Titles At Stake Today 3 Schoolboy

By the Associated Press

Three more district titles may be decided today in the state high school football race, but that district committees would have to decide are possible.

Eleven teams already have won their district championships and are ready for bi-district play.

Nacogdoches defeated Livingston 13 to 0 last night to wear the crown of District 12 and will meet Tyler, of District 11, at Tyler next week.

In District 13, Lamar (Houston) can win the title by defeating Milby (Houston) today. A tie or loss by Lamar would throw it to a tie with Jeff Davis (Houston).

In District 3, Odessa would take the title if San Angelo beats Sweetwater today. Odessa is scheduled to play San Angelo today, but both Odessa and Sweetwater have lost one time. If Sweetwater wins today, it will tie with Odessa.

Breckenridge is defeated in District 9 and can take the title by defeating Cisco today. Should Cisco win, it would throw Breckenridge and Mineral Wells into a tie for the crown.

Evelyn Stallings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stallings, received a total of 60 grade points to earn a place on the mid-semester honor roll at McMurry college. Twelve points are given for an A and nine for a B.

Among those on the mid-semester honor roll at Abilene Christian College are Barbara and Betty Fay Collins, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Collins, and Natalie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Smith of Big Spring.

Private R. A. White, Jr., Co. D., 159th Infantry Regiment, of Big Spring has been released from active military service, having received his honorable discharge and "Certificate of Service" in conformity with the service extension act of 1941.

In a department store at Dallas the largest candle in the world has been lighted to burn six weeks each Christmas for the next 200 years. Burned continuously, it would last 18,500 days or 50 years. It is 12 feet tall, weighs 4,600 pounds, has been under process since April. Since that date the giant wick has been constantly dipped every two minutes, for a total of 25,000 times, into a cauldron of molten beeswax. Value is $5,000.

In carrying an announcement of the birth of Harman David Owens, Jr., the Herald erred in listing the parents names. Of course, it should have been Owens, too. Mother and son are still doing well.

Grady Acuff, down Coahoma way, for one knows that cut lines describing a gin picture were slightly off. The description listed it as a Big Spring gin, when in reality the shot was of Acuff's place at Coahoma.

Thomas J. Higgins, Jr., Big Spring, is now a member of the first class of cadets in the new air corps replacement center at Kelly Field, Texas. He is a graduate of the local high school and had two years in Texas Tech where he majored in mechanical engineering. Following five weeks of training he will go into an advance school of flying for 30 weeks.

Harvest Slackens In Mitchell Co.

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 27—The cotton harvest in Mitchell county fell off sharply during the past week, the total increasing only about a third as much as in previous weeks.

The harvest is still expected to go past the 20,000-bale mark, however, the total at mid-week being around 28,000 bales.

were reported to have posed fresh threats to Moscow. The situation of the red army was said to have been "aggravated" in the past 24 hours in the Volokolamsk sector, 65 miles northwest of Moscow.

The Moscow newspaper Izvestia said that the Germans had thrown "huge forces" in an attempt to build up numerical superiority for their many-pointed offensive toward the Russian capital. The Germans were attempting both frontal assault and encirclement.

In Russia, the German high command said, the red army has lost heavily near and north of Rostov-On-Don, at the southern end and been frustrated in a new attempt to break out of the Leningrad siege in the north.

Advices to Pravda, the organ of the communist party, acknowledged that the Germans had made some advances toward Moscow. In this, they paralleled the Nazi war bulletin which, without detail, merely said there had been fresh German progress in the central and northern sector of the Russian front.

Most of the German pressure before Moscow apparently was directed at the extremes of the arc. The Nazis are pressing steadily closer toward the red capital from north and south.

Stopped by strong points of the Russian defenses there, the Germans seemed to be sidestepping them to cut around and draw their semi-circle behind the city.

Airheart Family Is Entertained

KNOTT, Nov. 27 (Sp)—Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Airheart entertained Mrs. Airheart's family and their children with a dinner in their home Sunday. The family reunion was attended by Mrs. Wyatt Berry of Garden Grove, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Ben Elliot of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Airheart, all of Ackerly; Mrs. J. E. Airheart and children, Jimmy, Donald, Judith Ann and Quinton Elmore, of Sparanburg, Ava Marie Airheart and Mr. and Mrs. Airheart and son. In the afternoon the group made a trip to Latta to visit a brother, John Latty, and family. Latty has been ill for several months and was unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shockley and their mother, Mrs. Ethel Shockley, and Beverly Ann Shockley spent last weekend visiting their sister and daughter, Mrs. Eddie Harrison and family of Berger, enroute they visited another sister, Mrs. L. W. Carr and family at Lovington, N. M. Mrs. Shockley plans to spend several weeks there before returning.

W. M. Sisco and Grady Castle of Abilene spent Tuesday night and Wednesday visiting and attending to business here.

Mrs. Wyatt Berry of Garden Grove, Calif., is spending several weeks here with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Airheart.

Don Fleming, brother of Mrs. C. J. Martin, who is in Glendale, Calif., in army mechanical training, sends word that he is half finished with his course and by

Rites Set For Mrs. Hammans Of Colorado

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 27—Funeral services were to be held from Kiker & Son chapel here at 2 p. m. Thursday for Mrs. Nancy Ann Hammans, 73, who died at the local hospital Wednesday morning following a five-day illness.

Mrs. Hammans, widow of the late John M. Hammans, had lived in southern Mitchell county for 34 years. She was born Nancy Ann McDonald in Arkansas on August 18, 1868. She was married to Mr. Hammans in Arkansas on March 11, 1894. Mr. Hammans died in May, 1932. Mrs. Hammans belonged to the Baptist church.

Survivors include five daughters—Mrs. H. E. Vansandt of Tennyson, Texas; Mrs. Jim Boyd of Hyman; Mrs. R. P. Lindley of Colorado City; Mrs. Chas. Williams of Route 2, Colorado City; Mrs. J. I. Lane of Route 2, Colorado City; four sons—Furter of Route 2, George of Dallas, Mike and Bill of Colorado City; three step-sons—W. H. of Florence, Kan., W. M. of Dallas, and J. E. of Colorado City. There are 30 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Burial is to be in the Spade cemetery.

Two Mitchell Tests Plugged

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 27—Two wildcats of major interest in Mitchell county had been plugged this week.

Humble's Ordovician test, No. 1 Ellwood Estate, 20 miles south of Colorado City on the Rennerbrook ranch, was plugged at 8,002 feet after a core which recovered well scrapings from 8,000 to 8,002 feet. Location was in section 48, block 16, T & P survey.

