last three innings for a very sound defeat.

The first three trips across the plate for the Herd came after Jeff Hazelrigg clinched a single to left field bringing home Don Delozier who had singled earlier, John Dudd-ing who had walked, and Matt Collier's base loading single.

The Whitefaces then capped one more run in the fourth after Ken Cosper chipped a single to bring home Suarez. Suarez had walked, stole second and went in for the fourth HHS score following Lubbock's forced errors at third base.

That run marked a tie ball game for the two clubs at 4-4, and the Herd still managed to bring in four more in the fifth following two singles provided by Ken Cosper and Hazelrigg, before the team's guns silenced.

And it was upon that silence that Lubbock unleashed its final and most deadly onslaught of the clash—to the tune of seven more runs in the seventh, along with two earlier runs in the fifth to eventually squeak past the Herd for the win.

"In that first game we always got behind and gradually worked our way up into an 8-6 lead, but our pitchers just couldn't get the ball across the plate and we couldn't ever shut their scoring game down," Ashby said.

"We went through three pitchers because of that and we never really got our momentum in the opener going as a result," he said. "But that will get better with more time and more experience."

"Our pitching staff will be quite improved next year because they will have all gotten the experience they lacked this year," Ashby said. "They had a lot of trouble this season when we got in a clutch situation, and being young and impressionable, they weren't really able to handle the pressure that you see in nearly every game."

"We had a pretty good season overall—we would have liked to have won a few more district games, but like I said earlier—we improved over years past and thus far the program seems to be on the upward swing," he added. "I hope it stays there."

Ashby attributed a great amount of the squad's success this year to the seniors—a group he has tabbed as the "Magnificent Seven."

"The seniors really helped us out in play and leadership this year," Ashby said. "Edward Dominguez did an excellent job in the centerfield. Randy Ellis helped us turn quite a few of our 20 some-odd double plays. John Dudding helped our stick game. Ronald Plummer, Jeff Hazelrigg, Dickey Torres—they all helped us out and we just hope the returning seven lettermen can take up where they left off."

Sugar Ray, Duran To Sign

MONTREAL (AP) — World Boxing Council welterweight champion Sugar Ray Leonard and top contender Roberto Duran of Panama are expected to officially sign contracts Friday for their June 20 Olympic Stadium bout, the Olympic Installations Board confirmed Monday.

"Everything has been resolved and finalized," board promotions director Jean-Yves Perron said.

"I guess everything regarding the taxes was all right with them (Leonard and attorney Mike Trainer)," said Perron. "That was the only condition of the formal contract we signed last Wednesday."

The green light for the fight was delayed until Canadian tax laws could be sorted out and it was determined how much of the $3.5 million the board has offered Leonard, a 1976 Olympic gold medalist, will be able to take home after taxes.

Perron refused to reveal the amount of money Leonard and Duran will receive.

The fight, expected to attract a sellout crowd of 75,000, will be the first world championship fight here since Archie Moore battled Montrealer Yvon Durelle for the lightweight title more than 20 years ago.

Perron said Sugar Ray Leonard Inc. will handle expenses including transportation, training camp facilities, promotion, the undercard and purse demands of the two fighters.

Leonard and Duran, along with their trainers and the championship's co-promoters, Don King and Eob Arum, are expected to be on hand Friday to launch the promotion.

YOU AUTO KNOW

Q. I got my first car about a year ago — an older model. It always used a lot of gas, but recently it has been ridiculous. I have overhauled the carburetor and checked for fuel leaks. This helped some, but not much. What else should I look for?

A. The automatic choke could be the thief. Clean linkage and butterfly valve pivots with choke or carburetor cleaner and be sure of proper adjustment. Run the engine long enough for a warm-up and remove the carburetor air filter. If the choke plate is wide open, the choke system needs repair. On non-electric stovetop chokes, replace the thermostatic spring and check the heat tube for damage. Be sure to free up the choke piston. On nonelectric well type chokes, the entire control must be replaced.

HHS Coach Opts For Insurance Decker Resigns

By MAURI MONTGOMERY
Brand Sports Editor

Hereford High school's head varsity basketball coach Bobby Decker made a decision Tuesday morning, and for better or worse that decision ended a 12 year coaching career and left the Hereford Whiteface basketball team without a man at the helm.

