Support For Denomination Work Urged

Universities, Mis- sions, Training School Cited

Appeals for support of various phases of the denominational work—the educational program, general pension board, Southwestern University, the Methodist Mission and Training school—were voiced before the Northwest Texas Methodist conference in session here Thursday morning.

Dr. H. W. McPherson, Nashville, Tenn., secretary of the division for educational institutions, struck the keynote for educational support, declaring that "there is no hope when we cannot educate our children in a Christian way, in a Christian atmosphere and with Christian motives." Education without this foundation is a menace, he asserted. Too, he said, education in the churches is vital, for "unless we serve the people where they are, we are not going very far."

Speaking for Southwestern University at Georgetown, Dr. J. W. Bergen, president, said the institution offered education that was "spiritual and Christian," and more "individual education." Because of the small size of the university, he continued, students were able to absorb experiences that added to their individual strength of character.

Texas Methodists are faced with a challenge in adequately caring for their students in state supported schools, declared Dr. Glen Flynn, director of the Methodist Student Movement. There are 16,000 young Methodists in Texas who have gone out from their home churches and 13,000 of these are in state supported schools, he reported.

Although it has been possible to double the force working with these students, Dr. Flynn declared "that we have hardly scratched the surface" in this movement. He particularly appealed for conference approval of the $5-plan whereby each local church will back each of its students going into an institution of higher learning with $5 to relieve local churches at institutional points of heavy financial burdens.

Only five cents per annum from every Methodist church in Texas will adequately finance the work of the Texas Mission Home and Training school, according to the Rev. John K. Beery, San Antonio. He urged conference support of this objective in order that the Southwest Texas conference can continue its work in rehabilitating young women and caring for their babies. This per member contribution, he said, would permit indebtedness to be lifted as well as the financing of the program. The home is the only kind in the state supported by Methodists.

Pleas for support of the program of the general pension board was voiced by Dr. C. E. Riley of the Central Texas conference. Today, he explained, 75 per cent of pastors' remuneration goes toward the work, yet there is a need for other support to adequately care for ministers who have given their lives in service, he declared.

Rev. Bishop Ivan Lee Holt said the New Mexico conference, regarded as a sort of mission area, had accomplished a singular piece of work in support of aged ministers and otherwise was "in a way setting the pace."

3 Charged In Hit-Run Death

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 13 (Spd)—Charges of hit and run driving were filed against three Mitchell county men late Wednesday in the death of 19-year-old C. B. (Cecil) Beasley, Jr., of Colorado City.

Young Beasley was almost instantly killed shortly after 6 o'clock Tuesday night when the bicycle on which he was riding was struck by an auto on U.S. highway 80 in east Colorado. The boy's companion, J. L. Whirley, said the car did not stop.

Officers arrested Hubert and Pete May Wednesday morning and Johnnie Haggerton Wednesday evening. The Mays live seven miles north of Lorraine, Haggerton in Lorraine. Pete May was driver of the car in which the three were riding Wednesday night, according to information given officers.

The three had made bond Thursday morning to appear before the 32nd district court grand jury which convenes Friday.

300 Taking Part In Methodist Session

With more than 300 ministerial and lay delegates actively participating, the Northwest Texas Methodist conference moved with dispatch Thursday morning through most of the routine business of the four busy days of the annual parley.

Committees were named at the opening session following communion services Wednesday evening when more than 700 partook of the sacrament with Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, assisted by the nine district superintendents, presiding.

Rev. Cal C. Wright, Vernon, superintendent in that district, was re-elected secretary of the conference, a post he has held for 15 years. Named assistant secretaries were the Rev. M. B. Norwood, Hereford, and the Rev. W. E. Hicks, Spearman. The Rev. Norwood also was selected as editor of the conference journal.

Among those presented during the Thursday morning session were Dr. H. L. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church in Lubbock, and Dr. E. G. Hamlett, although Dr. Hamlett was not present for formal presentation. District Superintendent E. B. Bowen, Sweetwater, presented Mother Mary Zinn, only living charter member of the First Methodist church, and told how she had taken her first airplane ride on her 85th birthday recently. Mrs. Zinn, as is her custom at all worship hours of the church, sat in her cane-bottom chair beneath the altar.

Those announced as having completed their first year course after admission on trial and who were advanced to the second year were: David W. Binkley, Adrian; Hugh Freeman Blaylock, Vigo Park; Charles E. Gates, Kellerville; Robert Lawrence Gilpin, Tye; Lloyd V. Hamilton, Sargent; Charles N. Starnes, Harrah church, Pampa; Sam Franklin Wier, assistant pastor First church, Pampa.

Advanced to the fourth year were Noel Bryant, Abilene; Howard E. Eickel, Ackerly; H. E. Coggin, Southland; John A. English, Big Spring; J. L. Mayhew, Hart; Ellis A. Todd, Wilson; Jordan Groom, assistant pastor, Polk Street church, Amarillo. J. L. Mayhew also had passed his fourth year work.

Ministers who are retiring included J. K. Zasteman, Whitesboro; C. W. Foye, Abilene; J. Z. Howell, Abilene; W. G. Anderson, Hawley; C. A. Duncan, Aasm; G. C. Coppage, Sunray, and B. L. Nance, Coddage, Ariz., who has been doing special evangelistic work.

Opening the conference Thursday, standing rules were adopted. Mayor Grover C. Dunham welcomed visitors to the city, asserting that his welcome was "from the heart out," and that he was happy that the conference had come to Big Spring because "of what you stand for." On behalf of the local ministerial alliance, the Rev. Homer W. Halalip, First Christian pastor, extended welcome, expressing the hope that the conference would recognize no obstacle as insurmountable in its work. Dr. G. H. Wood extended welcome on behalf of the church and as the chairman of the board of stewards.

At communion service Wednesday evening, when almost all available seats were taken, Bishop Holt passed on the mediation that bread and wine were employed by the Master rather than fruit and water because they represented the utilization of God's gifts by the hands of man.

On the program for Thursday afternoon were board committee and commission meetings, a conference at the First Christian church on visitation of the sick by Dr. Russell Dicks, S. M. U., and a message by Dr. Angie W. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church in Dallas.

