City Backs Off On Golf Policy

Hereford city commissioners Monday night backed off their action of two weeks ago when they did away with the nine-hole green fee at the John Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

Eight golfers appeared at Monday's regular semi-monthly commission meeting to protest dropping the $1.50 nine-hole rate.

Commissioners had raised green fees from $3.50 to $4 on weekends, kept the present 18-hole weekdate fee of $3 and instituted an after-6 p.m. rate of $2.

Golfers wanting to play nine holes would have had to pay the 18-hole fees if commissioners had not unanimously voted to reinstate a nine-hole rate, raising it to $2, Monday. That does away with the after-6 p.m. rate.

Group spokesman Deward Roberson read a prepared statement to commissioners.

"My wife and I like to play nine holes of golf once or twice a week. We recently played on a Sunday afternoon at a cost of $8.73 for nine holes with a cart. You have not raised the fees 50 cents and did away with the nine-hole fee, thus forcing us to pay $14.25 just to play nine holes," Roberson said.

"Gentlemen, you have priced us and many others rights off the golf course."

Commissioners two weeks ago raised golf-cart rates from $8.50 to $10 ($5 for nine holes).

Roberson's statement included a history of the golf course. Roberson, who was the first president of the former Hereford Golf Club, said that some club members had tried to put a restriction in the deed which turned the course over to the city.

The restriction, according to Roberson, would have not allowed the city to turn the course into a "country-club type of operation."

The commission at that time rejected the restriction, Roberson said, "but we did have a gentlemen's agreement that this would not be done..."

"...They could not conceive of a future commission doing anything to the detriment of a larger number of Hereford golfers and for the benefit of a few more affluent individuals, but, gentlemen, that is exactly what you did at your last

Graduation Slated For 278 Seniors

The outstanding Hereford High School senior will be named in the feature presentation of tonight's graduation exercises in Whiteface Stadium.

Ceremonies for the 278 HHS seniors will begin at 8 p.m. Principal Ron Geyer will name the outstanding student, who has been selected by teachers, and will recognize Valedictorian Janelle Coupe, Salutatorian Lisa McCabe and other honor graduates.

Misses Coupe and McCabe will present their respective addresses to the senior class.

Superintendent Harrell Holder will present the class to those in attendance, and school board president Sallie Strain will hand out diplomas.

Seniors will present their class gift to the school—a Rocky Mountain pine tree and marble marker. The tree will be planted in front of the high school auditorium.

Seniors also will announce that $1,000 from the class has been donated to the local Muscular Dystrophy drive.

The invocation will be provided by Tim Ruland, president of the senior class, and high school bands and choirs will provide entertainment.

Seniors, upon graduation, will have their all-night party at the Bull Barn.

Miami Remains Tense

MIAMI (AP) — Sporadic gunfire kept Miami tense today after black leaders warned that violence could break out again on the devastated streets unless the federal government pays heed to the community's grievances.

The gunfire and several fires kept police and firefighters busy, but officials said Miami was generally quiet after three days of violence, the worst riot in the city's history. A beefed-up National Guard force helped impose a dusk-to-dawn curfew that was extended indefinitely.

"Gunfire, looting, all of that seems to have subsided substantially," Miami police spokesman Calvin Ross said during the night.

"There's occasional sniper fire going on, very occasional," Dade County Sheriff's spokesman Henry Weatherspoon reported. "It's almost to the point where it's time to go home."

Schools remained closed for the second straight day.

The death toll climbed to 16 when a black man was shot in a confrontation with police and National Guardsmen at a checkpoint in the area where rioting first broke out Saturday night.

At last count, 370 people had been injured and 787 arrested in the disorders triggered by the acquittal Saturday of four white former policemen in the beating death of a black insurance man, Arthur McDuffie.

Damage was estimated as high as $100 million, not (See VIOLENCE, Page 2)

Underdogs Continue To Fight

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

President Carter and Ronald Reagan took another step toward the top of their presidential tickets today, but you couldn't tell it by listening to their rivals.

Michigan held its Republican primary today, along with a meaningless Democratic vote in which neither Carter nor Sen. Edward Kennedy was entered.

Oregon voters apportioned nominating delegates in primaries in both parties. The state's election, a quadrennial centerpiece before the calendar became crowded with primaries, drew little campaign activity and no controversy.

GOP challenger George Bush pinned his dwindling hopes on Michigan, conceding a victory will be tougher in Oregon. Kennedy sought headway in the Northwestern state as a prelude to the final, big round of primaries June 3rd. Carter emerged from the White House Monday for a tour of his campaign headquarters where he told staffers, "I do not intend to lose," not at the convention and not in next fall's general election.

"I will be out campaigning between now and the end of the primary season," he said. "And then we will be preparing eagerly to meet Ronald Reagan or whomever the Republicans choose."

Kennedy dismissed Carter's statement as a "smokescreen" aimed at obscuring the senator's own efforts to raise economic issues. And Kennedy hardened his vow to maintain his uphill campaign.

Like clockwork, every Monday, Kennedy and Bush sing a familiar duet, voicing weekly declarations that they will continue their campaigns to overtake the virtually certain nominees.

Japan Waters Down Sanctions

By The Associated Press

Japan announced limited sanctions against Iran today, but continued negotiations with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's regime on oil imports and prepared to resume building the $3 billion Bandar Khomeini petrochemical plant.

The sanctions will follow the basic line set forth Sunday by the Common Market, which said all contracts signed after the 53 American were seized in Iran Nov. 4 will be suspended to speed the release of the hostages.

Japan exported $200 million to $300 million a month worth of steel, machinery, textiles and chemical goods to Iran before the overthrow of the shah 16 months ago.

Trade perked up again this year, with exports totaling $238 million in March, but dropped to $186 million in April. Japanese officials said practically no new contracts have been signed with Iran in the past month.

Iran, which at the beginning of the year contracted to sell Japan 530,000 barrels of oil a day, 11 percent of Japan's needs, stopped all shipments April 21 when Japanese importers refused to pay a $2.50-a-barrel increase.

Ranger Indicted For Attack

HOUSTON — A Former Texas Department of Public Safety trooper who now works as a Texas Ranger in Deaf Smith County has been released on a personal recognizance bond after a federal grand jury indicted him and two former Wallis policemen in connection with a beating incident.

