Around Town

Quite a few arguments developed Saturday morning as to whether it rained Friday night. It did. The total was recorded at .14 in Hereford. The shower, added to .62 the Friday before, and .04 Sunday, brings the total to eight-tenths of an inch for the period.

Rev. James A. Aiken, former pastor of The Presbyterian Church will fill the pulpit here Sunday in the absence of Rev. Russell Wingert, who is on vacation. Rev. Aiken was accompanied by Mrs. Aiken and their daughters.

J. B. Elliston was all excited Friday. He says he saw a humming bird near his home. "It's the first one I have seen in 40 years," he avows, and says that was back in Central Texas. He wants to know if the climate is changing in this country.

Lee Benefield is looking for someone who can tell him when to dig Johnson grass in the "dark of the moon". In fact, Lee would like to know just what specific period is considered as the "dark of the moon". He says the almanac shows several dark nights and he is sure there must be some special time. Can anyone help him? He isn't kidding. He is dead serious. If you can't get Lee, leave the information at The Brand office. We'd like to know ourselves.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hedrick returned Wednesday from Dallas, where they have been since last Sunday. Mr. Hedrick was transacting business during the trip. He also looked over those big, new bank buildings, visited with some of the bankers and, whether it has any connection or not, is installing a complete new roof on the First National Bank building in Hereford this week.

Ripe pears at this time of year in Hereford might not be too much of an oddity, but a tree that has both ripe pears and blooms is. A tree of this type is located just south of town on the H. H. Buss place, according to a report from Jess Ford.

Walcott School Plans Reviewed

Walcott School will open the morning of August 30 at 9 o'clock, according to Thomas A. Collins, principal, who said that preparations have been completed for the coming term. He added that all enrollment and issuing of books will be taken care of that morning.

The lunch room will not be opened until August 31, due to the fact that school will only continue until 11 o'clock the first day. The Parent-Teachers Association will hold regular meetings on the first and third Friday nights. The meeting for Friday, September 8, will be "Get Acquainted Evening". Everyone is invited to attend, Mr. Collins said.

