Gov. Jester Reunited With Half-Brother

Go, Beauford H. Jester of Texas (right) smiles at his half-brother, Claude W. Jester, 75, at their reunion in the Governor's hotel suite in New York City. Claude, reported as missing by the Governor when he could not be found at his old address, was located in a bus station. Gov. Jester was in New York to attend an oilmen's meeting and attempted to locate his brother without success at that time.—(AP Wirephoto).

232 Names Added To Phone Directory Distributed Here

Telephone directories, tabulated index to community life, have started arriving through the mails and Hereford's 1234 subscribers can throw away their wrinkled and abused 1947 issues to start afresh with the newly pressed editions.

Population growth of the town is evident in the spreading covers. There are 10 pages of listings this year compared with eight and a half last year and 36 yellow pages to overshadow the 23 in the previous book. There's an increase of 232 over last year's 1,000 names or about one phone number for every five and a half residents.

The largest number of listings comes under the letter H due to the 41 business and city offices named under Hereford. There are 125 numbers under that letter this year as compared with 100 before. First name listed in the directory is C. C. Acker, who also held the No. 1 spot last year.

Lists have grown in every column except under Q and I. The Quality Food Store has been the sole occupant under that initial ever since the Quartermaster Center moved from the Texas Hotel. The seven listings under I have shrunk by one this year.

More additions have appeared under B than under any other letter. It has jumped its rating 30 points from 89 to 119 in one year. Third in the popularity field is letter S with 117 names. Thirteen Smiths are probably the reason.

These books are mailed out directly from the Dallas office. The ones that do not get packed into post office boxes have to be delivered by hand. William E. W. Young estimated their total additional weight to packs delivered by carriers was 25 pounds. "That's not official though," he said.

Recipes, Glasses In Directories
The value of telephone directories is being demonstrated by the fact that a new home started Allison Addition.

A second home was started last week in the J. R. Allison subdivision west of 25 mile Ave. when G. W. Brumley bought a lot from Raylan Evans, and began his home there.

Deaf Smith Group Joins In Walkout

The Deaf Smith County delegation to the State Democratic convention at Fort Worth Tuesday afternoon joined other Panhandle delegates in walking out of the meeting in protest what they called "steam roller" tactics.

O. P. (Pete) Cowart, chamber of commerce secretary-manager here, was listed in press dispatches as among the leaders of the protesting faction.

Another group of Panhandle delegates were said to be organizing the 31st District according to its own ideas. It is headed by District Committeeman Charlie Gibson of Amarillo.

The general issue was party loyalty. Gibson and the Truman-Barkley faction, after five and a half hours of debate, took over control of the convention when Cowart and other State's Rights delegations headed by Everts Haley of Randall County took a walk.

Other leaders included James W. Witherspoon and Henry Sears of Hereford, W. J. Smith and Gene Green of Pampa, Max Boyer of Ferrington and Bill Craig of Miami.

Haley was quoted in press dispatches as saying, "There have been several caucuses of the 31st District, but we have been invited to none of them."

Only three fourths of the Deaf Smith delegation was reported to have withdrawn. Other counties among those pulling out were Farmer, Gray, Ochiltree.

Local Rotarians To Attend Inter-Club Meet At Littlefield

A group of Hereford Rotarians, headed by President and Mrs. Faust Collier, will leave Thursday night for an annual inter-club meeting at Littlefield.

Principal address will be made by Dr. D. M. Wiggins, newly named president of Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

Contract On 10th Street Extension To Be Let Sept. 28

Immediate steps are to be taken by the county to acquire additional right-of-way for the Tenth Street spur widening project. Judge L. F. Foster revealed Tuesday following receipt of a communication from James G. Loti of Amarillo, Texas Highway Department district engineer.

"You were advised on Aug. 30 regarding necessity for this acquisition," Loti wrote. "Please acquire the right-of-way at the earliest possible date as we expect to let contract on this project on Sept. 28, provided all right-of-way is cleared by that time."

The land is along the south side of the Tenth Street extension east of the city limits and (Continued on Page 8)

County Sells Land To Public Service Co.

The county commissioners court Monday approved sale of a strip of land in the old State Park to the Public Service Co. for right-of-way easement on an electrical transmission line.

The strip measures 1.29 acres, 36 feet wide and is Section 61, Block K-3, Whitehead addition. Sale price was $322.50.

City All Fired Up; Automobile And Two Floor Mops Blaze

Hereford was all fired up this week right down to one automobile and two floor mops.

Police Chief F. S. Bucklew reported Tuesday's noon time fire was a car at the Magnolia Service Station, Sampson and First Street, that caught afire when it backfired. E. F. Cain said the 35 Ford Coupe belonging to Joe Bob Thompson received about $100 worth of damage.

Agencies Untangle Knotty Problems Of Latins Here

Life in Hereford becomes more varied and more complex with new crops, new ways of life and new people. The Latin-American influence is beginning to be felt here in a number of ways.

Red Cross, the county welfare office, the draft board and other agencies have new problems never before encountered in this area.

At the draft board a Latin American registered recently who is an American citizen, but his wife is not. He went across into Mexico and married. His wife remained there while he returned to the states to work. Now he would like to have his wife with him.

Rural School Area Budget Set $223,725

The school budget for the Hereford Rural School district for the 1948-49 term has been set at $223,725, according to Fred Baird, school tax collector.

Biggest item is teachers salaries, now listed at $150,675. This is an increase of $8,730 from 1947's budget, and is the largest jump in the two operation costs. Reason for increased expense here is the addition of new teachers to the faculty.

14 Area Farmers Have Certified Wheat Seed

County agent Hugh Clearman Tuesday released the names of fourteen Deaf Smith County farmers who had certified wheat seed for sale.

The growers all have Westar wheat exclusively except W. P. Aze who also has some Wichita and Jack Renfro who has both Pawnee and Comanche in addition to Westar.

Sugar Beets, Potatoes, Onions And Carrots To Be Featured

Hereford is already making preparations for its booth at the Tri-State Exposition to be held at the Fair Grounds in Amarillo the week of October 4-9. The committee, appointed by the Tri-State Fair Organization is headed by Hugh Clearman and includes Sank Ramey and Beryl Elliston.

The Deaf Smith County booth, for which the exposition pays $40 as a foundation expense account, will this year feature Hereford's four new crops, sugar beets, potatoes, onions and carrots.

"These crops were chosen," Clearman said, "because we want Hereford's booth to be outstanding and not to follow the traditional features of wheat and grain sorghums which we expect other counties to play up."

