Sights and Faces Seen

You and your family are invited to attend the picnic supper arranged for 4-H club boys and girls. The time is Friday, August 18 at 7:30 P. M. The place is on the creek in the Hereford State Park near the barbecue pits.

Bring everything you need since the Chamber of Commerce will only furnish lemonade and water; and the Lions Club will supply part of the entertainment.

The County Agricultural Agent will direct the program of entertainment.

(Miss Dorothy Funderburg, who was formerly employed at the Hereford Insurance Agency, is now working in the First National Bank.

E. B. Posey, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has had several calls for fresh garden vegetables and other produce, but he has been unable to locate anyone who can supply him with the ordered amounts. If gardeners and produce growers in Hereford would notify the Chamber of Commerce that they have vegetables and other marketable produce for sale it is very likely that a buyer for their crop could be located and put in touch with them through that agency.

Funeral services were conducted from the Assembly of God Church by Rev. J. J. Grubbs, pastor.

He was a student of speech and drama under George Pierce Baker of Yale's Department of Drama in 1932-33. In 1934 he was a student under Elsie Fogarty in Central School of Speech, London, England. Potato Association Delays Application For State Charter

Organization of the Hereford Potato and Onion Growers Association has been delayed because most of the prospective members are too busy caring for their crops and getting ready to harvest them to take the time to put the organization through at once.

Plans to establish the organization are being continued, however, in spite of the fact that the cooperative will not be able to handle the current potato crop. This year's onion crop will probably be handled through the agency of the cooperative.

Farm Security officials and prospective members of the Association have completed drafting the constitution and by-laws and have adopted the document. Subscription of the membership is now the only thing that prevents application for a charter from the State. As soon as the charter is obtained the organization will begin functioning under the terms laid down in the constitution. Twenty members are required to obtain the charter. Over half that number have already subscribed. (Continued on Page 12)

Funeral Rites For Barnes Baby Are Held Friday

All Hereford was saddened by the death of tiny Robert Wade Barnes, year old baby boy of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Barnes, last Thursday night. The death was the culmination of a long illness for which no treatment had been effective.

The child had been in poor health since its birth on July 26, 1938. It was suffering with an insidious leukemia which is characterized by a slow depletion of the red blood cells. The best medical authorities in the Panhandle were unable to administer any treatment that would check the progress of the affliction.

Rev. Barnes came to Hereford as pastor of the First Baptist Church two years ago from the First Baptist Church at Shreveport, La. Since that time he has made many friends in Hereford, and has won the acclaim of his congregation. He is a graduate of the Baptist Seminary at Ft. Worth. He is a native of Alabama, and his wife, the former Helen Hyers, is from Florida.

Funeral services for the child were conducted from the First Baptist Church on Friday afternoon at four o'clock by Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Lubbock, and a former classmate of Rev. Barnes. Pall bearers were Bill Boyer, A. R. Posey, Marvel Upton, and Leo Rudd.

A special section of the audience was composed of all the ministers and priests of Hereford, who sat in a body at the (Continued on Page 12)

County Tax Rate Is Set At 65c

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court set the tax rate for 1939 at 65c in its regular session this week. This figure represents a reduction of 10c per $100 valuation from the 1938 rate.

The Legislature set the State Ad Valorem tax rate 20 per cent higher for 1939 than it was in 1938. It is the purpose of the County reduction to offset this increase to some extent.

All common school taxes will remain the same as they were in 1938.

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court is made up of Noah Ewton, Precinct No. 1; T. W. Roberson, Precinct No. 2; H. D. Cuipepper, Precinct No. 3; and E. T. Allred, Precinct No. 4. They meet in regular session in association with A. J. Schroeter, County Judge.

OVER 4 INCHES RAIN HERE IN TWO WEEKS

Sunday's rainfall here amounted to nearly half an inch in the morning and 1.55 inches in the evening and night—a total of over two inches. This added to the two inches that fell last week gives Hereford a total of four inches of rain in the past two weeks.

In general, the rains were extremely varied to the amount of moisture that fell in various localities. Last Sunday's rain extended barely to Dawn. No rain fell in Canyon. Many localities in the vicinity of Hereford received no rain; others only light showers. The characteristic of the rain seemed to be to fall in spots or streaks.

Most of the feed in the county got good moisture, however, and many of the growers feel that their crop will be better this year than in many years. Wheat farmers are glad to get their ground wet a last time before the last plowing preparatory to the fall sowing.

