

White takes concerns to Wall Street

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Gov. Mark White says he is worried that investors, like others, equate Texas with the oil industry and will shy away from what they think is a financially risky area.

So Tuesday, after attending three days of the National Governors' Association winter meeting, White went to New York to meet with bond raters and investment analysts "just to let them ask me questions and explain what's going on in Texas."

"A lot of people equate Texas and the oil industry," White said. "We're obviously very dependent on the oil industry, but not nearly so much so as some of the other states."

White was due to return to Texas tonight.

The state is dependent on oil and gas severance taxes for about 13 percent of its revenues, White said.

He has proposed a 13 percent reduction in spending by state agencies to meet a $1.3 billion deficit projected by Comptroller Bob Bullock.

In a confidential memorandum that became public on Tuesday, Bullock's office said White's budget plan would not work and that cuts of 31 percent would be needed.

White said he "disagreed" with the comptroller.

"There's always a Chicken Little out there who says that something can't be done," White said.

White left Washington with an agreement that President Reagan will meet at some later date with oil-producing states to talk about the problem of dropping oil prices.

Last week, White wrote Reagan asking for an oil import fee to stabilize industry. The price drop is caused by a glut on the world market.

Press secretary Ann Arnold said a letter to Reagan supporting action on the oil crisis was being signed Tuesday by governors from non-producing states.

On Monday, House Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Fort Worth, said there was very little chance that an oil import fee would be approved because Reagan considers it a tax on consumer goods and has steadfastly refused to propose or endorse such measures.

After attending a White House meeting on Monday, White said he hoped that oil-producing states would get a chance to make their case with the president within a couple of weeks.

Marcos in Guam, Aquino plans amnesty

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — President Corazon Aquino named staunch opponents of Ferdinand E. Marcos and some of his former associates to her Cabinet today, and her vice president announced plans for a general political amnesty.

Marcos, who had governed the Philippines for 20 years, fled the country Tuesday night and flew to the U.S. island of Guam.

"The war is over," declared Mrs. Aquino's vice president and prime minister, Salvador H. Laurel. "Now we have to pick up the pieces."

Beset by a pro-Aquino military revolt, growing popular opposition and pressure from Washington to step down, Marcos abandoned the Malacanang palace Tuesday night after 20 years in power. He was whisked by a U.S. C-9 military air transport to Guam. Accompanied in to exile by his wife, Imelda, and a 53-member entourage of family members and die-hard loyalists, Marcos landed on U.S. soil this morning. Guam, in the Marianas Islands, is 1,000 miles east of the Philippines.

Marcos, 68, who reportedly suffers from lupus, a debilitating kidney disease, was carried aboard the C-9 on a stretcher before takeoff from Clark Air Base in the Philippines, but walked off the plane after it landed at Andersen Air Force Base, officials at the Guam facility said.

Maj. James Pisciotto, a Pentagon spokesman in Washington, said Marcos would leave Guam today for Hickam Air Force Base in Honolulu, Hawaii, 3,700 miles to the northeast.

News of the ousted president's departure touched off carnival-like outbursts of joy in Manila streets.

Thousands screamed "Cory, Cory!" the nickname of Mrs. Aquino, who refused to admit defeat after the Marcos-dominated National Assembly declared the incumbent the winner of the fraud-tainted Feb. 7 election.

"Certainly, with Mr. Marcos leaving and with the relaxed atmosphere,

'Now we have to pick up the pieces'

we can start healing the wounds," said Mrs. Aquino, 53, now president of this Asian nation of 55.5 million. Both she and Marcos took nearly identical but rival oaths of office Tuesday, only hours before Marcos fled the country.

Laurel today said the basic make-up of a new Cabinet had been agreed upon in discussions with Mrs. Aquino.

In addition to his positions as vice president and prime minister, Laurel was given the foreign minister's portfolio.

Two charged in 'Mickey Finn' deaths

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Arlington officials charged two women with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of a man drugged and robbed during a so-called Mickey Finn incident.

Sharon Denise Black, 27, and Michelle Eileen Bell, 21, were being held late Tuesday in Potter County jail in Amarillo in lieu of $100,000 bond each, said Amarillo police spokesman Ralph Fletcher.

Tarrant County sheriff's deputies expected to bring the women to Tarrant County today.

The two were arrested in Amarillo on Monday on Arlington warrants issued Thursday in connection with the death of John Edmund Knopp who was found Feb. 17 in a hotel room.

The 28-year-old man had been robbed of a Rolex watch, a diamond, gold-nugget ring and a gold chain necklace.

The charges could be increased to JACK NUNLEY ... County maintenance supervisor.

Nunley's job isn't boring

By SHAWN COCKRUM
Staff Writer

Who is really running Deaf Smith County? The County Judge? County Commissioners? The District Attorney? The District Judge? Their wives?

Nope. It's Jack Nunley. Nunley, the maintenance supervisor for the county courthouse, the county library, the E.B. Black House, the Deaf Smith County Museum and the two Bull Barns, has quite a few chores to reckon with in a given day. And if all that is not enough service to the community, Nunley is also on the Deaf Smith County Crimestoppers board and a member of the Rotary Club. And if that is still not enough, Nunley is also one of the founding rock collectors of the Lapidary Club and a member of the bluegrass band that will be performing during the county's Texas Sesquicentennial celebration this Saturday night.

"They only give me 40 hours a week to get everything done," Nunley said, "but at least there is nothing about this job that is monotonous."

Nunley, 57, has been working as the county maintenance supervisor since 1974. Before that he worked Firefighters also responded to an electrical fire at Moore's Jack and Jill grocery store Wednesday morning. A fire started when a frayed wire shorted out. There was minimal smoke in the building and the fire was quickly put out.