Also abandoned was Ownby No. 1 Morrison in western Mitchell county, midway between the Latah and East Howard pools. It was drilled to 3,120 in sand. Water was encountered at 3,112. Location was in section 24-28, T-1-N, T&P.

Two miles to the north of the Morrison test the Waxter Oil Company's No. 1 Mrs. Dora Jones was drilled this week at 2,003 in lime. Location is in section 23-29, T-1-N, T&P.

"WE NEVER CLOSE"

Thanksgiving

...and we have much to be thankful for...

"OUR deepest, most heartfelt thanks, O Lord, for the blessings of life, liberty and material well-being, and for the joys of family, friendship and happiness."

Prayers such as that are being offered all over the nation today, just as they were when the first little group of grateful colonists offered theirs in celebration of the first harvest in their new land. Many harvests, many Thanksgivings have passed since then. As a nation, at each of these Thanksgiving observations, we have had much to be thankful for; each of them saw our country a little further down the road of history, a land growing in power, in area, in wealth... and most of all, in the happiness and well-being of a free people. Today, Thanksgiving 1941, we see our country engaged in a tremendous effort that is testing all of our capacities for ingenuity, for skill, for courage and patience.

We can be thankful—and with confidence in the future—that the past has proven our ability to meet problems and to solve them, and that while our present position is a new one in history, it is not without precedent in kind and most certainly will yield to solution by the combined efforts of a people made incredibly strong by the blessings of nature and three centuries of freedom.

We of Texas Electric Service Company, a family of workers who are privileged to supply electric service to many fellow-Texans, are thankful for this privilege. Today, as on other major holidays, our office is closed, but our employes whose duties are necessary to maintain your electric service are working as usual, to provide the comforts of electricity on your holiday, and to maintain dependable electric power for defense industries.

US Outstrips Britain In Tank Production

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—The United States, a defense official asserted today, already has outstripped Great Britain in the race of tank production.

Moreover, military sources said at least half of the tanks that roll off American assembly lines are being rushed to far-flung battle lines, under the lease-lend program, for service against the axis.

These reports were coupled with the disclosure that production schedules envisioning 23,000 light and medium tanks annually have been suggested as part of a proposed "victory program."

A big share of existing tank production has gone to Britain, providing the empire forces with a sizeable part of the armored strength in the current Libyan offensive, but undisclosed quantities also have been shipped to Russia. Because of military considerations, no figures were given to support the claim that American tank production has now passed England's, but an official in the office of production management reported that the output in November was running 30 per cent higher than estimates made in early summer.

The so-called "victory" program, still in the formative stage but reportedly calling for doubling the present $41,500,000,000 defense effort, lays heavy emphasis on medium and light tanks.

The fast, heavily armed 30-ton medium tanks, would be built at the rate of 2,000 a month under the victory schedule, an OPM source said, and 12-ton light tanks at 800 a month.

Cable-Laying Crews Have Rendezvous

AP Feature Service

OMAHA, Neb.—Just as the railroad had their driving of the golden spike, the communication systems in another year will have a wedding of the wires to symbolize the historic union of the nation's first coast-to-coast underground cables.

Moving at a quickened pace because of the press of defense needs, cable laying crews are expected to finish the job three years ahead of original plans. In December of 1942, possibly sooner, crews facing the west and crews facing the east will meet at Wendover, Utah.

When they do, the country will have a buried communications system protected against sleet, lightning, fire, and easily effected wartime sabotage or destruction. And there will be greater disruption in the flow of long distance telephone calls, telegraph and teletype messages, transmission of pictures and radio programs.

Hard work and lots of it is this $21,000,000 project of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and affiliates, who are burying twin cables from Omaha to Sacramento—1630 miles almost as the crow flies. With exception of a few short gaps, soon to be eliminated, underground cables now extend from New York to Missouri.

Nearly 600 miles of cable already have been plowed in from Omaha westward, and the lines to Denver will go into service early in December, the A. T. & T. announces.

One crew is working westward in the near vicinity of Laramie, Wyo. One is scheduled to begin work westward out of Rawlins, Wyo., about Dec. 1. In late October, another crew began working eastward out of Emigrant Gap, in the High Sierras.

Wendover, protected meeting place, was the scene in 1914 of the finishing splice in the first telephone line to span the country.

The new cables supplement "open wire" transcontinental lines, and eventually will carry about 600 telephones and miscellaneous channels, about triple the present number of such circuits. One of the twin cables is for washbound channels, the other for east. Each is about as thick as a child's wrist, and is protected against corrosive soils by a plastic cover and from rodents by steel tape.

Usually, the trench is 20 to 30 inches deep. When swamps must be crossed, manual labor takes over. The route closely follows pioneers' trails through mountain passes.

Because of need for amplification, about 100 repeater stations are projected along the route. Most will be of on-story, concrete and brick construction, 20x40 feet.

No Taxes
ALBANY, Ore.—Linn county has become the first county in the history of Oregon to announce a complete suspension of taxes. It was discovered that the treasury contained a surplus large enough to carry the county for the first half of 1942.

Missionaries Carry Bible, Gun
OMAHA, Neb.—Rev. Gordon Haddley Smith says in the par of Indo-China where he is located the missionary is expected to destroy man-eating tigers and elephants which occasionally eat man. In the mountains of Indo-China, "frontier of the world," the missionary still carries a Bible in one hand, a gun in the other, Smith said.

Did you ever make upside down rolls the KARO way?

For Sunday breakfast or supper, these delicious Karo Buns will make your family "sit up and take notice". They're so flavorful, so satisfying... and really easy to make. Just follow this recipe:

KARO ROLLS

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup baking powder
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup milk

1/2 cup melted butter
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup Karo (blue label) syrup
1/2 cup chopped dates

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening. Add milk slowly, to form a soft dough. Roll out on a lightly floured board into a rectangle 8 x 2 inches about 1/4 inch thick. Brush with 2 tbsp. of the melted butter; sprinkle with sugar, then roll up as for jelly roll. Cut into pieces 1 inch wide. Mix Karo with the remaining melted butter. Add nuts and dates, and spread in bottom of greased 8-inch cake pan, or in large muffin pans. Arrange circles of dough out side down on top of Karo mixture. Bake in hot oven (350 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes or until brown. Makes 14 to 16 rolls.

KEEP THE GOOD GAS MILEAGE → EVERY FORD is built to give

Have your Ford serviced by men who know Ford cars best!

Your car's fuel efficiency can be greatly lessened by inferior parts and service. That's why it pays NOW to take your Ford to your Ford Dealer. Expert Ford mechanics... genuine Ford parts... Factory approved tools and equipment insure your getting most enjoyment from your car, most mileage from every gallon. For best service—at low cost—take your Ford "back home" to your Ford Dealer!

