Fezmen to Initiate Novices In Mysteries of Trip Across the Desert

Clovis, March 23.—Several times each year Ballut Ahyad Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S. makes the pilgrimage to Mecca, introducing to Novices the perils of the burning desert sands encountered on their way thither. Their initial pilgrimage for 1922 will be made at Clovis on Saturday, March 25. The Clovis Shrine Club is making every preparation to see that the Nobles have a pleasant and entertaining trip and that the Novices shoulder all the trouble.

It is expected that there will be three hundred visitors and preparation is being made to handle that number. Everyone in Clovis is taking it upon themselves to see that nothing is lacking to make the visitors remember the occasion for many days to come.

Arrangements are being made with the residents of Clovis to have sleeping accommodations for all Shriners and their ladies. The committee with that in charge is handling the matter in a systematic manner so that no confusion will result, and the Shrine Club has taken upon itself the proposition of seeing that everyone is supplied with more than enough to eat.

Special plans are being made to take care of the visiting ladies who will be taken in charge by a ladies committee for that purpose. Entertainment will be provided so that they will have no idle moments while the pilgrimage is being made across the burning sands.

During the day automobiles will be at the disposal of all visitors to use as they may see fit.

It is expected that the parade will be one of the features of the day. Four bands will participate. Khiva and Balls Ahyad Shrine Bands and the Portales and Clovis City Bands.

The following is the program as has been outlined:

- 10:00 Candidates to report to Recorder and visiting Nobles to register at the High School on North Main Street. Ladies to register at the Lyceum Theatre parlors.

MISS IRENE WILLIAMS RECEIVES NICE PROMOTION

The Austin Statesman of recent date carried the following announcement concerning Miss Irene Williams, a Hereford girl, which will be of interest to her many friends here:
"Miss Irene Williams, for the past year a clerk in the Department of Labor at Austin, has accepted a place in Gov. Neff's office and assumed her duties. No more popular young lady ever held a position at the state capital than Miss Irene. Her charming manner, extreme courtesy, lovable disposition and sunny smile has won for her a host of friends at Austin and over the state, and while all those on the third floor are delighted to know of a promotion for this bright young woman, they regret to lose her from this part of the big building."

PARK BOARD HAS FLOWERS PLANTED ABOUT COURTHOUSE

The Park Board has begun the setting out of bulbs and other plants around the courthouse lawn this week. The holes for the new trees on the lawn have been thoroughly soaked, too, and are now ready for the work of installing the trees as soon as they arrive.

The border of flowers and shrubs around the courthouse each year has always been a beautiful display and is a distinct credit to the county. There are few towns in Texas that can boast of such a courthouse, lawn, shade trees and flower effects as Deaf Smith.

2 Prairie Fires Break Out Near Here Same Day

Two prairie fires broke out Thursday. The first call for help came from the Jones & Dameron Ranch located four miles east on the creek. The fire swept down the creek to the dam, burning about a section of grass. The second call came from the Ole O. Olson Ranch three and a half miles north. This fire destroyed about three quarters of a section of grass.

The first blaze occurred when fire guards failed to hold, and the Olson fire was caused when flames escaped from a burning pile in the strawberry patch.

Winter's Layoff Failed to Cloud Trap Men's Eyes

A remarkably good average score was made by the gun club members in their preliminary shoot Wednesday afternoon, in limbering up for the regular season. The weather conditions were good and the eyes of the gunners did not seem to be dimmed by their winter's layoff. President McDonald broke fifty straight birds. The other members shot twenty-five targets only. The score:

McDonald (50 birds)	50
Cunning (25 birds)	25
Godwin	23
Doug Fox	21
Clark	20
Homer Fox	19
Thurmond	19

The regular season will begin at 2:30 o'clock next Wednesday, afternoon. All members, prospective members and visitors are invited to attend.

H. L. RICE TAKES TREATMENT AT MAYO BROS. HOSPITAL

Mrs. H. L. Rice received word Thursday morning from Mr. Rice, who is in the Mayo Sanitarium, Rochester, Minn., that he has had several thorough examinations, and that three of the physicians of the Mayo Clinic have reached the verdict that no operation is necessary. Mr. Rice states in his letter that he will take a course of treatment for the next ten days for a nervous disorder.

