

Honor society recognizes Mrs. Mercer, Morris

By JERI CURTIS
Staff Writer

The school administration secretary of 27 years, Mrs. Dorothy Mercer, was bestowed an honorary membership into the Hereford High National Honor Society and Jeff Morris received the NHS scholarship during a formal initiation ceremony for 55 students Wednesday.

Those honors were given after presentation of current members and induction of initiates who have obtained a grade point average of at least 3.0.

The ceremony included a vocal selection by Annette Dawson and welcoming of guests by Paula Mason, NHS secretary, Morris, NHS treasurer, led the invocation and pledge of allegiance and Jay Hodge, vice president, reviewed the requirements for NHS.

Dr. Harrell Holder, superintendent of schools, and John Walch, Hereford High principal, presented certificates to members. Mrs. Gracie Shaw gave each honor student a carnation which was presented by the student to his or her parents.

A reception for members and parents followed the ceremony.

Senior member Bethany Boyd presented members in her class. New initiates were Joseph Diller, Erasmo Gonzales and Tina Watson. Junior initiates Sylvia Benavidez and Shelly Mitchell were presented by Ronnie Killough.

Sophomores, eligible for the first time, were presented by Mike Sizemore. They were Matthew Albracht, Carla R. Alford, Lucie Amar, Quinton Artho, Lee Brockman, Scott Calkins, Georgia Collins, Chris Cortez, Michael Drake, Phyllis Duncan, Douglas Evers, Steven Flippo, Don Flood, Mandy Flores, Jeffrey Gallagher, Angela Garza, Noel Gonzalez, Jesse Guerrero, Delores Ann Hamby, Misti L. Hardin, Joni Hicks, Robin Hopper, Tracie Horton, Buffy A. Huckert, and Mary Ann Hund.

Also, Steven L. Jones, Keith Kalka, Molly Keating,

Amy Mason, Aaron M. McMorries, Mikala D. Moore, Cindy Morgan, Shannon Morrison, Donna Osborn, Doug Owens, Tracy Pinkerton, Gary Rahlfs, Gano Duann Rettman, Blair Rogers, Mark Salas, Alicia Salinas, Travis Shields, Kurt E. Simon, William C. Stribling, Randy Villarreal, Kristin Walterscheid, Cheri Welty, Sandra Zepeda, Joe Zetzsche, and Connie Zinser.

Two-year senior members are Martha Del Toro, Stephanie Foster, Annabeth Friemel, Tanya Gauthreaux, Craig Hammon, Kim Lookingbill, Whitney Parriss, Charlie Suarez, Holly Veigel and Kathy Weldon.

Battelle recommends area for further study

COLUMBUS, OHIO - The U.S. Department of Energy has received a recommendation from its contractor for studies of salt deposits that a site northeast of Hereford in Deaf Smith County should be considered for further study for siting a geologic repository for high-level nuclear waste.

"Battelle's Office of Nuclear Waste Isolation has recommended this next screening step in Texas; however, DOE is not acting on that recommendation at this time," said J.O. Neff, general manager of DOE's National Waste Terminal Storage Program Office.

Battelle's recommendation reflects information available through March 1 and is based on technical considerations such as the depth, thickness, and quality of the salt beds. No evidence has been found that would eliminate sites in either county. Field work and data analysis are still under way, Neff said, and DOE plans to make its decision on narrowing to a smaller study area when that work is completed, probably early this summer.

For the past year, DOE's studies in the Palo Duro Basin have centered on locations in both Deaf Smith County and Swisher County.

Other locations under consideration by DOE are salt deposits at the Richton salt dome in Perry County, Mississippi; Vacherie dome in Webster-Bienville parishes, Louisiana; Gibson Dome in San Juan County, Utah; and volcanic rock formations under federal nuclear reservations at Hanford, Washington, and the Nevada Test Site near Las Vegas.

U.S. allies approve of missile offer

LOS ANGELES (AP) - President Reagan's offer to trim the number of nuclear missiles to be deployed in Europe if the Soviets pare their arsenal of medium-range warheads is being well received by America's European allies.

But the man who negotiated the SALT II treaty for the United States says the Soviets probably will find "there's nothing in it for them."

There was no immediate official response from Moscow as Reagan prepared to further explain the U.S. policy shift in a speech today to the Los Angeles World Affairs Council.

But American arms expert Paul Warnke, in Washington, said, "To the extent that it appears to call for equality of warheads between the United States and the Soviet Union, it would mean that the Soviets - if they made a 50 percent cut - would then be confronted with the entire deployment of American ground-launched cruise missiles and Pershing 2s," Warnke said.

Reagan is en route to a four-day holiday weekend at his ranch near Santa Barbara and stopped in Los Angeles to make a speech originally billed as a major arms policy address.

Administration officials had said privately that Reagan would announce in the speech the expected shift from his proposal to ban all U.S. and Soviet missiles aimed at Europe. But, when it was learned that most European newspapers would miss the speech because of holiday schedules, Reagan summoned NATO ambassadors to the White House and announced the essence of his new negotiating position before departing for the West Coast.

The NATO allies, who had been consulted before the proposal was put on the negotiating table in Geneva earlier this week, said in a statement that "it represents a significant step designed to move the (talks) toward conclusion of an equal, fair and verifiable arms control agreement."

The Kremlin customarily does not respond immediately to major U.S. policy statements, and American officials said Soviet negotiators had been asked not to reject the plan out of hand without giving it adequate study.

"If you look at it literally and without getting some of the details fleshed out, there's nothing in it for them," said Warnke, who as head of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency negotiated the SALT II treaty limiting the superpowers' deployment of long-range nuclear weapons during the Carter administration.

Although SALT II was never ratified by the Senate and was denounced by Reagan when he was a presidential candidate, both sides continue to observe its provisions.

Reagan originally had proposed that both the United States and Soviet Union scrap all intermediate-range nuclear forces - his so-called

YMCA reveals building plans

The Hereford & Vicinity YMCA is making plans to construct a facility, possibly on city property on 15th street, in the near future it was announced Wednesday by "Y" officials at a meeting of the Hereford Lions Club.

Sid Shaw, YMCA board president, and two other "Y" officials presented a program at the civic club's weekly luncheon meeting. In connection with the building plans, the YMCA is also getting ready to launch a public campaign to raise funds for the project.

Shaw reported the organization has a substantial amount in its building fund and has several foundations who have indicated possible support of the project.

Weldon Knabe, executive director, said more than 2,200 people registered in one or more YMCA programs last year. "Our programs are so scattered around town that scheduling is very difficult," he said. With its own facility, Knabe believes program participation would increase greatly.

Rick Brown, building committee chairman, discussed a preliminary floor plan for such a facility. It proposes a full-size gymnasium, four racquetball courts, four dressing rooms - two with health club facilities, an exercise area, and office space.

The preliminary drawing also includes a small indoor swimming pool, but that decision has not been finalized. The costs of operating an indoor, heated pool have caused "Y" leaders to take a second look at building a pool.

The tentative plans show a facility with more than 27,000 square feet of floor space. Office space would possibly be provided for Big Brothers-Big Sisters and the United Way, but these plans are not definite, either.

Hassan calls for Mideast summit

By The Associated Press

Moroccan King Hassan has invited Palestine Liberation Organization chairman Yasser Arafat and the leaders of Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Syria to an emergency meeting to discuss Mideast peace proposals, news reports said today.

But the Bahrain-based Gulf News Agency said Hassan was not sure whether the other leaders would accept his call for a summit in Rabat before April 15.

The report said the king feared a showdown between Jordan, which is considering joining Arab-Israeli peace talks under U.S. auspices, and pro-Soviet Syria, which is vehemently opposed to President Reagan's peace plan.

The PLO has been critical of Reagan's proposal, which calls for Palestinian self-rule in the Israeli-occupied West Bank of the Jordan River and Gaza Strip.