Rules governing the exhibits say displays and decorations from each county are to be confined strictly to products actually grown in that county. At the time last June when spaces were assigned to the 19 counties, the committee in charge reviewed proposed plans for official permission and to prevent too much repetition among the displays.

To Be Spiked With Posters
The local booth will also be spiked with posters and slogans of this irrigated area. In addition to the four crops mentioned above, the committee would like to have samples of other Hereford products to present and are sending out a call to gardeners or growers for their best products.

These smaller samples are needed to be entered in the individual judging contest. The committee requests that anyone having any of the following products which they would like to show from the county either turn them in to the county agent's office or enter them directly in the fair exhibits.

Or if there are any unusual products for showing, contact one of the committees.

In the head or ear grain division, contestants must enter 10 heads of milo, kafir, hegar, sunflower or corn. In the grain and seeds group one gallon of oats, rye, milo, kafir, sweet sorghum, and wheat.

Texas Corn Growers Ineligible For U. S. Loans

Deaf Smith County corn growers will not be eligible to participate in the government corn loans but the purchase agreement program will be available to them, according to a release from the Production and Marketing Association office, headed locally by Faust Collier.

The government, on August 27, released the names of the areas, in which loans on corn were available, but since they included only the main corn production belts, Texas was not in the list.

Eight Blocks Of California Street To Remain Closed

Eight blocks of California street, shown to exist by a dedication plat of the Whitehead addition to Hereford recorded May 1, 1902, but never actually opened will remain permanently closed by action of the county commissioners court Monday.

The commissioners, acted on a petition signed by residents of the area, which pointed out the public interest would be better served by "discontinuing and final closing of the road."

Affected is the street between Blocks 80, 81, 79, 82, 78 and 83 and 77 and 84. "It would be of no use and no service as a passageway, private or public thoroughfare to any person or persons," the petition stated.

Signers were R. F. Conaway, Mrs. E. P. Conaway, E. B. Moseley, Mrs. Blanche Moseley, and Mrs. R. Paul Conaway.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

What do you think of our modern comic books?
Miss Ella Aikman: I think some of them are alright, the funny ones such as Mickey Mouse but I don't approve of the murder mysteries for children.

Jerry Witherspoon: I don't think they have a bad influence, or any worse than the old fashioned witch stories and good can be found in such comics as Crime Does Not Pay which is just what the name implies.

Century Old Music Box, French Cupid Clock Among Items Of Interest

Hundreds Of Ancient Collectors' Items On Display At Show

By CORINNE JENNINGS
Popular ballads of another era tinkled away on an old fashioned music box as collectors strolled in and out among antiques on display in the home of Mrs. Alton Fraser Monday and Tuesday.

The silver tea and antique sale conducted by the Episcopal Auxiliary in the Fraser home drew many local and out of town guests.

Mrs. R. J. Nailer is suffering from a fractured wrist. She injured her arm Sunday morning when she slipped while walking home from church. She hit her head on the cement curbing and was knocked unconscious. Her arm is now bandaged and she says she is feeling much better.

1948 school transportation includes getting to classes via foot, skates, bicycle, school bus, automobile and now even motor scooters. Wylie Ewton has decided that last named mode of open air transportation has advantages over a town and country car and buses conspicuously around town on his two passenger conveyance.

Dimmitt blew into town about 9 Wednesday morning serenading everyone within shouting distance with blasting horns and sirens. They were plugging their rodeo and the emcee, in a concentrated Texas drawl borrowed for the occasion, was advertising bull dogging, calf roping and bronc busting contests for the entertainment of all.

A new comer in town this week is Ray Feet of Amarillo, who arrived Sunday and is employed by the Western Flower Shop. He was engaged in the flower business before coming here. Feet served four years in World War II in the medical corps with two years service in the Caribbean and three months in the Pacific Theatre. He is unmarried.

Tuesday afternoon the sprinkler system on the courthouse lawn was in operation on one fourth of the grounds. Contractor Chester Cox was giving it the once over and a try out. The results seemed to be satisfactory.

Carl A. Small is another new comer to town, arriving Monday from Canyon. He and his bride of week or so have apartments at E. C. Hubanks and will be employed as an accountant in the Hubanks office. Small graduated this summer from West Texas State College and is also a veterinarian.

Grain Markets Show Strength During Week; Advances In Cattle Prices Also Is Reported

Most southwest farm products sold steady to strong during the past week, but some products brought lower prices, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Cotton closed Monday 75 cents to $1 higher than a week earlier. Spot middling 15-16 inch brought 31.10 at Dallas and 31 cents at Houston and New Orleans.

Grain markets showed strength during the week. Corn led the way with gains of 12 to 13 cents a bushel. White corn closed Monday around $2.35 a bushel, and yellow corn $2.03 in bulk carlots delivered to Texas common points. Sorghums advanced 12 cents a hundred to sell Monday at $3.60 to $2.65. Barley went up 3 cents to bring $1.37 to $1.42. Oats rose two cents and wheat two and one-half cents for the week.

Most fruit and vegetable markets reported active trading during the week. Largely steady to stronger prices prevailed on many products in fairly liberal supply. Colorado potatoes sold 10 to 25 cents higher, reflecting an increase in the government support price. Louisiana sweet potatoes found improved demand.

Cooler weather stirred interest in eggs and poultry this week. Moulting flocks cut egg production, and top quality offerings cleared promptly. Poultry markets struck a firmer tone, with roasters and bakers in especially good demand.

Cattle prices had their ups and downs during the week, but Monday's strong markets resulted in net advances of mostly 50 cents to $2 a hundred pounds. Calves and vealers showed the most consistent gains. Medium and good calves ranged from $20 to $26 at Texas markets, while good and choice heavy calves took the same spread at Wichita and Kansas City. Oklahoma City and Denver paid $25.50 to $28.50.

Sheep changed little at Texas markets but sold 50 cents to a dollar or more higher at most other terminals. San Antonio bought nanny goats unchanged at $6 to $6.75 a hundred and kids higher at $4 to $4.40 each. Cull ewes sold down to $6.50. Ewes ranged from $8.50 to $10.50 at most markets and reached $11 at Kansas City.

Slight gains on Monday's hog

Boys Ranch Rodeo Team At Plainview

All rodeo fans and friends of Boys Ranch will have the opportunity to see the all boy rodeo team in action again on the nights of Sept. 24 and 25 at the Plainview Rodeo Association arena. There both shows will be staged under the lights.

