AROUND TOWN

SIGHTS, FACTS
SEEN

The boss is vacationing this week and the staff almost got up the nerve to write his "Bull column" for him, you know how it is with those kind of columns though; it's like the old southern plantation owner who was kept awake nights by a big bull-frog out in the bayou, so finally he told one of his negro hands to go out and catch the frog. The darky brought in the frog the next morning, all 40 pounds of it. The old Rebel was delighted and decided to invite all his friends over and have a big feast. Everybody arrived and the old colored fellow came in with one pound of frog. His boss asked him what in the world happened? And he said he guessed that frog was 39 pounds bull and one pound frog.

Unless you are ashamed of your guests, notify the Brand. We want to put who is visiting who in the personal columns, but it is impossible to get even close to all of the Hereford visitors or Hereford people who go out of town to visit, so let us know, we've got a telephone.

A good crowd, especially in view of the threatening rain, turned out for the Hereford Shoe Store open house Friday night. The crowd would be an asset to any community.

Non-profit organizations like the Deaf Smith County Water Users Association deserve commendation. The association is working directly for the irrigation farmer and indirectly for the welfare of the entire community.

About 35 players, two managers and three coaches left for Craterville, Okla. today. Coach Criswell will have six days there with the squad eating, drinking and sleeping football to take off rough edges.

We heard that this happened: The two old men standing on the street corner last Wednesday were interrupted by the Methodist Church chimes. "How do you like those chimes?" one asked. "Eh?" "I say, how do you like those chimes," he repeated. "What," snorted the other, "I can't hear a thing for them bells."

Bill Kelly gave Nancy Cagle a pet little dog known as Bozo last week. Is that what you call puppy love?

The only thing gayer than the sign on Jaycee Park is the Jaycees themselves and they are just happy because so many people have been using that park lately. You can't help noticing it. That bright orange gateway sign sort of shouts at you, almost from the highway and proclaims the fact that Hereford is both progressive and picnic minded.

Joan Hardwick flew back from Portland, Maine this week, and got in on the modern air age's wonders—breakfast in Maine, lunch in New York, dinner in Dallas, and a before-midnight snack in Hereford.

Pete Cowart reports there isn't anything to report on the Fort Worth and Denver Railway situation.

As for the onions piled out by the dump ground, they HAVE been sprayed with kerosene and it's strictly a market-protecting gesture.

After all, the onions were only culls, considered a poorer grade, when they were dumped out there, and they were sprayed to prevent truckers from making the culls and selling them as first or second class Hereford onions, explained Jack Renfro.

Both Hereford Army Reserve units will meet Monday night in the Chamber of Commerce offices at 8 o'clock, says Don Zimmerman. Reservists and anyone interested in becoming a member are urged to attend.

George Graham says you can get your reserved seats for the five Whiteface home games at the High School now.

Boy Scout Troop Leaves To Annual New Mexico Camp

Boy Scouts of Troop 50 are leaving early Monday morning for their annual camping jaunt to Cimmo del Mundo in the New Mexico mountains above Las Vegas.

With scoutmaster William R. Phillips in charge and Sam Hershey acting as assistant scoutmaster, the 18 boys will spend six days engaged in general scouting and camping work. The boys will do all the cooking. The camp is equipped with a mess and assembly hall and two bunk houses.

Morning activities will include map reading, compass reading, axe and rope work, nature study and other similar scouting skills. Afternoon programs will include hikes, stalking, tracking, games, etc., said Phillips.

Highlight of the week will be the day long hike to Hermit's Peak, the famous mountain where the Penitente Indians used to hold their annual Easter rites. On the Friday night before their return home the scouts will hold the traditional campfire program and initiation rites for members attending the camp for the first time.

Attending the camp will be Terry Kirby, Doug Bartlett, John Benson, Lynn Bybee, Virgil Cavanaugh, Lee Drake, Buddy Godfrey, Larry Kaul, Billy Joe Kelly, Robert Lamm.

Nelson Pierce, Robert Schroeder, LaVerla Thompson, Otis Vaught, Duwayne Wallace, Jim Wilkins, Lanny Wilkins and Tommy Woodford.

Paving Plan Approved By Property Owners

Property owners of the Smith Avenue Addition met Friday night and expressed their favorable reaction to the plan outlined for getting paved streets in those areas.

With Ralph Smith conducting the meeting and explaining tentative cost plans, right-of-way proposals, etc., approximately 30 taxpayers present agreed to carry the plan to the city commission.

At the commission's Monday meeting, the group will submit their plan for the approval of the commission.

"I believe everyone at our meeting was inclined to favor the proposition. We should certainly like to extend the paving to those areas which have just been included in the city limits," said Ray Cowart, one of the homeowners present.

Further action will pend approval of the commission.

DWI Fined $100 And Cost In County Court Friday

One DWI charge was filed this week when James Doyle Whitaker was fined $100 and cost for driving while intoxicated.

County Judge Leonard Foster said the case was tried in County Court Friday after Whitaker had been picked up by S. B. Berry while driving on the highway Thursday.

Annual Wyche Party Is Success

By PHYLLIS RADOVICH
Ed. Note: There comes a time in the life of every reporter when the truth will out, even on such complacent topics as community parties. Hence, to avoid a split personality, here is the dual report of such a party, as it would make the society columns and also, as it really happened.

Mr. and Mrs. Nollie Elliston were hosts Thursday evening to the Wyche Community Party.

It was just about sundown Thursday that the Buicks, Fords, Chryslers, Chevrolet pick-ups and one or two model-A's that represent the residents of Wyche Community and their friends began unloading at the Nollie Elliston home southeast of Hereford. Unloading is the right word. Those pars were packed with chicken, cakes, salad, paper plates, chairs, card tables and the other necessary regalia for entertaining some 200 people.

"Well, here we so again," Mrs. Elliston must have thought as she engineered preparations. "You two men carry out this coffee urn. Here, set up this card table under that tree. You can start the fire now. Move that log further back."

This is an annual entertainment event and is reunion time for all the former residents of the community.

Petry Speaks To Lions And Visitors On Service And General Goal Of Club

Approximately 250 Lions Club members from this area gathered at the Firemen's Hall Thursday night to hear an address by Herb C. Petry, first vice-president of Lions International, who was elected to that position at the July convention held in New York City.

Petry, 32 year old senior partner of the law firm of Petry and Weeks of Carrizo Springs, Texas, used as his subject "Service," asserting his belief that service is our sole excuse for existing. He said that Lions Clubs have grown because they have been busy rendering unselfish service to those in need, and that in addition to the service rendered to communities by the local clubs, Lionsism has contributed and must continue to contribute to international understanding, international understanding, Internationalism, he emphasized, is the overall goal of Lionsism. To show the opportunities that it has for contributing to world peace, he quoted the international membership to be more than 400,000 in 29 countries. Throughout his talk he emphasized the importance of looking forward, having vision.

Petry also announced that the 1950 convention of Lions International will be held in Chicago next summer. Texas Lions have reserved the Stephens Hotel as their headquarters, he said, but as there are 500 clubs in the state with an aggregate membership of about 35,000, the biggest hotel in Chicago may not be able to accommodate all the delegates.

The guest of honor is a Charter member and waster key member.

The Carrizo Springs Lions Club. He has served as Zone Chairman, Deputy and District Governor, third Vice-President and Director in the International organization, and is serving his third year as Chairman of the Board of International Relations. In another year, he will probably be elected President of Lions International.

Bob Wear, after giving a brief resume of the history of the Hereford Lions Club presented a duplicate of the original charter, dated February 5, 1929, to Lyle Blanton, President. Chevrons noting ten years of membership in the club were presented to Harold Close, J. W. Robinson, John McLean, Robert Thompson, and Alec Thompson.

Lions from Tulla, Happy, Dimmitt, Friona, Canyon, Dumas, Panhandle, Dalhart, Amarillo, South Amarillo, Kress and Plainview attended the special meeting.

Four practical sales-training courses and two informative personal courses will be offered in Hereford the week of September 12, through the Retail Training Institute of the State Board of Vocational Education, according to Pete Cowart, chamber of commerce manager.

Lucille Dunn, has recently completed giving them in Littlefield, Brownfield and Big Spring. She has been on the Institute staff four years and prior to that had thought they said 8 o'clock and I'm hungry." The party was held under the trees in the Elliston's backyard. A roaring fireplace was the center of the gathering. People were either working or gathered in conversational cliques all over the yard. Argen Draper supervised the tea-making while Sue Scarth and Mrs. Ethel Layman poured the drink into tall paper cups. Mrs. Pet Ott was straightening salad bowls on the table and Mrs. Lee Cavanaugh was busy cutting pies. Mrs. Curtis Traweky showed meat platters around to make room for more bread. Mrs. W. T. Kelley was measuring coffee.

On a bench underneath the trees J. N. Burgin and R. L. Campbell retreated to discuss politics, agriculture and whatever farmers talk about when they are trying to avoid a crowd. Irving Burkett, nephew of Ira Ott, leaned against an elm tree and surveyed the gathering. "Irving, you ought to meet Ira Scott. People are forever getting him mixed up with Ira Ott."

Two-Thirds County Cantaloupe Crop Was Hailed Out, Rest Being Harvested

Deaf Smith's diversified farming branched out with another limb this year as farmers tried their luck with cantaloupes, but just how much cold cash it's going to add to their pockets is still a catch question.

Leading the parade was the veteran grower Dan Finlan, who has been growing the melons around here for seven years, but others included in the group this year are J. N. Burgin and Joe Peters.

Hail slashed out more than two-thirds of the expected crop when the Busch brothers lost 80 acres of cantaloupe early in the summer. However, Finlan has 20 acres in, Burgin planted about seven and Joe Peters has 12 acres ready to harvest.

Burgin began picking his crop a week ago, harvesting them himself. He has about three and a half acres left, after his own hail damage was cleared away, and has been gathering them every day for a week. He figures he'll be able to keep picking the crop until frost.

First Year Commercially
"I really believe the melons look pretty good. There are a high percentage of number ones or well-knitted melons in the lot. This is my first year to plant them for commercial purposes, however, and I'm learning as I go along," he said.

Burgin's place is south on Highway 51.

Joe Peters has his melons ready to harvest, too. Both he and Burgin have planted imported hybrid seed.

"This is our first year to plant the melons, also," said Mrs. Peters. "We cultivated them once and started to water them a couple of times but were lucky enough to catch a rain just when we needed it."

Dan Finlan said his melons were seeded rather late, planted about the middle of June due to the persistent rains.

Planted By Hand
"We planted them off a tractor by hand," said Finlan. "That's just a homemade patent arrangement we thought of to save trouble."

He planted Perfectos this year and believes they will be ready to harvest in about a week. He's been seeding the melons on his farm since 1942 and has in the past planted Honeydew as well as cantaloupes. One year he planted 50 acres, but this year, with the late start, he cut the acreage more than fifty per cent.

When he begins to pick the crop, it will go to markets in Amarillo, Dallas and Houston, as well as to local markets and Finlan will sell them at his own market on the highway.

He considers $3 to $3.50 a good price per crate for the melons, which are packed by size at either 18, 25, 36 or 45 to the crate.

E. M. Kirkpatrick Jr. of Baytown, president of the state organization, will deliver the keynote address at the final meeting on Sunday.

The Plainview Jaycees are serving as host club with headquarters at the Hilton Hotel. Some 150 delegates and their wives are expected.

Hereford Jaycees Attend Regional Plainview Meet

The sixth meeting of the summer series of state wide meetings of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce is being wound up today in Plainview.

Going from here yesterday for the first day of the two-day meet were Ed. Suckypala, Grant Hanna, S. A. Duckworth, and Dick Barrett. Between twelve and fourteen other Hereford Jaycees left today. They include T. J. Clay, John Kelly, Sam Nelson, Eugene Prickett, B. E. Wolfe, Jiggs Hartman, Dub Reeves, Paul Conaway, Sam Nunnally, Harold Loerwald, Leo Hellman and Bill Howard.

Jim St. Clair, region vice-president of the state Junior Chamber of Commerce organization is presiding over the meeting. All clubs from regions 1 and 2 were expected to have delegates present to attend schools designed to better acquaint the individual members with the different methods of civic service.

Handicap Tournament Scheduled Sept. 10-11
Plans for an 18-hole handicap tournament coinciding with the formal opening of the Hereford Golf Course, September 10 and 11, have been announced by Erb Jordan and Wayne Phillips, tournament committee.

Golfers will be divided into three brackets according to their handicaps and play 18 holes of medal play. The brackets will be 9 to 10 handicap, 10 to 20 and over 20.

$12,000 Elevator Contract Let To Dallas Firm On New Hotel

Contract for the Hotel Jim Hill elevator was let this week to the Hunter-Hays Co. of Dallas. The contract calls for a $12,000 turnkey job, according to O. P. Cowart, secretary-treasurer of the Hereford Hotel corporation.

A Montgomery elevator, one of the three best known hoist type elevators, will be installed. It will meet all local and national safety requirements and have a speed of 100 feet per minute. The load capacity will be 2,000 pounds and the elevator can be run by an operator or fully automatic. The doors and safety gates are also fully automatic.

Completion date on this job will be on or before January 14. Cowart said sealed bids were also opened from Otis and Westinghouse by the hotel architect, Mr. Bosworth of Shreveport, who was in Hereford specifically for that purpose.

Bosworth was pleased with the way work on the hotel is going and stated that it looks like it will be completed on time.

Roche Newton and company of Lubbock plumbing contractor on the building have started work and will continue until all the plumbing is in. They plan to put four or five plumbers on this week and "stretch out."

A. R. Ratliff, construction superintendent, said all floors, except the ground floor, will be poured this week. As soon as the floors are poured, bricklayers can work off the floor instead of scaffolds on most of the walls.

Bricklayers reached the third floor on the back and moved around to the front last week. They are starting at the ground on the front and will go to the top. Ratliff says. The back will be finished a piece or so at a time as they go along.

Trades Walking For Riding After Years Of Service

E. W. Young has resigned his pavement-pounding job as city deliverman, trading it for a road runner position as rural mailman, and all this change after 21 years.

October 1, 1928, Young started in as a city deliverman, and in these two decades of travel has covered approximately 76,200 miles on foot, statistically speaking.

Now he's all set to run up a speedometer rating.

"You might say it's an easier job; and, too, it's different," was about the only comment the veteran mail carrier would make regarding the shift in position. Incidentally, he applied for this transfer.

Now, he'll deliver the mail Monday, Wednesday and Friday, on the south and southwest Rural Free Delivery Route Number Two. It's a 54 mile journey which takes him about two hours and 45 minutes every day.

He started in on this new job Monday, August 15, just six weeks short of his 21st anniversary as Hereford's longest-service mailman. Only Elmer Patterson has a longer record of service with the local Post Office Department.

Shows Spot Country With Moisture Grain Sorghum Prospects Perk Up

Rain washed its way into the news again this week as FrFriday afternoon showers perked up its grain sorghum prospects all over the county.

