

TEXAS CITY: ONE YEAR AGO AND TODAY

Just a year ago, on Thursday morning, April 16, 1947, a tremendous blast rocked Texas City to its foundations and left it a smoking ruin. The French ship, Grandcamp, blew up in the harbor and touched off a series of smashing blasts in the Monsanto Chemical Company plant. The photo below, from NEA, was made at the height of the fire which followed. At right, in an Associated Press photo, is the same scene today. The Monsanto plant is not only being rebuilt, but has a giant expansion program underway. All structures behind and to the left of the searain (center) are part of the expansion program. The Grandcamp blew up in the north slip.

Low Bid on New Hospital Wing Is $40,000 Over Available Funds

Seek Ways to Make Financial Ends Meet

Members of the Deaf Smith County Hospital Board, County Commissioners, architects and contractors will meet tomorrow night (Friday) at the courthouse in an effort to make ends meet between available funds and estimated construction costs for the new hospital addition.

Their problem is a $40,000 gap between the lowest bid on the proposed construction and the actual funds available from the $150,000 hospital bond issue.

The board will recommend the Lytle-Hill bid if it can be brought within range of available funds. Sylvester Slagle, chairman of the hospital board said today.

Lytle-Hill Construction Company of Amarillo was the low bidder on the bids submitted for the proposed project Monday.

Efforts will be made at the meeting tomorrow night to reach a solution to the problem, Slagle said. Several plans will probably be discussed.

One, opposed by several members of the board, is to cut out several of the planned and needed additions in order to bring construction costs within the amount of the bond issue.

Chairman Slagle is openly opposed to materially cutting the new addition, although he indicated that it might be possible to trim some minor items off the cost, at least temporarily.

Another suggested solution is issuance, by the County Commissioners, of time warrants to make up the deficit, and levying an additional tax for the general improvement fund. An increase of four cents in the general improvement fund, earmarked for this purpose, would retire approximately $4,000 annually.

A third suggested solution, which is reportedly opposed by some members of the Commissioners Court, is another bond election to vote ad-

TO SING AT ALTUS

Jimmy Sparkman will present a voice recital at Altus, Oklahoma, on Friday, April 23. (See story below).

Jimmy Sparkman To Give Concert in Altus, Okla.

Jimmy Sparkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Sparkman will appear in a voice concert in Altus Oklahoma Friday, April 23.

He is being sponsored by the Women's Missionary Union of that city in the Methodist Church Auditorium. Altus was the one-time home of the Sparkmans.

The concert will be made up of a program of semi-classical selections. Mary Helen McGilvray will be his piano accompanist.

Jimmy is now studying at the Amarillo College of Music, having been awarded a scholarship from that college last spring when he won a superior rating at the Music Festival as a pupil of Miss Mattie Swisher of Hereford. He is a baritone.

At present he is taking all his classes in the morning and coming to Hereford in the afternoons in order to practice with Mary Helen for the coming concert.

Lytle-Hill Low Bidders At $183,000

Lowest bid received Monday for the proposed new hospital wing at the Deaf Smith County Hospital was nearly $40,000 more than available funds for the project.

A bond issue of $150,000 was voted last fall for the purpose of building a new wing and remodeling the present county hospital building. Of this amount, nearly $2,000 has already been spent for sound-proofing ceiling and floors of the corridors in the present building.

The lowest bid submitted for the proposed new construction totalled approximately $183,000.

Bids were received Monday by the Commissioners Court and members of the Hospital Board of Directors.

Lytle-Hill of Amarillo submitted the low bid of $179,000, plus a necessary extra item of $13,000. This amount did not include the architect's fee, Sylvester Slagle, chairman of the board, reported.

Next lowest bid was from C. S. Lambie of Amarillo at approximately $180,000.

Neil Singleton submitted the third bid at approximately $192,000.

No contracts were let, although Slagle indicated that the contract would go to Lytle-Hill as the low bidder if a way could be found, either to reduce the cost of the construction to the amount available, or to provide additional funds.

Commissioners were advised not to reject the bids, as contractors predicted that construction costs might go even higher in the next thirty to sixty days.

Plans for the new hospital extension, drawn by Architect Guy A. Carlander of Amarillo, call for the construction of a single-story addition to the present building, so constructed that the foundation and walls would support a second story at some future date.

The new wing would include 11 new rooms, large enough for two beds to each room if conditions demand it, with lavatory and toilet facilities for each room; plus a new surgical wing which would include a new delivery room, a new emergency room, and X-ray room.

The present hospital building will be re-modeled to provide for an obstetrical ward on the second floor, with the present surgery to be remodeled as an observation room to replace what local doctors describe as the "glorified closet" now in use.

A separate entrance would be provided on the north for the new emergency room, eliminating the present confusion in using the main entrance and hallway.

The bids submitted do not include furnishing of the rooms, Slagle pointed out. The Hospital Board has been working on a plan, in cooperation with civic organizations, to finance furnishing of the rooms by public and private subscription.

Henry Hoelting Died Tuesday at Dimmitt Hospital

Henry J. Hoelting, 72, pioneer farmer and rancher in the Nebraska territory, died Tuesday at the Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt.

Mr. Hoelting was taken to the hospital of acute indigestion last Friday. He was the father of Mrs. W. E. Albert of Hereford.

Born in Lawrence, Nebraska, Mr. Hoelting had been a resident of Nazareth for the past forty years, having operated a farm and ranch three and a half miles south of that community since coming to Texas.

Surviving him are six sons, Frank Hoelting of Nazareth; Al Hoelting of Amarillo; Wilfred Hoelting of Los Angeles; Norbert Hoelting of Kansas; Gregg Hoelting of Nazareth (with whom the elder Mr. Hoelting was making his home); and Ed Hoelting of Nazareth; and three daughters, Mrs. W. J. Albrecht of Hereford; Mrs. Florence Albrecht and sister Norbert of Little Rock, Arkansas.

Also surviving him are his mother, who is living in Lawrence, Nebraska; and 40 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning (Friday) at nine o'clock at the Holy Family Church at Nazareth.

Softball Meeting Is Slated Tonight

Organization of the Hereford Softball League for the 1948 season will be completed tonight at a meeting at City Hall, Debs Knox, president of the Association, announced today.

Representatives of all teams interested in joining the league are invited to attend the meeting at 8 o'clock tonight (Thursday). The Association hopes to form an 8-team loop, Knox said.

Railroad Signalman Electrocutted

Winfred Lee Childress, 20 years old signalman for the Santa Fe Railroad, was electrocuted late yesterday afternoon.

Childress accidentally came in contact with high voltage power lines while attempting to fix a blown fuse at the Santa Fe switchyards in Hereford. He was dead before fellow workmen could shut off the power and lower him from the cross-arm of the pole where he hung head downward for several minutes.

The accident occurred at about 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The emergency squad of the Hereford Fire Department was summoned but all efforts to revive the man failed.

A large crane operated by a Santa Fe work gang had come in contact with high voltage wires near the track, and the resulting short had blown a fuse. Ignoring warnings from fellow workers to wait until a repairman could be summoned, Childress climbed the pole to replace the fuse, claiming previous experience with line work.

His shoulder touched a hot wire and he was knocked backward, but one leg which he had crooked over the cross arm remained caught and he dangled from the pole for several minutes while fellow workers shut off the power and managed to lower him to the ground.

Childress had been in Hereford for about six months, working as signalman for the Santa Fe. He was married, and lived with his wife. (Continued on page 5)

Francis Wilhelm Is Critically Injured

Francis Wilhelm, 24 years old, son of E. J. Wilhelm of Nazareth was seriously injured Monday afternoon when his arm was caught in the belt of a feed grinder.

Francis and a brother-in-law, Ernie Brockman also of Nazareth, were working together when Brockman heard the tractor motor sound- ing oddly and when he turned to see what was wrong saw that Wilhelm had got his arm in the belt.

Before he could be carried to the house he was unconscious and was rushed to the Dimmitt Hospital where he received treatment.

Both bones were broken in an arm, his back was injured and he has possible internal injuries and face lacerations. His condition is reported critical.

Next Thursday Will Be Pick-up Day For Trucks

Plans for Hereford's third annual spring clean-up week will be completed tomorrow night when representatives of Hereford Lions, Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, JayCees, and Federated Women's Clubs will meet at the Chamber of Commerce office.

John Kelly, JayCee president, will be in charge of the meeting in the absence of Debs Knox, who is heading the JayCee Clean-Up committee.

Hereford JayCees are taking the lead in organizing the clean-up drive this year, but have called on other clubs of the city to assist in the city-wide campaign.

Mayor W. E. Dameron, pledging the full cooperation of the City, the week issued a proclamation setting aside all of next week as official Clean-up Week, and making next Thursday, April 23, the official Collection Day when city trucks will cover the entire town, hauling off all trash that has been collected.

Knox said this week that all organizations contacted have pledged their full cooperation.

Lions and Rotary Club members and the Chamber of Commerce have been asked to supervise the clean-up in the business district.

The Federated Women's Club members have been asked to supervise the work in the residential areas of the city.

JayCees, with the City's cooperation, will undertake the clean-up. (Continued on page 10)

Phillip Miller Is District Trustee In C. S. D. No. 6

Phillip Miller, not B. B. Northcutt, is the district trustee in the Bippus-Walcott Common School District No. 6.

