On all of Mrs. Tucker's Shortening programs, they advertise that if anyone receives the four red treys in a four-handed Canasta game, all people at that table will receive a 3 lb. can of Mrs. Tucker's shortening. At a Canasta party held recently at the home of Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Leta Barnett of Wichita Falls, drew the four red treys. She and the other three women at the table, Mrs. H. M. Thomas, Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. A. G. Bell, inquired about this matter and all received a 3 lb. can of shortening Mrs. Barnett, honoree at the party, was here visiting her mother, Mrs. J. M. Boone.

The PTA basket supper, which was to be held last Monday night and was postponed because of bad weather will be held next Monday night, September 9, 9 o'clock, according to Mrs. D. C. Kinsey, chairman of the hospitality committee. It will begin at 7:30 at Shirley School.

You've heard about the absent-minded professor, but have you heard the latest about the absent-minded preacher? Rev. H. Cagle, pastor of the First Baptist Church, bought a new 4-dr sedan recently, but he had always been used to a tudy. Monday morning he went down to the Blue Bonnet Laundry to pick up some laundry. When he went back to the car, he put the clothes in, got in himself, and started to put the keys in the ignition, when he realized he was in the back seat of his car.

With regards to the story on the sports page concerning the date of the Clovis golf match and also the four ball-round robin tournament, the Clovis trip is a week from Sunday, the 17th. Golfers will also have to turn in their qualifying scores by that day and play with their first foursome before the following Sunday, the 24th, when the round robin will be completed.

Looks like fall is here either that or some people are overly optimistic. At least one business house is taking out their air-conditioner just to prove the fact.

The weather is a choice topic of conversation because of the rain as well as the temperature. We had 83 through the first eight days of September, last years, which makes it look like a safe bet that we'll have rain early in September, doesn't it?

The Cub Leaders District Annual Round Table meeting will be held tonight, September 7 at 8:00 at the scout house. This is a business meeting and all cub leaders, including committeemen and representatives from the sponsoring institution are urged to be present.

The present Hereford enrollment of cub scouts is 72 boys. All boys interested in becoming cub scouts should contact some of the leaders as soon as possible. Any boy 8, 9 or 10 years of age is eligible to join.

A recent Minnesota Farm Bureau Service company ad in the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune read as follows: "In a Texas town no school children had tooth cavities! Why? A certain element in that region's soil prevent tooth decay." The ad continued with the thought that as time goes by more people will want to know the foods they buy not only have appearance and flavor—but also have been produced for better health! For example instead of eggs fresh, you'll want to know what is their nutrition and vitamin rating. It won't be a matter of whether bread is fresh or white, but where and how the wheat was grown from which it was made. The same will be true with...

Kiwanis Club To Sponsor National Kids Day Here

Hereford today joined the parade of cities across the continent that will observe National Kids Day in Saturday, September 23.

Sponsored locally by the Kiwanis Club, the National Kids Day celebration is designed to focus public attention on the needs of underprivileged children. More than 3,150 Kiwanis Clubs throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii are planning local celebrations and activities for Kids Day.

Plans for local observance of this second annual Kids Day are rapidly nearing completion. Bob Wear, president of the local Kiwanis Club, announced today.

These plans, which will be announced in detail later, are aimed at actually showing our interest in the youth of our own community. We are especially interested in doing what we can to help meet the needs of underprivileged youth.

The Kiwanis Club is cooperating with The National Kids Day Foundation, a non-profit corporation which was organized to stimulate a general awareness of youth problems. Wear said Kiwanis International has long been noted for its work among underprivileged youth and its youth program is one of the principal activities of the International organization. "We believe that the program to help underprivileged children must be accelerated. We want to do all we can to make adults aware of their responsibilities to children everywhere and especially to those who are less fortunate than the average. "Through the promotional activities of the National Kids Day Foundation, Inc., the Kiwanis Club of Hereford is able to join with literally millions of Americans in sponsoring the observance of a day set aside especially for helping youth."

Rights To Sell Water In N. Y., N. J. Granted

William Stein and company of New York became the first organization to sign up with the joint Hereford Chamber of Commerce and City of Hereford water selling program this week. Chamber of Commerce Manager O. P. Cowart announced Wednesday.

Cowart said the company will be given a reasonable length of time to perfect their distribution organization and if they can't get the production, others are clamoring for the opportunity. However, he added, that the have investigated the company and are reasonably sure the venture will be a success. The company will control the New York, New Jersey area.

Other companies will sign up in the venture soon, Cowart said. "The sole purpose of this is to make Hereford, The Town Without a Toothache," a household phrase in New York and New Jersey," he added.

Judge Says Trip To New Mexico Wasn't Very Dull

There is nothing dull about a week end in New Mexico, says Leonard H. Foster, county judge. "It isn't one thing over there. It's three or four."

He and Arch Dobbins went over to Albuquerque Sunday to stay in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nadson. Nadson and Dobbins used to work together in the J. C. Penney store here.

Out on the lonesome stretch of road between Vaughn and Cline's Corners, the water pump on Dobbins' car went bad. The radiator started boiling out of the radiator.

"It surely is a long way between filling stations out there," Foster commented. "Water is rather scarce, too."

The water had boiled so low that the motor was beginning to stink, so Bill poured a couple of quarts of motor oil into it. It was the only liquid he had.

It only made the motor stink worse. Presently they sighted a windmill and turned off the road to it. But it was out of order and there was no water around. So they got back on the road and chugged along at about 20 miles an hour. The motor got hotter and stunk worse, yet.

Then on the right of the road they sighted a small dam on a draw. They collected a few empty quart oil cans from along the bar ditch, and went after water. But even with all they could bring back this way, the radiator was not full. Then they found a road to the dam, and drove down.

With that filling and what they could find along the road they managed to get to Cline's Corners. After that the filling stations were closer together.

Once in Albuquerque, Foster and Dobbins found the visit interesting. With the Nadsons they went to Santa Fe Monday and entered the fiesta, which was in full swing.

The fiesta, they found, celebrated the reconquest of New Mexico following the Pueblo rebellion nearly 400 years ago. The fiesta has taken place every year since 1800.

"Arch had a new water pump put on," Foster remembered, "and the trip back was not adventurous—thank goodness!"

Hereford Gets By Labor Day Period Minus Accidents

Labor Day week end, 1950, proved to be exceptionally quiet on all fronts, perhaps because of the weather. Not a single automobile call was made over the period during which the funeral home normally makes from one to five emergency trips.

Automobile accidents naturally rate highest among Labor Day week end mishaps because of the overload of holiday motorists. Generally the weather is cool for swimming and fire works are not used in celebrating the occasion.

The worst Labor-Day week end on record was in 1948 when seven people were injured in three car wrecks. All seven victims were taken to the Deaf Smith County hospital in the Question OF THE Week

What kind of winter do you think we will have?

