Hotel Construction Slated In Eight Weeks

AROUND TOWN
SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Wesleyan Service Guild will meet with Miss Ella Alkman in the N. E. Gass home, 310 Jackson, Monday, at 7:30 p. m. instead of following previous plans.

Mrs. Golden McGee has been employed as book-keeper by Streu Hardware replacing Miss Delores Phillip who is taking a nice vacation, she says.

Overheard at coffee time: First woman—"I saw the most beautiful rounded blonde dresser in a bedroom suite yesterday for only $500. Second woman—"Will it match that seven-foot round bed you were telling us about recently?" Third woman—"How many buttons for that dress did you say you bought?"

The Presbyterian Guild was doing a brisk business in the Cogdell Building Saturday where they conducted their rummage sale. Sales covered items of blown glass eggs, bird cages, baby bassinets, kitchen utensils, overcoats, dresses, shawls, shoes and other clothing. At 2 p. m. the women in charge of the sales reported business very good.

Do you believe in a woman's intuition? Well, Mary Jane Moran should be thankful to her mother for using hers. Why? Saturday afternoon Mrs. Moran had hardly placed a nickel in the parking meter when

Most Of Beet Fields Have Large Tonnage

A survey of the mid season sugar beet situation made by George Nixon of the American Crystal Sugar Company discloses that the majority of fields are showing high tonnage but a low sugar content this year.

The average sugar content is about 14.5 per cent now, which is up almost one per over early testings. Beets in some fields are running 16.2 per cent sugar. Several fields in the area are running between 20 and 30 tons of beets to the acre.

The 1948 contracts vary from last year's terms with the removal of the Commodity Credit Corporation's price support. Farmers this year will not receive lump sum payments for their beets but will be paid in installments. The first payments will be sent out Nov. 15.

With price support erased, the farmer now holds a participating contract on a 12 month basis in which the money he receives is based on the sea board price of raw sugar with a twenty per cent differential between cane and beet sugar, and on the 1948 retail price.

4,000 Attend Hereford's 31st Annual Armistice Day Event

Hereford's 31st annual celebration of Armistice Day drew crowds of veterans from both world wars, rodeo sports enthusiasts and throngs of sightseers to join in the day long activities planned by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The two sponsoring organizations estimated their receipts for the day at about $1500 from the crowd of 4,000, who assembled at the various festivities. Clear, crisp weather aided outdoor program plans but also kept the farmers out of town busy with fall harvests.

In the afternoon's give away program a man from Idaho was awarded a refrigerator, Don Robinson, a deep freeze unit and Forrest Minton, a radio phonograph set.

2,000 Poppies Sold
Poppy day, also celebrated Thursday, sold about 2,000 flowers and brought in $240, according to Perry McMinn, chairman of the drive. This money is used for local veterans relief and for veterans hospitals.

In celebration of Hereford's X-Day, the Legion paid tribute to the wounded veterans in Amarillo's hospital with a recognition gift on their Thursday dinner tray. About 150 boys were presented with a poppy, a package of cigarettes and a letter from the people at Hereford. Carlton Buck delivered the gifts.

An 11 a. m. parade was lead by the Whiteface Band headed by their color guard. Several World War I veterans wearing business suits and legion caps and about 150 World War II veterans in army and navy uniforms followed the band.

Fleet Sponsored by Auxiliary
The only float in the parade was sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary and was designed to show their service to disabled veterans and their families through child welfare and rehabilitation.

Four of Hereford Gold Star Mothers were in the procession. A special car carried Mrs. J. L.

Union Thanksgiving Service Is Planned By Local Ministers

Tentative plans for a Union Thanksgiving Service at the First Methodist Church on Wednesday, Nov. 24 at 8 p. m., were mapped by the Hereford Ministerial Alliance at a meeting last week.

Rev. Russell Wingert, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, will be in charge of the program. The Thanksgiving message is to be given by Rev. Roy Ford, pastor of the First Christian Church. Other ministers of the town will have parts on the program, to be completed this week.

The Ministerial Alliance has invited "the entire community" to attend the service.

Boys Charged With Local Burglaries Nabbed

An attempt to fill a butane truck with gasoline Tuesday evening led to the arrest in Pecos of two boys charged with the auto theft, and five burglaries in Hereford Sunday night, said Sheriff J. C. Reese.

Kenneth Graham, 22, who gives his home as Butte, Montana, and Francis Pickford, who says he is 17 and from Phoenix, Ariz., were picked up by a city policeman and Texas Ranger C. A. Cockrill in Pecos when they drove up to a service station to get the gas tank filled up. Reese said formal charges have been filed against the pair, and they are to be returned here.

The attendant discovered the pick-up was built to burn only butane suspected something was wrong when the drivers weren't sure what kind of fuel they needed. He notified police, and they found the boys had stolen the pick-up from a Butane Company in Roswell. In the truck was a .45 revolver and plenty of ammunition which tied the boys in with the burglaries in Hereford. All state points had been advised by radio of the local burglaries.

The two boys were returned Saturday afternoon to Hereford and faced charges in District Court. Charges were filed Wednesday here.

In addition to their activities in Hereford, the boys have been busy in other points. They rode the bus over here from Clovis Sunday, and after their round of thefts at Lone Star Market, Baker Gun and Key Shop, Farmers Drive In and John Wood Equipment Co., they stole the Ford from Sharpe and Edwards, used car lot and drove back to Clovis. They abandoned the car, took the bus to Roswell, N. Mex. Monday and picked up the Butane truck there which they took on their jaunt over to Pecos where they were found by police.