The County School Board member from that district.

The error in reporting results of the April 3 school election was made last week by The Brand.

In other common school district elections on April 3, Wilson Wily was elected in the Messenger District (No. 10); and Zerrell Thomas was named district trustee in Simms District (No. 11).

AROUND TOWN SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

City Marshall Buck Euckalew has a slight beef about Hereford's sweeping their trash out in the streets every morning. Buck thinks it's swell that these business men are so conscientious about keeping their places of business clean, but points out, reasonably enough, that city men are trying hard to keep the streets clean too. The streets are swept every night and his a little discouraging to see these early-morning janitors unloading on the slick-and-span pavement. Buck points out, also reasonably, that there's a city ordinance about the sweeping of trash on the sidewalks and... well...

Here's a yelp for help from our advertising department. Hugh Book-out-down at Commercial Oil came in the other day and bought a big ad to announce a Bendis School for Friday, April 23, and found out after the ad had already been printed that the date had been changed to April 24 (Saturday). Adman Bert Neely wanted to know if we could help help him out, and... well, we're doing the best we can. Just read Saturday where it says Friday when you look the ad over folks.

Lyle Blanton left by plane Wednesday for San Angelo on a business trip and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dorell Blanton accompanied him as far as Sweetwater where she will visit with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Henslee who live there. Spring has definitely arrived. The first of the annual "Big Eggs" stories has appeared. A. C. Herchey brought this one in. It's a four-and-a-half ounce omelet, laid by an Austrian.

Mrs. Josie Smith Died Sunday at Amarillo Hospital

Funeral services for Mrs. Josie Smith, 75 years old, were held in Amarillo Monday following her death Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Pale.

Mrs. Smith was once a resident of Hereford when she lived here with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pale. She left here in 1943 with her daughter and had lived in Amarillo since then up to the time of her death. She died in Northwest Texas Hospital.

She was the mother of Leland Smith of Dimmitt and is an aunt of Ralph Smith of Hereford.

Rev. A. D. Forman of the First Baptist Church in Amarillo conducted the services which were held in the Blackburn-Show Memorial Chapel.

Garden Club Sets Dates For Annual Spring Flower Show

Dates for the spring flower show to be staged by the Hereford Garden Club have been set for Saturday and Sunday, April 24 and 25. The show will be held at the Camp Fire Girls Hut at Tenth and Main. The show will be open to the public on Saturday from 2 P. M. to 10 P. M. and on Sunday from 2:30 P. M. to 6:30 P. M. Admission will be 12 and 40 cents.

The entire flower show is built around a "Spring Symphony" theme and promises to be one of the most colorful and artistically arranged events in the history of the club's activities. In connection with the show a "Musical Style Revue" will be presented to add unique beauty and charm. The Gay O. Cs will assist in the Revue and a part of the proceeds will go to the Camp Fire fund.

Mrs. O. G. Hill is club president and Mrs. C. D. Carnahan is general chairman of the show. Mrs. Carnahan headed the Executive Committee, and accredited judges have been asked to make the awards.

Other committees are: Staging, Mrs. Earl Springer; entries, Mrs. O. G. Hill; Division I (artistic arrangements) Mrs. W. S. Kerr; and Division II, (Culture Classes) Mrs. J. P. Blain; Properties, Mrs. E. E. Friday; Publicity, Mrs. Homer Brunley; Judging, Mrs. F. M. Koster; Clerks, Mrs. John Robinson; Awards, Mrs. W. (Continued on page 10)

William R. Fowler was arrested and charged in county court this week with driving while license was suspended.

Fowler plead guilty, and paid a fine and costs totaling $25.50 in County Court Tuesday.

CONSERVATION FUNDS AVAILABLE TO HELP FARMERS HERE

ACA Office Ready to Aid Farmers in Deal
Smith County to Protect Land from Blow

Two farm conservation practices approved in this county by the Agriculture Conservation Administration should be of particular interest to Deaf Smith farmers who have large acreage tracts not planted to crops this year, Faust Collier, ACA secretary reports.

There are over 200,000 acres of land in this county which are not planted to crops at this time, Collier estimates.

The two practices which the ACA secretary is recommending to attention of farmers now are contour listing, chiseling, basin listing or pit cultivation; and chiseling not on the contour of cropland or land planted to crops in 1948.

This year, it also provides for a payment of 25 cents per acre on cropland other than summer-fallowed acreage. The payments are not applicable to irrigated land.

The second practice is a special practice approved for this county, and provides a payment of 20 cents per acre for chiseling of cropland not on contour. This practice is designed particularly for this area for farms where contour plowing would run the rows into the wind.

It is not applicable to irrigated land, or to slopes averaging more than three percent grade.

These assistance payments for conservation work on land in cultivation but not planted to crops should be of particular value to Deaf Smith county farmers this year, Collier believes.

Nearly half of last year's record acreage of wheat is unplanted this year, he reports, due to the drought last fall. Collier estimates that the unplanted acreage may run higher than 200,000 acres in the county.

Applications for approval of these practices may be filed with the Deaf Smith County ACA by mail, or may be made in person at the ACA office in the courthouse.

Applications should be made for approval before beginning the practices, Collier warned. When approval is granted by the county committee the practice should be carried out according to specifications, and the completion reported to the county committee so that payment can be made.

Cutworms Attacking
Wheat on Miller
Farm Near Hereford

Usually its Greenbugs... but here's something new to plague the wheat farmer.

The old-fashioned cutworm... the kind that thrived on black-eye peas back in the dust bowl days... has developed a taste for young wheat.

The cutworms have cleaned out 113 acres of wheat for Dick Miller, whose farm is about 14 miles northwest of Hereford. Wes Brady and Faust Collier of the ACA office made positive identification of the villains on Monday.

Miller had noticed a large plot of wheat shriveling suddenly in found that the stems had been neatly cut about an inch below the ground. Digging further, he turned up dozens of worms which he identified, unbelieving, as cutworms.

Wes Brady, sent out to investigate, brought back a jar full of samples, and everybody has agreed that they're common, ordinary cutworms. A few other instances of cutworms working on wheat have been reported in the area, Collier said, but Miller is the first which has been covered by Federal Crop Insurance.

"Home Furnishings" Studied By Club

Lone Star Study Club met with Mrs. Jack Grady Tuesday afternoon for a study of "Home Furnishings." Roll call was answered with new things for the home.

Mrs. Nelson McRight discussed China, Glassware and Silverware in the home, telling something of the history of the wares and the traditional designs.

Mrs. H. E. Henslee gave good advice in a talk on "Selection and Care of Rugs" stressing the importance in selection of pattern, texture and color.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Jim Higgins. Members present were Mesdames: R. G. Blue, Roger Corbett, H. E. Henslee, Jim Higgins, Berry Jacobsen, John Jacobson Jr., Joe Kendall, Louie LeGrand, Nelson McRight, Coy Phillips, Ed Warren, Lawrence Womble and the hostess.

Mrs. Homer Brumley attended a vice-presidents conference of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church in Amarillo Tuesday. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Montfort, and her little daughter Carolyn.

Did you read the hospital story on page one?

It appears that Deaf Smith County will have to increase their tax rate four cents on the $100—a total of $4,000 a year—or settle for an even smaller hospital.

On one hand, the original plans have already been cut and reduced to a minimum. You will recall that the first bond issue (which failed) was in the amount of $250,000, which was recommended by the hospital board. When the people did not vote this issue, a second election was called, this time for $150,000, which passed. The hospital board and the staff eliminated, cut and chiseled on what they needed—and admitted that the proposed bonds would be a decided improvement, although perhaps not adequate.

Increasing costs since that time have created a situation whereby it is not possible to get bids to cover the proposed improvements in the $150,000 bond issue, the lowest bid being $183,000.

Now the Commissioners are faced with a serious question. Do they want to again cut the hospital specifications or should they raise the tax rate four cents on the $100 and go ahead with the $183,000 bid which covers the second set of specifications?

Actually, the cost isn't much. On a five room home valued at $2,500, it would figure one dollar a year. Farm values are in some cases ranging from $20 down to $5 an acre, a general average would be around $11—and a quarter section would face an increased cost of approximately 70 cents a year. All these figures are naturally above the present tax schedules.

On the other hand, many people feel that government expenditures should be controlled—even curbed. There has always been considerable opposition to improving the hospital.

Whether you are FOR or AGAINST the additional $4,000 a year in taxes, it is your duty to talk to one or all of the County Commissioners. They will appreciate your views, especially your own Commissioner. These boys have a tough problem to face. Remember, see them Friday sometime before their meeting on Friday night. The Commissioners are Troy Moore, precinct 1; Jeff Robertson, precinct 2; T. Quinn, precinct 3; and John I. Morris, precinct 4.

Last Saturday The Brand remained closed in order that the entire crew might attend the Panhandle Press Association meeting. We are sure this created some inconvenience for a few people, and wish to express our appreciation for your consideration and patience during this time. Several papers have been doing this for a year or two, but it is the first time for The Brand.

