AROUND TOWN

SIGHTS, FACES
SEEN

Last minute news flash—the drug stores will be closed Monday, Labor Day.

Remember those Presbyterian Birthday Calendars? Anyway, they went over so well that the ladies are planning to publish a birthday booklet. The booklets will contain names and birthdays under each month in the year—and will be constructed for years and years of future use. What the ladies want now is your name and birthday. They charge 10 cents for each name listed, and send you a book giving literally all of the birthdays in the community. They are also including wedding anniversaries this year, too. They are anxious for as many as possible—and the books are nice to have. Call Mrs. Bruce Woodruff, 268-J, and give her the information, or see any of the Presbyterian ladies; they also plan to have tables down town Tuesday, Sept. 6.

The horizontal stripe of white bricks around the new hotel building is attracting quite a bit of interest. Hotel directors say that there will be three such stripes around the building, and white brick will adorn the front of the building in a line from the entrance to the top. Work is progressing on schedule and contractors have not changed their completion date which was originally set for January, 1952.

Mrs. Leona Blood has announced that she will open a "Toiletries and lingerie shop" here; she has purchased lots across north from the swimming pool and plans to operate the shop in her home, which she will build on the location.

The Hereford firemen are doing some fancy practicing lately. They plan to enter a team in the hook-up contests at Tulsa Sept. 13. The team will include six firemen to be announced by Chief Earl Phillips just prior to departure. The contest will be Panhandle-wide and despite the fact that this will be Hereford's first entry in recent years, they hope to make a good showing.

Wm. Francis Hardwick's at it again. Now it's some sort of "top secret" business, plus the offer to let all theater goers view the picture Sept. 7-8—and pay if they like the show. He met recently with the Eastern New Mexico theater owners and managers to give them a few ideas. We can see why.

Practically every person you see is planning some sort of excursion over the long week end, which includes Monday, Sept. 5, Hereford's Fourth of July. The rodeo in Amarillo seems to have drawn first place in the big show with Roy Rogers, Dale Evans and other big time stars as headliners. The races at Raton, N. M. also seem to be drawing quite a crowd. Debbis Knox, Gaylord Newell and Jack Gilliland left at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon for Raton. Boy, Oh Boy!

Possibly the most unusual excursion will be that of Frank Daniel, Lawrence Owen and Bill Stone. This group is going to Red River, N. M., and, Believe it or Not, Lawrence, who is a local boy, and Bill, who comes from Hedley, have neither one ever seen a mountain.

Overheard at the Brand pencil counter: The guys who make nickel pencils and chewing gum are either not making any money now or they used to make a terrific profit.

Frank Miller can testify to the fact that there is more than just the usual way of slipping on ice to end up on your back. He dropped a cake on his foot at the ice house the other day, and now he's on his back.

The list of Deaf Smith County boys and girls who are leaving for college this fall will be published next week. If you want your name included get it in to the Brand office or call Mrs. (Continued on page 2)

Clyde Kibbe Funeral Held Here Friday

Funeral services for Clyde Kibbe, prominent New Mexico civic leader and early resident of this area, were held here Friday afternoon from the First Christian Church, conducted by Minister Claude A. Lerts of Clovis, assisted by Minister Roy Ford of Hereford.

Born in Amarillo November 23, 1897, Mr. Kibbe, died at his home in Tatum, N. M., August 31, 1949. He will be remembered by old timers as the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kibbe, early day settlers. He attended the Hereford schools, then attended Hereford Christian College and took his degree from West Texas State College, Canyon, in 1918. He later attended Palmer School in Davenport, Iowa, and became a chiropractor.

In 1918, Mr. Kibbe married Miss Delores Daugherty, daughter of another of Hereford's pioneer families.

After practicing in Hereford for a short time, the Kibbes moved to O'Donnell and then to Dalhart. In 1913 they moved to Eldra, N. M., where Mr. Kibbe acquired the telephone exchange. In 1948, the Tatum telephone exchange had been added to the organization and the Kibbes moved to Tatum to make their home.

In addition to his widow, Mr. Kibbe is survived by two sons, Keith and Clifford of Calsbad, N. M., and a grandson, Clyde Duane; one brother, Harry of Fullerton, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Ida Vaughn of Hereford and Mrs. Lora Bane of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mr. Kibbe was considered one of the outstanding I.O.O.F. members in the nation, having served as Grand Master of the New Mexico Lodge 1940-41, and as Grand Representative to the Supreme Council of the Grand Lodge of the United States. He was also a member of the Masonic Lodge, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Secretary of the Lions Club at Tatum. He joined the First Christian Church at Hereford at the age of 15, and was a member of the Clovis Church at the time of his death.

Interment was made in West Park Cemetery.

SEALNAPED—This month-old baby was sealnaped out of the water at Vancouver, B. C., by the crew of the tanker J. L. Hanna. When they turned "George" loose, out of the kindness of their hearts, he backed to be taken on board again. He was met in San Francisco by a pretty Rosamund Wilsey with a bottle of warm milk. Now he'll "serve a stretch" in the Steinhart Aquarium there.

Burglars Steal $33 From Hereford Hudson Co.

Burglars broke a glass on the north side of Hereford Hudson company Wednesday night, raised the window to enter and stole $30 and a few cents in cash, according to Frank Warren of Hereford Hudson.

Mr. Warren said the terrace door was open when he got down Thursday morning and the glass broken in the back. The burglary occurred sometime between 11 o'clock Wednesday night and opening time the next morning as the bookkeeper worked late the previous night.

Luckily all but petty cash was deposited at the bank that afternoon.

WT Coach Predicts Drastic Changes in Football at Rotary Club Friday

"You can look for some drastic changes on the football fields of America this season," Frank Kimbrough, West Texas State College coach, told members of the Hereford Rotary Club at noon Friday.

In addition to becoming a considerably rougher game, Kimbrough predicted that changes in tactics and method of play will be the direct result of rule changes to become effective this fall. He said that he believes most of the changes are definitely in favor of the offensive team, a factor which will lead to larger scores and faster play.

Burdine Suffers Serious Injuries in 3-Way Wreck

C. B. Burdine, 66, former Hereford resident, was seriously injured Wednesday, shortly before noon, as he was returning to his home in Littlefield from a visit in Hereford.

The accident occurred as Mr. Burdine started slowing down for the Littlefield city limits. A Co-op truck out of Amarillo apparently was trying to pass his car, saw it couldn't make it and pulled over, hitting him in the right rear side in trying to go around on the other side. Mr. Burdine lost control of his car and hit another car in a head-on collision. His car was practically demolished.

Injuries apparently consist of a broken leg, the other leg is cracked and a broken hip, plus serious cuts and bruises. However, Mr. Burdine was reported at Payne-Shortwell Hospital as resting better Friday afternoon.

Three Littlefield girls in the other car in the head-on collision suffered minor bruises and one a broken shoulder. The truck driver was not injured.

Mr. Burdine has two children in Hereford, Wendell and Mrs. Dick Ellis. Wendell gave his father a blood transfusion Wednesday night. The Ellis' and Wendell plan to spend the week end in Littlefield.

Sugar Beet Prospects in County Look Good

Sugar beet farmers in this area expected to begin harvesting the 1949 crop around October 1, according to reports this week which estimated a total of approximately 2,000 acres of beets in this immediate area. Most producers were reported with good stands and good yields were expected throughout the territory.

Beet acreage this year, although not up to the 4,000 acre mark of last year, was still considerably above the 1947 point when 1,444 acres were seeded in the area's first sizable beet production. Growers, better acquainted with methods, expected a possible better average yield this season.

Whiteface Eleven Opens At McLean Football Creeps Into The Limelight

McLean Tigers romped to an easy 8-0 grid victory over Canadian in season opener; Hereford Whitefaces start final week of practice before opener against McLean with six men on sick list—that's how things stack up only six days before the 1949 Hereford Whiteface eleven journeys north and east for their first game of the season.

Enumerating the Whiteface sick list; Wayne Christian, a back, hasn't worked out all week because of a cold and sore throat. Bill Kelly, a back, has a deep muscle bruise on his left arm, and has only worked out twice since returning from the Oklahoma training trip.

Leonard Walkerscheid, a back, injured his finger working before making the Craterville trip and only worked out two days up there and one day here.

Glen Wilson, tackle, bruised a knee and hasn't worked out this week. It is questionable if he will be ready for Friday night, according to Coach Dalton Criswell.

Wendell Morton, center, twisted a knee Wednesday, expected to be back out for Monday workout.

Jack Ramey, end, has been sick ever since returning from Oklahoma and worked out Friday for first time.

Jack Stanton, back, missed four workouts this week while sick.

Small wonder that Coach Criswell shakes his head about this first game with that list worrying him nights.

However, on the bright side Bill Engman is looking good, when for a while there was doubt if he could play this year. He has been shifted to part time offensive right end and quarterback. Gene Moore, 155 pounds of guard or tackle, didn't make the Craterville trip, but has been doing good work during the

Schools Will Start Tuesday Enrollment Reaches New High

Advance predictions for record-breaking enrollment in Hereford Schools this year was justified Saturday when school authorities reported a total of 401 registered for high school classes. This figure showed 12 more students than enrolled for last year, when 389 were reported in attendance. Additional registrations were also anticipated during the first week of school.

Class	Number
Freshmen	130
Sophomores	90
Juniors	89
Seniors	92

Junior high enrollment was considered far from complete following the two-day, pre-school registration which totaled 185 with 70 in the Seventh grade and 115 in the Eighth grade. Junior high registrations last year totaled 231 students.

As previously announced, Hereford schools will officially open Tuesday, Sept. 6, when all buses will operate and the schools will organize classwork. Registration of students at Central and Shirley schools will demand full time on the part of younger students. Classes are scheduled to be released at noon.

Placement of students in the two grade schools has been designed as follows by George Graham, superintendent:

The division runs north from Highway 60 on Schley Street thence to Park Avenue and Park Avenue to B Street, thence north on B to 12th Street, thence west to 25 Mile Avenue. All grade school students who live east of this line will attend the new Shirley School, those who live west of the line will attend Central School. Persons who live on, or near, these division lines may secure changes through the Superintendent's office in case of undue hardship. Mr. Graham said, especially in cases where children have physical handicaps which cannot be easily climbed stairs.

A total of approximately 1,850 students are expected in Hereford schools' last year with approximately 900 in Dawn and Central Schools. Most of the anticipated increase this year is expected in the grades, but school leaders were reluctant to express any percentage increase. They did announce, however, that five sections have been originally planned for the first grades in each school and anticipated the addition of two more first grade sections.

County Sorghum Crops Good Except For Hail

Some of the 80 to 100 thousand acres of sweet sorghum and grain sorghums in Deaf Smith county will be ready for harvest late this month according to County Agent Hugh Clearman, Saturday.

Withstanding further hail damage, such as the four mile wide strip that started about three miles north and two east of Westway last Saturday afternoon and cleaned out about 15 miles in a southwesterly direction to around the Jim Bob Allison and Charley Hays places, the yields will be good.

Damage did not reach 100 percent on most of the places, just stripped the leaves and damaged heads, but most of the farmers are still hoping for some grain.

Local Masons Hear El Paso Secretary

E. A. Wells, secretary of the Scottish Rite Consistory of El Paso, spoke to a called meeting of the Hereford Masonic Lodge Wednesday night on "Masonry and how to apply its principles to everyday living."

Wells stressed the fact that a good Mason is a good citizen and urged that the freedoms America enjoys be used, especially that right to vote should be exercised. Henry Sears, worshipful master, conducted the meeting and introduced the speaker.

Government Price Supports Depend On Compliance With Allotted Acreage

Compliance with wheat acreage allotments will be necessary if Deaf Smith county farmers want the protection of government price supports on their 1950 wheat crop, according to Faust Collier, A. A. secretary.