R. H. Cagle: A severe one, with lots of snow and freezing rain. I figure it on the law of averages, and we had practically no snow last winter.

Billy Joe Evans: One with lots of snow.

Mrs. Roy Campbell: A mild one, because we have had such a mild summer.

Dene McCort: A bad one.

Alma Ruth Larson: A cold one.

Lucille Josephine Larson: An in-between one, neither mild nor extra cold.

Lester Sims: I'm afraid to stick my neck out. I've lived here too long.

Bill Malicot: I believe we're in for some good, stiff cold weather.

Legumes Prove Their Worth More Than Once In County

A good demonstration of a good farming practice—the planting of legumes in rotation—is the sorghum crop in the field of M. A. Mason, who farms the Bruce Burney place 10 miles northeast of Hereford.

There is a sharp line dividing the fair crop from the excellent crop in the same field, says the Soil Conservation office here.

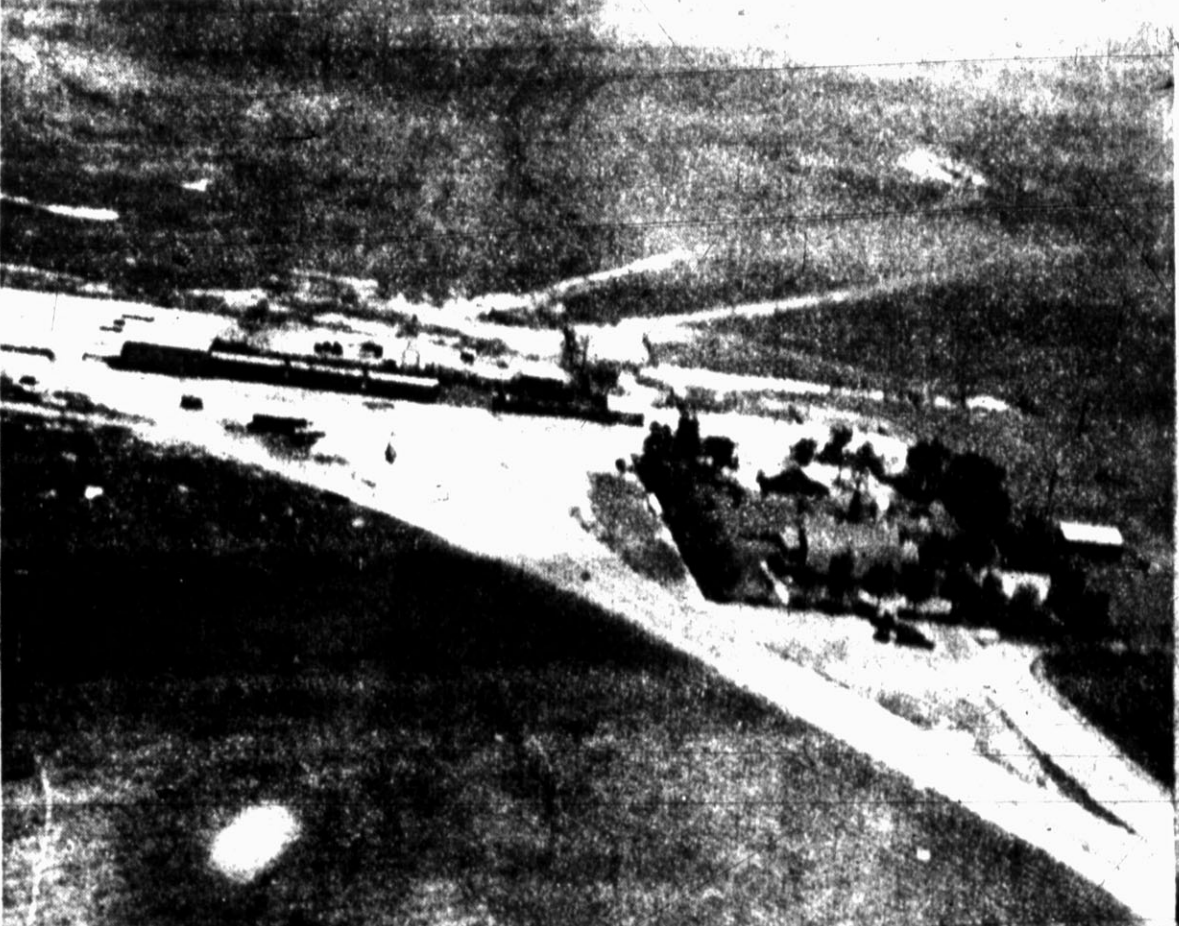

The average crop is on land planted to sorghums for four years straight. The excellent crop is on land planted to sorghum for the first time after four years of growing alfalfa.

Mason estimates that the alfalfa land will yield twice as much as the other.

Another example is the corn crop on the Naussbaum farm, where 21 acres of corn have been planted on land for the first time since alfalfa has been plowed under.

"Nature's way of maintaining soil is hard to beat," said John Henderson, manager of the Naussbaum farm.

Both Mason and Henderson plan to plant legumes in rotation, so that all land will be in alfalfa about one out of three or four years.

THIS WEEK'S MYSTERY FARM Who lives here? First person to identify the farm at the Brand office gets two free show passes. The person living there will also receive show tickets if they call for them. Last week's mystery farm shown in this section was identified by R. T. Stewart as the T. L. Sporkman place on the east side of the road a mile south of Dawn. He said they positively identified it by the float laying behind the garage. A couple others beat Stewart in with identifications, but they were not correct.

Vocational Agriculture Is Paying Off For Veterans

Veterans of World War II are doing all right with their opportunities, says Charles E. Crowell, co-ordinator for the Deaf Smith County Vocational school.

The average veteran came out of service with savings that were only a drop in the bucket compared with what he needed to set himself up in business. Crowell pointed out. This is as true of farming as any other type of business.

In a shop in a converted barracks at the edge of Veterans' Park, the vocational school is teaching the veteran-farmer the art of getting the most out of what he has.

In practicing welding, for instance, he uses waste metal that came out of a junk yard or should have been in one.

Care For Machinery Also, he is being taught to keep his machinery in shape. Since the average veteran does not have much machinery, this is very important.

Another important course that is being taught is food preservation. The veteran is learning to raise as much as possible of his food at home and to preserve much of it for winter use.

Those who can afford it have home deep-freeze lockers, and keep them filled.

The list of courses offered in the vocational school looks like a college curriculum. It includes animal husbandry, poultry, soil management, home gardening, home beautification, arithmetic, and health and safety.

The whole course is set up to last three years. The training is not easy. Instruction is given in two 2-hour courses each week.

Fifty Car Caravan From New Mexico Is Coming In Saturday

Plans for a reception committee to meet a 50-car caravan from the Grady Bellview-Broadview area Saturday will be made at a Retail Merchants committee meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office today, according to Manager O. P. Cowart.