Although reports from the far western borders of the county were not available, it was evident that the Vega to Hereford territory got a big rain and the Hereford to Dawn sweep received showers.

Biggest rains reported were about ten to twelve miles out on Highway 51. Robert Veigle reported two inches of rain. Taft McGee got an inch and a half and Jim Bob Allison said he thought he must have received about an inch or an inch and a half on his place.

Further north rains weren't so heavy. D. C. Bernard estimated about a half inch on his place 19 miles north, but said he hadn't checked the rainfall there. J. W. Actian said he hadn't had any reports from his place. Guy Hicks, farming the C. Q. Smith place nine miles north reported an inch of rainfall.

Moving in south toward town, the rainfall lessened. Wylie Robinson got "just a sprinkle" on his place just outside of town and had had no reports from the place west. In town the moisture was measured at .05.

Rain Is Good News
"Any time you get a rain, it's good news," the farmers declared, and whether it measured three hundredths or three inches it was generally welcomed.

H. H. Miller at Dawn, said they had about three quarters inch of rainfall Friday night.

Reports from the south part of the county varied. Apparently the rain fell heaviest over in the southwest. Bill Harris said he didn't get any near Summerfield and Fines Hunter said he had had nine tenths miles southeast of town.

However, he said that a couple of miles east of him, in the Jumbo Community, the Simpsons had reported an inch of rain. Guy Newsome's place received "a light shower," according to Carrol Newsome.

4-H CLUB VETERAN—Marilyn Henderson, seated, who has worked in various phases of 4-H club activities for eight years, discusses current projects with four younger members. From the left they are Elaine Wagoner, Marilyn Russell, Beth Gross and Sandra Jo Caraway. Marilyn plans to enroll in nurses' training at St. John's Hospital of Nursing at Tulsa, Okla. this fall. Handicap Tournament Scheduled Sept. 10-11

Plans for an 18-hole handicap tournament coinciding with the formal opening of the Hereford Golf Course, September 10 and 11, have been announced by Erb Jordan and Wayne Phillips, tournament committee.

Golfers will be divided into three brackets according to their handicaps and play 18 holes of medal play. The brackets will be 9 to 10 handicap, 10 to 20 and over 20.

Prize in each bracket will be six top quality golf balls, second, four balls and third, two. The player getting the most birdies during the round will get three balls and there will be a booby prize (high gross) of three balls.

Invitations will be sent to players at clubs in Amarillo, Plainview, Tulla, Lubbock, Levelland, Littlefield, Clovis, Portales and Tucuman. And of course anyone else wishing to enter may.

Entrance fee for the tournament will be $1. More details will be released as tournament time nears.

City Sewer and Water Extension Half Through

Sewer and water extension work is about half completed in the new addition, said Newell Hughes, city engineer, as he reported on the progress of the work Friday.

"Unless weather and material delays prevent our keeping on schedule," he said, "the water lines should be installed by September 1 and the sewer lines will be in by September 15."

City sanitation interest was perked up this week, also, when representatives of the railroad were in town to check the drainage structure along First Street. They plan to work out drainage units under the tracks to eliminate the deep water that collects on First Street.

SUMMERFIELD NEWS

Miss Dorothy Lee Is Named Honoree At "Going Away" Party Monday Nite

By BOBBIE WALSER
A "going away" party was given Monday night for Dorothy Lee. After games were played, refreshments were served to Joan Walsler, Janell Carter, Charlene and Dorothy Lee, Marc and Shirley Summer, Paul and Rose Lane, Willis and Wayne DeLozier, Billy and Jimmy Lookingbill and Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Simmons.

Mrs. A. A. Simmons was honoree at a surprise birthday party on Tuesday night. Attending the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lee and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lance Sr., and family, Mrs. D. C. Walsler and family and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lookingbill and family. Mrs. Simmons received many nice gifts.

Misses Sylvia and Dorothy Grounds have returned to their home in Oklahoma City after a visit in the home of Roy Euler.

The two girls are sisters of Mrs. Euler. While here they visited at Carlsbad Caverns.

Miss Gayle Roberson is attending a two-week band instruction clinic at Hardin-Simmons in Abilene. She accompanied other members of the Hereford High School Band.

Mrs. L. H. Hughes of Oklahoma is visiting in the J. A. Noland home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lookingbill Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Winkler and daughter and Bradley Lookingbill have returned home after a vacation in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Neill and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Euler are vacationing in Colorado this week. Mrs. B. E. Roberson is keeping the Neill's little daughter, Susie, and Mrs. Roy Euler is keeping the Euler's young son.

Willsona Witherspoon of Hereford spent Saturday and Sunday with Gloria and Carol Walsler.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark and boys, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Walsler and family spent Sunday in Elwood Park visiting with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude McGowen are the parents of a daughter, Sarah Ellen, born Monday at the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark and boys were in Amarillo Friday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lance, Sr. and family attended the Walsler family reunion at Childress on Thursday, August 11. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Walsler.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morse and family are visiting here in the Lee Curry and Guy Walsler homes. Mrs. Morse is the daughter of the Currys and a sister of Mrs. Walsler. The three families spent Thursday in Amarillo on business.

Fifty eight people were in attendance at church Sunday morning, and thirty nine attended evening services. The young people brought the closing program.

Jobs In Orchard Can Be Completed After The Growing Season Is Finished

College Station — When the fruit is off the trees and sold, the orchard owner has an opportunity to do some of the jobs that were put off during the growing season. Sucker sprouts are growing on both young and old trees and they should be removed, says J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A&M College. Otherwise, they will make additional growth during the next 60 days and will take up plant food and moisture that is needed by the tree.

An orchard cleanup program is in order, he thinks. Remove from the orchard all fruit that has fallen on the ground. He says it's probably full of worms and other insects and diseases that could cause a lot of trouble in the orchard next year. You know an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure and a thorough clean up, he says, is that ounce of prevention.

Every tree in the orchard should be checked for San Jose scale, phony and other insects and diseases. If San Jose scale is found, mark the tree and then go back and treat it. Rosborough recommends washing the tree with a mixture of 1 pound of concentrated lime sulphur and 3 gallons of water. Apply the liquid to the frame work branches and the body of the tree, this should hold the scale in check until a thorough job of spraying can be done this winter. If the scale is left unchecked, it may kill the tree. He says to keep the solution off the leaves, if possible, because it will burn them.

The use of a DDT spray mixture for controlling peach borers is becoming more popular, he says. It is made by mixing 3 pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder in 50 gallons of water. Spray the body of the tree thoroughly with the mixture. Although the first application is usually made in early July, a second in early August and a third in early September, Rosborough says there has been little evidence of early borer damage and it is probable that an early August and September spraying will be effective.

In some of the older bearing orchards, a disease known as phony has appeared this year. It is characterized, says Rosborough, by a checking of the current season's growth and the leaves on infected trees take on a peculiar dark green color. The fruit on infected trees is smaller than usual and the crop is light. Trees suspected of having this disease should be removed from the orchard because they are a probable source of infection.

Trees that were abnormal this season and have been on the sick list should be removed and this also applies to those infected with crown gall, nematodes or oak root rot. Do a good job of orchard keeping, he says, and the orchard will help keep you.

SAVES GIRL CYCLIST—H. W. Coffman (above), Wichita Falls brakeman and conductor, was credited with saving little Joan Gill, 11, from almost certain death beneath the wheels of a switching locomotive in Bowie. He was directing traffic in a Bowie street when he saw the girl ride into the path of the train. He snatched her from her bicycle and jumped back. The bicycle was demolished. Coffman was struck by the drawbar of the locomotive but was not injured. (AP Photo)

Federal Highway Program

(Editor's Note: With a petition now being circulated in Deaf Smith County asking for a $500,000 bond election for construction of paved farm roads in this county, the following editorial, printed in the Corpus Christi Times indicates a trend of thought worthwhile to citizens of the community. Likewise, it indicates the interest which East, South and Central Texas is taking in the securing of paved farm roads.)

Congress is expected to appropriate more than $400 million for the next fiscal year to keep the nation's highway and airport system in condition to handle the increasing volume of air and highway traffic.

The 1948 Highway Act authorized the appropriation of $450 million annually for the fiscal years 1950 and 1951 to improve the nation's most travelled highways. The 1946 Federal Airport Act authorized the appropriation of $500 million to be spent over a seven-year period for an adequate airport system.

Under Public Law 177 just passed by Congress and signed by the President, $39.5 million was provided in Commerce Department appropriations for the federal airport program.

Of this amount, $29,980,767 was allotted in federal funds for 314 airport construction and development projects. Texas received $2,803,416 from the Civil Aeronautics Administration for the coming year, and must match the federal grant with $3,032,216. Last year Texas got $1,738,730 in federal funds and put up $1,992,380 in state and local funds.

The Senate is expected to open debate soon on HR 4177, the independent offices appropriations bill of 1950, which, as reported by the Senate Appropriations Committee, provides $390 million for the federal-aid highway system. The House provided about $375 million for this program. Allocations were made to the states last year for the 1950 fiscal year in the amount of $450 million. With a carry over of $40 million from last year's highway appropriations, sufficient money is expected to be available to cover the federal contribution, which is roughly on a 50-50 basis with matching state funds.

Texas had 2,262.2 miles of highways costing $98,658,000 programmed, planned and under construction in the federal-aid highway system on May 31. The federal government had allocated $44,254,000 of that sum.

Actually under construction were 1,142.6 miles costing $57,423,000. Plans were approved but construction had not yet started on 670 miles for which the total cost was $22,692,000. There were 449.6 miles programmed only at a cost of $18,543,000. Of these funds, the federal and state governments shared the cost.

Texas had an unprogrammed balance of $9,448,000 which was available for construction and improvement of the most traveled roads in the state, which are under the federal aid system.

If Congress enacts the recommendations proposed in a report by Thomas H. MacDonald, commissioner of public roads, 2,764.8 miles of roads would be included in the federal-aid highway system, of which 2,573 miles would be rural roads and 191.8 miles urban roads. Most of this mileage would be improved and repaired at a cost of $435,987,000. About $280 million would be spent on rural roads and $149 million on urban roads. Texas would have 7.4 percent of the highway in the federal-aid system and amount spent on them proposed in the MacDonald report would be 3.8 percent of the total spent in the nation.

Texas is a big state. It needs highways and airports. South Texas highways are particularly overburdened with passenger and truck traffic. The Nueces Bay causeway is the largest construction project now underway in this area. But it isn't all that's needed. Texas should take full advantage of the federal program to build a network of highways second to none in the nation.

29 YEARS AGO

Women's Rights Recognized

Twenty nine years ago Friday, August 26, the women of the United States were given the right to vote when the 19th amendment became law.

That was a heroic day for the Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Carrie Chapman Catt, Susan B. Anthony, Lucretia Mott and other black stocking suffragettes who had worked hard and long to realize a dream, believing that women, too, could enjoy the equal rights of men.

In the three decades since the hard fought battle was won, the calm complacency of victory has settled over the land. Women at the polls, women in the legislature, women in the Congress of the United States, in cabinet posts, as ambassadors and as representatives to the United Nations are getting to be a nationwide habit.

In the one-third of a century since woman suffrage became a law, we have come to look with common favor upon principals that were hard fought for five hundred years before.

It was the United States that pioneered in this cause and this country, built on the solid fundamental of individual rights was the logical birthplace. It was in Mary Ann McClintock's home in Waterloo, New York, in 1848, that the first convention for women's rights in all history was held; but records of older days show that Italian women in the 14th century asked for a voice in the government when they were admitted to the universities and in 1499 English women signed a petition requesting recognition of their rights.

The story of woman's suffrage is a well-known schoolboy tale. They know the wave of reform thought that swept over the European continent and into America. They know the famous negro orator, Frederick Douglass, whose affirmative arguments helped convince the women they were able to take their place as the political equals of the men. And they know it was the new and freedom loving west who granted women the right to vote before the conservative east surrendered to democracy. There is no longer need to argue. Women have the privilege to exercise it as they see fit. A voice in the affairs of the world is now their legal right. Abigail Adams would be glad. Nearly two-centuries ago she admonished her famous husband, John. "In the framework of our government, don't give unlimited power into the hands of husbands, for all men would be tyrants if they could." — P. R.

THAT SAVORY ODOR MEANS Canning Time Is Here Again

Jelly making time, again and as universal as a sunset, it is. Soon the cauldrons will begin to bubble and the aromas of canning time, sweet or spicy, dainty and delectable, will waft through the house.

Naturally there is a special week for this, too. Beginning Monday, it is officially Jelly and Jam Making Week, but long before and long after that, the creative artist of the kitchen will be busy peeling fruit and labeling jars and experimenting with new marmalades and jams, and preserves.

The kitchen undergoes a hurried metamorphosis. From its white and hurried sanitation, it is transferred into wild confusion. Food grinders, paing knives, graters, bowls and wooden spoons come out of hiding to scatter over every available inch of work space. And where they aren't stacked, the patient rows of empty glasses are lined.

Once more kitchen chairs and children give way valuable floor space for bushel baskets as quince, pears blueberries, and plums spread their domestic rainbows of hues from trees to cabinets to kettles.

And after the cherries have been seeded and peaches de-fuzzed and grapes crushed through the colander, then the sights and smells of canning time give way to the aftermath; gleaming jars of spiced peach jam, cherry jelly and orange marmalade march down the kitchen shelves, the jewels of the pantry.

Just as it was in the days when grandmother poked hickory logs into the blackened wood stove and tested the cooking time of the bubbling pink cherry juice to see when two drops clung side by side on the spoon, what's good in canning time is still very much the same.

Electricity and gas replaced the hickory log and pre-gummed labels did away with flour-paste, but the pungent smell of fresh made apple butter, the vibrant wine tones in the grape jelly glass and, the savory taste of juicy, glazed strawberry jam settled onto hot biscuits, earth's answer to olympian ambrosia, hasn't changed a bit. That's why for the Atomic Age.

Approved Bond Election

Voters of Littlefield district went to the polls Saturday and overwhelmingly approved the $500,000 bond election for the new Littlefield High school. The vote was 423 for the issue and 102 against, or approximately four to one.

The new high school building will contain 18 classrooms and include three rooms and complete new equipment for homemaking; two science rooms with full laboratory equipment; a commercial department of two rooms; vocational agriculture class rooms and practice room; a woodworking shop and a library with seating capacity of 80 students.

Architect's plans call for a 1,000-seat auditorium and a gymnasium seating approximately 900, with complete dressing room facilities.

The building will take care of 500 students, the estimated enrollment when the city reaches a population of 15,000. —County Wide News, Littlefield.

There is much talking about progress along the lines of democracy but this does not mean that anybody is making any progress.

People who readily admit that they know nothing and are too lazy to learn anything are not as few in number as you might think.

It won't be long now before the loyal alumni will be told of bright prospects for the football season, with a request for a donation to make it a great success.

Justice Murphy

I HAVE PAID TRIBUTE many times to Frank Murphy when he was living, but it seems difficult to write about him now that he is dead. One reason is that it is hard to realize that he is gone. A lot of people will miss Frank Murphy. His family will miss him. His liberal friends on the supreme court will miss him. But most of all, the little people of the world will miss him.

