

Plans are being made for Memorial Day services and dedication of the Roy Wedderbrook VFW Post number 4818, according to Earl Stagner. Services will be held on the lawn south of the clubhouse unless the weather is bad. If it is bad they will move inside the clubhouse. Definite arrangements will be announced later.

Two youngsters were hurt on the golf course Tuesday evening after they had been warned to stay off the course by the Golf Professional Jim Terry. One of the boys was struck squarely in the forehead with a shot that had traveled about 100 yards, the other cut his foot deeply in the excitement.

Parents are urged to keep their kids from playing along the creek on the course by Golf Association President John Channer. The boys are welcome as long as they stay under the supervision of the pro and do as he says, otherwise it is a dangerous playground.

The youngster hit with the ball was knocked unconscious but came to shortly after cold compresses had been applied. He was taken to Deaf Smith County hospital and released after a complete check.

County Judge Leonard Foster checked with the census bureau in Amarillo Wednesday but they still don't have the figures complete on Deaf Smith. They probably won't have them for another week, according to the head man, Walter Shaller.

Miller-Oliver company is running three movies Saturday on farm education. They will show them all through the day.

Vega Kiwanis club members will present the program for the Hereford Kiwanis Club at noon today in Hotel Jim Hill.

Hereford Toastmasters met Tuesday night in the county courtroom, and went through their first actual meeting of speeches and so forth. 27 were present.

Blake Timmons Friday said he made a mistake when he bought that last campaign hat in Hereford. He bought a felt at that time and lost. Two previous times, he bought straw hats, not felts, and won his elections both times. He came back Wednesday and picked up a "planter's style" straw hat from Homer Fox which, he says, will turn the trick for him next time.

State Department of Agriculture expert Gate passed on some favorable comments concerning seed from this area that he received from a United States Department of Agriculture representative from back east the other day. He said the fellow told him seed produced in the high-plain irrigation section is really in demand back in New Jersey and other areas.

Claude Carter, Harlington attorney in Hereford on legal business last week is talking about the big celebration Harlington will have in September. He said the mayor of Harlington, Holland will be in Harlington to help commemorate the 30th anniversary of the founding of that city. Eastern Airlines will pay his way over and the merchants of Harlington chipped in and will pay his expenses.

The Lions club had an Oliver company motion picture as their program at the weekly luncheon in Hotel Jim Hill.

Straw hats have really blossomed out in the past few days. One new note that seems to have crapt in this year is the "planter" style in a big way. J. W. Robinson, Jr. and Blake Timmons were just two of them seen on the streets Wednesday.

Municipal Swimming Pool Will Open Saturday May 27

A week from Saturday, kids that's the day to dig out those swim suits and get ready. The municipal swimming pool will officially open Saturday, May 27 for business.

Mayor W. E. Dameron said swimming classes will be conducted each morning and regular swimming will be open to the public from 1 o'clock each afternoon on, weather permitting. Mayor Dameron said the pool will remain open daily as long as the crowd demands.

Although not official, Mayor Dameron said the admission will probably be the same as last year—25 cents for children and 40 cents for adults. The pool is not in business for profit. Mayor Dameron said, but admissions should carry the expense of operation.

Everybody, children and adults, are invited to enroll in the swimming lesson classes each morning. They will be under the supervision of Life Guard Leven Brady and pool manager Buck Brady. Brady managed the pool the first year it opened but didn't manage last year. Jacqueline Navel will be cashier.

Third Year
This is the third year the swimming pool has been operated. The same cashier and life guard worked at the pool last year.

"This pool belongs to the people and we want to set the hours just what the people want. We will keep it open as long as well as there are people who want to swim," Dameron said.

He expressed doubt, however, that much swimming will be indulged in after dark. In West Texas, unlike other sections of Texas, the weather becomes chilly and, although sufficient lighting is installed at the pool, the chill in the air makes swimming somewhat uncomfortable, Dameron said.

Judge Russell Dies Wednesday

Final rites were pending late Wednesday for Judge William Henry Russell, pioneer Hereford lawyer and sportsman. Judge Russell died Wednesday morning at 9:20 in Deaf Smith County Hospital at the age of 71.

Death ended one of the most colorful and eventual legal careers in the Panhandle. Active almost to the end, Judge Russell had moved his office to his home on north Sixth Street after he was defeated in the race for county judge in 1946 by Leonard Foster.

It was Judge Russell, however, who was county judge when the present court house was built. His name is inscribed on a plaque in the court house. It was Judge Russell who raised five boys, each leading a Hereford High School football team as captain. It was also Judge Russell who sank the first hole-in-one on the early-day Hereford golf course. An enthusiastic athletic fan, Judge Russell was interested in all sports. He formerly played on the University of Texas football team.

Born November 18, 1878 in Dixon County, Tennessee, Judge Russell received his early schooling in private schools. He took his LLB at the University of Texas in 1901. He lived in Indian Territory until 1890 when he moved to Paris, Texas.

He married Nora Alice Daniel in Hereford March 1, 1905. He served as Deaf Smith County Judge from 1904 until 1910.

Besides his wife, Judge Russell is survived by six sons: Aris Russell, Coronado, California; Dr. Jack Russell, Lubbock; Jess Russell, Houston; W. H. Russell, Jr., Concord, California; L. B. Russell, Big Spring; Daniel Russell, San Diego, California; two daughters: Mrs. Nora Jeanne Geffker, Lubbock; Mrs. Mary Ruth Barrett, Hereford; one brother, Horace Russell of Hereford, and one sister, Mrs. C. M. Portwood, Greenville. Six grandchildren also survive.

QUESTION of the WEEK

If such an organization were in existence, would you be interested in becoming a member of a Toastmistress's Club?

Mrs. D. W. Crawford: I'm not able, financially or physically, to take part in such things at present. I would leave it to somebody else who has the time. But I do think a club like that would be wonderful for women. It would be a good thing for them and the community, too.