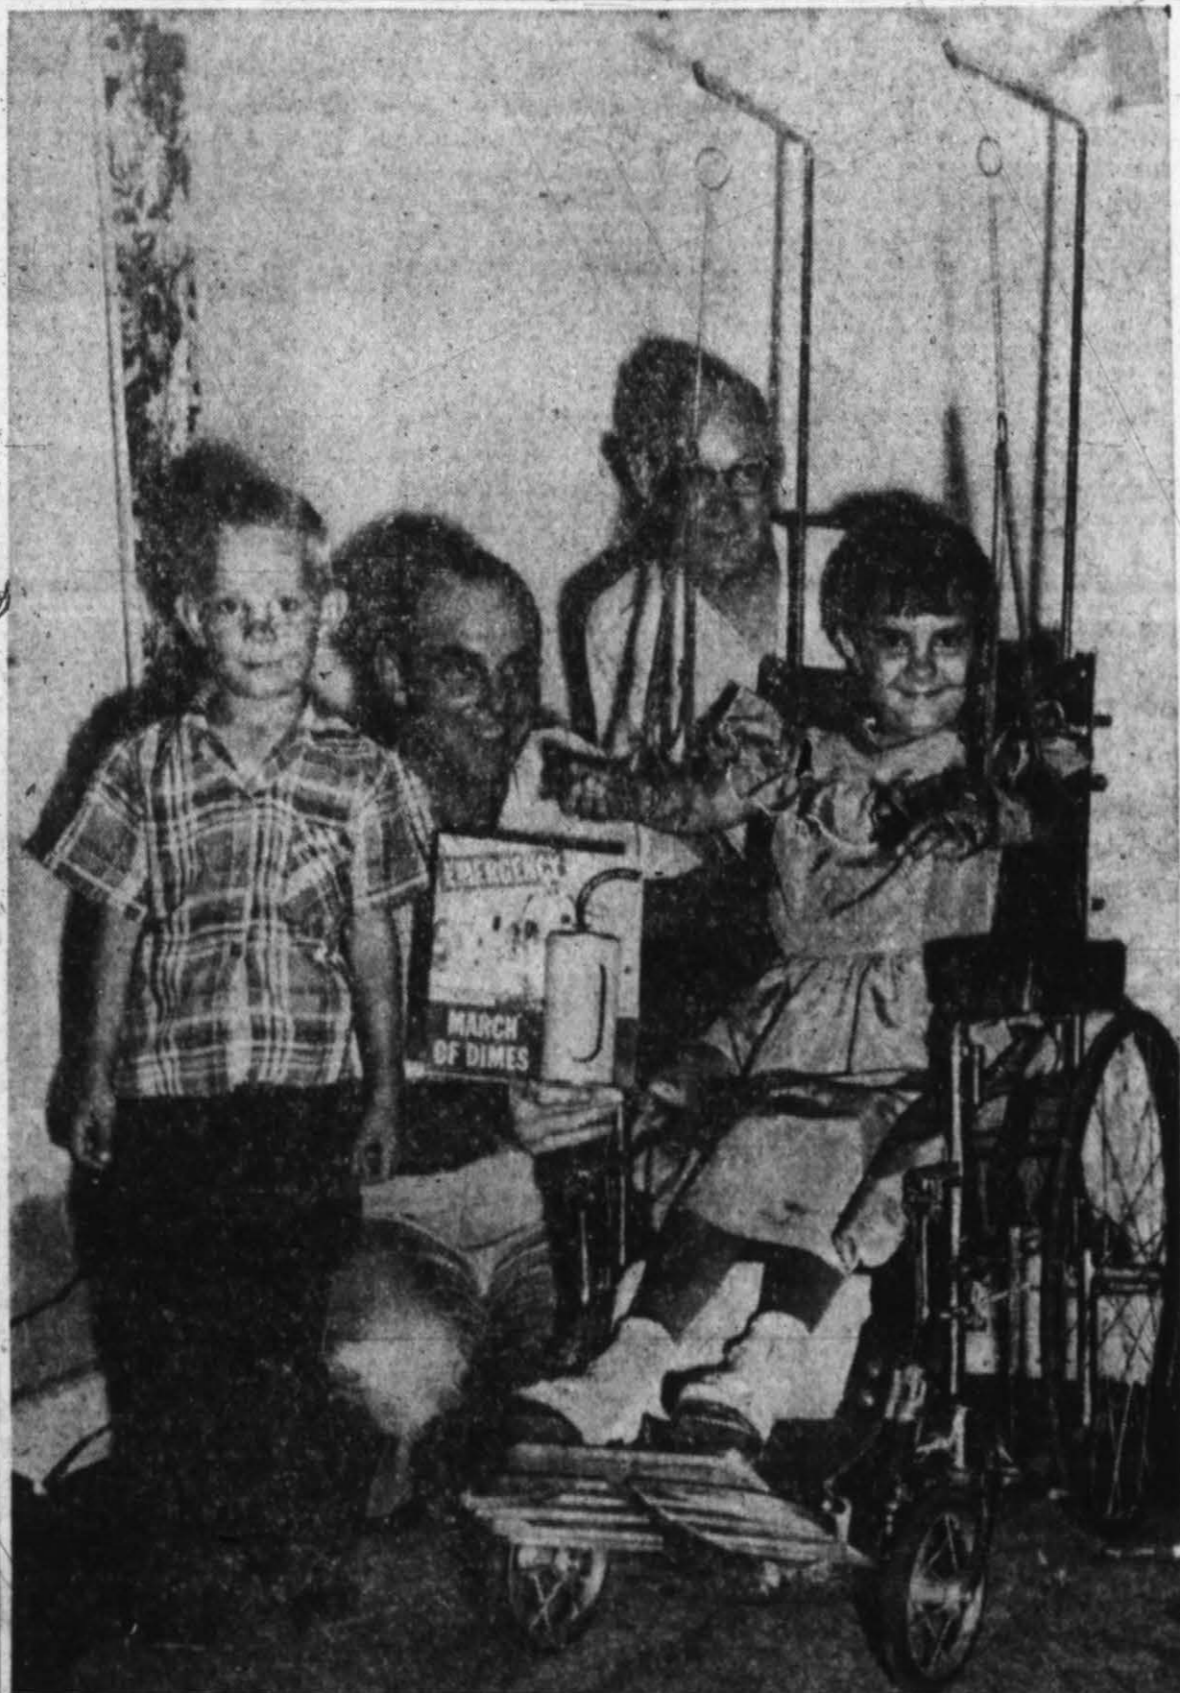

Coffee Prices Drop 10-Cents A Pound; Tea Sales Are 'Up'

Coffee prices dropped 10 cents a pound in most Hereford food stores this week. Retailers said the decrease was due to price cuts on the wholesale level—and that the entire amount is being passed on to the consumer.

The new price level leaves popular brands of coffee ranging from $1.21 to $1.25 per pound which, according to many housewives is still "pretty high". Some people attributed the reduction in price to a nation-wide "slow down" on coffee sales; other attributed it to changes in exchange value between U. S. and South American dollars.

"There has not been enough time to tell if the 10-cent price cut will improve sales," said retailers interviewed. They agreed, however, that sales on coffee have dropped sharply on over-all consumption during recent months.

"Tea sales," said local retailers, "are the highest in local history."

MORE EFFORT THAN MOST was required when nine-year-old Carolyn Osborn made her contribution to the Emergency March of Dimes this week, but the smile on her face tells more than words how little Carolyn feels about the polio drive. Stricken by polio in December, 1951, she stayed in an Iron Lung five and one-half months and, since that time, has been confined to her wheel chair. Close, chairman for the emergency drive, are standing beside Carolyn with the container. Dennis, her seven-year-old brother, was also stricken by polio and remained in an Iron Lung for three months. He is greatly improved, however, and suffers only slight results in his left arm. The Osborns came to Hereford from Denver last year and reside just south of the railroad crossing on Highway 51, across west from the golf course.

Hereford Polio Victims Aid In Emergency Drive

Mrs. Vernon Osborn never had polio—but two of her children had it—and today, Mrs. Osborn probably has more actual knowledge of the accomplishments, the possibilities and the actual good which comes from the March of Dimes than does any other person in this vicinity.

She sums it up like this: "Just tell me, I'll do anything for the National Foundation." The Osborns, who now reside just north of the Santa Fe crossing on Highway 51, were living in Denver when their little six-year-old daughter, Carolyn, was stricken with polio in December of 1951. Things were terrible, of course, but when Denny, age four, later became a victim of the same dread disease, Mrs. Osborn wondered sometimes if she would be able to continue.

"It Costs A Lot," said Mrs. Osborn. "We had polio insurance," said Mrs. Osborn. "We never really expected to use it, but, for some reason, we took out the policy. It helped, too—a lot, during six months before it was gone—but I had no idea, absolutely no idea, how much it costs to handle a polio case."

Little Carolyn stayed in an Iron Lung for five and one-half months. Denny also went into the Iron Lung, but only for three months. Following removal from the "Lung", both children went into the hospital for treatment, followed by physical therapy and occupational therapy.

"These are wonderful," said Mrs. Osborn, "and the best thing is that they trained me to continue giving the exercises to the children at home."

Denny has practically recovered now. He soomers, plays and can run about just like the next fel-

Says Spray Kills Ladybugs, Drives Flies Into House

"You can't please everybody!" The old saying was driven home this week to City Employees who recently stepped up the city-wide spraying campaign as a result of numerous telephone calls requesting the service.

Frank Barber, apparently somewhat of a nature lover, saw the thing in a different light, however.

"The blankety-blank spray killed every ladybug on my place—and got the only four black beetles left," wailed Frank, then, to clinch things, he added: "Besides that, it doesn't kill flies. It merely chases them into the house."

Expansion Plan Will Double Size Of Harman's Store

Excavation work got underway this week on an expansion program which will more than double the present floor space of Harman's department store, located in the Norton Building, 339 N. Main.

