ADDITIONS TO AREA grain elevators will raise the total storage capacity in Hereford to about 6½ million bushels, not including the construction now being done at Black Grain Co. By comparison, Amarillo now has about 7½ million bushels of storage space, but is adding 2 million more. At right, is part of the foundation area for the new Pitman elevators. Potato Harvest Hitting Full Stride In County

Emphasis on the harvest of area crops began its big shift from wheat to potatoes and onions the latter part of the week, with elevators reporting a little dryland wheat still coming in, and the potato and onion sheds just getting started.

Onions, which make their own special impact, are good from the quality standpoint, while the price is holding at about $2 to $2.50 a bag.

Potatoes, which are just being dug in the county, are showing the effects of adverse weather conditions, with the quantity running from one-fourth to one-third below previous years, but still bringing in from 100 to 140 sacks to the acre, the packers report.

With somewhere between 3,600 and 4,000 acres of spuds to be harvested, it is expected to add up to a number of carloads. At the same time, the price is holding at well above $3 a sack, well above the price last year, when some growers didn't even find it profitable to plow up their spuds.

Associated Growers, first ones to begin packing potatoes in Hereford this year, have already shipped about 50 carloads, while most of the other packers say that their part of the crop is just starting to move.

Jack Renfro, who is just beginning his operations up here, said that he shipped some 400 carloads out of Plainview and Muleshoe.

Howard Gault and Trautmann Bros., are at about the same stage, with the Gault sheds ready to work today, the first time they have been open on Sunday, because of a slight delay in the beginning of their part of the harvest. Potatoes did not start coming in until Saturday, when they were originally expected a week Thursday.

Gault is also packing small potatoes in plastic bags on a somewhat experimental basis, with the work being done on an "order only" basis at the present time.

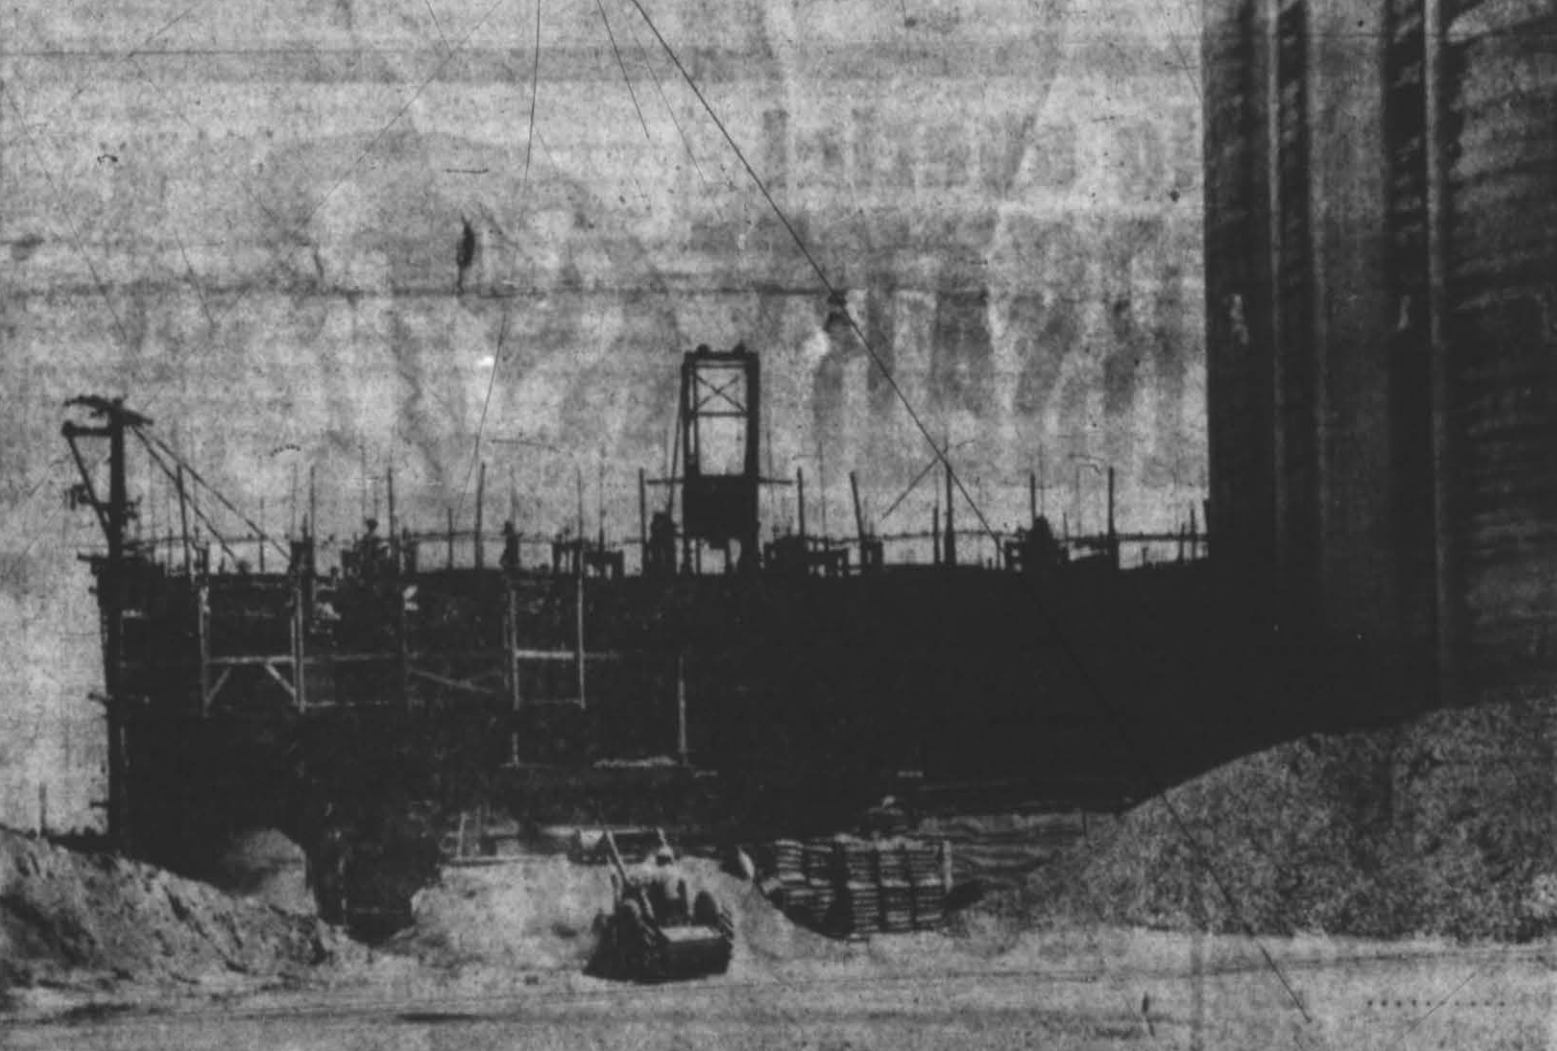

Shippers are evidently finding a considerable difference in the yield from various fields, with some reporting the quality as even better than last year.

Late rains and other factors which set the potatoes back are expected to prolong the potato harvest, just as it did the wheat harvest, so that some potatoes may still be coming in until the middle of August, the packers say.

SIX EXPLORER SCOUTS from the Hereford area will leave Monday for Minnesota and the "jumping off" place for a canoe trip which will take them into Canada. They will be part of a much larger group making the trip. The boys are, from left, Bobby Veigel, Jim Mc-

Dowell, Larry Kaul, David Wertenberg, John David Bryant and Lynn Boomer. The actual canoe trip will take about eight days, and the boys will be back in Hereford around July 26. (Staff Photo)

Hereford Highway Expansion Program Discussed Thursday

A four-phase highway expansion program, including a $285,000 underpass south of Hereford on Highway 51, was reviewed here Thursday when State Highway department officials discussed preliminary plans with City of Hereford officials. In addition to the underpass, the improvements will include widening of Highway 51 through Hereford city limits at a cost of around $20,000, and a general revamping of the intersection of Highway 51 and Highway 60 at the blinker light on the west city limits.

Also discussed in the planning was the widening of Highway 60 west from Hereford to the Castro County line near Summerfield. Plans do not call for additional right-of-way on Highway 60, but do include widening the road six feet and paving this portion in addition to the present road bed. No estimate was included on this portion of the work, which will likely follow completion of the other three projects.

Mayor Henry Sears said that papers will be back from Austin in approximately two weeks, at which time the city will start getting additional right-of-way on Highway 51 through Hereford. Actual paved surface through Hereford will be 60 feet in width. Improvements at the intersection of 51-60 will, in addition to a wide road bed, include a street sewer to handle flood water and removal of the dip which at present serves the intersection.

The underpass on Highway 51 will be constructed at approximately the point where the highway now crosses the Santa Fe tracks. It will be complete with approaches. Actual work on the four-phase program will not likely get underway before 1955 and will continue into 1956 and, possibly, into 1957 on the Highway 60 improvements.

September 26

Bridge Dedication Date Scheduled

Plans for formal opening of Highway 51 bridge across the Canadian river north of Vega were completed Friday in a meeting held at Andrews, Texas.

The date was officially set for Monday, September 26. All three commissioners of the State Highway commission have said that they will be present for the ceremony. A barbecue will be served at noon on the opening day by members of the Odessa Chuck wagon gang.

Meanwhile, traffic is using the bridge by winding around the approach now under construction," said T. W. Alderson, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce president.

The gathering at Andrews included around 50 delegates from Texas towns along the route. Four from Hereford who attended were Mr. Alderson, Jimmie Allred, Jack Kirksey and G. W. Brumley.

The Texas association also made plans for a caravan which will travel the road north from Texas across the entire route to Canada, and may even go on into Canada. Alderson said. Chartered buses will be used for the trip and will include from two to five delegates from each town north from Odessa to the Texas line. Object of the tour will be to organize other states to help promote and publicize possibilities of U. S. Highway 51.

"We want five from Hereford," said Alderson. Fare on the bus will be $20 for the round trip, plus personal expenses, food and lodging.

Bryant, McDowell Pass Scout Board

S. E. McLallen, Deaf Smith District Boy Scout Advancement Chairman, with the assistance of district commissioner, Dr. Milton C. Adams and other local Scouters held a board of review Wednesday night for scouts John David Bryant and Jim McDowell.

John David Bryant successfully passed the board of review for the Bronze Palm. He received his Eagle Rank November of 1953. Scout Jim McDowell successfully passed the board of review for his Eagle Scout rank.

Any boys that have earned merit badges or any other rank are asked to bring their applications or score cards to McLallen at the J. C. Penny Company not later than August 15, so that they can receive their awards in September.

Two intersection collisions in Hereford Thursday and Friday caused approximately $800 damage to the cars involved.