The meeting will start at 10 o'clock.

The New Mexico group will leave Bellview around 10 o'clock Saturday morning, according to G. W. Messinger and should arrive in Hereford about 11:45 Texas time.

Also, we have been criticized because of our expense to the Federal government. But with the subsidies and benefits we have these days, I can't believe that it is a waste of public money to make the veteran a more contented, more useful, and more productive citizen."

The school has five teachers: Charles E. Crowell, co-ordinator and teacher; Francis F. Reno, shop instructor; Waylon Carroll, teacher; Ernest Gaston, teacher; and Bruce Brown, teacher.

Schools Starting Drive Slow Protect The Kids

HIGHWAYS HAVE THEIR ADVANTAGES—The Brand camera caught four cars parked side-by-side on Main Street of Hereford last week with license plates from four different states, all on Highway 60. The cars from Missouri, Oklahoma, Arizona and California are evidence of the value that a national highway such as this is to a community. Imagine Highway 51 completed and designated a national highway and add to that the possibility that Harrison Highway will eventually be an alternate U. S. 86 route from Amarillo to Santa Rose and what have you got? Cars from thirty some-odd more states than you now get.

Enrollment Hits New Record High

Hereford High School enrollment totaled 433 Wednesday afternoon, establishing a new enrollment record of 117 more students than the enrollment of the same date in 1949 and 117 more than reported in 1948. Total public school enrollment this year including Deaf Smith is 1,662 students, which is 27 more enrolled than this time last year.

Slip Almost Costs L. A. Wall A Foot While Cutting Ice

L. A. Wall, employee of the Community Ice Company, nearly lost a foot when he slipped on the gang saw at the ice house Saturday afternoon.

He is resting comfortably in Deaf Smith County hospital and has a good chance of keeping his foot, according to Dr. R. E. Williams, who is attending him.

About 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon Wall was sawing blocks of ice. The saws, mounted on each side of a chute, deeply notch the 300-pound blocks so that they can be easily broken into the smaller chunks that are sold on the platform.

Wall stood behind the block and pushed it with a stick. But his foot slipped on the wet chute. He grabbed a bar at the top of the chute, and his feet shot into it. One foot hit the bottom saw on the left side.

The saw sliced through his foot and ankle, almost severing the front of his foot from his leg.

Wall managed to crawl from that room into the big freezing room, with its floor of wooden trap-doors, down the freezing room to the door, and out onto the platform in front of the office.

That was the first that the other employees knew of the accident.

Because one small artery was left to furnish blood to the nearly severed part of his foot, Dr. Willis did not amputate. He hopes that the cut can heal giving Wall a whole foot again.

Recruiting Office Is Still A Popular Spot

The US Army and Air Force Recruiting Station continued to be a popular spot during the past week as Sgt. H. M. Riddle started making up for time lost while he vacationed in Havana.

Sgt. Riddle reported four men signed up during the past week. All have or will report to Ft. Ord, California, regular Army units.

They are: Laird Ivan Bolton, 22; George Walthall, 27; Mages J. Mitchell, 17; and Charles Ray Ellis, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Ellis.

Ambulance Run Is For Lineman Who Had Close Call

Things happened when Ethel Wargo, lineman for the Southwestern Public Service company, got tangled up with a 220-volt secondary line Wednesday morning.

An unknown woman called the Gilliland Funeral home for an ambulance.

C. E. Hardesty, local manager for Southwestern, heard the ambulance siren and ran for his car. He figured something had happened up where the men were working, between Avenue E and Grand Avenue.

When Hardesty and Marlin Gilliland arrived they found Ward standing on the ground, shaken a little but unhurt.

While Ward was moving a secondary line from an old pole to a new one, his gaff had slipped and struck a telephone cable. This provided a ground for the current in the line, and Ward found himself as part of a short-circuit.

"I thank the woman who called the ambulance," Hardesty commented. "I had much rather have ten false alarms like that one than to have a man get into real trouble just once and not have anyone call for help."

Hereford Garden Clubs Re-Assemble For Fall And Winter Activities

Hereford's three garden clubs re-assembled Friday afternoon for the fall season's activities. The Hereford Garden Club, the largest organization of the group, met in the home of Mrs. Jim Mack, opening the meeting with the Gardener's Prayer repeated by the club's president, Mrs. W. S. Fluit.

Urged To Plant Iris
Members voted to ask people to plant iris in the front yards in order that they may be shared by more people. The club has adopted the iris as its flower for the year and all programs and study will be on the iris and its related family. The City Commission has adopted the iris as the official flower for Hereford and it is the hope of club members that by the time the program is climaxed with the annual flower show, scheduled when the iris are at their best in May, that the entire town will present an array of blossoms well worth the effort.

Mrs. Fluit announced that in order to attain that objective it will be necessary to have the interest of every individual.

During the business session members voted to send a planting of iris to the Texas State Girl's prison where a garden club has been recently organized.

Mrs. A. O. Thompson, horticulture advisor for the club, reported that approximately 250 new named varieties had been ordered for Hereford planting.

Tentative plans were made for the placement show on October 6 at the home of the president when roses, iris and glads will be featured.

Mrs. Homer Brumley, chairman of the year book committee, presented the program forecast for the year and spoke briefly on the iris family. She stressed that demonstration must be made at each meeting and that all arrangements for the year must contain a bloom or foliage of some member of the iris family, and that all must be home grown.

After the business session and program refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table featuring pink glads and Peace roses. Mrs. J. P. Slaton poured with Mrs. Lyle Blanton assisting as hostess.

Members present were Mesdames: Floyd West, a new member; J. P. Slaton, Jeff Gilbreath, M. T. Rutter, E. Ramey, John Jacobsen, Jr., E. E. Fridley, Lison Wilson, Phil Barkley, O. G. Hill, W. S. Fluit, A. O. Thompson, Homer Brumley, A. L. Mantel, and the hostesses, Mrs. R. D. Cowan of Aurora, Missouri was a special guest.

Garden Beautiful Club
Mrs. George Graham was hostess for the Garden Beautiful Club Friday afternoon with the new president, Mrs. E. W. Hobson, presiding. Reports on summer activities were heard including the Hospital Grounds project which will be the club's major project for the year.

In keeping with a request from the hospital board, members voted to set aside funds all ready in the bank for the use at the time the city's over-all park project can go into effect.

Mrs. O. M. Dickey was in charge of the program for the day. Mrs. Mary Seigler presented monthly suggestions for planting and included getting flower beds ready for spring planting. Mrs. Lisle Woodford conducted a parliamentary drill and Mrs. Gerald Wilson gave an informative talk on "Winter Bouquets" demonstrating on a table the many materials at hand for the bouquets.

Mrs. Dickey, year book chairman, distributed the new year books which have attractive green and white jackets with hand-painted cover design. In line with the course of study for the year, the club will have a three-fold objective this year: 1. To stimulate the love of gardening; 2. To increase the knowledge of horticulture; and 3. To aid and encourage civic development.

Attending were Mesdames: Graham, W. J. Stogard, J. W. Kirby, Helen Pipkin, Gerald Wilson, Lisle Woodford, Ernest Medkley, O. M. Dickey, Mary Seigler, S. L. Easley, E. W. Hobson, Tom Carter, F. P. Lyons and V. O. Heunen.

Mrs. Ben Childers
Mrs. Ben Childers, newly-elected president of the Bud Blossom Club, was in charge of the meeting of the club held at the home of Mrs. C. W. Parker Friday afternoon. Plans for fall and winter activities were discussed and new year book outlines were summarized.

Mrs. A. O. Thompson was a guest speaker, featuring the "Dutch Iris" as her subject. She stated that "there are so many varieties of iris adapted to all sorts of climates and soils, and to all types of gardeners, that anyone may grow them with good results. At each meeting this year the hostess will show an arrangement. Mrs. Parker's arrangement for the day was of yellow and orange glads in a green bowl for the kitchen table.

Those present were Mesdames: R. A. Daniel, Ben Childers, Bruce Aldredge, Bill Patton, Dick Lucas, Glenn Williams, D. C. McWhorter, the guest speaker and the hostess.

Law And You

By ROBT. (Bob) KIRK
County Attorney
Lamb County, Texas

DO YOU KNOW what a POWER OF ATTORNEY is, and what authority it gives?

A power of attorney is a delegation of authority from one person to another. The one giving the power of attorney is designating another to do certain things for him, just as if he, the giver of the power, were present and doing the same. A power of attorney may be restricted to one single act, or it may be broad enough to authorize the attorney in fact to do any act, or exercise any authority that the grantor of the power could do in person.

Powers of attorney are very useful in many situations, but one giving the power, should be very careful to whom he gives the power, and should be certain that the power gives exactly the authority to the attorney in fact that he wishes him to have. An attorney in fact is limited by the exact wording of the power, so sufficient authority should be given; but it should be borne in mind that the attorney is limited only by the power, and should not be given more authority than necessary. (For further information on this subject see your local attorney.)

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robinson, Jr. have returned from their wedding trip to Colorado Springs and other points in Colorado.

Long Time Ago

25 Years Ago

Labor Day in Hereford was celebrated with a full holiday on the part of the barbershops and a half holiday on the part of practically all other business establishments. One amusing feature of the day was the fact that the shine boys in the barbershops declared themselves good union men and they laid off all day with the barbers.

A burlesque baseball game was played in the afternoon at West Park in which everybody in town participated more or less, with the burlesquers dressed in ladies clothes and other impossible baseball costumes. The official "ump," Homer Fox, was as humorously rotten in his decisions as the players were in their fielding, and a general "good time was had by all." The game was lots of fun and the crowd thoroughly enjoyed it.

The last baseball game of the season was to be played in Hereford the next Sunday when Dimmitt would be entertained by the Whitefaces. The game was to be played at West Park and the fans were urged to turn out and make that last game notable for its heavy attendance.

The Sunday previous the Hereford team journeyed to Tulsa and lost by the score of 5 to 4 in a close game. It was a good game and the boys were not a bit discouraged but determined to wind up the season with a last victory the next Sunday.

Final preparations were being made for the holding of the Deaf Smith County Fair, Friday and Saturday, September 18-19. The main fair was to be held in and around the Sales Pavilion. The ground and pavilion were being cleaned up and put in condition for the big event.

The West Texas Seed & Feed Co. had generously agreed to practically move out of their building for a few days in order to make room for the Merchants' Booths and the Poultry Show; a great many merchants were to have display booths in that building with Homer Fox as superintendent. The present plans called for the holding of the Auto Show in the basement of the courthouse.

OVERSEAS — S-Sgt. Bobby G. Allmon, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Allmon of Hereford, arrived in Japan about one month ago. He attended high school in Brownfield and entered the Air Corps about 5 1/2 years ago. He was stationed in San Angelo before leaving for Japan.

The Methodist ladies were to conduct a lunch stand just north of the pavilion with all kinds of hot and cold eats. Mrs. T. D. Moss was to act as superintendent of the Home Economics division, including old relics, flowers, music, baking, fancy work, etc. A good display in that department was promised on short notice. The following had been asked to assist Mrs. Moss: Mesdames Rex. Tynes, B. F. Guthrie, P. W. Price and W. E. Dameron, A. W. Gregg and Miss Ina Gregg. That department was to be housed in the courthouse.

About 45 head of Jersey cattle had been pledged with about an equal number of Herefords. Berry Orr, superintendent of the Jersey cattle section, was making an effort to put on the best display ever shown here.

The Home Beautiful drive, the railroad drive, the county fair, the Father and Son Banquet, the "Go to Church" Sunday, the Hatchery and other current topics were discussed at the Monday Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Stockman's Cafe, and the big crowd, which taxed the capacity of the restaurant, also had the pleasure of being introduced to Rev. J. T. Ross, the new Presbyterian minister, who said Grace and also made a nice talk, pledging himself to aid Hereford in her onward progress.

Hereford's drive for stock subscriptions to the Texas Panhandle Gulf Railroad was nearing the $100,000 mark, according to unofficial figures obtained from the various committeemen. General Chairman, McDonald, and his lieutenant, Henry Wilkinson for the west and A. C. Rockwell for the Jumbo districts, had been working hard for the past week and had made fair progress, but said they needed more volunteers and more "pennies" and that the time was growing so short everyone must take a pinch in their belts and work faster.

Church Notes

L. E. Rogers of Amarillo, head of the Missionary Department of the S. D. A., brought the morning message Saturday at the SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH. His subject, "The Soon Return to Christ," was based on Rev. 22:12.

We must prepare ourselves to meet God, by first giving our all to God and second, by creating a great love for souls and be much about our Lord's business. If we are to be victorious, we must think as Christ thought, live as He lived, and pray as He prayed."

Veterans And Draftees Guide

By MAJOR THOMAS N. NIAL
 Fellows who were discharged as enlisted men after World War II stand a chance of getting a commission. Many have written me asking about this, so today and in the next column I'll outline the qualifications and procedure.

All the services have extensive officer procurement programs, except the Navy. The Navy's examining doctors and recruiting people are overloaded right now. For the next two months or so it says it will process applications for specialists' commissions (like electronics) but not for line and supply commissions.

So today I'll give you a run-down on the Army's program. Next time it will be the Air Force and the Marine Corps.

The Army has its Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) in 270 colleges from coast to coast and its Officer Candidate Schools (OCS), where enlisted men on active duty may go if they qualify.