Multi-million dollar store opens here

Ribbon-cutting held for Save'n'Gain

The new $5.5 million Save 'n' Gain supermarket formally opened its doors here this morning with Roland Hasenoehrl, president of Furr's, Inc., announcing that Hereford will have the cheapest retail grocery prices anywhere in this part of the state.

The company's chief operations officer said the combination supermarket-warehouse concept, along with competition, will provide citizens of the entire area a savings in food prices. Hasenoehrl presented a $3,000 donation to City of Hereford at the ribbon-cutting ceremony, and Mayor Wes Fisher and C of C President Bill Harris extended congratulations to the firm.

Fisher, accepting the donation, said it would probably be used in the volunteer fire department and for furniture at the Community Center. The mayor said the community appreciated the company's confidence in building the 35,000 square-foot store here.

Harris presented Save 'n' Gain with its chamber membership plaque, and Hustler chairman Robert Mercer presented the store with a framed one-dollar bill, representing the "first clear dollar of profit." The Hustler group of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce then conducted the ribbon-cutting ceremony. Hasenoehrl said the store was erected in "record-setting time." The groundbreaking was held in late November, and he said it took just about 100 days to complete the project. He said the construction costs were about $3 million; the equipment is estimated at $2 million, and the stocking of merchandise amounted to $1.5 million for a total investment of some $5.5 million.

"Some people have said this store is too big for Hereford, but we planned it for the entire area," Hasenoehrl told those gathered for the formal opening ceremonies. He said the store would have about 150 employees, but it opened with about 230 employees and supervisors. Other Furr's people will be helping during the grand opening period.

The Furr's operation includes some 101 stores, and this is the 21st Save 'n' Gain store to be opened. Richard Selmon, former manager of Bag-n-Save here, is the manager of the new store located on N. 25 Mile Avenue.

The store will be given away a number of prizes Saturday, when drawings will be made from entries in a puzzle contest which was published in The Brand during the five previous weeks. The prizes include a new Chevrolet Chevette, a trip for two to Hawaii, five trips to Las Vegas and five color television sets.

The store includes, in addition to typical stock, a bakery, pharmacy, tortilleria, coffee shop, a fresh fish counter, a plant department, an international foods section, a bulk foods department, and a delicatessen.

Public supports farm aid

NEW YORK (AP) — Half the American public wants to see an increase in federal spending to help the country's farmers, according to a New York Times-CBS News Poll.

The support of 50 percent for more spending was up from 38 percent a year ago, according to the poll published in Tuesday's editions of the Times.

Fifty-five percent of the public said they were willing to pay more taxes if an increase would help troubled farmers save their land.

Twelve percent favored a decrease in government spending on farms, down from 14 percent a year ago, the newspaper said.

The poll by telephone of 1,174 adults was conducted Feb. 19 and 20 around the United States excluding Alaska and Hawaii. The survey had a sampling error of plus or minus 3 percentage points.

The Times said the poll showed wide awareness of farm problems, with five of six Americans thinking half or more of the nation's farmers are facing serious economic problems. Eleven percent think "only a few" are in the difficulty, the paper reported.

Regular gas 75¢ in Panhandle

BORGER, Texas (AP) — For some residents in this Panhandle city, gasoline at 75 cents to 80 cents a gallon isn't cheap enough. To save 10 to 15 cents per gallon, penny pinchers are driving 10 miles to Fritch or 90 miles to Amarillo to fill up, said David Johnson owner of McNulty Oil in Borger.

But the prices in Borger still are a bargain as stations participate in a revival of "gas wars" of the early 1970s.

Dealers are checking on neighboring stations, and telephones are ringing from Borger to Amarillo as some station owners check with suppliers and supervisors to see if prices can go any lower and still be profitable.

Two stations, Adobe Store and Lester's Convenience Store, dropped their prices six times in 24 hours two weeks ago, starting at 85 cents and ending up at 64 cents at the end of the day.

Johnson, whose oil firm runs and supplies Diamond Shamrock gas for Adobe, said he prompted the price war in an effort "to end the tradition of higher gas" prices in Borger.

"We're having a lot of fun, because we're getting the customers," he said. "Now if we weren't getting the customers, it would be a different story."

One owner, who asked to remain anonymous, told the Amarillo Globe-News that he would like to drop his prices, but that his supplier would not approve it. He said he watches people line up at another station for gasoline that is 5 cents cheaper, while his pumps stand idle.

Chagra trial goes to the jury

AUSTIN (AP) — After three weeks of trial, the question of whether Elizabeth Chagra was part of a family conspiracy to kill U.S. District Judge John Wood is up to a federal jury.

U.S. District Judge William Sessions told the eight men and four women jurors late Tuesday their deliberations would begin after he reads his official charge today.

Testimony in the trial, which began Feb. 5, ended Tuesday morning and attorneys' final arguments were heard in the afternoon.

"If there was no family conspiracy, Judge Wood would have lived today," said Ray Jahn, assistant U.S. attorney, who with his wife, LeRoy, presented the government's case.

"She was not an innocent bystander," said Mrs. Jahn. "She was a total participant."

"There is no evidence that Liz did a mean thing to anyone," said defense attorney Warren Burnett.

"The mere knowledge of a defendant that others have conspired to violate the law, even with her full sympathy, will not make her a conspirator," said Burnett. "You've got to find that Elizabeth formed an agreement with her husband, Jimmy Chagra, and her intent at that time was to accomplish the murder of Judge Wood."

Authorities conduct lab tests

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Traces of what appeared to be cyanide were discovered in the body of a 32-year-old man and in an Extra-Strength Tylenol capsule found in a bottle beneath his death bed, officials said today.

