YOUR COUNTY JUDGE OUTLINES A FEW POST-WAR PLANS . . .

This is election year again for State and County public offices and announcements by candidates for these offices will be appearing very soon, and just in order to clear the field for all others, I want to announce now that I will not be a candidate for re-election to the office of county judge of this county. And with that settled I want to here briefly outline some of the plans I have in mind for public improvements in Deaf Smith County. I hope to see some of these plans working and perhaps some of them completed before the end of this year, but as you will readily see, for the greater part—the road program especially, they will have to be spread over a period of several years. The ideas included in these plans are, for the greater part, not original with me. Most of them have been proposed before. I am merely repeating them here in order to keep them before the public and the TAX PAYER.

Governments—and that includes cities, counties and school districts—during a period of grave emergency such as World War II, must necessarily yield in the development of plans for normal expansion and improvement to the more immediate needs arising from the emergency. Labor and materials should not normally be used for beautifying parks or even in building roads when lives may be saved by utilizing such labor and material in efforts that help to shorten the War. Also after a war there is always a surplus of both labor and materials that units of government are in a measure charged with the responsibility of absorbing in useful work and to the best advantage of the tax payer. Therefore, it is to be expected that Deaf Smith County might now be entering upon a long-delayed building and improvement program. This program of course needs careful planning as well as the exercise of wisdom in its development. But we believe that if such care and wisdom are exercised here in Deaf Smith County that the tax payer will get full value for his tax money and that unemployment, with all its evils and suffering as well as its public expense, can be kept at the minimum.

Where is the money coming from? There is but one right answer and you guessed it. It must come from the Deaf Smith County tax payer. And we can have any or all these things only to the extent to which we are willing to pay and which in our best judgement are worth the cost.

Number ONE on my list of things that I think should be done by the county and that will cost money, is repairing and remodeling the County Court House. Here are suggestions for some of the things that I think are needed in order to convert this beautiful marble building, with its spacious grounds, into modern quarters for your county government:

I. INTERIOR OF BUILDING:

- (1) Improvement of lighting, acoustics and possible reduction in size of the District Court Room.
- (2) Providing for additional office space. (The floor space is available.)
- (3) Improved jury room facilities.
- (4) Public rest rooms.
- (5) Repairs to plumbing and heating fixtures.
- (6) Storm stripping of all windows and doors.
- (7) Fluorescent lighting throughout building.
- (8) Complete remodeling of basement.
- (9) Elevator.

II. EXTERIOR OF BUILDING:

- (1) Repairing Roof.
- (2) Repairing and cleaning outer walls.

III. GROUNDS:

- (1) Removal of outside row of trees.
- (2) Moving sidewalk in toward the building some 20 or 30 feet from the present street line.
- (3) Paving of parking area on what is now the outer part of the court house square.

- (4) Install underground sprinkler system.
- (5) Landscaping: including planting of grass and flowers, building park walks and benches.

Next on my list is improving and enlarging the Deaf Smith County Hospital:

- (1.) Improving and modernizing the present building.
- (2) Addition of 12 to 16 more rooms.
- (3) New heating plant and air conditioner.
- (4) Landscaping of grounds.

Then there is urgent need for a new county jail to replace the one we have which was built about 1905.

And in case you may have forgotten, there are still those who believe that Hereford and Deaf Smith County should have a County-City owned airport.

A civic recreational center, including a swimming pool might be just the thing that is needed to combat some of the forces and influences leading toward juvenile delinquency which has become such a problem in other places, especially in the larger cities, and which could and may yet spring up to plague us here.

The cost of all this would run well over a quarter of a million dollars and of course could not be accomplished on short notice even if the money was made available immediately. As a matter of fact, if and when it is done it should be at a time when working people of Deaf Smith County are looking for jobs.

Also of urgent need to all the taxing agencies, including the County, the City and the Hereford Independent School District, is a survey of all taxable property in the county by a qualified valuation engineer for the purpose of arriving at just and equalized taxable values. The cost of this service would be about $15,000, and we believe would be money well spent; spent in the interest of the tax payer, who after all, is the man for whom tax money should be spent.