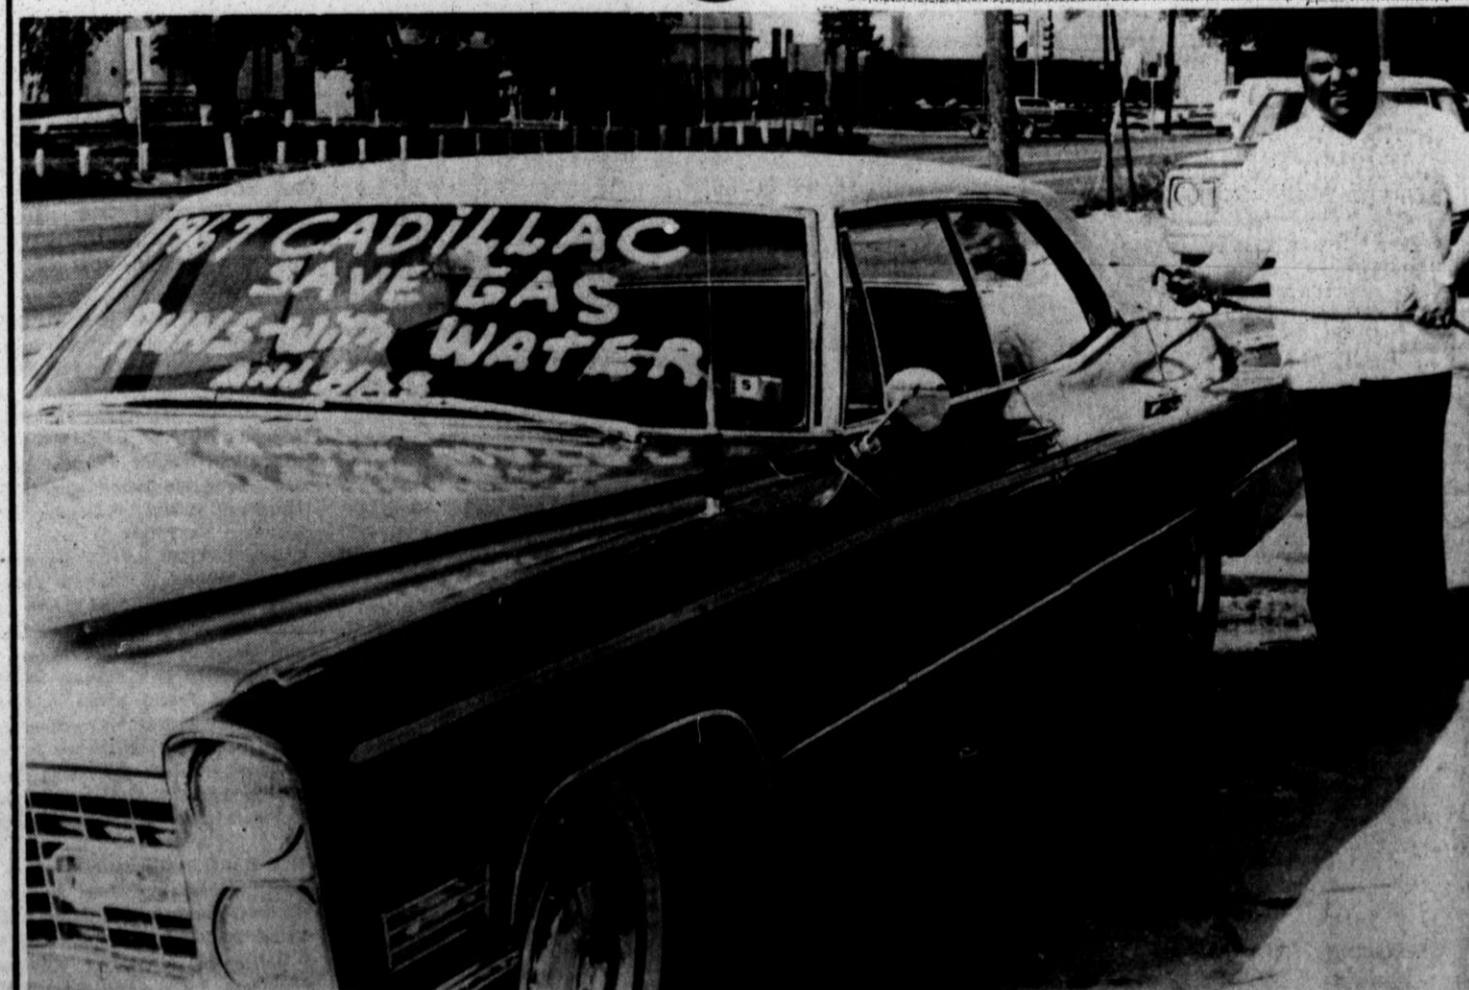

Charged on Monday were Kenneth Wayne Fricke, who is now a Texas Ranger stationed in Canyon, and former Wallis officers Terry J. Baldwin and Angel Alvarado Salcido.

The indictment alleges Baldwin and Salcido arrested Larry Michael Hintz on Feb. 25, 1979, and drove him to an isolated spot in Wallis near the San Bernard River in Austin County. Fricke allegedly then beat up Hintz, who had been arrested on charges of public intoxication.

Mary L. Sinderson, chief of the U.S. attorney's civil rights division, said Hintz was hospitalized with two jaw fractures and multiple cuts and bruises.

Fricke's ranger territory includes Deaf Smith County.

Gas-Saving Cadillac — a Real 'Steamer'

Cantu ... filling up Caddy with water.

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

The white letters on the windshield read:

SAVE GAS RUNS ON WATER $1395

"I just can't sell the car," said Victor Cantu, shaking his head dejectedly. "Nobody believes me. People think I'm nuts."

Cantu, owner of Cantu Auto Sales, offered to let the newspaper editor test drive the car. He offered because the editor thought he was nuts.

The car is a brown, 1967 Cadillac. Cantu showed the writer where the 18-gallon water tank was nestled deep inside the trunk and how to fill it.

Inside the Caddy was a tiny "faucet" under the steering wheel. Cantu showed the writer how to turn it in order to let the water flow from the trunk to the engine.

Under the hood toward the front of the engine was a metal box. Inside the box, which was half-filled with water, was a floater—the kind usually found under the top of a commode.

Trailing from the box toward the engine's manifold was a water line.

Cantu explained the gas-saving apparatus:

"See this water container here in the front. From there, water goes to the exhaust manifold when you turn on the faucet. It's heated in the manifold and turns to steam. The steam goes to the carburetor where it mixes with gasoline. The car uses half gas and half steam."

Cantu said the car, with the water turned off, gets about 12 miles to the gallon of gas. With the water on, it gets around 24, he said.

"I bought the car in Amarillo. The fellow that owned the car was from Dumas. He told me that this is a test car—the first car he designed to save gas. He told me the design had been sold to General Motors to put on 1981 or '82 models," Cantu said.

"I didn't believe it. I bought the car for two reasons—one, it had a trailer on the back that I needed and, two, I bought it for a play toy for me."