Arafat is known to prefer the plan endorsed by the 21-member Arab League in Fez, Morocco, last year that proclaims the PLO the sole legitimate representative of the Palestinian people.

Arafat was expected to fly from Damascus, Syria to Amman later today to discuss with Jordan's King Hussein a possible Jordanian-Palestinian delegation for future peace talks with Israel.

Hussein, who wants PLO permission to negotiate on behalf of the Palestinians, has called the Arafat meeting crucial.

"Some people want us to say we accept the Reagan plan so that we be branded traitors," Arafat told a rally in Damascus on Wednesday. "Some people want us to say we reject the Reagan plan so

Economic index hints of recovery

By ROBERT BURNS AP Business Writer

The latest jump in the government's economic forecasting gauge means a "solid and sustained" recovery from recession is under way, Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan says.

The Commerce Department reported Wednesday its Index of Leading Indicators rose 1.4 percent in February. It was the sixth straight monthly increase, though smaller than January's.

Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige called the report "good news again for the economy."

One of the main forces that could sustain an economic recovery is the continued decline in energy prices. Britain proposed a new cut in its North Sea oil prices Wednesday, and sources said Iran trimmed its oil price by $3.20 a barrel.

Britain offered to cut its prices by between 50 and 75 cents, to a range of $29.75 to $30 a barrel. Many industry analysts believe a bigger cut might have drawn the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries into a price war. On March 14, the OPEC ministers agreed to lower their base price by $5, to $29 a barrel.

Iran set its new price at $28 a barrel, according to industry sources in Rome.

Lower oil prices mean direct savings for American consumers as well as industry, and the benefits can be spread even further by a resulting drop in inflation.

In a less optimistic sign for the economy, the Commerce Department reported new orders to factories for manufactured goods fell 2.2 percent in February. Orders had risen 2.5 percent in January, 3.9 percent last December and 0.4 percent in November.

Despite the mixed economic reports, Donald Straszheim of Wharton

Ex Amarillo cop guilty of murder

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) - Jurors rejected the temporary insanity defense of L.R. Wynne, convicted the former police captain of murder and sentenced him to 50 years in prison for the killing of his wife's lover.

The jury took just over three hours Wednesday to convict Wynne for the Oct. 15 killing of Earle Winston Mathis, 63, and then considered the punishment long into the night before deciding to sentence him to 50 years in prison and fine him $10,000.

The conviction carried a maximum sentence of life in prison and a $10,000 fine in the slaying.

Wynne admitted shooting Mathis five times at a downtown intersection, but contended he had been driven temporarily insane by the sight of seeing Mathis making love with his wife, Margie, in a pickup truck about an hour before the shooting.

Prosecutors argued Wynne knew exactly what he was doing when he shot Mathis as the oilman sat in his pickup waiting for a traffic light to change.

Wynne showed no emotion when the verdict was read, but some members of his family appeared upset when the jury foreman returned the verdict.

"I am in a state of shock right now," said Wynne, 53, after the verdict.

Dallas man indicted in triple slaying

MOUNT PLEASANT, Texas (AP) — A Dallas man has been indicted on capital murder charges for the brutal slaying of three restaurant employees shot and bludgeoned with a hammer during a robbery.

A grand jury issued three capital murder indictments Wednesday against Calvin Loyd Padgett, 28, said District Attorney Charles M. Cobb.

He is accused of killing George Dwain Landrum, 42, Howard Leroy McClafflin, 25, and Shirley O'Bier Thompson, 24, during the May 10, 1982, robbery of the Pizza Hut restaurant here.

Earlier this month, Mount Pleasant police and Texas Rangers delivered warrants for Padgett's arrest to authorities in Oklahoma, where Padgett was serving a life sentence for robbery with a firearm.

State District Judge B.D. Moyer earlier denied bond for Padgett, who is being held at an undisclosed location.

Police found the bodies of Landrum, McClafflin, and Ms. Thompson in the rear of the restaurant.

Landrum was shot in the chest and beaten in the head with a hammer, McClafflin was shot once in the head and Ms. Thompson had been shot in the arm and chest, had multiple stab wounds and cuts and had been beaten repeatedly in the head, officials said.

Suit filed against police for gun permit

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A man whose wife killed their two children and then herself has filed a $12 million suit against Pittsfield police, who issued her a gun permit.

David Daniels claims in his suit, filed

Wednesday in Berkshire Superior Court, that police should have refused his wife's request for a permit because she had been a mental patient in a local hospital before the slayings.

A few days after obtaining the permit, Melinda Daniels, 33, drove her son, Dale, 9, and daughter, Lisa, 5, to the Pittsfield Cemetery. There, on March 9, 1982, she shot the children and killed herself with a .22-caliber handgun.

City Solicitor Edward Reilly declined comment on the suit, saying he had not seen a copy of it. Also named as defendants are Police Chief Stanley Stankiewicz and Detective Capt. Anthony Pires.

Stankiewicz had said after the shootings that police "had no valid reason" to deny Mrs. Daniels a temporary permit and "no way of knowing" that she had been a mental patient.

Mrs. Daniels had been a voluntary patient at Jones II, a psychiatric ward at Berkshire Medical Center hospital in Pittsfield, during December 1981.

Residents evacuated after truck catches fire

TYLER, Texas (AP) — A chemical truck caught fire on Interstate 20 in East Texas today and authorities evacuated residents living within a one mile area of the blaze, officers said.

The truck, carrying a peroxide, caught fire about 4 a.m., authorities said.

Officers did not know immediately how the fire started or if the driver escaped.

Authorities said firefighters stayed back from the rig after being told the smoke was potentially deadly, according to a dispatcher with the Smith County sheriff's department.

The fire was under control at 6:45 a.m., said the dispatcher, who asked not to be identified.

Residents living in the sparsely populated area, located on the border between Gregg and Smith counties, were evacuated, the Department of Public Safety said. Firefighters were allowing the blaze to burn and law officers stopped traffic, the DPS said.

Four charged with smuggling parrots

HOUSTON (AP) — Four people have been indicted on charges of violating health and export laws by smuggling 107 parrots, valued at $50,000, from Mexico into the United States.

The woman and three men face maximum sentences of 10 years in prison and a $30,000 fine if convicted on the counts, assistant U.S. Attorney Pat Molloy said.

Those indicted were David Lawrence Johnston, 44; his wife, Ventura, 42; David Scott Allen, 28, all of Houston; and Leland J. Landers, 28, of New Caney.

All four were charged with receiving, transporting and concealing the parrots, Molloy said.

Authorities said 21 of the parrots died in the March 8 smuggling attempt when they were stuffed into air ducts of a vehicle in an attempt to conceal them. The rest were taken to a federal quarantine facility.

The birds, valued at $50,000, included a Scarlet Macaw, 98 Redheads, three Yellow Cheeks and five Yellowheads.

Identity of letter writer is clarified

For clarification purposes, a "Letter to the Editor" published in Tuesday's Brand was submitted by Bill Fowler, Box 42, Wildorado.

Since there are two men in the county with this same name, it should be noted that Bill Fowler of Hereford, associated with Clifton Cattle Co., was not the letter writer and, of course, did not represent his opinion.

Since the letter did not include an address to further identify the writer, we apologize for any misunderstanding this may have caused. Subject of the letter was opposition to the location of a nuclear waste repository in the county.

Paul Harvey News Chicago politics enjoyable, if you don't inhale Chicago politics can be enjoyable if you don't inhale. Inhale, it can make you sick.

Chicago's Mayor Jane Byrne ran against her own party nominee in 1979 and beat him. Mostly because the pre-primary snowstorm made so many voters angry.

That's right, Chicago voters are that capricious.

When a split white vote allowed nomination of a black candidate this year. Lady Jane thought she could run against her party again.

