The county mobilization committee will meet in special session Monday morning to discuss and plan a county survey to be taken for determining what people want included in their "Family Farm" program. The PMA county committee went to Amarillo Tuesday and discussed that agency's part in the "Family Farm Policy Review."

The four directors of the Hereford Rotary club, Bill Davis Jr., Berry Jacobsen, D. C. McWhorter, and James W. Witherspoon, outlined the work of the four major Rotary committees for the club at noon Friday.

The Hereford Kiwanis club will entertain about 40 farmers from the Tucumcari area Thursday at noon. Following the luncheon, the group will make a tour of the Hereford irrigation area. The group will come particularly to see the permanent pastures in the area.

A man identified as Dee Alexander was admitted to the Deaf Smith county hospital August 1 for head injuries suffered when he purportedly fell from the fender of a pick-up truck. He was found lying next to the Lee Little store on First street.

One more landmark has yielded to progress. Gone from the Main street scene is the old metal marquee in front of the old Orr Tailor shop, now Brooks barber shop and Acme cleaners.

Sylvester H. Slagle recently purchased three purebred Aberdeen-Angus cows from Paul S. Mathers, both of Hereford, Texas.

Former Hopkins county residents are reminded of the annual all day picnic at Mackenzie State park in Lubbock Sunday, Aug. 12. Bring well-filled baskets to go with Hopkins County Stev that will be made at the picnic and served at 12:30.

This year's biggest week-day crowd at the municipal swimming pool was 216 patrons on July 19, according to Kenneth Vaughan, swimming pool manager. The eight days from July 15 to July 22 inclusive was the heaviest period of the season, Vaughn said, with a total attendance of 1356. Day-by-day totals are: July 15, 169; 16-153; 17-167; 18-92; 19-216; 20-172; 21-130; 22-257.

Perhaps you didn't notice, but the steps at the courthouse now have a new coat of gray paint. The clean-up work was done during last week.

The Chamber of Commerce is preparing a new brochure dealing with Deaf Smith County and Hereford. The art work on the multi-color folder is being done by Sam Nunnally. The cover of the brochure proclaims "We are not a modern-day Moses, but this is 'The Promised Land'—Deaf Smith County." The brochure is still in its rough draft stages.

The Hereford Riders will perform their "mounted square dance" at the Palo Duro Canyon's Mesa Mecca Sunday at 3:45 p.m. The exhibition will be held just inside the entrance of the park, beneath El Coronado lodge. Those participating will be Jeff Roberson and Mora Lawhon; Harold Easley and Nell Spradley; Ralph and Mary Sears; and Wiley and Linda Mae Roberson.

Sixty-Seven in Bicycle Parade Friday Morning

Sixty-seven youngsters from the age of four to 67 entered the Hereford Safety Council's bicycle parade Friday morning.

Alex Thompson easily won the prize of $5 for the oldest rider and Johnnie Poole Jr. won $5 for being the youngest rider.

John David Bryant's bicycle won the first prize of $10 for the most originally-decorated bicycle in the parade. John David, who has been ill for several months, worked for two weeks on the miniature safety scene with lifelike figures which was mounted over the rear wheel of the bicycle.

Bicycle saddle bags, second prize in the most originally decorated bicycle division went to Jan Susan Reese and John Gilliland won the third prize of levis and shirt.

Prizes in the best decorated division went to: John Wear, first, a radio; Marlene Gilliland, second, a leather billfold; Dorothy Faye Daniel, third, a leather notebook; Betty Kropff, fourth, a $2.50 theatre gift book; Larry Gene Morris, fifth, bathing trunks; Billy Paul Knox, sixth, a six-volt flashlight; Jerry Dean Morris, seventh, $2.50; Mike Robinson, eighth, a bicycle tire; Sara Gillentine, ninth, a bicycle horn; and Kathy Boston, tenth, a sweater.

Judges for the parade were: Mrs. Phil Radovich, Corrinne Jennings, and H. V. Stanton.

THIS UNIDENTIFIED girl took to a three-wheeler at the Hereford Safety Council's bicycle parade Friday.

Authorities Still Recovering Loot

Authorities are still recovering loot taken in the recent house burglaries committed in Deaf Smith and Castro counties.

Sheriff J. C. Reese said that from present loot recovered, the list of break-ins might run as high as 15.

Meanwhile, bond has been set by County Judge L. N. Foster for the four men charged in connection with the wave of burglaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Estes are spending a ten day vacation and getting in some fishing near Creed, Colo.

Herman Ford of Amarillo, formerly of Hereford, transacted business and visited with friends here Tuesday.

Bond for Augustine Garcia, alias Jesse Martinez, had been set previously at $1500. Bond for Arnulfo Limas has been set at $500, and bond for Fred Martinez and Jose Angel Martinez was set Thursday at $1000 each.

Reese said Friday he expects to receive a shipment of loot from Dallas where the men had sent it to a relative.

There is still quite a bit of loot that has not been identified, according to Reese. He listed the items and asked that people who have been victimized stop in at his office and identify their possessions.

Included in the list of unclaimed articles are:

Coins and bills, four ladies' wrist watches, class ring, two costume jewelry rings, tie clasp, collar clasp, box camera, radiator ornaments, electric clock, veterans' discharge buttons, cuff link, necklugs, watch band, lock, wedding ring set, two children's rings, and two pistols.

Reese said he expected the shipment of loot from Dallas Saturday to contain items stolen from the Tom McFarland place on July 22, plus possibly some other burglaries not yet reported.

Ramey Selected Delegate to Nat'l. Meeting

E. Ramey, rural mail carrier from Hereford has been selected as one of 12 delegates to represent Texas at the National Rural Mail Carriers Convention at St. Louis August 14-17.

The 12 delegates were selected during the Texas Rural Mail Carriers convention which was held at Galveston July 25-28.

End of "Million Dollar" Spud Harvest This Week

Most of the harvesting and processing for the 1951 "million dollar" potato crop will be completed sometime this week, a survey of the potato sheds in Hereford revealed.

This has been an exceptional harvest, processors say, and yields have been among the best ever. Quality was more than satisfactory, they say.

The market started out strong, but dropped from about $3.75 to $2.25, although spuds are moving "readily" at about $2.35 today.

Local producers were hardest hit by the floods in Kansas City as shipments from here were tied up, thus keeping local farmers from taking advantage of the early shipments and the favorable markets.

Rail shipments out of Hereford approximated 1200 cars. This is about 300 cars over the 1950 shipment. Truck shipping added about another 15 or 20% to that total.

One processor called the 1951 spud crop as the "best quality yield ever". Shipments were able to be sent better because of the dry weather.

Average yields have been from 150-200 processed sacks of spuds per acre.

The Hereford Potato Growers plan to wind up their processing sometime this week, as does Barrett and Son, Associated Growers, and Howard Gault Jones and Peters are shut down at the present time but may resume operations.

J. K. Baker will be finished by August 18.

Seek Combines Here For Harvest in SD

An urgent appeal for 350 combines to help harvest an estimated 9,000,000-acre grain crop in South Dakota was issued this week through the offices of the Texas Employment Commission's local representative, Tom Bourland.

An immediate call for 100 combines last week was sent out with 250 more needed this week.

South Dakota farmers are paying from $3 to $4 per acre for combines. It is necessary that these combines have pick-up equipment with them, according to the memorandum. Bourland said he has contacted some combine owners who plan to go to that area. All others interested in helping harvest the crop there are asked to contact Bourland, whose office is in the county agent's quarters at the courthouse.

Mrs. Theron Lehr of Dallas returned to her home Saturday after spending a couple of weeks here with her father, Carl Frye, and other relatives. Mr. Lehr who is in the U. S. Army reserves spent the two weeks at Fort Smith, Arkansas.

Set Sub-Divisions For Water Group

The High Plains Water Conservation and Users Association met Thursday and nominated several land-owners as prospective temporary board members of a High Plains water district.