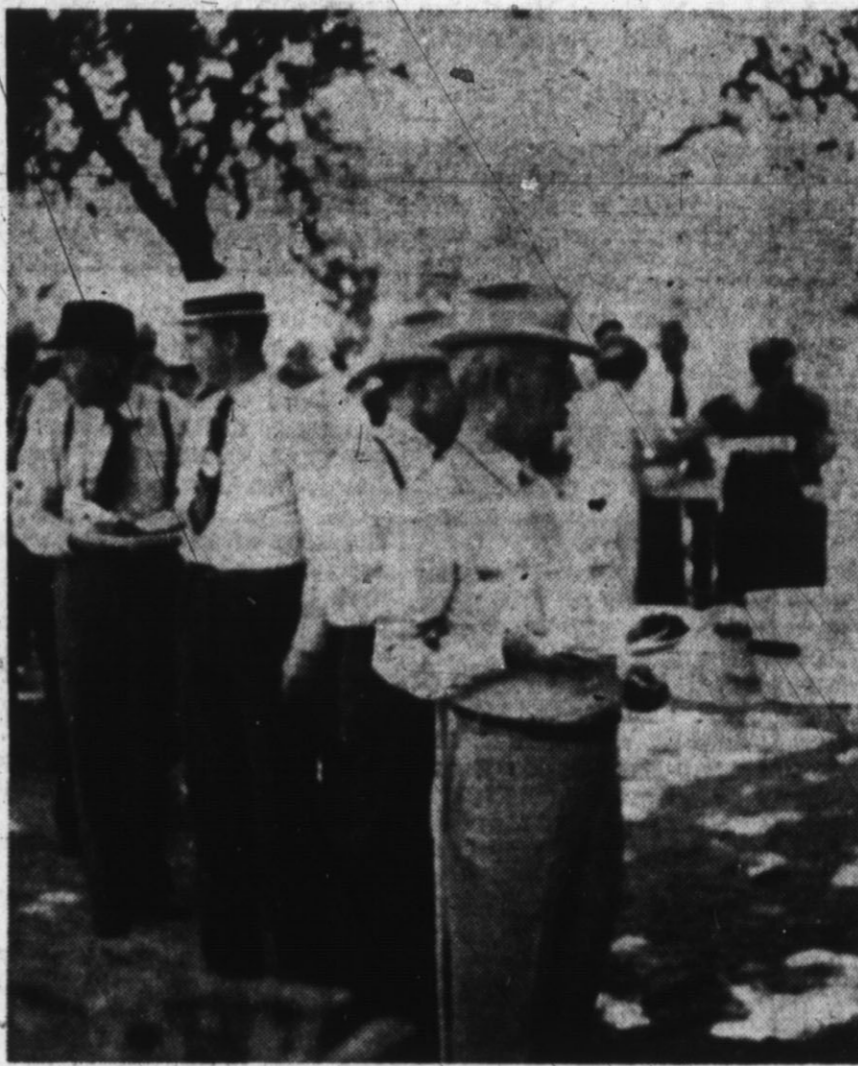

Organize Local Farm Security Medical Co-operative

Plans for the establishment of a Medical Co-operative to benefit the clients of the Farm Security Administration are near completion, and officials state that the program will be in operation by September 1.

The medical cooperative is a part of the Farm Security program in many sections of the United States. It is a plan whereby the clients of Farm Security can be offered emergency medical care at a minimum expense. The set-up is such that the client receives prompt and efficient medical service and the doctors are paid from a common fund.

The local organization is under the supervision of Jim Williams, County Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor. Farm Security Clients in Deaf Smith, Farmer and the north half of Castro Counties will be included in the program. Each family in the cooperative pays $26.00 per year into a general fund, and illnesses and emergencies are paid out of that fund. Rules of the organization are that no

THIS SCENE OF THE NOON LUNCH held for the trippers in the Texas Hereford Association's cattle tour here last Thursday shows Duane Hughes of San Angelo waiting to get a drink of water. Behind Mr. Hughes, wearing the straw hat, is Vance Johnson, of the Amarillo Globe-News. The tour visited 20 herds near Hereford Thursday, which was the second day of the three-day excursion.

DEAF SMITH TAX BOOKS GET O. K. BY STATE AGENT

State Tax Supervisor R. M. Holstead who is employed by the Comptroller of Public Accounts at Austin, has just examined the books in the office of Sheriff J. O. Newell, Deaf Smith County Tax Collector and Assessor, and found them to be in excellent shape and in perfect balance with the State.

The books audited were those kept covering the period from July 1, 1937 to June 30, 1938.

"It is a pleasure to audit a good set of books such as you have here," Mr. Holstead told Fred Baird, who keeps the books.

The biggest day of the largest cattle tour ever staged in the Panhandle was the experience of the members of the Hereford Tour of the Texas Hereford Association here last Thursday.

Twenty herds near Hereford were inspected by the trippers. Some of the finest cattle in the United States are to be found in these herds.

Thursday was the second day of the big three-day tour which visited herds in and around Amarillo, Hereford, Pampa and Canadian. The group had its headquarters at Amarillo, and returned there each night after the day's trip.

The trippers left Amarillo early Thursday morning and arrived at Ed East's place on schedule. Ed, as most Hereford residents know, started breeding cattle in 1919 when he purchased three heifers. Now he has 75 calving cows in his herd, all of which are descendants of the original three animals.

Next stop was at Tom Ivey's on the Tierra Blanca creek. Tom had plenty of good cattle to show to the interested crowd. Many of the finest herds around Hereford were built up from stock bought from Tom Ivey.

Quite a bit of interest was expressed over the herds of Lee Coonaugher and Mrs. R. L. Brady. Lee plans to hold his first auction this fall, and his stock got special attention from interested buyers because of this fact. Mrs. Brady is the owner. (Continued on Page 12)

Bounty Of 2c Each Paid On Dead Rabbits

It has been officially announced that a bounty of 2c per rabbit will be paid by the county on all rabbits killed in Deaf Smith County after Friday, August 18.

In order to collect the bounty the rabbit killer will remove the ears from his kill and bring them to the janitor at the court house. There it will be necessary for him to sign a sworn affidavit that he is a resident of Deaf Smith County and that the rabbits whose ears he bears were killed in this county. He will then receive a penny an ear for bit was worth a nickel, but their ears are worth a penny.

This is the first bounty County officials have placed on dead rabbits in several years. There was a time when each dead rabbit and the four top-ranking number is not sufficient to warrant such high payment at this time.

The bounty payment begins on Friday, August 18. The ears will be accepted at the Court House from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

District Court Will Close July Term This Week

The July session of the 69th Judicial District Court entered the third week of its term here this week with most of its business accomplished. The docket was unusually light this term, and Judge Reese Tatum has stated that he will close the court this week.

At the beginning of the third week, when the criminal docket was taken under consideration, the court had settled several civil cases without the aid of a jury and had attended to routine duties.

Two of the four divorce cases on the docket have been granted. The remaining two will be considered this week.

The first criminal case considered was settled without a jury. All day Wednesday was spent on the second case considered, the first jury verdict was rendered late Wednesday in settlement of the case of the State vs. A. N. and Paul J. King. Two other criminal cases remain to be considered.

The Grand Jury convened Monday after a two-week recess and turned in two indictments. It was then dismissed for the term.

The petit jury lists of those jurors who were to serve during the fourth and fifth weeks of the court's session will not be published because they will have no occasion to serve during this term of court.

In closing the July term of the 69th Judicial District Court here, Judge Tatum commended the attorney's and court officials for their expediency in removing the business of the court. The term will close two weeks before the end of the scheduled five-weeks term, and that much expense will be saved.

Mrs. J. E. Garrison Rites Spoken Here

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon for Mrs. J. E. Garrison, well-known former resident of Hereford and Amarillo, who had made her home in Chicago since 1921. She died last Friday at her home in Chicago.

The rites were conducted at 4:30 P. M. Monday from the Black funeral home here.