APROPOS OF SPRING

We've stood the howl of winter, an' endured the dismal days, when the pesky zero stung us an' the gripe was everywhar, and the weather-man so reckless, piled it on us forty ways, as we coughed an' sneezed an' shivered every time we struck the air. We carried in the fuel, an' we set around the blaze, sorter wonderin' what would happen if the winter never quit, an' our mind went back to summer with its glorious fishin' days, especially the Sundays when the biggest suckers bit. Now at last we're on the threshold of another joyous spring, when the sun busts all the rivets that has held the clouds together, an' she'll warm the laughin' waters as they tinkle down the streams, sorter chordin' with the red-bird as he sings about the weather. Then rally round the pancakes, an' the luscious maple sap—a man could preach a sermon on the early mess of greens. The bluebells an' the butter-cups are wakin' from their nap—it's time to dig the saffras, an' plant our kidney beans.

Uncle John.

"Salt of Earth" Says Dr. Rucker Former Resident

Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Rucker of Amarillo, former owners of the big Rucker Ranch fourteen miles northwest of Hereford, spent several days here this week visiting friends and old acquaintances. Wednesday Dr. and Mrs. Rucker, accompanied by Roy E. Fox of the Fox Players, visited the old ranch, which Dr. Rucker sold in 1916.

Tuesday night Dr. Rucker delivered a speech from the stage at the Hardwick Theatre, speaking of his former residence here and declaring that the people of Deaf Smith county were the salt of the earth. Mr. Fox, in a short introductory talk, declared that Dr. Rucker had taught him the show business and aided greatly in giving him a start in life.

Contract For Big Methodist School Has Been Closed

Methodists of this community will be interested to hear that the contract for the Administration Building of McMurry Methodist College at Abilene was awarded on the 20th of March.

This building will be one of the best of its kind in the State, and unsurpassed by any save, perhaps, in size. It will accommodate a student body of five hundred. It will be built and equipped at a cost of $150,000 which is a very low figure for such a building. The contract was awarded on a cash basis from the money subscribed by the citizens of Abilene.

The Administration Building is to be the first of the college buildings to be erected, and will constitute the dominating feature of the future college group. The building will be located at the termination of the main axis of the academic group, on the Southeastern side of the Campus.

The structure will be of fire-proof type throughout, using a structural frame and floor slabs of reinforced concrete, with curtain walls of brick and tile, and plaster partitions. The building will face north with a front of one hundred and fifty-one feet on the south side of the academic court, and a depth of sixty feet. This portion will be three stories high; the auditorium wing at the rear, forty-eight feet wide and sixty-one feet deep, will run only through two stories.

Many of the local Methodists have subscribed to the fund for this college. Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of the institution, recently lectured here.

SCHOOL FAIR COMMITTEE TO WORK UP PLANS MONDAY

Reports from both the city and county schools indicate that the boys and girls are looking forward with great interest to the coming School Fair, May 7 and 8, and that each room has "something up its sleeve" for the other fellow. It is believed that the exhibits by individuals and by rooms will be extremely interesting this year.

The committee handling the Fair will work out the merchandising plan next Monday and will soon be in position to announce the list of entries and other details.

TREES AT CENTRAL SCHOOL RECEIVED SPLENDID SOAKING

The trees around the Central School building have had a most thorough watering the past week. F. H. Britain saw to the preliminary work of plowing and running water furrows. Chief Rockwell and his bunch of enterprising firemen then turned the water on and gave the trees the best drink they have ever had. A few applications like this and the town will hardly know those trees.

To The Brand:
"There is no reason in the world why Hereford should not be and could not be the cleanest town in Texas of any size. There is no reason why it should not be known as the cleanest town in the State, and have that general reputation. There is no reason why its people cannot put it in condition to merit that reputation and to feel and know that it is entitled to it so strong as to be ready at all times to prove it and challenge a comparison with any town. Wouldn't it be great and worth while to make HEREFORD actually the cleanest town in Texas? It would be easy to do this if we could get a united effort and if the people generally would pull to that end. But the efforts of just a few of our people or just a few families will not be enough.

There are lots of trees that need trimming and chipping up and being made symmetrical.
"There are many things that can be done to make the town look neater and cleaner and more attractive in every way—and at the same time improve the sanitary conditions and make it appeal to visitors and strangers generally. Why not do these things? It is surprising how a little paint and whitewash will brighten and freshen up buildings. The appearance of the whole town would be helped wonderfully if some paint and whitewash could be used in the right places.

"It has even been suggested that the Chamber of Commerce appoint a committee of ladies to canvass the town and try to interest people whose buildings need paint and whitewash, in this enterprise. Not with the idea of dictating to any one how he shall manage his private affairs, but with the idea of appealing to and stimulating the community spirit, of doing something that will directly be of benefit to the property owner and indirectly benefit everybody else. Everybody takes pleasure in looking at a well kept home, even if it belongs to a stranger. So the person who owns it has contributed to the pleasure and satisfaction of many others and at the same time has benefited himself. Along with the other things LET'S DO SOME PAINTING AND WHITE-WASHING.