"Preliminary tests were done Tuesday which indicate cyanide is present," said Metro Nashville medical examiner Dr. Charles Harlan. "But we still have some confirmatory tests to make sure that's what's there."

"If we confirm that it is indeed cyanide, then we have to determine how much is there. That will help us determine if the amount there is sufficient to cause death," Harlan said.

Tests conducted today by the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation should show whether cyanide caused Timothy R. Green's death, but it is too soon to tell how the substance got into the capsule, Harlan said.

Johnson & Johnson this month pulled capsules of the non-aspirin pain reliever from the over-the-counter market after a New York woman died from taking an Extra-Strength Tylenol capsule that had been laced with cyanide.

Her death occurred 3½ years after seven people in Illinois died from ingesting cyanide contained in Extra-Strength Tylenol capsules.

McCord chosen for Templeton Prize

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. James I. McCord, a long-time theological educator and ecumenical statesman, was named today as the 1988 recipient of the $253,000 Templeton Prize for Progress in Religion, the world's largest religion award.

McCord, 66, was cited as an "international churchman, religious statesman and educator par excellence," and for his recent founding in Princeton, N. J., of a "unique center" exploring links between science, culture and religion.

He was termed "uncontestedly one of the very few great figures in the world of religious education today."

He is a veteran leader in the ecumenical movement for Christian unity, a builder of ties between Western and Eastern churches, and was president for 24 years of Princeton Theological Seminary, Presbyterianism's chief seminary.

McCord has served as president of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches, chairman of the U.S. 10-denomination Consultation on Church Union and on the theological commission of the World Council of Churches.

Worst feared in Challenger launch

WASHINGTON (AP) — When NASA rejected safety concerns by contractor engineers and decided to go ahead with launching the space shuttle Challenger, Allan McDonald feared the worst of possibilities.

"If anything happens to this launch," he recalled telling NASA officials at the Kennedy Space Center the night before liftoff, "I sure wouldn't want to be the person that had to stand in front of a board of inquiry to explain."

On Tuesday, the silver-haired engineer and shuttle project director for Morton Thiokol Inc., which manufactures the shuttle rocket boosters, stood before just such a board of inquiry — not to explain the decision to launch, but his vain attempts to stop it.

Testifying before the presidential commission investigating the Jan. 28 explosion of the Challenger, McDonald and other Morton Thiokol engineers told of the frustration they felt in failing to convince NASA officials and their own company's managers of the potential danger of a launch in temperatures expected to fall below freezing during the night.

In a calm, even-toned presentation, McDonald, 48, guided the commission members through heated exchanges that took place on the eve of the launch during a 2½-hour, three-way telephone hookup between Morton Thiokol offices in Utah and NASA officials in Alabama and the Kennedy Space Center in Florida.

First the company urged a postponement, but officials at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said they were "appalled" at the holdup.

'We Are The World' best song

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The music academy voted its conscience at the 28th annual Grammy Awards, declaring that "We Are the World" deserved song and record of the year, but deciding that USA for Africa's album was no match for Phil Collins' snappy "No Jacket Required."

"We Are The World," recorded by 45 top artists including Bruce Springsteen, Tina Turner, Kenny Rogers and Stevie Wonder, also won best group pop performance for producer Quincy Jones and best short form video.

"The most important thing was, when we called, you responded and we thank you for it," said Lionel Richie, who along with superstar Michael Jackson wrote the song that raised $33 million for African famine relief.

"When you leave here, remember the children," Jackson added at the Tuesday night awards ceremony. He later said, "I wanted to write a song the world could sing."

Officials of the National Association of Recording Arts and Sciences estimated up to 90 million viewers watched the show televised by CBS.

Collins, on leave as drummer from the British group Genesis, won album of the year for his slick "No Jacket Required," which also earned him best male pop vocal performance and producer of the year along with Hugh Padgham.

"Now that I've got these, I've got to live up to them," he said.

Wonder won best male rhythm and blues performance for his "In Square Circle" LP, his 18th lifetime Grammy award, putting him fourth on the all-time list. Jones' two Grammys moved him to a third-place tie with pianist Vladimir Horowitz.

Conductor Sir Georg Solti, whose recording of Schoenberg's "Moses und Aron" won best opera recording, is first with 23, followed by Henry Mancini with 20.

Whitney Houston won the Grammy for pop female vocal performance for "Saving All My Love for You," an award handed to her by her delighted cousin, Dionne Warwick.

Sade, a Nigerian pop princess whose sultry sound on her "Diamond Life" LP revived an interest in cafe jazz, took the best new artist award.

Dire Straits won best rock performance by a group for "Money for Nothing," while the group's "Brothers in Arms" album also won a Grammy for engineering. Dire Straits' leader Mark Knopfler won with country guitarist Chet Atkins for their guitar work for best country instrumental performance for "Cosmic Squaredance."

Whoopi Goldberg, nominated for an Oscar as best actress in "The Color Purple," won the comedy album award for "Whoopi Goldberg." She appeared shocked as she learned she won, and ad-libbed a four-letter word in her acceptance speech, apologizing, "I forgot where I was."

Author's own house led to book called 'House'

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) — Tracy Kidder talks proudly of replacing clapboards and roof, of getting behind walls and under floors to discover the beauty of a well-built house.

Like homeowners before him, Kidder was "terrified and fascinated" when he bought his 93-year-old house. Out of necessity, he became an adept do-it-yourselfer. But for the jobs he couldn't do, Kidder called an expert carpenter, a friend of a friend named Alex Ghiselin.

Kidder liked hanging out with Ghiselin and his three partners in a building company named Apple Corps, and he watched them build a house in nearby Amherst.