The statewide co-operation of law enforcing agencies has been responsible for the quick seizure of the men, according to Reese.

Lubbock Firm Gets Contract Friday Night

Actual construction work will begin on Hereford's new hotel within seven to eight weeks, H. W. Padgett Jr., contractor, said Friday night. He added that materials are now being lined up for the $300,000 building and estimated that excavation of the basement will begin between Christmas and January 1, 1949. The three story hotel was scheduled to be completed within 360 to 400 days.

Moss made the statement to hotel corporation directors and officers here Friday night, when the hotel group signed a construction contract with the B. M. F. P. Construction Company of Lubbock. Also present at the meeting was Harry I. Bosworth of Peyton and Bosworth, Shreveport, La., architects, who drew plans and specifications for the building. Dr. L. B. Barnett, president, and Pete Cowart, secretary, signed the contract in behalf of the Hereford Community Hotel Corporation.

To Cost $299,268
The contract called for construction of the building at a cost of $299,305, plus a surety bond to guarantee construction which brought the total figure to $299,268.

Numerous changes were required from original specifications in order to cut the building cost from the previous figure of $426,000. The hotel, however, will be modern throughout and will be constructed with the idea of making future additions and improvements.

Plans upon which the contract was let called for approximately 24,000 feet of floor space, not including the basement and elevator pent house. In addition to a spacious lobby, a banquet room to handle 300 guests a coffee shop to handle 75, and four store buildings on the ground floor, the hotel will include 40 rooms, each with a private bath.

Two-Color Face Brick
Exterior of the building calls for construction of face brick, two colors of which will be used to enhance architectural appearance. An eight-inch recess is planned in the center of the building and a canopy will cover

Plainview Man Is Hurt In Auto Accident

R. L. Brown of Plainview was admitted to Deaf Smith County Hospital last Friday following a traffic accident which occurred about 7 p. m. that evening in the southwest part of town.

Brown had stepped in front of a car driven by Billy Roy Thompson, 17, high school student. Thompson stopped to render all aid possible and took Brown to the hospital where he was treated for multiple cuts and lacerations, a fractured vertebra, and a broken right ankle.

The 73-year-old farmer said he was in Hereford on business. He owns a farm south of town. Thompson, who was declared by police not at fault in the accident was however charged with driving a motor vehicle without an operator's license.

Bids For New Grade School Building To Be Opened On Nov. 29

Sealed bids covering construction of Hereford's proposed grade school building will be opened at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Nov. 29, at the high school, according to Leo Forrest, president of the board of education.

"We are anxious to have as many bids as possible," Forrest said, "and invite all interested contractors to secure plans and specifications from our architect, Mason O. Carder, at his office in Amarillo."

Tax Assessments Bring Returns Of $96,086.49 During October

The first month of tax payment of 1948 assessments brought in returns of $96,086.49 in county taxes from people eager to take advantage of the three per cent discount allowed during October, according to county Tax collector-assessor office reports, and $99,980.26 on school taxes.

Bess Hagar, deputy clerk, said that by taking advantage of early payment savings, Deaf Smith citizens had saved $2,978.26 during the period of payment from Oct. 1 to Nov. 2.

Total assessments for the county taxes are $156,400.16 and payments to date comprise 62 per cent of the total.

Fred Baird, school tax collector, said school tax rolls had been reduced by $109,864.34, but residents had actually paid in $99,980.26, saving themselves $9,884.08 in this month of first deductions. Almost 87 per cent of school taxes have been paid. Payments made during November are eligible for a two per cent discount; during December, a one per cent discount and in January full value of assessments must be paid, but it is the last month before extra charges are levied.

Readers Who Bypass Editorials
Concern Of Newspaper Convention

Louisville, Ky., (AP)—Readers who bypass newspaper editorials in their haste to look at the sports page, society columns and the comics will be the chief concern of newspapermen from Maine to Texas who meet here Nov. 18-20.

The National Conference of Editorial Writers calls it a convention, but it might better be called a seminar or a clinic.

The men and women who pen the "think pieces" on American newspaper editorial pages must be well posted in almost every subject from atomic energy to local garbage collection. But planners of the convention say editorial writers also must be able to present their facts in a spritely, popular style so the page assigned to them won't be unexplored country to the average reader.

The breadth of knowledge expected of editorial writers is reflected in the varied topics of the conference program.

The opening discussion will be on "The National Problem of Natural Resources." Discussion leaders include Tom Wallace, Editor Emeritus of the Louisville Times and a veteran in conservation work; Dr. William A. Albrecht, University of Missouri; Fairfield Osborn, author of "Our Plundered Planet," and George L. Peterson of the Minneapolis Star.

Other topics will include editorial comment on public questions, research, typography, cartoons, Mrs. Ovetta Clup Hobby, executive vice president of the Houston Post, wartime commander of the Wac and now a member of the United Nations conference on Freedom of Information will speak on the American overseas information program.

Aspects of European affairs will be discussed by J. M. Roberts, Jr., Associated Press Foreign Affairs writer, and Walter Cronkite, formerly United Press Bureau Chief in Moscow.

Faculty Members At Annual Affair

One of the most enjoyable entertainments for teachers in Hereford schools during the year is the annual Thanksgiving party given by members of the Band Parents Association.