Then there is the big item of HIGHWAYS; more roads, better roads, paved roads. And they all cost money—lots of money. The highway program is not only a long term program, it is a continuous program. There is no such word as "completed" when considering the needs for better roads in a growing and constantly developing community.

We have every assurance that the State Highway Department will proceed with the paving of Highway 51 and that it will be completed just as soon as practicable. There is also some hope that the State Highway Department may some day take over Harrison Highway. However this may be at a time further in the future than we like to think and it may not be at all. The so-called Federal Farm to Market Highway Program is, to say the least, very disappointing. It operates only through the State Highway Department and provides for but a very few miles of road construction in each county. Deaf Smith County's quota, I believe, for such road is only sixteen miles for the three year period.

There is however, one other way left for us and that is to build and pave county roads ourselves, with our own money. Many of the counties throughout the state are doing just that. I am informed that very satisfactory farm to market type of hard surfaced roads can be constructed at a cost of from $8,000 to $10,000 per mile. At this cost then a hundred to a hundred and twenty miles of paved roads could be built for a million dollars—road that with proper maintenance, might reasonably be expected to last twenty years.

But where will we get the MILLION DOLLARS? That's a "lot o' lettuce" and many may say that we can't afford to spend that amount for roads. It may be however, that the cost to the people—the tax payers—will be just about as great doing without the roads as it would to have them. Let's look at some figures.

There are registered in Deaf Smith County some 2500 motor vehicles and as a conservative estimate let's say that 1000 of them travel for the most part on dirt roads—farmers' and cattlemen's cars and trucks. It is true that a great many of these farmers and ranchers live in town but their cars go back and forth to the ranch nearly every day. Now the above mentioned 1000 motor vehicles cost new an average of something like $1,000 each or a total of ONE MILLION DOLLARS. The average life of a car in normal times is about six years when operated on dirt roads. I believe it is not an exaggeration to say that its useful life could be extended 50% or to nine years if operated on pavement. Thus over a period of 18 years 3000 new cars will be required for dirt road operation and only 2000 if the same roads were paved—a saving of 1000 cars or a MILLION DOLLARS on the purchase price. And whether it is spent or whether it is saved, a million dollars is still a lot of money.

