The contract price, thanks to the drop in the sugar market, will probably be slightly lower this year than in 1947. Contracts offered for this year's crop are based on a sliding scale which depends on two factors: the price of sugar, and the sugar content of the beets.

Question:

AFTER STARTING TO USE COMMERCIAL FERTILIZER, DOES ITS USE AFFECT THE SOIL IN SUCH A MANNER THAT ITS USE HAS TO BE CONTINUED?

THE BEST ANSWER I'VE HEARD IS THIS:

After experiencing increased yields and higher profits thru the use of commercial fertilizer, who would be satisfied to go back to former practices and lower yields?

I believe the question has been answered—firmly and convincingly, however there is more to be said. Commercial fertilizers should be considered as a supplement to other good farming practices and not looked upon as a panacea for all the ills of farm production. There is no one thing that can possibly replace a complete program of good soil management and good farming practices. The benefits of legumes, humous content of the soil and rotation of crops are widely known and any substitution for them is unlikely to be found.

My point is, of course: Include commercial fertilizer as one of your form practices.

"Only A Rich Man Can Afford To Do Otherwise"

We still have mixed fertilizer for cotton, row crop beets, potatoes, etc. Also phosphate for legumes and pastures.

Phyllis Radovich was narrator for the Land of Candy Stick in which the Liny tots papaded with the Easter Bunny, displaying clothing for the youngsters from the local stores.

George Graham in the second part, Lazy Daze, gave the good points, as the narrator, of summer days ahead in the way of suitable and attractive sports clothing modeled by well dressed models.

"If Men Bought Clothes as Women Do" was the theme of the third part in which Bob Wear was the proprietor of the Man's Shop. The acting and humor was outstanding and the manner in which the men modeled masculine styles of the coming season almost stole the show.

The men were much in evidence throughout the entire show with Mike Konesky taking care of the interludes with his harmonica numbers.

Dear Diary:

I hear lots of folks complaining about the cold weather we are having—it is to be anticipated that we should have cold weather in winter-and it isn't spring until March 20th.

However, we are making mighty preparations for spring here at Streu's—we have all the necessary items for spring cleaning such as Cosco stools and ladders, floor brushes and mops, waxes and applicators, polishes, waxes and applicators, polishes, woodwork cleaners, rug cleaner and upholstery cleaners, G. E. yacuums, dusting paper and polishing cloths, window cleaning devices and scores of gadgets to make cleaning easier. Why shop all over town for the contract of all over town for your house cleaning needs when you can get them all at Streu's?

For outdoor spring activities we have a complete stock of Ferry's garden seeds, Mandeville flower seeds, Vigoro plant food, and all the tools needed—garden plows, hoes, rakes, cultivators, spading forks, shovels, forks, Handi-carts, and hand trowels. Our stock of garden hose is complete, as well as our line of sprinklers, nozzles, hose repairs, washers, and new faucets.

Let us not forget that with the coming of spring a man's thoughts turn lightly to thoughts of fishing. We are prepared for the fisherman, too, with fly or bait casting rods and reels and lines and lures not to mention the various accessories that go to make fishing enjoyable—like a nice compact container in which one might ice down a case of of-cokes or something. Good for packing fish, too.

Now, for the farming angle of spring activities—our stock of bolts and screws and set screws and wrenches and hammers, cold chisels, punches, pliers, irrigating dams and shovels and all other items—this stock is complete.

While it is not the season to talk about tarps—we have received our season's supply—these are tarps that the customer has designed-just the right weight, properly sewed, excellent material and equipped with EXTRA HEAVY SEWED LOOPS EVERY THREE FEET ALL AROUND! See them.

Which brings on the observa-tion that women, like most of nature's other children have intuition regarding the weather—bear witness—we have the coldest weather ever for this time of year -and the ladies are wearing more and heavier clothes than for many years. Logic? No, just

The weather has certainly been in a mess. I am personally glad that Old Tack is back on the Job. Maybe he can get things straightened out. I used to think Old Tack was just "shooting in the dark" on his predictions, but I have changed my views. It looks like the old boy really has something to do with the weather. Tack predicted this wet cycle and I hear by the grapevine that he actually went to the islands because he granulated tobacco into a cigarrette

Tack did some excellent report-ing on his trip to the islands. I have seen lots and lots of people who truly enjoyed his articles.

"HOW THE TESTS WERE MADE"

The sell removal tests were made in accordance with the Test Manual of the American Washer and Ironer Manufacturers' Association, with water temperatures of 160° for the automatic machine and 125° for non-automatic type machines as specified

For the germ removed tests the washing procedure as shove was supplemented by a pre-determined rinse procedure established from contact with authorities in the field of home laundering including the manufacturers of the machines used. The Bendix was used in accordance with the manufacturer's published instructions. Staphylococcus sureus bacteris (bacteria commonly used for test purposes) were used to measure efficiency of germ removal. The four washers used, three non-automatic and a Bendix automatic Washer, were purchased in the open market by the Pittsburgh Tasting Laboratory.