This year's affair was held at the high school Tuesday night with approximately 75 guests attending. As an ice-breaker, Mrs. Merlin Kaul conducted get acquainted games and later forty-two games provided entertainment. Miss Madeline Bell and T. B. Cox were winners of the high score award and Mrs. Alwyn Savage played low.

Pie and coffee were served from a table decorated with wine and gold chrysanthemums and yellow candles. Stocks of feed and golden pumpkins were added to the flowers for decorative effect and tallies for the games were in shapes of pumpkins and autumn leaves in gold and brown.

The general committee on arrangements was made up of Mesdames Earl Springer, Charles Sowell, Cecil Lady and Buck Owen. Decorations were directed by Mrs. J. C. Reese and Mrs. Taft McGeer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith attended the American Legion Convention of the 18th district in Dalhart Saturday and Sunday. They will also visit with their son, Gerald, who teaches Band in the public schools in Dalhart.

Music In Rural Areas Might Solve Nation's Problems

Mrs. R. L. Campbell, newly elected president of the Home Demonstration Clubs of Texas, said in a recent interview that her chief project, in addition to the plans of the State Board, will be to bring more music into the rural communities of the state.

A resident of the Fairview Community, located in the west part of Deaf Smith County, Mrs. Campbell has for the past thirty years known farm and ranch life from practical, every day experience. She has seen living conditions change completely on the farm during this time, and even more drastic has been the change in social activities of the rural areas with advent of the automobile and the radio.

Mrs. Campbell's real thought behind the statement, we suspect went even deeper than "more music in rural communities" for she amplified her statement by saying: "In past days music provided the excuse for numerous social gatherings among the people—barn dances, sing songs and fiddling contests."

The apparent thought, deeply imbedded in the mind of the new T. H. D. C. President, was a memory of the fun which plain "folks" used to have back in the "good old days"; community get-togethers at the little school house or the church. Most generally these meetings were, as she says, provided by the advent of a sing-song or other type of musical festival, and to those who knew them the events will live forever as highlights of their lives. Music, yes! In addition, there was good fellowship, punctuated by pranks and fun. More than one courtship began at such a community function, too, as developed ideas which account for many of our modern day achievements.

We believe that Mrs. Campbell is unquestionably on the right track. If she is successful in her program—and it will be a tremendous job—the Home Demonstration Clubs of Texas will have solved a world-wide problem; people now restless and unhappy will again settle down to lives of contentment and pleasure in their work.

Just how right Mrs. Campbell is in her philosophy can well be judged from the campaign of W. Lee O'Daniel in his race for Governor of Texas. O'Daniel carried music to the farms and hamlets of Texas with a Hill-Billy Band. The people-filled his cracker barrels with nickels, dimes and quarters as they swept him into office by an overwhelming majority. While we know that her motives are entirely different, we do believe that this incident proves beyond doubt that Mrs. Campbell has chosen the right vehicle with which to make the Home Demonstration Clubs of Texas outstanding in service.

Just how Mrs. Campbell elects to spread her program of more music on the farm, we do not know. However, we do know that members of the Texas Home Demonstration Clubs have elected a president who is doing some serious thinking and who deserves the cooperation of every member and every club leader in the state.

Gilmer-Aiken Report May Lead To Better Schools

More and more people are beginning to hear about the "Gilmer-Aiken" Committee—and most of them are wondering just what the ado is all about.

The Gilmer-Aiken Committee was created by the Fiftieth Legislature of Texas and endowed with an appropriation of $25,000 for the purpose of studying the public education system of Texas with the idea of revising and improving educational advantages for all.

Realizing the tremendous scope to be covered, the Gilmer-Aiken Committee appointed sub-committees to study various phases, and later added county committees for each of the 254 counties in Texas. Only 133 of the 254 county groups responded, and it was upon this basis that the Gilmer-Aiken Committee alleges to have secured the thirty-three proposals now embodied in the proposed report.

The proposals are complex in wording and content, forming a forty-three page booklet. The paramount issues covered, according to the committee, are:

- 1. Equalizing opportunity for the very minimum kind of education the citizens of Texas have said they want.
- 2. Financing, without doubt, this minimum program of education.
- 3. Setting up efficient and adequate local school systems for managing education.
- 4. Redesigning the educational machinery at the state level.
- 5. Securing attendance upon schools.
- 6. Guaranteeing safe and economical buildings.
- 7. Clarifying and simplifying the school law of Texas.

While apparently operating with the best of intentions, the committee somehow missed the mark on public opinion. Actually, very few people know for what purpose the Gilmer-Aiken Committee was formed, and certainly the proposals cannot have come from the people in general, when the public knows so little about the committee and its functions. The report, verbose and complex probably from necessity, is far from being clear and simple as outlined in point eight of the committee summary. Generally speaking, however, the Gilmer Aiken report indicates extensive study of serious school problems in Texas and it makes an honest attempt to eliminate some of these faults.

Due to technical recommendations, plus pages of small print loaded with dynamite on several questions, it would take hours of study and research for the average layman to thoroughly comprehend the content of the report, along with far reaching changes implied by some of the thirty-three points. We sincerely doubt if there is one person in each of the 254 counties who unconditionally understands every point in the outlined proposals.