Ray Nichols, Vernon, chairman of laymen's activities, was to conduct a lay board meeting and the laymen's banquet in the Settles at 5:45 p. m. At the evening hour, Dr. C. K. Vines, New York, division of mission culture, general board of missions, was to speak. Friday's day program was to be almost identical with that of Thursday. Dr. Vines spoke at the watch service in the church parlor Thursday morning.

Merchants Parley At 4 P. M. Friday

Merchants were reminded again today of a meeting at the chamber of commerce office at 4 p. m. Friday of all Big Spring retailers.

Object of the meeting is to plan a campaign to encourage sensible and early buying of Christmas merchandise, such care being made necessary by new complications imposed by the defense program.

Meantime, the chamber of commerce reported plans advancing for the December 3 Storybook Parade, which will officially usher in the 1941 Christmas shopping season.

Letters containing return postcards have been made to school teachers of the city asking them to indicate if their classes will participate in the event.

STRIKE THREATS SPREADING

Is Confident Of Neutrality Amendments

Rayburn Says Admin- istration's Bill Will Pass House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (Sp)—Speaker Rayburn calmly predicted today that the administration's neutrality revision legislation would pass the house despite dissatisfaction expressed by members critical of defense strikes.

Whether President Roosevelt will ask congress for legislation to curb the United States shipping would bolster aggressive steps and intentions in Germany and other aggressor nations and would be definitely discouraging to the British Empire, China, and Russia.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (Sp)—President Roosevelt said today that failure of congress to repeal neutrality act restrictions on United States shipping would bolster aggressive steps and intentions in Germany and other aggressor nations and would be definitely discouraging to the British Empire, China, and Russia.

pending the outcome of a conference tomorrow between the president, CIO leaders and steel company officials on the captive mine situation.

"We have enough votes," Rayburn told newsmen, while declining to estimate specifically what he thought the margin would be.

In response to questions, however, he asserted he had "no knowledge" of any commitment by President Roosevelt or any other administration leaders to the house group seeking stronger action by the president to curb strikes.

Although Rayburn talked with the president late yesterday after a group of southern democrats balked at the administration's foreign policy because of the labor situation, Rayburn said it would not be correct to assume that he had complete information as to what the president might have decided to do in the situation.

Presidential Secretary William D. Hassett, asked about reports Mr. Roosevelt had promised congressional leaders that he would propose some measure to halt work stoppage in defense industries, told reporters:

"Nothing can be said about that in anticipation of the meeting tomorrow."

To a question whether this meant the meeting and possible strike-halting legislation were connected, Hassett replied:

"I would not say they were connected, but the meeting tomorrow is of such importance it is to be hoped that some constructive results will come out of it."

Envoys' Plane Long Overdue

LONDON, Nov. 13 (Sp)—Increasing anxiety was expressed in London tonight over the safety of a plane carrying Laurence A. Steinhardt, U. S. ambassador to Moscow, and Maxim Litvinoff, new Soviet ambassador to Washington, who was understood to have left Kulybshev, U. S. S. R., two days ago for Teheran, Iran.

Usually informed persons said they had no word as to whether a search had been instituted along the route, adding that the only definite news that the plane was overdue came in press dispatches from Teheran. Officials said, however, there was a good chance that the plane had been forced down by weather at some point out of communication with Teheran or elsewhere.

The direct air line from Kulybshev to Teheran is about 1,300 miles, part of it over the Caspian sea.

Also reported aboard the plane were Sir Walter Monckton, chief of British information services at Cairo, and one or two other British officials. They were due at Teheran Tuesday and it had been arranged for them to continue immediately to Cairo.

Nazis Storm Gateway To Russia's Oil Territory

Reserves Moved Up For A New Moscow Battle

By the Associated Press

Masses of German and Russian reserves were reported moving up to the central front today for a possible climactic battle for Moscow, while in the south, Adolf Hitler's Crimean armies were declared to be storming the fortifications of Kerch at the gateway to the Caucasus oil fields.

A Nazi spokesman said the German air force was already roaring over the narrow Kerch Strait to carry the war into the great fields which produce much of Russia's oil.

German military dispatches said Nazi assault troops had captured several of Kerch's key fortifications and that the port was open to direct attack from the west and south.

On the Moscow front, Soviet reports said the Germans were intensifying their scouting operations, testing Red army lines along the entire 200-mile defense arc, apparently as the prelude to a new grand offensive. Fresh Soviet troops were streaming up to the front to meet the expected assault.

On the north flank, in the Kalinin sector, the Russians said they had driven the German invaders back toward the Volga river despite a hurricane of Nazi mortar, machine-gun and rifle fire.

Southwest of Kalinin, a Red army group was said to have crossed the Volga in a successful raid on the German rear.

The gravest threat on the long battlefield centered at Kerch, where the Germans apparently making final preparations to cross the Kerch Strait and drive into the Caucasus.

Reuters, the British news agency, quoted the Rome radio as announcing that German and Russian forces had occupied the port, which lies on a narrow strait separating the Crimea from the Caucasus mainland.

Dispatches to the Soviet newspaper Pravda, however, asserted that Red army troops had beaten off a German attempt to turn the Russian lines in the Kerch area.

"The German attacks were repulsed by the joint efforts of land troops, aircraft and naval forces," Pravda said.

Russian front-line reports said the Germans were "equally unsuccessful" in fighting near Sevastopol, key Black Sea naval base at the southwest tip of the Crimea, and that repeated Nazi tank assaults "failed to break through our defenses."

German bombers were blasted by the high command as blasting furiously at Soviet ships which might be used to evacuate Red army troops from the peninsula.

A Nazi communiqué reported that three cruisers, a destroyer and five large merchant ships were badly damaged in nearby waters.

On the central front, Soviet dispatches declared that fierce battles were raging on both flanks of Moscow's 200-mile defense arc—at Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of the capital, and at Tula, 100 miles south.

Local Men Visit Highway Office

Jimmie Greene, chamber of commerce manager, and Charles Sullivan were in Fort Worth Thursday to attend an "open house" at the new office of Highway Commissioner Reuben Williams there.

Williams has established his office in Fort Worth to better serve North and West Texas, instead of keeping it in Austin. Residents of this section of the state have been invited to attend the informal "open house" event. The office is in the Waggoner building.

