Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet Jan. 25

Friday, Jan. 25 is the date approved for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday night.

One of the leading humorists in the United States, Edward McFall of the University of Chicago, one-time professor of psychology, will be the headline speaker for the program, according to Tom McFarland, secretary-manager of the chamber.

"We have spent considerable time in selecting the varied entertainment program that will be given at this year's banquet," McFarland said.

"Man of the Year" will be made at this event also, McFarland said.

In Tuesday night's meeting, the board also canvassed the election returns on the new board of director members.

No information on the outcome will be made until all elected have been notified. An announcement of the new directors will be made in Sunday's Brand.

Several other plans came out of Tuesday's meeting, the CC manager said. A reorganization program is currently under way in the chamber of commerce.

The new name of the group will be "Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce", McFarland said.

He also reported that some definite programs which are entirely new to the local CC are being planned. They include an aggressive program for farm and agriculture during 1952.

Reports from the Houston laboratory making a spectrographic analysis of Deaf Smith county's soil and products were revealed to the board Tuesday. The reports were favorable and there were some "that far surpassed our expectations," according to McFarland.

Family Gatherings, Community Service Mark Thanksgiving Day

By Mrs. Owen Andrews

Thanksgiving holidays were observed with family gatherings and other activities here. On Wednesday night a community gathering was enjoyed at Frio in place of the usual mid-week service. After singing, scripture reading and prayers of thanksgiving, the folks enjoyed a supper together. Neil Simpson and Tawana Thompson read the scriptures, and song leader Lester Irwin led the singing.

The L. D. Irwins, except Lester and Tommy, spent the holidays with Mr. Irwin's brother, Razz, and family in Arizona. They left on Tuesday afternoon and were to return the first of this week.

Mrs. H. M. Mobley had all her family home during the day. They included the Raymond Mobleys, the Floyd Coles, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Johnson, Lanelle, Don and Austin Mobley. Others who also enjoyed the occasion with the Mobleys were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shearhart and children.

Spending the holidays at the Leo Hall home were her parents, the Sam Tipsons, from the vicinity of Chickasha, Okla., and her brother and his family from Dallas. The brother brought the parents, who were on their way to California to spend the winter with some of their other children.

The A. H. Browns took Thanksgiving dinner in the W. H. Andrews home and all went to the Dimmitt-Canadian ball game at Canyon. Glenn Brown and James Dobbs were playing with the Dimmitt Bobcats. The Dobbs and quite a number of others from here also attended the game.

The John Simpsons had all their children and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harrison and family of Muleshoe with them on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson and girls went to visit the J. B. Thompsons south of Dimmitt on Sunday afternoon. They report the seven-month-old baby daughter of J. B. and Betty has the whooping cough. She is doing fairly well but has to have constant attention to prevent choking.

CONG. ROGERS REPORTS

Back in Capitol, Congressman Deplores Commercializing on Flag

BACK IN WASHINGTON: We missed the newsletter last week because I was in the district. I had a most pleasant visit and saw many people. I gave a full report to Jean and the children on my return, and it helped to restore my position in the household. You see, they were a little put out with me for going home without taking them. I wish that I could have brought the entire family and stayed over until January. However, this was impossible for several reasons, to say nothing of the cost that would be involved.

The fact that Congress adjourned does not mean that everything here stops. My mail was almost hip-deep when I returned, and there was a great number of matters to be handled through the different boards, bureaus, departments and agencies. I hope to have these cleared enough to be able to return to the district before the first of the year for another visit.

