Around Town

SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

The big Harrison Highway opening issue of the Brand will be out Sunday, and don't forget all next week is "Harrison Highway Week."

Cantaloupe harvest will probably start Monday, just as potato harvest is completed. Between 800 and 900 acres of cantaloupes were planted and local growers expect about 600 acres to be harvested. Most of them were planted in late April and May. Cantaloupes can be harvested from now until frost if the vines hold up strong. The market is good at about $5.50 a crate now.

Home Makers Class of the First Methodist Church will hold a bake sale Saturday, August 12 at Cashway Grocery No. 1 and at Piggy-Wiggly Grocery Store. Both sales will start at nine o'clock Saturday morning.

Lots of lettuce has been planted this year, as you can tell by riding out almost any road in the neighborhood of Hereford.

Contract for the 4.9 miles of Wyche Road will be let Wednesday. The last mile never did get located. W. V. York, senior resident engineer, expects the contract for the 37 mile stretch from Bootleg north to 14 Mile road and over to Highway 51 to be let in November. He said they will have the survey completed in the next two or three weeks. When they finish there they will start on the two roads on the east side of the county, the seven miles from Dawn north and over to the Randall county new Farm-to-Market road that joins into Highway 60 a few miles west of Canyon. That 10 miles in Randall County is supposed to be finished Friday. The other part to be surveyed is from the Oldham County line south of Wildorado to a point 5 1/2 miles south.

If all the sidewalks in town were as good as the new one in front of Sara Norton's building, where Rutherford's is moving, and the Candy Kitchen, there would be a lot fewer stubbed toes. And as a result, fewer strained tempers.

All high school boys interested in playing football for Hereford High this fall are invited to bring their dads and attend a meeting at the football field Friday night at 8 o'clock. It will be a kind of get-acquainted meeting in which head coach Dalton Oriswell and assistants, Wayne Stark and Kenneth Mayes will meet the dads and give them an idea of the layout. Football practice starts the 15th, Tuesday of next week.

Bruce Miller spoke to the Hereford Lions at the Wednesday meeting on the United Nations. Sec. Treas. J. W. Robinson, Jr. also reported they cleared about $1,000 on the annual carnival last week.

Phillips Petroleum company will bring Nebraska and Colorado farmers through the Hereford area Friday to show results local farmers have had with Anhydrous Ammonia.

Dub Reeves spoke to Hereford Jaycees Tuesday night on "Jaycees and you."

Panhandle Press Meets in Hereford Next Month
Members of the Panhandle Press Association will meet for their regular monthly meeting in Hereford September 23. They will meet at Hotel Jim Hill and later tour a lettuce processing plant.

Advertising will be the subject for the day. Charles Fischer of the Clovis News-Journal will speak on Display ads, an Amarillo Times ad man will talk on art and a Globe Newsman on classified ads. Van Stewart, from Perryton, will talk on rate structures.

The Hereford Brand and the Chamber of Commerce will be hosts for the occasion.

CAPTAIN COX SURVIVES CRASH—Captain Jack R. Cox, 29-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cox of Hereford, was radar observer aboard the giant bomb-laden B-29 that crashed, burned and exploded at Fairfield-Suisun Air Base near San Francisco, California late Saturday night. Capt. Cox was thrown clear of the wreck some 30 feet. He received several cuts about the head and arms and they believe he may have a few broken ribs. He went back into the flaming plane and saved one crew member and also brought Big General Robert Dean out. Gen. Dean died, however. The plane had just left the 8,000-foot runway when the pilot told the control tower two of his four engines were running wild and he couldn't retract his landing gear. He tried to turn back to the field, but the heavy bomber crashed a little more than a mile from the end of the runway. The wing tanks later caught on fire and the 10 or 12 500-pound demolition bombs the plane carried let go. Capt. Cox has been in the service eight years. He flew with the 5th Air Force in the South Pacific during World War II.

Housing Is Only Hold Up Keeping Crew From Moving

Representatives were in Hereford Wednesday making initial arrangements for establishing Hereford as working point for a large seismograph operation for Magnolia Petroleum Company. The area included covers approximately 250 square miles and the operation will require three years to be completed.

"Housing seems to be the only hold up," said W. H. Franz, representative; "we now have a few houses and apartments, but need several more." W. M. Tottenham, party chief, will arrive here within a few days, he said.

The crew includes 23 families and will represent a payroll of $8,000 to $9,000 per month, according to Mr. Franz. The area to be covered by the crew, reaches into Eastern New Mexico, Farmer, Deaf Smith, Oldham, Castro, Randall and Swisher Counties.

He estimated that the operation will require three years to be completed and said the organization is being moved into Hereford from Stanton, Texas.

Items have gone up. Coffee has gone up about 12 cents the last few weeks. A few items such as canned fruits have gone down a little to increased supply but they aren't expected to stay down. Mr. Newell doesn't think the plan for automatic price control would work satisfactorily, but thinks some form of control on prices is necessary. He doesn't think rationing is necessary unless the people bring it on themselves by excess buying.

City Settles $97,000 In Damage Suits Out Of Court For $7,000

$97,000 in damage suits against the City of Hereford were settled out of court Monday with the City paying the three plaintiffs a total of $7,500. Final settlement and agreement to the judgments ended a dispute that started May 25, 1949 when injunction was filed on the City against putting the Hereford Sewage Disposal plant in its present location.

First Group Of Selectees Leave; Quota For Four Counties Goes Up

The first 13 men under the jurisdiction of the local Draft Board to answer their induction notice left Hereford Monday morning for Amarillo on the 9 o'clock bus. Twenty-four more will leave next Monday and 40 will be called the following week, according to Mrs. A. Petersen, Selective Service Board clerk.

Those who left this week included: Johnnie Ray Cunningham, Eskimo Ranch, Hereford; Jack Ward, Hereford; Ikie Kuykendall, Hereford; Lawrence J. Schmucker, Nazareth; Werner A. Henschel, Umbarger; Andrew J. Drake, Canyon; Leonard A. Schulte, Nazareth; Maxie R. Morris, Canyon; Leslie Benham, Canyon; James Bussey, Dimmitt; Ramon Martinez, Canyon; Hugh E. Moseley, Friona; Francisco Rodriguez, Summerfield. Mrs. Petersen said they started calling 25-year-olds first, but are already down to 1928.

