SIGHTS, FACES SEEN Around Town

Milk buyers can expect a ten-cent-per-quart increase on all milk purchased Monday and thereafter until further notice. The increase is scheduled on wholesale prices to retailers. Wholesalers said that producers will get the benefit of the price raise in the form of a 46 cent-per-hundred increase, and was attributed to the increase costs of feeds. This brings the producer level to around $7.16 per hundred on 4 percent milk.

Dimmitt will be host to the Fireman's Regional Convention Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 8-9.

Football mothers will meet Monday afternoon, Sept. 8, at 4 o'clock at the high school study hall, according to announcements Friday. Every mother who has a boy coming out for football was urged to attend.

Mrs. Bess Werner, old timer in the Westway community and one-time candidate for County Judge, fell last Thursday afternoon and broke her arm. The accident resulted from slippery walks following a light shower. Mrs. Werner was coming to her house with a pail of milk when she slipped. Her arm was thrown into the milk pail, resulting in the fracture.

Back after spending the summer on their ranch, near Santa Rosa, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Epley arrived this week in time for their son, Joe, to enter High School. "Maybe, it'll rain, now that Dad's back in Hereford," was the terse, but hopeful remark of their older son, Jimmy, who manages the ranch. Oscar says, however, that the grass is good, despite the dry weather.

Judge Leonard H. Foster was engulfed in a mass of columnar pads and figures Friday as he put final touches on the Deaf Smith County budget, which will come up for public hearing Monday, Sept. 22. He did take the time though, to make an unofficial estimate of approximately $425,000 on the county expenditures for 1952-53.

Finally we heard of two guys who went fishing -- and ate sardines. None other than Coy Phillips and that old Isaac Walton Leaguer—Lawrence Womble. Good place, too: the Elmer Womble ranch near Gunnison, Colo. Also a good alibi: water was high, away too high. Elmer, a former purred Hereford breeder near Dawn, they report as having some of the finest cattle they have seen in a long time.

The courthouse will look different Monday, thanks to several new coats of paint on the second floor. This is supplementary, too, since new paint already had the basement floors shining.

Remodeling work started this week on the Popular Store as workmen began ripping out the partition which connects the store with the building formerly occupied by Witherspoon Electric. The new store front will be 38 feet in width with the entrance door where the wall partition now stands. New front and display windows will be erected across the entire 38 feet. Plans are to establish a ready-to-wear department in the north section with new fixtures throughout. The entire building will be centrally heated and air conditioned. Adrian, Amgrille—designer, will decorate the interior of the new ready-to-wear section. Gaston Baer and Irving Alexander attributed the improvements to "the way Hereford is growing nowadays."

Back in town the past week was Mrs. Miram Volz, special representative of Richard Hudnut Company, and formerly employed at Close Drug. Driving a new car, too. Mrs. Volz is a sister of Mrs. H. A. Close of Hereford, and is now stationed in Kansas.

Announcement of the resignation of D. C. McWhorter at Fraser Grain Company was made this week. Mr. McWhorter said that he expected to devote his full time to farming operations.

Nazarene Pastor Assumes Duties In Local Church

REV. JESS RAINS

Rev. Jess Rains arrived in Hereford Thursday to assume duties of pastor of the Church of the Nazarene. He will replace Rev. Roy H. Bigford who left recently to accept a post in Nocona, Texas.

Rev. Rains was accompanied by Mrs. Rains and will preach at the regular services here Sunday morning. They came to Hereford from Pittsburgh, Texas, where he has been pastor for the past year. Prior to this time, Rev. Rains was stationed at O'Donnell for three and one-half years, and has spent several years as pastor in Oklahoma. "Getting back to the Plains is like coming home," Rev. Rains said. "I am sure we are going to like Hereford."

Dodge Agency Is Purchased Here By T. E. Seigler

Tentative purchase of the Dodge-Plymouth automobile agency in Hereford from Russell Giles and Frank Vogel was this week announced by T. E. Seigler. He said that he hopes to be able to open the business Monday morning and will operate under the new firm name of Seigler Motor Company.

Mr. Seigler announced his resignation as hospital manager here a few days ago to conclude the purchase of the firm. He is widely known in this area, having been active in Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, and is president of the Scottish Rite Club of Hereford. The Seiglers are members of the Methodist church.

He came to Hereford in 1926 from Olney, Texas, and graduated from Hereford High School with the class of 1930. He attended the University of Texas for one year, then moved to Wichita Falls in 1932, where he accepted a position with the Dodge-Plymouth agency. He continued in this post until 1940, when he returned to Hereford and became active in farming and ranching.

In December, 1950, Mr. Seigler resigned his position on the Deaf Smith County hospital board and accepted the post of manager of the hospital. He continued in this position until his recent resignation, and leaves the hospital in excellent condition.

Mr. Seigler says that he will devote his entire time to operating the automobile firm, and will leave Sept. 8 for Kansas City, where he will attend a dealer meeting and showing of the new model cars.

Kiwanis Club To Feature Kids Day On September 27

The Hereford Kiwanis club had as their guest at the regular noon meeting Thursday, L. B. Russell, football coach.

Mr. David Stanton was inducted as the Junior Kiwanian for the six weeks and delegates were named to the district convention to be held at Austin October 12-13 and 14, they were Lloyd Lovel and Pat Sullivan.

Dr. A. T. Mims headed the program and gave a detailed explanation on the operation of the mobile blood bank and the vital necessity of blood donations.

Blood donation cards were distributed at the meeting.

National Kids Day will be held by the Kiwanis on September 27. (Continued on Page 2)

New City Charter Passes—271-232

Hereford voters went to the polls 503 strong Saturday to approve the Home Rule Charter of city government by the narrow margin of 271 to 232—a margin of 39 votes.

Heavy voting late in the afternoon almost doubled the figure of 283 ballots reported as having been cast at 4 o'clock. A potential of 2,000 votes had been considered possible.

S. O. Wilson, acting mayor, said that he did not know what the next step would be toward inaugurating the new form of government, but he presumed that ordinances would have to be drawn and that the proposed charter would perhaps have to be filed with state offices for approval, Ray Cowser, city attorney, was not available for an opinion.

Passage of the new Home Rule Charter records the first change seen in Hereford city government since 1907, when the city gained its present status. Members of the City Council had recommended "a step forward" for the community, since it would result in employment of a City Manager and would offer other advantages to the city for expansion and general improvement.

County 'Over The Top' In Bloodmobile Pledge

Deaf Smith County was "over the top" with some to spare in pledges for the American Red Cross Bloodmobile scheduled in Hereford for Oct. 1, according to Mrs. Dyalitha Bradley, secretary, Friday.

"A total of 343 pledges have already been reported by T. E. Seigler, chairman," Mrs. Bradley said. Original goal of the local chapter was 300 pledges from which they expected to secure a minimum of 150 pints of blood.

She said that pledges will be used in the order received and that persons not donating blood this time will head the list for the next Bloodmobile visit in case an additional trip is required in later months.

"We will also invite all pledge signers to join the "Walking Blood Bank" which serves the local community," she continued. "This, however, is at the option of the donor."

Cards will be mailed each prospective donor who has signed a pledge. The card will list the hour at which the donor will be expected to appear at the Bloodmobile site.

"It is highly important for all persons signing pledges to be on the spot at the time indicated by the card," Mrs. Bradley continued. "In case you will be out of town, you should call Mrs. Homer Brumley as far in advance as possible -- and in case of emergency, she should be notified -- even at the last minute." Mrs. Bradley said this was most important in case of absence, since a substitute donor will have to be located and secured as a replacement.

As previously announced, the Bloodmobile will be located at the First Baptist church between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on October 1.

"We do appreciate the response," said Mr. Seigler. "However, it is certainly in line with Deaf Smith county's record of always being on hand when assistance is needed."

GARRY WON'T PULL SISTER IN LITTLE RED WAGON ANYMORE

Small Boy Loses Both Legs In Farm Accident Thursday

By Al Breith

Little Gerry Steve Stewart, three and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Stewart, Rt. 2, Hereford, was taking care of his one year old baby sister Thursday afternoon while the parents were in the field working.

The youngster was taking little sister for a ride in his little red wagon, no one knows what was in the child's mind but he started from the house across a field of sudan with the baby sister in the wagon behind him.

The tall sudan hid the children from sight as they crossed a field where the father was operating a row binder and walked right into the path of the machine. Gerry probably heard the noise but was unable to see the binder coming toward him. The father failed to see the children in the tall sudan until it was too late. The first thing he knew of their presence was when he saw the baby daughter fly over the top of the binder and heard the painful cries of Gerry, caught in the machine.