GET RID OF RATTLES—Bring your car in for a complete tightening job by our trained Ford mechanics. You'll prevent unnecessary wear, and get rid of annoying squeaks and rattles.

QUICK STARTING SPECIAL—Now's the time to get your car in shape for the colder driving weather ahead. Our Quick Starting Special is a ten-point tune-up, including check-up and adjustment of parts important to easy starting, proper cold weather performance and top gasoline mileage. Ask for our special combination price on this complete ten-point check.

WHEEL ALIGNMENT is important if you want top tire mileage. If a wheel is not in alignment, the tire is "dragged" sideways, scraping off rubber with every turn. Have your wheels checked every six months for longer tire mileage.

Our FORD PARTS EXCHANGE PLAN saves money for you. When your distributor, carburetor, or other assemblies become worn from long service, you'll often pay less for a Ford Exchange Assembly than you'd pay for a complete overhaul of the part.

FLASH PREVIEW OF "The Man Who Came to Dinner"

Warners' film version of the Broadway comedy hit, with Bette Davis and Monty Woolley in the leading roles.

Injured while lecturing in a Midwest city, Monty Woolley high-handedly takes over his hosts' household.

His secretary, Bette Davis, falls in love with Richard Travis, a local newspaperman.

Opposing the romance, Woolley summons an actress friend, Ann Sheridan, to beguile the young reporter.

But Reginald Gardiner, a visiting playwright, comes to Bette's rescue.

And Bette finally gets her man, as her employer prepares for his famous Christmas broadcast.

MEET THE STARS With VIC BOESEN

The supporting cast of a picture is literally that: something to prop up and carry along the star, and the general effect of the whole, whether it's to be good or mediocre, is almost invariably determined by those faithful wheel-horses with their impeccable performances who furnish the framework for the star's paces.

Such an actor in Cecil Kellaway. You may not place him as quickly as, say, Clark Gable, but it's many a picture you've seen during the past three years that has been all the better for his presence, though you may not have realized at the time what the influence was that contributed so favorably to the net result.

Kellaway, like most of his group, was an actor before most of our soda fountain prodigies were born, and, while these last are reaping the glory and the gold for the moment, Kellaway will be in there pitching long after the rockets have shed their flame and fallen back into the darkness.

That is because he is actor in fact as well as in theory, an artisan who learned his craft playing on the stages of nearly every country on the globe. All the world has, in truth, been a stage to him. Born in Capetown,

ERSKINE JOHNSON'S HOLLYWOOD

EXCLUSIVELY YOURS: Madeleine Carroll is burning, but good, over a current fan magazine story linking her with Stirling Hayden. Attorneys have the yarn and the actress may sue. . . . Veronica Lake, glamour girl of the assistant director, finally gets kissed on the screen by Robert Preston in "This Gun for Hire." In four previous bit roles and two starring pictures she went kissless—the only actress except Shirley Temple to attain stardom without being kissed on the screen. . . . Friends of Mary Astor and her husband, Manuel del Campo, say it's all over but the formalities. He's in the RCAF. . . . Universal is talking about refilming "The Phantom of the Opera" with Lon Chaney, Jr. playing the role created by his father.

Lou Costello will have the longest delayed double take in screen history in "Rio Rita." In the first reel Costello asks some Mexicans the score of a National League baseball game. They don't speak English, but there is a dog with them. The dog has swallowed a miniature radio and just then a news broadcaster gives the score. Costello thanks the dog and walks away. Four weeks later Bud Abbott asks Costello who told him the score. "The dog," he says. And then he does the double take.

Gene Tierney, the most in demand (and overworked actress in Hollywood at the moment), may go on loanout next to MGM for a role opposite Robert Taylor. . . . Talking about a certain actor, J. Carroll Nash said: "He ought to use his last three suspensions to build a bridge."

The new boy whose job it was to answer the telephone on the set of C. B. DeMille's "Reap the Wild Wind," was a studious lad whose nose seemed forever buried in a book. One day an assistant director heard the bell ringing unattended. "Answer the phone!" he barked to the boy, "and if I catch you missing it once more you're fired!" "That's the stuff," said DeMille, chuckling. "If you can make him attend to business you're a better man than I am." The boy was the boss' son, Richard DeMille, who was "filling in" during a vacation from Columbia University.

Jackie Cooper and Bonita Granville, the offscreen lovers, finally get a chance to make screen love to each other in RKO's "Syncope." Which is every cow/boating because when the director says "cut" at the end of a love scene Jackie and Bonita go right on acting.

Bettye Avery, once engaged to Pat Di Cicco, and Joe Drown manager of the Plaza Hotel, are altarbound. . . . Before going to Mexico City, Paulette Goddard sat in as a preview audience of one to Charlie Chaplin's "Gold Rush," which he is reissuing with a musical score and commentary. . . . RKO is talking a deal with Belle Baker's son Herbert, to write a movie about his famous mother. . . . Olivia DeHavilland is interested in Roger Fryer aeronautically and not amorously. He's testing her to fly. . . . The Trocadero will be reopened late this month by Felix Young as a combination theater and supper club. . . . Bette Davis' husband, recovering from pneumonia in Minneapolis, must remain in a hospital there for another month. She'll make another flying trip to see him. . . . The John Barry-Priscilla Lane romance is still flourishing. She visited him over the weekend. . . . Paramount's Hungarian actress, Eva Gabor, made a personal appearance at a meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. "I'm from the south, too," she said, "the south of Hungary." . . . Orson Welles and Dolores del Rio are still planning to keep that date with a preacher come January when her divorce from Cedric Gibbons becomes final. . . . Ona Munson, the glamorous Belle Watling of "G.W.T.W.," will appear to a woman of 80 in Warners' "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

KEN MORGAN'S HOLLYWOOD KEYHOLE

Get set for a shock! Joan Blondell, who has endeared herself to a myriad of fans through her knockabout and smart comedy, will henceforth concentrate on serious dramatic roles—whether in motion pictures or on the stage. She made this announcement at the close of production on Republic's "Lady for a Night." Two reasons are given for this really startling departure. Director Leigh Jason realized her innate ability during the shooting of the picture and capitalized on it much to the delight of the studio and Miss Blondell. At the close of production, Joan sent for her confidante, Ruth Thompson, an Ohio medium, to give her the clincher on the argument she was having with herself. She was told that the first dramatic hit will be in a stage show.

Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is getting himself talked about in Hollywood via an old press agent stunt. He copies his host's clothes from hat to shoes and George Raft doesn't seem to mind a bit. Raft has introduced him to his tailor and the pair are around Hollywood looking like twins.