Two Businesses Plan To Move Into New Locations

Two Hereford firms this week officially announced plans for expansion programs which will result in moving into new locations. J. R. Johnson, manager of Rutherford & Co., said that the store will be moved to the 50 foot building formerly occupied by Cogdell Motor Company on Main Street, and Ray Downey announced that the Good Housekeeping Shop will move into the present Rutherford location at Main and Third Streets.

Hereford a really nice department store," Johnson stated. "In addition to improving the buildings, we also expect to increase our stock and to enlarge all departments." Mr. Downey also anticipated expansion of his present Frigidair line to include a complete stock of small appliances. Considerable remodeling will also be required on the Rutherford location before it is occupied, probably around October 1, according to Downey. The present closed display windows will be replaced with an open type front, and a complete, modern service department will be included in the new location.

Downey said that he hopes to offer this area one of the most modern and complete appliance stores in the Panhandle. He has been in business here for six months and was previously employed in an Amarillo appliance house.

Jesse Click Will Preach Methodist Sermon Sunday

Jesse Click, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Click, has been recommended for Licenses to preach in the Methodist Church, according to an announcement from the Hereford church this week.

According to the announcement on Wednesday evening, August 2, the Quarterly Conference of the local Methodist Church, by unanimous vote, recommended Jesse Click for Licenses to preach.

Young Click, who plans to attend McMurry College as a freshman ministerial student in September, will preach his first sermon in the local church pulpit Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Bill Stanford will present him to the congregation and direct the service. Mrs. Jimmie Sparkman will sing a solo and Mrs. Bill Stanford will play the organ with members of the local youth department as guests in the service.

Jessie has been active throughout his high school career in both Sub-District and District offices in the Methodist Youth Fellowship. He attended the annual Youth Conference three successive years, and made one trip to the Southern Youth Conference for two weeks training at Mt. Sequoyah.

MOST HEREFORD GROCERS FAVOR

Meeting Rising Costs With Price Control

Korean events have brought shifts in United States economy and along with it rising costs at the grocery store, where everyone feels it, because as you probably know, we all have to eat. When questioned concerning their viewpoints on this matter, Hereford grocers were almost unanimously in favor of some form of price control.

A majority of them also feel that scare buying brought on by the Korean conflict is one big cause for the sudden increase in prices. As one fellow said, "It isn't the hoarders that are causing the shortages as much as it is all the people trying to beat the hoarders."

One by one here's what your local grocer has to say:

Gaylord Newell—Piggy Wiggly—doesn't like to see any controls put on prices but says it looks like something must be done to protect the working man. Nearly all items have gone up. Coffee has gone up about 12 cents the last few weeks. A few items such as canned fruits have gone down a little to increased supply but they aren't expected to stay down. Mr. Newell doesn't think the plan for automatic price control would work satisfactorily, but thinks some form of control on prices is necessary. He doesn't think rationing is necessary unless the people bring it on themselves by excess buying.

Frank Daniels—Quality Food Store—would be very happy to see price controls put an end to profiteering and hoarding. He doesn't favor the automatic price control plan because he says it would tend to increase prices that would otherwise stay down. He would like to see prices rolled back to the May level. Says coffee has gone up about 14c, pepper about 40 per cent, and sugar about 10 per cent. Mr. Daniels hates to go through rationing again, but he would be more than willing if it would help. However, he thinks it will not be necessary if excessive buying can be stopped.

Boots Hulsey—Furr Food—thinks price controls would be a help to all. He says people at present salaries just can't afford the high prices. Believes if prices were held at June level it would be satisfactory to everyone and the situation would be well in hand. Mr. Hulsey says people have brought high prices on themselves by scare buying. He had a big rush on sugar at his store. Just couldn't keep enough sugar, not because of any shortage, but because people bought it faster than they were able to get it in. Also the hike in prices isn't all the fault of the retailer. The wholesale price of coffee has gone up 10 1/2c in the past four weeks. Mr. Hulsey sees no need for rationing but says price controls would be fine. He doesn't want to see prices go up but as he says they can always come down.

J. W. Thomas—Thomas Food Store—thinks the automatic price control plan would be too high. Says prices should be back to the June level. Mr. Thomas has discouraged hoarding and hasn't had any run on sugar. He doesn't think rationing is needed at the present time.

Russell Hunter—Hunter's Food Market—would like to see price control. He thinks the automatic price control plan would be a good way to hold wages and prices together. Says there is far too much difference between them now. He has had general heavy buying but no runs. Shortening has doubled in price but Mr. Hunter says that happens at this time every year. He believes rationing is not necessary but price control is.

Building Permits Drop During July

Government restrictions on building loans and tightening up of building materials, plus a normal seasonal slack period, possibly accounts for the fact that Hereford residential building permits during July were considerably lower than those issued at the City Clerk's office in the two preceding months. However, July was still higher than January and April.

$86,050 in both residential and business building permits were issued. $20,000 of this was N. D.

Johnny Perkins Fined $100 And Costs On DWI

Johnny L. Perkins was fined $100 and costs on a driving while intoxicated case in County Court this week. Highway Patrolmen Jack Crewmover and Deputy Sheriff S. B. Berry picked him up about 12:30 Saturday afternoon. He pleaded guilty.

County Judge L. H. Foster also assessed a fine of $1 and costs against J. B. Borden for passing a bad check. He made the check good.

Saturino Sandoval received a $25 fine plus costs and 10 days with days already spent in jail credited toward the 10, for aggravated assault.

Bartlett, Jr.'s application for a permit to build on the lot north of Hereford State Bank. J. M. Thompson's $8,000 building going up east of Red's Drive-In on west First Street was also included. This leaves $58,050 in residential permits. March was high for the year with $85,000. May had $82,556, June $69,500 and February, $62,300.

Hereford building permits continue to exceed all previous records for the total up to now. $534,050 in permits have been issued.

A. D. Walters, $5,000 on Ave. B. N. D. Bartlett, Jr., $5,000 on Avenue B.

E. Dean Herring, permit to erect a $10,300 residence at 220 Star.

B. B. Noyes, an addition, $2,000. Mrs. Enda Jett, received a permit for $6,000 to remodel home into four apartments, with a four car garage with two apartments over garage in the 700 block on Miles.

Mrs. R. C. Willingham, permit for residence on Buttram Street, $7,750.

W. F. Hardwick, permit for a $22,000 home on the corner of Star and Park Avenue.

CANTALOUPE HARVEST STARTS MONDAY—Joe Ballinger shows County Agent Hugh Clearman a nice specimen on his farm south of town. All told they estimate about 600 acres will be harvested from fields like this in the Hereford area this year. The new packing shed southeast of town plans to be in operation in time for this harvest season. These are "45's," a good mildew resistant cantaloupe with a fair taste. Ballinger also has a new variety called "Crenshaw" that will be new to this area. It doesn't even look like a cantaloupe.

Mrs. Petersen also released a statement from the state office saying: Filing of the Texas draft quota of 2,513 men for Septem-ber is being jeopardized by the fact that many men, now class-ified in I-A, have failed to re-port marriages and other chang-es in their circumstances.

"If we fail to furnish the number of men desired from this state, this failure on the part of many men will be the chief fac-tor in that failure," Brig. Gen-eral Paul L. Wakefield, State Director, said.

The state director said that many of the local draft boards are reporting that when they is-sue orders to report for physical examination, many of the regis-trants are coming in with evi-dence of marriages that took place "many months before."

General Wakefield pointed out that if these men who have mar-ried had notified local boards immediately after the marriage took place, they would never have been sent on order to re-port for physical examination in the first place.

"We are operating with little time to get the job done de-manded of us," the general said. "The local boards, unless they want to declare such registrants delinquent, have to turn around and get out an order to report for physical examination to the next man in order of age. All this takes time, and our local boards have a short deadline to meet."

Don't Have To Reclassify
 Selective Service wants to "be reasonable about this situation," the state director said, "but we know that the patience of our local board members are wear-ing thin. We just want to point out that it is not mandatory un-der the law that married men be reclassified into III-A under such circumstances.

"Such men who fail to report change of status, such as mar-riage, or a change of address legally are eligible to be de-clared delinquent for failing to comply with the law. A delin-quent can be inducted immedi-ately ahead of all others under this law, and if we are forced to do so in order to meet our calls, we will comply with the law to the letter," General Wakefield continued.

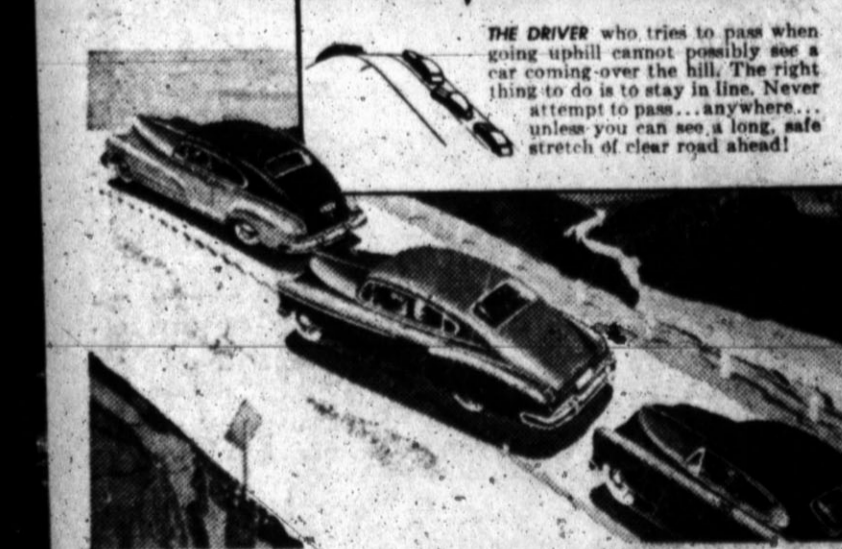

The state director concluded with the statement that noti-fications concerning marriage, change of address, and other changes of status are "the entire responsibility of the registrant," and that notifications of change must be sent to local boards in writing over the signature of the registrant.

"Too much damage already has been done," he said. "The time is almost past for men to get things squared with their draft boards."

 quite a scare buying. He thinks hoarding is disgusting. Says he saw a lady pick up 12 quarter-pound packages of black pepper at one time. He also says people have bought two or three times as much sugar as usual. Mr. Gol-lehon thinks rationing is un-necessary and thinks the gov-ernment should maintain a "hands off" policy as far as pri-ces are concerned. He also be-lieves publicity could be used very effectively to slow down buying. He told of a store in Houston that put up a sign en-couraging people to buy all they wanted to help Russia. Excessive buying soon dropped off.

Question

Do you or your family plan to attend the opening of Har-rison Highway at Rosedale, N. M. August 17? What effect do you think this paved high-way will have on Hereford? Do you remember anything about this highway when it was only a trail?

J. C. Allred: I'll probably let the other boys down here go to the opening, but I'll probably have to stay at work and look after the warehouse. I think this highway will be a good going-card for Hereford. There's no question about that. It surely helps us, too, in getting out in the country. I've gone through there many times before there was any road. We'd just angle across the country. Remembering that makes me really appreciate the paved highway now.

Mrs. Dick Gholson: No, we don't plan to go, but I think it surely is nice that we have the paved highway. It's fine for Hereford because traffic can come through more easily now.

Mrs. J. M. Gilliland: I'm sure we will go. The paved highway is a good thing. I've always been in favor of it. It will bring in more trade. I remember when the road was just mud. I was living here when there wasn't any road out there at all. Even then af-ter it became a road, it was al-ways bad in wet weather. Peo-ple were always getting stuck. I know how everyone appreciates the paving now.

E. C. Hulsey: I am uncertain at the present time about going to the opening. I believe the paved highway will bring sell-ers and buyers into Hereford. I believe it will help business in general.

