Mrs. Jowell was a member of the Pioneer Joseph C. Cox family, one of the first white families to settle in Deaf Smith county. Eugenia Cox, who was born in Grayson county, was 12 years old when the family moved to this county in a covered wagon in 18-87.

She was married to "Rat" Jowell in Hereford on September 3, 1899.

Approximately 75 Make Farm Tour

Nearly 75 Deaf Smith county farmers made a tour of five farms in the Hereford vicinity Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Deaf Smith county agricultural agencies and the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

The five farms included on the tour were those of Wayne Evans, Robert Kerschen, Raymond Higginbotham, Howard Gault and O. G. Hill Jr.

At the Wayne Evans farm the visitors inspected 23 acres of irrigated pasture planted September 8, 1951, using corrugation system of irrigation and started grazing pasture in November, 1951. Mr. Evans grazed 40-90 head of cattle this past summer and cut and baled 240 bales of hay from the east half of the pasture. Westland maize was the highlight of the stop at the Robert Kerschen farm, which was planted on June 20 with fertilizer applied August 1. The first six rows in this field on the west side were fertilized at the rate of 80 pounds to the acre of anhydrous ammonium. The next 30 rows, 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate to the acre.

Cecil Massey, secretary of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce accompanied the group and Faust Collier, secretary of PMA also made the tour, most of the visitors were more interested in looking than in asking questions during the trip.

67 Bloodmobile Pledges Signed

Over 60 pledges for donating blood when the American Red Cross Bloodmobile comes here October 1 have been received to date, according to Dyaltha Bradley, secretary of the local Red Cross chapter.

A kick-off meeting to sign up a potential 300 donors in Hereford and Deaf Smith county was held Thursday night at Hotel Jim Hill. T. E. Seigler, Bloodmobile chairman, was in charge of the meeting.

Ike Burnett, Red Cross field representative, gave a brief resume to the volunteers of their duties before and during the October 1 Bloodmobile visit.

Burnett emphasized that the Red Cross DOES NOT SELL blood. The blood donated in this community is shipped by air to Fort Worth a few hours after collection and from that time on it is the responsibility of the Defense Department. One-third of the blood donated, he told the volunteers, would be used as whole blood and the remainder made into plasma.

The field man also showed a film depicting how the Bloodmobile would operate in the community.

Chairman Seigler told the group that the 300 pledge goal is to be reached within seven or 10 days. If a lag in response develops, the chairman of business, industry, rural and residential groups will start their teams making personal contacts.

Recruitment booths will be set up in both Hereford banks. Mrs. Bradley said that Mrs. O.

wish to donate blood, sign it and mail to Red Cross, Hereford. An appointment card will be returned to your mailing address by Mrs. Homer Brumley, scheduling chairman.

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary were the first persons to sign pledge cards to donate blood. They signed at their regular meeting Wednesday F. Lange, Friona Red Cross worker, had called to ask for cards to be sent to use there.

A sample of the pledge card is shown on this page. If you

Good Maize Yield Seen

A survey of Hereford elevators, Saturday on the maize harvest indicated a good price and despite bad weather conditions a good crop, possibly better than last year.

The harvest in general is expected to start between September 5 to 15, and although the hot wind has taken a toll in the dryland area — some of which will not be worth cutting — the general outlook is good. The local price of $3.05 is above that paid at Fort Worth.

Any increase in the price will largely depend on the demand which at present is strong and indicates that the present price will at least hold.

In the Hereford dryland area, Maize is premature but one local elevator reports 1000 pounds to the acre while in irrigated maize produced 2500 pounds to the acre. Although it is believed that there is less production this year there will be enough to fill all the elevators and with better maize than last year.

According to one report, there are 85,000 acres of maize under irrigation and 80,000 acres on dryland in Deaf Smith county.

All the elevators agree that the price will probably hold and that the harvest will be as good if not better than last year with the harvest within two weeks to 30 days.

N. E. Gass was re-elected chairman of the Deaf Smith County Production and Marketing Committee at the convention of county community delegates held Friday at the local PMA office.

Gass, who had earlier been listed as ineligible in a story in The Brand, participated in the wheat insurance program and was thus eligible for election and the convention asked him to serve again. The chairman is a resident of Community "B."

Named as vice-chairman for the county is W. N. Hodges, a new member and a resident of Community "B," also.

Palmer Norton, Community "A" resident, was re-elected a member of the committee. Clinton Jackson was re-elected as alternate with Lee Benefield being selected as second alternate.

One delegate to the county convention was chosen in mail balloting concluded August 22 from each of the county's five communities. Three delegates — enough for quorum — were present at Friday's convention.

J. C. McCracken, alternate for Community "A," was present. Grant Hanna, alternate for Community "B" also served. Community "C" and "D" had no representatives at the meeting. J. R. Alison was delegate for Community "E."

The newly-selected county committee will meet in Hereford sometime this coming week to make plans for the 1953 ACP programs, practices sign-up dates and training meetings for the county committee members who will contact their fellow farmers on 1953 practices they plan to carry out.

All USDA agencies in the county will also be represented at the meeting.

Faust Collier, secretary of the county PMA, said the 1953 practice schedules for the state program are being prepared now and he hopes they will be available this week for a meeting of the new committee.

Seigler Resigns Post At County Hospital

T. E. Seigler Jr., submitted his resignation as administrator of the Deaf Smith county hospital to the board of directors Wednesday night.

The resignation is to be effective as soon as a replacement can be found. Howard Gault, chairman of the board, said no successor has been named as yet. Seigler submitted his resignation to devote full attention to personal business.

Seigler has been administrator of the county hospital since December 1, 1950. He assumed duties at a time when the hospital was without funds and $7,500 in debt. At the present time, the hospital is making money and has the bills paid off.

A remodeling program in the obstetrical department has just been completed and approximately $10,000 worth of equipment has been added to the 40-bed hospital.

Collections since December, 1950, have averaged 93% with the remaining 7% in charity cases and unpaid service.

The hospital gross runs about $140,000 per year, Seigler said. "I certainly have had good cooperation and help from the board of directors and the commissioners court during my tenure." (Continued on Page 2)

TEC Office Here Closes

Hereford no longer has a full-time Texas Employment Commission office here.

Tom Bourland, local representative, closed his Hereford office on Friday and joined the staff of the Lubbock office as farm labor representative. He reports there September 2.

The action by the state puts Hereford back where it was prior to establishment of a full-time office here in July, 1949. Bourland has been local TEC agent since October, 1950.

The commission will be closed for the time being. It is not decided as yet whether to re-open at a later date with a permanent office or work in peak seasons, Bourland said. "I feel sure, though, that this community will have some assistance from the Texas Employment Commission."

During the three years the office has been operative, placements have varied a great deal. During the peak seasons, they average 125 per week, as they

Hulling Center Completion Seen Around Sept. 15

Baker Castor Bean Corp.'s new Hereford hulling center -- said to be the best and most modern of the eight maintained throughout the nation by Baker -- will be "ready for business" around September 15, according to Virgil E. Dodson, Baker representative here.

Harvesting operations of this county's 3100 acres of castor beans -- compared with last year's 715 acres -- is expected to get underway just after the first frost although Dodson says some farmers plan to harvest their fields by hand in the near future.

Acreage around the entire area to be served by the local hulling center -- including Tulia, Springlake and Hereford -- amounts to 5,300 acres.

Hereford's acreage increase amounts to more than 400% over 1951, the first year castor beans were grown here. Tulia has 700 acres this year, the area's first experiment. Springlake has 1,500 acres this year as compared with 50 last year.

The hulling center is a 50x80-foot steel building with two compartments, a 40x50-foot storage compartment, enough for eight or 10 cars, and the machinery compartment.

Some machinery is being installed this week, Dodson said, at the hulling center east of town.

Latson Named Band Director At High School

W. O. Latson, 27, has been named band director for the Hereford Independent school district, according to Supt. George Graham.

Latson's appointment was confirmed on Saturday.

A graduate of West Texas State college, Latson served as director of the WT band during the 1951-52 school year and as student director during the previous year. He was in charge of the WT band last year during the absence of Jerry Newman.

Latson has a master's degree; he is single. A native of Amarillo, he is the son of Dr. Latson of that city.

The new band director will assume duties formerly held by Purris Williams -- director of the band and instructing music orientation.

The appointment of Latson completes the faculty for the Hereford public schools except for junior high athletic coach. An announcement regarding that will be made next week.

