SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Around Town

In response to The Brand's request Sunday for discussion pro or con on the Hereford bond issue, several junior high students have written letters about the issue. In keeping with our statement pledging unbiased publishing of all letters, letters from these students will be found inside this issue.

Sadie Hawkins Day, scheduled November 16 at the Star theater, has been called off due to a lack of entries, according to Francis Hardwick, theater owner.

Urlin Streu was toastmaster for the evening at the Monday night meeting of the Hereford Toastmaster club. Ted Ford was topic master.

Prepared speeches were given by Frank Miller, Dick Barnard, Clint Formby, and George McLean. Paul Conaway served as general evaluator for these speeches.

Urlin Streu and Jim Kirby gave practice speeches.

Due to a lack of space, all the letters on the bond issue submitted by students at the Hereford junior high school could not be printed. Also, some of the letters arrived too late to be set into type.

The Hereford Garden club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. P. Slaton Friday afternoon. An executive board meet will be held at 2:30 with the regular meeting scheduled for 3 p.m.

The Hereford public schools are holding open house this week in connection with National Education week. Parents are invited to visit the schools during the week. Radio programs featuring talks in connection with National Education week are also being held.

School Bond Issue

(Ed. Note — Below is printed a letter by a citizen of the community presenting his views on the proposed bond issue to build a new high school for Hereford. In Sunday's issue of The Brand, a letter urging support of the school bond issue was printed in this space. The Brand sincerely urges all qualified voters to go to the polls on Saturday, Nov. 17 and vote their honest convictions on this question. Additional letters on the bond issue will be found inside this issue.)

To the Editor:

Regarding the building of a complete new million-dollar school plant in Hereford, I think there is a right and a wrong time for such an undertaking and I most certainly think this is the wrong time. Drastic shortages of basic materials are putting the squeeze on building of schools, roads, and houses at this time. Hundreds of projects already set to go, will have to be postponed or abandoned entirely.

Schools, roads, houses, and construction in general have been earmarked to be the first home-front sacrifice of the rearmament program. The Federal government, deciding who get materials and who doesn't, has already flatly refused about 85 out of every 100 requests for building materials in very recent weeks.

A surging boom in public works construction at this time is about to wither and die, as a result of the present federal policy. "Schools" have been allotted only about 40 percent of the steel that they want, and actually need; hospitals, 75 percent; and roads about 50 percent.

Private building, also, will feel the big squeeze. Home builders in 1952 will get about two thirds the materials for houses as they are building this year.

Commercial construction is taking the biggest cut of all. Those who want to build theaters, stores, motels and all such building are getting less than 20 percent of the steel and critical materials they requested.

The primary cause of this building squeeze is the approaching shortage of basic metals, according to Government officials. With consumers asking for about one-third more steel, copper and aluminum than producers can make, these officials now are preparing to cut everybody's supplies. But construction in general is taking the biggest cut.

The effect of this policy is to crimp the building plans of hundreds of schools, churches, highways departments, manufacturers and merchants of all kinds, many of whom will lose money, time and effort because they cannot get Washington's clearance on their projects in the months just ahead.

Educators from all four corners of the U. S. besieged Congress for aid for building materials in early October and now count on getting sizeable increase in their first 1952 steel rations. But none of them expects it to satisfy their demands. Over 700 new school projects already have been delayed.

Right here I would like to set out in specific detail the prospects for the requests of schools, roads and houses for the first three months of 1952:

Schools asked for 250,000 tons of steel. They got 96,000 tons about 65,000 tons of this will be used on schools already under construction, leaving only 11,000 tons for new projects. The officials estimate that at least six times that much steel or 66,000 tons is needed to get only the most urgently needed or required schools started.

Roads offer a similar picture. Over 600 major roads improvements are lacking steel and other basic materials at the present time. For the first three months of 1952, highways have been allotted 2,000,000 tons of steel. That is 20 percent less than was allowed them in the present calendar quarter. In the three months just past the highway contractors got actual delivery on only about two thirds of the steel that was promised them.

Houses: They are about to be drastically curtailed. Builders in general stockpiled enough materials and fixtures last summer to keep going for a while, but their stockpiles are getting very low now. Housing is to be held to a maximum of about 850,000 units in 1952, which is about 30 percent below 1951.

From the above picture, the outlook in brief is for a rather drastic curtailment in all building during the months just ahead. But in the course of another year officials expect the crisis to be over and steel and building materials in general to be more plentiful.

I am a taxpayer of Deaf Smith county. Pay taxes in the Hereford high school district and the Rural district as well. I am for good schools, good churches, and good roads. In fact, Mr. Zerrell Thomas and myself really and truly are the Daddy's of the present 14-mile farm-to-market road just completed. We were the first two men or taxpayers, who met with the commissioners court and proposed a bond election to try to get some paved roads in the county and we were successful in our efforts. I do not mention this road project to seek any credit for Mr. Thomas and myself but rather to emphasize the fact that I am for good schools, roads, churches, etc.

I think this is the most expensive and most critical time we could undertake to build a complete new school plant, and I have written this letter in the interest of all taxpayers or voters who might go to the polls Saturday and vote on his issue.

I personally, am opposed to this almost million dollar building program for at least another year. Any proposed construction under prevailing conditions run far in excess of the original proposed costs.

Very respectfully,
 Leo V. Gallagher
 Hereford, Texas

Methodists OK "Ideas Unlimited"

A foundation for subsidizing new and unusual projects of service for the Methodist church has been established by Larry Moore, Suamico, Wis., according to an announcement made from the pulpit of the Methodist church last Sunday by Rev. Don Davidson, pastor.

Moore, one of the leading mutation mink breeders of the world, has offered the local church ownership of a mink ranch. The offer was accepted in a recent quarterly conference session by the church.

"Most of the profits of the operation under the direction of Larry Moore will be used for some time to care for costs of establishing the unit, but it is expected that in three years, some $10,000 or $15,000 each year will be available to promote missions, church extension, training scholarships, educational projects, and other worthy church enterprises," Rev. Davidson said in a statement to The Brand.

Three members of the North-Texas Annual Conference—Don Davidson of Hereford, Frank Perry of Trinity church in Amarillo, and Conrad Ryan of Groom—have been named as directors of the new foundation, which is chartered as "Ideas Unlimited."

Four Renamed To PMA Posts In Balloting

Four members of the Deaf Smith county Production and Marketing committee were renamed in the mail election completed by the agency on November 12.

Re-named were: Nester E. Gass, chairman; Paul S. Mathers, vice-chairman; and Palmer Norton, regular member; Clinton Jackson, first alternate. Les Benefield was elected as a new second alternate.

A total of 232 ballots were cast this year in comparison with 316 last year, according to Faust Collier, secretary of the PMA.

Voting for the individual offices was as follows:

Chairman
 Nester E. Gass, 140; J. Lisle Woodford, 89.

Vice-Chairman
 Paul S. Mathers, 117; Jack Brown, 113.

Regular Member
 Palmer Norton, 156; Herbert Bippus, 72; Ed Dzuick, 1.

HEREFORD RURAL HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT SCHOOL BOND ELECTION NOVEMBER 17, 1951

NOTE: Voter's signature to be affixed on the reverse side.

ABOVE IS AN OFFICIAL ballot which will be used in voting Saturday, Nov. 17 on the proposed $950,000 bond issue to build the Hereford Rural School district a new high school. The polling place will be in the Deaf Smith county courthouse between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. R. G. Lewis is the election judge. He will be assisted by Sylvester Slagle, assistant judge; Mrs. Earl Phillips, and Mrs. Hilton Higgins, clerks. Other Clerks will be named later.

No Grain Prop Hike in Face of Freight Rise

Deaf Smith county farmers will have to absorb the recent freight increase of 6% on shipments of loan 1951 grain sorghums to the terminal markets, according to a U. S. Department of Agriculture letter forwarded to The Brand by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

The resultant loss make the farmer's net loan rate for 1951 grain sorghums less than the government-announced 75% of parity.

An editorial pointing out this discrepancy was published in the October 10 Sunday Brand. A copy of the editorial was sent to Senators Connally and Johnson and Representatives Rogers and Beckworth. The editorials asked for a review of this situation.

Briefly, the reasons for the denial, as listed by Harold K. Hill, deputy administrator of the USDA are as follows: parity price on grains represents the price to farmers at the elevator door of their local shipping stations, terminal rates for grain are announced to represent a figure of the local rate plus average shipping costs. County rates cannot be increased or decreased because they represent, as nearly as possible, the correct local relationship to U. S. parity.