Just heard that the "Hut Hut Song" is being used to a good advantage in England. When the second rate Lord Havo-Havo goes on the air with subversive talk, the British Broadcasting Company runs a record of the tune so that the spouting of the "big mouth" is cross-vibrated with double talk.

Sam Wood, who will direct "For Whom the Bell Tolls," has sent for a print of Gene Autry's picture, "Down Mexico Way," in order to gander Fay McKendry as a possible "Maria." Wood directed Fay, when she was a child actress, in "Man With the Iron Door" and never forgot her.

THE GOOD HUMOR MAN: Understand Sonja Henie used all the wiles in a futile endeavor to persuade the Army to release from eight weeks duty one Harrison Thompson—her skating partner on tours. . . . Burgess Meredith has re-discovered Evelyn Moriarty in New York. . . . Cowboy star Don Barry is taking Spanish lessons preparatory to a projected South American trip. . . . Don is half Spanish, his real name being Donald Barry de Acosta. . . . Looked like old times when Cesar Romero walked into Ciro's with Ann Sheridan. . . . RKO has dropped the option on Gloria Swanson. . . . Don Ameche is following the Notre Dame football team until his studio calls him back to work. . . . Jack Oakie has just signed a new deal at 20th Century-Fox calling for a trio of films next year. . . . Harry Crocker, Hollywood columnist, volunteered to act as technical advisor of the tight-rope walking scenes in "True to the Army"—Harry formed on the high-wire in Chaplin's "The Circus." . . . Paramount's most beautiful secretary, Ella Boros, gets an acting reprise in "I Live on Danger." . . . Dick Powell's latest gift to wife Joan Blondell is a life-sized portrait, done by Peter Fairchild. . . . Eddie Foy Jr.'s tailor advertises himself as "Hollywood's Number One PRESS Agent." . . . Hal Block wants to know if Boris Karloff wears "creep" soled shoes. . . . Deanna Durbin and Vaughn Paul take two hours for dinner at Jules of Encino Restaurant. . . . Bettye Avery, one of 20th Century-Fox's models, has been weaned away from her discoverer by Samuel Goldwyn who plans an extensive buildup for her. . . . Now it's Marjorie Weaver and Richard Derr. . . . The two maitre de's who never made a move without the consent of the other while at the Pirate's Den are in a unique position—Rogers is at Mocombo and Andre shows customers around at the Trouville. . . . Marie MacDonald, Universal's actress-songstress, narrowly escaped serious injury in a recent auto accident but doctors saved the situation and she'll be out of the Santa Monica Hospital this week. . . . Blake Garner has forsaken Ann Miller for Cinderella Girl Quanita Starke. . . . It's now CLIFFORD "Ukulele" Edwards. . . . In spite of lukewarm notices on the musical "High Kickers" George Jessel is getting together a Chicago company and has upped Harry Richman an offer to head the road company in his spot. . . . Hear that Sun Valley is slightly worried over the competition which it is getting from Alta Lodge, the new ski club near Salt Lake City—the club has Dick Durrance, one of the nation's top ski men.

Now on loan-out from RKO, Ginger Rogers takes the title role in "Roxie Hart" at 20th Century-Fox.

Reviews of Previews

20th Century-Fox took over the preview limelight this past week with two outstanding pictures, "RISE AND SHINE" and "CADET GIRL."

"RISE AND SHINE" is one of those daffy films which are good for a laugh a minute, this one being studded with six new songs that are strictly top to the minute. The opus is Producer Mark Hellinger's first effort for Fox since moving over from Warner Brothers and a worthy one it is. It's a football yarn starring Jack Oakie, Linda Darnell and George Murphy, with Oakie coming through with a smash performance. He has never been funnier than as Bolenciewicz, a football player who simply can't get enough sleep, and who finally succeeds in winning the big game by falling asleep and falling over the goal line for the much needed touchdown. George Murphy sings and dances with his accustomed verve while Miss Darnell, who with Mr. Murphy takes care of what little love interest the film holds, never looked lovelier, but has far too little to do.

The supporting cast headed by Walter Brennan, Milton Berle, Donald Meek, Ruth Donnelly and Raymond Walburn play their heads off in a collection of as many a lot of roles as your reviewer can remember. "RISE AND SHINE" is not a movie to write about, it's definitely one to see and hear, and you'll remember that hilarious closing sequence for a long time as you chuckle over it in retrospect.

George Murphy and Linda Darnell in "Rise and Shine."

"CADET GIRL," with Carole Landis, George Montgomery and John Shepperd is the sort of picture that carries a terrific wallop and will literally bring you to your feet with an inspired finale highlighted by a stirring patriotic song, "Uncle Sam Gets Around." The story is of a West Point cadet who, on a vacation in New York, meets a gorgeous girl, Miss Landis, who is singing in his brother's orchestra. They decide it is love and that they'll marry, even though doing so will force his resignation from the Academy. In an effort to stop such a step, the musician brother writes the song, "Uncle Sam Gets Around," and its message has the desired effect; truth is it may also have a good effect on young America generally.

The music throughout is tops, with the song-writing team of Robin and Ralinger contributing four catchy tunes with brilliant lyrics. Miss Landis' throaty voice is splendid in three of them, while John Shepperd handles the patriotic number in fine form.

Republic Studios' "THE DEVIL PAYS OFF" is another sample of what this up-and-coming biggest of the independent studios can turn out for what in other studios would be called "peanuts." In short the film is proof that the entertainment value of a picture is not entirely dependent on costly production and top-flight star names. The story deals with the frustration of a daring plot to turn over to a foreign power a fleet of ships already purchased in the United States. J. Edward Bromberg is the shipping tycoon, Osa Massen his beautiful but faithless wife, William Wright is the investigator, with Margaret Tallichet as his brilliant aide. It all adds up to swell entertainment that is exciting enough for anyone. If it's lively melodrama you're looking for, make no mistake, "THE DEVIL PAYS OFF" will fill the bill.

On the Sets

With REED JOHNSTON

Well sir, if any of you brothers have been wondering just what in the world ever happened to Carole Lombard you can take it easy now, because you'll be seeing her again presently in an Ernst Lubitsch comedy called "To Be or Not to Be," along with—of all people—Jack Benny, who in the first week of shooting was still looking just a bit startled to find himself in a picture with Miss Lombard. He was looking like almost anyone but Jack Benny, too, in an open-work collar, horn-rimmed glasses and an austere gray beard and moustache.

Miss Lombard, on the other hand, was looking very much like herself, or maybe even more so, in a tight-fitting evening gown that clung to her as closely as you would if you had the chance, and both she and Mr. Benny were having a bad time of it with an oversized agent of the Gestapo. It seems the two of them represent a famous Polish man-and-wife acting team, with Mr. Benny sporting the impressive name of Josef Tourer.

