

Around Town

A group of Hereford 4-H leaders and girls will make a trip to Canyon for a meeting with A. H. Karcher on March 11. It will be a training meeting on records.

T. B. Bailey, from Staten Island New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bailey of Hereford is in Hereford for a visit with his parents. He will go to work next week for EGNC television in Amarillo. He will be a cameraman.

Mrs. Lloyd Lovel and Bill Davidson of Hereford were called to Vinson, Okla. Tuesday by the death of their mother, who has been seriously ill for some time. She died at a hospital in Wellington.

Mrs. Jo Merritt is a new employee at the Beauty Mart.

The well-spacing committee will meet Monday night at 8 p.m. in the county court room. Anyone wishing to have permits okayed may attend the meeting. The group will also answer any questions about well-spacing that are brought up.

Mrs. Lee Benefield and Mrs. S. S. Dodson attended a workshop of the Seventh District of the Texas Federation of Womens clubs held Friday in Plainview. Mrs. O. M. McGinty of Spur, district president directed the session. National defense and Americanism were stressed during the question and answer session.

The Hereford Lions club is seeking names of disabled children for entry into the Texas Lions Crippled Children's camp at Kerrville this summer. Free admission will be provided for one or more children from this area and is not necessarily based upon charitable causes. M. C. Adams, chairman, said. Later on the number from here will be increased. Names of crippled, blind or other physically handicapped children should be mailed to the Hereford Lions Club, box 906, he said. The list will be used for this and future years.

Folks out around Westway are talking about a big coyote hunt like they used to have in the old days. Wednesday morning George Gander, employee on the Jack Renfro place, went out to the pasture to check up on some missing calves and found a coyote fighting with one of the calves. George picked up a stick and beat the coyote to death. He also loaded it into a pickup and brought it to town, just to prove the story.

The city issued a warning this week against parking in loading zones. Failure to report on parking tickets within five days costs more, they also pointed out, and some people are getting careless.

Arch Dobbins, recently retired from J. C. Penney Company, is now with Hub Homer at the Hereford Shoe store. Arch says he believes they got mixed up his birth certificate. He just doesn't feel old enough to retire and, besides, he likes to eat too well.

Operation of the Labor Camp for the 1953 season was left to the discretion of directors, along with stucco walls and sheet iron roof improvements on the buildings from time to time. Action resulted from a stockholder vote Friday night. Ed Dziuk, president, and W. N. Hodges remain on the board; Jack Renfro, was reelected for one year, Henry Benson for two years and E. C. Reinauer for three years on the board.

Red Cross Drive Brings $2,043 In First Two Days

A total of $2,043.51 has been collected in the Red Cross drive here Saturday morning, according to D. C. Kinsey, 1953 Roll Call chairman.

The figure was slightly under half of the $4,916 quota set for the county and Mr. Kinsey expressed hopes that the goal would be reached by Friday, allowing a completed report on next Saturday.

The figure included advance gifts, but few of the business block and residential chairmen had reported, he said; due to the fact that the drive only opened two days before.

Color Of License Plates Changes Each Year; Human Nature Seldom Does

The license plate business is bad right now—but things are due for a change. At least that's what folks in the county tax collector's office, figure.

During February, for instance, the crew has delivered only 553 license plates for 1953—and by April 1, they expect the figure to jump to around 3,800; a total of 2,247 in the next 30 days. That will be around four times as many plates as the office delivered in February.

"For goodness sake don't everybody wait until the last minute," pleads Johnny Shannon, deputy collector. "We'll do the best we can, of course, but most of our help is new and we are hoping folks won't wait until the last week."

Last year, the county said a total of 3,701 license tags—and 1,336 of them went out during the final week before April 1, when it is compulsory to have the tags on all vehicles. The figure at the close of February, 1952, was 576, or 23 more than for the same date this year. All of which proves that statistics are generally pretty close.

More tag sales are expected in 1953 than last year, Shannon said, due to population increase and more vehicles. The state also sent out more 1953 tags to this county, likewise basing their estimate on statistics.

Color of the tags change every year, but people seldom do, so we are predicting that Johnny will again see his long lines of waiting people from March 23-31. It's just human nature.

Know Anyone Who Could Deliver A Family Size Package Of Pulverized Egg Shells?

Dear Sir:

Could you send me a family size package of pulverized egg shells from Deaf Smith County?

The above question came from Mrs. Lee Kirchoff, Rt. 4, Minden, La., and is typical of demands which arrive daily in the Chamber of Commerce office. The pulverized egg shells, along with requests for numerous other and more practical food products will go unfilled—but a nice letter will be written explaining that the product is not available at the present time.

Meanwhile, Manager Cecil Massey and C-C directors are up a stump as to how to handle the scores of requests. It isn't good business, they know, to turn down sales but they don't know how to handle them efficiently after several Health Food ventures of the area have flopped. They are in fact, definitely open for suggestions.

Contract On Canadian Bridge Calls For Widening Highway 51 In Town

Work will probably begin within 30 to 60 days on the new Canadian River bridge, connecting Vega with Dalhart, according to Marshall Formby, State Highway commissioner, following his return from Austin this week. Formby said that the contract was signed Monday with Bell, Braden, Barker and Givan of Amarillo in the sum of $335,200. He also said that the state commissioners estimated that the bridge will be completed within six to 12 months, depending upon weather and conditions encountered.

Money for construction of the bridge has already been approved and earmarked and no delay will occur in this direction, Formby said.

City officials, meanwhile, are faced with necessity of widening Highway 51 through Hereford. Previous contacts had indicated that the highway engineers would demand a 60-foot street through the town, and possibly wider. The situation created a difficult problem for the City due to the fact that most residences along the highway are permanent. An earlier plan included taking footage from both sides of the street. Action at the present time, however, will depend upon footage requirements from the engineers.

City Manager Grady Bowdry said that the commission is considering the situation and that they will visit with engineers in Amarillo prior to taking any definite steps.

$600,000 School Bonds Sold Friday

First actual steps toward construction of Hereford's new $850,000 high school building were taken Friday when trustees of the district closed the sale of $600,000 in bonds through C. M. Smith of Plainview. The bonds will run for a 25-year period and were sold to three Texas firms: Central Investment Company and First Southwestern Company of Dallas, Wm. Edwards Company of Ft. Worth.

The Hereford bonds were sold at an average interest rate of 3.35 percent.

George Graham, superintendent, and members of the board said that they thought the Hereford district got an exceptionally good rate on the bonds. The Amarillo school bonds, totaling $2,675,000 were also sold this week, they said, at a 3.31 percent rate to the National City Bank of New York. In addition to the larger amount involved, they said that districts of more than 50,000 population generally carried much better rates, since they involved more bidders.

Others After October

The remaining $250,000 bond sales of the series here will be sold sometime after October, 1953, following the new schedule of evaluations for the Hereford Rural High school district. The school board voted Dec. 16 to increase valuations by 50 percent this year to meet bond company requirements, and to lower the tax rate from the present $1.50 to around $1.35, or such a point that school taxes would be increased by one-third to retire the additional bonds on a 25-year schedule.

When tax valuations have been stepped up from the present figure of $16 million to $24 million, the companies will then consider the additional $250,000 series of bonds on a favorable interest rate, Mr. Graham pointed out, thus affording a more favorable rate on the entire $850,000 issue.

The over-all tax increase will be the same, board members said, and will run around one-third more than paid here last year.

Youth Who Robbed Five Churches Given Five Year Sentence In Huntsville Pen

Dwight Williams, the 17-year-old youth charged with entering five Hereford churches last November, was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary by Dist. Judge Harry Schultz here Wednesday. Joe Bashan, charged with passing a forged instrument, was convicted in district court and received a two-year sentence.

Both men were delivered to Huntsville Thursday by Sheriff Lowell Sharp.

Williams, although charged on five counts, was only tried on one of the charges on recommendation of District Attorney Floyd Richards. He pleaded guilty to entering the First Presbyterian Church and taking around $3 from a box located on a shelf in the Sunday School rooms. He said he entered by cutting the screen and opening a window. The other four counts included entry and theft in The First Methodist, First Baptist, St. Anthonys and Avenue Baptist churches.

Sums taken in the entire five thefts were small, but had Williams been tried on all counts a 10-year minimum sentence would have been required.

Forgery Conviction

Joe Bashan also pleaded guilty in his trial for passing a forged instrument. Bashan said that he wrote a check for $72.50 and signed the name of "A. F. Mirie." He took the check into Lee Little's service station on highway 60, paid around $15 he owed on a tire and got $57.50 in cash. The event occurred, he said, on July 3.

Wildcat Well Goes In 16 Miles North

Texas Crude Company of Fort Worth and Midland will start Sunday morning (today) on an 8,000-foot Pennsylvania wildcat, 16 miles north and slightly west of Hereford. The announcement was made out of the Midland offices of Texas Crude.