Plainview has one of the largest rodeo arenas in the Southwest with seating capacity close to 5,000. Those attending will have the opportunity to see the All-Kid team, trained by the world famous Leonard Stroud, in action doing bronc riding, calf roping, trick riding, trick roping, wild cow milking and all the other stunts of rodeo. Also featured will be the famous clown act carried out by two of the youngsters from the ranch.

The big pay-off in this show goes to residents of the Boys Ranch Farm near Springlake. All proceeds of this show will go toward the purchase of calves to be feed-out by the boys at the farm. These same calves will be shown in the Plainview Fat Stock Show next spring.

Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Boys from the Farm will be here within a few days to sell tickets for the show.

Navy's Mars Sets New Flight Record

The Navy's largest operational plane, the Caroline Mars, floats in Lake Michigan off Chicago's Burnham Park after its record-breaking flight from Honolulu. The giant cargo carrier covered the 4748 miles on the trip to break the distance record for flying boats. The elapsed time for the non-stop flight was 24 hours and 13 minutes. The ship averaged from 185 to 190 miles per hour.

County Library Gets Two Books On Radio; Others To Arrive Here Soon

Anticipating the need of information concerning the various phases of radio Mrs. Clara McLean, Deaf Smith County Librarian, has ordered a number of books on this theme for the library shelves.

With a radio station in Hereford there is a probability that a large number of people in the community will have a chance to speak over the air or appear on a radio program of some kind before the year is over, the librarian reasons.

Two of the new books arrived this week for the library and others will soon follow Mrs. McLean said:

but as a participant in this earth's shadow show is true of Whipple, a world wide traveler and experienced writer.

Topics covered in his book, are opportunities in radio for writers, radio drama, radio dialogues, sound effects, music for transitions and moods.

Other angles in drama writing such as the unit drama, the serial drama, the episodic serial, and the biographical drama and dramatized narration are fully discussed.

How to Write for Radio, by Whipple, is a book for professional writers or anyone having aspirations to cultivate the ability of a successful radio writer. This art is very different from other fields or writing such as play writing, short story and the novel.

Many radio writers began writing with the arrival of radio only a few decades ago and they have learned through practical experience the technique and medium for expression but others will have to learn by study and then practice, writes Whipple.

Versatility in writing of any kind is often the result of kaleidoscopic living, and remembering what one has observed, not as a mere sightseer or a student Important in the radio field is creating programs to sell products over the radio and might be called the backbone of the industry.

The adaptation of stage plays, of the short story, and of novels is another slant a writer for radio, might follow as a full time job and a successful one.

Programs for children are important and are also popular. While anyone with a good musical education and love of that type of program might wish to work out musical programs for a full time profession.

Writers with a sense of humor and plenty of ready wit will want to read what Whipple has to say about radio monologues, and conversational programs.

An entirely different slant for radio is given in the book titled Handbook of Broadcasting by Abbot, dealing with technicalities of the radio and broadcasting.

Radio speaking, pronunciation, articulation, intonation and rhythm are discussed at length in this book.

Programs covering news, sports impromptu and extempore speech are presented for those interested in doing this kind of work over the air.

Suggestions are plentiful for programs on poetry, preparing radio addresses and many other special types of programs for the other waves.

If neither of these books cover the particular angle in which the reader is interested other books will be added from time to time and Mrs. McLean said she will be glad to have those interested ask about them.

Delicious apples from New Mexico appeared at Fort Worth, while Kansas Jonathans went to Kansas City. Oklahoma watermelons sold a little lower at most southwest markets.

Eustace-Walton Wedding Read In McLean Methodist Church

The marriage of Miss Earline Marie Eustace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Eustace of McLean, and F. E. Walton Jr. of Dawn was solemnized recently at McLean with the Rev. H. A. Longino reading the service in the First Methodist Church.

White gladioli, asters and white tapers formed the altar background and wedding music was presented by Mrs. Willie Boyett, organist, Mrs. Cecil Parker of Hereford, vocalist, and Miss Patty Ruth Rippey of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Bill Carthel of Plainview was matron of honor. She wore pink taffeta and carried white carnations. Flower girls were Othelia Eustace and Linda Foster. Monroe Parker of Hereford was his nephew's best man and Leroy Foster of Hereford and Wilbur Lee Wilson of McLean served as ushers.

The bride wore traditional white satin fashioned with a basque made with off-shoulder neck line edged with a wide bertha and long full skirt ending in a train. Her two-tiered veil was attached to a braided white satin band caught with baby gardenias. She carried a white Bible topped with a single orchid.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mrs. W. L. Hinton, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado.

Mrs. Walton attended McLean schools and West Texas State at Canyon. Mr. Walton graduated from West Texas State High School and attended West Texas State College. He served in the Air Corps for two years and since his return he has been engaged in farming near Dawn.

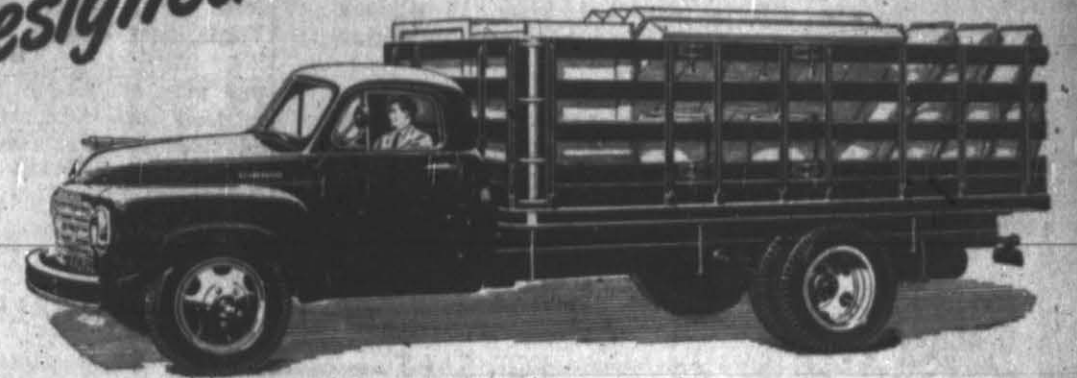

The couple is now at home in Canyon where both will attend West Texas State College this winter.

Salerno Beach Again Paradise For Swimmers

SALERNO, Italy — (AP) — Italian tots with toy spades scoop wading pools on the pebbly beaches where five years ago next week American and British troops dug for their lives. Texas' 36th division and the 45th division played heroic parts in the campaign.

The Turquoise Tyrrhenian water, black with allied landing craft on Sept. 9, 1943, is cluttered today only by the bobbing heads of bathers.