Della Stagner: We certainly have a need for such an organization in Hereford. The clubs and organizations I have been to in Hereford are marked by a scarcity of women who have the knowledge and ability of parliamentary procedure. They, most of them, can't carry out a well-organized meeting. I haven't heard too many men speak but I think the women would benefit more than the men from such an organization. I sure would be interested.

Mrs. C. E. Lady: I am overtimid, myself, and if I could learn anything about presiding over meetings like they should be presided over, I would join. I think it would teach the women poise in Hereford and they would benefit. I would join if they had one. I think there would be other women who would join, too.

Myrtle Beene: No, I am not interested in that sort of thing.

Miss Evelyn Bell: Well, I don't know too much about the organization the men have. I guess the women have just as much to learn, though. With all the women's clubs in existence in Hereford they probably have a need for a knowledge of proper parliamentary procedure.

Mrs. Mary Jane Crane: Well, yes, I think so. I think such an organization would be both beneficial and interesting for the women. I think I would join. They (women) have just as much business knowing club procedure as the men. A club like that meeting every week or so would really be nice. The women would learn something.

Advocate Keeping Control Of Hereford Water Here

Hereford Chamber of Commerce directors and the City Commission met in a joint meeting to discuss sale and distribution of Hereford Water Wednesday afternoon and finished up after discussing the water situation at length, talking about widening 25-Mile Avenue.

Chamber of Commerce spokesman, past president Henry Sears, told Mayor Dameron, City Commissioners S. O. Wilson and Don Zimmerman and City Attorney

Ray Cowser that the Chamber recommends distribution of Hereford water be kept in Hereford and that they not go along with Theodora Lynch.

Mr. Sears recommended four alternatives, 1—for the City and Chamber to go into distribution of Hereford water as a joint venture; 2—the City take it over; 3—the Chamber of Commerce take it over; and 4—give it to some local individual and take a royalty.

Recommend Chamber Take Over
Of the four alternatives he stated the Chamber of Commerce recommended that in view of the possibility that the city might not be anxious to jump into the water business and since it will have to be managed and organized and the city would have to hire a man while the Chamber has a secretary who could handle the job, that the recommendation of the Chamber handling the venture was their preference. He added that the Chamber could advertise Hereford along with placing franchises. That it is going to cost money and that although it will cause the Chamber to revise their charter, that can be worked out.

He concluded with the statement that if the city wants to take it over it would be agreeable with the Chamber, and that some directors had even favored this move, but that if the city went with the Chamber of Commerce "we could use your name and our footwork."

The meeting then evolved into practically a panel discussion with questions and proposals from the mayor, commissioners and chamber of commerce directors.

Committee Report

Before the meeting commenced everyone present either read or was familiar with a report from a committee composed of Guy Lawrence, Henry Benson and Pete Cowart that went to Eureka Springs, Arkansas last week to study the water distribution business there. They talked with William Thompson, owner of the Ozarka Water Company, who cooperated with them in every way.

Points brought out in the discussion included the fact that franchises will be given away, not sold and that a file of letters in the Chamber of Commerce office today is ample evidence that these franchises are in demand.

Reasons for not selling franchises included the fact that if for any reason the city or whoever handles the water should quit distributing it, the local retailers in other cities would not have such hard feelings toward Hereford.

This was also one reason stressed by Mr. Sears on why they are not in favor of letting Theodora Lynch have the water on a distribution basis. He said the company is in the water business for only a selfish interest.

Could Give Franchise
However, nothing would prohibit giving a franchise to the Lynch Company. As a matter of fact it was brought out that they could probably save her money and that the only effect this would have on her company would be a change of labels.

The Lynch company incidentally is no longer owned by Mrs. Theodora Lynch Gettys, according to Chamber of Commerce secretary, Pete Cowart.

If the Chamber took over the venture there would be no individual profit to members, only to the Chamber and the city through the benefits they would receive.

In answer to Mayor Dameron's question of what would this cost, Cowart replied "about $150."

Costs for glass lined tank cars, and numerous other points were discussed. Attorneys Cowser and Bybee agreed that the city cannot enter into a partnership which complicated letting the city handle the accounts and sale of water while the Chamber of Commerce finds franchise takers and advertises the water.

The proposal that the city sell the water to the Chamber of Commerce at a set rate, plus royalties probably met with the most approval. However, final decision on the matter rests with the City Commission.

In a Tuesday night meeting Chamber of Commerce directors even considered the possibility of water board among other ideas, Sears said.

Will Sell Hereford
The main purpose of the Chamber wanted to stress is that they want to sell Hereford.

If the Chamber does take over the job they will have to incorporate and create a profit organization within the chamber.

Chamber of Commerce President O. L. Bybee brought up the subject of widening 25-Mile Avenue after Mayor Dameron said the water subject had been discussed pro and con enough and the Commissioners would have to consider it in private.

Mr. Bybee said Highway 51 eventually force the street widened and that it might as well be done now, while there is a choice in where the street will go. They favor taking 10 feet of right-of-way on the west side of the street, letting the owners on the east side pay for their own curb.

Retail Service Stations Form Association Tuesday

Hereford retail service stations are losing money on some 70 charge accounts. It was reported during the first organized meeting of the Hereford Retail Service Station's Association Tuesday in the courthouse.

The major service station owners, numbering 10 present and two more who couldn't make the first meeting, elected Earl Phillips president and Glenn Snyder secretary of the group.

It was agreed by the group to require the completion of a credit application by the individual desiring services on a credit basis before the account is opened. The credit application, in the future, will be submitted to the Hereford Retail Credit Association for investigation and approval.

Only new accounts will be affected by the move.

Service stations represented at the meeting were Roberson Service, Jiggs Service, Farmers Drive-In, Downey Service, Coy Phillips Magnolia, Pitman Service, Hudson Gas Mart, Phillips and Lawrence, Jack and Gene's

Service and Consumers Fuel Association

Easley Service and Jones Service were not represented but have indicated their interest and desire to become a member.