Decker, after serving a three year stint as head mentor for the Herd, announced that he would resign at the end of the school year in order to pursue a job opportunity in Friona as an insurance salesman for Farm Bureau Insurance.

"This was an awful hard decision to come by and one that I'm scared to death about, but I've been considering another line of work for about two years and I felt this opportunity was to good of one to let pass," Decker said. "I just felt like I was young enough to be able to handle the transition I'd have to make in a new career and really thought that I had to give this a shot for myself."

But other than a good opportunity, Decker said that his decision came about because his attitude and perspective toward basketball in general had changed.

"The coaching just got to be where it simply wasn't as much fun as it used to be," related Decker. "I had lost a lot of my drive and enthusiasm and I didn't want to jeopardize the team next year with the change in values because they are going to be a very capable team."

"It was one of the biggest dilemmas I've ever faced in my life; but anytime you lose your perspective as a coach you're more or less beating your head against a wall and that's about the stage I was at," he said. "It may be a decision that I'll regret in the future, but if it doesn't work out then I feel like I can always go back to coaching, and therefore I thought this would be the right time to consider other avenues."

Decker's career change-over comes at the end of what many considered a successful Hereford campaign after he led the Whitefaces to a 13-16 overall ledger in last season's play and made bids for the district reign in both the first and second half district lineups.

"It (leaving Hereford and the HHS athletic system) was another tough part of my decision," the coach added. "All of the people I've had the opportunity to work with (the staff) was great because each shared responsibilities rather than dumping the whole load on one person. That was a big change from other schools I'd coached for. The staff all worked together as a cohesive unit and it was my pleasure to work here in this community with those individuals. But this wasn't a spur of the moment deal and I've just decided that this is the best thing for me to do at this point in my life."

Athletic Director and head football coach Don Cumpton said that no official successor to the head basketball job had been made, but he would make a recommendation to the school board for filling the spot the later part of this week, and by no later than the end of the school year.

"This thing caught us by surprise to say the least," said Cumpton. "It is going to be difficult to fill Bobby's position, but we've got several candidates in mind and should know by the end of school whether or not we've got the position filled."

Oakland Clips Indians 5-1

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Matt Keough scattered six singles and the Oakland A's got consecutive sixth-inning home runs from Dave Revering and Wayne Gross in beating the Cleveland Indians 5-1 Monday night.

Keough, the right-hander who was 2-17 last season, made his 1980 record 4-2 with his fifth complete game in six starts, striking out six. He lost his shutout on an unearned run in the ninth inning on two errors and an infield out.

The A's scored their first run in the third inning on a triple by Dave McKay and a single by Dwayne Murphy. Revering and Gross opened the sixth with their homers, the fourth of the year for each.

The A's wrapped up the scoring against John Denny, 1-3, with two runs in the seventh.

One of Cleveland's hits was a fourth-inning single by Mike Hargrove, giving him a 16-game hitting streak.

HEALTH Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. Meniere's syndrome

DEAR DR. LAMB - For the past three years I have had what my doctor called Meniere's disease. For the past six months I've had a constant loud roaring sound in my ears that impairs my hearing. During the three years I've had dizzy spells. I am presently taking medicines which include a diuretic and Antivert when I have dizziness. I'm also on a low-salt, no caffeine diet. My doctor says there's nothing to be done except surgery as a last resort which he doesn't recommend at this point. Do you have any information on Meniere's disease or any suggestions about my problem?

DEAR READER - You touched on two of the three classic components of Meniere's syndrome - the vertigo or dizzy spells that you've experienced and the noise in your ear called tinnitus.

The third feature is loss of hearing. Sometimes the loss of hearing is not apparent but can be detected with hearing tests. There are many other causes for dizziness or vertigo. There is a distinction between the two problems. Dizziness may be a sensation of fainting or near fainting whereas vertigo involves a false sense of motion. Either you feel that your environment is moving when it's not or you feel that your body is moving when it's not.

There are many different opinions about Meniere's syndrome and these various symptoms may cover several different defects. But it's fair to say that most ear specialists believe that a true Meniere's disease is caused by an increase in fluid in the tiny balance canals in the ear. That's probably why your doctor has you on a low-salt diet. There are basically four systems that relate to your sense of balance. Three of these are the receiving mechanisms; specifically the eyes for visual orientation, your various nerve sensations from the whole body which gives you a feeling of body position and the little balance canals in each ear.