THANKSGIVING: Most of the places up here observed the 22nd as Thanksgiving Day. This letter will reach you about the time you are observing the original Thanksgiving Day, that is, the last Thursday in November. Regardless of which day we observe, we could all spend the entire day and all of the night counting the many blessings that we have compared with other peoples of the world, and we would hardly touch the surface. Here in Washington there are so many things that come to your attention from other countries that you really appreciate the many things which we have to be thankful for. Last Tuesday night I was engaged in conversation with a couple who have just returned from a four-year stay in the Philippines. Space would not permit me to list the many things that they told. However, the one thing that was most impressive was the story they told me about having to soak all of the vegetables in germicide solutions for an hour and a half before they could be prepared for eating. They pointed out that the usual salad of raw vegetables carries with it a strong odor of the germicide solution. These folks promised to give me a complete story on many other matters, and I will try to include them later on. I asked them if they were happy to be back in the States, and the gleam in their eyes was a sufficient answer for me to know that they counted it as their number one blessing for this Thanksgiving.

BATTLE OF THE FLAGS: A Confederate Flag fad is sweeping the East, and I noticed traces of it in our section on my recent visit. The novelty manufacturers are exploiting this tremendously. They are selling Confederate caps and recently have started the sale of Yankee Caps. Many children will probably get GAR or Confederate uniforms for Christmas, rather than the cowboy and Indian suits that have been leading in this field. The Confederate Flag is a symbol of a great people and a great cause, and it is deplorable that it should be used for commercial purposes. I have even received a Christmas card with the imprint of the Confederate Flag on it and a most touching letter telling me why I should pay an outrageous price for these cards. Frankly, such practices should be condemned by true southerners, as we have been exploited enough without having our flag dragged through the dirt by a bunch of money seekers.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN: Senator Taft has a definite inside track for the Republican nomination, and let no one be fooled about this. If he can keep his present lead until the time of the convention, his nomination is almost assured. Don't be surprised if Ike Eisenhower turns up as the Democratic nominee.

VISITORS: My office was honored by visits from the following people from the District this week: E. O. Wedgeworth and Geo. S. Vineyard from Pampa; Mayor Gene Klein, T. W. Gilstrap, Rex Baxter, Mrs. Rex Baxter and John Fullingim, from Amarillo.

The courthouse janitor's assistant was also raised by the commissioners from $160 per month to $175 per month. On November 12, the salary increases of $10 per month were granted to all 14 county road employees and a $10 per month raise was also granted to the supervisor of the county barn. The annual salary of Deputy Sheriff S. B. Berry was raised from $2900 annually to $3100 annually. J. C. Reese, tax collector, was granted five cents per each certificate of title issued as additional salary. This increase was allowed by the last legislature, County Judge L. H. Foster said, when the price of the certificates were raised from 25c to 50c.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor: On the two section of land located about 16 miles northwest of Hereford, known as the Pau Mathers place, which I recently traded for, I put up some POSTED signs because I have my cattle there and I have gone there and found the gate left open more than once. Some of these signs have been deliberately torn off my property by some prowlers. I have never refused anyone yet who comes to my house and asks permission to hunt a while to try to get some ducks or perhaps a goose. But I cannot afford to throw my pasture gates open and give the general public free access to promiscuous prowling. I have some blue quail on the place. These quail were imported from Mexico evidently some of the prowlers have shot some of the quail as I have found lots of their feathers around the corral lot where they loiter all the time, and I do not find the quail there now. I have replaced these signs and I intend to watch to catch the persons who might destroy them again, and if I do catch them I feel such persons will be subject to prosecution.

Very respectfully
Leo V. Gallegher
P.S. Since writing this letter last night I went over this morning to check my cattle and I found one of the cows shot under the belly in the udder and in the hind legs. I think this certainly is just cause for prosecution of persons trespassing without permission.
Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lee and Terry of Springlake visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Carter and family of Summerfield Thursday.

Jim Terry Resigns As Golf Pro Here

Jim Terry, Hereford Golf Club pro since October, 1948, has resigned his position effective December 8.

Terry will become club pro and manager at the Childress Country Club.

He submitted his resignation to Dr. John Channer, president of the Hereford Golf Association on Monday.

The board of directors of the local association will meet on Friday to discuss what they want and what the needs of the local club will be.

Applications are now being accepted for the vacancy.

Terry came to Hereford in 1948 to re-activate the local course at the request of the newly-formed Hereford Golf Association.

Before coming to Hereford, Terry was assistant pro at Ross Rogers Municipal golf course in Amarillo, a position he held for one year. Prior to World War II, Terry was attached to the Hillcrest country club in Amarillo for three years.

Terry has eight years accredited pro time. During this last summer, he got his Class A Professional Golf Association rating, the highest possible for pros.

The Childress club is a larger organization; Terry told The Brand. They have 207 members plus a clubhouse while the local club has 75 stockholders. Childress has a nine hole course.

Prior to Terry's tour of duty in Hereford, the local course had been dormant since 1940. Since Terry has been pro here, a paved road to the clubhouse has been put in, grass greens and a water system has been installed, new

Whiteface Cagers Will Test Bovina

Bovina will provide the first competition of the year for Coach Wayne Stark's Whiteface cagers in Bovina Friday night at 7:30.

Both the A and B squads will tangle with the Mustangs in the season's opener.

Bovina will have the benefit of Hereford's rushed pre-game practice sessions. The varsity has had less than a week's practice to make the first test.

The Mustangs, a power in the area on the hardwood last year, has lost very little of its strength through graduation and will give the Herd plenty of competition, Stark said.

In spite of the short time the Whitefaces have been working out, Coach Stark says the boys are looking good.

Kelly at center and Dement at guard are two sure starters in Stark's book for the Mustang tilt, he said. Other likely starters are Graham at forward or guard, Mathis at forward, Marshall Wilson at forward or guard.

Hereford will be having the benefit of four varsity cagers returning from last year's squad. They are: Kelly, Dement, Mathis and Graham.

The 10 men on the squad that will journey to Bovina for the curtain-raiser are: Kelly, Dement, Graham, Mathis, Wilson, Allen, White, Thomas, Morton, and Gene Dickson.

Franklin Boyd has been taking it easy so as not to rush the knee injury he suffered in football.

About 25 boys are out for A and B basketball, Stark told The Brand.

Grandstand Gropings

By Kent Snare

It was a fragrant idea but Tennessee pushed it flat on its face and the Cotton Bowler's dream of having Kentucky help them hang another one on the Sugar Bowl went sour. Tennessee played Home, Sweet, Home, on the Kentucky's goal line four times while letting Parilli throw to his heart's content. The Babe pitched 25 times, connected on 15 occasions for 179 yards but there were no touchdowns appended thereto. In fact, Parilli, ended his scheduled varsity career without ever having completed a touchdown pass against the Vols, although he has thrown more scoring flips than any other collegiate player in the history of the game. From here the Cotton Bowl looks like a dud, as far as outstanding teams go. At this juncture it will contain apparently, TCU and Kentucky on January 1, '52 and that will be something less than sensational. What with two clubs that are already four time losers, per each, in '51, TCU has bowed to Kansas, 13-27; Texas Tech 19-33;

Southern Cal. 26-28 and to Texas 21-32. Kentucky has run second to Texas, 6-7; Mississippi, 17-21; Georgia Tech, 7-13 and finally Tennessee, 0-28. Course SMU on this Saturday can knock this all down by dumping or even just by a standoff with the Frogs. In the event of a tie and on the proviso that Baylor drops Rice then the Frogs and Bears are knotted. Should SMU win and Baylor conquer then, Isbell and cast will show in Dallas. As to the other innumerable, conjectured possibilities, they hold this quib to one stick and it won't reach to there. Took a gander at the All-Southwest Team as advocated by AP and there wasn't a TCU gridded on the first string. However, the backfield had no full season fullback in it and the Frogs Floyd should have qualified by dint of diligent digging if nothing else. The Aggies Smith made the third team. Townsend no show. This Southwest Conference season has been somewhat more than a clambake and Quail Hunters' Aid Recruited By Game Comm.

Quail hunters are reminded by W. C. Glazener of the Texas Game and Fish Commission that quail wings are again wanted this season to complete the study started last year on age and sex ratio and other important information concerning bobwhite quail.

Mr. Glazener said, "If you or any of your friends are in a position to participate, just let us know. We will be glad to mail you a supply of return envelopes on which you need not pay any postage.

Continuing, he explained, "It is our opinion that 300 to 500 wings will be required to serve as a dependable sample from a given county. Therefore, we will greatly appreciate any efforts you might make to fill such a need."

To the hunters who sent in quail wings last year will be sent analysis report if they request it.

Snare Family Wins Football Contest

The Kent Snare family assured itself of four seats in the Cotton Bowl, come New Year's Day by taking the three top spots in The Brand's 10-week football forecast.

Scoring in the final week failed to change the overall results as Sophie Snare shared first and second prize for the week with Mrs. J. B. Brown. Both had 16 out of 22 right. Third prize went to Bill Phipps with 15 right.

First prize for the final week was $5 in trade from the Hereford Wrecking and Parts company. Second prize is $3 in cash from The Brand, Phipps will receive $2 in cash from The Brand.

There were a lot of upsets again this week to snarl the guessing of contestants, helped no little by the Iowa-Notre Dame tie.

Washington State - Washington U. gave the guessers a bad time as did Florida-Alabama and Arkansas-Tulsa. UCLA-Southern Cal also proved a stumbling block along with South Carolina-Wake Forest.

Point scores for the final week of those entering are:
SIXTEEN
Mrs. J. B. Brown, Sophie K. Snare.

- FIFTEEN
Bill Phipps.
- FOURTEEN
John David Bryant, Dr. M. C. Adams, Cawthon Bryant, Shelby Whitfield, Mrs. I. L. Whitfield.
- THIRTEEN
George L. Olson, Jim Bookout, Dallas Phillips, Arthur Tinsley.
- TWELVE
I. L. Whitfield, W. L. Davis Jr., Katherine Snare, Kent Snare, J. B. Brown.
- ELEVEN

"AS THE TWIG IS BENT..."

The trees are preaching! Let's listen! What is that twisted tree saying to you and to me? What is the second and smaller tree telling you of life, as it twists about the other? "Only God can make a tree"; but even God's purpose to make a strong and straight tree sometimes fails. Why did not this tree grow tall and upright and sturdy? Why ill-formed and crooked and misshapen?

And so are some of us. Why do not women and men grow upward toward God and the good? Why have lives become twisted and gnarled and unattractive? Has the tree a lesson for us here? Most twisted trees were bent when they were young; some storm or some accident worked its evil will upon them. They were intended to grow straight and strong and beautiful; the seed was good, the soil was right; but they did not get the right start. When they were young some sinister influence left its mark upon them for all the years; they have grown in twisted shape because some force shaped them that way. How can we protect young human life from such twisting and scarring? The good heritage is not enough; the comfortable home is not enough; unless we elders see that this fine young life gets its chance to grow straight and true.

The neglected child of the street or of the lane gets an early twist; the storm of human wickedness and evil is too great for the young life to take; he is subjected too early to the sights and sounds of the women and men who have wrecked themselves.

The pampered child of the foolish parent who is too busy or too careless to guide the developing spirit gets twisted too soon. There are rules that must be learned if one is to play the game of life successfully; there are good habits that must be formed under patient discipline and by good example.

The frightened child who has been compelled to listen to quarreling and scolding elders gets an unhappy fear and disrespect for human contact. He has a right to live in an atmosphere of patient good will and of forbearance, but he is misdirected by selfish and unkind words and deeds.

The sour and the surly children of loveless homes and communities bear the marks of misdirection forever; every child has need of love and kindness and justice and patient understanding; these make the healthful air of human development.

Prayer and reverence for God and the good, loving fellowship in ways of integrity and of helpfulness make the right soil for straight-growing persons. As the twig is bent, so grows the tree.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fertilize and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are working with a great character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Dory Funk Tag Team Foe Sat.

Local wrestling fans will be given a treat Saturday night at the Bull Barn when Dory Funk and Bob Cummings combine forces for an Australian tag team match with Frankie Hill Murdock and Leo Wallick.

The card will be supported by two 20-minute, one-fall events pitting Funk against Wallick and Cummings against Frankie Hill Murdock.

Saturday night's card at the Bull Barn proved to be a thriller. Amarillo Promoter Dory Detton had to fill in for Frankie Hill Murdock in a one-fall 20-minute affair with Rex Mobley.

Murdock was accidentally billed here and in Oklahoma all last week and Detton filled in for him.

Mobley and Detton battled to a draw in the first event.

Johnny James of Los Angeles and Salvador Flores of Mexico City came to blows in the semi-windup of Saturday's card.

James won the match in 20 minutes of a 30-minute time limit with a body press preceded by shoulder blocks.

In the main event, Detroit's muscle-man, Leo Wallick, met Bob Cummings in a two fall, one-hour limit meet.

Wallick took the first fall in 15 minutes with a body jackknife.

Cummings came back for the

BILLY BURKHALTER (12), Rice back, intercepted a Ray McKowan pass on his own goal line in second period of game with Texas Christian at Fort Worth, Tex. and ran it out to the seven-yard line. John Medanich, TCU, back, tackle Burkhalter as back Jack Ray assists. Rice player is back Gene Silver, (22). TCU won 22-6. (A) Wirephoto second in 20 minutes with a knee-action leg binder.

Cummings was awarded the match after Wallick was disqualified in four minutes for not heeding the instructions of the referee. Wallick kicked Cummings out of the ring and wouldn't let him back in. He also tried to apply jackknives to Cummings while the latter was tied up in the ropes.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean parchment lamp shades?

A. Dip a woolen cloth into cold water and wring fairly dry. Then moisten with linseed oil and rub over the shade, repeating until all the dust has been removed. Dry with a woolen cloth. If the shades are shabby, give them a coat of white shellac.

Q. How can I prepare a simple furniture polish?

A. A furniture polish that can be used on the finest woods can be made of one part vinegar, with equal parts of linseed oil and turpentine.

Q. How can I make a substitute sizing for the plastered walls and ceilings that are to be painted with oil paints?

A. When no commercial sizing is available, these walls may be sized with carpenter's glue, diluted with a large quantity of water.

Q. What can I do if the metal tips of a shoe string come off?

A. Dip the ends of the strings into mucilage. This will stiffen them and make it easy to put them through the eyelets.

Q. How can I make the task of removing old paint easier?

A. Dampen the sandpaper with benzine, and it will lighten the work of removing old paint.

Q. How can I clean woodwork or furniture that is oiled or varnished?

A. Clean with a soft cloth moistened with lemon oil. Then rub this briskly into a polish, using a clean, dry polishing cloth. Or you may use kerosene and linseed oil, mixed; but lemon oil dries more rapidly.

Q. How can I revive a fern?

A. Often a fern that is considered dead can be revived by standing the pot in a tub of hot water for an hour, or until the water becomes cool.

Q. How can I give an added flavor to prunes?

A. A delicious flavor will be the results if a small stick of cinnamon and several slices of lemon are added to the prunes while they are simmering.

Q. How can I mend broken marble?

A. Make a very stiff paste of Portland cement and water.

Clean the edges of the marble thoroughly, apply the cement to both broken edges, press the edges together very tightly, and tie securely until the cement has set.

still has one verse to go and the ensuing chorus may last a long time indeed. This is no plug for Collier's magazine but they are adopting this year an idea that may prove interesting as well as sell a few additional copies of that gazette. In their next issue they will promulgate the congealed, combined opinions of various and sundry pickers of All-Regional teams, from which, in a later issue, for the small additional contribution of 15 cents, they will make available their All-American selection. All of which is hogwash. To me the ones that are really qualified, of times from a bloody-nosed viewpoint, to pick the real competitors are the opposition. There are many such selections but I don't recall a consensus of such selections having been compiled.