The present 90-foot building is being extended 50 feet to the alley and, when completed, will feature a 25x50 foot shoe department, located approximately three feet below ground level. Above the shoe department will be a mezzanine floor, exactly the same size, which will house a modern ready-to-wear department and lounge for the store.

Stairways to both new departments will be constructed of red brick and the accessory trim will be made in black wrought iron, carrying out a modern design for the entire two-units. New lighting fixtures will also be installed, along with new fixtures in both departments. The shoe section will be floored with tile and the mezzanine will be carpeted.

The present portion of the store will remain on its present floor level, S. L. Harman Jr., said. However, additional space provided in re-location of ready-to-wear and shoes will enable the store to

DE Program Will Start Fifth Year

Approximately 32 students will be included in the Distributive Education classes here this year, according to J. C. Reese, instructor, who said today that merchants wishing to employ students under the program might contact him and outline their needs.

The coming semester will inaugurate Hereford's fifth year in the DE program, which includes vocational training in retail, wholesale and service selling. Last year, 33 students were included in the program when school closed with student employees found in as many businesses scattered throughout town. Many continued with the same firms this summer.

Dowdy Draws Four Years On Guilty Plea At Farwell

Paul Dowdy, Benton Harbor, Mich., was sentenced to four years in the State Penitentiary Wednesday, when he plead guilty and threw himself on the mercy of the District Court at Farwell.

Dowdy was driver of a heavy truck which, July 1, collided with a passenger car driven by Mrs. Gabe Anderson, Jr., of Bovina on Highway 58—between Farwell and Bovina. Killed in the accident were Mrs. A. G. White, Mrs. Anderson and her son, Johnny. Dowdy was charged on four counts of "murder without malice" following the accident and remained in jail at Farwell, in lieu of $2,000 bond, pending trial.

In reporting the case, the Farwell "Tribune" said: Surprise was registered when the trial was announced, because it had been presumed that Dowdy would resist the four charges. Judge E. A. Bills was here July 28 to conduct non-jury cases, and Dowdy could have entered a plea of guilty at the time and had the case disposed of. Because he did not plead guilty last month, it was presumed that he would fight the indictment, made by the grand jury July 15.

Maximum sentence under Texas laws would have been five years.

Announce School Division Lines

The division line designating elementary attendance for students from rural areas... Dividing line between Central and Shirley grade schools will be practically the same as last year and is described as follows:

South Lawton to Highway 60, thence west to Schley, thence north to Park Avenue, thence west to Avenue B, and north to the middle of the street is considered as the dividing line.

"However," Mr. Graham added, "necessary adjustments can be made by calling the superintendent's office."

Rural Area Students
The transportation schedule lists 10 buses going to Central, six to Shirley and two to Dawn, all on the following schedule:

WITH 4-H FAMILY NIGHT well under way of Central School Friday night, Jimmy Northcutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Northcutt, is shown directing a get acquainted game during the evening. Well over 100 persons attended the get-together, which started off with a style show presented by 4-H girls. Games for both young and old followed before refreshments were served. Each family brought enough punch and cookies for their family and everything was "put together" for refreshments to finish the evening. (Staff Photo)

Hereford Brand Advertisement Draws Denial Of Yarborough Campaign Head

The spotlight of state-level politics focused briefly on The Hereford Brand this week as Candidates Allan Shivers and Ralph W. Yarborough swung into the final lap of their bitterly contested race for Governor of Texas.

The point which brought The Brand into the melee of accusations and counter-accusations was a one-fourth page "paid" advertisement, sponsored by "Deaf Smith County Citizens" and published Aug. 15, when it appeared on Page 8, Section 2, of the Sunday edition. The advertisement, among other points, asked the question:

"Do you know that Ralph Yarborough's Campaign Manager is the former Campaign Organizer for Henry Wallace?"

First repercussions from the ad came early in the week when local and area Campaign Managers protested the statement in their own behalf as untrue. From this point, it jumped into the state-wide organization with a protest from Bob Sawtelle of San Antonio, registered as official Campaign Manager for Yarborough.

In a long-distance telephone call from Austin, Mr. Sawtelle denied the accusation and branded it as an absolute falsehood.

"I supported Harry Truman in the 1948 campaign," declared Sawtelle. "I either contributed $1 or $5 to the Truman campaign fund. I don't remember which. I had absolutely no connection with Henry Wallace or in organizing his campaign."

Swimming Pool To Close Next Sunday

If you like to swim, you'd better get busy—now! The Hereford Municipal swimming pool will close next Sunday, Aug. 29, according to O. D. Lowry, pool supervisor. Lowry also said that the pool will be closed Thursday night, and that the "late plunge" period will be discontinued on Tuesday and Friday.

Warm weather accounted for a good season at the pool this year, according to City Officials, who said that a complete report will be released when the pool closes for the season.

QUADRUPLETS FOR MITZI! The "blessed event" is all the more unusual when you stop to consider that Mitzi weighs only three pounds. The puppies, about two inches long, were born late Wednesday night: two males and two females. Mitzi, a 17-month-old Chihuahua, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Nixon, 903 Union Avenue. Above, Mrs. Nixon is seen holding the four puppies and the proud Mitzi. Such large Chihuahua litters are considered most unusual, although a dog owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wright gave birth to five puppies recently. The Nixons have another Chihuahua, Wendy, eight months old, which outweighs Mitzi by one pound. (Staff Photo)

Condition Of Cherry Holt, Injured On Camp Fire Outing, 'Not Serious'

Cherry Holt, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holt of the Frio Community, was reported by physicians as "not in a serious condition" Saturday morning. The girl, accident victim on the annual one-week Camp Fire outing near Tajique, N. M., was still under observation in an Albuquerque hospital, however, and the report said that she might remain several more days for "further observation."

Mr. and Mrs. Holt arrived in Albuquerque around 5 o'clock Saturday morning, following notification of their daughter's condition. The accident occurred when Cherry struck her head on a bunk with considerable force Tuesday. Her condition was not considered serious at first, but counselors became alarmed Friday and carried her to Mountainaire for medical attention. She was then sent to a specialist in Albuquerque, where X-ray pictures were made and she was hospitalized. She became irritable Friday night, but Saturday morning was said to be "feeling better" and was asking for breakfast. Other than immediate discomfort, Albuquerque physicians reported the injuries as "apparently not serious."