The letter further stated that farm - stored and local - stored grain still brings the parity price minus storage. The increase is applicable to all grains, the USDA says. To simply increase terminal rates because of the freight increase without restriction would cause a windfall to the early shipper who has not yet completed a loan. A careful time-consuming audit of each freight bill and warehouse receipt would be required to prevent such a windfall. Budget and personnel limitations make this check impossible, the letter stated.

The letter from the USDA follows: Hon. Lyndon B. Johnson, United States Senate, Dear Senator Johnson:

This is in reply to your request of October 10, 1951, regarding the grain sorghum editorial appearing in the October 7 issue of The Hereford Brand.

We have had this situation under consideration since the first 2 percent increase was granted and have held several discussions with members of the grain trade in Texas with a view to some sort of adjustment to reflect the increase in freight charges which became effective September 12, 1951. We have given this matter very thorough consideration; at the time the 2 percent increase in freight charges was approved and later when the increase to 6 percent was announced, and have arrived at the conclusion that no adjustment in price support rates at the time of making loans or in settlement of loans can be put in effect for the current crop. The reasons for this decision are as follows:

(1) Parity prices on grains represent a price to farmers at the elevator door of their shipping stations. Consequently, it is necessary to determine support rates on a similar basis insofar as is administratively practicable. This means that the support rates announced for any grain for any county must insofar as possible reflect a proper relationship with every other county in the United States.

On grains such as grain sorghums, wheat, barley, and rye, which ordinarily move off the farm to recognized terminals, it has been customary to announce terminal market price support rates for county points only by the amount of the average freight including freight tax and country elevator in-and-out charges. No allowance is made for commis-

$2250 Allowance On School Plans If Issue OK'd

An allowance of $2250 on the plans for the new Hereford high school — if approved — will be made by Macon O. Carder, Amarillo architect who designed the proposed new school.

Carder and the board of trustees for the school district met Tuesday night and made arrangements for the allowance. Carder was paid $4,500 for plans drawn up for the Hereford gymnasium. The architect was paid immediately after plans and specifications for the new gym were submitted by seven contractors in 1947.

The board rejected all bids submitted because of lack of funds to build gymnasium.

This 50% allowance was agreed upon between Carder and the board. The board approved it by a majority vote.

"Messiah" Solo Auditions This Coming Sunday

Auditions for soloists for the Hereford Civic Chorus' presentation of the Messiah will be held at Amarillo college Saturday, Nov. 17, according to Mattie Mae Swisher, president of the chorus.

Singers who wish to tryout for a solo part should go to the Amarillo college between the hours of 10 to 12 and 2 to 4 Saturday.

Nine new singers were present at the last rehearsal of the "Messiah" Sunday afternoon.

New singers were: Denise Magness, Joyce Miller, Sue Scarth, Earlene Walton, Mrs. Robert Lingfelter, Mrs. Merlin Kaul, David Goldston, Bill Wolfe.

Singers from the Amarillo and Canyon Messiah chorus will join the Hereford Civic chorus in their presentation on December 2.

"Tax and Spend" Ruination Of Small Business: Rogers

If the present American trend of taxing and spending keeps up, "you are going to be forced to get on somebody's payroll and hope to get on Social Security or go to the other extreme and inherit a fortune from some one and live on the principal until it runs out."

Those were the words of Cong. Walter Rogers, U. S. representative from the 18th district, who addressed area civic and business leaders Monday at Hotel Jim Hill.

In making the above statement, Rogers was referring to the plight of the little business man "and we are all 'little' business men out here" — who are feeling the pinch through increased government expenditures and taxes.

Making Hereford one of his stops through the district following the adjournment of Congress, Rep. Rogers availed himself of the opportunity to bring his thoughts and ideas to the voters in person.

He said that defense expenditures should be watched because they are 81% of the budget.

"None of us deny the defense program, but because you call something a defense program doesn't make it a sacred cow," he told the group.

After explaining briefly his views on accusations of govern-tion charges, switching charges and other miscellaneous charges which are collected in varying amounts when grain is shipped from country points to terminals. The terminal rates published are for the convenience of farmers who wish to store their grain in terminal position rather than on the farm or in local elevator storage. County support rates would not be increased or decreased because of changes in freight rates after they once have been published, because they do represent as nearly as possible the correct local relationship to U. S. Parity.

(2) In accordance with the provisions of Agricultural Legislation, these final county and terminal price support rates are announced at, or shortly in advance of, the beginning of the marketing year and hold throughout the marketing season. Grain sorghum rates were furnished the Texas State PMA Committee for early harvest counties on June 22, 1951.

(3) Since price support is available at its full value for farm-stored, and at full value less storage charges for grain sorghums stored in local warehouses, we feel that farmers are receiving full price support on all grain stored in these locations because no freight shipment is involved. Any grain stored by producers at terminal or transit points is stored there for each farmer's own convenience and advantage and he should assume any extra costs because of such movement.

(4) The increase in freight rates of 2 percent and again on September 12 to 6 percent is applicable to all grains. Therefore, the problem presented for grain sorghums is applicable in greater or lesser degree to all grains, depending upon the dates on which shipments have taken place. To simply increase terminal rates because of the freight increase without restriction would cause a windfall to the early shipper who has not yet completed a loan. A careful and time-consuming audit of each freight bill and warehouse receipt would be required to prevent such a windfall. Because of the intricacies of freight rate structures, qualified examiners for such an undertaking are not available. Furthermore, budget and personnel limitations make this impossible on oil commodities shipped to terminal or sub-terminal storage.

(5) Whenever a farmer puts grain sorghums or any similar commodity under loan he should not consider such loan to be a sale of grain to the Government but merely a protection against having to sell his grain at prices below the support level.

Changeover to Tractors Presents Greater Problem of Conservation

The changeover from horses and mules to tractors has greatly increased the problem of conserving the soil on the farms of Deaf Smith county, according to Faust Collier, executive secretary of the county PMA committee.

Although some of the land which was previously in pasture and hay to provide feed for horses and mules is still in soil-conserving grasses and legumes producing feed for dairy and for beef cattle, the introduction of the tractor has made land available for increasing the acreage of row crops.

As Collier sees it, aside from the loss of the manure to help maintain soil fertility, there also is a loss due to the shift from protective sod crops to soil depleting row crops. This means that if the fertility of our land is to be maintained and improved, other steps must be taken to offset the loss resulting from the change over from horses and mules to tractors.

Collier points out, emphasizes the need for a nationwide effort to stimulate by the Agricultural Conservation Program with its direct assistance to encourage farmers to carry out needed conservation on their own farms and for the work carried on through soil conservation districts.

Collier advises that since World War I more than 63 million acres of cropland, or roughly one-sixth of our total acreage of harvested crops, have been released from the production of feed for horses and mules and made available for the production of food and fiber for human consumption.

He said that while tractors relieve farmers should know that we have seriously considered their problems in connection with the recent rail freight increase.

Sincerely yours,
Harold K. Hill
Deputy Administrator

still replacing horses and mules as a source of farm power, there are now nearly 4 million tractors including 275 thousand of garden type. Back at the end of World War I there were only about 158 thousand tractors. At that time there were nearly 25 million horses and mules. On January 1, 1951, there were less than 7 1/2 million.

was the result of an accident early Monday morning east of Hereford. A Ferguson-Steere gasoline truck driven by John M. Faulkner hit a culvert and swayed out of control. The truck slid along the edge of the culvert, tearing the wheels out from under the entire right side of the truck and trailer and ended up in a field near the road.

Another accident occurred Friday night between Canyon and Hereford, when a 1947 Plymouth driven by Merle Bridges hit a horse. Damage to the car was estimated at $255 by Highway Patrolman J. A. Dumas, who investigated the accident.

Sgt. Richard R. Oakes, who was wounded in action on September 28, landed in the United States November 8, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Maudie Linville.

Sgt. Oakes was transferred to a hospital in San Antonio and will be home before Christmas.

Nothing was reported stolen during a reported break-in at the home of Dr. L. B. Barnett last week, according to Sheriff J. C. Reese.

Miss Amelia Anthony, founder of Girltown at Whiteface, Texas in March, 1949, will speak Thursday a tith annual guest day meeting of the L'Allegria Study club. Proceeds from the drawing for the Interantional Harvester home freezer will be presented to Miss Anthony at this meeting. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. O. G. Hill Jr. at 3 p.m. Thursday afternoon, Nov. 18.