Phone Lines, Rails, Mines All Affected

Disturbed Labor Situation Menaces Neutrality Measure

By the Associated Press

Labor disputes today cast dark shadows over the immediate future of railroad transportation, long distance telephone communication and the mining of soft coal to fuel the nation's steel mills.

In addition, there was a growing possibility that the disturbed labor situation might even cause the defeat of administration sponsored legislation. Some house members declared they would not vote to send American merchant ships into war zones unless the administration took firm steps to prevent work stoppage on defense projects.

White House action of some sort appeared certain in the soft coal dispute, involving the CIO United Mine Workers' demand for a union shop in the captive coal pits operated by the steel companies. President Roosevelt invited UMW President John L. Lewis, CIO chief Philip Murray, UMW Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy, and the heads of three large steel companies to confer with him tomorrow.

Murray and Kennedy resigned Tuesday from the defense mediation board, in protest to that group's 8-to-2 recommendation against the UMW's demand for the union shop in the captive mines.

There was no indication of what action Mr. Roosevelt had in mind, but the conference was called for the very day that Lewis summoned the UMW policy committee to a special meeting, presumably for a decision on the union action in view of the mediation board recommendation.

Order Rail Strike—

After Four Years— Chase Ends Search For Theft Suspect

After four years of searching, the long arm of the law reached out Wednesday to grab a man under indictment here for cattle theft in a melodramatic series of events on a highway between Hale Center and Plainview.

B. F. Stroup, twice tried here in 1937 for cattle theft and also under indictment in Mitchell county, was arrested after an automobile chase along the highway by Deputy Sheriff Bob Wolf of Howard county and Deputy Sheriff Ed Sanders of Lynn county.

Wolf and Sanders were en route toward Big Spring with a prisoner they had taken in custody at Amarillo. North of Hale Center, Wolf recognized the driver of a car going in the opposite direction as Stroup, although both automobiles were speeding along the road at near 60 miles per hour. Although he had Stroup's license number memorized and had been searching for his car for several days, it was Stroup's face and not the license that Wolf first identified.

The deputy sheriff wheeled his car around and pursued Stroup at high speed for 10 miles. Finally forcing him to the road side, Wolf approached the car and Stroup fell over in a faint. Five minutes later he was revived and it was found that five passengers in Stroup's car had hired him to transport them northward through a travel bureau.

The two cars turned southward and proceeded to Hale Center. There they stopped in the traffic and Stroup jumped from the car, pursued him and again caught him after a short chase.

Stroup refunded each of the passengers in his car the money paid for transportation, and the return to Big Spring continued uneventfully.

In Wolf's car throughout the episode was J. C. Starnes, who was being returned here on a felony warrant for burglary. Starnes was indicted here for burglary of a Coahoma store June 15, 1940.

Hit By Auto, Child Killed

Second 1941 traffic fatality within the city limits of Big Spring was registered Wednes- day afternoon when Ralph Gil- bert Williams, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Williams, died at a local hospital.

Struck at 1:15 p. m. by a car driven by Fred E. Keating, superintendent of the U. S. experiment farm north of the city, the child died at five o'clock.

The mishap occurred in front of the home of the parents at 709 North Gregg street. Police quoted witnesses as saying Ralph apparently was following another child in an attempt to cross the street. Keating stopped and gave aid.

Funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at East Fourth Baptist church, the pastor, the Rev. Elmer Dunham, officiating. Burial will be in new city cemetery with Eberley funeral home making arrangements.

Survivors include the parents; a brother, Donald; a sister, Charlotte; and grandparents, Mrs. J. D. Woods of Edgewood and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Covin of Edgewood.

Pallbearers include O. L. Rush, D. C. Pyle, O. D. Engle, Dee Bailey, J. A. Smith, Sam Baker, C. M. Weaver and Joe Beadie.

Red Cross Gets Good Response

Canvases of downtown establishments for memberships in the Red Cross was started this morning by 25 workers directed by Schley Riley, while women under direction of Mrs. Adolph Swartz continued solicitations in the residential sections.

Encouraging results were reported in both branches of the campaign.

Those persons who are missed either at their homes or businesses are urged to call Mrs. G. G. Bavelle, executive secretary of the Howard-Glascock chapter, at 256.

Roy Reeder, general chairman of the roll call, urged each member to wear his membership button throughout the remainder of the campaign as a part of the campaign to stimulate interest in the Red Cross.

DEATH INVESTIGATED

HOUSTON, Nov. 13 (Sp)—State and county officers today investigated the death of J. C. Franklin, Houston attorney and insurance broker who was found hanged to the beams of his automobile in the bank of the San Jacinto near Sheldon yesterday.

Linemen Asked To Delay Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (Sp)—The government appealed today to the Independent Federation of Long Distance Telephone Workers to postpone for one week a strike set for Saturday and to resume negotiations for settlement of its wage dispute with the American Telephone & Telegraph company.

The appeal, telegraphed to John J. Moran, president of the union, was made by Dr. John B. Steelman, director of the U. S. conciliation service, shortly after transmission of news and news-photos by wire would not be affected by the threatened walk-out.

Henry Mayer, attorney for the union, composed entirely of employees of the A.T.&T., said members of the union's 21-man council would be polled by telegraph during the day on Steelman's proposal.

Moran continued preparations to call other workers off their jobs at 12:01 a. m. Saturday in a walk-out which he said would tie up the A.T.&T.'s long distance communications in 42 states. The union's entire membership, which Moran placed at 15,000, including 5,500 women, is composed of A.T.&T. workers.

Rail Wage Plan Is Turned Down

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (Sp)—Fourteen unions of non-operating employees, representing 200,000 workers in the railroad industry, issued a joint statement today rejecting the recommendations of the president's emergency board for settlement of the A.T.&T. strike.

Finn Issue Kept Open

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (Sp)—The Finnish minister called at the state department today, while word spread in diplomatic circles that the United States and Great Britain might renew their efforts to end Finnish-Russian hostilities.

The visit of the minister, Hjalmar J. Procopo, to Under-Secretary of State Welles followed closely on the delivery of the Finnish government's note rejecting a Soviet offer to negotiate peace with Finland, which was transmitted to the Finns by the United States.

Procopo declined to make any comment except to say he expected to "talk" about the situation with Welles.