So in this one scene he had disguised himself as a Nazi professor in order to elude the invaders of Warsaw, but even behind the whiskers he was having a tough time with the Gestapo agent.

"If this Tourer won't behave, why don't we take him to Gestapo headquarters and scare the life out of him?"

"Oh no, no, no," said Benny, horrified. "There's no need to do anything like that!" This attitude, of course, was perfectly understandable, since he was the Tourer referred to, but even in this pinch the vanity of the actor asserted itself.

"By the way," he went on, "this Tourer is the great, great Polish actor, Josef Tourer. You've heard of him, of course?"

"No, never," snapped the agent, and Mr. Benny's face fell perceptibly, while Miss Lombard smirked behind her hand at this blow to her husband's self-esteem. "And the Colonel says —"

"Yes, yes," said Benny. "I'm to meet him at ten o'clock in the morning."

"There has been a change of plans. You are to come with me at once."

"You're not going to take him away?" asked Miss Lombard, alarmed.

"He is to come at once!"

This was clearly one on the chin—or rather the whiskers—for Mr. B., who looked around helplessly and then announced with great good sense that he would go quietly. Just where he goes and what happens when he gets there is not yet known to this observer, but lest you have had your fill of war pictures at this date, let it be reported that "To Be or Not to Be" is definitely of a light-hearted character in spite of its Warsaw background.

And then of course for good measure there's Carole Lombard—or did you hear me the first time?

Fashion Scene

By MARGARET MCKAY

It's stars and stripes in Hollywood these days, and in this case I don't mean it in a patriotic sense. Metallic stripes and lame, with alternating velvet stripes, are being worn for evening and cocktail wear, but most exciting of all, taffeta stripes are sneaking into day time clothes. They are being seen mostly in blouses with matching turbans, but perhaps the most ingenious use was dreamed up by Ilima Massey, the luscious star of "International Lady." Over a simply tailored dress of beige wool she wears a three-quarter length cape of beige wool lined in red and green striped silk. On her head she wears an intricately draped turban of the same striped silk, which is most effective against the neutral color of her dress and accessories.

LETTER BOX: A letter from Mrs. Virginia Lewis, Albuquerque, New Mexico, asks how actresses keep their wonderful complexions and care for their beautiful long hair. Well, for one thing regular attention is given both complexion and hair, with careful washings and good massage for skin and scalp. The use of make-up bases under their powder covers light freckles and blemishes, gives a more even tone to the skin and keeps it from drying. Perc Westmore, of the noted make-up family, believes dry skin is the most aging of complexion ills and suggests nightly creaming, leaving some of the cream on your face all night. Little circular massaging movements are important in keeping the blood circulating in your face, which gives tone and color.

For the hair, vigorous brushing of course, and nearly all of the actresses use some form of rinse to brighten the color. There are many good rinses on the market, but your beauty operator is the best bet for a successful rinse. There are some new colors for blondes this year called Topaz, Golden Topaz and several other tones. For pompadour and ringlet hair-dos they use hair lacquer to keep curls and rolls in place.

BEST DRESSED GIRL OF THE WEEK: Jeanette Macdonald dined at Romanoff's with Gene Raymond, in a green moire evening gown with ruffled cascade of moire rippling from shoulder to waist in diagonal lines and then proceeding down to flare the skirt. A nipped-in jacket and Persian turban of moire completed the outfit.

Record Review
By WAX MAN

The Hollywood musical hit, "Jump for Joy," has contributed another hit tune—"Notitia," written by Sid Kuller and Hal Bourne, has just been recorded by the Ink Spots for Decca and calls for orchids from this column. Mood of the composition is right down the alley for this popular singing group and justice prevails.

Here's an interesting item. Victor has just released the novel wax of My Blue Heaven with the same tune on both sides of the record but with different arrangements. Gene Austin does both of them. On one side is his original wax made 12 years ago and on the other is his newest arrangement. It's a collector's piece if we ever heard one.

Harry James turns out a neat job on the jazz classic My Melancholy Baby, just waxed for Columbia. A popular standard for over 30 years, the James recording will probably keep it going another thirty. Flipover is My Silent Love, another old favorite but with a new arrangement beautifully sung by Dick Haymes.

The romantic voice of Buddy Clark is at its best in Okeh's I Hate You Darling and Everything I Love. Tunes are from Cole Porter's hit Broadway musical, "Let's Face It," and that is all this column would need to buy the record. Buddy's flawless breathing, clarity of tone and smooth vibrato characterize both sides.

PLAYBACKS: Martha Rays has been signed by Decca to wax six sides on her return from personal appearances. . . . Bob Hope goes back on wax when he records the score from his latest picture, "Louisiana Purchase," for Victor. . . . Insiders say that the competition for this year's Academy Awards narrows between Dolores and Bessie in the Night. . . . Jackie Cooper is taking Liberty's offer to form a recording band and, as a departure, will include the harmonica—Jerry Hilliard will be chosen. . . . To show his appreciation for his chore in "Sun Valley Serenade," Glenn Miller will wax Thank You Mr. Zasukey for Bluebird. . . . Bob Crosby's ex-excellent trumpet, "Mugsy" Spanier, will use Francis for the first name from now on. . . . And have you bought Stanley Kenton's Decca records yet?

You'll be seeing Jane Frazee soon again now, in Universal's "Temporary Bride."

Farmers Put Great Record On Line Today

Slated To Make Bowl Decision Immediately After Tilt With Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 27 (AP)—Mighty Texas A. and M. laid one of college football's greatest records on the line today in the forty-eighth renewal of the Southwest's oldest and bitterest feud.

A University of Texas team, whose championship hopes crashed ten days ago but which was determined to snatch the greatest victory of them all, rolled against the undefeated, untied Cadets before a crowd of 38,300—the second largest in the history of the annual classic.

The Aggies, despite their great record—28 victories out of 29 games in three years along with two Southwest conference championships and a tie for another—were rated only slender favorites.

Both squads had injured members but only one starter is expected to be on the bench when the kick-off comes at 2 p. m. (CST).

He is Lester Richardson, Aggie guard, who has an ankle hurt. Texas' senior team, including the injured Jack Crain, was scheduled to open. Crain suffered a torn leg muscle in the Texas Christian university game Nov. 15.

Should A. and M. win today, a decision is expected immediately after the game on the bowl choice of the Aggies. No statement may be made before the weekend, however.

If Texas wins, there reportedly is a good chance of the Longhorns being invited to a bowl although they have lost one game and tied one.