A collision at the intersection of 25 Mile Avenue and Jackson Street Thursday night about 7:30 o'clock caused about $75 damage to a 1954 Ford pickup and $100 damage to a 1953 Plymouth.

Billie F. Wall, driving the pickup was going north on 25 Mile Avenue and Frank P. Lyons, driving the Plymouth, was going east on Brady and attempted to turn right on Jackson.

The two cars collided, the pickup struck the right side of the Plymouth after the Plymouth had crossed the intersection, according to police reports.

Wall was charged with failure to grant the right-of-way.

Collision Friday
The second collision occurred about 6 o'clock Friday afternoon at the intersection of Second and Lawton Streets.

Jimmie Dow Blackwell, driving a 1951 Studebaker, was going north on Lawton. Mrs. Minnie Bell Vaughn, driving a 1951 Ford was going west on Second Street. The two cars collided in the intersection when the Studebaker struck the left side of the Ford.

About $75 damage was done to

Jaycees Ask For Food, Clothing For Victims Of Rio Grande Flood

Hereford Jaycees have joined with other Jaycee organizations over the state in beginning a collection of food, clothing and other sorely needed items which can be gathered and sent to Laredo for distribution to the homeless residents of flood-swept towns on the south side of the Rio Grande, according to Dennis Lomas.

"The greatest need is for bedding, non-perishable foods, closed water containers, clothing of all kinds, and money to help the flood victims," Lomas said, quoting an appeal from Rocky Ford, Texas Jaycee president.

Lomas is asking that those who have something they can give to the cause to call the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office, 267, and leave word about where the donation can be picked up.

The entire Jaycee club in Laredo, Texas, in conjunction with Eagle Pass and Del Rio Jaycees, are acting as the agency through which materials are being delivered to those experiencing the greatest need.

homeless, hungry and in need of clothing and bedding," Ford's appeal said. "Surely we can't let the width of the Rio Grande close our eyes to need when there is hunger and human suffering."

Lomas said that contributions of food, clothing and other needed items will be sent as soon as the material can be gathered and packed.

Riders Planning Tulia Rodeo Trip

Hereford Riders Club members, who voted last Thursday to participate in the Tulia rodeo and parade next Saturday night, were in Brownfield Saturday night for a palmetto polo game and performance at the Brownfield rodeo.

The Hereford group played the Brownfield palmetto polo team in the rodeo arena. At the meeting Thursday night, the riders had a chance to sit on recently purchased folding chairs. Until this time, the club-house had not had any furniture that the club could call its own.

Rooke at Calgary Alberta, Canada. Mrs. Rooke came to Amarillo in 1946 from England and the Rookees moved from Amarillo to Hereford in 1951.

Think you've had some sewer line troubles at some time, maybe? At the Star Theatre they came kingsize—a plugged line down under the auditorium. Finally, they had to knock a big hole through an eight-inch concrete floor to get to the trouble. Friday night they had to cut the water off in the theatre, and popcorn sales are reported to have suffered accordingly.

Shivers, who said he is proud of the excellent way Texas roads have improved in the last half-decade, listed dollars and time saved as two prime benefits to Texas motorists.

"State drivers have been able to save countless hours and money through good roads that provide the ultimate in safety and design," he remarked. He also pledged that he "would do everything in my power" to continue the present rapid pace of road-building and maintenance. "A road system worthy of its name must provide its motorists with swift, safe routes," he said.

Losses By Evaporation Slight From Conservation Reservoirs

H. N. Smith, State Conservationist for Texas, has declared that municipal and industrial users of water have no cause to worry in connection with the evaporation of water from the small reservoirs in Soil Conservation Service upstream flood prevention.

Smith pointed out that the 40 flood prevention dams already built in the Trinity River Watershed are preventing many thousands of dollars of flood losses every year along the small creeks where the dams have been built. In addition, farmers can now raise crops on several thousand acres of fertile bottomland which have been flooded too frequently for cultivation.

Smith explained that critics have said that if many flood prevention dams are built in the headwaters of streams the water supplies may be seriously reduced by evaporation from the pools of the structures. Actually, Smith said, the evaporation loss from the pools of upstream flood prevention dams would be small compared to the evaporation loss from existing major reservoirs, and very small compared to the average flow of the streams.

Mhoon is in charge of maintenance painting—keeping a four-story main plant and two branch stores freshly coated. Tubbs handles furniture and toy refinishing. However, they often pitch in together on jobs.

Strange Problems Mhoon and Tubbs said there are lots of problems in learning to paint with one arm—problems which persons with two arms might not think of.

In the actual brushing or spraying, of course, you use only one. Tubbs explained: "The trouble is moving stuff around, mixing paints, climbing ladders—you know. Ever tried to climb a ladder with one arm, carrying a bucket of paint and a brush?"

Mhoon said climbing ladders "was about the hardest thing I had to learn."

"You have to learn to sort of balance yourself as you go up," he said. "You can't grab hold with one hand, you have to use your other arm to hold on to the ladder."

Once up, they hang their buckets from special hooks on their ladders. Mhoon said he can set up any size ladder himself but it took practice. "I've got plenty of strength in my arm," he said. "I pick up the ladder and, using my shoulder, edge it up against the wall."

Tippling over a five-gallon can to pour paint is another problem. With two arms it's easy—you lift it up with one hand and tip it up the underside with the other.

Mhoon explained how he does it. "I just pick up the bucket by the handle, bend my knee slightly and set it on my knee. Then I bend my knee some more. That tips over the can."

Balances On Knees Balance is also important in painting floors, he added. With two arms you can brace yourself with one and paint with the other while on your knees, bending over. "I learned to balance on my knees alone," Mhoon said.

Tubbs, 47, was in construction and maintenance work before he lost his arm. On May 14, 1952, he was driving to Dallas from Midland, where he had been operating heavy equipment on a sewer construction job. "Fell asleep near Roby and side-swiped a truck," he recalled. "When I came to, I looked down and saw my arm on the floor."

During four weeks in a Snyder hospital, Tubbs said, "I made myself believe that if other people get by with one arm, I could."

Soon afterward, "broke and out of a job," he showed up at Goodwill. Mhoon taught him to paint. Mhoon, 50, has been at Goodwill nine years. He supports a wife and 10-year-old daughter.

At the age of 20, he left his Bonham home and "started knocking around." Near Beaumont, he fell from a freight train on which he had hitched a ride. The wheels passed over his arm.

Mhoon went back to Bonham. He had taught himself to paint as a youth. He set up shop there, refinishing furniture and painting homes and apartments. Ten years ago, he said, work fell off and he moved to Dallas. He joined Goodwill a year later.

"Man with one arm 30 years learns to do things he thought he never could," Mhoon said. "Take a lot of men get crippled that away they give up. I always made my own living. Wife never worked, like some."

Year's 14th DWI Pleads Guilty In County Court

Nestor Garcia, fourteenth person to be sentenced this year in County Court for driving while intoxicated, pleaded guilty Wednesday before County Judge Horace L. Seniors.

Arrested about 1:30 o'clock in the morning on July 6 by Joe Stephens of the Hereford Police Department, Garcia had been free on bond until he decided to make his plea of guilty. He was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and fined $75 and costs.

Garcia's actions had just called the attention of the officer to him. He had stopped his car on West Fifth, and seemed reluctant to cross the intersection when he saw the police car, then finally pulled out, almost in the path of another car. When Stephens stopped Garcia's car on the back of Catalpa, he found a quart of wine in the car and Garcia had evidently had a few drinks of wine. Garcia did not have a driver's license, but Judge Schiess told him that his privilege to drive any type of motor vehicle in Texas had been suspended for one year from the date of conviction. The defendant was given credit for the time he had spent in jail before he made bond.

Road Building Has Been Big Work In County

AUSTIN — During the last five years, 106.50 miles of roads have been built in Deaf Smith County. It was Texas' greatest period of road construction history, Highway Department files show. The breakdown by counties as well as state totals prepared by the department showed that $1,461,100.90 was spent in the county for maintenance of present roads and for the gigantic construction program.

Meanwhile in Austin Governor Shivers cited the figures "as evidence that the state's construction program is giving Texas motorists the best roads that engineering can provide."

The report showed that 14,926.10 miles of roads added to the state highway system over the period covered cost $375,158,572.32, more money spent for construction than in any other comparable period. Figures also showed that Farm-to-Market roads came in for a lion's share of the total. The roads were named a priority because

THREE PERSONS WERE INJURED, none of them seriously, when this Chevrolet "ran out of road" about six miles north of Westway store Friday afternoon. The car will probably never be quite the same again. Mrs. Irene Ward, driver of the car, realized too late that the county road ended at an intersection, and the car went down a rather steep drop-off. Mrs. Ward, who lives a 505 Roosevelt, received lacerations and a possible concussion. Her brother, Don DeBusk, had his left ankle dislocated and another boy with them, Ray McCauley, had his nose broken. Mrs. Ward's husband, Benny Ward, who was also in the car, was not injured. The accident occurred about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mrs. W. C. Osborn brought all occupants of the car to Deaf Smith County hospital. The Highway Patrol investigated the accident. The group had been out rabbit hunting, they said. (Staff Photo)

Library Reports Good Books For Summer Reading

A good book and a cool shady place to rest and relax in should be very pleasant these hot summer days. Deaf Smith County Library has some new titles to tempt the reader into doing just that.

Frances Parkinson Keyes new novel, THE ROYAL BOX, is the story of a French lady, high born but impoverished widow of a nobleman, who made no secret of her deep rooted dislike of the Americans. Those who enjoyed DINNER AT ANTOINE'S will like THE ROYAL BOX.

MARY ANNE, by Daphne Du Maurier; REBELLION ROAD, by Helen Topping Miller; THREE STARS FOR THE GENERAL, is our own Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, Texas. From the tumultuous days of the East Texas oil discovery to the present time, his biography makes very interesting reading.

N.Y.-N.Y., by Will Oursler is a novel of a city - the story of Base, Calif., before being sent to Korea in March, 1952, and to Japan in October of the same year. Until December of 1953 he was in the Far East, doing hospital administration work and was last stationed at Itazuke Air Force Base, Japan, before returning to the United States.

He reported to Sheppard Air Force Base in February of this year, and was personnel officer for the Patient's Command Section of the 3750th USAF Hospital at Sheppard Air Force Base when he was released from active duty.

Carnahan is a graduate of Hereford High School and Texas Technological College, Lubbock. He is married to the former Betty Stewart of Colorado City.

He plans to engage in the ranching business with his father.

Mrs. Holt's Father Dies In Oklahoma
 Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holt and daughters Cherry and Genny left Thursday night for Cordell, Okla., immediately after receiving word of the death of Mrs. Holt's father, John Adams.

Adams had been in failing health for some time at the time of his death. He was a retired farmer.

Another daughter of the Holt's, Clarabell, was visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Adams and other relatives in Cordell, at the time of Adams' death.