Shortly after Frank was appointed to the supreme court, he took me into his study in the Washington hotel, and pointed to a stack of law books.

"That's where I spend my evenings," he said. "The newspapers say that I'm no lawyer. They make fun of my legal ability. But they're going to be disappointed. And you're going to be proud of my opinions," he continued.

There was something of the boy in Frank Murphy—to the very end. He loved praise, hated criticism, and was always a little worried as to what kind of supreme court justice he would be. He shouldn't have been, for I am sure that some of Frank's dissents will stand up—as he so ardently hoped—alongside the ringing defenses of freedom written by Holmes. More important, Frank Murphy will always be known as one of our great champions of the common man.

Murphy became attorney general in January, 1939, and immediately launched the biggest political clean-up this country has ever seen. U.S. Judge Martin T. Manton, of the second circuit court in New York, had been getting away with graft for years. Many people knew this, but other attorneys general had let it pass.

In Louisiana, this column had exposed shocking graft by the old Huey Long gang. Frank Murphy took the columns, with supporting affidavits, called a grand jury, flew to New Orleans himself, and in record time convicted Gov. Richard Leche, the Democratic national committeeman, the head of WPA, the president of the state university, and several others.

In Missouri, the newspapers had talked about the graft of the Pendergast machine, but Washington paid no attention.

But, under Frank Murphy, a tough district attorney—Maurice Milligan of Kansas City—got justice department support, and Tom Pendergast ended up behind the bars.

Murphy also moved into Atlantic City against G.O.P. Boss Nucky Johnson, and started to move against Boss Hague in Jersey City and Mayor Kelly in Chicago. The latter two were democrats.

Kicked Upstairs

It was widely rumored when Frank Murphy retired as attorney general to join the supreme court that he was "kicked upstairs" in order to protect the Democratic bosses. I have a personal reason for believing this was true.

However, it should also be noted that with the death of Justice Pierce Butler, a Catholic, in November, 1939, Roosevelt wanted a Catholic to take his place. Likewise, it was true that FDR's fair-haired boy, Robert H. Jackson, was being groomed for the presidency, and the White House wanted the justice department spotlight to play on him.

I am convinced, however, that the first factor—calling Murphy off the heels of the big-city bosses—was the most important. And here is my reason for thinking so.

By this time—early in 1940—most of the Louisiana scandals had been cleaned up, and a grand jury was considering the indictment of Mayor Robert Maestri of New Orleans on a hot oil charge. Suddenly, Chief Prosecutor O. John Rogge was called out of the jury room to answer the telephone from Washington. Returning to the jury room, he suspended the grand jury proceedings.

Learning of this mysterious move, I went to Frank Murphy and asked for an explanation. Murphy told the truth. Mayor Maestri was not to be indicted, he said. He had received orders from the White House.

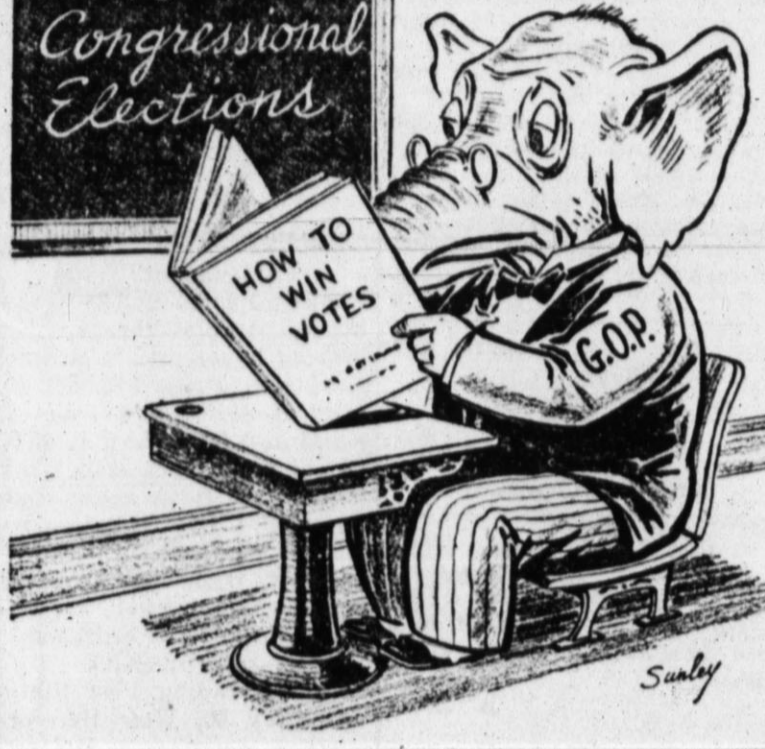

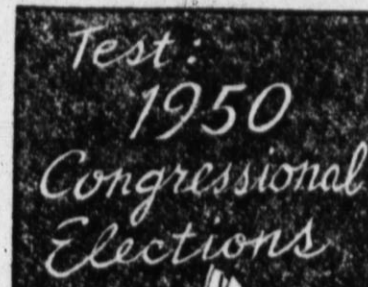

That was 1940—a presidential year. In order to get the nomination, FDR needed the support of the big-city bosses, and in Louisiana, the only man who could deliver the delegation was Mayor Maestri. Ironically, when Frank Murphy went up to the supreme court to be sworn in, he asked Felix Frankfurter to accompany him. Murphy had recommended Frankfurter's court appointment to the White House, and they were close friends.

But in a short time, however, they were bitter enemies. Frankfurter's scathing sarcasm hurt Murphy, and they scarcely spoke. Murphy was also bitter against brain-truster Tom Corcoran, once his closest friend, but when he felt had conspired to block his prosecution of city bosses.

Now is a very good time of year to clean out the fume of your automatic gas water heater for maximum efficiency.

'A Mencken Chrestomathy' Gives Reader Full Knowledge Of Satire

By MARGARET BARRETT

Some 625 pages of H. L. Mencken is a little too much to take all in one dose, but a new edition entitled "A Mencken Chrestomathy" is on the market in one big volume, chock-full of Menckianism from 1913 till yet. Included on its voluminous pages are everything that Sage of Baltimore ever wrote that is now out of print and/or that he figured was worth re-printing. And as modestly is not one of his failings, the greater part of his self-estimated 5,000,000 published words of wisdom can now be readily obtained by his enthusiastic followers.

The most fearless of all journalists in his day, Mencken took the lead in satirizing everything. No subject was too profound or too obvious, too sacred or too trifling for him to attack. He covered the field—men, women, love, marriage, philosophy, religion, politics, literature, art, music, law, psychology, science, medicine, government, and certainly personalities. And he found everything wrong with all of them, but had nothing to offer in their place.

His satire would be cruel were it not colored with intense humor. He saw everything as folly and vanity, but rather than be swept down in the stream of disillusionment, he adopted this amiable, tongue-in-cheek attitude toward it. Quite obviously he had a wonderful time and had a good laugh whenever he wrote anything. This attitude makes his works lively reading rather than hopelessly pessimistic tirades. The glitter, the glamour, the showmanship he manifested amid harsh-tongued bitterness kept a myriad of followers anxiously waiting for his next words.

Though he saw clearly through some of the superficialities of his times and contemporaries, he let his imagination get the better of his clear-sighted probings. He was unfair, insincere, and intolerant, deliberately coloring true values for effect. He dramatized the ridiculous, ridiculed the sacred, falsified the true. As one critic, Louis Kronenberger, put it, he was "the foreman of a wrecking crew"—his job was "not to shed light, but to remove dust."

Some say Mencken accomplished some good—that he, more than any of his contemporaries, managed to make America critical of herself. It is doubtful if so unconstructive a critic could have much force after his initial popularity wore out. He did manage to upset a few pompous individuals out of their roles as sages into the ranks of the comics. At any rate, taken in small doses, H. L. Mencken's humorous harangues are fun to read. It does us all good to see ourselves made ridiculous once in a while.

Published by the Alfred A. Knopf Company, "A Mencken Chrestomathy" is available to readers at the County Library.

HOMER FOX SAYS:

DID YOU KNOW...

Back in February 1923, Hereford organized and elected officers in our first Golf Club. They were Jim Black, President; Seth Holman, Vice-pres.; H. K. Fox, Sec. Treas.; J. A. Pitman, Fred Johnson and V. Cuning, by-laws and rules committee; F. H. Oberthier, Carl Gilliland and C. A. Acker, grounds committee.

They rented Ray Barber's club is located and started right off building a golf course. About half of these old boys didn't know a golf club from a croquet mallet. Anyway this fast moving outfit soon had the grounds ready in spite of the weather. If you don't remember 1923, it was that wet year and we mean WET.

The last of March we had a meeting and matched the bunch up for the first tournament. They had decided to limit the membership to forty members, but when they threw all the names in the hat that night and got through drawing them and matching, they had forty-two members already, so they immediately raised the limit to 50 and before the matches got going good the next week they had a meeting and raised the limit to 60. After the drawing that night

the BOOTLEG philosopher

(Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher comes up with a fine idea this week, which we doubt he'll get anywhere with.)

Dear editor:

I was out here yesterday wondering why nobody ever sends me a deepfreeze unit right out of a clear sky, looks like all I ever get out of a clear sky is drought, and I got to think and the more I thought the more it seemed to me the people who are wantin special favors have an uncanny sense in showerin gifts on people in public office, without ever lettin a single one fall on anybody else.

I ain't never held public office and don't see much prospect of ever doin it, as I wouldn't spend as much money shakin hands as some office-holders do if it stood between me and starvation, but I have been wonderin why you don't ever read of the United States Senate investigatin a man like me for receivin a valuable gift from some manufacturer?

I could even imagine the headline in your paper: "Bootleg Philosopher Says He 'Thought Deepfreeze Unit Was Reward For Public Faithfulness,'" but up to now ain't no big business expert huntin for more contracts even let on he knows I'm alive. In fact, looks like us farmers are gettin a raw deal.

I have even heard of a justice of the peace gettin a box of cigars, a county commissioner gettin a new suit of clothes or a new set of tires for his personal automobile, a state representative gettin a new car, a U. S. Congressman gettin a huntin lodge, but in all my newspaper readin over a long number of years, I ain't never heard of a farmer gettin nothin free.

It seems to me, with farmers holdin the key to food production, which ought to be as important as steel production, that some smart bird would figure out it would be good business to favor a few farmers with electric refrigerators or at least a ice box or, if he couldn't do no better, the second hand tires that come off some official's car when he gets a new set for decidin one piece of equipment is better than another, but up to now we've been ignored.

I will appreciate it if you will get a movement started to convince big business the farmer is just as entitled to the luxurious gifts as the politicians. There ought to be a law requirin fifty percent of all deepfreeze units, refrigerators, ice boxes, suits of clothes, automobile tires, airplane tickets, etc. to be handed out to farmers, instead of all of em goin to the politicians. Ain't this a democracy?

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Much national publicity of late has been devoted to the subject of movies, the quality of their subject matter and the artistry with which they are produced. As Hereford has a large movie-going public, we have taken this opportunity to discover how Herefordites feel about the quality of movies—good, bad, or indifferent. Here are some opinions:

Mrs. Joe Story: "I don't know too much about the general quality of the movies, as we don't get to go too often. We follow the Consumer's Research Bulletin, and we try to see the movies recommended by it. We find them very good as a rule. I particularly like to see comedies or humorous movies—they are more relaxing and entertaining, I think. Some serious movies I like very well, but it seems to me life has enough ups and downs without seeing more of the same in a picture show. I have heard people remark occasionally that they wish 'they'd make better movies.'"

Mrs. Darrell Blanton: "About all I can say from authority is that the western movies have improved—as that's about all we get the chance to see. I think what people really want is something different—movie-makers have used the same old plot over and over again, for instance the murder and psychological movies—until when you've seen one you've seen them all. Now we are having a few pictures about different subjects, and that shows a definite improvement in the quality of movies, I think."

J. W. Robinson, Jr.: "I think the quality of movies is improving, because independent producers are entering the field. The spirit of greater competition will give an incentive for making movies that are better. The western movies might be better than they used to be, but there are too many of them. A trend I think is good is the production of sports stories—like "The Stratton Story" for instance. As for comedies, they are too far-fetched, but the more ridiculous they are the funnier, so that's all right too."

E. C. Eubanks: "There has been no great improvement in the quality of entertainment through movies in the past several years. We as movie goers take them more or less for granted. Probably because we see too many, they become more ordinary in our minds. Still I would hate to do without the movies—I think they are a grand thing for the people."

Mrs. DeWard Roberson: "We always pick our pictures, so we don't see just any movie. Ordinarily we see a preview or other advertising that helps us to decide which ones we want to see. The first class pictures are usually widely advertised. And we choose the ones we want to see by the actors or the subject matter. Even so, I don't think the movies are showing any improvement. I can remember seeing pictures years ago which made enough of an impression to stay with me till yet, and there are none like that now. I feel that with the delinquency problem we have, we should be very careful what movies the children see, because they are going to the movies. The right type movie could do much to raise the moral standards of youngsters, I believe, but when they dramatize crime they can be harmful."

National School Commission Picks DuPont Executive As Staff Director

HENRY TOY JR.

New York, N. Y.—Henry Toy Jr., 35, Du Pont Company Executive and founder of the Council for Delaware Education, has been appointed Executive Director of the new National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools, Roy E. Larsen, president of Time Inc. and chairman of the Commission, announced recently.

"As a businessman who realizes the vital importance of the public schools to each community as well as to the nation, Mr. Toy has been largely responsible for the dramatic success of the Council for Delaware Education in helping citizens to improve the public schools in communities throughout Delaware," Mr. Larsen said.

"In his capacity as Executive Director of our Commission he will be able to give all his time and the full benefit of his experience to implementing the program outlined by our members. According to part of this program the Commission will act as a clearing house of information to enable one group of citizens endeavoring to improve their local public schools to profit from the experience of others. Mr. Toy will also assist us in carrying out many other projects which we are planning to help encourage the broad public interest in the public schools which we believe is necessary to solve the many extremely serious problems which confront the schools today."

The National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools is composed exclusively of laymen, many of them outstanding in business, labor, law and publishing. It was formed last May to work for concerted action by citizens in their own communities. The group has received initial financial support from the Carnegie Corporation and the General Education Board. Its officers are, besides Mr. Larsen: James F. Brownlee, former deputy director of the OPA, vice-chairman; John A. Stevenson, president of Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., treasurer, and Leo Perla, director of the National CIO Community Services Committee, secretary. The Council for Delaware Education, which Mr. Toy headed for two and a half years after founding it in November of 1946, is a dramatic illustration of what a group of determined citizens can do for their schools. It has been instrumental in achieving many far-reaching school improvements in Delaware. These include increases in teachers salaries, appropriations for the construction of new school buildings, wide-spread legislative changes for the benefit of the schools, and an upsurge in public interest in the schools which has been reflected in a greatly increased number of voters turning out for elections affecting the schools.

included Mesdames Bertha Witherspoon, O. H. Culppepper, Roy Ford, Ray Cowser, Harry Seed, Ray Suit, C. H. Dyer and the hostess.