Frantically the father dug into the feed and found Gerry badly injured. The grandmother of the two children heard the cries of the father in the field and ran to his aid; she picked up the baby daughter, who was not badly hurt, except for scratches and bruises.

But little Gerry had both legs off just below the knee, he would pull little sister no more in the little red wagon. The child also suffered a bad cut just above the left ear and severe body bruises.

The accident happened about 6 o'clock, just as everyone was about ready to leave the field. The mother was working in the far end of the field in an effort to swell the family funds so they could purchase a cow, and with the wages earned Thursday, plus what had been saved, they would have had just enough.

The injured children were rushed to Deaf Smith County hospital and today Gerry is still a patient. Little sister has returned home, not knowing her big brother is so badly injured or that the cow will have to wait.

Perhaps, too, Gerry don't understand yet just what has really happened, he has not had a chance to find out, but he is a brave little fellow who came close to death and has passed through a terrifying experience.

HOLDING THE HAND of his one-year-old sister, Sandra Kay, little Gerry Steve Stewart, age three and one-half, sits in a hospital chair following a farm accident in which they were both involved Thursday. There are several things Gerry has yet to learn. One of them is the fact that he lost both legs, another is that medical and hospital bills will probably eat up the money they had been saving to buy a cow. —Staff Photo.

Give The Medal

Give the medal to Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma; the man's a genius at figuring out things to worry about. He delved to the bottom of the barrel the other day and came up with one:

Texas and Notre Dame play at Austin Oct. 4. Texas and Oklahoma play at Dallas Oct. 11. Oklahoma and Notre Dame play at South Bend Nov. 8. "I guess Notre Dame was aware it will be plenty hot in Texas and if the Irish beat the Longhorns down there we'll play heck beating them at South Bend," muses Wilkinson with deep lines furrowing his forehead. "And if Texas wins, we play them the next week and that will be as bad."

Bud misses one bet, however. He should have added: "If Notre Dame beats Texas, Texas will be so mad it will beat us. But if Texas beats Notre Dame, Notre Dame will be so mad it will beat us."

In that way he could have covered all contingencies, except maybe an upset through which Oklahoma just might -- might, mind you -- beat one of the two teams.

AFTER 37 MONTHS IN GERMANY

Averys Glad To Get Home

Lt. and Mrs. Harold Avery, U. S. Army, and daughter, Janell, are in Hereford visiting with Mrs. Avery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Adams, 431 J. Ave.

Mrs. Avery is the former Dorothy Nell Adams. Her daughter, Janell, celebrated her fourth birthday in the middle of the Atlantic during the crossing on their way to Hereford.

The family has spent the last 37 months in Germany where the young officer was assigned to the Special Services Section Headquarters, at Port of Embarkation.

Lt. Avery was stationed here in 1943 to 1945 at which time the couple were married in Hereford; after which they went to the General Army Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark. in 1946.

The family went to Germany in 1949 and have traveled to Denmark, Sweden. They just missed the fair in England on their way home.

In France and Italy they report that conditions are very bad and that prices are entirely out of sight. Holland was beautiful and they were highly impressed with the people and the natural beauty of the country. However Switzerland seemed to hold the highlight of all the countries they have visited, and they were amazed at the prepared state of the tiny mountain nation.

The Averys plan to be in Hereford until some time Monday.

figure was $61,345.03 last year and is estimated at $57,540 this year -- a drop of $3,895.03.

Capital Outlay (furniture, equipment, school buses, etc.) was $17,773.91 last year and listed this year at $6,600 -- a reduction of $11,173.91 and by far the greatest reduction item on the budget. Saving in this category was due to purchase of new buses last year and not anticipated for 1952-53.

Debt service showed an interest saving of $527.41. Retirement of Serial Bonds was listed at $21,000 last year and the same this year. Interest on bonds last year totaled $16,207.41 as compared with $15,680 this year.

Sources of Revenue
The big question, "Where does the money come from?" is also answered in the budget proposal.

Federal funds for school lunches was $9,252.09 last year and was estimated at $7,000 this year -- a decrease of $2,252.09.

State Funds (per capita payments and benefits under Gilmer-Aiken law): $188,161.89 last year as compared with $197,905.60 this year -- an increase of $9,743.71.

County Funds from county available: $817.40 last year and $781.20 this year -- loss of $36.20. District Funds (local school taxes): $225,887.09 as compared with $237,000 this year -- an increase of $11,112.91.

The schools started last year with a beginning balance of $3,418, but opened the present term with a beginning balance of $2,583.15 -- a decrease of $834.85. Total available revenue was listed as $459,536.46 last year compared with $472,269.95 this year -- an increase of $12,733.49.

School Budget Has Increase Of $10,019

HEREFORD RURAL HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT
Comparative Valuation for school tax, 1951 and 1952 tax rolls:
Classification of Property	1951 Tax Roll	1952 Tax Roll	Increase
Acreage Property (447,548 acres)	$ 7,024,280.00	$ 7,728,120.00	$ 703,840.00
City and Industrial Property	4,119,760.00	4,358,150.00	238,390.00
Personal Property	2,729,440.00	2,971,810.00	242,370.00
Banks, Utilities and Railroads	1,235,960.00	1,282,030.00	46,070.00
Oil Leases	52,780.00	54,300.00	1,520.00
Totals	$15,162,220.00	$16,394,410.00	$1,232,190.00

Taxes are based upon 50% of the above valuations (1941 appraisals) and a $1.50 tax rate.

Checked, re-checked and ready for the public hearing Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the high school, the annual school budget this year calls for a total of $439,973 -- an increase of $10,019.69 over operation costs in the Hereford schools in 1951-52 terms.

The new budget dropped in most categories, however. The single item which showed an increase was salaries. Salary increases listed in the budget amount to $25,616.04, whereas the other budget items were cut under last year resulting in the $10,019.69 increase -- and a cut of $15,596.35 in other operating costs.

Another bright spot in the picture was that assessments and tax rates on school district will not increase, despite the increased budget demands. This was attributed to new buildings and property rendered for taxation, plus assessment this year for the first time on farm improvements which increased the valuations by a total of $703,840.

Total salaries to be paid in Hereford schools are set at $339,243 in the proposed budget for 1952-53, as compared with $313,626.96 actually paid on salaries last year -- a total increase of $25,616.04. The major portion of this item will go to actual school personnel: teachers, supervisors, principals and superintendent. Last year this particular group was paid a total of $269,680.41 as compared with $291,653 estimated in the new budget -- an increase of $21,972.59. A portion of the increase can be established to meeting state regulations which provide for an annual increase of $54 for each teacher, each year, up to 12 years. An increase of $9,743.71 in state funds also helps to offset this item.

Janitors, bus drivers, tax collector, etc., also provide salary increases amounting to $3,643.45. This covers one additional janitor at the high school over last year. The figures for 1951-52 totaled $43,946.55 as compared with a proposed $47,590 in the budget.

Some to be Less
Classifications which showed a decline in operating costs start with Operating and Maintenance Costs (bus transportation, building repairs, supplies, etc.). This

Kaufman Given Pastures Trophy

COLLEGE STATION, September 6 — Come drouth or flood, Texans are making progress in improving their ranges and pastures. The present drouth has drastically cut not only crop but range and pasture production as well. But with favorable conditions, farmers and stockmen are expected to continue and materially expand their programs of soil and water conservation and pasture and range improvement.

Last year the National Fertilizer Association made available through the Texas Agricultural Extension Service a trophy to be presented to the county in Texas conducting the most outstanding program in pasture and range improvement. The selection has been made and the Grasslands Achievement Trophy -- a silver loving cup -- was presented to Kaufman County at a countywide meeting held at the community house at Poetry-Camp Ground on Friday night, August 29.

The presentation was made by the Association's Texas Director J. D. Dawson, Fidelity Chemical Corporation, Houston. He stated a similar award would be made again for the 1952-53 year and urged that farmers and stockmen

A GIRLHOOD CHUM reunion was held in Hereford Sunday and Monday by four ladies whose mothers were chums in their Montague country home. continue their efforts to increase the production of their pastures and ranges. Growing conditions, even though unfavorable during most of the year, have curtailed the carrying out of improvement practices but he added there'll be better days and urged all to have plans ready when the break does come.

During the past year four Kaufman County communities conducted their program through their community organizations while many other farmers and stockmen carried out improvement practices on their farms.