Peace has come back to this pretty land of sunshine and salt water. There is little to remind the Salerno that here, for six days of bloody fighting, the fate of the first invasion of Adolf Hitler "Portress Europe" hung in desperate balance.

Five years ago, North Africa had been mopped up. The big island of Sicily had been won in 39 days. On Sept. 3, Canadian and British divisions of the British Eighth Army followed the fleeing Germans across the Strait of Messina, advancing northward against slight opposition.

ITALY OUT OF WAR

Military disaster already had precipitated political upheaval in Italy. Benito Mussolini was ousted July 25. The 28-year nightmare of Fascism was over. Marshal Pietro Badoglio had succeeded to the premiership.

A soldier, Badoglio saw the uselessness of fighting on with the Axis. The day the British crossed from Messina, he threw in the towel.

On Sept. 8 the Italian radio announced that Italy was out of the war.

At the announcement the Salerno and Salerno had taken to their homes. They ran straight into a hell on earth.

The morning of Sept. 9, General Mark Clark's Fifth Army — the American Sixth Corps and the British Tenth Corps — poured onto the

The New Look—In Rigs

First of the new type, hydraulically raised, mobile telescope rigs to be used in West Texas, has been put in operation west of Blair in Taylor County by the Drilling and Exploration Company, one of the more recent oil operating concerns to establish district headquarters at Abilene. In drilling position the rig stands 97 feet high, but telescoped and lowered, as shown above, it has an overall length of 60 feet. The trailer unit on which the rig is built has a gross weight of 74,800 pounds and includes the draw works, power plant, light plant and derrick. In theory, the rig can drill to 9,000 feet, but in field practice it is limited to 5,000 feet in 4 1/2 inch hole or 6,500 feet in 3 1/2 inch hole. The derrick is operated at a slight angle, so that the rotary table is outside the derrick.—(AP Photo).

South Plains Carrots Planted In May In Floyd County Now Going to Market

COLLEGE STATION—The Rio Grande Valley of Texas isn't the only place where carrots are grown. Way up at the other end of the state in the South Plains big time truck farming operations have come to Floyd county, reports County Agent A. L. Hartzog.

Ransome Walker, who has lived at Vernon and Lubbock, brought his Valley-trained Spanish-Americans to Floyd county to do something about the slack carrot season during September and October. This group of truck farmers are part of Parish Farms, Inc. in the Rio Grande Valley.

It's Walker's idea to put carrots on the market at a time that is now a dead spot on the production calendar. He is starting out with 300 acres of irrigated wheat land, and hopes to branch off into bell peppers and baby lima beans after he gets his carrot production going.

Parish Farms doesn't run on a "guesswork" proposition. These big scale carrot farmers figure 110- to 120-day growing period for their crop, and have invested much time and money to grow carrots in Floyd county. But there has been one big loss already. One large carrot planting of 110 acres was washed out this summer.

Weeds don't give Walker much trouble. He sprays naphtha over the whole crop. The naphtha makes a quick kill on the weeds, without bothering the carrots.

The first carrots were planted in May, and are moving to market now. Planting in 50-acre plots two weeks apart allows a staggering maturing date and assures a smooth harvest once the carrots are already on the market.

Walker says plans call for tilling and grading in the field, and arrangements have been made for a packing shed in Floydada to complete final preparations for packing.

If you are wondering about the water situation in Floyd County, that's all been taken care of. Walker and his crew brought along a giant portable irrigation spraying unit to be used if things got too dry. The carrot crew has used the spray rig only once this summer on a 80-acre tract.

"It caused some crusting, but it wasn't bad," Walker said. The spray carries a half mile of line covering a strip 80 feet wide.

Pepper seed planted on a 15-acre area plus the labor and water came to $25 an acre. Walker says that's a pretty tidy investment to make before one penny starts coming in.

Ransome Walker and his Parish Farm crew from the Rio Grande Valley have brought truck farming to the South Plains of Texas, says Hartzog.

To apply Phosphate on alfalfa, legumes, pasture grasses and wheat.

Phosphate and nitrogen in the form of 16-20-0 is a fine combination to establish a luxuriant growth of wheat. It will result in greater grazing capacity, eliminate the blowing hazard and produce a plant strong enough to withstand an infestation of green bugs.

The growers who have had experience in fertilizing wheat are enthusiastic as to results obtained. They agree

Oldtimers Laugh At Present Pitchers; Grove Thinks Feller Changed Delivery

BY FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeature Sports Editor

NEW YORK — Retired baseball players including a few who pitched in the last 10 years, laugh when the pitchers of today complain about the lively ball.

Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, who won 300 games during 17 years in the American League, believes the ball used today is the same as it was 20 years ago.

"The ball is no livelier than it was in 1928," says Grove. "Why, when it was hit to the outfield in those days it would bounce all over the place. The pitchers nowadays lack control. They always seem to be behind the batter and it's only natural for them to throw down the middle when they do. There's no start on the ball and it gets quite a ride."

Grove was one of the former hurlers who were guests of the Philadelphia Phillies during a recent gathering of former big league stars. Others on had included 81-year-old O.

Young, 511-game winner in 22 years; Harry Covelack, the Giant Killer; Lefty Gomez of the Yankees; George (Moose) Earnshaw and Rube Walberg of the Athletics.

GOOD OLD DAYS

They were in Philly for a series (which was rained out) with the Pittsburgh Pirates, naturally. The only thing to do was sit around and talk over "the good old days."

Grove, now white-haired and the owner of three bowling alleys in Lycoming, Pa., drew many listeners when he talked about Walter Johnson's fast ball, and Bob Feller's failure to win regularly.

"I think Feller changed his delivery," said Grove. "He's been fooling with a slider. He had a good fast ball and a fine curve. That's all you need in the big leagues."

"Why the greatest pitcher in baseball, Walter Johnson, never had a curve, I was the same way. We always depended on our fast ball. When Johnson or I threw a curve we made the batter happy."

"I remember the first time I pitched against Christy Mathewson," chimed in Harry Covelack, brother of the Stan of Cleveland who beat Brooklyn three times in the 1920 World Series. "I beat Matty 3 to 2. He had an off day. We bunted on him."

The oldtimers turned to Denton True (Ty) Young who was getting a going over by Gomez, the delightful screwball.

Use Ball Three Days

"No wonder you won so many games," said Gomez. "Why, when you pitched you stood 55 feet from home plate and you used the same ball three days. Now they use a ball for three pitches. It gets a spot on it and the umpire throws it out."