B-29 CRASH CREW—Capt. Jack R. Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cox of Hereford, is pictured here with the rest of the ill-fated B-29 crew of which he was a member. The giant bomb-laden craft crashed, burned and exploded at Fairfield-Suisun Air Base near San Francisco late Saturday night. Standing from the left: Capt. Eugene Q. Steffes, Jr., 1st Lt. Carter Johnson, 1st Lt. M. A. Midura, Capt. Jack R. Cox, 1st Lt. William G. Bray and 1st Lt. Douglas R. Johnson, who wasn't aboard the ship on this trip. Of those kneeling only T-Sgt. Donald Moore, on the left, survived the crash. The others are: S-Sgt. F. P. Pinto, S-Sgt. Joseph Macomb, S-Sgt. Lloyd F. Knapp, Pfc Jack L. Gould and Cpl. Ray Sellers. The latter two had re-enlisted about two weeks ago and were working back to former-S-Sgt. and T-Sgt. ratings. 1st Lt. Robert G. Brotherton, who was another member of the crew, is not pictured. Capt. Cox saved Capt. Steffes by returning to the plane and freeing him and carrying him to safety. Capt. Cox, also shown at the left, carried Brig. General Dean, who later died, from the wreckage. USAF Official Photo.

are being annihilated by the thousands. The canning plant, on the other hand, is certainly an asset to the community and everything possible should be done to help keep it going. The plant has had a rough time and they are just beginning to pull up by their boot straps. Anyway, it would appear that something along this line needs to be done.

Folks down on the south end of Main Street are sure kidding Mrs. Hugh Bookout. A man came into their place the other day and bought a water heater from her. While she was making out the ticket, he remarked: "Today is my birthday—and I'm 75 years old." Mrs. Bookout was interested and in musing over his statement, she remarked, "Wonder if I'll ever live to be that old?" "No, honey," replied the old fellow. "You'll talk yourself to death before you ever reach that age."

Needless to say, husband Hugh and the boys around the shop got a real kick out of the conversation. Furthermore, they are about as popular around there as I will be next time.

Here's one they tell about the time when Glenn Weir used to be in the shoe business. A fellow came in, looked at some shoes and said that he could get them .50 cents cheaper from Montgomery-Ward. "I'll sell them to you the same way," Glenn promised, so the man paid him. Glenn wrapped up the shoes and put them on a shelf. When the customer protested, Glenn said: "No sir, they stay right here for six days. Then you can come in; pay me the postage and insurance—and you can have them."

People say this is the absolute truth and knowing Glenn Weir as well as I do, I sure wouldn't doubt it a bit.

Visiting Mrs. Reed Williams and Mrs. John Bush last week were Mrs. Guy Gilliland of San Bernardino, California; Mrs. Buster Steward of Phoenix and Mrs. Will Davis of San Antonio. Mrs. Gilliland is Mrs. Bush's mother and Mrs. Williams' sister-in-law. Mrs. Gilliland and Mrs. Steward are sisters and Mrs. Davis is their mother.

Ann Gallagher left Wednesday morning for Albuquerque, N. M. to visit friends over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Forrest, Cherry Anne and Bedford left last Thursday for a vacation in Indiana and Michigan. They were to visit Mrs. Forrest's brother in Indiana. They will return the latter part of next week.

The Telephone Rate hearing scheduled Tuesday morning at the City Hall was postponed a week because of the City damage suit cases. It will be held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Mayor Dameron says they are all inviting anybody interested to appear.

Nothing particularly new on the Labor Camp situation. Bill Yarbrough is still pinch hitting as manager and they are working to meet Dr. Barnett's recommendations.

Mrs. Frank Wilhelm, nurse visitor, reports some of the tent camps around town are actually worse than the labor camp, while others are surprisingly clean and well kept.

Boy, what a week! It sure has been rough around The Brand office. Not even time to get a haircut. However, this is all right. Nell Spradley left last Monday on her vacation and she says that she is going to visit an Indian reservation near Albuquerque. Furthermore, she says she is going to do her best to bring me back an Indian scalp; also one for Pat Lawhon.

No kidding, this Harrison Highway edition scheduled for Sunday has everyone around The Brand in a fallapin. We are trying to get news and ads and pictures—and we can't get enough. Anyway, my two daughters, since they breath as they always do, get full effect of the "aroma."

Also I shouldn't think people who are traveling on Hiway 60 really appreciate it—and they are more likely to remember the odor near Hereford than they would the fact that Hereford is the "town without a toothache."

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. John Ball,
Box 868, Hereford, Texas

It sounds as if Mrs. Ball has a good $64 technical or legal question. To say the least, it is highly similar to the situation which led property owners to sue the City of Hereford a few months back.

In addition, the situation might get into the Game and Fish Department. Chas. Sowell says that literally thousands of fish are being killed by something which is being dumped into Tierra Blanca creek. He wonders if it might be from the canning plant. However, he is not sure. He says that he found a huge bass—more than 24 inches long—and a catfish, near 30 inches long floating on the water. He says the medium and small fish things breaking together.

Here's a letter which well merits attention:

Dear Mr. Gillettine:
Since your paper is carrying articles about the county health officials condemning certain facilities, I'd like to ask at this time if anything can be done about the odor from the canning plant? Sometimes it penetrates our home and it certainly isn't conducive to good digestion. I have gotten the knack of holding my breath for about a mile along in front of the plant, but sometimes that isn't long

Where The U. S. Defense Dollar Is Being Spent

The single question that has been asked me more than any other by the people back home recently has been: "Where has all our defense money gone?" I've done a little research on the answer.

During the last five years, Uncle Sam has spent $96 billions on defense. However, $45 billions of that was spent in 1946 before demobilization was complete and much of the money appropriated that year went into terminal leave and other benefits. I think the more fair figure is $50 billions spent on defense since 1946.

Out of every dollar we have spent for defense during the last four years, 65 cents went for salaries, clothing, food and housing for our military manpower.

Out of every dollar, 20 cents went for research, administrative work and maintenance of the National Guard and Reserve. And, out of every dollar spent for national defense, only 15 cents went to procure weapons, ships and planes.

The smallness of the last figure shows why we had not bought a single tank since the war ended. This policy was followed despite the fact that we knew by our experience in World War II that Russian tanks were far superior to our own, and we knew from our intelligence sources that Russia was making tanks furiously in preparation for war. Russia now has 40,000 tanks, more than seven times our total.

The fact that we spent less than 15 per cent of our defense money on equipment and weapons also explains the fact that on Korea Day our airplane production was far less than one-third of what it was on Pearl Harbor Day nine years ago. And we thought we were caught asleep at the switch then.