The project will be drilled as No. 1 Rose and is an offset well from the No. 1 Overstreet, abandoned as a dry hole a little over a year previous. The new well will be just south of the old one, which was abandoned at 7,500 feet.

acreage for the site was put up by Austin Rose, Rufus Overstreet, J. M. Farr, and Henry Sears. This group, like Texas Crude, feels that proper tests were not made on the other well which definitely showed indications of possible production.

The big 10,000-foot rig, located this week, was brought in by Shirley Miller of Midland, who has the drilling contract. Sponsors feel that actual drilling will take approximately 60 days and that every possible effort will be made to bring in any potential production on the well.

Texas Crude is one of the largest independent drillers in the business, now holding considerable production in the Midland area. Meanwhile, oil men from Oklahoma City to Midland are carefully watching the Hereford test. Many of them have indicated that a true picture of oil potential in this area, long a matter of controversy, will be determined by the results of the new well.

Herd Goes In Finals

Hereford trounced Quanah 65-62 Saturday afternoon in the Lubbock tournament to clinch a chance in the finals for championship of District 2AA basketball. They were scheduled to meet Dumas, winner of the other bracket, for the title game.

Hereford trailed Quanah at the end of the first quarter on the short end of a 17-14 score. Things looked even more serious when Everett Allen, top scoring man for the herd, went out on fouls—after making eight of Hereford's first nine points. He was replaced by Tommy Woodford, who wound up leading the Whiteface scoring parade with 18 points.

Hereford was still trailing well into the second quarter on a 30-29 count, when the Herd started on a scoring spree which sent them out front for the remainder of the game. The second quarter ended 32-30 in favor of Hereford and at the close of the third period they were leading 48 to 40. They never did get the game on ice, ending with the close margin of 65-62, nip and tuck all of the way.

Marshall Wilson was second high in points scored with 14. Francis Strader of Quanah was also a sensation during the game. He accounted for 26 of the Quanah failures, including 13 field goals.

The Dumas-Hereford fangle was also expected to be close. Each of the teams had one game each out of two tries. Dumas took their first game from Stamford 60-46, and their second from Childress 64-62, almost a duplication of the Hereford-Quanah score.

Down Brownfield

In a thriller all the way, the Whitefaces took their first round over Brownfield Friday afternoon. Brownfield led in the first half, but Hereford kept pressing close. They forged to the front in the second half, but the score was still nip and tuck, and was tied seven times during the game.

Hereford, behind twice with only two minutes to play, tied the score 57-57 on Joe Streun's basket, but the Cubs sank a free toss and jumped ahead 58-57. Marshall Wilson then hit a long one for Hereford. Allen added a free toss and Streun a field goal to put the count 62-58 with only 10 seconds to go. Brownfield made two free throws to end the game 62-60.

Allen set the scoring pace for Hereford with 21 points and Streun came next with 13.

Frank Spring On State Commission

Frank Spring, Friona banker, Thursday completed formality of qualifying as a member of the state Finance commission. The appointment was made last week by Gov. Allan Shivers and ranks the third major appointment for this area with Jas. W. Witherspoon on the Texas A. and M. Board of Regents and Marshall Formby on the State Highway commission.

Spring was appointed for a six-year term. He will be one of nine men in Texas to serve on the board, which includes five bankers, two building and loan men and two outsiders. The board is divided into two sections, one governing banking and their other building and loans interests. The sections generally meet jointly, however. The next meeting is scheduled in Austin March 14.

Widely known over this community as well as in Friona, Mr. Spring is now executive vice-president of the Friona State Bank. He is 42 years of age. The Springs have two children, a daughter, Mary Tom, age 12, and a son, Frankie, age 10. He served on the Farmer County rationing board and has been active in civic work, including Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Masons and the district organization of Boy Scouts which serves this section.

Public School Week March 1-7

Public School week, March 1-7, opens here with the PTA meeting Monday night and will feature programs at all civic and ladies clubs during the week. Bruce Wooddell, chairman, said Saturday.

"Visiting of classes is another important phase of the program," Wooddell said. "Each parent is invited and urged to visit classes any time during the week, especially parents who have children in the various classes."

Visitation days at the school cafeterias are also being encouraged on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The menu will feature chicken fried steak on Tuesday, hamburgers on Wednesday and turkey loaf on Thursday. Parents will be charged the same rates as the children: 30 cents at Central and Shirley, 35 cents at the high school.

The senior band will present a concert in the high school auditorium on Thursday night.

"We hope the program reaches everyone in the community," Wooddell said. "The purpose is recognition of the true importance of our public schools—and this is more important today than ever before."

Baptist Revival Starts March 1

Dr. D. D. Sumrall will be the evangelist at the revival which opens at the First Baptist church on March 1.

Dr. Sumrall is an evangelist from the Texas Baptist convention evangelistic department.

Miss Lola Pitts And James Hawes United In Church Ceremony Feb. 15

In an impressive double ring ceremony at the Pine Street Church of Christ in Portales, N. M., Miss Lola Pitts became the bride of James Hawes. The ceremony was performed by Grover C. Ross, minister of the church, on Sunday, Feb. 15.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Pitts of Hereford, Texas and the groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. (Pat) Hawes of Cameron, N. M.

The bride was attended by her twin sisters, Misses Wanda and Vonda Pitts as maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. The attendants wore navy blue gaberdine suits identically styled, complimented by white aprons Juliet caps and navy accessories. Their corsages were white and pink carnations.

The groom's college friends as his attendants. Jimmy Trower was best man and Clarence Kay served as groomsmen.

Ushers were Donovan and Gerald Marley.

Preceding the bridal march, Mrs. Newton Roberson, soloist, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond. A quartet furnished music for the processional and recessional singing "The Wedding March" from Loheingrin and "O Perfect Love" by Mendelshon. The quartet was composed of Miss Dolores Johnson, Helen, N. M.; Hunt Zumwalt of Artesia; Miss Byrna Dean Hicks and Jerry Southard of Portales.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She was attired in a powder blue rayon gaberdine suit fashioned with a deep scalloped collar and a V-neckline. Her accessories were cream tinted with brown, and her flowers were pink rosebuds in a shoulder corsage. Her suit was de-

GRASS ROOTS

More about this soil fertility problem!! I have been accused of being an advocate of this organic farming program as being the only method of sane and sound agriculture. For the past several years there has been quite a lot said about organic farming versus inorganic or commercial fertilizers. The organic being legume and other green manure crops which are turned under and the commercial being that which you get out of the sack as straight elements. I will now proceed to take a stand. If a farmer is determined to go one route, and one route only, in maintaining soil fertility the legume or soil building crop method is the way to go. However a combination of the two will be the system which the big yield farmers will use. Turn under a good growth of Clover, Hairy Vetch or other soil builders and then add the commercial fertilizer and the results will speak for themselves. What does the legume crop do? Through the action of the roots more water can be stored in the soil. Legumes when properly inoculated support bacteria life on their roots which fix considerable amounts of nitrogen in the soil. By turning under a good growth of legume, tons of organic matter are added to the soil which maintains a healthy condition for future crop growth. In other words a Good Soil Tillth is necessary any where commercial fertilizer is to be used. What is the program then for increase in yields and keeping soil in a productive condition? Work a legume crop into your cropping system. The beautiful part of this is that one need not take land out of cash crop production while growing this soil building crop.

HUBAM CLOVER seeded into wheat, oats or barley is a practice which is growing rapidly in this area. This clover comes up and lives in a semi-dormant stage until the cash crop is harvested. When the harvest is completed one watering is generally enough to kick the clover out. Hubam is an annual and will grow until frost if taken care of. The main thing to watch for is the quality of seed planted. There is quite a lot of seed floating around this year that one can buy pretty cheap. However all of this seed that we have had an opportunity to purchase has contained Johnson grass seed. Needless to say we are not having any of this and will have top quality, noxious free seed as in the past.

CRITICISM of the constructive nature and from a solid source is always good; however one needs to investigate the source before getting too huble. One of our fine citizens gave me a blast about getting too technical at times in writing this column. He informed me that he didn't understand some of the gumbo that I stir up for this thing and would I please simplify a little. I had hoped that this would never happen but since it has I apologize most sincerely. But to you Dub Reeves, my faithful friend and most trusting creditor I am crushed to learn that five letter words confuse you.

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM BY ALLAN SHIVERS Governor of Texas

GREETINGS:

One of the great and basic institutions upon which we rely for the furtherance of our American ideals is our public school system. It is the birthright of every American to attend our public schools and to there acquire the essentials for making an honorable living, as well as an understanding of the reciprocal privileges and responsibilities of American citizenship, the advantages of our way of life, and the place of our country in the world.

We in Texas are proud of the school system that has been developed in our State. We like to believe that the opportunities afforded our children for sound basic education are not excelled anywhere. If we are justified in this conclusion, it is only because the people of our State have shown a personal interest in education and because public spirited men and women have been willing to devote their lives to the teaching of youth.