"Listen, Lefty," returned Young, a guy who can go along with a pig. "Jimmy Foxx hit one of the longest home runs on record off you. Shame on you. Why when I pitched I never allowed more than one home run a game."

"No wonder," came back Gomez. "Frank Baker wasn't called Home Run Baker for nothing. He once led the league with 9 homers."

"Why, one time I went 23 innings without anybody getting a hit off me," said Young. "My pitch out was a pitch in. I threw under the batter's chin when I wanted to waste a pitch."

... talking about throwing at a batter, "piped up Earnshaw. "I hit only one batter I threw at. He was Goose Goslin."

Hit in Leg

"Goose had been hitting me pretty hard and one day I told him he would learn to respect me. I think I'll loosen you up a bit," I told him. "Now, Old Moosey wouldn't do that to Old Goosey," he said. But I did, hit him right in the leg."

"I never threw at a batter's head either," said Grove. "I use to throw at their feet. I liked to see 'em dance."

"Aw let's talk about the young fellows," said Gomez to Grove. "Look at Max Bishop here. He's got the best job in baseball coaching the Naval Academy team at Annapolis. He's been there 11 years. Four more years and they'll make him an admiral."

It was midnight and the chifnest broke up.

"What's the matter, Lefty, getting tired?" asked Young.

"No," shouted Gomez. "It's that pipe your smoking. I think it puts me to sleep and keeps you awake."

Whiteface To Meet Friona Chiefs In Grid Battle Here Friday Night

By WORTH COVINGTON
The Hereford Whitefaces and the Friona Chiefs will clash here Friday at 8 p. m. Both will be trying to get in the win column since Hereford lost to McLean by 19 to 6, and Melrose, New Mexico beat the Friona team 6 to 0.

trying to iron out their faults of last week. Coaches H. V. Stanton and Dalton Criswell have been putting the boys through lots of tackling and downfield blocking, which seems to be the weak spots in last Friday night's game. The ends have been working hard as well as the backfield on defense. The ends were the weak spot in the defense last week. The backfield was not charging in on running plays and not meeting the ball carriers at the line of scrimmage. Not much is known about the strength of the Friona Chiefs this year except that they lost their game last week to Melrose by a score of 6 to 0. Friona always does play a good game against the Whitefaces and would really enjoy upsetting the inexperienced Whiteface team this year.

The game Friday night will be the last home game until the Whitefaces tangle with the Canyon Eagles in a conference game on October 15. The next three games will be away from home with Sudan, Panhandle, and Dumas on respective Fridays.

Coach H. V. Stanton reported that Capt. L. T. Hawks will probably not be able to play again this week. Otherwise the team is in pretty good shape physically for Friday night's game.

Probable starting lineup for the Whitefaces will be:

Bobby Owens	R. E. 96

Claude Melugen	C. 98

an of World War II with three years service to his credit, a greater part of it spent in the European Theatre.

The ever changing personnel at the Draft Office gets a nod of thanks this week. The clerks have been working to register the boys strictly on a volunteer basis and have included school teachers, home makers, and secretaries loaned from businesses in town.

It may be a long time before Paul Coneway regains his popularity with the Hereford Jaycees. As general chairman of the light breakfast it seems he was responsible for getting the members called at 5 a. m. to remind them of the big occasion.

Mrs. Jay Fortenberry is a new first grade teacher at Central. There are now five divisions of First Grade with 152 pupils enrolled. Progress in the first grade, from the pupil's standpoint is slow. Little Twila Springer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Springer, came home reporting, "Really, Mother, we don't do any work up there at all; we haven't done anything but play." And Patty Barre's, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Barrett declared at noon the first day, "I haven't learned anything this morning, but I expect I will this afternoon." At the end of the first week she was still optimistically declaring, "I didn't learn anything this week, but I expect I will next week."

Deaf Smith County this week is $18,341.23 richer. A check for that amount was received by County Judge L. F. Foster from the State Board of County and District Road Indebtedness. It represents the amount due Deaf Smith from distribution of surplus funds on Aug. 31 derived from tax on gasoline and other motor fuels. The fund may be used only for construction and improvement of county lateral roads.

Teaching Your CHILD

BY DAVID TAYLOR MARKS AP Newfeature Writer on Education

What makes Jack a dull boy? Experts say eating the wrong foods will do it. Writing in the "Michigan Educational Journal" they report recent discoveries that if your child is doing poorly in school, he is not, "of necessity, either stupid or psychologically maladjusted." He may be just plain hungry.

Not that most American children don't get enough to eat. They do. But, according to these experts, they may not get enough of the right kind of food. If your child is in this category, his body tissues are half-starved about half of the time, and he becomes listless, indifferent, and fatigued.

Red Cross nutritionists, surveying many communities, found that almost invariably from one-third to one-half of the children have poor eating habits. In many cases, the percentages run higher. "To lead even a reasonably active life and have a fair chance of keeping up with his studies, a growing child needs three meals a day. That seems so elementary that you would suppose it would be universally understood," they say. "Yet many surveys show that 10 per cent or more of the children skip at least one meal a day habitually."

Parents and teachers must halt this trend, they warn. If any are in doubt about the need or the method of attacking the problem, they are invited to consult their nearest Red Cross chapter.

In the three meals a day, they advise, the average child should get at least these basic foods: "For breakfast: Fruit, cereal or bread, milk or a milk drink. For Dinner: Meat or a meat substitute, potatoes, yellow or green vegetables (or fruit) milk and bread. For Lunch (or Supper): Protein dish, fruit or vegetables, bread and milk."

Four glasses of milk are the daily requirement for growing children, they claim.

Good eating habits depend upon sound teeth, and your child should be taught to look after them carefully. Going to the dentist should be a pleasing experience, says Dr. Eugene J. North of the University of Buffalo Dental School. Addressing a conference at the 25th annual meeting of the American Association of Dental Schools, Dr. North pointed out that a child's dentist should have friendliness, ability to inspire confidence and capacity to feel a liking for children and a wish to help them.

Such a dentist should be capable of stating up a parent, too. He should try to find out if the parent of the child is "emotionally stable." "If he isn't," Dr. North said, "there is a great chance that his child will be whiney, flutery, emotionally tense; that in all probability he will encounter a training problem."

"The child will meet the problems and opportunities of living in his future years," says Professor Roma Gans, Teachers College, Columbia University, "is determined by the day to day life he leads from birth through his sixth year. These are not only the critical years of his childhood -- they are the critical years of his whole life. The importance of group experience, the give and take relationship with others of his own age from three years on, is essential in this important period of getting a good start. Furthermore, now as never before, the guidance of parents and teachers is respected as playing a very important part for the good of the child if the guidance is intelligent, for his own undoing if it isn't."

rectories can hardly be underestimated. National officials reported that back when books were collected annually and new ones distributed by hand, calls were received daily from frantic individuals who had left checks, cash and even eyeglasses in phone books. Sometimes they called in about messages, recipes or phone numbers they had written on their old directories and had not re-copied before collection day.

It is impossible to figure the number of times the books are used daily, but the U. S. makes 90 million phone calls every 24 hours. Fifty four per cent of U. S. homes had telephones in 1947 and estimates place the number of phones in use over the nation at about 21 and a half million.

Directories are responsible for more than correct telephone numbers. They can be counted on to divulge street addresses, which stores sell which brands and what business someone is in.

15 Presidents in Washington. Condensing this variety of information made abbreviations essential. The publisher of the Manhattan book, of which a million copies are published twice a year, estimated that one additional line on a listing used up enough paper for two copies of the book.

In the Washington D. C. phone book, 15 presidents are listed including three George Washingtons, Ulysses Grant and William McKinley are the grandsons of those presidents, but there's no Abraham Lincoln or Harry Truman in the book.

As a source of information, telephone books are in correct use, for the word "directory" comes from the Latin "directorium" meaning a book giving public directions.

The claim also stated the south one-half of section 28 is not watered and there are 10 or more dry holes on this section where others have drilled and failed to find water; that he has no other watering place available for stock except that on the south one-half section 29, which would be entirely cut off from S1-2 of Section 28; that S1-2 of Section 28 contains 320 acres valued at $50 an acre, but when the road is constructed it would not be of a reasonable market value of more than $40 an acre; that the minimum reasonable cost of discovering water and erecting proper wells, windmill, and watering facilities would be $3,200.

Two Cases Of Smallpox Reported For Year In Texas By Health Dept.

AUSTIN—An interesting sidelight on public health in Texas was revealed in the morbidity report of the Texas State Department of Health for the week ending August 28, which showed a total of two cases of smallpox for this year, while in the same period there were 588 cases of diphtheria.

Commenting on these comparative figures, Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer stated that diphtheria is as readily controlled by immunization as is smallpox, "but that apparently the public has failed to recognize this fact, or to act upon it."

"Smallpox, which is highly contagious, is no longer considered a major health problem in Texas," Dr. Cox said, "and this is due to widespread vaccination against the disease. Diphtheria, equally contagious, can also be reduced to the point where a single case is a rarity, but only when parents awake to the fact that every child should be immunized in infancy. The baby's doctor will recommend when this should be done, and if children wear given this protection, there would be none susceptible to contract this killing disease.

Ordinarily, the immunity provided by diphtheria toxoid lasts a child until he is of school age, however a Schick test should be given before the child enters school. If needed, an additional shot of toxoid should be administered.

"When all children are routinely immunized against this dreaded disease, it can be virtually eliminated as the health hazard that it now is, to the boys and girls of Texas," Dr. Cox declared.

What It Means

A Presidential Election In The House

By OLIVER W. DeWOLF
WASHINGTON, (AP) — You've probably heard a lot of talk in this election year about the possibility a President may be elected by the House of Representatives. This would happen only if none of the Presidential candidates received a majority, 268, of the 531 Electoral College votes cast by the 48 states in December.

Then the House would be required under the Constitution to select a President from the three top candidates. The election would be held in January. Each state delegation would have one vote.

The last time the House elected a President was in 1824. Then the electoral vote totaled only 261, divided among 34 states, and four candidates—John Quincy Adams, Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and William Crawford.

(A commission established by the 12th amendment, passed Congress, awarded the 1876 election to Rutherford Hayes, a Republican, over Democrat Samuel J. Tilden.)

12th Amendment Governs
In 1804, governed the election. But within its framework the House established some rules for procedure. The rules passed by the House in 1825 were not binding on succeeding Congresses.

But they did establish a precedent and shed some light on how the House would set about the job of naming a chief executive. They required that a member or members from at least two-thirds of the states be present for the balloting. The rule governing the actual balloting were elaborate. House members were grouped together by states, with a ballot box before each group. Each House member present then voted his choice for President, and the ballot was placed in the box provided for his state.

After each state had counted its vote the result was written out in duplicate. The rule provided that if any one of the three candidates received a majority of the state's vote, then his name was to be written on both slips. If no candidate received a majority, then the word "divided" was to be written on them.

After the states had voted the clerk of the House was to call the roll. As the name of each state was called, the sergeant-at-arms presented two ballot boxes to the named delegation, one for the original ballot and one for the duplicate. These boxes were then to be placed on separate tables and counted by tellers representing each of the voting states.

One Ballot Necessary
It so happened that in 1824 only one ballot was necessary. Adams received 13 votes, Jackson 1, and Crawford 4. The speaker of the House proclaimed Adams President. Had no candidate received a majority on the first ballot, the voting would have continued until one did.

The "Daily National Intelligencer" of Washington commented at length editorially on the conduct of the election. It noted the "deliberation and calmness" which characterized the conduct of the members of the House; the order and regularity of the proceedings; and the "forebearance on the part of the victors, and the sober resignation of the vanquished friends of the several candidates, on the result being ascertained."

In 1837, when Martin Van Buren was elected President by the Electoral College, none of the four vice presidential candidates received the required majority.

In conformance with the Constitution, the Senate then had to choose between the two top candidates—Richard M. Johnson and Francis Granger. The procedure differed radically from that followed by the House in naming Adams. The secretary of the Senate called the names of the senators in alphabetical order, with each senator voting his choice. Johnson received a majority and was declared elected.

Jimmy Hendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Hendrick left Tuesday for San Diego, Calif. to enter recruit training in the Marine Training Station there. Jim will return to Hereford in about eight weeks after completing his training. He has enlisted for three years with the Marines and served with the Maritime Service during the war.

You just know it's a Packard!

There's a story of exclusive values behind these exclusive lines. Come in—see for yourself!

When you point to this proud, glistening grille, any schoolboy can tell you it's a Packard... the car that still looks like itself!

That's because the Packard radiator grille, for nearly 50 years, has been a trademark of precision-built character.

Packard, for example, has always meant precision-built engines. And Packard today is winning new fame with the amazing economy of its new "free-breathing" straight eights!

Packard has always meant masterful roadability. And Packard leads again today—with a "self-controlling" suspension system.

Packard has always meant precision workmanship. And today's Packards are the finest-built Packards ever to bear the name!

It all adds up to a story we'd like to tell you in full... and soon!

'48 Polio Outbreak At Peak; Is Following Regular Pattern

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1948 outbreak of polio in the United States is now at its peak, and if it goes on from here as nearly all others have, it will end with about 22,000 victims, the third largest number in the nation's history.

If it goes that high in victims, it will cost between $25,000,000 and $35,000,000 for medical care, mostly coming from March of Dimes.

Ordinarily the peak for infantile paralysis is the last week in August and the first in September. This year is following the pattern of other years, despite the fact that this year the polio epidemics started about two months earlier than usual, with the current outbreak in Texas.

Usually, after the August-September peak there are as many additional cases as there were before. This year so far shows no sign to justify hope it will be different.

The total cases on Sept. 2 were 11,155. Multiply that by two to get the normal prospect. The top was 1916 with 27,363; second 1946 with 25,998; third 1944 with 19,029.

Emergency Funds Heavy
The figures are from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which collects and administers the March of Dimes. The foundation up to a week ago had sent, as emergency funds, $3,800,000 to hard-hit states and communities. The foundation calculates that this emergency money will reach $5,500,000 by the end of the 1948 epidemic.

Emergency money from the national office is what states and communities get after they have exhausted that part of the dimes money kept by the local chapters. The largest emergency contributions have been made to the three states—California, Texas and North Carolina—where this year's epidemic was worst. Totals to the three are $633,400.

Those three states are the only ones in which the number of polio victims has exceeded 1,000. The figures, of Sept. 2, are California 1,877, North Carolina 1,761 and Texas 1,256.

Rhode Island Zero
Only one state has zero cases, Rhode Island. Nevada has two, New Hampshire, seven. All other states, and the District of Columbia, have more than 10 cases each.

If this year follows the average, 65 per cent or more of the polio victims will recover with no permanent damage. Around 15 per cent will suffer more or less serious shrinkage of limbs. Five to 10 per cent will die.

Thus far there is no reason to expect much difference in the polio toll. Sometimes there are differences in the virulence of the viruses that cause this disease, making some outbreaks milder than others. This year's virus appears to be about average.

One new hope for a drug for polio appeared in Columbia University research with darvisul, a sulfa-like medicine. The drug cured polio mice. The hopes were not based on the animal results so much as on the fact that this is the first drug ever to show any effect on polio of any kind in animals or in human beings. This first break leads medical scientists to believe that it can be done once on any animal, it can be done ultimately on man, even though a different drug may be needed.

Tested At Houston
(The Houston Post said Sunday that Darvisul has been tested on at least 51 human polio patients at Jefferson Davis hospital there and found effective in early stages of the disease.)

Other important research this year had two objectives. One was to find out how many different types of polio virus attack human beings. Two are definitely known. Several others are suspected to exist. In the attempts to make a polio vaccine it is already apparent the vaccine good for one of the two known human polio viruses is not so good for the other one.

The second objective is to discover a prompt method of diagnosing polio and of finding polio carriers. To date this detection has taken weeks to months for a single individual and has cost hundreds of dollars per person. A new French method taking only 10 days to two weeks of test tube work was reported last month. Two weeks is too slow to be of much help to polio sufferers. But it would be useful to spot the carriers.

Rhythm In Gun-Sighting Is Studied

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—There seems to be a peculiar rhythm of error when humans try to sight a gun on a moving target. This rhythm is the frequency with which they continually swing beyond the target, or over-correct for the swing. And it seems to be about the same for everyone.

The finding comes from a study designed to make American aerial gunners more deadly in their aim. It's directed by Dr. D. G. Ellson, of the Indiana University Psychology department, and sponsored by the Air Forces Laboratory at Wright Field.

Dr. Ellson is trying to determine the character of natural, ever-present human error that an operator transmits to a mechanical device. With that knowledge, the instruments or controls can be re-designed to fit the human operator and compensate for human error. This kind of work is a new field, engineering psychology.

"It's roughly similar to the relation of a driver of a car to the steering of the car," he said. "The driver is constantly subject to tremors in his arms, but the steering mechanism is so designed that it filters out those tremors and they have no effect on the wheels. Similar to the arm tremors is a natural oscillation in the human system, so strong that an aerial gunner is continuously losing the target in his sight, and having to make corrections."

So far, the frequency of oscillation appears to follow a pattern in all the persons studied. In the tests, they try to follow a target with a pointer.

This common pattern is significant, since it might be expected that the frequency would vary among individuals, depending upon their speed of reaction. Individual variation in the degree of oscillation or wavering is not so important. Any dampening device put into the gun-sight would take care of all the oscillating, strong or light. The next problem, Dr. Ellson said, is to learn whether the frequency changes under emotional stress, as in combat action.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Robbins were in Hereford over the Labor day weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Culpepper. They were on their way to Santa Fe to visit his parents before returning to their home in Dallas.

Catholic Information

I have a graven image hanging on my wall.

A plain wooden cross, a carved ivory figure, three little iron nails—on my wall, near the bed, by the window.

In the morning my opening eyes fix first on the representation of the greatest act of love that the world will ever know. At night my weary brain is last impressed by a reminder of the Redemption of mankind.

I cannot look at my crucifix without thinking, without recollecting, without realizing. I cannot help but see it several times a day.

Some there are who say I make unto myself a "graven thing" and thus commit a sin against the First Commandment; but with this I cannot agree, for the selfsame text goes on to say—"nor the likeness of anything that is in Heaven above, or in the earth beneath, nor of those things that are in the waters under the earth. Thou shalt not adore them or serve them."

So if the right use of a "graven thing or a likeness of any thing" is damning, then my critic's bronze Mercury, his marble Washington, his silver-framed family group, will send him to hell along with me.

"Thou shalt not adore them or serve them." Surely, these are the words that give completeness and true meaning to God's law. So says my common sense. So says the Catholic Church. And because I do not adore or serve my crucifix, I shall with free conscience keep it hanging there on the wall.

I am grateful to my Church for its wise, reasonable, and infallible interpretations of God's truths. I thank it for the external helps to meditation, devotion, adoration which it offers me in so great profusion. Would that every man had a crucifix on his wall, near the bed, by the window; for then the lover of evil could not help but love evil less, and the lover of God could not help but love God more.

Any questions you may have about Catholic belief or practice will be answered by: The Home Study Service, 204 E. 4th St., Hereford, Texas.

New Engine, Styling Features In '49 Kaiser

THE 1949 KAISER DELUXE sedan has more than 100 improvements—72 in styling and 30 in engine and mechanical features. Major developments, many of them based on the more than two billion miles which owners have put on K's cars, include an increase from 100 to 112 in horsepower. A massive grille and bumpers are features of the new exterior design. A new instrument panel dominates the restyled interior.

'49 Kaiser Features 102 Improvements

New Four-Door Sedans Represent First Major Changeover of an American Auto Designed Since the War

MECHANICAL AND STYLING IMPROVEMENTS MADE

POWER ACCELERATION STEPPED UP!

Imagine—Greater horsepower and quicker acceleration without loss in Operating Economy! Feature, if you can, acceleration from 10 to 70 m.p.h. in 30 seconds! Here's how it has been done:

- Dual Throat Carburetor gives free flow of fuel and air mixture to all cylinders.
- Dual Manifold System providing the motor with the highest rated horsepower per cubic inch displacement of any standard six-cylinder American automobile engine.
- Each half of manifold supplies charges to only three cylinders, thus reducing flow resistance and making possible close control of the mixture.

IT'S A LONGER, LOWER KAISER!

Forty-two body changes—which include a new grille, bumpers, body, and fender panels, instrument panel and interior appointments—have given the '49 sedans a silhouette three inches lower in appearance than in former models. The new overall length of Kaiser models is 206½ inches, an increase of 3½ inches. Also featured are new pull-type door handles, lower rear license plate mounting, new trunk lid handle, massive chrome tail and stop lights, and many interior refinements including soft, indirect lighting on dials; and finger leverage for thumb operation of push-button door controls.

CLUTCH, BRAKE, STEERING IMPROVED!

Fifteen chassis changes are responsible for easier riding and handling, greater road clearance and improved body strength. Among the new features are a redesigned clutch linkage which provides a softer action and greater durability, a new steering linkage which cuts the turning radius by 11 per cent; a completely redesigned gear shift mechanism; a stronger frame with improved road clearance and longer front coil springs.

New Grille of '49 Kaiser

MASSIVE HORIZONTAL BARS which blend with a new one-piece, wrap-around bumper feature the front-end styling of the 1949 Kaiser DeLuxe sedan. Extra large parking and directional turn lamps, plus a new hood-mounted "Buffalo-K" emblem, distinguish the simplified grille design. The 1949 model embodies more than a hundred improvements.

176 Flyers

 cardian duels.
 Highlight of the program was the presentation of various prizes. Forester Mauldin of Levelland won a cigarette lighter when he drew the prize winning number from a group of six contestants who were all nominated for making the best landing.

Grandfather Oldest Pilot
 Sixty-seven year old J. W. Fanning, a gray haired grandfather from Grady, New Mexico, walked off with the oldest pilot award, and Orville Zickelofte, a Levelland pilot of 21, won the prize for being the youngest student pilot in attendance. The Jaycees even had a prize for the oldest woman pilot, awarded to Lillian Gondek, an attractive brunette from Clovis.

 Big Jim Michelet, flying a Cessna 170, won the prize for having flown the greatest distance. He came from Hagleman, New Mexico making the trip in an hour and 20 minutes.

Plainview's crew of 36 flight interested citizens won the prize for having the most flyers from one town. Chosen to receive the tie, offered as a prize was young James Craig, a near 300 pounder pilot.

Claude Hutcherson, also of Plainview and manager of the air service there was given a billfold for having attended the most breakfasts since the inauguration of these flight entertainments in 1948. In acknowledging the gift, Hutcherson said, "I think that flight breakfasts are an excellent idea for they keep local aviation stimulated and give pilots in the area a chance to get together often."

Makes Flight in 25 Minutes
 The final award was made to M. C. Little of Clovis, who flew over from New Mexico in 25 minutes in his biplane. Little's prize, a cardboard container, was awarded amid laughter from the crowd, for his having made the poorest landing.
 Wandering photographers Jap Dickerson and Marlin Simpson made pictures of the guests during the morning and of the planes packed around Clover Field.

Twenty six towns were represented at the breakfast here. Next Sunday Hereford flyers will join the parade to Quannah for the festivities there.

Living Exhibits Of All Major Crops In Texas To Be On Display At Dallas Fair Opening Oct. 9

Stimulated by the greatest expansion program undertaken in years, the 1948 State Fair of Texas is in the final stages of preparation for its sixty-third session, Oct. 9-24.

Some 2,000,000 State Fair visitors will discover the "new look" on the 187-acre exposition where over $3,000,000 has been spent on new buildings and improvements. These include the new $300,000 Automobile, Aviation and Recreation Building and the $1,200,000 reconstruction job on the Cotton Bowl.

Utilizing all the skills that weave the glitter and the hard business, the agricultural triumphs and concession offerings into one splendid mass of excitement, officials are preparing for the people of the Southwest an exposition which is bigger and better than anything hitherto presented by the State Fair of Texas.

The layman will see an entirely new-type agriculture show that is easy to understand and fascinating to behold because it will present living exhibits of all the major crops of Texas in various phases of growth and maturity.

The Fair's 1948 Livestock Show will feature more breeds of cattle than ever brought together before for a major show, including two national shows, the National Brahman and the National Milking Shorthorn Shows, Oct. 13-2.

A mammoth exhibit of new automobiles and an equally impressive Farm Implement Show will be other highlights.

Sixty thousand 4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers will be guests of the State Fair Oct. 16, Rural Youth Day, the largest gathering of Rural Youth ever to assemble at one time in one place.

Nine colorful games will be played in the Cotton Bowl, including the University of Texas-University of Oklahoma on Opening Day, and SMU-Santa Clara on Oct. 23.

Heading the entertainment field at the Fair will be Jimmy Durante and Harry James in the Auditorium; the "Flying L" Rodeo, starring Jimmy Wakely, cowboy star of screen, stage, and radio; the third all-new edition of "Ice Cycles of 1948," and Serrano, "the psychic horse with the college education."

Arol Selmar, right, crew member of the 40-foot ketch, "Colin," plays a Norwegian serenade for Rolf Vikki, 12, and dog, Rona, as their boat cleared customs and quarantine at Staten Island, N. Y. The tiny vessel brought six men, the boy and the dog from Oslo, Norway, to New York in seven weeks, strictly for pleasure.

Mrs. Pearl Persefield of Amarillo, mother of Mrs. W. L. Cartwright, is visiting her daughter here for the next two months. She has just returned from a trip to California.

If birds could read, we'd post a sign like that. But they can't. So, we're doing the next best thing.

We're asking all hunters not to shoot at birds on telephone wires. One stray shot may break several wires, and interrupt important long distance calls.

We'll appreciate your help.