Visitors last week in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Angelo and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gore were: Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hall of Corpus Christi, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hill of Tucumcari, Mr. and Mrs. S. The WOMAN and Her BANK

Many years ago, banks were as remote as the moon to most women. Handling financial matters was strictly a job for the man of the house.

How times have changed! The modern woman in this day and age is very often the family money manager. As every banker knows, more and more of the banking business in this country is being done by women.

HOW TO MAKE DEPOSITS

Your bank furnishes deposit tickets which should be made out by the depositor. If you make a mistake, tear up the ticket and write a new one.

Whether you deposit a check in person or by mail, endorse it "For Deposit Only," followed by your signature.

Keep a record for yourself of all the checks you deposit and from whom they came. To speed service at the teller's window, which is to everyone's advantage including your own, do these things:

List the amount of each check separately on the deposit ticket. Write in the bank's transit number (the hyphenated number printed on the check).

Add all the items on the ticket—silver, currency and checks—and be sure the total is correct. Then the bank will verify your figures. In this way, you will prevent mistakes and misunderstandings about the kind and amount of each deposit.

Use our convenient bank-by-mail service if you live at a distance from the bank or find that there are times when you cannot make your deposit in person. Full details will be found in this booklet. . . .

Tax

ment officials — he called for a "love thy neighbor" attitude — and on the Communist trials in New York. Cong. Rogers told about the budgeting and appropriation methods used in Congress to arrive at the latest budget.

Explaining the nation's economic welfare from his viewpoint, Rogers said we must get the national debt down into a position where we will be secure and not liable to a flip flop into inflation.

In order to run a business, he said, you must first figure how much money is available and then figure expenditures. On the last budget and budget appropriations, he said, the budget bill was sidetracked and the appropriations pushed through the Congress. They decided what they wanted to spend and then figured the needed tax.

Rogers said he doesn't expect to see tax laws repealed because once the government increases taxes, it is hard to reduce them.

"You can always find places to use the money," he said.

Rogers said he believed that this is the last tax bill that would be passed, because of several Congressional expressions of distaste of having to approve this one.

On income taxes, Rogers said the individual incomes in 1941 gave the Bureau of Internal Revenue 1.4 billions and in 1951, the figure rose to 26.6 billions. That is an 1800% increase in receipts from individual income. All of that is out of the withholding system.

In regard to "soaking the rich" on taxes, Rogers pointed out that if all the incomes in the U. S. over $10,000 per year were taxed 100%, it would only yield $3,500,000,000. If all the incomes over $4000 were taxed 100%, it would yield 10 billion in taxes.

An economic theory that national taxation of more than 25% will bring on inflation is getting a trial right now, he said, because taxes are running about 29% of individual income. In 1948, he said a man earning $3,500 per year paid $908 in taxes—$230 individual income; $430 in other "hidden" excise taxes; and $248 to local units.

Cage Drills Open Monday; First Game November 30

Basketball practice for the Hereford Whitefaces will begin Monday, Nov. 19 according to Coach Wayne Stark. The first game of the season will be at Bovina on Friday, Nov. 30.

Hereford will play the dedication game at the new Plainview gymnasium on December 6.

A new workout schedule has been prepared for this season, Stark said, to eliminate the mixing of "A" and "B" squads during practice sessions.

Practice time for the B boys will be from 3 p.m. to 4:15 p.m. The varsity will practice 4:15 p.m. to about 6 p.m.

A 15-game schedule with three invitational tournaments will highlight the cage activity for the Herd this year.

There will be no district tournament, but rather a double round robin tournament, with each conference foe meeting twice.

Prospects for the cagers this year look pretty bright with only four of the 1950 stalwarts — Engman, McBroom, Brock, and Teed — leaving the fold.

On the brighter side of the picture, Stark will again have the services of six seniors from the 1950 varsity — Graham, Kelly, Dement, White, Thomas, and Mathers.

Others who will be suiting up Monday include: Harold Morton, 3 squad last year; Marshall Wilson, B and A last year; Franklin Boyd, B; Gene Dickson, B; R. L. Laymon, B; Pat McCullough, B; and Paul Schroeter, B.

Cagers from Coach Dalton Criswell's junior team of last year who have been working out during physical education classes recently are: Everett Allen, Joel Newman, Tom Woodford, Ronnie Hembree, Joe Streun, Terry McRight, and Bill Carmichael. This list has some promising material on it, Stark said.

Stark hopes to better the 1950 mark of 13 wins and 14 losses if possible. His greatest trouble is the inadequacy of facilities for practice. The staggered schedule now in effect will help ease the situation a little.

Hereford will participate in three invitational tournaments: Dalhart, January 3, 4, 5; Friona, January 10, 11, 12; and Tulia, January 17, 18, 19.

BILLY GENE WHITE, 163-pound guard for the Hereford Whitefaces, has moved over to an offensive right guard spot. White, who is 6'2", had B team experience last year. He is 16 years old. —Patton Photo

Tulia Final Herd Grid Foe Friday

Hereford will play its last football game of the season as it tries to knock Tulia out of undisputed first place in District 2-AAA Friday night at Younger Field in Tulia.

The Tulia Hornets, a big, powerful club, will try to avenge the 14-7 defeat inflicted by the Herd in their last and only meeting in 1950.

Coach Dalton Criswell's Whitefaces will be trying for their first conference win and for a 4-6 record for the season.

The Whitefaces, who displayed tremendous spirit and fight in Friday night's 9-6 bow to Canyon, rate strongly to knock the Hornets out of their nest.

Tulia has taken their two conference games, chopping down Canyon 12-0 on November 2 and last week's 26-7 win over Floydada.

Hereford can be the bull in Tulia's conference china shop Friday night by taking this tilt.

The Hornets have a mighty good ball club, but are without the services of their all-district guard, a boy by the name of Ballinger, and one mere lineman plus a fleet back.

Tulia has lost to Dymmitt and to Dumas in non-loop games this year.

Hereford's final grid enemy runs a lot of power stuff off a single wing formation. Up until about two weeks ago, Coach Tim Tilley's eleven did most of their work from the standard "T".

Tulia has loads of power straight ahead, but not too much speed wide. The passing attack is better than average with a junior by the name of Luke flipping from the quarter back slot. Another boy to keep an eye on.

Tag Team Tournery Beginning Here

Two one-fall wrestling matches which ended in draws provided the curtain-opening entertainment for wrestling fans in Hereford Saturday night.

An Australian tag team match between Alex Kasabaski and Leo Wallick versus Johnnie and Jesse James wound up the night's mat thrills.

Names of the members of the other three teams will be announced later.

Next Saturday's complete card is as follows:

First event — Leo Wallick vs. Ace Freeman. One fall, 20-minute.

Second event — Alex Kasabaski vs. Tommy Martindale. One fall, 20-minute.

Main event — Wallick and Kasabaski versus Martindale and Freeman. Australian tag team match. One hour, time limit or two out of three falls.

drop kicks.

The two combinations that wrestled Saturday night will compete as teams in a six-team Southwestern Junior Heavyweight tag team tournament.

The Wallick-Kasabaski combination will wrestle Tommy Martindale and Ace Freeman on next Saturday's card.

In the first bout, a 20-minute affair, Kasabaski, Canadian bruiser, fought Johnnie James of Los Angeles to a draw. As usual, Kasabaski didn't fail the crowd in their expectations of a slam-bang thriller.

Brother Jesse James and Leo Wallick, the piledriver expert, put on a good display of wrestling — as Wallick always does.

The feature event of the evening pitted Kasabaski and Wallick against the James boys in a tag team match — one hour or two out of three falls.

Kasabaski took the first fall in six minutes over Johnnie James with an arm bar and stomping on his arm while he applied the bar.

Jesse won the second fall over Kasabaski with an arm bar in another nine minutes.

Leo Wallick took the third fall over the James duo with a body press following body blocks and

One more lap with Tulia on Friday next and the 1951 Hereford football season will go into the limbo of history. I never reach this stage of the season without recalling the old one that is purported to have occurred at one of the better known institutions of football: The last game of the season had just come to a triumphant close. The coach waited for his boys to get back into the dressing room to start the celebration. Then he entered the noisy room. The players were dancing and yelling, shouting, laughing, pounding each other on the back. Then the tutor spied his brightest star sitting by himself in a dark corner. The boy's head was down in his arms and he was weeping bitterly. The mentor quieted down his exuberant squad and crossed the room.