Home Rule Charter Functions Explained

(Ed. Note — This is the final installment in a series being run on features of the proposed Home Rule Charter for Hereford which will be put before the voters on Saturday, Sept. 6.)

Q. Will there be any change in purchasing supplies for the City of Hereford if the Home Rule Charter is adopted?
A. After the adoption of the Charter all purchases of supplies or materials must be by a purchase order, signed by a departmental head and if such purchase is for more than $5 it must be approved by the City Manager.

Q. Any expenditure for more than $1,000 must be approved in advance by the city commission, and any contract made for purchase of supplies or materials for more than $1,000 must be let to the lowest bidder, after there has been an opportunity for competitive bidding. If the expenditure is more than $2,000, the contract shall be let by competitive bidding and the notice of bids to be published in the newspapers.
Q. Under what authority of the laws of Texas are Home Rule cities authorized?
A. Under an amendment to the Texas Constitution, voted in 1912, known as Section 5 of Article II. It is provided that cities having more than 5,000 inhabitants may by a majority adopt or amend their charters. After the Texas Constitution was amended, the Texas Legislature passed enabling acts and specifically provided that any city (5,000 inhabitants), adopting the Home Rule form of government shall enjoy all of the powers incident to local self-government, so long as such powers were not prohibited by the Constitution of Texas.

Q. What restrictions are placed on the powers of Home Rule government?
A. Home Rule cities may do anything that the Texas Legislature could authorize them to do, so long as it does not violate the Constitution. In contrast to this power, cities operating under the general or special law, can only do those things that the Texas Legislature may authorize them to do.

Q. Can cities operating under the general or special law have the benefit of referendum, initiative, and recall?
A. The Texas Legislature has not seen fit to pass laws authorizing general and special law cities to have the benefit of referendum, initiative or recall, such as are enjoyed by Home Rule cities.

Q. Will all ordinances passed by the city commission under Home Rule be subject to referendum, initiative, and recall?
A. Your Home Rule Charter provides that every ordinance passed by the city commission, except ordinances appropriating money and levying of taxes shall be subject to referendum and initiative of the majority of the citizens of Hereford.

Q. If an ordinance levying taxes by the city commission is not subject to referendum or initiative, how much tax can be levied?
A. The Charter provides that the city commission can never levy a tax in excess of $1.50 on the $100 valuation.

Henry Ford was the first American manufacturer to establish a $5 per day minimum wage (January 5, 1914).

Alexander Hamilton was killed in a duel with Aaron Burr on Wehawken Heights, New Jersey, on July 11, 1804.

Motorists Urged To Be Careful Of Students

It's school time again in Texas and today W. Carliss Morris Jr., president of the Texas Safety Association, issued an appeal to all Texans to redouble their efforts toward the saving of life and limb in this great state.

"This year probably more Texas boys and girls than ever before will be attending school for the first time. It will be a new experience for them and many will be sent out to go to, and to come from, school alone," he said. Motorists must keep this in mind. A youngster, thinking about baseball or football will often not see your car and may step off the curb in your path. Be watchful, Mr. and Mrs. Motorist -- give the kids a brake!

For you who travel, the highways, here is a point of interest to you. By Texas law, motor vehicles must stop for a stopped school bus -- whether you are following or approaching. Don't run down an innocent child and there will be over one third million youngsters traveling in Texas school buses this year.

And here is a final word to mothers and fathers: Teach your youngsters these safety rules:

1. Where there are sidewalks use them.
2. If they must walk in the street, walk facing traffic.
3. Cross only at intersections.
4. If riding a bicycle, ride it on the right side of the street and use hand signals.
5. Obey the safety patrols when and where safety patrols are used.

Youngsters, today, have the opportunity for a wonderful education. Send them from home, to learn -- not to die!

More Funds Needed For Schools In Texas Or Handicap Imminent

AUSTIN — Texans must spend more of their state tax dollars on public schools or see their children handicapped by receiving an inferior education.

That blunt warning was issued recently by Miss Ruth Hillyer, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, who urged Texans to realize the seriousness of the situation.

Heavy annual increased enrollment in elementary and high schools, which is expected to continue at least through 1959-60, plus many antiquated educational plants now in use are the main reason for the need of more funds.

The increased attendance makes necessary a minimum of 1,000 more teachers each year, and the same number of additional classrooms, Miss Hillyer said.

That, plus the need to make it more attractive for teachers to keep them from going to better paying positions, makes it imperative that the next legislature provide additional funds, Miss Hillyer declared.

Local school districts cannot raise even half of the millions of dollars needed, she said.

The increase in the number of scholastic-age children in Texas is increasing by 50,000 annually and it is expected to continue to do so for several years. Of that number, at least 75 percent will enter the public schools through each year until 1959-60.

"That means that even with teachers having classes of 30 pupils (the ideal proportion is 24 to one teacher), that an average of 1,000 additional teachers, and, of course, that many new classrooms, must be added each year," Miss Hillyer pointed out.

"Too, more adequate pay for teachers to keep them from leaving the profession and to attract new ones is a necessity.

"Texas teachers are 6 percent below the average of all employed persons in the United States and there is already a heavy exodus of instructors."

"Retirement, death and the lure of more pay in other professions takes 3,900 teachers annually out of our schools. In addition, we annually need those 1,000 additional teachers."

"Texas must soon build more than a half billion dollars worth of classrooms to keep pace with the increasing enrollment, Miss Hillyer stated.

"Unless we do so, huge numbers of our children will be attending school half time, in dou-

Eight-Year-Old Confesses Food Market Theft

The theft of over $500 in cash from the Hereford Food Mart was solved Thursday when an eight-year-old white farm boy living west of Hereford admitted stealing the money Sunday afternoon.

Police Chief Floyd Reeves spotted the boy and his nine-year-old brother walking the streets Thursday and remembered him being seen on different occasions at the Hereford Food Mart. On a hunch, Reeves talked to the boy and he later admitted he stole the cash.

Only $290 of more than $500 was recovered by officials. The youth told him that he gave some money to a Mexican man, two Mexican youths who saw the boy hand over the cash also demanded and got some from the youthful culprit. A boy riding along on a bicycle, likewise, saw the exchange and asked for and got some of the stolen money.

County Attorney Gib Howard said he is considering filing dependent neglected charges against the youth's parents.

The eight-year-old told police that he had been in the store previously and saw where they kept the small metal box under a front check-out counter. When no one was looking shortly after noon on Sunday, he took the bills from the box.

The youth's two brothers were in the Texas theater at the time and they took the money he had in his wallet away from him. This was about $14, as he had the rest in his pockets. That evening, he showed a 16-year-old brother the rest of the money and he took it away from his small brother and held it because he didn't know where it came from.

No trace of the remainder of the missing money has been found.

Manufacturers Of Smaller Volume Exempt Under OPS

DALLAS — Small manufacturing concerns that do less than $25,000 gross business annually have been exempted from price controls, R. G. Berle, OPS regional manufactured goods chief, announced in Dallas. The exemption became effective August 20.

Specifically, the exemption applies to manufacturers whose gross sales did not exceed $25,000 in their last complete fiscal year prior to July 1, 1952. A new manufacturer who does not expect to sell more than $25,000 in his first fiscal year ending after July 1, 1952 likewise is exempt.

The exemption applies, with a few exceptions, to manufacturers making products formerly under the General Ceiling Price Regulation or Manufacturers' Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Mr. Berle said.

Heretofore, manufacturers subject to the GCPR were exempt only if they sold not more than $1,000 monthly of products made in their own homes without the aid of hired employees.

The new exemption affects many small businesses manufacturing such items as hand and garden tools, fishing lures and other fishing and sports equipment, wooden-ware, cabinet work, toys, and numerous other articles made in small or part-time establishments.

Cottonseed Price Rollback Will Mean Mostly Lower Prices

DALLAS — Action by the Office of Price Stabilization in setting new dollars-and-cents ceilings on cottonseed feed products in Texas and Oklahoma will generally result in lower selling prices, F. C. Tomlinson, OPS regional foods chief, has announced.

Tomlinson said the new regulation (CPR 167, effective August 26) rolls back and fixes processors' ceilings in this area which are from $2 to $5 per ton less than previous prevailing prices for all cottonseed feed products, including cottonseed cake, flakes, meal, sized cake, pellets, cubes, hulls, hull bran and cottonseed feed.