Mr. Holt operates a farm in the Frio Community and Mrs. Holt teaches the Fifth grade in Shirley School.

"It's wonderful. Just wonderful," says Mrs. Osborn when you mention the March of Dimes, and the National Foundation.

"In addition to the treatments and help, they furnished Carolyn's chair, the braces—even the special shoes, which have to be reinforced to hold her feet in place—then they came along with the special feeding apparatus, and you have no idea how much that helped.

"The main thing though," adds Mrs. Osborn, is the fact that they are so nice... "so interested, so kind—just like Mr. Osborn and I feel about our own little girl."

Right now, Mrs. Osborn is trying to learn to drive an automobile so she can take Carolyn to school each day. She is also going to Plainview this week so that the West Texas Polio Center can give Carolyn her annual pre-school check-up.

LEARNING TO EAT AGAIN, little Carolyn Osborn, nine-year-old Hereford girl balances a special constructed spoon in the above picture. She regularly attends the Hereford Schools, writes and draws by placing a pencil in her mouth and has acquired many other accomplishments during the three years since she was stricken by polio. The special wheel chair, braces, re-inforced shoes -- and even the spoon -- furnished the youngster through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which Mr. and Mrs. Osborn say "is the only friend who can help you, when polio strikes."

'H-Bomb' Film Is Seen At Kiwanis

James O. Cade, Kiwanis Lt. Governor, District 7, made his official visit to the Hereford Club Thursday and departed with high praise for a program featuring a filmed report of "H-Bomb" tests in the Pacific.

The film, secured through offices of Cong. Walter Rogers, showed preparation and actual blast of the bomb tests in the Attu area. Kl-wanians said it left a crater large enough to hold 17 Pentagon buildings on one blast and, in another, completely wiped a four-mile island out of the Pacific. Following the blasts, the film reviewed the tests and explained various points more thoroughly.

Jerry Albracht announced that he is leasing his Little Diner on Highway 60 to Billy Thompson, effective Monday. Jerry will be associated with the State Highway Department, engineering division, and will work with the present staff in Hereford.

President W. B. Dowell presided over the meeting and Lowell Sharp was program chairman.

A cake walk was held Saturday night north of the First National Bank, on East 3rd St., by the Hereford Rider's Club. The general committee for the affair was Mrs. Wiley Robertson, as chairman, and Mrs. Joe Kendall and Mrs. Pat Lawhon assisting her. Each member of the organization brought a cake.

with Sawtelle's denial, said that they had secured the information from Allan Shiver's address in Amarillo. Further long-distance calls to Shivers headquarters developed that, instead of referring to "Yarborough's Campaign Manager", Shivers had actually said: "The man who is running Yarborough's campaign—the man behind the scenes—is former Campaign Organizer for Henry Wallace."

Shivers later named the man outright as being "Crigmore Faith" and this week continued his statement in radio and T-V broadcasts.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Hanson of Dallas arrived Saturday for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Crosthwait.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, 965 E. 2nd St., went to Clayton last weekend to see their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Dawson.

IN HIS HOME COUNTY IT WAS YARBOROUGH 5767 to 1760

IS IT THREE-FOR-ONE FOR ALLAN SHIVERS? Well, not always. Maybe in Ralph Yarborough's Austin Precinct. Austin is rather full of State Employees, and some perhaps reside in that Precinct; BUT —

How about Henderson County, where Mr. Yarborough was born, raised and went to school? Yarborough 5,767, Shivers 1,760. In Angelina County, where Mr. Shivers was born, Yarborough 5,767 - Mr. Shivers 4,104.

In Jefferson County, where Mr. Shivers still votes, Mr. Yarborough won over Mr. Shivers by over 1,000 votes. Maybe the people in these Counties know both candidates as well as those residing in that Austin Precinct they brag about.

THE TIDELANDS: That wornout, political issue is getting a little stale. WHAT ABOUT THE FARM LANDS AND THE RANCH LANDS OF TEXAS? The oil and gas under the so-called Tidelands is a mere drop in the bucket compared to the great quantities stored under ground all over the State. Why hasn't Mr. Shivers shown a little concern about these great resources going out of Texas to outside consumers all over the Nation? Is there any good reason why the School Children of Texas should not receive some little benefit from these, our most valuable natural resource gradually being depleted every day. Does Mr. Shivers actually believe it would be an injustice to put a little tax on oil and gas, or is it because he has so many friends in these industries?

MISTER DEAF SMITH COUNTY FARMER Think This Over - - - Will You?

Mr. Yarborough's opponent has said, that to be loyal to himself, he had to vote for Mr. Eisenhower. What he had in mind, among other things, was the Tidelands.

ible price support program", which allows your products to "flex" back to 82% of parity if you grow a little too much in any year.

He was frantic until he found out from Mr. Eisenhower how he stood on the tidelands, but he forgot to find out just what Ike had in mind about the FARMLANDS. He had said, in a speech at Kasson, Minn: "I firmly believe that agriculture is entitled to a fair, -- full share of the National income, -- a fair share is NOT merely 90% of parity, -- but full parity", however, his hand-picked Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Benson had a different idea about that, and through his influence, and of others who have always opposed any kind of a program, the President changed his mind, and went all out for Mr. Benson's "flex-

Now the Farm Program is a Democratic Program. It's benefit to the entire economy of the Nation has been thoroughly demonstrated, both during the "twenty years of treason", our Republican friends talk about and the two years of the present Administration. If it is to survive, it must look to its friend, the Democratic Party. The tidelands is not an issue in this campaign, nor is the Negro question, the five percenters, Communism or mink coats. These are injected merely to keep you from thinking about the real issues. Working for the tidelands was fine, but losing the FARMLANDS would be a greater disaster.