Guests of Mrs. Herman Gray this week were Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey of Crosbyton. They arrived Thursday and left Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey are former Hereford residents and Mrs. Harvey is Mrs. Gray's sister.

School Board Rejects All Gymnasium Bids

The Hereford School Board rejected all five bids submitted on the construction of the new gymnasium when they held the bid opening August 10, A. J. Schroeter, chairman of the board, announced this week.

The bids submitted ranged in price from a low of $100,000 to $150,000. The construction company of Amarillo, the firm which contracted the hospital, presented the low bid with a working day schedule of 120 days. Lowest working days allowed on the bids was 120.

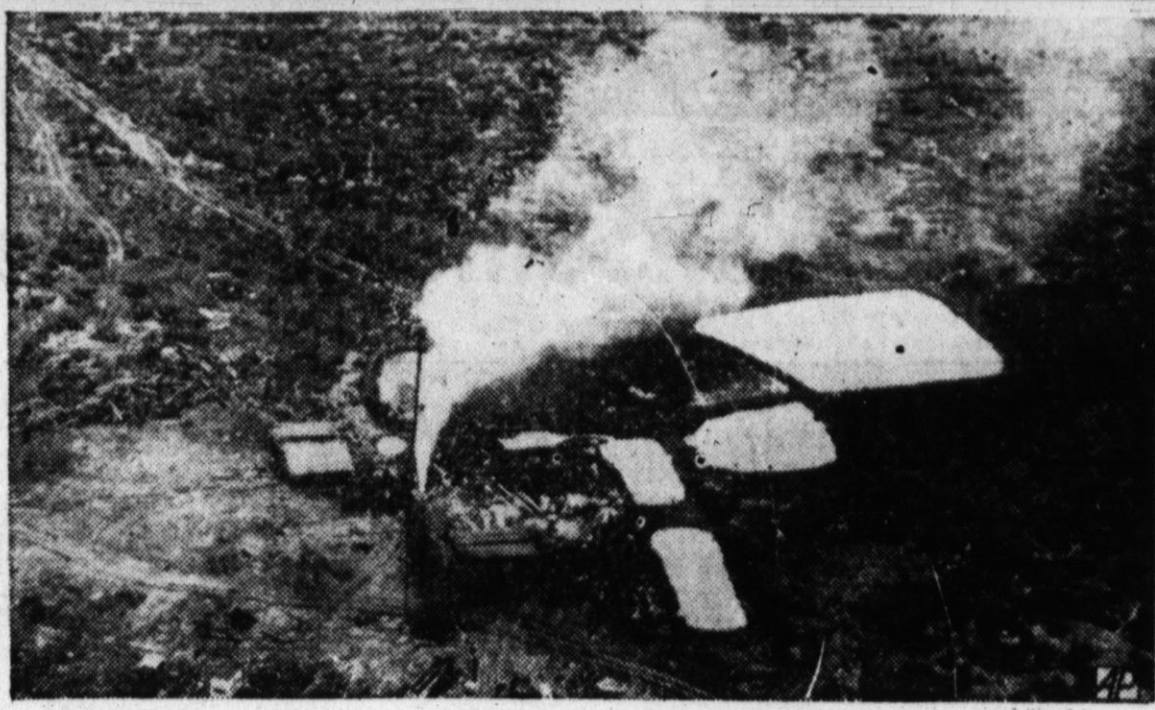

"Since under this plan, we could not get the building ready for this year, anyhow, we have decided to wait until next spring, perhaps by then costs will be down more and the school will have more money to spend on construction," said Schroeter.

Attending the meeting were Schroeter, Howard Gault, Lyle Woodford, H. H. Miller, Troy Kelly, Sylvester Slagle and Robert Veige.

Returns To Throckmorton

Miss Frankie Criswell, who has been confined to Deaf Smith County Hospital suffering with a leg injury, will go back to her home in Throckmorton today. Miss Criswell is the sister of Dalton Criswell and arrived Wednesday for a visit in Hereford. While here, her leg became infected from an injury suffered while riding in a rodeo, so she was hospitalized for better care. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Criswell, drove up to Hereford Sunday to take her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dettman and Mrs. Fred Hansen left Friday morning for the New Mexico mountains for several days fishing.

52 County 4-H Girls Go On Tour To Amarillo, Trip Is Interesting

By MRS. TOM DRAPER

The educational tour of Amarillo made last Tuesday by 52 4-H Club girls and leaders was enjoyed by all even though most of them were thoroughly worn out when they returned to Hereford.

The first stop was at Borden's where the group was joined by Miss Doris Leggett, district agent. Here the group saw how milk, ice cream, and cottage cheese were processed. As an additional treat ice cream bars were served to the group by the Borden Company.

At the Pinkney Packing Company the girls saw cattle being slaughtered and processed into various products. Some of the interesting things they saw were weiners being made, bacon being sliced and packaged, hams being cured, and lard being processed. Some of the girls were a bit reluctant to go back outside after being in the cold storage rooms.

Since the group was ahead of schedule a visit was made to the cattle auction. Some of the girls were more excited about the prospects of seeing Uncle Jay there than they were about attending the cattle auction. Tom Draper, who accompanied the group on the tour, cautioned the girls not to nod their heads at any time or the auctioneer would think they wanted to buy the cattle being auctioned. This bit of advice was certainly in order as the girls did not make an unwanted purchase.

The next stop was at the Amarillo Air Terminal where the group watched several planes come in and take off. The girls were conducted through one of the large passenger planes.

The girls and their leaders enjoyed a picnic lunch at one of the city parks and from there inspected the Amarillo Children's Home. Here we almost lost some of the girls as they so thoroughly enjoyed the beautiful cottages. They are planning to return to the Home when the Administration Building is finished.

The final stop was at a large hatchery. Here we had one of the best guides in the whole tour; he explained every process of the natchery in detail, answered questions the girls had been confronted with from their experience. As most of the girls are carrying poultry as a demonstration they were very interested.

Mrs. J. E. Beyer, leader in the Jolly Girls 4-H Club, and her daughter Ann met the group in Amarillo. They live in the north part of the county and it was easier for them to go from their home.

Mrs. Beyer asked about surplus vegetables around Hereford. Many of the people in the county have lost their gardens from naul. The home makers are anxious to buy vegetables by the bushel to preserve. If any of you have surplus vegetables to be sold and would like for the agents to get the news to club members please drop a card to Box 871, Hereford; an effort will be made to tell those who need them.

PERSONALS

Joan Hardwick, who has been spending the summer at a girl's camp in Portland, Maine, returned to Hereford Thursday. She was met at English Field by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hardwick, and will spend the rest of the summer here.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frye returned to Hereford last week from an extended visit with relatives and friends in Iowa and other Midwestern states.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Vowler and son and his wife of Atwood, Tenn., are visiting in the home of her brother-in-law, L. A. Boyd Thursday through Sunday of this week.

Among the former Wellington residents who attended the big reunion celebration there this week were W. A. Hunter and his sons, Finis and Sam. The Hunters lived in Wellington 83 years ago and went down Friday for the festivities.

W. M. U. MEETING

The regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church will not be held next Wednesday as scheduled. The tea honoring new members which was scheduled for that day has been postponed until August 1.

THANK YOU HEREFORD!

Didn't we have fun at the Open House! And we were so happy to see most of you back in our store Saturday, leisurely inspecting our large stock of men's, women's and children's shoes.

We cannot adequately express our appreciation to the large number of you who have paid us a visit and voiced your appreciation of our kind of merchandise, our kind of store, our kind of service.

Hereford is our kind of town, and we'll strive every day to make the Hereford Shoe Store your kind of store!

Sincerely,

my bills and he won't let me collect for his loads of wheat." Irving, being from Portland, Oregon, and more or less a stranger to all this, just smiled and tried not to look confused.

Special guests of honor at the party were the older ladies of the crowd.

Gathered around the fireplace were the belles of the ball, three ladies whose total ages topped the 260 year mark.

"I thought I was old," said Mrs. Allie Elliston, "until I met her. Now I feel sweet sixteen." Mrs. Mary Ott agreed.

"Her" was Parthenia Elizabeth Riggs. She will be 95 years old on January 11 and she was having a lovely time enjoying the young folks of 70 years or under. Born right on the Arkansas-Tennessee border, she claims Limestone County, Alabama as her birthplace and says she remembers the Civil War better than she remembers World War II.

She has 10 children, 32 grandchildren, 70 great-grandchildren and 23 great-great grandchildren. Total: 135 descendants. She doesn't wear glasses, "I've got my second sight," she explains, and she was wearing a black dotted Swiss dress. "No, I'm not cold. Course, I'm sitting here by the fireplace." At present she is living with Mrs. Frank Tackitt.

"When I get to be a hundred, I'm going to get married again, if I can find some nice young man I'll have," she said. Then Hugh Clearman came over and introduced himself.

Mrs. Riggs was a newcomer to the group, but Mrs. Elliston and Mrs. Ott are pioneers. They appear at every one of these parties and usually manage, with the least effort and the most charm, to be the center of attraction.

The supper was served from a long table, well laden with delicious food.

Johnny Lynn climbed on a bench and gave the blessing. Then the crowds lined up on either side of the table. That paper-covered table was about 40 feet long and outside of roast turkey and cavier there was little in the line of food that didn't appear on it. At one end were paper plates, spoons and forks, designed to eliminate dishwashing. At the other end were chocolate pies, coconut cakes, spice cakes, and custard pies designed to eliminate waist watching. In between were meats, salads, relishes, rolls and fruit on which every hungry person in the crowd—and everybody in the crowd was hungry—had figured out their own designs.

"Quit shoving," said Mary Estelle LeGrand. "I'm not shoving," said Mary Lou Benson, "I'm just trying to reach that pulleybone. There now, that man has beaten me to it." "That's why I wanted you to quit shoving. I had my eye on it, too," said Mary Estelle, picking up a drumstick.

"Hmmm, that's Mrs. Picken's cake. I sure want a piece of it." "Honestly, where am I going to put all this food?"

"Try this macaroni salad," said Mrs. Hardy Benson. "It has just everything in it."

For desert there was fresh strawberry ice cream, freezer packed. Wirt Albracht and C. J. Albracht looked over the ice-cream line up and mused, "Sure takes time." A quarter of an hour later C. J. returned, "Give me a paper cup. Just as they got in the line, they ran out of cones."

Entertainment features were movies shown by Burl Elliston and Elmer Patterson, talks by Johnny Lynn, games and conversation.

From Games: From the children's point of view, the games were the best. They chased each other among the trees, the tables, and the guests. Little boys are nature's answer to perpetual motion. Little girls run a close second. One little girl fell down, and bumped her head. She got up, rubbed it, looked around, couldn't find her mother, hunted for a full three minutes for the lady and on spying her, promptly burst into tears, howling, "I got hurt."

Conversation: Remained on about the same level all evening.

Only time it varied a great deal was when two little boys, about to have a fight, started slinging threats at each other, a conversational innovation they maintained until their parents swooped down on them and put a stop to that incident.

Talk by Johnny Lynn: He climbed on a soap box, said, "Everybody gather as close as you can," and was practically shoved off the box by Danny Elliston, Bryce Kelly and a few of their cohorts who bounced up beside him.

Movie: First feature was the famous Deaf Smith County story which met with its usual acclaim. About the same audience sees about the same picture every year and they like it. They sit there and say, "Oh, there's Mrs. Jackson and those cherries I told you about," "Those are Ed Adam's potatoes," and "Look at J. B. Stengel's sugar beets."

New this year were the shots of Palo Duro Gold Rush, some of the best color photography by an amateur that we've seen. Patterson made them this June.

So the clock rolled around to twelve and at midnight the gathering broke up. People picked up their dishes and pots and pans, said goodnight to their friends and went their way, planning to return again next year. And although they might not see each other from one Wyche Party until the next, the thread of friendliness weaves stronger and stronger through the tapestry of time with each community party.

Signing the guest book this year were Pat Elliston, Harold Malm, Eunice Albracht, Sue Scarth, and Mrs. C. J. Albracht, Wirt Albracht, Danny Elliston, Waverly Elliston, Frank Day, Duane Albracht, Roger Albracht, Mr. and Mrs. Dock Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Benson, Mrs. J. H. Reinart, Tom Wilhelm, Mrs. Ethel Layman.

Mary Lou Benson, Mary Estelle LeGrand, Bryce Kelly, Joann Valentine, Shirley Hammonds, Jacque Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Valentine, Peggy Dyer, Florence Traweck, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Campbell, Mr. and

Bob Wear Applauds American Way Of Church And State Separation

"One of the fundamental principles of the American way of life is the separation of church and state. For almost 160 years we have done very well because we have followed this principle. The basis for this American doctrine is found in the first amendment to our National Constitution: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; . . ." said Bob Wear as he addressed The American Business Club in Amarillo Friday noon.

(Continued from page 3) learned that there is no superior race. Put the white man in the same position, enslave him for a hundred years, and then "free" him without a cent in a hostile country, whose inhabitants despise him because of the color of his skin and his former condition of servitude, and see how far and fast he would advance.

There should be no room for hate and fear, the concomitants of prejudice, in the Christian heart. We cannot follow Christ, who said that we are all one in Him, and hate our fellow man because of the shape of his nose, the color of his skin or the way in which he approaches God.

E. B. Wood, Hereford, Texas.

How can we preach the gospel of Christ in a community where our local laws do not cooperate in spreading the mission of Calvary?

The greatest schools which we actually have are those where the devil is the principal and the subjects are gambling, dancing, drinking, cursing, etc.

We need more vigilance instead of negligence. In other words we need more acting instead of talking. It can be easily stopped with the cooperation of fine good laws of citizenship.

"If a mad dog is running around in a community and we do nothing he is allowed to bite us."

Distribution Day For NSLI Dividend Application Forms--Monday, Aug. 29

Monday, August 29, 1949 will be the first day of distribution of application forms for the National Service Life Insurance special dividend to be paid to veterans who carried their GI insurance for three months or more prior to January 1, 1948.

Application forms will be available at post offices, veterans' service organizations, American Red Cross, Veterans' County Service offices and throughout the West Texas area served by the Lubbock regional office of Veterans Administration, Manager Robert W. Sisson announced.

These simplified application blanks are in the form of a three-fold card; the veteran will retain one third of the card, which contains the instructions, and after filling in his full name, service number, C-number if any, and insurance number or numbers if available, and address, will place a one-cent stamp on the remaining two-fold card and mail to Veterans Administration, Washington, D. C.

It is expected the dividend check distribution will begin in January and will be substantially completed during the first six months of 1950. "Making application on the first day of distribution of the forms does not necessarily assure early receipt of the special dividend check," Mr. Sisson emphasized.

Beneficiaries of deceased veterans who are presently receiving insurance benefits will not be required to make application for the special dividend.

Veterans Administration will mail direct to beneficiaries of deceased veterans whose insurance was not in force at time of death, the necessary application form for any accrued dividend payable.

