Senate approves package of water proposals

AUSTIN (AP) — A Senate coalition extending from the eastern to the western tip of Texas has approved a package of water proposals as a substitute for a 1961 plan that was roundly rejected by voters.

No mention was made of importing water, which has intrigued Texas planners for years.

In an apparent effort to overcome possible regional objections, sponsors of the bills and proposed constitutional amendments included Sen. Ed Howard, D-Texas, and Tati San-tibetan, D-El Paso.

The main sponsor of the compromise, however, was Sen. John Montford, whose water-short Lubbock district is a major agricultural area that depends primarily on irrigation to grow food and fiber.

Montford said Tuesday the water package "was developed for all of Texas." He said there was "no fanciful, ingenious language" to dedicate state revenue surpluses to water projects, which failed at the polls two years ago.

The following proposals, which were adopted and sent to the House without a dissenting vote, would:

— Authorize the issuance of $300 million in bonds, with half of the money going as loans for local water development and half for water quality. The program already has some $150 million in authorized but unissued bonds, and the additional authorization would, according to water planners, be sufficient to last to 1990.

— Authorize the issuance of $200 million in bonds to create a state fund from which low-interest loans could be made to farmers to install new irrigation and water conservation systems. Agriculture, it was noted, consumes 72 percent of the water used in Texas each year, but many irrigation systems are similar to those used hundreds of years ago.

— Pledge $250 million of the state's credit to guarantee local water bonds. The proposed constitutional amendment also would allow the state to make low-interest loans to local governments for water projects.

— Require political subdivisions seeking state money for water projects to implement water conservation programs. The Legislative Budget Board said conservation could result in a $90 million loss to local governments operating water utilities, if water sales dropped by as much as 10 percent.

— Allow either the Railroad Commission or Department of Water Resources to sue to stop oil and gas pollution. The bill would force the commission to follow a formal procedure in determining whether a fluid other than freshwater should be used in injection wells to recover oil or gas, and also would establish tighter regulations over saltwater haulers.

A measure to protect the state's multi-billion dollar a year recreational fishing and commercial seafood industries was tentatively approved despite the opposition of eight senators.

Sen. John Sharp, D-Victoria, was the target of Sen. John Traeger and others as he tried to gain approval of a bill that would strengthen the law against diverting upstream water to the detriment of coastal waters.

The bill would require the Texas Water Commission, in issuing a permit, to try to maintain the "historic level of productivity" of bays and estuaries. The commission, however, could suspend permit conditions in times of drought.

Traeger, D-Seguin, predicted if Sharp's bill passed, "No more dams or reservoirs would be built in the state of Texas. We'd have to wade through paper from here to the coast."

He said he had supported the water package, but this "is the dose of castor oil with all the goodies... and we don't have to take it."

Sharp said, "The information you've been given is exactly wrong."

Traeger responded, "This is the worst bill that has crawled in the Senate this session."

Sen. J.E. "Buster" Brown, R-Lake Jackson, questioned whether the bill might curtail water supplies to the large chemical complexes on the coast, which would increase the cost of their products.

Sharp's bill was tentatively approved 23-8, but another vote is needed to send the measure to the House.

U.S. wary of Andropov's offer about nuclear force balance

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist Party chief Yuri V. Andropov is offering to count warheads as well as missiles in striking a balance between Soviet and NATO nuclear forces, but the possible concession was greeted warily in Washington.

The State Department said it welcomed Andropov's announcement as a "sign of progress" if he indeed was accepting the U.S.-endorsed basis for determining nuclear strength. But the department said there were ambiguities in Andropov's remarks that could represent "a hardening of the Soviet position."

Andropov, during a banquet Tuesday night honoring East German leader Erich Honecker, said the Soviet Union "has stated readiness not to have in Europe a single missile and a single plane more than possessed today by NATO countries."

"In other words, we stand for the USSR to have no more missiles and warheads mounted on them than on the side of NATO."

In Washington, the State Department said U.S. negotiators would pursue Andropov's offer when arms talks resume in Geneva, Switzerland, on May 17. But the department's statement said the United States and its allies cannot accept Andropov's continued demand "for the right to maintain nuclear forces equal to all other states combined."

Several Western observers saw Andropov's remarks as a softening of the Kremlin's position at the intermediate-range arms reduction talks in Geneva.

But the British domestic news agency Press Association was suspicious. "Andropov may have made his new offer as part of the Soviet attempt to influence public opinion in the West," it cautioned today.

"By showing that the Russians are ready to negotiate, he may have been seeking to strengthen the role of (Western) anti-nuclear movements."

Andropov said nothing in his speech about dismantling Moscow's highly mobile SS-20 missiles, which in theory could be rolled into Soviet Central Asia out of range of Western targets and then quickly put back into position.

He also held firm to the Kremlin's insistence that British and French missiles be included as part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization arsenal. The State Department said Andropov might in effect be asking the British and French nuclear forces be reduced if the Soviets were to do likewise.

The bishops directed their appeal not only to Catholics but to all Americans, calling for the equivalent of a freeze in nuclear arms expansion and deep cuts in superpower arsenals, and repudiating the use of nuclear weapons.

"A nuclear response to either a conventional or nuclear attack can cause destruction which goes far beyond 'legitimate defense,'" the bishops said. "Such use of nuclear weapons would not be justified."

The 44,000-word letter, "The Challenge of Peace: God's Promise and Our Response," says nuclear weapons threaten U.S.-Soviet "mutual suicide" and "the destruction of the world as we know it."

"We must continually say 'no' to the idea of nuclear war," the letter says.

Grounded in theological and Biblical premises, as well as Pentagon facts gathered through consultations, the document is a com-

Not everything that is hazardous to your health is labeled. A scientist in Boston has computed the chances of dying from day-to-day hazards. His list includes those items which increase your chance of dying by one part in a million.

For example, smoking 1.4 cigarettes a day increases your chances of dying from cancer or heart disease by one chance in a million. Living two months with a cigarette smoker give you the same odds.

You increase your chances one time in a million by traveling 300 miles by car, 1,000 miles by jet, 10 miles by bicycle, or six minutes by canoe. By the same odds, you increase your chance of dying from cirrhosis of the liver by drinking a half liter of wine. One hour in a coal mine also equals the one-in-a-million formula.

Your chances go to one in a million by living two months in a brick building, living two months in Denver, drinking water for a year in Miami, or having one chest x-ray made at a good hospital.

Your chances are the same if you eat 40 tablespoons of peanut butter, drink thirty 12-ounce cans of diet soda, or drink one thousand 24-ounce soft drinks from plastic bottles.

If you're able to avoid all the above, you could get run over by a Mack truck while crossing the street!

Bishops denounce nuclear weapons

CHICAGO (AP) — Roman Catholic bishops believe their watershed pastoral letter denouncing nuclear weapons will have broad impact on the nation and draw wide ecumenical support from other Americans who fear the menace of the bomb.

"Many other religious groups have indicated their support," said Cardinal Joseph L. Bernardin, who steered the newly adopted message through two years of preparation beset by competing pressures, including those of the Reagan administration.

The Chicago cardinal added: "We have addressed a very critical issue facing our society. It is one of the most important undertakings of the bishops in a long time."

By an overwhelming secret ballot of 238 to 9, leaders of the country's 51 million Catholics late Tuesday approved the teaching letter renouncing nuclear warfare and the arms race and challenging U.S. nuclear strategies.

Scott Hamby, club secretary, was recognized as one of the "Top 20 Club Secretaries" and received the Tom Duncan Memorial Award. He also qualified as one of the finalists for the annual awards talent show, for which he played a piano solo.

Michelle Osborn, Hereford Key Club Sweetheart, was selected as one of 12 finalists in the Texas-Oklahoma District.

Forty-two Key Club members, accompanied by Miss Osborn and her chaperone, Mrs. Ron Osborn, Brock, and seven sponsors including Ron Osborn, Rex Easterwood, Mike Carr, Greg Banner, Gerry Hollinger, and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Rose traveled to Houston for the convention.

Following the conclusion of the annual event, the group enjoyed an afternoon at Astroworld before returning to Hereford.

HHS Key Club among top clubs

Hereford Key Club was recognized as the No. 4 Key Club in the entire district during the 34th annual Texas-Oklahoma District Key Club Convention attended by local members this past weekend at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston.

This rating, which ranks the Hereford club fourth among 269 clubs in the district, is based on monthly reports of activities and services to churches, schools and the community. This is the highest rating the Hereford Key Club has ever received, according to Gene Brock, faculty advisor.