Only once, in 1923, has a Texas team beaten A. and M. at College Station. And it was D. X. Bible, now coach at Texas, who was coach of A. and M. when the Aggies suffered the defeat.

There were intermittent drizzles last night but they stopped after several hours and skies began clearing. The field is covered and unless it rains at game time, will be in good condition.

Big 'Jawn' Ends Pro Career Sunday

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—John Kimbrough, the former all-America fullback from Texas A. and M., who launched his professional grid career at Yankee Stadium less than two months ago, will end it at the same park Sunday.

The American league game between the New York Americans, who hired Kimbrough into the play-for-pay game, and the Cincinnati Bengals will be the last for Jarrin' John.

In the future, he intends to confine his talents to the movies.

Veteran Hans Lobert Is Picked To Pilot Phillies

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Within a day of each other a 24-year-old youngster and a 69-year-old veteran have been named managers of major league baseball clubs proving that whatever other qualifications may be necessary, age is no factor.

The Phillies picked genial old John Bernard (Hans) Lobert yesterday to run their ball club less than 24 hours after the Cleveland Indians named Leo Boudreau, who was not born until 14 years after Lobert made his major league debut with Pittsburgh.

These appointments are giving baseball men something to chin about before they get wrapped up in trade talks next week at the minor league meetings in Jacksonville, Fla.

The selection of Lobert was no surprise to anyone because he ran the National league's rear guard for a few weeks last season while Doc Frothing was out beating the bushes for talent and during those weeks the Phillies played their best ball.

Lobert, who resembles the immortal Hans Wagner in build and who received his nickname because he tried to play like Wagner when he broke in with the Pirates in 1903, will be second only to 79-year-old Connie Mack in age among the managers. His contract is for one year.

In spite of his age he still is an active man and was the logical man to assume the manager's toga discarded by Frothing.

Cleveland's choice of Boudreau, on the other hand, was a job to most people. He has played in only 27 major league games, the equivalent of 2 1/2 seasons and been in baseball just three years.

He has proved himself a fine player, one of the best shortstops in the majors, and a diplomat well liked by his teammates. They can be expected to play ball for him.

He took no part, at least actively, in the rebellion against Oscar Vitt two years ago and he was friendly with Roy Weatherly, the temperamental centerfielder who was in several jams with Manager Roger Peckinpaugh last summer.

Yet with the exception of Bob Feller, Boudreau is the youngest regular on the club and it is expected a lot of him to step into the uneasy driver's seat at Cleveland and tell veterans like Rollie Hemsley or Hal Trosky or Gerald Walker what they shall and shall not do.

Conflict Gets Underway At 2:30 O'clock

Weights Of Both Clubs Are Near Even; Rosters Due To Be Free Of Hurts

Outcome of this afternoon's battle between the Abilene Eagles and the Big Spring Steers at Abilene has no bearing on the district 3-AA setup but it's a winner-take-all affair. Abilene has been roaring for its next crack at Big Spring ever since last year when Pat Murphy's district winning Herd demolished the Eagles, 26 to 6. Abilene has smarted under the blow for a twelve-month. Now, with Vernon Hilliard at the grid helm, the befuddled ones are out for beef.

As the Longhorns take to the field this afternoon, 2:30 being the scheduled time, they will stand on near even grounds with the Eagles.

Coach Murphy has spent most of the time since Thursday brushing up on the Steers' book of tactics. Except for a few minor changes needed to cope with the Eagle maneuvers, Big Spring has not added to plan of attack.

Abilene holds a bare overall to Big Spring's 142. In the probable starting backfields Abilene averages 100 pounds to beat the Big Spring secondary by seven pounds. But, in the probable starting lines Big Spring garners a four-pound advantage, weighing in at 168 pounds.

Abilene's weight advantage is likely to do it more good than will Big Spring's forward wall margin help the Steers. The Eagles have Jim Brennan and Fullback Troutman to take care of their power-house assignments while Quarterback Howell, although at times on the sidelines because of injuries, can turn in a stellar performance in the scabback role.

Brennan scales 170 pounds while Troutman weighs in at 190. Howell is a 185-pounder.

Opposing these, Big Spring has who can easily be called the outstanding punter of the district in Quarterback Horace Bostick. Bostick's throwing arm is also due to pare down what advantage Abilene might have. Ends Peppy Blount, Felix Campbell and James Tidwell are docketed to be constant threats with their greatly improved pass receiving.

When it comes to matching power with power, Big Spring has Fullback Frank Barton and can throw 210-pound Doyle Stewart in the breach. Junior Moore, Billy Womack and Lowell Matlock are qualified to counterbalance Howell's speed.

Although the Eagles are a crushing defensive crew, they lack an outstanding defensive man of Center Paul Kaach's caliber.

For the remainder of the crew, Big Spring and Abilene are on near equal grounds. Both have suffered tremendous setbacks. But, the winning column favors the Eagles in that they have beaten Lamesa, the club that pinned back Big Spring's ears, and dished out the outcome over Colorado City, a team that held the Steers to a tie.

Lookin' em Over

With Jack Douglas

Friday morning at 9 or 9:30 o'clock in the Betties hotel the last big show of the '41 session of district 3-AA football is slated to get underway. Right now, it looks as though the Odessa Bronchos will get the nod of the district executive committee over Sweetwater's Mustangs as to just which team will be named district champion.

Odessa holds the inside rail although there is liable to be some contesting done in case the Bronchos carry their gridiron efforts outside the district. Yaleta, champion of district 4-AA, will oppose either Sweetwater or Odessa.

According to the intercollegiate rules governing eligibility of players a state body may judge the certification of a club. In case the team has been using a doubtful player in any game during the season, regardless of the action of a district committee, the state group may rule against the team.

We're not saying the Odessa will be contacted if they win the district committee's nod. We are saying that there is a possibility that Yaleta may see fit to do so.

It has been done. At one time Conroe drew a bye in a bi-district game because a Houston school used an ineligible man during the year.

The Howard county rural basketball league opens its season December 9 with seven schools participating. Moore, Midway, Centerpoint, Lomax, Chalk, Richland and Gay Hill make up the list of loop members.

Games will be played on Tuesdays and Fridays during the season.

Coden's keggers are currently riding the crest in the Classic bowling league, adding to its margin by virtue of a 2 to 1 series victory over No-D-Lay's team Monday night.

Filling out the night's card, E. & R. defeated Lee Hanson's crew two out of three games. Schiltz took a 2 to 1 decision over Big Spring Motor's bowlers.

Jack Smith marked a 230 card to take high game honors maintained standing for the night by running a high series, 603. J. Y. Robb shot a 212 to take second place in individual scoring.