"Next week is the time to clean up, burn trash, remove ashes and cans, trim the trees and vines, arrange to paint and whitewash and generally put the whole town in apple pie order."
Wm. M. Knight, Mayor.

The Cleanup, Health and Tree Planting Committee, appointed to work all of next week, has proven itself to be a dandy and it now begins to look as though Hereford will really be a Spotless Town by the first of April—and no joke, either.

This committee WORKS—and so that everyone will remember who is doing this work their names are again given as: F. H. Britain, chairman, A. W. Gregg, O. S. Tatman, J. B. Jones and L. W. Hough.

The town has been divided into districts and each member of the committee is responsible for his own district. J. B. Jones has the district north of Fourth street and east of Main; L. W. Hough has all east of Main and south of Fourth; O. S. Tatman has all west of Main and north of Fourth; A. W. Gregg has west of Main and south of Fourth.

All residents are now being notified by the committee of the campaign to open Monday and urged to cooperate in the work of making this particular campaign the best and most effective one yet attempted. It is believed that all the people will readily respond and that it will not be necessary in any case to invoke the aid of the city ordinances governing such matters.

Music Study Club Gives Open Program

One of the most delightful club functions of the year was the "open program" given Monday by the Music Study Club at the home of Mrs. C. C. Ferguson.

The nearness of St. Patrick's Day rendered especially appropriate the attractive program which featured the music of the Emerald Isle, as well as something of its history, and the national characteristics of its people. A beautiful decorative scheme showed the national color and flower, and with its complement of lovely pot plants, created a perfect environment for an afternoon in "Sunny Ireland." A further tribute to the day was expressed in the person of Mrs. W. E. Dameron, a charming "colleen bawn," who greeted the guests at the door. Mrs. Dameron wore a dainty frouched frock of green with an exquisitely embroidered shawl, the latter an heirloom in her family, having been imported from England years ago as a part of the trousseau of her great grandmother.

As leader, Mrs. Homer Wilkinson provided a realistic setting for the program in an interesting sketch of Ireland and its people, her introduction to the various numbers adding materially to their interest. The program was as follows:

Story of St. Patrick's Day—Mrs. Broadwell.

"The Harp That Once Through Tara's Halls"—Mesdames Mountz, Allen, Hawkins, Dyar, A. O. and A. C. Thompson.

"The Pretty Girl Milking Her Cow"—Mrs. Ezra Norton.

Reading—"Maggie McCartney at the Beauty Parlor"—Mrs. Guthrie.

"Irish Tunes from County Derry"—Miss Black.

"Favorite Irish Tunes," violin number—Mrs. A. C. Thompson.

"Soft Ways," Lohr—Mrs. John Williams.

"Irish Jig," Scott—Miss Gregg.

"Bendemeer's Stream"—Misses Lambert and Swisher, Mesdames A. O. Thompson, Dameron, Ferguson, and A. C. Thompson.

As a closing number, the performance of the Irish jig, by Misses Sena Mae Mountz, Grace Skelton and Alice Johnson, in costume, was one of the best and most heartily enjoyed numbers of the program, the skill and grace with which the difficult movements were given being worthy of professionals.

Following the program, a refreshment course of brick cream with angel food cake, was served, shamrocks being used as favors.

About one hundred guests were in attendance.

C. E. Party

"Backward, turn backward, oh time in your flight, make me a child again just for tonight."

Thus the poet wrote long years ago. But probably not until last Friday evening did Father Time pay any attention to this call of the poet. But when the Senior Union C. E. starts after anything, even this busy man sits up and takes notice. So last Friday evening, March 17, he lifted a blanket of ten years from the shoulders of some fifty people of this organization and carried them back to those happy innocent days of childhood.

This favored group gathered at the Shore home for the evening. It was decorated in a very original and artistic way. Long groups of paper dolls looked down from all sides. Green dolls green trimmings and green streamers reminded all present that it was also St. Patrick's Day. The evening's games were entered into with all of the pep and enthusiasm of healthy childhood. Most prominent among these were: "Marching Around the Levy," "Farmer in the Dale," "House of Representatives," "John Brown's Baby" and various others. John Brown's Baby drew more laughter than any of the others.

The fun was just getting well under way when a very unusual thing happened. A knock was heard at the door. When the door was opened two negro boys and a negro girl asked for admittance. This was promptly refused, but when it was explained that they belonged to the First Baptist Church C. E. of Ft. Worth, they were invited in. Dr. Farrel introduced to those assembled—"The Wild Cat's Kitten," "Little 'Iza Jane" and "Rev. Platto Tubbs' son."