Mrs. Garrison was a member of the First Baptist Church. She lived in Hereford before the war, when she went to Amarillo. After her husband's death in 1921 she went to Chicago where she had made her home until her death.

Among the surviving relatives are three daughters, Mrs. J. H. Genrich of Milwaukee, who is the former Miss Zollie Garrison, a teacher of music at the Myer Studio, Amarillo; Mrs. Marvin Pettiford of Van Wert, Ohio, who was Miss Lois Garrison and who taught in the Amarillo schools; and Miss Lucille Garrison of Chicago who formerly was employed by the old Moore-Poston store in Amarillo and (Continued on Page 12)

Every ex-service man and family are especially urged to attend. The picnic will be basket type, and those who attend will bring individual or family baskets.

Jones Presents Outline For New Farm Program

The farm program has become a part of our national life. So long as we have a tariff system, an offset for agriculture is essential to keep the country in balance. This is not a subsidy. It is restitution.

The farm program should and must be continued. However, in the light of experience it should be changed and simplified. It seems that the program of the future should have at least these three essential features:

1. A soil conservation provision under which the government would pay farmers for soil building crops and practices on a definite percentage of the tilled acres of each farm in the problem areas, leaving the farmer free to plant the crops of his choice on the remaining portion of his tilled acres.

2. Disposition of surpluses by subsidizing the distribution of products through regular manufacturing and retail channels to low income groups.

3. A loan provision to prevent price collapse.

Under the first of these provisions would be the conservation of the soil, in which all America is interested. In the long run this would probably afford such adjustment in planting as would be necessary. It would leave the farmer free in the planting of his crops. Many restrictions would be removed. The soil payments would in effect restore to the farmer that which is taken away from him under the tariff structure. In the event further temporary adjustment is necessary, such payments could be conditioned on the farmer's not planting more than a certain percentage of his tilled acres to any one crop.

Under the second provision, much good could be accomplished by securing a wide and free use of the products of the farm. In addition, by handling the manufacturing and distribution through the usual commercial channels, a great deal of labor and employment would be provided. If a considerable portion of the relief funds were used in this way, more might be accomplished in the way of employment than through regular relief channels.

Under the third provision, it may be necessary to have some adjustment of loan rates, but some kind of a loan provision seems to be essential, at least for the present. Otherwise, ruinously low prices might sometimes prevail when a tremendous surplus of any one commodity is produced and thrown on the market during the harvest season.

We cannot afford to ignore the advantages of volume production. We should produce all that the market will absorb both at home and abroad. On the other hand, we cannot afford to have production regardless of price. A fair price to the farmer is essential. Any other steps that might be necessary to assure a fair price should be taken.

These suggestions are not afforded in criticism of the program. Much progress has been made. We cannot afford to turn back. But if we are wise, we will use our experience to simplify the work and thus avoid much of the expense that is essential to the more complicated program.

CHDA NOTES

By Sadie Lee Oliver

"All children seem to like to play on the top of a cellar, so I made this one with a flat top" was the smiling comment of G. E. Thiele when his new cement cellar was being admired. It seems to be just about perfect but he thinks that the windows for ventilation were an unwise choice since sand and dirt can be blown in by the winds. Convenient shelves for storing canned goods fill the south wall while varied items are stored along the north wall. In the entrance steps, Mr. Thiele built risers low enough and treads broad enough to make for easy walking up and down with loads.

One might be right if they called the ornamental plant material at the home of Mrs. Maurice Tannahill a friendship garden. An encouraging number of cuttings grew in the cutting bed. Grasshoppers lake Golden Elder but she has such vigorous plants that to date they are winning the fight.

Plants in flowers at present include Chinese Forgetmenots, Butterflybush, and rose colored Crepe myrtle.

She has the three Symphoricarpos species—Snowberry, Corallberry and Chenaulti. The latter is very fine-leaved.

Weigela should produce a splendid show of blossoms in 1940 because of the well developed shoots grown this season.

One Zinnia flower stalk had three flowers on it, a most unusual growth but not at all freakish in appearance.

Three clothes closets have been made at the M. H. Koelzer home in about one month's time at a very nominal cost. This work was done by Gertrude and Adeline Koelzes who surprised their father by doing a really good job which met with his approval.

Each of the three closets has a rod for coat hangers at a convenient height, shelves for folded garments and articles, a shelf above the rod for hats, and the top shelves for storing bedding. Well fitted doors will keep out dust and the floors can be readily cleaned with a dust mop.

The first one was in the boy's room and in order to build it, they had to cut a new opening into the attic and move the wall ladder installed for possible emergencies such as fire. This made it possible to include a cleaning closet beside the ladder.

The success of this venture inspired them to begin a double clothes closet for two other bedrooms. The material used cost $11.36. Then they papered their bedroom using pastel colors and added a baseboard and floor mold. All improvements for these two rooms cost $16.18. The entire cost was less than $25.00.

MRS. R. H. JOHNSON
This community has had an abundance of rain the past week. Row crops look good, farmers are busy plowing their wheat land. The meeting held by the Church of Christ closed Monday afternoon with a baptizing and sermon at Mr. Stovall's bank. There were eight added to the church; four were baptized Sunday afternoon. They were Mrs. Northcutt, Mrs. Nelson Pierce, Lee Spurlock and William Rice. Those baptized Monday were Mrs. Seals, her son, Buster, and wife, and Mrs. Lee Spurlock. One renewed her covenant with the Lord, Mrs. Whittington. The meeting was a great success in many ways. Rev. Carver is a good, earnest worker, and a good speaker with a desire to give God glory.

Down H-D Club Meets With Mrs. Fleming

"A frame garden is the solution of fall garden plans," stated Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, CHAD, at the meeting of the Dawn Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Dalby Fleming Wednesday afternoon.

Vegetables which may be planted out in the garden, or in frame gardens where they can be enjoyed after others are killed by frost and freeze are radishes, China Rose, Black Spanish and white which are all delicious in meat sandwiches, Lettuce, varieties Grand Rapids and Simpson, Japanese Turnips, which are resistant to bugs, Detroit Dark Red Beets, rich in vitamin A, and Nantes Carrots, a variety which is very crisp, sweet, but a poor shipper. Other vegetables include kohlrabi, which does best when crowded, Savoy, a crinkled spinach, New Zealand Spinach, which is preferred by many because it has less fiber, Swiss Chard, which comes up from the roots if froz- en, and onions which should be included for winter seasoning, the Spanish sweet being a good variety because it will keep well. Yendegreen should be included in any planting because it is the most delicious of all the mustard. Rotonone will take care of all the bugs in the fall garden and is very desirable because it is non poisonous.