It seems that each member of the force picked up a few ideas, made a few friends, and came home with the idea of bringing you a better newspaper each week. It was certainly interesting to note how newspaper people over the Panhandle seem to have the general feeling that Hereford is "a town with a future." Everyone we met had a good word to say about Hereford and about how the town is growing. Lots and lots of publishers were intensely interested in The Brand's proposed Sunday edition.

Lewis Nordyke was campaigning for Governor in 1950. I believe he really intends to run. Cal Farley was discussed considerably as a candidate for Congress. Some people thought he wouldn't get to first base against Gene Worley, while others thought it would be a Farley landslide. Farley has not announced and may not even enter the race. However, some of the boys seem to have talked with him and say that they will take "No" for an answer. I don't know what the inside dope is on the situation. However, there was lots of talking and I have heard plenty more around Hereford since I returned. The ball seems to be rolling. Mr. Farley will probably be drafted as a country boy's prediction: "It will not be a run-away for either candidate: It will be a hard fought closely contested race. Both men have a few enemies, both have lots of friends!"

Tom Carter has a fishing story to end all fishing stories. Even Joe Bishop cannot top it. Tom and Mrs. Carter accompanied by her brother, Dan Park, left Dallas recently and drove to a point between Laredo and Monterey, Mexico, where they left the paved road and headed for a government constructed lake.

"It took us more than three hours to cover 40 miles of road after we left the pavement," Tom says. "But it was worth it all. The lake is fairly large and is called Don Martin (Martin). They have a nice little hotel there and plenty of boats. In less than three hours, I caught more than 50 bass."

Tom says they won't let you keep a bass under two pounds. He further says that everyone catches fish like this—100 pounds an afternoon. They use special plugs on regulation casting rods and tackle. Tom says you can bring out all the fish you can haul.

I asked Tom if he didn't think people would flock in and catch out the fish in a year or two, but he wasn't worried, adding, "No sir, as long as that 40-mile strip of road remains in its present condition."

Question of the week: Does Urin Streu have that turtle log electrified? I have watched and watched, and have never seen but one turtle on the log—and that was the morning one which has no letter on his back.

Some people have family closets filled with skeletons, while others prefer the Fibber McGee type which scatters things to the four winds when the door is opened. Out in this county we have a similar situation regarding the high winds. A 50-mile wind can be blowing down trees with the air so filled with dust that you cannot even see the traffic lights, and Chamber of Commerce Secretary Pete Cowart will convince you that it is merely a breeze.

On the other hand, there are some few people who are actually proud of the high winds which sweep through the high Plains. They will argue that we have the highest and strongest and worst winds in the whole wide world. In-between these two classes stands an oldtimer who probably knows more about high winds than any other man in the Panhandle. He is an authority and a historian on the subject, and by invitation we present the following account regarding high winds in the Hereford Territory:

By F. H. Oberthier
The longest period of high winds was in March, 1914, after five dry years, and these were moving houses from Hereford to Canyon and other towns. Welliver and Pollock, two successful Illinois farmers had sold out and come to Hereford in the early winter. They had bought a half section of grass land from McDonald and Edwards Land Co., and had contracted with D. L. McDonnell for an irrigation well to be drilled on the land. They got here around January, 1914, and were waiting for the well and pumping plant to be completed. In March the wind really did blow—for 10 days it blew hard, day and night—and the two Illinois men figured they had come to the windiest place in the world. One morning I met them on the street west of the First National Bank and we stood behind the old wood building out of the wind, which was surely whistling.

They asked me if the wind blew here all of the time like that. I told them "No, if it did none of us would be in Hereford." They answered that Hereford ladies told their wives that it did. In a few days after the ten days of high winds, it was quiet and nice. A gentle rain started falling and continued for ten days. That rain broke the five year drought.

With that season in the ground, Welliver and Pollock contracted with a Mr. White, who had an Avery gasoline tractor (the first successful full gasoline tractor in the Hereford territory) to break two hundred acres of their grass land. In the meantime, the irrigation plant had been completed and they didn't need it greatly—for that was a seasonable year for moisture. However, they had 40 acres of the land broke deep and irrigated for alfalfa. That was the first time we had seen alfalfa planted on sod land, and

Diary

April 14, 1948

DEAR DIARY:

I am not an alarmist, but it looks to me as though we are to be confronted with some shortages again—particularly in steel, aluminum, copper, zinc, lead and tin. The coal strike shut down lots of blast furnaces—curtailed rail traffic, and shut down many industries dependent upon coal and steel. It will take several months to get all these industries back into production. Meanwhile, the European recovery program together with this country's rearmament program is going to take increasingly larger portions of the factory output—thus shortening consumer lines. All of which boils down to the suggestion that if you are going to need anything made of steel—don't wait—buy soon—it will not be cheaper any time soon, and it may go higher or not be available.

The time has come to consider outdoor activities—fishing, camping, picnicking, tennis, baseball, and bicycling. Walter has accumulated the darndest bunch of fishing tackle I have ever seen, along with Coleman lanterns and camp stoves, and electric lanterns, flashlights, portable radios, car refrigerators, sleeping bags, air mattresses. Harold has been buying all the baseball stuff he could lay hands on—most of it the famous Wilson line—good stuff and priced right. Almost forgot to mention we have charcoal for outdoor grills in 45 lb. sacks and 4 lb. packages.

Our stock of gardening and lawn equipment is still good—we have hose in 50 and 25 ft. lengths as well as in the bulk—and the couplings to make any length you want.

And over on the ladies side of the store, the girls have been getting in a bunch of stuff they bought at the gift show last February. Some very useful items and some gadgets that are totally useless—but pretty.

Which brings to mind that the old tennis court at the High School is also totally useless as a tennis court. There is a movement afoot to build several courts east of the hospital. If you are interested in tennis, come by and I'll give you the dope as far as possible. Wonder if there is anything in the wind concerning the old golf course? It could still be made one of the best in the Panhandle with just a little work and money. How about it?

Little Diner Is Robbed Again Monday Night; Reward Offered

The Little Diner, located on Highway 60, was robbed Saturday night for the second time in six months, and Sheriff J. C. Reese has joined the rate owner, Mrs. Carl Sevier, in offering a $100 cash award for the culprits.

The robbery last Saturday night was almost a duplicate of the still-unresolved looting on October 6, when "hungry" thieves burglarized the Diner and virtually cleaned out the pantry.

Saturday night the robbers took most of the cutlery, including two dozen knives and forks, two dozen teaspoons, a carving set, one large steel spoon, four soup spoons, a boning knife and a large kitchen knife, six plates, a meat maul, five aprons, six cartons of cigarettes, ten pounds of sugar, and even the pen and ink from the book-keeping department. Entry was made through a barred rear window, according to Sheriff Reese and City Marshal Buck Buckalew, who investigated the robbery Sunday morning.

Reese said that Mrs. Sevier had offered $50 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the burglars, and that he would match that amount, making the reward $100.

In the robbery last October, thieves not only cleaned out all the eating utensils at the Diner, but emptied the refrigerator as well, took $36.15 from the cash register, and a dozen cartons of cigarettes from the shelves.

Mrs. Elmer Patterson, president of Hereford PTA will be prepared to give information about the conference and help those needing transportation since several cars are going with passenger space.

On Tuesday morning reports of standing committees and officers will be heard. A health program under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Cypher of Borger will be presented.

A lunch at noon will be at the Amarillo Hotel for all delegates and visitors. Reservations for the lunch should be sent early to Mrs. N. O. Ferguson, 1501 Van Buren of Amarillo.

In the afternoon Mrs. C. R. Lamer and Mrs. H. F. Godeke as representatives of the organization will have parts on the program as will

SANTA FE UPSETS OLD TRADITIONS Easy-to-Read Timetable Is Newest Railroad Wrinkle

A new, easy-to-read time table has made its appearance on Santa Fe trains in the last few days.

T. B. Gallaher, General Passenger Traffic Manager for the Santa Fe at Chicago, today announced the innovation for the additional convenience of travelers aboard the trains.

The new time table carries an individual schedule for each Santa Fe transcontinental train, Gallaher said, and each section includes, in addition to train times, such information as mileage, altitudes, train connections at principal terminals, correct locations to reset watches, rivers crossed and the time of crossing, and other incidental information of interest to travelers, including even a list of tunnels on the Santa Fe, their length and the times the trains will pass through them.

In the old-style time tables it was necessary for passengers on north and eastbound trains to "read up" bound passengers "read down." On the new table, all schedules "read down", and there are separate sections for each direction.

Gallaher said the new folder in no way takes the place of the system time table, which also recently has been revamped, but is intended to prove Santa Fe's transcontinental passengers with a simplified time card pertaining only to the trains and routes on which they are traveling.

Thin up to 20 acres daily with this proved row crop thinner

The Cropmaster row crop thinner has been thoroughly tested in the Mountain Area on sugar beets, head lettuce, celery, onions and other row crops. One Colorado farmer says, "Your thinner can be used to block and cultivate at the same time. I used it on 80 acres of beets . . . this machine left a better stand than straight hand labor."

Saves Time . . . Ends Labor Worries. One man thins up to 20 acres per day . . . the Cropmaster attaches to any popular make wheel tractor. Automatic block adjusts from 2" to 18". Oscillating, self cleaning, diamond shaped knives cut underground—leaves mulch in row, aids soil in retaining moisture.