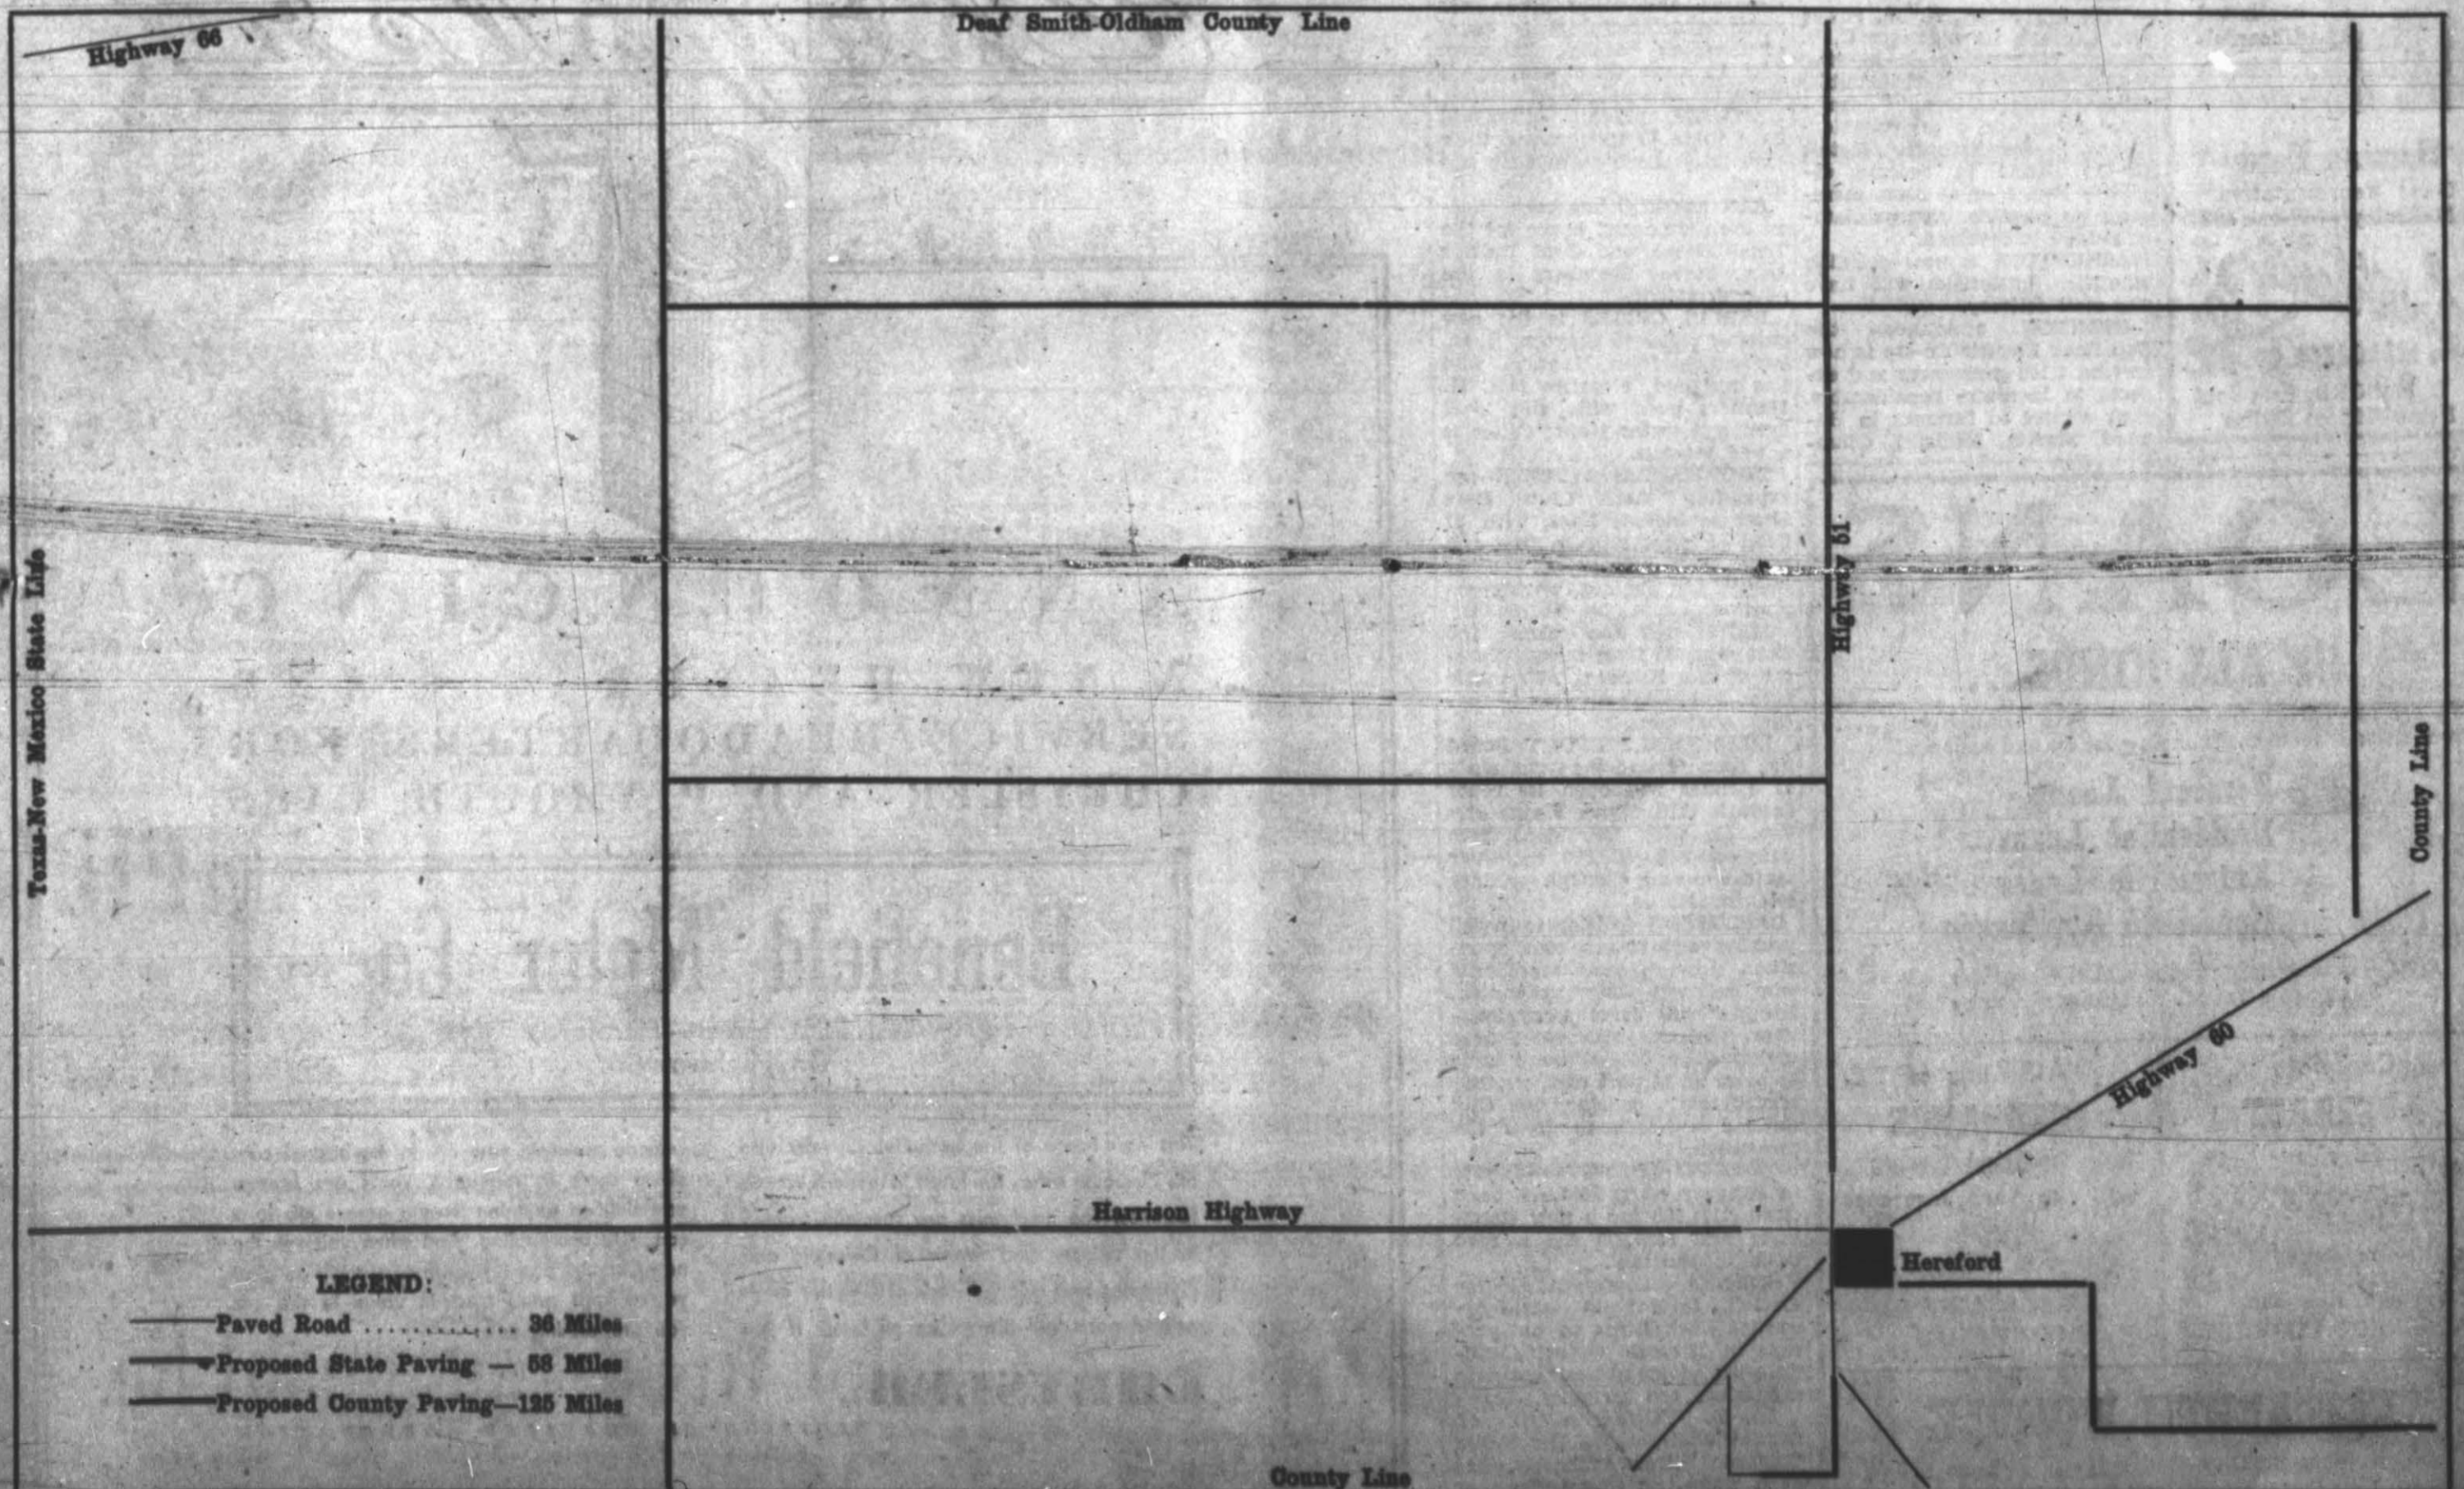

To bring the cost figures of such a project a little more within the range of thinking from the standpoint of each individual tax payer, the average small home owner in Hereford would pay annually some $8 or $10 more taxes; the business man with $10,000 taxable value would pay about $80 more than at present, and the increase in land tax on a section of land eight or ten miles out from town would be about $32, while the increase on land tax over near the New Mexico line would range from $20 to $25 per section per year.

Let's not any of us become panicky now and start believing that the old judge is trying to bankrupt us all before he gets out of office. The old judge of this or any other county in Texas has very little to say about how much tax shall be levied, collected and spent. That matter is almost entirely up to the tax payer himself. In order to put over a bond issue for road improvement, a petition with at least fifty signers, all of whom must be qualified, property tax paying voters, must be presented to the commissioners court, asking for an election on the matter. The court must then set a date and advertise same, for a public