Names of the 70 individuals who are considered "slow accounts" were presented at the meeting.

Francis Hardwick Talks To Jaycees At Luncheon

Francis Hardwick spoke to the Hereford Jaycees Tuesday at the regular noon luncheon in Hotel Jim Hill. Mr. Hardwick presented an idea concerning a free picture show and trades day combination for the Jaycees to consider sponsoring. A committee headed by John Kelly and composed of John Scott and Jimmy Roberts was appointed by President Paul Conaway.

Routine business matters and the possibility of holding the August bi-regional Jaycees convention in Hereford were also discussed.

EVERYTHING MIGHT CHANGE BUT

County Courthouse Remains

By JOHN SCOTT
Unlike some other Texas counties, Deaf Smith county's courthouse land was never owned by anybody except Deaf Smith County. The same holds true of some other public land including the land on which Jaycee Park stands. Actually, according to county surveyor Alec Thompson, the Western Union Land Company in 1898 gave both plots to the city to build their town.

Hereford, during the vast colonization program from 1906 to 1910, was 75 per cent owned by non-residents. The biggest influx of new people to Deaf Smith County came during those four years. Some of those people are still here and others never moved here.

No Land Without A Title
Thompson said the city is unique, too; that there is no land within the town, proper, which can't be tagged legally with a title. Hereford was laid out so evenly, once an error had been discovered in laying out the county boundaries, that there was almost no mix-ups. Those who didn't live here and who bought land strictly for speculative purposes either moved in or sold their land to local residents. Of course, there is some land, Thompson said, in Hereford tied up in estates.

The Municipal Swimming Pool is the geographical center of Hereford. The population center is located pretty near the same place. The main hub of activity was almost the same as it was in the beginning days.

Courthouse Block Is Same
The hotel which now stands across from the depot once stood where the Hereford Newsstand stands right now. The only building to ever occupy block K 3, section 61, is the county courthouse—in some form or another.

When the land was first given to the city the old court house was moved down from LaPlatta and placed in the middle of the block, Thompson states.

"There was nothing but a small building, a windmill and some cottonwood trees there," Thompson said. "The building stood in the middle and the windmill was in the northwest corner."

When the county was laid out the second time, it was discovered that an error in boundaries was made in the initial survey and some available, open land was present.

Strip Around The County
Thompson said the land automatically reverted to school land when it was discovered and was later declared open for settlement.

"There was almost an even strip around the edges of the county which was open for settlement. People could either settle on this land or the land could be added to the property already owned and which bordered it," Thompson said.

"As far as naming any specific part of Hereford which was used for cattle grazing, all of it was at one time or another," he added.

Thompson gives Rat Jewell the credit for naming Hereford. "This town was originally called Blue Water because of the creek which was more prominent than it is now. W. D. Twichell, a surveyor, was laying off the place and Rat Jewell was helping. Jewell and Brady had just brought some registered cattle in from up north."

"They were grazing in a pasture east of Hereford at the time and Jewell suggested the name Hereford because of so many cattle. From then on, it was Hereford, Texas. The place where they were grazing is where Deaf Smith County Hospital stands today."

Meadow Couple Marry At Frio

Miss Navell Hunt and Mr. Robert Brooks both of Meadow were married on Friday, May 12, 1950 at 6:30 p. m. at the Frio Baptist Parsonage. The beautiful double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. R. L. Shannon pastor of the Frio Baptist church and former pastor of the Meadow First Baptist Church, Meadow, Texas.

The former Miss Hunt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hunt of Meadow. She graduated from the Spade High School in 1948. Since graduating from high school she has been working for the Bell Telephone Company at Lubbock, Texas.

Mr. Brooks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Brooks of Meadow. He graduated from the Meadow High School in 1945. After his graduation from high school, he went into the Navy for a short time. After his discharge from the Navy, he has been working with his father at Meadow.

The bride was wearing a beautiful white dress with matching accessories. Immediately after their wedding ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks left for a trip to Colorado Springs, Denver, and other places of interest in Colorado.

After the wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks plan to make their home at Meadow, where Mr. Brooks is associated with his father and another brother in business.

During the war Rev. Shannon taught school for four years at Meadow, and was principal of the Meadow High School, when Robert Brooks graduated from the High School there.

Advocate

Would Move Five Houses If even five feet is taken off the east side, five houses will have to be moved, according to Mr. Bybee. Ten feet will get almost every tree on the west side but they feel the trees will grow back while moving five houses is a hard proposition.

He added that the Chamber will try to get the right-of-way from all land owners on the west side of the street if the city will pay the approximate $5,000 needed to curb and gutter the approximate 3,400 feet. This will not affect sidewalks.

Ramsey Announces For Lt. Governor

Ben Ramsey of San Augustine, backed by a long record of outstanding service in both the Texas House and Senate, has announced for Lieutenant Governor.

Ramsey resigned as secretary of state Feb. 9 to prepare for the state race, convinced that the thinking people of Texas must take a more active interest in the actual operation of their state government.

Ramsey has been a leader in advancing rural electrification in the state and in the farm-to-market road program.

(Pol. Adv.—Paid for by friends of Ben Ramsey)

Director Bruce Woodruff said. The proposal is similar to the widening and paving of Park Avenue the Mayor said. The State Highway department recently agreed to pave a 40 foot street if the city would provide the right-of-way and have it curbed and guttered, Cowart said.

Editorials Are Written To Stimulate Clear Thinking

Do you ever REALLY read an editorial and try to see through the words to the author's mind? I don't mean just the Salishian editorials. I'm speaking of all editorials—from those in our school papers to those in our latest magazines and newspapers.

Many of these editorials present a thought that you have vaguely mulled over in your mind but have never brought out into the open and given a proper airing. It gives you material to think about and perhaps a lazy conscience a shake or two to wake up the little men who do their best to make us behave.