An "eligible" producer for price support on the 1950 wheat crop—generally—will be "any individual, partnership, association, corporation, or other legal entity that has an interest as landowner, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper in a farm on which the acreage planted to wheat for harvest in 1950 is not in excess of the farm acreage allotment."

If such a producer has an interest in more than one farm in a county, he will be eligible for wheat price support if the total of his share of the 1950 wheat acreage seeded on all farms does not exceed his total share of the wheat allotments or "permitted" acreage. If the producer has an interest in farms in more than one county or state, he would not be eligible for wheat price supports if the total of his share of all farms exceeds his total share of such allotments or permitted acreage, regardless of where such farms are situated. Seeded wheat, whether for grazing or otherwise will still count against the farmer's allotment, says Collier. That volunteer wheat appears to be the answer for grazing purposes where it is seeded. Volunteer wheat counting majority and subject to being harvested will be counted against the allotment, however.

Most Hereford Stores Observe Labor Day Few Stay Open

Hereford stores, with the exception of cafes and filling stations, indicated Saturday that they would remain closed Monday, Sept. 5, in observance of Labor Day.

Merchants were also planning the year's biggest Dollar Day, scheduled this month for Tuesday, Sept. 6. The date will coincide with the opening of schools and was expected to attract record buying. Most stores also included "Back to School" specials in their ads which appear in this issue of The Brand.

Dr. Wills Plans To Study Special Urology Course

Dr. R. R. Wills will leave around October 1 to take a specialized course in urology, he said this week.

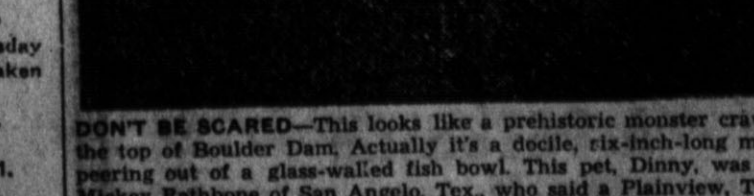

Dr. Wills said that he could take the special work in New York Politechnic Clinic or in College of Medical Evangelists and County hospital at Los Angeles, California.

He has not decided which place he will study, but estimated that he would spend around 2 months in one or the other of the two centers.

McLean Sweeps To Easy 18-0 Win Over Canadian

McLEAN, Friday night, Sept. 2.—"First game" flitters slowed McLean's Tigers down for a while this evening but in the end they inaugurated their new stadium in a winning way, dropping the District I-B Canadian Wildcats 18-0.

McLean scored in the first, second and fourth quarters with L. M. Watson, 170-pound halfback, scoring every point. Watson romped 34 and 15 yards and plunged from the one-yard line for the three counters. All of Watson's extra point attempts were blocked.

12,000 Fish Stocked in Deaf Smith Tanks

County Agent Hugh Clearman and Roger Brumley brought home about 12,000 bass, bluegill and channel cat from Santa Rosa Federal Fish Hatchery Friday.

The minnows were spread out to stock tanks or lakes on the following places: Ezra Norton, Roger Brumley, Colby Conkright, Ky Higgins, Floyd West, Zerrel Thomas and Troy Kelly.

J. C. Morrison Supervises Frying At Annual Westway Chicken Fry

By MRS. MERLIN KAUL

The annual chicken fry was held Friday night at the schoolhouse. Mrs. Roy Lee Wilson, president of the Home Demonstration Club, was in charge assisted by Mrs. Manuel Hawks, Mrs. Merlin Kaul and Mrs. Elmer Combs. J. C. Morrison, with the advice and some assistance from the men, supervised the frying of the chicken which was as delicious as usual when fried in a large pot.

Elmer Patterson and his family were present from Hereford and after supper Elmer showed films of the Camp Fire Girls in Camp in New Mexico, Palo Duro Park and a comedy. Mary Kathryn Boyd from here was one of the Camp Fire Girls who attended the camp in New Mexico.

Families present included those of Robert Boyd, G. C. Merritt, J. C. Morrison, Merlin Kaul, Elmer Combs, Roy Lee Wilson, Manuel Hawks, Abraham Drager, S. A. Duckworth, Lyle Rickman, Lon Haney, Elmer Patterson, Patsy Townsend and Lynn Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landers and Ross-Joe, Mrs. Johnny Townsend and Sandra, and Mrs. Elmer Combs attended a Brotherhood Meeting of the Baptist Church at Dimmitt Friday afternoon and night.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rudd and her sister, Mrs. Curt Griffin and Mr. Griffin of Amarillo are spending the week end at Carlsbad, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Hawk and L. T. recently returned home from a visit with her sister, Mrs. W. C. Jeffords and Mr. Jeffords at Fort Worth and her father, J. A. Northern at Overton.

L. T. Hawks and Glen Wilson have returned home from Craterville where they have been attending Football Training Camp.

Mrs. Jim Wagon spent Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. George Lutz north of Hereford. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lutz, have recently returned from Matador in Motley county, where they attended the Old Settlers' Reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Lutz were married in Motley County in 1888 and this was the first time they had been back in 46 years. Mrs. Lutz says her hand is still tired from shaking hands with so many old friends but it was worth it. They enjoyed a visit with Lum Collett, father of Fred Collett of this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wilson, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Wilson and their families visited relatives in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wilson, Sr. at Hereford last week when their grandfather, M. T. Wilson, and their aunt, Mrs. Lester Williams and son Marian of Abilene, were guests.

This is a busy season. Several farmers have begun harvesting

The Versatile Hereford Department: Claude Ricketts was in Saturday morning to challenge us on the identity of what turned out to be a pair of "Red Haws." For your information, a haw is not what you tell a horse, out an edible berry. Black haws, Claude says, are delicious; he never tried any red haws before. However, the late Carl Gilliland desired some red haws so much that W. E. Neal, who was visiting in Illinois around 10 years ago, sent some settings back to Mr. Gilliland. Claude got one of these settings, put it out and now has a bush more than 12 feet high; he also harvested three red haws this year—his first crop.

We also happened to be checking with Harry Danforth the other day and find that Mrs. Danforth is still harvesting oranges from her miniature orange tree. This has been going on for several years and the orange crop this year was good; Harry says the fruit was about the size of baseballs. Just for good measure, he also says they gathered some excellent figs from their orchard.

The Cub Scout pet parade attracted considerable attention Friday afternoon as the boys showed everything from mice to goldfish. Award winners will be given in the Thursday Brand.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holmes of McLean were Friday visitors in the Clay Bowsher home. After the visit with relatives here, the Holmes were going on to New Mexico on a vacation trip, and possibly to Yellowstone National Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Minor and daughter Susan Elaine of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vance of Lubbock are visiting in Hereford today.

WESTWAY LEADS WAY TO New Rural Community Life?

Rural community life is a thing of the past. At least, that is what the big shots are saying all over the country, and they can prove it, too.

School consolidations, for instance, have eliminated the old time gatherings and quilting bees; square dances now flourish in swanky clubs instead of the old community meeting places and no longer does the circuit rider travel homeward, laden with chickens, eggs, and fresh produce galore.

Fortunately, however, no one has ever told the people of Westway, Deaf Smith County, these things.

The good people of this community did relinquish their school to the consolidation movement, but they are having a finer time, perhaps than ever before. Last Friday night, for instance, folks out at Westway passed the word around and things began to happen. People brought pies, chickens and steaks, all of which resulted in one of the biggest get-togethers in the history of the community. Did they have a good time? Just ask some of them and find out for yourself. Furthermore, the Westway folks have an up and going Sunday School, more than 100 in attendance just a week ago today.

While we are inclined to agree, at least to some extent, with extremists who say that rural community life is on the decline, we sometimes wonder if the cause should not be attributed to the people rather than to conditions. The automobile, plus other means of transportation and communication, has no doubt contributed more to this decline than any other factor. Through this medium a greater scope of activity has been placed in every home, bringing competition in many forms of the old time pie sippers.

Human relationship and associations are, after all, the fundamental thing in any form of society. Gatherings like the Westway people sponsor may be the first indication of a return of what thousands term as "the good old days." When you compare the finest of foods, plus wholesome companionship and low costs, along side a smoke filled roadside inn and five dollar steaks without flavor, it is difficult to understand the twentieth century trend. On the other hand, if community gatherings cannot meet the competition of other forms of entertainment they will naturally become a thing of the past.

Men Wanted - By P. T. A.

The Parent-Teacher Association, according to Mrs. Harland Caraway, president, is striving for two immediate goals: greater interest among the men of the community, and a warm welcome for the new teachers.

The association is unquestionably right on both counts. Absolute lack of masculine interest in our schools will naturally result in unbalanced educational system. A man so busy making money to pay the school bills that he cannot take part in its operation would be much like a man so busy paying for his car that he never rode in it.

In a country which prides itself upon hospitality, it would likewise seem that the people would be friendly, above all others, to the teachers with whom the entire future of their children rests. The teacher's lot, though somewhat better, is still no bed of roses.

The P. T. A. plea is sound, sane and sensible. The community, more especially the male population, should give it more than a passing thought. Any organization which evolves conclusions of this type is well worthwhile. Next Tuesday night, the first meeting date, is an excellent time to join this organization which represents better schools, more balanced policies of education and a better community life.

Letters To

Dear Editor:
I deem it my duty and am thankful to have the privilege to write this letter in defense of my conception of the American way of life.

It is my conviction that our National Constitution requires the complete separation of church and state, and I am not alone in this conviction. I am very thankful that there is no official State religion in America, but I am alarmed because of the trend in that direction. If a State religion ever becomes a reality in our land the beginning will be small. It is this small beginning that must be prevented. For this reason I oppose the use of public funds to assist parochial schools (Catholic and Protestant). Many religious groups maintain parochial schools, but most of them do not expect and do not seek public assistance. They know that the use of public money for such purpose violates the American doctrine of "separation of church and state."

It is general knowledge that parochial schools (Protestant and Catholic) are established and conducted for the purpose of keeping boys and girls under the teaching and influence of some particular religion. Since this is true, it is obvious that the use of public money for the assistance of such schools unites church and state. When money from public funds is used to provide transportation, text

Basic Study Is Human Nature

There are many readers of The Sunday Brand, who constantly resolve to improve their minds by reading intelligently-written books, in the hope that they will become better equipped to understand the many issues that crowd upon them as they try to keep pace with the modern world.

This impulse is good and should be acted upon, but, very often, in our search for the new, we have a tendency to overlook the value of the old.

For this reason, we would remind our readers that, under all modern issues, however expressed, human nature asserts itself much the same as it did in past ages. Therefore, the basic study for us is human nature and the solution for modern troubles is improved human beings.

By the general consent of almost all of mankind, the Bible has long been recognized as preeminent in the field of human nature, possessing the fundamental guides to improving human beings. It might be a good idea, then, for all of us to give a little more diligent study to the great truths that are set out in the Book of Books.

CONTRACT FOR SCHOOL ROOMS

The Dalhart Board of Education has awarded to the Burrow Lumber Co. a contract to build ten or more 24 x 48 structures that can be used for classrooms as long as necessary and then be sold for conversion into homes.

The classrooms will be to care for high school students till a new high school can be completed. The former high school structure burned recently.

Lumbermen were consulted before the classrooms were designed to be sure they could be converted to homes. They will be built FHA specifications.

Sealed bids were received by the board at a special meeting last night. The Burrow company said it is ready to go to work at once. It may be that as many as 14 of the "houses" will be necessary.

The board did not announce the contract price but unofficial estimates are that ten "houses" will run around $18,000 to $20,000. —The Dalhart Texan books, etc. for parochial schools, public money is being used to support a religious system. Please let me emphasize that these remarks apply to all religious groups.

Christ teaches that there is a realm or a sphere for the state and one for the church in his statement: "Render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's." I believe that the establishment of a state religion would be the end of Americanism, because it would end religious freedom.