hearing on the petition. Then, if at such public hearing the court is convinced that there is a sufficiently strong sentiment in favor of such an election, it may then be so ordered. Then in order that such an election carry in favor of the bond issue said issue must have the support of two-thirds of all the voters voting at such election. So you see that after all, the tax payer has the final say as to how much tax he is willing to pay and as to how much paved road or any other public improvement he thinks he ought to buy.

At the bottom of this page is a map of Deaf Smith County, showing a total of 36 miles of paved road in the county; 58 miles of proposed paving by the State Highway Department and 125 miles of proposed county paving. Please understand that none of this "proposed" paving has been promised by anyone. It is just a dream. But while we are at it, let's dream a little farther. Let's visualize a set of farm improvements on each section of land in Deaf Smith County; a County Fair is in progress in Hereford; every rural family of the county is in town enjoying themselves. It is the Fourth of July and a four-inch rain falls over the entire county between noon and night; If this dream of improved roads according to the map below were a reality, 420 of these families scattered throughout the county could drive to their front door ON PAVEMENT; 300 others would have but one mile of mud driving and the rest of the way on pavement; 260 would have two miles of mud driving after leaving the pavement; 220 would have three miles; 160 would have four miles and only 140 would have over four miles of mud driving and most of these latter would be over near the New Mexico line after having driven from 30 to 50 miles ON PAVEMENT. WHAT A FAIR! WHAT A DAY! WHAT A RAIN!

Yours for more and better roads, greater prosperity and happier living.

HEREFORD'S Chamber of Commerce president, Wayne Evans, believes in visiting other chambers; it pays dividends. Last week he visited Wayne Orendorff, secretary-manager of the Portales, N. M., office. Evans was invited to inspect the Hargis cannery. Jim Hargis told the Hereford potato grower he had canned Deaf Smith County Irish spuds for the armed forces this season. Evans was surprised, but nearly speechless when leaving the plant he spied blades of empty potato sacks. You guessed it. Those sacks were his own brand!