The arbiters, also, could furnish some pointers if they wanted to get any more involved than ordinary. The sidelines and the grandstanders, even when they graft a lot of additional views and opinions to their own, do not get enough gridiron rubbed into them to authenticate a lot of their picks. There is that grumble of long ago when Lynn Bomar was purported to have been selected A-A because the picker was given, in error, Hek Wakefield's number and the former was selected on the latter's performance that day. And to the lady, who was aching about the extenuation of the Groper's sentences, might like to take over the pay is non-existent but the hours, as Catfish Klem said, are good. They'll let you write on your own time, any time.

It gives you a lot to be thankful for Let's suppose that this is you.

The car you're riding in, as you can see, is a Buick.

But what you can't see is the satisfaction which being behind that wheel brings to every day in the year.

Take the feel of it—the way it goes into action when you nudge the gas treadle. Quick. Eager. Willing. No effort at all. You just swoop up to the miles per hour you want.

That's because there's a high-powered, high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball Engine under the hood that makes every drop of gas do extra duty. And it's because there's a Dynaflo Drive,* feeding that power back to the rear wheels as smoothly as cream flows from a pitcher.

Take the way it sits the road. Balanced. Poised. Sure-footed. Snug.

That's because of a long list of things that Buick engineers have done to its ride—including a torque-tube keel that keeps rear wheels tracking true—and soft coil springs that individually cushion each wheel.

Take the way it steers. Easy. Light. Firm. On a straightaway—or coming out of a curve—it seems to know what you want it to do.

That's because of something the engineers call "front-end geometry"—and because 60 steel balls roll in their own little race track to ease each turn of the wheel.

Take its room, its comfort, its smart good looks—and its price.

Any way you size it up, here's a car to make you thankful for your good judgment in picking it, against the field.

All that is needed to complete this picture is you at the wheel of a flesh-and-blood Buick—out on the road for a sample of what we've been talking about.

That's easy to arrange. Just give us a call, and we'll do the rest.

3. The Amount in Words . . . should be started as far to the left as possible so that no one can insert a word before it and thereby raise the amount. Fill in the unused space with a line.
4. The Amount in Figures . . . should be written close to the $ sign, and must agree in amount with the written words.
5. Your Signature . . . should resemble as closely as possible your signature on file with us and be written only after all of the other items have been carefully filled in.

Sheean's "Indigo Bunting" is Edna St. Vincent Millay Portrait

Reviewed by Corinne Jennings

"The Indigo Bunting" a memoir of Edna St. Vincent Millay, one of America's outstanding contemporary poets, is a pleasant portrait by Vincent Sheean.

Because of her great love, understanding, and seeming close affinity to birds, the author has chosen one particular bird as the title of his book. He chose the indigo bunting because of the associations he had in his memory of her in connection with this bird.

A description of the bird taken from Audubon's "Birds of America" precedes his essay and reads, "Indigo Bunting (Passerina Cyanea) breeds from North Dakota and New Brunswick to Texas and Georgia. Winters from Mexico to Panama, and in Cuba. Habitat: Brushy country, abandoned pastures, roadsides. Identification: Males, our only small bird — that is blue all over. Female thick billed, brown with bluish wash. Voice: a sweet, delicate tsing-tsing, chipper-ippere. Likely to be recognized the birds sings in the heat of the day, and late summer, when most other bird-voices are still".

Birds fly all through her poetry, and those who know her poetry and read her books know this is true say one of Edna's relatives.