Our school system can meet the objectives expected of it only when there is widespread public understanding of our schools and the type of education they provide. This kind of understanding can best be developed by the intimate knowledge that comes from inspecting the school-houses, knowing the teachers and seeing the work of the pupils.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 1-7, 1953, as PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK in Texas, and I urge every citizen to visit at least one public school during this period and to become personally acquainted with the programs and accomplishments of our educational system.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature, this 16th day of Jan., 1953

Rotarians Hear Thomas Talk On Money Of Texas

Oran Thomas, Amarillo Rotarian and representative of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., was guest speaker at the regular luncheon of the Hereford Rotary Club Friday. The subject of his talk was, "Money of the Texas Republic."

Collection of early Texas money was started by Mr. Thomas over 40 years ago as a hobby. "The first paper money used by the Republic of Texas was typeset, since the money was needed so urgently that the Texas Government could not wait until Engraved Plates were made," said Mr. Thomas. "The first printing plates used, arrived in January 1838, running in denomination from $1 to $50. At that time, paper money drew a 10 percent interest" Mr. Thomas said, "and the money was valued according to the date of issuance."

Various designs were used on the printing plates for the Texas notes, but only two, the $5.00 and $50.00 notes, bore the pictures of actual persons. The $50.00 notes carried the picture of Steven F. Austin, and on the $5.00 note was printed the picture of one of Sam Houston's favorite scouts, E. "Deaf" Smith.

"Bonds were also issued by the Republic of Texas, with attached coupons, and could be redeemed at a portion of the value of the bonds. The bonds were never actually made legal tender."

"Private money was also issued," according to Mr. Thomas, "but was not legal tender in Texas." Large companies issued this money making it redeemable in New Orleans or other points in the United States, for U. S. gold. This method, although illegal, was quite popular since most supplies and provisions were purchased in New Orleans at that time.

PROCLAMATION
WHEREAS, our country is now in a state of emergency, and WHEREAS, the danger now facing us requires all-out mobilization of national resources and manpower for adequate defense, and WHEREAS, there is a mounting need for whole blood and blood derivatives for military, civilian, and civil defense use, and WHEREAS, the relentless war of the elements against mankind leaves in its wake destruction and suffering, and WHEREAS, The American National Red Cross—under its Congressional charter—is serving the armed forces; is mobilizing for defense for the protection of the family, the community, and the nation and is aiding the victims of natural disaster; now
THEREFORE, I, S. D. Wilson, Mayor of the City of Hereford, Texas, proclaim the month of March 1953 as Red Cross Month and do here and now urge all citizens of this community to contribute without reservation to the 1953 Red Cross Fund through our chapter; and I further urge that all men and women of good will remember that in these critical times this great humanitarian organization must be maintained at full strength; that this symbol of man's humanity remain bright as a guide to those who turn to it in time of need.

Damage Heavy In Friona Collision

Damages amounting to $1,200 resulted from an accident near Friona Thursday morning, according to reports from the Texas Highway Patrolman, J. R. Kirkwood.
A 1938 Ford pick-up driven by William F. Bandy of Friona collided with a 1950 Ford car driven by Andrews C. Ancira when the pick-up started making a left turn at the same time the car turned to pass.
The pick-up overturned and the car rolled two times, then came to rest on its top.
There were no injuries to either of the men, who were both traveling alone.
Charges of no signal were filed against William Bandy and charges of passing at an intersection were filed against Andrews Ancira.
Hard To Estimate
It would be hard to estimate the true worth of Scouting to wholesome, useful and happy living.

Tax Collections Running Fair In Annual Reports

Tax collection agencies this week indicated few delinquencies, after figures had been compiled following the delinquency date of Jan. 31. Personal taxes, collectors said, account for many of the delinquencies in county and school offices. The city office was lagging sharply behind the other two, however, in percentages collected.
County 92 Percent
Deaf Smith county had collected a total of $216,258.30 from an assessed tax total of $234,870.59. The percentage of collections figured slightly over 92 percent to lead the list.
Schools 91.09 Percent
Hereford Rural High School district assessed taxes totaled $245,916.15 and of the amount $224,008.45 had been paid. This figure gave the district 91.09 percent in collections, which Fred Baird reported as being 1 1/2 percent less than at the same period last year.
City 83 Percent
City assessed taxes totaled $102,573.69 and $85,349.34 had been paid. The collection figure in this office ran 83 percent—leaving $17,224.35 delinquent. The city lagged almost 10 percent behind the other two agencies.
None of the above figures include February collections, which had not been compiled. Taxes paid in February carried 1 1/2 percent penalty and interest. The monthly and interest figure will jump to 3 percent in March, and to 4 1/2 percent in April.

Two Hereford Boys In Marine Center

Two Hereford Marines are now training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, California, where in nine weeks recruits are made into Marines.
The two local Leathernecks are Privates Billy F. Amrey, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Amrey of 117 Avenue "E" and Jimmie J. Wilkins, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wilkins of 125 Avenue "E". Both are former students of North Texas State Teachers College. Wilkins is a former district and regional boxing champion.
In addition to schooling in basic military subjects, the two Marines will be trained in the operation of the Marine Corps' modern firearms. They will fire the .30 caliber guns, and become familiar with the bazooka, mortar and flame-thrower.
Prior to his entry into the Marine Corps Amrey was employed by the Wilkens Sheet Metal Company of Hereford.

Suffers Heart Attack

Anderson Witherspoon, pioneer Hereford resident, is in the Deaf Smith county hospital suffering from a heart attack.
Witherspoon became sick Friday afternoon while in town and walked to the Lingenfelter clinic where they gave him emergency treatment before sending him to the hospital.
On Saturday morning Witherspoon was resting and was doing as well as could be expected according to physicians.

Regular Meeting Night 1st & 3rd Tues. Night of Each Month AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY

"Communications - A Bulwark" Topic For Pioneer Study Club

Continuing the study course for the season "Bulwarks of Democracy", members of the Pioneer Study Club heard a program on "Communications" at a meeting of the club held Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Barrett. She was assisted by her daughter Bea Barrett.

Mrs. Ray Johnson was leader for the day, speaking on the influence of the Press in America. She said the press is the most influential medium of communication in the world and cited the influence of the press in November elections. She told of the 1873 Dailies in Texas, and the 543 weekly and semi-weekly newspapers, and stated that clubwomen everywhere are progressing because of the publicity given by the press and that clubs should realize how much they are indebted to this publicity.

Mrs. Ralph McCullough told of "Radio and Television" and their influence in communications. She said Radio is a powerful voice in America, although the youngest, and if people are not pleased with radio programs it is their own fault, because programs are planned to suit the public. Mrs. O. H. Herring stated that 85 million people attend the movies weekly in America, as she discussed "Motion Pictures." "The influence of motion pictures is through entertainment and education and the movies have done much to strengthen understanding between nations," she stated. Mrs. W. E. Holcomb concluded the program by giving excerpts from The Texas Clubwoman on Americanism. Mrs. A. E. Manjeot, president of the club, directed a short business session when members voted to send a box to the German Youth Association, sponsored by the American G. I.'s in Germany. A letter from Lloyd Manjeot was read in which he thanked the members for candles sent to soldiers in Korea. Plans were also discussed for the Seventh District TFWC convention scheduled to be held in Hereford in April. Members attending were Mesdames: A. G. Bell, O. M. Dickey, Burl France, W. E. Holcomb, O. Westway News

By Mrs. Merlin Kaul

and Mrs. Elmer Combs
Community singing is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the community house. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reinauer announce the arrival of a son, Arthur Raymond, on Wednesday, Feb. 25, at the Deaf Smith county hospital. There are three brothers in the Reinauer home to welcome young Arthur.

Mrs. Reinauer's mother, Mrs. Marjorie Woodard of Santa Cruz, Calif. has been visiting in her daughter's home for the past three weeks. She left Sunday morning to return to her home after receiving word of the illness of her husband.

The Westway Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. G. C. Merritt Wednesday. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

Mrs. Bernie Northcutt and S.

spent several days last week visiting her grandmothers and other relatives in Oklahoma.

A dinner held Sunday at the J.C. Morrison home honored the birthdays of Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Mrs. Merlin Kaul and Gayle Wagoner.

Mrs. Kaul has been active in the preparations for surprising Mrs. Morrison but was perhaps the most surprised when the tables turned and she heard herself included in the birthday song.

Entertainment during the afternoon included singing, visiting and making pictures.

Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Ralph, Mary Lynn and Judith, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kaul, Larry and Walter, Ann and Mrs. Joe Wagoner, Gayle, Ann and Joe Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Renfro, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Thomas, Diedra, Dan and Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Preach Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landers and Ross Joe Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Combs, Billy Don, Jackie Lyne and Ronald Lloyd Nunley.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wagoner were hosts at a supper at their home Wednesday night honoring the birthdays of their daughter, Gayle and that of Mrs. Merlin Kaul, who had birthdays that day.