Read the editorials! I get enough preaching at home. This seems to be a pet phrase among the HHS students. The writers of the editorials don't look at it that way. They want to help you straighten out the facts in your own mind and help you to make the world better for yourself as well as others.

True, we can't force these editorials on you and make you read them. But does a minister lay down the hard and fast rule that you must come to church and listen to his sermon? No, of course not, for if you're not interested his words mean nothing to you. It isn't just the idea of listening. The main idea is to think about the sermon after it has been delivered. Therefore, the minister doesn't tell you, "You come or else!" He merely extends an invitation to you.

We too extend an invitation to you—an invitation to a new world of thought. So the next time you pick up a paper don't skip the editorial, but read it and pick out the ideas in it that coincide with yours. A good motto for all of us would be the one word, "Think."

SCHOOL DAYS

It Isn't What You Learn, Success Is Why You Learn

By CHLOE FORTENBERRY

Different people have different ideas about school. A very wise man once said that school is a very noble place for those who care for nobleness. And today our fathers sigh and tell us that school days are the best days of our lives, but they never explain why.

They are the "best days" if we try to make them so. Every day living can be a joy if each of us wants it to be. We study before taking a test and hope we shall make a good grade. If it's the best in the class, that's wonderful. If we fail, that's pretty bad and we feel dejected for days.

Competition stirs us onward and makes us feel alive.

Attending school for 12 or even 16 years may not give us a material gain. We may not become rich or famous because of spending these long years in a brick building behind a hard desk, but we will certainly be richly rewarded in the later years of our lives.

We learn things that will never be of any use to us. Rules of science and equations or formulas may soon be forgotten but learning them has made the mind more eager for knowledge and this eagerness leads to durability, which is a necessity in everyone's life.

The knowledge we consume today is tomorrow's key to happiness and success.

Hereford Is Typical Town

By Earlena Phillips

My home town is not a large city with skyscrapers, trolley lines and bus terminals; but it is only a typical mid-western farming town of about 7,500 inhabitants where one person's misfortune is the community's misfortune and where one's success is the whole town's joy.

It is situated conveniently between two of the larger cities, each about 50 miles distant, and has a train and the connection direct to each running twice daily.

My home town is completely and unreservedly American. It is American in its opinions, customs, traditions and its free people. It is American in the small "friendly" greetings one hears on the streets, the bon-fire embers in the autumn, the "kids," rich and poor alike, gathered at the drug store for a Coke and "gala feast." These little things make my home town typically American. It is typical too in the way that it settles into the evening after a fast moving day, to await another typical day in the typical "home town."

Yes, my home town is Hereford, Texas, and I am proud to be a young citizen of such a grand town.

Form Good Habits In High School

By Whiteface Staff

Too many of us live from day to day with never a thought for tomorrow. Now is the time to form good habits that will insure future success.

SYSTEMATIC — Try to be a systematic person. Have a place for things. Keep them there to avoid waste of time in locating them when needed.

PUNCTUALITY — When you have an appointment, whether it's a Coke date with the gang or an interview with one of your teachers, be very prompt. Never be a half hour late and loaded with apologies. Punctuality is a must, no matter what career you have chosen.

NEATNESS — Look twice at the English composition before handing it in to be marked. Are the "I's" all dotted and the "T's" all crossed? Is that a smudge of ink on the second page? Take the time to check all work for neatness, and write it over if necessary. You'll discover it will pay valuable dividends on your next report card, but more important the essential habit of neatness will begin to form.

ACCURACY — You should endeavor to be nearly 100 per cent accurate as possible in everything you say or do. This is a basic requirement that turns failure to success; heartbreak to happiness.

The development of the things I have outlined is the first step you should take toward the preparation of your future. Choose your career, develop your talents along that line, read material on the subject of your vocation, and try to gain information for those who have successfully obtained the goal you are seeking.

Set your eyes on a star, a distant shiny one. Reach with all your mental capacity and physical endurance to fulfill your dream. Success isn't handed out on a silver platter. It is gained by earnest efforts and constant faith.

The world is a stage and we are the actors. Study your lines and know your cues so that you can perform well. Begin TODAY building a grand and glorious tomorrow!

Chronic Disease Is Big Problem

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox believes chronic diseases represent the biggest problem facing health officials today.
Recent statistics compiled by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Texas State Department of Health, show:
1. One-third of all deaths among 15-29 year old are due to chronic diseases, with tuberculosis being the leader.
2. "Well over half" the mortality rate in the 30-40 age group is due to chronic disease, with heart trouble, cancer and tuberculosis being the leaders.
3. "Almost 8 out of 10" deaths in the 45-59 bracket are caused by this disease classification, with the proportion rising to 85 per cent for those 60 to 74 years old.
4. For those 75 and over chronic diseases cause 82 per cent of the total mortality. The slight decrease in percentage over age 75 is because of the high susceptibility to accidents, pneumonia, and influenza among the aged.
"Chronic disease is mentioned all too many people think of the problem as being confined to the middle-aged or older," the health chief said, adding that such an idea was not consistent with the facts.

The term chronic, Dr. Cox explained, means the opposite of acute. When applied to a disease, chronic means of long duration. That would mean cancer or tuberculosis is chronic, while smallpox or poliomyelitis is acute.
"The significant thing," Dr. Cox indicated, "is that the chronic disease classification cause one-third of all deaths among young people in the 15-29 age bracket."
"Obviously, that makes the teen ages the first age at which the diseases assume a major mortality role."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fenton of Van Nuys, Calif. have been in Hereford to visit with his sister, Mrs. R. A. Fullwood and family. The couple spent several days in Hereford thirty years ago when on their honeymoon. Before returning to California they plan to visit relatives in the Ozarks.