"My boy," said he tenderly, "I know how you feel now that you have played your last game of football for your alma mater. But why should you cry like this? You've been one of our greatest stars for three glorious years. You will be on everybody's All-American. Your name has been in all the papers, in every football headline. 'Still the lad wept as though his heart would break.' The coach swallowed a

Raymond Webb's Sizzling 19 Wins Grid Contest

Confusion ran rampant in last week-end's football forecasts with all the leaders topping from the week's winner list and a new set of prize-coppers moving in.

Eight and nine misses made up the majority of the misses on last week's contest. The biggest stumbling block, of course, was the Texas A&M-Southern Methodist university 14-14 tie. This tussle was missed by all but one of the contestants — Phyllis Goetsch.

Raymond Webb took top honors guessing 19 out of 23 contest listings correctly. This was a remarkable feat in the face of the one tie and four upset which hampered four picking.

Webb wins $5 in trade at the Hereford Bakery. Shelby Whitfield and Mrs. George L. Olson will share second prize of $3 in cash. The prizes may be obtained at The Brand office.

Katherine Snare, Jim Bookout, Bill Phipps, George L. Olson, E. H. Loerwald.

None of the leads were disturbed in the season's contest for bowl tickets, however. Sophie, Katherine, and Kent Snare lead the field in that order.

Some of the runners-up gained a little ground on the leaders as Kent Snare came in with a 14 score, Katherine a 16, and Sophie Snare a 15.

Hereford Officer One of US "Recallee" Air Force

MILDENHALL, England—For the third time since WW II, the B-29 Superfortresses of the 22nd Bomb Wing (Medium) are streaking contrails high across Europe's skies, but this time there is a big difference.

There are many recent civilians at the controls.

Although essentially a "California" outfit stationed at March Air Force base near Riverside, the 22nd has drawn on flying talent from virtually every State in the Union.

Capt. Merlin Lee Conklin, Hereford, is a member of the 22nd Wing. He is one of about 100 men in the group.

Gone are most of the 22nd's veteran air crews who dumped 6,800 tons of high explosives on the North Koreans late in 1950—gone to new units to spread their recent combat experience throughout the expanding U. S. Air Force.

The new crews are largely made up of "recallees," WW II men who returned to active duty from Reserve status. Fresh from civilian life, the "recallees" have tackled their re-training program enthusiastically. Their sustained drive to reach full combat readiness draws unqualified praise from the Wing's commander, Col. James V. Edmundson, Jr., of Santa Monica, Calif. — and he's not a man to pass out compliments lightly.

"These are top-bracket, hand-picked men," he says. "There is no marginal material among them. They are ambitious, and they are in there pitching to get the job done quickly."

The 22nd has dozens of "Four-Headed Monsters" — men who are qualified as pilot, navigator, bombardier, and radio-radar men.

Flying from three airfields in East Anglia — "the land of The Fens" — the recallees are squeezing every possible flying hour out of their planes. The flying goes on around the clock with ten hours being a normal mission. You can cover a lot of Western Europe in ten hours in a B-29, and the new crews are rapidly becoming familiar with the face of Europe.

Every mission has a definite purpose and is carefully planned and coordinated. Planes might disperse in small groups in many flight patterns over Europe, and then suddenly rendezvous for a simulated mass raid on Paris or London. Oftentimes they fly in conjunction with RAF bombers, including RAF B-29s, which, the English call "Washingtons" coming back into England from Europe, the American bombers can count on being intercepted by RAF jet fighters which are directed by radar. The British are still sharpening up the famed intercept system which won them the "Battle of Britain" and probably staved off a German invasion of the Isles.

The fields used by the Americans hum with activity, and security is almost on a war-time basis. The Superforts are widely dispersed, and any time you go near one of them you will be challenged by a guard carrying a very business-like and loaded shotgun. You've got to have a valid reason for being anywhere near a Baker two-niner.

Runways are being extended, and more taxi ways are being added. American ack-ack crews man their gun emplacements. Hedge-hopping British jets flash in low on these crews and keep them constantly on their toes. The fields are so spread out that nearly everyone has a motor scooter, motorcycle or a bike. The prevalence of motor scooters, California style, is usually lump in his throat, and continued, "What is more, every professional football team wants you. And if you don't want to go on playing football, there isn't a business in the whole country that wouldn't be proud to hire you. Why, with your name and reputation, there is nothing in the world you can't have." At this the boyish All-American wiped his steaming eyes on his sleeve and raised his tear-stained face to his coach. "All that you say is true, coach," he sobbed, "and I sure would be happy about the whole thing if only—if only I had learned to read and write." That coach must have been the same one who was helping a shortstop, with a sagging literature grade, try to make up his deficiency with a thesis on baseball. It being probably the only subject either of them had more than a passing acquaintance with. After a long sojourn they mustered their combined effort and handed it into the professor. That worthy unwound it and found the contents consisted of: "Rain — no game." There has been a lot of smoke and some fire this fall about the huddle and how much time that type of signal calling consumes, now, this is no innovation of discussion, but when a club can only get in 50 or so plays in a contest, it's time to call the man, rack the balls and start over. Some of the better ballteams in the dim past used to employ series play calling and run their plays so fast that oftentimes they had a referee tangled up in the foray. They would have had a field day with that dainty little number that was tripping the light fantastic the other night. At any rate, the use of such tactics would obviate any defensive setting or signal calling against it, even though it would toughen up the substitution situation. Apparently the scribes in the hamlet to the northeast are writing off against Tulia, as their gazette on Sunday said Tulia had the gonfalon cinched in our district and while their faces are probably red from some of their past predictions I can see no reason why we shouldn't deepen the hue a bit. I can hear the rebuttal now — "Tulia is reason enough." So what, they've been beaten before and it can happen again. So, Whitefaces, wind this one up with a win—they're nice, too.

Tulia...

Their bailiwick in England is that picture book countryside northeast of London and south of "The Wash." Across the Channel due east of them lies The Netherlands. The ancient and historic cities of Cambridge, Ely, Kings Lynn, and Bury St. Edmund provide relaxation for the airmen.

Monday's High Winds Damage Remaining Maize in Community

By Mrs. R. C. Childers

The high winds of Monday blew down a lot of maize in this vicinity. About half a crop was harvested off of 60 bushel maize Monday during the storm on the R. C. Childers farm. Others in the community suffered losses amounting to as much or more. This was due to the hard freeze of several weeks ago, causing the stalks to be dry and brittle.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Renfro left Saturday for an extended business conference, and then on to Mississippi where Mr. Renfro will meet with a delegation of men interested in agriculture from the standpoint of growing and shipping. Mrs. Renfro plans to visit her mother, who lives north of Dallas, while they are gone.

Letters to the Editor

(Ed. Note — In the Sunday Brand, we asked for views on the coming bond issue. Member of the Junior high school have submitted letters on the matter, which we publish in keeping with our statement of unbiased presentation of all views.)

Dear Editor,
We, the students of junior high school, are rooting for the school bond to pass.
We thought if you could have a glimpse of the conditions of our junior high school you might be more willing to vote for us.
We have wonderful teachers but we just don't have a building to go to school in. We don't have lockers, enough room, or any of the facilities we earnestly need and have to have. When it is cold we have to walk down the icy halls to our classes and when we go to chorus we have to go up the fire escape that is iced over when it is cold.

The bond issue is to be voted on November 17. We urge you all to vote.

Thank you
A Student
Dear Voters of Hereford:
We, the students of Hereford junior high school, sincerely hope the school bond goes through. If the bond goes through the junior high students would get what is now high school.

The junior high school is a very bad building but we have wonderful teachers. They would be better if we had a system of our own.
We don't have enough courses and the ones we have are dry. If we had a new school the junior high girls could take home economics and the boys could take shop then it wouldn't be so dry.

Junior high school is the only building in the Hereford school system that does not have an auditorium. We could have gyms and other better things.
In the spring we suffocate and in the winter time it is freezing cold. It is a good way to catch a cold going from one warm place to the freezing hall, which is just a breeze way.

Junior high has always been called a fire hazard. It would take it only six minutes to burn.
To go to band and chorus we have to go across the tennis court which is very bad in winter. The drinking fountains are very unsanitary under the trees out in the open. The lockers are in very bad condition.

The school is not well lighted or ventilated. The hall is a very bad place to break a neck in the winter time.
We are hereby urging you to vote one way or the other. We hope it will be for the high school.
We have 300 pupils in nine rooms. We sure need a high school.