Dear hunters galore are trapping over the wild brush country south and west of Big Spring to take high game honors.

There is none of that for Virgil Smith. He has a gun, has the skills but is shy of deer territory. But, Smith is getting a bit of gun-carrying practice just the same.

Tuesday, he was seen toting said firearm down the street. At last account he had failed to flush out a behorned creature along the trails of Scurry and Gregg streets.

Duke Ranks 2nd In Offense; A&M Tops In Rush Defense

SEATTLE, Nov. 27 (AP)—The American Football Statistical Bureau figured out today that Duke's Blue Devils climbed to a point just below the University of Arizona in total offense.

This surprising pencil calculation was the chief feature of the statistical bureau's "national team ranking."

The Blue Devils closed their season with a 55-6 rout of North Carolina State, and thus boosted their rushing and passing average to 372.2 yards per game. Arizona, idle last week, leads with 373.5.

Another change saw Texas Tech drop from first to sixth in rushing defense, while Texas A. & M. for the last two years the nation's outstanding rushing defensive club, moved back into its old spot at the head of the list.

Texas Mines, the 1940 punting leader, regained first place in that classification with a 41.64-yard average per punt, replacing Clemson, a few fractions behind at 41.20.

The figures (x-one game played, unreported; y-two games): Total offense—(gains rushing and passing)—Arizona, 373.5 yards average per game; Duke, 372.2; Utah, 354.8; Georgia, 351.8; Tulane, 350.1; Clemson, 345.5; Missouri, 344.7; (x) Detroit, 331.8; Texas, 324.5; Syracuse, 315.4.

Rushing offense—Missouri, 307.7 yards per game; Duke, 265.8; Utah, 263.1; Navy, 258.8; Minnesota, 257.8.

Forward passing offense—Arizona, 57 completions in 185 attempts for 124.3-yard average per game; Texas A. & M., 152.1; Washington (Mo.), 151.4; (x) Detroit, 151.3; Texas Mines, 144.4.

Total defense—(against rushes and passes)—Duquesne, 110.6 yards yielded per game; Texas A. & M., 123; Texas Tech, 126.3; (x) Harvard, 121.7; (y) Vanderbilt, 122; (y) Mississippi State, 122.3; Tulane, 125.6; Navy, 129.5; (x) Detroit, 143; Notre Dame, 143.8.

Rushing defense—Texas A. & M., 54.1 yards average yielded per game; Duquesne, 56; Georgia, 61.3; Tulane, 61.5; Navy, 63.1.

Forward pass defense—(y) Boston University, 24.7 yards yielded per game; Purdue, 27.1; (x) Harvard, 34.7; (y) Mississippi State, 38; Denver, 39.7.

Punting—Texas Mines, 41.54; Clemson, 41.20; Fordham, 40.89; Navy, 40.68; (x) Army, 40.22.

ALBANY, N. Y.—The pheasant population in New York state showed a marked increase over an eight year period, the state conservation department reports. The increase came despite the loss of thousands of acres of once highly productive farmland.

Steer Cagers Open Practice Grind Monday

Edward Marcum, recently assigned Big Spring high school basketball coach, said Wednesday that he would ring up the curtain on the local cage efforts next Monday.

Marcum came to Big Spring from Roscoe, where he has coached football since September. He's a 1941 graduate of Hardin-Simmons University. His career as a participating athlete includes football and basketball at Paducah high school, plus three years as a grinder and a cage letterman at HBU. He held down an end berth on the Cowboy football crew and spent most of his time at guard and forward on the HBU quintet.

The Big Springers start the season with four cagers who saw maximum action in last year's roundelay. Center Peppy Blount, Forward James Fallon and Billy Womack and Guard Horace Bostick make up the list.

Historical Thanksgiving...

Many scenes have been written into American history since the first Thanksgiving was observed . . . Styles have changed. Laws have changed. Science, industry and mechanization have made fast strides in every phase of business and life.

Much has changed, but people remain the same—and today, as generations go, we still are thankful for the land we live in; for the privileges that are ours; for the religious freedom that was made our heritage by those first Americans—emigrants all, from lands of persecution.

History has seen many changes. But to us in America, there still is much to be thankful for.

Editorial - - Do We Really Say, 'Thank You, Lord?'

He is just past two, yet in his childish simplicity he is far wiser than we. Since he could remember, he had been told to bow his head while the blessing was asked. From observation, he had learned it was a serious business; so he knitted his brows, although he scarcely more than inclined his head. Still, he was absorbed, and it was no surprise that he should, smiling happily, announce that he wanted to say the blessing.

THE PHONE BOOTH MURDER

CHAPTER 14 Madame Can't Drive For safety of the general public, Assey decided, it would be best to pull her off the road entirely. He blew the horn urgently and started along. At once, Mrs. Clutterfield steered sharply to the left. Assey braked, muttered things under his breath, and started to cut past her on the right. Assey tried again to pass on the left, with very nearly disastrous results.

Washington Daybook - - Some New Capital Buildings Would Collapse In 10 Years

WASHINGTON - It isn't discussed publicly but I can assure you that the government is out now to build some buildings so they WON'T last. There hasn't been the least hint that President Roosevelt still feels the same about disastering up the south lawn, but there has been more than a hint that he feels the same about "temporary" eyesores marring the national capital's beauty in the years when peace has come again.

Man About Manhattan - - American Fairy Tales Need Deflating

NEW YORK - Historical note: I see where a bias has been put on Harvard historians for leaving the public in darkness concerning Canada and the states to our south. It seems to me it would be a better idea to rewrite some of the fairy tales the kids get in school about our own country. That picture of Washington Crossing the Delaware, for instance. It was painted by an artist who never saw Washington or the Delaware.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds - - Here's How Craig Got Along In Movies

HOLLYWOOD - It was this way with Jim Craig, the big boy who was Jim Mesador back in the home town of Nashville, Tenn. "I was out here on a vacation and lookin' around. I saw a lot of people makin' a lot of money. If they can do it, I said, why can't I?"

Washington Survives Blitz FORT COLLINS, Colo.-A British architect presented as a gift to Fort Collins two original portraits of George and Martha Washington, damaged in a German bomb raid on Britain. The frame of George's picture is damaged and the picture of Martha has a hole in the head and several tears in the body.

said bitterly. "But you know how much cash she gives me to keep in my pants pocket to ease her out of the trouble she gets into with her driving? A grand! And ninety-five per cent of the time there isn't a guy humane enough to cut me in on as much as a saw-duck! And me with a wife and four kids! Honest to God, Inspector, tough ain't the word. If I can't settle you, bang! I'm on my ear." "A grand, huh?" Assey said with sudden inspiration. "Alfred, I'll settle."