Letters To The Editor

Hereford, Texas, May 16, 1960
Editor Hereford Brand:
Many of the patrons stopping at the Jim Hill Hotel, as well as strangers passing through Hereford, seem curious to know the reason for the 20 foot vacant strip extending on all four sides of the court house square; when told this block of land belongs to Deaf Smith County, and under the control of the board of county commissioners; it being the intention to making this strip, together with the wide sidewalk extending on all four sides of the square into a parking for several hundred autos. In conversation with county judge Foster, I learned that the low bid for this work on all four sides, is $7,200.00, but the county has delayed doing this work on account of the lack of funds, and the further fact that the big sign located on the Southwest corner, containing the names of all ex-service men from this county, is to be taken by veterans and moved to Veterans Park. For the past several months this condition has prevailed with no action being tak-

It has been suggested, in view of this long delay and the great necessity for this parking space, that the county proceed to at least start this project on the west and south sides of the square, and to do so without further delay. The list of veterans contains several hundred names, with a large and expensive sign board. In case the veterans are unable to move this sign at this time, it might be a good idea for the business men and citizens to raise a fund to help out. As a starter for this I will start it with a contribution of $10.00. This vacant strip has remained as such for the past two years, and detracts, very much from our beautiful courthouse and the fine lawn surrounding it, so let's get busy and correct this unsightly weed patch.
L. BASKIN.

Technicians Band Doves As Phase In Managing Birds

Seasonal mourning dove banding, a vital phase of game bird management, is just getting under way in Texas, according to the assistant director of wildlife restoration of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Game wardens, protecting wildlife in the state's 254 counties, handle most of this work which is done while the young birds are in the nest, preferably just before they fly away. But game biologists, lake biologists, hatchery staffs and others help out.

The bands bear a number and the words, "Game Department," Austin, Texas. The wardens record the banding data. Mourning doves probably supply more hunting than any other single game species in Texas. The status of mourning dove populations in various states also have become a source of growing concern.

Banding of the birds and the return of these bands by hunters will show the life span of the doves, where they go after leaving.

Play was heavy over the week end, although entries were light in Sweepstakes play.

J. M. Posey and Dr. John Channer tied for first place with 68's. Posey had a 76-8 and Channer had 81-13. Three 69's tied for the other three winning places. Ted Young had 77-8, Frank Latimer 84-15 and W. W. Gilbreath 82-13.

Four other contestants had: Urlin Streu 81-7, 74; Homer Lee Owens, 86-16, 70; Ed Young, 95-23, 72; and Preach Edelman, 86-8, 78.

Jim Terry says Sweepstakes play will be discontinued until after the tournament is over. Handicaps will also be frozen until it is over.

77 players batted around the local links Sunday.

week included Ted Young moving into second place with a 2- and 1 victory over Urlin Streu, and W. W. Gilbreath jumped into eighth place into eighth position by virtue of challenging Stan Barrett and winning. Although the usual procedure calls for challenging from one to three places above you, there's no rule you can't challenge higher. Of course the player does not have to accept the challenge if he is more than three positions higher than the challenger. But Stan took the challenge. There was plenty of play on the ladder besides these two matches, but in other cases nobody changed positions on the ladder.

The Jaycees have accepted a home and home challenge from the Perryton Jaycees. Dates to be arranged.

The tournament committee was pretty sharp in pointing out their won't be any 'sudden death' play-offs on tied matches. They had to be thinking ahead to foresee what will probably come up.

However, two of the first-round matches could have been allowed to "sudden-death" if they tied, those are the Dr. Channer vs. Darrell Blanton and Joe Butler vs. Jim Garner matches. Just so happened that players with exactly the same handicaps matched up in these two cases.

The guy expected to holler the loudest when he sees the pairings is Ted Young. He will have to spot Alvin Shirley 18 strokes, one a hole.

The committee did a good job in spreading the prize money over eight ways and giving more players a shot at winning something. The way it is now a guy could lose twice during the tournament and still be fortunate enough to win $2.60.

The two finalists will play six matches.

Jim Terry has tickets for the Byron Nelson, Dick Turner vs. Bo Winger, John Nunn exhibition match in Amarillo Sunday afternoon. They sell for $1, the match is at Ross Rogers starting at 1:30. If you plan on going you would be extremely wise to buy your tickets here and avoid the rush at the gate.

Strangler Lewis Referees Tag Team Match Saturday

Nearly 80-year-old, 300-pound, Strangler Lewis will do the refereeing chores Saturday night at the Bull Barn.

Still quick as a cat, and strong as an ox, Lewis holds the respect of any wrestler who has ever defied him in the ring. It was the Grey Mask who tangled with Lewis once in Hereford and came out horribly short on the deal.

"There will be none of this haggling with the referee this time," Guy Lawrence predicted. "The Strangler tells them a couple of times to be clean about their wrestling and if they don't, he takes things in hand. These wrestlers respect him. If they don't—they will pretty soon if they don't play the game like The Strangler says."

Strangler will have an opportunity to show his talents, too, because Dory Funk will bring his usual bundle of trouble to Hereford Saturday. Funk never fails to produce.

It will be a Tag-Team match with Funk and Glenn Detton against Frankie Murdock and Benny Trudel. Trudel will make his first appearance in Hereford. He is from Montreal, Canada.

The Tag-Team combat will be the best two out of three falls within the customary hour time limit.

Two 20-minute preliminaries will feature Funk against Detton and Murdock against Trudel.

Last Saturday, they had one good match and one brawl. The first event was a good match between Glenn Detton and Bob DeMarce. Detton took the first fall in 16 minutes with an Airplane Spin followed by a Body Smother.

DeMarce won in 12 minutes to gain the second fall with a Leg Stomp. Detton capped the match with a Body Jack-Knife in 14 minutes in the deciding fall.

The second event was a series of moans and rough tactics. Soap was used frequently (not for cleaning purposes) and Frankie Murdock came out on top of Billy Weldner.

Murdock took the first fall in 32 minutes with a Body Smother followed with the Murdock Head-Crusher. He won the second in 12 more minutes with a Python Hold.