TEXAS OUT-DOORS

Quail restoration work in Texas continues to advance with the announcement here that the United States Soil Conservation Service and the Texas Game and Fish Commission will cooperate in a 41,000-acre project in Falls, Milam, and Bell counties on the North Elm Creek watershed, 18 miles northeast of Temple.

Agreement to use the solid block of 42,000 acres for the restoration of quail and for the demonstration of sound farming practices by the Soil Conservation Service was reached by Will Tucker, executive secretary of the Game Department, and Homer G. Towns, regional biologist in charge of the Soil Conservation Service wild-life program. The project is the largest attempted by the Game Department in quail restoration work and it is believed that fully 100,000 acres of Texas black and area will be benefited by the overflow of quail to be raised on the project proper.

The Game Department and Soil Conservation Service are cooperating in providing natural and permanent improvements on the land which, it is believed, will restore quail to a ratio of approximately one acre of one bird to six acres for the entire 42,000 acres.

Fenced areas ranging from one-fourth to five acres in size will be constructed on each of the 240 farms in the North Elm Creek area. From one to ten of these will be placed on each farm, depending on the size of that specific land owner's acreage. These areas are fenced to exclude cattle and sheep and to prevent over-grazing of the foods and cover needed by quail. A large variety of shrubs, which will provide shelter for the quail, will also be planted throughout the area. Large sections of fence rows which are now without vegetation of any kind will be planted with bushes. These will not only provide suitable habitat for quail but will also assist in preventing soil erosion. Gullies, many of which in the area are now clear will also be planted with shrubs which will also check erosion and provide food and shelter for bob whites.

It has been demonstrated many times that wildlife management and sound farming practices go hand in hand. Cooperation by the Game Department and the Soil Conservation Service on the North Elm Creek project will still further tend to demonstrate this double-barreled improvement of farm lands.

Dr. A. J. Nicholson, regional game manager for the Game Department, and Robert Mauerhann, an assistant biologist for the Department, have been assigned to cooperate with Soil Conservation Service officials on the project.

Raising quail by providing natural cover and a sufficient food supply has reached the point where there are now projects under way in 16 counties of the State, it is announced by Phil Goodrum, Director of Research and Education for the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. By providing sufficient food and cover for birds, it has been found they will increase appreciably without the State resorting to re-stocking.

The general plan of fencing areas ranging in sizes from one-quarter to five acres to prevent stock over-grazing the section being followed in the majority of the counties in which the quail restoration projects are being carried on.

In the past the majority of the areas in the experimental project have proved highly successful in quail raising and it is believed certain that most of the projects now under way will do a great deal towards re-stocking the birds in the various localities. The counties in which the projects are being carried on are Guadalupe, Clay, Brazoria, Jasper, Orange, Polk, Taylor, Wharton, Liberty, Bell, Falls, Colorado, Milam, Lubbock, Taylor, and Harris.

The woods and plains of Texas abound with unusual stories but the most unique occurrence observed recently was in Hudspeth County, where a herd of 25 antelope was seen chasing two coyotes for several miles. State Game Warden W. D. Stubblefield was riding with Bob Ingram of El Paso along a draw on the old Mitchell Ranch when suddenly a coyote came up over the ridge with approximately 25 antelope in close pursuit. Stubblefield stopped his car. The antelope chased the coyotes over the other side of the ridge without noticing the men, who then drove to the top of the ridge and saw that the antelope were still pursuing the coyote. First one and then the other closed in on El Coyote.

Suddenly another coyote jumped up with the first coyote and Stubblefield and Ingram continued to watch the unusual pursuit for approximately a mile. Then the coyotes and the antelopes made a turn towards the car. When the antelope spied it they stopped, stood for a few seconds, then took out across the hills. The coyotes also disappeared rapidly—in the other direction.

Pure albino squirrels, that is those which are all white and have pink eyes, are extremely rare but are occasionally found in Texas woods. However, the spotted squirrel, which is black and brown is even more unusual. In fact, the first of that type to be reported to the Game Department was found just recently. Yet, strange as it may seem, an albino squirrel and a black and brown nut-eater were both found within a few miles of each other near the East Bernard River not far from Cat Spring, Texas, recently. Mr. Emmett Knevton of Cat Spring captured the albino when it was extremely young and has raised it in his back yard. Mr. Knevton also reported the black and brown spotted squirrel, which was killed by a hunter near his place.

Bird migrations from the North into Texas has already started. Long billed curlews and upland plovers have been seen in south-central Texas. They are the forerunners of a number of other species of migratory birds which include not only many species of ducks and geese but song and insectivorous birds such as robins, starlings, meadow larks, mourning doves, several varieties of sparrows, warblers of several different kinds, and buntings.

Teal, one of the smaller species of ducks are usually among the first of the ducks to migrate south each year. However, hunters generally regard them as migrating in September, October, and November. Representatives of the Game Department sighted teal as far south as Laredo in early August last year.

Parents Advised On Birth Certificates

AUSTIN—Parents of children starting school for the first time this fall are urged by the State Department of Health to make sure that they have a birth registration certification regarding their child and if not, to take proper legal steps as soon as possible to obtain this record.

Parents who do not have registration notification of the birth of their child are advised to contact their local registrar of vital statistics with whom the certificate was originally filed.

In many Texas school districts, a notification of birth certification is required to prove the child is old enough to enter school. As the Vital Statistics Department will be called upon to answer numerous requests for school certificates, securing this record early will speed up the process of securing the needed forms before school opens.

Acquiring a record of birth is not only an important part of the task of getting the child ready for school but is an essential item in the larger job of preparing the child for the future. The time will come when he will need a record of his birth. The proper registration now will prevent difficulty later in his life.