Thanks to Kidder, thousands of readers "watched," too, through his book "House," the year's least likely best-seller. After all, how can the story of the building of a house make exciting reading?

"It's been written about a lot, usually in the economic pages, and that can be fairly dull for people who are not tremendously into it to begin with," Kidder said. "But it's not dull, as anyone who has been through it knows. It's not a dull subject."

It certainly isn't dull when Kidder writes about it.

"House" follows the fortunes of the four carpenters, an architect and Jonathan and Judith Souweine, the couple who commissioned the 3,000-square-foot home. Kidder begins with groundbreaking and slowly builds the story as the house rises to completion. But it is more than a story about a house. It is also about the relationships between partners, between architects and contractors, and between craftsmen and clients.

In "House," we can read what the builders say about the architect when the architect is out of earshot. We witness their reactions to design changes, to overwork, to demanding customers. We see tempers flare when it looks like the carpenters have underestimated the cost of the job. And we're privy to the negotiations between the carpenters and the owners, and how they resolve their differences.

It is also a book about ethics and craftsmanship, principles that deserve to be celebrated and that Kidder thinks are fast disappearing from the land. Apple Corps is four likable guys who take pride in their work, and they are the heroes of the book.

Although there are many lessons in "House" for people who are considering building a home, its appeal goes far beyond the nuts-and-bolts of home construction.

"We're talking about something that's very ancient and primary," said Kidder. "Early civilized man was scared to death of this, of building houses, particularly chopping down trees and building houses. ... It is the quintessential act of civilization. Now, we've been at it so long that it seems almost a natural act of the species to build shelter."

four years at McCaslin Lumber Company and was the manager of Taylor's Grocery Store for 15 years. Nunley came to Hereford from Canyon where he was working for Taylor's.

"They transferred me over here when they built the store," Nunley said.

Nunley and his wife Helen have been residents of Hereford since 1956. They are the parents of four children, Gerald of Lubbock, Dennis of Denver, Annie of Abilene and Lita of Colorado City, Texas.

One of the first experiences the Nunleys had upon their arrival to Hereford was a bit on the scary side.

While Nunley was still working for Taylor's, two would-be bandits asked store employees where they could find the manager. After being told where Nunley lived, the two men went to the Nunley home, dragged Jack, his wife, and the three children out of the house and put them in their car. The men then took their car and Nunley's car and left the city. Nunley said one of the men was a little crazy and kept telling the other one to pull over, saying, "Let's do it now." One subject, however, kept talking the other out of doing whatever they were going to do.

Nunley said that scene of the two arguing happened repeatedly.

Then after a few hours, the two men let the air out of Nunley's tires and pulled some of the wiring.

"Then they drove up the road, made a U-turn and just drove past us," Nunley said. "I began to work on the wiring of the car, got it started, and drove to the nearest house to call the sheriff and state troopers. One of the state troopers, Eddie Richards, heard the first radio broadcasts of the kidnapping just as he saw a car that resembled the description of the perpetrators. Eddie pulled out his shotgun and held it on those fellows."

"Just about that time some wrestlers from Clovis were passing by and saw Eddie over there holding those two guys. The wrestlers sat on them until help could arrive."

Nunley said the experience was just like something that you would see on TV. "They gave each of them 35 years" Nunley added.

Aside from that experience, Nunley has spent the rest of the time in Hereford contributing to the community. "I have had perfect attendance at the Rotary Club for 28 years, and that is no easy trick."

Nunley stated that he will stay in Hereford after retirement. "We are planning on doing a little travel and rock hunting," Nunley said.

When asked what he thought about the future of Hereford, Nunley said, "I hope it just keeps on growing, I intend to spend the rest of my life here."

Army moves in to quell police riot

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Truckloads of soldiers armed with automatic weapons rolled toward the Great Pyramids early Wednesday to control a rampage by thousands of paramilitary troops who set fire to cars, buses and buildings.

Cairo Radio said the army, including special forces commandos, was ordered to the area late Tuesday.

The policemen were said to be enraged by a false rumor that their tours of duty were being extended. Unofficial sources said about 8,000 of them took part in the rampage and that at least 1,000 were still at large early Wednesday.

Police sealed off the roads leading to the pyramid district, located on the western fringes of the capital. Residents of the area reached by telephone said they could hear sporadic gunfire after dawn Wednesday.

capital murder charges depending on the results of toxicology test to determine if Knopp died as a result of the drugging, said Jim Willett, Arlington police spokesman.

In Amarillo Tuesday, authorities recovered a variety of unidentified pills, clothes matching the description of those worn by the two women at the time of Knopp's death and a black wig at a hotel where the women were staying, Willett said.

Officials also seized a 1977 Cadillac, matching a car spotted at Knopp's hotel at the time of his death. Inside, police found a matchbook belonging to the Arlington hotel.

Charges also were filed against Ezell Walton, 31, who was arrested Monday in Amarillo as he tried to bail Ms. Black out of jail, Willett said.

Walton was wearing jewelry resembling the pieces stolen from Knopp.

Walton was being held without bond Tuesday in Potter County Jail on a possession of stolen property charge and a separate charge of bail-jumping.

Ms. Black and Ms. Bell were indicted Feb. 12 on charges of robbery in a Dallas Mickey Finn incident. Both were released on $10,000 bond in that case.

Two Dallas men have reported to police that they are the latest victims of the Mickey Finn robberies.

Police said that both men reported they were drugged and robbed after meeting women at Studebaker's

Club in north Dallas in separate incident.

The man told police that he met a woman at the club early Tuesday. He said they drove to a nearby restaurant for breakfast.