Expecting an immediate and enormous groundswell of white-black backlash she announced she'd run anyway — as a write-in candidate.

A week later, disillusioned, she bowed out.

So now the city has a race between a black democratic Congressman, Harold Washington, and a white Republican lawyer named Bernard Epton.

Neither has administrative experience.

Washington has done time in jail for failure to file income tax returns and was once disbarred for failure to perform legal work for which he had been paid.

Epton, on the other hand, as a state legislator missed 35 percent of legislative votes.

Their locally televised debates have been ludicrous exchanges of purposeless persiflage.

Ignoring specific questions, each candidate prefers to respond with some witticism: "My opponent calls me a 'millionaire'; I apologize for being successful," says Epton.

"He may not lead you but he'll tickle you to death," responds Washington.

Washington has brought to Chicago a host of party bigwigs from everywhere — has himself been to California and Atlanta on fund-raising forays. Any other city would bristle with wrath at this injection of outsiders.

Not Chicago. Epton is a bald, bearded, homely, inelegant, ineloquent nonentity.

Yet his rapier wit keeps rally audiences laughing, cheering, applauding...

If Harold Washington is elected Mayor he will host the democratic convention and showcase that party's identification with minorities.

If the next mayor is a Republican, then surely the Cubs will win the pennant because anything can happen.

What all of this is really saying to the rest of the country is that there is less real sophistication in our nation's second city than in the smallest town in Oklahoma.

Condor coaxed out of its shell

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A tiny California condor popped out of its egg with a little human help to become the first of the vanishing species to hatch in captivity, San Diego Zoo officials said early today.

The chick, bald about the neck and head with a sparse covering of downy white feathers, was freed of its shell at about 10 p.m. Wednesday, said zoo spokesman Jeff Jouett. It weighed 201.9 grams — about 7 ounces — he said.

"Apparently, it's in good health," Jouett said exuberantly. He said keepers have not yet determined the bird's sex.

Two birdkeepers, Cyndi Kuehler and Pat Whitman — used surgical instruments and their hands to help the chick out of its light blue shell. Earlier, the rare bird had punched a hole "a bit larger than a quarter" on its own, Jouett said.

"It reached a point where it was felt that it was in the best interest of the bird to help it break out," said Jouett.

Keepers fed the hungry bird for the first time at midnight, administering "two finely chopped mice in warm water" by hand, Jouett said.

Five birdkeepers and a closed-circuit television camera monitored the progress of the tiny condor. A veterinarian was on call in case of emergency.

The team of scientists had maintained an around-the-clock "egg-watch" since Monday, when the chick first poked a hole in the shell, Jouett said.

The oblong egg, about six times the size of a chicken egg, was plucked from its parents' nest Feb. 23 by a team of scientists in the rugged back country of the condor sanctuary near Ventura.

Only about 20 California condors remain in the wild, and they are dying off at a rate of three or four a year. By removing the egg, scientists hoped to encourage the wild condor pair to produce another egg — in effect doubling the birth rate.

Successful hatching would rank "as one of the most important events" in the 67-year history of the San Diego Zoo, known for its captive breeding of endangered species, Jouett said.

To help the baby bird along, zookeepers were rotating the egg by hand to make certain heat is evenly distributed. And every two hours, they played a tape recording of a "mother king vulture," a distant cousin of the condor.

"It's a form of communication that simulates what a parent might do in the wild," Jouett said. "It sounds roughly like a muted dog bark, but it seems to catch the baby condor's attention because the shell rocks to the music."

The chick will remain in the incubator at the zoo's Avian Propagation Center for at least 24 hours, Jouett said.

When it is healthy enough to travel, the chick will be placed in an islette, similar to the germ-free plastic boxes used to house human premature babies. Then it will be transferred by ambulance to the San Diego Wild Animal Park near Escondido, a journey of 32 miles.

To help the chick feel at home, zoo officials have prepared a puppet that looks exactly like a condor "because we want the baby condor to imprint on a condor face rather than a human face," Jouett said.

Fugitive posed as Air Force major

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A man wanted for fraud in Canada eluded capture for six months by posing here as a Canadian Air Force major, a federal agent says.

Gustav Anto Liebenau, 40, was arrested by three federal marshals at his San Antonio apartment this weekend, U.S. Marshall Bill Jonas said.

"He had the uniform of a Canadian officer and we developed information he was posing as a major in the Canadian Air Force at (Randolph Air Force) Jonas said.

But Randolph officials said Wednesday that they'd never heard of the man, or either of the aliases he used.

"We've checked every available avenue and we've come up with no connection whatsoever with the base," said Capt. Walter Reichard of the public affairs office.

"We have no Canadian officers in training right now," he said.

A warrant issued in Canada accuses Liebenau of bilking

26 people out of more than $87,000 by using his Toronto, travel agency, Canadian Travel Tours.

Jonas said the motive for Liebenau's purported masquerade had not yet been determined.

"It could have been merely an ego trip that he was fooling everybody.

Second fire hits house in six months

Hours after the final carpet was laid to replace damaged flooring from a fire six months ago, the Joe Hacker family was startled Wednesday night by a boom and blaze large enough to light up their back yard.

Their chimney caught fire. Before she knew firemen would contain the blaze to the fireplace and chimney, Mrs. Hacker was reliving the cleaning, moving and remodeling which resulted from a fire at the home last October. That blaze started in the kitchen and cause extensive fire, smoke and water damage to the home at 119 E. 15th.

Mrs. Hacker testified that she and Mathis had been having an affair intermittently since the 1960s, and said they were unaware that her husband had seen them.

Shoplifters taken into custody

Three shoplifters were caught in two stores Wednesday, according to Hereford police.

At Jack and Jill, a 55-year-old woman was taken into custody after taking a 63-cent bar of soap.

At Thriftway, a 25-year-old woman took a $1.85 box of tampons and a 30-year-old tried to get home with cheese, floor wax and chopped ham.

A theft of two truck tires from the bed of a truck at 333 Avenue G was reported. Value of the tires and wheels is $600.

E.O. BAKER MULESHOE — Services for E.O. Baker, 86, of Muleshoe and formerly of Hereford, will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Chapel of the Chimes in Ellis Funeral Home with John Boor, minister of Muleshoe Church of Christ, and the Rev. Bill Kent, pastor of First United Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Bailey County Memorial Park Cemetery under direction of Ellis Funeral Home.

Mr. Baker died at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Muleshoe Nursing Home.

He was born Aug. 10, 1896, at Bowie and moved to Muleshoe in 1948 from Hereford. He married Goldie Busby Sept. 4, 1917, at Lockney. He was a former co-owner of Muleshoe Liquefied Gas Company, a representative of Southland Life Insurance, and also had cattle and farming interests.

He was a member of the Muleshoe Rotary Club and was the first chairman of the board of the First National Bank.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Kerr of Muleshoe and Mrs. Lowry Mallory of Elkhart, Ind.; five grandchildren; and 100 great-grandchildren.

A defense attorney had pleaded with jurors to be lenient with Wynne.

"There is no way L.R. Wynne is guilty of murder," defense lawyer Travis Shelton said in his summation. "The defendant acted under the immediate influence of sudden passion caused by provocation by the deceased.

"If you tell me that it (the affair) is not adequate cause, you are not being fair," Shelton told jurors. "This man's mind was not capable of conforming his actions to the law."

But District Attorney Danny Hill said, "There is more here than we will ever know."

Wynne "knew about his wife and Erle Mathis before

Oct. 15," Hill said.

Two doctors testified that Wynne was legally sane when he shot Mathis because he knew the difference between right and wrong.

Dr. Jerome Brown, a Houston psychologist, and Dr. John Nottingham, a forensic psychiatrist, testified Wynne had admitted during examinations that he intended to kill both Mathis and his 51-year-old wife when he spotted them in the truck.

Brown testified that Wynne told him during an examination, "To tell you the truth, I damn sure intended to kill him. If that puts me in the pen, that's tough."