Cantu said he drove the car from Amarillo to Hereford at speeds of more than 70 miles an hour.

"I figured 22.7 gallons, and that was pulling the trailer," he said.

"It works. The thing really works. I'll sell the car and guarantee it gets at least 22 miles to the gallon."

The editor got behind the wheel, started the Caddy and turned on the water. The engine, roaring at first, grew quieter.

The Cadillac had an eighth of a tank of gasoline. It still had gas when the editor pulled into Amarillo.

At an Amarillo service station, the editor told the attendant, "Fill 'er up."

"Regular or unleaded, sir?" the attendant asked.

The answer caught the attendant off guard. "Water," the editor said.

Fuel Supplies Sufficient, Says USDA

WASHINGTON (AP) - Barring another unexpected disruption of foreign oil imports, farm fuel supplies should be sufficient for this year's harvest, agriculture Department officials say.

"The fuel supply situation for the time being looks good," says Weldon Barton, head of the USDA's Office of Energy.

"One cannot speak with absolute certainty about when we get into August and September and the heavy harvest," Barton said. "But unless we have an unanticipated reduction or cutoff in supply like Iran last year, we should be in relatively good shape."

The concern now, he said, is price. After Iran cutoff its oil imports to the United States in late 1978, fuel supplies dwindled nationwide, driving prices up sharply.

Bumper harvests coupled with the repeal of a federal regulation guaranteeing agriculture 100 percent of its fuel needs compounded the problem in the farm belt. As early as mid-May farm fuel suppliers warned of multi-million dollar crop losses unless significant amounts of fuel were diverted to their customers.

Potter Attorney Says Meeting Illegal

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) - Potter County Attorney John Tull says he has informed the city attorney's office that the Amarillo City Commission violated Texas law when it met last week behind closed doors to consider firemen's wages.

The commission "should not have done what it did," said Tull, who added that a public body can meet in executive session only to consider wages of a single employee, not of a class of workers.

His comments Monday came in response to a protest of a reporter for the Amarillo Globe-News to the meeting last Tuesday.

The commission's closed-doors session on firemen's pay came before its regular meeting, which was open.

Amarillo firefighters have been unhappy since the Amarillo City Commission recently voted to give police a 7.5 percent pay raise but decided to give all other employees, including firemen, a 5 percent hike.

Feds May Not Pass Redistricting Farm

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The House redistricting committee says it expects some of the legislative or congressional districts drawn by the 1981 Legislature will fail to gain U.S. Justice Department approval.

The committee asked the department in a letter Monday not to reject entire legislative and congressional redistricting bills just because a few districts are unsatisfactory. "In all probability you will have objections to...a few of the 207 districts that will be submitted," the committee said.

Redistricting bills cannot take effect until the Justice Department clears them under the federal Voting Rights Act.

The act was passed to assure that voting procedures--including the drawing of districts from which congressmen and state legislators are elected - do not discriminate against racial and ethnic minorities.

Economy Shows Very Little Growth

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's economy was weaker in the first three months this year than earlier estimated, growing at a mere 0.6 percent annual pace, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department's measure of the nation's inflation-adjusted output earlier had been reported as growth of 1.1 percent, on an annual basis.

The figure indicates that the economy is heading into recession from a weaker base than had been anticipated, suggesting that forecasts of a relatively deep downturn may be correct.

The first-quarter growth figures were down from the 2 percent growth in the final three months of 1979 and was the poorest showing since the nation's output fell in the second quarter last year, when truckers struck and gasoline was in short supply.

Pageant Winners Named

The Little Miss Hereford Pageant, sponsored by Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce was hosted Saturday night in the high school auditorium with Tom Simons, acting emcee.

Judging the four categories, Cutest Miss, Miss Petite, Little Princess and Miss Junior High were Debbie Needham of Amarillo, Judy Weatherford of Plainview and Lorry Still of Canyon.

Last year's title holders Mendy Rogers, Miss Junior High; Penny Laura Tubb, Little Princess; Mindy Rowton, Miss Petite and Stacy Culpepper, Cutest Miss, reigned and presented the new 1980-81 title holders with their trophies.

Winning the title of Cutest Miss was Heather Noel Hagar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hagar. First runner-up was Susan Reinart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Reinart and second runner-up was Apryl DeLynn Warden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mario A. Gamez.

Selected as Miss Petite was Jill West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe West. First runner-up was Amy Faulkner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Faulkner and second runner-up was Apryl DeLynn Warden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Warden.

Accepting the title of Little Princess Saturday night was Karyn McCuistian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McCuistian. Chosen as first runner-up was Kamille Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Martin and second runner-up was Laura Kerr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kerr.

Serving as Miss Junior High for 1980-81 will be Jennifer Jesko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jesko. Her first runner-up was Sandra Almanzan and second runner-up was Shelly Gentry.

The girls were escorted onto the stage by escorts Tim Martin, Blair Rogers, Brent Berry and Lance Canon.

During intermission, entertainment was provided by Craig McCuistian and Kim Sims on the piano.

Stage manager for the production was John Claypool. Providing the stage setting was Flowers West. Simmons Carpets and Bain's Signs.

commission meeting.

The golfer also told the commission that some method of policing the course was needed and suggested that a tag or permit be issued to golfers as they paid. The tag or permit would alleviate the problem of golfers paying for nine holes, then playing 18, the group said.

Joe Kerr told commissioners that they had not included annual memberships in the price increase. Commissioner Emory Brownlow said Kerr that the membership rate was in effect until March 31, 1981 and could not be increased until that date.

During the discussion, Brownlow said he was disappointed that the group did not show up for the meeting two weeks ago.

Commissioners, by a 3-1 vote, accepted a $4,404 bid from Witt Builders Supply of Amarillo to carpet the west side of the Hereford Community Center. Commissioner Ed Copley voted against the bid, although it was the lowest of six received by the city.

"I just hated to see us spending our money out of town like that, even if they had the low bid," Copley said following the meeting.

The commission voted to lease the recently-purchased Fraser Farms property west of Hereford to Alton Fraser, the former owner of the land.

Fraser had bid $11,111 for an annual lease.

The city purchased the land for future water expansion. The commission accepted a bid of 69 cents per acre for aerial spraying of mosquitoes. The bid, submitted by Southwest Aerial Services of Hart, was 12 cents higher than what the city paid a year ago.

Commissioners authorized City Manager Dudley Bayne to obtain proposals from bond companies to sell revenue bonds to be used for water and sewer expansion.

Commissioner Bud Eades voiced concern over what he called "confusing" streets in Hereford. Eades said that some house numbers on Ave. K and 25 Mile Ave. need changing because they do not correspond with numbers on the opposite side of the street.