As a matter of fact, Washington is still asleep at the switch, because there are too many people here who cannot think and plan without an eye to political advantages. A general in the Pentagon told me earlier in the week that the Army can't plan intelligently for the future or take the measures that should be taken until the powers decide that this war is a great deal more important than the November election.

Personally, I think that anybody who can't rise above politics and party loyalties in the face of this crisis should be kicked off Capitol Hill. If ever we needed non-partisan and unselfish co-operation among all Americans, it is now. If we can't be plain, solid Americans together now instead of merely Republicans and Democrats, then we deserve to be beaten by the Russians.

The Natural Resources Board was set up five years ago to draw the blueprints for definite plans by which this country could be placed on a full mobilization status at a moment's notice. John Steelman was part-time chairman and, since the job is a full-time job, and then some, nothing constructive was done. Then two precious years were wasted in an unsuccessful political fight to get Mon Wallgren, former governor of Washington and close friend of President Truman, appointed as Chairman. The Board had no real head during these years. Finally, Stuart Symington was recently appointed Chairman, after he resigned from his position of Under Secretary for Air because of his disagreement with the policies of Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

At a meeting of representatives of the metal and mining industries last week, officials of the Natural Resources Board admitted that they had no plan, they had very little idea of what was needed, they had almost no conception of what industry would have to do.

Mr. Symington is considered a very able administrator here in Washington. The sorry condition of our defense preparation is due to no fault of his. But Mr. Symington has to start from scratch when the original reason for the Board was to have fool-proof mobilization plans worked out in advance. After five years of planning, all Mr. Symington should have to do was to push a button. It turns out that he has not even got the push-button, let alone the blueprints for action.

And here's how serious it is. It was Mr. Symington himself who announced to the Texas delegation at luncheon a short while ago that "if Russia were to attack us today we would find ourselves in a desperate situation."

Hereford, Vega, Canyon And Umbarger End In Playoff

Vega blanked Vigo Park 3-0 and ended up a game back of the league leading Hereford V F W nine Sunday afternoon in second place. Wayne Richardson gave up two hits, a single in the fifth and a double in the sixth, as he hung up the victory.

Vega only got five hits, but that was enough. Both pitchers fanned seven.

Canyon and Hart didn't play as scheduled Sunday because of working conditions at Hart.

Umbarger grabbed firmly a hold of fourth place and a spot in the Shaughnessy playoff by beating fifth place Tulla 5-2. D. Brandt hurled six hit ball, while his teammates collected 11 hits off Love of Tulla.

From The Grandstand

By Wilbur Martin
Associated Press Staff

The United States Golf Association says it isn't going to start any investigation of those rumors that some amateur golfers in Texas aren't as amateur as they should be.

Bill Rives, Sports Editor of the Dallas Morning News, got the USGA to state its position after Dick Peebles, sports editor of the San Antonio Express, first reported the rumors.

Peebles' story said the USGA was becoming alarmed over the number of Texas amateurs who play in tournaments all summer long, with no visible means of support.

John P. English, assistant executive secretary of the USGA, wrote Rives that the organization had heard for some time that the rules of "amateur status" were not being fully observed in the Southwest, but we have not received any concrete evidence of violations.

"And as a result we are not contemplating any immediate

Irma Terry and Urlin Streu shot a 45 to win top honors in the Scotch foursome Sunday evening by a one-stroke margin. Doris Rush and Jim Terry were second with a 46.

Other scores included Sallie Kirby and Stan Barrett, 48; Rhea Barrett and J. M. Posey, 48; Lucille Posey and Jim Kirby, 50; Eula Lee Cave and Clyde Rush, 53; Jean Streu and Clyde Cave, 62.

One more twosome would have made exactly four foursomes. The men were on hand, but there weren't enough ladies present.

For the uninformed the way they play those Scotch foursomes, is not as the name implies, but with each partner hitting alternate shots. In other words the man may drive, then the woman hits the second shot and so forth on around.

This one was very successful from the viewpoint of those participating. The next one will be played the evening of August 27.

Qualifying rounds for the City tournament will be the week end of August 26-27. First round matches will be played during that week and the finals will be played on Labor Day.

The next inter-city team match will be at Portales, August 20. The more local entrants, the better Hereford's chance of winning.

Ladies start qualifying for their first city tournament August 17th.

Stan Barrett waxed warm Sunday as he fired a 36, 38-74 minus 10 strokes handicap for a 64 in the Weekly Ball Sweepstakes. Stan won two balls by virtue of this round.

He was five strokes ahead of Frank Latimer who came in with 85-16, 69. One stroke back at 75 were Ed Young 88-18, and Bob Miller 92-22. Ted Young and Urlin Streu each beat par a

VFW Leads League Through Final Week

Hereford VFW went under the wire a winner Sunday afternoon for the Central Plains league regular season and after a layoff next Sunday they'll resume play against fourth place Umbarger in the Shaughnessy playoff. Vega and Canyon, second and third place teams will meet in another game to see who'll meet in the final.

Manager Andy Anderson's ball club is at full strength, excepting Anderson himself. It is doubtful if he'll pitch anymore this season. However he can call on Renner, Winkler, Roberts or Barrett to take the mound.

It is however, a serious blow to Hereford hopes of winning the trophy to lose Anderson's very capable right arm.

Johnny Winkler and Andy Anderson held Nazareth batters to exactly one hit while VFW slugger's pounded out 18 hits and 14 runs. Winkler gave up a single in the fourth and then Anderson pitched five hitless innings. One batter reached first on an error during that stretch.

VFW was held scoreless in the first and then opened up with four runs in the second. L. J. Clark and Winkler were the big guns in this rally; Clark hitting a triple to drive Lueb across with the first run and Winkler doubled to score Corbett after Clark scored on a fielder's choice.

Four straight hits by Burdine, Barrett, Conrad Clark and Lueb started the third inning off. They scored three runs. Four more crossed the plate in the fourth and the final score was 14-0 after two more scored in the fifth and one in the eighth.

"Step-down" design, with its recessed floor, brings space between frame members, which is wasted in other cars, into Hudson's passenger compartment. This results in America's lowest center of gravity (and full road clearance) for a smoother, steadier, safer ride than is possible in any other car!