Mrs. Wynne testified that she and Mathis had been having an affair intermittently since the 1960s, and said they were unaware that her husband had seen them.

On Wednesday, he reaffirmed that ultimate goal but said, "If there must be some, it is better to have few than to have many."

He therefore proposed "an interim agreement that would substantially reduce these forces to equal levels on both sides."

Moscow's response to the zero option proposal was to suggest instead that it would reduce its force of medium-range missiles to 162, matching the number of British and French medium-range weapons, if the United States would cancel its announced plan to begin deploying 572 single-warhead Pershing 2 and land-based cruise missiles in NATO countries in December.

The United States refuses to count the British and French land-and sea-based missiles as among those at issue in the Intermediate-range Nuclear Force (INF) talks in Geneva.

According to the latest U.S. count, the Soviet Union has 1,293 warheads on medium-range missiles, including 351 SS-20 mobile rockets, each armed with three warheads, and 240 SS-4 and SS-5 single-warhead missiles.

Reagan said even if the Soviets accepted the latest proposal, the United States would go ahead with its commitment to deploy some new weapons.

Shortly after arriving in Los Angeles on Wednesday, the president telephoned the host of a local television "jobathon" to encourage the station's efforts to match jobless workers with potential employers in southern California, where the unemployment rate is 11.5 percent.

Reagan kicked off the five-hour KJH-TV marathon by telling the show's organizers, "It's a very inspiring thing to see that with all of the hardships of this recession the people of this country who can be doing as much as they're doing to help their neighbors."

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently I have attended three funerals. They were interminable, excessive and distressing. The minister didn't know when to stop, and neither did the gentleman who led the prayer.

I am preparing a tape to be played when my time comes. I sing in the church choir and have done solos at funerals of friends. I plan to open my own service with a brief welcome, sing one number and play a tape of the choir singing my favorite hymn. Finally, I would suggest that we go to the cemetery, where my fraternal order would take over for a five-minute graveside service.

Please tell me, Ann, am I completely nuts or — Just En Route

DEAR JUST: You sound perfectly sane to me. And, I might add, more sensible than those who plan funerals that are too long, depressing and positively draining. Go to it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This might sound loony, but I hate to have my picture taken. Most of my friends know this and they leave me alone.

I recently attended a party where someone encouraged a child to follow me around and try to snap my picture. At first I good-naturedly told her to stop. She persisted. Then I gave her a serious warning. Her family thought her tenacity was cute, so they encouraged her and she kept on pestering me.

Then an adult took the camera from her and began to snap pictures of me when he thought I wasn't looking. I became so annoyed I went home.

The next morning my husband said I had behaved childishly and embarrassed him. I felt they were mean and insensitive to have harassed me. Was I wrong? If so, I'll apologize to the hostess. — Redbank, N.J.

DEAR RED: You owe no apology. In fact, the hostess should have interceded on your behalf. That child is well on her way to winning the Miss Obnoxious title, junior division. As for the adult, he deserves the title for the senior division.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I have been married six months and I am beginning to think he has some sort of mental disorder. Here are the symptoms:

(1) He becomes upset and turns off the TV if there is a love scene. I don't mean anything sexual, I mean a showing of tenderness or affection.

(2) He becomes anxious if I go anywhere that might involve male contact, such as shoe-shopping, a visit to my dentist or physician.

(3) Whenever I return from visiting a friend's home he wants to know if any men were present.

Have you ever heard of anything like this? How serious is it? — Worried In Cleveland

DEAR WORRIED: No signs of this peculiar behavior before marriage? By all means discuss the problem with a professional. If your husband continues to behave this way you are in for a life of hell.

Award Winners

During the Scholastic Art Awards Competition held recently in Amarillo, several Hereford High School art students received awards. Placing in the competition were, from left, Tanya Gauthreaux, Jacinto Guerrero and Becky Ruland. Also, receiving honors was Pam Nixon, not pictured. Art instructor is Gayla Kimball.

HHS art students receive awards

Several art students from Hereford High School won awards at the Scholastic Art Awards Competition held at Western Plaza in Amarillo recently.

The Scholastic Art Awards represent the highest quality of art produced by junior and senior high school students in 32 countries in northwest Texas and seven counties in Oklahoma.

Out of approximately 750 entries, 350 selections were in competition.

Pam Nixon had two of her paintings chosen as award winners. She received a certificate and was a key finalist for her acrylic painting which was also chosen as a National Hallmark honor prize and will be placed in competition in New York City, N.Y.

Tanya Gauthreaux received a certificate and key for her mixed media and Jacinto Guerrero also had a mixed media which received a certificate and was a key finalist.

Another award winner was Becky Ruland. She had four color photographs which all received certificates.

HHS art instructor is Gayla Kimball.

Infant care gets house hearing

AUSTIN (AP) — Allowing doctors to withhold care of a child because it is retarded sets a precedent of letting imperfect people die, contend supporters of a bill to make it a crime to withhold care.

Psychologist Carmen Quesada, representing the Association of Retarded Citizens, told the House Judiciary Committee on Wednesday that most of the doctors advising parents to withhold care of a child are unqualified to evaluate retarded infants.

She said the recommendation often is made on estimations of "the quality of life" of the child, which she complained has no legal basis.

"We are concerned about the precedent we set when we let people die because the are impaired or imperfect," said Ms. Quesada.

"It is just as much of a crime to deny a retarded infant its life as it would be to deny you or I our life," she said.

Curtsinger reports on recent assembly

Susie Curtsinger gave a report on Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly of Texas held recently in Abilene when members of Hereford Rebekah Lodge No. 228 met in regular session Tuesday evening at Odd Fellow Temple.

Ms. Curtsinger reported that 1100 delegates and visitors registered for the event and 14 out-of-state visitors were present, including Alberta Hudkins of West Virginia, president of the International Association of Rebekah Assemblies.

In her address to the Rebekah Assembly, Ms. Hudkins stressed the three links of "Present, Past and Future." According to Ms. Curtsinger, she said, "Don't dwell in the past, just refer to it and go forward. Support our young people by getting them involved in worthwhile projects. They are our future."

"For the present, support Rebekah-Odd Fellowship and projects of the order. Have something worthwhile going at meetings, things that will attract new members."

The goal for 1983-84 is to maintain and increase membership, said Ms. Curtsinger. The next Grand Lodge will meet in Dallas.

Ms. Curtsinger expressed the feeling of other lodge members when she commented, "We are proud that Anna Conklin was honored with the Degree of Chivalry. We should recommend a member each year for this honor as we have many members who are worthy of it."

Noble Grand Lavita Fitzgerald presided as several sick members were reported. Thirty-seven visits to the sick, 19 cheer cards, and six flowers were reported.

Ben Conklin directed the Degree Team in marching practice.

Nellie Beauford was hostess to Roberta Combs, Lydia Hopson, Dorothy Lundry, Faye Bronlow, Anna Conklin, Beth Hall, Kee Ruland, Sadie Shaw, Elmer Combs, Fred Ruland, C.D. Fitzgerald.

Also, Ada Hollabaugh, Irene Merritt, Ruth Rogers, Verna Sowell, Helen Bishop, Peggy Lemons, Edna Mathes, Ursalee Jacobsen, Ms. Fitzgerald, Ms. Curtsinger, and Conklin.

2nd straight win

Herd nips Lubbock

Maybe playing every day agrees with Hereford's baseball team.

The Whitefaces, who finally got a day off today, made it two in a row Wednesday in Lubbock, pushing across a run in the top of the seventh to defeat the Westerners, 5-4.

After beginning the week by dropping a 15-2 decision to powerful Monterey Monday, the Herd has bounced back to register a pair of one-run triumphs.

They tripped Tascosa, 4-3, in nine innings Tuesday in Amarillo, before winning again Wednesday, and again, on the road.