The commission tabled any decision on the matter.

Violence

including lost revenues for businesses that have shut down. Virtually every store in Miami's main shopping section closed down Monday after false reports circulated that black protest marches were heading into the area.

Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti, sent here on President Carter's orders, promised "a fair shake and fair play" for blacks and whites alike in a Justice Department review of the case.

U.S. attorneys will begin presenting evidence to a federal grand jury, probably Wednesday, to see if the four policemen should be charged with violating McDuffie's civil rights.

Civiletti, who will brief Carter on the situation here, said, "I hope I can report that Miami needs more help from the Justice Department but that the violence has stopped. The president is terribly concerned about the situation in Miami."

"Let us pray together to resolve this matter," said the Rev. Jesse Jackson, who spoke to the injured at a local hospital. "Innocent people, black and white, are the victims. There must be universal concern."

Unemployment among blacks has been aggravated by the arrival of Cuban and Haitian refugees, he said. The black unemployment rate is estimated at 17 percent, compared with 8 percent for whites, including Hispanics.

Athalie Range, a local black leader, said, "There is a potential for more violence. Waiting for federal funds is not the answer. We must attempt to bring the major corporations together to rebuild the community."

"The thing you need to do," she said later at a rally of 500 blacks, "is get down to the Justice Building and register. The vote is the power in this town and the people know it."

Gov. Bob Graham ordered 2,500 more National Guardsmen into the city to reinforce the 1,100 troops already patrolling the city.

Ba4s were closed and liquor sales prohibited throughout the area, including nearby Miami Beach. Service station attendants in troubled areas were told to pump no gas except into vehicles. Firearms sales were curbed.

As the city cooled, the extent of the damages

became clearer. Entire blocks were burned out in the northwest Miami Liberty City neighborhood, where the violence first erupted.

Meanwhile, the governor ordered his chief counsel to work with a seven-member citizens advisory panel to investigate the handling of the McDuffie case.

In another development, an officer who was originally charged in the case and admitted choking McDuffie - but was never tried - was told he could have his job back.

Former Dade County officer William Hanlon was notified that terms of immunity granted by prosecutors entitled him to be rehired. It wasn't known if Hanlon wanted his job back.

Volcano

30 feet of muck. Meanwhile, a wall of mud flushed down the Toulte River, taking with it a $100,000 home built by Jim and Nancy Althof. An old teakettle was the only thing left behind.

"I've lost everything," said Mrs. Althof, who watched the devastation from high ground. "Cars and trucks went floating by like toys. Then it was like the house was crushed. It took maybe five minutes."

Concern about dwindling food supplies in some areas prompted authorities and grocery stores to launch a convoy from the western portion of the state, Gov. Dixy Lee Ray said.

Steaming mud from the mountainside flattened huge old fir trees and overturned some 25,000 acres of timber, officials reported. Dead animals were sighted on the mountainside and the flows heated the Toulte River north of the volcano to as much as 100 degrees. Witnesses said fish jumped onto banks to escape and fisheries biologists estimated millions of salmon were killed.

talking about?" the attendant fired back.

The editor got out of the car, picked up the hose and opened the lid on top of the rear of the car. He filled it with water as the attendant stood by, looking quite amazed.

The writer put in $2 worth of gas, paid the man and drove back to Hereford. The mileage-per-gallon was again a wonderment.

As he drove, he felt quite stupid and didn't know for certain why. Maybe it was because what had, at first, been a joke began to make sense.

Hereford police are seeking vandals who shot either BBs or pellets into the windows of 22 local businesses either Friday or early Saturday morning.

The businesses were located on Main St., 25 Mile Ave. and Park Ave. Police received reports Saturday, Sunday and Monday concerning the vandalism.

Officers have no suspects in connection with the incidents. Someone broke into Mobil Communications, 115 Funston, over the weekend, but nothing was reported stolen.

J.F. Messer and Co., E. Highway 60, notified police that someone removed 10 chains, four batteries and 15 metal clamps from a truck parked at the business.

Norbort Skypala, 406 Ave. J, reported that $400 worth of tools, a log chain, gas can and croquet set were stolen from a storage shed in his back yard sometime during the past week.

Allsup's, 400 block of N. 25 Mile Ave. reported that someone put gas in their car and drove off with the tank nozzle still in the tank. The nozzle was torn from the hose during the incident.

Police have a suspect in connection with the suspected vandalism.

Betty Teal, 216 Ave. C, reported that her purse was stolen while she was in church Sunday evening.

Boyd's Machinery, 1308 E. Park, complained that two windows in the building had been broken by rocks. Police arrested two juveniles for the incident.

Officers arrested two other juveniles for throwing rocks through windows in a storage shed at 119 S. Ave. K. Ernest Condarco of that address reported the incident.

A clerk at Seven-11, 385 and Park, reported that someone drove off without paying for $3 worth of gasoline Sunday.

Grace Gomez, 704 Stanton, told police that someone took a three-wheel bicycle from her house.

Shower Honors Miss Kim Hudson

A bridal shower tea honoring Kim Hudson, bride-elect of Craig Nieman, was held Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Charles Hoover, 321 Douglas.

Mrs. Hoover greeted guests at the door. Receiving guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Richard Hudson of Amarillo, and the prospective bridegroom's mother and grandmother, Mrs. O.G. Nieman and Mrs. A.D. Nieman of Lubbock.

Rhonda Hall invited guests to sign the registry book. Miss Hudson and others in the receiving line wore apricot and white corsages accented with wedding bells presented by the hostesses.

Mrs. Harlan VanderZee and Mrs. James Hull offered coffee, punch, finger sandwiches, and cookies from a table laid with a candlelight lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white mums and apricot colored ribbons designed around a silver candelabra. Silver punch bowl and cups, and silver coffee service along with spring floral napkins completed the table decorations using the bride's chosen colors of apricot and white. Guests were invited to sit in the living room and sun room and gifts were displayed in two bedrooms and the office of the Hoover home.

The prospective bridegroom resides in Littlefield where he is publisher of the Lamb County Leader News. The bride-elect recently completed her junior year at University of Texas at Arlington where she is majoring in elementary education.

The couple plans to be married June 7 at 7 p.m. in Memorial Park in Amarillo.

The honoree and the bridegroom's mother presented the hostesses with gifts. Hostesses were Mmes. Herschel Black, R.W. Eades, Lonnie Estes, Geneve Guseman, Dean Herring, Robert Hickman, James Hull, Rex Lee, Dennis Lomas, James Mercer, Calvin Mitts, Jim Perrin, Elmore Rains, Jeff Smart, Eugene Sparks, Wayne Thomas, Bill Walden, Harlan VanderZee and Charles Hoover.