Our teachers are not behind this it is our own opinion.
Sincerely yours,
Frances Thomas
Sue Sumner

Dear Voters of Hereford:
We, the students of junior high school, feel it is our duty to inform you, the citizens of Hereford, of the poor schooling facilities of our junior high school. A distinguished businessman recently visited Hereford and commented that for a city with such beautiful and expensive churches and other public buildings, he was disappointed to find such disagreeable school buildings for junior high.

Experts have investigated and found that it was a fire trap and would burn to the ground in less than six minutes. Also the gas seeps in through the walls and could easily cause an explosion. The lighting, heating and ventilating facilities are extremely poor. We have no gym and our band and chorus have to meet completely across the grounds. To go from class to class you must go through an open hall, which in winter gets icy and slick. Also this is the only school building without an auditorium.

In closing we would like to urge you to vote one way or the other for the school bond.

Dear Voters:
As the entire student body of the Hereford schools, we want to have every citizen of Hereford to turn out to the polls and vote Saturday.

In the winter, pupils of the Hereford junior high sit around with their coats on. In the spring it is just like a furnace. In almost every room there are about 28 to 30 pupils. Heating is very poor and the lighting is even worse.

When the temperature goes below freezing, the halls are cold and slick. People tumble down on the ice and water drips down through many leaks in the rooms. The hall is uncovered and when it is raining it is pouring through.

It is up to you, the citizens of Hereford, to release us of these disagreeable accommodations.
Thank you,
The students of the Hereford schools

Dear Voters:
I am an eighth grade student in junior high school and since this bond is coming up about a new school I would like to tell you what I think about it. We have a good school but we think that we should have a new building.

On hot days here we have a very bad time. It is so warm that it disturbs our lessons. And on cold, rainy days we have to walk out in the open to band and chorus. Our heating system is not at all good. Between classes we have to go down the hall in the open.

The building that we are in now could burn down from three to six minutes.
We, of junior high school, urge the Hereford citizens to vote — and vote for the new school.
Thank you,
Verita Sanders

Dear Voters: We, the students of junior high school, would like to report to you the condition of our school building. Every period we have to change rooms for each class. In the winter it is not funny to step out of one class into icy halls and nearly slip in them. If we take band or chorus we have to go across the grounds to have it. Our buildings have been called fire hazards. We also do not have our own auditorium and have to borrow high school's.

Please do not think we are complaining but I do hope all voters take interest in voting for the school bond.
Sincerely yours,
Carol Joe Sparks

Dear Editor:
I am a student of the eighth grade at junior high school.

I saw the article in The Brand about the school bond. From the way things stand now I am afraid this bond won't go through. I thought that there might be a probability that if we, the students of junior high school, show enough interest and concern over our school and the poor equipment we have, that the public might see our need for a new school building.

I want you to know we have a good school system but we haven't a good school building. This temporary building is hot in the summer and in the winter it is air conditioned. The breeze-way down the middle of the two rows of buildings is dangerous. When it rains or snows it freezes on the hall and we very easily slip down. Every period we step from a warm room into the cold hall and get chilled.

If we had a better and larger building, we could have more courses that are of interest and advantage to us. To have music we have to go across the grounds or snowing the fire escape, which we have to climb to get to the auditorium, is very slick.

I hope the voters of Hereford will try to see themselves in our place. We urge everyone to go to the polls and vote one way or the other.

Yours respectively,
Mildred Kelly

Dear Editor:
You asked everyone interested in the school bond to write a letter to The Brand stating his or her opinion.
As students of junior high school we need a building to go to school in. The facilities of junior high are very poor.

We have to go to high-school for our music classes and in winter when it is freezing it is dangerous because of the slippery walks.

It isn't very pleasant to step out of classes every period into an open hall which is very cold in winter and dirty on rainy days or like a sieve on rainy days. It is a fire hazard and it is estimated that it would burn in 5-6 minutes.

We are for the school bond because we will get the old high school which is badly needed.

We aren't criticizing our school but we urge you the people of Hereford to go to the polls Saturday and vote one way or the other.

Sincerely yours,
Nancy Story
Sammie McLallen

Dear Brand:
We are two of the many students in junior high school. After the school bond didn't go through last time we, and a few other in our school, decided to express our opinion after your article in The Sunday Brand.

We don't just need a new school anymore — we've got to have it!
Junior high was supposedly temporarily for during the war. The war has been over five years and no new school building yet!

If a small farm community like Walcott can build a new school it looks like to us that it would be possible for a town like Hereford to build one.

People have been saying how large Hereford it lately (over 5,000) but to look at the school building you couldn't tell it.

Some people say that if the school was good enough for them, its good enough for the kids now days, but we don't think so. We think the junior high school building is the worst building in the school system. We would get the old high school building if they build a new high school.

Then we would have science laboratories, a gym, an auditorium and other things we do not have here. Not that you have to vote for it necessarily but just please vote.

Two junior high students
Dear Voters:
We, the students of Hereford junior high school, wish to express the need of a new high school building which we need. We are not complaining because our teachers are doing their best to help us.

We have to go to the high school buildings for chorus and to the band hall for band. The cafeteria is away from the school building and we have to stand out in the weather to get to eat.

This building is not safe in case of fire. It would burn in less than six minutes. The rooms are not lighted correctly which makes it hard for us to study. The heating and ventilation is not the best of health giving air in the world. The class rooms are divided by an open hall, which gets slick when it snows and the weather is rainy. This is the only

Eddie LaNelle Morrison

Dear Voters:

I am an eighth grade student of junior high school. There is a bond issue coming up as you all know. Many of you who would vote against it do not know what poor facilities there are. For instance there are many many more subjects which could be taught but are not because of the lack of facilities.

Also in the winter we must change rooms each period and go through open halls which are not desirable in most of the weather. Also the lighting and heating are very, very poor. We also are the only school which does not have an auditorium and gym of our own. We must depend on the other schools. There are many more undesirable points which I shall not mention.

You must all know that we do have the best teachers a school could have but they could even be better if we had proper facilities. We want you to also know this is a letter in reply to your request and is not a teachers idea.

We urge you to go to the polls and vote for or against it. Please remember these facts as you vote.

Thank you,
Linda Reese

To whom it may concern:

There was an article in The Sunday Brand asking for letters on the bond issue for a new high school. When the new high school is built the high school will be junior high. The present junior high building was set up in 1947 as a temporary building. The junior high building is two barracks with an open hall supporting the two buildings. In the winter, it is easy to catch cold and pneumonia by going from a warm room to the cold frozen hall. The furnaces do not work correctly. It is a regular fire trap and it would take less than six minutes for it to be gone. We also do not have the proper facilities for teaching. The rooms are too crowded. Most of the furniture is about to fall apart. In the spring, we have to open the doors to keep from suffocating and we can hear the rest of the rooms. We do not mean to criticize junior high but to encourage you to vote.

The teachers did not put us up to talking about our school, it is our very own idea. Please vote Saturday, Nov. 17.

Knowing that the bond passed will make a very nice Christmas present for the students of the public schools.

Sincerely,
Two students of junior high

Dear Editor and Citizens of Hereford:

We, the students of the eighth grade, think we have an excellent school system, but due to the lack of space and equipment, we are hindered in enjoying the modern facilities which most schools enjoy. The building in which we have classes has been called a fire hazard many times. In spring it is like a smelting pit and in winter it is "badly heated and uncomfortable. We don't expect much, because next year we will be in high school, but we would like to leave a better school for the students of junior high hereafter. So, we urge you one and all to come to the polls and vote for the coming bond election.

Sincerely yours,
Christene Strain
Martha Teague

Dear Voters:

We have our fingers crossed that you will vote for a new Hereford high school. Here at junior high school we have regular skating rink everytime it freezes out in the hall. We don't have an auditorium, we have to use high schools when they are not using it. We have to put on our coats everytime we change classes when its cold. We have shelves on the wall for lockers. We don't have a gym. We have only nine classrooms for about 280 pupils to go. It is a regular fire trap. Will you please take pity on us and vote for a new Hereford high school.