No Damage From Pick-Up Blaze

If wear and tear on the nerves could be counted as "no damage" then no damage occurred when trash caught on fire in the back of a pickup, about a mile and a half east of town at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

Larry Don Rutherford, driver of the pickup, and Don Hamilton were hauling trash to the dump ground in the back of a pickup, owned by Darrell Harkins when, according to the boys, a car passed them and motioned for them to look back. They did, and saw that a small box in the trash was on fire. By the time the boys got the pickup stopped and started to unload the trash, all of it was flaming.

No damage was done to the pickup and after the fire was extinguished, the boys loaded the trash back into the pickup and continued on to the dump grounds. The Hereford Fire Department answered the call.

Mrs. Corbett Is HD Bookkeeper

NW HEREFORD—Mrs. Paul S. Corbett has consented to be the official bookkeeper for the H. D. Market. This will relieve the chairman of a lot of work at the close of each market day. Members of the committee serve as chairmen each Friday. They are: Mrs. Roy Lee Wilson, Westway; Mrs. W. R. Scarth, Wyche; Mrs. Bert Coffin, Progressive; and Mrs. R. C. Childers from Cultural, who serves as overall chairman.

Bread and rolls are in great demand. Women who like to make bread and rolls should contact one member of the committee and find out what day of the month they should bake. Vegetables are also in demand. Cakes, pies and baked goods are good sellers, also. Last Friday Mrs. J. T. Guinn had about thirty hens in the market which sold for 55 cents a pound.

Women working in the market last week were: Mrs. Carlos Vaughn, Mrs. Grady Parsons and Mrs. R. C. Childers. This week Mrs. Bert Coffin will be chairman and Mrs. J. T. Guinn will be her helper.

Miss Johnnie Vinson is spending the weekend in Amarillo with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McCutchen. Johnnie and Mrs. McCutchen attended school together at Tucumcari, N. M.

You get a 3-way bonus in the car that's soaring to new success

WHAT has happened in the automobile business this year is something that you should take to heart — as a personal benefit to yourself, and as a sure way to pick a winner.

It is simply this: Buick has moved into the charmed circle of America's three top sales leaders — a circle once dominated only by the so-called "low-price three."

In plainer words — Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of these so-called "low-price three." And this has come about because of Buick's advanced year-ahead styling, great V8 power, big-car room and comfort — all for prices starting right close to the lowest. So you reap a worth-while 3-way benefit.

- 1. You get the look of tomorrow — today
 In Buick today you get the modern styling other cars will reach in the future. For here you get true year-ahead beauty — long, low glamor lines, sports-car grace, and that spectacular new panoramic windshield that most other cars won't have till 1955.
- 2. You get the bigger allowance of our volume business
 The tremendous sales volume that has brought Buick into the leadership circle of the "Big Three" means that we can offer you a higher trade-in allowance on your present car when you buy a new Buick. That's the simple reason why we can make you a better deal right now.
- 3. You get more resale dollars when you trade
 With Buick so advanced in style this year it's a sure thing Buick will stay in style for years to come, as other cars catch up. So the new Buick you buy today brings you a higher resale price at trade-in time later. Drop in — see and drive this tomorrow-styled Buick — and get in on Buick's big 3-way bonus right now.

Now's the time to make your buy because —

Buick Sales are Soaring!

Model T Owner Got Ticket 18 Years Ago; Now Avoids Sherman Policemen

BELLS, Tex. (S)—George Dugan still drives his Model T—but he hasn't driven it in nearby Sherman since he ran a stop sign 18 years ago.

That year he made a deal with a traffic cop. "Well, sir," he said, "just let me turn around and go back to Bells and I won't bother you any more."

The Model T has been Dugan's pride for some 25 years, and he once refused to trade it for a Cadillac.

The Cadillac owner spotted Dugan and the 1925-model Ford one day and slammed on the brakes.

"How much will you take for that?" he asked Dugan. "Nothing," said Dugan. "I'm not selling."

"Name your own price," the man said. "Dugan looked the man over, took in the diamond stickpin and diamond rings he wore.

"He looked like he had at least 18 million dollars; and I figured I could just about name any amount and he'd pay it," Dugan said. "But I wouldn't part with Old Flivver—that's what I call her—for anything. So I told him nothing doing."

The man became insistent. "Well," he said, finally, "I'll trade cars with you, even."

Dugan doesn't have anything against Cadillacs or other high-powered cars, but the idea of those new-fangled gear shifts scared him.

"The first thing I'd do with one of those things would be land in a ditch," he said. "Give me the foot-shift every time, so a fellow will know what he's doing."

Dugan's car has never given him any trouble he couldn't fix with a pair of pliers and a piece of bailing wire. It usually starts right off, but if the starter acts up a little, all he has to do is crank her a little.

Dugan has kept his promise to the Sherman officer, but he'd like to take his car through town just one more time.

"I want those city folks to see a real auto in action," he said "but I can't go back on my word to that traffic policeman."

Shivers' backers point out that such a tax already has been declared unconstitutional.

Warning System Coming
Texas soon will have a modern storm warning system to spot danger miles away by radar, Governor Shivers announced.

Shivers said that completion of the system, called the most up-to-date in the world, will come in the next six weeks.

Already functioning as part of the radar chain are units in 11 cities. The radar net ties into the Department of Public Safety system, giving it Weather Bureau radar reports within two minutes after a warning is issued.

Texas Building Booms
Construction in Texas spiraled toward a record high in June, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Reported by the bureau was a predominance of commercial, industrial, highway, church, school and government building.

Building permits issued throughout the state during the first half of 1954 exceeded totals for the same period last year by six percent, the reports showed.

Liquor Revenue Up
Texas liquor revenue in June showed a $41,000 increase over the total for the same month last year, the monthly report of the Texas Liquor Control Board reveals.

June revenue this year was $1,425,179.13 with the largest part of the amount derived from beer and whiskey taxes.

The board also noted an apparent increase of moonshining over the state, with seizure of 11 illicit stills and arrest of six on moonshining charges.

FBI Agent Speaks
Two forms of crime are on the increase: car thefts and swindling bad check passing.