Ann Landers

Sexually Molested Children

DEAR ANN LANDERS:

Last week my 32-year-old sister told me she had been sexually molested by our father from age six to 16. I was stunned, because for 20 years I had kept the same secret from everyone. I am now 30. We decided to talk to our three other sisters -- all in their 20s. It turned out that our father had sexually molested each and every one of us. We all thought we were being singled out for that humiliating, ugly experience and were too ashamed and frightened to tell anyone, so we all kept our mouths shut.

Father is now 53. To look at him you would think he was the All-American dad. Mom is 51. She would die if she had any idea of what he had been doing to his daughters all those years.

We are now struggling with another problem. Dad loves to take his young grandchildren for rides, to the park and the movies. Knowing what we do, dare we allow him to be alone with our kids? Please advise.

Worried In Minnesota
DEAR WORRIED: Knowing what you do, you'd have to be crazy to allow your father to be alone with his grandchildren. Make any excuse. If he becomes persistent, tell him -- head-on -- you remember what your own childhood was like and that you are going to see to it that the same doesn't happen to a second generation. You should also warn your children not to allow anyone to touch their private parts -- and if someone tries, they should tell you immediately.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I had to laugh when I read the letter from the couple who made a bet on who is supposed to go up and down the steps first -- the man or the woman.

You said the woman goes up first, but on the way down the man should lead, so he'll be there to break her fall if she stumbles. Well, I say since all these pushy broads are yelling their heads off about equal rights and discrimination against women, they should not expect any special treatment. Let 'em go upstairs first and down first -- and if they fall on their faces, that's what they get for insisting on being so damned equal. -- Bucky From Butte

DEAR BUTTE: You've got a point. But if you comb your hair right and wear a hat, maybe nobody will notice it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I know you aren't running an etiquette column, but you reach a lot of people. Will you please make it clear that if someone accepts an invitation and later discovers he can't go, it is only decent to let the people know?

Sometimes the host or hostess puts out money for tickets, or for a catered dinner. If they are told in time, they can cancel. Otherwise, they must pay for an empty seat or an empty plate.

I know this is not a matter of life and death, and it's been said before, but will you say it again? -- When Ann Talks, The Whole World Listens

DEAR PEOPLE: I don't want to be responsible for the good manners of the whole world, but here's your plea. I hope it soaks through a few thousand scalps.

CONFIDENTIAL to Sick of Him and Can't Unload: Tell him to bug off in no uncertain terms. Some women are flattered by a male's persistence and unwittingly encourage him to hang around by being less than emphatic. Could you be one of those?

Scouting the Panhandle Boy Scouts, Parents To Meet Wednesday

By DAVID CORTEZ
District Executive

May 21, Wednesday; there will be a meeting for all Boy Scouts AND THEIR PARENTS who are interested in attending the 1981 National Jamboree in Virginia. A filmstrip will be shown explaining all about the National Jamboree. We will discuss all the places of Historical significance that will be toured. (EX, National Monument, etc.) The meeting will start at 8:15 at the Hereford State Bank in the Friendship Room. Grey Pcyden the Scoutmaster for the Jamboree, David Bailey the Council Field Director, and David Cortez the District Executive will be in attendance to answer any questions you may have.

STP

Troop 151 will have their usual meeting at the First Christian Church at 7:00 p.m. Order of the Arrow elections will be part of the Business Meeting, with plans to attend Summer Camp at Camp Don Harrington. All scouts in Troop 151 should try and make this meeting, its very important.

STP

All Scouts and adult leaders in Hereford should try and be at the Hereford Scouts Grounds this Saturday, May 24 all day for a Clean-Up Campaign. Arrowmen especially should be there as this is one of our projects. Adults are asked to bring their pickups, tools (Chain saw, hand saw, hammer, nails, gloves, yo-yo). Everyone should bring their own sack lunch. I will have an ice chest for any drinks you may want to keep refrigerated. Scouts not bringing their lunch should make plans to have someone pick you up at 12:00 noon and return at 1:00 p.m. Parents you may pick your son up at any time during the day, but we are asking that everyone stay and work until 4-5 p.m. For any questions call me at 364-1965.

Baptist Women Met In Kinsey Parlor

Night Baptist Women of First Baptist Church met in Kinsey Parlor Thursday evening for their semi-monthly meeting.

President, Leatrus Clark officiated and welcomed new members and guests.

Costaline Lee, prayer chairman, gave the calendar of prayer and led the group in prayer for missionaries who were having birthdays.

Donnie Owen, Mission study chairman introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Howard Johnson. She challenged members to change their life styles as she took them through Ruth Fowler's Book, "The Woman I Am in a Hungry World."

Mrs. Fowler is a Southern Baptist and communications director of "Bread For The World," an interdenominational organization which deals solely with hunger and its policy and legislation.

Mrs. Johnson's remarks brought the members face to face with the hunger in the world and how they as Christian women can and should help to alleviate it.

Appropriating the power to love is the basic ingredient to success as Christians strive to reach out to a hungry world. Unless we operate through and in the power of God-our efforts to feed the starving millions will seem futile and the task hopeless.

In feeding the five thousand a small boy offered his lunch; Christ made it enough. We are asked to offer what we have in love and leave the miracle of making it enough to God's powerful love as it goes full circle from him to us and from us to others and back to him," stated Mrs. Johnson.

Refreshments were served by hostesses Della Stagner and Jennie Terrell.

Guests present were Mrs. Johnson and Mary Thomas.

New members recognized were Marchetta Hutcheson and Lillie Stagner.

Those members present included Leatrus Clark, Lee and Donnie Owen, Opal Elliston, Leta and Virginia Curtsinger, Lillian Lookingbill, Grace Covington, and Song Schulz.

Artwork on Display

Wynell Hutson will have several pieces of her artwork on display through the month of May at Deal Smith County Library. Mrs. Hutson, self-taught, has been painting for 28 years using oils and acrylics. The hobby is for personal benefits. Currently residing at 121

Ave. I, Mrs. Hutson is the mother of Chris Hutson also of Hereford. Seven paintings including landscapes, animals and fantasy scenes are on display throughout the library and are for sale. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Hutson. (Brand photo by Denise Smith)

Local Scout Troops Begin Blood Drive

A community blood drive effort involving local Scout Troops 150, 50, 52, 151, and 51 began Monday in the form of a competition between the troops. These scouts will be enlisting people in the Hereford area to donate blood to anyone's account who owes blood or for blood insurance for a family. Each troop will be asking people to donate blood for credit to its troop number.