On the other hand, Texas does have some understanding discrepancies in its public school system, including text books and the counting of negroes, who do not attend school, as per capita scholastics. We believe the people should carefully investigate the Gilmer-Aiken reports from time to time and stand ready to support the proposals which will mean better educational facilities for all in the Texas Public Schools.

Some action needs to be taken, and the Gilmer-Aiken Committee has made the first step in the right direction.

Another Letter from

The Bootleg Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher like everybody else, has his say about the election, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

Me and a couple of my neighbors was sittin out here discussin the election again yesterday and tryin to explain it, although my opinion is that the election don't need explainin near as much as the big newspapers which had everybody believin Truman couldn't get elected dog catcher and wouldn't have made a good one if he could, and one of my neighbors said Dewey reminded him of a county official years ago who was camgainin for reelection to his second term, which should have been a sure thing.

He said this fellow came out here as the campaign got underway and started askin for votes.

"Why, you don't need to be camgainin out here," the political leader of this area at the time told him. "Just a waste of time. Everybody here's gonna vote for you. Go on back and take it easy."

Instead of sayin that don't made no difference. I wanta come out and shake hands with the folks and ask em for their votes anyway and let em know where I stand, the county official swelled up with pride and said "Well, that's the way I felt all along about it. Glad to hear you say so." and he left and never did campaign out here.

Well, when the election returns come in, that candidate got swamped out here. Beat four to one. And the political leader who advised him not to campaign was aginst him to start with.

The trouble with Dewey, we concluded, was he had everything systematically arranged, even to namn his Secretary of State and hirin the movin van to haul his things to the White House, except he forgot about the votes. He was powerfully efficient but he wasn't president.

And I'll admit the papers had me fooled too, the same as you. But unlike the experts, I ain't tryin to blame it on anything, outside of ignorance, which I'm glad to see ain't confided to the Deaf Smith area.

You reckon Dr. Gallup can drive a tractor?
Yours faithfully,

ACA Committee To Be Elected Here On Dec. 13

Urging farmers to give some thought to completing their soil conservation practices for 1948 and to the selection of the A. C. A. committee who will head the local organization deciding farm production and soil conservation practices for next year, Faust Collier reminded the men that closing months of the year mean election of new officers and termination of their own conservation commitments.

The election of committeemen for 1949 will be held at the Court House, Dec. 13. At that time three men and two alternates will be chosen. A nominating unit will be named by the present A. C. A. heads to select two names for each office. Space for write-in candidates also will be provided on the ballot.

"As winter approaches, there is little time left to complete any unfinished practices a farmer may have under the 1948 Agriculture Conservation Program," Collier said. "Early frosts and bad weather often end this work before the projects are completed which means less soil saved and less water conserved."

He also incited farmers who have completed conservation work to report their projects to the office with sales slips, seed tags and other required evidence of work.

Libel suits are comparatively rare in the Panhandle, therefore a $35,000 suit filed by Otho Fitzjarrald of Hall County against the Amarillo Times is holding wide interest in that area:

Trial of the suit of Otho Fitzjarrald against the Amarillo Times has been occupying District Court here this week. Eight jurors were selected Monday afternoon from the regular court panel, and extra veniremen were summoned for Tuesday, from which four more jurors were selected. Judge L. E. Gribble is presiding.

Testimony of both plaintiff and defense witnesses were heard during Tuesday and Wednesday, and the case will probably take all day Thursday, it was believed.

Fitzjarrald is suing The Times for the amount of $35,000 damages for articles published in The Times last April in connection with the political race for sheriff of Hall County.

Up on the High Plains in Ochiltree County housing seems to be just as great a problem as in this section of the country. The Herald, Perryton, however, seems to have figured things out to the point where housing is a sheer luxury:

WHO NEEDS A HOME?

Home nowadays is getting to be more and more a place where people drop in to change clothes or get a hasty meal. Worldly considerations in the modern age are getting more and more to dominate the home, and some people even think of the home as a sort of filling station, to be used between jaunts outside.

A modern girl we read about the other day had an answer to a real estate agent who wanted to sell her a home. She said, "A home! Why do I need a home? I was born in a hospital, educated in a college, courted in an automobile and married in a church; live out of tin cans and paper bags. I spend my mornings at the golf course, my afternoons at a bridge club and my evenings at the movies. When I die I am going to be buried at the undertaker's. All I need is a garage."

Come to think of it, there's a lot in what the gal has to say.

Had is the past tense of money.

To most of us our memory is the thing we forget with.

Life is full of ups and downs. But the most difficult of all is keeping appearances up and expenses down.

Next time the wife uses our razor sharpening a pencil we're going to remember that powder puffs makes fine shoe shiners.

FEAR TOURIST SLUMP

GENEVA, (AP)—The Swiss travel experts are not very happy about the prospects for the winter tourist season in Switzerland. At a recent meeting of the Swiss Tourist Agency from all parts of the world, it was generally agreed that a great many travelers, for one reason or another, are going to stay away from Switzerland this winter.
The difficult international situation is one reason. Another, Swiss experts in the United States reported, is the failure of Switzerland to advertise enough. They said the respective American guests were subjected to a "drumfire" of British and French tourist propaganda, which had been quite successful.

BIG BEAR DEFIES BULLETS

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—Frank Bernard came back from a deer hunting trip with a tall bear story—and the bear to prove it. The bruin he'd shot weighed about 650 pounds and was seven feet long. Bernard said the big animal was only 30 feet away when he fired his first shot, the bullet striking the bear in the nose. The bear charged, paying no attention to a second bullet drilling into its side. Another hunter then shot the bear in the foot, turning it to one side, and Bernard's third shot broke its leg, ending its enraged rush.