"Boy, I feel like we've been on one long, continuous road trip," Herd coach David Ashby said.

"Playing the games isn't so bad. It's the bus rides that'll get you.

"But, we've really come back and played pretty well the past couple of days, and we've had some good luck, too."

Wednesday, the Whitefaces pounded out a season-high 13 hits en route to the win over Lubbock. Included was Brian Taylor's second home run in as many days.

Ronnie Collier had three hits and an RBI to pace the Herd attack. Taylor, Robert Martinez and Gary Ruckman each had two.

Martinez was the winning pitcher, in relief of starter Mike Scott.

"Scott pitched very well through the first four innings," Ashby noted. "But then just lost it in the fifth. He walked four straight batters, before I could get him out of there. He just couldn't find the plate. But, through four innings he'd only given up two hits.

"Robert did a heck of a job, considering he was pitching with a sore arm. He threw pretty much junk the last couple of innings - mainly a knuckleball.

"I'm just glad we were able to score in the seventh, because I don't think he could have gone beyond that, and our pitching staff was already depleted somewhat.

"Mickey Stengel (who throttled Tascosa Tuesday) didn't even make the trip because of a sinus infection, and Sammy Suarez (another pitcher) was home with a stomach virus.

"So, as it turned out, we only took 11 players. "Ruckman and J.D. High came in and did a good job for us off the bench."

So, after a day off today, it's back to the 3-5A vars tomorrow as league-leading Coronado (3-0) comes to town for a 4 p.m. clash.

"Hopefully, Stengel will be ready to go," Ashby added. If not, Sammy Suarez probably would get the nod, with Scott coming back Saturday (against Caprock in Amarillo)."

Louisville's Crum says

Tactics will not change

SPORTS

Page 4-The Hereford Brand-Thursday, March 31, 1983

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) - Louisville Coach Denny Crum says he won't be changing his strategy when his No. 2 Cardinals meet top-ranked Houston in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball tournament this weekend.

"We're not going to change what we do," Crum said Wednesday. "We've got to do what we do best."

That includes using the press on defense, Crum said, despite the danger of allowing Houston's ball-dunking big men to go unchallenged underneath the basket.

"Their rebounding and board play is going to give us some problems," Crum said.

Houston Coach Guy Lewis said 7-foot sophomore Akeem Olajuwon will lead that effort. Asked what Olajuwon does best, Lewis said, "Rebounding, scoring, shooting and blocking shots."

The comments came Wednesday during the first joint news conference by the four coaches whose teams have made it to college sports' biggest event. Lewis, Crum, Georgia's Hugh Durham and North Carolina State's Jim Valvano talked with reporters via a telephone-conference call.

Crum and Lewis said they believed the attention given to their Saturday semifinal game is overblown and that the winner is no shoo-in against the victor of the other semifinal.

But they're not looking past Saturday to Monday's championship game.

"All I'm thinking about is Louisville," Lewis said. "If we were trying to think about North Carolina State or Georgia, we'd be back in Houston late Saturday night."

While Lewis and Crum may want to downplay the semifinal game, Durham likes the limelight right where it is.

"The attention to Houston and Louisville is not a surprise," Durham said. "When you've got the number one and two teams playing against each other, they should receive a lot of attention."

Valvano got to say the least during the conference because of technical problems with the call. But even through the static, it was clear he was in good spirits.

"We have become a professional pep rally," Valvano said, adding that there have been four rallies of 5,000 to 6,000 people at the school since the Wolfpack upset Virginia on Saturday.

One reason for the Wolfpack's elation has been the play of guards Derek Whittenberg and Sidney Lowe, and that has Durham worried.

"They have the most experienced backcourt in the country," the Georgia coach said.

However, he said he expected junior guard Vern Fleming to slow Whittenberg's rapid-fire scoring because the 6-5 Fleming is four inches taller.

Asked what he thought about the matchup, Valvano said, "Derek has been playing against taller people throughout his career." Durham also said he would count on 6-7 senior Terry Fair to give the shorter Bulldogs help inside.

"Terry's done very well in the tournament for us," he said. "His strength inside and his ability to score in there is important."

Large TV pacts help

Baseball begins catchup

By DAVE GOLDBERG AP Sports Writer

Baseball has lagged way behind football in realizing the financial potential of television. But it's starting to catch up.

Most notable, of course, is the pending contract between NBC (and possibly ABC) and baseball. Starting next year, it will bring baseball an estimated $1 billion over five years - or somewhere between $6 million and $7 million per team per year.

Some owners - notably Atlanta's Ted Turner - were so pleased that there was talk about rescinding the pink slip they handed Commissioner Bowie Kuhn as a reward for his part in the negotiations.

Less dramatic, but just as significant for the future, is the dramatic increase in radio and television revenue this year, even before the new contract takes effect.

According to Broadcasting Magazine, the combined value of network and local television contracts for baseball this year is $153 million, about 30 percent more than last year's $118 million and almost four times more than the $43 million that television paid baseball 10 years ago.

Most of that money comes from cable, which some time in the next decade may make ticket sales less productive of revenue than television for baseball. That's the case with the National Football League, where $400 million plus a year from television now accounts for far more than half the sport's revenue.

Turner, for example, claims that with an expanded payroll that comes from winning the National League West, the Braves will need 2.5 million fans this season to break even at the gate. The team makes it, he says, because the mutually-owned television station, WTBS, markets the Braves nationwide by cable.

Some teams - notably the Los Angeles Dodgers - still make money at the gate.

They follow the maxim set down by the late Walter

O'Malley when he moved the Dodgers west from Brooklyn in 1957. In Brooklyn, the Dodgers televised more than 100 games a year; in the early years in Los Angeles, they carried only a half dozen or so away games on the premise that live television - particularly of home games - cuts the gate.

Last year, televising no home games and two dozen away, the Dodgers drew 3.6 million fans - a major league record. This year, they've sold a record 27,000 season tickets, but are only 14th in television money. Their $3.1 million in television money hardly compares to the New York Yankees' $11.5 million; the New York Mets' $10.5 million; the Montreal Expos $7.3 million, the Philadelphia Phillies' $7 million, the Texas Rangers, $5.5 million.

The Mets and the Yankees, in fact, are among the teams that believed television stimulated gate sales rather than frustrated them. They still think that way, but they also acknowledge that television is becoming a major source of revenue in itself.

Caldwell hopes to regain early season tour form

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) - Rex Caldwell, who captured national attention with his saga of second-place finishes on the west coast, is into his second season - and he doesn't like it at all.

"The same thing happened last season," Caldwell said before teeing off today in the first round of the $400,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

"I had a good west coast, and then didn't cash a check for three months."

It hasn't been three months, but Caldwell has not been able to make a cut since he finished second for three consecutive weeks on the west coast swing - with two of those runner-up finishes coming in playoff losses.

After losing playoffs in the Bob Hope and Phoenix events, he tied for second in the Bing Crosby. That gave the free spirit $99,746 in earnings for the year.

And he decided to take two weeks off.

Now, more than a month later, he's still looking for his first career victory. And his year's earnings still total $99,746.

"I just haven't done anything since the west coast," he said. "I'm disappointed, but I'm not surprised. Almost the same thing happened last year."

76ers clinch titles

Bird scores 53 as Celtics rip Pacers, 142-116

By The Associated Press one night later, in their friendly Boston lair, the Celtics and Bird were red-hot. Back in Larry Bird's Indiana home, the Boston Celtics weren't so hot. But hot.

Bird, the former Indiana State star, scored a team regular-season record 53 points Wednesday night as the Celtics crushed the Indiana Pacers 142-116.