The informed belief here was that the Helsinki government had left the diplomatic door open for further discussions along such lines, even though its note to the state department did reject Russia's overtures for peace.

American officials were noncommittal on the subject, pending a thorough study of the note which set forth the Finns' position and their insistence upon guaranteed security for their little republic.

Secretary Hull gave the only hint of possible future action when he voiced the hope yesterday that Finland was not irrevocably committed to collaboration with Nazi Germany.

Big Tax Collections Boost City Funds

Unprecedented collection of both current and delinquent taxes during October resulted in a sharp boost in the city's general fund, City Comptroller Herbert Whitney's monthly report to the commission shows.

Current tax collections amounted to $66,535.62 which, together with $1,997.07 allowed as discounts for early payment, represents better than 60 per cent of the 1941 tax roll. In addition, delinquent taxes in the amount of $11,541 were collected during the month, with 256 pieces of property being cleared of delinquent taxes during that period. The total delinquent tax collection for the city's fiscal year is now $18,273.18.

General fund revenues from all sources during the month amounted to $96,035.64 and disbursements were $62,309.07, including $47,876.11 of tax collections transferred to the interest and sinking fund. This left the general fund with a cash balance of $34,180.65 at the end of the month, representing a net increase of $12,504.28 for the month. Writer revenues continued at a lower level, with October billings of $8,668.02 being $1,006.07 less than for September and $2,235.38 less than for October of last year.

Whitney's report said that general fund expenditures for capital outlay and operating expenses are continuing to be held well below the budget appropriations for these purposes, the October expenditures being $13,987.90, or $4,229.36 less than the appropriation for the month. For the first seven months of the fiscal year, general fund expenditures have amounted to $126,471.19, which is $14,696.43 less than the budget allowance for that period.

Interest and sinking fund receipts during October were $125 interest on securities owned and $47,876.77 transferred from the general fund. Disbursements from this fund amounted to $18,348.45 in payment of principal and interest maturing on the city's bonded indebtedness. This left the interest and sinking fund with a cash balance of $33,821.79 as of October 31, being a net gain of $29,703.32 for the month.

Recipe For Preparing Turkey

Golden brown, stuffed and tender—ideal of all good cooks—the Thanksgiving turkey emerges from the oven in its familiar enameled roaster. Now it is ready for the final festive "fixes" preceding the grand entrance to the dining room. Apply this final gala touch, as shown, while the turkey rests in the convenient inner pan, or rack, of the enameled roaster, or in the roaster itself. It's a deserving tribute to a perfectly cooked bird.

Let's prepare a turkey. Here's the method recommended by Gaudencio Garces, executive chef of the Stevens hotel, world's largest hotel, in Chicago.

Roast Young Tom Turkey
Singe and clean turkey, then dry. Fasten legs. Season with salt and pepper and stuff with plain American dressing. Place turkey breast side up in bottom pan of enameled roaster, and rub well with soft butter. Roast in moderately heated oven. A 15-pound turkey usually requires about three hours of roasting. Baste, as necessary, with dripping from pan or use a mixture of butter and hot water. This will nourish and flavor the bird, and prevent breast from drying. When turkey is done, remove some of the fat from the roasting pan and make gravy. Serve with cranberry sauce or cranberry jelly.

Turkey Stuffing
Soak small loaves of bread in cold water, then press the water out. Fry one chopped onion with chopped bacon; add it to the bread with a little chopped fresh parsley, thyme, sage and two whole raw eggs. Mix well. Season with salt and pepper.

Must Campaign From Jail Cell

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Nov. 13 (AP)—While friends strove to get him paroled so that he could campaign before election day, December 2, red haired Andrew J. "Bossy" Gillis, often called "the bad boy mayor," nominated again in yesterday's mayoralty primary, mapped out his own plans in county jail today for "when I go in."

Dodger Prexy Ready To Do Some Trading

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—If a bankroll of approximately $300,000 and some excellent trading material hold any charms for rival club owners, President Larry MacPhail of the Brooklyn Dodgers has no intention of standing pat with the club that won this year's National league flag.

In the first place, he admitted today, the Dodgers badly need a good left-handed pitcher and another outfielder who bats right-handed.

And in the second place, he said with a twinkle, both the Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds had better get busy and do something if they expect to live in the same league with the St. Louis Cardinals next year.

"I just got through telling Warren Giles that in this letter," he said, waving a copy of his epistle to the general manager of the Reds, "Warren would like to do some trading, and I've told him I hope we can get together to our mutual benefit, because St. Louis is going to be tough."

Giles would like to have Babe Phelps. He needs a catcher, and it's no secret that we're going to trade Phelps to somebody. But it depends on what he's willing to give up to get Phelps.

Blasted By British, Italians Are Turning Ships Over To Germans

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Italian merchant marine, dismayed by heavy blows dealt its Mediterranean convoys by the British navy and air force, is stepping aside and letting German seamen take over many of its ships, British sources said today.

The swastika now is flying from many sailing ships and other convoys vessels in the Mediterranean.

Nevertheless the axis, in its effort to supply its Libyan forces, is going through one of its blackest months, the British say. Already November sinkings are put at 22 ships, including three Italian destroyers, and British officers say thousands of axis soldiers and seamen and millions of dollars worth of war supplies have gone down.

Nine more ships are listed as severely damaged this month.

Since August, British surface ships, submarines and planes have sunk 198 axis ships in the Mediterranean and heavily damaged 70 more, according to the British tally.

The British navy now is centering its attention on a program of Johnny Vander Meer. He's the left-hander we need. And so would Giles like to have our Pete Reiser. But I doubt he would give up Vandy, and I know we're not trading Reiser—though one of my rules is that no player is indispensable. Maybe we'll get together on something."

At Least, Tulane's Intentions Are Good

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13 (AP) Coach Red Dawson of Tulane has conclusive proof that they don't pay off on statistics. In the three games Tulane has lost, the Green Wave gained 562 yards rushing to 345 for the three opponents, gained 244 yards by passes to 179 for the enemy, and led in first downs, 30 to 18. Tulane had the statistical edge in each game, but lost to Rice, Mississippi and Alabama.