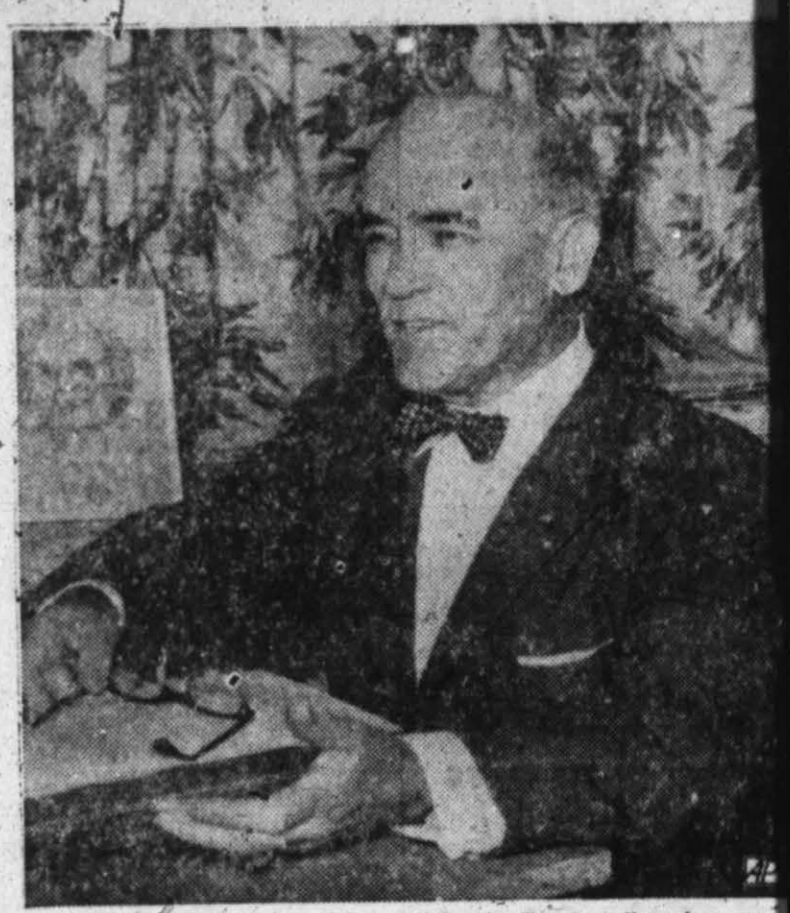

So said Vernon H. Bailey, special agent of the FBI in San Antonio, in an Austin speech.

Car thefts inconvenience more people and cause a greater loss of property than any other form of crime, the agent said.

Short Snorts
Americans no longer believe that things are good only if they come from Europe, says Dr. Lewis U. Hinkle, University of Texas professor.

Wants Water Board
Yarborough this called for the creation of a Texas Water Board, patterned after the Railroad Commission, with members elected by the people.

He said that if elected Governor, he would recommend to the Legislature in January that such a board be established.

EMEMY OF WASTE - Olin Culberson, Texas railroad commissioner known as a foe of oil and gas waste, is still fighting the battle at 67, but plans to retire at the end of this term. Culberson is shown as he talked with a reporter in Austin. His wife's picture is in the background. (AP Photo).

BRING ON THE 13's - Observing his 13th birthday on Friday the 13th, Tommy Underwood of Lubbock is celebrating with a party to which 13 guests have been invited. Tommy is holding a cake bearing the figure 13 which his mother obtained in advance of the celebration. (AP Wirephoto).

Camp Fire Girls End Annual Summer Camp

(Note: The Camp Fire girls were scheduled to arrive home Saturday afternoon following a week in Inlow Youth Camp, Tajique. The following article was dispatched Friday from the camp site and will probably be overshadowed by "tall tales" which usually follow an outing of this sort. The group of 89 girls, accompanied by 24 counselors and leaders, left here last Monday morning.)

By Miss. HOMER BRUMLEY
INLOW YOUTH CAMP, Tajique, N. M., Aug. 21—Everyone in camp loaded into cars and the truck for a trip to Red Canyon, a very beautiful place near Manzano. After lunch, the sturdier and more energetic ones took a mountain climb into the high fir country. On the way back we stopped in Manzano to see a 300-year-old apple orchard. Most of the trees are still living.

Upon return to camp, everyone was ready for a good long rest period. But by evening the old pep was renewed for stunt night, which is always a camp highlight.

Koda Day Thursday
Koda means friend or pal, so we chose partners for a hike to the Fourth of July picnic grounds where we cooked out. If you can imagine cooking supper for 115 persons on a camp fire, you may wonder who was brave enough to undertake such a chore. Surprisingly as it may seem, everything went off quite smoothly. Each pair of girls folded into foil two big hamburger patties filled with chopped onions, potatoes and carrots. This was placed in a trench of coals for 15 minutes and served on buns with tomato and pickle.

Dessert was "Some Mores", which is a concoction of toasted marshmallows and Hershey bars between Graham crackers. Everyone hollered for some more, hence the name.

One of the busiest persons in camp is Elmer Patterson. He has been making a new moving picture of camp activities. We hope to preview it soon.

Mrs. Andy Anderson, the nurse, has been busy, too. Lots of scratches and minor aches and pains. Nothing serious.

Maid of Plains
Camp Shishtinta has been adopted by popular vote as the official name of all Hereford camps beginning with this one. It means "Maid of the Plains". Since adoption of this name, staff members have been busy making patches to be awarded at the Grand Ceremonial. Cecelia Wilkins will be in charge.

This morning 15 junior and senior counselors accompanied by Cecelia Wilkins, Gracie Fotheringham, Clarence Morrison and Mr. Mangum, the camp custodian, went for a four-mile mountain climb.

Right now a hot softball game is in progress, judging by the screams.

The most popular person in camp is the one who brings the mail. Yesterday at noon the Thursday Brand was literally worn out, especially by those who failed to get letters.

Craft Classes
Craft classes under the direction of Ann Winget and Delight Williams have been quite popular. Necklaces of colored beans; jewelry boxes, leather carscrews and wooden name tags are some of the things being made. Nature books are also being assembled by the younger campers.

So far we have had a few showers but not at a time which would interfere with our activities.