Alfred beamed, put down the shovel, and proceeded to count out bills.

"There," he said. "A grand." Assey presented Alfred with a hundred, folded the remainder and tucked it into his wallet. Betsy Porter's ambulance found, he thought, might just as well profit by this dead goat, and it was better for Mrs. Clutterfield's money to be in circulation than stagnating in Alfred's pants pocket.

"Thanks," Assey said dryly. "Now, wait a sec before you revive Lady Bop. Let me get something straight. You an' she was at the club for dinner this evening, wasn't you? Say, around six."

"She was," Alfred said. "I wasn't. Think she'd waste money buying me a meal at the club? I ate at the boarding house I live at, off the main street over in Quisset."

"You don't live at the Whale Inn, huh?"

"No. At this lousy boarding house — say, how'd you know she lived at the Inn?"

"I'm part Yogi," Assey said. "Then neither of you two was anywhere near the Whale Inn around six or so this evening?"

"Well, I was there — oh, I don't know just what time it was," Alfred said. "The madam had this dress to go to the cleaner's, see? I forgot it, so after I left her at the club I went back to the Inn and got it — come to think of it, I guess it was around six."

Midway Cagers Trample Moore

MIDWAY, Nov. 27.—Midway's boys' and girls' cage teams won over Moore's basketballers here Tuesday night. The Midway boys took a 17 to 8 decision while the girls downed Moore, 10 to 4.

Alva Jo Porch and Willis Pearl Tonn of Midway led the scoring with four points each. Moore's L. Gonzales chalked up all the Moore girls' points. Outstanding defensive work was displayed by Guard Bobbie Townsend of Midway.

In the boys' share of the cage show, C. A. Tonn of Midway was high point man with 10 markers. Next Tuesday Midway entertains the Richland cagers.

How To Please A Soldier-Send Him A Box Marked "Fragile"

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE, AP Feature Service Writer

Your son or friend in the Army will be wearing a broad grin this fall when and if he gets a box marked "fragile."

He will then know that the folks at home have been thinking of him — and "saying it" with home-made goodies. Chances are that he will be hoping the box contains some of those nutty, fruity rocks, a batch of black walnut fudge or pecan penoche and other familiar home-spun tidbits.

Home-made treats will keep moist and travel well if they are selected carefully and packed well. Cookies and cakes rich with fat, spices, fruits and chocolate keep fresh longer than delicate white cake. Crisp cookies break easily, so it is usually better to stick to the soft, waxy kind like buttery scotch sticks, date bars and chocolate brownies. Fruit cake, gingerbread and cinnamon buns are good travelers. A creamy confectioner's frosting, keeps much better than a boiled kind, unless the sending distance is short.

Select a stout cardboard or metal box with a tight-fitting lid to hold the culinary specials. Put a inch layer of crushed paper in the bottom and cover with waxed paper. Pack the confections and cookies snugly in layers with waxed paper between. Top with more crushed paper and waxed paper until the box is firm. Here are some special recipes:

DATE NUGGETS: Cream a cup of butter until soft, add two cups dark brown sugar and beat a minute. Mix in 1-4 cup cream, 3 eggs, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 1 cup chopped dates, 1 cup broken walnut meats, two teaspoons vanilla, 1-3 teaspoon salt, 4 1-2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon soda. Mold the dough into balls, flatten quickly onto greased baking sheets. Space two inches apart. Top each with a piece of date and bake 8-10 minutes in a moderate oven (350).

CHOCOLATE SURPRISES: Cream a cup of butter until soft, add 2 cups sugar and beat well. Mix in 4 eggs, 1-3 cup cream, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 1-2 teaspoon salt and 4 squares melted chocolate, 2 cups flour and 1-2 teaspoon baking powder. Beat 2 minutes. Pour into the thickness of an inch in baking pan fitted with waxed paper. Sprinkle with a cup broken nuts. Bake 25 minutes (350). Cut in bars, roll in confectioner's sugar.

DOUBLE DECKER FUDGES: Make up a batch of penoche, pour it into a shallow pan and then cover with a batch of coconut fudge. And plain chocolate fudge goes well with a creamy, vanilla flavored white fudge top. Cut in 2-inch squares, wrap each separately and pack closely.

DATES stuffed with chopped, salted peanuts and candied pineapple, and then rolled in sugar or toasted coconut are a new morsel. And figs or dates rolled around lemon flavored fondant make mighty good eating.

GINGER CREAM COOKIES: Cream 1-2 cup fat with 1-2 cups brown sugar. Add 2 eggs, 1-2 cup sour cream, 1-2 cup molasses, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon each cloves, ginger and nutmeg; 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup raisins, 3-2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda and 2 teaspoons baking powder. Churn dough and drop portions from spoon onto greased baking sheets and bake 10 minutes in a moderate oven.

Flashes Of Life--

By the Associated Press

FRANKFORD, Ind.—A motorist who got a driver's license at the Clinton county license bureau later wrote that he'd lied in saying he'd had one last year.

"I did not have a driver license last year," he wrote. "I am going to leave this old world one of these days and I want a clear title to go to Jesus so I want the license bureau of Frankfort and every one in the state of Indiana to forgive me."

The letter was signed "A Troublesome Soul."

ALEXANDRIA, Ind.—William Jennings Bryan leaves Alexandria today to be examined at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, for induction into the army.

Young Bryan, claiming to be a distant cousin of the democratic presidential nominee of the same name, remarked:

"It's hard name to live up to." Son of W. M. Bryan of Brady, Tex., he came here five years ago and has been married three months.

CONNEAUT, O.—The proximity of a small pond probably saved the life of Stephen Reydak, 18.

Working with an acetylene torch on an old automobile in a scrap yard, he was showered with flaming fuel when the automobile's gasoline tank exploded.

His clothing aflame, he leaped into the pond. At Conneaut hospital he was treated for burns about the thighs.

The lowest total of annual deaths since 1918 was in 1921, in the same year that saw our all-time highest total of annual births.

Thanksgiving—

The Pilgrim Fathers observed Thanksgiving. . . They were deeply thankful for many blessings—principally freedom of thought, action and choice of religion. Their sturdy self-reliance made the New World theirs.

The Pilgrim's faith was not a complacent trust that all would be well. They were somewhat gloomy and in giving thanks for their blessings made preparations to defend those blessings. Privations and hardship sadly depleted the first group. But the reward for all was Liberty.

Today, we are again thankful for the blessings of Liberty and Freedom. Again today, a price must be paid to protect those rights. Our tremendous resources must be directed to defense for the common good. Our Thanksgiving cannot be a complacent one, because we must again arm ourselves against the forces threatening our rights.