Improvement Of Cemetery Progresses

Work of cleaning up the cemetery is progressing satisfactorily, city commissioners were told at their meeting Wednesday night by City Manager Boyd McDaniel, who said that practically all the burial property had been improved with the exception of that in the Odd Fellow cemetery, and that workmen would continue on this portion.

The cemetery property has been extensively reworked during the past month, with only a nominal outlay for labor.

The commission discussed at length proposed revision of the contract with Art Wintehaler, airport operator, with changes due to center about commissions on gasoline sales. A special committee composed of Mayor G. C. Dunham, J. B. Collins and McDaniel was to continue study on the matter today.

The commission received reports for the month of October from the police, fire and health departments. Police reported issuance of 81 traffic violations and 10 speeding tickets during the month, and 107 arrests for various types of complaints, with practically all cases disposed of. The municipal radio station, KACM, handled 713 local calls and cleared 134 out-of-town messages.

There were three fires during the month, representing a total insured loss of $4,877. Causes were reported as defective wiring, rubbish, and a cigarette.

Health Inspector H. W. Leeper reported on the month's inspections, and said that eight persons were summoned into court for failure to obtain health certificates.

McDaniel was instructed by the commission to enforce restrictions on the sale and lending of city equipment.

Defense Output First, Says Hull

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—After a conference with President Roosevelt, Secretary Hull said today he naturally was anxious to see defense production increased and increased and increased and then added with emphasis that he would not let anything stand in the way.

Hull's statement was given his press conference in answer to questions regarding the effect of defense industry strikes on national security.

By seeing to it that needed war materials are produced without interruption in ever-increasing volume and are shipped where they are most needed, he added, this nation can make itself ready for defense at any time from dangers threatening from any quarter.

The best possible way to keep the United States out of war is to unify public opinion behind a sound national policy and then double and treble American production of war materials, he said. That, he added, should be done as quickly as possible.

One Senator Foresees War With Japan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Senator Murray (D-Mont.) said today "there is a definite possibility" that the United States may go to war with Japan, but his colleague, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), declared that "we now have a real chance to adjust our differences with the Japanese."

Murray, a member of the foreign relations committee, told reporters that forthcoming conversations between state department officials and Saburo Kurusu, Japan's envoy appear pretty futile.

"We can not afford to agree to any Far Eastern settlement which would sanction the oppression of the Chinese," Murray declared. "Japan must get out of China if there is to be any agreement."

"I have little hope that anything will come of the Kurusu conversations, because the war party is in control in Japan and it is unlikely that it will back down now. There is a definite possibility of war in the Pacific."

Wheeler thought differently. "The people of Japan, like the people of the United States, do not want war in the Pacific," he said. "There is no reason why differences between the two countries can not be worked out in a peaceful way."

Wheeler said he had "known for some time that the Chinese and some of the British forces to send an expeditionary force to protect the Burma Road." He expressed confidence, however, that "the president will take counsel on the matter with the army rather than the navy (Frank Knox). If he does, I am sure he will not send an expeditionary force."

Govt. Cotton Estimate Down 41,000 Bales

Further Cut This Month Is Indicated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Unfavorable harvesting weather during October in the extreme southern part of the cotton belt caused a 41,000 bale of $4,000,000 reduction in this year's cotton crop, the agriculture department reported today. Production was forecast at 11,000,000 bales.

This estimate, based upon conditions prevailing November 1, compared with an October 1 forecast of 11,061,000 bales. Production totaled 12,566,000 bales last year and 12,246,000 bales for the ten year (1930-39) average of 13,246,000 bales.

A crop of the size indicated is upward of a million bales less than the quantity farm officials expect will be consumed and exported during the current marketing season. However, there is a surplus of about 12,000,000 bales from previous crops.

The yield per acre was indicated at 232.5 pounds compared with 202.5 pounds last year and with the ten year average of 205.4 pounds.

The department said that in Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas, excessive rainfall during the October caused a total prospective reduction of 184,000 bales in production. In North Carolina, Tennessee, and Missouri, however, rainfall was light and temperatures were above normal. This facilitated harvesting and increased prospective production in these states by 125,000 bales. In other states, minor changes in prospects were said to have occurred during October.

The department cautioned that there might be a further reduction in prospects during November. It said, that in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona and California, the proportion of the crop ginned to Nov. 1 was much less than average, leaving more of the crop than usual subject to possible damage from frosts or other adverse weather conditions.

Labor, of which there has been a surplus for most of the past decade, is now in demand in Big Spring and vicinity.

The Texas State Employment Service has many calls unfilled for nearly all types of labor. Particularly in demand now are clerks and salespeople, according to O. H. Rodden, manager.

Most farmers have given up hope of finding harvest workers, other than Mexican and negro cotton pickers, but demand is equally high in skilled fields. The TRES office placed 157 persons in skilled positions during October, most of them permanently.

Hit-Run Auto Kills Colorado City Youngster

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 13 (AP)—Thirteen year old C. B. (Cecil) Beasley, Jr., of Colorado City was dead Wednesday, victim of a hit-and-run accident on U. S. highway 80 in east Colorado City about 9:45 Tuesday night.

The boy was almost instantly killed when his bicycle was struck by an east-bound car which, his companion said, failed to stop.

Local officers and highway patrolmen from the Big Spring area office immediately began a widespread search for the driver of the car, and early this afternoon Sheriff Dick Gregory of Mitchell county said charges would be filed against three men in connection with the wreck.

One of the trio was under arrest and identity of two others in the car was known, he said.

Having been persuaded by his father not to ride his bicycle to the show Tuesday night, young Beasley had returned from walking to the show and was riding his bicycle part of the way home with a friend, J. L. Whitley, when he was hit.

Born in Colorado City on Sept. 21, 1928, young Beasley was an eighth grader in Junior high school. His mother died Sept. 16, 1931. His father, C. B. Beasley, Sr., is his only immediate survivor. Mrs. W. S. Justice of Colorado City is his grandmother.

Funeral services were to be held at the Church of Christ at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon with Clyde P. Findlay, minister, officiating.

Farm Sign-Up Disappointing

Sign-up of 1942 farm plan sheets, including food production sheets, was continuing Wednesday at a disappointing tempo.

AAA committeemen and workers visited in three communities Monday, and were in three others today, to obtain food production estimates and plan sheet signatures for 1942, but turnout was small.