In addition to its importance at the time of admission to school, birth registration may be necessary for obtaining a work permit, an automobile driver's permit, the right to vote and the right to marry; for proof of parentage, inheritance of property, settlement of insurance and in establishing identity.

Remove Summer Stains Quickly

Summer stains from fruits and beverages, automobile grease, rust or mildew require immediate attention if they are to be satisfactorily removed, Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, Texas A. and M. College Extension Service specialist in the clothing, advises.

It's best to begin work on removing spots immediately, she says, for old stains which have been "set" by improper treatment are frequently hard to remove. "Before using anything else," she suggests, "try the simple, universal remedy—cold water. It does no harm and may do wonders, for it sets no stain, endangers no dyes."

Any water spot remaining may be steamed out easily.

"In removing a fruit stain, coffee, or tea, stretch the stained part over a pan and then pour boiling water on it from a height so that the water will strike the stain with force," Mrs. Barnes says. She adds that Javelle water is also good for removing these stains.

Many stain removers had best be purchased compounded, but a number can be made at home, Mrs. Barnes says, listing Javelle water, oxalic acid, and potassium permanganate in this classification. In making Javelle water, dissolve one pound of sal soda or pearl ash in one quart of boiling water, and dissolve one pound of chloride of lime in two quarts of cold water. Strain both liquids and combine when cool. Bottle and keep in a cool, dark place. When applying a chemical, use a medicine dropper, she advises.

"For automobile grease, axel grease, or tar, use kerosene; then wash the article in soap and water," Mrs. Barnes says. "Clothing affected by mildew should be soaked in lemon juice or vinegar and salt and then placed in the sunshine. In removing iron rust use any of the following: Lemon juice, salt and sunshine; Javelle water; or commercial iron rust eradicator."

The World's Largest Plow

ISA

Krause One - Way

This plow will be surprising as they call it a Light Plow only. When you get it in stubble land, it will do the job the same as the ordinary One-Way that you use for deep plowing. Any farmer who has experience of re-plowing the second time will certainly take interest in this plow, because it is a light draft plow to pull for its size. Considering the durability of the plow it will stand up to long years of service.

This plow will be demonstrated, Tuesday, August 22, at the Frank S. Wilde farm, 6 miles east of Hereford, on Highway 60, north of Jowell Switch, at 1 p. m.

Anyone interested in the Worlds Largest Plow, come see it work. There will also be three different sizes of plows.

The long string of cars coming out 25 mile avenue Thursday morning, caused quite an excitement. They proved to be those visiting the registered Hereford herds over the Panhandle going to see the S. P. Rosson herd. There were 72 cars and about 200 people. There was a loud speaker on one of the cars and a talk was given by one of the men giving the pedigree of Mr. Rosson's fine Bulls and the size of his herd. They also told that Mr. Rosson raised the feed on his irrigated farm for all of his live stock and that he fed out approximately 200 steers each year. He boosts

Manamor Feeds very highly as he feeds that with his ground feed. They also stated that Mr. Rosson believes in irrigating grass when it is at all possible because it keeps the grass in so much better shape and it will therefore feed so many more head per acre. Their stay at each place was very limited and they stayed about 15 minutes at Mr. Rosson's place.

HEREFORD

BULL

By Jimmie Gilentine

Guess this vacation rest is not so hot after all—looked over a bunch of these birds that took off for the Mountains for a week of rest and decided that the old boys that stuck around on the job look a lot fresher and are a lot better off without that faraway look in their eyes. Doug Fox and Frank Marrs were the first two home, Doug made it back to the job in a couple of days and Frank is still off, Sherman Morgan had to have an extra day off after getting home before he could play ball with this new Stream-lined paper. Ernest Medkief, says he may be all right in a couple of weeks in the country, Dr. Hendrix and Lama Beavers haven't been seen, Abe Martin says he would have lost ten pounds up there easy only he didn't have it to lose. Owen Stagner could not even lick his own stamps for a few days and Lawrence Womble just won't talk, Frank Cogdell says there wasn't any fish where he was except suckers, he wouldn't say whether he joined the crowd or not, I haven't talked to any of the ladies that went along so don't know anything about them and if I did I wouldn't tell it.

Quite a lot of comment about the swimming pool but as yet no suggestions. Strange thing that you can't get any ideas from a few people. If you would slip out to one of these night ball games and hear how many guys can tell the players how to catch or hit a ball, or tell the umpire how far he missed a decision on a play or how far off he is on some rule, you wouldn't ever dreamed that these strong lunged birds would be one bit backward about a suggestion on how, when and where to build a swimming pool where we have water, water everywhere and not a hole to swim in.

Charjotte and Harold Close had another dog tragedy at their house this week, some hit and run driver ran over Poochie and killed it, Poochie wasn't a Scottie but he had about the same coat and was black, I suggested that they try some other kind of a dog rather than a Scottie as this is three they have lost. Charlotte said, no she was going to lay off black dogs and get something on the order of a Holstein, Dominecker or some thing, anyway a spotted one.

Just heard that Cecil Gunter who has been in the Hospital in Amarillo for a couple of weeks following an operation, is well on the road to recovery, Cecil is a good old boy if there ever was one and the kind of a fellow that will crawl out of bed any time of night to help a friend and neighbor and to know him is to like him.

Jimmie will be back next week and might be a good time to leave town for me, I won't brag about anything I have said but you will have to admit, you have had this column two weeks without anything being said about sheep or sheep herders.

Health Teaching Is Neglected

Austin, Texas, August 17—Assembling of students in the schools of the State next month calls to public attention the definite health responsibility of parents and teachers, as well as health workers, and is the subject of an address from the State Department of Health to the citizenship.

"A public health education program is an outstanding factor in the development of the physical, mental, and social welfare of the school children of today," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "Health teaching should be a basic part of every educational program."

"Practically every phase of the school system is related to health. Housing, screening, diet, disposal of wastes, exercise, rest, even the manner of daily contact with others, all have a direct bearing on health. Schools must treat the child as a whole—with his physical condition related definitely to his mental and emotional capacities."