Built for Long Wear. Square tubular, steel frame gives great strength. Bronze bearings used at all wear points. All parts electrically welded into one solid, dependable trouble-free unit.

Tired business men at this time of the year turn to golf as an out-door exercise, but no "cow pasture golf" appeals to a rugged gang of Hereford old-timers.

Hunting "buried treasure" is their hobby.

James C. Cox, along with Joe Green, George Millard, Harry Lomas, and one or two more who are beginners, spend their spare time and all holidays out looking for arrowheads and other relics of the past.

Arrowheads, tomahawks, spear heads, bones of prehistoric animals and other relics of other centuries are grist for their mill. When the spring winds begin to blow, these hunters become restless, and are never happy until they make their first big or unusual find.

The wind, the treasure hunters explain, is their biggest ally. It usually after the worst sandstorms that their biggest finds are made. The winds that sweep the Plains turn up all sorts of odds and ends from under Mother Nature's carpet.

The first big discovery thus far this season was a part of a huge mastodon bone recently uncovered by Cox in Chalk Hill Lake, 15 miles west of Hereford on Harrison Highway. He believes that with a little excavating, the entire skeleton might be found.

Jumbo Lake is another likely treasure trove of pre-historic fossils, Cox reports.

The discovery at Chalk Hill was his second big find. The other was a six and a half foot mammoth tusk which weighed 275 pounds, found near Pampa. Cox presented it to Judge Meade of Pampa for his collection.

Cox himself has quite a collection, but it is not on display at the present time. In it are over 1,000 arrow heads of all shapes and sizes, flint and other stones.

Along with these he has tomahawks, spear heads, bone and flint awls, bone haws, Indian pipes, manuels and matets used in grinding corn by the earlier Indians, an ancient Indian skull, and one of a still-identified animal.

His collection also includes a few old coins, guns and watches.

With a few exceptions, the entire collection has been gathered in the Texas Panhandle area. A few items have been sent from other parts of the country by friends.

But the Panhandle, with the aid of spring winds, is happy hunting ground for collectors of Indian and pre-historic relics.

Placing State School Aid on Attendance Basis Gets Boost

AUSTIN, April 14—(AP)—Plans for changing the basis for allocating state financial aid to schools have the blessing of the Good Neighbor Commission of Texas.

Many groups have sought to change the granting of aid to put it on the basis of attendance, rather than on a head count of scholastics. This would require a constitutional amendment. The constitution now directs that the available school fund be distributed to the counties "according to their populations."

Dr. George I. Sanchez, President of the Southwestern Council on Education of Spanish-Speaking People, told the commission at its March meeting that this requirement puts a premium on non-attendance.

He was replying to a question from commission member Guy Warren of Corpus Christi, who had asked the Educator what he would think of placing state aid on the basis of average attendance rather than on a census count of scholastics in each district.

Advocates of the plan have long contended that many counties take advantage of

School Vote Saturday at Rance, Here

Another school consolidation election, probably the last for voters in the Hereford Rural High School District, will be held Saturday.

Voters in the Hereford district, and in the Rance Common School District in Castro County, will go to the polls Saturday in simultaneous elections to ballot on the union of the Rance District with the Hereford Rural High School District.

As in other elections of this type, the issue must be approved by the majority of voters in both school districts.

The election in this county was ordered last month by County Judge Leonard Foster, in response to a petition from local voters.

At the same time, an election of the Rance District was set by County Judge E. L. Ivey.

Polls for voters in the Hereford Rural High School District will be at the Dear Smith County Courthouse. S. L. Walser has been appointed presiding judge at the election.

Another Castro County Rural School District, the Frio school, was added to the Hereford Rural High School District in an election last month.

The Summerfield County Line School district, which is partly in Farmer and Castro Counties, was voted into the Hereford Rural High School District last summer, a few months after the district had been formed by the consolidation of five Dear Smith County Common Schools districts with the Hereford Independent District.

When the Rance School election has been decided, school board members have indicated, no other annexations to the far-flung Rural High District are contemplated.

FERTILIZER TALKS

PHOSPHATES DO:

- STIMULATE EARLY ROOT GROWTH AND FORMATION. GIVE RAPID AND VIGOROUS START TO PLANTS. HASTEN MATURITY.
- STIMULATE BLOOMING AND AIDS IN SEED FORMATION. GIVE WINTER HARDINESS TO LATE SEEDED GRAINS, PASTURES AND HAY CROPS.

PHOSPHATE IS THE ONE GREAT STABILIZER OF THE PLANT FOOD NUTRIENTS. IT SERVES TO REGULATE OR STABILIZE THE AMOUNTS OF PLANT FOOD DRAWN FROM THE SOIL, THEREBY MAINTAINING A HEALTHY AND WELL BALANCED PLANT.

The importance of available phosphorus in the soil cannot be overstressed, as unsatisfactory plant growth is often due to a shortage of this element. The use of phosphates on beets, alfalfa and pasture grasses is highly recommended. The response of alfalfa to this element is well known and almost common knowledge. In addition to stimulating greater growth, the feed value of the hay is increased. As a result, the stock to which it is fed are therefore better fed.

INDICATIONS OF PHOSPHATE DEFICIENCIES ARE:
PURPLISH LEAVES, STEMS AND BRANCHES.
SLOW GROWTH AND MATURITY.
SMALL SLENDER STALKS IN THE CASE OF CORN. IN SMALL GRAINS LACK OF STOOING AND LOW YIELDS.

The natural phosphorus in many soils is bound in insoluble forms so that only a small part of it becomes available in any one cropping season. For this reason, even soils with a high phosphate content can fail to provide available supplies adequate for maximum crop production every year.

IF YOUR FARM NEEDS THIS ELEMENT, USE IT LIBERALLY AND LET COMMERCIAL PHOSPHORUS FERTILIZER SUPPLEMENT YOUR OTHER GOOD FARM PRACTICES FOR BETTER YIELDS, GREATER PROFITS AND A BETTER LOOKING FARM. WE ALL KNOW THAT ONLY A RICH MAN CAN AFFORD NOT TO.

WE WILL APPRECIATE THE OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE YOU IN YOUR FERTILIZER NEEDS.

Social Security Offices Do Not Want Your Money

It's time for employers to file their quarterly social security tax returns, again—but the Social Security Administration doesn't want your money! J. R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo, Texas Social Security Office, says that his office again has received a number of tax returns, with money enclosed, which should have been sent instead to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

When mailed, the quarterly social security tax returns should be sent to the Collector of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas.

When sent by error to the social security office, returns are delayed in reaching Internal Revenue, Sanderson explained.

He reminded employers who have not yet completed the returns for the quarter ending March 31, 1948, that they should exercise care in reporting the complete name and exact social security number of each employee who worked, for no matter how short a period, during January, February, and March. The return must be filed not later than April 30, 1948, by all employers of one or more persons on work covered by the Social Security Act.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Petersen visited Sunday in the home of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson of Shamrock, Sunday.

They will visit several points of interest there, returning this week to Hereford. They were accompanied by Mrs. Dunlap's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lee of Dallas. St. Anthony's Church Is Setting For Fangman-Betzen Marriage Rites

Miss Dorothy Fangman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fangman, and Mike Betzen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Betzen, were married on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in St. Anthony's Catholic Church with the Rev. Father Albert Heald performing the double-ring ceremony.

Shafts of light from stained-glass windows blended with the soft glow of candles on the altar to illuminate the front of the church. Bouquets of red carnations tied with white satin ribbon to the kneeling bench. Before the ceremony Miss Martha Jesko played a nuptial prelude arranged by Rossini on the organ and Miss Adeline Koelzer sang "On This Day" (Billotte) and "Ave Maria" by Rossini.

The bride wore a dress of white bridal satin with tight fitting bodice designed with peplum in the back, and long pointed sleeves. The heart-shaped neckline was outlined with pearl embroidery and the long full skirt fell into a long train under a tiara of seed pearls matching the pearl design on the dress. She wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white leather prayer book and white rosary. Her flowers were American Beauty roses tied with satin streamers.

The bridesmaids were Teresa Fangman, sister of the bride, and Geraldine Paschel. They wore identically designed dresses with Miss Fangman wearing pastel blue and Miss Paschel in pale pink. The dresses were of taffeta made with hooped skirts attached to bodices made with wide ripple of taffeta around the shoulder yoke extending over cap sleeves. The full skirts were caught with flowers at the bottom to show dainty white lace petticoats. They wore short veils to match their dresses held by bands of flowers and both wore corsages of white carnations and carried prayer books and rosaries.

Jimmy Fangman and Alfred Hoffmann were groomsmen and ushers were Eugene Fangman and Robert Betzen. Arnold Fangman and Joe Betzen were the mass servers.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Besser, and a dinner at noon in the home of her parents, honored the couple.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to points in New Mexico and Arizona, the bride wore a powder-blue gaberdine suit with black and white accessories. Her veiled off-the-face hat was of black straw and she wore a rose from her wedding bouquet pinned to her shoulder.

Upon their return from the wedding trip they will make their home on a farm north of Hereford.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ridger Jr., John VenJohn, Mrs. Rosena Betzen, Miss Edith Winter, M. J. Betzen and P. N. Betzen, all of Kansas, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jentzen of Vega.