Thursday the tour of the county by the AAA groups will be concluded. Throughout the day the AAA delegations will be at the American Legion hall in Coshoma, at Velmour Baptist church, and at Luther school building.

School Board Studies Raises For Faculty; Notestine Quits

Revision Of Budget May Permit Hikes

Trustee Seeks To Resign But Board Refuses To Accept

An attempt at budget revision which will permit additional compensation for classroom teachers was pledged by the board of trustees of the Big Spring independent school district Monday night, as they studied fiscal affairs, accepted resignations and pondered a request by the teacher association for an increase in the lower salary brackets.

The teacher group had submitted a formal request that salaries of instructors making less than $140 per month be increased 10 per cent. Board members without exception were sympathetic to the request, and said they were prohibited from granting it only because of lack of funds. They agreed to keep the request pending, and to try to make adjustments at least by the end of the school year, if budget revisions can be made.

Supt. W. C. Blankenship was authorized to notify the teachers to that effect.

The board accepted the resignation of Edmund Notestine as business manager of the schools, and took no immediate action toward naming a successor. Notestine, who has served the educational system for the past four years, will conclude his work on November 18, but was voted an additional two months' compensation.

Frankly concerned over the district's fiscal affairs, trustees indicated they would bend every effort toward erasing a budget deficit during the current year. For the time being, Blankenship will handle business affairs. Last year's audit was up for study by the board, but detailed study of it was deferred pending a personal presentation and discussion by Merle Stewart, the auditor.

Aviation Board To Visit Again

Sgt. Troy Gibson, U. S. army recruiting officer, said Wednesday that the traveling examining board for aviation cadets had been engaged to make a second visit here Nov. 17.

Ten young men, said the sergeant, have been signed to appear before the board for examinations. Most of them are seeking to get in a position to take the refresher course here, while some few have college requirements to be subject to call if and when passed by the board.

Only four of the initial 12 men examined here late in October were approved by the board during its first visit here.

Wednesday Sgt. Joe Fynt, Fort Bliss, chief supply sergeant, was a visitor at the recruiting office.

Sgt. Gibson said that regulations had been clarified so that henceforth it will be impossible to enlist men in the regular army who have orders to report to examining stations for general physical check-ups preparatory to induction, and those who have received orders to report for induction as selectees.

Submitted was the resignation of M. M. Edwards as a member of the board, but his colleagues tabled the matter and declined to vote an acceptance. Edwards, in a letter, said that private business affairs prompted the submission of his resignation.

The board voted to accept resignations of Helen Reese, College Heights teacher; Leal Schurman, high school mathematics; and God Graves, physical education instructor. Graves has gone into selective service; Miss Reese is to wed, and Schurman will take a teaching post in San Benito. Durwood Marcum, who formerly was on the local staff, was named to the physical education post. Mrs. James Fowler was named as a supply teacher, and Emma Louis Gentzke was elected librarian. Blankenship told the board that some faculty changes may be made to meet situations caused by resignations and replacements.

Man Charged With Assault To Murder

Owen B. Smith was free under bond after waiving examining trial today on a charge of assault with intent to murder—an aftermath of the shooting with a .410 gauge shotgun on Halloween night of V. L. Porter of Big Spring.

Smith was apprehended by members of the sheriff's department Sunday. His lawyer waived examining trial before Justice of the Peace Walter Grice, and completed bond.

Porter was seriously injured Halloween when a shotgun charge struck him in the shoulder.

Funeral Held For Mrs. Sallie Dozier

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 11 (AP)—Funeral was held from Kiker and Son chapel at Colorado City Monday afternoon for Mrs. Sallie M. Dozier, 75, resident of Mitchell county for 42 years. Mrs. Dozier died Sunday night at a local hospital after an 8-day illness.

Born in Tarrant county, Mrs. Dozier was married at Stephenville on Nov. 2, 1884 to W. A. Dozier, who died a few years ago. Survivors are four sons—Sterling Dozier of Fort Worth, Boyd and Fred Dozier of Colorado City, and Mack Dozier of Kermit. A brother, Mack Creswell, lives at Stephenville.

Man Treated For Accident Injuries

Elmer Coster, who resides at Shepley Camp, was being treated at Cowper hospital Wednesday for bruises and a broken arm suffered when he was struck by an automobile driven by M. L. Kennedy.

The mishap occurred about 300 feet west of the city limits on the Stanton road and happened Tuesday afternoon. Kennedy stopped and gave aid.

Army Calls 24 Off Local Roll

Twenty men will be dispatched from Big Spring on Dec. 15 for final physical examinations at the induction center in Lubbock in response to the 2nd selective service call. Bruce Frasier, chief clerk of the county board, announced Monday.

This does not mean the men are being called for service, Frasier made plain. It simply means that they are being checked for any physical disabilities which would prevent them from service if and when called.

In all likelihood, there will be no call of those approved before January.

The call also marks a change in the induction routine. Instead of going to Fort Bliss for examination and induction, the selectees will first go to Lubbock for their check. Later, if called, they will be sent to Fort Bliss or to whatever point is deemed expedient by the army.

Probably a bus will be chartered for the trip to Lubbock.

All public offices were closed with exception of police, fire, sheriff's and constable's departments.

Sidelights From The Methodist Conference Former Big Spring Churchmen Numerous At Convention Sessions

Name a place in West Texas and you'll find a minister and a delegate from it at the Northwest Texas Methodist conference now in session here.

And the surprising thing is how many came from or once were in this particular territory. Arriving here Wednesday afternoon was the Rev. Wayne Cook, a Big Spring man who got his preliminary education here before furthering his studies to enter the ministry. He is the son of Frank Cook and now is pastor at Wheeler. Of course, the host First Methodist church is like home to him.

Ahead of the delegates came the Rev. Newton Starnes, who was given a pastorate in the Panhandle last year after serving as assistant pastor here to Dr. J. O. Haynes. He was heading up the registration desk.

Rev. L. N. Culwell, Anton, who held a revival meeting here during the ministry of Dr. C. A. Bickley at the First Methodist, was here, but he had lock troubles on his car. His report had been locked in the trunk and the key was lost.

Dr. Bickley, district superintendent at Abilene, was among the early arrivals, coming here for the first cabinet meeting Tuesday evening.