Shirley Sharp Honored With Lingerie Shower
 Miss Shirley Sharp was honored with a lingerie shower Friday night in the home of Patsy Jackson, 807 North Main.

Those present were Sue Savage, Betty Ramey, Marilyn Legg, June Marion Smith, Dixie Young, Jerry Rayburn, Vandell Edwards, Sammie McLellen and Jo Williams.

THIS WHITE BUS WAS MODERN back in 1924, when it was used to haul 11 persons at a time around the country. Now owned by Continental Trailways, it is taken to new terminal openings for comparison with their latest model buses. Gene Brown, from Continental's operating department in Dallas, drew the job of driving the bus from its latest trip to Denver back to Dallas. His family came part way to meet him, and they stopped Friday at noon in Hereford to pick up a few items of food. Brown said that the bus was found in Colorado Springs, Colo., and was driven to Dallas without having any work done it. Tires were made on a special order. The four cylinder, 40-horsepower engine is hand cranked, and has only a magneto for an electrical system. A vacuum unit works as a fuel pump. The old bus has brakes on the back wheels only, carbide lights, an exhaust whistle instead of a horn, and no shock absorbers. Shown with Brown in the bus are his wife, daughter Sherry Jo, and sons Ronald, Rudy and Teddy. (Staff Photo) me people have to learn the way. You just can't tell them thing. Andy Anderson and Jim Young are a couple of guys who are like that.

"I know what you are talking about now," says Andy. "When you tell about going camping, working yourself half to death — and catching only one fish." The same thing happened to Andy and Jim, except they caught two little catfish. They went up on the Canadian to one of those "choice spots." While there, they ran into Harold Wester, J. C. Reese and Jim Gagner and, regardless of what these three tell you, they borrowed like two fish from Andy and Jim — and still didn't have enough for a mess. Besides all this, Slim has a new boat and trailer outfit which he couldn't even use.

Don Zimmerman is an old boy, however, who went camping and really got the job done. The Zimmermans all tented out, caught more fish than they knew what to do with, had no blowouts and, believe it or not, came home refreshed and full of energy. And to prove what a sucker some people can be, Don just about has me talked into going back. Urline Strau also gave me a lecture on tents. Strau says any dope can put up a tent in 7 minutes flat. He says if I slept on some rocks it was my own fault. These guys sound more like my wife every day.

Just got a big wad of New York newspapers, presumably from someone in the delegation who is attending the Lions International Convention. This includes Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Meharg, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Massey and Harry Caylor. The papers are giving the convention quite a play, which is unusual for New York papers. The startling thing, though, was a three-column picture of Cleo Meharg astride a big stone lion at the Fifth Avenue entrance to the New York Public Library. The picture appeared in the New York Herald Tribune. They also had a picture of S. A. Dodge, president of Lions International. Cleo rated a bigger picture, however. He was the only Texas boy on the page, and it mentioned that he was from Hereford, Texas.

I can't figure out how Cleo got all the publicity, unless it was his western garb, or maybe he was the only one of the 40,000 Lion delegates who spent much time around the library. Anyway, it sure did happen. We cannot reproduce the picture, since it already has a newspaper screen. I am saving it, though, to show Massey and Caylor. I'll bet those two boys don't even know they have a library in New York.

Sandy Fluitt has been under the weather for some time, but is back in circulation. I ran across him the other day and he said: "Oh, I'm feeling fine now. I didn't have too many cattle." I asked what he meant and he went on to develop his theory on health which, according to Sandy is determined exclusively by how many head of cattle you owned when the price dropped. He named off a bunch of fellows with heart attacks and stomach attacks — and compared the length of their illness with the size of their herds.

"My brother-in-law is really in bad shape," concluded Sandy. "He had over a thousand head. He'll be down for another month or so."

Sandy was joking, of course, but he maybe was about half right, too. A lot of our ills and troubles are brought on because of worry and restlessness as the result of bad breaks and business deals.

I got in quite an argument the other day with Raylan Evans. Raylan says that Hereford is a cold, unfriendly place for strangers. I don't think so. When I came to Hereford, I was deeply impressed in just the reverse. I have always considered this one of the most friendly places I ever saw. I always figured it was due to the "latchstring outside" policy of the Old West. Am I wrong about this? Maybe things have changed. How about hearing from some of you new-comers? Are Hereford people friendly, or are they frigid? What are your honest convictions?

The governor's race is getting into full swing. It may get pretty hot before things are over. It looks as if Allen Shivers and Ralph Yarborough will be away out ahead. One of them could easily win in the first primary. A lot of people are down on Shivers, due to Tidelands stand against Adlai Stevenson. This land deal is also creating a lot of talk. His worst handicap, however, is the third term business. Yarborough, on the other hand, is not a strong candidate. He will not draw the vote some other Texas names might have drawn. A lot of people think of Yarborough as a radical. The big national Union leaders are favoring Yarborough. Shivers blocked the "closed shop" in Texas a few years back — and they vowed to give him a fit. They will spend a lot of money toward this end.

Personally, I don't like the third term, but Shivers is without question the best man. He is also the first Texas Governor to recognize this part of the country. He appointed Marshall Formby as State Highway Commissioner — the first in West Texas; he appointed Frank Spring of Friona on the State Banking Commission. Other scattered appointments definitely prove that he knows the Panhandle is on the map. Prior to this time, our state politicians have completely ignored this part of the state. We paid almost half of the taxes, but the political appointments were doled out in Central and East Texas, where the population was heavy — and the votes were thicker.

I don't always agree with Allan Shivers, but I do admire his attitude of forgetting politics to the extent that he apparently does, what he thinks is right and best for Texas. I know a bunch of old boys will be on my neck — but I have about made up my mind to vote for Shivers. People should investigate these men carefully, including these Eastern labor racketeers and the "Duke of Dával" dynasty down in the valley. Organized labor is alright — but not when Walter Reuther and some of the leaders insist on running Texas and other states. Many, many school teachers are also down on Shivers because they didn't get the full pay raise they asked. Mostly, they are intelligent people, though, and they will investigate both candidates pretty closely. Despite their disappointment over the raise, many of them will vote for Shivers.

People are still "clammed up" when it comes to local politics. There is less talk than ever before — despite contested races which should be attracting much attention. The candidates are working, too. Most of the Commissioner boys are knocking on doors and ringing bells. The Justice of Peace candidates are also beating the bushes; both J. P.'s seem to be soliciting more actively than the candidates in the county judge race. Things will probably break loose next week.

Meanwhile, the spud prices are creeping up. This is most unusual. They usually take a nose-dive. The market was around $3 when the season opened and Friday it was running at $3.35. It may even get stronger as the season goes along. However, most potato men figure that it will hang close to the $3.25 mark. Several of the boys are running 150 bags of No. 1's to the acre. The freeze and hail did cut the yield somewhat, but quite a bit of revenue will roll in from the 1954 potato crop if the price holds.

If you do not drive around over town every two or three weeks, you sure get behind. I was out the other night and was surprised at the number of houses under construction. Many of them are really big homes, too. What with the Pitman and Sears elevator construction, our building permits should really soar. I believe the amount of building now underway is two or three times that of last year. Never saw anything like it. Especially when other towns are standing still.

That's The Book
PENSACOLA, Fla. — City Clerk Byrd Sims took his 10-year-old daughter to City Court with him to watch traffic case proceedings. She spied a copy of the city's ordinance code on the judge's desk and asked:

"Daddy, is that the book the judge throws at you if you speed in school zones?"

MRS. JAMES W. KILLIAN

Norma McCullough, James Killian Wed

At 4 o'clock last Sunday afternoon in a candlelight service, Miss Norma McCullough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCullough, became the bride of James Wayne Killian of Amarillo, son of Rev. and Mrs. Guy Killian of Canyon. Rev. Killian, father of the bridegroom, read the double-ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Hereford.

Floral arrangements for the service featured massive fan arrangements of white gladioli, Easter Reed daisies and Bells of Ireland at the altar, flanked on either side with wrought iron candelabra holding Cathedral tapers entwined with white lace vine. In the background stood matching arrangements and Cathedral tapers in groupings of seven. Pews were marked with white lace on fans centered with Cineraria daisies and white satin falls.

Mrs. Howard Scott, at the organ, presented a pre-nuptial concert of traditional wedding music and accompanied Dennis Lomas who sang "Through The Years" and "Because." Clare de Lune was played softly during the recital of the vows and Lomas sang "The Lord's Prayer" in conclusion as the couple knelt at the prayer bench.

Misses Shirley and Mary Lou McCullough, cousins of the bride, lighted the candles. They wore identical dresses of pale pink all-over embroidered organdy, made with waltz-length bouffant skirts and off-the-shoulder short sleeves. They wore pink net Queen Anne hats with matching flower wristlets and carried their candles on small pink net fans with pink satin falls knotted with pink rosebuds. The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" by Wagner was played as the bridal party entered.

First to enter was Mrs. H. J. McDaniel of Fort Worth who attended the bride as matron-of-honor. She was attired in a Nile green waltz-length dress of lace and net featuring a full net skirt with panels of matching lace. The fitted bodice had a shirred lace front and a small lace capelet worn over the shoulders. She wore a Queen Anne net hat with matching flower trim and carried a net fan centered with green Cineraria daisies, Bells of Ireland and miniature rosebuds with falls of Nile green satin ribbon knotted with Bells of Ireland. Bridesmaids were Miss Chris Cogswell of Amarillo and Miss Shoila Killian, sister of the bridegroom. They wore identical dresses in pastel pink fashioned to match that worn by the honor matron. They wore Queen Anne hats and carried pink fans centered with gladioli and rosebuds, with falls of pink satin ribbon knotted with pink rosebuds.

Bob Walton of Amarillo, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Pat McCullough brother of the bride, Neil Walton, cousin of the bride, Fred Thomas of Amarillo and Herb Club of Beaumont.

Escorted by Father
The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white Chantilly lace made over matching bridal satin designed with fitted bodice, Queen Anne (Continued on Page 2)

Some of the high points of interest were: the Atlantic Ocean viewed from the beach at Savannah, Ga., the huge tobacco fields and a tour of the Lucky Strike factory at Durham, N. C.; and in New York where they attended a National Teachers Association session, they went to the top of the Empire State building, visited the Statue of Liberty, and visited many historic spots in New York City.

Jean Zarbock, Alex Schroeter Wed In Illinois

The marriage of Miss Naomi Jean Zarbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zarbock of Wheaton, Ill., to Alex J. Schroeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Schroeter of this city, was solemnized July 3 in St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wheaton at 6:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. George Cooper, pastor, who directed the exchange of vows as the couple and their attendants stood before a flower decked altar arranged with white chrysanthemums, gladioli, and blue delphinium. Palms and greenery banded the altar in the background and wedding tapers in seven-branched candelabra gave illumination.