The application only is necessary although the veteran may have had more than one policy of insurance or more than one plan of insurance. It is further pointed out that where the insurance number is unknown, the veteran's application will be identified through his service number.

THIS IS SERIOUS,

Irrigation Farmers, Attention

Working with the Texas Water Conservation Association, your local Water Users Association has been able to ward off legislation which would be detrimental to this area, and to the entire Irrigation Belt.

Trips to Austin and to points over the entire Panhandle have been expensive, and funds of the organization have been exhausted. We ask you, therefore in the interest of your own family and continued operation of your irrigation wells to help out with a $10 donation per well or more, so that work may be carried on.

To quit now means to lose what has already been done. House Bill No. 162, passed and signed June 2 by Gov. Jester establishes the fact that water rights belong to the people and (2) if, and when control of irrigation becomes necessary, it will be handled by the people rather than by state or national regulations.

BIBLE COMMENT FOR AUG. 14

Jewish Peoples Celebrated Feasts With Songs to God

THE writer of the 137th Psalm, in a vivid historical record, tells how their Babylonian captors required mirth of the Jewish Exiles, in Babylon, saying: "Sing us one of the songs of Zion."

THERE were many feasts and festivals, some local in character, but the great national festivals, involving all the people, were four: 1. The Feast of the Passover, followed immediately by the Feast of Unleavened Bread, during which the offering of a barley sheaf marked the opening of the reaping season.

What these religious practices meant, and their effect, can well be seen in the continuity of Jewish life and religion, in spite of all the trials of dispersion, exile, persecution, and disaster, and the changes in which nations and peoples, once formidable, have gone down to ruin.

The maintenance of periods and occasions of remembrance, telling it to the generation following, with religious fervor and in the spirit of devotion, and in the songs of a people—this, in the history and religion of Israel is something that other nations and peoples might well take to heart.

PLEASANT SURROUNDINGS—No wonder the young man is smiling! Who wouldn't be when sandwiched between two beauties such as these for a day at the beach. For their outing, the trio wear bright cotton swim suits typical of the vivid cotton sportswear designed in California.

SAVED—Little Joan Gill, 11, (above) of Bowie was rescued from almost certain death under the wheels of a switching freight train by a Wichita Falls brakeman and conductor, H. W. Coffman, in Bowie. A crowd of Bowie residents saw Coffman, who was standing in the street directing traffic, snatch the girl from her bicycle as she rode into the path of the train. The bicycle was caught by the train and demolished. (AP Photo)

Fat Calves-Good Beef Now Is Time To Start

Now is the time to start getting that milk pen calf ready for the locker plant this fall, says Roy W. Snyder. You want tender, juicy and tasty beef in your locker box and you can have it if the calf you butcher is fat.

Snyder adds that a thin animal with no external fat usually produces meat that is dry, tough and stringy but a fat calf furnishes the kind of meat that we all like to eat. There is fat mixed with the lean muscles and that is what makes a juicy steak or roast.

Snyder says, he likes a calf that will weigh about 500 pounds on foot and is fat. It will dress out about 270 pounds—135 pounds to the side—and this doesn't include the heart, tongue and liver. It is easy, he says, to cut to fit any size family. The roasts can be cut either large or small and you can't do this with a thin small calf. The short ribs from this kind of calf are also very good. You'll find them juicy and tasty because of that mixture of lean and fat.

A beef type animal is desirable but a milk pen calf makes a good substitute and they are available on most farms, says Snyder. So long as the calf gets milk and good grazing, it will do well but when the grass begins to dry up, supplemental feeding is necessary. This is the feed that will make the good beef. The grain ration should be increased as the calf gets older and if grazing is not available, it is advisable says Snyder, to feed hay or other roughage with the grain.

KITCHEN MEMO BY JEAN CLARKE

When you find you haven't any meat on hand and want to ensure the family getting enough energy food, serve a main dish of Potato, Lima Bean and Nut Casserole which contains plenty of protein value. Cook until tender in small amount boiling, salted water 1/2 cup dried celery. Drain liquid. Add 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1 1/2 cups mashed potatoes, 3 tbsps. fat, 1 beaten egg, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. paprika, 2 tps. grated onion. Mix well. Add 1 1/2 cups green lima beans. Mix together lightly. Put in greased casserole dish. Bake in gas oven at 350° F. 25 mins. Serve with tomato sauce or relish. Serves 6.

Brush the roast with a commercial gravy extract before putting into the oven to give it a crisp brown crust. The drippings make very good gravy.

If, after cooking, the broiler pan of your gas range is greasy, pour in hot water, sprinkle with detergent as soon as food is taken out. By the time the meal is over, all you'll have to do is rinse and dry it.

Local Couple United In Double-Ring Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Johnnie Marie Paetzold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paetzold, to George Turrentine, son of Mrs. Bess Werner, was solemnized Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in the Rectory of St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Reverend Father Nathaniel was the officiant for the double-ring ceremony.

Baskets of gladioli, asters and tiny chrysanthemums formed the background for the ceremony and tall white tapers burned in candelabra.

Mrs. Robert Kerschen attended the bride as matron of honor and Robert Kerschen served the bridegroom as best man. Mrs. Kerschen wore a street length dress of satin in frost green. Made similar to that worn by the bride, the dress had a fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a heart-shaped bonnet trimmed in pale pink, fashioned of chiffon and she wore a corsage of pink Amaryllis feathered with carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore pink Chantilly lace designed with small collar and a fitted bodice with a low, scalloped waistline. The ankle-length fullness of the skirt fell in folds to the hem line which was bordered in a band of silk marquisette. Satin buttons down the front of the bodice matched the narrow satin belt. Her hat was fashioned of pink hair-braid and net into a wide-brimmed creation with apple-blossom trim and tied at the back with satin ribbon matching the satin on her dress. Gloves and shoes were in white.

She carried a white Rosary, the gift of the bridegroom, with her wedding bouquet which was a single white orchid combined with pink tea roses and pale green satin streamers, and she wore the gold locket her mother wore at her wedding.

The bride's mother wore a satin dress in dusky rose with a big pastel green hat trimmed in roses. Her corsage was of tea roses. Mrs. Werner, the bridegroom's mother wore navy with white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Following the wedding a breakfast for immediate members of the two families was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Reception At High Noon

A reception honoring the couple was held at the Paetzold home at high noon for close friends and relatives.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen patch-work and embroidered cloth brought from the Orient by Miss Alma Paetzold, sister of the bride, who served as a nurse with the U. S. Army during the war. The tiered cake centered the table and tiny pink hearts attached to pink and green ribbons fell from the edge of the old-fashioned crystal cake plate. Pink and white candles gave candlelighting and Chinese vases held pink rosebuds on the buffet. Bobby Lee Witherspoon, Pat Hammock and Mrs. Robert Singer assisted in the dining room and the hostess was further assisted by Mrs. Carl Luke, Mrs. A. Schlab and Mrs. V. O. Hennen. Mrs. Herman Paetzold assisted the guests in registering.

The bride traveled in a Kelly green woolen suit when the couple left on a wedding trip to New Mexico and Denver, Colorado. Her blouse was in green and shoes and bag were in brown lizard. Her feather-trimmed hat was in brown. Upon their return the couple will live in a new home five miles west of Hereford on the Harrison Highway.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Turrentine are graduates of Hereford High School. She attended Our Lady of Victory College in Fort Worth and he attended the University of Wisconsin while serving in the Navy.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Robert Singer of Dimmitt and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Roach of Tatum, N. M.

Announcement Tea This Afternoon Will Honor Miss Patsy Slagle

The engagement of Miss Patsy Slagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Slagle, to Richard Ireland will be announced at a tea given by the bride's mother this afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ireland are parents of the prospective bridegroom.

Receiving the one hundred and forty guests will be Mrs. Slagle, Patsy, and her maid of honor, Miss Jaynice Boston, Mrs. E. S. Ireland and Miss Ruby Williams of Pampa, aunt of the bride-elect.

The tea table will be done in orchid and rose, chosen colors of the bride-elect. Placed in the center against the white linen cloth will be two over-size wedding rings in platinum ceramics, resting in a jewel box. The wedding news will be told inside the rings in simulated engraving. Orchid satin ribbon streamers extended from the jewel box and were caught at each end of the table with old fashioned nosegays of deep purple asters.

Mrs. Woodrow Ireland and Mrs. Donald Henslee will preside at the table and Mrs. Ralph Roden of Friona and Mrs. Troy Moore will assist in the dining room.

Doris Jean Hastings and Sharon Dee Moore will have charge of the registry.

The wedding will take place on October 16 in the First Methodist Church.

Miss Slagle attended N. T. S. C. Denton, and Texas Technological College, Lubbock. Mr. Ireland attended Texas Technological College and served in the Air Corps during World War II.

Pat Longbottom Harold Loerwald Plan Wedding

Pat Longbottom and Harold Loerwald will exchange marriage vows on August 30.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Perry McMinn and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Loerwald.

The announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage was made at an informal buffet supper given at the home of Mrs. W. J. Howard Thursday evening, August 11. News of the wedding to be revealed on an arch of wide blue satin ribbon bearing the inscription "Paty and Harold August 30". Bride and groom figurines stood beneath the arch to emphasize the message and an engagement ring and a wedding band lay within the circle of pink and white gladioli florets.

After the informal supper wedding plans were discussed.

Those attending were Martha Thomas, Alma Faye Knox, Sarah Owen, Mrs. Calvin Goodin, Ruth London, Mary Kathryn Carroll, Joan Witherspoon, Jacqueline Newell, Doris Smith, Louise Green, Mary Jo Mathies, Ruth Loerwald, the honoree and the hostess.

Nuptial Mass Unites Miss Paschel And James Fangman In Vega Rites

In the first nuptial mass held in the new Church of the Immaculate Conception at Vega, Miss Geraldine Paschel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paschel of Vega, became the bride of James Fangman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Fangman of Hereford at eight o'clock Tuesday morning.

The Reverend Jerome Hancock performed the double-ring ceremony. Nuptial music was played by Miss Ann Gallagher who also sang Gounod's Ave Maria.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Mary Paschel, who served as maid of honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Theresa Fangman, bridesmaid. The maid of honor wore aqua and the bridesmaid wore orchid. Both dresses were made alike with satin in tops and full marquisette skirts with panel back of satin. Both carried nosegays of pastel blossoms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin made with high round neckline and long molded sleeves. The long full skirt, worn over hoops, extended into a Cathedral train. Her shoulder length veil was held by a coronet trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book and wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegroom's attendants were his brother, Gene Fangman, and the bride's brother, Anthony Paschel. Jack Redder of Vega and Fritz Hoffman of Hereford ushered.

Mrs. Paschel, mother of the bride, wore a plum colored crepe with corsage of white carnations and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Henry S. Fangman, wore a black and white print with white carnation corsage.

The wedding breakfast which followed the wedding was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jentzen and a dinner in the home of the bride's parents honored the couple at high noon.

A reception, also in the home of the bride's parents, was held between the hours of 4 and 7. A variety of fall flowers were used in decoration for the home.

For the wedding trip the bride donned a peach colored gaberdine suit featuring white accessories. When they return from points in New Mexico and Colorado they will live on a farm near Vega.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fangman attended Hereford schools and Mr. Fangman served one year in the Army during the war.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Elizabeth Schaik, Olathe, Kansas, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. John Lothaus of Edgerton, Kansas, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Meyer and son James, aunt and uncle and cousin of the bride; Mrs. Martha Nenke, Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fangman, Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marnell, Friona; Mrs. Annie Jentzen, Carlsbad, N. M.; Lois and Lucile Jentzen, Betty Jean Hill, Pauline and Katherine Till, all of Pilot Point, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bezner and daughters, Mrs. Hilda Both, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Saltzman, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Betzen and son and Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Fangman, all of Hereford.

Miss Rosemary Phillips Freeman Melton, Jr. Wed

Wearing the traditional white satin wedding gown, Miss Rosemary Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips, became the bride of Freeman Melton, Jr. of Wellington last Sunday in a ceremony read at 5 o'clock at the First Christian Church.

Rev. Roy Ford read the ceremony before an altar backed by baskets of white gladioli and seven branched candelabra holding white tapers. Pew ends were ribboned for members of the family.

The organist, Mrs. Ellis Coombes, played a medley of wedding music as the guests assembled. Her selections included "Andantino" (Lemore), "Romanche" (Wienlawski), "Ave Maria" (Schubert), "I Love Thee" (Grieg), "Clair de Lune" (Debussy), "Serenade" (Schubert), "The Rosary" (Nevin) and "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte) during the service. She played the "Lohengrin" bridal march as the wedding party entered and the Mendelssohn march as the processional.

Tapers were lighted by the bride's sister, Margaret Phillips, and the honor attendant was Mrs. Wix Price of Canyon. She wore a pink floor length dress of lace and net. The lace basque was made with high neck line and cap sleeves and the skirt of net was made full. She wore a pink halo of flowers and net and carried a hand bouquet of white gladioli florets.

The three bridesmaid's dresses were fashioned similarly with light fitted waists and long full skirts. Miss Frances Harp of Canyon wore orchid marquisette and carried pink gladioluses, Miss Frances Blessin of Amarillo wore aqua with lace waist and marquisette skirt with a hand bouquet of pink gladioluses and Miss Rosemary Hoyt of Gruver wore pale yellow and carried pink gladioluses. All wore bonnet trims of net to match their dresses.

Weldon Trice of Childress served as best man and ushers included Boyd Williams of Wellington, Jim Wilson of Claude, Bill Cross of Canyon and the bride's brother, David Phillips.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown made entirely of slipper satin with a fitted bodice having a round neck and deep bertha of satin edging the yoke of illusion. The long sleeves were pointed at the hands and the skirt was softly gathered at the waistline and caught in scallops at the hem in front over a graceful hoop-line. The back extended into a chapel train. The veil was edged in lace and fell in two tiers from a coronet of orange blossoms. The wedding bouquet was of double-gladioli in white showered with white satin streamers. Her only ornament was a single string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Reception in Garden

Following the ceremony at the church the bride's parents were hosts at a reception held in the garden of their home. Flowers encircled the punch bowl placed at one end of the lace-laid table. Betty Jane Robinson poured and Mrs. Bill Brady served the three-tiered wedding cake which was appropriately topped with a miniature bridal couple.

When the bride and bridegroom left on a short trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado, the bride was wearing a suit with black skirt and black and white striped jacket. She wore a small black felt hat and she wore a corsage fashioned of two white gardenias.

Following their trip the couple will reside in Canyon where they are both senior students at West Texas State College. She is a sociology major and he is majoring in physical education.

Mrs. Melton is a graduate of Hereford High School and has been employed in the summers for Jack Renfro Potato Shippers in Altus, Okla. and Hereford. Mr. Melton is a graduate of Wellington High School and served 32 months in the Navy during World War II.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McReynolds, Roswell, N. Mexico, Miss Martha Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Holley, Amarillo; Miss Edith Morrow, Pampa; Miss Ruth Seaman, Dalhart; Mrs. Bill Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Wix Price and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harp of Canyon; Betty Jane Robinson, McKinney; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Williams, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Melton, Mr. and Mrs. Harman Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Ham and Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Melton, Sr., all of Wellington; and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hendrixson of Hagerman, New Mexico.