"During breakfast, I got up to go to the john, and when I got back, she had poured cream in my coffee," the victim told police.

The 30-year-old man told officers the last thing he remembered was driving from the restaurant to his apartment.

When he awoke about eight hours later, the man said, he discovered that the woman had stolen his car and property valued at more than $500.

In the second case, a 29-year-old man told police he met a woman at Studebaker's who suggested they go to his apartment.

The man told officers he remembered drinking some wine with the woman. He woke up several hours later and discovered his watch and wallet missing.

Historic flag to remain in Mexico

AUSTIN (AP) — A flag that was flying over the Alamo when the mission fell to the Mexican army will not be returned to Texas for display during the Sesquicentennial, according to an oil industry consultant who has been seeking the return of the banner.

Claude D'Unger of Corpus Christi said Tuesday he has been told by a private company negotiating with the Mexican government over the New Orleans Grays flag that a decision has been made to keep the flag in Mexico.

An executive with the firm, who asked that his name not be used, confirmed that the flag apparently will not be returned. The East Coast company represents the Mexican government's interests in the United States.

A U.S. diplomat in Mexico City independently confirmed that Mexico has decided not to return the flag, the Austin American Statesman reported today.

The Mexicans have not relayed a decision on the flag to Sen. Phil Gramm or House Majority Leader Jim Wright, who have formally requested that the flag be returned, according to spokesmen for their offices. Aides to the legislators said they presume Mexico has made no decision about the flag because they have not been notified.

Minister Juan Ponce Enrile, and promoted Fidel V. Ramos to full general and made him his military chief of staff. The two men bolted from Marcos' government last Saturday and led the rebellion that finally toppled Marcos.

Businessmen Jaime Ongpin was chosen finance minister, Jose Antonio Gonzales was selected tourism minister, and Jose Concepcion was chosen to be the trade minister. Concepcion headed the National Movement for Free Elections, or Namfrel, a citizens group that declared Mrs. Aquino winner of the Feb. 7 Election despite a National Assembly proclamation of Marcos.

Mrs. Aquino earlier announced she would retain Central Bank Gov. Jose Fernandez.

Laurel also announced plans for "a general amnesty to all political offenders."

In announcing U.S. recognition of Mrs. Aquino, Secretary of State George P. Shultz said Tuesday in Washington, "The new government has been produced by one of the most stirring and courageous examples of the democratic process in modern history. We honor the Filipino people."

PICKING A COLLEGE

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) - How do high school students choose colleges? Some do so rationally and others romantically, says Dennis O'Brien, president of the University of Rochester. He says that while some choose on the basis of academic programs, others use the "botanical principal of university choice" - they enroll at a college after being impressed by all the flowers in bloom when they visit.

Ann Landers

Motherhood not for everyone

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently a woman wrote and asked about having her tubes tied. She was 32, had two children and was divorced. You told her to think two times three times and then a fourth before she made a decision.

I had my tubes tied when I was 24, after two abortions and a miscarriage. I tried every form of birth control known to woman (and man), and wasn't comfortable with any of them.

I'm 36 now and have never regretted my decision. I don't like children, never have liked them and am greatly relieved to know I won't have any. I have yet to meet a man who was disturbed because of this.

My freedom from the tyranny of birth control, abortion and the emotional strain it produces has been a major factor in keeping me well-balanced and anxiety-free. Before I had the surgery, several doctors tried to shame me into "growing up and coming to my senses." I feel comfortable with my decision and hope my letter will encourage other women to be honest with themselves and not feel guilty about it.—DIFFERENT SIDE OF THE STORY IN SANTA ROSA

DEAR ROSA: Motherhood is not for everyone. Women who do not like children and don't want them make a big mistake when they buckle under to societal pressure.

There would be fewer abused youngsters, juvenile delinquents and teenage criminals if more women had the courage to admit their true feelings and not feel like monsters. I applaud your courage to face the truth, take an unpopular stand and not be concerned about what others think.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like to ask a favor of you. I was born in France and came to this country when I was 18. In 1976 my second husband passed away. He was a World War II veteran. I was given the American flag that had been draped over his casket. It meant a great deal to me. My nephew from France loves this country and comes to visit me every two years. In 1977, on his first visit, he asked me to buy him the biggest American flag I could find. I decided to give him the one I had.

In 1978, I visited him in Paris. I was shocked and hurt to see that he was using the flag as a bedspread. I asked him nicely to put it away while I was his guest. He apologized and said he had no idea he had done something wrong.

Ann, please tell all Americans to treat our flag with the respect it deserves. To me it is a source of pride and inspiration. Yet we see flags faded and weather-beaten at the entrances of mobile home parks and apartment buildings.

A word in your column would help a lot. So many people learn from you. Thanks for your help.—A LOVER OF OLD GLORY (CARTHAGE, MISS.)

DEAR LOVER: I too, have seen flags that are faded and torn. It's disgraceful.

I hope everyone who flies a flag will check it out today and if we're talking to you, get moving.

CONFIDENTIAL TO Boiling Mad and Can't Get Over It: Time is sure to diminish your anger. Bear in mind that hate, like acid, does more damage to the vessel in which it is stored than to the object on which it is poured.

Earaches can be serious

Along with colds and flue, winter weather also can be the season of earaches, particularly for infants and young children.
 The Texas Medical Association says untreated ear infections can lead to hearing loss.
 An infection of the middle ear, usually caused by a virus, but sometimes caused by bacteria, inflames the cells lining the middle ear cavity. The disorder often develops when viruses from an infection of the nose and throat, such as a cold or measles, travel to the middle ear.
 Acute middle ear infections occur often in children. At least half of them have an infected middle ear at some time, and repeated attacks of the problem often occur.
 Symptoms include a feeling of fullness in the ear along with severe stabbing pain. Hearing loss in the affected ear and fever can also occur.
 If the infection is caused by bacteria and is not treated, the pressure of pus within the middle ear may eventually burst the eardrum.