These practices included improving waterways, seeding grasses and legumes, mowing, brush clearing, planting seasonal pastures, deferred grazing, terracing, constructing tanks and many other soil and water conservation and pasture improving practices. The ultimate Kaufman County objective is to develop a year-round grazing program for the county and the leaders are putting to good use the research findings of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in their program. All counties of the state are eligible to compete for the Grasslands Achievement trophy and local county agricultural agents have detailed information on what is required to make an entry in the program.

Deaf Smith County Women Attend Texas H-D Sessions

By Mrs. R. C. Childers

Fifty-six women from this district, four from Deaf Smith county, returned Saturday from a week of conventioning at Kingsville, Texas. They were Mrs. R. Campbell, Wildorado; Mrs. Wagoner, Westway; Miss Roberta Campbell and son, Buddy, of North Hereford Home Demonstration Club, and Mrs. R. Childers from the Cultural Home Demonstration Club.

Two Greyhound buses were chartered for the trip, which left Amarillo on Sunday, August 24. The round trip took in a total of 34 miles. This did not include the trip to Mexico. The buses were air conditioned, which added to the comfort of passengers, especially after they left the capital.

With a bus load of women there never a dull moment, especially with Mrs. Joe Wagoner and Mrs. P. N. Cooke of Nacogdoches aboard. Mrs. Wagoner conducted recreation games on the bus, going down and coming back. Mrs. Cooke accompanied the Deaf Smith group to Kingsville, returning with her group to Nacogdoches.

Over 1,000 Women
There were about 1,000 women who attended the convention. Extra beds were moved into each room at the dormitories to take care of them.

Mrs. Irma Herrel of Dumas was hostess on one of the buses, and Mrs. Jennings of Canyon was hostess on the other bus. Their job was to see that everyone was on their bus each time they left for a destination.

The Texas Home Demonstration Society's 26th Annual Meeting at Kingsville began Aug. 26 in the Jones auditorium on the Campus of A & I College, at 8 a.m., with Mrs. R. M. Almanrod of Munday, Texas, presiding.

The guest speaker was Dr. Earnest H. Poteet, president of A & I College, who spoke on "United We Stand", which was the theme of the convention.

Tour King Ranch
A business meeting convened at 1 p.m. Tuesday in which delegates without the proper credentials were seated. At 2:30 the group was dismissed for a tour of the King Ranch, where the famous Santa Gertrudis cattle are bred and raised. There were over a thousand women making this tour. This caravan of women traveled in 155 cars, and 11 buses, and covered a 10-mile tour of the ranch.

The first workshops began Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. In these workshops delegates heard reports and were given recommendations to bring back to their clubs. The workshops consisted of 4-H, Recreation, Marketing, Education, and Legislation. The delegates attended as many workshops as they could in the time that was allotted.

In the 4-H workshop it was recommended that more of the clubs recognize the 4-Hers, encouraging each member to keep record books, and to encourage parent interest in 4-H work.

To Study Elections
The Legislative committee recommended that Texas women study election laws and participate in all elections; to keep Texas Legislators informed of the value of Home Demonstration work, and that Home Demonstration women continue to establish good will and friendship with other nations.

In the recreation workshop it was recommended that each family have a family play night each month, that clubs participate in singing, games, skits and playlets. The Educational committee recommended that club members read three books a year, study state institutions and offer help where needed, and study the effects of alcohol and narcotics on the youth.

Pool Buying and Selling
In the Marketing, which was of special interest to your correspondent, since I have been chairman of this county for the past two years, it was learned that the committee encouraged pool buying and selling, stating that 570 clubs bought cooperatively and 96 clubs sold through pooled orders. It was stated that $668 was saved per district through pooled buying. There are 12 districts in the state. This district is number one.

An election for president, vice-president and secretary was held at 10:45 a.m. on Wednesday, and the returns given at the close of the session on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. B. M. Harris of Plainview was elected President, Mrs. John Golightly of Hilco, vice-president, and Mrs. R. C. Wood of Port Lavaca, secretary.

Mrs. Betty Ann Kotilla of Edinburg was the organist throughout the convention.

The convention came to a close Thursday morning. That afternoon at 1 p.m. a caravan of nine buses took off for Reynosa, Mexico. After a tour of Market Street, a banquet was prepared for the group at Monti Carlo, a night club famous for its good food.

Visit Historic Spots

Going down, the group had reservations for the nights lodging at a hotel in San Antonio. The next morning, our delegation was shown the Breckinridge park, the historical Alamo, and the San Jose Mission.

On the return trip a woman from Canyon, Mrs. John Robinson, became suddenly ill and the buses were held over at Fredericksburg while Mrs. H. V. Poncellet of Amarillo took her to a doctor. She was given a seda-

THE FIRST P-TA meeting of the year was held Friday night at Whiteface Field at 7:30 which afforded an opportunity for parents to meet teachers and become better acquainted. The affair was in the setting of a huge basket lunch which was spread on the stadium lawn and class groups gathered around. The current membership is over 430 according to Robert L. Thompson, President. The meeting drew better than 300 persons and children. In the hospitality Booth (Top Photo) at the meeting were Mrs. Wayne Edwards, chairman of the Hospitality Committee Mrs. Robert Veagel, Mrs. Bert Bommer and Mrs. D. C. Kinsey. From this booth cold drinks were passed out to the attending groups. Lower photo was taken during the basket lunch. --Staff Photo.

tive and referred to a doctor in Abilene. The bus driver broke all rules and regulations of the road and rushed her to Abilene. At Abilene her husband, by chance, met the bus, planning to spend the week-end in Abilene. The group was as happy to see him as his wife was, and probably happier as we knew the nature of her case and she did not at that time.

There were reservations at the Wooten Hotel in Abilene for the group Friday. Saturday the buses arrived in Amarillo about 2:30. Everyone was glad to be home again.

HOME AGAIN—Walter (Buddy) Davis of Nederland, Texas, was given a hero's welcome when he arrived home from Helsinki and the Olympics. First to greet the gold medal winner were his wife, Margaret; one year-old daughter, Mary Edith; and three-week-old Nancy, who got her first glimpse of "daddy." Davis, a Texas A&M graduate, brought home with him a basketball contract from the Philadelphia Warriors which he will "carefully look over." ### From Paris France to Amarillo In 20 Hours For Hereford Group

People go places plenty fast these days, and while three Hereford residents realize it was no world record, they believe the following schedule was plenty rapid -- at least it was for them.

Mrs. Joe Huckert, Mrs. Louie Huckert, and Anton Huckert left Paris, France, Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock. They arrived in New York at 9 a.m. next morning, left New York at 1:15 p.m., stopped in St. Louis and still made it into Amarillo at 8:55 p.m. Thursday.

Some of their impressions of the trip follow as reported by Mrs. Joe Huckert, Jr.: Flying over the ocean the altitude was 8,000 feet. After arriving in the states flying altitude was 1,800 on into Amarillo.

A large group of relatives and friends met the Huckerts in Amarillo and everyone was so excited the flash bulbs would not flash with the camera. It didn't matter, however, because after several attempts they discovered that the camera held no film.

Of the 54 passengers aboard the liner, the Huckerts were the first to get off the big TWA plane. Mrs. Huckert says the four months in Europe were wonderful -- but she still thinks Paris, France, to Amarillo in 20 hours is most astounding of all.

Lynn Chisholms Find Life In Japan To Be Interesting

When S/ie Lynn Chisholm and Mrs. Chisholm first went to Tokyo, Japan almost 3½ years ago, they expected life to be dreary and drab because the city was dirty, the buildings drab and the people dressed in monotonous blacks and grays. Soon, however, they began to enjoy it all. They learned to develop their own pattern of living and to look off the beaten path for interesting features, sights and people.

Houses in Tokyo can only be eight stories high and while there is much building there now, nothing is permanent. None of the buildings are in good repair and their work is done on such a temporary basis that by the time repairs are finished, those just previously completed are in need of repairs again. Everything that pertains to daily living is temporary.

Only the temples and shrines which have stood for centuries are permanent and one of the highlights of their sojourn was a visit to Nikko, center of religious shrines and activities.

Some thirty odd temples stand as religious shrines, but like everything else in the Orient, their religion is quite different. Their gay fiesta days, when both men and women put away their drab attire for the bright and gaudy, are a part of their religion which is never solemn, but always gay and sometimes noisy.

"The people themselves are exasperating to deal with", Mrs. Chisholm said. "They move abruptly and awkwardly and seem always to choose the hardest and most roundabout way to get things done. In traffic and on the telephone they seem utterly at a loss as to what to do. They live a hundred years behind the times. We hadn't been there long before I needed some work done on a stove and when the workmen arrived he asked for grease and powder to the plumbing."