From Our Schools Come New Leaders

Agriculture looks forward with confidence to tomorrow because its youth is being trained properly today.

Our United States public school system has taught scientific agriculture to millions of boys and girls in the vocational agriculture courses of nearly 10,000 rural high schools. Here students learn the improvement and proper use of the soil which is our basic wealth; how to produce ton litters of pork in less than six months; the care and repair of farm machinery; and many other vital things.

Such studies create an interest in research and this is important—for scientific research is vital in agriculture and other industries. Science has been back of the development of modern farm machinery; of cows that produce 15,000 pounds of milk; hybrid corn; breeds of beef cattle, hogs and sheep capable of converting feed into meat and fiber economically and speedily. Research in the science of agriculture is a major national resource which has contributed largely to the high standard of American living.

MEAT BUYING CUSTOMS

Bostonians like beef from heavy steers, St. Louisians prefer beef from light ones. It is of interest to livestock producers and meat packers that taste, money-to-spend, seasons, beliefs and habits all affect meat buying customs in different parts of the United States. Our new 16 mm. moving picture sound film, animated and in color, "MEAT BUYING CUSTOMS," explains these differences. Interesting for lodge, grange, school or church shows, and farm and livestock meetings. You pay only transportation one way. Write to Department 128, Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago 9, Illinois.

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

Several times in this space, I have invited producers of agricultural products to come and see us. As a result of this, we have had quite a number of visitors. Conversations with these visitors have been very interesting and helpful to me and have brought out many of the ideas which producers have regarding the livestock and meat industry. Some recent conversations indicated that quite a number of producers think that there are less than a hundred meat packers in the United States, in fact some thought there were as few as ten. This idea seems to come from the fact that many of them ship their livestock to only one market and are familiar only with the number of meat packing plants at that market. It is true that it will not take all of you to know that there are more than 3,500 meat packers in the United States. In addition, there are upwards of 22,500 other commercial slaughterers. The only way those 26,000 companies and people can make money in their business is to sell meat. And to sell meat they must buy livestock. So all over the country—from Portland, Oregon, to Portland, Maine, from the Rio Grande to the Canadian border—these competing livestock buyers are bidding against each other for the essential material of their businesses—the cattle, calves, hogs, and sheep produced by American farmers and ranchers. The buyers who get that livestock are the ones who bid the highest prices in their particular areas. F.M. Simpson, Agricultural Research Department

IT PAYS TO KEEP FARM ACCOUNTS

By S. C. YOUNG, Professor of Agricultural Economics, Purdue University. Profits are the final test of good farming. Farm accounts give the results of management in dollars and cents. Well kept records are a check on management. They serve as a basis for determining the success or failure of crop and livestock practices. Properly kept, they identify the profitable and unprofitable enterprises and suggest points at which improvements can be made. Farm records are nothing more than an orderly classification of your financial experience. To be most valuable, they must be simple and they must be used. Most state colleges furnish simplified account books which can be obtained through your county agent. Sometimes it is better to plan your own accounting system in an ordinary ledger. If all your cash income is deposited in the bank and all your outgo is paid by check, you can use the bank records of your deposits and checks as a basis for your accounts or as a check on your own records. Your records will be more valuable if you include an annual inventory along with your record of cash receipts and expenses.

FEEDING EARLY-LAMBING EWES

To develop good milk-producing ewes, and therefore good early lambs, winter feeding is important. Feed them plenty of top-quality legume hay and just enough grain to keep them in good condition, gaining a little weight. And don't forget exercise. It makes lambing easier and helps save a higher percentage of lambs.

Soda Bill Sez:

... that a man who is prejudiced is usually merely misinformed. ... that it's smart to live as though you expected to die tomorrow—and to farm as though you expected to live forever.

A RECORD TO BEAT

Who will be America's Star Farmer of 1946? He'll have to be good to beat the record of Gordon Eichhorn of Marion County, Ohio, who won this top award of the Future Farmers of America at their 1945 National Convention last fall. A high school freshman in 1939 with one sow, two steers and 26 sheep, Gordon now has 60 hogs, 90 sheep, 1,500 chickens, land and equipment for a total net worth of more than $8,300. He farms his own land, is partner with his dad on 188 acres, and rents from his neighbors 96 acres more on which he raises corn, alfalfa, small grains and clover.