Rev. Cagle Returns From Baptist General Convention

Rev. R. H. Cagle returned Thursday night from Houston where he attended the Baptist general convention of Texas which is continuing the development of its five-year expansion program.

The convention adopted a recorded breaking five-year 50-million-dollar budget which had been previously planned and recommended. One half of this figure will go for new buildings and for maintenance of nine Texas Baptist colleges and seven hospitals.

Another goal approved at the convention was for a membership increase of 100,000 baptisms annually for the next five years and directed its officers to emphasize expansion of seminaries and rural churches.

Reports of progress made during the first year of the long range program will be made in El Paso next November when El Paso will be the 1949 convention city.

Re-elected, Dr. Wallace Bassett, now serving his 31st year as pastor of the Cliff Temple Baptist Church in Dallas, will act for the third term as convention president.

Outstanding speakers were Rev. Clyde Buchanan, who told of plans to revitalize rural program designed to challenge young people to remain in rural areas, and H. Guy Moore of Fort Worth, who presented a report on seminaries saying the paramount need in the world today is leadership not only in the field of technical knowledge but in spiritual and moral living.

Miss Ruth Tucker was president for the convention and played an important part in publicity reports and working with the press, Rev. Cagle said. Miss Tucker is a former Hereford girl and member of the First Baptist Church here. She is now employed with the public relations for Baptist State Conventions and lives in Dallas.

But when we stop to consider that this young lady is slightly akin to her father, Teddy, there is really no cause for wonder at her attempting to establish a precedent, even at a slight risk of sacrificing a degree of modesty. (Note: Evidently the writer of this editorial thought that it more appropriate for a lady to risk her neck than risk her modesty for unless you have tried to ride a side-saddle you have no idea how difficult it is. Wonder what he would have thought if she had worn riding trousers instead of a divided skirt.)

Fundamental Understanding Of U. S. Urged At Women's Club Meet

Fundamental understanding of our country, belief in it, and then by enthusiastic effort, not by force; by example, not by word of mouth; carry the gospel of democracy as we know it around the world, was urged Friday by Dr. E. N. Jones, of Texas Tech., as the only way of combating Communistic influences in America today.

Speaking before the second quarterly session of the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs at the Methodist Church, Dr. Jones, vice-president of Texas Technological College and former dean of Baylor University, emphasized that people cannot become really valuable citizens unless they become informed citizens, and in order to do the best as citizens it is essential to maintain faith in the basic soundness of our capitalistic and free enterprise system.

"Challenge Lies in U. S." "The challenge lies in America becoming as successful on the moral side as well as the industrial," he pointed out. "American individuals have been given the opportunity to excel according to his own limitations, which fact put America on the winning side of production in World War II instead of the defeated side."

In comparing the Communist system with the democratic system, Dr. Jones observed: "For years foreigners have been trying to debunk through propaganda the sound values in what America has been able to do through free enterprise. There is a reason for America's leadership in productive capacity in the past 25 years she has made more industrial progress than all other nations combined during the past 6000 years. One of the outstanding opportunities of our public schools is to teach children not only the geography of other countries, but to give them a fundamental understanding of the people and the workings of their governments."

Urges Mass Studies Warning that isolation tactics of former generations cannot compete with the subversive elements in our country, he suggested the believing, accepting and practicing of the sacredness of the individual, the keeping of the dignity of the individual at heart in the democratic way, and mass studies looking toward readjustments of national and international relation into the pattern required by our fast moving civilization.

In conclusion Dr. Jones said, "We need to believe in America and then do a good job of exemplifying America to the rest of the world. For my part I'll take my chances and the chances for my children, and for my grandchildren with America."

Graham Introduces Speaker The program Friday afternoon was under the direction of Mrs. Colby Conkwright, chairman of the department of international relations, and after Mrs. Ray Johnson, president, opened the meeting Mrs. Conkwright introduced superintendent of schools, George Graham, who introduced the speaker. Special music was provided by Bob Lawrence who sang the 84th Psalm with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Lawrence.

Hostess clubs included Child Study, Bud-to-Blossom, L. A. E., L'Allegra, and West Hereford Home Demonstration.

Calliopians Study Texas Art-Artists

Mrs. W. L. Davis Jr. gave the program on "Arts and Artists Of Texas" at the Calliopian Club meeting held at the home of Mrs. Will Graham Thursday evening.

Beginning with the pioneer days of Texas, Mrs. Davis told of the first trends of art as exemplified by Europeans saying that the Texas pioneer did not have much time to do much in the way of art, but was influenced by the European artists until the historical period. She mentioned Mrs. Charles Lavendar and Harry Arthur McArdle as among the first Texas artists and among the more recent ones, Jerry Bywater noted for his murals in lithographs, Bill Bomar of the modern school and Merritt Mauzey who painted industrial scenes in lithograph.

The next meeting which is scheduled in year books on Thanksgiving Day will be held on Friday, November 26 with Mrs. Elizabeth Womble.

Hotel Construction

The main entrance on Third Street. The east side of the building will be located on Sampson Street, facing the courthouse.