Yours truly,
Wanda Ruth Kimbrough
Juanita Bean
Gay Morton

To the Hereford Voters:

The bond for a new high school building is going to be put before the Hereford citizens Saturday, Nov. 17. If the bond goes through, junior high school will receive the present high school building. We, junior high students, are in dire need for an adequate building. The teaching staff is doing a wonderful job with the students, but they have nothing to work in. We, the students of junior high school would appreciate very much if the Hereford citizens would go to the polls to vote one way or another. We want to impress upon the need for a good building. Our present building is cold in the winter and hot in the summer. The locker facilities are very poor. There are about 300 in junior high. It has been estimated that the building would burn down in six minutes if we had the present high school building, we could have many more courses than we now have. Our courses would also be much more efficient. Last year the evaluating committee said junior high school was a disgrace. We would also like for the voters to know this was our own idea and NOT the teachers or principal's.

We sincerely wish the people of Hereford could realize our need for a better building. Hereford is going to have to build school sooner or later anyhow. We want a good building for the future students. We urge you to please go to the polls and vote.

Sincerely yours,
Earle Dean Gandy
Carolyn Virden

Dear Voters:

We are writing this letter to express our sentiments of Junior High School. It has no gymnasium or auditorium. The chorus pupils are forced to use the High School Auditorium for choral practice and the Band students are practicing in an old barrack back of the High school. Junior High is nothing but a fire trap. Last winter while we were having the 19 degree below zero weather the rooms were 40 degrees. When it snows and freezes the halls are covered with ice which causes many falls which could be prevented if we had a new school. We are forced to change classes every 45 minutes in weather, good or bad. The science laboratory has no equipment except for a microscope.

We pupils feel we are gratefully in need of a new school. The High School is over run with pupils and so is Junior High. We have 8 class rooms and a study hall, for all of our 280 students.

JUNIOR HIGH INVITES ALL VOTERS TO VISIT THE SCHOOL DURING WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, AND FRIDAY.

We sincerely hope you voters will have pity on us and build a new High School. Even though it will raise your taxes we are sure you would not want your children to go to such a school. We urge all of you to vote for a new HIGH SCHOOL.

Sincerely Yours,
Mackie Redwine
Mary Oswald

that are wonderful about junior high. We have a wonderful air-conditioned hallway except in the winter, it is a little too air-conditioned. Some things which are very unpleasant are the water fountains which bugs crawl around in. In the lockers some people have to share them. In that way you can't put a library book in the locker. I would like to tell you that this wasn't any teachers request to write this letter. It was a boy in junior high school and a very well-known one.

Please, get to the polls and vote

one way or the other.

Thank you,
Mary Sue Suggs

Additional letters in favor of the school bond issue were received from: Pat Smith, Joy Morton, Marlene Legg, Donna Rae McLaughlin, Gene Streun, Beverly Ann Eldridge, Frances Andrews, Billy Reinauer, Patsy Ford, Wynema Rhodes, Key Crawford, Marlene Gilliland, and Marilyn Russell, all junior high school students.

Farm Needs Modern Shop, Machinery Storage Center

With their crops harvested and under cover, and warm, snug winter shelters prepared for livestock, farmers now can turn their attention to the storage of machinery and other equipment used during the growing season.

Agricultural engineers point out that because the modern farm is a highly mechanized operation, it is vitally important that tractors, trucks and the various implements used in planting, cultivating and harvesting crops be kept in good working order. Otherwise, they caution, equipment failures may result in costly delays and possible crop losses. In preparation for storage, implements should be inspected, repaired and thoroughly greased so they will be ready for use next year.

If he is to operate his farm profitably, the modern farmer also must be a mechanic. This calls for a well-equipped repair shop and, consequently, the up-to-date machinery and storage repair center is taking the place of the old-fashioned tool shed on most farms. The accompanying sketch illustrates a storage and

WOOD USAGE INCREASED
Plywood fabrication permits wider use of fine figured woods, applied in the form of hardwood wood veneers to sturdy utility repair shop, the design and plans for which were prepared by the Better Farms Building Association.

Farm Needs Modern Shop

Prime function of a machine shed is to protect machines from the destructive effects of the weather, so it doesn't pay to compromise with good construction in the roof or sidewalls. Generally used on farm homes, barns and other buildings are asphalt shingles which meet the requirements for weathertight protection and also are economical to apply and maintain. Fire safety, essential with costly equipment, also is provided by asphalt shingles which minimize the danger of fire caused by flying sparks and airborne brands.

The storage shed must be large enough to house all equipment and provide convenient access for removing or storing pieces of machinery. The structure shown in the illustration has overall dimensions of 60 by 24 feet. The right wing is 24 feet, with the open canopy extending 12 feet in front.

Woods. Rare hardwoods, unavailable in sufficient quantity for solid construction, may be displayed to full advantage in veneer form.

Good Idea To Remodel

Higher down payments required on new home purchase contracts, shorter periods for mortgage financing and other government controls designed to curb residential construction, plus general inflationary pressures, have been causing a sharp increase in realty values.

Many home owners today are finding it more profitable and more economical to modernize their homes than to buy new homes. Others are buying older houses with the intention of remodeling.

Before buying an old house, the foundation, roof and framing should be checked carefully to make sure the structure is basically sound and can be remodeled economically.

Cracks in plaster walls generally indicate that the foundation is settled. Almost any building will settle to some extent, and hairline cracks are not serious; however, new cracks in an old house probably indicates the building is continuing to settle. Sticking doors, sagging door frames and uneven floors also indicate foundation weakness. Foundation walls need to be checked for bad cracks and for dampness.

In examining the roof, the important thing is the roof deck. While re-roofing may be necessary, this is not expensive if the roof deck is sound. A new roof of asphalt shingles, available in a variety of solid colors and blends, also fits in with overall modernization since this is one of the easiest and least costly ways in which an old house can be given new beauty and charm. Look at the joists. Light joists are a sign of flimsy construction throughout the house.

'Built-ins' Easily Constructed Of Sturdy Hardwood Plywood

"Built-ins" which add to the beauty, comfort and convenience of the home can be constructed easily and inexpensively of sturdy hardwood plywood.

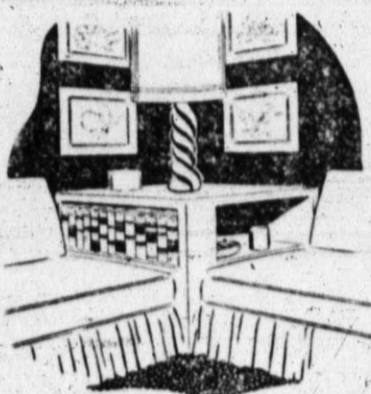

A corner unit such as the one shown here, for example, makes a wonderful space saver and at the same time facilitates arrangement of furnishings in a small room. Serving as an end table for a pair of studio couches, this attractive built-in provides shelf space for books and magazines.

To make a "perfect" corner, the unit must be exactly square and of the same width as the couches. It should stand about 14 inches above the couch seats to get the right height for a reading lamp.

Made entirely of hardwood plywood, this corner unit may be produced easily by the home craftsman, even though inexperienced. One of the advantages of working with plywood is its resistance to splitting by nails, screws or other types of fastenings. For this reason, fastenings may be placed close to the edges without damage.

The core and cross-band makeup of plywood provides a structurally strong foundation for the face veneers, selected primarily for the beauty of their wood grains. If the plywood is five-ply, for example, it is built up from a center ply (the core) set between two sheets of cross-banding and two sheets of face veneer.

The attractively-figured hardwood face veneers can be obtained in any number of species and natural colors that will harmonize with other furnishings in the room. A handsome finish which brings out the lighter tones of the natural wood can be attained, if desired, by sandpapering lightly and applying two coats of water-clear, satin-finish lacquer. Wax then, gives protection and luster. A feature of plywood built-in the housewife will appreciate especially is their ease of maintenance. Smooth hardwood veneer surfaces can be kept sparkling clean and lustrous just by waxing periodically and polishing at other times with a soft, dry cloth.

HOME OWNERS QUESTION BOX

Q—The coal-burning hot water heater which I recently installed does not burn satisfactorily. Could it be that it does not get sufficient draft?

A—Yes, particularly if it is connected to the same flue as the main heating plant. There should be a separate flue for each piece of heating equipment.

Q—I plan to re-roof my home and would like to use six-sided shingles which I have seen and admired on other houses for their neat, trim appearance. Could you tell me what these shingles are called?

A—The shingles you refer to are individual hexagonal asphalt shingles which, although not true hexagons, make a distinctive six-sided appearance on the roof. Hexagonal shingles are available in two types, both designed so that the bottom of each shingle is fastened down to make a tight roof covering. One is the lock-down type, with tabs at the bottom which are inserted under the edges of adjacent shingles. The other is the staple-down type which is secured to the shingle beneath by a metal clip. Fire-resistant like all asphalt roofing products, both types are used extensively in re-roofing and give equally satisfactory service.