"I had little or no contact with the women of Japan, except my two maids and sometimes at Pan American Airways where I worked. They learn to be good cooks though and are either exceptionally clean or just the reverse. All Japanese people like children and whenever we would take our little son Lynn with us, all the Japanese spoke to him and talked about him among themselves. Our maids cried when we took him away."

Sgt. and Mrs. Chisholm found the Japanese people very artistic, although their art is so different that it takes some time to appreciate it. They love music and do a lot with their samisans, which are guitar-like instruments. Although a little off-key, the geisha girls entertain with them and they use them in their homes.

"The Japanese people are dramatic and since my husband and I both like opera we were delighted when we learned we were going to be able to attend "Madame Butterfly", "The Mikado" and "Carmen". I had attended the operas while in Germany and France and had thoroughly enjoyed them. But the Japanese put them in their native language which doesn't fit the music and we came away very much disappointed", Mrs. Chisholm recalled. We decided we didn't like the Japanese version of Opera.

The Chisholms look upon their stay in Japan as very pleasant. They were on the outer fringes of several riots but always felt a certain degree of safety because the American areas were so well guarded. They felt the rumblings of some earthquakes, but nothing serious came of it where they were.

While in Japan, Mr. Chisholm's office was directly responsible to the commander in chief, and since MacArthur has not been officially retired, Mr. Chisholm will be employed in his headquarters in New York City.

He expects to report in New York City on September 29, but if plans develop as expected he will be released from the Army in a couple of months.

Mrs. Chisholm and son Lynn will remain here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Phillips, until Sgt. Chisholm can locate living quarters.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton O. Williams stopped here Thursday for a brief visit with relatives upon their return from a wedding trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will make their home in White Deer. Mrs. Williams is the former Miss Eleanor Paetzold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paetzold.

Mrs. A. E. Argo Celebrates 85th Birthday At Daughter's Home

Roberson, Mrs. Mountz and Mrs. Thompson sang "God Leads Us Along" and her two granddaughters, Mrs. Troys Carmichael and Mrs. A. J. Schroeter sang "Whispering Hope".

Highlight of the entertainment for the birthday honoree was when her five-year-old great granddaughter, Merle Carmichael, played piano selections.

Bricklayers Get Top Wages From Building Trades

ATLANTA, GA — Bricklayers get better pay per hour than any other members of building trades unions in Texas.

Even so, the wage rate varies considerably from city to city -- from $2.875 an hour in El Paso to a high of $3.438 in Dallas. Houston bricklayers get $3.175 an hour and those in San Antonio a straight $3.

The figures are from a recent summary from the U. S. Department of Labor's southern regional office here. They are based on union scales as of July 1, 1936.

The scale for carpenters varies from $2.20 an hour in San Antonio to $2.488 in Dallas. Electricians hourly wage ranges from $2 in San Antonio to $2.875 in Houston. Plumbers -- often but erroneously thought to be the best paid building trades workers get from $2.613 in Dallas to $2 in Houston. The scale at El Paso and San Antonio for plumbers the same -- $2.625 an hour.

Farm Activities Hold Wide Interest; Lettuce Harvest To Start Sept. 15

By Mrs. R. C. Childers

The corn in this vicinity will be ready to cut for ensilage the first part of the week. Two ensilage pits are being enlarged and cleaned out in preparatory for the operation. Ensilage cutters are used for this purpose and trucks haul it to the pits and dump it. It is then packed with a heavy vehicle until the pit is filled. Some farmers then cover their pits with dirt to seal them, while others let them seal over themselves.

Wheat land is being plowed for fall sowing. Paul Corbett has two tractors running in his field, getting the land in good shape for wheat.

The cane crop on the Robert Kerschen place was cut this week, and the bundles are drying in the sun. He plans to have cane bundles for his dairy herd this winter.

The lettuce in this vicinity is making very rapid growth. Lettuce men predict harvest should start about September 15.

The row crops that have been irrigated look good. Some of the early crops are beginning to turn and should be ready to harvest in a short time.

Mrs. Jack Renfro and Mrs. Dick Connelly and daughter, Earlene, spent Thursday in Amarillo.

Patsy Childers was a guest in the home of Patsy Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson Tuesday night. They attended a Sunday school watermelon feast with a group of boys and girls from Baptist Young peoples class.

Mrs. Childers worked for Mr. Kenneth Cowan at the Cowan Jewelry Tuesday. The Cowans had gone for the Labor Day week end, and attended the gift show in Dallas while in that vicinity.

Miss Clara Redman was in this vicinity making calls Thursday. She called in the R. C. Childers home and was then going to the Dawson home to call on Patsy. From there she was going to a tea which was to be held in the Art Lewis home. Miss Redman is asst. Agent to Mrs. Argen Draper.

PLAIN and FANCY

The proprietor of this gazette stated, columnwise, that I might hazard a dope sheet for this ground, not intimating that such an attempt might therewith classify the write as one . . . The prognosticators have already hit the newsprint and their selections elicit much disbelief and some scorn, however, the dissenters, one and sundry, hardly if ever, attain the opportunity of evading the income brackets chinned by the soothsayers . . . And just to unHINGE the recollections, Maryland only reached scribbling stature by bringing down the Neylands on New Year last and not by any Saturday to Saturday handfighting of their own doing . . . Contrawise, Texas U. has a handfull-type schedule, over and above the beginners Louisiana State and North Carolina, who don't even have any recent clippings, but from then on, call out the guard, here come Notre Dame and loaded Oklahoma, forebodingly shadowed by the six Southwest conference members . . . not the least of whom is Arkansas, McHan manned again and doubtless well remembered by Price and cohorts . . . And there is always the Texas

Air War In Korea

BARRED from targets north of the Yalu River in North Korea, U.S. airmen are methodically ravishing secondary targets below that line.

This week, U.S. fighter-bombers roared to within 12 miles of Russian Siberia and demolished a vital Communist oil refinery.

The Fifth Air Force sent up swarms of Sabre jets to keep any Red MIG-15's away from the marauding Navy planes from the carriers Boxer, Princeton and Essex.

Nobody could say if this and other air attacks would affect the deadlocked truce talks, but some guessed they were causing dissatisfaction among North Korean Reds who could point to unscathed Peiping.

Navy pilots aboard the U.S.S. Boxer, meanwhile, reported incidents in which Allied pilots forced to bail out were being fired on while dangling helplessly in parachutes. An Air Force spokesman said he knew nothing about the reports, added that Air Force pilots were advised to head a disabled ship toward the sea where possible to avoid coming down in Communist territory.

Weather

Hurricane Season

Late every summer, winds near the West Indian doldrums, an ocean area close by the Equator, start rushing about, setting up fierce air currents.

According to one theory, a large mass of warm air rises in the doldrums. Sea-level air rushes into the vacuum left by the rising warm air. The rotation of the earth then deflects the moving air mass into a counter-clockwise whirl north of the Equator and a hurricane is born.

Another theory maintains that opposing trade winds, warm and cold, start the air mass whirling.

In either case, the storm that results is pushed by trade winds all the way across the West Indies to the southeast coast of the U.S. Only in the late summer months are conditions in the doldrums right for the formation of the storm. Only then can the trade winds push the whirling air mass across the Caribbean toward the continent.

This week, off Puerto Rico, new storms in the annual weather phenomenon blew up on the heels of a lashing hurricane that struck the Carolinas last weekend.

East coast residents do not always worry so much about the hurricane itself as they do about its backlashes and "forward edges." These offshoots of the main storm range far from the center of the disturbance to cause damage.

The WORLD This WEEK

IKE AND ADLAI TAKE THE STUMP

ROUNDPUP TIME

Robinson, Indianapolis News

WHO'LL GET THIS GUSHER?

Roy, Kansas City Star

DWIGHT EISENHOWER and Adlai Stevenson threw their campaigns into high gear this week.

The mileage and subjects covered by both candidates was impressive. At the end of the first week of formal campaigning it is evident that Adlai Stevenson is determined to tell the people what he thinks they ought to be told regardless of votes, and that Dwight Eisenhower is going to hit hard at corruption and scandal in Washington.

Perhaps the most significant of Stevenson's speeches was delivered in Detroit to a small, cool crowd.

Said Stevenson: "You are not my captives and I am not yours. I might as well make it clear right now that I intend to do exactly what I think right and best for all of us—business, labor, agriculture alike. . . . You are free-born Americans. So am I. So if either of us thinks in terms of captivity, lets agree here on a mutual pact of liberation."