Margaret Heindel, organist, played a musical prelude, including "I Love You Truly" (Bond) and "Ich Liebe Dich" (Grieg). Robert Bartlett, vocalist of Duluth, Minn., brother-in-law of the bride, sang "Through The Years" (Youmans). "Because" (Hardelot) and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. The traditional bridal chorus from Lohengrin (Wagner) was used as the processional and Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played as the recessional.

MR. AND MRS. ALEX SCHROETER

Attendants were Mrs. Robert Treascoat, matron of honor, and Miss Judy McAllister of Joliet, Ill., and Mrs. Robert Bartlett, of Duluth, Minn., sister of the bride, bridesmaids. Kathleen Zarbock, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Robert Bartlett Jr., was ring bearer.

All the feminine attendants wore identical ballerina length dresses of white organdy with blue satin brocaded flowers. They wore white flower wreaths as head dresses and blue satin pumps. They carried bouquets of white carnations and delphinium. Paul Bryan Schroeter served his brother as best man. Ushers were Roy Zarbock of Decatur, Ill., and Floyd Zarbock of Wheaton, brothers of the bride, and a brother-in-law, Al Spreitzer.

Traditional Wedding Gown
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional wedding gown of white satin, which had been worn by her two sisters in their weddings, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and pearl trimmed bodice. The full skirt terminated in a chapel train in the back. The wedding veil of French illusion was held in place by a band of satin embellished with hand pearl trim. She carried a cascade bouquet centered with an orchid and showered with satin streamers and stephanotis. The bride's mother wore a powder blue dress of organza and lace with blue accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore a light blue embroidered nylon frock with white accessories. Their corsages were of white lilies and blue delphinium. Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white carnations and delphinium and lighted by white tapers. (Continued on Page 2)

Helping Junior Garden Clubs Found Rewarding

One of the most enthusiastic gardeners in Hereford is Mrs. O. H. Herring, and her enthusiasm does not stop with her own garden interests. She is interested in Junior Garden Club work and has the co-operation of 80 Bluebird and Camp Fire girls, who have recently won both district and state awards for accomplishments in 1953-54.

Mrs. Herring can't remember when she wasn't interested in planting, growing and arranging flowers. Most of her life has been spent on a farm however, and after her marriage she found little time with all the work of the farm and three children to rear, to devote to either planting or studying the art of growing and arranging flowers.

She came to Hereford in 1950 and became an active member of the Hereford Garden Club in 1951. Then it was that she was able to develop and pursue a hobby which had been put aside while more important things were taking up her time and energy.

"Making plants grow and thrive because of the care they have had from one who understands their needs and appreciates their contribution is the most rewarding hobby," stated Mrs. Herring. In the spring of 1952, the Hereford Garden Club appointed Mrs. Herring chairman of Junior Garden work, and for two years, she has been an enthusiastic guide for four Bluebird and Camp Fire groups, with their own leaders in Camp Fire work assisting. Creates Interest
The first, but not the least, objective of Mrs. Herring was to create an interest in Junior gardening, not only among the Juniors themselves, but also among their leaders. This took a great deal of background work and members of the Hereford Garden Club, the sponsoring club, assisted wholeheartedly. Giving special assistance with the work were Mrs. Jack Robertson, Mrs. Harry Lomas and Mrs. A. L. Manjot, who is the present governor of District 1, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. Objectives of Junior Garden Club work include: 1. To instill in the youth of America a love of nature, and to teach them to see the beauty in the world about them. 2. To teach horticulture—the planting and growing of seeds, plants and bulbs. 3. Conservation—the protection of natural resources. 4. Flower arrangement and (Continued on Page 2)

SPREADING SUNSHINE is certainly one thing that members of the Sunshine Club believe in. During this year, they work on a "family chest," which is presented to a needy family at Christmas time. Most of the handwork has already been done on this year's chest. There is a quilt, pillow cases, dresser scarves, towels, wash cloths, luncheon cloths, stuffed toys, cup towels, pot-holders and crocheted pieces. Canned goods will be added later. During the last half of the club year the club members plan to make another quilt which will be used in next year's family chest. In addition, the club send a batch of cookies to a local youth, Grant Miner, who is serving in the Far East. Some of the club members, and two of the members children, are shown here with the family chest articles. From left are: Billy Clyde Mays, Mrs. J. C. Mays, Mrs. Fred Muller, Mrs. W. E. collar outlined with tiny seed pearls, and long sleeves that came to petal points at the hands. Her full, waltz length skirt fell in folds from the waist and the waist length veil of illusion, ornamented with lace medallions, fell from a Juliet cap-outlined with pearl and rhinestone-trim. For the sake of sentiment she wore her mother's wedding ring and carried a handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's mother. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a fan-shaped bouquet of white lagoon and stephanotis centered with a single white orchid showered with satin and lace with love knots of stephanotis.

The bride's mother wore a petal rose frock of Rose-point lace and net over taffeta with matching hat and navy accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore a toast - brown lace dress over taffeta with matching hat and accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

Reception in Bride's Home

Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of the bride. The bride's table was laid with a white nylon net cloth applied with silvered magnolia lace over white satin. The centerpiece was an arrangement of crystal candelabra surrounded by white roses, Queen Anne's lace, stephanotis and gladioli florets. The three-tiered wedding cake was ornamented with pink rosebuds and topped with a corsage of pink rosebuds and lily of the valley.

Both the punch bowl and cake were encircled with wreaths of white roses and stephanotis. Mrs. Maurice Sloan of Spencer, Ia., aunt of the bride, served punch and Mrs. James Bidwell of Amarillo served the wedding cake.

Others assisting in the house party were Mrs. Don McCullough of Amarillo; Mrs. H. L. McCullough of Harrison, Ark.; Mrs. Jack McCullough of Clovis, N. M.; Mrs. Neil Walton and Mrs. Bob Walton of Amarillo, and Mrs. Ray McCullough and Mrs. Harry Lomas of Hereford.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Colorado Springs and Denver, the bride was wearing a two piece frock of avocado green and chartreuse linen with matching accessories, a toast - brown linen hat and a white orchid corsage.

The bride, who attended Hereford schools, is a graduate of Amarillo High School and Amarillo Junior College. While in Junior College she was a member of Gamma Theta Sorority. She received her degree from North Texas State College, Denton. While there she was a member of Psi Chi Honor Society. She is now employed as instructor at Draughton's Business College in Amarillo.

Assisting with the serving were Shirley Thompson, Mary Wheaton, Pat Burt and Alta Jo Douglas. Mrs. Al Spriester had charge of the guest book.

For traveling the bride donned a dark gray summer suit with gemmetal accessories. The honeymoon was spent at Lake Murray Resort, Ardmore Okla. After July 10 the couple will be at home at 1317 Green St., Abilene, Texas.

Mrs. Schroeter is a graduate of Wheaton High School and has attended Hardin Simmons University, Abilene, for the past three years.

She will get her degree there, with a major in sociology, next year. Mrs. Schroeter serves as a twirl-er in the world famous Cowboy Band at the University.

Mr. Schroeter was born and reared in Hereford, graduating from Hereford High School in 1950. He received his B.B.A. degree in Business Administration from Hardin Simmons in May. He is now personnel manager for the Rose Construction Company in Abilene, and business manager of Country Club Homes, Inc.

Guests from Texas attending the wedding were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, his brothers, Paul Bryan and Edwin, and Miss Shirley Thompson of Ballinger, the bride's roommate at HSU.

The couple arrived in Hereford Thursday and plan to return to Abilene today. Several social affairs were given to honor the couple while they were in Hereford.

Junior Flower Shows.

Meetings have been held with all four groups once each month during the school months, meeting at the Camp Fire Hut after school hours for lessons and demonstrations.

One of the projects for the past two years has been the winter care of "feathered friends." The girls have been taught how to build bird houses and feeding stations, and they have also learned that the wild birds are very helpful to the gardener.

Ask any Junior Gardener how the birds help in destroying insects and weed seeds, and it will surprise you how much they know about nature, the birds and insects that help and those that destroy.

Awards

State awards earned by the Hereford groups include: 1953, silver cup for most successfully promoting all phases of garden club work; 1954 - silver cup for most outstanding Junior Garden flower show; 1954 - certificate of award for second place in Junior Gardener's year book; 1954 - honorable mention from state on Junior Gardener's Scrap Book.

In District I, the local groups received the pennant for the best all around Junior Garden Club in the district for 1954 and received a red ribbon award for second best report on all phases of gardening.

Reelect ALLEN SHIVERS Texas' Greatest Governor A Real Democrat With A Dynamic, Positive Program For A Greater Texas A Man Who Can Stand On His Record

- WEST TEXAS — Allen Shivers has visited and done more for West Texas than any other Governor. He is a friend of West Texas.
- STATE HOSPITALS — Cure, rather than mere care is the watchword in our greatly improved and more efficiently staffed state institutions.
- TIDELANDS — Refusing to compromise high principles for political advantage, he battled courageously for and obtained the tidelands back for the school children of Texas. Our Permanent School Fund was enriched by $32,000,000 as result of the conclusive victory.
- PUBLIC SCHOOLS — Allen Shivers has helped to make public schools in the State of Texas more outstanding than they have ever been. During his tenure in office, the annual salaries of public school teachers in the State of Texas has been increased by $1,100.
- ROADS — Allen Shivers was one of the original sponsors of the farm-to-market road system in Texas. During his administration, more miles of farm-to-market roads and state highways have been built than in any other comparable period. Last year for instance, Texas added almost 9,000 miles to farm-to-market roads and state highways to its network of roads -- an all-time record. The fact that the highway program of Allen Shivers' administration is promoting safety as well as convenience is evidenced by the fact that the state last year had the second best safety record in the nation.
- SEGREGATION — Allen Shivers believes local school districts should be given maximum authority to deal with this problem, because he believes in local control of schools. He has said, "There is nothing more local than a school."
- PRISON REFORM — Administration of the Texas Prison System today is recognized by experts as being among the best in the nation; when Allen Shivers first took office, the system was classed as one of the worst in the country.
- INSURANCE REGULATION — As far back as 1931, Allen Shivers asked the Legislature to strengthen Texas insurance laws to protect the public. Action is being taken to weed out unsound companies. The clean-up campaign launched by Allen Shivers' administration will be continued.

• AGRICULTURE — Allen Shivers has secured funds for soil conservation, for an emergency feed program, for farm and ranch loans, and for a cheap hay program for drought-stricken areas. Allen Shivers believes a full, fixed parity price support program should be maintained until a better, long-range workable program is created to give a better break to farmers and ranchers -- to assure them of a bigger share of our national income.

• DUVAL COUNTY — Governor Shivers was the first Governor who has taken action to rid Duval County of boss-rule, fear and intimidation, "lost" records and ballots, and misappropriation of public funds.

• ECONOMY — Texas operates on a cash basis without either a sales tax or a state income tax. Allen Shivers is opposed to both and will have neither as long as he is Governor. Efficient operation during Allen Shivers' administration has enabled Texas to perform maximum service to its people with economy.