This produces a pus discharge that is accompanied by sudden relief from the pain. If the infection is caused by a virus, the symptoms are similar, but the problem will usually clear up without bursting the eardrum.
 Untreated bacterial infections can become chronic. This is a far more serious condition than an acute infection. This happens when an acute infection either never completely clears up because some of the organisms that caused it remain in the ear.

POLLY'S POINTERS — Thaw fish safely

DEAR POLLY — What's the best way to thaw frozen fish? — CHRIS
DEAR CHRIS — Frozen fish should be thawed slowly in the refrigerator. This will ensure a fresh-tasting, wholesome product. It takes about 24 hours for a one-pound package of solid frozen fish to thaw. The fish should be cooked as soon as possible after thawing, certainly within a day at most.
 If you're in a hurry, the package may be thawed in cold water. It will take an hour or more for one pound to thaw in cold water. If you have a larger package and it takes longer than an hour, change the water frequently so it stays cold. Never thaw fish (or any frozen meat) at room temperature or in warm water.
 If you do use frozen fish, be sure you store it in a freezer at zero degrees Fahrenheit or lower. Warmer temperatures will contribute to the gradual deterioration of the fish, causing it to lose color, flavor, texture and nutrients. Frozen fish should not be kept longer than six months. — POLLY

Hereford man to run in Easter Seal Society race

A Hereford man is one of 15 runners selected for an Easter Seal Society run organized by the Texas State Troopers Association.

Dean Fox, who has been a Texas Department of Public Safety trooper for 17 years, will run in the Easter Seal Society run March 4-9.

The fund raising event will start in El Paso on March 4, and will conclude in Texarkana on March 9. The distance covered by the 12 runners will be about 836 miles.

Only commissioned Department of Public Safety Troopers will participate in the Easter Seal Society run. Each runner will run about 70 miles.

The route for the run, according to Claude Hart, executive director of the Texas State Troopers Association, is Interstate 10 from El Paso to Interstate 20; Interstate 20 through Pecos, Monahans, Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, Abilene, and Fort Worth; the Interstate 20-Loop 820 through Benbrook and Forest Hill; Interstate 20 through Arlington, Grand Prairie, Dallas, Duncanville, Lancaster, Hutchins, Blanch Springs, and Mes-quite; and then Interstate 30 through Garland and to Texarkana.

"Dean Fox has been selected because of his excellent physical condition and his desire to donate his off-duty time to raise money for a very worthwhile charity," Hart said.

Fox began serious road racing in 1977. He is running 60 to 70 miles a week this year, and in the past has run as many as 80 miles a week.

The 12-man running team has a goal of each runner averaging eight-minute miles in the Easter Seal Society run, Fox notes.

People who wish to make pledges for the Easter Seal Society may call toll free at 1-800-252-COPS, and pledge cards will be mailed to them. They also may write to: Texas State Troopers Association, 7701 N. Lamar, Suite 313, Austin, TX, 78752.

The runners in the Easter Seal Society run will be assigned to three teams made up of four primary runners and one alternate. The entire group will have 12 main runners and three alternates.

Each runner will run a five-minute relay and each team will be responsible for 20 continuous miles of running, Hart said. Each team will have about six hours between their running assignments.

The run is expected to take about four and one half days to complete. The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Colonel James B. Adams, will hand the baton to the first runner in El Paso, will receive the baton from the last runner in Texarkana, and will also present the pledge check to the Texas representative of the Easter Seal Society.

Hart adds, "We believe in what Easter Seals is trying to accomplish, and that is why the Texas State Troopers have decided to join together throughout the state to help."

"The Easter Seal Society is the country's oldest and largest non-profit agency providing direct services to people with disabilities. Each dollar that the Easter Seal Society receives locally is returned to that community as therapy, equipment; anything that will help a child or an adult with a disability achieve a more independent way of life."

HHS boys' tracksters open season Saturday

By GARY CHRISTENSEN Sports Editor

Twenty-three athletes are out for boys' track for Hereford High School this season, including five seniors and three juniors from last year's varsity team.

The seniors who are returning are Allen Dudding, a sprinter; Darren Jones, a distance runner; Danny DelToro and Adam Olivarez, both in the discus; and Casey Smith in the shot put.

The three juniors are springers Jimmy Hazzard, Vincent Brown and Ricky Ruiz.

About the rest of the athletes out for track, Coach Ron Young said, "We have several good sophomores coming up who will help us—Marcus Brown, sprinter; Chris Bullard, sprinter, long jumper and high jumper; Ishmael Castillo, distance runner; and Fidencio Cantu, sprinter.

"Teamwise, I don't know how we'll do, because we have so many new people. We have more speed this year, and we have more field events people. But more of them are sophomores.

"I'm just going to have to see them compete in a few meets," Young states.

Young also notes that a junior transfer from Lubbock Monterey High School, Jon Douglas, is out for track. "He's a sprinter and he's going to help us quite a bit," Young said.

Hereford opens the season Saturday in the Amarillo meet, and then compete in the Lubbock meet on March 8.

The Hereford meet is scheduled for March 15. Other meets will be the Snyder meet on March 22, the Pampa meet on April 5, and the Plainview meet on April 12.

The District 3-5A meet is set for April 19.

HE GOT HIS MAN
FULLERTON, Calif. (AP) — Jeff Nauta, a student at California-Fullerton and an assistant football coach, made the tackle of the year last fall — in a parking lot.