The OPS action in setting lower ceilings was taken to place all processors on the same basis in their producing areas, Tomlinson declared. The regulation now permits only one mark-up at each marketing level for the products, and should eliminate speculative practices of pyramiding mark-ups which have resulted in increasing prices to feeders.

New ceilings f.o.b. the mills in the States of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona are $82 per ton for bulk cottonseed meal, $83 for bulk sized cake, $84.25 for pellets and cubes, and $25 per ton for bulk cottonseed hulls.

Subject to the addition of any actual transportation charges, the following prices, Mr. Tomlinson said, are what feeders can expect to pay for cottonseed feed products under the new regulation: Cottonseed meal, $83.60 to $96.25 per ton; cottonseed pellets and cubes, $90.85 to $98.50 per ton; cottonseed cake and sized cake, $89.60 to $97.25 per ton; and cottonseed hulls $30.50 to $38.25 per ton.

Mr. Tomlinson explained that the actual selling prices permitted by OPS are dependent on whether feed purchases are made at the mills or from retailers, and the type of sacking involved.

Teachers Will Ask Solons For $3,000 Minimum

AUSTIN — 1952 — A minimum beginning salary of $3,000 instead of the present $2,403 for public school teachers will be asked of the next legislature by the Texas State Teachers Association.

"Texas annually must have nearly 5,000 new teachers either as replacements or to take care of the rapidly increasing enrollments," Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the association, said in making the announcement here today.

"The profession must be made more attractive and Texas faces a critical situation in its schools unless that can be accomplished," Tennyson declared.

The executive secretary of the 52,000 member teacher group which was a big factor in the school system revision campaign three years ago, also recently pointed out that "more of the state tax dollar must be allocated to public schools for additional classrooms if children are to continue to get a good education."

"Despite an increase in the pay for teachers granted by the voters and legislature three years ago, the profession is not attractive to young people because the pay is less than the national average for all workers," Tennyson pointed out.

The average salary for all Texas professional public school personnel is $3,185, but that of the average classroom teacher is only $2,980. The first year teacher who holds only a bachelor's degree get $2,403.

In comparison, the average for all employed people in the United States, including laborers, is $3,390.

Tennyson presented figures to show that pay of teachers since World War II has not kept pace with that of other employed persons.

In 1939 teacher's salaries averaged $1,269. Teachers were 12 percent above the average. But this year Texas public school personnel averages $3,185 and all employed people in the country $3,390. Thus the Texas group is 6 percent under the national average for workers and the classroom teachers are 12 percent below the national group.

Since 1939, Tennyson said, the average employed person has had an increase of 167 percent in his pay, while the Texas teachers have had a 124 percent hike. If teacher's salaries had increased as much as others, the present average would be up by $615.

That is approximately what the TSTA will ask as a minimum salary increase.

Tennyson spotlighted the teachers' economic situation another way:

"The average classroom teacher's salary is $2,980. The federal government's consumer price index shows that the present dollar bill will buy only as much as 52 cents bought in 1939. Thus, we find that the teacher has only $1,550 in purchasing power in 1939 dollars.

"We must make it more attractive for young people to study for the teaching profession. It takes four years of college work for them to qualify and our colleges are not turning out the 3,500 teachers we need to replace those who retire, die or abandon the profession each year, let alone the 1,000 or more we will need yearly to take care of the some 37,000 increase in enrollment forecast annually through 1959-60.

"We should at least put the profession on the basis of equal pay with the average employed person in the United States, including laborers."

On Thursday, Aug. 28, seniors and juniors registered -- 88 seniors and 119 juniors enrolled.

Justice triumphs. Just heard that the City of Amarillo is still having water troubles, despite the fact that they bought quite a tract of Deaf Smith county land (about 13 miles north of Dawn) as a cure-all for their city water shortage. Folks down this way, of course, raised heck -- but Amarillo went right on with the expansion program. The big joker, up to date, is that they have sunk two dry holes. At least, that's the story making the rounds.

They will, of course, get some wells sooner or later. They are making a mistake, though. Reminds me of the man who killed the goose that laid the golden eggs.

Saw Lyle Blanton and Mack Ba'num Wednesday around noon. They were getting ready to take off for South Dakota. Lyle said they would land there before dark that evening. They were going up to look at some grass. Asked Lyle how many hours he had and after figuring a minute or so he estimated around 4,000. That's a lot of flying hours for an amateur.

Here's some more exceptional news. Old Harold Close went fishing and finally caught more fish than he can handle. At least, that's the propaganda he is telling his wife over the telephone. He and Harold Jr. went up on the Canejos this week and he called in the second day to report that they had their limit for the week -- all big ones, too. This is most unusual, and more especially for a guy like Harold.

All of the Colorado fishermen say that you had better be careful about bag limits up there this year. Worth Covington said he and Walter Seed were stopped and checked, but were within the bounds. However, he said they took one old boy back to Lake City and fined him around $150. Abe Martin says that after a round 25 years of fishing in Colorado, he was checked this year for the first time in his life. Nearly everyone you see tells the same story. Therefore, if you happen to have good luck, be sure and stop at the limit.

C. D. Hardesty, Southwestern Public Service manager, used to have fun in good-natured kidding with Leo Forrest about the REA. To cap the climax, Mr. Hardesty recently bought a farm out south of here -- and it is on the REA lines. Looks as if Leo will be the top kiddier in any future conversation.

Texas has had its share of political limelight this year. Now we are back at it again. Gov. Allan Shivers' open break with Stevenson is epoch making. There are a lot of opinions on this subject, but regardless of how you feel it is only fair to recognize that Mr. Shivers has a lot of courage. He could be committing political suicide -- but he is willing to take the consequences in view of what he thinks is just and right. Men of this type are scarce in politics -- or in any other field -- these days. It is downright encouraging in comparison with the "mink coat" and deep freeze" stories that have been floating around for the past 12 months. Mr. Shivers is a good man. Even if he were wrong (and I am not saying that he is) he would be a good man.

Here's a letter from Mrs. John Gaetz. It's a bit long, but I found it interesting. Mrs. Gaetz has a very nice style and would have made an excellent writer. I can't see how those two columns reminded her of all the wonderful things she describes, but I did appreciate her letter and I certainly think she did an excellent job of columning.

Dear Mr. Gillentine:

Here comes another who enjoyed your columns from Wisconsin, as that was my home for the first twenty-one years of my life. I was born in St. Croix County, the county just south of where you were. My parents were married at Hudson - and were pioneers in that timbered country when the only roads were "logging" roads and it was common for a man to carry a sack of flour out from the village - just following the bear paths through the woods. Bears would steal pigs right out of the pen. I remember my father lying in wait to get a bear that had taken two pigs. It was at night, and Pa had to wait for hours but finally got him. We children saw the dead bear next morning stretched out on the kitchen floor; it was winter time.

As I read your column it took me back to the black-berry patches with turtle doves cooing in nearby trees the whip-poor-wills at night, that put us to sleep, the grap and red squirrels chattering in the tree tops, the awful forest fires that came right up to just across the road from our home - with my daddy and all the other men around - fighting the sparks and burning twigs as they drifted over with the breeze towards our hay barn and the stacks of oats and other grains awaiting the coming of the horse-power threshing machine that belonged to our Uncle Mike, and is was soon to come. There was no greater thrill than to see that threshing machine coming over the next hill (we lived on a hill, with maple trees all around), it would be pulled by Uncle Mike's great big team - a gray and a bay - Tom and Jerr - with heavy tug chains rattling, which was music to our young ears.

As I read on I recalled the mills, lumber mills, stave mills, shingle mills, and the immense sawdust piles that smelled so good, and the sawdust roads all around where the mills were; also the corduroy roads leading into town - boards laid cross ways on the roads like we use caliche here. It was so nice to ride on those board roads as it might be awfully muddy without them. Lumber was dirt cheap. But the big, good smelling 'sawdust' piles rotted as the years passed, and I recall our daddy waving his whip towards one of them as we went by to church, saying, "there's where we got our Genie" - our little brown-eyed sister, and I was a great big girl before I ever knew the difference.

Your writings brought back my school teaching days there at eighteen to twenty-one, as I rode forth to my school on my green bicycle ordered from Sears-Roebuck, and many's the time I got off to patch a punctured tire. In those by-gone days we patched our own tires. There was no such thing as a bicycle shop and we carried our own tool kits, a piece of binding twine to pull the inner tube out, then put on the patch, pull the tube back in, pump up the tire and be on the way, up hill down hill, sand and all. These were glorious days. My bicycle had no brakes and some of the hills were quite steep; it was impossible to stop, once I started down, and so it happened that I ran plumb over a big snake that was stretched across the road - probably sunning himself, and I was scared almost to death for fear he had got twined up in my spokes.