Elizabeth Been Is Bride Of Thurman Williamson In Lott Church Of Christ

In the Church of Christ in Lott, Sunday, August 14, Miss Elizabeth Been was married to Thurman Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Williamson of Hereford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Been of Lott. Minister Columbus of the Waco Church of Christ read the service as vows were exchanged where palms, ferns and greenery formed the background for the ceremony.

Mrs. E. L. Hancock of Dallas was matron of honor and Marshal Storey of College Station, classmate of the bridegroom at Texas A&M College, was best man. Ushers were Jack London, Hereford, and Dick Williamson, Dallas.

A trio consisting of Joan Park, Billy Austin and Mrs. Betty Spraulding, all of Dallas, sang "I Love You Truly" (Bond) preceding the ceremony and sang the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party entered.

The bride's dress was of pale blue organdy made with tight fitting bodice and short sleeves. Tiny self covered buttons adorned the front of the bodice and wide tucks were featured on the skirt-length skirt. Her hat of maline matched her dress and was trimmed with bridal flowers. Her shoes were pale blue linen and she wore a single white orchid pinned to her shoulder.

The honor matron's dress was of beige organdy made identical to that worn by the bride. Her accessories were in brown and her hat was made of brown taffeta and maline. She wore a brown orchid.

During the reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents, members of the wedding party assisted the hostess in receiving. Mrs. Howard Williamson of Muleshoe was in charge of the bride's book.

Mrs. Williamson attended school in Lott and attended a business school in Dallas where she has been employed.

Mr. Williamson is a graduate of Hereford High School and of Texas A&M College. He served 25 months in overseas duty during the war.

He has been stationed with the extension department of Texas A&M College in Dallas since his graduation in June. Upon their return from a short wedding trip they will be stationed at Memphis.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. H. V. Williamson of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williamson and son Ayers, of Muleshoe.

S. O. Parsons Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

Fifty years ago last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Parsons began their long life together. Fifty years is a long way to go and only the knowledge that the time has passed makes them realize the length of the years. Busy with rearing a large family, the months merged into years and were gone before they realized it. Now, the privilege of looking back over half a century together comes as a highlight of those many years that have passed since that long-ago event.

His good humor and her ready wit, along with the many interests and activities that go with raising a family, have kept them young. Both are still spry and maintain their home for themselves.

"It's a good feeling to get this far down the line and still be able to do a man's work," Mr. Parsons remarked. At 74 when some men would be looking for a soft place to retire he is still hunting things to do. Mrs. Parsons is 70 and isn't anywhere near that old-age shelf yet.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Parsons are native Texans. They were raised on adjoining farms in Van Zant County. They played together, went to school together and attended the same church. Her name was Ollie Riley "And there never was another with so much Irish wit" according to Mr. Parsons. She kept house for her father and when it came time for them to marry, he had to promise her father that they would live with him a year before he would give his consent to the marriage. "Then is when I began compromising," he said, "and I've been compromising ever since."

When the year was up they bought them a home place, and farmed for themselves. Later they moved to Claude and after ward lived in Armstrong and Gray Counties. They came to Hereford in 1927 where he continued with farming. Looking back, they decided that they have had no real misfortunes—except, like most old-timers, he lost all his accumulations twice in succession. And about fifteen years ago he suffered a stroke which was pretty serious for a while but which finally left him with only his eyesight impaired. Growing beautiful flowers and making things attractive around the place is a hobby with them both and no matter where they locate, in no time at all they will have flowers blooming in a well kept lawn.

Mr. Parsons thinks his greatest desire is to be friends with people and his friendly nature has gone a long way in making that desire a reality. He would rather count his friends than to count his worldly goods and his keen sense of humor keeps him supplied with enough jokes for any occasion. He was always interested in the schools of his community and served many years in different localities as a member of the school board. He helped establish two independent school districts.

He likes to think back on the days of his youth, days of the blue-backed speller and McGuffey's reader. The little old log school house with its split log seats are cherished memories. He remembers the wagon train when he moved from Ellis County to Van Zant County at the age of four, and the 45 head of hogs that were stolen almost immediately by the hog rustlers. He recalls the drought that came later and the cattle dying for lack of water.

Remembered too, are the hard days in the field with the oxen, and the comparison of those days and the present with its modern farm equipment is strong in his mind as he contemplates on the future. "People work too hard to get out of work these days," he opined.

Mrs. Parsons collects old things. She is proud of her quilts, some of them over 100 years old. For some she spun the cloth and the thread when a little girl. She has in her possession a prized letter written to her mother during the Civil War in which an account was given of the yellow fever epidemic. Another document in her prized collection is a complete history of the Parsons family, and this she keeps up, adding to it as time goes on. She loves to sew, too, and specializes in children's clothes. Often her sewing basket is running over with dainty little garments fashioned for her grandchildren.

Their six children include Grady Oren and T. J. of Hereford, E. J. and Mrs. Lloyd Webb of Amarillo, and Mrs. Maud Talle of Plainview. They have 13 grand children and one great grandchild.

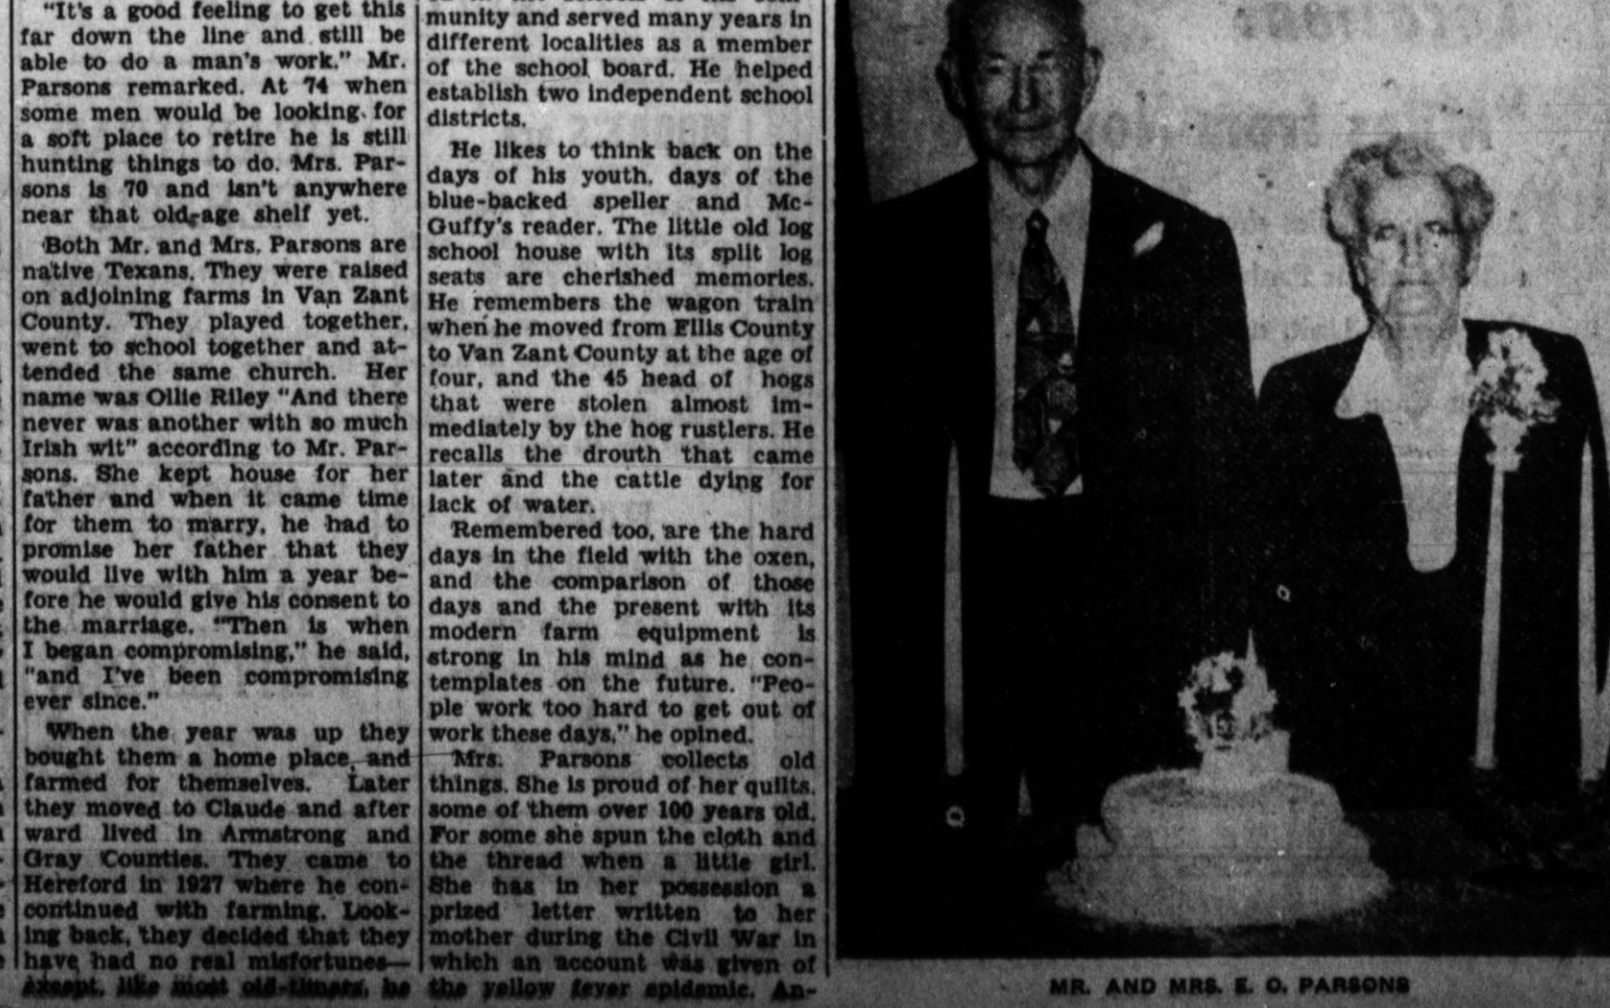

Open House Honors Couple

The golden wedding anniversary celebration was held Sunday afternoon August 14 at their home with all children present to serve as hosts. The open-house affair from 2:30 to 5 was like a dream come true to the honored couple, surrounded as they were by flowers, their family and many loved friends. A special guest was C. H. Kimbriel of Tulla who attended their wedding at her father's home fifty years ago.

Yellow and white dahlias were used for the refreshment table. Mrs. Lewellyn Hooper of Plainview served punch and Mrs. J. C. Childers of Tulla served the anniversary cake. Many lovely gifts were received by the couple.

Rainbow Girls Initiate Retha Jo Godfrey Monday

Initiation rites for Retha Jo Godfrey were conducted by the Hereford Assembly of the Order of Rainbow for Girls at a meeting held Monday night at the Masonic Hall. Nancy Cagle, worthy advisor, named Colleen Brown to serve as the initiates "big sister."

Plans were made for the group to attend Friendship Night held by the Muleshoe Assembly and Bobbie Jane Sisk presented gifts to Nan Buckner and Martha Thomas for having shown faith in their brothers and sisters.

After the closing ceremony the officers gave the closing drill. Refreshments were served by Bobbie Jane Sisk.

Woman's Council Holds Group Meet

Group I of the Woman's Council of the First Christian Church met in the home of Mrs. Byrl Elliston Wednesday afternoon for a program. Group singing opened the session and the lesson study of the book "David Livingstone" was reviewed by Mrs. Carl Johnson.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. J. J. Clark.

Texas sportswriters have voted to establish a Hall of Fame for the states famous sports figures. It would be a swell idea to pair off some of the stars the way you'd really like to have seen them. For instance:

John Kimbrough, Texas A&M; Jack Crain, University of Texas; Donk Walker, Southern Methodist University; and Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian University. Hang their pictures in a single wing formation and just imagine that backfield in operation.

Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan paired with Babe Didrikson Zaharias and Betty Jameson in a mixed foursome. Who'd take them over 36 holes of golf?

Dazy Dean pitching to Gus Manchuson with Ziggy Sears behind the plate, and Clarence (Big Boy) Kraft, the Paul Bunyon of Texas league hitters, at bat.

Walter Allison warming up for three sets of tennis with Bruce Batters while Dr. D. A. Penick acts as umpire.

Ray Cox and Willard Brown in another ten-round slugfest.

THEY AREN'T NEWS, BUT AREN'T THEY CUTE?—There are a lot of things in the world to attract the attention of these month-old kittens. The photographer who took the picture of these little fellows of Fort Worth left them wide-eyed with amazement. football squad in a halftime speech on the order of his well known "Let's go girls" oration.

Jane Dillard offering proof that the butterfly breast stroke is an easy way to swim.

Semi-final high school football teams coached by Paul Tyson, Pete Shotwell, Balr Cherry and Rusty Russell.

Jerry Thompson, the mighty mite of Texas distance runners, being paced on a 220-yard straightway by Harvey (Chink) Wallender, one of the first great sprinters in the Lone Star State.

The University of Texas team of 1941 and the 1947-48 Southern Methodist eleven in a Cotton Bowl game.

Bobby Moers and Jack Gray, two All-America basketball players from Texas, on the same team. They were, in a way, Gray coached Moers.

Dutch Meyer, who dreamed up the triple wing and made it the fanciest looking razzie dazzle grid formation in the business.

Ray Morrison, Austin College coach, the "daddy" of the Southwest's pass, pass, pass, why punt style.

They'd better find a big place to put this Hall of Fame. There are an awful lot of candidates.

Visitors From Japan

Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Phillips had as their overnight guests Wednesday and Thursday, Sgt. and Mrs. James Lessel and their two children, Janie and Johnny. The Lessels are stationed in Tokyo and are spending a leave in the United States. They are the second group of visitors from Japan who have called on the Phillips this week. Both groups are friends of the Lynn Chisholms in Toyko. Mrs. Chisholm is a daughter of the Phillips.

PERSONALS

Craig Conklin, small son of Mr. and Mrs. George Conklin of Amarillo, spent last week here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Conklin, while his parents made a business trip to Dallas.

Rev. and Mrs. Thurman Morgan and children of Ft. Worth were looking up old friends here this week. Rev. Morgan is a former pastor of the Hereford First Christian Church.

Irving Burkett, son of Lawrence Burkett, a former Hereford resident, has arrived to spend several weeks in the home of his uncle, Ira Ott. Burkett, who is from Portland, Oregon, will be in Hereford until about October.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chambers and children of Canyon were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patterson Thursday night. Mrs. Patterson and Mr. Chambers are brother and sister.

Robert Owen Elliston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolle Elliston, has returned to Hereford for an indefinite stay. Elliston, who was formerly employed as an engineer in California, has resigned his position and moved to Hereford. He was in Dallas and Houston last week and returned to the Panhandle on Thursday.