Nauta was outside the Hacienda Heights Bank when he heard suspicious noises coming from inside. He went into the bank, heard it had been stuck up, and ran into the parking lot. He saw one of the robbers riding through the area on a moped. Nauta launched a flying tackle, brought the stick-up man down and sat on him until police arrived.

Going into 1986 baseball season

Whitefaces are confident

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor

Eight varsity players from last year's team are returning this season for the Hereford High School baseball squad.

Nine players in all who are trying out for baseball have pitching experience, notes Coach Don Long, who speaks with confidence and optimism about the 1986 season.

"The kids are pretty excited. They're a lot more optimistic than they've been before," Long said. Long is in his third year as head coach for the Whitefaces, and before that he was junior varsity coach for two seasons.

"There's going to be a lot more parity in the district. Monterrey will not be an outstanding team, and I think we can play good against them all," he continues.

"I think this is by far the best overall team we've had since I've been here. I think we have a chance to get into the playoffs, and the kids think so, too," he adds.

Returning starters for the Whitefaces are Rodney Torres, a senior shortstop and pitcher; Stefan Hacker, a senior who played first base last year and will play left field this year; Keith Herrera, junior second baseman and pitcher; Curtis Cotten, a senior outfielder who saw action both in the outfield and at third base last season; and Bobby Medina, a junior pitcher.

The other varsity players who return from last year are senior Philip Webster, outfielder, and junior Kyle Streun, a first baseman who played at the catcher position last year.

Long noted this week that he has had 40 athletes out for baseball, but will have to decide on 32 for the two HHS teams.

Other seniors out for baseball, Long said, are David Ankeney, Rex Baxter, Jerry Brown, Bobby Martinez, and Doug Watts.

"I think we'll be a real good hitting ball club. We have a lot more pitchers than we've had before," Coach Long said.

"I think pitching is going to be the key to our success. We've got some kids who I think can handle it. We're not going to have the type of pitchers who throw it by everyone.

"We've just got to keep from beating ourselves, to keep from walking a lot of batters."

About the sophomores, Long states, "We had a good sophomore class, some dandies. You can tell they've been well coached in Babe Ruth League and in Kids Inc.

GENERAL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former heavyweight champ Ken Norton is progressing well after surgery for a fractured skull sustained in a car accident, hospital officials said.

The 42-year-old former World Boxing Council champion, who underwent surgery at Cedars-Sinai Hospital on Monday, was listed in serious condition Tuesday at the hospital's intensive care unit, spokesman Ron Wise said.

"He is still listed as serious but stable, but seems to be making good progress," Wise said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Dwight Gooden edged out Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, track star Valerie Brisco-Hooks and William "The Refrigerator" Perry to become Gordon's Gin Black Athlete of the Year for 1985.

The New York Mets hurler, the unanimous winner of the National League Cy Young Award, received 237 points in the final balloting by a panel of black sports writers and broadcasters to Jabbar's 201, it was announced Tuesday.

Gooden will receive a $25,000 cash prize and a hand-sculptured bronze trophy.

NEW YORK (AP) — Said Aouita, the Moroccan track star who set two world records last year and won a gold medal in the Los Angeles Olympics, was named winner of the 1986 Jesse Owens International Amateur Athlete Award.

In the final balloting by an international panel of judges, the 25-year-old Aouita beat British middle distance runner Steve Cram and Soviet Union pole vaulter Sergei Bubka. The three finalists were chosen from an original list of 21 candidates.

AUTO RACING

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dale Earnhardt, fined $5,000 for reckless driving at Sunday's Miller 400, may get back a $10,000 bond if he successfully completes his probation for the rest of the 1986 Winston Cup season.

Officials at the National Association of Stock Car Auto Racing said Earnhardt made an irresponsible move in hitting Darrell Waltrip. The resulting wreck extensively damaged both men's cars and those of several other drivers.

FOOTBALL

BALTIMORE (AP) — Carl Peterson, general manager of the Baltimore Stars, has confirmed he was offered the post of vice president of professional personnel for the Dallas Cowboys but has decided to stay with the United States Football League here.

Peterson said in a telephone interview from his Philadelphia office that he was flattered, and he has deep respect for Cowboys president Tex Schramm and the National Football League, but this is not the time for him to leave the USFL franchise that he has nurtured to two championships.

"I sincerely believe that I've invested so much time and effort into the success of the Philadelphia-Baltimore Stars that it's not proper for me to leave them now," Peterson said.

The Stars are scheduled to play their first full season in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium this fall, after playing the USFL's first two seasons in Philadelphia and a transition season at the University of Maryland campus in College Park.

Baseball hit through, not over, fence

POMPAÑO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Rookie Pete Incaviglia had Texas Rangers manager Bobby Valentine running a little scared during his first day of spring batting practice.

"The Fat Kid," as Valentine fondly calls him, hit a line drive hard enough to add to his already fast-spreading legend.

He literally knocked a baseball-sized hole through the top of the fence in left center.

"That's 1-inch plywood," Valentine said. "Awesome."

Moreover, he hit a line drive that skipped off Valentine's back when the Rangers manager, who was pitching batting practice, didn't duck behind the screen in time.

"From his second swing on, I had the fear of God," Valentine said. "I couldn't see some of the home runs off the bat. What happens when the only protection the pitchers have is a glove? There's no reaction time to get out of the way. You just pray it (the ball) hits you in a good spot."

Incaviglia, who set an NCAA record with 48 home runs in 75 games at Oklahoma State last spring, also hit eight homers against the wind during a 10-minute session, including five in his last 13 swings. Four of them were from 450-plus feet.