An Italian supper was served after which table games were played.

Those present included the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Preach Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Combs, Merlin Kaul, Larry and Walter Kaul, Oma Lee Ranspot, Elaine Wagoner, Ann and Joe Bob Wagoner, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wagoner.

Dale Williams returned home Sunday night from San Antonio where he went with other members from the DE class at Hereford to attend a DE convention.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Kento Martinez at the death of her brother, Aldefonso Alvarado. Her father, Lupe Alvarado, who is employed on a Renfro farm at El Monte, Mexico flew here and her mother came from San Antonio.

Alvarado died in Amarillo on February 18. He came to Hereford to stay with his sister, Mrs. Kento Martinez. He served three years with the Army during World War II.

Survivors include his wife, Rosa T. Alvarado and son, Guadalupe Alvarado II and David and Nora, his father, Guadalupe Alvarado, El Monte, Mexico; his mother, Maria C. Alvarado, San Antonio; and brothers, Robert Alvarado, Santos Alvarado Ignacia Alvarado, and a cousin, Oscar A. Rgino, all from San Antonio.

The family wishes to express sincere appreciation to the neighbors and friends of Westway and Hereford for the flowers, food, and other acts of kindness extended to the family during their sorrow.

Residents of the community are reminded to get trees from the Texas Forest service before March 1. Those who desire trees may see the county agent or home demonstration agent.

Trees from the Forest service were set out several years ago for windbreaks in this community at the farms of Mrs. Bess Werner, Merlin Kaul, Joe Landers, Paul Rudd and Ira Scott and have proven to be a great benefit.

Raymon Martinez, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kento Martinez, fell at Central school Thursday. He struck the side walk with his hand and broke the little finger on his left hand at the knuckle. He was unable to attend school Friday.

Merlin Kaul and sons, Larry and Walter, Jack Renfro and Hugh Clearman went to Mineslands, N. M. Wednesday on business.

STEVAN PATRICK THORNTON may be short on birthdays but not on birthday parties. He can have a party any old time if February 29, isn't on the calendar. Stevan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Thornton of Pridena. He is five years old.

Mrs. Paul McClung of Dawn is twenty four but has only had six birthdays. She treasures her birthday cards more because they are so long coming. She thinks not having birthdays isn't so bad after you are older, but it can be pretty serious to a youngster.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR COMPETITORS

When the Good Lord admonished us to love our neighbors as ourselves and to do unto others as we would have them do unto us, we suspect that He envisioned the swift pace of today's business competition. But no matter how competitive the situation may be, we should all remember that there is abundant business and success for all of us. We are truly grateful to our fine competitors for demonstrating the brotherly principles of the Golden Rule, and for standing firm upon the live-and-let-live platform of equality and forbearance which has made America the greatest nation in the world. It is with genuine pride that we salute our competitors. May they always enjoy peace, patronage and prosperity!

Streu's Diary

February 27, 1953

DEAR DIARY:

February is always a month of contradiction for me. The Scotch blood in me rebels at having to pay my clerks a full month's salary for only 28 days—while I sometimes receive a few gifts for my birthday which falls in this month. It's all a bit frustrating—but I guess there are always compensating factors for either good or bad.

Speaking of compensating factors—Jean is in the process of receiving new merchandise almost daily—which is good—but she has no room to show or store it—which is bad, so she is going to put out a bunch of stuff on a Dollar Day table for Monday only, which is terrible. As usual, the compensating factors come up short on the credit side for me, however, you girls can benefit thereby.

As I near my fourth, 39th birthday, I take a brief glance back over the years—the many years I have lived in Hereford, working, playing, associating with the fine folk in a fine town—and I find that the years have been good—and I can think of no place I would rather be—nor would I be any age other than where I now am. I look forward to many more years of the same.

The weather is warming up by jumps and starts, and the green thumb experts are beginning to rake leaves and grass and till the good earth. And that's where Streu's come into the picture—with garden rakes—lawn rakes and those ever-so-handly Handi-carts that can be loaded and unloaded by the ladies without stooping, forking or shoveling. Of course, we also have a complete line of garden tools, water hose, sprinklers nozzles and all the other things that make yard work a pleasure for the ladies, and less a task for the men. Now is the time to use that good Verta-Green plant food, too.

After all the above mentioning of mundane things, it now comes to my mind that we should consider the miracle of television—and more particularly the marvel of RCA VICTOR television—the TV sets that will bring you more and better pictures—better sound and finer cabinets. May we urge you to get your order placed with us immediately in order to secure delivery before TV Day. And let us get your antenna in place while we have lots of time.

Snuck (a variation of sneaked) off yesterday for a few holes of golf—wished for that John Estes—I would have cleaned his plow thoroughly—and mayhaps put a stop to his eternal bragging about his prowess as a golfer—and a writer. But alas—no John. Life can, at times, be somewhat bitter. Which brings this epistle to a bitter end.

Pay Teachers Fair Salary' But Keep Taxes Where They Belong--At Home

The State of Texas is sending to Washington more than $100 million each year in Federal road user taxes ($60 million on gasoline; $40 million and more for excise taxes, etc.). The state is now getting back about $34 million in Federal Highway aid. The cry of road users in Texas has been for Washington to either let our state have these tax sources to build the roads we need, or that we be given a fairer share of the money we send to Washington.

Unquestionably remote from the topic of raising teacher salaries, it does appear probable that the very same thing will likely occur if the proposed $600 per annum increase be allowed teachers on a state-wide basis. Under the present "economic index" plan now used in determining state allocations to local districts, we would actually be asking for the State of Texas to do to our county what Washington is doing to Texas on roads.

Teacher salaries certainly appear to be out of line with general conditions, and while we favor increasing the salaries of teachers, we believe that such increases should come from the local level. Certainly it will cost no more -- and probably less -- to grant necessary salary increases from the individual school districts. We realize that this approach is unpopular with the now powerful teacher lobby -- chiefly because it is much easier to high-pressure a few representatives and senators than to sell their program to the people who are actually paying the bill.

However, whether the increase is advanced on a state level or on a local level, the tax payers are the ones who will foot the bill. This fact is being impressed upon us every day as subsidies to various programs increase withholding and income taxes. Soaking the corporations and big companies has led to increased costs of telephone, natural gas and electric service in this community within the past 12 months. The corporations ask for the raises in rates, pointing out that 50 percent of their income must be paid in corporation taxes. The tax payer still pays the bill.

If we grant the teacher salary increase on a local level, we unquestionably know where our money is going. Furthermore, we know that it will not be "economic indexed" to some other portion of the state where taxes remain low.

Most important, though, it appears absurd for the people of Deaf Smith county, or any other county, to voluntarily throw away their powers as a school district and to literally seek greater centralization of our school system in Austin. If Austin controls most of the money, Austin will sooner or later control our schools in the same proportion. Local control of schools, we have always felt, is a distinct advantage of American democracy.

So long as the schools of Deaf Smith County remain under local control we need not worry about infiltration of communism or other "isms". Experience has shown us that these "isms" do creep into branches of government under highly centralized controls. Should we risk such a thing with our dearest possession: our public schools?

Hereford school trustees, like other school boards over Texas, are composed of outstanding citizens who serve without pay. Here, at least, we know that they are not the kind of men to cheat poor, defenseless school teachers out of a living salary. Cost of living conditions vary at different points over the state and, for that reason alone, the increases should be made locally. Whereas it costs more to live in Hereford than in some remote East Texas town, it costs still more to live in Houston or Dallas than in Hereford.

The trustees of each district are the ones who should actually set the salary scale. They should survey and compare teacher salaries with other salaries. Furthermore, they should be willing and happy to listen to local teacher organizations who might present their side of such a question. As residents of the community in question, the trustees should be able to balance the situation -- and arrive at a fair, equitable conclusion. At least, they should be in a better position to do this than some politician in Austin.

The school teachers of Hereford, of Deaf Smith County and of Texas are certainly entitled to a fair wage, one which takes into consideration their training, their living costs, and which should liberally compare with other professions or trades. The school teachers, after all, mould our citizens of tomorrow.

On the other hand, let us not completely forget the teachings we got from our school teachers of yesterday. In the name of a democratic nation, state and community, let's put this extra tax burden where it belongs. Let's keep it at home.

Say! That Water Does Get Chilly

Should Hereford's swimming pool be opened to the Spanish American population?

This hush-hush question is one which presents itself each year and will pose a greater than ever problem to the new city commissioners when they take office this spring. It definitely has two sides.

The municipal swimming pool is operated as a public place and unquestionably falls in the same category with other public places such as schools, public meetings and courts. If citizens are required to pay taxes, to observe state and local laws and are subject to draft in the United States Army, they should be equally considered when it comes to other points.