These unappreciative rascals had hardly been introduced until they began to entertain themselves with their favorite pets, the "gallopin dominoes." Lisa Jane proved to be a true queen of the art. The situation was terrible indeed. If this "crap game" was allowed to go on scandal would surely start. If it was stopped by force a fight would ensue. What could be done? Ah! One of the diplomats solved it. The Wild Cat's Kitten was handed a violin, Lisa Jane a saxophone and the Rev. Platto Tubbs' son a piece of candy.

At once, all gathered around the piano and sang many of the popular songs. The negro musicians proved to be real artists. As Rev. Platto Tubbs' son did not play, he was induced to sing. His voice was very sweet—when it could not be heard.

Just as the last strains of music died out, the girls of the entertainment committee, dressed in green paper dresses, started serving the refreshments. These were very dainty and well in tune with the entertainment. They consisted of a green jello covered with whipped cream, cake, and two sticks of striped candy bound together with green ribbon.

As St. Patrick's Day began slipping away, old Father Time let the blanket begin to settle around the children's shoulders again. He had been very kind to all and given them a very rare treat, but it must have a ending. So they also began slipping away a few at a time, all feeling deep down in their hearts that it had been the most successful Endeavor party held in many a day.

Death of Mrs. Sallie Agee

Mrs. Sallie Agee was born in Randolph county, August 6th, 1840, died March 8th, 1922. She was married to Andrew Agee in 1859, and lived several years in Mason Co. From there she moved to a farm near Thomas Hill, where her husband died Jan. 21, 1871. There were born to them three daughters and one son, Mrs. A. U. Brady, Jester, Okla., Mrs. Lattie Richeson, Bothville Mo., and Mrs. R. O. Sears, Hereford, Tex., at whose home she died, and one son, W. E. Agee, north of Clifton Hill.

She made a profession of faith in Christ in early life and was for many years a member of Thomas Hill Baptist Church and retained true until death.

Besides her children she leaves to mourn her going, ten grandchildren fifteen great grandchildren and one brother, Uncle Willis Minor, who now lives with his daughter, Mrs. J. T. Epperly.

The remains arrived on No. 2 over the Wabash Friday and the funeral was held at Thomas Hill Saturday at 2:00 p. m., conducted by Rev. P. F. Sears, assisted by Rev. Atterberry. The remains were tenderly laid to rest at Thomas Hill.

W. E. Agee went to Kansas City Friday to meet those who accompanied the remains—Clifton Hill (Mo.) Rustler.

HOW the cost of building quality tires has been brought down to the lowest level in history was explained by H. S. Firestone, President of the Company, to the stockholders at the annual meeting on December 15, 1921.

1. All inventories and commitments at or below the market.
2. Increased manufacturing efficiency and volume production reduced factory overhead 58%.
3. Selling costs reduced 38%.

Mr. Firestone stated, "This reduction in prices is made possible by our unusually advantageous buying facilities, and the enthusiasm, loyalty and determination of our 100% stockholding organization."

"Due credit must be given to Firestone dealers who are selling Firestone tires on a smaller margin of profit. This brings every Firestone saving direct to the car owner."

The saving through first cost plus the saving through high mileage doubles Firestone economy and is daily adding new fame to the Firestone principle of service—

FIGURES JUSTIFY FARMER PROTEST

Our city brothers will find it hard to get away from the story of injustice to the farmer when it is told in cold figures that defy denial, figures now given for the first time by the National Bureau of Economic Research. We learn for example that the net value of the product of agriculture in 1920 was $9,853,000,000. This was 15 percent of the total net value of all the product of all industries. This amount was available for division among farm operators (including owners and tenants) employees, landlords and mortgage holders. Now let the city man get out his pencil. The number of persons gainfully employed in agriculture is given as 10,951,000 or 26.3 percent of the total gainfully employed. After deducting from the $9,853,000,000 the payments to mortgage holders and landlords there is left considerably less than 16 percent of the net value of all industries to be distributed among farm operators and employees. The answer is that 26 percent of the real worth while workers received less than 15 percent of the national income.

The average percent of total income going to agriculture in the ten year period is shown to be 17.7 percent, while the workers during this period are found to foot up more than 26 percent. Of the total gainfully employed, the 1910 census showed 33 percent engaged in agriculture, and this at a time when many workers ordinarily employed in agriculture were still in the cities, not yet having returned to the farms after the war. Also it should be remembered there are many workers, members of the farmer's family who are not receiving wages and so are not counted as gainfully employed.