The local Key Club also placed second in the achievement contest, which is based on a report listing all accomplishments of the club throughout the year, and members received honorable mention for their single service project for the 1982-83 school year, which was aiding in the beautification and restoration of Rest Lawn

Local teachers worried about impact from hold on salaries

Faced with continuing declines in projected state revenues, budget writers in the Texas Legislature are recommending an appropriations bill that holds the line on state spending, including funds for public education and teacher salaries.

Unless the Legislature passes a tax bill this session, additional monies will apparently not be available for any state programs, including increases in education funding.

"That translates to teachers in the Hereford Independent School District not receiving any additional state pay increases for the next two years," said Teddie Poindexter, president of the Deaf Smith County Classroom Teachers Association. "The proposed state appropriations bill does not provide for any new increases for teacher salaries, meaning that Hereford's 334 teachers are going to receive from the state only the experience increases averaging 3 to 4.5 percent per year which we would have received anyway under current law."

The Deaf Smith County CTA is the local affiliate of the 25,000 member Texas Classroom Teachers Association (TCTA). TCTA maintains its headquarters in Austin and employs numerous lobbyists to promote legislation in behalf of classroom teachers. Coupled with grassroots support of its local affiliates, TCTA is making efforts to inform teachers of the effect these legislative issues will have on them and the communities in which they live.

Critical votes on the plan could come as early as Thursday, but more likely will be put off until early next week.

Specifically, the budget blueprint calls for an increase in defense spending of 7.5 percent next year and 5 percent for the next four years, ceilings which would slow Reagan's planned strategic weapons buildup, especially in 1985.

Reagan urged a 10 percent increase for 1984, and 10.3 percent in 1985.

Parade highlights festival

A parade down Main Street, and a traditional Mexican dance will highlight the Cinco de Mayo Celebration in Hereford tomorrow.

The parade, which will begin at the Sugarland Mall, will start at 4 p.m. The dance, which will be held in the high school auditorium, will get underway at 8 p.m.

Booths will be set up in the park, at no charge, during the day.

Persons wishing additional information about the celebration should call Ester DeLaCruz at 364-3906.

Senate Republicans hoping loyalty will aid budget plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Optimistic Republican Senate leaders are gambling that party loyalty will overcome objections to skyrocketing federal deficits and allow approval of a compromise budget plan which has the reluctant support of President Reagan.

"I think we'll get more than 50 Republicans when the final vote is tallied up," Majority Leader Howard H. Baker, R-Tenn., said Tuesday.

Skeptical Democrats said they doubt that Baker can find the 51 votes needed for a budget which edges toward Reagan's original defense spending recommendations, includes only nominal tax increases next year and forecasts budget deficits of $294 billion for the rest of this year, $192.4 billion next year and $186.3 billion in 1985.

"I don't think they can pass that," said Sen. Lawton Chiles of Florida, the senior Democrat on the Senate Budget Committee. "And we ain't gonna help them."

There are 54 Republicans and 46 Democrats in the Senate.

As the Senate resumed debate on a budget resolution for fiscal 1984, Reagan gave a less than enthusiastic blessing to a new spending and taxing formula drafted by Sen. Pete Domenici, R-N.M.,

Angry man shoots 16-year-old girlfriend

HOUSTON (AP) — Medical examiners have ruled that an angry boyfriend shot the 16-year-old daughter of a Brazilian oilman and then took his own life.

Assistant Medical Examiner Dr. Valdimir Parungao concluded Tuesday that Fernanda Cruz, daughter of Fernando Cruz, died of a single shot through the head Monday at the family's westside townhouse.

Edson R. Diasfilho, 26, apparently became angry when the teen-ager told him she did not want to date him because her family thought he was too old, police said.

As Diasfilho approached the home, he was confronted by Sergio A. Martinez, 24, a boyfriend of Miss Cruz' older sister, police said.

After a struggle, Martinez was shot three times. He remained in stable condition Tuesday at Rosewood Hospital, a spokesman said.

After shooting Miss Cruz and Martinez, Diasfilho barricaded himself inside an upstairs bedroom where he took his own life, police said.

$22 million computer error gouges budget

COTULLA, Texas (AP) — La Salle County has been forced to lose a deputy's position and freeze spending because of a $22 million computer error that gouged out almost one-sixth of the county's budget, a judge says.

The tax revenues of the rural county were overestimated by $100,000 because of a San Antonio-based computer firm's double assessment of oil and gas property.

"It was a mistake," said County Judge Leodoro Martinez. "It was a costly one."

Commissioners met last week in an emergency session to freeze spending, cut about six county employees to 32-hour work weeks and move $30,000 from the lateral roads fund to the general fund.

The sheriff's office will lose a deputy position because of the budget problems, Martinez said.

The hourly cuts and spending freeze should enable La Salle County, located between San Antonio and Laredo, to struggle to the end of the year, the judge said.

The error originated in computerized oil and gas tax rolls obtained by the county's central appraisal district, Martinez said.

International launch to study ozone delayed

PALESTINE, Texas (AP) — Winds forced scientists today to delay plans to launch four giant helium balloons designed to bring back crucial data about the Earth's damaged ozone layer.

Ralph Harju, administrative assistant at the National Scientific Balloon Facility in East Texas, said there was an even chance the balloons could be launched today.

But researchers checked winds before dawn and decided to postpone the launch, according to a security guard who asked not to be named.

Strong winds forced cancellation of an April 25 launch.

The launch requires perfect weather conditions because even mild atmospheric disturbances could throw the balloons off course.

Each of the 800-foot-high, 450-foot-wide balloons has two tons of scientific instruments in its gondola to measure the ozone in the stratosphere as well as dozens of other chemical compounds that could be depleting the levels of the vitals.

Hundreds of Sonoran families invade lands

GOMEZ VARIAS, Mexico (AP) — Up to 500 Sonoran families from Northern Mexico have invaded lands belonging to Chihuahua ranchers and farmers, forcing an exchange of gunfire between both sides but no injuries, Mexican authorities say.

The leftist Sonoran campesinos have occupied 20,000 hectares of forest land for 15 days near the Sonora-Chihuahua state line, about 175 miles southwest of El Paso, Texas, officials said Tuesday. The dispute flared in an exchange of shots Monday night, state officials in Chihuahua City said.

The president of the National Confederation of Campesinos said government officials have met with the peasants for 15 days, but hadn't been able to convince them to leave the Sierra Madres forest site. Jose Maria Salomon Rascon said he repeatedly had asked the land invaders to leave peacefully.

The campesinos say they understood they had been given Chihuahua state government approval to occupy farm sites around the forest area. Government officials deny any such agreement.

Landowners denounced those occupying the forest area as socialists, saying their ranches, farm land and family's safety was being endangered by the continued occupation of their lands.

Senate approves Veterans' proposal

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators have finished legislative work on two proposals that would allow veterans to borrow from the state to buy houses as well as land.

The Senate on Tuesday approved 30-0 House amendments to a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing expansion of the program to housing. The veterans' land program has been in operation for years.

Texas would vote on the constitutional amendment in November. House changes in a bill that would implement the amendment — if it is approved by the voters — were approved on voice vote. That measure was sent to the governor.

The constitutional amendment would authorize the sale of $800 million in bonds to raise loan money for land and home purchases. The veterans' land fund would get $300 million, the housing fund $500 million.

The new housing program would make available up to $20,000 for down payments on home mortgages. Interest rates would be set at 7-9 percent, according to legislative testimony.

Veterans would be eligible for the programs if they had lived in Texas for five years, had served 90 days in the military and had been discharged honorably.

Black-hooded extortionist on probation for robbery

DALLAS (AP) — A bank president's wife held hostage by a black-hooded gunman stayed calm while police negotiated the release of her two young daughters and then ended her 17½-hour ordeal when she ran screaming from her car.

"That is one of the strongest individuals I've ever seen in my whole life," Police Lt. John Holt said after the woman, Jo Goyne, escaped.

"She was beautiful throughout the whole ordeal."

Her two daughters, Erin, 10, and Shaun, 7, were released about 1 p.m. Tuesday, and Mrs. Goyne was released after another 2½ hours.

CBS wins rating after two losses to ABC

LOS ANGELES (AP) — CBS won the weekly television ratings after two straight losses to ABC, but an ABC special called "Life's Most Embarrassing Moments" was the No. 1 show.

The ABC special featured host John Ritter presenting film clips of public mistakes by personalities in news, sports, politics, movies and television.

The first episode of "V," a two-part NBC movie about the takeover of Earth by aliens from another planet, was in second place for the week ending May 1.

"V" is a pilot for an NBC series that will focus on resistance fighters against an alien invasion.

CBS won the week with a rating of 16.0, according to the A.C. Nielsen Co. The networks say this means that in an average prime-time minute, 16 percent of the homes with television were tuned to CBS. ABC was second with 15.1 and NBC was third with 14.7.