Martin-Hnatek Wedding Rites Solemnized in Baptist Church

In a single ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church Monday evening, Miss Ella Mae Martin became the bride of John Hnatek Jr. of Houston with Rev. J. B. Harlin, ministerial student at Wayland College, Plainview, reading the service. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Martin and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hnatek Sr. of Halleyville.

Mrs. J. B. Harlin, Miss Lilye London and Mrs. Pauline Loerwald were in charge of serving.

The wedding trip will include stops at points of interest enroute to Houston where the couple will live. Mr. Hnatek is employed by the Coca Cola Company in Houston.

The altar of the church was banked with greenery and baskets of yellow snapdragons and gladioli. Yellow tapers burned in graduating candelabra.

Miss Thelma McMinn played the traditional wedding marches and preceding the ceremony played the Indian Love Call. She accompanied Bettye Katherine Hodges who sang "Because" (D'Hardelo) and "I Love You Truly" (Boad).

Miss Frances Young was maid of honor. She was dressed in a blue woolen dress and carried a colonial nosegay of yellow gladioli petals. Thomas Martin, brother of the bride served as best man.

Loreta and Frances Cole of Plainview, nieces and the bride, lighted the tapers and ushers were her brothers, J. B. and James Martin, and a nephew, Dickie Martin.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in all white. Her street length woolen dress was made with peplum and she wore a white straw hat. Her only ornament was a cameo pin belonging to an aunt, Mrs. Ethel Lewalyn, and she carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

An informal reception was held in the church fellowship hall after the wedding when cake was served from a table decorated with yellow roses and jonquills and lighted candles.

Tech Students to Stage Annual All-College Rodeo On Lubbock Campus Friday, Saturday

LUBBOCK, April 15—Arrangements for the annual rodeo April 16 and 17 sponsored by Block and Bridle Club, Texas Technological College organization for students enrolled in agriculture, are in the final stages at the club's campus headquarters.

Atmosphere of the "old west" with its traditional practices and typical regalia will prevail over the entire campus during the two-day Texas Tech all-western extravaganza.

Rodeo performances Friday night at 8 o'clock, and Saturday at 2:30 p. m. will highlight the western observance. Performers are to come from the student ranks of cowboys and cowgirls who are committed to participate in the roughest and toughest of ranch skills. Spectators may expect to watch fancy riding and roping, bull dogging, ribbon roping, wild cow milking and bronc-busting.

Awards for the guys and gals who excel in rodeo activities are to be presented at a rodeo dance Saturday night at the college gymnasium. Sheriff Floyd Lawhorn, appointed from the agriculture student body, will "ride herd" on the celebrants. Edd Hughes is general chairman of the 1948 show.

A parade at five o'clock Friday afternoon will officially open the tenth campus rodeo. Saturdays show will be started in regular ranch and round-up style with a chuck wagon breakfast in aggie grove at 6:45 a. m. The awards dance Saturday night will conclude the annual spring custom.

The United States has $21,000,000,000 worth of pipe that carry manufactured, natural and liquefied gases from their sources to places of application.

This country is estimated to have 400,000 miles of service and residential gas pipe.

Around town cont. Galley two White, and measures 8 and a half inches the long way, six and a quarter inches around the middle. Can anybody beat it? Ostriches are barred.

NEW ARRIVALS IN TOWN: Aubyn Earl Hodges Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hodges, April 7; Redlyn Tracy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Tracy, April 14; and Joellen Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hamilton, April 14. . . all at Deaf Smith County Hospital; and Richard John Kuper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kuper and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kuper.

Arthur Thompson says that at least 75 people have asked him what kind of a car he was driving in the old picture (see Long Time Ago, April 8) and most wanted to know if it were a Ford. Arthur says no. Ford's were just a gleam in Henry's eye back in those days . . . it was a Winton.

Corinne Jennings, who edits the Long Ago feature in The Brand every week, was quite pleased to know that so many people read the feature . . . but we're not surprised, and will guess that its probably read by most of our subscribers. Is that right?

Corinne, by the way, dug through the old records at City Hall and found where Arthur Thompson was arrested for driving without lights . . . way back when. Arthur says the story's right, but the judge failed to show up and court was dismissed. Does he still owe a fine, or does the statute of limitations apply . . . you lawyers?

We're indebted to the Long Ago column (how many people DO read that) for this item, too. Mrs. E. J. Hudson called Corinne the other day to tell her about the location of Twist, mentioned in last week's 45-Years Ago column. According to Mrs. Hudson, who once lived there, it's located on the Fort Worth and Denver railway between Channing and Hartley, 7 miles out of Channing and in one of the oldest towns in the Panhandle. Mrs. Hudson lived there when it was an unloading place for feed cake, etc., for ranchers in that district, but thinks its probably just a switch now.

Hugh Clearman and Colby Conkright attended a meeting in Amarillo Monday. They heard a committee report from Washington whose subjects were on long range farm program and hoof and mouth diseases. Howard Gault, Fred Barrett and Jack Renfro also attended the meetings.

New York State residents once presented a 1,400 pound cheese to President Jackson.

The meeting is open to the public and will begin at 8 o'clock in the District Courtroom. Sessums is well informed on this subject and can probably answer any and all questions which might be asked, says Ralph Smith, County Veteran's Service Officer.

No holidays will be declared this year, Mayor Dameron said, since the city as a whole is in excellent shape, and no major clean-up activities are expected to be necessary in most sections.

The clean-up campaign this year is viewed by the sponsors as a routine spring cleaning. Two major clean-up campaigns during the past two years have removed most of the big accumulation of junk and efficient operation of city trash and garbage trucks has kept most sections of town in good condition.

Each property owner is being asked to clean up his own property.

COMMUNITY BUILDERS: MRS. L. R. BRADLEY, PIONEER CATTLEWOMAN

At Seventy-five, Mrs. Ollie Bradly Starts Herd Book to Keep Tabs for Boys Ranch on Valuable Registered Herd

Latest project of one of the Texas Panhandle's outstanding pioneer cattlemen is the preparation of a herd book for the foundation herd of registered Hereford cattle recently presented to Boy's Ranch.

It's a labor of love. The lady who's undertaken the big job has just turned 75. She's Mrs. Ollie D. Bradly of Hereford.

When cattlemen and ranchers of Deaf Smith and adjoining counties, under the leadership of Ezra Norton of Hereford, last month presented a valuable herd of 30 registered Hereford heifers and a pair of registered Whiteface bulls to Boy's Ranch, Mrs. Bradly claimed the task of preparing and keeping a herd book for the ranch . . . as her contribution to "the boys."

Few persons in this cattle capital of the southwest are better qualified. Mrs. Bradly, a daughter of one of Deaf Smith county's pioneer families, is a pioneer in her own right. Born in 1873 near Greensboro, North Carolina, she moved to Huntington, Tennessee, in 1891 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Womble and their family of ten, and then came to Amarillo on January 29, 1891. She was married in 1891 to C. L. Palmer, and she and her husband made their home in Deaf Smith county . . . northeast of the site of the present town of Hereford, and about 6 miles from Wildorado. A year later, she was a widow with an infant daughter.

Her first daughter, now Mrs. Lan Shore of Hereford, was born in Amarillo after a hazardous overland trip by wagon from the Deaf Smith county homestead in a blinding blizzard . . . a trip which Mrs. Bradly brushes aside as a routine hazard of pioneer living. With her husband and two brothers, she had started to Amarillo with a herd of cattle. A norther, and snow, caught the party enroute. It became so cold she recalls that she had to walk seven miles or more to keep from freezing. The next day her baby was born.

For four years, she worked (part of the time at an Amarillo hotel for four dollars a week) to support her baby. Then she came to the G. B. Jewell (Sr.) ranch near Hereford known for many years as Old Sulphur Park . . . to help Mrs. Jewell at the ranch.

"While there," she recalls, "I met a neighbor of the Jewells who lived a mile down the creek . . . Lewis R. Bradly. Before long, he decided that he needed me to help with his housework, and talked me into taking over those tasks."

They were married . . . November 1, 1896.

Mr. Bradly had come to the Panhandle in 1893 from Grayson county, and had worked for the LS, the UV, Frying Pan, and T-Anchor ranches before starting a ranch of his own in 1899.

By 1896 he had 21 sections under lease in and near Hereford, in addition to his own ranch of four or five sections, and owned 500 to 600 head of cattle.

In 1898, he and G. R. (Rat) Jewell bought 19 head of registered Hereford cows and a herd bull from C. E. Cross of the Sunnyslope Farms, Emporia, Kansas, and started the first registered Hereford herd in Deaf Smith county.

They were located on a ranch a few miles east of the present town of Hereford, and the town was named after this herd.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Bradly (above) posed for this wedding photo shortly after they were married in November, 1896.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradly were interested in the growth and development of the new town, and contributed liberally of time and money to the churches, schools, and other civic needs of the town.

Later she was one of the original members of the Board of Directors of the Deaf Smith county hospital. (Continued on page 7)

Dalhart Wolves Win District 1-A Track And Field Championship; Dumas Demons Second

Herd May, Or May Not, Enter Regional Meet

Coach H. V. Stanton said this week that he did not know, definitely, whether the Whiteface track team will compete in the Regional Inter-scholastic League meet at Lubbock or not.