Many people of Hereford, on the other hand, feel that they are the ones who are paying for the pool in taxes. They built the pool because they wanted a place for their kids to swim in a clean atmosphere and under supervision. Numerous mothers would not perhaps feel free for their small daughters to go to the swimming pool if it were thrown wide open.

In addition, the pool might easily become a place to supplant the inadequate bathing facilities in the labor camp, also for tents and quonsets over the area.

Looking at the pool from a dollar and cents standpoint, it is doubtful if it would remain profitable were it thrown wide open. Instead of becoming a mixed deal it would stand an excellent chance of becoming a strictly Spanish-American pool. Last year the pool made a couple of thousand dollars or so. It might make more and it could make far less under a wide-open operational system.

Maybe, the people who want to keep out Spanish Americans are a little bit snobbish. They have been accused of looking at the pool in the atmosphere of being a country club affair. Maybe they need to build a country club in Hereford. Still, you have to remember that they are the very same people who are actually paying for and running the municipal swimming pool in Hereford. All in all, it presents a king-size question.

Maybe one lady hit the nail on the head when she said, "Aw, let 'em go ahead and open it. The water's too cold to swim in, anyway."

I'll Never Forget

By Mrs. R. A. Daniel

I'll never forget the month of December, 1906. My Dad and Mother, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Hammack sold the old home farm in Kentucky and chartered a car from Kentucky to Texas and our family and two other couples made the trip. My dad had made several trips out here before he bought land. The first wheat he put in blew out of the ground. So the wind really used to blow. It is mild now.

There were nine of us girls, the oldest, Mrs. C. H. Reasor, was the only one married then. She is now in Missouri. Bess, the next, had made the trip with my dad the time before we moved. She stayed three months and worked in Gass Dry Goods company and boarded with the elder Mr. and Mrs. Gass. A lot of the old-timers will remember the home, where Cooper's market now stands. Frances, Mrs. J. W. Walter of Amarillo; Georgie, next, Mrs. J. C. North, Corpus Christi; Willie Daniel, Mrs. R. A. -- that's me -- Ruth, Mrs. R. R. Sturivaut, Dallas; Marie, Mrs. W. C. Bland, Ken. Mrs. Tom A. Blair, Chicago and Alice, Mrs. H. D. Hammock, Kentucky.

She kept her name. After a few years my parents drifted back to Kentucky. She met a distant relative and they married. They had "nine" children -- five girls and four boys. I thought we had really come to a wild and woolly country. Never saw so many wind-mills. Hereford was called the Windmill Town of the Panhandle.

I missed the large trees in Kentucky. We had locust trees here then we had to take them out. We put in Chinese elms. We had board walks and main street was very rough. When it rained there were mudholes up to the hub of buggies and wagons. I missed my childhood, friends and hated to leave Kentucky. We started to school in a frame wood building where Central school now stands. We soon got acquainted and made friends. Many of the old-timers are still here.

I have been very happy here. It was here that I met Mr. Daniel. We married in 1910. He was in the garage business. We would drive out a few miles from town and see a bunch of coyotes and run them down if we could in the cars. It was a lot of sport. The cars didn't travel as fast as they do now. Thirty and forty miles then was fast.

I remember the first cars that came to Hereford. Couples would take lunch and go to Sulphur Park on the Tierra Blanca. Some of them would fish and we would fry them by the dish pan full. Good old days -- young and old had a lot of good times together. My dad said he really scattered us in Texas. They moved back to Kentucky in a few years. But they loved Texas. He always said just put the water to this soil and it would grow anything. That has been proven. We hope it holds out. And to me, it is the most beautiful spot in the world.

I'll never forget the first irrigation well, McDonalds, North of town, everyone would drive out to see its beautiful stream of water. It is still pumping. I could write a book I think but will sign off here, before I get started.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Salary Raise For Teachers Indicated Through Survey Of Hereford Citizens

The question of teacher salary increases are now before the state legislature. Do you think the full $600 per year increase is justified? If so, should the increase be paid through state channels or through local channels?

MRS. JIM BOB ALLISON

It looks to me like the state shouldn't have to carry it all. I certainly think they need an increase in salary especially if we are going to have the right kind of teachers.

KENNETH COKER

In general I think teachers are underpaid. As to how the increase should be handled - the more we are allowed to run our own business the better off we'll be.

TOM HOWARD

As far as the increase goes it is just about half enough. It shouldn't be handled through the state though. If it is paid through the state or a centralized unit that makes a socialized system that cannot be stopped.

DICK LUCAS

I think the best situation would be not to raise their salaries a flat $600 per year. The teachers salaries are definitely lower than other professional workers salaries but they are not as low as other state paid people, such as the highway patrol, etc. I think the better plan would be to raise their salaries more per year as their seniority increases.

LILBURN HAMILTON

I think that the increase should be paid through local channels rather than through the state. I think they should get the increase in salary, too.

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

Last week we were writin' about dogs and this week it's cats. Or maybe we should say one Thomas cat in particular. Smokey who belongs to the Earl DeHarts demands his coffee for breakfast along with the rest of the family. Mr. DeHart uses cream in his coffee so we suspect that Smokey figured out a way to get his share without appearin to skim the milk too heavy.

By the way, we did get the spice pie that Mrs. Jack Bradley baked for the Camp Fire Girls again this year. If it isn't a family secret or something we would like to include the recipe in this column sometime.

Another unusual pie we got a part of was an apple pie with coconut which gave it a very delightful flavor. We didn't know who had sent it in but it was quite a coincidence when we mentioned it to the lady sittin next to us at the sale and found we were talkin to the very person who had baked it - Mrs. Bonnie Brumley.

With over a hundred workers knockin' at your doors the Red Cross Drive should be about complete by the time you read this.

If you still have a contribution that wasn't picked up for some reason Mrs. Reed (Cecil) Williams will be glad to have it yet.

Grab your hats boys -- This is March.

COUNTY FAIR

Officers and directors for Hockley county's 11th annual Free Fair scheduled for September 17, 18, and 19 have been selected here.

County Agent Bill Taylor has been named fair manager and Roy Dufal assistant manager. Horace Gilmore, to be assisted by Robert Conway and J. B. Harbin has been appointed general fair superintendent.

Pat Ryan, chamber of commerce manager, was named secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Jewel Robinson, county home demonstration agent, was elected superintendent of the woman's division.

All except two of the 14 fair directors that served last year's three day event, will serve as directors again this fall. The Hockley County Herald.

DIAMOND STUDED HAMBURGER

It was news when local grocery stores dropped the price of hamburger to 39 cents per pound. But at least two customers of Littlejohn Brothers got a better bargain than they realized at the time.

It was back in January that Dorothy Eudy, who worked in the self-service department missed her wedding and engagement rings. After a fruitless search, she decided the must have been lost in the hamburger meat she had been grinding. Since the meat had been sold, there was little left to do but hope that they would show up in some home Tullian's hamburger.

Her patient waiting was not without reward. About 10 days later, Mrs. A. D. Payne returned the wedding band which she had discovered while preparing the dinner of hamburger. Five weeks later -- Friday the 13th, to be exact -- Mrs. W. L. Walker, also of Tullia, found the engagement ring in a package of hamburger which had been in her frozen food locker.

So the moral of the story is -- read your Tullia Herald grocery ads. Someone may be offering diamond-studded hamburger meat at 39 cents a pound. The Tullia Herald.

Mrs. Elvin Hill, wife of the new head basketball coach at Hamlin high school, has been named office secretary for the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce. The Hamlin Herald.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's Note: The Bootleg Philosopher may be fighting a straw man this week, but you can be the judge.

Dear editor; I'm no expert on education, which I think I've been provin week after week, but one of my neighbors who has a television set was talkin with me the other day and he had an idea.

He said he'd been readin where there is a big teacher shortage in Texas, salaries too low, teachers go into other lines, not enough new teachers bein trained, more children bein born, school buildings crowded, taxes high, and he said he'd been thinkin, why isn't television the answer?

Instead of payin just a reasonable amount or maybe not quite enough to a lot of teachers, includin the ordinary and the mediocre and occasionally the exceptional, why not pay a lot just to the exceptional and let the rest go into some other line of work, say bookkeepin or clerkin or housewifin or truck drivin or editin or whatever their abilities fitted 'em for, which would take care of the salary complaint. Then instead of havin a lot of schools all over the country, why couldn't they just have some television studios for the teachers and keep the children at home? That'd save a lot of money on school buildings. In fact, he figured a school district could buy a television set and put up the antenna for every home in the district cheaper than it could build and maintain elaborate school buildings and run busses and hire a flock of teachers, a janitor, a superintendent, two or three principals, pay for floor sweep and utilities, etc.