CBS' victory was an opening salvo in the May "sweeps," when both Nielsen and Arbitron make detailed surveys to determine the advertising rates for the local stations.

In the ratings for the "sweeps" period April 27-May 1, Nielsen had CBS first with 17.7, NBC second with 14.8 and ABC third with 13.4. The Arbitron ratings were CBS 17.0, NBC 14.9 and ABC 14.5.

The NBC special "TV's Censored Bloopers IV," also made it to the Top 10. It was ninth.

CBS had five shows in the Top 10, ABC had three and NBC had two. CBS' "Dallas" was third, and the network's "60 Minutes" and "Magnum, P.I." finished in order after that. ABC's "The Love Boat" was sixth, and seventh was ABC's "Hart to Hart." CBS' "Simon & Simon" was eighth.

Spectators broke into applause 25 minutes later when the gunman, who police identified as Alexander Davis 31, of Fort Worth, raised his hands, clambered from the car and surrendered. No shots were fired.

Joe Goyne, president of Grand Avenue Bank, was abducted about 10 p.m. Monday as he walked his dog outside his 2-story home in the fashionable Dallas suburb of Highland Park, police said.

The family was held at gunpoint until about 6 a.m. when the gunman forced them to drive around the East Texas countryside for two hours before the bank opened, police said.

He then forced Goyne to fill a satchel full of money from the bank and held the woman and girls in a bank-owned 1983 Oldsmobile while police negotiated their freedom.

Neighbors said they were unaware of the family's ordeal during the night.

"We didn't hear a thing," said Becky Sykes, who lives next door.

Davis was given a magistrate's warning Tuesday night and held for investigation of aggravated kidnapping and investigation of robbery. Municipal Judge Howard Banks set Davis' bond at $200,000. Police Sgt. H.M. Rice said formal charges would be filed today.

Holt, who led the negotiations jointly with the FBI, said Davis was on probation for robbery in Fort Worth.

Goyne was left at the bank Tuesday morning where he had been ordered to fill the bag with $450,000, Holt said. Goyne did get some money and gave it to the man, but wouldn't specify how much, Holt said.

"He extorted quite a bit of money," Holt said.

Police were told of the gunman about 8:20 a.m. and stopped the man with a roadblock at an intersection about a mile east of downtown Dallas.

Negotiations were established almost immediately, via a field telephone strung from a temporary command post to the car, and one officer was able to speak to Mrs. Goyne through an open window.

The gunman lay on the rear floorboard with the girls on top of him as a shield while Mrs. Goyne sat at the steering wheel, said officer John Squier.

Shortly before noon, police and FBI negotiators convinced the gunman to release the girls.

"We're going to get the girls," one officer shouted, telling Mrs. Goyne to honk the auto horn if the gunman understood. The horn honked twice and the girls stepped from the car. Police grabbed them up and whisked them to a mobile hospital emergency room nearby.

Physicians examined them, then reunited them with Goyne for a tearful, emotional scene. Father and daughters remained nearby, awaiting a resolution.

Mrs. Goyne sneaked the car door open about 3:10 p.m., then ran into the arms of waiting officers, screaming hysterically.

After she was taken to safety, officers turned their attention to the gunman.

Holt at first said Mrs. Goyne escaped, but later he said, "We were at the point in negotiations where he was going to let her go ... he could have prevented her from getting out of the car."

Silverberg applied the membranes daily for about 10 days, then used a traditional gauze dressing to fight an outbreak of bacteria. The membranes allowed blood vessels to develop.

In late March, physicians performed a skin graft as a more permanent solution, removing healthy skin from Ms. Phillips' back and right thigh and grafting it onto the diseased area.

About 95 percent of the graft took, and the depressed area of her body gradually filled in, leaving behind only a "little scooped out" indentation, according to Silverberg.

tee opposition to the bill, whooped "I won!" when Edwards voted "no" on the question of reporting the bill favorably to the House floor.

Then Rep. Al Luna, D-Houston, moved to report the bill unfavorably.

Again Edwards voted "no."

When the 7-8 vote was announced, Edwards asked committee Chairman George Pierce, R-San Antonio, if that meant the bill would go to the floor. Pierce told him it would not, and asked him if he wanted the vote reconsidered. Edwards shrugged, then shook his head and walked away.

Bill co-sponsor Hugo Berlanga, D-Corpus Christi, told reporters after the vote that Edwards apparently was confused and had intended to vote for reporting the bill with an unfavorable recommendation.

That would have satisfied the bill proponents' major objective — a vote in the House where they say the measure would pass.

'Living dressing' helps save woman's life

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Surprising her doctors and family, Cleo Phillips is going home Thursday after battling a rare, debilitating skin disease with a treatment that included wrapping her body in membranes that surround babies in the womb.

"I'm feeling pretty good. I'm so happy," said Ms. Phillips, 48, who was wrapped in the amniotic membranes to keep the disease from spreading.

"She was very, very close to death. None of us really expected her to make it out of the hospital, yet in such good condition. We're all very surprised," said Dr. Fred Silverberg, who credited the membranes with helping save her life.

"I'll just take it easy for a while. You have to get back into things day by day," Ms. Phillips said Tuesday night from her room at Magee-Women's Hospital, where she has been bed ridden for more than two months.

Ms. Phillips suffered from necrotizing fasciitis, an infectious disease which is contagious in its early stages. More than half of her body tissue had deteriorated because of the disease, leaving a reddened, depressed area stretching from her left knee to her breastbone.

"What covered her belly was essentially her muscle," Silverberg said.

Ms. Phillips, who is susceptible to severe infections because she suffers from diabetes, noticed in late February that a hair follicle had become infected. Within days, the infection had spread to her abdomen.

The disease was killing her fascia, a ¼-inch thick layer of tissue between her muscle and skin more commonly known as fat, at a rate of six inches a day, Silverberg said.

Ms. Phillips was hospitalized Feb. 23 and doctors operated three times to remove diseased tissue.

To temporarily control the spreading infection, Silverberg bandaged the diseased area with three amniotic membranes, which surround the baby in the mother's uterus.

It marked the first time that the "living dressing" had been used to treat the disease, which is so rare its exact incidence is not known, according to Silverberg. Such membranes previously have been used for burns and leg ulcers.

The membranes, discarded along with the placenta following birth, retained fluid and protein in Ms. Phillips' body, Silverberg said. They also reduced the amount of bacteria in the wound and speeded healing.

Silverberg applied the membranes daily for about 10 days, then used a traditional gauze dressing to fight an outbreak of bacteria. The membranes allowed blood vessels to develop.

In late March, physicians performed a skin graft as a more permanent solution, removing healthy skin from Ms. Phillips' back and right thigh and grafting it onto the diseased area.

About 95 percent of the graft took, and the depressed area of her body gradually filled in, leaving behind only a "little scooped out" indentation, according to Silverberg.

teachers will be making some critical choices about whether or not they can afford to remain in the classrooms. We are concerned about the impact that inadequate teacher salaries will have on the quality of education in Texas," Mrs. Poindexter said.

In an action related to the teacher pay raise issue, the Texas Senate recently passed Senate Bill 391 by Senator Grant Jones (D-Abilene) which is a public school finance bill that would establish an Education Excellence Fund for the purpose of funneling state monies—if they become available—into local school districts. The bill provides that 65 percent of any available monies appropriated to this fund must be used by the school district to improve teacher salaries. The remaining 35 percent would be discretionary funds, to be used by the districts for any lawful purpose.

After the bill was passed by the Senate, the Senate Finance Committee later voted to appropriate $600 million to the Education Excellence Fund for the 1983-85 biennium if money for this purpose becomes available and if the fund is approved by the House and signed into law by the Governor. Estimates in the Legislature are that $600 million would translate into an average 16 percent raise for teachers over the two-year period, including the 3 to 4.5 percent per year experience increases teachers would receive anyway.

The Education Excellence Fund, or any other pay increase, will not be implemented unless money becomes available and is appropriated for that purpose. The Legislature still has the option of funding teacher salaries in the conventional manner by putting any excess funds directly into the existing salary schedule, thus bypassing the Excellence Fund.

It is the position of TCTA and the Deaf Smith County CTA that the Legislature should fund the current salary schedule first, prior to any money being put into an Education Excellence Fund.

"We are encouraging each school in Hereford to write letters to our state legislators informing them of our concern. We are asking that they make teacher salaries a priority spending item. All teachers and other concerned individuals are invited to participate in this letter writing campaign," Mrs. Poindexter concluded.

Letter

prehensive analysis of the moral imperatives of the nuclear age.