Since the Catholics have taken exception to some of the public statements I have made I am questioning their position on this question. It is being quoted in an effort to clarify the issue by giving the facts. Here it is: "Since the natural welfare of men cannot be dissociated from their supernatural welfare, the State should protect the Church, foster its interests, and recognize it as the public and official State religion. On the other hand, the Church should respect the jurisdiction of the civil power as supreme in its own sphere, and teach respect and obedience to that authority as of divine obligation. This mutual relationship should hold where the majority of its citizens are Catholics. Where the majority of the citizens of a state are not Catholics, the Church for reasons of policy does not insist on recognition of the Church as the State religion. In a non-Christian state recognition of the Church as the State religion is out of the question as the Church has no jurisdiction in right or in fact over unbaptized persons. There the church should be accorded the toleration and protection given to any corporate body with full freedom to administer its own affairs. This is the practical position of the church today in all countries where it is not the State religion." From the Great Encyclical Letters of Pope Leo XIII, N. Y., 1903, as recorded in The Catholic Encyclopedia Dictionary.

In closing I express appreciation for our public school. We have a good school system in Hereford and all boys and girls have the right to attend. There is no discrimination because of religious beliefs. It is my sincere conviction that if all citizens of this school district would use and cooperate with our public school system it could be made even better. One thing I know: The American way of life cannot survive without the successful maintenance of the public schools.

Sincerely,
Bob Wear

Benzedrine Banned

THE HALT of America's new dope craze when manufacturers withdrew benzedrine inhalers from the market was the culmination of a long publicity campaign by Drew Pearson.

Working with Congressman George Grant of Montgomery, Ala., Pearson published a series of columns and broadcasts beginning last February, which pointed to the manner in which prison inmates, dope addicts and even high-school children were tearing the benzedrine-treated paper from the inhalers and using it as a cheap dope. Simultaneously, Rep. Grant introduced a bill banning the inhalers.

Final result came when manufacturers stopped the sale of benzedrine inhalers. Instead they will sell benzedrex, a new inhaler containing a non-stimulating compound.

Diplomats Worried

One thing the Senate investigating subcommittee is likely to avoid in its probe of Messrs. Vaughan and Maragon is the part they may have played in influencing the Truman doctrine for Greece.

It seems inconceivable that an ex-Greek federal narcotics agent from Kansas City should have had anything to do with U.S. foreign relations. Yet it happens that members of the Greek embassy in Washington are now as jittery as sunflowers in a Kansas cyclone for fear their relations with John Maragon will be probed by the senate.

Every administration has its hangers-on, who love to bask in the limelight of the White House. But no administration since Warren Harding's day has had the benefit of such a weird and apparently influential character as General Vaughan's so-called "Greek adviser," John Maragon.

Maragon's Record

District of Columbia's police records show that Maragon once pled guilty of transporting 11 quarts (7.1720) of some times arrested for disorderly conduct but never prosecuted, and once got into a brawl in the locker room of the Washington Senators where some of the ball players threatened to beat him up.

Maragon also got into a fist fight with Don Watson, chief of the state department's transportation section at the United Nations convention at San Francisco; was fired by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad; got into a street scuffle with Brig. Gen. Wm. L. Lee in Rome, Italy; was found to be distributing anti-Semitic literature at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia last year; and was questioned in the death of police detective Arthur Scrivener in 1926, one of Washington's most mysterious homicide cases. Maragon established an alibi and later married the girl whom Scrivener was scheduled to marry one day after his death.

Yet, on top of all this, the smallest Maragon turned up at the White House 26 minutes after President Roosevelt died to console President Truman, accompanied the Roosevelt funeral train to Hyde Park; showed up at the Stalin-Churchill conference in Potsdam, was the proud possessor of a White House pass, flabbergasted the admirals by accompanying Truman on the presidential destroyer during the Navy Day fleet review in New York, sat next to the President's box with General Vaughan during the Army-Navy game, and even had a private compartment on the special train that carried the President to the game.

Maragon's influence with his old friend, Harry Truman, has been on the wane since first exposed in this column two years ago. But his influence with Harry Vaughan appears just as strong as ever. When Maragon wants to see the president's military aide, he goes to the east wing of the White House.

Truman Doctrine

Maragon's influence was near its zenith in the winter of 1947 when the famous Truman doctrine for aid to Greece was formulated. That the amazing Greek policy directly inspired Greece policy is doubtful. That he and Vaughan influenced it indirectly is more than probable.

The Truman doctrine for Greece, as will be recalled, was announced in March, 1947, shortly after Jimmie Byrnes retired as secretary of state. One of the things Gen. Vaughan constantly needed Truman about was that Byrnes was too much his own boss, that people talked on the "Byrnes policy," not the "Truman policy," and that Truman should get more credit for directing foreign affairs.

That doctrine, which has now cost us a billion dollars, was precipitated when the British notified us they were pulling out of Greece.

That new electronic brain can solve mathematical problems 12,000 times faster than a human being. Unfortunately, it can't solve all the world's problems so handsily.

The Road Back

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

October 1 has been set as the day for voting on the proposed $500,000 county farm-to-market bond issue. The Chamber of Commerce has already gone on record as favoring the building of this 50 miles of hard surface road. ...What is your opinion on the matter.

Don Zimmerman: I hope it goes through, that and the Canadian River bridge and the railroad. All of this would help the community tremendously. The value of the farmer's land will also go up and his getting to town when he wants to on hard surface roads will help everybody. We might as well be in debt for something worthwhile as something else. I'd a lot rather owe on roads than on cannons, airplanes and war materials.

Coy Brooks: I agree with Don, 100 per cent. Dub Reeves: I think it would mean as much to Hereford as anything that has happened in the past 10 years. It would stabilize business. Country people could come and go to town when they wanted to, regardless of the weather. It might raise taxes a little, but it would be worth it.

Ernest Kerr: We need it. It is one of the best things that Deaf Smith County has had offered to it in a long time. Why let business go to Clovis and other places when we can keep it here And why pay taxes down below (to the State) when we don't get our money's worth? This way we will.

J. A. Dickson: I'd be for that. Any improvements such as this are good for everybody. I won't buy a farm that isn't on pavement and I doubt if my wife would live with me if I did. We paid $100 an acre for our land on Highway 51 north of town, and could have bought land just as good for $25, 8 or 10 miles out. The only reason we didn't was muddy roads. We lived on farms with muddy roads too long.

George G. Heard: We need the roads, my farm is on the Highway and I wouldn't want to live on one that wasn't on pavement. Another point in this country where the wind blows so much is that if the roads that receive heavy traffic aren't paved, so there will be an added cost in paving them just to fill up the holes that have blown and washed out. In other words the county can save money in the long run by getting the job done, and help the farms that much more.

HOMER FOX SAYS:

DID YOU KNOW...

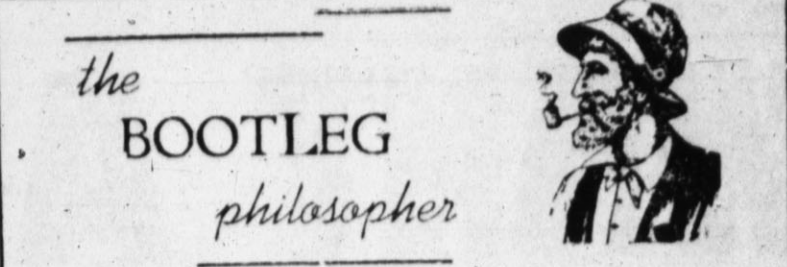

The Hereford Golf Course in 1923 was the best looking and the sportiest course in the Panhandle, while it was shorter than some with a 31 par, it was plenty tough. Frank Marrs held the record for several months with a 33, later in Nov. Doug Fox came in with a 32 and blew his Tee shot on No. 8 to take a 5 on that hole. His score card showed 3-4-4-4-4-3-3-5-2-32, this score held until March 1924, when Jim Clark came in with a 31 par to be the first Hereford golfer to par the course, his score was 4-4-4-4-3-4-3-3-2-31.

We had our first intercity match with Amarillo Hill Crest Club in the Spring of '24. 11 men made the trip and Hereford won 6 out of the 11 matches. Tuesday morning the Amarillo Daily paper came out and gave the match to Amarillo 6 to 5. Boy don't think this Hereford bunch didn't get on the phone and get that straightened out in a hurry. "By George" we won that match and we wanted the world to know it. A couple weeks later Amarillo returned the match here at home and we won again 8 to 6. We beat Amarillo Hillcrest four times that year, but finally they came down loaded for bear and after a real battle, beat us out 9 to 15.

Frank Marrs lost that day to W. W. Woolsey but carried him to the 19th hole before losing and Woolsey was one of the best golfers in the Panhandle. Frank Marrs was one of the toughest men we had to beat, this half-pint-sized guy just kept 'em down the middle and shot about the same game everyday, and he didn't know what it was to give up. In this same match, H. L. Rice lost on the 19th, L. H. Foster lost on the 19th, and Jim Clark beat Gene Rowe on the 20th green. That was the only match that Hereford ever lost on their own ground.

Back to Jim Clark, I don't think he ever lost a match. Jim wore a rabbit's foot on a string around his neck, like the kids used to wear asafetida to keep off various ailments, and every one of on the home team soon learned not to slap Jim on the hind pocket very hard, because he carried a large horseshoe on that pocket. Anyway Jim could hit one way out in the rough and hit a rock, bounce back in the fairway, hit a cow chip and roll on the green and sometimes he would hole out.

Remember one time we were approaching number seven, this green at that time was just inside the fence from the railroad tracks, and directly behind the green stood a telegraph pole. After a nice drive you would be an easy iron shot from the green, but you couldn't see the green proper from this distance, just the flag and this telegraph pole. On this particular round and on this particular shot, Jim had too much power in his stroke and his ball flew high, high in

(Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher no doubt has a splendid idea this week, but he won't get to first base with it.)

Dear editor:
Since I found me a place last week like I was talkin about out here where I can be in the shade all afternoon without movin regardless of where the sun is, due to the way the trees are lined up, I been spendin considerable time relaxin and enjoyin life, figurin there's not any use in everybody worryin about crops and the state of the world, ought to hold some minds in reserve in case a first-class crisis comes along, and while I was restin I got to thinkin about some of those five-percenters in Washington and the method they use to avoid answerin embarrassin questions.

Say one of em has been caught practically red-handed stuffin dollar bills in his pocket and some Senator asks him whose money it was and he just says "on the advice of my counsel I decline to answer on the grounds it might incriminate me," and that seems to settle the matter. Stumps the whole Senate.

Accordin to the newspaper I read this in, this is entirely constitutional, and what I want to know is why this constitutional safeguard ain't extended to the rest of the people? It looks now like the politicians and their close friends are gonna get all the deep freezers, ain't no chance for a farmer gettin one, but I don't see any reason why this handy constitutional

Amarillo Writer Tells Fabulous Story Of XIT In 'Cattle Empire'

The first authoritative account of the biggest ranch in the history of Texas is told in CATTLE EMPIRE: The Fabulous Story of the 3,000,000 Acre XIT, by Lewis Nordyke, scheduled for publication on September 19 by William Morrow and Company, New York.