Q—What should I use to remove grease from wallpaper?
A—Mix a paste of Fuller's earth and carbon tetrachloride, or some non-flammable cleaning fluid. Apply the paste to the grease spot and then brush off gently after it has had time to dry.

Designed for Casual Living

Designed for gracious, care-free living in a relaxed, comfortable atmosphere is this three-bedroom home featuring a spacious recreation area which can be made part of the living area by opening the large, sliding glass doors. It is Plan No. 512 of W. H. Schumacher, Tower Theatre Bldg., N.W. 23rd St., Oklahoma City, Okla.

The living and dining areas also are continuous except for an ornamental grill which provides partial room division. The end wall of the recreation area is entirely of glass.

The architect specifies extensive hardwood plywood interior construction for strength, durability and cost economy, with richly figured face veneers in living and dining area wall paneling. Abundant storage space is provided throughout the house and each of the bedrooms have plywood wall closets with wardrobe-type sliding doors, built-in vanities and chests of drawers.

Either stone or brick veneer construction is suggested for the exterior of this one-story structure which has an attached two-car garage. Because the architect designed this house for a moderate budget, he specifies materials which provide economy in first cost and upkeep—for example, asphalt shingles for the roof which are available in a wide array of blended or solid colors to harmonize with the stone or brick veneer sidewalls.

(Detailed building plans for this house are available from W. H. Schumacher, Tower Theatre Bldg., N.W. 23rd St., Oklahoma City, Okla. Refer to Plan No. 512.)

Mother Thanks Safety Council For Markers

The Hereford Brand Hereford, Texas
 To The Editor:
 As the mother of two small children in Central school who walk home occasionally, I wish to sincerely thank the Hereford Safety Council and the Highway Department for their action in placing school signs on 25-Mile avenue and for marking the cross walks.

Many children have to cross this busy highway to get to and from school, and without the signs, motorists had no way of knowing that a school was near.

The Safety Council is a relatively new organization in Hereford, but is proving to be very cooperative in protecting our children.

Again, I wish to express my gratitude — Mrs. Paul M. Hoff, R. R. No. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lee and son have moved to Pecos to make their home.

Mrs. W. D. Rose, Mrs. Jack Johnson have been called to the bedside of their father who is seriously ill in Stanford.

Better performance 4 ways with DODGE 2-TON "Job-Rated" TRUCKS

1 MORE ECONOMIC POWER
 A big, high-compression 236.6-cubic-inch engine developing 109 h.p. You get the right engine for top economy with aluminum pistons, four piston rings (top ring chrome-plated), exhaust valve seat inserts and other extra values.

2 SPEEDIER DELIVERIES
 Five-speed transmissions, 2-speed rear axles, and choice of axle ratios give you greater pulling power, faster getaways and higher top speeds. Low loading height and hinged stake center sections help you to save work and time.

Powerful 236.6 cu. in. engine
 Cross-steering, wide front tread

Five-speed transmission available
 Two-speed rear axle available, too
 Heavy frame; long, strong springs; big capacity axles

3 EASIER HANDLING
 You can turn sharper, maneuver better and park easier with a Dodge 2-ton "Job-Rated" truck... because you get wide front tread, cross-steering (except C.O.E. models), short wheelbase and worm-and-roller steering gears.

4 BIGGER PAYLOADS
 In Dodge 2-ton "Job-Rated" trucks you can move extra-big payloads without overloading. That's because a lot more of your load is carried on the front axle. Deep, rugged frame and all-steel body stakes, and sills mean extra strength.

THIS 2-TON CHASSIS is engineered to fit your body needs. On wheelbases of 128", 152", 170", and 192", it will accommodate a wide variety of bodies, from 8 ft. to 18 1/2 ft. in length.

Dodge 1 1/2-ton "Job-Rated" trucks provide similar features and advantages to give you better performance on your job.

The choice of champions! 59 out of 97 State Champions chose Dodge to drive in the 1951 National Truck Rodeo!

CONG. WALTER ROGERS SAYS Information on Appropriations Legislated by 82nd Congress

Here is some information on the appropriations passed in the First Session of the 82nd Congress, which I think will be of interest to you: I did not vote for all of the appropriations bills that passed the House, and I voted in committee to cut many of the appropriations that finally did pass the House. I tried to cast a solvent vote; that is, I voted for appropriations that I felt absolutely necessary in the interest of this country's defense and for necessary domestic expenditures. I did not feel that additional taxes should be voted, and therefore tried to keep expenditures within the amount of money that would be collected in taxes without increasing the tax burden. I especially call your attention to the percentage of expenditures earmarked for defense purposes.

Appropriations passed in the first session of the 82nd Congress approached those provided in the peak years of World War II. In the session just ended Congress voted $91,626,541,716 in supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year 1951 and in regular and supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year 1952. In addition to this amount, $6,116,000,000 was provided in the form of permanent allotments which are made automatically every year to cover such payments as interest on the national debt and other recurring statutory items.

This $91.6 billion represents an eleven percent increase over the $82.0 billion provided by the preceding session of Congress for fiscal 1951. On a per capita basis, the approved federal spending amounts to about $636 for every man, woman and child in the country. The final amount of money voted was about $4.4 billion less than the original amount requested by the Administration.

By far the greatest share of these appropriations is for national defense and defense-related activities. Funds voted to pay for past wars and for preparation for any possible new ones amounted to $75.0 billion or 81.9 percent of all money provided in the session which just closed. Some of the larger items are as follows: $56.9 billion for the Department of Defense with Army, Navy and Air Force getting $20 billion, $16 billion and $21 billion of this respectively. To provide for aid and the defense of other countries against Communist aggression, Congress voted $7.3 billion for mutual security. For such other activities as veterans' services $4.1 billion was provided, and $1.6 billion will be available to continue atomic energy programs.

Appropriations for non-defense activities took a much smaller share or 10.7 percent of the total federal spending provided. The amount voted for domestic programs amounted to $9,785,036,241, and was about one billion dollars less than that requested by the Executive. Large amounts were appropriated for the following public works programs: $597 million for flood control, $363 million for grants to states for public roads, and $71 million for public power construction work.

Relief payments to states will continue to be large with $1.1 billion going for such purposes. Public health programs will have about $359 million to spend with greater opportunity for research in heart disease and cancer. Congress has provided $293 million for such agricultural programs as aid to farm operators, subsidization of soil building, conservation practices and the school lunch program. The federal government will continue to encourage education with $141 million available to promote the various programs.

While large sums have been appropriated for the fiscal year 1952, it is not expected that expenditures will rise to this same height. This is largely due to the fact that contracts for such items as planes, ships, tanks and guns may be let in 1952 for delivery in 1953, at which time payment will be made. The Budget Bureau has estimated that about $67 billion will be spent by the Government in the fiscal year which ends next June.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I cure feathers?

A. Dissolve equal pounds of quick-lime to the same number of gallons of water. Let it settle well and pour off the liquid. Soak the feathers in this solution for four or five days, and then rinse in several changes of water; and dry.

Q. How can I sharpen a meat grinder?

A. If the meat grinder is working poorly, run a piece of sandpaper through it. This will sharpen the cutters and free them of grease. Rinse well with boiling water.

Q. How can I revive a house plant that seems to be dying?

A. Try pouring a tablespoon of castor oil around the roots of the plants. This treatment is often effective, especially with ferns.

Q. How can I remedy scorched food?

A. When food starts to burn, place pan immediately in another pan containing cold water. This will remove all the scorched taste.

Q. How can I clean old coins?

A. Clean them with powdered whiting applied with a damp cloth. Try placing the coin in a raw white potato and allow to remain for about twelve hours, and this will restore the original luster.

Q. How can I preserve eggs?

A. Eggs may be preserved for many months by first coating them with lard or grease, and then packing them in bran.

Q. How can I help revive faded rugs?

A. If the rugs or carpets are faded, go over them occasionally with a broom dipped in hot water, to which a little turpentine has been added. This will fresh-come wet, do not try to dry it by the heat of a fire, as this will cause the skin to become brittle and the hair to fall out. Shake the fur thoroughly to get out the moisture; then hang up to dry.

Wet Fur
If the fur collar or coat has been them and at the same time help to prevent moths.