This is the most serious indictment of our economic system, an indictment that demands immediate trial at the bar of public opinion. If the American form of government calls for anything, it calls for a square deal, more particularly to those who supply the life blood of the nation.

THE CHOIR INVISIBLE

As the Canadian Record editor views it:

Another Kansas girl tried to help the fire with coal oil and she is now singing soprano in the choir invisible, where coal oil isn't a commodity. Her sister who said that low necked dresses and short skirts wouldn't cause pneumonia sings alongside her.

In the same choir invisible and singing bass is the fellow who poked the dog out from under the barn with the butt end of a shotgun. Alongside of him is the fellow who climbed thru the fence and pulled the shotgun after him by the barrel. Another singer jabbed a mule with a cane in a dark stall.

Holding down the alto parts are the lady who blew out the gas, the woman who wondered if evaporated gasoline is explosive, and the gal who got strychnine mixed up with headache powders.

In the tenor section there is a strong representation. There is the fellow who tried to show everybody that his car could beat the train to the crossing. Yes, and our friend who looked into a gun barrel to see if it was loaded. Also the guy who tried to get drunk on home brew made in tin buckets. Then there is the fellow singing high tenor who boasted that he could grab a rattlesnake by the tail and snap its head off.

Singing baritone on a lead part is the male vamp who thought he could steal another man's wife and live happy ever after.

MIXING BRAINS WITH STEAK

An enterprising butcher in a little town close to the big city of New York has demonstrated to his own satisfaction that the brains he uses in his business are better money getters than the brains he sells over the counter. He sells porthouse steak just like his competitor, but he sells twice the quantity, and all because he found a way to turn into appreciation the silent protest of the housewife who always has been resentful at having to pay a high price for the end of the steak which when cooked ordinarily is waste. Sensing this resentment our thinking butcher found a way out. He cut off the end and left the body of the steak thick and compact. Then he put the end through a meat chopper, patted it into an attractive form and made of it an additional tenderloin. The effect on the housewife buyers was electrical. Now our friend is known as the butcher who specializes in the best quality of steak, and he gets and holds the majority of trade.

Plus the brains to think out the plan he had the brains to carry his idea to local attention through his local newspaper instead of waiting for the slow mouth to mouth method of spreading the news. Hence his financial reward came to him over night. Mixing brains with merchandise is as necessary to successful trade as mixing brains with ink is necessary to successful writing.

PUT AN END TO FREE SEED BAIT

Surely it is time for Representatives in Congress to realize that the time worn free seed bid for popularity should be thrown into the discard and some $300,000 saved to the government. No matter what form of camouflage is adopted to justify the free seed operations the fact is that free seeds have come to take the place of campaign cigars and that farmers are resentful of such approach. Naturally while the practice is general there will remain more or less of a scramble for the bait, particularly among the amateur agriculturalists, but as a body the men of the soil are unalterably opposed to such waste of money and such a thinly disguised bid for the vote. Free seeds ought to go.

$5,000. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkison are now making their home with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Warrava and Mr. Walker has moved his family into their new home.

The snow and the rain of the past two weeks have put an abundance of season in the ground and many farmers are busily occupied in making their land ready for the spring crops. Mr. Walker has rented the sod land owned by A. W. Henschel and is now breaking the sod in preparation for a kafir crop. Mr. Childs is also breaking sod land on his farm northeast of town and is assisted by his father-in-law, Mr. Foster.

Mrs. M. E. Simpson received a telegram on Saturday informing her of the death of her daughter, Mrs. W. T. Lawder, of Rockwood, Illinois. In response to the telegram, she and her daughter, Mrs. John White, departed on Sunday morning for that place to be present at the funeral. They are expected to return in about two weeks.

Messrs. George G. Wright and J. J. Ryan, of Kansas City, were business visitors in Friona and vicinity from Thursday until Tuesday. They were in Clovis Friday and in Farwell on Saturday.

A. N. Bevell, insurance adjuster, of Amarillo, was here on business connected with his office one day last week, having come down to adjust the insurance on the loss of J. C. Wilkison's barn, which was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago.

The Friona Commercial Club sent a representative to the Fort Worth-Plains railroad meeting at Fort Worth on the 18th. A most interesting session is reported and was attended by a large number of delegates from nearly all points in the Plains through which the proposed is supposed to pass. We are informed that Friona is planning for a union depot when the road is built.

Messrs. Maurer and Staley, of the Santa Fe Grain Co., have disposed of the entire stock of spring wheat which they had on hand, to the farmers of this vicinity for seed. It was a fine quality of wheat, testing sixty pounds