Eisenhower Hits Scandal

In a flying dip into Dixie, Eisenhower cut loose at the Truman Administration in earnest.

Said the GOP standard bearer: "The Washington mess is not a one-agency mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess. Corruption and scandal have been brewed by too many men who are too small for their jobs, too big for their breeches and too long in power."

Eisenhower lieutenants watched the progress of the general's tour through the South carefully to see whether he developed the thundering fire power they felt was needed to meet the rush of Stevenson's campaign.

Courts Southern Votes

The GOP campaign chiefs expressed the belief Eisenhower will have a chance to split some Southern states from the Democrats in November. If he does, it will be the first time a GOP presidential candidate has done it since Herbert Hoover in 1928.

As Republican planners see it, prospects are fairly good for capturing states like Virginia, Florida and Texas.

Florida, with a large percentage of residents who have moved into the state from farther north, went Democratic by only 87,792 votes in 1948. The Democrats took Virginia in that election by only 23,716. In both states the margins would have been more than double had there been no States Rights ticket in the field.

Supreme Court has ruled the Federal Government holds "paramount rights in, and full dominion and power over" the marginal sea area bordering California.

Two Sides of Argument

That did not settle the question, however, because the Court did not say flatly that the U.S. "owned" the tidelands. Spokesmen for the states argue they have more experience and are better equipped to administer offshore oil leases than the Federal Government. Government proponents reply that Federal officials are less subject to pressures by special interests and would guarantee protection of the country's defense interests, and every state would share in the benefits.

Against this background, Stevenson has come out in favor of Federal title to tidelands oil and Eisenhower has supported the claims of the states. Stevenson's stand already has caused him trouble in Texas where Gov. Allan Shivers has declined to back his candidacy. The trouble it will give him in Louisiana and California, if any, is not yet clearly defined.

Civil Rights

The biggest hot potato for both candidates, as far as Southern voters are concerned, is the civil rights issue. Stevenson was nominated as a possible "harmony candidate" who could hold the South in line. He favors an enforceable Fair Employment Practices Commission, but would prefer to have the states set up their own commissions.

Stevenson asserts he believes it is the duty of the states to take action, but that the Democratic platform also favors Federal legislation. Therefore, the governor says he favors a bill already approved by the Senate Labor Committee that would give the Federal Government power to act where a state does not set up its own commission.

The GOP civil rights plank recognizes the possible need for Federal action in the "area of discriminatory employment practices," and Eisenhower has opposed compulsory Federal legislation to bar racial discrimination in employment. Thus, while Republicans realize the Negro vote can be decisive in big city states, they are wary of backing F.E.P.C. legislation wholeheartedly because of the hope they may capture a few Southern states this year.

Truman Hits Trail

Whistle-stop specialist Harry Truman also hit the campaign trail this week. In a series of speeches from the rear platform of his special train, the President revealed a clue to his strategy for Stevenson.

Truman avoided saying anything that would commit Stevenson to a specific course on any issue. Instead he vigorously attacked the GOP campaign, theme that the time has come for a change and called Eisenhower the "lonely, captive candidate" of Republican "special interests."

Obviously enjoying himself and in good form, the President delivered a "give 'em hell" speech at a labor rally in Milwaukee to climax his whistle stop campaigning.

Mossadegh Snarled In Twin Dilemma

FOR more than a year, Iran's historic Premier Mohammad Mossadegh has worn a twin-horned helmet of indecision—half afraid to accept Western help and half afraid not to.

By rejecting last week's Joint Churchill-Truman offer to settle the Iranian oil question, Mossadegh left himself open to bankruptcy at home and to suspicion abroad.

Japan

Election Coming Up

Not for 15 years has Japan had a completely independent general election campaign.

This week, Japanese plunged headlong into just such a campaign. The great issue facing more than 40 million voters on Oct. 1 will be whether or not they approve of Japan's close alliance with the United States, her former enemy.

Premier Shigeru Yoshida and his powerful liberal party have for four years led Japan into an ever tighter alliance with the United States and the United Nations. The inevitable result of such a policy is heavy rearmament.

Pushes Quick Election

The premier last week dissolved the diet's house of representatives only three days after it had assembled for a new session. Yoshida chose to face an election by Oct. 1 (it would have come not later than January in any case) to combat a growing revolt in his own party and the clamor against rearmament.

Other big questions to be settled in the election:

1. Will the liberal party retain its firm grip on the government, or will the diet split into warring splinter parties?
2. Will Mamoru Shigemitsu, who signed Japan's surrender in 1945 and served five years as a war criminal, be able to raise his moderately-conservative progressive party to major status?
3. Will Yoshida be able to win his personal fight within his own party against the comeback of Ichiro Hata, his former sponsor?
4. What will happen to the 22 seats the Communists hold in the diet?
5. Will a new nationalism raise its head?

Party Issues

Yoshida's liberals—actually a very conservative party—have hewn to a line of sound money, trade expansion and a growing awareness of a need for a defense force.

Shigemitsu hopes to build up his group into real rivals for the liberals. He, like Hata, urges speedy, open rearmament, and has accused Yoshida of pussy-footing.

Japan's new democracy undoubtedly will mean a free-swinging brawl until things are decided Oct. 1. The outcome may have much to do with the nation's course in the troubled times ahead.

Iran has been unable to work the huge oil industry taken over from the Anglo-Iranian Company last year. Both oil and revenues, the Iranian economy has become bare. Mossadegh and his nationalist party face heavy penalties if they accept Western aid, perhaps the loss of power, and economic ruin if they don't.

Reds Stand to Gain

If Mossadegh falls, the most likely successor would be the well-organized Communist Tudeh party.

Aware of the Communist threat in Iran, President Truman joined Prime Minister Churchill in the three-point proposal offering Iran a 10-million-dollar U.S. loan, a plan whereby Iran's blockaded oil would be marketed, and the release of Iran's blocked pound sterling balances in Britain. In return Iran was asked to let the International Court of Justice arbitrate the Anglo-Iranian Company's compensation claim for its nationalized properties.

In Tehran, it was reported that Mossadegh and other government officials feared the International Court might charge to Iran's account a heavy bill for Anglo-Iranian's loss of profits that would have accrued to it if it had run to 1953.

Time to Consider

Meanwhile, Mossadegh met Sept. 19 to take up formal rejection of the Truman-Churchill offer. He could use the intervening time to see if anything further was forthcoming from the West.

In London and Washington, however, there were signs that there would be no more concessions.

The joint proposal to Iran apparently destroyed any hope Mossadegh may have had that by manipulating Western fears of Communism he could play the U.S. against Britain and eventually get help from this country in spite of his refusal to deal with the British.

Sidelights

● In Denver, a 5-year-old baritone, Phil Peralta started to kindergarten this week. Young Phil has been a booming baritone ever since last November when he had his tonsils removed.

● A Grand Rapids, Mich., man complained to the better business bureau that he had been bilked when he sent for a book advertised as "sensational, shocking, exotic," and bearing pictures of scantily attired beauties. How did he know he was going to get a cook book?

● In Philadelphia, a holdup man entered a gasoline station and demanded $10. When a quivering attendant handed over bills totaling $150, the robber peeled off $10, handed the rest back.

Quotes

Maj. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, former commander of the U.N. prisoner-of-war camp on Koje Island, new deputy commander of the U.S. Fourth Army at San Antonio, Tex.: "Allied prisoners-of-war camps are under excellent control, but occasional minor flareups should be expected. When you have 150,000 people in cages, some are going to want to get out every day. Our policy in handling the prisoners is absolutely fair but firm. The whole world knows this, including the Communists."

Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations: "Wide areas of misunderstanding and lack of knowledge about the United Nations persist in most parts of the world. There has, on the other hand, been notable progress towards a more realistic appraisal of the organization's possibilities. . . . Premature optimism seems to have been replaced by a more critical but not less interested attitude."

Dodson Outlines Rural Road Aid

Texas Farm Bureau Federation, working in cooperation with other groups such as County Judges and Commissioners and Rural Letter Carriers, "saved" millions of dollars for rural road building purposes in Texas for the years 1951 and 1953, through a vigilant and active program of work carried on while the 1951 state legislature was in session, according to Virgil Dodson, of Hereford, president of the Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau.

Legislation was introduced, Dodson said, that would have taken from the counties every penny of the road bond assumption money, which is expended by the Commissioners Courts in the counties, and would have discontinued the appropriation provided under the Colson-Briscoe Act, which is used by the State Highway Department to build farm-to-market roads. The movement led by the Farm Bureau specifically saved $7,300,000 in road bond assumption money for the State of Texas each year, and $15,000,000 Colson-Briscoe funds.