Under this system, there wouldn't be any dressin for school, no mad rush to get breakfast and get there on time, no lunches to fix, no books to forget, no crisis over lost caps and coats, etc. Just have your kids seated in front of the television set in their pajamas or whatever they had on, no sense even in combing their hair, every morning at 9, switch it on, and have one set of teachers teachin the entire nation, with maybe a fresh set in each time zone to keep from throwin things off schedule.

He figured under this system the country could save probably seventy-five per cent of its present school bill, every child would have a first-rate teacher, and equality of education would be achieved from the rock-ribbed coast of Maine to the Shores of Tripoli, or however far out you can get good T. V. reception without too much snow. Now I'll admit this idea has certain appeals, everybody wants to save money and improve the quality of education at the same time, but it won't work.

The reason it won't work is that it ignores one of the primary functions of a school, which is to get your kids out from under foot at least from 9 to 3 five days a week nine months out of the year. Some things can't be valued in money. It doesn't make any difference what a school system costs, if it gets the kids out of the house, it's worth it. A T. V. set makes a pretty good baby sitter from 4 to 6 in the afternoon, but it'll never replace the public school, day in and day out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Red Purge Experts Strike in Hungary

SEVERAL weeks ago, a group of Russian dignitaries arrived in Budapest for a "visit." The purpose of their mission was quickly revealed: To purge Hungary's Communist regime of Jews.

Thirty top Jewish Reds in Hungary are reported either to have committed suicide or been purged. The Russians conceivably could wipe out the government. Fully 90 per cent of the highest officials in the Hungarian regime are Jews, including tough Premier Matyas Rakosi.

Rakosi's exact status was not clear. There was no reason for believing he could escape the ax.

The Hungarian purge repeats a pattern used by the Russians throughout the East European Communist block. Jews are being systematically removed from government posts because of "suspected Zionism."

Some of the blacklisted Hungarian Reds killed themselves, others disappeared, some were arrested and some were executed by firing squads.

Reported suicides: Zoltan Vas, head of state economic planning office, and 10 high officers of the political police.

Reported executions: Lt. Gen. Peter Gabor, head of the secret police, allegedly shot with his wife, who was a private secretary in Rakosi's office, and children.

Reported arrests: Gen. Sandor Nogradi, deputy defense minister, six top officers of the state security office, the chief of the Hungarian state radio and several prominent Jewish doctors.

Reported missing: Vice Premiers Karoly Kiss and Arpad Hazi.

The purge in Hungary comes at a time when the country totters on the brink of economic chaos. Long lines of people stand outside stores, waiting for bread that often isn't there.

There is a threat of real hunger later in the Spring. The morale of industrial workers throughout the country is almost completely broken down, with the regime making desperate demands for increased production to meet quotas of the new Five Year Plan.

Czechoslovakia and East Germany, which also have experienced widespread purges recently, are in a bad fix economically too. Ostensibly, the Russians are out to rid satellite governments of Jews they hold responsible for the economic collapse. Moscow knows well the value of a scapegoat when the people start to worry about their troubles.

MATYAS RAKOSI

Diplomacy

New Ambassadors

President Eisenhower has tapped two career diplomats to be ambassadors to Russia and ambassador to Mexico.

Charles ("Chip") Bohlen, 48-year-old State Department counselor and top expert on Russia, has been named to fill the Moscow post vacated by George F. Kennan, labeled personally unacceptable by the Soviets.

The U.S.S.R. has indicated its approval of the Bohlen choice.

A native of Clayton, N. Y., Bohlen is a Harvard graduate who entered the U.S. Foreign Service in 1929. He has served in Prague, Paris, Moscow and Tokyo. During World War II he was chief of the State Department's division of Far Eastern Affairs.

Francis White, a Yale graduate and assistant Secretary of State from 1927 to 1933, is Eisenhower's appointee for ambassador to Mexico. From 1934 to 1942 he was associated with the Foreign Bondholders Protective Association.

Kennan, meanwhile, figured in speculation as a possible choice for envoy to Yugoslavia. Kennan aroused Soviet ire when he declared in Berlin last fall that life for foreign diplomats in Moscow was about the same as being interned by the Nazis in Germany during World War II.

In other developments, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee confirmed these appointments.

Mrs. Clare Booth Luce, as ambassador to Italy.

C. Douglas Dillon, as ambassador to France.

James C. Dunn as ambassador to Spain.

Karl Rankin as ambassador to Nationalist China.

Also confirmed were nominations of members of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations General Assembly which reconvened Tuesday in New York. They are Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., chief U.S. delegate, James Wadsworth, Lodge's deputy, and Ernest A. Gross, as delegate.

The WORLD This WEEK

Anti-Red Campaign

TWO Congressional investigating committees are probing for alleged Communist infiltration of the U.S. educational system.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee, headed by Indiana's Republican Sen. William E. Jenner and the House Un-American Activities Committee, headed by Rep. Harold Velde (R-Ill.) heard testimony this week from various witnesses as criticism of their efforts mounted.

Some U.S. educators deplored the possible dangers to free inquiry and thought, regarded as essential to any academic endeavor, that might result from the probe for Reds on the nation's campuses.

In reply to these criticisms, Jenner stated "there can be no academic freedom until this Soviet conspiracy hidden in our schools and colleges is exposed to the light and the rule of Moscow over its adherents in the education world is broken."

Sen. McCarthy, meanwhile, continued his investigation of the State Department's Voice of America.

The McCarthy group already has turned up testimony that two of the State Department's multi-million dollar transmitters, designed to beam anti-communist Voice broadcasts overseas, were ordered built in areas where they would have to cope with severe magnetic interference.

Construction of the transmitters, located near Seattle, Washington and Wilmington, N. C., has been halted.

In the wake of the McCarthy hearings, the State Department suspended Alfred H. Morton, chief of its Voice of America broadcasting division, for disagreeing with an order forbidding use of material from communist and fellow traveler writers.

The Overseas Information Service of the State Department, which includes the Voice of America, got a new chief, meanwhile. Dr. Robert L. Johnson of Philadelphia, president of Temple University, took the job on a temporary basis with the understanding he would give his final "yes" or "no" in a month. Johnson said he would make a detailed study of the entire Information Service.

U.S. STUDIES ASIAN MANPOWER POOL

THE United States would like to see Asiatics take over the job of their own defense against Communism in the Far East.

Administration leaders have indicated U. S. Far East strategy includes a long-range plan for pulling Western military forces out of the line and replacing them with trained Asian troops.

Such a plan will take time to put into effect—maybe too much. For this reason, U. S. officials are studying what Asian manpower reserves actually are available now.

Strongest force of native Asian troops is in South Korea, where manpower is available for a South Korean army of some 750,000 men. As things stand now, about 400,000 South Koreans are in the 700,000-man United Nations army in Korea. President Eisenhower repeatedly has urged a speed-up in the South Korean training program. Indications are that U. S. officers in Korea are pushing ahead with this project as fast as possible.

On Formosa, Chiang Kai-shek has about 600,000 troops. Only half of these are combat units anywhere near battle efficiency. A serious problem on Formosa is a shortage of Nationalist reserves. Not enough are available to increase the total Nationalist strength much beyond 600,000 men.

At present, Chiang's army, navy and air force are laboring with inadequate and, in many cases, obsolete equipment.

In Indochina, the French have a combined French-Indochinese army of 400,000. Vietnamese troops number around 145,000. Unlike Formosa, Indochina has a large reserve of manpower as yet untapped.

French officers say they believe they can increase the Vietnamese force to 210,000 by the end of the year. Some experts believe Indochina could furnish a native force double that if the military setup were streamlined.

JAPANESE

VIETNAMESE

CHINESE NATIONALIST

SOUTH KOREAN

The Administration's consideration of a plan to increase aid to Indochina may be a step in this direction.

In Malaya, some 120,000 natives support a regular British force of 30,000. Malayan native police and auxiliaries have proved efficient and willing. Some expansion of this force, while it would require an extended training program and building up, might result in a valuable addition to Asian anti-Communist forces. Japan poses a special problem.

There are political roadblocks to full-scale rearmament, but some U. S. strategists believe a rearmament of Japan is essential to balance Communist strength in the Far East.

A Japanese National Police Force, trained by U. S. advisers, already exists. It could be the nucleus of a future army. It numbers about 110,000 men.

If the U. S. and its Western allies fighting in Korea could be freed of the frontline assignment, it would rob the Communists of the vast advantage of tying down Western troops needed for a mobile reserve.

U.N. ASSEMBLY OPENS ROUND TWO

THE U.N. General Assembly resumed its split session in New York Tuesday with Korea still the big question.

Facing the frozen Iron Curtain veterans in the second round of the General Assembly's seventh session is a fresh U.S. team headed by Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr.

The U.S. and its allies in Korea indicated they had no new plan to halt the war. They are standing pat on the Indian resolution for breaking the truce stalemate approved by all members except the Soviet Union and its satellites.