These troops have assigned a person to be in charge of keeping records of the blood donors.

Anyone wishing to donate blood to the credit of a specific troop number, or just give blood, is encouraged to be present at the Community Center, between 3-6 p.m., May 28th.

Competition will end May 28th when the Blood Mobile makes its trip to Hereford. A good effort by everyone will help each of these troops as well as to reduce the debt of approximately 300 pints of blood that Hereford residents owe to the Coffee Memorial Blood Bank.

ally, expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress each November in Chicago for state winners, and four medals of honor per county.

Awards are arranged by the National 4-H Council and winners are chosen by the Extension Service.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

This blood drive is one phase of a community project planned by Terry Morris, member of Troop 51, with the aid of the local scout leaders to fulfill his requirements for the Eagle Scout Rank.

The second phase will begin after this competition and will encourage civic organizations to create and maintain blood accounts in the blood bank.

4-H Firsthand 4-H Activities Offer Home Canning Suggestion

By AGNES TAYLOR
Ass't County
Extension Agent

With fruit and vegetable supplies starting to increase, it's time to start thinking about preserving foods. Young people 9-19 can get in on the home canning boom by participating in 4-H projects and activities supervised by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and supported by Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation.

Economy is one of the big reasons for the growing popularity of preserving foods at home. With rising prices of fresh produce at the supermarket, home canners realize the biggest savings when they grow their own vegetables and fruits, or purchase them in season at reasonable cost from roadside markets or local farmers.

4-H's learn-by-doing to stretch the family food dollar by canning and freezing home grown and locally grown produce. At the same time, they learn basic scientific principles necessary for safe handling of foods before, during and after processing. And they increase their consumption of fruits and vegetables -- an important nutritional plus.

4-H members can check costs of home preserved foods by keeping accurate records of what they spend to preserve just one food item purchased at the grocery store. Other home canners can make the same cost comparisons. Remember that it is easier to compare cost by weight than by volume.

Kerr Glass has supported 4-H food preservation projects for more than half a century. The corporation honors 4-H members for achievement at all levels: six $1,000 scholarships nation-

At Wits End By ERMA BOMBECK

I have never underestimated the power of advertising. Promise people anything -- squeaky hair, sweet breath, clean laundry or relief from embarrassing itching -- and they'll trample you to death on your way to the store.

Even in the area of selecting a husband or a wife, advertising seems to be gaining in popularity. A bachelor in Georgia lettered a big sign that read, "WANTED, GOOD WIFE, NEW OR USED, NO COLLECT CALLS," and displayed it on Route 137. As far as I know, he's still interviewing.

Another ad, with a little more sophistication, was placed in a newspaper by a man in Wisconsin. He advertised for a woman no taller than 5-5, weighing no more than 115 pounds, a non-smoker, infrequent drinker, frugal, aggressive, studious, a late sleeper who preferred a house temperature of not more than 65 degrees. He preferred an agnostic and was willing to negotiate for not more than two children. His reasons were in the hundreds.

Some people feel this is demanding to an institution like marriage. I disagree. The benefits of advertising should be obvious. At least you know where you stand. Better to find out at the top that your husband plans to keep the thermostat at 65 and under than to go through life feeling like you're living in a House of Wax.

How many women would have gotten stuck with ring-around-the-finger had they known their men had terminal ring-around-the-collar? One-step cameras are fun ... but a one-step husband to a woman who likes to dance is something to deal with.

Let's stop kidding ourselves. We're grown up. We know what we want out of marriage and should give as much thought to it as we do when we're buying any major purchase like a car or an airline ticket.

My husband said he wished he'd have asked for a guarantee of parts, or at least more extensive insurance to cover me. During the first six months of our marriage, I had my tonsils out, extensive dental work, mumps, and my feet worked on.

Quite frankly, I would have examined the 50-50 clause a little closer. I didn't realize the bathroom and the children were always to be in my part of the house.

If we had both known what "Marry now ... pay later" meant... maybe we'd have read the ads and shopped a little.

YOU AUTO KNOW

By Con Henslee

Q. My first attempt at being my own mechanic may have gone awry. I replaced the master cylinder on my 1976 Chevrolet but the brakes still feel spongy and the pedal goes almost to the floorboard. Did I install the cylinder incorrectly?

A. Could be, but it is easy to find out. If your workmanship is at fault, it probably is nothing more than a brake-line leak. Tighten the brake-line fittings at wheels, master cylinder, and proportioning valve. Fill the master cylinder with approved brake fluid and bleed the system. Be sure your brakes are adjusted properly. You need no tools for this: simply back your car a few feet and apply the brakes. If the leak continues, you probably have a break in the line. Replacing the line should solve the problem.

Employers Honored By VOCT Students

Employers of VOCT students in Hereford High School were honor guests at the annual appreciation banquet of the Vocational Opportunities Class of Texas, Whiteface Chapter 569, last week at K-Bob's Restaurant. Certificates of appreciation were presented to the employers by Kenneth Helms, HHS vocational director, who thanked the businesses for training they have given the students, and for continued support of the program in the Hereford school system.

Businesses represented at the banquet were Hereford Country Club, Neil's Body Shop, Troy's Sweet Shop, TG&Y Family Center, Caviness Packing Co., Hereford Day Care Center, Bradford Trucking Co., George Warner Seed, Suit's Auto Supply, McDonald's, Weldon's Roofing and Texas Migrant Council.

Students who participated in contests at district and state level this year were given certificates of award by John Matthews, vocational counselor.

Buck Johnson, area consultant for District VI, was the guest speaker. His topic was the banquet theme, New Images of Tomorrow, and he emphasized that today's youth fit that title.

Dora Garcia, Hereford member who is the state VOCT president, gave some highlights of the 1979-80 school year in the organization, after the welcome by Bernie Dominguez and invocation by Frank Cox.

Miss Garcia spoke of chapter involvement, state activities, leadership meetings and district and state contests. Her presentation was made to inform employers of the students' activities outside the training station and classroom, aiming toward personal development. Banquet guests included HHS Principal and Mrs. Ron Geyer, Mrs. Kenneth Helms and Mrs. Buck Johnson.

The Whiteface Chapter is under the instruction of Jackie Cabbiness, CVAE coordinator for HHS.

More Cubans in U.S., Asset or Liability?

It's easy to understand the Cuban exodus from the Cuban point of view.

Castro can move his unemployment problem to the United States.

And for the refugees, reunion of fragmented families has to be a happy experience.

But what about the influx of these thousands from the American point of view?

At the height of the sealift from Cuba, anything that would float was being pushed out to sea from Florida ports -- from 20-foot fun boats to 50-foot shrimpers, and not all of them sea-worthy.