It also gives spot commissions to certain specialists who have enough experience or specialized education to qualify. At the moment the only specialists the Army is interested in commissioning are doctors, dentists, lawyers, clergymen and those in the medical and allied sciences, like lab technicians. They don't have to be veterans. Enlisted men in the Army reserve with one year of active or inactive duty in any service may work for a commission by taking the Army Extension Course 10 Series, a correspondence course they do at home.

How about Army vets discharged as enlisted men and not in the reserve? The Army divides them into two groups. First are those discharged as warrant officers or as enlisted men in the top three grades. During the war these top grades were called first sergeant, tech sergeant and staff sergeant. Today they're master sergeant, sergeant first class and sergeant.

Men discharged in these grades qualify for a commission if they (1) served between Dec. 7, 1941, and June 30, 1947, (2) are not yet 28, (3) are U. S. citizens.

(4) have a score of 110 on the General Classification Test, (5) have a high school education or its equivalent and (6) meet the moral and physical standards.

The second group includes those discharged in grades below the top three. They qualify, too, if they had one year or more of service between Dec. 7, 1941, and June 30, 1947, and are graduates of an accredited college or university. Sounds like a good break for vets who have earned college degrees on the GI Bill since the war.

So much for the qualifications. How do you go about applying? Go to the nearest Organized Reserve Corps headquarters. Your Army recruiting office can give you the address.

The form you want is WD-AGO 170 (Application for Appointment). You'll also need a physical exam by an Army doctor. The form used for the medical reports is Standard Form 88 and 89, which you send in with your application.

Somewhere along the line you'll have to go before a board of officers for an interview. They will also give you the General Classification Test (GCT) unless you are a college grad.

Once you get the commission it will be good for five years, renewable at that time for another five years. But the Army is not interested in giving it to you unless you intend to be a participating reservist and take part in drills and training.

You can also apply for active duty and get back in uniform with your years of enlisted service counting toward increased longevity pay.

FINALIST—Stan Barrett picked up his first golf club just a little over a year ago. Monday he played in the 18-hole finals of the Annual City Championship, losing after playing near par golf. To reach the finals he upset veteran Ted Young who had previously defeated co-medalist Urlin Streu to start the chain of upsets. Another year of experience and Barrett will be an even tougher challenger for top honors.

Stoltz Defends Title; Defeats Barrett 5-3

Jerry Stoltz successfully defended his City Golf title Monday afternoon, defeating Stan Barrett in the finals 5 and 3. Stoltz defeated John Chaner and Deward Roberson, 7 and 6 and 6-5 respectively on his way to the finals. Barrett knocked over Bob Lingenfelter 4-3

Four Ball-Round Robin Tourney Plans Are Made

Plans are shaping up for Hereford's first four ball-round robin golf tournament to be held either September 24 or October 1 and the preceding week, according to Wayne Phillips and Bill Davis, Jr., tournament committeemen.

The date depends on which week the Clovis four-city match is played.

Sixteen men will be pitted to the flight, positions will be drawn. Each man will play 27 holes, 9 holes with a foursome. In other words he will face 9 golfers during the tournament. He will keep a plus or minus score on each of his nine matches and the total will determine the winner. Players get a plus one for every hole won and a minus for hole lost.

The first nine holes will be played during the week preceding the Sunday on which the 18 holes will be played. Qualifying scores will be turned in to determine which flight the player is in. No medalist prize will be awarded.

Prizes will be given to the top four golfers, probably on a basis of $10, $8, $6 and $4 in merchandise. The winner of each foursome will also receive a new golf ball.

Entry fee will be $2.50 and golfers can qualify anytime from now until either Sunday of the 17th or 24th depending on the Clovis match.

In case some lower flights aren't full a round robin will still be made up evenly so all golfers have an equal opportunity to win points.

and Ted Young 3-2 in his first two matches.

Medal scores were close to par despite rain and soggy greens and fairways in the finals. Stoltz was even par at the end of nine and two over at the end of the match. Barrett had a 37 on the front nine.

Frank Cogdell holds a 5-up lead on Wayne Phillips at the end of their first nine in the first flight finals.

Cogdell defeated J. A. Pitman 3-2 and Bill Davis, Jr. by the same margin to advance to the finals. Phillips beat Preach Edelman in the first round and then won from Earl Stagner 1-up in 21 holes in the semi-finals. Stagner beat Bill Howard 1-up to reach the semi-finals and Bill Davis defeated Tom Howard.

Co-medalist Urlin Streu and J. M. Posey each won 1-up victories from Lingenfelter and Chaner in championship consolation play. They meet each other in the consolation finals.

J. A. Pitman and Bill Howard play in the first flight consolation finals after beating Tom Howard and Preach Edelman respectively.

Match play has started in the other flights but results were not obtainable at this time.

An untested line of unknown quality with a backfield of proven ability wearing the maroon and white of Hereford High School will remove the untested and unknown factors Friday night against the McLean Tigers of District 2-A at McLean.

Coach Dalton Criswell's charges, somewhat hampered during the past week because of wet grounds, will probably field a team with six or seven lettermen in starting slots and the remaining positions manned by youngsters up from last year's B squad.

McLean also faces a rebuilding problem, although prospects have already been rated as better than last year when the Herd rumbled to three touchdowns and an 18-0 victory in the opener.

L. M. Watson, big bruising back, will again carry most of the McLean hopes. Last year the Hereford line throttled almost every attempt he made. But only two men of the seven in that forward wall remain.

Coach Al Duncan, McLean mentor, says that although the prospects for this year's team are not the best in the world, they aren't so bad. Despite the fact that graduation took the major portion of last year's team, he feels that this year's eleven should be faster and better than that of 1949.

Publicity Build-Ups—

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The other day when Florence Chadwick swam the English channel, you read it in the paper. But the day before, you didn't read anywhere that she was going to try it. Nor did you read anything much about it afterwards. She just went over there and did it. There was no publicity ballad, and build-up.

Without finding any fault with young Shirley Mae France, of New Jersey, she got too much publicity before doing anything. In fact the ballad about her ill-fated attempt to swim the channel last year was breathtaking. Thousands of dollars in wire tolls were spent to pump the little details of her attempt back home.

This year the build-up didn't succeed quite as well, though some joined in the effort. But nevertheless Shirley Mae received lots more publicity than Florence Chadwick this year—and Florence Chadwick swam the channel. Something is wrong with U. S. news media when it allows promotion to distort value to the extent they were distorted in the case cited above.

The same thing is done with boxers. Quite often a fighter is washed up. But he can still make money for crooked managers and (Continued on Page 4)

Coach Criswell's travelling squad of about 27 men will leave about noon Friday on the athletic bus. Kick-off time is 8 o'clock.