Nancy Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Allen, arrived in Hereford Friday from Janesville, Wisconsin, where she has been making her home while attending school.

"PUNCTUATION" SCARF—Designed for the girl who "knows all the answers," this engaging costume piece adds luster to the new fall suit. A gold-link chain holds the eye-catching black, white and red scarf in place.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Benson last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Southwell and son, Johnnie, and Bob Norman of McAllen, Texas. The Southwells came to take their son, Jimmy, for a ten day fishing trip to New Mexico. Jimmy has been with the Bensons for the past two months.

Return From Vacation
Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill, Mr. and Mrs. John Winkler, Sande Winkler and Bradley Lookingbill returned Tuesday from a vacation spent in Detroit, Michigan, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, New York. While there they visited with relatives and friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Ray Damron and son, parents of Mr. Winkler who live in Detroit. Sightseeing tours of places of interest were included in the trip. They returned to Texas by way of Chicago.

Where Good Gas Service BEGINS

Two New Gas Wells Being Drilled

Before natural gas can be started on its journey to your home or business, wells must be drilled into the gas-bearing strata far beneath the surface of the earth.

Two additional gas wells to serve our customers are now being drilled. In the photograph at the left you see the tall steel derrick and some of the ponderous machinery—worth $100,000 or more—at work on one of these wells.

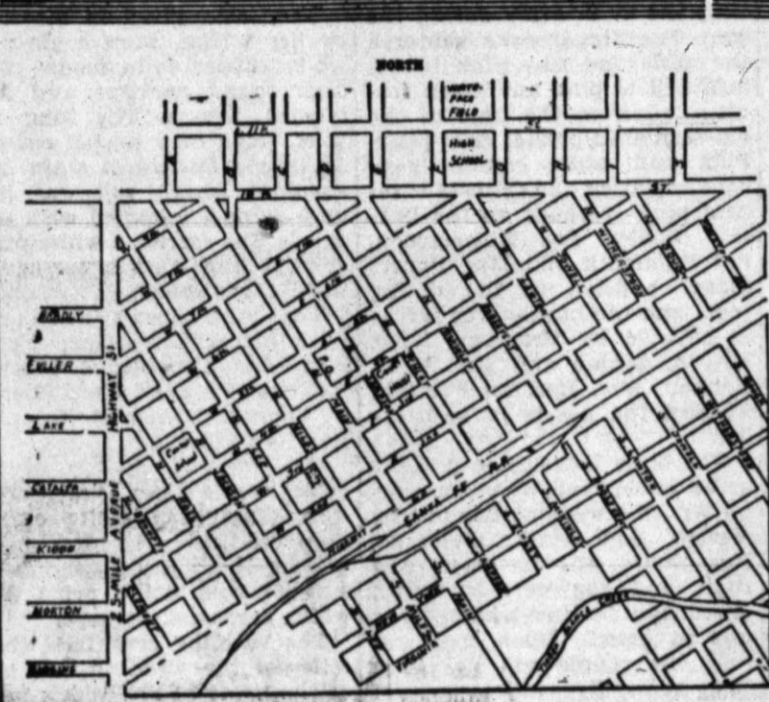

When these wells are completed, we will build gathering lines to connect them into our transmission network. Thus, still more of nature's perfect fuel will be available to West Texas Gas Company's customers.

Location: "Miles from Nowhere"

As the crow flies these wells are only three miles from our Panhandle Gas Field Portable Compressor Unit, near Fritch, Texas.

But since these wells are on the opposite side of the treacherous Canadian River, field men must almost daily travel 124 miles round trip to maintain and operate the wells.

Attend Anniversary Celebration Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Parsons attended the forty-sixth wedding anniversary held by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stevenson Sunday evening.

Since it was a double wedding these many years ago, a double celebration was also in order Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Culbers sharing in the festivities.

The two couples in whose honor the celebration was held, were married in a double ceremony at Thornberry, Texas on August 16, 1903. Mrs. Culbers and Mr. Stevenson are sister and brother.

The observance was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Goodin, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Culbers.

Miss Betty Solomon has as her week end guest at present, Miss Mary Frances Hale of Lubbock. Miss Solomon, who recently moved to Hereford from Lubbock and Miss Hale were employed by the same firm.

Por ELISEO GARRIDO HAYNE

En esta semana el campamento se ha estrechado de una manera muy notada debido a la visita de un energico hermano Bautista se trata del Rev. Samuel Torres actual pastor de la Mision Bautista de Portales Nuevo Mexico. En su visita a este campamento Mexicano el distinguido personaje expreso lo siguiente:

"Veo un futuro muy grande en este lugar tan activo donde puede ser un centro de grandes bendiciones para todo el que viniere."

Mientras admiraba la abundancia de chicos que pululaban por las calles de entre las baracas me decia con su rostro un poco deprimido por la tristeza y la angustia que le causaba el pensamiento de solo alcanzar a ver el horizonte de un futuro terrible para semejantes pequenuelos. Extrajo su pañuelo y limpiandose el sudor que manaba de su despejada frente recalco en esta manera: "Que sera de estos ninitos llenos de rebosante alegria? Que ha de ser de ellos si ve que no tenemos escuelas para su educacion? y saber que las escuelas con las que actualmente contamos son las escuelas del Demonio en las cuales el es como director y sus catedras y clases son La Jugada, El Vicio, La Insoledad, La Tomada y muchos otros sujetos mas. Todo ello es llevado al cuaderno de su corazon y sus apuntes son marcados

Sims HD Entertains Families With Picnic

The Sims Home Demonstration Club ladies entertained their husbands and families at a picnic supper Sunday evening on the lawn at the Cord Hammock home.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hetzler, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brooks and Charlie, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hollabaugh, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pinnell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Zerrell Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Blankenship and boys, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Edwards and Arlis Lee, Mrs. O. A. Alexander and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Cord Hammock and Patsy, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carlston and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Perrin and sons, and Mrs. Jack Fortenberry and girls.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Alexander were in Amarillo Monday to attend funeral rites held at the Poik Street Methodist Church for Dr. James R. Coffee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Coffee. Dr. Coffee, 21, was an interne in a Chicago hospital after receiving his medical degree from John Hopkins Medical School.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Williamson, newlyweds, have gone to Memphis where he will be stationed with the extension department of Texas A&M College after a brief stay here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Williamson. They accompanied his brother, Howard Williamson, and Mrs. Williamson to Muleshoe and went from there to Memphis to report for duty.

A father-and-son fishing trip is being planned by two Hereford families who are leaving Monday for a vacation trip to the New Mexico mountains. A. W. Hembree and son, Ronnie, and Floyd West and his son, Kenneth, will spend several days vacationing in Pagosa Springs.

Pfc John T. Lisenbee, 712 East 12th St., Hereford, has been released from active military service.

He has been a patient at Brooke General Hospital, located at Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, one of the largest and most complete medical installations in the world.

Prepare Stuffed Vegetables While Tip-Top Supplies Are Plentiful

Now, when vegetables are at their best, is the time to make good use of them, and one of the most savory ways of preparing many of the late summer vegetables is the stuffed method. Carbage in this manner for it was one of her mother's favorites.

Stuffed Cabbage

- 1 medium head cabbage
- 1 medium onion, minced
- ½ pound ground beef
- ½ pound ground pork or sausage
- 2 tablespoons drippings or other fat
- 2 cups cooked rice (salted)
- dash of paprika
- salt to taste

Choose a firm head of cabbage, remove outside leaves and hollow out enough cabbage to make a shell. Salt to taste and tie cabbage firmly in a cheese cloth bag and steam until cabbage is almost tender. (A Presto Cooker is fine for this). Remove and drain head and trimmings which were steamed with the cabbage.

Brown the meat and onion in the drippings, add the cooked rice and cut-up cabbage trimmings, salt and pepper to taste and stuff the cabbage shell with this mixture. Brush entire surface with melted butter, sprinkle paprika on top and bake in moderate oven fifteen or twenty minutes.

Peppers Stuffed With Cornbread

rots, cabbage, peppers, egg plant, onions and tomatoes, even cucumbers and beets may be hollowed out and filled with a well seasoned mixture, baked and brought to the table for lunch or dinner. It is a wonderful way too, to use up left-overs.

The stuffings may vary according to taste, meats, nuts and cheese, corn and corn bread, bread crumbs, cooked rice, macaroni, all may be used in any combination and with almost any topping which pleases the fancy, such as melted butter, crumbed corn flakes, a dab of cheese or tiny mushrooms.

One of Mrs. Wirt Phillips' standard recipes is for stuffed cabbage, a hand-me-down from one generation to another. She grew up learning to prepare cabbage in this manner for it was one of her mother's favorites. Mrs. Phillips likes to stuff green peppers with corn bread and varies the rest of the ingredients to suit different members of the family. This recipe is sufficiently substantial to take the place of meat entirely if enough meat is included in the stuffing.

- 6 medium green peppers
- 1 medium size onion, minced
- 2 hard boiled eggs
- ½ cup corn (fresh if available)
- 1 cup tomatoes or tomato juice
- 1 cup cornbread crumbs
- 1 pound ground beef or chop-

Win One Class Meets In J. E. Beyer's Home

Win One Class of the Methodist Church held its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. J. E. Beyer Tuesday afternoon. Assisting hostesses were Liam McGehee and Clara Freeman.

Mrs. William McGehee, president, opened the meeting and roll call was answered with favorite Bible verses.

Mrs. J. F. Ward read a letter from Miss Flora Foreman telling of the work in the leper colony in the African Congo where she is a missionary.

Members of the class voted to buy a pew for the new church in the name of Rev. and Mrs. Don Davidson and names of two others buying pews through the class, were announced.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Fannie Craddock, Pearl Bergin, E. J. Hudson, I. H. Spratt, Andy Thomas, D. W. Hawkins, John Jacobsen, Sr., Ray Hershey, G. C. Solomon, Don Davidson, G. A. F. Parker, J. F. Ward, Fred Millard and the hostesses.

ped up left-over meat. Ham, sausage or bacon may be added. salt and pepper to taste 2 tablespoons butter or drippings.

Cut a slice from each pepper and remove seeds. Boil 3 minutes and drain. Place in pyrex baker or stand in greased muffin pans.

Saute the meat and onion in butter and combine all the ingredients and mix well. Fill pepper cases with this mixture and bake in moderate oven until tops are brown. Just before serving sprinkle nuts, which have been rolled fine, over each pepper top. Serves six.

Stuffed Tomatoes--Raw

- 6 ripe tomatoes
- 1 cup cooked macaroni
- 1 cup cubed American cheese
- 2 hard boiled eggs
- ½ cup chopped nuts
- ½ cup tomato pulp which has been scooped out of tomatoes

Miracle Whip salad dressing. Select firm tomatoes, not too ripe, scoop out centers and peel. Set in refrigerator to drain. Mix all other ingredients together, using just enough salad dressing to blend and chill in refrigerator. When ready to serve fill tomato cases and add a dash of paprika to each serving.

(Note: The tomato pulp needs to be drained before combining with the other vegetables, using only the chunks as the stuffing should not contain liquid).

RUNNING WATER SCD NEWS

Improved Irrigation Pastures Rate Considerable Interest Around Here

Considerable interest is being shown by the farmers of the Running Water Soil Conservation District in Castro County in the establishment of improved irrigated pastures this fall. The trend is toward the feeding and grazing of more livestock on the farm, and improved pastures will fit very well into this type of livestock-farming.

Emphasis is being placed on a mixture of grasses and legumes so that a longer period of grazing can be obtained. One of the best mixtures for this district includes ten pounds of perennial ryegrass, six pounds of orchard grass, and one pound of alfalfa or sweetclover, making a total of twenty-three pounds of seed per acre.

The perennial ryegrass will furnish early spring and late fall grazing, while the orchard grass will furnish grazing during the hot part of the summer. Bromegrass is included because of the large amount of forage furnished. The small amount of alfalfa or sweetclover is included in order to furnish a higher protein content and also to help keep the soil built up.

Best results are being obtained from irrigated pastures by partitioning them into two or three subdivisions and watering one while the livestock are grazing on another one.

Farmers in this district who are planning to plant grasses this fall include R. A. Axtell, Ernest Brockman, Paul Chance, J. O. Ayers, Leo Witkowski, L. M. Blanton, Mrs. Roberta Richardson, Roy Cluck, Willis Hawkins, Jr., Percy Hart, C. B. Wilhelm and Theibert Newton.

A grass seed drill for seeding these grasses may be rented from the district for fifty cents per acre, according to Mr. Barber Eubanks, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

Houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey Elliston this week is his sister, Mrs. H. P. Bernard, Jr.

American Legion And Auxiliary Install Officers

American Legion and Auxiliary members and their families were entertained at a picnic held in Veterans Memorial Park Tuesday night.

Following the bring-a-dish supper officers for both organizations were installed.

American Legion officers installed included Cecil Parker, commander; W. J. Reeves, first vice-commander; Wilbur Bell, second vice-commander; Grant Hanna, historian; Ralph Smith, chaplain and service officer; Carlos Vaughn, sergeant at arms and R. M. Sheppard, adjutant.

Officers of the Auxiliary to the Legion installed were Mrs. Wilbur Bell, president; Mrs. Kenneth Rudd, first vice-president; Mrs. Grant Hanna, second vice-president; Mrs. Carlos Vaughn, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Neva Parker, historian; and Mrs. Virginia Wheeler, chaplain.

The first regular meeting of the Auxiliary for the next fiscal year will be held on September 6 and all members are urged to attend. New officers will be in charge of the meeting.

Carlyle Family Reunion Held In Hereford Sunday

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bryant recently were members of her immediate family and other relatives, most of whom attended a family reunion held Sunday, August 14 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Carlyle. A picnic dinner in the yard was the order of the day.

They included Rev. and Mrs. Orlan Carter of Pampa, Rev. and Mrs. Noel Bryant and children of Borger. Two brothers, Howard Carlyle of San Angelo, and Frank Carlyle of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carlyle Jr. of Muleshoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Greer and son Gene of Amarillo.

Also attending the Sunday reunion were Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Cawthon Bryant and son John David, Mr. and Mrs. George Carlyle and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Newell and children, Gilbert Carlyle and the hosts.

Mrs. Marshall Formby and Mrs. Homer Brumley and children returned Thursday night from a week's vacation in the Ozark Mountains. They spent the week at Branson, Mo., summer resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Lawren and son Lee of Tyler arrived Thursday for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Oberthier.

Long Time Ago

A big picnic was being planned here for September 3, according to the Brand for August 26, 1904. "That there might be anything overlooked which would make the occasion successful," a committee composed of G. A. Hughes, chairman, H. Elliston, F. Herron, R. H. Norton, T. M. Coulson, T. J. Graves, and E. B. Black, was appointed to make all general arrangements and they, in turn, provided the following committee: J. T. Inmon, Marshall of the party; S. T. Howard, Master of Ceremonies; T. J. Graves, J. E. Ferguson, A. J. Lipscomb, Chris Harrison and F. B. Fuller, Program committee; A. H. Elliston, Roy Womble, W. B. Beach, J. A. Johnson and J. M. Garner, committee on arrangements. The able committee was composed of Mrs. J. E. Ferguson, Mrs. L. W. Sackett, Misses Mary Clark, Linnie Mauke, Leo Scott, Roxey Witherspoon, Linnie Herron, Lulla Howard, and Messrs. Jas. A. Hughes, Claude Witherspoon, Frank LeGrand, Homer Inmon, John Perry, John Humphrey and John Clark.