Actually the balance canals in the ear provide information regarding head position rather than body position. To give you more information I'm sending you The Health Letter number 9-10, Dizziness and Vertigo. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Obviously, dizziness and vertigo can be related to a host of different diseases. The symptoms can be related to the brain tumor (which is rare). Or they can be from an inflammation of the little balance canals in the ears following a viral respiratory infection. Or the problem may be a complication of medicines a person is taking.

It's necessary to find out what the basic cause is before the proper treatment can be initiated. Obviously, the treatment of vertigo from brain tumor is a lot different from that associated with inflammation of the balance canals after a recent respiratory illness.

Carlton Flirts With No-Hitter; Expos Pound Houston, 10-1

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Steve Carlton almost became the first no-hit, no-speak pitcher in the history of major league baseball.

Then again, who knows, if Carlton hadn't lost his no-hit attempt Monday night against the Atlanta Braves he might have broken a four-year silence with the media.

Carlton held the Braves hitless through 7½ innings. He led 7-0 and the crowd of 26,165 was on its feet cheering every pitch. But Bill Nahorodny, a former member of the Phillies' organization, ripped a solid single to center with two out in the eighth to break the spell.

Before it was over, the Braves had three hits and one run — Dale Murphy's leadoff homer in the ninth — and Carlton had a 7-1 triumph, his fifth of the season against one loss.

Carlton has maintained a stony silence with the media for four years. Nobody can find out why because he won't talk. When one newsman tried to break down the wall during spring training, he was greeted with a stare and "a policy is a policy."

Forgetting his personality

quirk, Carlton pitched a masterful game in search of his first career no-hitter. He had never come closer than 6½ innings before, although he holds the modern National League record of six one-hitters, the last one on April 26.

His fast ball was crackling and his slider had the Braves baffled. When they looked for either of those pitches, he broke off a curve just to keep them off-balance. Carlton struck out 11, walked five and chipped in with a single and two RBI.

Elsewhere in the NL, the Montreal Expos clobbered Houston Astros 10-1. The St. Louis Cardinals downed the San Francisco Giants and the New York Mets edged the Cincinnati Reds 3-2 in 10 innings.

Expos 10, Astros 1
Ron LeFlore collected four hits and drove in three runs to pace a 16-hit Montreal attack as the Expos battered previously unbeaten J.R. Richard and three relievers in a game delayed nearly three hours by rain in the first inning.

Richard retired only one of the seven batters he faced as LeFlore and Rodney Scott led off Montreal's four-run first inning with singles and Rowland Office drove in a run with a double. After Gary Carter drew a one-out walk, Warren Cromartie ripped a two-run single. Ken Macha's single brought in another run before rain stopped the game for 2 hours and 53 minutes.

Cardinals 9, Giants 5
Ted Simmons' two-run double keyed a five-run rally in the second inning and the St. Louis catcher later singled home an insurance run. Ken Reitz singled and doubled, driving home two additional St. Louis runs, and Tom Herr doubled and tripled as the Cardinals, who trailed 4-0 before they came to bat, pounded out 13 hits, pinning the setback on Vida Blue. Jack Clark drove in two runs for the Giants with a single and homer.

Mets 3, Reds 2
Ron Hodges' pinch double drove home Alex Trevino from first base and gave the Mets a two-game winning streak for the first time this season. Loser Doug Bair, who replaced Cincinnati starter Tom Seaver in the ninth, allowed a leadoff single to Jose Cardenal in the 10th but he was forced at second on Trevino's attempted sacrifice. Hodges then sliced his game-winning double to left-center, scoring Trevino from first.

Madlock Handed Suspension For Run-In With Umpire

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The National League handed out its longest player suspension ever for a game incident when it punished Pittsburgh Pirates third baseman Bill Madlock for his run-in with an umpire.

On Monday, National League President Charles "Chub" Feeney suspended Madlock for 15 days, effective immediately, although the 29-year-old player likely will continue playing pending an appeal.

Others have been banned for longer periods, but the suspensions were either issued by clubs or for activities that originated off the field.