"A lot of people said I hit so many home runs (in college) because of the aluminum bat," Incaviglia said. "It's nice to show people so I don't have to hear that any more."

But hitting a ball through the fence?

"I've done that a couple of times," Incaviglia said with a matter-of-fact, but modest shrug.

Abundant Life

PROBLEM SOLVING

By Bob Wear

A PROBLEM-FREE living experience seems to be the wish and expectation of many persons. Of course, all of us would like fewer problems, but expecting a problem-free life is unrealistic. There is a very real sense in which living is problem-solving, and the sooner we accept this fact the better life will be for us.

THERE ARE some unnecessary problems, those caused by foolish choices, laziness, self-indulgence, bad associates, neglected duties, and slighted opportunities; and these can be eliminated and should be. After we eliminate the unnecessary problems, we still have problems; but the burden will not be too heavy.

WE MUST NOT resent the problems which come our way, but accept them as part of the living experience and work in the best way we can to find a satisfactory solution. Complaining about them, or trying to ignore them, or running away, or otherwise accepting defeat will only add to our burden.

THE DIFFERENT means of escape which are so well-known today provide no help. In fact, to the extent people use them they compound the difficulties of their life situation. It may not always be easy to face up to our problems, and keep working for solutions; but trying to escape or run away is not the answer. Most problems have a satisfactory solution, or at least a solution with which we can live. There may be some disappointments, but we can handle these.

THERE MUST BE problems, because the human experience would not be possible without them. It would be some-other-world experience. For living, as human beings, we need the challenge of problem-solving. This is part of the process by which we can grow strong and wise.

"REPEATED VICTORIES over your problems are the rungs on your ladder to success."—C. Stone. In most instances, we can deal with our problems so they serve some good purpose in our lives.

Hoff selected to run in marathon

Former Hereford resident, Lt. Paul Hoff of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety, has been selected as one of 12 DPS runners who will participate in an 836-mile marathon run across Texas to raise money for the Texas Easter Seal Society.

Hoff, a 1963 Hereford High School graduate, is the son of Peg Hoff of Hereford. He and his wife, Linda Winkler Hoff, daughter of Eleanor Winkler of Hereford, have a daughter and son.

Hoff explained that each runner in the marathon will cover about 70 miles in five-mile segments beginning in El Paso on March 4 and concluding in Texarkana on March 9. The runners will make an appearance in Texarkana at the Easter Seal Telethon March 9.

He said the DPS will take pledges from individuals and organizations. The pledge cards will go to an Austin bank and none of the funds collected will defray the costs of the run. The Texas State Troopers Association will pay all the expenses.

The Easter Seal Society furnishes and repairs equipment such as wheel chairs and braces for the disabled and has special rehabilitation and training facilities throughout the nation.

Hoff is a 17-year veteran of the DPS. He and his son Danny have participated in the Greg Black 10K Memorial Run.

Anyone interested in making a pledge can contact him at (806)747-4491 or can write The Texas State Troopers Association, 7701 N. Lamar, Suite 313, Austin, Tx. 78752.

Contest winner announced

Emmy Jo Garza, seven, recently won first place for a poster she drew for a PTA contest at Rex Reeves Elementary in Canyon. Her poster "From Liberty's View," has been forwarded to state competition.

She is the daughter of Hereford residents Refugio and Trini Gamez.

MR. AND MRS. BOB LAMM

Former residents observe anniversary

Former Hereford residents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lamm of Waco, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently. The couple owned and operated Lamm's Jewelry Store in Hereford for a number of years.

The Lamms renewed their wedding vows at a morning Mass celebrated by Father James A. Greiner at St. Matthew's Catholic Church in Elk City, Ok.

Accompanied to the altar by Mrs. Lamm's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Roys of Oklahoma City, Ok., Mr. and Mrs. Lamm carried gold rosaries which had been carried by Lamm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo H. Lamm, at their 50th anniversary celebration.

A reception followed at the Holiday Inn and was hosted by the Lamm's children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Lamm and Lori Lamm of Tucumcari, N.M.; Bobby, Tony and Terry Lamm, students at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Neill and Sondra Whitehead of Houston; and Lt. Rick Whitehead, U.S. Navy flight officer of San Diego, Calif.

The former Mary Teresa O'Hara, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. O'Hara, Sr. of Elk City, and Bob Lamm, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugo H. Lamm of Canute exchanged vows Feb. 17, 1936 in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Elk City. The late Rev. A. Geeraert, officiated.

Spring floral arrangements decorated the serving tables including an arrangement from friends, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kershen of Hereford.

Following the cake cutting ceremony, a light lunch of hors d'oeuvres was served to those present. Also, Lamm's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Compton of Boise City, Ok., presented the couple with a VCR video tape of the celebration.

Among the gifts the couple received was a limited edition print of "Sharing the Faith" by Larry Dyke. The original is in the Vatican collection and hangs in the Pope's quarters. Dyke is a friend of the Lamm's son-in-law, Bob Neill. They also received an original snow scene painting by Lamm's sister, Mrs. Joe Merz.

Guests from Hereford included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huckert and Marie Sears.

TAXES

TAXES noun a compulsory payment for the support of government.

Benjamin Franklin is credited with saying "In this world nothing is certain but death and taxes."

While we all must pay some taxes, now there's a way to pay less. It's with an Individual Retirement Account. This allows you an opportunity to place $2,000 a year ($4,000 if both you and your spouse work, $2,250 if only one of a married couple works) into a special account that is free of federal income taxes. Even the interest you earn isn't taxable.

Don't pay more taxes than you need to pay. Come to the First National Bank of Hereford and open your I.R.A.

A tax and/or interest penalty may apply for early withdrawal of your I.R.A.