The story of the XIT began in 1875 when Texans decided they wanted a new State Capitol at Austin—the biggest in the country—and cast about them for a means of paying for it. A resolution was written into the new Constitution being drafted that year, providing for the grant of 3,000,000 undeveloped acres of Panhandle land to whoever would build the Capitol for them. In 1881, the old Capitol having burned down meanwhile, they advertised for bids. A group of Chicagoans, figuring they could build the Capitol for $1,500,000 made the successful bid and signed the contract. The Farwells—Charles B. the politician who later became U. S. Senator from Illinois, and John V., the merchant prince who gave Marshall Field his start—were the master minds. Abner Taylor, builder, promoter, and politician, took charge of building the Capitol. Only after the contract was signed did any of the group see the land, and then they sent out their fourth member, Colonel Amos C. Babcock, on an inspection trip. Wearing a Homburg hat, he rolled into the traditionally Western Panhandle in an Army ambulance, commandeered through political connections, from Fort Elliott, a military post some hundred miles east of the Capitol Lands. Babcock inspected the lands thoroughly. They stretched for nearly 200 miles north to south along the New Mexican border and were an average of 27 miles wide. They were in nine separate counties. Many Texans deemed the lands worthless and laughed over how Texas had pulled the wool over the Chicagoans' eyes. But Babcock, after his trip of inspection, estimated that his group could make $4,500,000 in five years by raising cattle. There was a lot of wishful thinking in this, because Babcock had little money and had invested it all in the hope of making a quick killing. Taylor was on the same spot. But the Farwells could afford to wait, and wanted to, planning to sell the land at a profit when settlement had pushed farther west. Nevertheless, under the pressure of circumstances, they did agree to start a ranching operation.

They started by hiring a colorful personality named Barbecue Campbell to manage it and began at Buffalo Springs, in the northernmost section of the land, by inclosing a sizeable area, with fence and driving in 27,000 cattle from Southern Texas. This done, they all caught the fever and decided within a year to extend the cattle operation to the entire area, first building some six hundred miles of barbed-wire all the way around. From the first, water was and remained a major problem. There were others. Because of political delays and speculation in man-

Flood Doesn't Stop Ft. Worth

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff
Fort Worth, Texas, (AP)—Fort Worth has bounced back so rapidly from its May 17 flood that business, from week to week, is better than 1948.

The cleanup and rehabilitation programs were so efficient not a single high-water victim went hungry or homeless. So to most residents the May flood is just a bad memory. But city fathers have taken to heart the lessons learned, and a program is going forward rapidly to keep the Clear Fork of the Trinity henceforth in captivity.

And a disaster committee has been set up to guide rescue and relief operations in event of any future calamity. The Trinity burst through levees in seven places and smaller streams went out of banks May 17 following a 10 inch rain. Thirteen persons lost their lives and property damage was estimated at from $5,000,000 (m) to $25,000,000 (m).

About 10 square miles of Fort Worth were flooded. It was a sparsely settled lowlands district, an industrial section and an area of modest and substantial homes.

"Less than five per cent of our business establishments, less than five per cent of our municipal area and less than five per cent of our citizens were affected by the flood," Web Maddox, Chamber of Commerce president, said.

Edward R. Neill, executive secretary of the Tarrant County Red Cross chapter, said 3,800 families appealed for aid.

"About $1,700,000 (m) has been spent so far," Neill said.

"It's the largest operation in one city and county in Red Cross history," he added.

James T. Nicholson of Washington, general manager of the Let campus winds howl and frost lace your window—these Banquette dorm fashions will warm you like an Alma Mater sing. In policeman blue or fireman red—the pajamas for about $5, the night-shirt about $4—you'll want the whole team, and wear the night over pajamas during those "wee sma' hour gabfests." Good Housekeeping editors especially like the Tyrolean influence of their cotton braid trim.

were received from other parts of Texas and many states.

The Red Cross is repairing and rebuilding homes and replacing furniture and household goods—except luxury items.

"We even replace electric refrigerators in cases where the need for them is sharpened by children in a family," said Neill. "However, most electric refrigerators damaged have been repairable."

Benbrook Dam, 10 miles southwest of Fort Worth on the Clear Fork of the Trinity, will be rushed to completion by 1951. The dam will cost about $16,520,000.

"Had Benbrook Dam been completed, I believe there would have been no flood damage in Fort Worth," C. F. Swenson, U. S. engineer in the Fort Worth area office, said. "The amount of water to reach Fort Worth would have been reduced about one third."

The entire Trinity program has been worked on for two years and embraces flood control, soil conservation and canalization. Had this program been completed one and one-half or two years ago, the entire flood picture in all areas between the headwaters of the stream and the gulf would have been altered and many millions of dollars saved, according to the army engineers.

Broken levees have all been repaired and arm engineers are now drafting final plans for strengthening Trinity levees and deepening the river's channel. On recommendation of the army engineers, congress authorized $500,000 in 1945 for the preparation of these plans. After the

The city government of Fort Worth is extending drainage systems and storm sewers in the lowlands and in any future flood, the city water plant, which was inundated in May, will be well protected.

"We're going to do these things," said Amon Carter, Fort Worth publisher and chairman of the Citizens Flood Control Committee. "We're going to raise the money, whatever is necessary. I am not in favor of getting up and saying somebody has got to help us. Let's get in and help ourselves and get the thing going."

Aid to businesses which suffered in the flood was extended by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The RFC set up a speedy emergency loan approval procedure and business men applied for more than $1,000,000 (m) in RFC loans.

City manager W. O. Jones heads Fort Worth's new disaster committee, which will be put into action in the event of a new flood. The Red Cross would work with the committee. Here are the committee's divisions:

1. Administrative, which would handle personnel and supply procurement, communications, and would set up an information center at the city hall. The Salvation Army is included in this division.

2. Police. This division would handle emergency warnings and rescue work. It would be in charge of all officers, members of U. S. armed services and veteran groups.

3. Fire. Its responsibility would include rescue assistance, fire fighting, sanitary sewers, building inspections.

4. Health and welfare. Members of the State Health Department, the Tarrant County Medical Society and the Tarrant County Osteopathic Association would work in this department.

5. Water. All phases of water supply and distribution would be under its direction. Much credit for reducing the extent of the commercial loss in the flood and in saving lives is given by chairman Amon Carter of the Citizens Flood Rehabilitation Committee to the activity of the various civil agencies and to the military units at Carswell Air Base.

"Police and firemen spent the night sounding sirens and getting citizens out of their imperiled homes," Carter said.

Hereford Garden Club Commence New Season At Coffee In Blanton Home

Full Flower Show plans were announced in the Hereford Garden Club meeting held Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Le Blanton. Mrs. Leroy Aven and Mrs. Dennis Barnard were assistant hostesses for the social hour which took the form of a coffee, opening the fall and winter activities of the club.

Mrs. W. S. Fluit, president of the club, poured coffee from a table adorned with a striking arrangement of pyrantha made by Mrs. Roy Crutchfield.

Mrs. Fluit conducted the business session. Members of the year book committee reminded the club of the new ruling for this year that all arrangements made during the year shall contain a flowering shrub. Mrs. Marion Rutter read the gardener's prayer and announcement was made of an arrangement to be held in Lubbock on September 16, in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church. The clinic will be sponsored by the Lubbock Garden Club.

Flower Show Plans

Mrs. Will S. Kerr, chairman of the Hereford Garden Club Flower Show, discussed plans for the show and told of rulings for the show. Members of the other garden clubs of the city will be guests at the show which will be held at the home of Mrs. Jim Black, September 23 from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Program Is Given

The program, built around the topic "How to Plan, Select, and Order Shrubs" was presented by Mrs. Homer Brumley. Landscaping, with emphasis especially directed to members who are planning new yards was given consideration and the basic principles, Harmony, unity and rhythm were discussed. "Landscape design should express your personality and not the ideas of some one else. With a design and plan, landscaping is made easier and enjoyable," she said.

For a concrete example, Mrs. Brumley used a small blackboard to illustrate the plan of a 100 ft. lot. Essentials such as drive-ways, plans for walks and drives, knowledge of the mature form of the shrubs and position of the lot were discussed.

Continuing Mrs. Brumley said: "One of the most important aspects of shrub planting is the development of accents. In planting the shrubs around the house, stagger the plants and consider the location of windows, doors and architecture of the house itself. Remember the climate and know what shrubs are repellent to insects.

Developing a spirit of humility is just one of the rewards that grows along with understanding of the plants as the gardener learns more and more about his shrubs."

Eight new members were introduced. They were Mesdames Frank Brinkman, Frank Gyles, Sr., Joe Kendall, Morris Thomson, Glenn Witherspoon, Hardy Benson, Harry Cayler and S. Dodson.

Other members present were Mesdames Leroy Aven, Phillip Barkley, Dennis Barnard, Jim Black, Lyle Blanton, Homer Brumley, Roy Crutchfield, Tom Craper, C. C. Ferguson, W. S. Fluit, Marshall Formby, O. G. Hill, Marion Rutter, John Jacobson, Jr., W. S. Kerr, E. Ramey, Deward Roberson, J. P. Slaton, A. O. Thompson, Earl Springer, F. M. Kester, Carl Frye and E. E. Fridley.

Grazing Experiments Establish Helpful Facts In Steer Feeding

Several features in steer feeding which will help producers of Texas and other Southwestern states have been found in an experiment being conducted at Texas Technological College.

The experiment has established the value of alfalfa and alfalfa with mixtures as pasturage for cattle, proving alfalfa can be safely grazed. Dean W. L. Stangel says. He also reported no bloat has been found in steer used in the experiment, adding that bloat is prevented by proper management of steers before they are placed on alfalfa pasturage.

A new phase in a three-year experiment began last November when ten calves, selected on the open market, were placed in dry lot. The calves were typical of those that can be purchased by exercising normal care in selection.

On dry lot until May 1, the animals were given daily rations of one pound of cottonseed meal, two pounds of alfalfa hay and as much sorghum silage as they would eat. They averaged about 30 pounds each per day.

The consistent ration was altered only on extremely cold days when four pounds of milo chop were given each to add body heat.

On May 1 the calves were turned into an irrigated pasture where they will stay until Oct. 1. The four acres used are divided into an acre of alfalfa, one of alfalfa and brome grass, one of alfalfa and perennial rye grass and one of alfalfa, brome and rye grass. The calves, in two groups, graze alternately on each of the two pastures in a manner to show comparison of results in grazing.

The animals will return to dry lot in late fall for fattening and finishing. In general, the rations will follow the same pattern as that in the spring, with slight changes in proportions. The daily feed will include two pounds of alfalfa, two pounds of cottonseed meal and as much sorghum silage as will be eaten.

In addition each calf will receive one pound of milo chop per 100 pounds of weight, advancing as fattening progresses. Dean Stangel says 15 pounds will be the top for daily milo chop consumption.

The dean said 1948 results show that alfalfa is of greatest value for grazing. Cattle grazing on this diet for 91 days produced 537 pounds of beef, or $134.41 in beef per acre at current prices. Animals on alfalfa and brome netted $115.20 on 461 in 70 days of grazing. Alfalfa and perennial rye netted $120.50 for 482 pounds in 70 days, while alfalfa, brome and rye brought $108.63 for 434 pounds in 91 days.

Records kept on the project are aimed at showing value of different irrigated pasture mixtures for production, cost of establishing and keeping the pasture mixtures, species dominance during the grazing period, and exact forage yields.

Dean Stangel says 1949 results will not be as good as 1948 because hail completely destroyed the first grazing-crop only six days after the calves went on pasture, causing loss of 21 days grazing. The dean says the steers, although not especially prepared for show, could easily qualify. Actually what he hopes to accomplish is the better and more economical production of choice steers for the commercial market. By exhibiting the calves at Fat Stock shows a year apart, Stangel hopes to clearly illustrate the advantages of a planned dry lot feeding.