The Rev. A. T. Mason, now at Ocala, has three churches in his charge besides pursuing his education at McJannet college in Abilene. He formerly was at Stanton and Knott and has been in the ministry for eight years.

Now classed as a super-annuated minister, the Rev. Ben Hardy, father of Dr. W. E. Hardy, Big Spring, was in attendance. He has been here off and on in recent months due to an illness and most recently for an eye operation. The Rev. Hardy was pastor of the First Methodist in 1919-23, and spent 41 years in the active ministry before retiring three years ago. Another former Big Spring pastor in attendance was Dr. Will C. House, now district superintendent of the Amarillo district. He was pastor of the First Methodist for the year beginning in 1937.

The Rev. Sam Young, for several years presiding elder in the Sweetwater district, was on hand. He now is pastor of the First Methodist church in Sweetwater and laughingly said that when he changed from the post of presiding elder back to a pastorate that the Methodists had to change their whole set-up.

From Littlefield came the Rev. J. E. (Jim) Sharp, who was pastor for two years at Stanton. His work has prospered during the past year, he reported. Laymen from over the district had no trouble in recognizing Ray Nichols, publisher of the Vernon Record and an outstanding Methodist layman. He is to preside at the laymen's banquet at 5:45 p. m. in the Settles ballroom today. With Mr. Nichols was J. A. Harrington of Vernon.

Dr. Herman I. Robinson, pastor of the First church in Lubbock, was buying himself about conference business. Finishing out his first year as pastor at Lubbock after transferring into the conference from Galveston, his ministry has been blessed by 351 additions during the year. Dr. Dwight L. McCrea, pastor of the St. John's church in Lubbock, was present, too, and had around 300 additions to report for the year.

Cecil Matthews, who has been with the First Methodist in Lubbock for six years, was a busy man assembling reports for the auditor's committee, of which he is a member.

If anyone knows everyone by his first name it is the Rev. C. E. Lynn, Lubbock, retired. For 15 years he has been serving as conference postmaster, selling postcards, collecting and distributing mail. Only the new men transferring in or entering the ministry give him trouble in delivering the conference mail. He spent 20 years in the active ministry, interrupted by three breakdowns before he had to retire because of his health. But he still keeps plenty busy as a supply pastor in his area.

The Rev. M. M. Beavers, Hereford, and the Rev. Claude Ledger, Abilene, retired ministers, were far from the "super-useless" ministers they jokingly said they were, for they gained real enjoyment in looking back over their trials and tribulations as pastors and in getting the progress of men who were mere striplings back in the good old days but who now have responsible places.

Among delegates present was L. M. Deming, Hooker, who has been active in the Methodist church here since 1916. Like many ministers attending, he also was "retired."

Now retired, the Rev. C. L. Hill lives near San Antonio, but he still thrills over the progress made by his son, the Rev. Leslie L. Hill at Friona. The elder Hill came into the conference from the Central Texas district, pastored at Cisco, Vega and Dumas. His latter charge, covering two big counties, was such a tax, that although he won a victory, his health failed him.

If the Rev. Hubert Thompson, pastor of the 16th Ave. church in Amarillo, keeps up his record, he is going to land with a life-time job at some church someday. His first pastorate was for three years, his second for four, and now he has been at Amarillo five.

From Kellerville came the Rev. C. R. Gates, a young minister just rounding out his first year of active service. He is not a mere boy, however, for he taught school for several years before being called. Last year he had 27 additions, despite his total membership is only little more than 100.

To mention a few others around: Rev. A. C. Hayes, rounding out his first year at Shamrock; the Rev. Joe Michael, an old timer who is now pastoring at Claude; and many, many others.

Texas Retailers Agree To Conserve On Paper Wrappings Due To A Shortage Caused By Defense

DALLAS, Nov. 13.—Blame it on the war in Europe: Texas housewives may soon start carrying shopping bags again, to hold the articles which they buy in stores. Retail merchants, cooperating with the government in a campaign to prevent the waste of paper so that supplies will be available for the army and navy and defense industries, today began a campaign to eliminate all unnecessary use of paper bags and wrapping paper. Today was chosen to start the campaign because it is "War Against Waste Day," established in President Roosevelt's proclamation of Civilian Defense Week.

The reason for the campaign is simple. The United States is producing only twenty-one million tons of paper a year, but it is using twenty-six million. That situation cannot go on forever. The government and the merchants want to bring the figures together while there is still time.

The war directly responsible for this shortage. Huge quantities of paper, especially the kind used for wrapping paper and sacks, are needed in defense industries. In addition, much of the wood pulp which this country uses for making its paper comes in normal times from Finland and Norway, and these supplies, of course have stopped.

To help solve the problem presently by this paper shortage, organizations representing retail stores of all types have joined a conservation movement and have asked the cooperation of consumers. A resolution approved by eleven retail organizations explained: "Urgent advice from governmental departments indicate that at the present time the consumption of paper in the United States is exceeding the sources of supply. In the interest of national defense it becomes necessary to immediately curtail all waste and to reduce some of the ordinary civilian uses of paper.

"Therefore, the retail merchants of Texas have pledged themselves to reduce, as far as possible, their use of paper, and to advise their customers, the consumers of the state, that this program will be carried out at once.

"Consumers will be able to cooperate greatly by reducing as far as possible the demand for paper wrappings, paper bags, and paper in any form not necessary to the processes of distribution or to the comfort or convenience of the household."

This statement was approved by members of the Council of Texas Retailers' Association, including the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, Texas Shoe Retailers Association, Texas Hardware & Implement Association; Texas Retail Clothiers Association, Texas Retail Grocers Association, Restaurant Owners Association, Panhandle Hardware & Implement Association, Retail Furniture Association of Texas, Texas Retail Dry Goods Association, and Texas Retail Jewelers Association. It also was approved by the Texas Chain Stores Association.

Found: Reason For Kids To Ride Truck

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 13 (AP)—A truck driver backed into a customer's garage to unload a shipment of coal, but its removal caused the springs to raise the truck so much that the box of the vehicle caught the top of the garage doors.

It looked like some of the coal would have to go back into the truck for ballast until the lady of the house had an idea. A few minutes later the truck rolled out easily—loaded with all the kids in the neighborhood.