OTHER CARS
Floor is on top of the frame, so the vital space between frame members is not available for passenger use. This creates a higher center of gravity which results in less stability, less smoothness as you ride, particularly on curves, in cross winds and on rough roads.

Native Rootstocks May Help Vineyard

Grafting desirable varieties of grapes on native species of rootstocks may be profitable in some cases, according to U. A. Randolph, associate horticulturist of the Montague Fruit Investigations Laboratory, Texas A & M College system.

A large number of known grape species are native to Texas. Some show resistance to root rot and insects, and grafting the desirable varieties on them would provide a method of establishing vineyards in disease and insect infested areas. Increased yield and improved quality may be obtained by grafting the commercial varieties on vigorous rootstocks, even in areas where there is little trouble from soil disease and insects.

Experimental work in this direction has been carried on at the Montague Fruit Investigations Laboratory since 1940. The native rootstocks on which results have been obtained include Dog Ridge, Champanel and La Pryor. Carman, Virginia and Delaware were the commercial varieties grafted on the native stocks.

Randolph says that best results in the experiments were obtained from Carman growing on a Dog Ridge root system. An annual increase of 2,376 pounds per acre was obtained from this graft combination—over own-rooted Carman vines. Based on a price of three cents per pound, Randolph figures this increase to be worth $71.28 per acre. The other native stocks used increased the fruitfulness of Carman, but not enough to be of commercial advantage.

Randolph reports that small increases in production were obtained from Virginia grafted on Dog Ridge and Champanel. Delaware failed to give an increased yield on vigorous stocks.

When a native rootstock increased the yield of the grafted commercial variety, the quality of the fruit, as measured by the size of the clusters and the individual grapes, was usually improved also. Increased vine growth also resulted from grafting on the native stocks.

One of the difficulties encountered was the difficulty in getting successful union of the grafts. Average results for six years ranged from 18 per cent successful graft unions with Virginia on Champanel and Dog Ridge to 33 per cent with Carman on La Pryor. Randolph says that other methods of grafting may be more practical than the one used, since bud-grafting on rooted vines has been reported highly successful in recent years in California.

Long Time Ago

25 Years Ago

The special committee, composed of John Bell, N. G. Jackson and C. E. Reynolds, handling the details for the forthcoming Dimmitt Picnic, Saturday, August 15, were working hard and it was believed the 1925 picnic would rival any previous effort made on this famous social and 'gastronomic' occasion.

The program was to include barbecue, bread, pickles, beef and coffee, with rodeo features, foot races, horse races, goat roping, brone riding, free-for-all, etc., together with a good baseball game. A large delegation from Hereford was assured.

Oscar Easley, proprietor of the Hereford Garage Station, sold the business to Paul E. Foster of Canyon. Mr. Easley's health had been bothering him and he said he would probably go to Hot Springs, N. M. for a rest before considering future business connections.

Arthur C. Thompson, former proprietor of the Thompson Garage, who sold that business to devote all his time to his partnership with Barnard Hicks in the Magnolia Filling Station, became sole owner of the latter concern August 1.

The annual Panhandle A&M Banquet, the occasion which attracted the alumni, ex-students, present students and prospective "Fish" of the institution, had been set for Saturday, August 29, at the Palo Duro Hotel, Amarillo.

The farmers' feed grinding machinery which had been ordered by the Community Mills of Hereford had arrived and was in full operation. Manager Rogers stated that the new mill was attracting gratifying patronage already.

The Boy Scout Court of Honor held its first meeting in the courthouse. Thomas N. Nelson, Area Executive, Panhandle Council, Boy Scouts of America, presided. Awards were made as follows: Certificates for those qualifying as Second Class Scouts: Jack Miller, Duane Orr, Roger Orr, Marlin Gilliland, Thomas Ellison; Certificates for those qualifying as First Class Scouts: Oliver Ray, Marlin Gilliland; Merit Badges: Oliver Ray, eight and Frank Cogdell, three.

Rev. W. R. Hill, of the Baptist Church here, went to Amarillo for the week end. He supplied the pulpit of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo at both preaching hours, and assisted in the dedication of the new Glendale Baptist Church building on Sunday afternoon.

A party consisting of Mayor E. S. Ireland and family, Mr. Ireland's mother-in-law, Mrs. Bell, and Judge and Mrs. C. F. Kerr and family of Dimmitt left for a vacation trip into the White Mountains of New Mexico. Mrs. Harvey Cash of Canyon and daughters, Dorothy and Rosa, were here looking after the Ireland home while the party was away.

Quite a crowd of local friends accompanied J. E. Hill to his final round-up on his ranch in the Ford community and participated in the festivities. Several hundred cattle were branded, an old fashioned ranch feed was served at noon, and lots of fun and sociability were enjoyed.

The biggest baseball treat of the season for local fans was promised for the coming Saturday when the Whitefaces were to play the strong Burk Burnett Flk outfit, who claimed the championship of this part of the Panhandle country. The games were to be played at West Park.

Fruit raising was fast coming into its own in Deaf Smith County. With the big yields that were being reported by responsible fruit men of this section, the industry was expected to grow with leaps and bounds.

The Hereford Chamber of Commerce started a campaign to find out where the best fruit in the county was being grown.

J. Smith, living just west of Hereford, brought in peaches that measured 9 1/2 inches around. C. P. Arthur, in the north part of Hereford was confident that he had better peaches and he brought a sample that measured 10 1/2 inches.

Judge J. H. Wilson claimed to be the champion for Lombard plums. He brought in a twig that was 2 1/2 inches long and the small twig had 12 fine plums on it. He gathered 14 gallons from a 3-year-old tree.

O. L. McKee had not yet had any serious competition for grape prizes. Two of his 3-year-old vines measured 85 feet and would yield 150 pounds that year. His novelty tree which contained some eight varieties of fruit had had no competition, either.

In the garden products some very good exhibits had been turned in and with the records made, truck farming was just in its infancy. Mrs. Jeff Thompson brought in some Kentucky Wonder beans that measured ten inches in length. H. B. Webb still held the onion record with onions the weighed one pound each.

L. C. Moore still claimed the best record with beets that weighed 25 pounds each. He also held the best record for laying hens that had yet been reported. A Black Giant hen in the Moore barnyard layed 77 eggs in 81 days.