Tech is also experimenting with field fattening of lambs, and in cooperation with Texas A&M, is studying cause of sheep and cattle losses from grazing wheat.

 terials, the Capitol was costing far more than had been anticipated; and the extended ranching operation absorbed money like a sponge. To get fresh capital, the Farwells organized a British syndicate. Waddy enthusiastic at first, the members of the syndicate soon became embittered when profits were not forthcoming, and were a thorn in the flesh from first to last. From the first, also, the XIT outlived most of the old customs of the West and won enemies thereby. Local politics also interfered. Each of the nine counties wanted its own organized government, an ambition which the XIT consistently opposed because it meant higher taxes and interference in what it considered its private affairs. Consequently, the ranch was embattled from the start. However, it persevered until vast herds of cattle were strung the whole length of the huge pasture. They were received at the southern end (the Yellow Houses) and were progressively moved northward until after two years they reached Buffalo Springs. Then they were pushed northward on the trail to Montana, where the XIT had leased more colossal acreage, on which the steers were fattened before being shipped east to market. In spite of prairie fires that would sweep in a few days across hundreds of miles of the XIT, leveling everything in their path, political enemies, and other human and natural problems, the XIT did succeed in working out a profitable technique. But by that time, history had caught up with it. The trail to Montana had been closed by settlement, and homesteaders moving westward were clamoring for the XIT lands. So John V. Farwell put them up for sale, thus inaugurating the last of the great land runs in the country. When all the chips were counted, the Farwell heirs still held some 70,000 acres, which they still hold, and the Old West was no more.

Lewis Nordyke, author of Cattle Empire, was born on a farm near Cottonwood, Texas. He graduated from the University of Missouri School of Journalism in 1933, and has since worked as a newspaperman throughout Texas, writing for national magazines on the side. Since 1937 (with one year out for an editorial job in North) he has been associated with the Amarillo Globe-News, where he now does a daily column as well as special assignments that take him around the country.

DID YOU KNOW .

 That fall the boys were so enthused that they didn't even let the winter stop them. Frank Marrs and Brack Williams figured out a honey of an idea where they could play in the snow and still not lose the ball. They painted a bunch of balls red, donned their fleece lined gloves and overshoes and tried 'em out. Wasn't anything to see a bunch of meat heads playing golf with snow all over the ground.

About the first of May that year, they turned the grounds over to Dow Mercer and the first thing he did was to change number 8 and 9 greens and moved the Par up to 33. This number 8 Green was built in the side of the bluff with the approach side raised about two feet, the tee was on the north side of the creek on the bluff overlooking the biggest and deepest hole on the creek, straight ahead was number eight green 370 yards away and a par four hole, the prettiest fairway you ever saw, then off the hill and back north to number nine green, 505 yards away, a par 5 hole, these two added greens were easy pars if you hit 'em right and if you didn't, you were in a lot of trouble and would be so tired you couldn't lift your putter to finish.

It sorter makes your heart swell with pride to see those pretty trees down there now. No one bought them, no one hired them set out, that old bunch of boys took their shovels and took their trees down there and set them out themselves and I mean every tree that is down there now. It makes us appreciate a bunch of fellows that could see ahead, but are not with us any more—Carl Gilliland, Dow Mercer, Dr. Gabbert, Doug Fox, H. L. Rice, Bobo McLean, Dubs Pittman, P. W. Price, Hy Wilkinson, Allen Bell, Dr. Hicks, Brack Williams, Seth Holman, Rev. Paul J. Merrill, W. R. Steckman, George Garrison, W. H. Ray, C. A. Skelton and others.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Beyer returned Saturday from Amarillo where they visited their son, F. L. Beyer, and family for several days.

Native Grass Will Make Beautiful Lawn If Proper Care Is Exercised

By MRS. TOM DRAPER

In traveling over the country there are many evidences of good Home Demonstration work that has been done in years past. It takes several years for a landscape to show up or for a lawn to become a monument to good planning and good work done. Usually our landscapes that are pleasing are landscapes that show that they have been well planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Thomas of the Simms Community have one of the prettiest lawns and it might be due to lack of time on their part. When they were building their home they moved a house out into the pasture. After completing the remodeling they had planned to plow up the yard, level it, and plant a domestic grass. As they couldn't get to their yard work with all the other work they had to do, Mrs. Thomas decided to work with the grass that was already there. She watered this and cared for it, filling the cow trails with some new soil and watering this so that the native grass would cover these places. Their lawn today is very pretty, smooth, and takes the minimum of care because it is native grass. Any of you who are interested in a labor-saving lawn—this is just one of the features of native grasses—should go to see the Thomas' yard.

Buffalo grass should be sown in the spring as it is a warm weather grass. Buffalo grass doesn't have to be mowed very many times in the summer depending on the amount of water it gets. It's a little easier to get the grass started by getting grass from the pasture rather than from seed. Buffalo grass certainly should be considered in planning a lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Witherspoon of Hereford and Lt. and Mrs. Roger Hartman, of Fort Sul, Oklahoma left yesterday for Santa Fe and the annual Festival there.

POLIO VICTIM FLOWN HOME—Miss Virginia Warner, 24, stricken with polio July 27 while working in San Angelo, Tex., hospital, is greeted at Kansas City by members of her family after she was flown home. Left to right: Miss Warner; the pilot, Charles Toth (on other side of plane); her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Warner; a brother, James, 15; and her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gipper. All are of Kansas City. Stricken with polio when she was eight, she was able to discard braces four years and, after high school, entered nurses training. She went to Abilene, Tex., during the 1948 polio outbreak and to San Angelo when the polio epidemic hit there this year.

MRS. BILL BLOOD ANNOUNCES PLANS

Hereford's Newest Business
AN EXCLUSIVE

Tot-Gift-Lingerie Shop

Having for some months recognized the need of an exclusive TOT-GIFT-LINGERIE Shop in Hereford, I have taken steps to open, in the near future, just such a shop, owning and operating it myself.

Nationally advertised lines in Infant's Wear and Children's Wear have been secured, as well as exclusive lines of hose, lingerie, and gift linens.

A very convenient location has been secured on Park Avenue, just north of the swimming pool. This location has been selected in line with the trend of modern shops locating in residential areas. Hereford is growing! So with an eye to the future, I have chosen this location, easily accessible and with a quiet, roomy atmosphere. Plenty of parking space will be available.

I cordially invite you to keep this new idea in mind, and watch for definite announcements to follow.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Bill Blood

L'Allegra Installs New Club Officers At Opening Session

L'Allegra Club opened the 1949-50 club season with a dinner at one o'clock in the Tehomas Dining Room in Amarillo Thursday. Hostesses were Mesdames Marlin Pierce, Gerald Gollehon and Harold Meacham.

Officers elected last May were installed with Mrs. Lee Kent in charge of installation rites. She outlined duties of the offices as each officer took her place, comparing the president to the stem of a rose and the budding flower to her fellow officers, and presenting each officer with a rose.

Those installed were Mrs. Richard Wingate, president; Mrs. Walter London, Jr., Mrs. Darrell Blanton, recording secretary; Mrs. Marlin Pierce, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lee Kent, treasurer; Mrs. Eugene Bagwell, historian; Mrs. Bartley Dowell, parliamentarian and Mrs. Harold Meacham, reporter.

Mrs. Lee Kent, year book chairman, presented new year books and outlines for the year's work were discussed.

Members attending were Mesdames Francis Hill, Leroy Price, Gerald Gollehon, James Edmondson, Delbert Balnum, Richard Winget, Walter London, Jr., O. G. Hill, Jr., Harold Meacham, Robert Lemons, Bill Waldrep, Lee Kent, Eugene Bagwell, Darrell Blanton, Marlin Pierce and Earl Stagner.

Neglected Parking Tickets Cost Double

Hereford's No. 1 policeman, Chief F. S. Buckalew, just called over to issue warning to persons who neglect paying their parking ticket fines. "If it is necessary to mail out reminders, the court will charge $2 instead of the customary $1 fine," Mr. Buckalew says, and adds as a clincher, "After all, it's much cheaper to drop a penny or a nickel into the parking meter."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker of Wichita Falls are spending the Labor-Day week end in Hereford. They are guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Selgier, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson went up to see the Boy's Ranch rodeo in Amarillo this week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Peterson are visiting their son and family in Lubbock over the Labor Day Week end.

We started to write an advertisement citing the good buys at the Hereford Hardware, but some friends came in and the conversation completely altered our plans for writing this ad!

We talked of the "super values" supposedly offered by out-of-town merchants and trades people... and we got interested, mighty quick! And here's the way we see it...

As for our own business, we're trying to take care of it, giving values and service that make the customer's visit to our store more profitable to him than any trip to foreign markets. And we sincerely believe that every merchant in Hereford has values, sufficiently profitable to make "trading at home" a paying business for you, and you! and you!

The dollar that wanders away from home to make its purchases too often call back "Goodbye FOREVER, Chum-p". And it is a permanent farewell, make no mistake about it.

YOUR HEREFORD STORES ARE DOING A MAGNIFICENT JOB AS YOUR PURCHASING AGENTS. In evaluating their efficiency, just consider any single item of merchandise, any refrigerator or any stove for instance, that is desirable in quality and price. Such standard, quality merchandise is priced the same throughout this area—NO SAVING if effected by a buying trip out of town. You'll find the manufacturer represented right here in Hereford by a local merchant channeling his profits right back to you in the support of your schools, your churches, your clubs. And we might add that your hometown merchant is geared to a low overhead; HE SAVES FOR YOU, SURE!

So...

TRADE IN HEREFORD... BESIDES THE MONEY ADVANTAGE, YOU HAVE THE SATISFACTION OF PLAYING ON THE HOME TEAM

Sincerely, The Folks at

Miss Pat Longbottom Weds Harold Loerwald Tuesday

In a simple double-ring ceremony with only immediate members of the two families present, Miss Pat Longbottom became the bride of Harold R. Loerwald Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock in the rectory of St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Father Dominic officiated as the couple and their attendants stood against background decorations of midsummer flowers.

Abbie Longbottom served her sister as maid of honor and wore a white street-length dress of waffle plique. Her corsage was of yellow gladioluses. George Loerwald was his brother's best man.

The bride's dress was also street-length, made of pastel blue organdy with scalloped neckline and short sleeves. The full skirt fell into deep scallops at the hem. She wore a small off-the-face navy straw hat and her bouquet was fashioned of white gladioli.

To carry out the "old, new, borrowed and blue" traditional custom, she wore her grandmother's (Mrs. E. B. Posey) watch, a new white linen handkerchief was carried and a borrowed rhinestone necklace accented the soft blue tones of her dress.

Her mother, Mrs. Perry McMin, wore a pink woolen suit with white accessories and corsage of white carnations. Mrs. J. A. Loerwald, the bridegroom's mother was dressed in a black suit with pink accessories. Her flowers were also white carnations.

Reception Is Held

Mrs. McMin was hostess for the reception held at the new home of the bride couple. The bride's sister, Mrs. Calvin Goodin served cake and Miss Ruth Loerwald assisted with the serving. Nan Longbottom registered the guests in the bride's book.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to points in New Mexico the bride was wearing a pink linen dress made two pieces, with a new fall felt hat in green. Her accessories matched her hat and she wore her wedding corsage pinned to her left shoulder.

Mrs. Loerwald, one of Hereford High School graduates in May,

A dinner at noon was the feature of the day with other out-of-town relatives as special guests.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clark and Ricky of Colorado Springs, Mrs. Stella Baxter, Pittsburg; Mrs. Lena Clark, Safford, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Britt Clark, Summerfield; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Story and Bobby Raymond, and Georgia Faye of Amarillo; Emmett Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark, Summerfield; Miss Thelma McMinn, Emma Jane Brown, Leaton Clark, Richard Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Clark, Mrs. Lorena Capps, and Patty of Amarillo; Mrs. Caudia Ola Brown, Martha Jean Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Story, Friona and the hostess.

When the couple left on a wedding trip the bride wore a pean brown gabardine suit with matching felt hat and black accessories. They will make their home in Louisville, Kentucky, 109 East Broadway.

Mrs. McArthur is a graduate of Hereford High School, Trinity University and Princeton Theological Seminary.

Mr. McArthur who is the son of Mrs. R. D. McArthur of Meridian, Miss., is a graduate of Meridian Junior College, Maryville College and Princeton Theological Seminary. He is now attending Louisville Presbyterian Seminary and will graduate in May. He served with the armed forces in the Pacific Theater of War during World War II.