Tentative offensive starting line-up includes Leonard Walterscheid and Kenneth Brock at ends. Walterscheid was a first string guard last year and is playing his final year for Hereford High. Brock at the other end also lettered on the varsity last fall. He lacks about nine pounds of being up with Walterscheid's 156.

Raymond Dement and Tim Corbett will team up at the tackle when the Whitefaces have the ball. Both youngsters are up from the B squad.

Neil Witherspoon and Buryl Fish will be in the guard slots.

VFW-Canyon Schedule Doubleheader Here Sunday Afternoon

If the weather will clear up Hereford VFW and Canyon will play the first two games of the best two of three series for the Central Plains League championship here Sunday afternoon.

Already rained out twice. Manager Andy Anderson said they'll keep on until they get them played. He plans to pitch John Renner in the 7-inning opener and then throw John Winkler in the second half of the double-header. Anderson will be available for relief if needed.

The first game starts at 2 o'clock, and usual admission prices will be charged.

Witherspoon is a veteran from the '49 team and Fish is a sophomore up from the B squad.

Witherspoon weighs in at 160 and Fish tips the scales at 194.

Junior Raddy Thomas, also up from the B team, will start at center. He weighs 153. Bill Engman will start at quarterback in the Criswell "T". Jack Stanton, last year's quarterback, will be sidelined for this game and maybe others with a recurrence of a back injury. Engman was a starter on last year's team, and a strong defensive half.

Bill Kelly will be back in the fullback position for his second year. He is a little heavier at 156 and should be a little faster now that his knee is back in shape.

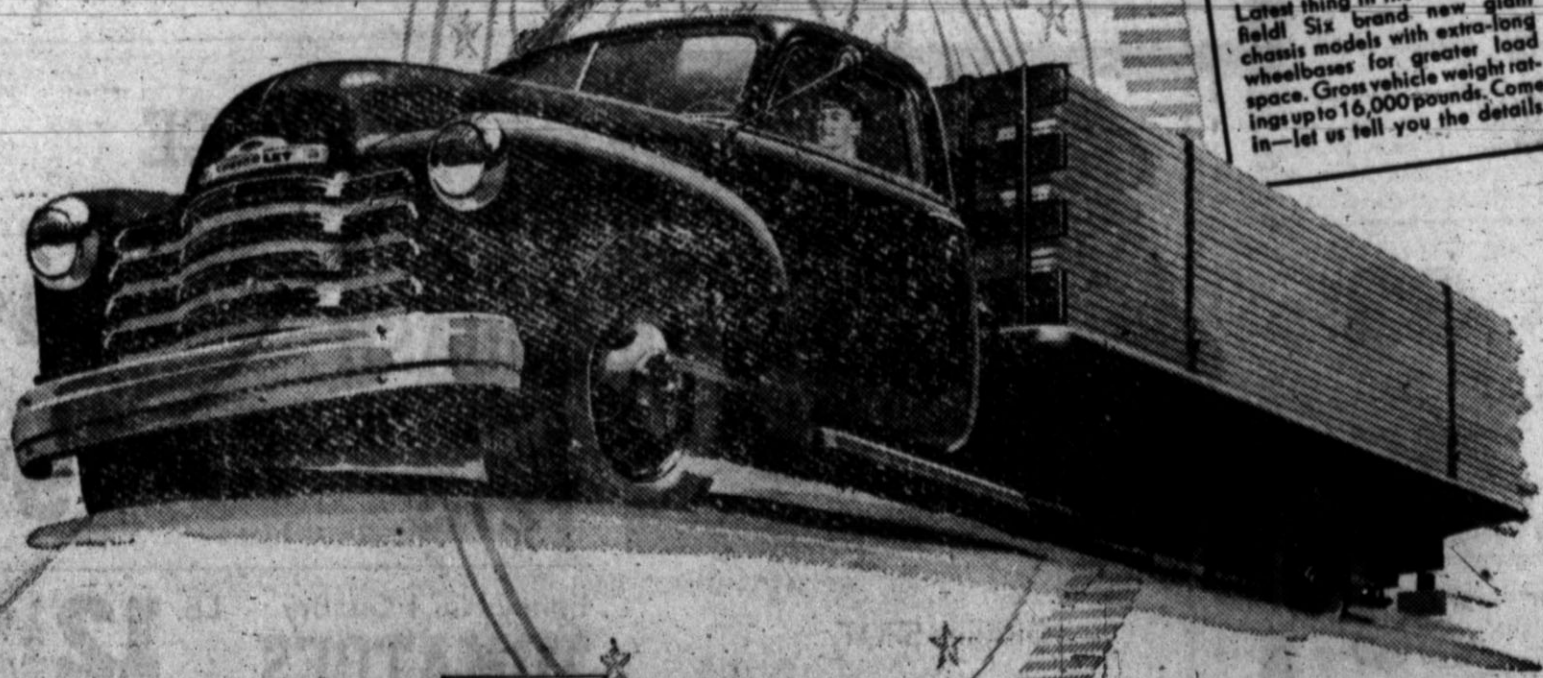

Dwaine Walker, fastest of the backs, will be back at right half. He carries 176 pounds and should be a real threat this year after being hindered by injuries some last year.

Left half is wide open at present with Engman's move to quarterback. Stanley Slagle, Harold Morton and Dale Winget are competing for the starting assignment. Morton lettered on the varsity last fall and the other two boys were on the B squad. Winget is a sophomore and the other two seniors.

Defensively the line-up is a big question mark. Duane Janssen will definitely be at a tackle or guard, however.

The Hereford starting line-up stacks up a little heavier this year than last. The line averages about six pounds heavier and the backs nine. Of course changes will be charged. (Continued on Page 4)

Vacations, School Opening And Visitors Hold Interest

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS

The Home Demonstration Club meeting was postponed until Sept. 11th, as so many members were away, especially those who were to assist with the demonstrations.

Many of the Frio people have been taking vacations, as the beginning of school this week would interfere with any such plans for awhile. Among those vacationing were: Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Benson, their daughters and Miss Sue Berryman, who were in Colorado. Mr. Benson was accompanying a farm tour group from Castro County, which was studying irrigation practices there. Also accompanying the group was Robert Simpson of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dobbs left recently for Sparta, Tenn., to visit their fathers and other relatives.

The W. H. Andrews spent week

The Owen Andrews family, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman, Sr., and Miss Alma Andrews spent two weeks vacationing in northwestern and western states. In California they visited Mrs. Sparkman's aunt, Mrs. Jennie Buchanan, and her family at Manteca. Mrs. Buchanan has visited in this community. At Orange Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Little, and at San Bernardino the C. D. Dodson family, both families former residents here, were visited.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman, Jr. and children and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stewart and daughter of Dawn spent several days on a fishing trip in New Mexico week before last.

Mrs. W. A. Springer was a delegate from Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Clubs, attending the state-wide meeting at Big Spring. The meeting was from Tuesday until Friday.