The Indian resolution accepted the Communist demand that after an armistice all prisoners of war be repatriated, but it barred force "either to prevent or effect their return to their homelands."

Thus, repatriation would be voluntary and prisoners not repatriated 90 days after an armistice conference which would be in session under terms of the armistice. The conference, at which both sides would be represented, would have 60 days to decide what to do with the POW's who were not yet repatriated. After that, the United Nations would take responsibility for their care and disposition.

While most other governments are relying on their permanent delegates at the Assembly session, Russia is represented by first string diplomats headed by Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky.

The fact Russia has sent its first diplomatic team to the session shows the Kremlin expects to make the U.N. the main scene of its diplomatic activity during the coming weeks.

The Communists made it clear at the start that they are set to make propaganda capital out of President Eisenhower's order removing the U.S. Seventh Fleet from the Formosa Straits. The Reds charge the

RUSSIA'S ANDREI VISHINSKY

U.S. committed an act of aggression against Red China by assisting Chiang Kai-shek.

As the Assembly session progresses there will be ample opportunity for more Soviet propaganda on such red hot issues as the Korean war and disarmament. These subjects already are on the Assembly's agenda.

On the other hand, Vishinsky faces a barrage of criticism on Russia's attitude toward Jews.

The Assembly agenda also includes major issues sponsored by Communist countries. One is Poland's plan for an immediate ceasefire in Korea, a one-third reduction in the armaments of the big powers and a Big Five peace pact. This was sponsored by Russia at the 1951 session of the Assembly and rejected.

The U.N. put itself on record as approving the Chinese Nationalist denunciation Tuesday of the Chinese-Russian friendship treaty of 1945.

Chiang Kai-shek's government waged a three-year battle in the General Assembly and finally won a precarious victory just a year ago when the Assembly voted 25 to 9 with 24 abstentions that:

"The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, in its relations with China since the surrender of Japan, has failed to carry out the treaty of friendship and alliance between China and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics of 14 August, 1945."

Soviet delegates have argued that the treaty actually went out of existence when Moscow signed a new pact with the Chinese Communists in 1950.

The treaty was an outgrowth of the Yalta conference.

The treaty offered only technical obstruction to any move the Nationalists chose to make after the Red-Chinese-Russian agreement of 1950. But Chiang's denunciation of the treaty legally clears the way for Nationalist participation in any blockade of the Red Chinese mainland.

Quotes

Rev. Francis B. Sayre, dean of the Washington (Episcopal) Cathedral, on the anti-subversive tactics of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wisc.) and Rep. Harold H. Velde (R-Ill.): "They are demonstrating they believe God and the nation are best served by the frightened and credulous collaborators of a servile brand of patriotism. . . . It comes close to tempting God when anyone operates on the assumption that they are the divinely constituted guardians of other men's consciences, other men's patriotism or thoughts."

Lt. Gen. Manton S. Eddy, retiring commander of more than 250,000 American troops in Europe: "The U. S. Army in Europe today is in a high state of readiness. It is composed of soldiers who know why they're over here. Such an army is ready for anything."

In Short

Died: Field Marshal Karl Gerd von Rundstedt, stern Prussian officer who directed the big German offensive against U. S. lines in the Ardennes in December, 1944. He was 77.

Reported: that the Eisenhower Administration is considering a compromise on economic controls providing for a 90-day freeze on prices and wages in the event of war.

Announced: that Britain is working on a plan to divide Trieste permanently between Italy and Yugoslavia. The idea probably will be discussed by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Italian Premier Alcide de Gasperi in Rome in April.

Proposed: by Oregon's Independent Sen. Wayne Morse, that witnesses in Senate investigations have legal counsel with power to object to questions and the right to cross-examine other witnesses making accusations.

Austria

Coalition Stands

In last Sunday's Austrian election, the Socialists polled the largest number of votes, but the country's complicated voting laws made Chancellor Leopold Figl's conservative Catholic People's Party the largest in the new parliament.

The Socialists now have a total of 73 members in the 165-seat lower chamber. Figl's party has 74. The result is a coalition government of conservatives and moderate leftists.

Communists, neo-Nazi and Catholic conservatives all lost ground in the voting, held in the American, British, French and Russian occupation zones. Ironically, the Communists lost a seat in a busy industrial section of Vienna—occupied by Soviet troops.

The Communists picked up 800 votes in the American zone industrial city of Linz, however, and gained in several towns in the Russian zone. The Reds took only 5.3 per cent of the total vote, the Socialists, 42 per cent and the Catholic Peoples Party 41.3 per cent.

The lineup in parliament is: 74 People's Party members, 73 Socialists, four Communists, 14 extreme right-wing neo-Nazi independents.

Nazi-type independents lost supporters in all of their former strongholds, including the area around Salzburg and in Braunau, Adolf Hitler's birthplace. The Socialists picked up most of the votes that went to the neo-Nazis in 1951.

A QUESTION OF TRANSLATION

What's in a Name?

Three Philadelphia judges have ruled that in the broad perspective of things, a man's name should not be taken literally.

Many English names would seem curious, they pointed out, if regarded as plain words and not as family names.

For example, said Judges Curtis Bok, Louis E. Levinthal and Gerald F. Flood, there's "Youngflesh, Thickpenny, Twelvetees, Clink-scales, Kisswetter, Diddlebock, Ramsbottom and Pigwhistle."

After this random look at the plethora of English names, the jurists decided if a man's name no longer suits him, he may, by fulfilling legal requirements, assume to himself the title he chooses. Then they granted Henry Green permission to change his name to Peaceful Heart.

King And Queen Crowned At Party

Crowning the king and queen and honoring the prince and princess was the highlight of the party given for the nine and ten year juniors of the First Baptist Church Friday night at the church.

Bobby Jackson and Lois Christman were named the king and queen and the runners-up who rated the title of prince and princess were Zell Crump and Ronald Anderson. Games were played and refreshments were served to the approximate members of the department who attended.

Leaders in the department present were Mrs. Jimmie Allred, superintendent; Mrs. Clyde Rayburn, associate superintendent; and teachers, Mesdames: C. J. Crump, W. J. Dickson, Merel Parker, Herbert Haseloff, Alton Biggers, J.B. Sneed, W. S. Rice, A. J. Schroeter and Messrs. M. A. Bettis, and Fritz Christman.

Rev. Don Roots Guest Speaker

Rev. Don Roots was guest speaker at the Child Study Club meeting held with Mrs. H. A. Cavness Thursday evening.

Rev. Roots chose as his subject "Partnership in Families as God's Divine Plan." "It isn't a thing that just happens—family partnership grows out of a unity in thought, laughter and understanding. Patience in overcoming differences on the part of parents, and the opportunity to express themselves freely in the family circle bring about a close relationship between parents and children. Comradeship and companionship give children a sense of security," Rev. Roots said.

Members of the club attending were Mesdames: E. J. Pepper, Richard Jowell, Merlin Kaul, J.C. Reese, Maurice Tannahill, Bob Wear, Chester Wiggains, J. W. Witherspoon, Lisle Woodford, Carl Stapp, and the hostess, Mrs. Don Roots was a guest.

FOIBLES

Kent Snare
 My infrequent communiques from Bill Holmes of Texas Tech never fail to evince a bit of humor. I had given him a gruff and not too low a bow in thanks for football 'Annie Oakley's', with which he had supplied me last season. Said he in reply, in part, "Glad you were able to see our games. Most of them, that is. There were some I wish no one had seen."—Natural, he was referring to the results, if the paying public had not been around and about, he would have had a justifiable remonstrance to offer, verbally that is—Basketball tournament time is upon us and already many elimination jousts have been recorded. The big ones are in the immediate offing and as expected the National Invitational Tournament in Madison Square Garden (some of the scoffers call it the Ned Irish Tournament), broke the barrier first in an attempt to fill their bracket with the elite. But they are drawing to a hasty flush for the NCAA, while not putting the ban on the NIT as far as its membership is concerned, has legislated that an NCAA member team cannot attend both the NCAA playoffs and the NIT. Since all the recognized conferences of the larger ilk prefer the prestige of the NCAA gonfalon, the field for the NIT is, of necessity, limited to the defending champion, the independent college teams and the also rans of some of the NCAA conferences. To date the NIT had enrolled La Salle, Seton Hall, Western Kentucky, Tulsa, Louisville, Manhattan, St. John's and Duquesne. It is reported they hope to pick up the number two team in both the Southwest Conference and the Skyline. Eight (The source had it the Skyline Six, which was applicable before New Mexico and Montana entered it.) Rice is the current leader of the SWC, leading Texas and TCU by a faint line with only SMU barring them from a cinch tie. Brigham Young is leading Wyoming by a whisker and that will be settled this week when they ram into each other head on. The balance of the bracket will have to come from lesser stock—