Several prenuptial affairs were given for Miss Olson including showers, parties and farewell courtesies.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Meridian, Miss., Hot Springs, Ark., St. Louis, Mo., New York City, Denton and Dallas.

Father Nathaniel read the ceremony when Miss Dorothy Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stone of Amarillo, became the bride of Raynold Herr, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Herr, Monday morning, August 29 at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The couple stood before the altar banked with white gladioluses and lighted by white tapers. Mrs. Jeanne Kreiswasser gave the wedding music at the organ and Miss Adeline Koster sang "Ave Maria" accompanied by Mrs. Kreiswasser. Miss Geraldine Knabr was maid of honor. She wore a form-ist, and Mrs. Dana Leftwich, organist, gave the wedding music. Miss Vivian Olson, of New York, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore pink marquisette over taffeta with gloves and hat to match and carried a bouquet of aqua Marconi daisies.

Miss Virginia McArthur of Hot Springs, Ark., sister of the bridegroom was bridesmaid, wearing aqua marquisette over taffeta with matching gloves and hat and carried a bouquet of pink Marconi daisies. John M. McArthur of Meridian, Miss., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Frank Sinclair, Meridian, Miss., cousin of the bridegroom, and C. H. Olson, Jr., cousin of the bride, and Douglas A. Porter served as ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white marquisette gown over taffeta designed with deep yoke edged in lace. The fitted bodice was attached to a long full skirt and her veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli and roses tied with wide white satin ribbon. Her gauntlets were of marquisette to match her dress.

Reception Is Held Members of the Berean Class of the church were hosts at a reception held in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony.

First PTA Meeting Is Tuesday Night

The first meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held in the high school gymnasium Tuesday night, September 6 as an informal welcome to new teachers and get-together for parents and teachers in advance of the regular school activities. Seven o'clock is the hour set for the basket-supper and Mrs. H. H. Caraway, president, urges all parents and teachers to attend. Mrs. Merlin Kaul will direct an informal program after the supper. Arrangements are being made by the hospitality committee with Mrs. V. P. Walker serving as chairman. Other members of the committee are Mesdames S. B. McLallen, Troy Kelly, R. C. Childers, John Channer, Jim Bookout and Bob Wear.

Camp Fire Girls Open House Displays Many Improvements Made To The Hut

All Camp Fire Girls groups served as hosts for an open house held Friday night at the Camp Fire Hut honoring members of the council, parents and other guests.

Built around an "achievement theme" the entertainment got underway at 7:30 with the girls proudly showing the visitors the new circular walks, one of the major improvements made by the Tawanka Camp Fire Girls, and the grounds which have been landscaped by the Bud-To-Blossom Club.

The new paint job done by the Dads with the cooperation of the council and the new chairs secured through gifts from the American Legion and Auxiliary, B&P Club and other individuals were displayed with pride as the girls escorted their guests about the hut.

At eight o'clock movies of the camping trip to Las Vegas in June were shown by Elmer Patterson. He also showed colored movies of Palo Duro Canyon, one reel of western songs and a comedy.

Bob Lewis, president of the council, who served as master of ceremonies for the evening, showed colored slide pictures made at the camp this summer. Approximately 100 guests were entertained.

al made of pink satin and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses. Wilfred Herr, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bride wore a traditional white satin gown made on classic lines and having a long train. The casque bodice featured tiny buttons down the back and the long sleeves were buttoned to the elbow. The deep V-neck was edged with seed pearls which matched the halo which held the finger-tip veil of illusion. The wedding bouquet was fashioned around a single white orchid which the bride carried on a white prayer book.

Breakfast and Reception Following the ceremony the couple was honored at a breakfast in the home of the bridegroom's parents and in the afternoon a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents in Amarillo.

After a short wedding trip they will return to live here on Knight Street. Mr. Herr is employed by N. D. Bartlett, Jr., contractor.

Mrs. Herr graduated from Amarillo High School and attended the University of Texas. Mr. Herr is a Hereford High School graduate and attended West Texas State College one year before entering the service. He served three and a half years in the U. S. Air Corps.

Honor Jane Bookout At Birthday Party

Jane Bookout celebrated her eighth birthday with a party given by her mother, Mrs. Jim Bookout, Saturday afternoon. Games and contests were enjoyed and birthday cake and ice cream were served to the 19 guests.

Those attending the party were Carolyn Kirby, Melba Gay Lawrence, Virginia Witherspoon, Lanelle Best, Sydney Hair, Linda Hair, Luwana Lookingbill, Bernice Sexton, Mela Brummel, Carol Ann, and Marilyn Newell, Mona Kay Calhoun, Ella Mae Williams, Sheila Millard, Marlene and Clydene Allred, Agatha Mabine, Martha Ann Bookout and the honoree.

HOME FROM VACATION Mrs. C. E. Sheppard is back on the job at the bus station following a two week vacation during which she and her husband spent a few days in Baton Rouge and other New Mexico spots.

Miss Carrie Belle Smith Married To Carroll Vaughan In Dawn Rites

Miss Carrie Belle Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Dawn, and Carroll Vaughan, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Vaughan of Canyon, exchanged vows in a double-ring ceremony Sunday, August 28, in the Dawn Baptist Church. The bride's uncle, Rev. A. D. Smith, pastor of the Baptist Church in Sweetwater was the officiant.

White gladioluses and lupines, and greenery formed the background for the ceremony. Miss Myrtle Smith, sister of the bride, gave a pre-nuptial prelude and Earlene Walton gave piano accompaniment for "I Love You Truly" sung as a duet by Myrtle and Shirley Sue Smith, both sisters of the bride. She also accompanied Shirley Sue Smith when she sang "Because" and played "The Rosary" as Laverne Hinders and Patricia Walton lighted the tapers held by branched candelabra.

The traditional wedding marches were played and piano selections gave soft accompaniment to the ceremony.

Miss Rosemary Cronin was maid of honor, wearing a beige satin street length dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white asters. D. W. A. I. N Stewart served as best man.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an autumn brown crepe dress made street length with flared skirt caught in bows at the back. Her accessories were in brown and the bridal bouquet was fashioned of red rosebuds.

The bride's mother wore a black brocade sheer with black accessories with orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a green crepe dress with brown accessories and an orchid.

After the ceremony the couple left on a short wedding trip to points in New Mexico. Upon their return they will be at home in Canyon where both are students at West Texas State College.

Tierra Blanca received a large shipment of fish, including black bass and channel cat from the U. S. Fish Commission at Marcos. Several others receiving fish to stock surface tanks included: C. F. Kerr, J. Alexander, D. C. Laird, Samann, George W. Dale, Jack Harrell, W. R. Evans and Allen Hill.

Miss Zula Vanderburgh entertained a number of her friends on Thursday evening, the principal feature of the occasion being a progressive Panic Game, which prizes were offered, according to the Sept. 9, 1904 record.

The story continued, "Since the game was a tie between C. S. Garrison and Miss Nora Walters on one side and Ross W. Davis and Miss Bruce Gass on the other, others means were resorted to, which awarded the prize to the latter."

"After the games were over, cake and ice cream were served preparatory to the dispersing of the crowd. The following were present:

"Misses Linnie Herron, Mina Dameron, Alma Bates, Nora Walters, Bruce Gass, Louella Howard, Tressye Coston, Lizzie LeGrand, Mildred Trebbly, Mesdames Davis and Vanderburgh, Messrs. Ross W. Davis, Lipscomb, Bell, Garrison, Witherspoon, Gass, Ferguson, Russell and Connell.

Advertisements for excursion rates to the World's Fair in Chicago on the Chicago Rock Island and Gulf Railway and to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis were inviting vacationers to travel.

"George Dent this week completely eclipsed all past successes at fishing in the Tierra Blanca River, when he landed a 9 1/2 pound bass. Heretofore, Sam F. Dunn has had no difficulty in bearing the honor of being Hereford's champion fisherman, he having captured the bass which weighed as high as 8 1/4 pounds, but he will now have to take a back seat as it will be seen from the above figures that Mr. Dent has surpassed him by 1/4 pound.

Marriage of D. H. Bryant to Miss Cardella Cawthon near West Fort was announced as were two funerals, that of J. W. Martin and Miss Zula Wagoner of Dawn.

Ira Aten resigned from his work on the XII ranch and moved Hereford to California because of his wife's health.

Hereford had its first annual picnic under the auspices of the Farmer's Institute and it was termed as complete success.

"One hundred prospectors visited Hereford and vicinity and many of them manifested interest in the prospects existing here" so went the story telling of 100 home-seekers who came in on the train, were met by the entire population, and were prospecting to find land on which to live and farm.

We join in the great American sentiment recognizing the dignity of labor and the fact that honor lies in honest toil.

Our bank will be closed Monday, September 5th, in observance of this day of tribute. . . . to the man with the hoe, at the factory machine. . . . at the drawing board. . . . and to the millions of other workers who built this great country with the toil of their hands—the sweat of their brow.

Fighting 36th Reunion in Waco Sept. 9-10-11

Thousands of the 36th "Texas" Division veterans are expected at the Annual Reunion at Waco, Texas, September 9, 10 and 11th, announced Charles M. Beacham of Corpus Christi, Texas, current President of the 36th Division Association. Over 70,000 men served in this Texas unit during World War II and thousands of others were veterans of World War I and a few of the Spanish-American War. This famous fighting unit, known as the "T-Patchers" by its distinctive shoulder insignia, saw about 368 days of front line service in Italy, France, Germany and Austria. It fought in seven major campaigns, made two amphibious assaults, — the famed "Bloody Salerno" landing of September 9th, 1943, and the landing on the southern coast of France on August 16th, 1944. The reunion was selected in commemoration of the Italian landing, the first such operation against the mainland of Europe. A business meeting of the officers of the Association is scheduled for Friday, September 9th, at the Roosevelt Hotel, Waco, Texas, followed by a general meeting on Saturday morning at the National Guard Armory. A barbecue is planned for the afternoon, and a dance for the evening. Regular election of officers and a memorial service will be held on Sunday. Reservations may be mailed to Wiley Stem, at either the Raleigh Hotel or the Roosevelt Hotel, Waco, Texas.

Parents Offer Tips, In Case You Have Quadruplets

What would you do if you suddenly became the parents of quadruplets?

Would you immediately collapse or take the first train out of town? Would you hit the boss for a 10-or-20-buck raise and would that be enough? Or would you need outside help? Would you try to commercialize your foursome?

Look around the place you're living in now. Imagine that suddenly, right now, today, there are four new but permanent faces there? Would the place be big enough? If not, where would you get more room?

Would you need a maid, or a second maid? How about the children already there? Would the old one resent the new ones? Could you handle the whole problem without creating neurotics?

Now, don't get panicky. The odds against you women giving birth to quads are about 650,000 to 1. (No bet, if you're a man). But why not be prepared, at least be armed with information on what others have done? Therefore, purely as a public service, we have rounded up the experiences of some families which have produced quads since 1915. Here they are:

The oldest quads in this group are now all wives and mothers themselves. They are the four Keys girls who were born in Hollis, Okla., in 1915. Leota is now Mrs. Robert T. Hall, Oklahoma City; Roberta is Mrs. Roland Torn, Houston, Tex.; Mona is Mrs. Robert W. Fowler, Oklahoma City and Mary is Mrs. Jack Anderson, McKinney, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Flake M. Keys (he died early this year) already had four children when the quads arrived. But neither their arrival nor survival seemed to be accompanied by undue stress and strain. "The family was living in a large old-fashioned house at the time," says Leota. "The older children just doubled up in the room they had and we got along all right."

Their father was in the hardware and furniture business. At first the Keys resisted attractive offers to put the quads on exhibition but finally let them appear at the Oklahoma State Fair each year. This was stopped when they were nine because it interfered with their school work.

Later, at school, church and civic affairs, the quads began appearing as a singing and saxophone-playing quartet. They made some profitable summer tours and paid their way through Baylor University. Mona's marriage in 1940 broke up the quartet.