In arguing with home plate umpire Jerry Crawford over a third strike last Thursday, Madlock pushed his glove in the official's face. A league spokesman said the suspension was severe because it involved an umpire.

Feeney also fined Madlock $5,000, far less than he'll lose on his estimated $250,000 annual salary. With a daily paycheck of about $1,380, 15 days of unemployment could cost Madlock about $20,700.

"There is no way the man should do something like that to me," Madlock said after hearing of the punishment. "There was no intent to hurt him."

"He (Crawford) pointed his finger in my face, and I came back with my glove. I never denied having the glove in his face. It's not like I brought the glove back and just hit him," Madlock said.

Madlock feels penalties have been lighter for other players who had contact with officials.

"I guess I just would have been better off just taking a full run and ran over him because I've seen guys do that to umpires and they got $500 fines and three days suspension," said Madlock, who immediately appealed through the National League Baseball Players Association.

There's also a chance Feeney could reduce the suspension after hearing Madlock's appeal, perhaps June 5 or June 6 when the Pirates are playing the Mets.

Crawford, working the Braves-Phillies game in Philadelphia, had little to say when informed. "He admitted that he did it, that's all," Crawford said.

An eight-day suspension against former San Francisco Giants pitcher Juan Marichal had stood since 1965 as the longest player suspension for an on-the-field incident. Marichal, who clubbed Los Angeles Dodgers catcher John Roseboro over the head with his bat, was fined $1,750.

Several Chicago White Sox players were suspended for life in the early 1900s in the infamous Black Sox Scandal, but that originated an off-the-field gambling scheme in which the White Sox purposely lost the 1919 World Series.

Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers was suspended by baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for the last half of the 1970 season for gambling connections, and Brooklyn Dodgers Manager Leo Durocher was suspended for a year in 1948 for associating with gamblers.

In Madlock's case, Crawford called the player out on a swinging third strike to retired the Pirates with bases loaded against the Montreal Expos.

Wills Sparks Rangers' Win

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The Texas Rangers' front office was unhappy enough with Bump Wills, both at the plate and in the field, to shop around during the winter, looking for a trade.

Wills made them blink twice Monday night and be grateful they kept him.

The 27-year-old second baseman dazzled everybody in Texas' 11-3 rout of the Boston Red Sox. He hit a double and three singles, walked in his only other appearance, and scored three times.

In the field, he turned two double plays and teamed with shortstop Pepe Frias for the fielding gem of the night. Wills went behind second to stop Carl Yastrzemski's hard grounder in the seventh and flipped backhand to Frias, whose throw nipped Yaz at first and brought the crowd to its feet in a wild ovation.

Wills' all-around play complemented the steady mound performance of Gaylord Perry, 2-1, who gave up eight hits, struck out five and walked one, going the distance in his second win over Boston's Dennis Eckersley, 1-4, this season.

"I'm not trying to prove anything to the organization. If I'm trying to prove anything, it's to me. I thought I was the best second baseman in the league my rookie year and I want to show I can be again," the elated Wills said.

Buddy Bell also scored three times in a 3-for-5 night and had three RBIs, including a two-run homer in the first. Overall, Texas had 16 hits off Eckersley and two other pitchers, tying their season high.

Bell was full of praise for Wills and Perry.

"Wills is playing as well as any second baseman I've ever played with. And Gaylord has been unbelievable," said the Ranger third baseman. "He's pitching probably as well as ever. He's 41. I hope I'm around when he retires."

Boston manager Don Zimmer concurred.

"He's a smart pitcher. You swing at a bad pitch and he'll throw you three more the same place," Zimmer said.

Shue, Motta Depart Merry-Go-Round Spins For Coaches In NBA

By ALEX SACHARE AP Sports Writer

The coaches' merry-go-round has begun to spin around the National Basketball Association, with Gene Shue and Dick Motta — each with over 500 league victories to his credit — looking for new horses to ride.

Shue has parted company with the San Diego Clippers "by mutual agreement," according to last week's announcement. Motta hasn't been released, but he has been given permission by the Washington Bullets, the team he guided to the championship a scant two seasons ago, to seek employment elsewhere.