Captains for hire to make the 90-mile trip demanded $1,000 per refugee--and got it.

During one day some $2,000 boats dotted the waters between Key West and Cuba; some didn't make it.

Our Coast Guard, helpless to prevent the traffic, did its best to respond to the hundreds of distress calls.

The whole thing is illegal. The State Department repeatedly reminds those involved that they face deportation, fines and prison.

But nobody--but nobody--believes that President Carter will punish anybody when to do so would contradict his frequently proclaimed "human rights" obligation.

In our national climate of anything for the underdog, it may sound almost sacrilegious to question the wisdom of our open-arms policy.

But Americans are presently overtaxed for the support of 1.3 million non-workers and surely there are at least some "taxpayer rights" to be considered.

And further, as the recession worsens, the first victims of the most resentment will be the last ones ashore.

In previous recessions, we've witnessed a scapegoat backlash against minorities. Everybody has to blame somebody.

At this time that "somebody" almost certainly will be the uninvited outsiders.

The immigration tradition which once enriched our nation threatens now to impoverish it.

Whereas heretofore, we have limited the influx to the numbers we could absorb and employ, in recent years politicians have been so intimidated by ethnicity that they have dared not turn away anybody.

Rich as our nation was, the lifeboat analogy did not apply. It does not.

And the pronouncement by our authorities that they are helpless to prevent this potentially devastating illegal invasion in military parlance amounts to surrender.

Parks Named To Honor Roll At Institute

AMARILLO -- Terry Rex Parks of Summerfield was recently named to the President's Honor Roll at the Amarillo Campus of Texas State Technical Institute, according to Dr. James A. Bird, general manager of the Amarillo campus.

Membership to the President's Honor Roll is attained by maintaining a 4.0 grade average.

Parks, who is majoring in Diesel Mechanics Technology, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parks of Box 114 Summerfield. He is a graduate of Hereford High School.

Summer-quarter registration at TSTI-Amarillo is June 5. Information may be received from the admissions office at TSTI.

The Newspaper Bible

THE GOOD SHEPHERD KNOWS EVER! SHEEP

I am the Good Shepherd. The Good Shepherd lays down His life for the sheep.

A hired man will run when he sees a wolf coming and will leave the sheep, for they aren't his and he isn't their shepherd. And so the wolf leaps on them and scatters the flock.

The hired man runs because he is hired and has no real concern for the sheep.

I am the Good Shepherd and know My own sheep, and they know Me.

Just as My Father knows Me and I know the Father: and I lay down My life for the sheep.

I have other sheep, too, in another fold. I must bring them also, and they will heed My voice; and there will be one flock with one Shepherd.

The Father loves Me because I lay down My life that I may have it back again.

No one can kill Me without My consent -- I lay down My life voluntarily. For I have the right and power to lay it down when I want to and also the right and power to take it again. For the Father has given Me this right.

When He said these things, the Jewish leaders were again divided in their opinions about Him.

Some of them said, "He has a demon or else is 'crazy.' Why listen to a man like that?"

Others said, "This doesn't sound to us like a man possessed by a demon! Can a demon open the eyes of blind men?"

John 10:11-21

Sports Notes

By SPEEDY NIEMAN

With sports editor Mauri Montgomery on vacation this week, we will try to mention some of the sports events over the weekend.

Hereford's former ace cinderman James Mays scored his best time of the year in capturing the 800-meter dash at the Southwest Conference meet at Baylor Saturday night.

Mays clocked a 1:48.85 in winning the event and became the first Red Raider runner in 15 years to win a conference title. The Raider junior was just .05 a second from the NCAA qualifying time of 1:48.80.

THE SPRING DRILLS of the Whiteface football team have been drawing a number of spectators, and there should be a good turnout for the annual Maroon-White game Thursday evening.

Don Cumpston, the Herd's enthusiastic grid mentor, can't hide his excitement over the spring workouts. The Herd has the best size in many years, and there is keen competition for the varsity positions. The Whitefaces return a strong group of lettermen and have some excellent prospects from last season's strong junior varsity team.

At a scrimmage Friday afternoon, former Whiteface gridders Mike Wartes and Alan Cornelius were interested spectators. Wartes is head coach at Muleshoe, and Cornelius is one of his assistants.

It's too early to start making predictions, but the Herd should be a strong contender next season.

HEREFORD GOLFERS WERE in the news over the weekend and Monday.

Keith and Kelly Kitchens, former standout Hereford athletes, captured the Castro County Partnership tourney by posting a best-ball total of 135. Kelly scored a hole-in-one on the course's 150-yard No. 2 hole. Keith is now coaching at Shallowater and Kelly will be playing basketball at Wayland Baptist College next year.

The team of Bob Baker and Dana Rush captured second place in the Friona CC Partnership Sunday as they fired a 134 and finishing one shot back of the champions from Farwell. Stan Brock and Conrad Mullins won the third flight at Friona, while Rocky Lee, and Roland Hairgrove tied for second in the same flight. John Hagar and Steve Larkin tied for second in the fifth flight.

Hereford pro Mike Horton was six shots off the magic number in the United States Golf Association's National Qualifying tourney at Hillcrest Country Club in Lubbock Monday. The top four players advance to the regional qualifying tourney in Arlington June 3. Blaine McCallister of Fort Stockton took the spot with a 141, and three others qualified at 143. Horton shot a 149, and Hereford's Dana Rush and Tommy Weaver, carded 157 and 161, respectively.

ON ANOTHER GOLFING NOTE, the annual Red Raider Club Day in Hereford was eliminated this year. The meeting here and in another spot or two were combined with Amarillo's special day for Texas Tech coaches and university officials.

The golfing tourney and dinner will be conducted this afternoon at Amarillo Country Club, and a couple of Hereford foursomes will probably make the event. Hereford's Dave Hopper is a fixture for the event, as is Shorty Roark. As most folks know, Roark is an Aggie but he is also a strong Raider supporter every day of the college grid season but one—when the Aggies and Raiders meet!

More Than 40 Countries Set to Boycott Olympics

LONDON (AP)—As more than 40 countries prepare to boycott the Moscow Olympics, Lord Killanin prepares to step down as president of the International Olympic Committee.

Killanin says he has rejected suggestions that he stay on after his eight-year term ends this summer.

"I considered it," the 65-year-old Irishman said, "but after the events of the last few months I have decided it is the right time to hand over to a new president.

"Many important decisions have to be taken at the Olympic Congress at Baden-Baden next year," he added. "The new president should be in a position to plan for the congress and to think about the future."