Interior of the lobby, dining room, banquet room and store rooms, like all guest rooms on the second and third floors, will be finished in plaster and painted in pastel colors. The lobby floor will be constructed of terrazo, while other ground floor units will be covered with asphalt tile blocks in light colors.

Chief omissions from original plans was the elevator and central air conditioning system. Hotel corporation directors said, however, that the elevator will be included before the hotel is completed, an item costing $10,117, but not included in the contract. The air conditioning system $45,000 to $50,000 was left out of the present plans, but can be added at a future date.

To Pass Fire Regulations

A semi-fireproof building, the new hotel will pass all state fire regulations, architects stated, and with the exception of floor coverings and furnishings will offer little in the way of fire hazards.

Thirty-six of the 40 rooms will be equipped with bath tubs; the four remaining rooms, two on each floor, will have showers. Indirect lighting will be used on the ground floor, and the guest rooms will be wired with central fixtures, plus outlets for special lighting.

In addition to the $173,500 raised through the sale of stock, the Hotel Corporation has been assured of an additional loan of $150,000 from a large life insurance company, Dr. Barnett reported. The corporation also planned to contact Reconstruction Finance Corporation before executing the loan.

Believe Figure Reasonable
"It is also likely that more stock sales might cut down the amount of the loan," Dr. Barnett said. "We have had several calls within the last two weeks regarding additional stock."

Directors of the organization were well pleased at having secured the contract at a figure which they believe reasonable in view of present building costs, and said they were certain that the hotel would be a structure of which the community would be proud.

"The points eliminated because of costs were mostly frills and decorations," Dr. Barnett pointed out. "The building is substantially as good as the original plans, and these decorations can be added at a later date if the stockholders see fit."

Home Influence On Students To Be P-TA Topic

The influence of the home on school students will be the topic of discussion at the Parent and Teacher Meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the High School Auditorium.

A panel discussion will be conducted on the subject "Home," it can help Make Better Students," Don Martin, high school principal, will act as leader and participating in the program will be Miss Della Stagner, junior high school science and math instructor and Mrs. Faust Collier, central high school fifth grade teacher, who will represent the faculty; Mrs. Phil Barclay, a member of the P. T. A. executive council representing the parents; and Roy Ford, minister of the First Christian Church.

After their conversations, a ten minute period will be devoted to open forum questions from the audience. Mrs. Elmer Patterson has announced that a one hour program has been planned and dismissal time is 9 p. m.

Herefordites Help Form Amarillo Church Council

Nine Hereford men met in Amarillo last Sunday with the Panhandle group of Presbyterians to organize a Presbyterian Men's Council there.

Included in the group were Rev. Russell Wingert, Dr. W. F. Graham, Will S. Kerr, Grant Fuller, Ben Conklin, Arthur Rogers, S. L. Harmon, S. L. Harmon Jr. and E. S. Ireland.

John Bert Graham was the principal speaker in a meeting held in the Amarillo First Presbyterian Church. Graham's speech was followed by discussion groups which were led by prominent ministers of the Presbyterian Panhandle churches.

Chief aim of the meeting was the organization of the council of the Presbyterian Men, which is to meet quarterly to make reports and recommendations.

The reports will fall under three heads, finance, personal evangelism and mission work according to Rev. Wingert.

A national council was organized in February this year and Judge Harry Schultz of Dalhart was a delegate from this area. Judge Schultz is chairman of the present Men's Work Committee of the Presbytery.

Tractor Catches Fire At Oliver Co. Building

A fire Friday occurred at the H. E. Miller-Oliver Company on Highway 60 when a Fordson tractor blazed.

Police chief F. S. Buckalew, who investigated the fire, said men were working on the tractor when apparently it exploded and burst into flames. After calling the fire department, workmen and mechanics in the building towed the tractor outside by chaining it to another tractor, and firemen extinguished the flames there.

Along came Police Chief F. S. Buckalew with a glint in his eye giving tickets right and left. The car next to Mary Jane's got one and several others up and down the street did too, we have heard. Buckalew said about half of the cars parked on Main were overparked at the time.

During their short stay there, no less than a half dozen drivers were reminded of traffic law violations. Most of the violations were improper lighting of their vehicles. One lady, they said, was violating the law in four respects with improper lights. No arrests were made, but drivers were warned that second offenses would result in tickets being presented them.

There's plenty of talk around town about the new comet observed in the east about 5 a. m. It is called Parakevotoulou's Comet, but as 5 a. m. is too early to be attempting that word, it will probably be called just The Comet. It was first seen last Sunday in South Africa by the man after whom it is named and observers have described it as the most beautiful comet since Halley's in 1910. It has a large, very bright head, and a tail 30 times the diameter of the full moon.

Beckman-Massie Rites Performed

The Rectory of St. Anthony's Catholic Church was the scene for the wedding Thursday morning of Miss Viola Beckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Beckman, and Billy Gene Massie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Massie. Rev. Albert Heald, S. A., read the ceremony as the couple and their attendants stood before an improvised altar arranged with white chrysanthemums and greenery. Lighted white tapers completed the setting.

Dolores Phillip was maid of honor, wearing a two-piece beige dress with dark brown accessories and a bouquet of Tallisman roses. The bride's brother, Louis Beckman, was best man. The bride was attired in a dove gray suit dress made with tailored collar and long sleeves ending in French cuffs. Self covered buttons trimmed the jacket which fitted over a straight skirt. Her felt hat was in moss green to match accessories and she carried a white prayer book topped with a single orchid tied with satin streamers knotted with split carnations. The traditional custom of wearing something borrowed and blue, old and new, was carried out.