Wednesday night prayer meeting services have been started at Frio, and all who will come are invited to attend. Services begin at 8:15.

Mr. and Mrs. David Yandell and Rose Marie of Tahoka were visiting the Olin Parris home over the week end recently. They report a need for rain there, even after the extremely rainy summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown, who have been helping J. B. Thompson with the farm work, spent Sunday, August 27, with the W. H. Thompson. Mr. Brown is Mr. Thompson's nephew.

Oma Ruth Thompson suffered a very painful and dangerous accident Sunday before last, when she fell from a cliff at the Palo Duro Canyon, where she and a group of other young people were picnicking. She escaped with only severe bruises, from which she has now recovered. However, they were all thoroughly scared at the time and haven't forgotten the experience.

Mr. D. Johnson's brother, V. L. Johnson of Halliday, Texas, visited in the Johnson home Monday until Wednesday recently.

Doris Jean Andrews is a victim of the mumps, but is doing fine.

Dinner guests August 27 of the Mobleys were the Floyd Coles, Joe Ed Andrews and Tommy Sparkman. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. George Cameron and daughter of Dimmitt. The Camerons had spent Saturday night with her parents, the Returns From Vacation.

 Henry M. Pevehouse, acting conservator for the Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion district returned from his vacation last week end.

He went fishing on San Cristobal Lake, near Lake City, Colorado. He caught a number of trout, some as much as 14 inches long. Most of them were eight to 12 inches, however, he says.

San Cristobal Lake is a kidney shaped body of water, according to Pevehouse. He set out to find the dam that made the lake, only to find the water growing shallower instead of deeper toward the lower end.

Like any true dry-lander from the plains, he was surprised to find he was on a natural lake instead of a man-made one.

In conclusion of the meeting Bruce Miller presented a one-year gold service award to Philip Roland and Mesdames Bob Wear and C. L. Morris were welcomed as new den mothers.

Mrs. Zoe Holman and Hosea Foster, both of Canyon, spent last Thursday in Hereford on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Vaughn plan to attend the American Legion convention held in Galveston September 8-9-10.

In the early colonial days the colonist didn't have enough money to go around and as a consequence availed themselves to other media of exchange such as handwrought tenpenny nails. When a settler moved on he usually burned his home to save the precious nails.

Coach Criswell said they are expecting some mistakes and some good play, all adding up to inexperience, from the boys Friday night.

He has 66 boys working out daily now that school has started. They are in pretty fair shape physically after a couple weeks of twice-a-day practicing. Competition has been keen for the traveling squad and will probably stay that way through the season.

A good sized delegation is expected to make the trip to back the Whitefaces for this first game.

The public thinks he the fighter is his old self again. And the public pays through the nose to see him get butchered. Such was the scene in the Bull Barn Saturday night when two pairs of wrestlers struggled to a finish.

In the first match, George Drake from Catalina Island met Billy Sandow from Toledo, Ohio. Billy substituted for Dick Lever of Nashville, Tennessee.

Drake won the first fall in eight minutes with a body jack-knife. Sandow won the second in 17 minutes with a drop kick followed by a body smother. Drake won the third in 12 minutes with a body jack-knife.

In the second match Billy Widener of Amarillo met George Craig, the wrestling blacksmith from Tulsa. Billy substituted for Dory Funk, who was busy in the rodeo and barbecue at the Boys Ranch at Old Tascosa.

Widener won the first and second falls with full nelsons, the first in 22 minutes and the second in 15. Matches were for falls out of three.

But this does not describe progress by which one sweat-hunk of muscle wears the other down by slaps, punches, kicks, twists, and upsets, and flings his shoulders to the mat. But that's nothing. You can see the crowd.

TEXANS In Washington

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, (AP) — Texas members of Congress are in general agreement that, if global war comes, this nation's high command should scatter from the sprawling Pentagon building. The Pentagon, on the Virginia side of the Potomac river, has been the nerve center of the nation's defenses since early in World War Two. The legislators also feel that in the event of a full-scale war Congress and the President should move to a less vulnerable spot. Rep. Clark Fisher of San Angelo, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, said: "I would think that the military has plans for dispersing. I wouldn't think there is any call to move out now, but I do believe there should be careful planning so as to avoid confusion in the event of an emergency." Rep. Olin E. (Tiger) Teague of Coleto Station, a Purple Heart World War II veteran, says the high command definitely should get out of Washington if the nation becomes involved in a general war. Although not on the Armed Services Committee, Teague keeps in close touch with the military situation and has just seen some of the latest tanks, ammunition and other equipment which he says will pull some "surprises" shortly in Korea. Incidentally, the congressman's sister Madge Teague, is a captain in the army nurse corps. She served overseas in World War II and is now en route to Korea. Teague himself has discussed with Pentagon authorities the possibility of flying to Korea as soon as Congress adjourns to get first-hand knowledge of the situation and needs of the combat troops. Rep. Wingate Lucas of Fort Worth and Grapevine, also a World War II veteran with service in the European theater, says plans should be ready now for establishment of an alternate capital. There's always the possibility of a sneak atomic attack he says, that would catch Washington off guard. "Our national defense establishment still wouldn't be pulverized," he says. "At least that's my opinion." "Our various armies are virtually autonomous. And, take the 8th Air Force command out of Omaha, Carswell B-36 base at Fort Worth, in that strategic air command, doesn't need Washington to operate." The Fort Worth congressman and Rep. Wright Patman of Texas were among the first to advocate serious study of a plan for moving the seat of the national government elsewhere in event of war. Rep. Clark Thompson of Galveston, Marine Corps colonel in the Pacific in World War II, says "there could be another Pearl Harbor." "But if there doesn't appear to be an immediate danger, a move would upset our own people and might give a wrong impression to our potential enemy." Like the others, he believes that if war should come key military and government officials and Congress should get out of Washington, with the military moving first. Evacuation of "Very Important Personnel" from the Washington area; it is generally assumed, still wouldn't eliminate it as a prime target for enemy bombers. More than 1,000,000 people live in the District of Columbia and immediately adjacent areas of Virginia and Maryland. The bombing of the city not only could be a heavy blow to the nation physically but also provide psychological fodder for enemy propaganda. While it would be impossible without long range planning and costly disruption of governmental machinery to move the 225,000 federal employees and offices out of metropolitan Washington, microfilm records of essential files would make possible an orderly continuance of government if Washington should be devastated. Some facts concerning the Pentagon: It sprawls over what was known as Hell's Bottom. Many at first considered the five-sided building an architectural monstrosity. Within minutes after the Korean outbreak, the Pentagon went again on a wartime footing. Within the heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force are in daily consultation. Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson can call in the joint chiefs of staff by pressing a buzzer; before the Pentagon was built the defense leaders were scattered over Washington. The Pentagon has three times the space of the Empire State Building and 50 per cent more than Chicago's Merchandise Mart. It covers 34 acres and has 17 1/2 miles of corridors. The U. S. Capitol, which measures 751 feet in over-all north to south length, could be placed within any one of the five sides of the Pentagon. Constructed in rings, one fitting inside of the other with "spoke connecting corridors," the Pentagon is so built that the maximum walking distance between any two rooms in the whole building is only 1,800 feet. Construction was started in 1941 and took 16 months, with as many as 43,000 workers on the job at one period. During the war nearly 35,000 persons were on duty there. The building houses a drug store, book store, department store branch-outlet, and other shops which are in a wing directly above the long "tunnel" used by buses and taxis. Five cafeterias are in the building. There are 28,000 miles of telephone wire. Baled waste paper totals 10 tons a day and brings the government about $75,000 a year. SUMMER PARTY The Tanda-Campfire girls enjoyed a slumber party in the back yard of the Bob Wilson home recently. Each girl took a sack lunch for her supper. The girls, assisted by Mrs. Wilson and Marion Jo Wilson, cooked their own breakfast. They spent the evening playing games, giving stunts and telling stories. Those present were: Donna Wooddell, Carla Crosthwait, Linda West, Gladis Lee, Phyllis Goettsch, Denise Bernard, Agatha Malone, Ella Marie Williams, Martha Ann Bookout, a visitor, Evonna Harker, Marion Jo Wilson and Mrs. Wilson.