W. O. Fortenberry, president of the association, said the State Board of Water Engineers had asked that the association nominate men from which the board might select men in the event the board should find that a district should be declared.

They would be a temporary board only, to supervise an election, if called.

The water board will hold a hearing in Plainview on August 9 on creation of a district, subject to an election.

The association suggested a division of the 13,000,000-acre water reservoir area into precincts in number equal to the legal number of directors.

These precincts included all portions of the reservoir included in the respective counties:

- PRECINCT 1—Lubbock, Crosby, Lynn, Garza, Dickens.
- PRECINCT 2—Hockley, Lamb, Cochran, Terry.
- PRECINCT 3—Bailey, Farmer, Castro.
- PRECINCT 4—Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Oldham, Potter.
- PRECINCT 5—Hale, Swisher, Floyd, Briscoe.

The men as prospective directors, including the following from this area:

Precinct 4—To be named later by residents of the area.

Precinct 3 — Posey Cunningham, Dimmitt; and Jess Osborn, Muleshoe.

Those attending the meeting Thursday in Plainview included Posey Cunningham of Dimmitt; Bill Matthesen, Muleshoe; L. G. Watson, Spring Lake; O. T. Loftis, Hart; and Gus Parrish, Spring Lake.

Judy Pinnell is 4-H Show Winner

Judy Pinnell won the right to represent Deaf Smith county in the District One baking contest held in connection with the Tri-State fair later this year.

Judy was named representative as a result of the 4-H Baking Show held in Hereford Saturday afternoon.

Second place went to Lyla Rickman and third place went to Ann Dyer.

First place winners in the contest were:

- Division A (Girls 10 and under) Class I—Bread: Whole wheat rolls, Peggy Browning; Cinnamon rolls, Lyla Rickman; Yellow Cornbread, Wanda Pinnell.

- Class II—Cookies: Plain, Peggy Browning; Filled, Wanda Pinnell.
- Class III—Cake: Loaf cake, Wanda Pinnell; Division B (Girls 11 and 12): Cinnamon rolls, Judy Tomlinson; Cinnamon rolls, Judy Pinnell; Master mix muffins, Glenda Meeks.
- Class II—Cake: Loaf cake, Glenda Meeks; Iced Layer cake, Jane Newsom.
- Class IV—Pie: Two crust pie, Glenda Meeks.

Residents Asked for $310 Red Cross Flood Donation

The Deaf Smith county chapter of the American Red Cross is being asked for $310 for Kansas City flood relief work, Chairman Fred Baird revealed this week.

This county, he said, would assume its proportionate share of the $5,000,000 being needed for flood-damaged Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Illinois.

Two contributions have been brought to the office this morning before any announcement had been made. Mr. Baird said "We do not ask you to do anymore than you want to, but we know that the money is needed and we would want the same thing done for us". Contributions can be brought to the Red Cross office on the second floor of the courthouse or mailed direct to Red Cross, Box 137, Hereford.

This is the first time a special disaster call has been made since 1938. Disaster funds are figured into the annual budget, but needs arising from this disaster are staggering and far in excess of the anticipated needs. Sixty thousand families have lost homes, crops, business, and jobs. Nineteen thousand are being sheltered by Red Cross and 42,000 are being fed daily by Red Cross. Congress has granted $25,000,000 for the Midwestern flood relief and Truman has asked that Red Cross supplement this by at least $5,000,000. Call for funds was first made in the damaged state, but increasing needs makes it necessary for chapters throughout the nation to send a little help for the immediate care for the injured and homeless, relief for the destitute. The government money will be used for restoring public property and helping big industry get back into operation. Besides the repairing and rebuilding of homes and restoring of family life, Red Cross will assist small (Continued on page 3)

Lettuce Fields Next Stop for Local Laborers

With potato harvesting pretty well finished, the next drain on the labor supply here will be for lettuce thinners, according to Tom Bourland, local representative of the Texas Employment Commission.

About 500 persons will be needed in the lettuce fields within the next week or 10 days, Bourland estimated. At present, the early lettuce now up requires about 100 workers only.

Experience is the biggest factor in lettuce work. There are not too many workers here with the required experience, but there will be no problems due to labor shortages, the TEC representative stated.

Wife Hears From Sgt. Neighbors, Red Prisoner

Mrs. Gerald Neighbors received three letters Tuesday from her husband, Sgt. Gerald E. Neighbors, who is a prisoner of Korean Reds.

Until she received these letters, Mrs. Neighbors had received no direct word from her husband since he was reported missing in action on December 2, 1950.

Every letter requested Mrs. Neighbors to write Congress and urge the withdrawal of American troops from Korea. The sergeant said that he was treated "like a brother" and was well fed and clothed.

Sergeant Neighbors' letters were filled with questions about his family particularly his nine-month-old daughter, Cynthia Kay, whom he has never seen.

HEY! WHERE DID YOU LEARN to drive! This youngster is getting his practice early. He's really concentrating on his job, too.

Letter To Hereford Chamber of Commerce Censures The Brand

Mr. Tom McFarland, Manager
The Hereford Chamber of Commerce
Hereford, Texas

Dear Tom:
I hear a good deal of complaining as a result of the distribution of the Hereford Brand, the Sunday preceding the sale day in Hereford. Some of our friends in Friona have expressed themselves also. Would you please advise me as to your opinion relative to the matter, and if you think the publisher of the Brand would feel he should not continue the practice. I am sure you will agree with me that, we should not build a fence around our town, however, the merchants in Dimmitt are deeply concerned about the matter. Any suggestion from you will be appreciated.

Sincerely Yours,
(signed)
D. W. Brashgar
(Sec'y, Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce)

(NOTE: ANY PERSON NOT WANTING THE DOLLAR DAY ISSUE OF THE HEREFORD BRAND, WHICH IS DISTRIBUTED THROUGH THE COOPERATION OF THE MERCHANTS OF HEREFORD, PLEASE CALL OR WRITE THE BRAND OFFICE GIVING YOUR NAME AND LOCATION, AND DISTRIBUTION TO YOUR HOME WILL BE DISCONTINUED.)

LEAVE IT TO A newspaperman to realize that "it pays to advertise." This printer for the Castro County News is sporting a fine crop of whiskers to advertise Dimmitt's Old Settler's Homecoming on August 10 and 11.

Freak Accident At Intersection Of Hwys. 60-51

There were no personal injuries and damages totalling an estimated $410 in a two-car collision Friday night at 2 p.m. at the corner of Highways 51 and 60—the second mishap there in two days.

A 1941 Plymouth coupe, driven by Lena D. Bell, was hit on the left side by a truck driven by Frederick Thomas Frye, Dawn, Deputy Sheriff S. B. Berry, who investigated the accident, said that both vehicles were driving east. The Bell auto pulled out of Moore's service station and was headed east on Highway 60. Miss Bell signalled for a left turn onto Highway 51 and the truck hit her in the left side as it attempted to pass her.

When the truck hit the Bell auto, the coupe went through the drive of the Phillips station on the northeast corner of the intersection and pulled to a stop just east of Red's Drive-In.

Estimated damage to the Bell auto was $400 and about $10 to the truck.

Investigation is still continuing on the accident, Berry reported.

Something NEW in a TANDEM DISC -- and the answer to a lot of your problems:

Kewanee WHEEL MOUNTED

DISC HARROW

SIMPLY touch the hydraulic control lever and the gangs are raised high and clear . . . ready for transporting. Think what this feature alone will save you in time and hard labor as well as grinding wear on disk blades.

The rubber tired wheels afford quick and safe travel over highways and country roads.

Raises and Lowers "On-the-Go"
You are in complete control of the harrow at all times. Operation is easy, simple and "non-stop." You merely touch the hydraulic lever to raise and lower the disk blades and accurately control depth of diskings. No tugging on ropes for angling disks . . . no stopping or slowing down.

If you want to disk a little deeper here or a little shallower there, it's a very simple matter. You can raise over wet spots, sandy patches or grass waterways "on-the-go." Lifts clear for sharp U-turn-arounds at row ends . . . you don't ridge even a handful of dirt.

Your Fields are Level as a Floor
Heavy, rugged construction and gangs rigidly mounted at a fixed angle, assure maximum cutting and thorough mixing of soil at all depths, from 1 inch to hub deep. You get uniform penetration whether in sandy soil, loam, clay or plowed sod.

Because the rear disks stay in the ground and trail accurately, they do as much work as the front disks. As a result you level off the high spots in your fields even in frost-heaved ground . . . not possible with conventional type disk harrows.

Tops for Conservation Farming
You can't match the new KEWANEE for conservation farming. You entirely eliminate the cutting up of sod strips and grassed waterways. The rear gangs trail accurately on contours and there is no "drifting" downhill.

Better Disking under ALL conditions
That's because the gangs on the new KEWANEE are permanently set at the best working angle. No need to change the angle to regulate depth . . . no compromise on good performance.

Because you can disk shallow or lift entirely over wet and sandy spots, you get into your fields days earlier. You are able to take advantage of favorable soil and weather conditions and get your seedbeds ready on time. You can put your crops in the ground when the time is exactly right.

Levels Ridges and Fills Dead Furrows
Front and rear gangs are instantly adjustable to level ridges or fill dead furrows. With the rear gangs fully raised, the front gangs throw dirt out, thus leveling off the ridge. To fill dead furrows, only the rear gangs are set to cut, thus throwing the dirt to the center.

HANDLES BOTH SHORT AND TALL GROWING CROPS

The handling of forage crops for hay and silage has been one of the heaviest farm jobs until the introduction of the Forage Harvester. Even when side delivery rakes, loaders, silo fillers, etc., were used, it still required a lot of hard labor. The Gehl Forage Harvester mechanizes the handling of forage crops, eliminates nearly all manual labor and reduces the size of the crew needed. A survey revealed that each Forage Harvester used saved an average of 360 man hours per season. It also gives you the speed often important in getting hay crops under cover before approaching rain.

Panhandle Will Have Display at State Fair

The Panhandle region will have an impressive display of its own as part of the "Storybook of Texas Agriculture" at the 1951 State Fair of Texas, Dallas, Oct. 6-21.

A model ranch home will form the center of the large diorama devoted to the Panhandle, Extension District 1 of the Texas A&M College System.

Placed about the ranchhouse will be photographs of beef cattle; a display of seven types of grass, actually growing, which form the basis of the Panhandle beef industry; wheat, grain sorghums, cotton, sugar beets, and other vegetables.

District 1 includes Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Sherman, Moore, Potter, Randall, Hansford, Hutchinson, Carson, Armstrong, Ochiltree, Roberts, Gray, Lipscomb, Hemphill, and Wheeler counties.

The Storybook of Texas Agriculture is a unique, new type of agriculture show developed by the fair and Texas A&M. For the first time, every part of the state is represented in the show, through the 14 Extension Districts of the A&M College System.

The display will give fairgoers an opportunity to see under one roof the complete, comprehensive story of the state's production. Products from the Rio Grande Valley to the Panhandle area can be seen side by side, with each area's products shown in their relative importance.

The glamorous, true story of Texas agriculture is told in a series of colorful, animated dioramas, each devoted to an Extension Service district. The dioramas are built like open pages in a giant book and the entire show covers almost an acre in the mammoth Agriculture Building.

Central exhibit of the show will be a huge relief map of Texas on a revolving turntable. Major cities and products of each area will be pictured. On the reverse side of the map, a large ledger will list the impressive annual production and income figures that add up to a two-billion-dollar agricultural bonanza for the state.

MRS. PHIL BARKLEY believes she has something of a record in keeping properties of onions. The three sweet Spanish onions above are some of those she dug in October and kept in her basement until March.

za. for the state.

In addition to the 14 district displays, dioramas will tell of the work of Negro Extension Service personnel and Four-H Club members.

Hereford Pastor's Brother Wrote New Texas Election Law

Actual writing of Texas' new election law was done by Dr. R. H. Cagle, head of the political science department at Baylor university.

Dr. Cagle is a brother of Rev. R. H. Cagle, pastor of the First Baptist church in Hereford.

Dr. Cagle worked with the commission to modify the election laws for 11 months, sorting new ideas and adding some of his own. More than 100 changes were made in the old election law.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Swim of Wichita Falls are visiting with Mrs. Swim's sisters, Mrs. E. Ramsey and Mrs. W. A. Gentry.

Tax Rates for County Remain Same Next Year

With everything else going up, tax-payers in the county can find some assurance that their tax rates are not increasing.

In fact, when added to the state tax, there is an over-all reduction of 30c per $100 in the rate.

Newest figures obtained at the tax collector's office show the rate as follows: state, 42c per $100; county, 95c per $100; road, 37c per $100, and school, $1.65 per $100.

The county, road, and school rates are the same for the coming year.

Beginner Swimming Classes Open Again

A second session of beginner's swimming classes will begin sometime this coming week, according to Kenneth Vaughan, manager of the Hereford municipal swimming pool.

Current classes were finished Friday.

Registration for a new class or classes will be held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday from 9-12 a.m., Vaughn reported. Classes will begin later this week.

Beginners of any age will be accepted in this class. "No child wanting to learn to swim will be denied the opportunity due to lack of funds," Vaughan commented. He asked that cases of this type contact him so arrangements could be made for lessons.

Admission prices to the pool for the lessons are the same—50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

DWI Charges

Charges of driving while intoxicated were filed August 2 against George W. Polk. He was picked up on August 1.

Mary Kathryn Carroll's Engagement Is Revealed

Mrs. Onias Carroll was hostess for a "Coke" party at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon announcing the engagement of her daughter, Mary Kathryn, and William Cheshire, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. W. A. Cheshire of Amarillo.

Miss Carroll and Mr. Cheshire will be married September 15, in the Hereford Presbyterian church. Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor, will officiate.

Fifteen guests were invited to the informal affair, most of whom were classmates in Hereford high school of the bride-elect.

As each guest arrived, she was presented with a corsage of pastel-shaded sweet peas tied with aqua ribbon, accenting the bride-elect's chosen colors of pink and aqua. "Bill and M-K Sept. 15" printed on the ribbon revealed the wedding news. "Coke" bottles carried out the theme with festive aqua and pink ribbon bows.

The guest list included: Mrs. Harold Loerwald, Mrs. R. R. Hennington, Martha Thomas, Faye Knox, Nancy Cagle, Bobbie Jane Sisk, Mrs. Dennis Lomas, Mrs. Doris Hardin of Amarillo, Mrs. Billie Stephens, Mrs. Ted Hardwick, Mrs. Joe Lyons, Leta Dene Springer, Mrs. Bill Brady, Mrs. W. A. Cheshire, and Mrs. W. E. Taylor of Amarillo.

Mrs. Carroll is a graduate of Amarillo Junior college where she was a member of Gamma Theta Chi sorority, serving as president for one year.

Mr. Cheshire graduated at Peacock Military academy at San Antonio and is also a graduate of Amarillo Junior college. He was a member of Sigma Alpha Delta fraternity and served as president of Beta Phi Gamma, press club. He was also editor of the 1950 Amarillo college annual — "The Ranger."

He is a Second Lieutenant in the Amarillo National Guard and at present is attending infantry service school at Fort Benning, Georgia. After the wedding the couple will return to Fort Benning where he will enroll for an advanced course.

MISS MAVIS HENSLEY

Woman's Reward is the Silent Applause of a Happy Family

(Ed. Note: This is one of several articles being written about presidents of the various study clubs of Hereford.)

"A girl must work hard, to learn what is best for her own happiness, to understand just what happiness requires. I wanted to excel in the fine arts when I was a girl—to accomplish something, but I learned that the real reward in a woman's life comes with the silent applause which comes of having a happy husband and children," Mrs. A. M. Jones, recently elected president of the Bay View club, said in discussing the work of the club for the coming season.

"If I were asked, I would tell young women to augment their home activities with club work, to accept club responsibilities and grow in service to others. I would tell them not to put off the real work of the club thinking someone else could do it better, they will not only enjoy the progress it offers but will have rich memories when they grow older," she continued.

Mrs. Jones came to Hereford in a covered wagon in 1900 from Gainesville. Her father, the late W. B. Dameron, brought two of the boys and three girls with him while the mother and the baby came by train. That fall she returned to the little town of Callisburg to teach school and the next fall she taught in Hereford, going to summer school every summer to obtain a permanent certificate. In 1908 she married A. M. Jones who came to Hereford from Nashville, Tenn. He was also a teacher in the schools here. They established their home here and built several of Hereford's nicest homes.

When she was rearing her three children, she remembered some lessons in harmony gained while studying painting, and she thought—"If I could create the harmony in home life for my family that the painter strives for in a picture, then I will have accomplished more than the coveted training in art, can provide." From the time she was in high school, she knew she wanted to write, but she was never able to get in the necessary amount of study for that. Then, after spending six weeks in New York and attending chataqua, she became obsessed with a desire to see the world. That urge to travel has been partly satisfied in recent years as visits with her children and grandchildren have sent her north, south, east and west.

She was a charter member of the Bay View club, one of Hereford's oldest clubs, having been organized in 1909, and worked with members for the establishment of the Deaf Smith County Library. She has been a member of the Christian church since childhood and taught a Sunday school class for many years and worked with the young people of the church. She has also served as president of the junior department and last year closed a successful year as president of the Woman's Council.

In 1934 after Mr. Jones' death, she was recommended by Congressman Marvin Jones for postmaster and served one year as acting postmaster until an appointment could be made by the president. While her children were in school she worked in the P-TA and it was while she was president of that organization that the first fine arts course was brought to Hereford. The women were proud too, of circulating the first petition in the late 1920's for bigger and better school buildings.

She has enjoyed her association with the club.

MISS HELEN ANN SNYDER

Miss Helen Ann Snyder To Arrive Here on Vacation

Miss Jacqueline Newell returned home Sunday after spending the past six weeks in Los Angeles. She was accompanied home by her uncle, Kenneth Razor and his son, Richard who have been visiting with relatives here.

Hereford, attended Hereford schools and is a graduate of Hereford High School. After graduation from TSCW, Miss Snyder was director of physical education in the Orange high schools. When the urgent call for specialists in that field came from the WAVES during World War II, Miss Snyder gave up her work at Orange and enlisted. She served as a specialist in the WAVES for two and a half years, spending the concluding six months of her service in Hawaii.

Since release from the WAVES Miss Snyder has been employed as director of physical education in the recreational program of the YWCA in Seattle, Wash.

Five Sisters Recall Days Gone By at Annual Visits

Worried about what you'll have to think about when you are old? Take a look at these five sisters. You might think they would run out of something to talk about for they have been holding reunions each summer in Hereford since 1944. But while many ties of the past have been severed by the inevitable passing of the years, they have retained full possession of their memories and no rose-colored glasses are needed as the colorful by-gone days are recalled.

They talk a good deal about the changes that have taken place. Some of the changes they like, such as the conveniences they now have, but some of the modern ways are deplored, especially the way the women dress. Aunt Jenny Thompson, in whose home they are gathered, will soon be 94 and she thinks—and they all agree—that the women's clothes of today—or some of them—at least—don't cover enough. She says when she was young women didn't go in much for hobbies they just did the necessary tasks from day to day and if there was any time left over there usually was a sick neighbor to help care for or help in some way.

"I don't know whether you could call doing for others a hobby or not," she said.

Then there's Aunt Molly, Mrs. Molly Matthews of Colgate, who spends much of her time looking after other people, especially her grand children and great-grandchildren.

Aunt Jessie, Miss Jessie Morris of Hereford, doesn't have time to do much for herself, she is so busy finding things she can do

Mrs. Anna Wiggins, Mrs. Lawrence McGee, and Mrs. N. D. Bartlett Jr. attended a shower for Dorothy Hendricks in Tullia Thursday.

Merle Trimble and Kay Sims of Dimmitt spent two days last week in the Earnest Medkief home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith and son returned Tuesday from Sebago Lake, Maine where they spent the summer. Ann returned as far as Colley, Kans. where she stopped to spend a week with an aunt, Mrs. Morgan Cole.

for those she loves. Her great-niece, Mrs. A. J. Schoeter, has three sons whom she has almost adopted. Now she is making those loud sport shirts for them and the gayer the colors the better she likes them.

Aunt Sallie, Mrs. Sallie Carter, who also lives in Hereford, really has a hobby. She has crocheted for years and in recent months that is about all she has been able to do.

Mrs. Blanche Wymore of Ardmore, Okla. has the job of remembering all the dates concerning past events. She thinks people are too busy these days and that they would be better off if they wouldn't go so fast. Like Aunt Jenny, she remembers the old days as the happiest even tho the women may not have accomplished so much, as the modern woman looks at accomplishment.

It's all fun to talk about—and each year they begin where they left off the summer before. By the time they are ready to separate again, new memories are added to the old and all winter long they enjoy them over and over again as they share them with their separate families.

tion with the Hereford Garden club and spends much of her time in her yard where she has done her own landscaping. She derives more pleasure now from her gardening, since it has become a form of recreation for her when alone. As for the hard work entailed—"As a matter of fact wives and mothers do work harder than anybody else and I sometimes think they should be awarded medals of achievement" she said.

"Women should look on home interests and their club work as jobs in the sense that they looked on their positions before marriage and put into them the same amount of energy and ambition."

You can easily see that she will bring a wisdom gained from valuable experiences to her club work as president for the next two years. For the past two years she has been vice-president which will give an added understanding for the work at hand.

"Moods and Trends of A Half Century" is the Bay View club study course chosen for the coming year, and new and attractive year books are ready for the press. Book reviews, a special study of the history making episodes and lives of great men of the period will be included, as well as the advancing trends in science and medicine and the social life of the nation.

The first meeting of the coming season will be in the form of a luncheon on Thursday, Sept. 20 and regular study programs are scheduled for the first and third Thursday of each month from October through May.

The three-week tailoring course is a part of the professional inservice training program sponsored by the Extension service of Texas A&M college.

Miss Routh has designed the plan for the workshop to give extension agents-techniques and skills necessary for them to conduct the demonstration in their local counties with home demonstration club leaders. The tailoring work which was begun in four counties in 1948 is now underway in 62 counties.

MRS. H. E. MILLER

Recipe For Moss Rose Cake Sought By Many Friends

Home cooks have a four-point food program—"To serve enjoyable meals, to keep your family well nourished, to practice thrift when need be, to save time and energy where you can."

Mrs. H. E. Miller has had plenty of experience in feeding the household with one perfectly good husband and five children to please. She has collected recipes for years and simplified them to her own usage and sometimes it will be months before she gets around to using one she has put aside for special use. By the time she has used it three or four times, she has changed it until it is all her own.

The recipe for today was first printed in a farm magazine and because it was a little different, Mrs. Miller was a little reluctant to try it. When she did it was so very good that those who sampled it wanted the recipe, and now it is one of her treasured few used over and over again. Here it is:

- Moss Rose Cake
- 2 cups sugar
 - 1 cup milk
 - 2 teaspoons baking powder
 - 4 eggs

2 cups flour (cake flour preferred)

Heat milk to boiling point and then cool. Break eggs over sugar and beat for 12 minutes. Sift flour twice and add baking powder, and add to eggs and sugar mixture. Add milk, which has been allowed to become lukewarm, slowly to batter and beat hard for three minutes. Bake in two nine-inch layers at 350-F degree oven.

Orange-Cocoanut Filling

Peel and cut fine two oranges and cover with two tablespoons sugar. Set aside.

- 1½ cups sugar
- 2 egg whites
- ¼ cup water
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups cocoanut

Cook the sugar and water until it spins a thread and pour over stiffly beaten egg whites. Beat well and spread on each layer but do not stack.

Mix the cocoanut and vanilla with the two oranges which have been set aside, and when the frosting spread on cake begins to set, add half the fruit mixture to one layer and half to the other, putting in gently. Put layers together and the cake is finished.

Friends to whom Mrs. Miller has given the recipe tell her "We were awed too when we first used the recipe, especially since it calls for no shortening—but everything turns out fine."

Homecoming Celebration is Postponed Until September 2

By Bobbie Walser
The Homecoming Day, which was planned for August 12, has been postponed until September 2 because of so much illness in the community.

The farmers are all watering their row crops. Wheat stubble is being plowed up and lettuce is being planted.

Earl Lance Jr. has started digging his father's potatoes as Mr.

Lance is still in Dallas with Jerry Don. Jerry Don seems to be somewhat better but he is very restless and hasn't been able to sleep.

Pat Morse, Kyle, Ken, and Kay arrived Monday to visit with Mr. Morse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Curry, and sister, Mrs. Guy Walser. Mr. Morse returned to Fort Worth Tuesday, but the children remained to visit with their grandparents.

Donald Walser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Walser, broke one finger of his right hand and bruised another when a sledge hammer fell on it.

Mrs. Louis Huckert of Hereford spent Thursday afternoon visiting Mrs. Lee Curry.

The young people and intermediates will spend Sunday in Palo Duro canyon. They will have their services there.

Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Simons left this week on their vacation.

Woodham-Smith's Life Story of Florence Nightingale a "Must"

Reviewed by Corinne Jennings

A vivid word picture is drawn of "Florence Nightingale" and her times in a biography of that name by Cecil Woodham-Smith. Material and many direct quotes are from old family papers never before available.

The story has won high praise, first in England and then in our own country, and is considered by critics as one of the best since the war.

The impression has long been that Florence Nightingale was a saint like creature and a Victorian lady. Another memory is of her devotion to the troops in the Crimean War which brought her personal fame and established the value of women in the nursing field once and for all.

But in this new biography is revealed for the first time the human being behind the legend. She was quite uncharacteristic in our present picture of the age. The carry over of Victorian sentimentality has been replaced by a down-to-earth version.

Born in 1820 in Florence, Italy, she was named for that city which at the time was an unusual name for a girl, she grew up in a household described as a "hot-house of emotion."

Her parents and close friends were leaders and thinkers in England and Europe. And as she grew to young womanhood, she seemed destined to a career of a great lady. But behind all this there was a passionate unrest, and at the age of sixteen, she received "a call from God" which decided her to break with the family and the easy life in high society.

Yet it was 16 years before she could make the break. During those years she changed from an eager girl to a powerful woman of genius. And not even the pleadings of her illustrious suitor could dissuade her from a life dedicated to public service.

Arriving in Paris in 1853, she was glad to get away from such so lady-like surroundings and ways. She had no patience with them by now and at times her own mother and sister drove her to the "verge of frenzy."

Being a realistic person with great talent, so rare in reformers, she was able to detect ineffective schemes and they aroused no sympathy in her. In 1891 she wrote to a Medical Officer for Health, "Prizes to (English) cottagers are not desirable. The prizes ought to be for a handy water supply—to the authorities."

Her life was an almost incredible struggle, not just to do her work but to be able to do it. At 30 when she began her career the family reaction was one of fury and hysteria.

Of the time she says, "My sister threw my bracelets, which I offered her to wear, in my face and the scene which followed was so violent that I fainted."

During the years which she served as "Superintendent for the Care of Sick Gentlewomen in Distressed Circumstances", volunteer work in Middlesex during cholera epidemic and then Crimea, she fought and overcame many obstacles.

As a nurse she worked herself into invalidism and also worked her friends, literally, to death. She became ill and was shanghaied home to England, but in spite of all this, she lived to the good age of 90 years.

A brilliant, temperamental, and energetic woman, she accomplished so much for others and in one sense of the word, so little for herself.

The book is a definite "must" for those interested in nursing and organizations, such as Red Cross, but should be on everyone's required reading list. Along with other recent recommended biographies, it may be obtained at the Deaf Smith library according to the Librarian, Mrs. J. J. Boydston.

Friona Lady, Sister Run Town's Only Cobbler Shop

A turn of fate gave Parmer county its only two lady cobblers in the persons of Mrs. J. M. McAdams, 55, and her 64-year-old sister, Mrs. Maude Waggoner.

The two ladies, who run a shoe repair shop on Friona's main street, take particular delight in their work, although the occupation is fairly new to them.

Mrs. McAdams, who has been doing the work for the past 10 years, took over operation of the entire shop after her 82-year-old husband became unable to work last October on account of his health.

Mrs. Waggoner, whose home is in Kosciouko, Miss., came to Friona last July to "stay for four or five weeks" while her sister was ill. She became engrossed in the shoe repair business and has been helping her sister ever since.

Although she has overstayed her original planned vacation, she is still anxious to return to her native Kosciouko and her work on legal research.

Mrs. Waggoner is proficient at all phases of the shoe-repairing trade except the operation of the stitching machine.

Mrs. McAdams, who has been doing all operations of the work for the last four years, says, "I am proud I can do the kind of work I like to do."

When Mrs. Waggoner came to the Plains from Mississippi, her sister was sick in bed and needed assistance in the home and at the shop.

mand a great deal of respect among Friona residents for their workmanship. Their small shop is a bee-hive of activity.

They are proud—and justly so—to admit they are the "only cobblers in Friona and even the only lady cobblers in the whole of Parmer county."

Mrs. Waggoner herself provides quite a study of accomplishment. During her years of legal research in the courthouse in Attala county, Mississippi, she compiled a lot of interesting information as she recorded the daily happenings of the county and of Kosciouko, a town of about 15,000 persons.

She has volumes and volumes of pertinent and interesting data picked off records there. Among them are tabulations of interesting names of Negroes divided into different categories, such as: geographical locations, colors, fabricated words, famous people, etc. Among her lists are the following surnames: Please, Malice, Cutie, Arena, Veto, Ever, Pink, Brown, Red, Diogenes, Achilles, Annanias, Caesar, etc.

Among her other collections are seven volumes of her own compiling which record the complete newspaper clipping history of World War II from March 7, 1941 until the Japanese signed an armistice.

Mrs. Waggoner was prompted in her record-keeping by the fact that her son served in the war and she kept the records so he would have access to a day-by-day history of the conflict.

Cotton Classing School for Area

Cotton farmers in the Deaf Smith, Parmer, and Castro county areas are invited to attend a free "Farmer's Cotton Classing School" in Lubbock from August 13 to 24.

Classes will be held each day from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the government class office, 1701 Avenue H, Lubbock.

This is the third annual classing school and is sponsored jointly by the extension service and the county agents.

PMA personnel will conduct the classes.

All those interested are urged to attend either one, two, five, or all 10 days. A certificate of attendance will be given to all who attend five or more days of the school.

Questions such as "What causes a two-sided bale?" will be answered, or "What is a 'dusty', 'oily', 'seedy', 'grassy', 'gin cut', 'mixed pack', etc."

Farmers from any of the three counties interested in attending are urged to contact their county agent, their gin operator, or the Lubbock school.

CONG. ROGERS SAYS

Tidelands Controversy Brought Up, Rogers Outlines Arguments

The long hard fight in this Congress to bring the Tidelands Bill to the floor is today bearing fruit. This news letter is being written immediately before the fight on the floor begins. The opposition to this measure has been fortified in this section of the country by many misrepresentations and incorrect statements. The question has been treated almost daily in the newspapers and in many radio programs. Several columnists and commentators have stated that the bill returning the tidelands to the states is a big oil company bill and that big oil company lobbies are trying to pass it. These statements are as prejudicial as they are untrue. The big oil companies do not care whether the state or the federal government owns the tidelands. In fact, they could make better trades with the federal government than they could with the state governments, especially in Texas. Educational institutions and teaching societies from all over the United States have flooded the offices of Congressmen almost daily for the past several days demanding that these tidelands be kept by the federal government and that the money derived from them be divided among the schools all over the entire country. It would be just as logical to say that because one individual has more property than another one, such property should be taken over by the Government and divided up among those who do not have that same kind of property. It cannot reconcile the statements of some of these groups that they are against socialism and communism when they undertake to advocate such theories. Every Texas congressman has fought hard on this bill and are today inserting into the Congressional Record their final remarks on the subject. The great demand for time on this subject and the limited debate makes it necessary that the final remarks be made as briefly as possible. I am closing my part of the case by following remarks, which I have tried to make as brief as possible so that others desiring to be heard in the Congress would not be penalized as to time. "MR. SPEAKER: The tidelands issue has been treated at great length by almost every conceivable phase of our economy. Not because there was a dispute between the Federal Government on the one side and Texas, California and other states on the other side as to the ownership of the natural resources beneath those lands, but because of the American people as individuals realize that the questionable reasoning of the Supreme Court could, by application in other fields, create a tremendous impact on the basic principles upon which our government was founded and could well mean the beginning of the end of the states' rights, freedoms and true representations that we have all so dearly cherished. The decisions of the Supreme Court in the California, the Texas, and the Louisiana cases have contributed more toward clouding the faith of the American people in the judicial system than any other three decisions in the history of this country.

"As a lawyer, I will perhaps be subjected to criticism for making this statement, but such criticism cannot detract one iota from the truth of the statement made. And if the fundamental principles upon which this government was founded and the abiding faith that has always been present in the mind of every American are to be restored, we cannot blind ourselves to the true feelings of the people nor undertake to justify such decisions by the use of ambiguous terms and unclear thinking.

"The Supreme Court has, in an effort to justify the end sought, undertaken to employ one principle of law and apply it in each of the cases without regard to the facts present and without so much as doing lip service to agreements that we of Texas have always considered binding on both parties. In fact, our understanding in this respect has caused us to fulfill all of the obligations to which we were subjected at the time we entered the Union. And by the same token we have the right to expect the Union into which we entered to honor and fulfill its obligations and the terms of the agreement in the same manner. There has been much said concerning this particular point both in the Courts and out. The question has been fully briefed by the able lawyers representing the various states involved and the subject has been treated at length by the attorneys for the United States Government. For me to go into these matters and reiterate the arguments would be mere repetition. Therefore, I will confine my remarks to the one basic point concerning the Texas decision with which every land owner will be faced unless Congress recognizes the fallacy of the Supreme Court's decision and rectifies the wrongs thereby brought about. When Texas entered the Union it retained all of its public lands which included the 10 1/2 mile strip now in dispute and to which the reference tidelands has been employed.

"In retaining these public lands Texas was also required to pay its own national public debt. These terms were considered at the time of the entrance of Texas into the Union as obligations on the State. In fact, the federal government felt at the time that the public lands were worth far less than the amount of the public debt of Texas at that time. Texas accepted these provisions and entered in the Union in good faith. It subsequently paid its public debt and assumed the ownership of its public lands. It sold and traded in these public lands and issued patents as the original source of title to the lands.

"Since the tidelands was a part of the public domain it fell within the same category as public domain owned by the state in the most extreme sections of the great Panhandle Plains country of Texas which lies over 700 miles from the sea coast. The people of Texas who originally purchased public domain from the state, met the requirements laid down by the state and accepted as evidence of title patents issued by the state. Much of these lands have subsequently passed into hands of many purchasers who have relied upon the patent from the State of Texas as the original source of title. In fact, I own a small piece of property that lies approximately 750 miles from the Gulf of Mexico. This land I purchased and relied upon the title above referred to.

"If the decision of the Supreme Court in the Texas case is the law of this land and the tidelands are the property of the United States of America regardless of the terms of the contract between Texas and the United States, then those of us who have dealt in good faith and have purchased land in the State of Texas regardless of where it lies are no more secure in the ownership of our homes than is a citizen of the Soviet Union whose property belongs to the state and in which he has only the right of a permissive user. The only claim that the landowner in Texas has to his own home, if the reasoning in the tidelands case is correct, is title derived by adverse possession under the statute of limitations or the claim of ownership under the doctrine of estoppel.

"Since the statute of limitations does not run against the sovereignty such a plea by a home owner would be of no effect. This would reduce him to the one claim or defense of estoppel. If his title is to rest on the doctrine of estoppel then he is driven to the point where he must say, in order to protect his home, that he admits that the federal government owns his land but because the federal government has so conducted itself that it stands in a position of bad faith and therefore should not be permitted to assert its bare legal title. No man in the United States of America would have ever contemplated or foreseen that this country could have ever reached the point where a plain, honest citizen having as a primary interest the raising of a Christian and patriotic family would be driven into a corner where he would be required for self preservation of himself and his family to make such an admission.

Need Increase in Legumes To Maintain Production

An increase in the acreage of fall planted legumes is needed in Texas if farmers are to maintain high production per acre of cotton and other cash crops.

According to the agronomists of the Texas A. & M. College System and Soil Conservation Service, legumes, when properly fertilized and inoculated, have very beneficial effects upon the soils where they are grown. One of the most important effects is the influence legumes have on improving soil structure or condition. The agronomists point out that this refers to the way small particles are held together in the soil. The soil structure should be crumbly or granular so as to allow for deep root and water penetration and air circulation within the soil. In some soils the particles "run together" to such an extent that little or no water or air can get into them. Planting deep rooted legumes such as sweet clover and alfalfa on such soils will materially improve this condition. The use of legumes like vetch, winter peas, annual yellow sweet clover, and crimson clover add materially to the organic matter and nitrogen content of soils, but do not necessarily open subsoils, say the agronomists.

Some soils have a poor plant-soil moisture relationship. That is, they have heavy dense subsoils at a shallow depth. These subsoils restrict the movement of air, water and plant roots which also limits the activity of life in the soil. Growing of deep rooted legumes or grasses will punch these heavy subsoils full of holes and cause better movement of air, water and plant roots through the soil.

Soil life, say the agronomists, is made up of small animals and plants such as earth worms, bacteria, and fungi. These organisms are a lot like plants for they too must have food, air, and water to grow. Their food comes from legumes and other plant residue that is plowed under, as well as from the roots of these plants.

Since air is a necessity, these small organisms are much more active at greater depth in soils that have been punched full of holes by deep-rooted legumes.

Growing deep-rooted legumes such as sweet clover not only improves the soil home for the small organisms, but also increases the water penetration as well as water holding capacity and aeration of the soil. All are needed to maintain and increase the productivity of cropland soils.

Legumes, especially when plowed under as a green manure crop, increase the organic matter in soil. This organic matter helps hold together the small soil particles and improves the soil structure by making it granular. Soils high in organic matter have better air circulation and air space and will absorb and hold water that is needed by the plants and soil life. Growing deep-rooted legumes, point out the agronomists, puts the organic matter from decaying roots deep in the soil and thus improves soil conditions.

The agronomists urge farmers to make plans now for their fall legumes plantings. Soil samples should be taken from the fields where the legumes are to be planted and sent to the Soils Laboratory at College Station for analysis. The analysis will furnish information on what kind and the amounts of fertilizers needed to make legume-growing more successful in the various soil type areas of the state.

The agronomists suggest that farmers see their local county agent or work unit conservationist on the legumes best adapted to his particular section of the state and on taking and mailing soil samples.

ON GUARD

A burglar pried open a window of a service station and took $400 to $500 dollars from the trouser pockets of the station owner while he slept in the back room of the station, reports the Scurry County News. Why was he sleeping in the station—to guard against thieves, of course.

DOOMED TO DIE BUT STILL LIVING

According to the Colorado City Record, a man doomed to die 40 years ago is still living today. The doctors told him he had from six months to a year to live. He entered a tuberculosis sanitarium but left when 52 of the 55 patients died. It turned out he didn't have tuberculosis after all. What about the doctor who told him he was going to die—oh, he died shortly afterward.

WRONG STREET

The Hockley County Herald tells of a tired pipeline employee who gave the cab driver his address and on arrival at the address promptly hit the hay. A neighbor told the sheriff and the sheriff told the pipeline worker that he was in the wrong house. The man found he was in a house with the same street number as his own but his house was three blocks away.

Lanky Bill Back prefers a slingshot to a gun any time, according to the Colorado City Record. Not that he's not handy with a gun—he is. He knocks off rattlers and blasts mice with his 45 calibre gun and he holds several records in official FBI shooting matches, but he will take the slingshot any time for fun. "You can hunt quiet," Bill says and if you miss your game there isn't much noise to scare him off. A slingshot won't scare everything for miles around like a rifle will.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

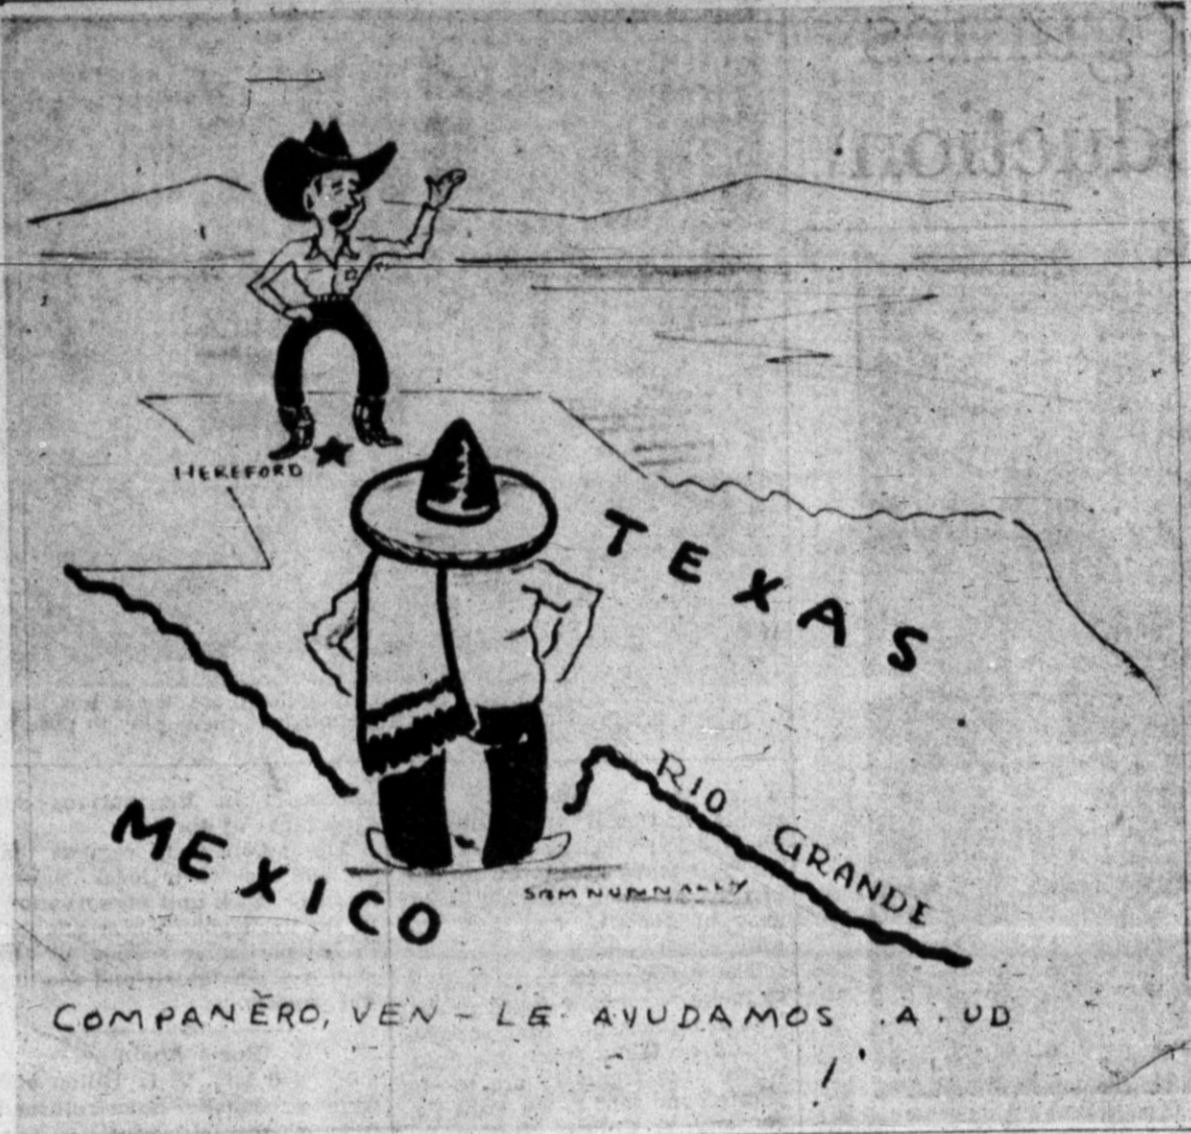

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his farm near Bootleg this week has his two-bits worth, an inflationary amount, on the high cost of living.

Dear editor: I notice the government is still tryin to reduce the price of meat, on the theory I think that farmers and ranchers are gettin rich anyway and lowerin the price on just one item they raise won't hurt no more'n lowerin the price say on radiator caps would hurt General Motors, but I stumbled on a newspaper the other mornin while I was out here studyin my crops, don't know that reflectin on your crops helps em any but it sure sounds important and makes a man look busy, and after I got through decidin the crops were fair but wouldn't make as much as I'd figured on as there ain't a piece of land been invented yet a farmer couldn't out-figure its production on, I took the paper home and stretched out on the front porch and read where an expert had been doin some figurin himself on what's causin high prices.

Blamin the farmer for high prices is a popular pasttime, he said, but there ain't a thing to it. For example, he found, a can of pork and beans, mostly beans, used to cost a nickel, but now it costs 16 cents, and most housewives mutter and blame it on the farmer. Yet if the farmer just hauled off and gave his beans to the canner, the can of pork and beans would still cost 14 cents. In other words, no use blamin the high cost of a can of pork and beans on me and the other farmers. There's something in the wood-pile maybe, but it ain't a farmer.

Also, this expert found if a farmer gave away the wheat in a 16-cent loaf of bread, the bread would still cost the housewife 14.4 cents. If the tobacco farmer gave away the tobacco in a 20-cent pack of cigarettes, the pack would still cost you 17 cents. If a sheep rancher gave the wool in a $50 suit of clothes, the suit would still cost $40.50. In a $3 cotton shirt, there's about 35 cents worth of cotton, all told. You get the point. I ain't about to start givin away cotton or beans or anything else to prove us farmers ain't to blame for inflation, but Washington is barkin up the wrong tree when it thinks we are. It's somebody else's turn. How about the Indians? There ain't many of them and not one out of ofur can vote anyway. Down with the Indians and the high cost of livin.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Readers Give Views on Hiring of Mexican Laborers in Hereford

Do you think that we should encourage Mexican labor here? Why?

DR. J. W. HENDRIX—I really believe that under the circumstances if we would fix them places to live it would be well to encourage Mexican labor. Since we do a lot of truck farming around here, we need their type of labor.

FRANCES NEFF—Yes, if we could provide the proper facilities for them, because there are certain types of labor that the local people won't do and the Mexicans don't mind doing.

JOHNNIE POOL—Definitely. We don't have enough local labor to take care of the vegetable crops since we have only a few days to get the vegetables out of the field. I don't necessarily think it should be Mexican labor but just some kind of transient labor. I also think that we should have a sub-division for the transient labor because some of them might want to build homes in Hereford.

ALEX THOMPSON—Sure. It's a necessity and they want the work. If we treat them right they'll give us good service.

SPEC HUNT—Yes, but I think that the community should help them to have better housing facilities and treat them better than they do down town. Some of the Mexicans don't like the way they are treated and if we don't have Mexican labor it will be hard on the farmers and that is what the town grows on.

MRS. LAWRENCE MCGEE—I don't believe so. I think that we should stick with our own type of people. We have enough of them and we've been running into a little trouble with the Mexicans.

MRS. J. B. SOWELL—No, definitely not. I just don't think we should. We have too many of them now. We need to use more of our home boys.

MRS. MAURICE TANNAHILL—Personally I'd rather that we didn't have them but the people who truck farm definitely need them.

JERRY DRENNEN—Yes, with the war on labor is naturally scarce and seems like the war is going to continue. We need the Mexicans here because they keep labor cheaper and they will do many jobs that the white people wouldn't do. They also bring a good amount of trade.

Lions Round-Table Talks On Labor Problem Healthy

The Lions "took the lion by the tail" Wednesday. We refer, of course, to the round-table discussion they held on the Mexican labor problem. They took a controversial subject and presented it before the members of the club with views of men representing different phases of the community's economy. Instead of dodging the issue, they tried to meet it as an actual reality. The problem is growing more and more each year. Rather than try to take up both sides of the argument in an attempt to force a pro or con view on anyone, we will confine ourselves to complimenting the Lions for their forthrightness. The problem will be settled amicably, you can be sure of that, as long as we have men in the community willing to take into consideration both sides of the question.

We need more of this kind of discussion of mutual problems. Maybe the Lions can be the nucleus of a community round-table group to air vital questions. Right now, people in this community are too timid in airing their opinions publicly on ANY TYPE of question. Members of The Brand staff have noticed that in securing answers for our public opinion feature, "Sunday's Current Question." Within two or three years—maybe sooner—the problem of encouraging or discouraging Mexican labor in Hereford will be one which CANNOT be side-stepped. The Lions have brought it out into the open, we owe them a lot for that. If nothing else, the people are talking about it. That's a healthy condition. Eventual solution of the problem will require that both schools of thought temper their demands in the light of hard, cold facts.—W. W. K.

Support of Local Food Analysis is Commendable

The Chamber of Commerce took a commendable step when its members voted to finance chemical analyses of locally-grown food and farm products. Sponsorship of this chemistry may mean a great deal to this area within a few years through medical research, new industries, increased population, and nation-wide publicity. There is more to this area's mineral superiority than just theory in the personal opinion of Dr. L. B. Barnett, who is doing bone research work in Dallas on this very project. Medical men in Dallas are convinced that something of medical importance will be discovered for us and the entire world in a few short years after we take the chemistry and prove present theories clinically. The project is big enough—if its merits are proven—to interest the United States Department of Health to spend about a million dollars here. It is only natural—and indicative of the foresight of local farmers and businessmen—that we should take the first step in propagating this spectographic (photo-electric) analysis of our vegetation. We will be in possession of the material gained through this work and can use it to our best advantage. We will also have the results about a year ahead of time by doing the work on a local basis. When the theories about this area's mineral superiority in bone-healing and growing characteristics are proven—as they undoubtedly will be—we in Hereford and Deaf Smith county will be the first ones to gain from any new discoveries. We are saying to the nation also, that we believe in what we have here to the extent that we will finance a project on our own to prove our claims.—W.W.K.

If We Don't Arm Allies, Who Will?

America, as the richest nation in the world, is going to have to assume a major part of the cost of arming the free world against Communism. We have realized that for some time. We know that if we do not, the other countries cannot. Arming the free world costs America money, but it is by far cheaper than paying the price of a Communist victory in Western Europe, in the Far East, or in the Middle East. It is disturbing then, that some of our lawmakers would pull their heads into a hole like an ostrich and advocate lightening our efforts on behalf of the free world. Paying in dollars and cents instead of with our freedom is by far the most pointless way to deal with Communism. It would be better for some of our high-powered politicians to realize this and quit trying to row against the stream. The American people are united on one thing—defeating Communism. If it calls for supporting a European army of 400,000 men plus the European armies, then let's do it and keep America and her allies free.—W. W. K.

Rent-Gouging of Our Servicemen

One of the most disgusting revelations recently was the manner in which servicemen and their families were gouged by landlords near army camps. This situation by no means reflects the overall attitude of people in their relations with our servicemen, but it does point up rather sharply that there are many people who can do immeasurable harm to our servicemen through their greedy practices. We all know that situations like this could not exist under normal conditions. No one would pay for accommodations such as are now foisted on servicemen in some places. It's downright shameful that some of our Americans have to be mercenary enough to profit by human tragedy. Our servicemen are doing a job on behalf of you and me and the same people who are gouging them unmercifully. This is one instance, where the government should be tough with people who insist on hiking up the prices of rents as soon as the housing market gets tight. If private landlords are too greedy, then maybe the government should help with the housing problem around critical defense areas. At any rate, we should not tolerate anyone taking unfair advantage of our servicemen.—W.W.K.

Safflower on Kerschen Farm Now In Full Bloom, 18 Inches High

By Mrs. R. C. Childers
The safflower on the Robert Kerschen farm is attracting even more attention since it is in full bloom. Passersby stop and pull a stalk to show to their friends. Each stalk has a number of blooms, and a host of buds. On one stalk your correspondent counted 17 buds and blooms. They are deep yellow and orange in color. The plants are all the same height and the same distance apart, in other words they are in perfect formation, and are about 18 inches tall. The leaves have a number of points and each point contains a sharp needle point which will probably make them difficult to harvest. The safflower is harvested with the regular wheat or milo combine, with a different adjustment. The seeds are about the size of cantelope seed and resemble them in color. The safflower, when processed, makes an edible oil for human consumption, and a meal for livestock. This question has been asked about the safflower. Will it come up volunteer and be a pest the following year? Will it be like some kind of weed, very difficult to get rid of? These things will be learned by those who are raising it this year. Mrs. C. J. Troxell and Dorothy accompanied Mrs. Leona Packard to Lubbock for the week-end. A group of friends and relatives met for a picnic Saturday night at McKinsey park. About 25 were present. Jan Cooke attended a G. A. meeting at the home of Mrs. O. G. Hill Wednesday night, with other G. A. members. The group gave a program for the W.M.U. Bettye Sneed was in the local hospital this week. She returned home Wednesday evening. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sneed of this vicinity. Haskel Dufer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sermon Dufer, is expected home this week. He has been serving in the Armed Forces. Haskel is getting a medical discharge. Mrs. R. N. Cooke attended a Sunday school party at the home of Mrs. J. B. Allison Thursday night. Lynn Barclay spent Monday and Tuesday in the C. S. Barclay home while his mother, Mrs. Tom Barclay went to Sayre, Okla. after Mrs. Dora Smith. Mrs. Smith is the mother of Mrs. S. J. Barclay. Wayne Johnson reports that most of the loot, stolen from farm homes has been recovered, according to the sheriff's office, and that he will get the things that were stolen from him, as soon as they can have the trial of those involved. Johnson had a watch, a cigarette lighter, and gun ammunition stolen and a necklace of Mrs. Johnsons was also stolen. Mr. Johnson said he was really surprised to know that he would get all of his things back. Mr. and Mrs. Jess Carter, Mrs. Lealia Wolfington of Hereford, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wolfington of Plainview, were visitors in the Fred Wolfington home Sunday. Mrs. Carter is a sister of Wolfington's. Mrs. J. B. Sneed entertained a group of friends in her home Tuesday with a Stanley party. Those attending from this vicinity were Mrs. R. N. Cooke, Mrs. Clinton Jackson, and Mrs. Abie Doney. Sunday visitors in the R. N. Cooke home were Mrs. Gladys Dixon and family and Mr. and Mrs. Elma Cummings from Canyon. R. N. Cooke attended the Albert Brown sale at Canyon Thursday. This was a dairy sale. Mr. Sherman Dufer has been in the local hospital this week. The Dufers live in the Walcott community now. They are for-