• COMMUNISM — Allen Shivers is proud to be listed among the worst enemies of the Communist Party. Texas was the first State in the Union to pass a law making membership in the Communist Party a felony. This law was proposed by Allen Shivers and passed by the special session of the Legislature early this year.

The vicious, all-out attack, well-financed and well-planned, being waged against Allen Shivers this year has among its chief sponsors well-known members of the radical, leftist element -- some of whom are pinkos, some of whom are one-worlders, and some of whom are labor bosses and professional do-gooders from the Eastern States. Allen Shivers has fought and defeated this gang before, and with the help of real Texans, he can and will do it again.

Allen Shivers' administration has been outstanding because he will not tolerate anything that is not good for Texas, and consequently for Texans. Texans will do themselves a favor and the state a service if they keep Allen Shivers in Austin for another term.

Jim Hill Takes Tenth Win From Rutherford's

By Billy Paul Knox
 In a malicious slaughter, Hotel Jim Hill completely paralyzed Rutherford's 25-7 in the first game Thursday night. Dawn continued in the same fashion by trouncing the Road Knights 17-7 in the second game.
 The victory is the 10th straight win for the first place Hotel crew. Rutherford's has now won five and lost the same number. Dawn notched their fifth victory in the second game while handing the Road Knights their ninth loss against a 100% victory.
 Rutherford's loss to Jim Hill dropped them down two notches to fourth while Dawn's victory elevated them into a tie for second with Summerfield. The Road Knights are still entrenched in the cellar.
 Rutherford's had pitching troubles against Jim Hill. Three pitchers tried to solve the Hotel bunch and were all unsuccessful. The starting and losing pitcher, Karl Huteson, pitched two innings and gave up four runs on four hits, walking two and fanning none. Joe Streun then tried his hand and lasted only 1-2-3 innings. He was clobbered for 12 runs and nine hits the short while he toiled.

Wild Pitching
 Wildness was his main difficulty as he walked six. Ken Walterscheid relieved him and surrendered nine runs on five hits. He issued four bases on balls. Getting credit for the win is John Winkler. He pitched 3-2-3 innings and gave up four runs and three hits walking four. Blue Turpin pitched the final 1-3 innings and was hit for three runs and three hits. He did not walk a man.
 Hotel began the game by scoring one run in the top of the first. Bill Howard doubled home Onias Carroll for the tally.
 Rutherford's went down in order in their half of the first but Jim Hill made it 4-0 in the second. Huteson issued two free passes, and singles by John Winkler and Onias Carroll were instrumental in the scoring of the runs.

 Leroy Suttle led off the inning with a home run to produce Rutherford's first run in the second. They threatened further in this inning, but could not push across another run.
 In the top of the third Hotel had a heyday. They bented the dish with six runs on a grand total of six hits including a double by Onias Carroll and a triple by Dick Ross. Rutherford's scored their second run in the last of the third. The first two batters received bases on balls, then Reuben Knox scored on two long fly balls.
Jim Hill's Biggest
 The top of the fourth was Jim Hill's biggest inning. Eight big runs crossed the plate on four hits, including extra base blows by Dub Hair, Bill Howard, and Oscar Wylie.
 Rutherford's ran their total to four runs by picking up two in the last of the fourth. Dub Hair received first on an error then scored, as did Tim Corbett when he singled to centerfield, the ball getting by Wylie.
 Leading by 18-4 going into the top of the fifth, Hotel scored seven runs to complete their total of 25 runs.

Rutherford's rounded out scoring with three in the fifth. Duane Albracht, and Leroy Suttle led off with a single and a double. Both scored on Tim Corbett's double. Corbett later scored on Raymond Lueb's long fly.
 Bill Howard led the Hotel with three hits. Leroy Suttle and Tim Corbett led Rutherford's with two hits apiece.
Second Game Mutilation
 Dawn mutilated the Road Knights 17-7 in the second game of the twinbill.
 The Road Knights led off the game with three runs in the first. They drew two walks and a single and a double by Chuck Dillar and Gerald Dillar pushed across the runs.
 Dawn quickly countered with five runs in their half of the first. Jack Burrus and Edd Lemons both doubled after Hagar had walked pushing across two runs. Marvin May then walked and everybody scored on Buck May's circuit blast.
 The Road Knights were blanked in the second but Dean duplicated their first inning output by scoring five more runs in the second. They collected six hits including a double by Harold Robinson and a home run by Edd Lemons.
 The Road Knights scored one run making it 10-4 in the top of the third.
 For the third straight time Dawn

Twirps, Yellow Jackets Leading Junior League

By Billy Paul Knox
 Undefeated Twirps in the 11 and 12 year old division, and the Yellow Jackets with just one loss in the nine and 10 year old division, are now the leaders in the Jaycee sponsored Junior Softball League.
 The nine and 10 year olds play every Wednesday with two games going at once. The 11 and 12 year olds play on Mondays and Fridays also with two games going at once.
 According to Bill Howard, head of the league, plans are now being made for an all star game to be played under the lights at Veteran's Park at the end of the season.
 In the most recent games the Green Hornets, under the management of Ray Bosley, defeated Sam Nelson's Bulldogs 15-9 in a nine and 10 year division game.
 Both teams scored three in the first but the Hornets took the lead with seven runs in the second. They never relinquished this lead and held a steady margin by scoring two in the third, one in the fourth, two in the fifth. The Bulldogs scored one in the third, fourth, and fifth, and two in the

Mending Screens
 If the hole in the screen is small, trim the edges until it is roughly square. Cut a new piece of screening about an inch larger each way than the hole. Pull out several of the wires on each side of the patch and bend so that they stick out at right angles. Place the patch over the hole, push the loose wires through the screen and bend back through the screening until the new piece is firmly in place.

Rust Spots
 If there is rust on steel, cover the spot with sweet oil and rub well, allowing it to remain a few days. Then rub with powdered unslacked lime until the spot is gone.

Oranges
 If oranges are thoroughly dried with a cloth, each one wrapped separately in waxed paper and placed in a box, they will keep for weeks.

Watermelon Stains
 Watermelon stains and also peach stains can be removed from table linen by applying pure glycerine. Leave on the stains for a short time, then wash the article in clear water.

Flour Paste
 Flour paste can be kept for a length of time without it becoming sour, if a few cloves are chopped as fine as possible and added to the paste. This will preserve it.

Sewing Hint
 Instead of basting the sleeves in to a garment, overcast them and they can be more easily stitched in by the machine.

"It is evident the traffic light is contributing to the excessive number of accidents," said K.M. Wilkinson, assistant traffic and planning engineer for the highway department.

Toll Map Told

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP)—The State Highway Department sent a bill for 60 cents to the Town of Greenwich. It covered six trips at 10 cents each made through the Merritt Parkway toll gate by Greenwich police cars and a fire truck responding to emergencies. The highway department said only state-owned vehicles are exempt from the toll. Greenwich officials retorted it's going to be a long time before the town pays the 60 cents.

"It isn't the money; it's the principle of the thing," asserted Greenwich First Selectman C. Carlton Gishorje.

Weather Drama

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Announcer Tom Van Tol was giving a daily newscast over Radio Station WGRD. He was soothing jittery listeners that no tornado threatened the area.

"There is no tornado in this area," he was saying. "I repeat, don't worry, you are in no danger."

Lightning hit the station's transmitter causing a power failure.

A half-hour later the listeners weren't the only nervous persons in Grand Rapids. WGRD's switchboard operators worked up a sweat explaining what happened.

READ THE CLASSIFIEDS

Sentiment Pays Off

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Tech officials have reasons other than the sentimental for liking to hear the school's songs played frequently.

The school owns the copyrights on its alma mater songs, the "Yellow Jacket March" and "Rambling Wreck from Georgia Tech," and uses the income from the copyrights for student programs.

Courteous Thieves

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Jeff Dane, Norfolk television emcee, recently returned to his parked car and found the following note: "Sorry, they wouldn't fit. We would have put them back on but we have to try someone else."

The note, signed by a "Mr. X," was lying in two hubcaps that had been pried off Dane's car and left lying beside the vehicle.

Grand And Parent

LEBANON, Ind. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Commons of near by Hortonville became grandparents and parents on the same day. Their daughter, Mrs. Herbert Holiday, gave birth to a daughter on the same day a son was born to Mrs. Commons.

Flowers Pay Cash

DETROIT—Burglars worked for hours over a safe in a flower shop, but couldn't break it open. Before departing, however, they reached into a flower refrigerator and took some corsages and boxes in which to put them.

Their decision to take flowers, cost the shop $34. The owner explained: "For years I've kept office supplies in the safe and money in a corsage box in the refrigerator."

Free Coffee Lags

ATLANTA (AP)—Restaurateur Ralph Hand wonders if coffee really is as popular as the recent hullabaloo over its price would indicate. For a week he gave away coffee at his restaurant, found many drank tea or milk even though coffee was free and passed out only about 500 cups.

Time To Duck

DAVENPORT, Iowa—An annual rivalry goes on here without decision. The swans in Vander Veer Park lagoon attack the semi-fame ducks which share the pond with them.

The swans presumably are trying to clear a nesting area. But the ducks plunge under water when attacked, swim submerged 19 or 15 feet and come up again out of sight of the attacker.

Brothers Coordinate

MERIDEN, Conn. (AP)—Winslow Chase, 12, was operated on for acute appendicitis. Within a few hours, his brother, Glendon, 15, became ill at a private school 100 miles away and rushed here. He too was operated on for acute appendicitis by the same surgeon and at the same hospital.

Radioactive Credit

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An engineering student and his girl friend had dinner at a restaurant. He discovered he was short of money to pay the bill. After he told the manager his troubles he said, "I'm awfully sorry. If you'll trust me, until tomorrow I'll leave my Geiger counter as security."

Sterile Cows Wasted

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—Penn State University has the wanted sign out for sterile cows. They're wanted by the College of Agriculture's Dairy Breeding Research center for experiments on several breeding projects.

Split in Western Unity Gives Reds a Global Field Day

French May Back China Bid to U.N.

By TOM WHITNEY

Associated Press Foreign Staff Writer

FRANCE, Britain and the United States are proceeding in radically different directions in the field of foreign policy and getting further apart all the time.

Right now, the Western Big Three are disagreeing about more than they agree on.

The French are holding talks in Indochina and Switzerland on a cease-fire in Indo-China. The American State Department wouldn't touch these talks with a ten-foot pole because it knows the whole thing amounts to surrendering Indochina. It's clear the Reds are going to get most of it anyway, and pretty soon too.

It also seems clear that if the French agree to surrender most of Indochina to the Communists they may also agree to recognize the Chinese Communists and support their candidacy for the United Nations.

British Premier Sir Winston Churchill has now made clear that on the China recognition issue and the question of admitting Red China to the U.N., the British flatly disagree with the United States. They want to see Red China seated and will support it soon.