"For the purpose of this essay" Sheean writes, "I, like many others find in it a singing line, a contained and articulated melody quite unlike other verse of its (or our) time. It sings, like the indigo bunting, 'in late summer when other bird voices are still'".

One of the most pleasant recollections the author has of Vincent (her friends most often call her) is when he and some other friends spent the week-end with her and her husband, Boissevain at their Vermont farm. There along with the many other things talked of was the subject of birds.

A huge picture window made one end of the living room where they could watch the birds which Edna fed outside of it. As they watched and visited, it was then that the author saw the indigo bunting for the first time and it was that experience and the information which she gave him that later furnished the title for his memoirs of her.

The little book is a criticism of Miss Millay's work and it also contains some of the facts of her life, but more importantly says one critic, it is a fragment of the author's own spiritual biography.

Throughout, the author and poet seem to have had a close understanding and "other worldness" and they each seemed to have felt this, though their friendship was brief. In fact Sheean admits that he had seen her only a few times but that every minute of the time spent in her company was as vivid in his mind as the day it had happened. Her personality he says

County HD Agent Reports

By Argen Draper

For several years we have had sufficient information from Experiment Stations to preserve foods by freezing. Of course, many of you home-makers remember when we froze foods with very little information and prepared them for the table with even less technical information, but that day has passed. Our state experiment stations have given us the results of many tests therefore we can prepare frozen foods so as to preserve the natural quality, fresh flavor, color, and texture. To keep these desirable qualities depends much on the way it is handled from freezer to table as from garden to freezer.

In using frozen foods remember that if quality products are served on the table quality products must be used for freezing. Frozen foods have a special appeal to the modern homemaker because they are convenient and easy to prepare.

Many kinds of vegetables lend themselves to freezing. The homemaker has a wide choice which should make meal planning easy. Use a minimum amount of water in cooking frozen vegetables. Frozen vegetables require only one half to two-thirds the cooking time of corresponding fresh vegetables. Do not overcook. No vegetable except corn on the cob should be completely thawed before cooking because shrinkage and loss of Vitamin C will occur. Time tables for suggested amounts of water and time for cooking some of the frozen vegetables are available from various commercial firms and from the agent's office. These are free for the asking.

Serve foods as soon as prepared. Holding foods after cooked results in loss of nutrients, color, flavor and texture.

For better results in preparing vegetables for the freezer and cooking and serving the frozen foods, the homemaker should have some systematic method of recording methods and results and varieties of foods that lend themselves to freezing. Your own experimenting food preservation along with the good information we have available should make for even better products.

was that it was impressed itself on his consciousness for always.

Sheean admired her poetry, the way she could read or recite verse after verse from memory for hours, not only her own but that of her favorite poets. Her personality was so intense he writes that often one was carried away with it to the point that he lost consciousness of what she was saying because of the depth he could feel in the woman as a person.

Lovers of poetry and/or birds and those interested in the personality of Edna St. Vincent Millay will want to read this new work by so well known and favored author as Vincent Sheean. The beauty of the essay will long remain with the reader and a clearer insight of the person who was Millay the poet.

Mrs. Boydston, librarian at the county library, invites you to check the well filled poetry shelves if you are fond of the music of words in poetry.

B&PW Club members observed Thanksgiving with a dinner held in the basement of the Methodist church. Two highlights made the event a stand-out affair—one was the initiation ceremony for new members conducted by Mrs. Dy-alithia Brady, and the other an address given by Mrs. Ruby Travis of Dumas, a B&PW district director.
The initiation rites revealed the candidate's personality and individuality in their costumes for the evening. They were dressed to represent their profession or what they would like to be, and included a bride, a nurse, a May Queen of 1924, the typical business woman, an old maid, a WAVE and a Gay Ninety Belle.
The speaker for the evening gave the serious part of the program, speaking directly to the new members. She outlined the aims and objectives of Business and Professional Women's Clubs throughout the United States and urged them to uphold the standards established by the Hereford Club.