The Regional meet will be held at Texas Tech College in Lubbock on April 24.

Seven members of the Whiteface track squad are eligible for the regional competition, having placed in the first three in one or more of the events at the District meet in Canyon last week-end.

They are Homer Rudd, Jack Reynolds, Neely Kimbrough, Charles Gresham, Leo Hennington, Rueben Knox, and Buddy Corbett.

After their surprisingly poor showing at the District Meet in Canyon last week, where the defending champions came in a poor third behind Dalhart and Dumas, the Whiteface thin-lads will not be rated as strong threats in the regional bracket.

Only Gresham, who stepped the 440-yard dash in a fast 57 seconds, managed to snare a first place at the District Meet.

Leo Hennington, who was counted on for a pair of firsts in the dashes, failed to place at all in the Century, and finished third in the 220-yard dash. On the basis of previous performances this season, however, he is still a powerful threat in both events. His time in the 220, at which he was clocked in 21.2 seconds at Canyon two weeks ago, is one of the best performances turned in this season, and he has run the Century in 10.5 . . . half a second better than the winning time at the district meet last week.

When spring training started on April 5, Kimbrough said, "it is going to be tough, trying to beat last year's record without any replacements for the losses by graduation. We will have a fine freshman squad, but that won't help us any until 1949."

The 1948 schedule for West Texas: Sept. 11—Flagstaff, Arizona, State, Canyon—night conference. Sept. 18—Texas Tech in Lubbock, night conference. Sept. 25—Abilene Christian in Canyon, night.

Oct. 2—North Texas State in Canyon, night. Oct. 9—Texas College of Mines in El Paso, night conference. Oct. 16—Hardin College in Wichita

SPORTS

Buffaloes Face Double-Tough Football Schedule This Fall

(BY JERRY MALIN)

CANYON, April 12—(Special)—Coach Frank Kimbrough's West Texas State College football squad will face double-tough schedule next fall as the former Southwest Conference coach (Baylor) starts his second season as a head coach in the strict Border Conference.

Last season Kimbrough's team lost only to Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons in the Border Conference. Although he has all but four of his squad back from last year, Kimbrough must rely solely on experience in building for the 1948 schedule. This year the Border Conference goes back to the pre-war standards and freshmen will not be eligible for varsity competition. Therefore, there will be no new faces in the Buffalo line-up next September.

When spring training started on April 5, Kimbrough said, "it is going to be tough, trying to beat last year's record without any replacements for the losses by graduation. We will have a fine freshman squad, but that won't help us any until 1949."

The 1948 schedule for West Texas: Sept. 11—Flagstaff, Arizona, State, Canyon—night conference. Sept. 18—Texas Tech in Lubbock, night conference. Sept. 25—Abilene Christian in Canyon, night.

Oct. 2—North Texas State in Canyon, night. Oct. 9—Texas College of Mines in El Paso, night conference. Oct. 16—Hardin College in Wichita

NEW LINE COACH

Coach Odie Crowell (above) has succeeded Clark Jarnigan as line coach at West Texas State College. Crowell has been coaching at Friona High School since January 1, and resigned last week to take over the Buffalo coaching job as assistant to Coach Frank Kimbrough.

Falls, night. Oct. 23—East Texas State in Dallas, day.

Herd Loses Crown After 4-Year Reign

Coach Gene Sunderman's Dalhart Wolves ended the four-year reign of the Hereford Whitefaces as District 1-A track and field champions at Buffalo Stadium in Canyon Saturday afternoon.

The Whiteface defenders finished a poor third in the annual meet, while the Wolves fought it out with the Dumas Demons for the District crown.

The meet was staged on a dust-whipped oval which handicapped performances in all divisions. The Wolves led the race with 41 points, while Dumas was a close second with 39. Hereford trailed badly with 23 points. Canyon was fourth with 17½ and Dimmitt fifth with 17. Tulla trailed with 15½ points.

Charles Gresham, the Whiteface quarter-miler, won the only first place of the meet for the Hereford team, setting a fast pace around the oval and covering the distance in a hot 57 seconds flat. Team-mate Bobby Hamilton finished in fourth place. Keith Lindley of Tulla was second, and James Root of Dumas third.

The Dumas team virtually swept the field in the dashes to make a strong bid for the title, but Dalhart counted heavily in the field events, with weight-men Gene Mitchell and Allen "Tiny" Felts carrying the mail; and in the mile run, where Wolf-men won the first three places.

Mitchell called the discus 136 feet 1 inch to win first place in that event, and team-mate Delacey Frampton, who had never made a toss of more than 100 feet before, won second place with a toss of 116 feet, 3 inches.

Another Letter to the Editor from . . .

The Bootleg Philosopher

Dear editor: Due to the high wind out here the other day which blew all kinds of newspapers on to my farm along with a few pieces of sheet iron, corn shucks, barrel staves, chicken feathers, etc., I been doing lots of readin lately, though not much cleanin up as I figured the same wind that brought all this junk to my farm also took a lot of stuff off at the same time, leavin things about like they was to start with, which is the way they suit me, and it seems to me that the news-papers is back in a rut again.

One of the papers that turned up out here must have come off of somebody's pantry shelf or off some country newspaper editor's desk, as it was dated 1941, but it was two-thirds through it before I discovered it wasn't no current paper, which I caught by rememberin one of the comic strips. Wasn't no different though from last week's Amarillo News. Trouble in Europe . . . prices goin up . . . Congress debut a loan to defend democracy . . . was boom-in up . . . people arguin over the draft . . . new weapons of destruction bein planned . . . I tell you, people can talk about sorry farmers gettin in a rut, but if the world ain't in a rut, I don't know one when I see it, which I ought to as I been in one myself all my life.

Ordinarily you could count on at least twenty years between wars, and things used to get normal for a year or two at least before they started bein affected by war talk, but here we got war talk startin up again even before the formal peace treatise is signed for the last one.

Now I ain't offerin no solution, and ain't been able to find no politician who's got one either, other than the feelin that if we elect him things won't be as bad as they would if we elected somebody else, but the next time somebody comes around offerin to help us poor farmers out here in the woods in a rut, I think I'll review the world situation for him and tell him so start throwin some gravel in that rut if he ain't got nothin else to do.

Why, I imagine some folks even hint now and then that you and the Hereford Brand is in a rut, but you're pioneers blazin a new trail compared with the world leaders, which makes the world leaders in pretty bad shape, don't it?
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A FAN LETTER FOR THE BOOTLEG PHILOSOPHER

J. A. Finds a Kindred Soul In Former Deaf Smith Farmer

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Bootleg Philosopher has apparently found a kindred soul. The following "fan" letter arrived in The Brand mail this week, and we're passing it on to the Philosopher... and his public.

TO THE BOOTLEG PHILOSOPHER My Dear Sir:

I want to write you a line in appreciation of your letter to the editor, as I am very much in sympathy with what you have in mind for the days when they were changing from the mule to the tractor. In those days we did not have lights. Well, what I want to say is this: when I purchased my first Oliver equipped with lights, right away I asked the dealer to remove those lights and he did, because I say if I can't get my work done in daylight with that tractor there I am going back to horses.

You see to you may let a little room for the other fellow, so keep on hammerin, Good luck and good bye.

J. M. ROBERTSON Rt. 1, Waynesboro, Pennsylvania

Still Blossoming

After a 13-year absence 17-year-old Patricia Northrop is back in farm work. At age 4 she was a pea blossom in Midsummer-Night's Dream. She's still blossoming, too, as you can see by this new picture, taken in and a la Hollywood.

Committee to Study Schools Is Appointed

Sixteen local citizens have been asked to serve on a committee to study local schools and education policies in Deaf Smith county. Appointment of the advisory committee was announced this week by State Senator James E. Taylor, chairman of the Gilmer-Aiken committee which is making a study of public education in Texas.

These committees are being established in every county in Texas. Taylor said, for the purpose of making a careful study of the local schools to ascertain facts concerning the schools for the benefit of local citizens.

Through the cooperative study, the senator continued, these facts, together with recommendations, can be transmitted to the Statewide committee for consideration in the making of recommendations for improving the public school system of Texas.

The names of the persons appointed to membership on the local committee were submitted to the Gilmer-Aiken committee by local service clubs, civic organizations, and local school officials, Taylor said. Heading the committee is Supt. George Graham of the Hereford Rural High School. Members are A. J. (Major) Schroeter, member of the school board; Dr. E. M. Wilshire, Rotary Club president; D. C. Kinsey, Lions Club president; Jimmie Gillentine of The Hereford Brand; D. J. (Dubs) Reeves, Leo Forrest, Francis Hardwick, Don Martin, R. D. State-Wide Wheat Variety School Is Planned at Amarillo April 22 and 23

A large enrollment is expected when country elevator and mill agents, agricultural teachers and certified wheat growers meet at a state school to continue study of wheat kernel characteristics April 22 and 23 at the Grain Exchange Building in Amarillo.

Invitations to buyers and others extended by K. E. Sodor, Director, Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Program, list six instructors headed by Fred T. Dines, nationally recognized variety expert employed by Tex-O-Kan Flour Mills. Other instructors include: R. H. Jordan, Grain Inspector (in Oklahoma); Willis H. Combs, USDA Grain Marketing Specialist from Chicago; plus several A & M College representatives. Other state schools will be held at Fort Worth, Frederick and Enid, Oklahoma.

The program will begin at 9:00 A. M. each day. The first day will be a review of past schools and will give beginners an opportunity to catch up, according to Mr. Sodor. Those who have learned to identify four varieties at past schools will learn four more for a total of the eight principal varieties grown in this area. Buyers for mills are demanding desirable varieties for local flour mills and are picking every ear they buy for variety. Housewives and bakers, by demanding high quality bread, are forcing mills to pay premiums for desirable varieties whether purchased here at home or in the north, advises Sodor.

Looking to the time our huge export program collapses, country elevator wheat buyers are flocking to these and similar schools to learn to distinguish between desirable and undesirable milling and baking varieties. They will thus be provided to protect their profits when two prices are paid for wheat at country points as is now the case at all major wheat terminals, concludes Sodor. "Certificates of Merit" will be awarded to all graduates depending on their final ability. Graduates are graded into three groups, Primary, Qualified and Expert.

Clovis Stockyards Now Have Federal Cattle Inspection

Lloyd Otten of the Clovis Cattle Commission Company announces that the Clovis Stockyards now have a Federal inspector. Federal inspection at the Clovis stockyards means that cattle from any locality or region may be shipped there without a permit. This, says Otten, is the only Federally inspected stockyards between Oklahoma City and Los Angeles. Sound travels at approximately 1,100 feet per second. Either wanting premiums today body by sweeping the dashes. J. N. Bramlett won the 100-yard dash in 11 seconds. Hereford's Leo Hennington whose best time of the season has been 10.5 seconds, didn't even place. Buddy Corbett of Hereford finished in fourth place, behind Bailey of Canyon and Love of Tulla. Bramlett repeated his performance in the 200-yard dash, making the route in 24.9 seconds. Bailey of Canyon was second; Leo Hennington and Homer Rudd of Hereford finishing third and fourth. Hennington had run the 200 in 21.2 seconds over the same track the week before. Royce Dowell of Dimmitt nosed out Hereford's Neely Kimbrough in the 880-yard run in the most sensational stretch drive of the meet. Dowell pulled even with Kimbrough one stride from the tape, and literally won by a nose. His time was 2 minutes, 14 seconds. Hickman of Canyon and Jolly of Dalhart finished third and fourth.

Dalhart swept the Mile Run, Christy placing first, Carson second, and Rader third. Winning time was 5 minutes, 9 seconds.

Bob Dulaney, Dumas speed merchant, won both hurdle events; taking the 120-yard high hurdles in a fast 17.7 seconds. Parsons and Martin of Dalhart were second and third, Stark of Tulla fourth.

Dulaney cleared the timbers in the 200-yard low hurdles in 26.3 seconds with Homer Rudd of Hereford and Jack Reynolds of Hereford in second and third places, and Martin of Dalhart fourth.

Canyon's Eagles slipped into the picture with a victory in the 440-yard relay, nosing out the Hereford team which had beaten them a week before. The winning time was 48.4 seconds, a full second slower than the 47.4 mark hung up by the Whiteface quartet a week earlier at Canyon. Dumas won third, Dimmitt fourth.

Dumas won the Mile Relay in fast time, 3 minutes, 51.5 seconds, with Dalhart, Dimmitt and Tulla trailing in that order.

Allen Felts of Dalhart took the shot-put event with a heave of 39 feet, 6 inches. Gene Mitchell of Dalhart was second, Durward Johnson of Dumas third, and Delaney Frampson of Dalhart, fourth.

Gene Mitchell was way out in the front in the discus, with a toss of 136 feet, 1 inch, followed by team-

By 1905, there were five children in the family... two boys, and three girls. They were, in order, Clara (Mrs. Lan Shore), Wes, Lola (Mrs. Doyle Rose), Bracie (Mrs. Jack Rice), and Egbert, now deceased. Mrs. Brady smiles at this point and mentions an oddity in the family: of her five children, three were girls, two boys; of her five grandchildren, three were girls, two boys; and of her five great-grandchildren... that's right... three are girls, two boys.

In 1905, Mr. and Mrs. Brady built a home on the present site of Veterans Memorial Park and put their children in school in Hereford. Mr. Brady died suddenly on September 6, 1911, and Mrs. Brady was left with the task of rearing and educating five children and carrying on the extensive ranching and cattle business.

She proved equal to the task. She ran the business, keeping control of herd records for her own, and helping or keeping records for several of her neighbors. At this time, the Brady Ranch owned ten sections, and leased three or four more.

In 1926 the Brady estate was divided with the children, and Mrs. Brady bought a ten-room house on East 5th Street in Hereford... a house later destroyed by fire.

She operated the home ranch, however, until 1938, when she sold it to Jack Frost, and in 1945, disposed of the south ranch (the old Throp place) and the last of the cattle, to retire to her home in town. Mrs. Brady was one of the Board of Directors of the Deaf Smith county hospital from 1921 (when it was in the building now known as the Savoy Hotel) until 1945, when she retired from the Board... although she is still an honorary member. During World War I she was Home Service Director for the American Red Cross. She was a director in the First National Bank in Hereford from 1915 until 1945, and is a charter member of the First Baptist Church of Hereford, which was chartered on October 19, 1899. She is also a charter member of the Hereford chapter, order of Eastern Star. In 1923, she was elected to serve as a member of the board of trustees of the Hereford Independent School district. Although she has retired from active participation in business and civic affairs, she still retains a lively interest, however... particularly in the cattle business, which is her first love. And so it is, at 75, that Mrs. Ollie D. Brady is still giving of her time in the work she knows best... to record the growth of the new Boys Ranch Herd of Hereford cattle. About half of Canada's World War II production came from plants which did not exist in 1939. During the war, Canada more than doubled her steel production. The Canadian pulp and paper industry supplies 80 percent of all newsprint for U. S. newspapers.

Hennington was in good form in the preliminaries Saturday morning at Canyon, but pulled a muscle in the afternoon races, Coach Stanton reports.

Homer Rudd and Jack Reynolds who placed second and third in the fast (17.7 seconds) 120-yard high hurdles Saturday, both qualified for the Regionall, although neither has bettered Dulaney's winning mark of this season.

The 440-yard relay team, composed of Rudd, Hennington, Knox and Corbett, is capable of making somebody step fast in that event... faster than the Canyon Eagle team did in winning it in (in 48.4 seconds) last Saturday. The Whiteface relay-ers have been clocked at 47.4 this season.

Neely Kimbrough, the Herd's distance specialist, was literally nosed out in a fast (2 minutes, 14 seconds) 880-yard run by Royce Dowell of Dimmitt last Saturday, and might turn the tables in another test. Dowell won the race by inches after a desperate finishing sprint last Saturday.

At the Regional Meet this year, athletics from Class AA, Class A, and Class B schools will compete separately in their respective conferences this year, instead of against each other as in the past.

Region I has been expanded, however, to include schools as far east as Wichita Falls, as far south as Monahan and El Paso, and north to include the entire Panhandle.

A full schedule of events is promised by the Regional director, Ernest Wallace of Lubbock, next week.

PEOPLES PULPIT

Hon. W. E. Dameron Mayor of Hereford, Texas
Dear Mayor and the City Commission:-
It is a pleasure indeed to know that the old City Commission is to remain in office, and I wish, by this means, to congratulate all three of you.

I like the Commission form of government and consider it a great improvement on the old Aldermanic system.
In riding about town on my speeder, I discovered in south Hereford a fifty thousand dollar gas booster station, complete dual system with a fine modern home for the attendant etc. It is a beauty and, so far as I know, no information of it has ever appeared in the Brand. The people should be informed about this for I am sure they will be surprised and pleased to drive out past it.

Another thing I noticed to my chagrin, are the signs on both the east and west entrance of Hereford on US Highway 89, giving the population of Hereford. From these signs tourists passing through are given the information that Hereford is a village of less than 3000 population, when in reality the present population of the city and its additions, is close to 7000. Hereford is perhaps the fastest growing town of its size in Texas, so I think those signs should be changed without delay, and I think it well to give the population as 7000. For at the rate we are growing it will be this and over before these signs are changed.
With best wishes to the Commission, and thanks for the splendid work you are doing for the upbuilding of Hereford, I remain
Sincerely yours,
L. Baskin.

Hereford Man Weds In Washington

Of interest here is the wedding on April 3, of Miss Laura Smusz, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smusz of Portsmouth, Va., and Clifford Estes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Estes of Hereford.

The Rev. John A. Spence performed the ceremony in St. Matthews Cathedral in Washington, D. C. where he is executive secretary of the Episcopal Diocese of the Potomac.

Given in marriage by her brother, Theodore Smusz of Columbus, Ohio, the bride wore a wedding gown of white tulle with off-the-shoulder neckline and short bouffant sleeves. The full skirt, which extended into a long train in the back, was attached to a shirred bodice and her veil of illusion was held by clusters of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Miss Leona Smusz, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and wore an orchid tulle dress with matching headpiece. Her flowers were yellow roses. Joseph W. Robinson of Fort Worth, schoolmate of the bridegroom at Texas A & M College, was best man. John Lucid and Emil Smusz were ushers.