Meanwhile, in the United States some tempers have gotten very hot on this subject. Sen. William Knowland (R-Calif.) has announced he will oppose it and even resign as Senate majority leader in order to carry the issue to the country if need be. Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) has also come out in sharp opposition to admission of Chinese Communists to the U.N.

At his press conference, the President said he was completely opposed to recognition of Red China and its admission to the U.N. But, the President declared, he was not ready to say that if that did happen the United States should withdraw from the U.N.

On Asian matters it is now clear that the Churchill-Eisenhower talks did not result in any real understanding to push a Southeast Asian security pact. The British stand aloof on this effort.

Churchill reported on his attempts to iron out differences in Anglo-American foreign policy at two meetings of the British cabinet. Before going into these sessions, he said, "By trying our best in the United States to make good understandings and solid agreements possible we have not entirely failed but it would be a mistake to think everything could be done all at once."

No Harmony in Europe In Europe also there is little agreement.

The United States and the British have worked out an arrangement on one front—directed against the French. Means are being sought to give the West Germans sovereignty and the right to rearm without French ratification of the European Defense Community agreement.

What the British and the United States may do is to act without the French to restore West German sovereignty. This, if carried out, will amount to a freeze-out of the French from German affairs. It will not make the French any more friendly, but it is precisely what the French have been inviting for a long time.

The British and the United States are said to be hesitating on this step since it gives the possibility—which EDC tried to exclude—of German rearmament's taking forms dangerous to France and other Western European countries.

All this gives an impression that the Western allies against communism are falling apart, but if faced by a real showdown they could easily close ranks once more. In practical day-to-day diplomacy, however, they are likely to be far apart and even on occasion at odds with each other.

Bitter Reaction It is too early, of course, to reach any conclusion as to where Western disunity may lead, but a few observations are possible.

The reaction of the American public when it seizes the full scope and implications of the disagreements is sure to be sharp. There will be a feeling that America has been "deserted" by its allies after they "squeezed" out everything they could get.

If reactions of American Congressmen and the public do take an acute form, then the counter-reactions in Britain and France may turn out to be just as sharp.

All this will further undermine the basis for cooperation among the three large Western powers. In the last analysis, such cooperation continues only while it is wanted by the public of the countries. Many of the disagreements among the Western powers can be understood without much difficulty when looked at sanely and with cold logic.

Will It Sacrifice There are really very few which are insoluble—if there were any willingness on the part of the governments and peoples of the three nations to make further sacrifices and compromises. It is the absence of such willingness which makes the disagreements serious.

And of all the implications of this state of affairs, this is the most obvious: With the United States, Britain and France all going in different directions, the Russian and Chinese Communists are going to have a field day.

With the United States, Britain and France all going in different directions, the Russian and Chinese Communists are going to have a field day.

With the United States, Britain and France all going in different directions, the Russian and Chinese Communists are going to have a field day.

LATEST 'UNDERGROUND' MOVEMENT

President Scores Key Tax Victory

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst

AS the 83rd Congress enters its last weeks its members show more and more that they want the Eisenhower name behind them when they go home in August to face the voters.

The two houses have gotten down to business on the President's list of must-legislation in recent days, and given him an important victory on his tax program. His increasing strength also showed clearly in the fight over farm-legislation, where he was able to split the farm bloc.

The uppermost remaining question, now that a major portion of the administration program is secured, is to get it passed without important compromises, was just how important the program actually would prove in a political way.

Roberts

The administration has made important cuts in spending. It has made considerable though not sensational tax reductions. There can be little doubt of the popularity of these moves. Congress itself—no doubt with an eye to political business, refused to do one highly controversial thing—repeal the Taft-Hartley labor laws. Whether the Republicans can make any hay out of that before frost remains to be seen. Organized labor leaders run from cold to bitter about what the administration wanted, about its refusal to initiate a big spending program when employment began to slack off. The mere fact that the program failed, of ratification does not mollify them, but merely leaves it hanging over their heads. They will be fighting harder than ever in the campaign.

Pros and Cons

Proponents of more balances in labor-management relations are likewise unsatisfied, and so that issue seems to be a loss to the Republicans going and coming.

Final farm legislation seems likely to produce a similar result. Neither producer nor consumer is going to be satisfied. In general, the administration has had enough help from Congress to leave the impression that it wants to be a neat and conservative housekeeper. But the leaders to whom it entrusted its fate on the McCarthy issue turned out to be something less than expert firefighters, and the way they squirmed before they publicly accepted battle, gave the impression of a lack of force in the administration.

There is some question whether issues such as this one, and others involving emotions, such as foreign affairs, may not disprove the President's contention that his legislative program would have to provide the major party plank in November.

Shift to 'Easy' Money

Beyond a shadow of a doubt the administration is going to get wide credit for flexibility and good management because, after it had adopted a "hard" money policy to stop inflation, it quickly shifted to "easy" money to counter the recession. Good times are going to be mighty important next fall.

The political value of the more highly controversial matters like the farm program cannot be all on one side. Things

Fabulous Film

"Martin Luther" has become the most successful movie ever turned out by a religious body. Fourteen months after its release, it is still going strong. This week, directors of Lutheran Church Productions, Inc., disclosed that more than 10 million Americans have seen the picture so far at showings in 3,000 theaters across the continent. This is a record for a church-backed film.

There were these other developments concerning the full-length film biography of the leader of the Protestant Reformation: Twentieth Century-Fox, a Hollywood motion picture company, announced it has signed a three-year contract for releasing the picture in 33 countries and territories where it has not been seen. Lutheran Church Productions, Inc., the agency formed by six Lutheran branches to handle the picture, voted repayment of the full $500,000 investment originally made by the six churches.

INDIA: Job Controversy

Gandhi's Legacy

NEW DELHI—A Ford Foundation report, prepared at the request of the Indian government, has stirred a controversy over the best way to spur Indian industry. The report suggests ways in direct contradiction to a theory held by the late Mahatma K. Gandhi that Indian prosperity depended on simple village industries where the cottage would dominate the factory.

Some economists in the governing Congress party argue that the report is of little practical use to India in its present stage of development and that Ford experts tend to judge Indian conditions by American standards.

The heart of the dispute is what Indians call "rationalization." This process seeks to balance industrialization with a cottage and village crafts economy. Spinning Wheel Economy Gandhi sought to set the example for what came to be called "a spinning wheel economy" by working daily at a spinning wheel. The wooden implement became a symbol of India's fight for freedom from British rule.

Under rationalization, industry will be modernized only where large numbers of persons will not be put out of work, even temporarily. Village crafts, such as cottage weavers, would be favored over large textile mills if it means employment for more persons.

However, economic theorists are divided over the questions of the amount of modernization needed and the prospective employment power of big industry. Rationalization has stirred opposition of some labor leaders, who fear factories will be equipped with new labor-saving equipment resulting in reduction of the work force.

Large textile manufacturers reply that they must re-equip their mills with new looms if their products are to compete with textiles of Japan and Britain. Ford experts say fears of unemployment stem from the belief modernization is an overnight process. Instead, they say, it is "a relatively slow evolutionary process which takes years and which India should accelerate."

Workers displaced by improved methods should be shifted to new jobs created by the modernization process, the report says. It adds: "Any temporary unemployment should be absorbed by setting in motion a challenging public works program."

GUATEMALA: New Course

Reds Rejected

Guatemala no longer can be called a "Red beachhead" in the Western Hemisphere. The new military government has turned its back on the Communist world and will cultivate a "good neighbor" policy closer to home. The announcement was made by Col. Efraim Monzon and Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, top leaders of the five-man junta. They said their administration would reverse policies of ex-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman and cut off all dealings with the Soviet Union and its Iron Curtain allies.

He said the government was particularly anxious to prosecute as "criminals" Arbenz, former Foreign Minister Guillermo Torriello and former police chiefs Rogelio Cruz Wer and Jaime Rosenberg.

Cruz Wer and Rosenberg already have fled to Mexico. Arbenz and Torriello were refugees in the Mexican Embassy in Guatemala City.

The colonels announced they would suspend the national land law, under which Arbenz cut up and redistributed large land holdings, until a new constitution is drafted. They stressed, however, that public works projects started under the old regime would be continued and social gains consolidated.

The junta froze property and assets of leaders of the Arbenz regime. Another decree barred voting by illiterates. About 70 per cent of Guatemala's three million people cannot read or write.

The dawn-to-dusk curfew was lifted in the capital. Anti-Communist demonstrations were held throughout the country but Red agitation and Communist-incited peasant uprisings also were reported continuing in some sections.

The United States dispatched nearly four tons of surgical dressings by chartered plane for treatment of those wounded in the 12-day civil war. There has been no official compilation of the war casualties but informed sources estimated that probably more than 400 were killed.

Sidelights

In Columbus, Ohio, a private patrolman hired to guard 11 stores was arrested on a charge of looting them. Detectives said he admitted stealing merchandise over a seven-year period because he wanted to open a store of his own someday.

At Lake Placid, N. Y., Arthur Tinkle of Chicago won the Fourth of July ski jumping championship of 1954 with a leap of 112 feet after two railroad carloads of ice had been chopped up and spread over jumping area.

Popularity of Japanese women with American servicemen apparently is no passing fad—some 1,500 have married them this year. There were nearly 3,000 such marriages last year.

In Boone, N. C., J. M. B. Johnson, student of human psychology, tried to give away 10 crisp one dollar bills by offering one to every pedestrian on a street corner. He gave up after only 3 of 23 men and women accepted. "It was very discouraging," Johnson said. "Humans don't trust each other anymore."

Off St. Petersburg, Fla., the master of a party fishing boat lost a seven-hour battle with a 45-foot whale shark which broke a thick manila rope after towing the boat 18 miles.

In Los Angeles, Mike, a year-old parrot, likes to lug home bones and old shoes which he offers his owner William Collick. Recently the dog carried home in his mouth a tiny egg from nearby Echo Park Lake. Collick's wife put the egg in a warm box over a water heater and this week it hatched out—a black and yellow duckling.

Quotes

Evangelist Billy Graham, returning from a tour abroad: "I feel that a spiritual awakening in Europe might save us from a third world war. I can't put into words the hunger of those people for God. For me, this is the golden hour of the Church."

Vice President Nixon: "Every Communist dictator must sleep more uneasily because one Communist government (Guatemala) has been overthrown."

Red Ups & Downs

The wartime commander of the Red Air Force, dismissed in disgrace by Premier Stalin in 1946, has been brought back from Siberia and restored to his former rank by Stalin's heirs.

And Stalin's son, Lt. Gen. of Aviation Vasily Stalin, is no longer commander of the air force in the Moscow Military District. Gen. Stalin was shifted elsewhere. His present post is unknown.