"Let's see what this means to Deaf Smith county", the farm leader said. "We will get $26,611 road bond assumption money in 1952 and again in 1953. We will get 5.4 miles of farm-to-market roads each of these years, built with Colson-Briscoe funds. Conservatively speaking, it costs about $10,000 a mile to build these farm-to-market roads, and this will mean about $54,288 a year that this county will receive from this source.

"If these groups had not fought the battle that saved this road money, it would have been necessary to raise taxes in Deaf Smith county to build the roads, if we had any roads built," Dodson declared.

Certain groups have an eye on this road money and another fight will be waged in the next legislature if this money is retained for rural roads, Dodson predicted.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Prize-Winning 4-H Cookies Are Explained In Recipe This Week

Martha Heard, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Heard, won first place with cakes and cookies in the local 4-H Club contest recently, and has been receiving many requests for the recipes she used. Martha is 15 years old and a junior in Hereford high school. She has always liked to cook and to try out new recipes, and has been in 4-H club work for four years.

Those recipes with which Martha won her culinary honors, didn't just happen that way. She worked with them two or three months experimenting and testing until she was satisfied with the results. When the judges tested her Standard One-Two-Three Cup cakes, they pronounced them "perfect specimen". Here are her favorite recipes:

Oatmeal Crispies

- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 well beaten eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 3 cups oatmeal
- 1/2 cup walnuts

Cream shortening and sugars thoroughly, add eggs and vanilla and beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients and blend. Add oatmeal and nuts and mix thoroughly. Shape in rolls and wrap in waxed paper and chill, (preferably overnight). Slice in 1/4 inch slices and bake on ungreased cookie sheet in 350 degree oven for ten minutes. Makes five dozen.

Standard One-Two-Three Cup Cakes

- 1/2 cup shortening (1/4 cup butter and 1/4 cup shortening is best)
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 cups cake flour
- 1 1/2 cups baking powder
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup sweet milk
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 teaspoon lemon extract
- 1/8 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add flavoring and well beaten eggs slowly. Mix and sift flour with baking powder and salt and divide in four portions. Add flour mixture and milk alternately to the butter and sugar mixture, beginning and ending with the flour mixture.

Mix all very gently and bake in greased muffin pans in 375 degree oven for 25 or 30 minutes.

Powdered Sugar Cream Cheese Frosting

- 1 3 oz. package cream cheese
- 2 1/4 cups sifted powdered sugar
- 1 tablespoon milk
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

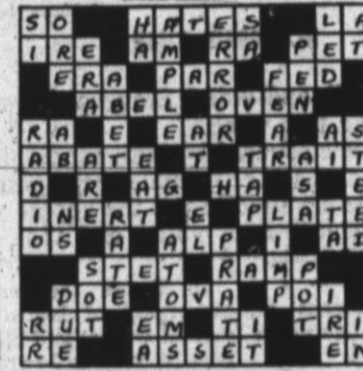

Blend the cream cheese and the milk and sugar gradually, blending well. Then add flavoring and blend again. This recipe makes enough to frost and fill a 2-layer 8 inch cake.

Variations

CHOCOLATE FROSTING - Use basic recipe. After sugar is blended in, add one square of unsweetened chocolate which has been melted and slightly cooled, a teaspoon vanilla and a dash of salt.

ALMOND FROSTING - Use basic recipe and add 1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring and 1/2 cup nuts.

MARASCHINO CHERRY FROSTING - Again using the basic recipe, substitute 1 tablespoon maraschino cherry juice and add 1 tablespoon chopped maraschino cherries.

HUDSON HORNETS SET ALL-TIME STOCK-CAR RECORD!

In 39 stock-car races held so far this year, Hudson came in first 35 times, and both first and second 19 times in these cities:

| Canfield, Ohio         | Terre Haute, Ind.   |

No other car in the world can match this record!

All makes of cars compete in stock-car races. And in these grueling tests of stamina, safety and performance, only results count. That's why, when you look at the stock-car record, you know which car is best.

To date this year, Hudsons have won 35 out of 39 stock-car races—an all-time record!

How does this help you choose your family car? Well, consider this:

- It proves that Hudson's exclusive "step-down" design (with America's lowest center of gravity) gives you road-hugging stability and sureness of handling no other car can match!
- It proves that Hudson's Monobilt body-and-frame* is the safest, most durable automobile construction known!

- It proves that Hudson's high-compression engines deliver tremendous power, that Hudsons have the stamina to take punishment equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary driving in tests where other cars fail.

All these important qualities are yours in a Hudson... for your pleasure, for your pride, for your protection. There's sleek, streamlined beauty, too, and you don't have to look at the record to see that.

Stop in and try a Hudson, or give us a phone call and we'll pick you up at your door. You've got a real thrill in store.

County "Over The Top" In Red Cross Blood Pledges

Deaf Smith county has gone "over the top" on behalf of another unselfish cause. We refer to the overwhelming support given when pledge time came for donation of blood to the American Red Cross Bloodmobile.

Residents of this county have every right to be proud of their record. It's magnificent. At this writing, the results have been so heavy that it may be necessary to schedule a SECOND day for the Bloodmobile visit to handle the overflow.

We said the residents of the county have every right to be proud. They have. Other communities this size have fallen flat on their face in the breach of this challenge. Others have been divided on petty issues regarding the blood program.

In some cases, the program has flopped through unfounded rumors that the American Red Cross is selling blood and other silly accusations.

But not in Deaf Smith county. The fact that the people responded so well—and are still responding so well—is a fine tribute to the sincerity of the big-hearted people out here in Deaf Smith county.

Talk about morale! The boys in Korea would love to hear about more Herefords and more Deaf Smith counties when the request for blood to save the lives of our fighting men are made.

You, too, who donate that pint of blood, are enlisting in the fight against Communism when you share your life-giving blood with the boys on the front lines.

The blood you give IS NOT SOLD!!! When collected by the Red Cross, it is shipped to Houston and TURNED OVER TO THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT.

They carry the ball from there, but they can't do anything if the people don't back them up.

Deaf Smith county has shown once again that ALL THE PEOPLE, uniting in a common effort, can move mountains.

Let the laggards look on in the shadow of their feeble efforts. Residents of Deaf Smith county will lead the way as they have in every humanitarian undertaking thus far.

Yes, Deaf Smith county DOES know there's a war on. Look to the Bloodmobile performance.

The boys are NOT forgotten.—W.W.K.

It is possible — we feel that something is definitely wrong. Something which should definitely be corrected. Well over a million dollars has been spent on new church buildings in Hereford during the past five years. The citizens of the community marched in and voted to construct a modern swimming pool. Streets have been paved. Parks have been built.

No one likes to pay taxes, especially more taxes when taxes are already high. However, we cannot feel that the people of Hereford and Deaf Smith County will deny their children the right to an education — and yet spend their money on other projects. The situation is fast becoming critical. It demands action.

Will Tidelands Be Big Factor?

"Will Texas go Republican?" This is the big question all over the country — and especially among Texans.

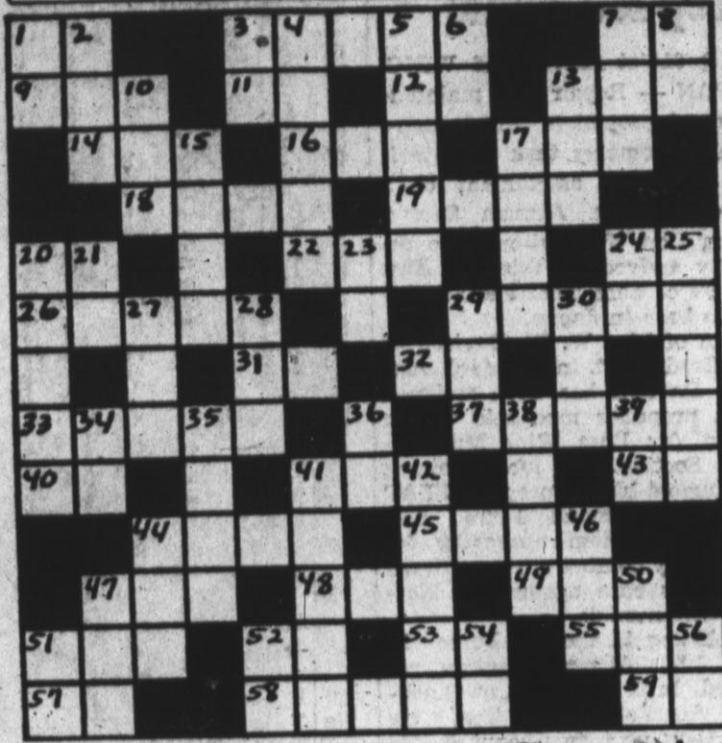

The question got at least a partial answer in a report this week from Austin. Gov. Allen Shivers counseled with Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson a few weeks ago and was informed that Stevenson would openly favor confiscation of Texas Tidelands by the federal government. Gov. Shivers, equally frank, openly stated that he could not under this circumstance, support Stevenson in his race for President of the United States. Gov. Shivers went even further. He asked the people of Texas to write in their opinions as regarded supporting Stevenson.