In other NBA action, the Cleveland Cavaliers defeated the Houston Rockets 102-95 in a game that tightened up the Ralph Sampson Sweepstakes, the Philadelphia 76ers downed the Atlanta Hawks 120-113, the Washington Bullets edged the New Jersey Nets 100-97, the Utah Jazz trimmed the Dallas Mavericks 117-103, the San Diego Clippers beat the New York Knicks 103-97 and the Seattle SuperSonics whipped the Detroit Pistons 135-124.

Cavaliers 102, Rockets 95
At Richfield, Ohio, World B. Free scored 28 points as Cleveland won for the second time in its last 11 games. The victory tied it with Indiana for the NBA's second-worst mark behind Houston.

If Cleveland finishes at the bottom of the Eastern Conference, the Rockets will be assured of drafting Sampson, the 7-foot-4 Virginia star, since they own the Cavaliers' No. 1 choice.

Softball meeting

The Hereford & Vicinity YMCA will conduct an organizational meeting for its church softball league at 6:30 p.m. Monday, April 11. All churches interested in having a team in the league are encouraged to attend. The meeting will be held at the YMCA office in Sugarland Mall.

76ers 120, Hawks 113

At Philadelphia, Julius Erving scored 26 points and Maurice Cheeks added 24 as the 76ers clinched the Atlantic Division and Eastern Conference championships. They also reduced their magic number to five, meaning that any combination of five victories or Los Angeles defeats would assure the Sixers of the NBA's best record and the home court in every playoff series.

Bullets 100, Nets 97

At East Rutherford, N.J., Jeff Ruland had 26 points and 13 rebounds and Ricky Sobers made a technical foul shot and a free throw in the final three seconds as Washington posted its seventh straight victory. The Bullets thus prevented the Nets from clinching a playoff spot and improved their own chances.

Jazz 117, Mavericks 103

At Salt Lake City, Rickey Green scored 27 points and Darrell Griffith added 20 for Utah, which has yet to lose to Dallas at home. Mitchell Anderson added 15 points for the Jazz and 7-4 rookie Mark Eaton contributed 12. Utah led by as many as 22 points late in the third quarter.

Clippers 103, Knicks 97
At San Diego, Tom Chambers scored 24 points, including eight in the final 2:25, to lead injury-riddled San Diego to its fourth triumph in the last six. The Knicks committed a couple of turnovers and Chambers' layup with 13 seconds remaining made it 99-96. New York's Bill Cartwright scored a game-high 29 points.

Sonics 135, Pistons 124
At Seattle, David Thompson scored a season-high 38 points as the Sonics rolled to their ninth victory in 11 games and 10th in the last 11 meetings with Detroit. Thompson, who made 15 of 22 shots from the floor, scored 16 points in both the first and third quarters. Isaiah Thomas topped the Pistons with 30 points. Seattle center Jack Sikma added 27 points and 13 rebounds.

Fresno State nabs NIT title

NEW YORK (AP) — "At first, we probably didn't know what to expect with all that goes with the National Invitation Tournament," admitted Fresno State Coach Boyd Grant.

In the end, he and his Bulldogs learned what it was like to win it. "This is our biggest victory ever," Grant said after Fresno State dealt DePaul a 69-60 defeat Wednesday night in the championship game of the 46th annual NIT at Madison Square Garden. "Winning it here is like a dream."

The Bulldogs beat DePaul the same way they've been beating teams all year in the Pacific Coast Athletic Conference, where they finished fourth — with a patient offense, despite a 30-second shot clock here, and an intense defense that ranked second in the nation.

"We wanted to make them have trouble handling the ball," said junior forward Bernard Thompson, who scored a game-high 22 points. "We came out with good intensity and it seemed to bother them."

Fresno State, 25-10, overcame a shaky start in which they fell behind 10-2 and trailed 30-29 at halftime. The smaller Bulldogs, who had beaten Texas-El Paso, Michigan State, Oregon State and Wake Forest on their way to the final, inched ahead midway through the second half and then salted away the game from the foul line, extending a 56-55 lead with 4:40 left to a 67-56 margin in the final seconds.

"Give their defense credit," said DePaul's 65-year-old coach, Ray Meyer. "It was no fluke. We shot 25 of 74 from the floor. There's no possible way you can win with shooting like that."

Meyer, the winniest active coach in college basketball — 697 victories in 41 seasons — had hoped an NIT championship might help ease recent disappointments. In the last three seasons, aided by All-Americans such as Mark Aguirre and Terry Cummings, the Blue Demons had often been ranked No. 1 but had been knocked off each year in their first NCAA tournament game.

"We really wanted to win this for Coach Meyer," said Bernard Randolph, a senior who saw his four-year career end on yet another unfulfilled note.

"When it was over and I heard the final horn, I thought 'that's it, I'm all done,'" said Randolph, who led DePaul, 21-12, with a 13.7 scoring average this season. "You can't dwell on the past."

Randolph, who had 13 points before fouling out in the final minute, was joined on the NIT all-tourney team by teammate Tyrone Corbin — who had 12 points and 16 rebounds — along with Thompson and Tyrone Bradley of Fresno State and Dave Hoppen of Nebraska.

Ron Anderson, named the NIT most valuable player, had 14 points for Fresno State. Kenny Patterson added 12 for DePaul.

"I don't know what to expect now," Grant said, smiling. "Right now, people are talking about Fresno State."

Fun run scheduled at Dimmitt, April 30

DIMMITT — The Dimmitt Chapter of the American Cancer Society will sponsor its first annual Run for Life, beginning at 8 a.m. April 30 here.

There'll be a 10K (6.2 miles), a 5K (3.1 miles) and a one mile fun run for entrants. Entry fee by April 29 is $6, while registration the day of the race is $7.

Trophies will be awarded to the male and female winners in each race, while the top three finishers in each division will receive medals.

Divisions for men in the 10K and 5K events include 19 and under; 20-29; 30-37; 38-44 and 45 and over. Women's divisions include 19 and under; 20-29; 30-35 and 36 and over.

The Newspaper BIBLE

WHAT CAN I DO TO GET TO HEAVEN?

One day some mothers brought their babies to Jesus to touch and bless. But the disciples told them to go away.

Then Jesus called the children over to Him and said to the disciples, "Let the little children to come to Me! Never send them away! For the Kingdom of God belongs to men who have hearts as trusting as these little children's. And anyone who doesn't have their kind of faith will never get within the Kingdom's gates."

Once a Jewish religious leader asked Him this question: "God sir, what shall I do to get to heaven?"

"Do you realize what you are saying when you call me 'good'?" Jesus asked him. "Only God is truly good, and no one else. But as to your question, you know what the ten commandments say--don't commit adultery, don't murder, don't steal, don't lie, honor your parents, and so on."

The man replied, "I've obeyed every one of these laws since I was a small child."

"There is one thing you lack, Jesus said. "Sell all you have and give the money to the poor--it will become treasure for you in heaven--and come, follow Me."

But when the man heard this he went sadly away, for he was very rich.

Jesus watched him go and then said to His disciples, "How hard it is for the rich to enter the Kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God!"

"Those who heard Him say this exclaimed, "If it is that hard, how can anyone be saved?"

He replied, "God can do what men can't!"

Luke 18:15-27

Best Decorated Bike

Dominic Guerrero won first place for his decorated bike at the Boy Scout Carnival held this past weekend at the Bull Barn. A member of Webelos, he received a blue ribbon and $10 prize.

Future events announced at county council meeting

Gayle Carter, vice-president, was presiding officer for the Deaf Smith County Extension Homemakers Council meeting Monday in the Heritage Room of the library.

Juanita Perrin, Bippus Club, read a humorous account of a wedding entitled "The Groom Wore Black" as opening exercise. Bertha Detmann, treasurer, and committee chairmen gave reports. Louise Walker, county extension agent, reminded the group of upcoming meetings for April, including the District Texas Extension Homemakers Association meeting in Borger, April 12; a demonstration on oriental cooking by Eva Kennedy at the Reddy Room on April 19 at 1:30 p.m.