The officer broken by the late Premier Stalin is Chief Marshal of Aviation Alexander Novikov. Novikov had been a marshal of aviation in early 1944. He later became commander in chief of the Soviet Air Force but in early 1946 he disappeared.

Later it was learned he had fallen from grace, been arrested for embezzlement and sentenced to a long term in Siberian labor camps. It appeared, however, the formal charge may have been a pretext to cover up an essentially political quarrel over independence of the Red Air arm.

It was believed Novikov had favored a separate and independent air force and that Stalin was against this. After Novikov's removal, the Air Force was subordinated to the Red Army and Navy.

Novikov's successor as commander in chief was Marshal Verzhin in under whom the star of Stalin's son rose rapidly. Shortly after Stalin's death, Verzhin was replaced by Marshal of Aviation Pavel Zhigarev.

The Soviet Air Force seems to have recovered some of the independence which Stalin was so anxious to strip from it.

There was no immediate clue to the effect on other industrial wage agreements. Best guess was that union negotiators would be encouraged to place more stress on better pension and insurance deals, less on across-the-board wage increases.

One thing seemed certain: Higher prices would stick. Steel-hungry manufacturers coming into the market in the fall would have no alternative but to pay them.

Price Boosts

Steel consumers took a good, hard look this week at new price lists announced by major steel producers. There were few indignant howls.

The price boosts—averaging $3 a ton or 2 1/2 per cent—were pretty much what had been expected.

Some steel users questioned the wisdom of raising prices at a time of shrinking markets for many consumer items made of steel. But Clifford Hood, president of trend-setting United States Steel Corp., said the price boosts did not fully take into account the increased wage, insurance and pension benefits granted the CIO.

Cost to Be Absorbed Would the latest round of steel wage-price hikes touch off an inflationary spiral?

The odds seemed against it. Producers of consumer goods—fighting a bargain-conscious buyers' market—said they hoped to absorb the higher cost themselves. The increases were expected to add 20 cents to the cost of making a refrigerator containing 100 pounds of steel—$6 to $7 to the production cost of a medium-priced auto.

There was no immediate clue to the effect on other industrial wage agreements. Best guess was that union negotiators would be encouraged to place more stress on better pension and insurance deals, less on across-the-board wage increases.

One thing seemed certain: Higher prices would stick. Steel-hungry manufacturers coming into the market in the fall would have no alternative but to pay them.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. What can be done for excessive perspiration under the arms?

A. Wash or bathe the parts daily, and after washing apply a lotion consisting of two or more teaspoons of powdered alum to one pint of water twice daily. Follow this with a dusting powder of one ounce boric acid and 10 to 20 grains salicylic acid. Great relief is often afforded by the use of this powder alone.

Q. How can I freshen stale bread?

A. By wrapping it in a wet cloth, leaving it for a minute, then removing the cloth and baking in a slow oven for 15 to 30 minutes.

Q. How can I kill crickets or drive out ants?

A. Put some cucumber peel, cut into thin strips, on the floor at night near their haunts.

Q. How can I keep flies and other insects away from freshly painted surfaces?

A. By mixing a little bay oil (lavender oil) with the oil paint. Or, place a receptacle containing this oil in the vicinity of the painted objects. The pungent odor will keep off the flies.

Q. How can I make better-flavored fruit jellies?

A. Do not forget, when making jellies, to use fruits and berries that are under-ripe rather than over-ripe. This will insure better consistency and flavor.

Q. How can I remove mildew from white linen?

A. Boil the linen in water to which two tablespoonfuls of peroxide have been added to each quart of water.

Q. How can I protect the lower part of the walls in the basement?

A. When painting the basement floor, let the paint extend about 10 inches above the floor. This will be a protection to the lighter colored walls when the floor is mopped.

Q. How can I make chilled consommé?

A. Good chilled consommé can be made of canned chicken or beef broth if a little gelatin is added. Allow to stand until cold and firm.

Q. How can I remove pencil marks from fabrics?

A. Try to remove them with an art gum eraser.

Q. How can I prevent having blistered heels?

A. Blisters on the heels, caused by shoes slipping, can be prevented by rubbing paraffin or soap on the stockings. This will stop the slipping.

Q. How can I restore the color that has been destroyed by white wash?

A. By washing the surface immediately in strong vinegar.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Williams left Tuesday morning to return to their home in Rome, Ga. With them were their children Bobby Todd and Judy. Mrs. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Millard, 505 N. Lawton, had been visiting her parents with the Williams for the past two weeks. Williams arrived Sunday. They were planning to stop in Paris, Tex., en route to Georgia.

-and only a few dollars more than the low-price cars!

HAVE you been thinking you can't afford a new Buick? Listen: If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick - and a look at the figure on the price tag proves it.

Look again, and you'll see that this is the local delivered price of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan. Compare, and you'll learn that this price is just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three."

But - dig a little deeper if you want the real clincher. That's when you find that those few dollars more you pay for a Buick buy you a lot more automobile.

They buy a whale of a lot more power - Buick V8 power - plus the new economy of Power-Head combustion.

They buy a lot more luxury and comfort and solidity - more room, more glass area, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness - including the million dollar "feel" of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability.

They buy, too, the most advanced styling of the time, and the great panoramic windshield, and the surety that such fresh-looking beauty will stay in the style parade for seasons to come. (That means a better deal for you come resale time.)

Is it any wonder, then, that Buick now outsells all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Ambition Is Basis Of U. S. Progress

Who wants to be average? "No one in America", you could once truthfully say. From infancy on through childhood and into adult life, most Americans were possessed with a driving ambition to be exceptional or outstanding. They lived, strived and worked to be just a little bit better. This was true in business, in social affairs, in major sports and on down to the golf game after working hours.

National achievement, however, has always been measured in averages and in these averages lie our nation's great Twentieth Century achievement and progress. The "average American" has a bath tub, a telephone, electric lights, an automobile and scores of other modern conveniences. We even measure the golf course par in averages. Texas Technological College recently released a basic economic survey of West Texas which, along with 95 other counties, describes the resident of Deaf Smith County as follows:

The county showed 9,111 residents, 1950 census. This was an increase of 50.4 percent over the 1940 census. There were 4,714 men and 4,397 women, leaving a surplus of 517 males. Of the total 9,111 were 117 foreign-born residents, four of the 9,111 were Negroes. The average age of all residents was 26.1 years and those over 25 years of age had completed 10.7 years of school work. The county was listed with a labor force of 3,421 persons and a total of 2,355 families. Average income per family was shown to be $3,058.

Needless to say, being average in Deaf Smith county indicates far more culture, achievement and comfort than the national average of the United States. The U. S. average, on the other hand, compares to the very few wealthier families in other nations over the world.

Through this driving ambition to be above average, America has created a national economic average which approaches a point of near impossibility. It has, at the same time, drawn sharp criticism, jokes and sarcasm from other people in scores of civilization levels. Some insist that we do not know how to "enjoy life", others point to us as "those dollar-crazy Americans."

Whether for good or for bad, the fact remains that we are beginning to agree with our critics. More and more often do we hear people say: "Money isn't everything". A general program of arts and sciences in our schools and colleges stresses "enjoyment of life" above piling up wealth. Year by year, the "Forty Hour Week" is creeping down from city levels into small towns and rural areas. Vacations, travel and recreation have made tourists a multi-million dollar business in America. High taxes, in many instances, have eliminated incentive for big business, small business — even for the worker who once wanted over-time hours.

The change, apparent on every hand, is strictly a social one. As we said, it may be good, or it may be bad. The answer definitely depends upon one's point of view. However, it does present some good questions. Will this change of outlook affect the average American's economic status? Will it cause stream-lined mass production to sooner or later crumble from lack of incentive? Will it result in class levels as seen in England? Will our massive public schools someday be replaced with private tutors, such as you frequently find in the countries of South America?

It is difficult to visualize the average home in America without a bath tub but, only a generation ago, the situation did exist. It was the driving ambition of the American people which actually created our present day state of civilization. Now that many Americans are becoming satisfied, even coasting on past efforts, we cannot help but wonder just what the final outcome will be.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Jail Might Stop Most Speeding And Something Should Be Done

Putting speeders in jail helped hold down the traffic toll in Louisiana to one death over the July 4th holiday. Would you favor a similar method of enforcement in Texas to hold down the number of traffic deaths?

COLLINE BROWN

"I think that people that drive while drinking do a lot more harm than those people that speed. If anything is done, I think that it should be a stricter enforcement of the law to arrest people who drive while drinking."

O. J. REMLING

"I suppose that something like arresting speeders would help more than anything else that could be done. It would certainly help more than fines. Lots of people would rather pay a fine than slow down."

MRS. E. A. FULLWOOD

"I certainly do think that a similar method of enforcement should be effective in Texas. I think that it is the only thing that is going to stop speeders. The sooner they start the enforcement the more lives they will save."

H. V. FIELDS

"I don't believe that I would like to go on record as saying that speeders should be put in jail. However, I do think that some means should be taken to cut down on the number of traffic deaths."

MRS. E. L. CARPENTER

"I believe my answer to that question would be yes. If the people were put in jail then they might realize how fully they are breaking the law and realize that they will be punished."

CALVIN EDWARDS

"I surely would be in favor of a similar method of enforcement in Texas. When a person is out on the highway there is so much slow moving traffic that if you are going too fast you cannot stop in time to avoid a collision with one of the slower moving vehicles. I think that speed in slow traffic causes a great number of our wrecks and deaths."

IRENE EDWARDS

"I don't think that people should be put in jail, however, I think that something should be done about the increasing number of traffic deaths."

AUSTIN — Texas' campaign trails are sizzling as figures in the quest for the state's top political job enter the speech-making home stretch.

Governor Allan Shivers' bid for re-election was boosted by the announcement of State Senator A.M. Alkin that he would support the governor.

Alkin, champion of public education and co-author of the Gilmer-Alkin laws, said he has never doubted the sincerity, integrity, or ability of the governor.

In a string of campaign speeches broken by a brief personal visit to the Rio Grande flood area and disaster areas, Shivers:

1. Charged that opponent Ralph Yarborough does not have the interest of the state's old people at heart. The governor said that his opponent has "never lifted a finger to help increase old-age assistance," but has worked to boost pensions for retired judges.

2. Received support from an Austin union barber who said that charges made against the governor in a Corpus Christi labor convention were "unjust." G. O. Eddleman said that the governor had always been helpful to the laboring people and that the "anti-labor" accusation brought against Shivers was the work of labor's "would-be bosses."

3. Reiterated his stand against changes in segregation laws and hit out at Yarborough for "mud-slinging."

4. Cited industrial gains and the fact that more people are working and making more money in Texas than ever before. "Is this what Yarborough wants to change?" Shivers inquired.

Yarborough Busy Candidate Yarborough continued his campaign, aided by a chartered airplane that shuttled him to more than 30 towns for brief speeches.

He promised to "clean out" the Texas Insurance Commission if elected.