Understand the George Paetzolds and Corky are expected in today to spend the rest of the week with us. Correction: They just arrived.

Tomorrow we will break camp for our return home so we should be there before you read this, but maybe you would like to hear about our camp anyway. We believe it has been a good one.

Notes From Camp Paper
More notes from the camp paper:

"The girls of Cabin 2 really had a batty time in their belfry Monday night. Seems as though two or three bats really had fun while chasing the occupants of the cabin from bunk to bunk."

The incident above caused a change from the name of the Sa-Pa Cabin, No. 2. The name now reads as "Bats Belfry for the Bats."

"Janie Bookout really gave us a fright, didn't she? We all thought her a murderer when she ran down the path screaming, 'I stepped on its head! I stepped on its head!'"

"Some people really don't know if they like the idea of singing at meals. I wonder why?"

"We hear that two very smelly skunks found their way into the staff house Monday night and took a liking to Mrs. P. Phillips."

"Last night Linda Edwards was threatened with KP if she didn't quit giggling after taps."

"One morning when Patty Howard was drinking cocoa, she got her glasses frosted with steam."

"It seems that if the girls should have their beds made up by 6:30 o'clock, the leaders should at least have theirs made up at 8:15 o'clock. Especially Mrs. Kirby and Mrs. Montford."

"In Cabin 5 one little girl got sick and got waited on, so all of the other girls decided they were sick."

"Yesterday when Teena took a shower she took off her watch and laid it down. She went off and forgot it and when she missed it, went back and found it in the commode."

Mrs. Pat Robinson Is Coffee Honoree
NW HEREFORD—A surprise toffee was held in the home of Mrs. Pat Robinson Thursday morning, honoring Mrs. Robinson on her birthday.

Those attending were Mrs. Louie Olson, Mrs. Grady Parsons, Mrs. Ella Mae Childers, Jimmy and Joe Harold, Mrs. Paul Corbett, Mrs. Ira Scott and girls, Mrs. J. T. Richardson, Mrs. Earl DeHart, and Mrs. Ossie Altman and daughter.

Shifts Responsibility
The new procedure, among other things, is also designed to relieve County Committeemen of the responsibility of issuing permits under such conditions.

Water district applications in this area are handled through a committee of which Frank Beznar is chairman and the Hereford office is located in the Farm Bureau building.

District Office To Handle Permits Concerning Wells 'Already Drilled'

Responsibility for issuance of permits on "wells already drilled" will, in the future, be shifted from local channels into the district offices of High Plains Water District in Lubbock, according to notices received this week by County Committeemen in this area.

The notices were issued by Tom McFarland, manager, and also set forth the handling of violations. County secretaries, the memo said, will be provided with necessary blanks for reporting violations, and will read as follows:

"Drilling without a permit.

"Drilling in violation of a permit which you have issued.

"Increasing a pump size without a permit to do so, etc."

District Handling
Local committeemen were instructed, in case of wells already drilled before application is made, to fill out a "Notice of Violation" in duplicate and to mail the original to the District Office immediately. Applicants will, in turn, be notified when to appear before the District Directors for a "Request of Permit" hearing.

Speaking of permits granted after wells have already been dug, McFarland said:

"We know, as well as the next fellow knows, that this practice is eventually going to result in some serious trouble." He also pointed out that securing permits after wells have been dug will be much more difficult than in the past and, definitely more difficult than if the permit is secured before the well is dug.

The new procedure, among other things, is also designed to relieve County Committeemen of the responsibility of issuing permits under such conditions.

Water district applications in this area are handled through a committee of which Frank Beznar is chairman and the Hereford office is located in the Farm Bureau building.

Damages Low In Accident Series

Wednesday and Thursday were busy days for the Hereford city police as far as accidents were concerned. Two accidents occurred Thursday afternoon in the space of 15 minutes. Little damage, however, was done in any of the accidents.

Main Street about 50 feet north of Fourth Street was the scene of the accident Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock.

A 1941 Dodge pickup driven by Mrs. Ara L. Tarlton, Route 5, and a 1953 Ford driven by Chris Clark Jr., 1011 1/2 Park Avenue, were both parked in front of the Post Office. The Dodge started to back out from the curb and collided with the left rear fender of the Ford, which was parked on the right side of the Dodge, according to police reports.

No damage was done to the Dodge and about $38 damage was done to the Ford. No charges were filed.

Damages Slight
The first accident on Thursday occurred about 4 o'clock in the afternoon on West Fifth Street some 150 feet west of Main Street.

A 1953 Pontiac owned by Mrs. W. T. Krumbein, 128 Texas Avenue, was parked on the south side of Fifth Street, being east of 1281 Plymouth, driven by P. E. Cottingham, was apparently going south on Miles Street and made a left turn onto Fifth Street east. According to the investigating officer, the car did not straighten out of the turn fast enough and collided with the left rear fender of the Pontiac.

No damage was done to the Plymouth and about $10 damage was done to the Pontiac. No charges were filed in the collision.

Second Accident
Thursday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock at the intersection of Park Avenue and Fourth Street was the time and place of the second accident.

Thomas Gilbert Chapin, 356 Avenue J, driving a 1938 Dodge, was making a left-hand turn from Fourth Street onto Park Avenue and, according to police reports, was on the wrong side of the street and apparently did not stop at the stop sign. Barbara Kilmer White, 213 Avenue C, driving a 1947 Plymouth, was going east on Park Avenue and the two cars collided at the intersection.

No damage was done to the Dodge; the Plymouth sustained about $50 worth of damages.

Chapin was released with fault to grant the right of ways.

Scotts Film Actors
GMAIFA (G)—Movie star Charlton Heston says: "You can't tell by watching an actor in the movies whether or not he is good. You can only tell whether he has been well directed. Heston, who has been on the stage and in television as well as the movies, said during a visit here that the actor contemplates very little of a movie. On the stage, the story is told with the actor, and the actor is the medium."

A good movie director, Heston holds, can take a bad actor and make him act adequately, at least on the screen, for the director is actually the primary creative artist.

Another thing: "Heston states he thinks the actor's relationship with the audience—sometimes called empathy—is highly overrated."