Also, two demonstrations by Joy Gibson on making and using mixes at the Flame Room on April 27. The same program will be given at 2 p.m. and again at 7 p.m.

Terri Johnson Long will conduct a leader training workshop on citizenship on April 20.

Penny Reinart, assistant county extension agent, listed various 4-H programs including Fun Day and County Round Up. 4-H members will also be giving demonstrations to EH Clubs.

Members voted to host the district leader training meeting in 1985, and to participate in the Town and Country Jubilee in August. Also, to recommend to the TEHA chairman that elections of delegates to state TEHA meeting and TEHA chairman be held in August.

Kate Bradley and Ms. Perrin, Bippus Club, served refreshments following the meeting. Ten clubs were represented, seven with 100 percent attendance.

Fingerprint service offered

It may not be like being "booked" by Sgt. Joe Friday, but children at the two branches of the Hereford Day Care Center will be fingerprinted next week by a couple of West Texas State University students.

WTSU students Cindy Acton and Cindy Meek will be fingerprinting those children whose parents approve the procedure next Tuesday and Wednesday, April 5-6. Children at the Norton Street center will be "printed" on Tuesday, with those at the 16th Street center to get the service on Wednesday. Preschoolers will be printed from 9-11 a.m. each day, with afterschoolers set for 3-5 p.m. The service is being provided free of charge to local families. Only one copy of each child's fingerprints will be made, and it will be given to the child's parents.

The prints will be useful by the family in the event that their child becomes lost or abducted in the future. The parents will then be able to provide fingerprints of their child to law enforcement officials, whose job will be made easier in trying to locate the missing child.

Hereford police Lt. Paul Ramirez is cooperating with the WTSU students in getting the program carried out at the centers here.

Other interested parties who would like more information about this service may contact either Miss Acton or Miss Meek at 364-0146 any Tuesday or Wednesday.

It was once believed that if a person dreams of a river, it means that something stands between him and his wishes.

Houstonian confirmed to three-member commission

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate has confirmed Robert Lanier's appointment to the state highway commission but also sent Gov. Mark White a message to look to the rural areas for his next highway appointment.

Lanier, 58-year-old Houston businessman, joined Robert Dedman of Dallas and John Butler, also of Houston, on the all-urban commission Wednesday.

After Lanier was confirmed 28-3, White swore him in and told reporters he would select the next commissioner from a smaller city.

Lanier, was chosen to replace A. Sam Waldrop of Abilene, whose term expired. "I felt this particular individual was well qualified," White said.

Sen. Grant Jones, D-Abilene, said the confirmation of Lanier would create an all-urban highway commission for the first time in Texas history.

Jones said only once before — in the 1920s — had two men from the same city served on the commission, and the men had moved to San Antonio after their appointments.

Jones said he understood that Lanier "is a very fine and capable individual," but White had made a "fundamental error" in naming another Houstonian to the commission.

"I think it's bad to have all of them on one commission representing metropolitan areas," said Jones.

Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, one of several senators who spoke for Lanier, said, "The governor could not have made a better choice if he had looked in every town under 50,000 in the state."

"It never dawned on me we would have to raise the question of geographical consideration," said Jones.

"It never dawned on you because all the commissioners have come from rural areas of Texas," said Sen. John Whitmire, D-Houston.

Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin, said he shared Jones' concern, but he was "satisfied he (Lanier) would give every rural area its fair share. ... The next appointment certainly shouldn't be from a metropolitan area."

Traeger said, however, he was so impressed with Lanier that "if he were from Louisiana, I'd probably vote for him."

Sen. Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville, said "hopefully the governor will consider" Jones' comments in making future appointments.

Jones and Sens. Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, and Craig Washington, D-Houston, voted against Lanier.

The Senate also granted Sen. Glenn Kothmann's request to "bust" Van Henry Archer Jr., a San Antonio city councilman, as a member of the Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. The vote on Archer's confirmation was 0-31.

Kothmann, D-San Antonio, said Archer had put his name on a letter on behalf of Dan Martinez, a Republican who opposed Kothmann in the November general election.

Kothmann said the letter "was uncalled for, unwarranted and untrue ... attacking me in a manner in which I don't think was necessary."

"I have a saying — 'For those who will not accept me publicly before their friends in Bexar County, I will not accept them publicly before my friends in the Senate.'"

The Senate confirmed the following appointments 27-0: Lamar University Regents — Merlin Breaux, Hardin; George Dishman Jr., Jefferson; Hubert Oxford III, Jefferson.

Pan American University Regents — Eddie Cano, Hidalgo; Kenton Schaefer, Cameron; Melvin Hill, Harris.

West Texas University Regents — Tom Christian, Armstrong; Jerome Walsh Jr., Hutchinson.

Texas Aeronautics Commission — Maxey Grossenbacher, Cameron; Warren Harmon, Brazos.

HEALTH Trimming the waist
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am writing you concerning the best exercise to trim and firm my waist and flatten my abdomen. I am 37 years old with one child. I'm 5-foot-6 and weigh approximately 122 pounds. Most of my life I weighed between 95 and 105 pounds.

I can't do sit-ups with my knees bent or not bent, so my back muscles must also be weak. Being I have such small frame and am so tall, with my waist and abdomen problem, I look pregnant. Any help you can give would be appreciated.

DEAR READER — Your height and weight do suggest that your problem is not from fat deposits around the abdomen or inside the abdomen. But some people who are genetically designed to be thin and who then gain weight will have too much fat at low body weights. You can only tell by an examination. If you have hardly any fat under the skin around your trunk, it is unlikely that you will have a lot inside your abdomen either.

I mention this point because the reason so many people have trouble with an expanded waistline is from fat inside the abdominal cavity, not just under the skin.

If you can't do any sit-ups at all, just lie on your back and contract and relax your abdominal muscles. Pull the muscles in hard and hold them in the tensed position. Hold for about 15 seconds, relax and repeat. Do at least 10 of these, rest for a few minutes and repeat them. In a few weeks you may then be able to do a sit-up and, if not, put your hands on your bent knees and use your arms to assist you in doing your first sit-up. Use this aid until you can do a sit-up without your hands on your knees.

If that doesn't get you started, then go to a physical medicine specialist or a physical therapist who will help you in perfecting your technique in doing a proper sit-up.

London's Paul Mall became the first street in the world to be lighted by gas in 1807.

10 of these, rest for a few minutes and repeat them. In a few weeks you may then be able to do a sit-up and, if not, put your hands on your bent knees and use your arms to assist you in doing your first sit-up. Use this aid until you can do a sit-up without your hands on your knees.

If that doesn't get you started, then go to a physical medicine specialist or a physical therapist who will help you in perfecting your technique in doing a proper sit-up.

Now You're Cookin'

BY LINDA CAUDLE
Family News Editor

Because Vi Frederick loves being around people and enjoys helping others, her hobbies and pastimes just naturally spill over into her relationships with other people.

Whether it's eating right, discovering new ways of using herbs, or using color to complement skin tone for an overall attractive appearance, Vi enjoys sharing the things she is interested in.

For about 12 years, she has studied "for interest sake" about eating healthy foods that "still have life in them." Her family has switched to whole grains, rather than white flour, and cut back on sugar, meat, and processed foods. "And I always keep plenty of raw fruits and vegetables around that still have all the nutrients in them," she comments.

"The medical establishment is now realizing just how our diet has changed in the last 100 years or so since food has been highly processed and how most of the natural grains and nutrients have been removed," adds Vi. "They are seeing how much that really has affected our health. So many diseases that were once almost nonexistent are now widespread."

"It is sad to see the health of so many young people undermined when they're raised on sweets and they won't eat vegetables."

"We don't eat that different from most people," says Vi. "We just focus more on eating nutritious foods for health and wholeness." She admits that some things may seem a little different at first, but that once her family started eating natural foods, they realized how flavorful they were.