ONE BELOW AVERAGE—The sixth youngster that would bring this family up to average for number of children occupying a room at the Labor Camp ducked back inside, but the other youngsters enjoyed having their picture made.

Farm Animals Need Vitamin A

During the hot summer months or when long dry periods stop the growth of range and pasture grasses and legumes, farm animals may be affected by vitamin A deficiency. The lack of green feeds, over a long period of time, may result in a condition that is characterized in the early stages by night blindness and later by a loss of energy and appetite, swelling at the joints, rapid breathing, staggering gait, convulsions, nasal discharge, watering at the eyes and complete blindness. This condition, says U. D. Thompson, assistant extension animal husbandman of Texas A&M College, is caused by a lack of vitamin A.

He says that research work done by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that cattle placed in the feed lot and limited to such rations as cottonseed meal, cottonseed hulls, white corn and other white grains are often affected by the condition. Following drought periods, cattle placed in dry lots and on vitamin A deficient rations may show symptoms of vitamin A deficiency in a relatively short time. Younger animals become affected sooner than the older ones.

Thompson says that calves born to cows which have been subjected to a shortage of vitamin A usually are in very poor condition at birth and unless placed on cows receiving adequate vitamin A, may die within two or three weeks.

Farm animals, he says, get most of their vitamin A requirements from carotene which is found in green range or pasture grasses and hays or other roughage. The carotene is changed to vitamin A by a process that takes place in the liver of the animal which is also the chief storehouse of both carotene and vitamin A in the body.

Both carotene and vitamin A are destroyed when exposed to air and light. The process is hastened by high temperatures, but heat in the absence of oxygen has only a minor effect, says Thompson. Large losses in carotene occur during the curing of roughages, especially when they are cured in direct sunlight. The lack of green color in hay or fodder means that a large percentage of the vitamin A potential is lost. This fact emphasizes the need for preserving the color in forages at harvest time. The lack of vitamin A potency in the ration apparently has little or no effect upon the rate of gain as long as the cattle have reserves of the vitamin in the body. When symptoms of deficiency show up, the loss of appetite immediately causes gains to cease.

Thompson says research has shown that the addition of a pound of good green alfalfa hay to the daily ration will protect the animals from a deficiency of the vitamin when they are receiving a deficient ration. The giving of codliver oil to affected animals will also correct the situation.

To guard against any occurrence of the deficiency condition, he advises watching for night blindness. If symptoms of night blindness are noted, start feeding immediately from one to two pounds of good quality leafy green alfalfa hay per head per day in addition to the regular ration.

He suggests that you ask your local county agent for a copy of C-171, "Control of Vitamin A Deficiency in Feeding Beef Cattle." The bulletin contains information that can help you avoid trouble not only in the feed lot but on the range as well.

Finer Cottons Need More Care

Laundrying a cotton dress today requires just a little more care than tossing it into the washing machine with the family wash, says Miss Mary Routh, extension clothing specialist of Texas A&M College. Especially is this true if the dress is one of those smart fashionable cottons that the housewife wants to keep looking smart through the season.

Today, cottons can be washed in the tub just as easily as ever if the finish of the material receives close attention. Miss Routh recommends looking to the label of new goods, whether piece or ready to wear, for information on residual shrinkage and color fastness when subjected to light and washing.

In regard to special finishes on cottons, such as the crispness of organdie or the glaze of glazed chintz, she advises checking carefully to make sure that the finishes are durable. A durable finish will wash for the life of the fabric.

Miss Routh says that light laundrying of a garment before it becomes badly soiled will extend the life of the material by removing the dirt, dust and perspiration before they become deeply imbedded in the fabric.

cutting the threads and quickly wearing them apart.

Some laundering suggestions which Miss Routh recommends especially for finer cotton dresses are the removal of any trimmings, buttons and buckles that may be damaged in the laundrying; the removal of any spots or stains that need a special solvent or cleanser before wetting the dress; the handling of colored garments as quickly as possible, and using heavy suds made from mild neutral soap in warm water.

Referring to the actual washing process, she says, immerse the entire dress and squeeze the suds through the material. Never rub or scrub delicate fabrics. For heavier soiled spots, such as those on collars and cuffs, use a small brush and brush lightly.

Rinse in two or three waters, being sure that the first rinse is the same temperature as the wash water. Cold water hardens soap and makes it adhere to the fabric. Soap left in a garment may cause yellowing or weakening of the fabric.

If the label on the garment says "permanent finish" or if the fabric is wrinkle resistant, no starch is needed in the garment. A closely woven fabric such as gingham or chambray should not be starched for the first four or five launderings. It will retain a new, look longer without starch.

Miss Routh recommends caution in using new soaps or synthetic detergents which require no rinse. She says that clothes which are washed and not rinsed have a tendency to scorch easily during the ironing process.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Blanton went to Dallas Friday by Pioneer Air Lines to attend a family reunion of his family, and returned Monday in his private plane.

THE STORY OF THE WOODEN NICKEL

According to old historical facts, the people of Byzantium and the city of Alexandria, actually issued money made of wood. Because of its lack of intrinsic value, the money was never popular among the people and eventually ceased to exist. Our common expression, "Don't take any wooden nickles," had its origin in this early wooden money.

... you won't get any "wooden nickles" when you arrange for that Personal Loan. Stop in and get acquainted.

...the serious home accidents. They are not moved until someone gets hurt.

Protection from fire hazards, orderliness, timely repairing, using tools and equipment as they were intended to be used, disposing of worn out appliances and the use of common sense will greatly reduce the number of home accidents, Mrs. Claytor says.

Safety Begins At Home - - And Kitchen Comes First

COLLEGE STATION - More than 100 accidents occur in the home in any other single place on the face of the earth, and about the most dangerous room in the house is the kitchen. There are many reasons why accidents happen in the kitchen, says Mrs. Harnett, a home extension home management specialist of Texas A.M. College, but few outrank carelessness and haste in the kitchen.

The stairway is no place to store the broom, mop nor the children's toys. Scatter rugs should never be placed at the bottom nor the top landings of the stairway. Loose or frayed runners are extremely dangerous. Collar steps are usually poorly lighted and also catch more of the items that are just temporarily set there until they can be moved into the cellar. These are the items that cause many of the accidents.