The Olympic year of 1980 opened quietly, with preparations for the Winter Games at Lake Placid, N.Y. But before January was half over Killanin found himself facing the collapse of the Moscow Games. The Soviet military action in Afghanistan and President Carter's subsequent call for a boycott.

In developments Monday, indications from five European nations were that they would field teams in Moscow.

The Olympic Council of Ireland voted 19-1 to go against the advice of its government and send a team to Moscow. The lone dissenter was the Irish Boxing Federation, which said it would not go.

The Dutch National Olympic Committee also voted, by a 49-19 margin, to go against the wishes of its government and participate in the Moscow Games, rejecting pleas from the Dutch parliament and cabinet to support the boycott. Belgium's Olympic Committee reaffirmed its earlier decision to send a team to Moscow, and the Swedish and Austrian Olympic committees decided officially, as expected, to compete.

But the Italian cabinet voted to support the boycott.

Italian Premier Francesco Cossiga said, "We have decided that Italy should not take part in the Moscow Games with official symbols. We've dealt with the political aspect of the problem. The Italian Olympic is free to make a decision on its own, but it must take into account the government position."

Meanwhile, in an interview, Killanin said that as far as he is concerned, the 1984 Olympics will go on in Los Angeles as planned.

"I told President Carter this when I met him at the White House last week," Killanin said. "I explained to him that the Olympic Games in Moscow cannot be postponed, because we have an agreement in Moscow. If we keep to our agreement with Moscow, then we also keep to our agreement with Los Angeles."

Killanin, the quiet, diplomatic leader who has traveled around the world seeing statesmen on Olympic business since he took over as IOC president in 1972, admitted failure on his most recent effort at shuttle diplomacy.

At his own request, Killanin met with President Leonid Brezhnev at the Kremlin and President Carter at the White House. But he failed to break the deadlock over the American-led boycott of the Moscow Games.

Killanin said he warned Brezhnev that possibly only

HHS Rodeo Team Wins Trophy

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

The Hereford High School boys' rodeo team brought home yet another high point team trophy following competition over the weekend in the Canadian High School Rodeo.

The boys' team continued on a winning pace that should see them cop the overall team championship in Tri-State high school rodeo competition for this year.

Only one rodeo remains on the schedule with that event the Guymon, Oklahoma rodeo, to be held this weekend.

HHS riders garnered a total of 23 1/2 points for the boys' team trophy at Canadian.

Lee Washington paced local competitors at Canadian as he copped All-Around Cowboy honors and rode home with a trophy saddle for his efforts.

Washington placed first in steer wrestling with a time of 6.566, was third in ribbon roping with a time of 9.695, and was fourth as the header in team roping with a clocking of 13.268, for an overall total of 13 points.

Sid Howard placed first in calf roping as he was timed at 14.428, and was the heeler in a duo in team roping with Washington for a fourth place finish in a time of 13.268, giving Howard a total of nine points.

Robert Esqueda scored 53 in bull riding which tied him with two others for sixth place and netted 1/2 point.

Brett Cunningham placed sixth in team roping with a time of 16.770, giving him one point.

Tony Wilcox was awarded the boys' sportsmanship trophy at Canadian.

In girls' competition Tania Willson finished third in goat tying with a time of 11.413 and was fourth in breakaway roping with a time of 17.700, giving her an overall total of seven points.

Rita Ward placed fifth in pole bending at a clocking of 22.79, giving her two points.

Other rodeo team members riding at Canadian included Terry Lewis, Harold Murray, Mike Ferguson, Cathy Trölinger, Scott Wilcox, Steve McConnell, Mark Urbanczyk and Brent Self.

Top HHS rodeo team members will be honored at a rodeo banquet to be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at K-Bob's Steak House.

Baseball Faces Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball faces a potentially disastrous player strike at midnight Thursday over stalled contract negotiations, but the issues aren't the traditional ones usually found in a labor-management showdown.

Salaries and money are not at the heart of the current disagreement. The basic collective bargaining agreement over which the two sides are squabbling sets down the conditions of employment but does not deal with player salaries except for the minimum each major leaguer must be paid. In the agreement signed in July 1976, the minimum salary was set at $19,000 for that season and 1977 and moved to $21,000 for 1978 and 1979. That item, is the only one in the basic agreement dealing directly with money.

Individual player salaries are negotiated between players and their clubs and are not a strike issue. There are almost as many contract variations as there are major league performers. Some players are paid over the 178-day season. Others prefer a 12-month salary arrangement and some even take their entire salary in a single payment at the start of the year.

Also protected during the strike are the major league umpires, who will continue to be paid even though they are not working. That provision was included in the settlement of their seven-week strike last season.

Managers and coaches share in the pension benefits of the players association but are not members of the union. Ostensibly, they will continue drawing their salaries as will other front office personnel.

Negotiators are near agreement on most but not all of the matters dealt with in the basic agreement. Those issues, besides minimum salary, include player pensions, health and safety questions, salary arbitration language, the disciplinary system and other similar items.

The issue over which the two sides are deadlocked is compensation for free agents. That simply is a demand by the owners that they receive replacement players for free agents who sign with other teams. The players fear that agreeing to such a provision would put a significant dent in the free agent system and reduce player movement to trade arrangements. Specifically, they fear any limits on their free agency.

Federal mediator Kenneth Moffett will make one more effort to break the deadlock Wednesday when he summons the two sides back to the bargaining table, 34 hours before the strike deadline of midnight Thursday.

Only once before in the history of baseball has the game had a general strike. That was in 1972 when the start of the season was delayed 13 days and 86 games were canceled because of a walkout over pension and health plan improvements.

Nancy Embarrassed By Closing Round

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP)—Nancy Lopez-Melton is not in the habit of embarrassing herself on the golf course. But her astronomical 10-over-par 83 in the second round of last weekend's $125,000 LPGA Classic at the Upper Montclair Country Club was a humbling experience.

"I don't remember the last time I shot an 83, it must have been when I was 14 or 15," she said. "I can't explain it, I just played poorly. I kept telling myself I had to finish and do the best I can."

Two years ago, Nancy Lopez (the hyphen Melton didn't come until last year) defeated JoAnne Carner in a playoff in the New Jersey stop on the LPGA tour for what was to become the second in a record streak of five straight victories.

It was her victory in this tournament that first thrust her name into the spotlight. Now, two years later, Nancy Lopez-Melton's name is synonymous with women's golf. She is the LPGA's meal ticket.

So, it's ironic that in the same tournament that perhaps launched her career, Nancy suffered through the most embarrassing round and tournament of her career.

The twin spires of Churchill Downs, the trademark of the Kentucky Derby, were completed in 1895.

The Kentucky Derby is now held on the first Saturday in May but it has been run on every other day of the week except Sunday.