Almost alarming in scope was the result: "Ten-to-one against supporting Stevenson," reported Thursday by Gov. Shivers. Taking this at face value, it would seem that Texas will definitely go Republican — but we doubt if the figure is an accurate index. In the first place, many of those who wrote in probably did so because they were strong on their feelings as regards Texas Tidelands. Still others may have been admirers and strong followers of Gov. Shivers. Meanwhile, that great mass of voters — men and women who seldom write letters regarding politics — remain to be heard from at the polls. Perhaps it might be an "inkling," but we feel definitely sure that Texas will not go Republican by the majority of 10-to-1.

Our Texas Tidelands are, and certainly should be, and issue. However we wonder just how roiled up are the people of Texas over this matter? Experience has taught us that most voters, once they are alone with a pencil and their conscience, are guided by two factors: "Actual Personal Financial Welfare under the Present Administration" vs. "Present High Taxes" (in favor of the Republicans). These two factors, we are sorry to say, will probably outweigh Tidelands, Corruption, even Foreign Policy.

Upon these two factors depend whether Texas will vote Democratic or Republican — and this is likewise probably true as concerns the other 47 states this fall.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Washington "Mess" Admitted; Remedies On Condition Differ

Do you think there is a "Mess" in Washington as far as the government is concerned?

MRS. B. CHILDERS: Yes, perhaps not exactly a mess but I would say rather a state of confusion as to the right thing to do. It most certainly does need cleaning up. I do not think the general public knows what it is all about, but I do think that we need a definite change in Washington.

MRS. ROGERS: I don't know much about politics, but the situation most certainly could be corrected. For one thing our Foreign situation seems all mixed up and the people here at home do not know what it is all about, it seems to be a generally fumbled deal especially the Korean situation.

MRS. MARVIN WINGET: I think that Washington is doing the best that can be done with what they have to do with and it is up to the people to stand behind those on the job. We do have a bad foreign mixup, and I hope that there will be a definite change which will bring about an improvement in time.

BOB WEAR: Yes, it must be corrected. The future of the country depends upon how soon and how well it is corrected and the sooner the better. The foreign situation is greatly confused, we should do the best we can to remedy the situation.

MRS. GLENN H. WILLIAMS: Yes we need a new administration and a general housecleaning and cleanup. We are badly in need of a change and I hope we get someone in Washington who will put an end to the Korean situation.

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

You folks are gain to be relieved to know that we've never had an operation that we might get strung out on as we have this trip to Kingsville, but we still have to mention our tour of the Rio Grande Valley and the visit across the border.

We were disappointed in the Valley even if the palm trees are pretty and cotton stalks which had already been picked were waist high.

Maybe we didn't see it at the right time as vegetables are just being put in but we hadn't expected to see everything so ragged with Johnson grass and weeds.

Our supper in Reynosa, across from McAllen, was also an eye-opener.

We had worried about how our digestive system was going to handle all the chili peppers and typical Mexican food but what we got served, very nice banquet style to the 250 visitors in the party was:

- Fried white wing dove and one fourth of a fried chicken
- Avacado salad and huge platters of fresh onions, radishes and celery served with celery and tortillas.
- Fried rice, fried onions, french fried potatoes and even the beans had been mashed and hosh browned.
- Hard crusted rolls and Coco-Cola or pink lemonade completed the meal.

The table arrangement was very nice and the Mayor of Reynosa welcomed us.

But think back we wonder if the nicest part of all wasn't the pleasant association with the twenty six other women who rode on our chartered bus from District One with Mrs. V. H. Poncet our vice-president from Amarillo riding herd on the group.

We are also inclined to believe after all the fun the women have had away from the routine of housekeeping that they will be more tolerant when their bread winner takes time out now and then for huntin' or fishin'.

Unless our son shows more enthusiasm for his home work WE have started to school again.

Mysterious Fish Bones Panhandle Paragraph

Portales Tribune, Sept. 4, 1952
Olen Dick has a good story to tell — but he's taken so much ribbing he won't hardly tell it any more.

You see, Olen has found the carcasses of some 10,000-odd catfish on his dry land farm about five miles out on the Arch highway.

Dick was plowing last Thursday, when he noticed something unusual every so often, but he just thought the ground was "turning up" a little funny. Finally when he got off the tractor to investigate, he found that he had been seeing a dead catfish occasionally.

He plowed a while longer, until he came to a low spot — where he really hit the jackpot. Literally thousands upon thousands of catfish carcasses — from five to seven inches long covered the ground.

No one can figure where they came from unless it really does "rain fish".

According to Dick, parts of the field where the fish were found are never covered by water except what falls on it. None drains to it — yet fish carcasses were found there.

None of the neighbors have found any fish — and wouldn't believe Dick until he showed them his. There are no nearby ponds that overflowed, or could have washed fish to his field.

Hugh Frazier, Dick neighbor on the Clovis highway, reported the incident to the Tribune, and said he had never seen anything like it and couldn't figure it out. Some of the neighbors who have seen the fish, and the way the land drains have offered the theory that a twister came over and dumped them there.

Right now it's a mystery — and it looks like it will remain so.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I test the quality of coffee?

A. By pouring about a tablespoon of ground coffee into a cup of cold water. If the coffee floats and the water is colored very slowly, it is good coffee. If, however, any of the coffee sinks to the bottom, or it stains the water quickly, there is some adulterant in the coffee.

Q. How can I remove obstinate stains from linoleum?

A. A tablespoonful of paraffin added to the water when washing linoleum helps to remove the stains and acts as a preservative for the linoleum.

Q. How can I clean grease accumulations out of clogged drain pipes?

A. Put some baking soda down the drain and then pour in a little vinegar.

Q. How can I prevent streptococcal or train sickness?

A. This can be prevented by beating the white of an egg stiff, adding the juice of one lemon, and one teaspoon of sugar, and taking this before starting on the journey. It is usually an effective protection against that nauseating feeling.

Q. How can I remove scratches successfully from walnut furniture?

A. Cut a walnut or a Brazil nut kernel in half and rub the scratch vigorously with the freshly-cut nut. The oil from the kernel will refinish the wood.

Q. How can I prevent patent leather shoes and handbags from cracking?

A. Rub them occasionally with a cloth dipped in glycerine.

Q. How can I give a different flavor to pie crusts?

A. A delicious addition to the pie crusts is a little spice. Try putting a quarter teaspoon each of cinnamon and cloves into each one-and-a-half cup of flour. This is especially good with fresh fruit or berry pies.

Q. How can I remove a glass cork that has broken off in the neck of a bottle?

A. Hold the neck of the bottle in boiling water a few minutes, and then tap it gently with a wooden block.

Q. How can I completely dispel onion breath?

A. Onion breath can be completely dispelled by sipping about one teaspoon of vinegar, or eating a sprig of parsley.

Q. How can I sharpen sewing machine needles that have become dull?

A. They can be sharpened by stitching several inches through a piece of fine sandpaper.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his job authority on.

Dear editor:
I read the other day where some expert in Washington has come up with the idea that arbitrarily fixing 65 age to retire is an impractical notion. According to him, men aren't near ready to retire, lots of good work still in em, and there are some who can go on to 75, even beyond. Claims the government could save a lot of money this way.

According to him, you can't have a set rule on automatic retirin, your 65th birthday ain't no way of deciding whether you're ready to stop or not.

I want you to know I am opposed to this new idea per cent. If there's any freedom left in this world, it is to be freedom to retire without being inspected, but new idea gets gain — don't you know the first step is to set up a board to decide when a man's ready work?

Like it is now, all you have to do is hold together till you're 65; you can start aimin at it from way and when you get there you can retire and draw a pension but under this new system they'd be around inspecting probably havin you flex your muscles, have you a few rounds, chop a few acres, pound you on the back and then take 90 days to mail you back a report on whether you're ready to retire or not.

Thunder, we don't want any such system. When a man ready to retire he oughtn't to have to ask anybody drop his hoe and walk to the shade and sit.