George Overhuls was referee.

Second-Guessing

By JERRY STOLTZ

Stan Barrett and Rex Lee played the best ball Sunday while the Vega's were dropping heartbreaker to Vega. If the new balk rule had been enforced as the managers agreed on before the game the Hereford nine would have written a different story in standings.

Johnny Renner will be wearing the VFW uniform from now on, according to Manager Glen Anderson. Renner won't be eligible until after this week's game with

Vega Knocks Off Hereford Sunday 9-7 In Wild Game

A walk and a crackling double off the bat of Ben Richardson in Vega's half of the first inning Sunday started Vega on the road to a convincing 9-to-7 win over Hereford at Vega to break the two-game win streak set up by Hereford this season.

Hereford plays Canyon on the VFW diamond Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Usually calm and collected Johnny Winkler couldn't find the plate as he walked two and hit another batter in the Vega 4-run first before ever getting a man out.

Vega third-baseman Harry looked at one strike and belted the second pitch for a double into right field for a base for Benark then took a base for being hit by the pitcher. With the count one and three, Winkler threw low and outside to walk Bowels, filling the sacks with no body out.

The first Vega score came when Winkler threw four straight balls to Ridgeway, walking in a counter. Richardson tied off on a nothing-three pitch with a two-run double. Brown was drawn out, short to first, with Ridgeway scoring the fourth Vega run. Loyd looked at the third strike and Morris popped out to end the inning.

Hereford scored once in the first and then came back in the second inning to get four runs, themselves.

Rex Lee walked to open the inning. Orlin Carroll singled to put out a man on first and set out with none out. Bill Howard struck out and Winkler walked. Wendell Burdine singled a run in that started the rally for four runs, tying the score.

Vega scored again in the third, twice in the fourth and added another in the seventh before they lay up. Hereford scored once in the seventh and one more in the ninth, falling short of the 2-run lead Vega grabbed.

Canyon Unbarger And Tulia Win Sunday League Games

Canyon 7, Nazareth 0

Canyon knocked off Nazareth 7-0 Sunday afternoon with Martin McMurray pitching two-hit ball. However, Nazareth protested McMurray's delivery, claiming he failed to make the necessary pause before throwing. Tom Ferris, league commissioner, will rule on the protest.

McMurray struck out 13 while his teammates banded out six runs in a big first inning and tallied again in the second.

Unbarger 10, Vigo Park 5

Dennis Brandt pitched Unbarger to an easy 10-5 win over Vigo Park at Vigo Park Sunday, getting five strikeouts in the process. Prestoppe started for Vigo Park and got eight strikeouts before he went out in the eighth.

Tulia 5, Hart 2

Ray pitched a two-hitler for Hart Sunday afternoon but one of those was a home run that combined with leaky fielding to beat him.

D. Glenn was the winning pitcher as Hart scratched five hits and made eight errors. D. Webb hit the four-bagger that made the difference.

property, a safety-conscious Highway Commission has decreed that every possible measure within the power of the Highway Department be applied to make Texas highways as safe as possible for all who use them. The decree of the Highway Commission was not an idle one; it was backed by an appropriation of $500,000 for center lines, lane lines, and barrier lines for non-passing zones during the year 1950 alone. This sum will be applied on some 25,000 miles on which the State Highway System on which the center lane lines are marked. These lines are just one of many weapons the Highway Department is employing in the battle for traffic safety.

Have you as a motorist ever thought of the meaning a center line on a pavement should convey to you? It should tell you that the right-hand half of the road is yours; it should tell you that it was not put there as a challenge to your driving skill to keep one wheel on it; and it should tell you that when you cross it to overtake and pass another car that you should be sure the other half of the road ahead of you is clear.

Failure to observe the simple but important meaning of the center line can result in a tragic end for you. Last year (1949) on rural highways, there were 3,625 accidents caused by thoughtless drivers who were on the wrong side of the road, and they were not even in the act of passing another car—just driving on the wrong side of the road for no good reason whatever. These needless "on-the-wrong-side-of-the-road" accidents cost the lives of 253 people; maimed and injured 2,316 others; and caused property damage of $7,927,400. Take a good look at that center line when you drive and think what it can mean to you.

And what happened to those who made a mistake in passing another car when the road ahead was not clear? These mistakes cost the lives of 46 people; maimed and injured 462 others and added more thousands of dollars to the toll of property damage. It is not too hard for the average motorist to make a mistake in judgment on the distance ahead a roadway must be clear for him to overtake and pass the car ahead of him.

Take a look at the sketch showing the distance required for a car traveling 60mph to overtake and pass a car traveling 50 mph when there is a car traveling toward him at 60 mph in the opposite lane—2,310 feet or 6 1/2 city blocks! If the car in the sketch had failed to complete his overtaking and passing maneuver safely and had met the opposing car head-on at 60mph, the energy developed by the collision would be as great as though one car had been driven off the top of a 21 story building. Head-on collisions are deadly!

Respect that center line and stay on your side of the road; cross that single center line to pass another car only when you are sure that the roadway is clear far enough ahead for you to do so safely, but don't ever cross that double line unless directed to do so by an officer.

Hi-Way Department Starts All Out Drive On Accidents

The Texas Highway Department is pulling no punches in an all out war on rural traffic accidents that costed a toll of 1,395 lives, left an estimated 24,926 injured and maimed, and resulted in an estimated economic loss of $43,710,600 during the year 1949. Taking note of this tremendous toll of human lives and

The Law-You

By ROBT (Bob) KIRK
County Attorney
Lamb County, Texas

DO YOU KNOW that two or more men may be partners, without either knowing that they are partners?

To determine whether there is a partnership, the law does not look to what the parties thought would be when they entered into it. The law looks to the actual facts in the case, and whether or not these facts create a partnership. This is particularly true of the business arrangement whereby one man puts up money, and the other man does the work. If in this situation, the factors which determine a partnership are found to exist, the Courts will declare the same to be a partnership, and hold both partners liable for the actions and debts of the partnership, created by either partner.