All in all, says Leota, their adult lives have not been unduly influenced by the unusual circumstances of their birth.

The sudden housing problem didn't floor Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Perricone of Beaumont, Tex., when their all-male quads arrived in 1929. They already had five other sons but were living in a big house. They simply converted two rooms for the new boys.

The quads, Mrs. Perricone says, didn't bring the family any special financial luck. "In fact," she says, "it worked the other way. It's definitely four times as hard to raise four as one and you need four times as much money."

Mrs. Perricone admits she had some difficulty giving the older boys enough attention after the all-male quartet arrived.

The quads are now diversely occupied. None is married. Bernard works as a driver and helper in a local trucking firm. Don is an engineer's helper with a tugboat company. Carl was graduated from high school last spring. Anthony expects to graduate this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Morlok of Lansing, Mich. hadn't any children when they suddenly got four in 1930. They are Edna A., Wilma B., Sarah C., and Helen D. Their middle initial indicates the order in which they arrived. The first letters of their initials were taken from the initials of their birthplace — Edward W. Sparrow Hospital.

Having graduated from high school last spring with honors, three of the girls now plan to seek jobs in business. Helen, the smallest and last born, was forced to drop out of school last fall because of an attack of rheumatic fever but who is now recovering.

Did the quads' birth bring the family riches? Definitely no, says Carl Morlok. It did help him get elected constable and there were some gifts from merchants, but that was all.

An even more epic job of raising children, quantitatively, has been turned in by Mrs. Fred Schense of Frederick, S. D. She is the step-mother of the Schense quads, whose mother died shortly after their birth in 1931.

The second Mrs. Schense didn't only raise the quads. Her husband had had three other children previously. Later, she had five of her own. Add it all up; she raised 12 children.

And she hasn't complained yet. She doesn't believe raising the quads was more complicated than raising the others. "I think," says Mrs. Schense, "we had less trouble with the four than some people have with one."

The quads—Jay, Joan, James and Jean—got their high school diplomas this spring. "It almost broke me sending them to high school every day," says their father, "but I'd always wanted them to finish."

Schense, who owns a 459-acre farm and a large house, says he never received any financial aid. "There has been some talk," he says, on giving the quads college scholarships, but nothing definite yet.

Next case: The E. W. Badgetts of Galveston, Tex. They already had two children when four girls arrived in one package in 1939. Because the Badgett home was too small, Galveston citizens gave the family a large, two-story house. To retain their home, the quads must live in Galveston until they are 18.

The financial burden created by the appearance of Joan, Geraldine, Joyce and Jennette Badgett was partially eased by a contract the family has with a canned milk company. By this arrangement, the Badgetts are paid for allowing the company to say the quads use its product.

"A child is a child, and you have to give each one about the same attention. Although born at the same time, they are all individualists."

Nick and Ella Brown of Leonard, N. D. had four children before their quads came in 1941 and one since then. All nine kids; from 6 to 20, now live with their parents in a 10-room farmhouse.

When the quads came, they had a house with only four rooms. A bill was introduced in the 1941 state legislature to build them a new house. The first appropriation discussed was $25,000. Then it was whittled down to $15,000 and finally $8,000. Then the house killed the bill. Then the Browns built their own home.

It's reported that the Browns, too, have a contract with a canned milk company, but they prefer not to discuss it.

Question: "Is it four times as hard to raise four as one?" Answer (from Nick Brown): "No. It's eight times as hard." Whenever one gets an idea, they all have to do it. The quads get their spankings, just like the other kids.

Cleo, Cayton, Claire and Connie Brown are in the third grade. When they first showed up at home, say their parents, the other kids appeared a bit jealous, but now everybody has gotten used to it.

Farmer Brown raises wheat, corn and flax on "about 900 acres." His house is attractive but the inside walls aren't painted. Mrs. Brown explains they decided to wait with the paint until the children are older and less destructive.

That brings us up to a Sunday morning in 1941 in Leitchfield, Ky., when farmer Porter Lashley went to church that day he was the father of eight children. When he came back he was the father of 12.

Luckily, just two days before, Lashley had made the last mortgage payment on his 131 acres.

For the first 10 months—until December-you-know-when, 1941—Beulah, Mildred, John and Martine Lashley brought a profit into the home. The publicity on the quads brought many gifts, some cash. Also several contracts with various firms, including a milk company. With it all, their pop was able to build a new and larger house for $12,000.

Also, there were many visitors and they each paid two-bits to see the quads.

"But the war changed everything," Lashley recalls. "Gas rationing reduced the crowds of visitors. That reduced the advertising value for the firms which had the quads under contract. Contracts were scaled down or stopped. For example, a company which had promised to supply shoes, could not deliver when leather became scarce.

Moral: Don't have quads during a war.

Anyway, Lashley thinks the state ought to provide pensions for parents of quads.

Another securities analyst who recently fathered quadruplets is Charles Collins of the Bronx. That event occurred only May 5 last. Since it was so recent, it is unfair to ask Collins to pose as an authority on the problems of raising quadruplets, especially since he's still suffering from shock.

Gleaners Install Class Officers

New officers were installed at the buffet-supper meeting held by The Gleaners Class of the First Baptist Church Monday night at the home of Mrs. J. R. Allison. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. J. R. Johnson, Mrs. Robert Wagoner and Mrs. Allison.

After the buffet supper Mrs. E. O. Jordan installed the officers using a comparison of the beauty of summer flowers to the beauty of class work and associations. Officers taking over duties were Mrs. Lowell Sharpe, president; Mesdames Robert Wagoner, membership; Charles Dones, class mistress; M. A. Bettis, social; and Mrs. Carlos Anderson, stewardship; vice presidents. Mrs. Carroll Whiteside, program chairman; Mrs. Alvin Savage, secretary and Mrs. W. A. Medlin, teacher.

Others attending were Mesdames Barrett Sowell, D. C. Kinsey, W. O. Witherspoon, W. S.

Army Recruiting Office Is Placed Here Permanently

A United States Army Recruiting office will be opened in Hereford soon, according to Colonel Victor Gomez, of the Amarillo office, who was in Hereford Wednesday arranging for office space in the County Courthouse.

Col. Gomez said the office here is merely another indication of the growth of Hereford. The office will be in the southeast corner of the Courthouse on the fourth floor. The local Reserve Units will split the room with the Recruiting Sgt. stationed here.

Locker Room . . . Chatter . . .

By BOB HAMILTON

After interviewing a lot of the football boys and the coaches, I believe the trip to Craterville was a huge success. The boys have a lot of spirit and the coaches have a lot of hope. There seems to be a little trouble with the climate now, though. The boys did so much training in Craterville's humid climate that they can't get used to our cool weather, especially the night practices.

I asked the coaches and the boys what they thought about the camp and here are the answers I got:

Bill Kelly—A lot of hard work but it helped us a lot.

Bill Engman—I liked it. I think it did a lot of good.

Jack Stanton—We scrimmaged a lot, and it did us a lot of good. We got a lot of game experience.

Dwaine Walker—We got experience there that we couldn't have gotten here. We learned to play against other guys besides our own.

Neil Witherspoon—I learned a lot that I didn't know. We scrimmaged some good teams.

Coach Wiswell—A good trip—successful. Got the boys to eating, thinking, sleeping and playing football. They haven't gotten used to being back in our climate yet, though.

Coach Mays—I did us a lot of good, but they haven't gotten over the change of coming back, yet.

Coach Stark—Best thing in the world we could have had. Did the boys a lot of good.

Coach Stanton—I thought it was a good idea.

Dale Doak—Good place to get to know the rest of the guys on the team.

Jack Ramey—A good deal, we learned a lot.

Gene Moore—Gosh, I wish I could have gone. (Gene was on a vacation at the time).

Bill Forbus—Good deal. Did us more good than anything yet.

Jack Reynolds—I didn't like it—it was too darn hot. (Jack was sick most of the time).

Windel Morton—I liked it swell. We got a lot more experience than we would have if we hadn't gone. We got to know everyone on the team better.

Alex Schroter—I think it helped us because we got at least a half a season's experience in one week.

Glenn Wilson—did us more good than anything we've had in years, by golly. I got more football in one week than I usually get in a month.

Duane Christian—We really learned a lot of stuff because we scrimmaged a lot of teams.

Jesse Click—I liked it. We learned more than we would have if we'd stayed home.

L. T. Hawks—It was swell for the team; promoted good spirit. The best thing was that we got to know each other better.

Alton Brock—They can give Oklahoma back to the Indians for all I care. It was just 103 degrees when we left.

Pat Corbett—There was a lot of good done. Everyone got into really good physical shape. Hotter than heck.

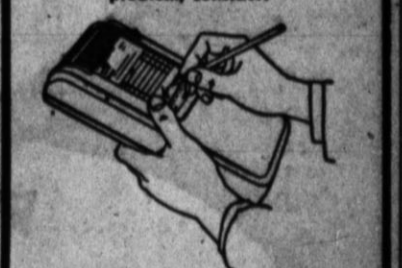

Fire Dept. Puts Out Mosley Grass Fire

Hereford Volunteer firemen put out a grass-trash fire on the Mosley place on South Main across Tierra Blanca Thursday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock.

Both trucks answered the call. The fire was believed to have started from burning trash. It burned off from 2 to 3 acres of grass north and east of the house.

Dr. L. B. Barnett is expected back from Chicago early this week after spending two weeks in specialized study there.

Community Receives Good Shower
Farmers Are Plowing Up Volunteer
 By MRS. W. R. MOORE
 This community received a nice shower of rain Sunday night which will be fine for the feed crops.
 The farmers are busy plowing up the volunteer wheat.
 Mr. and Mrs. Foy Price and two boys, Truman and Pat returned home Sunday from Oklahoma City where they attended a family reunion.
 Mr. and Mrs. Paul Myers from King City, Mo., and Mrs. K. E. Dygert and little daughter Ilona from Raton, N. M., were visitors to the W. R. Moore home recently.

Emmerle Turner from Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Evans, Johnnie McBroom, Janell Womble, Bill Paveson from Kress, Billy Moore and the hostess.
Commentarios
Por ELISEO GARRIDO HAYNE
 Clases de Espanol—Por primera vez en la historia del Edo. de Texas se acordó que se enseñara espanol desde la escuela primaria en lugar de enseñarse en la escuela secundaria debido a la nueva y dinamica politica de relaciones foraneas. Los lazos de amistad se estrecharan dia a dia mas con el vecino allende el Bravo con esta nueva medida trascendente y amistosa reacion.
 Cual seria nuestra reaccion como Mexicanos de este lado del Grande? Me pregunto. Nuestro deber como ciudadanos de habla espanola es tratar de aprender nuestro idioma con corcecion y exactitud, puntos y comas, acentos y diérisis Etc. como ciudadanos Americanos es necesario y obligatorio que sea aprendido y practicado. Nuestro fracaso se ha debido por años y años que han pasado y volado del calendario a solamente la negligencia de nuestros padres u no nos han inducido el aprendizaje del idioma.
 CAMPAMENTO — El campo mexicano sera cerrado durante los meses de invierno. Esto se hara como si fuese una medida de prevencion para los que se quedaran en estos alrededores. La escasez de trabajo en el invierno acrecenta de una manera imperiosa la miseria y la falta de dinero para proveer las necesidades mas importantes.
 ESTAFAS—En los últimos días de estas dos semanas pasadas ha habido numerosas estafas con los trabajadores Mexicanos. Todo se debe a que algunos de ellos vienen en contra de la ley de emigración y los patrones que lo saben se han venido aprovechando de ellos. Hay solamente una buena solución para tal fin. Esta es de arreglar sus permisos para trabajar conforme a la ley de emigración. "Ninguno puede tener el auxilio de la ley si no se cumple." La oficina de trabajo tiene tambien otra ley que dice mas o menos de esta manera "Cualquier persona o sujeto debe ser remunerado por su trabajo." Por lo tanto no nos importe que sea bandido o ladrón Ud. debe ser remunerado si ha trabajado. No permita que lo hagan con Ud. No entregue recibos si no le han pagado.