Reception Follows Wedding
Following the wedding a reception was held for the wedding guests, who included members of the immediate families, and relatives and friends in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Phillip. The bride's table was laid with lace and centered with white chrysanthemums and baby mums in a crystal bowl flanked

President Truman's Victory Gives Liberals Firm Hold On Texas' Party Axe, Says Cheavens

By DAVE CHEAVENS
 AUSTIN, (AP)—President Truman's victory and the National Democratic sweep put the liberals firmly back in the saddle on the democratic donkey in Texas.

Dissolution is not the word to describe the party's future in Texas. Realignment is nearer to it. This started back in 1944 and came to a more definite head in 1948, with extreme leftwingers joining the Progressives and right wingers lining up either with the Republicans or with the States Righters.

Many Texas Democrats have felt that most of the ultra-conservatives who at times have been top leaders were at heart Republicans. There have been, for example, many many instances where big contributors have chipped in to the war chests of both parties.

More Demos To Join GOP
 Some Democratic leaders believe that during the next four years, quite a few one-time Democrats will openly join the Republicans and it might even result in less squabbling and bickering within the party ranks. This warfare between factions which could not agree on party principles has broken out at numerous recent conventions.

Republican state chairman Henry Awfelf has frankly invited "purged Democrats to join the G. O. P. He believes the Republican vote polled Nov. 2 has given Texas a good start toward becoming a real two-party state.

Very few thought it had in 1928, even though the Texas electoral vote went to Herbert Hoover instead of the Democratic nominee for president, Al Smith. Most Republicans then admitted the issue in that race was not partisan, nor has it been in some governor's races where Republicans ran strong—but never strong enough to win.

Plan Permanent Headquarters
 Evidence of the new Republican hope is the fact the party will set up at Austin a permanent headquarters, looking four years ahead.

In their public pre-election statements, Republican leaders were loud in predicting their party would elect Jack Porter to the senate and name Republican electors. Privately, they said they thought they had a fighting chance to name Porter, but no chance of going Dewey.

If they can persuade some of the new thousands who voted Republican Nov. 2 to stay put, they believe they have a better chance of taking Texas at some future day.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester titular head of the Democratic party in Texas, was supported in his first election by many big shots who this year broke away from the Democratic party to join the southern revolt.

Fought By Liberals
 Many of the present liberal leaders fought him then, but they joined with him when he made up his mind to stick with Truman although he had opposed Truman's civil rights program as a federal project. He has always insisted the southern states can handle it, and that Texas is—for example, in providing better higher education for Negroes.

He expressed hope the party has "proved itself strong enough to get along without its dissenting elements; now I hope it will prove itself strong enough to get along with them."

Jester called for rededication to "true democratic principles" and said if the party can not follow a reasonable, middle-of-the-road course, the Truman victory will be only temporary and perhaps costly.

State Services Program
 This still leaves Jester somewhat at odds with many of the group who went all-out for Truman at Fort Worth, but many observers believe the governor has become more liberal as his administration progressed. Here is what he said he is looking forward to:

"During the next two years I want to work closely with the legislature in a program of state services that will strengthen our claim to states rights. In that direction only lies our only chance to meet and defeat a trend toward governmental centralization and federalization."

Many of the liberals would go along with Jester on extension of state services. Whether or not they agree with him in opposing centralization of government is another matter.

Test Due In January
 The test may come during the 51st legislature meeting in January. Extension of state services costs a lot of money. A lot of money is available for the legislature to spend and few doubt that it will spend everything in sight.

If extension of state services should come to the point, for example, of bringing new demands for additional taxation of natural resources, it will be interesting to see how far Jester would go on that point. He opposed new taxes at the last session.

Florida Man Wants No More Wings Of Wind

POMPANO BEACH, Fla., (AP)—Flying through the air doesn't appeal to L. A. Vickers of South Pompano Beach—especially when a tornado is the cause. Vickers, lucky to get off with his life, found a funny twist to the twister: It "picked" his pockets of a dollar in change and left instead some green stuff—seaweed.

It all happened when a tornado hit Pompano Beach during an October hurricane. Houses were blown down and the damage was considerable. But to Vickers went a ride through the air. He says it was 350 feet.

Vickers and his wife were standing in their home during the height of the hurricane when suddenly the house began to rock. "There was a roaring sound like a squadron of airplanes," said Vickers. He clasped his wife, fearful the house was going to topple. "The next thing I knew, the east wall did collapse. And suddenly both of us were flying through the air. I lost my grasp on her. I was perfectly conscious of moving through space, as on the wings of some freakish force."

"I had a sensation of floating. There was NO sound and overhead I saw a distinct white light, as if it were the sun hidden by clouds. I was gasping for breath. I remember seeing white cranes and other birds whirling in the air near me."

Vickers said while in the air, there was a thundering blow against his jaw. "I was knocked out. When I regained consciousness, I found myself in waist-deep water near an adjoining house, at least 350 feet from our place. I heard my wife cry out. But as I struggled to trace her call, I was hit on the head again, and once more knocked out."