DO YOU KNOW what a limited partnership is?

This is a business arrangement whereby one or more persons provide the money, and the other partners handle the operation of the business. To create a limited partnership a written agreement must be made, following certain statutory requirements, and certain definite steps must be taken. If the proper procedure is followed, the liability of the limited partner putting up some of the money for the business may be restricted to the amount of his contribution to the business.

He's not worrying about security

And it's right that he shouldn't be... in fact he shouldn't have to worry about security for the rest of his life.

Of course it'll take some planning to banish security worries, planning you have to take care of now, that he'll have to shoulder later on. But planning can give him security.

He can be assured now of a good start in life if your insurance program includes provision for his college education. He can be assured, too, of income for the family after you have passed your best earning days, or in case anything were to happen that would leave him fatherless.

Adequate insurance protection for those close to you gives so much for so little that it's every man's duty to make sure his and his family's insurance coverage is fully sufficient.

Rainmakers Work On Small Small Scale Get Big Results

Waco, Tex., May—(AP)—The rainmakers are busy in Central Texas. But don't start reaching for your umbrella.

The rainmakers operate only on a few square feet. And there are no secrets to their business. They simply pump the water up in the air and let it fall.

The rain experts are scientists who are attempting to find out what kinds of cover crops best allow rains to soak into the ground and prevent erosion.

Their latest tests are on the Blackland Experimental Watershed near Riesel in McLennan county.

The Waco Tribune - Herald

quotes Ralph Baird, superintendent of the station at Riesel as saying results of the experiments may be of great help to Central Texas and Blackland farmers.

The equipment used in a tower mounted on a truck which can be taken into fields to make direct tests under field conditions.

Water is sprinkled from the top, drips through a screen which controls the size of the drops and falls on the plot being tested.

Devices on the ground catch the soil splashed by the falling water and catch the water which runs off the plot.

Baird explains: "By measuring the soil and water caught from each plot the rate of soil detachment and water intake can be calculated for each field condition."

Similar experiments have been made on range lands at the Amarillo Soil Conservation Experiment Station and other places. The results showed spectacular differences between land with heavy grass and litter and land with a small amount.

For instance, on one plot of excellent range, where there were 4,397 pounds of forage and 1,318 pounds of litter per acre, the soil splashed amounted to only 1,100 pounds per acre. The soil took water at the rate of 9.36 inches per hour.

On the same kind of soil but with a range cover of 262 pounds of forage and 442 pounds of litter per acre, the soil dislodged by the falling water amounted to 66,816 pounds per acre. The soil could soak up only 0.96 inches per hour, meaning there was a heavy eboling runoff.

The experiments now under way at Riesel will be expanded to other cultivated land to determine effects of various previous soil conservation practices.

From The Grandstand

By Wilbur Martin, Associated Press Staff
Do you think the 53,578 persons who watched the first Texas League game of the season proved Dallas can support Major League Baseball?

Dallas — if it were in the Major Leagues — would probably support the team. So, probably, would Fort Worth, Houston, or even San Antonio. All of these cities support Texas League Baseball.

R. W. (Dick) Burnett, the owner of the Dallas club, has said the big crowd was an indication that Dallas was ready for Major League baseball.

The night after the opening game Dallas drew 1,048 fans. It was a cold, drizzly afternoon that preceded this second tilt. In other home games soon after the season started the Eagles drew: 4-849; 6,053 for a doubleheader; 1,760; 3,094; 2,443. (Boxscore attendance figures).

The weather was bad some of these nights. The fact Dallas wasn't winning also probably contributed to the small turnouts.

The 50,000 plus who saw the first game were a mixture of baseball fans, curious, and novelty seekers.

The game was played in the Cotton Bowl football stadium; there were nine past greats of baseball on exhibition, and there were the Kilgore Rangesettes, a fancy-stepping, good-looking girl drill squad from the deep East Texas Junior College.

In an informal poll before the game, several people were asked at random why they came to the game.

One of the best looking blondes in sight was emphatic as to why she was at the game:

"My husband made me come."

Most of the others said they wanted to see Ty Cobb, Charley Gehringer, Mickey Cochrane, Home Run Baker and the other greats they had read about.

The point is that you can't prove Dallas — or Houston, Fort Worth or any other Texas City — is ready for Major League baseball unless you use a yardstick that will stretch over 154 games.

Instead of using the first game as one, it might be better to point out that Dallas last year drew 404,851 for the 1940 season. With a club that finished out of the first division, too.

With electronic factories, operated by mechanical brains, it looks like a four-hour day and a three-day week ahead of the human race.

Let's hope that the youngsters of Deaf Smith County will be careful in their swimming this summer and conservative of their lives.

Hereford Bull
By HMMIE GILLENLINE

"I was born in the Deaf Smith County jail," says a recent note from Lulu Connell Hill, who pointed out that she is an ardent reader of The Brand.

Old timers will recall Lulu as the daughter of the late Ed Connell, who was sheriff and jailer here in the early days. Anyway, she read in The Brand about the census and turned over the clipping to Bill Roberts, a Houston columnist. In turn, she sent along a clipping from Roberts' column which says:

"Press classified gal Lulu Hill, reports that the census taker asked a man how many rooms he had in his Deaf Smith County Ranch home, and the man replied, 'Five rooms and a path.'"

His next line says the phrase, "Have another he'ping" has produced more "Yes Men" than any other thing.

Back to politics. These Republicans are still on the rampage. I thought the new converts were tough, but Monday morning I ran into Grant Fuller, who is of the old line, dyed-in-the-wool variety. He never did say what he was mad about, but I am sure that he was vexed. Furthermore, he says this column has exactly the right name. He says it's all a bunch of bull. Dale Tinnin, who was sitting there, too, disagreed. Dale says "Why confine it to Hereford?"