Upon returning from their wedding trip to New York they will make their home in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Estes is employed by the Bureau of National Defense in Washington D. C. During the war she went overseas with an O. S. S. Unit and spent 18 months in Italy and Austria.

Mr. Estes is a graduate of Hereford High School and of Texas A & M College. He served two years overseas and held the rank of Captain when he received his discharge in June 1946. He was awarded the Bronze Star last month, for which he was cited in 1944.

FALLS FOR SPORTS

CAB TALK IN WORK CONTRACT
PITTSBURGH-(AP) The 1,100 A. P. L. drivers of the Yellow Cab Co. have a new contract in cabbie language. Legal wording is translated into "cabbie talk."
 For example there's "lost calls" persons who phone for a cab and then fail to show up. "Gas line" means the line of cabs waiting to have gas tanks refilled. "Hit the boxes" means that cabbies stop and call their stations.

 "It's just plain taxman's talk," a cab official said. "We wanted all the drivers to be able to understand their new agreement."

FROM THE COUNTY LIBRARY: HINTS FOR HOME-BUILDERS

Want to Build That Post-War Dream House On Your Own? These Books Tell You How

If there are any amateur carpenters around who want to tackle the job of building that post-war dream house on their own, they may find some help in the Dear Smith County Library, where Mrs. Clara McLean has assembled several volumes of helpful hints for the home-builder.

For those not quite so ambitious, however, the how-to-do-it books may still offer some valuable help to the household handyman who's trying to keep the old homestead in more or less ship-shape.

On the library shelves are plentifully illustrated volumes on how to do practically everything in the building line.
 Newest additions to the collection are three new volumes from the "Home Mechanic's Library," dealing, respectively with painting and decorating, brick-laying and masonry, and electrical wiring.

The "Painting and Decorating" handbook is by DiBernardo, and is a handy-man's complete guide to all painting and interior and exterior decorating. If you want to mix your own paints and pigments, and work out color schemes for the inside and outside of the house . . . and even for the family automobile, here's the book for you.

"Masonry," second of the series, is by Kenneth H. Bailey, architect, and contains detailed and illustrated instructions for all forms of masonry work, including concrete, plaster, stucco, brick, concrete blocks and glass brick. It's written for the amateur who wants to do professional looking jobs . . . and maybe holds a few hints for the professionals too. Photos and diagrams are used freely to illustrate the text.

"Electrical Work" by John F. Nowak covers everything from the wiring of a house to repairing the family vacuum cleaner.
 Not included as yet, in the "Home Mechanic's" series, there's a couple of volumes in the Library on how to build the house itself. If anybody's that ambitious.

The first is a volume on "Carpentry and Joinery Work" by Nelson L. Burbank. Liberally illustrated and diagrammed, it covers every joint and joist from basement to roof.

Two others on the same subject are "Carpentry" by Gilbert Townsend and "House Construction Details," also by Burbank.
 And for getting around to that always interesting item, the cost, there's a volume by J. Douglas Wilson and Ollie M. Rogers on "Simplified Carpentry Estimating" though after looking over the tables and graphs, you may decide it's simpler just to let your lumber dealer do the job.

And since no house is complete without plumbing, there's a book covering that field too. It's Audel's Plumbers and Steamfitters Guide No. 3, and covers everything from A to V . . . or air conditioning to ventilation, according to the index.
 Just in case any essential details have been missed in any or all of these volumes, there's a regular omnibus of information of odd sorts in Henley's "20th Century Formulas, Processes and Trade Secrets." This comprehensive reference work covers practically everything, and claims to embody 10,000 household, workshop and scientific formulas, trade secrets and ideas. There's even a supplement on Plastics, just to bring the whole thing up to date.

And one more item . . . something new in the "how-to-do-it" books, is "A Guide to Confident Living" by Dr. Norman Peale . . . a "how-to-book," its publishers claim, "on the subject of happiness and success." Having completed that dream house and moved in, you can settle down with Dr. Peale's book and maybe learn to avoid those recurring nightmares which we've heard plague one local amateur home-builder who actually did complete the job. He wakes up screaming every so often, according to his wife, after a nightmare in which he dreams that the house has fallen down!

NAME MAKES NEWS
MOSCOW-(AP)—Trad, the trade-union newspaper, recently published an article criticizing the Riga Circus organization. One administrator, the paper says, was willing to hire a performer only on condition that he change from a Russian name, "Zherebtsov" to a foreign-sounding appellation.

"No protests of Zherebtsov availed against this zealous worshipper of foreign names," commented the paper.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER: ACTION ON HOOF & MOUTH DISEASE

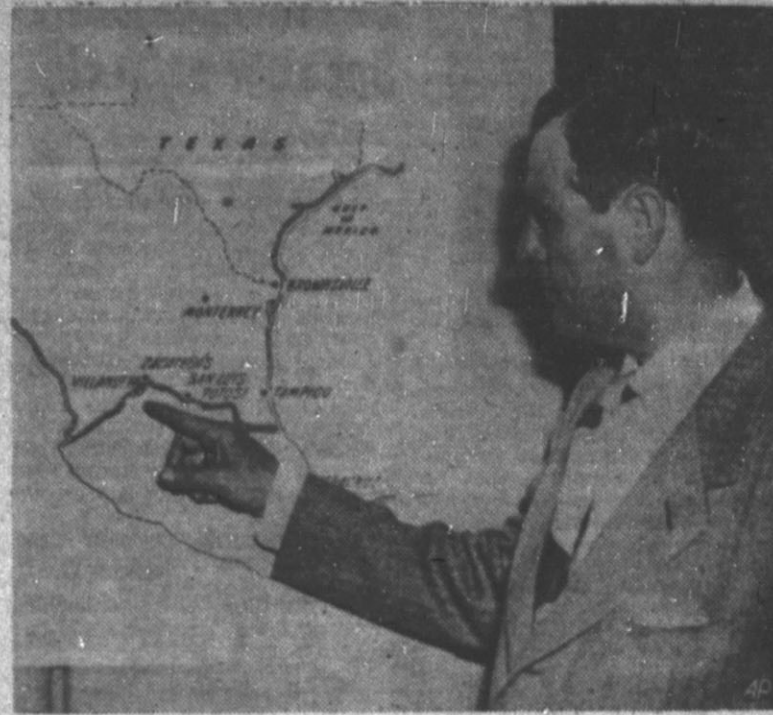

Hoof-and-Mouth Research Bill Clears House And Worley Predicts Quick Senate Passage

(BY EUGENE WORLEY)

I am glad to report further progress in connection with enactment of the Veterans Hospital at Amarillo. In a conference with the President at the White House last Wednesday, he personally assured me of his approval and full cooperation in securing early action. As advised last week, I have already introduced necessary legislation to increase the capacity to 500 beds and hope to secure the earliest possible Congressional approval.

Another matter of vital importance to farmers and ranchers of the Panhandle is passage by the House last week of the bill providing for research on the Foot-and-Mouth Disease virus. The efforts of this government in cooperating with Mexico in stamping out the disease in Mexico have not been nearly so successful as either country had hoped they would be. The only known way to positively stamp out the disease has been to slaughter and bury immediately infected and exposed cattle. Should the disease spread into this country, it has been estimated that land values in Texas alone would drop a billion dollars. The States and Federal Government would have to begin immediate slaughter and burial of infected livestock. The result would be not only the loss of the cloven-hoofed animals themselves but would also create greater scarcity of meat supplies. Quarantine lines would be necessary with a resultant freezing of many types of commerce between Mexico and the United States and among the States themselves.

VIEWING WITH ALARM: BATTLE LINES

Claude McCan of Victoria, rancher and member of the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission, points to a map which shows the northward progress of foot and mouth disease among cattle in Mexico. He and other members of the commission say the disease is within 275 miles of the Texas border.

The purpose of the legislation is to set up a research laboratory with the hope of finding a preventive or cure for this dread disease. It will be staffed by top-notch scientists. In order to eliminate as much danger as possible to our own livestock industry, the bill provides an island site shall be used. Scientists have assured Congress that every possible safeguard will be taken and the quickest possible work will be done. The disease is now within 200 miles of the Texas border. So far the quarantine line established at that point has held but this country cannot afford to overlook any step designed to confine the disease to Mexico and continue every effort to eradicate it from that country. The Senate will probably adopt the House bill this week.

Dimmitt Boy Killed by Car Friday Night

Billy Roy McDermitt, 9 year old Dimmitt youngster, died at the Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt Friday night. A few minutes after he was struck by a car on a Dimmitt street.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester McDermitt of Dimmitt. The youngster was struck by a car driven by Billy Joe Rothwell, also of Dimmitt. Rothwell took the youngster to the hospital, but the boy died within fifteen minutes after arriving there.

He had attended a school play in Dimmitt Friday night, friends reported, and was walking home with a group of youngsters when the accident occurred.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the First Baptist Church in Dimmitt. Burial was in the Dimmitt cemetery under the direction of E. B. Black Funeral Home of Hereford.

Survivors, besides the parents, are four sisters, Betty Fay, who is a twin sister; Audrey Lee, Doris and Janey; one brother, Kenneth; and two grandmothers, Mrs. Ed Curtisinger of Hereford and Mrs. W. C. Hall of Allen, Oklahoma.