In fact, if he wants to retire when he's 50, or 40, or ever he can swing it, that's his business too. In fact my system; retirin ain't no sudden move, like jump a cold tub of water, it's a gradual thing. It ain't get a man to be pulled up short and have to stop work at once, he ought to start early in life, easin up thing, gradually doin less and less, so when the time to retire there ain't hardly any noticeable change.

There ain't nothin more pitiful than a man who has hard all his life suddenly not having anything to do folks say the way to avoid this is to not give up, keep working, but my idea of the way to avoid such a catastrophe is to plan your retirement early in life and work up got mine in such shape I won't even know I'm retired. I mark it on the calendar.

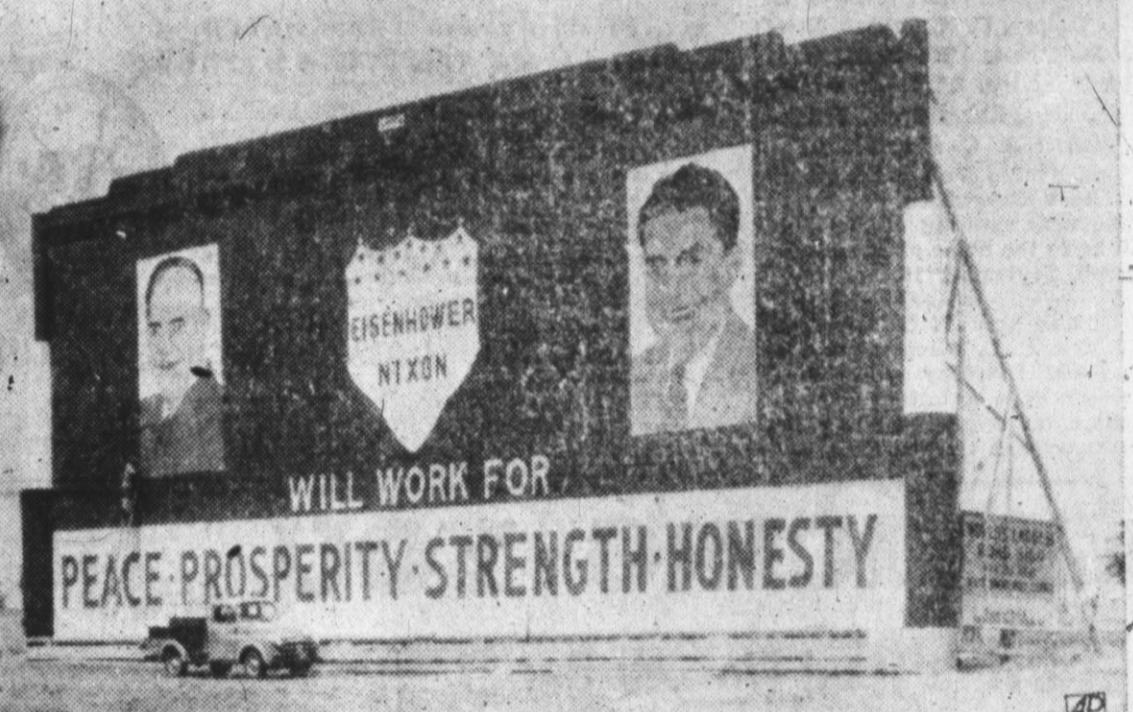

Yours faithfully

- Scorched Silk
Light scorch stains on white silk can be removed by dampening with peroxide of hydrogen, drying it over, the scorched spot, and then putting a dry cloth over the dampened one and pressing with a warm iron. Do not allow the iron to touch the cloth with peroxide of hydrogen.
- Jewelry Cleaner
A good cleaner of jewelry is made by mixing one ounce of ammonia with one-eighth ounce of prepared chalk. Bottle this solution and keep corked when not in use.
- Testing Eggs
To test eggs for freshness place them, one at a time, in a quart of water to which one-third of a cup of salt has been added. If the egg sinks, it is fresh.
- Shrinking Thread
It is sometimes necessary to shrink thread if it is to be used for drawn work. This can be easily done by placing the spool of thread in a vessel of boiling water for about an hour. It will not destroy the gloss.
- Cleaning Odor
The odor of cleaning fluid will be removed from clothing if the garment is hung outdoors for several hours, then brought back in the house and hung where the air is warm.
- Potatoes
The hands will not become stained when peeling potatoes if they are kept under water during the process.
- Lemon Juice
Instead of squeezing the juice of lemons every time a recipe calls for it, why not extract the juice of a dozen lemons at one time and keep it in a tightly-covered glass jar in the refrigerator? It will prove a great convenience.
- Hand-Cleaning Paste
You can make a good hand-cleaning paste or soap by dissolving 2 1/2 pounds of white soap in 5 1/2 pints of hot water. As it cools and sets, stir in one pound of fine sand.
- Glue Bottle Cork
A good substitute cork for the glue bottle is the stump of an old candle. It will not stick and the glue can not spill.
- The Hands
If one does not take the time to rub a lotion well into the hands after laundry work, dishwashing, etc., she should, at least keep a jar of vanishing cream in the kitchen and apply some of this after drying the hands. To many it is just as effective as a liquid softener and is much more quickly applied.
- Primitive Tribes
Primitive tribes painted their faces to frighten the enemy.
- Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Marshall
left Friday for points in Colorado where they will spend a two weeks vacation.

Q. My scalp is rather tender and sensitive. How should I shampoo?

A. You might try using a sponge. Cover the sponge with a little bag of chesebick which will prevent its catching in the hair, and work up a lather in this and scrub. Rinse under a gentle shower spray.

Q. How can I keep my clothes sweet-smelling while traveling?

A. Tuck some sachet tablets in the pockets of your suitcases. Luggage that has been closed for a long time often has that "closed up odor" that the sweet fragrance of sachet will eliminate.

Q. Please recommend a good "homemade" mouth rinse.

A. Just dissolve one teaspoon of salt and a pinch of baking soda in a pint of water. This is not only pleasant to use, but effective too.

Q. My eyebrows are quite scanty, and even have blank spots in them. Is there something I can do to accentuate them?

A. You can fill them in with a sharply pointed pencil. Make short strokes to look like natural hairs. A more natural effect can be achieved by using two pencils—black and brown, or two shades of brown.

Q. What is a good rinse for softening the hair?

A. One of the best I can think of is three ounces of vinegar added to one and one-half pints of warm water.

Q. How can I discourage wrinkles on my cheeks?

A. By using plenty of good cream. Massage this upward, beginning under the jaw, passing the corners of the mouth, and up toward the corners of the eyes. Then beginning under the curve of the jaws and knead the cheeks upward. With fingertips, massage the lines from the corners of the mouth upward, diagonally across the cheeks to the eye corners. Put the cheeks briskly in order to increase the circulation and to make the muscles firmer.

Q. Please mention some of the uses of lemon as a beauty aid.

A. Lemon juice, drunk in hot water in the morning, is a wonderful aid for a clear complexion. Its rind may be used to soften and bleach the skin. And its juice may also be used as a rinse after a shampoo to highlight the gloss of one's hair.

Q. What is a good powder to use on the feet?

A. An excellent deodorant and foot-perspiration remedy is one scant teaspoon of powdered alum added to two ounces of powdered boric acid.

Q. How can I camouflage freckles on my face and nose?

A. A darker shade of face powder blended with the freckles helps.

An employee is a personal representative of the managers public contact. The cashier, doorboy, popcorn girls, and ushers meet and leave an impression with every person that comes to the show, where the manager only gets to come in personal contact with a very few.

A large majority of the customers sees the manager only through his employees and the service that they render, and therefore forms their opinion of the entire business by the impression that the employees makes. Although the cashier, doorboy, popcorn girls, and ushers are in direct contact with the public it is just as important that the operators and janitors render a courteous and intelligent service. Although their contacts are not directly connected in meeting the public the impression of a bad picture on the screen or a dirty house leaves as deep a dissatisfied feeling as a thank-you without a smile.

If you perform your duties right the customers praise you. If you don't they ask why I hired you.

If they do not perform their duties as outlined above, please tell me or call 363 and register a complaint.

Patricia sticks close to Johnson, but is unable to turn up any newsworthy weakness until he begins to be seen in the company of Sidney Blackmer, lobbyist working for the passage of a new bill which would hurt the state Johnson represents, although benefiting the nation as a whole. Confronted with this dilemma, Johnson wrestles with his conscience and finally risks political suicide to vote for the bill, successfully risking outside pressures.