Archbishop John R. Roach of Minneapolis-St. Paul, president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, said the document sets a "very strong position on peace" for the church, calling it to greater efforts in that cause.

The stance underlined a modern historical shift in American Catholicism, which in the past has regularly sanctioned the country's military policies.

"It points a new way," said Bishop Bernard Law of Springfield-Cape Girardeau, Mo., an ecumenical expert. "Many other Christians and Jews share our appeal to the nation."

The letter rejects as morally unacceptable any first use of nuclear weapons, an option maintained by the United States and NATO allies to stop an overwhelming conventional attack.

"Non-nuclear attacks by another state must be resisted by other than nuclear means," the bishops said, and also condemned nuclear retaliation even to nuclear attacks on U.S. cities.

"Retaliatory action which would indiscriminately take many wholly innocent lives, lives of people who are in no way responsible for reckless actions of their government, must be condemned," the letter says.

It draws its applications from the church's age-old "just war" theory, which holds that warfare must respect immunity of civilians and the damage inflicted must be proportionate to the good results expected.

Nuclear warfare is portrayed as overstepping these tenets, and the bishops are skeptical of any claims that nuclear exchanges could be limited.

"There should be a clear public resistance to the rhetoric of 'winnable' nuclear wars, or unrealistic expectations of 'surviving' nuclear exchanges," the bishops said.

Citing present U.S. nuclear targeting of about 40,000 Soviet sites, including 60 in Moscow alone, on the grounds that military installations are situated there, the letter says:

"It would be perverted political policy or moral casuistry which tried to justify using a weapon which would 'indirectly' or 'unintentionally' kill a million innocent people because they happened to live near a 'militarily significant' target."

One of the nine dissenting bishops, auxiliary Bishop Austin B. Vaughan of New York, rose afterward to assail the letter as a "theological and pastoral minefield."

But others hailed it. "It's the most profound and comprehensive statement by the church on a critical issue that is troubling all humanity," said Cardinal John Krol of Philadelphia.

Saying the bishops had not yielded to persistent administration pressure to tone down their criticisms, he said, "When someone tries to exert pressure, you stiffen your back. It's a normal human reaction."

Carew, Brett enjoying fast starts in 1983

By LES GILES
Sports Editor

Fast starts...Rod Carew and George Brett have had them in the first month of the 1983 major league baseball season, and so have the Atlanta Braves.

Carew, through Monday, was hitting .470, while Brett, presently out of the lineup because of an injury, was hitting .460.

And, the Braves, who've come to be known as "America's Team," are 15-5—the best record in baseball. At the other end of the spectrum, the Yankees have struggled.

Through Monday's games they were 10-12 and next-to-last in the American League West.

The question I'm asking myself is, "Will Billy Martin last the season?"

The Yankees seem to have a wealth of talent, but can't seem to get untracked.

Maybe, instead of getting rid of Martin, Yankee owner George Steinbrenner ought to take a long cruise around the world—in a canoe. That way he wouldn't be back until long after the season was over.

Ironically, the four teams that made it to the playoffs last year are back atop their respective divisions at this point of the season.

Milwaukee and Baltimore were tied for the AL East lead after Monday's games. California and Oakland (minus Billy Ball) were tied for the AL West lead.

St. Louis, the defending World Champion, had a half-game lead over Philadelphia in the NL West and the Braves were one up on the Dodgers in the West.

Despite the fact Hereford lost its last two District 3-5A baseball games, and three of the last four, the Herd fared much better than the pre-season polls had projected.

With a young ball club (featuring no more than four seniors at any one time) consisting of juniors and sophomores, the Herd had been picked dead last in pre-season polls.

But, after a pretty good start (which saw them win three in a row at one stretch), the Whitefaces would up 6-10 in the league race.

That was good enough for sixth place—behind Monterey (14-2), Coronado (12-4), Plainview (12-4), Amarillo (10-6) and Palo Duro (8-8).

Monterey's 25-5 season record easily was the best in the district. No other team won as many as 20 games. Coronado, which also advanced to the playoffs, was 19-8, while Plainview ended with a 19-7 mark.

AHS, which was the defending champion from District 3-5A (before the two leagues merged) posted a 15-7 record. Hereford's 6-10 league record was its best in a few seasons. Overall, the Whitefaces logged a 9-13 mark.

And, with virtually every starter back for next season (except catcher Raymond Martinez and first baseman Brian Taylor), the Herd likely will be picked for a first-division finish.

There's still plenty of time to sign up for this weekend's scrambles partnership golf tournament (set for Saturday and Sunday) at the John Pitman course.

Entry fee is $80 per team (plus carts). Golfers will tee off via shotgun starts each day. Saturday's shotgun starts are set for 9 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Teams will be flighted after Saturday's round. And, speaking about golf tournaments, don't forget the weekly Florida Scrambles which will be held each Wednesday, beginning May 11 at 6 p.m.

Entries will close at 2 p.m. each Wednesday. Entry fee will be 13 per player, plus the green fee. A team will consist of four players (an A, B, C and D player, according to handicap). And, the weekly tourney is open to both men and women.

The Second Annual Spring Invitational Softball Tournament of Canyon, sponsored by Custom Shirt Shop, will be held May 13-15.

The double elimination men's tournament welcomes all Class C and D teams. Trophies will go to the first five teams, as well as individuals on the first and second-place teams.

For additional information, call Lynn Patterson in Canyon (655-2420).

At race tracks, the favorite wins fewer than 30 percent of all horse races.

158 youngsters begin workouts

Herd Spring grid drills begin today

"Our number one objective," Hereford head coach Jerry Taylor said as spring football drills began today for 158 youngsters, "is to find out who our players are, and get them in the proper places."

Spring training begins today for Whiteface hopefuls, and will end May 24. During that time, Taylor and his staff hope to fill the void left by 34 seniors which helped fashion an 8-2 record last season.

"No doubt about it," Taylor added, "we don't have an abundance of returning regulars. Jeff Streun, at defensive back, is the only bonafide starter returning. Alan Ritchie played a lot at linebacker, Mickey Stengel saw a lot of playing time at wingback.

"And, we do have 14 lettermen who did get playing time last season.

"Another of our prime objectives is to teach the basic fundamentals to the players. And, we're hoping to find some skill people.

"I'm pleased with the number of kids we've got out," Taylor added. "We have gained around a dozen since I've been here, and we've lost a few for various reasons.

"But, right now, we're looking at 94 kids in the top two grades and 64 freshmen."

Taylor's new staff members include Ken Fowler, who'll coach the offensive line; Bill Anderson, who came to Hereford from West Texas State, and who will work with the running backs; Gary Wilhelm, who like Fowler came with Taylor from Stamford, will coach the secondary.

Nixon paces Laker triumph

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The smallest member of the Los Angeles Lakers took a little pressure off the biggest one.

And that was a major factor as the defending National Basketball Association champions took their first step toward repeating that title.

Guard Norm Nixon had what Los Angeles Coach Pat Riley called the game of his life as the Lakers topped the Portland Trail Blazers 116-108 in the only NBA playoff game scheduled Tuesday night.

The 6-foot-2 Nixon scored 21 of his career-high 36 points in a decisive first half as the Lakers eliminated the Trail Blazers 4-1 in their best-of-seven NBA Western Conference semifinal playoff series.

The Lakers, who are attempting to become the first NBA team to win back-to-back championships since the Boston Celtics did it in 1967-68 and 1968-69, next face the winner of the San Antonio-Denver series for the Western Conference title.

The best-of-seven final series will begin at the Forum either Sunday afternoon or next Tuesday night.

Denver is at San Antonio tonight for the fifth game of their series, which the Spurs lead 3-1. In the East, which saw Philadelphia beat New York and Milwaukee sweep Boston in four games each, the 76ers and Bucks will play the opener of the conference finals in Philadelphia Sunday.

The Lakers led nearly all the way. They outscored the Blazers 30-7 to turn a 4-4 tie into a 34-11 advantage after 8:16 of play, and Portland wasn't closer than the final margin of eight points thereafter.

Eddie Richardson, another coach who came with Taylor from Stamford, will coach the receivers.

Other coaches include Don Long (running backs); Stacy Bixler (defensive ends); Mark Turner (defensive line); Randy Pool (right ends); Bobby Lantelme (linebackers and running backs); Cuby Kitchens (backs); Jeff Smart (linemen); Clay Richerson (defensive ends); John Nino (secondary); Mike Fields (offensive and defensive backs) and Kelly Adams (offensive line and linebackers).

Doug Cowan, a student coach from WTSU, also will help with the offensive line, according to Taylor.

"I think the kids' overall enthusiasm will outweigh the inexperience factor," Taylor added.

"We have a lot to try and accomplish within the next three weeks, and I am looking for the kids to work very hard at accomplishing the goals we've set down."

Reeves adds pass plays

Elway to strengthen Broncos

By The Associated Press

Denver Coach Dan Reeves can't guarantee that John Elway will be the Broncos starting quarterback, although his strong arm will allow the team to add some plays it hasn't been able to use before.

Reeves said Steve DeBerg, last year's starting quarterback for the Broncos, remains No. 1, and added, "It will be up to John to take the job away."

Elway, an All-American at Stanford last year, won't cause Reeves to change the team's offense although the Denver coach conceded that "we probably will put in certain passes we wouldn't use with other quarterbacks. The sideline routes, for instance, require a quarterback with a strong arm. John's arm is so strong we'll probably be able to use more of those plays."

Meanwhile, Mark Herrmann, the other quarterback involved in Monday's trade that sent Elway to Denver, said Tuesday that his acquisition by the Baltimore Colts may be a boost to his career. But offensive tackle Chris Hinton of Northwestern, also sent to Baltimore, does not share Herrmann's enthusiasm.

Herrmann and Hinton, along with Denver's 196 No. 1 draft pick, went to Baltimore in exchange for Elway, this year's first National Football League draft choice. Elway had threatened to play baseball in the New York Yankee organization if the Colts had not traded him.

"I thought I hadn't gotten much of a chance to play in Denver, and by going to Baltimore, I could move right in and start," Herrmann said. Bob Woolf, Herrmann's agent, said in Boston he had been told by Colts General Manager Ernie Accorsi that they "are happy with Mark and he is going to be given every assurance of fighting for a starting position."

Herrmann will be battling Mike Pagel and possibly Art Schlichter for the starting quarterback job with the Colts. However, Schlichter, the former Ohio State star, is currently under investigation by the league for gambling, and his future in the NFL is uncertain.

"Playing for (Colts Coach) Frank Kush could be a frightening experience for a player not accustomed to a lot of yelling," Herrmann said. "I've never played for a coach like that at any level, so I'll have to wait and see how I adjust."

Hinton, Denver's No. 1 draft pick this year and the fourth overall in the first round, was not as optimistic about the trade.

His attorney, Dick Lynn, said Hinton was "crushed" by the unexpected trade and will entertain offers today from the Chicago Blitz of the United States Football League. Hinton said he would also meet with the Colts on Thursday.

Asked the chances of signing with the Colts, Hinton said, "It's 50-50."

Orioles' Flanagan remains unbeaten

Kuenn riled; Brewers outlast White Sox, 7-6

BRUCE LOWITT
Sports Writer

The next time Chicago White Sox Manager Tony La Russa, a practicing lawyer during the off-season, tries a case in court, he'd better be rival Managers Ralph Houk of the Boston Red Sox and Harvey Kuenn of the Milwaukee Brewers aren't on the jury.

La Russa, who had a flap with Houk during spring practice when the Red Sox were unable to take pregame batting practice, got Kuenn all riled up Tuesday night during the sixth inning of the White Sox' 7-6 victory.

Kuenn went out to the mound during the White Sox' four-run outburst to object to a call. La Russa, however, felt Kuenn was stalling to give reliever Jamie Easterly more time to warm up in the bullpen.

"La Russa came out because he was worried that I was taking too much time," Kuenn said. "I said, 'If I go out as many times as you did, we'd be playing five-hour games.' They play close to four-hour games now, so I guess he's out there a lot.

"So Tony said to me, 'You've already beat us 10 in a row; can't you let us win one?' Well, I hope we beat them 50 more. You can't go out and say that kind of thing. I can't believe what that man said. He's a lawyer. He knows the stats. With his great knowledge, if he says we beat them 10 in a row, I guess I've got to believe him."

Objection! It was only nine in a row — six last year and three this season.

In other American League games, the Baltimore Orioles beat the California Angels 4-2, the Boston Red Sox defeated the Oakland A's 3-1, the Kansas City Royals trimmed the New York Yankees 5-2, the Cleveland Indians downed the Minnesota Twins 3-1, the Texas Rangers whipped the Toronto Blue Jays 7-2 and the Detroit Tigers nipped the Seattle Mariners 2-1 in 11 innings.

Orioles 4, Angels 2
Cal Ripken Jr. rapped a tie-breaking eighth-inning home run off Geoff Zahn following a leadoff walk to Dan Ford, making a winner of unbeaten Mike Flanagan, who scattered seven hits for his fourth triumph. The loss was Zahn's ninth in 10 career decisions against Baltimore, while Flanagan had won only one previous decision against California.

Red Sox 3, A's 1
Dwight Evans drilled a three-run homer in the third inning and that was all Boston needed as Dennis Eckersley and Bob Stanley combined on a six-hitter.

Evans, who hit two homers in a 4-2 victory in Oakland on April 24, lined his fourth of the season into the screen in left-center after singles by Glenn Hoffman and Jerry Remy off rookie Bill Krueger. Stanley has a victory and five saves in Boston's last six triumphs.

Royals 5, Yankees 2
Hal McRae went 3-for-3 and Frank White blasted a tie-breaking solo home run for Kansas City, while Paul Splitter scattered eight hits through six innings. After White's first home run of the season with one out in the third inning, loser Doyle Alexander walked Otis and gave way to Dale Murray. McRae singled and Otis scored when first baseman Don Baylor dropped the relay on a double play attempt. McRae singled in the fifth and scored on a double by Willie Aikens.

Indians 3, Twins 1
Andre Thornton hit his fourth home run of the season in support of Bert Blyleven's four-hit, 10-strikeout performance over eight innings.

"The doctor told me I would have days when my arm felt good and days that it won't," said Blyleven, who is coming back from elbow surgery. "He said it would take two years for my arm to heal completely. This year, I have to tell myself to throw seven or eight good innings and let the relievers finish. I've always been the type of person who wants to finish what I start, but the doctor said take it easy."

Rangers 7, Blue Jays 2
Larry Parrish drove in three runs with a double and a two-run homer, Jim Sundberg also hit a two-run shot and Pete O'Brien had a solo homer for Texas. Parrish, who doubled a run across in the first inning, hit his fifth homer of the season and fourth in the last six games to pad the Rangers' lead to 5-0 in the sixth after Buddy Bell tripled. Sundberg homered in the fourth and O'Brien con-ected in the ninth. Winner Jon Matlack pitched 61-3 scoreless innings.

Tigers 2, Mariners 1
Lance Parrish, who drove in the tying run with a sixth-inning double, homered with one out in the top of the 11th off Seattle relief ace Bill Caudill to snap Detroit's four-game losing streak. Detroit reliever Aurelio Lopez worked the final four innings to earn the victory. The Mariners scored in the second on Pat Putnam's homer.

Braves improve record to 16-5

Cey's glove helps Giants past Cubs

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

When the Chicago Cubs traded for third baseman Ron Cey, they were counting on his bat. What they didn't count on was that he'd bring his glove along, too.

Cey had one of those nights Tuesday in San Francisco's Candlestick Park, committing two errors to help the Giants beat the Cubs 5-4.

Elsewhere in the National League it was Houston 7, New York 4; Los Angeles 5, Pittsburgh 4; San Diego 4, St. Louis 3; Philadelphia 13, Cincinnati 7; and Atlanta 5, Montreal 2.

Cey was initially charged with three errors — two in the sixth inning when he dropped Johnnie LeMaster's foul pop (LeMaster later walked) and then let Joel Youngblood's grounder go through his legs for two runs, and one in the seventh when Jeff Leonard's hot shot got past him.

Afterward, one of the errors was removed and Leonard was credited with a hit — but it still left Cey with eight errors in the Cubs' 22 games this year. Compounding that is his .203 batting average, 61 points below the 10-year average he brought to the Cubs from Los Angeles in an off-season trade.

Astros 7, Mets 4
The Mets, too, had some fielding breakdowns, committing a pair of second-inning errors that gave Houston five runs (four unearned). Phil Garner, who led off and was safe when third baseman Hubie Brooks threw away his grounder, homered later in the game.

Dodgers 5, Pirates 4
Ken Landreaux and Greg Brock drove in two runs apiece to help Alejandro Pena record his fourth victory of the season in only his second big-league start.

Landreaux's grounder gave LA a first-inning run against Jim Bibby, making his first start following shoulder surgery that sidelined him all last year, then Brock hit a two-run double in the fifth. Landreaux homered off reliever Lee Tunnell.

Padres 4, Cardinals 3
Shortstop Mario Ramirez, brought up from the minors because of his glove, helped out with his bat, hitting a two-run single for the Padres' winning margin. San Diego pitcher Dave Dravecky singled home what proved to be the game-winning run.

Phillies 13 Reds 7
Philadelphia blew away the Reds with a nine-run third inning. Bo Diaz had a three-run homer and Mike Schmidt an RBI-single and a two-run double that started and finished the big burst. Schmidt, batting .338, also homered, as did Joe Morgan. Alex Trevino homered for Cincinnati.

Braves 5, Expos 2
Dick Grapenthin replaced starting Montreal pitcher Scott Sanderson, spiked by Claudell Washington on a close play at first base in the first inning, and was breezing along until the fourth. Then Rafael Ramirez and Washington singled and, one out later, Bob Horner hit his sixth homer of the season.

"He was trying to get ahead on the count and threw me a fastball right down the middle of the plate," said Horner.

U.S. Department of Energy Public Hearing

To address the proposed nomination of Texas sites for characterization as a potential high-level radioactive waste repository.

The U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) has scheduled public hearings in Hereford, Tulla, and Austin, Texas, to inform residents of the proposed nomination of sites in Texas for site characterization and to receive recommendations of issues to be addressed in the environmental assessments and site characterization plans. Details of the Department's plans to find a suitable site for a repository for the isolation of high-level nuclear waste will be outlined at these hearings, including a description of the studies in Texas. The purposes of the hearings are:

- To inform area residents of this proposed nomination and to receive their comments
- To solicit issues to be addressed in an environmental assessment which must accompany formal nomination for site characterization
- To solicit issues to be addressed in a site characterization plan which would be used in studying the potential of the sites as a candidate repository site.

The sites proposed for nomination are in the Palo Duro Basin bedded salt formation, one in Deaf Smith County just north of Hereford and the other in Swisher County northeast of Tulla. All interested parties, including individuals and organizational representatives, are invited to attend and/or comment. Individuals may register by writing at least 5 days in advance to the DOE office listed below. If time permits, unscheduled speakers may testify by registering at the registration table. Oral presentations will be limited to 10 minutes. Written comments also may be provided for incorporation into the formal record.

Local garden club members attend spring convention in Dallas

Mrs. Frances A. Fink, president, National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., was the honored guest of the 56th spring convention of Texas Garden Clubs Inc., held in Dallas April 28-29. Dallas Council of Garden Clubs was the hostess group for the convention, "Dallas Style."

Attending the Convention from Hereford Garden Club were Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr., District I director, and Mrs. Clinton Jackson, club president; and from the Bud to Blossom Garden Club was Mrs. Jess L. Robinson, incoming club president and District I corresponding secretary.

Garden club members, totaling 348 and representing 110 garden clubs from all over Texas were presented enlightening programs ranging from wildflowers to table designs.

On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Guyneth Priem, tour chairman for "Exotica '82 and '83," presented a program, "South Africa, a World of Flowers."

Following the Flower Show Judges Breakfast, Mrs. Patrick E. Haggerty Jr. presented a program, "Designing for Dining," in which she exhibited five tables: breakfast "Bird-Watching Table," buffet "Puss N' Boots," birthday table "Cinderella Fantasy," family setting "First Monday in Canton," and seated dinner with "Texas Table."

After the presentation of colors by W.H. Adamson High School Color Guard under Col. Joe M. Hill, Mrs. Robert McCoy, state president, presided at business meeting. Recommendations from the executive committee and from the trustee committee, report from district directors and state chairmen were given.

The Wednesday luncheon, "Hat's Off to Hazel," carried out the theme with arrangements on inverted flower pots to resemble hats. Mrs. James H. Tuttle, instructor in Floral Art School, Chicago, and landscape specialist, and brother of state president, Mrs. McCoy, presented an interesting program on types of arrangements for the family and home. He presented a floral arrangement in a family heirloom antique bowl to Mrs. McCoy.

In the following business, emphasis on organizing new garden clubs membership, pilgrimages and garden club activities were discussed. Later, Mrs. Jacobsen and Mrs. Robinson attended the State Judges Council meeting where flower show schools, symposiums, extensions were discussed, and recommendations were made.

Preceding the awards banquet, a reception honoring Mrs. Fink, national president, Mrs. H.K. Elrod, South Central Regional Director, and Mrs. McCoy, state president was held.

The awards banquet recognized the accomplishments of member clubs in horticulture, floral design, conservation, community service and civic beautification through the awards program of Texas Garden Clubs.

Hereford Garden Club received awards for Silver Club Rating, President's Book, National Council Texas Land Trust-Wild Basin Wilderness, World Gardening and State President's Citation for placing a Blue Star Memorial Highway Marker.

Bud to Blossom Garden Club received awards for Gold Club Rating, National Council Texas Land Trust-Wild Basin Wilderness, and State President's Citation for giving three $500 scholarships in 1982 to graduating high school seniors. Earlier, at the District I Convention, a Texas Life Membership was given to Mrs. G.L. White, club president.

On Thursday morning, the horticulture breakfast honored landscape design critics and gardening consultants. An interesting and educational program by Mrs. LaVere Brooks and Mrs. Lewis May, "April Showers Bring Wildflowers," stressed that many of the varieties of wildflowers of Texas are on the endangered list. Hybridized African Violets were presented to Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Fink, and Mrs. Elrod, with each bearing the honorees names.

Mrs. Fink, national president, gave an inspirational speech in which she emphasized that change is necessary for growth, and growth is needed in garden club work with the true garden club spirit, love.

Mrs. Elrod, as South Central Regional Director, stressed that the South Central Regional Office was the line of communication to National Council, from local clubs to district to state to regional to national council.

With the completion of state officers and committee chairmen reports, the final credentials report and courtesy resolutions were accepted.

Texas Garden Clubs interest in young people is always a highlight of the spring convention. The youth awards luncheon featured the Youth Communication Speech Contest, presentation of scholarships to deserving university students pursuing careers in horticulture and related fields, and awards for the Woodsy Owl Poster Contest.

Following the youth awards luncheon, garden club members enjoyed a landscape design study through the Clint Murchison Gardens, while others participated in the Biblical Arts Center Tour and presentation of the "Miracle at Pentecost" with the large painting, measuring 124 feet wide by 20 feet high, with 200 figures in the mural. The scriptural account from the Book of Acts was carefully followed in the narration with lighting and sound effects.

The installation banquet, honoring incoming state officers and outgoing officers, with reception for incoming officers, was held Thursday evening. Mrs. Jacobsen, incoming District I director, was honored in the reception.

Friday morning, Mrs. Jacobsen attended the executive committee breakfast and state board of directors meeting, with Mrs. L.G. Clinton Jr., state president, 1983-1985, presiding.

The Panama hat was popularized by Theodore Roosevelt on his visits to his pet construction project — the Panama Canal. Panama hats are made, not in Panama, but in Ecuador of fine jipijapa straw.

Students participate in gifted institute

Area elementary and junior high school students who have participated in previous Gifted and Talented Institute sessions may enroll for a week-long summer program at West Texas State University.

Mary Jane Reeves, director of the Gifted and Talented Institute, said priority will be given to the students in grades four through eight who have participated in any or all of the three previous sessions.

The final session was completed in March with 115 students participating in classes in physical education, art, reading, computer science and military science, among other topics.

The summer session will begin on June 19 and continue through June 25. Students will be housed in Brown Hall and will participate in enrichment classes in science, English, creative dramatics, physical fitness and fine arts.

The week will end June 25 with a program and a dinner for institute participants and their parents.

A fee of $170 will include room, board, courses and supplies, said Reeves.

Participants in the third Gifted and Talented Institute session came to campus each Saturday for six weeks from Alameda, Amarillo, Booker, Canyon, Childress, Dumas, Dawn, Friona, Hedley, Hereford, Lella Lake, Paducah, Pampa, Perryton, Sunray, Tulia, Wayside and Wellington.

Participating in the third session from the Hereford area were Jim Bret Campbell, Kinanna Campbell and Cody Wilson, all of Hereford, and Chris Hinger and Keith Smith of Dawn.

May is Homemaker Month

National Homemaker Month will be observed throughout Texas in May, says June Cline, an organization specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, vice, Texas A&M University System.

Hospital Auxiliary

welcomes new members

The Deaf Smith General Hospital Auxiliary met Monday in the hospital board room for the regular monthly luncheon. President Mary Williamson presided as two new members, Bonnie Sublett and Mary Lou Spinhrne, were welcomed.

Irene Reinart presented the nominating committee's report and the slate of new officers was elected unanimously. They will be installed in June.

New officers include Theda

Seiver, president; Beatrice Hutson, vice-president; Gwen London, secretary; Lupe Cerda, treasurer; and Dovie Cherry, reporter.

The Better Breathing Club, which the auxiliary helps with, has scheduled its next meeting for May 26.

Others present were Anne Tershen, Baxter London, Helen Brown, Grace Covington, Mildred Guinn, Nell Culpepper, Etelle Manning, Juanita Bennett and Olga Harris.

The next meeting will be June 6.

According to Cline, 23,000 Extension Homemakers in 250 Texas counties will sponsor special events during May. The projects include planting trees, visiting nursing homes, and sponsoring health fairs, drug abuse seminars and workshops in housing, foods, clothing and money management.

Club members work on family, home and community projects throughout the year. The Extension Homemaker Organizations are open to all interested persons regardless of color, creed, sex or ethnic background.

For more information about becoming a part of Extension Homemaker Clubs locally, contact the Deaf Smith County Extension Office at 364-3573.

Residents' son earns top photography honors

Robb Kendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kendrick, 106 Pecan, took top honors at the 12th annual East Texas State University International Photography Contest sponsored by the ETSU Photographic Society recently.

More than 1,300 entries from throughout the United States and from several foreign countries were received for the contest this year. Awards amounting to more than $800 were awarded to the best of show winners and 25 first place winners.

Kendrick, a student at East Texas State University, earned first and third places in Fashion (color); third place and honorable mention in Advertising Illustration (black and white); and honorable mention in Experimental (black and white).

Next year's contest has been scheduled for April 21, 1984. The deadline for postmarked entries will be April 16. For more information write to the ETSU Photographic Society, Journalism and Graphic Arts, ETSU Station, Commerce, Tx. 75428.

Children's choirs to perform tonight

The children's choirs from First Baptist Church will present a concert at 7 p.m. today in the church sanctuary. The performance is open to the public.

The Little Singers, ages 4 to 6, are directed by Ginger Wallace, Marylin Leasure, and Nanette Ashby, and the Music Makers, ages 6 to 9, are under the direction of Denise Teel and Robbi Ames.

Soloists for the Young Musicians' presentation include Ron Long, Joanne Barrett, Kendra Tisdale, Stacy White, Donald Ramey, Randy Robbins, Charles Dauster, Krystal Sims, Amy Faulkner, Heather Rogers, and Jill Johnson.

Faulkner, Nick Kendall, Jill Johnson, Susan Gage, and Krystal Sims; and narrators include Wesley Taylor, Trisha Teel, Cynamin Brownlow, Burt Noland, Heather Rogers, and John David Rickman.

Stacy White will play the slave girl; Kendra Tisdale, Mrs. Namaan; Mark Watson, Namaan; and Donald Ramey, Randy Robbins, and Charles Dauster, the officers.

Director of the presentation is Susan Shaw, pianist is Tricia Sims, and organist Jan Walser. Roy Brinkley and Deedee Horn are in charge of props, Francine Bromlow is scenery and costume coordinator, Nelda Rogers will direct the staging, and Janice Faulkner, Mary Beth White, and Lloyd Ames are in charge of lighting and sound.

Reception

planned for

Penny Reinart

The 4-H Parent-Leaders Association will host a reception for Penny Reinart, who has served as assistant county extension agent for the past three years, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Thursday in the Community Center Banquet Room.

Ms. Reinart is leaving the Extension Service this month. There will be a money tree for her at the reception.

Everyone is welcome to attend.

Soviets haven't responded to grain pact offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary John R. Block says the Soviet Union has not responded to President Reagan's invitation to negotiate a new long-term grain agreement. The delay may be due to a bureaucratic hitch in Moscow, he says. In any case, Block is optimistic that the Soviets will indicate their preferences within the next few weeks. Reagan announced the negotiation offer on April 22, indicating that a new agreement would be "consistent with United States' agricultural policy." The old five-year agreement, which has been extended twice for a year at a time, will expire on Sept. 30. It was negotiated in 1975 in an effort to stabilize the erratic buying runs on U.S. granaries. The pact went into effect on Oct. 1, 1976.

A meeting of U.S. and Soviet representatives has tentatively been scheduled in London in June, although a department spokesman said no firm date has been announced.

The London meeting ostensibly will be to discuss recent developments which could affect the remaining months of the current agreement, including plans American farmers have for cutting back sharply on crop production this year.

But the meeting also could include feelers on whether Moscow might accept Reagan's offer to negotiate a new long-term agreement.

During a telephone interview Tuesday with a group of farm editors, Block was asked if he was concerned that the Soviets had not responded to the negotiation offer, in view of the meeting to be held next month.

"I would expect to have some response before then," Block said. "I'm really not that concerned. It proves one of two things — either they're not in a hurry to negotiate ... or their bureaucracy is worse than ours — and I would probably assume the latter."

Block declined to say whether he favored including processed commodities such as soybean meal or flour in a new agreement. The current pact covers only wheat and corn.

"I'm going to keep some of those options open right now and try to avoid addressing details ... until at least we have an indication that there's a desire to negotiate one," he said.

The present agreement requires the Soviet Union buy a minimum of 6 million metric tons of wheat and corn — in approximately equal amounts — each year. An additional 2 million tons can be bought without further discussions.

But if more than 8 million tons are wanted in a year, the United States must be consulted. Last fall the United States gave Moscow the go-ahead to buy up to 23 million tons of grain this year — 15 million more than guaranteed by the agreement.

The Soviets, however, have bought only slightly more than the 6 million tons specified as the minimum. In 1981-82, they bought about 13.8 million metric tons.

A metric ton is about 2,205 pounds and is equal to 39.4 bushels of corn or 36.7 bushels of wheat.

Screwworm reinfestation called 'a real danger'

COLLEGE STATION — Screwworms, a serious pest of the Texas livestock industry and wildlife populations, have been successfully eradicated from the United States, but the possibility of reinfestation is a real danger, reported Dr. Clifford Hoelscher, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Hoelscher, who works for the Texas A&M University System, said that isolated infestations of screwworms have been detected and successfully eradicated in southern Texas during both 1981 and 1982. The last positive case of screwworms in Texas was identified from Starr County in August 1982. "The mild winter weather and spring rainfall experienced in central and south Texas are prime environmental development conditions for this pest," he said.

Currently, the governments of the United States and Mexico are working on a nine-year-old cooperative program to eradicate this pest from most of Mexico. "Reinfestation of previously clean areas behind the eradication line is always a major problem," Hoelscher said.

He noted that the Extension Service relied heavily on individual livestock owners and local veterinarians to send in larval samples from all animal wounds to keep up surveillance for the screwworm. Early detection of any new infestations would be the key factor in keeping this pest from becoming established.

Corn crop planting delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cold, wet weather has delayed corn planting in many parts of the country. As of May 1, only 9 percent of the acreage had been planted, compared to 19 percent a year ago, says the Agriculture Department.

According to a weekly report issued Monday, here is how the May 1 planted acreage shaped up against plantings a year earlier:

Colorado, 5 percent of the intended acreage planted as of May 1 and 26 percent a year earlier; Georgia, 83 and 93; Illinois, 12 and 26; Indiana, 10 and 20; Iowa, 10 and 11; Kansas, 10 and 20; Kentucky, 6 and 26; Michigan, 2 and 13; Minnesota, 1 and 13; Missouri, 12 and 38; Nebraska, 2 and 5; North Carolina, 37 and 82; Ohio, 15 and 35; Pennsylvania, 4 and 2; South Dakota, none and none; Virginia, 24 and 51; and Wisconsin, 2 and 3.

Holly Sugar growers set contract

COLORADO SPRINGS, April 28, 1983—Holly Sugar Corporation and sugarbeet growers in Holly's Sidney, Montana, and Worldand, Wyoming, factory areas have reached an agreement on a sugarbeet purchase contract for the 1983, 1984 and 1985 crops.

The revised contract will reduce the cost of sugarbeets by $2.065 per ton on the 500,000 tons normally purchased each year in Sidney and by $2.415 per ton on the 300,000 tons normally purchased in Worldand.

Holly Sugar is continuing its efforts to arrive at a satisfactory resolution of the continuing impasse with growers in its Torrington, Wyoming, factory area.

Except during the Civil War, passports were not needed to enter or leave the United States until 1918.

Horse Short Course slated May 26-27

COLLEGE STATION — Horse enthusiasts will be treated to a wide range of activities at the 1983 Horse Short Course at Texas A&M University May 26-27.

Among these will be a session on management recommendations, a tour of Brazos County horse farms, a cutting horse training clinic, a horse sale and open cutting horse contests.

"This year's short course deals in all facets of the horse industry—production, management, training and use," says Dr. Doug Householder, horse specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The Extension Service is conducting the short course in conjunction with Texas A&M's Department of Animal Science.