Q. How can I remedy cream which is too thick for whipping?

A. Place the dish in another dish of cold water. When it is chilled, place in a dish of hot water, and it will then whip easily.

Q. How can I make a good cleanser for marble?

A. Mix two parts of soda, one part of prumice, and one part of salt. Then powder and mix to a paste with water, and scour.

Q. How can I prepare used paraffin for re-use?

A. Heat the paraffin to the boiling point and strain through three thicknesses of cheesecloth over a funnel. Repeat this operation if necessary. The paraffin can be cleaned with a brush and warm water if not too dirty.

Q. How can I cause nails to stay more firmly in plaster walls?

A. After driving the nails into the plaster walls, pull them out, wrap them with a little steel wool and then drive them in again.

Ammonia-Salt Paste

A paste made out of ammonia and salt, keeping it soft and smooth, is excellent to use on the collars and sleeves of coats that have become shiny with age and wear. The paste will freshen them and give them new life.

Prevents Breaking

When standing a plate or dish of any kind on edge, on a shelf, drive two carpet tacks in front of the standing edge to prevent it from slipping.

Improved Clothes Line

Soak the new clothes line in hot water, hang out to dry, and then rub a cake of wax over it. This will keep it pliable and waterproof.

Clear Tiles

It is a good idea to wash down the bathroom and kitchen tiles about once a year with a light paste made of plaster of Paris, allowing to dry, and then wiping off what adheres to the smooth surface. This treatment will eliminate all dark spots and lines.

Squeaking Shoes

For squeaking shoes take a darning needle and insert it several places between the layers of leather in the soles. Then with a small oil can, drop a little oil into these holes.

The Invalid's Room

The air in the invalid's room can be purified, and the room rid of flies or insects, by setting in the room a glass of very hot water with a few drops of oil of lavender mixed in it.

Bluing Stains

To remove a bluing stain on white material, soak it in a strong ammonia and water solution, or in kerosene, and then wash with naphtha soap in lukewarm water, rinsing thoroughly afterward.

Kerosene

Kerosene will do the work of many commercial cleansers, and is much less expensive. It is excellent for cleaning the tub and filling in the bathroom, and is equally good for the oiled floors.

Olive Oil

A small amount of sugar added to olive oil will prevent it from becoming rancid.

CAMEL and a NEEDLE

The world's great Teacher has left us with a word of wisdom that never loses its charm nor its truthfulness. "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God."

There are some things that money cannot buy; in fact all the really great values of our world cannot be bought. Money can secure food and houses and clothing and all sorts of necessary goods for our convenience and our comfort. But money alone is pretty weak and foolish. The old Spartan mother said to a son who complained that his sword was too short, that he must add a step for himself to lengthen the sword; and that was the absolutely essential part of the equipment. That is still true. Helpful as money may be, you are more important. Real friends and genuine fellowship wait for the extra step that you must take. Love and happiness in a home are not bought; they are the product of loving and trusting and dependable souls.

Camels do not go through needles' eyes; nor do human kingdoms of value answer to the demand of money alone. But with God all things are possible. Rich men may enter God's kingdom if they will love Him more than they love their money. Any man may enter the kingdom on the same basis. People who trust in things and who find that so much can be bought for a price will discover with difficulty that education and love and religion and trust must be gained by sheer personal worth and goodness. Greatly then should we honor men and women of wealth who are first good people and kind and generous. They have proven to be masters of things and not their servants. Let's use what money we have for good but let's never think money is a substitute for character or for piety.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are shepherded with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding and giving character. Statedmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. They say we with our children should go in the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

First Christian

Sunday, Nov. 18, the First Christian church will have Thanksgiving services. Rev. Roy Ford will discuss "The Price of Being a Chosen People", at the morning service and will talk on "An Ambassador to the Vatican" at the evening service.

Saturday, Nov. 17, the Christian Women's Fellowship will hold a bazaar all day at Piggly Wiggly.

Monday, Nov. 19, the young matron's group will meet at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Wayne Phillips.

The group meetings which were scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 21, have been postponed a week.

Regular services at the First Christian church for Sunday will be: church school, 9:45; morning worship, 10:50; youth groups, 6 o'clock and evening worship at 7 o'clock.

Monday evening at 6 p.m. the prayer group will meet at the church.

Wednesday night at 7:15 the members of the church will meet for mid-week prayer service.

Immanuel Lutheran

Sunday's schedule at the Immanuel Lutheran church begins with Sunday school and the Bible class at 10:30 a.m. The hour of worship begins at 11:30 a.m.

Each Saturday morning the church presents the morning devotion over K-PAN at 8:45 a. m. Pastor Lichtsinn is speaking on a portion of Jesus' "Sermon on the Mount."

Thanksgiving Day will be observed by the Immanuel Lutheran church with a special service of praise and thanksgiving at 11:30 a.m.

The Sunday school staff will attend the semi-annual Sunday School Teachers' Institute at Trinity Lutheran school in Amarillo on Sunday afternoon.

Sgt. J. Rhodes Instructor With AF Mobile Unit

Sgt. John W. Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Rhodes, 123 Norton St., Hereford, has been assigned as a Radar Mechanic Instructor to the B50-4 Mobile Training Detachment presently stationed at Castle Air Force Base, Calif.

Serving on the teaching staff of a Mobile Training Detachment one of the many movable schools operated by the 349th Mobile Training Group, with headquarters at Chanute AF Base, Illinois, he assists his fellow instructors in giving specialized training courses for Air Force maintenance and operating personnel on latest improvement in military aircraft. These units fly to bases throughout the world and often are found conducting courses for flying personnel of allied nations. Rhodes is a member of the 349th Bomber Squadron of the Group.

Each detachment is equipped with cutaway trainers and mock-ups of various aircraft systems to enable the instructor to visually demonstrate the actual operation of that system. As part of a Mobile Training Detachment Sgt. Rhodes is truly a specialist among specialists!

Rhodes entered the Air Force Dec. 21, 1949, receiving basic training at Lackland AF base. He then attended Air Force Technical school at Keiser AF Base, Mississippi.

What could be Fairer?

Judge for yourself! Use new, improved Phillips 66 Heavy Duty Premium Motor Oil for ten days—or up to 1,000 miles. If it doesn't satisfy you on every count go to any Phillips 66 Dealer, and he'll arrange for a refill using any available oil you want at our expense.

Yes, we guarantee this great new motor oil will satisfy you. We can do this because we know it has the quality you want and need. It brings you a new high in Lubri-faction:

- WEAR PREVENTION? Yes! It keeps corrosion and friction from harming your engine.
- BEARING PROTECTION? Yes! Acids are neutralized—protecting bearing surfaces from pitting.
- CLEANING ABILITY? Yes! And a clean engine means more power—less gasoline consumption.
- LOW OIL CONSUMPTION? Yes! It resists decomposition—so fewer make-up quarts are needed over thousands of miles of operation.
- It's because of important features like these that Phillips 66 Heavy Duty Premium Motor Oil

Get New, Improved "Lubri-faction"

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE

Low-Down on a high-powered Performer

Let us tell you this:
The Buick pictured here packs more power than you find in any other car of its size and room and price.

That's the power of Buick's newest high-compression valve-in-head eight—the F-263 Fireball Engine, that really gets miles from a gallon of gas.

Add to this the fact that it tips the scales at 3817 pounds curbside—and you begin to see why this big-powered beauty is such a nimble-footed number out on the road.

But that's only Chapter I of the performance story.

There's a big-car feel to the way this trim traveler covers the ground—hugs the curves—holds its course on the straightaway—smothers the bumps with its big soft coil springs on all four wheels.

There's big-car room inside—six-passenger room—headroom, hiproom, shoulderroom, kneeroom, front and back.

Come in, look it over, and we think you'll agree—it's big in everything but price.

And that's where it really shines. If you've shopped around you'll know what we mean when you read the price tags, and what they include in the way of standard equipment that shows up as "extras" on so many others. Such things as an oil filter, air cleaner, vacuum booster, built-in summer ventilation are all yours at no extra charge.

It's hard to believe but it's true. If you can afford a new car, you can afford this Buick at the prices we're quoting today.

Better come in and look this smart buy over.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other series.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:

- DYNAFLOW DRIVE—saves strain on driver and car
- FIREBALL ENGINE—high-compression, valve-in-head—gets more miles from every tank of fuel
- PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night
- TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—seals the chassis, steadies ride, improves driving control
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs
- DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment
- SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times at brake drum
- DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models

Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, Stop-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher
