Synopsis of Pageant

The pageant will be presented with a prologue and 10 parts: 1, Triumphant Entry; 2, The Cleansing of the Temple; 3, The Upper Room; 4, The Garden of Gethsemane; 5, Peter's Denial; 6, The Trial Before Pilate; 7, The Via Dolorosa; 8, The Crucifixion; 9 The Descent from the Cross; 10, The Resurrection; 11, The Great Commission.

Object of the pageant is to present scenes which originally happened during the last seven days of Jesus Christ as told in the New Testament. The narration is from the new Revised Standard Version of the New Testament and all music is sacred.

None of the characters are professional actors, and chiefly represent farmers, ranchers, teachers and ministers, who believe faithfully in their personal Savior, Jesus Christ, and who present the pageant as an outward sign of their sincere faith at the Easter

Huge Illuminated Cross A huge, electrically lighted cross marks the site of the pageant, be-tween Grady and San Jon on Highway 39. Hereford spectators can most easily reach the site by traveling west on Harrison Highway to Bellview, then to the location. Residents in the north and west areas can also reach the location by traveling over U. S. 66 to San Jon, then to the grounds,

Historical Sketch Caprock Easter Pagea was first presented in 1950. Bill Hall, now of Vaughn, N. M., had witnessed the famous Easter Services at Lawton several years be-fore and had felt, since coming to Grady, that the Caprock was an ideal natural setting for a similar ideal natural setting for a similar Easter Service.

Mr. Hall, together with his pastor, Royce Herndon, and several of the Grady residents, decided to enlist the help of churches of the surrounding communities. The people of Rosedale, Broadview and San Jon responded and joined the Grady delegation. Rev. J. J. Spurlin was appointed director of the first presentation; Charles Thompson, music director; Gibbs Rucker, general chairman. All committees general chairman. All committees secured the side on the Caprock and worked together to clear the grounds. Equipment and properties were borrowed.

In 1951, the pageant was organized on the basis of the previous year with mostly the same staff and cast. The audience arrived in more than 2,000 automobiles.

ting an all-time attendance for professional baseball because the Cotton Bowl just isn't large enough. Cleveland holds the record-82,781 for an American League doubleheader in 1948.

The basketball rules committee has decided not to change the rule on free throws although the majority of coaches want it done. The coaches didn't like the one-and-one make no change since no suitable substitute for it was suggested.

This rule was invoked the past season. Another one also said that any foul in the last three minutes of a game would call for two free throws whether the player was cents for general admission and fouled while shooting for the basket or not. Both rules were designed to cut down on fouling. .

A check of Southwest Conference basketball statistics for the past season showed there were fewer fouls - an average of more than five per team per game. But, says Abb Curtis, supervisor of officials in the conference, the one-and-one rule didn't bring this about. It was that rule in the last three minutes.

Curtis made a close study of the situation. He found that the fouls were fewer in the final three minutes because the defensive player had nothing to gain by fouling. He could just let the man with the ball drive in for a crip shot. Evenif that fellow made it the defensive man was certain to get the ball, and he had a 50-50 chance of getting it if the crip shot was missed. If he had fouled the man with the ball, that guy got two shots. The chances of his making two points were about as good on the free throws as on the field

Curtis also found that the oneand-one slowed down the game by three or four minutes. The only thing it accomplished was to increase the scoring for a team by about 10 points per gam.e And those points were made in the most boresome way. The fans don't like the trek up and down the court to the free throw lines; they want action and continuous throws at the basket from a moving position. It would appear that there is a substitute for the one-and-one go back to the old rule of giving one free throw on a foul. The oneand-one didn't furnish enough penalty for fouling therefore not only was useless but slowed down the

Committee Reports 155 Returns Here On Easter Seals

The Easter Seal Campaign is well under way in Deaf Smith County. According to the Treasur-er, Bob Lawrence, the response has been very good to date with 155 individual contributions receiv-

"Most of the money given laster Seals will remain in the local fund to be used to help our own people, and the balance of the money given will go to the state office, where it will also be used to provide therapy treatments and the equipment necessary to teach crippled children to walk, said Bob Wear County Chairman of the Texas Crippled Children's Society.

"Your County Chapter reports a total of $202.97 spent or set aside for the assistance of local boys and girls," Mr. Wear said adding that he believed there were other crippled children in our area who should and would be helped. The local chapter is eager to give such assistance and is looking to the people of this area for the financial upport with which the help car

"Let us know if you have know-ledge of a crippled child needing assistance, and we will, if possible, supply the needed help," said Mr.

"Rebel" Club Will Sponsor Safety Run

The Rebel custom car club of lereford is having a reliability run from here April 12, according to announcement of Corky Garner, reporter.

"The run is to find out which boy can obey all traffic laws of the city, as well as on the open road," Garner said.

The trial run will start in Hereford at 10 o'clock Sunday, April 12, and will go first to Vega, then to Amarillo, Canyon and back to Hereford. The boy with the best time will win the run, provided he obeys all traffic rules; otherwise, he will be disqualified. Hidden judges will be along the route to keep check on all entrants.

"Everyone is invited to enter with anything he or she wishes to drive," said Garner. Entrance fees have been set at $2.50 for the run.

"Additional information may be secured by attending a Rebel club meeting at the city hall at 2:30 on any Sunday, or by contacting Pat Newel, Lanny Wilkins, Johnny McIver, Dwaine Wallace or Corky Garner.

It is no light matter to our farmrs and ranchers when crops fail use of drouth and when livedock do not have enough water to

It is an equally critical situation when productive industries have to

But, despite all of these discouraging circumstances, the fact is that Texas is not a poor state with respect to total water resources. We must, however, use and save more wisely.

As a special Governor's com mittee reported to me early this alc factor more important to year, the water laws of Texas, which seem to have been originally adopted on the theroy of plenty, do not in certain respects meet the existing situation." The asumption of plenty, while true in some respects and in particular areas, cannot be followed safely on a statewide basis. We must realize that we no longer can afford to

> And the avoidance of not simple.

We must utilize the know-how of pensive dams and reservoirs must be constructed.

As to knowledge, we are fortunate in having an impressive amount of it at our disposal.

For example, the Texas section curtail or stop their operations, or of the American Society of Civil reduce their number of employees, Engineers has made a study entitlfor lack of water. It is just as ed "A Water Policy for Texans" serious when new industries that which was published in October as otherwise would be attracted to a public service. Also, there are 101 informed and public-spirited citizens now serving on a water conservation committee which I appointed last September. They submitted an excellent report in January which forms the basis of the water program I have recommended to the 53rd Legislature. All of the measures suggested are now pending before the Legislature.

That program, briefly stated, involves: (1) ways of financing state and local water conservation projects, (2) strengthening the adminiistrative powers of state agencies controlling water, (3) water pol-lution control, and (4) relations between our state and the federal government with respect to water conservation.

The financing proposal would require a Constitutional amendment permitting the state to give considerable assistance to community and district projects for storing and conserving water. This "Bell amendment," introduced by Senathe most competent engineers so tor John J. Bell of Cuero, would that our water program will be both scientific and practicable. Exsurface waters;

The surface water fees, which could be put into effect by the Legislature after final adoption of the amendment, would not exceed the following rates: (1) 10 cents per acre for irrigation, (2) one-half cent per acre foot (an acre foot contains 325,000 gallons of water) for electrical power plants and other uses that do not permanently consume the water; and (3) 10 cents per acre foot for "all diversionary rights of use other than irrigation.'

The money received from these fees would be used by the state to guarantee one-third of the debts owed on community and district water conservation projects. This would permit many essential pro-jects to be started which otherwise would be held back for lack of financial guarantees to bond purchasers.

The Governor's committee estimated that the fees on surface waters would yield about $2,000,could be used to aid in the initial financing of $100,000,000 worth of for administering the water program, the committee suggested conservation projects.

To strengthen the state's powers for administering the water program, the commi tee suggested that the present State Board of Water Engineers be given additional authority and responsibilitiy. The Board's new duties would include the requirement of reports from certain water users, the cancellation of unused water permits, and taking inventory of water resources in Texas, In addition to its detailed recommendations for immediate legislation, the Governor's Water Con-Water Resources Committee to Mexico.

We have the choice of giving more state assistance toward the construction of dams and reservoirs or of submitting to increased federal help and regulation. I believe the state should not side step its responsibilities.

For many years the people of Texas were able to get most of the water they needed from underground sources. Now that many of these natural underground reservoirs have reached the limit of their productive capacity, we have had to turn increasingly to the surface waters.

Here again we have been blessed because Texas has more streams of appreciable size than any other

From these streams we now use ess than one-seventh of the annual runoff. Bud To Blossom Club Hears Discussion Of Annuals Friday of Mrs. W. H. Patton Friday after-

Topic for the day was "Annualsing on the garden cake." Mrs. Hudson described annuals as the plants that are sown, bloom and die in a single season. Naming zinnias, marigolds and Port U-Laca as the three most popular annuals, she recommended them

At the Missouri Auction School in Kansas City, Miss Sanders learned the fine points of the business. She adopted a professional costume of riding pants, western shirt, big-grimmed hat and fancy boots. It was all part of the showmanship that helped her finish first in a class of 30 student auctioneers.

She has conducted sales at Hays, Kan., Rushville, Neb., Concordia, Kan., and Torrington, Wyo. Early year she will begin a tour

So far, Norma has officiated only at quarterhorse sales. But she plans to specialize in registered horse and cattle sales.

Apparently people like the idea of a girl auctioneer. Some of them seem to show up just to watch the entertainment and listen to the soprano chant. The crowds sometimes make it a little difficult to complete the business at handselling horses.

One customer appeared at a sales barn the day after the sale. He wanted to get a look at the horse he bought. "I couldn't see anything but the head," he complained. But that hadn't prevented him from paying $280 for the animal. Norma fixed one man who winked at the auctioneer. She sold him a horse. Norma explained that some buy-ers indicate their bids by closing one eye or making some other secretive sign. Sticking strictly to business, she assumed the man who winked was making a bid. It happened to be the last bid, so she called the sale

The man protested loudly that he had not bid on the horse. So the good-natured Norma sold the horse again, the second time without winks.

No other light trucks have all this

VOU don't expect polo-pony agility from a truck in traffic - but the new GMC's have it.

You'd like to have passenger-car pace and economy on the highway - and you'll get it from the 1953 GMC's.

For there are two tremendous advances that step the new GMC's far ahead of all previous truck

One: Dual-Range Hydra-Matic Drive -the fully automatic shift with 3 speeds for traffic, 4 for the open road — available on 19 models throughout the %-, %- and I-ton capacity range.

Two: a new line of engines of progressive design, with compression ratios of 7.5 to 1 and 8.0 to 1—the highest of any gasoline truck engine ever built. Here's pile-driver power behind every piston stroke—flashing response and better mileage squeezed from regular fuel.

A number of chassis advances too, add to the extra-value features that make GMC's, point for point, the biggest dollar's worth in the light-truck field as well as in the heavier lines.

We confidently tell you—these great new GMC's will do your job better, easier, and at the lowest over-all cost. They have stamina beyond their size, because they're "built like the big ones" — the heavy-duty GMC's that lead the world

That's saying a lot. But just come in - and we'll prope it.

Letter To The Editor Free Water And Sewer Service; To The Brand: In a front page article appearing

n your issue of Thursday, March 19th., and in an editorial appearing in last Sunday's Brand, it was stated that the practice of allowing City Officials and Employees I did not pay for. free water and sewer service was started more than thirty years ago. and had since been continued as ed the City who believed it right stated that retiring City Officials both City Officials and Employees. and Employees were continued on We all have a right to our own the City.

Now 1 do not know when this and integrity, who in good faith practice was inauguarated, but I did what they believed was just do know it was not practiced from and right, so let's not make a 1924 to April 1932, when I retired mountain out of a mole hill nor be as Mayor along with Mr. C. H. too quick to form conclusiins. Dyar and J. O. Newell, City Commissioners. A check of the records at the City Hall will show that we paid our water bills on the same basis, just like all other Citizens did, and I am quite sure, all City Employees did likewise, only the Fire Boys being exempt.

When I became Mayor in 1944, brought up this question, I believe at the first meeting of the Commission, and while I did not favor the practice, it was continued, however, not feeling that it should have been, I continued to pay my bill each month until I retired in April of 1946. The records will bear out this statement, and at no time, either before or after I retired did I use one drop of City water that they done me wrong and they wanted to fix it up before I died. I told them I didn't want to get up there and be recognized. I didn't care. But they kept insisting."

That's B. A. Skipper telling how he happened to get called to the microphone at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. He was given a large, framed scroll. And he made his first speech.

The scroll is an unusual tribute to a real estate man's part in development of the East Texas oil field - an important role not previously recognized publicly. It tells "Skip", in depress on day: went from farm to farm, telling farmers not to give up their land, assuring them there was oil under-

1. For more flavorful stew, each piece should be coated with flour and slowly browned on all sides. 2. Dumplings add a special touch and steam 10 minutes. 3. Serve the stew in a casserole over as a meat pie.

"Why, man, they ain't no oil within 100 miles of Longview," the farmers said. And "Skip" got the same reaction from oil companies when he began telling them about the 8,300 acres of leases he had signéd up. Skipper signed up many of the 8,300 acres at a dollar an acre. There wasn't no money in the country hardly," the 70 year old man recalled in his speech. "You could buy anything for a dollar.' The scroll tells how Skipper wrote 7,500 letters. "I wrote every oil company, geologist and land man whose address I could find. I told them to come in and drill. They just laughed. Finally, I got an independent company to come in. I had to give them -- just plain give them 7,800 of my 8,300 acres. That left me only 500 acres and I sold some of them before the Lathrop well The Lathrop well 51/2 miles northwest of Longview came in Jan. 21, 1931. It wasn't the first producer in the East Texas field. But oil men agree it was the convincerthe one that brought the hordes of to stew.