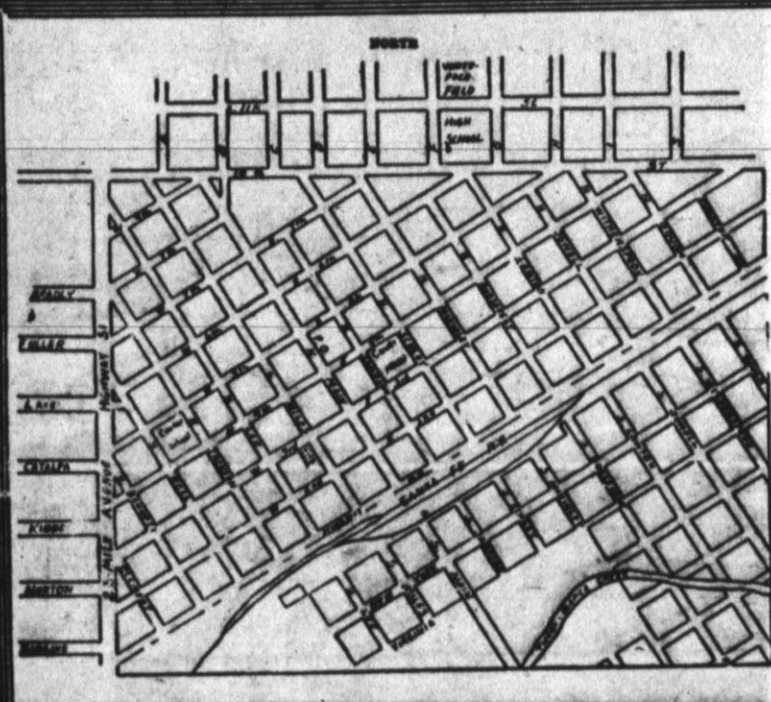

Vickers was dazed but unhurt. Mrs. Vickers suffered a twisted spine and other injuries. The Vickers dog? He was found unharmed two days later, bedded down in straw in the rear of a truck.

North Texas State Annual Homecoming Is To Begin Friday

Feeding Of More Grain To Cows Is Recommended

COLLEGE STATION — This fall and winter it may pay Texas dairymen to feed their cows more grain. Of course, it's a good idea for dairymen to always feed their cows well, say G. G. Gibson, extension dairy husbandman of Texas A & M College. Give them all the good roughage they will eat and feed them more grain, especially the higher producing cows.

This year, there is a rather special situation. Texas has had a long drouth but in some places light sprinkles are trying to put an end to it. With labor still a problem, the high prices for meat have caused a cut in the size of dairy herds. Gibson says that farmers now have about four percent fewer milk cows than a year ago. And if the total milk production is going to meet the big demand that customers are calling for, then dairymen will have to get more milk from the cows they have.

Gibson says that up to a certain point, each pound of grain added to the ration will boost the milk production a little higher. He points out that how much extra grain they get depends on how much they are getting now, and on the local price of grain compared to the price of milk.

In line with this idea of more grain for the cows, Gibson says the present butterfat-feed ratio for 1948 of 25.7 pounds of feed to one pound of butterfat compared to 20.5 pounds of feed to one pound of butterfat in 1947 bears out the possibility of feeding more grain under the present conditions.

This butterfat-feed ratio means just this—at present prices, 1 pound of butterfat will buy 25.7 pounds of grain. And last year 1 pound of butterfat would buy only 20.5 pounds of feed. So that's an increase in the butterfat-feed ratio of 5.2 in a year.

There are large supplies of feed grains, and prices are more favorable now to heavy feeding than during the early summer. Research shows that when cows moral victory when the Lev Gleason Publications received a citation from the Bergen County, N. J. Police Chiefs Association.

The Gleason magazines, "Crime and Punishment" and "Crime Does Not Pay," were commended for their marked contribution in fighting crime at its roots, at the regular meeting of the Police Chiefs Association in Hackensack, N. J. on October 28.

The resolution was drawn up "in recognition of their outstanding accomplishments in educating and informing the public of the fine constructive work that is being done by Police Chiefs throughout the country . . . and for presenting criminal case histories in comic book form, with the greatest emphasis on police detection and lawfulness, rather than on gangster shrewdness and glory."

Indians Improve Livestock

TAOS, N. M., (AP)—Tribal leaders are taking steps to improve breeds of livestock at Taos Indian pueblo in Northern New Mexico. The campaign is designed to protect and preserve the limited, but fertile, lands allotted to the pueblo. Latest move was the importation, on loan, of an Army remount stallion to improve the breed of Taos horses. Concurrent with the stallion's arrival, the pueblo council reduced to five the number of horses any family might possess and feed on communal ranges.

SPOTLIGHT ON SPORTS

By Homer Fox

It is highly probable that the Chinese had a game similar to football as early as fifty years before the birth of Christ. The Greeks, the Romans, and the Corinthians had a similar game about the same time. In the first century B. C., the Romans took their game to England when they invaded the land.

No doubt, the American game can be traced back to the English game of Rugby. Our first game was played in New Brunswick, N. J., in 1873 by Rutgers and Princeton, and it was a game similar to soccer. The next year McGill University of Montreal played at Harvard, and they agreed to play the Canadian way—running with the ball. The game grew into a very rough one, and in 1906 President Theodore Roosevelt called the college rules committee to the White House to try and improve the game. The football game as we know it today, safer and grew to a tremendous popularity. There have been only minor changes of the rules and regulations since that time.

You might become tremendously popular, yourself, in one of the fine tournaments now on sale at Fox Man's Shop.