Things like this naturally make me feel bad. I have to admit, the Republicans sure have me down in the dumps. I am beginning to believe some of them are a little bit unreasonable. Is that possible?

H. V. Stanton went to a lot of trouble to drop by and express appreciation for editorials appearing in The Sunday Brand. Mr. Stanton was downright lavish in his praise. I don't know if he is Republican or Democrat, but thanks for at least one kind word. I guess being a football coach is a lot like the newspaper business, anyway. Besides, we have been wondering for a long time if anyone read the editorial page.

Something else I cannot understand: Why are prices going up?

This is absolutely a fact. Grocery men tell me that most items are up 15c to 25c per case. In addition, some companies are sending telegrams showing five to should be banded between the areas of three to ten days. Yet they are so nervous at the end of this stage as their first trial flight approaches that they startle easily and may flee and become prey of predators. Likewise, bands must be carefully affixed to their legs; secure enough to stay and yet not tight enough to interfere with leg growth. The assistant director of wildlife restoration emphasizes that none but the official banding should be undertaken and that properly constituted authorities must supervise all banding routine.

ing their nests, where most dove hunting occurs and the percentage of young and old birds killed each year. All of this will help to guide the department in recommending seasons and bag limits.

Thus, from the Rio Grande to the Panhandle and from the Eastern to the District Western borders, hundreds of persons are undertaking the important routine. Some wardens enlist the aid of Scout troops and sportsmen's clubs. Wardens have been requested to spread the banding over the entire nesting season through the summer to obtain a representative record. All are pitching in enthusiastically. Approached on the subject of cooperating, a gnarled Texan replied: "I have roped cattle, ridden yearlings and handled a few snakes, but this is the first time I have had the opportunity of playing 'God Father' to young birds." Science marches on!

Banding the young birds is just as delicate as it is important. Great care must be taken in approaching the fragile nests. Birds

Texans in Washington

By TEX EASLEY

Washington, (AP)—There's a weak spot in the federal program for harnessing the nation's water resources, says Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine.

He says there is a gap between the soil erosion program of the Agricultural Department and the flood control and navigation program directed by the Army Engineers.

As Texas sole member of the House Public Works Committee, which handles legislation dealing with flood control and rivers and harbors projects, Pickett has made a study of just how the improvements authorized by this committee tie in with the soil erosion program.

"There now is the need for installation of such necessary work projects as will effectively close the gap between these two existing programs," he says.

"I have introduced a bill, HR 8188, which authorizes the Department of Agriculture to give consideration of and treatment to this so-called 'no-man's land' between where its work now stops in the uplands and where the Engineers' program ends on the main-stem of the rivers."

Work authorized under the Pickett measure would include construction of barricades, or dike-like affairs along gullies to hold back flood waters. It would include digging channels to divert rushing waters and planting special types of vegetation to check run-off, thus helping prevent erosion.

Such improvements should not be too expensive, says Pickett, as they should bring immediate results in preventing damage to highways, railroads and public utilities. And he believes they also would reduce annual crop losses from overflowing bottomlands.

The Brannan Plan is back in the news with President Truman stumping for it on his cross-country tour.

In the last few months one Texan has continuously plugged it in his weekly newsletter.

"It is my belief that we need the changes outlined a year ago by Secretary of Agriculture Brannon," said Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana in one of his recent letters.

Describing the present farm program as "outmoded," he went on:

"Federal funds should not be used to increase the number and size of industrialized, factory-type farm enterprises.

"What public purpose is to be gained in using federal funds to pay a $576,000 subsidy to a Boston banker who happens to own land in Maine?"

Under the present farm program the government buys commodities when their price drops below a "parity" figure.

Parity is a formula designed to give the farmer prices for his crops in relation to the cost of what he has to buy.

When there is heavy production of eggs or milk, potatoes or other items, the natural operation of the law of supply and demand tends to drive the market price down. As the price drops below parity, regardless of whether housewives have bought all they need or want, the government steps in and stabilizes the market with its loan or purchase program.

Under the Brannan Plan the price of a commodity would be allowed to reach its natural level under the law of supply and demand. As prices dropped, housewives naturally would buy more potatoes, milk and the like. As they increased their purchases and took the items off the market, there would be a natural tendency for the price to become stabilized, or perhaps increase.

The farmer then would be paid a sum equal to the difference between the average market price of his crop and "parity."

Som farm organizations have bitterly opposed the Brannan Plan, arguing it would be a direct subsidy. Proponents contend the present price support program is in reality a subsidy, regardless of what it is called. They argue the Brannan Plan will permit a housewife to buy what she wants cheaper, and will prevent such things as burning potatoes to dispose of surpluses held in storage by the government.

Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco, the only Texan on the House Agriculture Committee, who is recognized as an authority on agricultural problems, says:

"I can find fault with both the present program and the Brannan plan.

"I favor a kind of insurance program, where the farmer will participate in its cost just as the laborer does in the social security system."

Emphasizing he is offering no universal remedy but a general proposal on which details would have to be worked out after the principle is understood, Poage added:

"There is a strong resentment on the part of a great many members of Congress against the present farm program. They also don't like the Brannan Plan.

"Whether the farmers like it or not, they may be faced with the threat of losing price supports, and that would be disastrous. The way I see it, city congressmen would much more quickly pass legislation setting up a program under which the farmers contributed to the cost."

Poage said the Brannan Plan might be tried out on perishable commodities, such as eggs, but is unnecessary for cotton and other storable crops.

His idea of farmer participation in the cost is the only essential difference from the plan advocated by Brannon.

Poage's idea is to have the farmer pay, through a processing tax or some such arrangement, approximately 3 to 5 per cent of the value of his crop. The government would put up the remaining money that might be necessary to insure the farmer a parity income.

Poage concedes this plan would reduce the income of the farmer by the amount of his financial participation, but he says it might be the difference between his continuing to have some kind of price support or nothing at all.