"Prevention is the all important factor in the control of communicable disease. 'Communicable'—as we all know—describes that kind of disease which may be imparted or transmitted from one person to another, either

"ON THE HARD"

Native Bahamian sponging-sloops, high and dry on a beach, are a frequent sight in Nassau. For this coral island in the Bahamas is one of the few spots in the world where sail has not lost out to the mechanical age. Sloops, when in need of repair, are hauled up on the dry beach, called "hard and dry," where the crew can easily get to work on them.

by personal contact or through some other method. One by one, the communicable diseases, such as smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, and typhoid fever, are being controlled by preventives or immunizing agents. It is much better for all concerned that the child should be protected from ever taking these diseases, which often leave some condition that will cause trouble later in life.

"Assume your responsibility in the community and work for the development of health education which will pave the way to a better health for the future."

ANDERSON-SCHULZ WEDDING IS ANNOUNCED

Announcements have been received here of the wedding on August 2, of Miss Helen Anderson of Laurel, Mississippi and Rev. Ray Schulz of this city. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. B. H. Anderson in Laurel with the Rev. H. M. Sanalin officiating. The bride was attractive in ashes of roses lace and wore a corsage of pink roses and forget-me-nots. Her accessories were white.

Mrs. Schulz attended the Laurel high school and last year she attended the Schield of Faith Bible Institute of Ft. Worth, Texas.

Rev. Schulz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schulz of Hereford. He is a member of the 1937 graduating class of Hereford High School and for the past two years has attended the Schield of Faith Bible Institute in Ft. Worth.

The young couple will make their home in Laurel, Miss.

What Goes On Here??

A Column of Fun and Amusements BY MARY JANE MORGAN

Well, schuckins. Our faith in human nature has been shattered. But if the Tackless Texan can tell fish stories that don't even begin or end with fish, so can we. That one last Thursday took the cake, judging from inside stuff received on the vacation, in question. No how, here's for bigger and better stories, fish or otherwise.

There has been the swellest big mad going around this last week but it looks now as if things and people were cooling off... dash it! It was so much fun. Battle honors went to the side that got there firstest with the mostest men. But don't they usually?

While on the subject, "SECOND FIDDLE," coming up Sunday and Monday near a "current rage" is likely to be found right now. This is no recommendation much, but the afore-said Tackless Texan said it was easily worth seeing. Edna May Oliver as Aunt Phoebe nearly steals the Picture, in her imitable angular way, he said.

Sonja Henie is a little Minnesota school teacher who longs for a chance in the big lights. Before long, she has one. Tyrone Power, a studio publicity man, goes after her to bring her to Hollywood. From that point on she experiences everything Hollywood demands of a "find" for filming a popular novel. Ty Power arranges a publicity romance for her with Rudy Vallee, an already victimized fellow, and "shore" nuff she takes Vallee's supposed attentions seriously. When she learns from Mary Healy, his jealous fran, that it was all a gag, she flees to the comforting arms, of Lyle Talbot, her north woods hero. But not for long.

Six new Irving Berlin songs are played by Rudy's orchestra in this picture, Edna May Oliver tries jitterbugging, and a new dance "Back to Back" is introduced.

The cobwebs were cleared off the ceiling and dust was swept from the floor of the State park clubhouse, once a popular dance spot, the other afternoon. In place of these unwelcome clutterings, others, namely balloons and colored crepe paper were arranged. In short, the results were admirable. The balloons looked as if they were just aching to be burst, and the crepe paper as if it might stay longer than was expected.

All this was for a dance honoring Barbara Brotherton. She's the lucky mug who gets to leave town pretty soon, ya know. Elyse Wilkins and Lois Standifer were the instigators of the affair. Just before the shindig, prospective participants including totally Maggie Miller, Ray Nunn, Lois Standifer, Porky Brumley, Barby Brotherton, Bob Moffett, Dorothy Nell Trimbelle, and Bunky Daniel fortified themselves with delicacies a la buffet fashion up at Elyse Wilkin's, Billie-the-Boo-Patton was there too.

Comes the middle of the dance and Faysie Crosthwaite, Cotton Harrington, Vinnie Stewart, Helton A. Snyder, Nan Binford of Vega, and three gentlemen from Vega all leave for greener fields of entertainment in Amarillo.

And that was all. Today's and tomorrow's diversion should really divert, if the critics haven't just been "a" woofin. In the "KID FROM KOKOMO" Pat O'Brien is a gyp off the old block, and a fight manager to boot; Wayne Morris is a prize-fighter who wants his mamma; Joan Blondell had a career of bubble-dancing... 'til fate stuck a pin in it!; and May Robson is Shoplifting Sadie with a heart of gold and a sleeve full of silver. This is not original, but it struck us as being humorous.

May Robson has one good scene in this in which she is appearing before night court on a charge of shoplifting some bathroom scales from a drugstore. She's more than slightly tipsy, but in defending herself she remarks that she just finds things... before they're lost. This is a funny picture, even if we do hate to admit it.

More injuries around here. Hicks Roberson is all cut up about the matter... in fact to the extent that he lost his appendix the other day. Donald Ray McCullough tripped either up or down a ladder, he says, and hurt his foot enough to have it swathed in bandages, and to hobble about on crutches.

Softball is still being played around here they say. From the looks of some of the games played here and not played last week, we wouldn't know. Friday night the Odd Fellows must have thought it was going to rain, or something, so they did not show up at all. It rained.

We're running out of soap. This has been a singularly dull week.

Prices on flour were hitting near bottom last week in a flour war at Friona. One day a fellow went to a store to take advantage of the war. He said he was a big sheepman from some place south of there. Bein' as how he had so many sheep, and so many shepherds to feed, he bought some of the flour, and that was the last seen of him. But not here. For the rest of the week, friends tickled pink at the idea phoned the "big sheep man" to ask for jobs herding, and stuff. Hmm, seems like Glenn Weir does look a "little sheepish" over the matter, at that.

If this has lost its humor to anybody involved, or if there's anything rotten in Denmark about this, too bad... that's the way we heard it. Only thing, though, before this is all over we may be wishing we had read more of Dale Carnegie's "How To Lick The World." May need it.

By the way, the picture that'll be here Wednesday is "6000 ENEMIES." Gee whizz, can't ya just sympathize with that guy who had all of 'em? He was listed on the Calendar as Victor McLagien, but this is a fellow of a different complexion entirely, Walter Pidgeon. This is a story of a district attorney who sent so many people to the Pen that a vice lord decided to send him, too, for good measure. No sooner said, than done, and Little Walter was carted off to the big house on a framed charge of bribery.