 VERGUENZA—Verguena es la impresion que se recibe cuando se siente pena por una falta. Muchas personas no la conocen y se debe ha que se ha hecho tan repetidas veces que han matado el pudor, la rectitud, las buenas costumbres, el bien hablar el respeto a quienes lo merecen y sobre todas el temor a Dios.
 MI RENUNCIA — Queridos Hermanos: Presento ante ustedes mi atenta renuncia como Pastor de la Mision Bautista Mexicana de Hereford, Tex. . . . Han pasado ya muchos dias desde Dios me llamo a trabajar entre los Braeros de este lugar. Mi corazon se encuentra enchido de orgullo y satisfaccion porque hubo entre ellos numerosos caracteres que siguieron al Divino Maestro del cual me siento feliz de ser su esclavo. "Dire como Pablo" "He peleado la buena batalla he acabado mi carrera" "he guardado la fe."
 Dios me permitio recibir multiples bendiciones en este inolvidable lugar. No se iran de mi mente las imprecisiones recibidas de aquel sonriente rostro infantil que con insistencia me llamara por mi nombre. No se borraran las indelebres marcas dejadas en mi corazon. Marcas, producto de una artera punalada que descanzo a mis espaldas. Dios tomara cuentas de ellas, las cosas viejas pasaron todas las heridas han cicatrizado para no ser abiertas jamas.
 Palabras saldrán sobrando para expresar mi agradecimiento a todos aquellos que tubieron ha bien brindarme su hospitalidad y confianza. No seria por demas agradecer a aquellos que tubieron a bien causar deshilusion en mi ardua mision, e estos tambien Dios los a usado para hacer mi acero mas blande. Confiamos en Dios el les provea de un nuevo y mejor obrero me despido de ustedes con un abrazo muy fraternal y sincero. Firmado Eliseo Garrido Hayne.

WHY?
 Saw of your purchases are made only after you have seen, approved, and possibly tested the article BUT, when attending any picture theatre manager, upon the integrity of your picture's advertising, and then you pay in advance for the picture. . . . GOOD or B.A.D. . . . SIGHT UNSEEN!
 If you believe this correct, then read on the left about the unbelievable proposition Mr. Hardwick makes you, in the space labeled "WHAT".

WHAT?
 Don't take my word that this is a picture you will like. You don't even have to believe me when I say it will appeal to all the family!

ONLY DO THIS . . .
 Come and see this picture, receive your ticket at the boxoffice, enjoy a full evening of entertainment, and then . . . after you have judged the picture, you may pay as you leave . . . only what you think it's worth!!! Yes, that's what I said, and what I'll stick by!

SCORCHY SMITH

by Redlow Willard

HOW CAN I LET SCORCHY KNOW WHERE I AM? ... BUT WOULD IT DO ANY GOOD? CYRIL'S WEARING SCORCHY'S CLOTHES SO HE MUST HAVE DONE SOMETHING TERRIBLE TO HIM!!

STRIKING RESEMBLANCE GETS SCORCHY IN THE MACAO CLINK INSTEAD OF CYRIL SNYDE, WHO (WITH PRETO AND THE CAPTIVE HEIRESS) IS IN THE GUERRILLA CAMP OF YELLOW HAWK...

WE HAVE WAITED OVERLONG FOR YOU IN THIS CAMP! IT IS PRUDENT THAT WE MOVE ON! WHAT HAVE YOU TO OFFER ESTEEMED MR. SNYDE?

IN THIS CIVIL WAR, IT IS WELL KNOWN THAT RETREATING ARMIES ABANDONED MUCH ULTRA MODERN LEND-LEASE EQUIPMENT. THE VICTORS CAREFULLY COLLECTED THIS STUFF AND SLIPPED IT OVER THE BORDER TO YOU-KNOW-WHO!

ALL THAT IS SO WELL KNOWN THAT IT HAS REACHED EVEN MY HUMBLE EARS!

BEFORE IT WAS CAPTURED, HOWEVER SOME NON-COMBATANT U.S. UNITS SUCCEEDED IN REMOVING SMALL VITAL PARTS FROM MOST OF THE TOP SECRET GEAR!

...THUS RENDERING SUCH MATERIAL USELESS AND UNINTELLIGIBLE TO THE NEW OWNERS! YES, I ALSO KNOW THAT!

WITH GREAT EFFORT AND EXPENSE, I'VE ASSEMBLED DUPLICATES OF THE MISSING PARTS...

...ALSO RESTRICTED ARMY FIELD MANUALS FULL OF THE NECESSARY KNOW-HOW. A FEW CRATES ARE IN THAT PLANE...

A-AH! AND WHAT SHALL YOUR REWARD BE FOR THIS RARE MERCHANDISE?

YOU CAN DEMAND ANY PRICE FROM YOUR CONTACTS! I PROPOSE A THREE WAY OFFER...

HOW COULD ANYONE, EVEN CYRIL, LEAVE ME ALONE OUT HERE!

PHONE THE AMERICAN AUTHORITIES IN HONG KONG AND READ OFF THESE FINGER PRINTS AGAINST THEIR FILE. WE'LL SOON KNOW IF WE HOLD SCORCHY SMITH OR CYRIL SNYDE!

AND MAKE IT SNAPPY!!

DEMOCRACY FAILED MY PEOPLE ONCE AND WE TURNED TO THE OTHER SIDE! AS SOON AS THEY WERE IN POWER, THEY TOO TURNED AGAINST US!

NOW I KNOW NOT WHICH WAY TO TURN, BUT THERE MUST BE SOME WAY MY PEOPLE CAN LIVE DECENT, WORTH-WHILE LIVES--

WELL, KRYP, I DON'T KNOW ABOUT WHAT YOUR BEEF WAS BEFORE, BUT HAVE YA' TRIED DEMOCRACY LATELY?

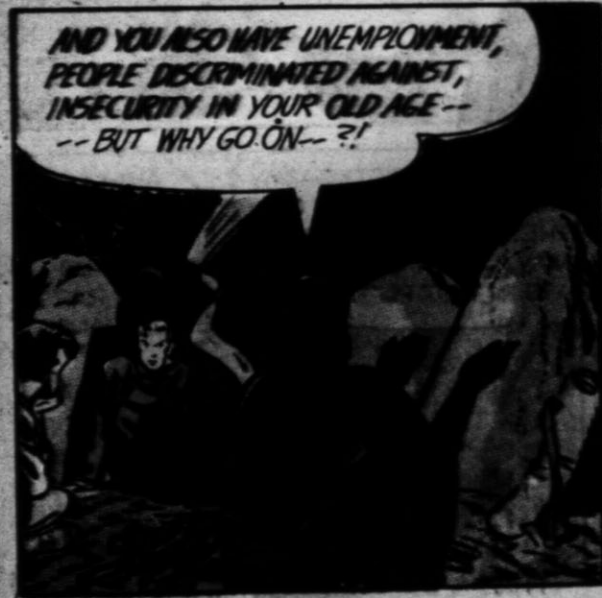

I THINK IT'S A DANDY WAY TO LIVE!-- WE'VE GOT A BIG WIDE WONDERFUL COUNTRY--

-- THE 'STATUE OF LIBERTY' AN' NEW YORK --

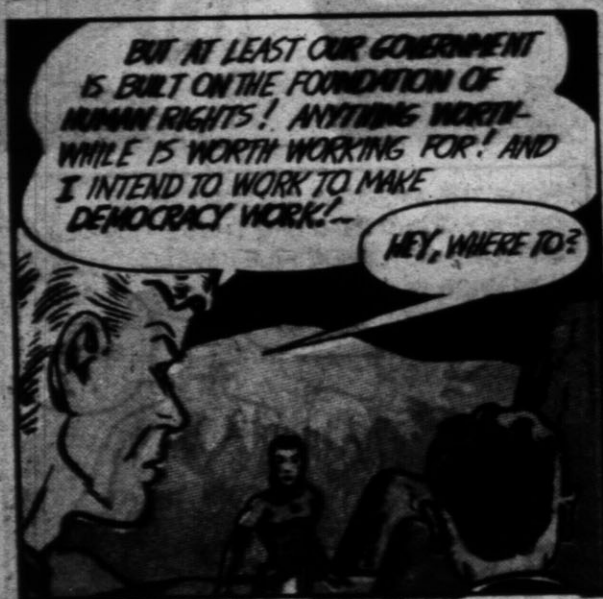

-- AN' HAPPY BOYS 'N' GIRLS AN' ICE CREAM AN' CHOCOLIT SODAS AN' EVER' THIN' --

AND YOU ALSO HAVE UNEMPLOYMENT, PEOPLE DISCRIMINATED AGAINST, INSECURITY IN YOUR OLD AGE-- BUT WHY GO ON-- ?!

I'LL TELL YOU WHY GO ON!-- A WAR WAS FOUGHT TO PROVE THAT THE DEMOCRATIC WAY IS THE RIGHT WAY! THERE'S ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT, SURE! OUR COUNTRY ISN'T PERFECT-- AND IN OUR COUNTRY IT ISN'T A CRIME TO ADMIT THAT--

BUT AT LEAST OUR GOVERNMENT IS BUILT ON THE FOUNDATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS! ANYTHING WORTH-WHILE IS WORTH WORKING FOR! AND I INTEND TO WORK TO MAKE DEMOCRACY WORK!--

HEY, WHERE TO?!

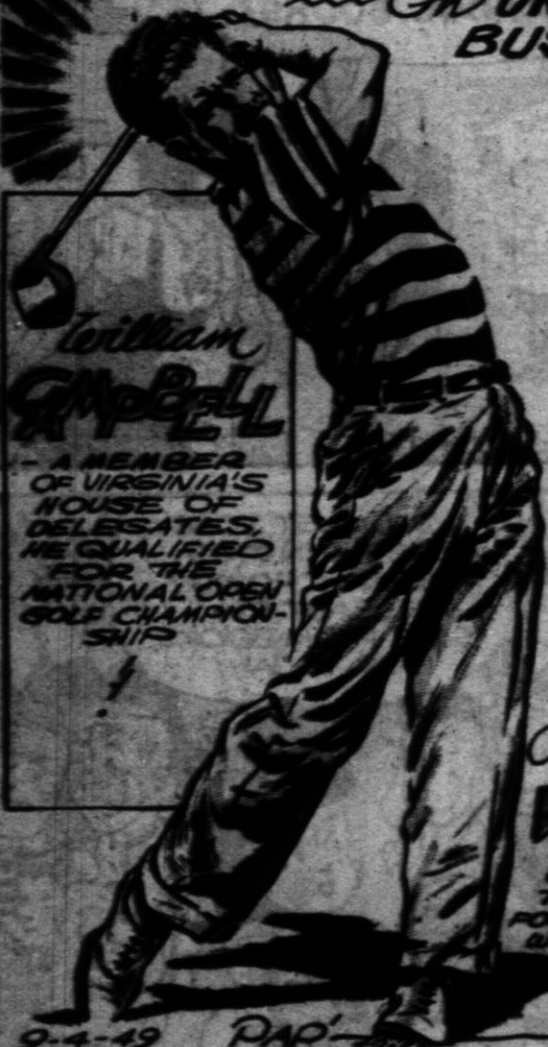

I AM ON YOUR SIDE, AND WE HAVE MUCH WORK TO DO BEFORE DAWN FINDS US IN THIS NOW ENEMY TERRITORY!

YIPPEE! WE'RE ALL TOGETHER NOW!-- THIS IS THE REAL MEANING OF LABOR DAY-- WE CAN ALL WORK FOR AMERICA!