He also demanded an audit of the books of John Van Cronkhite, a former Shivers campaign manager whose name came up in the bankruptcy case of Lloyd's of North America.

Yarborough declared a "third" third terms, saying that "when politicians become fixtures their cronies become fixers."

The candidate promised an administration dedicated to quick aid for farmers and ranchers, better roads and highways, better schools, and expanded veterans land, health, and state welfare programs.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL CONTRACTED

The contract for a new elementary school at Anton was awarded to Hammock Brothers construction company of Lubbock. The company placed the low bid of $146,200.

The contract was let by the school board after opening and comparing the bids. The new building will consist of eight classrooms, a cafeteria and offices. Architects were the Lubbock firm of Atcheson and Atkinson. County Wids News.

FIRST CARSON WHEAT

F. A. Metcalf won a $100 cash prize Friday, June 25, by bringing in the first load of 1954 wheat to be delivered to a Carson County elevator. The 96-bushel load was cut on the Metcalf farm 12 miles southwest of Conway and was delivered to Conway Wheat Growers. The load averaged 60 pounds per bushel. Metcalf said his harvest averaged approximately 15 bushels per acre. The Texas News.

BRIDGE REOPENED

The Duck Creek bridge on Texas Highway 70 about two miles east of Spur, which was washed out by high waters on May 22, has been repaired and was opened to traffic June 30.

Two complete spans of the bridge washed out during the Duck Creek rage. The work has been done by Highway Department crews while traffic has been detoured 12 miles around Spur. The Texas Spur.

QUICK BUSINESS

Two Panhandle boys, Glenn Axe and Randy Warren, got in the fireworks business June 24, and out the same day.

They took fireworks on consignment from a Pampa man and opened a stand west of Homen's Cafe on Highway 60 during the afternoon.

About 11 o'clock that night a high school boy customer accidentally turned a Roman candle into the stand and set it afire. In a short time $210 worth of fireworks and the stand burned up, including the day's receipts.

The two boys were standing outside the stand and no one was injured. In a short time scores of persons gathered to see the blaze. As the stand was outside the city limits, the fire department did not make a run. The Panhandle Herald.

BUILDING WORK SOARS

Commercial and residential building in Dimmitt during June soared to what is believed the highest mark ever attained during one month, according to City Secretary E. B. Noble. Total construction for the month just past was valued by Noble at $246,050.

The bulk of this unusually large figure will go into two commercial projects — a $125,000 grain elevator and a $100,000 grain storage project. Castro County News.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has another idea he won't get anywhere with, but he never stops trying.

Dear editor:

I don't know much about politics or politicians either, and my forecast on how any election is gonna come out is about as dependable as a Russian promisory note. Also, I have never understood why people run for office when there's anything else to do, although there must be some good reasons as nearly every office that's available, there's always somebody willing to run for it.

And also, the reasons candidates give why they ought to be elected have always appealed to me, I sort of keep a mental scrapbook of them, and the other day I was pleased to add a new one.

This candidate, according to a statement I read in a newspaper which drifted in here on a dry wind, said he ought to be elected because, as he phrased it, "you haven't heard too much about me."

According to him, not having heard about a man is a strong recommendation, in these days of investigations, and he may have a point, as I'll admit the less you know about some candidates the more you might be in favor of em.

But what I'd like to see is this system applied to other endeavors, not just limited to politics. For example, if banks would make loans on the same basis, all a man would have to do to swing one would be to find a bank that never had heard of him, and with the number of banks there are in this country, I figure I could operate for years without ever once been turned down.

This idea of investigating a man thoroughly before extending him credit is what keeps more money from circulating, is what keeps merchandise sittin on store shelves instead of windin up in homes where it was intended.

What this country needs is to get away from this eternal suspiciousness back to where a man's word, if it ain't as good as his bond, is at least good for a television set on credit.

I doubt if this candidate I mentioned is gonna win, don't see how he can if nobody ever heard of him, but he has hit on an idea which certainly would help some people if it was applied universally by banks and stores. It would help me if it was applied just in a ten-mile radius for one week.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

County Audit

We are frequently asked why no reports are being published on the County Audit, now in progress.

In view of the fact that no official reports have been made, the answer seems simple. It is also probable that no reports will be made until the audit is completed.

Meanwhile, a reputable firm of accountants is busy doing the job. Upon completion, a full report will be made to the Commissioners' Court and placed in the County Records. Contents of the report will be published in The Brand. Auditors, after all, stake their reputation upon the accuracy of their findings and, we feel, should be given a free hand to pursue their work.

So long as the public gets audited reports, we feel that there is little room for complaint. On the other hand, it appears that such audits should be made annually in order that the people may fully understand where their money goes in the operation of public affairs. Current interest in the present audit definitely indicates such a desire on the part of the general public.

Misery loves company, especially in the pea patch where we've been hoeing goateads. Since Buster has joined us it doesn't seem to take half as long to make a sound as it used to but there is a big difference at the end of the day. We need a chain hoist to lift us out of a chair while he is still ready for a romp with his dog.

We didn't know until the other day that anything but dry weather ever got the best of a weed but we certainly received a nice surprise when we went down to look at the peas to see if the careless was too big to cover up with the cultivators. We had to look twice to believe our eyes — they had been eaten completely up by worms and looked as dead as if a fire had hit them. We repeat we just couldn't believe our eyes because up to now they haven't hurt the peas.

People who have had experience with the worms say they eat cotton and also notice a little damage at the bottom of the maize but not enough to hurt it yet if they don't get too greedy.

BOTTOMS UP! A Last Drink - A Last Drive The party's over—Bottoms Up! Let's get going! For thousands of men and women—children and pedestrians, too—that has been the beginning of the end. On the highway at night, where the road curved and the hazy driver drove straight ahead, there was another "Bottoms Up!" and the end of the last drive. It's hard to convince a person who has had a few drinks that he shouldn't drive. Alcoholic stimulation engenders a false confidence in his ability. In reality, his reactions have slowed down, his perception and judgment lowered—driving alertness gone. In a later stage the road blurs, lights blind as he fights drowsiness, loses control. Seldom is he endangering his life alone. He is also endangering the lives of those traveling with him and others on the streets and highways. In 35 states 166,179 drivers lost their licenses in 1952 for drinking and driving. Thirty-five per cent of all revocations are brought against drinking drivers. If you have been drinking, either let someone else drive, leave your car and call a taxi, or stay where you are until your senses clear. Stay off the road! Don't kid yourself into a "Bottoms Up" drive—it can be fatal! SLOW DOWN—LIVES ARE IN YOUR HANDS! Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. What is a good exercise for reducing a "bulging tummy"?

A. Lie on back, arms at sides. Without giving yourself any sort of boost with hands or arms, raise head, back and shoulders, slowly off the floor. Hold them at a 45-degree angle for a few seconds, then very gradually lower them back to floor. Repeat as often as you can — and regularly every day. It's a very effective exercise.

Q. What are the best powders for the various types of skin?

A. A dry skin takes a light powder; a normal skin takes a medium powder; and an oily skin, because of its high shine, requires a powder of heavy covering power.

Q. How can I treat dry and callused feet?

A. Rub them nightly with olive oil and wear short hose to bed. Then rub them lightly with pumice stone after a hot bath.

Q. How should I take care of my cuticles?

A. Rub a good cuticle cream into them at least once weekly, and never, never dig at the cuticle with a sharp instrument. Push it back with a soft towel or an orange stick wrapped in cotton, and now and then give it a workout with a good liquid cuticle remover. Curb the urge to nip it with a scissors, or it will grow in tough, uneven and ugly.

Q. What is the most flattering hairstyle for the diamond-shaped face, that is, narrow forehead, broad jaw line, narrow chin?

A. Keep the fullness of your hair above and below the ears, and dress the hair snugly at the cheek line. This will reduce the width across the cheekbones.

Q. How can I minimize freckles on my face with my makeup?

A. A darker shade of face powder, blended with the freckles, helps.

Q. Is alcohol helpful in getting rid of facial pimples?

A. Yes. It has a tendency to dry up the pimples, and also will serve as a disinfectant.

Q. What should one do before applying powder to an oily skin?

A. After washing the face in warm water, rinsing in cold, gently pat on the following lotion and allow it to dry. Wipe hazel four ounces, boric acid one teaspoonful, orange flower water two ounces, simple tincture of benzoin 10 drops. Shake well, and apply with a clean pad of absorbent cotton.

Q. How can I mix a good, quick mouth rinse at home?

A. Dissolve one teaspoon of salt and a pinch of baking soda in a pint of water. This makes a very pleasant and effective mouth rinse.

Q. What is a quick, mild and safe bleach of superfluous hair on the upper lip?

A. Lemon juice is often effective for this purpose.

Let's Cook Something

Unhurried Atmosphere Offers Relaxation At Buffet Supper

A buffet supper with a few close friends is a wonderful way to entertain. It is an easy and graceful way to enjoy your friends who will appreciate the unhurried, friendly way of serving.

By keeping the menu simple, the table appointments may also be simple. There can be no set rule for a buffet supper and the hostess may use bright colored pottery or even some of the attractive paper dishes now on the market. The informal setting also furnishes a keynote to the rest of the evening's entertainment whether it be bridge, canasta or watching television.

The menu usually includes a main dish, a salad, dessert and a drink. Cold cuts may make up the main dish or a more elaborate salad may be used with dainty sandwiches.

Tasty Tuna Salad

There are many delectable ways of being tuna fish, and Mrs. Frank Gyles knows just how to make a wonderful tuna salad that fits in with almost any menu. Here is how she does it.

- 1 large can tuna
 - 1 package lemon Jello
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 1 cup white sauce
 - 1 small jar pimientos
 - 6 hard boiled eggs
 - salad dressing
- Dissolve Jello in 1 cup hot water. Mix tuna with white sauce, to which the lemon juice has been added, and then add to dissolved Jello. Add cut up pimientos and pour in oblong Pyrex dish and allow to congeal.

Remove yolks from the hard-boiled eggs and put through ricer. Then put the egg whites through ricer. Coat the jelled mixture in Pyrex dish with mayonnaise and sprinkle with rice egg yolks, then with rice egg whites. Add the remaining half of egg yolks and top with the remaining whites (there should be two layers of eggs). Place in refrigerator until ready to serve. Cut in strips or squares.

Q. How can I prevent soreness when using a sunburn salve?

A. Before spreading the salve on sunburn stand the jar or tube in warm water and the salve will soften. It will be easy to apply and will not irritate the sunburn.

Q. How can I remove grease stains from leather?

A. Use spirits of sal ammoniac. Dab the spots carefully, allow to remain for a short time, then wash in clear water.

Q. How can I clean the burners on a gas stove?

A. A new pipe cleaner is excellent for cleaning out burner holes, or pick them open with a large pin and use the vacuum cleaner to take out the particles of dirt. Wash with boiling hot soapsuds to remove grease.