Mrs. Claytor says that a well equipped kitchen, one that is provided with plenty of cabinets and storage space, is most likely to be a safe room. However, carelessness can nullify the features of even the best planned and constructed kitchen. One has to be careful of a fire caused from a gas burner, the kitchen sink and other things the housewife uses for safety troubles.

The stairs and steps both inside and outside the home seem to have been made especially for accidents by falling. Since so many home accidents have developed, good bodies, they should start laying and should continue to lay for at least six months. When they quit laying for any reason other than the very best, they should be called. He suggests cutting the pulley hook once each month or else using a catching hook to pick up those birds that appear to be out of condition.

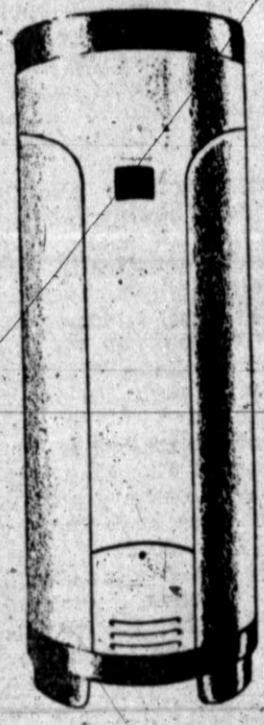

A strict cutting program is one way to cut feed costs, maintain high production and increase the net returns from your poultry flock.

Health In The Middle Years

Good health is the biggest single factor in making the middle years of life profitable and happy. Many parents, says Mrs. Eloise Johnson, extension specialist in family life education of Texas A&M College, do an excellent job of protecting their children from diseases but often forget about themselves.

During the middle years, certain physical conditions need attention, especially the adjustments that must be made in connection with the aging process. This process of aging, she points out, is something that usually takes place slowly and the warning signals furnished by nature should be heeded, for your future happiness may well depend upon whether or not you observe these signals.

According to Mrs. Johnson, medical authorities say that the body as a whole functions slower and somewhat differently and that not quite so much food is needed to keep the human machine functioning properly during this period. What folks eat is largely determined by habit, and if habits are followed, overeating usually results and that brings on trouble.

She suggests smaller servings and fewer calories and that foods which are high in vitamins, minerals and the necessary factors be used. Overweight is one of the most common nutritional diseases of the period of life and in most cases, is caused from eating too much.

The middle-aged person usually requires less sleep and this means that adjustments must be made. There is more time for reading, listening to the radio or just for relaxation and rest. This matter of rest is very important and there is a need for balancing rest with the activities that one performs. The best conservator of energy is to stop and rest whenever you feel fatigued. Short rest periods during the working hours make it possible for the older person to accomplish much more and at the same time leaves them feeling much better, Mrs. Johnson points out.

Violent exercise such as participating in active sports and lifting heavy loads should be taken in broken doses. Too much such exercise can be very harmful to the body and its proper functioning. On the other hand, regular exercise, not too strenuous, will help to keep the muscles, bones and joints supple and in good condition.

Regular physical check ups for those in this age group are recommended. This age can become the most profitable and enjoyable period of life if the rules of good health are followed and the advantages that go with experience, judgment, maturity and more leisure time are fully utilized by the individual, according to the specialist.

CLOSE-UP OF THE ENEMY—Sullen and subdued, these three stocking-footed 20-year-olds are North Korean Army officers. They were captured, along with 223 enlisted men, in the Umsong area and brought to a schoolhouse in Taegu for questioning by U. S. intelligence officers. Their "men," and ruthless warriors on the battlefield, proved to be youths, age 13 and 14. The officer at left appears to have been wounded in the leg during combat.

Cleanliness Helps Keep Polio Away

AUSTIN—In addition to the general instructions for community sanitation which are important in preventing poliomyelitis, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, today issued an urgent warning to every individual in Texas to practice strict personal hygiene to protect his own health and that of those about him.

"Of course, cleanliness and personal hygiene are ordinarily taken for granted," Dr. Cox said, "but at this time with the incidence of poliomyelitis having reached a total of 1,395 cases, I would like to re-emphasize some personal sanitary measures which may help in preventing the spread of this crippling and often fatal disease."

The State Health Officer stressed the importance of scrupulous cleanliness of the person. Frequent bathing and immaculately clean clothing are vitally necessary. Oral hygiene with thorough brushing of the teeth and the use of a mild antiseptic

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ramey returned from the State Convention for the Rural Letters Carriers and Ladies Auxiliary, which met in Dallas recently. Mr. and Mrs. Ramey were chosen to represent five counties. The Rameys attended an early-morning breakfast honoring all state and local officers; also a banquet honoring distinguished guests. Sears Roebuck & Co. was host for a barbecue, which is its annual custom.

Mrs. W. A. Gentry accompanied the Rameys to Dallas and visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Vera Mason. All attended a birthday celebration at Wichita Falls honoring a nephew, Mr. Keith Swim, who has accepted a position as Superintendent of schools at St. Jo, Texas. They also visited relatives and friends at Bonham, Ector, Savoy and Denison. They had planned to visit relatives in Snyder, Okla. on their return trip, but Mr. Ramey became ill and had to return home.

are recommended. The nasal passages should be kept clean and dental defects corrected immediately.

Sanitation and thorough cleanliness in the home are instinctive with the average housewife, but at this time their importance to health must be re-emphasized. Home sanitation includes: those taken-for-granted measures as washing the dishes in hot soapy water and rinsing them in hot clear water; keeping sinks, bathtubs and fixtures scoured clean and rinsed with a mild antiseptic solution; sunning and airing bed clothes, ridding the home of flies, rats and roaches which, since poliomyelitis is believed to be a fifth-borne disease, are suspected as being responsible for transmission.

"If good personal hygiene is combined with good community sanitation and hygiene, it is hard for any disease to get a foothold," Dr. Cox said, "with such a dread disease as poliomyelitis prevalent in the state, no precaution should be overlooked and no bars should be left down for its entrance."

SCULPTURED SHEPHERD—Pablo Picasso, who has had more brickbats and bouquets thrown at him than any other figure in the world of modern art, recently added this surrealist sculpture to his list of imaginative creations. Leaving critics to raise eyebrows, cudgels, or cries of admiration, Picasso has called the work "The Man With the Sheep."