"We are combining some key discussions on horse production with a training clinic and farm tours to see actual demonstrations and practical applications of various methods and techniques," adds Householder. "The sale the second day is designed to raise funds to complete the A&M Animal Science Department's N.W. 'Dick' Freeman Arena. Mr. Freeman contributed immensely to Texas A&M's horse program as well as to the Texas horse industry."

Discussions during the opening session of the short course, which begins with registration at 7:30 a.m., include exercise physiology in horse training and conditioning, reproductive performance in broodmares, controlling flies on horse ranches, and an overview of horse research at Texas A&M.

The Brazos County Extension Horse Committee is hosting a tour of county horse farms that afternoon. Stops will include the Hank Bird Quarter Horses and the Windham Ranch.

Buster Welch of Merkel, a professional horse trainer, will conduct a cutting horse clinic the first evening at Texas A&M's new livestock pavilion. The clinic will include live demonstrations on riding and training the cutting horse, notes Householder.

The special Freeman Arena Development Horse Sale will be featured the second day of the short course and will begin with registration at 7:30 a.m. at the livestock pavilion. The sale will offer a mixed set of about 60 yearlings, two- and three-year-olds, and pregnant mares of fashionable cutting, halter, race and performance breeding from the Texas A&M herd as well as from several prominent Texas horse producers.

The two-day program of activities will conclude with an NCHA (National Cutting Horse Association) Open Cutting Horse Contest beginning at 6 p.m. Friday.

Registration information on the Horse Short Course is available from any county Extension office or from Householder, Department of Animal Science, Texas A&M University, College Station, Tex. 77843.

KIT 'N' CARLYLE™ by Larry Wright

Carlyle's Little-Known CAT FACTS
THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION WAS TOUCHED OFF WHEN KING GEORGE IMPOSED A BRUTAL TAX ON CATNIP, AND A GROUP OF CAT-LOVING PATRIOTS, DISGUISED AS INDIANS, MISTAKENLY TOSSED A LOAD OF TEA INTO BOSTON HARBOR. LOCAL CATS, TIPPED THAT A "BOSTON CATNIP PARTY" WAS PLANNED, WERE FURIOUS THAT THEY'D JUMPED INTO THE WATER FOR NOTHING.

Today In History

Today is Wednesday, May 4, the 124th day of 1983. There are 241 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On May 4, 1970, National Guard troops fired on a crowd of anti-war demonstrators at Kent State University in Ohio, killing four students.
On this date:
In 1628, Dutch explorer Peter Minuit landed on Manhattan Island. He later bought it from the Indians for $24 worth of trinkets.
In 1814, Napoleon Bonaparte went into exile on the island of Elba.
In 1904, the United States took possession of the Panama Canal zone.
And, in 1942, the World War II Battle of the Coral Sea began in the Pacific.
Ten years ago: Gen. Alexander Haig was named an assistant to President Richard Nixon, who was rebuilding a White House staff devastated by the Watergate scandal.
Five years ago: It was disclosed that Arab oil interests had bid for three Manhattan hotels owned by the bankrupt Penn Central Railroad.
One year ago: A missile from an Argentine jet fighter set the British destroyer Sheffield afire in the South Atlantic, with the British reporting 30 crewmen dead.

POLLY'S POINTERS
Polly Fisher

Vinegar fights odors

DEAR POLLY - I have a problem with perspiration odors not washing out of my shirts. Is there any way to remove this odor? - SANDY
DEAR SANDY - I've found vinegar to be quite effective in removing perspiration odors. You can add it to your rinse water or pre-soak the shirts in a washer full of water to which you've added a cup of vinegar. For really persistent problems, sponge the affected area with full-strength vinegar before washing. This is safe for colorfast, washable fabrics and should work equally well on natural fibers like cotton and synthetic fibers like polyester. It does seem to be true that some of the new antiperspirants leave stains on clothing. Be sure the antiperspirant is completely dry before dressing. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - Whenever I see a recipe in the paper that sounds yummy, I clip it and tape it to the inside of a particular cabinet door in my kitchen. Then I try the new recipe at the earliest opportunity. If the family doesn't like it, the recipe comes down and gets thrown in the trash. If it's for special occasions only, it goes in my recipe file box. If it's a new family favorite, I move the recipe to the inside of another cabinet door - the most used cabinet in my kitchen. There the recipe can be followed without taking it down, it's always easy to find, and it doesn't get tattered and dirty while using it as it would laying on a counter. - GEORGIA
DEAR GEORGIA - I have piles and piles of recipes, some filed away, some just stacked up and most of them untried! I clip them, stash them away and rarely see them again. Now I know how to encourage myself to try more of them. With those new recipes taped inside the cabinet door, I'm sure I'll be more likely to give them a test run. For your Pointer of the Week, you'll receive an autographed copy of Polly's Pointers: 1081 Helpful Household Hints for Making Everything Last Longer. - POLLY

Ann Landers

Mom lays down the law

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The other day I asked my 16-year-old daughter to babysit my four-year-old while I went shopping. She asked if she could have her boyfriend over. I said OK.
When I returned I found the two of them lying on the sofa, tangled up in each other's arms, holding onto one another for dear life. My 11-year-old had come home a half hour earlier and said he walked in on them like that, too, and was embarrassed. They, however, were not the least bit perturbed.
I waited until her boyfriend left and asked her not to do that again. Her response was a sarcastic "Fine!" She then phoned him and told him of my request. He said, "OK, if that's how she feels."
Am I wrong to believe I owe it to my younger children to provide a home with high moral standards in which they can bring friends without fear of what they might run into? My daughter has been very cool to me. I know she will honor my request, but I'm afraid I have closed the door between us. Please advise. - Peg In Burbank

DEAR PEG: Don't let your daughter's coolness put you on the defensive. You had every right to admonish her for that display of poor judgment. Silence would have been interpreted as a sign of approval.
There is a time and place for everything - and that was neither the appropriate time nor the place for intimate embracing. She may be slightly distant for awhile, but she respects you far more than if you had let the incident go unnoticed.
DEAR ANN LANDERS: As

a language formalist with two degrees in English from Yale (I did not write you any prankster letters while there), I might be classified as an expert in proper usage. However, I am stumped and turn to you - surely one of America's foremost arbiters - and ask you to render order out of the present chaos.
Is "Gentlemen" still acceptable as a salutation when writing to a corporation or partnership? Or, should we switch to "Dear Sir or Madame," or "Ladies-Gentlemen," or put up with sundry variants such as "Gentle-wo-men"? - John R. Merrick, Kennett Square, Pa.

DEAR J.R.M.: Surely you know "Gentlemen" is no longer acceptable as a salutation when writing to a corporation or partnership. "Ladies-Gentlemen" sounds like a unisex bathroom. The best of the lot is "Dear Sir or Madame" - unless someone out there can come up with something better. Any suggestions?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Can I add my nickel's worth about the night shift? The woman who wrote was a nurse. She said "Somebody's got to do it," and I agree.
I speak for all pressmen's wives when I say we'd love to have our husbands work from 9 to 5, five days a week with holidays off, but it isn't possible. The paper must come out around the clock, seven days a week. So how about a small cheer for these great guys who aren't complaining? They're glad to have work. - NYC.

DEAR NYC: Will you settle for a BIG one? Let's hear it for the pressmen! Without them, I'd be nowhere.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - My symptoms from them. They may bleed which gave rise to the word hemorrhoid from the Greek "haima" which means blood and "rhoos" which means flow. Small blood losses are not usually important but large blood losses or frank hemorrhage can occur. A person may even require transfusions in extreme cases.
The internal hemorrhoids when active can interfere with the action of the anal sphincter. This and the secretions the enlarged veins stimulate may permit anal leakage which leads to stained underwear.
While both internal and external hemorrhoids are really dilated veins, their location does affect how each is treated.
Maintaining normal bowel function without straining is important in both types. Avoiding straining as in heavy lifting is also helpful.
DEAR DR. LAMB - Please tell your readers something about the brown recluse spider bites. I had one and it was a month before it was recognized and cut out. Meanwhile I suffered pain, tenderness over my left hip bone and down the leg.
DEAR READER - The brown recluse spider is common in the United States.

Internal hemorrhoids

The spider injects venom into the bite site. At first there may be no symptoms, then about two to six hours later it gets painful, turns red and may even blister. This area is called the "bull's eye" and may turn black and ulcerate.
The ulceration may progress. Some ulcers have even been eight inches in diameter. The large ulcers require surgical excision and often skin grafting.
The small bites that cause less severe symptoms can be treated symptomatically. Opinions vary on treating the more severe ones but most require excising the tissue involved with the spread of the venom. In these, the earlier the excision of the bite area, the better.
Generalized symptoms may occur such as fever and nausea initially with the first symptoms from the bite.