My parents were former Canadians, my mother having been born in Guelph, Ontario, which I understand, is the birth place of that good man, Wes Izzard. My father was born in Ottawa and came to the U. S. with his parents as a youngster. Mother, however, had her schooling in Ontario and very often longed to go back. She sang Canadian songs and often as Genie and I would be skimming pans of milk down in the big stoned up, whitewashed cellar, probably singing "My Country 'tis of Thee", we'd hear mother in the kitchen above singing, "God Save our Precious Queen, God Save the Queen." She was singing of her Queen Victoria.

Twice, since living at Hereford these thirty-seven years, I have gone back up there just to see again the old home place -- the substantial building all made by my daddy -- and through tears I saw once more that warning sign NO SMOAKING on the horse barn door, carved in crude letters four inches high by my older brother who was perhaps twelve at the time -- many, many years ago. Our family has scattered, some are deceased, and strangers now occupy the old farm home. My last trip back there was just before the depression came on. I felt I must go back and look around, knowing full well there would be no one to welcome me home, and I thought of those lines from "The Orphan Boy", when he asked, "Are they gone, all gone, from that sunny hill? But the bees and the butterflies roam o'er it still."

Yes, Mr. Gillentine, I enjoyed your notes on Wisconsin and am sending them on to my brother Leo Hannegan in Pomona, California, the lad who did all that mis-spelled earwing on the horse barn door. He just would have that "A" in smoking.

Mrs. John Gaetz

Norbon Sikes Jr., stopped here Thursday for a short visit with his sister, Mrs. Ulys Pierce and her family, enroute to Seminole where he will be employed. Mr. Sikes is being transferred from Sapulpa, Okla., to Seminole by the oil company for whom he is employed.

Mrs. Gene Osburn and two children of Manitow Springs, Colo., are visiting Mrs. Osburn's mother, Mrs. C. P. Cockrell for a few days.

Football Squad Will Report Monday Morning

First fall workouts for the Whiteface football prospects will be held 7:30 a.m. Monday morning, according to L. B. "Scat" Russell, newly-appointed head mentor.

About 45 boys are expected to return from spring training, he said and a number of freshmen -- possibly 25 or 30, will be out for first workouts.

A few more boys are expected to report for drills after workouts start.

Bed-Rest Vital For Symptoms In Polio Cases

Immediate bed-rest in the few days of polio illness may be a deciding factor in preventing the more serious after-effects of the disease.

This was recommended today by the Deaf Smith County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. They based the recommendation on a survey conducted by a March Dimes research grantee which has been widely accepted by medical authorities.

The chapter said that when child or adult comes down with any of the classical "major" symptoms of polio-severe headaches, neck or back stiffness, fever or restlessness -- he should be put to bed and placed at once under the supervision of a physician. The reason for this is that patients who remain physical active after the appearance of such symptoms seem to develop more paralysis and to suffer the more severe form of the disease than those who go to bed when these signs first appear.

"Although this relationship between bed-rest and polio is not definitely proved, scientists believe that once a person has become infected with the polio virus, a delicate balance exists between the virus and the body's ability to fight it," a statement said. "The scales can be tipped in favor of the virus by over-exertion. Continued activity may result not only in changing a mild attack into a paralytic case, but may also be responsible for extending the degree of involvement suffered."

Although the original survey indicated that bed-rest does have some effect in lessening the chances of developing the more serious after-effects of the disease, scientists agree that bed-rest alone is not the sole factor in determining how the scales will be tipped in the battle between the polio virus and the patient's ability to resist the virus.

Roberson-Galley Vows Solemnized August 24

The First Baptist church was the setting here late Sunday afternoon, Aug. 24 for the marriage of Miss Doris Gayle Roberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Roberson, to Clifford Harold Galley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Galley, Route 1, Hereford.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. H. Cagle, pastor, in the presence of a host of friends and relatives. Palms and pedestal arrangements of Palm leaves with tall fan shapes of white chrysanthemums and gladioli were flanked by seven-branched candelabra holding wedding tapers formed the background at the altar for the impressive double-ring ceremony. Nine lighted tapers against white lattice-work garlanded with greenery marked the nuptial space.

Wayne Evans at the organ presented a concert of nuptial music preceding the ceremony and accompanied Miss Nancy Patterson who sang "Through The Years", "O Promise Me" and "O Perfect Love" as the benediction prayer. The bride's attendants wore pale blue chiffon over taffeta in three shades of blue, Gerry Patterson, who as maid of honor, had pale blue taffeta for the chiffon background, and the two bridesmaids, Irlene Galley, sister of the bridegroom, and Jane Wolly of Shamrock, had medium blue and dark blue taffeta underneath their dresses. The dresses were made with tight-fitting waists and bouffant skirts and they wore matching head pieces of net and taffeta. All three carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

State's October Draft Call For 5,855 Men Given

AUSTIN — State draft boards are scheduled to send 5,855 men for pre-induction examination in October, the biggest monthly quota in almost a year and a half.

Local board quotas for the October delivery for examinations already have been mailed, Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state Selective Service director, said.

Physical-mental examinations re-examinations of 4-F's, and inductions in October will call for transportation of more than 10,000 Texans in response to draft board orders.

All men to be examined and inducted during October will be 20 years old or older. No man less than 20 years old can be examined or inducted unless he is a delinquent or volunteer.

State headquarters for Selective Service is stepping up examination of additional numbers of men because it expects calls for induction to remain "at least on the October level" during the fall and early winter.

"We expect calls to go even higher in the early months of 1953," Colonel Schwartz said. "In the early months of 1951 our calls were high. Those men will be getting out in 1953, so we expect to have to replace a great many of them."

State draft boards expect to complete their program of re-examination of 4-F's by the end of January 1953. Colonel Schwartz said that an average of 950 4-F's a month will be re-examined from September 1952 through the first month of the new year.

State draft headquarters is planning combined physical-mental examinations of a "larger than usual" group of doctors and dentists in September. Colonel Schwartz said. He said Texas has a quota to furnish three doctors and one dentist for military service in September.

Through July 1952, Texas had inducted 41,808 men into military service since hostilities in Korea began. During the same period, state draft boards forwarded 100,103 men for examination.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING Tuna Fish Dish Suggested For Pleasant Warm-Weather Dining

For warm weather dining the home cook might center the meal around a service of salad with salad greens. With the addition of one hot vegetable and a favorite desert you have a perfect hot weather meal.

Mrs. A. G. Biggers takes a can of tuna fish and turns it into a tasty dish of salad, serves it with lettuce hearts, betterhorn rolls, and string beans, topped off with home made ice cream and cake, which makes an excellent summer luncheon or supper for the family or guests. Here is her tuna salad recipe:

- 1 envelope Knox gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 1 small can tuna
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 2 teaspoons chopped olives
- 1 tablespoon crushed onion
- juice of 1 lemon

Soak gelatin in the cold water, heat the lemon juice and dissolve the soaked gelatin in it. Mix all other ingredients and then mix with gelatin mixture. Pour in mold and chill and cut in squares when ready to serve. Individual molds may be used if desired. Nuts may be added.

This recipe has been a favorite in Mrs. Biggers' family for years, especially do children love it.

Recent guests of the Edd Curtis family were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ward of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. John Ward, Glazier, and Mrs. Harison Brown of Justice.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES BLANKENSHIP.

Wedding Vows Repeated In Morning Ceremony

In St. Anthony's Catholic church Thursday morning, Aug. 21, Miss Evelyn Koelzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Koelzer of Friona, was married to James Blankenship, son of Mrs. Lola Blankenship of Hereford.

Father Bartholomew performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of friends and relatives, after which a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in white French crepe fashioned with tight fitting bodice and marquisette yoke with short puffed sleeves. The bodice was attached to a full skirt and she wore elbow length mitts. Her lace-edged veil fell from a head-dress trimmed in rhinestones and she carried white rosebuds tied with satin ribbon lovers knots on a white prayer book. Her only ornament was a triple-strand of pearls.

The maid of honor was Miss Pearl Jesko, cousin of the bride. She wore a pastel blue marquisette over taffeta made similar to that worn by the bride and carried pink tinted daisies.

The bride's mother wore a navy suit with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a lime green nylon with a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Blankenship graduated from Lazbuddie high school and has been employed here at the Deaf Smith county hospital as a nurses aide.

The couple has returned from a wedding trip and will make their home in Hereford. Mr. Blankenship is employed at McCaslin Lumber yard.

Texans Not Arguing With Draft Board Over Uncle's "Greetings"

AUSTIN — Not many young Texans quarrel with their draft boards when they get those deers from their "friends and neighbors" — at least they never get to the appeal stage.

Only about one-half of one percent of the men classified by draft boards in Texas during the past four years have appealed their cases to state appeal boards.

The official record, beginning with inception of Selective Service Act in June 1948, through the present time, shows that, out of a total of 665,041 men who have been classified, only 3,657 appealed from local board decisions.

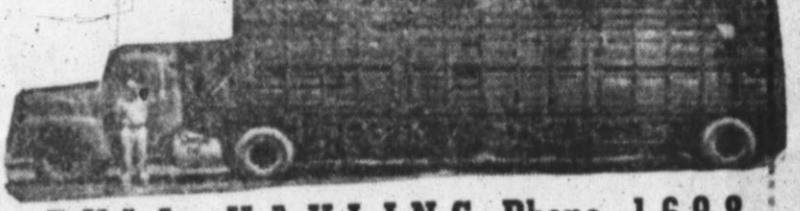

Out of these 3,657 appeals, appeal boards retained 2,033 men in the class subject to military service. The remainder were classified in deferred classes.

Only 44 cases have been appealed to the President of the United States from Texas during the four years of the draft operation. The local boards were upheld in 21 of these cases.

Any man may appeal from decision of a local board if he does so within 10 days after classification decision is mailed to him. If the state appeal board renders a split decision, the case may be appealed to the President.

"The small number of appeals is a tribute to the justness and wisdom of local board decisions," Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state draft director, said. "We in Selective Service are proud of the appeal structure as another safeguard to individual liberty."

East-West Remain Split on Germany

RUSSIA and the Western powers appear to be no closer on how to go about working out a German peace treaty.

Russia's newest proposal of Big Four talks "not later than October" to take up the question of a treaty for Germany has been coolly received in Western capitals.

Even in Bonn, Russia's lure of unity and neutrality flopped as skeptical Germans studied the seventh note exchanged by Moscow and the West in five months.

Nothing New

The Soviet note repeated what Russian propagandists have been hammering on since 1949.—The Big Four should get together and talk about a German peace treaty, formation of an all-German government, and carrying out all-German elections.

Western diplomats expressed disappointment that the point they considered most important—the formation of a commission to verify the existence in Germany of conditions for carrying out free elections—was relegated to last place on the suggested Soviet agenda.

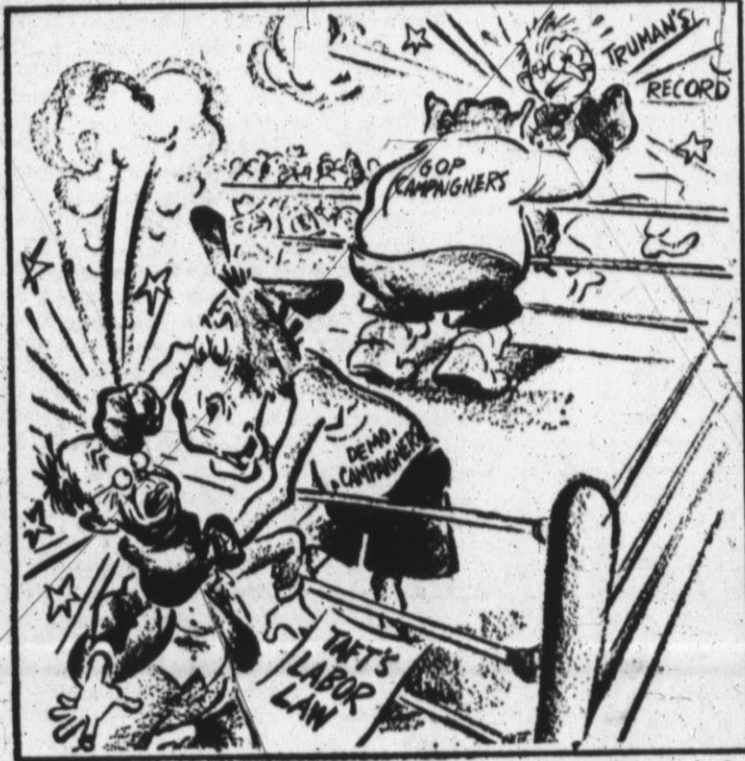

The Western powers dread being drawn into a propaganda fest in Germany—a "German Panmunjom," as one Associated Press correspondent dubbed it. As a result, the West has no intention of sitting around a table with Stalin's mouthpieces while the European defense buildup mires down in indecision.

Frenchmen Wary

Actually, the biggest stumbling block to West Germany's rearmament under a European army command is not diplomatic maneuvering by the Kremlin, but the reluctance in France to allow Germans to bear arms again. Frenchmen have heard the thud of German boots on French soil three times in 82 years. They do not want to hear it again.

The WORLD This WEEK

NOMINEES READY FOR MAIN EVENT

Waters, Indianapolis Star

Pletcher, Sioux City Journal

BLOODY FIGHT SO FAR—ON THE SPECTATORS!

THE two major contenders for the White House got in some heavy roadwork this week in preparation for their campaigns—not scheduled to begin "officially" until next week.

Scene of the warmups was New York City where Gen. Eisenhower and Gov. Stevenson addressed the 34th American Legion Convention. Eisenhower's turn before the Legionnaires came Monday, only hours after he had arrived in New York to set up his permanent campaign headquarters.

In his address, Eisenhower said the "Soviet master-plan of conquest" has put the nation in "greater peril than at any time in our history."

Calls for Warning

He called for a clear, strong warning to the Russians from the American government:

"We must tell the Soviets with cold finality that never shall we rest content until the tidal mud of aggressive Communism has receded within its own borders."

The general's speech was billed as non-political, but it contained several passages that appeared to refer, directly, to some of the charges the Republicans are making against the Truman Administration. For example, he spoke of corruption in government: "Let us bend ourselves to end corruption in public office, at every level of government. In world opinion and in world effectiveness, the United States is no better, no more efficient, no stronger than the moral firmness of its public officials."

Hits Red Infiltration

Eisenhower also referred to the issue of Communist infiltration into American government.

"Although we must say it in sadness and shame, as well as in anger, the Communists have succeeded in penetrating our own ranks, even at times into our government," he declared.

Against the background of his news conference in Denver last week in which he was asked whether he endorsed Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) Eisenhower asserted:

"Let us forever hew sharply to the fundamental American principle that every man is innocent until he is proved guilty. The assassins of character and the promoters of witch hunts are dangerous to our freedom at home and to our position of leadership."

Stevenson followed Eisenhower on the Legion rostrum Wednesday, then hopped across the Hudson to address a rally of Democrats in nearby New Jersey.

Stevenson Speaks

Gov. Stevenson delivered a fighting speech to the Legionnaires with patriotism as the theme. Through the governor's address ran a plea to defend freedom of thought in the fight against Communism.

Stevenson assailed Communism as the "death of the soul" but he added freedom of thought is being menaced by "over-zealous patriots."

He called for a strong national defense and the restrained use of America's power to promote freedom, justice and peace in the world.

The Democratic presidential nominee did not use any names but he left no doubt who he meant when he leveled a bitter blast at attackers of Gen. George C. Marshall and accused them of hiding under a cloak of patriotism which he called "the last refuge of scoundrels."

Directed At McCarthy

The blast was directed at McCarthy, one-time recipient of an American Legion award for Americanism.

McCarthy has accused Marshall, former Secretary of State and Secretary of Defense, of being party to a plot against the security of his own country.

In his first major drive for votes in the East, Stevenson said there are men among us "who use patriotism as a club for attacking other Americans. What can we say for the man who proclaims himself a patriot—and then for political or personal reasons attacks the patriotism of faithful public servants?"

"I give you, as a shocking example, the attacks which have been made on the loyalty and motives of our great wartime chief of staff, General Marshall."

Stevenson bluntly told the Legionnaires he would not submit to any pressures from veterans if he thought their demands were "excessive or in conflict with the public interest."

Stevenson praised the Legion, however, for its fight to awaken America to the need of military preparedness. In New York, Eisenhower was told his campaign was not going too well at this point, and he was pictured as ready to shift into high gear in his drive for the White House.

His aides indicated the general will try to obtain the active support of Sen. Taft and of thousands of Republicans who backed the Ohioan for the GOP nomination.

Texas Rhubarb

Eisenhower, aides said, also will begin speaking more specifically, pinpointing major GOP charges against the Administration.

In Texas, meanwhile, that state's traditional allegiance to the Democratic party in presidential elections was under its severest strain in 24 years in the wake of Stevenson's statement last week that he's for Federal ownership of tideland oil regions.

Some Eisenhower backers were saying victory is theirs in Texas. Stevenson backers however, expressed no alarm.

Bankers' Congress

IN a few days, the Western world's chief finance officers will meet in Mexico City to hash over some big headaches.

Chief problems before the conference will be: Inflation, the cost of rearming and Britain's exchange position.

Participating in the meeting from Sept. 3 to 12 will be representatives of the 53 countries in the World Bank and International Monetary Fund. Germany and Japan recently were admitted to the Fund and there is a move underway to make room for one of them on the executive board.

Causes of Inflation

Inflation, says Raul Martinez Ostos, Mexican director of the International Monetary Fund, is due to the fact that consumer goods are scarce and their prices high because of big defense orders.

The cost of rearming is being felt in higher prices for consumer goods produced in competition with war materials and in government budgets throughout the Western world.

British Dilemma

In Britain, this cost is particularly notable. She must export consumer goods to prevent exhaustion of her foreign exchange. Thus, Britain must produce war materials to fulfill her commitments and must produce civilian goods for export.

One aim of the Mexico City conference will be to streamline ways for every country to be paid in convertible currencies so it may sell to one country and buy from another.

One authority says the greatest effect of the conference will not come in formal decisions taken, but in the exchange of ideas between central bank and finance ministry officials of the countries attending.

In Short

Appointed: Ellis O. Briggs, U. S. Ambassador to Czechoslovakia, as Ambassador to Korea to succeed John J. Muccio, who will be U. S. Representative on the United Nations Trusteeship Council.

Named: by the President, to succeed Ellis Arnall, as price stabilizer, Housing Administrator Tighe Woods.

Planned: by the Air Force, a training program to develop its own chaplains in college through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps. The new program is designed to relieve a critical shortage of chaplains and produce an estimated 150 to 200 religious officers a year.

Defeated: in the Mississippi state Democratic primary this week, John Rankin, for 32 years a representative of his state in Congress, long-time white supremacist and co-author of the bill which established TVA.

Indicted: in New York, 65 persons involved in a half-billion dollar yearly gold smuggling racket which works through the legal purchase of gold at $35 an ounce by persons claiming to be jewelry manufacturers and the resale of the gold at huge profits in foreign black markets.

NEWSWORTHY

WEST SEEKS ACCORD IN MIDDLE EAST

COUNTRIES WHICH MAY FORM MIDDLE EAST DEFENSE COMMAND

A MIDDLE EAST defense organization is a long way from an accomplished fact, but Western diplomats think it has a chance for life anyway.

Their hopes have brightened during the trend toward reform which has been in full swing since Egyptian strong-man, Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib ousted King Farouk off his throne and sent him into exile.

A Middle East defense command, tied to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), can never be organized as long as Britain and Egypt are deadlocked over the Suez Canal and Sudan issues, however.

Two Sides of Question

Egypt demands Britain withdraw troops from the canal zone and recognize Egyptian sovereignty over the Sudan.

Britain maintains the Suez base must be well maintained and well defended. In the Sudan, the British consider themselves pledged to let the Sudanese choose their future status.

Egyptians contend the Egyptian army, if properly armed and equipped, is fully capable of maintaining the all-important Suez base.

Other Middle Eastern Arab states are bound together with Egypt in the Arab League. There are demands in these countries that Britain and France "recognize the demands of freedom," which presumably would have to be settled before an effective Middle East defense setup could be organized.

U. S. Position

The United States is particularly anxious to see the conclusion of agreements between London, Paris and disident elements in the Middle East so that a solid defense front can be established in the area to stave off possible Soviet aggression.

Some Egyptian quarters would like to see the defense setup enlarged to include Mediterranean countries such as Spain and Italy. This would obviate Egypt's fears of being constantly faced with a bloc made up of the United States, France, Turkey and the British Commonwealth.

W. Alton Jones, president of the Cities Service Co., arrived in Tehran this week accompanied by four U. S. petroleum experts to study the problem of aiding the Iranian oil industry. The hope was expressed in some official Iranian circles that the Americans could aid in helping Iranians get the huge Abadan refineries going again. Jones was secretive on his mission.

Sidelights

● In Grand Junction, Colo., a kid-style backyard circus broke up when fireman were called after 11-year-old Billy Davis dipped his posterior into a jar of gasoline and had a friend light a match to the seat of his pants for a "flaming torch" act to end the show. Billy was unharmed—just singed.

● In New York, 30 truck horses from a local dairy broke loose and scampered across East Harlem after a fire in the basement of their stable. Police corralled most of the animals without trouble, but two tied up traffic when they tried to cross a bridge.

● In Baltimore, Sidney Book was out for a walk when he saw a baby crawling along the ledge of a second floor window. He ran across the street, waited underneath. Sure enough, three-year-old James Kenner, Jr., came toppling down and Mr. Book made a neat catch, saving the child from injury.

● In New York, a tall bandit held up a drug store across the street from Madison Square Garden where 75,000 American Legionnaires were meeting in convention and escaped with $2,500 through a total of 50 policemen in the street on convention duty.

Quotes

Jack B. Tenney, candidate for President of the United States on the Constitution Party ticket: "No one is kidding himself that we'll win, but we'll be able to raise some of the real issues of the campaign which will not be met by the Republican or the Democratic candidate."

William Loeb, New Hampshire publisher, supporting Chicago Tribune Publisher Robert R. McCormick's call for creation of a new "American Party": "The American people need a change, but neither party offers them that change. What is desperately needed is a political party which will stand for dignity and importance of the individual man and woman."

FB Aids Farmers In "Getting Out Of Mud": Dodson

One of Texas Farm Bureau Federation's major objectives for a number of years has been "to get the farmers of Texas out of the mud."

Deaf Smith County farmers should lend wholehearted support to the organization's program, Virgil Dodson, president of the Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau, said, because the task grows harder and the need greater each year. The 1950 census showed that 534 of 648 county's farm families live on dirt roads a mile or more from a paved road, it was revealed by Dodson.

Viewing the situation on a wider scope, Dodson said there are 120,000 miles of dirt roads in the State of Texas, 66,000 of which are school bus routes.

A road program is one of the big jobs on which Farm Bureau will be working until a plan is adopted that will build adequate roads for school buses and for farmers to get their products to market, Mr. Dodson said.

Farm Bureau sponsored the Sewell Bill in the last session of the legislature, which proposed a tax of one cent per thousand cubic feet on natural gas, the major portion of which is shipped out of the state. A token tax was levied on natural gas, but sponsors of the bill failed to get any portion of the funds earmarked for building roads. The greatest opposition the Farm Bureau has yet encountered on its road fight is looming in the next session, Dodson declared.

Photosat Service Records Before Seeking Benefits

Veterans Administration today advised all veterans to have photostatic or certified copies made of their original discharge or separation papers for use in applying for veterans benefits.

Veterans with service since June 27, 1950 -- the start of the Korean conflict -- should have these copies made immediately if they plan to attend school under the Korean GI Bill this fall.

Post-Korea veterans can avoid delay in receiving their education and training benefits if they have their report of separation (Form DD 214) papers, which are acceptable to VA, copied before the original is sent to the Armed Services for mustering-out payments. Mustering-out payments are handled by the individual services and not by VA.

For most VA administered benefits, photostatic or certified copies of discharge or separation papers are acceptable. One exception is the VA-guaranteed GI loans.

Veterans applying for Certificates of Eligibility for GI loans must present their original discharge or separation papers which will be endorsed and returned to the veterans.

VA also asked veterans to make sure that in submitting photostatic or certified copies of discharge or separation papers that they submit copies of both sides of the document and not just the front.

Veterans who have been released to the reserves since June 27, 1950, should submit their Report of Separation of Certificate of Service, since they do not get discharge papers.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. Is there any kind of beauty mask or remedy you can suggest for a sagging chin line?

A. You can try placing a strip of cotton, saturated with chilled astringent, from ear to ear, and tying this firmly in place with a gauze bandage. Keep this on for at least 20 minutes while you relax in bed with the feet and hips higher than the head.