Everybody picks on him something awful after he gets there, but he's such a noble fellow that they begin to like him. While employed as a prison plumber he meets Rita Johnson, a girl he had wrongfully convicted, and decides she's the berries. At the end, the mistreated D. A. sends the crook who framed him to the electric chair, and then marries the gal. Some fun. The

BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINS HUSBANDS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lomas were hosts Tuesday evening at an enjoyable bridge party when members of the Pleasure Hour Bridge Club entertained husbands. Annual fringed phlox provided the floral note in decorations. Couple prizes in the games of bridge were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips, high and to Mr. and Mrs. Chris Renfro, second high.

Refreshments were served to Messers and Mesdames; B. R. Dixon, Elmo Lawhon, Roy Jowell, W. J. Smith, Boyd London, Earl Phillips, Chris Renfro and the hosts.

Reports of excellent prospects for a big quail and dove crops in Texas continue to pour into the Game Department's office from many sections of the state.

prison scenes and life are supposed to be realistic. If you yearn to be a crook, this picture out to turn that desire into ashes in your mouth, or something.

Work is going forward on our building and equipment. Will be open for business about AUGUST 24th

High Ceilings Not Any Cooler

Old-fashioned ideas that high ceilings are cooler than low ones are becoming as obsolete as button shoes and bustles, popular in the same era. Proof that high ceilings are no cooler was obtained in recent engineering tests, says Mrs. Bernice Clayton, specialist in home improvement for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Rooms with high ceilings are harder to heat and therefore more expensive in winter as well as being without advantage in the summertime, Mrs. Clayton added. This conclusion is another result of a study of farm home construction in which the United States Department of Agriculture and the University of Georgia have been cooperating.

Explaining how this evidence was obtained, the specialist pointed out that walls in two test houses were constructed with interchangeable panels, so that the location and number of doors and windows and the height of the ceiling could be altered at will. Thermometers on the walls did not reveal any significant difference in favor of 10-foot ceilings as compared with eight-foot ceilings, the result showed.

"A desirable arrangement of windows and doors to provide cross ventilation and to take advantage of the prevailing breezes does far more to make rooms comfortable than high ceilings," Mrs. Clayton said.

Amarillo College Offers Scholarships

The Amarillo College Board of Trustees has granted at the request of Dean Folsom D. Jackson, of the college department of fine arts, two vocal scholarships to be given to one boy and one girl who will be freshmen in the college this coming session. The recipients of these scholarships will be chosen from those participating in a contest to be held in the college auditorium Saturday afternoon, August 19, at one o'clock. Also Dean Jackson is planning to hold a contest to choose his accompanist Saturday morning, August 19, at ten o'clock.

These scholarships include tuition, fees and two lessons per week for the coming year. It is open only to freshmen. However, any student of the Panhandle and the surrounding territory may apply and compete. Competition for these scholarships will be held Saturday afternoon, August 19, at one o'clock. If the applicant does not have an accompanist, the college will furnish one. The song is to be one of the applicants own choosing. Any questions may be addressed to Dean Folsom D. Jackson, 2037 Hayden Street, Amarillo, Texas Phone 8781.

Home Demonstration Clubs To Hold Sale

It has been announced that the Home Demonstration Clubs of Deaf Smith County will hold a bake sale at Bellah's Gracery on next Saturday, August 19, 1939.

Every variety of pies, cakes, breads, and other homemade foods will be on sale at the store. Everyone is invited to inspect the wares of the ladies. The sale will close Saturday night, and everyone is advised to come early in order to get the pick of the articles while they are freshest.

There's No Place Like Home

Better lighted stairways, elimination of small rugs on highly waxed floors, periodic inspection of electric connections and appliances will do much toward preserving the sentiment of "Home Sweet Home."

This suggestion of Mrs. Bernice Clayton, specialist in home improvement for the Extension Service of A. and M. College, who says increasing numbers of accidents in the home may eventually change the song to "Home Is Sweet but Dangerous."

Almost 50 percent of all accidents occur in the home, so it would be advisable to have first aid stations in the home as well as on the highways, Mrs. Clayton says. First aid kits should be kept handy, and members of the family should be instructed concerning the administering of aid to the injured, the specialist advises.

If a few precautions are taken such as those previously listed, Mrs. Clayton concludes, the percentage of accidents in the home can be materially reduced.

HOLDING HIS PLATE FOR a helping of barbecue is D. L. McDonald of Amarillo whose fine herd of registered Herefords drew enthusiastic comment from the members of the Texas Hereford Association's cattle tour here last Thursday. The man on Mr. McDonald's right is Dr. W. J. Jenkins of Galveston, who delivered and has charge of the famous quadruplets, born there a few months ago.

Cherry Crop Is Unusually Big

"Can you bake a cherry pie?" is a good question to ask this year's bride, for this year's cherry crop will probably be the largest in history according to estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Since cherries are so plentiful Nora Ellen Elliott, A. and M. College Extension Service specialist in food preparation, suggests marks of quality to be demanded when selecting cherries—whether the fruit is sweet or sour, home grown or bought at the market.

"Good cherries have a bright fresh appearance. They are juicy, plump, but fairly firm," Miss Elliott says, "and they are well-colored, too—red, black, or yellow flushed with red, depending on their variety."

Sweet cherries left on their stems make colorful garnishes for salads, fruit cups, or meat plates, and pitted, they mix well with other fruits and are appetizing in gelatin dishes, Miss Elliott points out.

On the other hand, sour cherries are more often cooked, usually in pies, as sauce, or in preserves, yet the major portion of this year's crop is destined to go into pies, Miss Elliott says.

The cherry version of the Boston Cream pie is especially delicious. Use your favorite white cake or whole egg recipe and put cherry filling between the layers. Cherry sauce made from sweetened, cooked cherries is an excellent addition to blanc mange, rice, and other puddings, and it's good served over plain cake or short-cake.

While not so common, pickled cherries give zest, color and flavor to wintertime meals. Pickled cherries are made from pitted large, red, sour, fruit.