Food For Defense -- Farmers Use New Tricks To Increase Output

(Last of a series)
 By JOHN GROVER
 AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON. — When they pass out the medals after this emergency, some U. S. farmers and scientists who never heard a gun should get a hatful.

Scientists are doing the quarter-backing and farmers are carrying the ball in this food-for-defense program. The goal is the greatest production of farm products in U. S. history in 1942. It will keep America and Britain eating at par next year if it's successful.

The 1942 quotas pile a back-breaking job on American farmers. They're asked to produce double normal harvests of some commodities. To make it harder, the metals and chemicals shortages threaten supplies of farm machinery and fertilizers. There's already a shortage of farm labor in some districts.

To top it off, they've got to abandon familiar, overproduced crops to grow unfamiliar temperamental groceries. Farmers who have devoted their lives to raising cotton may change to soybean production. That's like asking a life-long plumber to do a snappy job of bricklaying tomorrow.

The department of agriculture research and experimental staffs are the best agricultural scientists in the world. For more than 50 years they've been patiently, quietly raising production and efficiency standards on U. S. farms.

Liaison officers between the laboratories and the nation's farms are the county farm agents. It's their job to see that farmers get the dope on the production short cuts in time to do some good.

Breakdown analysis of the production problem shows three prime ways to boost output. First, increase acreage or other production units; second, produce more

It might even be ready, with luck, in time to boost food-for-defense totals.

There are other ways the scientific planters, with farm cooperation, are fertilizing crops with brains.

County agents are sowing a song of farm gardens. They want more than 5,000,000 high vegetable gardens on farms in 1942. Green-stuff that 5,000,000 farm families would buy in cans will be produced at home, releasing that amount for current needs and the stockpiles.

They're suggesting that whole milk be shipped to creameries. Dairymen now ordinarily separate the cream on the farm, ship that, and feed the skim milk to hogs.

Smart farming is helping to prevent a fertilizer shortage. There'll be an increase in cover crops, to be plowed back into the soil for their vital nitrogen.

Hogs are being fed until they reach heavier weights. In normal times, the 225-pound hog is ideal. Now it's sound economy to feed 'em longer for lard-heavy hogs. Same thing with chickens for meat. Lard and canned chicken are on the "must" list of defense foods.

Feed stocks have been surveyed in every producing area. Where local production is short, and a scarcity threatens, they've moved in supplies from surplus holdings.

They used their heads, too, and shipped the grain in before the fall shortage of freight cars. They're using their heads all the time in this food-of-defense program.

Household Hints

To flavor soups or stew with onions, whole spices, parsley, etc. without directly adding them to the contents of the pot: Fill an aluminum tea ball with chopped onion or whatever you wish. Drop the tea ball into the soup or stew in the making.

Coffee used as the liquid for hard sauces gives a new flavor which blends deliciously with baked or steamed fruit pudding. Heat the coffee first to make it mix more quickly with the sugar. This also will do away with the raw taste sometimes noticed in hard sauces.

Try baking nut, bran or raisin bread in pound baking powder cans instead of loaf pans. These smaller sized molds can easily be cut into dainty sandwiches. Grease the can well so the bread will slip out easily. It usually takes 8 cans to handle as much dough as one loaf pan.

Often a little starch in final rinsing water will restore the original stiffness to lacey frills. Place them on a towel to dry. Pull them gently into shape and press with warm iron.

To remove brown stains from china, rub well with a damp cloth frequently dipped in salt. Wash as usual.

When making pea soup, always throw in a slice of bread. It prevents the peas from sinking to the bottom of the pot and burning.

It's a good idea to boil new clothes-pins in salt water before using. This process toughens them and prevents them from splitting.

Lemon butter does a lot for cooked beans, green beans, asparagus, turnips and cabbage. Mix 2 tablespoons of lemon juice with 5 tablespoons of butter and pour over 3 cups of any cooked hot vegetables.

Save all your salt, flour and sugar sacks. Wash them well in plenty of hot soapy water and rinse them thoroughly. They are fine for storing fruits and vegetables in the refrigerator. Give them a good washing and sunning at least once a week.

For frosting that's fluffy, flavorful—frosting that doesn't get sugary and crack—frosting that piles up nicely, looks beautiful and cuts smoothly—follow this fool-proof Karo recipe:

PERFECT KARO FROSTING
 3 cups granulated sugar 1 tsp. vanilla
 1/4 cup Karo (red label) 1/4 tsp. salt
 1/4 cup water 2 egg whites

Cook sugar, Karo, and water over low heat, stirring only until sugar is dissolved. Then boil rapidly, without stirring, to 242 degrees F., or until syrup forms a firm ball when a small amount is dropped in cold water. Add vanilla and salt to egg whites, and beat until stiff but not dry. Four syrup slowly in a thin stream into beaten egg whites, beating constantly. Continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks and is of consistency to spread. Makes enough frosting for filling, top and sides of 3 (9-inch) cake layers.

per acre; third, eliminate waste. The scientist-farmer partnership is using all three in the more-food war.

They're stepping up the acreage of soybeans, peanuts and vegetable oil sources. Plus that, "ag" research has increased production of soybeans per acre to 18 bushels from an average of ten. Increased acreage plus increased yield will up soybean harvests 100 per cent next year, if average weather prevails.

The scientists found, for instance, that some soybean varieties were strictly union. Work 'em overtime, and they quit cold. Varieties that thrived in the deep south wouldn't produce up north. Reason was, northern summer days are considerably longer, and the southern varieties weren't used to that extra daylight. They're working to eliminate that growth-limiting factor now.

Increased dairy production means scientific feeding. There isn't time to breed a new generation of heifers for production right now. The need is desperate. More milk per cow, through increased feeding, is the answer.

The farm scientists also think they've got something big in a corn pollen. Vice President Henry A. Wallace, who is practically "Mr. Corn" himself in his native Iowa, suggested the research. They take corn pollen, gathered by bees, and soak it in ether. The gummy residue is chucked full of "X," a mysterious what-it-it that makes plants grow like Jack's beanstalk.

They don't know what it is. They do know a little bit dabbed on the stem of a growing plant makes it shoot up in a way to make mushrooms livid with envy. Bureau of plant industry chemists are busting their galluses now to isolate "X" and make it practical.