Q. How can I add to the beauty of graying or white hair, and prevent danger of its looking yellowish?

A. Add a few drops of bluing to a quart of water for a rinse after shampooing.

Q. What can I do about flakiness on my skin?

A. Mix a little kitchen salt with your cleansing cream two nights a week.

Q. How can I control hair that is almost "baby fine" in texture?

A. This type of hair benefits by being cut quite short, so that its own weight doesn't drag it down. If long, it's apt to become lank and stringy. Lots of brushing from the scalp up will give it shine, and body -- and a light permanent wave adds to its crispness.

Q. Please suggest an exercise that will trim excess flesh off my upper arms.

A. In addition to regular massage, try this: Lie flat on back fingertips on shoulders, elbows in at ribs. Raise elbows high and bring them down hard. Repeat 10 times. Practice this regularly.

Q. What astringent do you recommend for the oily type of skin?

A. Buttermilk is one of the best.

Q. How can I mix a good cleansing shampoo at home?

A. First shred one cake pure castile soap into one pint cold water and place in a pan to simmer (do not bring to a boil rapidly). When all is melted, put aside to cool -- and this amount is enough for two shampoos. Take this shampoo and to each half amount add the beaten white and beaten yolk of an egg separately. Add one-fourth teaspoon powdered borax and four tablespoons bayrum. Shake well before using.

Q. How is mascara properly applied?

A. Mascara should be brushed on from the roots of the eyelashes upward and outward, or downward to the tips. Curl back the upper lashes as you brush. When dry, separate the lashes with a dry brush.

Q. How is an oatmeal facial mask made?

A. Mix together three ounces of oatmeal, the juice of one lemon and some witch hazel. Apply this to face and neck, and let remain on for 30 minutes.

DWI Cases Give Officials Woes, Seek People's Aid

An unusual amount of attention has been directed to the matter of driving while intoxicated recently, due both to the frequency of the offenses and to the tragic developments which have arisen from drinking and driving.

A man who drinks in privacy and does nothing to endanger anyone else's life owes an explanation to no one in his community. It's his business. A man, however, who drinks and injects himself into the community scene; who gets behind the wheel of an automobile, must answer to his fellow-man, and in most cases, to the courts.

Driving while intoxicated represents the most wanton disregard for humanity imaginable.

Our courts—the people, who actually make up our courts—have taken varied attitudes towards this crime.

Law enforcement officials are becoming gravely concerned about this matter due to the regularity of the DWI cases. A man who is picked up on a DWI charge and is fined from $100 to $250 and sentenced possibly 10 days in jail, is the luckiest person alive. It could only be a fraction of a second before he would be a murderer in the eyes of society, before he could be involved in a tragic accident which snuffed out some innocent person's life.

Several sections of the state have "gotten tough" with DWIs. Deaf Smith county has stiffened a little, but there's still plenty of room for a firm attitude.

The secret to stricter enforcement of DWI charges lies with the people themselves. Our prosecuting attorneys can't build up a case and let public apathy tear it down.

If and when the people get outraged enough to DEMAND prosecution of DWIs without exception, it'll come to pass. Not before.

If our courts have to make a penalty "strong enough to hurt" but not too strong to call for opposition and a court trial—in fear of the culprit being turned free—our enforcement and subsequent conviction system is wobbly.

Every DWI is a potential killer. If he kills with a car it's just as bad as if he had a gun in his hand.

Deaf Smith county has gained the reputation as being a "hard county" on picking up DWIs, but some of the penalties haven't been as severe as the gravity of the offense would call for.

The killing of innocent persons should not be needed for our courts and juries to deal with a DWI in its proper light as a violation of society's code. If it is, we've dropped about 100 years of civilization in our mad rush of modern living.

Highway patrol personnel who have had the opportunity to get accident reports from other counties in the state could give some eye-opening information on how the slaughter by drunken drivers is growing.

It's not someone else's problem. It's your problem and mine if we want our highways to be safe. It should be handled in its true light by each citizen as he serves on any jury.

The DWI problem is one that can only be settled by an awakened public. If money is going to buy a man out of a charge—through mild fines—we might as well let dollars be the penalty for all the other criminal offenses and let the nation be flooded with enemies of society.—W.W.K.

Farm Tours Are Good For Area

Friday's farm tour, designed for Deaf Smith county farmers, was termed a success by cooperating farm agencies and the Chamber of Commerce.

These tours are a healthy thing for groups whose prime interest is increasing the farm productivity in the county. They are also good for the county as a community, for it gives each farmer a little more interest in what his "neighbor" is trying to do.

The county will have an opportunity, later in the fall, to repeat this same type of tour, only this time with out-of-the-county guests.

This is one of the most successful "public relations" moves that can be made by this area. The Chamber of Commerce should have full cooperation in staging these events because they help our farm industry. Whatever helps the farm industry helps each of us, no matter what type business we're in.

There are more farm events on tap for this area in the near future. They'll all point up how important is the farmer to our economy in this area.

Friday's farm tour, stirring interest at home first, was a good start.—W.W.K.

HR Charter Vote Next Saturday

A Home Rule Charter for the City of Hereford will be put before the voters of the city Saturday, Sept. 6.

It is the obligation of each voter to familiarize himself with the document and cast his ballot either for or against the proposal.

Although the charter isn't any more perfect than anything else in this world can be, it has many desirable features which are compatible with the growth of any city.

The Brand has presented a series of articles on the issue in the hope that the charter would be clarified for the voters.

There are no doubt people who oppose this issue, but they have every opportunity to EXPRESS their views. Just send them to The Brand.

If any voters wish to satisfy themselves on a particular issue or power contained in the charter, contact Hereford's city attorney, Ray Cowser. As the legal officer of the community, he will be glad to answer any questions on behalf of the city.

Take time to vote, take time to find out about the charter proposal. It's an important issue.—W. W. K.

Pressure Groups And Government

The idea that American politics is leaving much room for a "representative" government is fading quite rapidly each day as one reads the newspaper.

All too often we see where one "pressure group" puts the screws to the government, one of the candidates, or to an agency within our government.

America has its veterans, labor, business, real estate, manufacturer, farmer, teacher, medical and many, many more lobbies and organizations which continually "campaign" for legislation to their benefit.

Not that some of these groups don't come up with something constructive, but the idea of the thing is that many of our laws are the result of "pressure" by a favoritism group.

No political party is immune to this type of pressure: Call it by whatever name you choose, the results are the same.

It's getting to the point where a group NOT BANDED together to make its added strength felt in our law-making circles is lost in the rush.

America's representative government can all too often be the "plaything" of groups by buttonholing votes among our solons.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Opinions Differ On Home Rule Form Of Government For City

What are your impressions of home rule for Hereford? BRADY—I think it is good because it would be a more flexible form of government. The idea of one man with a control and yet he has to answer to a city council is a good one.

The people of Hereford haven't too much interest in the city government and that is all the more reason why we should have a city manager.

We have been very fortunate the last six years in our having the man we have for mayor; however, that can't last forever. The reason a man takes the mayor's office is certainly not for the money and unless a man has some outside business that he can have someone watch and manage or that will run itself he could not take the job of mayor because he couldn't live on what the job pays. Whoever accepts the office of mayor would have to be very civic minded and interested in the city and county.

ELMER PATTERSON—As a whole I believe that it would be a very good thing.

However there is one thing I would like changed or amended and that is in bringing new territory into the city there should be no tax collected until public utilities were furnished.

In putting one man under bond with specific obligation to the people and elected by the people the man would be more responsible and would take this responsibility as personal as well as a responsibility to the people and the city itself.

JOHN McLEAN—I am in favor of it because it is a better form of government and it gives the people more of a chance to do what they want to do.

Well, Kingsville certainly put a big welcome mat for the Texas Home Demonstration Association's 26th annual meeting.

We hadn't dreamed we would ever have a chance to look over the fence of the King Ranch, much less get inside, but Tuesday afternoon the group was shown through the mansion and made a tour of the ranch where we were given a close up of their Sana Gertrude cattle.

This huge new breed developed by the Klebergs would come nearer winning a beauty contest than their Brahma ancestors, but we're still partial to our whiteface cattle when in the skillet or on the hoof, though we did enjoy the barbecue served at the ranch by the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

Since we are particularly interested in sheep we were impressed by the rugs throughout the ranch which were woven from native wool by Latin American weavers on the ranch.

We have been introduced to Mrs. R. L. Campbell of our county who is here to attend the meetings and take part on the program.