Participants in the 1937 AAA farm program applied forestry practices on nearly 89,000 acres. This included planting, maintaining and improving stands of trees. Any Texas farmer can earn $7.50 an acre, within limits of his soil-building allowance, for planting forest trees.

Under the 1939 Crop Insurance program, 146,000 acres of 3,700 in Texas—insured a production of 70,000,000 bushels by paying approximately 7,000,000 bushels into the insurance reserve.

Conservation practices that improve conditions for native wildlife are being observed on more than 50,000,000 acres of privately owned land under the AAA program, according to R. M. Evans, AAA administrator.

In cities, more than half of the injury accidents occur at intersections.

The American home now runs a close second to traffic for first place in the number of persons killed and injured each year in accidents.

It is easy to be wise if you only associate with fools.

Those who enforce the law should accept the example of obedience.

Hereford Breeders

er of one of the oldest herds in Texas. It was started 41 years ago.

The Palomino horses on the R. W. Elliston place almost stole the show from the fine herd of cattle there.

S. R. Rosson showed a herd that is excellent evidence of the advantages of irrigation and careful feeding.

J. A. Pitman was justly proud of the enthusiastic comments from the crowd as his herd was inspected.

The highlight of the morning trip was the inspection of the prize herd of D. L. McDonald, three miles north of town. Here, amid well kept sheds and expertly stacked alfalfa, the trippers saw one of the finest displays of registered cattle ever seen. McDonald irrigates his pastures as well as his feed crop, and his stock shows it. His sire bull, Advance Domino Mischief, attracted warranted praise from the cattle experts.

At noon the group was fed in true Panhandle style with a barbecue that consisted of choice meat cooked in expert fashion. Only an hour was spent under the tall trees in the State Park, and then the group was on its scheduled way to the farm of G. W. Brumley.

The Brumley herd was no less admired than the McDonald herd, though the number of prize animals was smaller.

Attracting the most interest in the afternoon was the herd of Elmer Dameron, President of the Deaf Smith County Breeders Association. Elmer admittedly has a herd second to none, and every breeder on the tour figuratively took off his hat to the manner in which the animals were fed and cared for. In addition to the excellent improvements on his farm, Mr. Dameron has recently constructed a feeding barn at his home where he intends to feed out some of his special stock.

Other herds visited in the afternoon were those of C. B. Williams, E. B. Black, R. L. Higgins, W. M. Stewart, E. W. Womble, J. M. White, Jim Jenkins and R. L. Campbell.

An added experience of the Thursday tour was the difficulty some of the members experienced in finding their way from one place to another. Everyone managed to get together in time, however. Some of the cars got stuck rather thoroughly as a result of the sudden rain that overtook the afternoon excursion, but nothing more than a slight delay came of these inconveniences. The party was all back at Amarillo headquarters by 10 that night.

Every important herd in the Panhandle was on the three-day itinerary, and important cattlemen from all over the nation were counted among the enthusiastic trippers. A roll call of those present would lead to a boreome name-calling, as over 250 breeders and dealers made up the tour. All important officials in the Texas Breeder's Association were there, and recognized cattlemen from every locality were seen among the members of the tour. A total of fifty herds were visited, and every member of the tour was able to glean a new idea from each stop.

The Dominion of Canada is the world's largest source of platinum.

Mr. Streu is now busy with plans for the Boy Scout Camp which will be held the beginning August 20 at Ceta Glen.

Semi-Finals

(Continued from Page 1) header will be set for each night of the semi-finals, it is absolutely essential that the first teams to play each night be ready to start play at 8:15 sharp. Officials ask that the teams involved pay particular attention to getting an early start in order that the competition can be carried on without any inconvenience.

The championship game will be played on Friday night, August 25.

The four teams which will play the preliminary elimination, or semi-final games are the Plowboys, Knights of Columbus, Lions and the High School and Odd Fellows tied for fourth place.

Hay fever sufferers will begin to feel the effects of rag weed pollen during the month of September, and the State Department of Health again urges that local civic and municipal organizations start now eradicating all rag weed before the plant starts blooming. By cutting rag weed now, the pollen content of the air will be greatly reduced during the fall months, and hay-fever sufferers will be greatly benefited.

A pamphlet containing complete information relative to the accepted principles of rag weed control may be secured free of charge upon request from the State Department of Health, Austin, Texas.

Paul Baker

(Continued from Page 1) The three years from 1934 to 1937 Paul spent as instructor of drama at Baylor University. Then he received a General Education Board Fellowship to study in the Yale Department of Drama. He was there from 1937 to 1939, and at the end of his course there he was awarded his M. A. degree in fine arts. In addition to his regular long session courses, Paul has had two summer courses in the University of Wisconsin, and he has made survey trips of the drama in New York, England, Germany, Russia, North China and Japan.

His professional work has included summers at Little Theatre by the Sea, Rhode Island, and Ridgway Theatre, White Plains, N. Y.

Rev. Baker was pastor of the Presbyterian Church here from November 23, 1907 to June 1, 1919 when he resigned to go to Waxahachie to be associated with Trinity University. He has been in Waxahachie since that time. Paul was born in Hereford shortly before his father resigned his pastorate here.

(Continued from Page 1) Hereford, Dr. Stover of Friona and Dr. Johnson of Farwell. A standard rate for calls and cases has been agreed upon by these doctors, and they will present their fees to the Farm Security Administration for payment. The remainder of the general fund left from the allowable one-twelfth expended is to be used in paying the doctors and hospital fees.

The general fund will be in charge of a bonded trustee. Accumulation of excess funds will be taken care of by emergency and epidemic conditions.

The operation of the cooperative is not for profit. It is established for the purpose of insuring medical care to Farm Security Clients in case of illness and emergency and at the same time guaranteeing payment of medical fees.

Officials estimate that 200 clients will subscribe to the benefits of the medical cooperative. The services are available only to clients of the Farm Security. Rules of the organization specify what conditions of illness are to be classified as emergency and therefore eligible for treatment under the terms of the cooperative program. Organization of the Farm Security Medical Cooperation is expected to be watched closely by interested non-members who feel that some form of medical insurance needs to be established for the benefit of other families whose budgets will not allow provision for emergency medical care. Several movements are under way throughout the nation to establish group medicine facilities for persons in this category.