In the semiclosed fraternity that is pro basketball, it's not unusual for coaches to move from one club to another. In fact, while it may sound like something out of Catch 22, pro head coaching experience is generally considered one of the prime requisites for landing a pro head coaching job.

Half the coaches in the league have coached other pro teams. Tom Nissalke of Utah has worked in Dallas, San Antonio, Utah (a different team), Seattle and Houston; Cotton Fitzsimmons has worked in Phoenix, Atlanta and Buffalo, with a brief stopover in Golden State's front office.

What jobs are open? Right now, Detroit, San Antonio and San Diego are without coaches, as well as the new Dallas expansion franchise. If Motta fulfills his desire to go west, that would open the Washington job.

After much speculation, Houston, Cleveland and Denver decided not to go shopping for new coaches. Three teams which might make changes soon are New York, Indiana and Golden State.

The Knicks are committed to Red Holzman for next season, but he's the oldest coach in the league and they're also committed to finding a successor. Pacers owner Sam Nassi has said he plans to reevaluate the status of Bobby Leonard, who doubles as coach and general manager at Indiana. Al Attles also wears both hats at Golden State, and after 11 seasons of coaching may soon be ready to limit himself to the front office.

Where do Shue and Motta fit in? Motta's roots are out West, which is why he's been mentioned in connection with both Dallas and San Antonio. But he seems better suited to a team of veterans than an expansion club, and the undisciplined players on the San Antonio roster — as well as San Diego, for that matter — also don't fit. If Motta gets either of those jobs, look for some significant personnel changes.

As for Shue, he took over a hapless Bullet team in 1966 and built it into a league power. He did the same with Philadelphia after that. He'd be a natural for an expansion team like Dallas that is just starting out.

He's also used to dealing with supposedly hard-to-handle players, so San Antonio is a possibility. So is a return to the Bullets, where General Manager Bob Ferry said that if Motta moved on, Shue would be a top candidate to succeed him.

Gerulaitis Beats Sadri

NEW YORK (AP) — Third-seeded Vitas Gerulaitis had to battle through two tiebreakers to outlast John Sadri 4-6, 7-6, 7-6 in the opening round of $500,000 Tournament of Champions at Forest Hills.

Meanwhile, Eddie Dibbs downed Israel's Shlomo Glickstein 6-2, 6-2 and Balasz Toroczky of Hungary eliminated Eliot Teltscher 2-6, 7-6, 6-3.

In other matches, Vijay Amritraj of India whipped Heinz Gunthardt of Switzerland 3-6, 7-5, 7-5; Peter Fleming downed Howard Schoenfeld 6-1, 4-6, 6-2; Andrew Pattison of Rhodesia stopped Australia's Kim Warwick 6-0, 6-4, and Peter McNamara of Australia outlasted Bill Scanlon 5-7, 7-6, 6-3.

Expos Rattle Top Hurler

MONTREAL (AP) — Rain and Houston Astros right-hander James Rodney Richard, usually a pair of nasty opponents, couldn't stand in the way of Montreal Expos.

Richard, the top pitcher in baseball's National League for the month of April, for four first-inning runs and continued their barrage against three relievers after a two-hour, 53-minute rain delay to record a 10-1 victory Monday.

"We were fortunate the umpires let us continue the game," said Montreal Manager Dick Williams after watching his club collect 16 hits, which along with the 10 runs was its largest offensive production of the season.

Richard, who suffered his first defeat in five decisions, had a different opinion of the umpire's decision.

"I don't think the game should have continued at all," he said. "It was raining and drizzling, and the temperature was only about 43 degrees. I had trouble holding onto the ball. It felt really small and slick."

Richard retired just one of the seven batters he faced in the game and spent most of the first inning trying to get accustomed to the mound at Olympic Stadium.

"I never fully adjusted to the mound," he said. "The mound they have in the bullpen is entirely different than the mound on the field. The one on the field has a big drop."

"I don't have any excuses; though," Richard added. "It was just a bad day."

Expos' starter David Palmer, 1-0, had less difficulty coping with both the mound and the weather as he tossed a three-hitter until leaving things for Woodie Fryman, and later Dale Murray, with two outs in the seventh inning.

"I couldn't wait to get back out there after it started raining," said Palmer. "It's a big lift to come into the clubhouse four runs ahead when the first inning isn't even over, especially against J.R. Richard."