FAMILY REUNION
Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wells and son, Raymond, attended the Henderson family reunion held at Lake Altus, in the Quartz Mountains, north of Blair, Oklahoma, Sunday, August 27. This is an annual affair and about 75 relatives and friends were present. It was a reunion of Mrs. Wells' mother's relatives, who are the descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. James A. Henderson, Sr., who were pioneers of Jackson County, Okla.

'Enterprise' Reaches New High With Karl Broadley

In 1908 "The Vega Sentinel" was founded. It was succeeded later by "The Oldham County News" and today we have "The Vega Enterprise," which is edited and published by Karl Broadley...

... veteran of WW I and II and is in the Naval Reserves at the present time. He played football with TCU, Drake University in Des Moines; Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia; Marionville College in Missouri and on the Cleveland, Ohio pro team. He was all-around athlete in various colleges.

"The Vega Enterprise," which has a circulation of 600 and blankets Oldham County, is outstanding in its correct use of English and thoroughness of stories. It contains special features such as the weather report written by Dr. O. H. Loyd, U. S. weather observer, and "Howdy, Neighbor" by Karl Broadley.

Broadley is assisted on the paper by Vernon Dicken, Inter-type operator and printer, but as to the writing of the news, Broadley does most of that himself—society and all. "The Vega Enterprise" is published every Friday.

Homer Fox Says: Did You Know..

Back in the fall of 1915, my brother, J. A. Fox, traded for the Wood store located on the northwest corner of the square at Vega. Tess and I moved up there and took over. The new court house was under construction, as the county seat had been moved from Tascosa, and there was quite a bit of activity around town. About the busiest place in town was Maw and Dad Glava's hotel. There was always plenty of conversation around there and

I particularly remember, all the hot water that Dad would get into over a durned parrot of Maw's. Quite a pair of folks, but they were good to all and wanted their boarders to be comfortable and happy.

Not many stores in Vega at this time; ours on the corner, Smith's pool hall and a little drug store east of us; a couple old traveling men out of Amarillo to put in a new grocery store on the corner on the west side; a small barber shop, Hale's general store and the hardware store south of there. Of course the hotel was on the northeast corner but wasn't open at this time. We made a lot of friends there and we still remember a lot of them. The Wisemans, Sam Jacksons, Jil Iveys, Farmer Jones, Dave Lisle, Lillie Godwin, Dr. Loyd, Allen Stagg, John Hall-burton, Charles Slyvia, Frank Smith, Ben Short, Hales, Shields, Bells, Morris, Roy Ivey, and many more that we can't recall at this time.

I remember my first experience with a "Revenooer" was in Vega. This bird walked in and asked to see my tobacco license. I really didn't know what he was talking about. Why would anyone need a tobacco license? I didn't like the looks of this guy anyway. He weighed about 110 pounds, had real black hair little beady eyes and the cutest little "nasty" moustache you ever saw. I felt like I could lick him and really was ready, but I sort-er kept my mouth shut to find out what the score was, and I did. He walked around to the cigar case and showed me where I had broke all the Federal laws they had on tobacco. He made me pay the license and stuck a fine on that; then walked next door to Frank Smith's pool hall and did Frank the same way. I was pretty mad when it was over, but I wasn't half as mad as Frank Smith and I will bet a nickel that he remembers it plenty well today.

For Christmas 1915, I stocked a pretty fair sized stock of fire works and they didn't sell any too good. On Christmas eve, a bunch of the boys came around and decided to wake the old town up and started shooting fire crackers, and we had some pretty large ones. We shot all the fire crackers, then shot all the roman candles, and finally were down to the sky-rockets, and they were big ones. I started to rustle a board to shoot them on and Dave Lillie decided that he didn't need a board and lit one and threw the thing as hard as he could. That thing took off down the street like a snake crawling; when it got opposite the little barber shop it headed for the door, just as a customer came out. In just nothing flat, the customers were all out; in fact the barber had out and the sky rocket had charge. The barber shop didn't burn but that wound up the celebration for that night.

"I remember that the fall and winter of '15 and '16 had been rather open and in March of close to it, the Jackson boy shipped in a big bunch of southern cattle. They were a bunch of thin narrow hipped cattle and we had a severe snow storm in March. Then one morning a chinook wind started and the ground was covered with water snow and ice. I made a trip in the car to Hereford one morning and just did make it. Those cattle died in flocks, but no one ever heard Sam Jackson cry about his loss.

Remember my first experience with an old-time cattle guard was just north of town. Ber Short and I went out north to the brakes quail hunting one day. We had a hard hunt and were both so tired we couldn't hardly get in the car, and when we came to this cattle guard coming back to town, Ben didn't even come close to the runner across that hole and flat footed drove off in it. We dug out some posts, worked until dark but finally got that model T out and going. That was the last time I ever crossed one of those babies and I think I would turn around and go back home today if I had to cross one of them.

No matter how efficient... or how many lamps you may have around the house... they're so much excess baggage if your supply of lamp-bulbs is down to the bottom of the carton. Good light is so necessary to good sight. And a carton of bulbs always on hand is insurance against "bulb snatching"... being without... or inconvenient rushing to the store. Yes, BULBS ARE MIGHTY IMPORTANT... cleanliness is, too! Your lamps and fixtures should be kept clean. Dust and dirt can rob you of half the light you pay for. Light-conditioning your home is economical, too... low cost, dependable electric service makes it so!