Miss Maude Higgins entertained a few invited friends at her beautiful, sub-urban home in East Hereford. "ran a page society story in that issue of the Brand. Further details revealed that "The corridors and vestibule were lavishly adorned with baskets of flowers and the verandas shrouded with vines—the entire place seemed to be enwrapped in joy, mirth, beauty and loveliness. A delightful dinner of nine courses was served on a table richly decorated with flowers of fancy's rarest hues." And the lucky people who attended were the Misses Eagle, Dyer and House, and Messrs. Conrad, Higgins and Perry.

A long article reprinted from the "Home and Farm" magazine instructed farmers in alfalfa culture, and in an editorial the Brand said: "The Brand has been of the opinion for some time that at no far distant future the Panhandle would rank among the first in the production of alfalfa. As the days pass by and more and more is learned about the adaptability of our soil and climate to the growth of this crop, our opinion remains unchanged. Instances in which alfalfa is proving to be a paying crop in this and surrounding counties are numerous. Among those who are growing alfalfa successfully in this and Castro County are S. S. Evans, R. H. Norton, T. M. Palmer, G. R. Jowell. We predict that the time will soon come when we shall be able to add many others to the list, as we have a class of farmers who are by no means slow to recognize a good opportunity when it presents itself.

Temperatures for the month of July were reported, with 94 as the highest for the month and 55 the lowest. Total precipitation was 2.48.

A list of subscriptions for the proposed cotton gin was published in the Brand, with the following people or companies subscribing: F. Herron, G. A. F. Parker, C. R. Moreman, John A. Johnson, W. G. Ross, H. B. Webb, W. B. Beach, A. H. Elliston, G. L. Abbot, W. H. Russell, T. J. Graves, R. N. Mounts, Troy Womble, S. H. Mount, Stringfellow-Hume Hdw. Co., Stambaugh and Lipscomb, Garris Bros., O. F. Smith, J. T. Inmon, E. B. Black, G. R. Hay, C. G. Witherspoon, S. J. Dodson, J. S. Wyehe. The Brand, J. H. Williams, G. C. Major, Jno. E. Ferguson, S. T. Howard, C. W. Dodson, W. H. Rayzor, and J. H. Cardwell.

Local items included: (From Cleo Community): "Miss Emily Bell of Dimmitt visited Miss Bea Hamilton last Saturday and Sunday"; "W. S. Dixon and family, G. E. Orr and mother, J. W. Gollehon and wife, Wm. Gollehon and wife spent the day very pleasantly with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gollehon last Sunday"; (from Hereford): "Prof. D. W. Hawkins was in town Saturday and informed a Brand representative that he had rented a residence in West Hereford and would probably move in this week and make preparations for opening school September 5"; "T. J. Graves and Miss Zula Vanderburgh went down in Castro county near Hart Tuesday to see about a school for Miss Vanderburgh"; "C. I. Ward, son of J. J. Ward of Hereford, has sold his 3-section ranch and cattle in Terry county and will move to Hereford to live."

Some Things To Check On Dairyman's List Include Small Grain Pastures

College Station—There are certain items that should be on every dairyman's "must" list and one of these, says R. E. Burleson, associate extension dairy husbandman of Texas A&M College, is small grain pastures for fall and winter grazing. Plan at least one acre for each cow in the herd, for it is one way to get more feed for less money and that means lower production costs and more net income.

Silage is another source of cheap feed nutrients so have the silo ready for filling by the time the crop you are growing for silage is ready for harvesting.

In many sections of the state, it will pay you well to supplement the drying pastures with plenty of good quality hay and silage, says Burleson. Give the cows all they will eat. Summer time isn't over in Texas and chances are good that many pastures will be brown from the heat and dry weather before fall grazing crops are available so have the supplements ready.

Herd culling is always in order, says Burleson. Make the herd fit the feed supply. The same amount of feed produces more milk when fed to high producing cows, he adds. There is no profit in feeding cows that only pay their board bill. They should be culled.

The mark of an efficient dairy herd is a high average production of milk and butterfat per cow. The efficiency of the breeding program is indicated not only by the average production, but also by the increasing percentage of uniform high producing females born in the herd each generation and a decreasing number of low producers born each generation. The proved-sire system of breeding, says Burleson, has demonstrated its worth as a sound method of improving the efficiency of dairy herds. Through artificial breeding associations, services of outstanding bulls are widened and are made available to dairymen who could not otherwise afford to own such animals.

Mrs. Lawrence Krebs returned Friday from Pennsylvania where she has been spending the past three weeks visiting relatives and friends in New Castle.

Guseman Horses Escape Injury In Raton Fire

The Raton Race Track fire, which destroyed an estimated $100,000 worth of horses and property Wednesday night, did not effect the horses Cecil Guseman has been racing there this season.

Guseman was notified Thursday morning that his seven horses were not among the animals in the three barns that had burned.

Cause of the fire was still undetermined. Guseman said he had not been told that the track would close and he expected the regular racing schedule would be followed. The flames destroyed only the three barns which are some distance from the track.

The Raton races have been attracting a great deal of interest from fans all over the Southwest and several Hereford people have been attending every week end.

Twins Celebrate At Kid Party

SCORCHY SMITH
by Rodlow & Dillard

IS SOMETHING WRONG, SCORCHY?

"WRONG"?! WE'RE AIRBORNE AREN'T WE?

AFTER CLUBBING SCORCHY, CON MAN CYRIL SNYDE EXCHANGES JACKETS AND JOINS HEIRESS BETTY FORBES IN THE "OFFICE" OF HER WAR SURPLUS "FLYING F FLAGSHIP". SHE FAILS TO DETECT THE MASQUERADE AS SNYDE SUCCEEDS IN GETTING THE OLD SHIP ALOFT WITH HIS PAL PABLO PRETO CONCEALED AMONG THE HEAVY CRATES AMIDSHIPS. THE POLICE SEIZE SCORCHY AS THE MUCH "WANTED" SNYDE...

WELL... I DON'T SUPPOSE THEY CAN PAINT TRAFFIC LANES ON THE SKY, CAN THEY?

SO! NOW YOU ARE AWAKE, HEY?

YES, I'M AWAKE... OUCH!... BUT WHAT AM I DOING HERE?!

SEÑOR PRETO WAS WITH YOU, YES? WHERE IS HE NOW?

HE CAME AT ME WITH A KNIFE... SA-AY! YOU DON'T THINK I'M CYRIL SNYDE?!?

WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE, SENHOR? SO YOU FIGHT WITH YOUR ASSOCIATE, HEY?

"ASSOCIATE"? NOW WAIT A MINUTE! I'M SCORCHY SMITH! I CAN PROVE... THIS ISN'T MY COAT!

PLEASE DO NOT BE DIFFICULT, SENHOR! THE CONTENTS OF YOUR POCKETS PROVE YOU ARE SNYDE! AND WE HAVE THIS FROM THE AMERICAN AUTHORITIES...

WANTED for Cyril Snyder - U.
Height: 6 Ft.

AS FOR SENHOR SMITH... I HAPPEN TO KNOW HE FLEW A LARGE PLANE FROM THE AIRPORT TWO HOURS AGO!

WHAT?!? WH... BETTY FORBES WAS ABOARD THAT SHIP! TWO HOURS AGO! YE GODS!

I-I DON'T BELIEVE YOU'RE RETURNING TO MACAO AT ALL, SCORCHY! ARE WE LOST?

YOU'RE LOST BETTY!!

DICKIE AND DAN, IN THE BANDIT GIRL, KRYPTARZI'S GROUP, HAVE WALKED INTO A TRAP!

IT'S OF SUCCESS!

ALL ARE TRAPPED!

HASTEN TO THE GORGE BOTTOM! IF ANY HAVE ESCAPED THEY SHALL BE KILLED!

BEYOND EXPECTATIONS! NO SURVIVORS!

WE MUST MAKE OUT THE REPORT!

BUT WE HAVEN'T ACTUALLY SEEN HER CRUSHED BODY!

MORBID ONE! WOULD YOU MOVE TONS OF STONE FOR ONE SUCH VIEW? COME! WE GO!

CALL OUT AGAIN, SMALL ONE AND I SHALL SILENCE YOU FOREVER!

YIPEE

TAKE CARE OF THINGS, YIP, I'M GOIN' UP THE MOUNTAIN AND SEE IF EVERYTHING IS ALRIGHT WITH "CHIEF EAGLEBEAK".

YOU CAN COUNT ON ME, SHERIFF STAR.

OH-OH! HERE COMES A GANG OF TOURISTS!

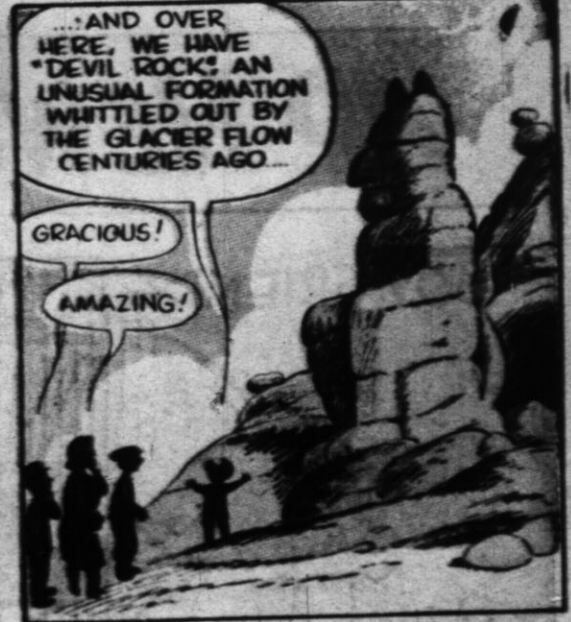

NOW YOUR CHANCE TO TELLUM WHAT'S WHATUM!

...AND OVER HERE, WE HAVE "DEVIL ROCK," AN UNUSUAL FORMATION WHITTLED OUT BY THE GLACIER FLOW CENTURIES AGO...

GRACIOUS!

AMAZING!

...AN' THIS HERE PHENOMENEE IS KNOWN AS "CHIEF EAGLEBEAK," CARVED THERE OVER 300 YEARS AGO BY A BAND OF HIS FAITHFUL WARRIORS...

MY GOODNESS!

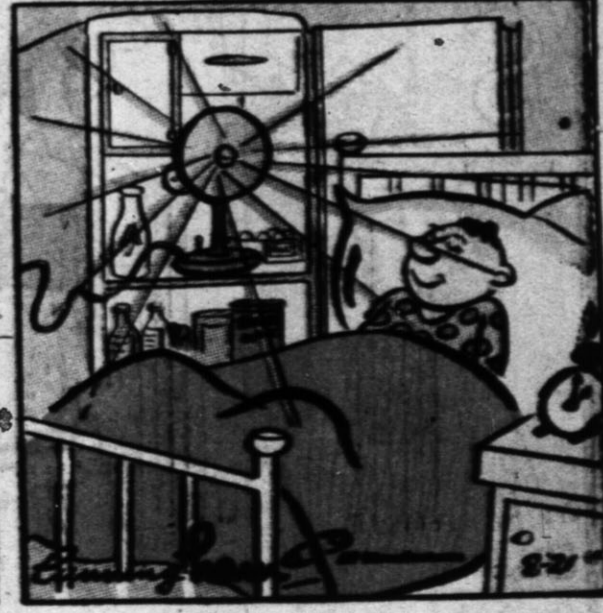

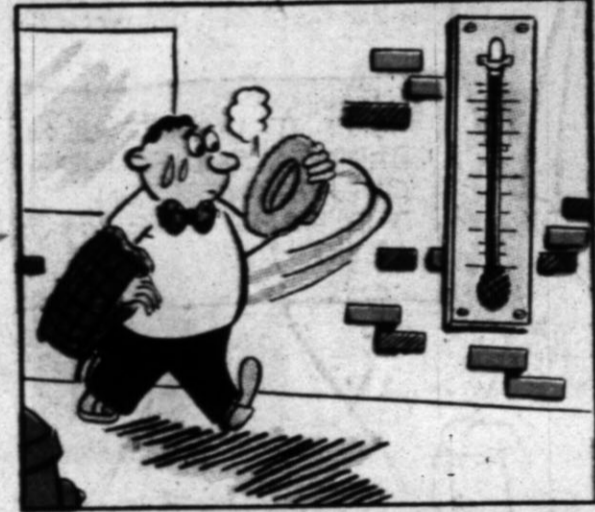

OH, LOOK, MA!

...INCIDENTALLY, THAT WART ON THE CHIEF'S BEAK IS SHERIFF STAR!

WHILE HE STRUTS AROUND AND CROWS!

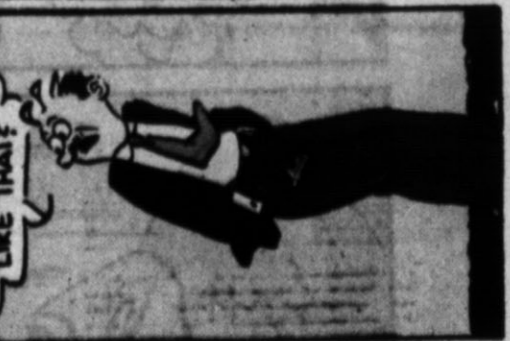

YOU'VE GOT HIM ON THE RUN, MA! GOOD RIDDANCE!

AND THEN SKIPS OUT WHEN YOU THINK YOU HAVE HIM CORNERED!

WHAT'S THE MATTER, MA - WHY ARE YOU LOOKING AT ME LIKE THAT?

TOO LAZY TO SCRATCH FOR HIMSELF - LET'S THE HENS DO ALL THE WORK!

THINGS TO COME

YOU SAY THAT'S THE VERY LATEST IN TRAINS?

I DO NOT! SHE'S RIGHT ON TIME EVERY NIGHT!

BEFORE LONG TRAINS WILL BE LOWER, LIGHTER AND FASTER... CARS WILL BE LESS THAN HALF THE LENGTH OF PRESENT STANDARD ONES AND HAVE ONLY TWO WHEELS, LOCATED AT THE REAR, THE FRONT END BEING COUPLED TO THE CAR AHEAD SIMILAR TO THE MANNER OF A MOTOR TRUCK TRAILER... COACHES WILL BE JOINED WITH FLEXIBLE FABRIC, ELIMINATING THE VESTIBULES AT EACH END... ONLY ONE CAR IN THREE OR FOUR WILL HAVE A CENTRAL DOOR FOR ENTRY AND EXIT, THE OTHERS WILL BE DOORLESS.