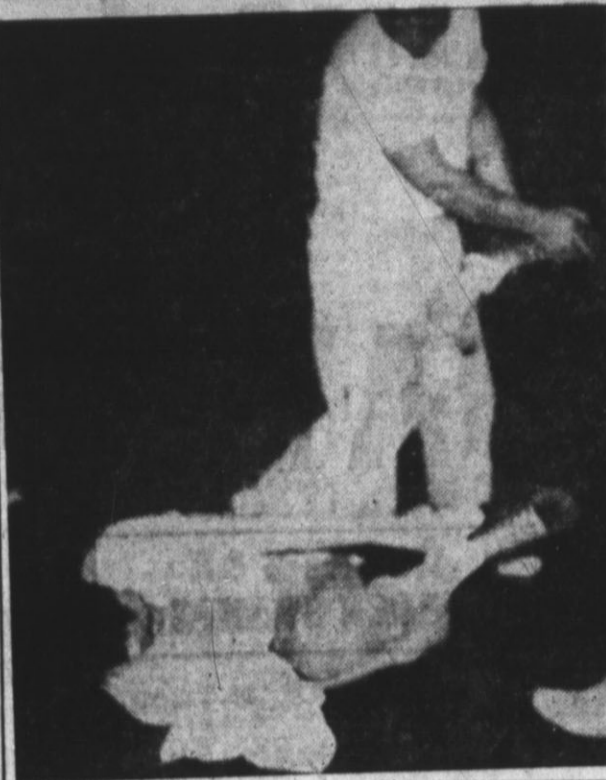

Fancy and Plain

The NCAA is shaping up but still has many a tight one to dissolve ere all the entrants are established. Indiana has sacked the Big Ten and will be trouble to any foe. Washington has the northern half of the Pacific Coast conference corralled and California is the apparent southern titlist but probably won't much more than put in an appearance against the Huskies, although an identical situation prevailed last year but somebody forgot to give the script to UCLA and they sacked Washington in an eye-opening surprise. Oklahoma A&M can grab the Missouri Valley by taking one of their two remaining titles and most of the guessers have them written as in. Kansas U. can take the Big 7 by whipping Colorado and Iowa State at home and Missouri abroad. The Jayhawks have been invincible at home, as is nowadays the rhyme and rule. Louisiana State has racked up the Southeastern and it looks like North Carolina State in the South, even though their overall record has been a disappointment. The Ivy league is tangled and the ultimate winner has hopes of playing one game only in the championship contention. NCAA at large teams that have been fingered include Seattle, Oklahoma City U., Notre Dame, Eastern Kentucky, De Paul and Navy. The fallacy of the NCAA tournament and all other jousts of that type is that some of the conferences have teams that miss the top rung in their league and still are strong enough to whack a lot of the other conference champs. Like for instinks, Kansas A&S, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin and St. Louis, who incidentally have beaten Notre Dame twice among others. Texas Tech dropped two on the Arizona bing and out of EC contention, that leaves Arizona U in the driver's seat with only the West Texas Buffs to dispose of for a cinch tie and a sure win unless Harlin-Simmons can take Tech at Lubbock in the windup clash on March 3—a citeable cite from John Cronley who opines, "That the only pun sorer than the one stating that the St. Louis Cardinals will now be known as 'Busch' leaguers, was the one

7 Years—6 Times More Rural Telephones

THIS SCENE HAS BEEN REPEATED many times in recent years, as telephone people worked to extend service to the state's farming areas. In just seven years, the number of Southwestern Bell rural telephones in Texas has increased six times. And we're continuing to push more lines out into rural areas every month. In 1953 we hope to be able to spend more than $4½ million on this type of construction alone. SOUTHWESTERN BELL... A TEAM OF 28,000 TEXANS... PARTNERS IN TEXAS' PROGRESS.

Shrimp In Various Dishes Suggested As Tasty Meat Substitute For Lent

Shrimp in various dishes is suggested for the season of Lent and for those who think all shrimp tastes the same, a big surprise can be had by preparing shrimp in different ways and combining them with different foods.

Southern ways with shrimp involve many appetizing recipes, for instance dipping the little morsels in coconut before browning in butter, seasoning with tomato sauce and serving with flaky brown or white rice.

To many, shrimp salad is a great delicacy and the best manner of presenting what is considered one of the sea's great foods. It can be served with almost any other food and is especially good with hot rice to which has been added raisins and almonds.

Mrs. Gaston Baer serves some wonderful fish dishes and among them is shrimp salad, made by the recipe used today.

Shrimp Salad
3 cups canned or fresh shrimp
3 cups diced celery
3 hard-boiled eggs, diced
1/4 cup chopped sweet pickle
1/4 cup chopped pimento
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup whipped cream

Mix shrimp, celery, eggs, pickles, pimento, salt and paprika and chill in refrigerator. Mix the mayonnaise and whipped cream and when ready to serve mix half the mayonnaise mixture with the shrimp mixture, arrange on crisp lettuce and top with remaining mayonnaise mixture. Serve at once.

It is not known how the fire started as Jimmy Joe, the small son, was in the house alone. Some clothes on a rack were destroyed and a few holes were burned in some quilts and in the divan. The wall paper was scorched a little.

C-C Directors Take No Action On Pioneer Day

The Board of Directors of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce met in regular session February 24, 1953 at the Chamber of Commerce office, with the following members present: T. W. Alderson, V. Pres.; Ben Childers; N. D. Bartlett; W. L. Davis; Lloyd Sharp; Dick Barnard and George McLean. In the absence of Pres. Harvey, T. W. Alderson, V. Pres. called the meeting to order at the appointed hour.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the manager and approved by the Board of Directors as read.

The manager gave a brief report on his trip to Austin, Texas at which time Marshall Formby was sworn in as a member of the Texas Highway Commission. He also reported to the Board the outcome of the Highway 60 Convention, and the letter recently received from the Hereford Texas Water Co. of Los Angeles, Calif., regarding the sale of Hereford water by the said company.

In the matter of new business the following items were discussed although no official action was taken by the Board: Pioneer Day Activities, Chamber of Commerce neighboring towns, and the possibility of organizing a Community Chest for Hereford.

The monthly financial report was presented to the Board which showed that the Chamber of Commerce had paid all outstanding bills and the bank balance showed that the Chamber of Commerce had $284.12 on hand. The managers traveling expenses were approved after a motion by Mr. Davis and seconded by Mr. McLean.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

Mrs. Earl DeHart attended a copper tooling demonstration in the home of Mrs. Howard in the Messenger Community Tuesday afternoon Feb. 24. Others attending from Hereford were Mrs. Tom Draper, and Miss Roberta Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeHart and Kenneth spent Sunday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Robinson of Claude.

An out of state visitor in the W. E. Holcomb home recently was Stonewall Comer of Colorado Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Robinson went to Panhandle Friday on business. Mrs. Oscar Vaughn of Dell City, and formerly of Hereford visited the Cultural Home Demonstration Club during the lunch hour Thursday. Mrs. Vaughn is a former member of the North Hereford Home Demonstration club. About half of the membership of this Cultural club are also former members of the North Hereford club, so Mrs. Vaughn enjoyed her visit with old club members. She was accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Fulwood with whom she has been visiting.

Mrs. Grady Parsons attended the annual Red Cross Kickoff meeting in the Jim Hill Hotel Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Parsons and their daughter, Mrs. Ella Mae Childers and sons, Jimmy and Joe Harold, spent Sunday in Clarendon visiting Mrs. Parsons sister Mrs. R. C. Cannon and family.

Mrs. J. A. Pool who has been visiting in the R. C. Cannon home for some time was planning to return with the Parsons but was unable to do so due to illness. Mrs. Pool is Mrs. Parsons' mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Olson left Wednesday for Hot Springs, N.M. where they plan to spend about two weeks.

C. S. Barclay and V. C. Hopson were in Amarillo on business Tuesday.

Patsy Childers spent Tuesday night in the home of her sister, Mrs. C. S. Barclay and Wednesday night in the Clinton Jackson home visiting their daughter Pat.

Mrs. Carl Perrin Presents Lesson

Mrs. Carl Perrin presented the lesson for the Friendship Class of the Methodist Church session held in the home of Mrs. E. W. Hobson Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Perrin discussed the "Books of the Apocrypha" giving the historical background and answering the questions: "What is the Apocrypha? How did it get into the Bible? How did it get out of the Bible? and Why are we studying it?"

After the program the hostess served refreshments to: Mesdames J. J. Durham, Homer Watson, Ansel McDowell, Ed Warren, Claude McGowan, John P. Slaton, Leo Forrest, Carl Perrin, J. W. Kirby, Phil Barkley, J. W. Thomas, W. F. Gillis, Ray Conaway, Dean Bishop and the hostess. Guests included, Mesdames: T. Edgar Neal, M. F. Cherry, Jay Boston, and Eugene Naugle.