Miss Ann Cockrell is Bride of Gene Osburn in El Paso Ceremony

Before an altar bedecked with greenery and white chrysanthemums, Miss Ann Cockrell became the bride of Gene Osburn in a candlelight ceremony held in the Austin Park Christian Church in El Paso on Tuesday January 8. Rev. J. N. Dulaney, pastor of the church, officiated at the single ring rites.

Proceeding the ceremony Mrs. J. N. Dulaney sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. H. J. Hebbelm, pianist, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Eustace Osburn of El Paso.

The bride wore a dress of soft topan blue crepe with gold trim made with tight fitting waist and peplum effect. Her accessories were in brown and she wore an off-the-face veiled hat with sequin trim. Her shoulder bouquet was of white carnations.

Her something old was an heirloom pin belonging to her grandmother and she carried a borrowed lace handkerchief. To carry out the new and blue traditions she wore a gold bracelet and topaz earrings.

Following a wedding dinner at the Cortez Hotel the couple left for a trip to Old Mexico.

Mrs. Osburn who is the daughter of Mrs. O. Ora Cockrell, is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended Texas State College for Women at Denton and West Texas State College, Canyon. For the past three years she has been employed at the Station Hospital at the P. O. W. Camp near Hereford.

Mr. Osburn also attended Hereford High School and was employed in California before enlisting in the Army Air Corps. He has served in the South Pacific for the past two years, returning from Tokyo in December. He has received his honorable discharge and the couple plan to live in Amarillo where he will be employed. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Osburn of Amarillo, formerly of Westway community.

Gifts Swell Chapel Building Fund at West Texas State

Canyon, Texas, Jan. 14—More than $3,000 has been added to the West Texas State College chapel building fund during the holiday period, according to President J. A. Hill.

A portion of this sum came from Carson county, where an effective campaign has announced almost $2,000 for the chapel project. Citizens of Panhandle and other Carson county communities are setting the pace for all other counties in the drive.

The non-sectarian chapel has been widely endorsed by ministers, churchmen, clubs, and individuals.

Price Control Will Be Trump Card for Texas Farmers

COLLEGE STATION—Price Control in 1946 will be a trump card for Texas farmers and their families. Control holds stable the prices on things they need and must have for efficient production and better living in the home.

On things farmers buy, says Tyrus R. Timm, economist in farm management for the A. and M. College Extension Service, inflationary pressures are vastly greater than on the things farmers sell. Compared to farm prices it seems that, without controls prices of things farmers buy, including building materials, hardware supplies, trucks, refrigerators and clothing would go up faster and higher, and stay up longer.

Accordingly, he adds, the least their government can do is to maintain an adequate price control program until supplies of basic things which farm families need come into balance with demand.

Timm points out that after V. J. day in August most of the nation's farm leaders thought that prices of many farm commodities likely would settle below ceilings by this time. Instead, farm prices today generally are at or near ceilings for most of the important commodities.

"Even though price controls are bothersome and in some instances prevent further raise in prices which would occur for at least a brief period in the absence of controls," Timm continues, "perhaps farmers and ranchmen welcome this opportunity to sell today at or near government ceilings rather than at the expected 'at or near' government support."

Texas farm families worked hard and long to win the war and save their money so they could buy many things they needed. One reason their profits showed pretty high during wartime, Timm explains, was that farmers were unable to buy many things they desired. He believes that they are entitled to protection by the government of the value of their savings as well as the value of the current dollars they are receiving for their crops and livestock so they will be able to buy on the same basis as other consumers their fair share of scarce commodities.

Consumers Co-Op to Hold Annual Meeting

Amarillo—Dates for the annual meeting of the shareholders of Consumers Cooperatives Associated of Amarillo, Dallas, and Edroy, cooperative regional wholesale for the 140 farm cooperatives in the southwest, have been set for April 4 and 5 according to an announcement made by Leonard F. Cowden, General Manager. The meeting will be held in Amarillo and more than a thousand farmers and their families are expected to convene here for the occasion.

A special program is being arranged for the occasion.