The emphasis on healthy foods has been of interest to the Fredericks especially since moving to Hereford, as Vi's husband, Bill, is vice-president of Simpler Life Sales (the dehydrated food program) at Arrowhead Mills.

The family moved here almost two years ago from Mercer Island, Wash., near Seattle. "The West Coast has been the forefront in natural foods," says Vi, "and in some places there are whole supermarkets full of this type of foods. I think it is coming to this part of the country, but more slowly."

Vi and two other wives of Arrowhead employees put together an all-day nutrition seminar recently entitled "Body Restoration Through Food Awareness and Exercise" and presented it at their church. "It was very well received," notes Vi.

The Fredericks are members of Community Church. Bill and Vi have two sons, Brian, 18, who will be going to Texas A&M in the fall, and Doug, who is almost 16. Brian enjoys all kinds of sports and likes to read. Dougs likes to write and illustrate and enjoys animals and the outdoors.

Bill was raised in upstate New York and moved with his family to Washington when he was in his teens. Vi was born in Denver but only spent a short time there and was raised in the Seattle area.

Both graduated from Seattle Pacific University, Bill with a degree in science and math education and Vi with a degree in English education. Bill has also done work towards an MBA in business and received a master's degree in Christian Education from Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Ky.

Coming to Hereford from Washington was quite a change, according to Vi. "It seemed so flat at first, but it grows on you. You can see so much of the sky and the clouds," she smiles. "But I keep looking out the window and thinking I'll see the mountains. I haven't quite gotten used to that."

"The people here made moving much easier. They are so friendly, and I think more realistic about life—something about living in a farming community."

Something that Vi has just gotten off the ground in the last two weeks or so is a color consulting business, The Legacy of Color. The concept itself is fairly new and Vi says that she's been practicing the principles herself for about three years, since she was analyzed in Seattle.

"It's part of the total lifestyle," comments Vi. "Eating right, exercising, and then learning the best colors to make a woman look as nice as she can look."

Vi recently completed a school in Dallas and is now a Certified Color Consultant. "I had been looking for something that I could do that would be a service to people which would give me a sense of purpose while helping others," she explains.

"We aren't all strikingly beautiful, but each has a natural beauty which must be internal as well as external. By finding out what colors look good on you and which shades complement your skin tone, you begin to feel better about yourself—that you are making yourself as attractive as possible."

"To me, it is satisfying to see women come alive in their colors. It also helps save on your clothing budget—your wardrobe mixes and matches and you don't have those costly mistakes hanging in your closet which you purchased and then realized they didn't do anything for you because the colors were all wrong."

"You don't change your wardrobe overnight," continues Vi. "Most women already have many clothes in colors they have begun to feel look best on them. But through color analysis, you begin to be more sensitive to color and its effects on your overall appearance."

Vi also enjoys redecorating old houses and refinishing furniture. She has collected a variety of antiques which she uses in furnishing her home. She likes to read and says that her family enjoys hiking and gardening.

"We do intensive French gardening, with raised beds," notes Vi. The beds are built up with organic matter, as a natural mulch.

Vi has also done a lot of study with herbs, especially their medicinal uses. She took a class while in Washington and has read many books.

"I've tried many of the simple herbal cures on my own family," she comments, "and they do work. Unlike chemicals, they are natural and don't harm the body. There are herbs for just about any purpose, including the most often thought of uses for seasoning and aroma."

In cooking, Vi says that she tries to use a variety of herbs for seasoning, not just the regular ones that everyone uses.

Vi has also been experimenting with tofu, a soybean product and very high protein source. It has no taste of its own but when seasoned with herbs and spices, can be used in any number of dishes. She shares a Lasagne recipe using tofu, which she says is excellent, and also a meatless skillet supper featuring beans and a variety of other healthful vegetables.

LASAGNE

Sauce:
3 Tbsp. olive oil
1 1/2 c. chopped onion
2 cloves garlic, minced
4 (6 oz.) cans tomato paste or heavy tomato puree
7 c. canned tomatoes
2 c. water or 1 1/4 c. water plus 3/4 c. red wine
1/2 Tbsp. honey
1 Tbsp. sea salt
1/2 tsp. ground pepper
1 Tbsp. oregano
2 bay leaves
1 carrot, grated

Filling:
1 1/2 to 1 3/4 lb. tofu, drained and mashed with fork
8 oz. sour cream
1 bunch whole green onions, finely chopped
1 1/2 tsp. sea salt
dash of black pepper
1-2 Tbsp. honey or to taste
1/4 tsp. paprika
4 qts. water
1 Tbsp. oil

8-oz. lasagne noodles (whole wheat, soy, spinach, or whatever) sliced mushrooms and black olives (optional)

Sauce:
In a large kettle, heat the oil over medium heat; add the onion and garlic and saute until tender but not brown. Add the remaining sauce ingredients; stirring well. Reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, for 30 minutes.

Remove the bay leaves and cook for 30 minutes more. The longer the sauce simmers, the thicker it gets; thin with water as needed.

Filling: In a medium-sized bowl, break up the tofu. Add the sour cream and blend until very smooth. Add onions, salt, pepper, honey, and paprika. Adjust seasoning to taste and set aside.

In a large kettle, boil the water and oil. Add the noodles and cook for 15 minutes or until tender but not mushy; drain in a large colander.

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Cover the bottom of a 13X15 inch pan with sauce. Alternate layers of noodles, tofu filling and sauce, finishing with a layer of tofu on top. Garnish with sliced mushrooms and black olives if desired. Bake 30 minutes or until heated through; turn off heat and allow to stand for 15 to 20 minutes with the oven door cracked. Serve with spinach and hot garlic bread. Serves 8.

SKILLET SUPPER

1 chopped onion
2 chopped green peppers
1 (16 oz.) can stewed tomatoes
1 large pkg. frozen corn
1 c. sour cream
1 c. corn meal
1 small can black olives, drained and sliced
2 c. cooked garbanzo beans, kidney or pinto beans or lentils (your choice)
1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 to 2 tsp. chili powder
1/4 tsp. cumin
2 c. shredded cheddar cheese

Combine all ingredients, reserving 1 cup cheese to sprinkle on top, and simmer, covered, for 30 minutes on top of stove in a heavy skillet or put in a rectangular casserole dish and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serves 4.

The world's major industrialized countries, including the United States, Japan, Canada, and the countries of the European Economy Community, received about 64 percent of Latin American's total exports in 1977-1979, according to a report by the Inter-American Development Bank. Intra-regional trade accounted for 15.9 percent, the Middle East for 1.4 percent, and other countries 19.2 percent.

GENE STRUCTURE

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) - A new technique for analyzing the structure of genes has been developed by researchers in the University of Rochester's Department of Biology.

The team first attaches a radioactive label to a particular site on a DNA molecule, the injects the DNA into a frog's egg cell, where it becomes covered with proteins. The researchers note the distance between each protein and the radioactive label and compare the resulting "protein map" with the maps that form on other, slightly different, DNA segments.

Eventually, they hope to discover how a gene's protein-DNA structure is related to its function in the body.

The average pencil can draw a line 35 miles long or write approximately 50,000 English words.

"FILING SHORT FORM NOT SIMPLE," SAYS H & R BLOCK

Two different short forms and new deductions make short form filing more complicated this year.

You may not be eligible or it may not be to your advantage to file one of the two short forms. The short forms, including the new 1040EZ, can only be used by taxpayers meeting certain strict requirements. You are limited in deductions on the short forms. Using the wrong form could cost you money, or even mean an audit.

You will have peace of mind in knowing H & R Block's personal, courteous, and competent service is yours... at a very reasonable price. One Day Service is also available for your convenience at any H & R Block office.

H & R Block's tax preparers are trained to know which of the forms - 1040EZ, 1040A, 1040 - gives you the maximum tax advantage for your individual requirements.