Those of you who attended stunt night last spring will remember our other two delegates as the passenger in the Taxicab—Mrs. R. C. Childers and Mrs. Joe Wagoner under the big hat at the mike.

Mrs. Wagoner really can behave very nicely though she admits her halo gets a little tight at times.

And Buster, has done something none of the three of us have done. He at least got on the stage by helpin' the 4-H girls serve ice water to those on the program.

With nearly a thousand women in one bunch one might wonder who listens.

I'll Never Forget

By Ed Tiefel

I came to this part of the country in 1910 and settled in and around Friona. We moved here from Indiana where my father had been a farmer. My two brothers, Jess and Henry, and I moved to Hereford in 1914.

Started right off building two houses and they are still standing. One is the house that is on what is now called the S. O. Wilson place. The other is what is now known as the Richard Frye house near Dawn. When things were slow, Jake and I helped Henry on his farm.

In the fall of 1914, we built the Dawn hotel. The country was still being settled at this time and there wasn't too much building going on. People came here to earn their fortunes and they didn't have too much money to start with.

In 1915, business started picking up. We built the building where the Farr Food is now. At that time labor was cheap—about $3 a day and jobs were hard to find so we usually had good labor. When we built this building, the construction cost was $6,700.

At this time, there were about 10 large buildings on Main street. There were two banks—First National and the Western National. The First National was in the same building then. There were two grocery stores and the furniture store where Black is now and several other businesses.

Hereford had about 2000 people at that time. George Knight was mayor. The police force consisted only of a city marshal. However, pretty soon we had to add a night watchman to the staff.

When the bad times came, we of course didn't have any building business. Picked up a few odd jobs like building sheds for irrigation pumps, fixing flaws in homes and things like that.

During that time my brother rented a seven room house from Baskin for $6 a month.

When we didn't have anything else to do we helped our brother, Henry on his farm. He was raising some cattle and also trying to raise different crops.

Then the second war came along and we still didn't have much to do. We could have done a lot of business but there wasn't anything to work with so we just kept up our odd jobs and made a go of things.

Now about politics—yes, there was just as much complaining then as there is now but we at least tried to do something to help ourselves. Now people complain and then won't even get out and vote.

I believe that Franklin D. Roosevelt was the best president that I have seen in office. Wilson was a good president but he just did not have the cooperation of the congress.

People were easier to deal with at that time. They didn't have as much to choose from and could hardly be as particular. However there were a few "misunderstandings" when it came to collecting and even some that we had to take to court but nothing that couldn't be straightened out.

I guess on the average people haven't changed it's just that they have a lot more and times have changed.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Jug grass farm at Bootleg is misconstruing the news again. This week reveals.

I read some time back where, when Gen. Eisenhower was interviewed by a lot of reporters, at two or three places, when they asked him a tough question, Eisenhower said "I don't know," just like that, and the reporters is so refreshed they wrote long stories about it, and papers had editorials on it, sayin the honest admission a candidate that he didn't know the answer to some questions was certainly something new and would set well with the people.

Well, they're right. I like to hear a man come out and admit there are some things he doesn't know, but I would point out Eisenhower is havin more luck with this than ever been able to manage. I just don't get the same result.

You let my wife ask me when I'm gonna get up my chair on the front porch and start plowin, and you say "I don't know," and she just ain't refreshed in answer at all; even though it's an honest one. Eisenhower is a better man than I am, that's all that I can say.

Certainly a man isn't supposed to know all the answers and I find Eisenhower's blunt reply to the few questions doesn't have a good answer for refreshin, we need of it in public like, but also need more of it in private. Women just ain't as advanced in their thinkin as we writers. You let a man come in at 2 a. m. and, what wife asks him where he's been, let him give a thoughtful answer of "I don't know," and see what happens.

This country needs is to get the fomen more politically.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Three Hereford Boys Fined On Assault Charge

Three Hereford boys were fined $75 and court costs in Randall county court last Monday morning on an assault charge which occurred in South Amarillo.
Names of the three were not given.
The boy who was assaulted was a student at West Texas State college last term. According to the victim, the assault took place when he stopped at a South Amarillo cafe to eat breakfast.
As he started into the cafe there were three boys near the front entrance. One of the boys mentioned that the fellow who just arrived looked like a football player. His two friends decided they would tackle the new arrival to see how good he was at football.
The victim said the trio did more than tackle him, however. They beat him until one eye was completely closed and his entire face was bruised, county authorities said.
As the three boys and their two girl friends left the scene, the license number of the car was taken. Authorities checked and found the vehicle belonged to a Hereford man who said his sons had the car and they were away from home.
The trio was picked up later and brought to Canyon to face the county court charge. Judge Burney Slack fined them each $75 and costs.

Today's Fashions by Betty Rose

CASUAL GLAMOUR AND SLIMMED-DOWN SILHOUETTE LEND FEMINE ALLURE TO FALL-WINTER FASHIONS

The paradox of glamour and casualness is resolved in the 1952 fall stylings of Betty Rose coats and suits. The slim silhouette, fabrics with exciting surface interest and a brand new theme in colors all are the hallmarks of milady's 1952 fall wardrobe. Glamour in fall fashions is achieved through the slim silhouette; narrower shoulders with ample lines sustained through the rest of the garment; a new cut in sleeves which widen at the bottom and have a turn-back or simulated turn-back cuff. The casual effect is achieved through the fabrics themselves. These fabrics are characterized by surface interest such as that noted in tweeds, zibelines and boucles. Thus, the harmony of glamour and casualness is achieved through a wedding of feminine styling with virile fabrics.
This harmony is accentuated, too, in the new fall color story. In coats and suits, the mixture of black over color or black with white is dominant. This "blackening" goes on with red, brown, blue and green to create shades with subtle color appeal which develops the casual-glamour theme. In nubby, hairy and "bloom" surface fabrics these blackened colors have a rich and handsome new effect.
The coats and suits shown here, styled by Betty Rose, emphasize the general theme of the 1952 fall fashions. The versatile short coat on the left, increasing in popularity this season, certainly fits the casual-glamour theme. Gray, oatmeal, burgundy, gold and blue colors are available in this garment in an exciting combination of solid, contrasting with dramatic zibeline plaid. Feminine allure characterizes the worsted twist boucle suit, center, as a "soft touch." Leather, green, mulberry, blue and black provide an exciting color selection. At the right, texture makes the material difference in the dressy coat with a casual twist. In wool boucle, accented by contrast trim of poodle cloth, it is a favorite in blue, gray, red, with gray trim, and black with black trim.

Streu's Diary

August 29, 1952 DEAR DIARY: My mind is (as usual) a complete blank -- yesterday I thought of some very clever things to write -- and no doubt I will think of others tomorrow -- but today -- just blank. 'Tis just the in-between-time of year when summer is really over and fall is not yet arrived -- I believe this must be the time of year called "Dog Days." However, we have been getting in vast quantities of fall and winter merchandise -- have hunting license's, shotguns and plenty of ammo for dove hunting season -- still plenty of most items for home canning procedures -- lots of fall fishing tackle -- and charcoal for outdoor cooking, as well as a few lawn chairs and one lone power lawn mower. New merchandise received: mop wringers, files, calf wearers, kitchen chairs, lantern batteries, masonry drills, eye bolts, Dazey can openers, nail sets, oil lanterns, bike tires, shot guns. Also big shipment of wooden ware-mixing bowls, salad bowls, chopping blocks, spoons and forks, etc. Somebody asked me the other day if we had any baskets left -- sure, but they're now up on the deck -- where they will no doubt remain until time to clear them out at half-price next spring. Woe is me. Coming: Baby walkers, door buzzers and bells, white enamel blanchers, dog chains, sport seats

(for football games), electric lanterns, and a mess of other items. Wonder if any of you read the Dulaney ad in the Amarillo paper concerning television? It was a full page of questions and answers concerning television, and was just about what I wrote in this column several weeks ago -- except that it was in detail, and was a bit more authoritative. Might pay you to read it. Well, groceries and steel have gone up again, fortunately, the present administration only has four more months to go -- otherwise, with Price Control???? we would have every thing so high, we, like the Russians could only window shop and wish. Notice where President John L. Lewis is beating the drums for another wage increase -- no doubt his followers will get their demands -- after losing enough pay by strike to offset the wage increase for another five years -- of course the government will get a bigger slice in income tax -- so the miners will realize little out of any increase they may get. But big John will gain more prestige -- and that, after all, is the important thing.