"I can do just as well—often better—before an empty house," he says.

TEXAS is on FIRE with a CRUSADE

... to hold Texas for Texans!

From time to time in the history of this great freedom of ours, it has become necessary for the people to rise up in righteous indignation against great grasping threats from without!

AT THIS MOMENT THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS STAND AT SUCH A CROSSROAD! The issue is clear: Whether we will hold TEXAS for Texans or surrender our great TEXAS heritage to out-of-state labor bosses, pinkos, the promisers and their henchmen.

Travis, Bowie, Crockett, Houston—all great names in the fight for Texas Liberty—gave their lives for TEXAS! The least we can do to hold their faith is to give our vote.

THEY KEPT TEXAS FOR TEXANS—WE MUST KEEP THEIR TRUST ON AUG. 28th!

Vote for Shivers

... We helped hold Texas for Texans!

WILL YOU?

"Little Girls like Painted Dolls,
Little Boys like Soldiers.
Big Girls like Soldiers,
Big Boys like Painted Dolls."

Thanks to Frank Daniel for the above bit of poetic wisdom. He tried to tell me where he got hold of it, but I wouldn't listen. Despite its brevity, it tells a long, long story.

Abe Martin is really supposed to write this column. Knowing Abe, however, I am hedging on his reliability and getting this ready—just in case. Since Bob Phillips migrated to Oklahoma City a few weeks back, I landed right back where I started on The Brand 17 years ago and have been tied down on the news desk. I have to admit, though, that I really enjoy the job. However, it leaves very little extra time or material for columns.

Honest, I never knew so many people to get so radical about a governor's race. The "Question of the Week", on the editorial page today, compares it with the Ma Ferguson campaign away back down the line. I also got a real kick out of Sam Nunnally's cartoon, which always ties in with the question. I'd say it is about the best Sam has ever done—and he has had some good cartoons.

Another thing, too. If I ever predicted a light vote in the second primary, I'll eat my words—right now. It gives every indication of being even bigger than in the first go-round, which is super-sensational, when you consider that most of the local raags have already been put on ice.

This recent outbreak of polio seems to have started the City on a rampage. They have been fussing about the alley behind the Brand. Seems like they think we are poor housekeepers. They got to even talking about a $200 fine, so we pitched in and cleaned it up. Furthermore, now that we have gone to all of this trouble, the boys think that everyone else should do the same thing. That's human nature, I guess.

If the City really wants to get things really cleaned up, though, they should make a deal with Cecil Williams. She is the one who can get the job done in a big way. City Health Officer Jack Gilliland got to popping off about the hazard of weeds and trash and the like, so Cecil went out to his place, just off Highway 60, and read him the riot act about the way his own back yard looked. The result was that Jack spent around four hours one hot afternoon mowing grass and cutting weeds. He finally got sick and had to go to bed. Cecil, being his aunt, got away with the deal in fine style.

C. R. Smith is a fellow who would do just about anything to help out a friend and, sometimes, it gets him into quite a bit of trouble. For instance, take the modeling job he has been doing recently at the new art museum in Lubbock. C. R. and Bill Halsell are old friends who wear the same size clothes, including shoes, and have the same physical build. One difference, though, was that Mr. Halsell gave the museum $50,000 and they wanted his picture in a mural. Mr. Halsell couldn't be here for the "painting," so he talked C. R. into "ghosting" for his body. The result is that Peter Hurd, the famous artist, painted C. R.'s body on the wall, then superimposed Halsell's face. Honest. If you get down around Tech any time, you should drop in and take a look at the finished product.

C. R. sure will be gunning for me about this—but it was too good a story to pass up. Besides, he shouldn't be so chicken-hearted.

This "More in '54" prediction of mine, made away back last fall, is already beginning to roll now. It sure is. Most of the potato boys are already on my side of the fence and, before the year is over, the lettuce men will also be on the bandwagon—in a big way. If you remember, I predicted that cotton money will be short of 1953—and it will, too. The real deal, though, is the grain sorghum crop. I predicted a bumper crop—and it sure is in the mill. Everybody, everywhere in this area has grain sorghum galore. It looks wonderful. It is wonderful—and is getting better right on down the line. You never saw anything like it before. Maybe never again. It's a lulu.

I notice where J. R. Allison resigned his job as president of the Hereford State Bank to devote full time to his farming and cattle interests. That's just one little indication of the way crops are going to pan out in '54. When a guy quits a job as president of a bank to handle one season's harvest, you can figure it is in the bag. You sure can!

This also reminds me of a story on Jim that happened a few weeks back. Even while in the bank, he spent quite a bit of time on the ranch and at the farms and, consequently, was generally dressed in khakis. He also had a habit of dropping into the bank every

TEXAS BAPTIST STUDENT Union Choir, above, will appear in Hereford with a program of sacred music at the First Baptist Church Tuesday evening, Aug. 24.

Baptist Student Choir To Appear Here Tuesday

The Texas Baptist Student Union Choir will sing a program of sacred music at the First Baptist Church on Tuesday evening, Aug. 24, as a part of their current concert tour designed to help inform Texas Baptists of the religious work being done on the campuses and to influence young people in the churches toward active participation in Christian activity, according to Bob Lawrence, educational director.

The choir is a unique organization of 60 Baptist students from nearly 30 different college and university campuses in Texas.

The concert program here in Hereford will include such well-known favorites as "A Mighty Fortress," "Lonesome Valley," "Brother James' Air," and "Nothing But the Blood" in addition to some newer religious music that is popular among college students. Variety will be provided by informal smaller units and ensembles and by verbal Christian testimonies given by individual students in the choir.

They have recorded professionally for Word Records in Waco, but all proceeds from sales of records have gone toward the travel and promotion of the choir. No student in the group receives any remuneration for singing. The singers pay all of their expenses to student conventions, and portion of the cost of the summer tour, including total expense for the assembly program at Gorieta, N. M.

The appearance here in Hereford is part of a tour of Texas that will include a total mileage of about 2,000 miles. The tour is scheduled from August 20 through September 5.

Students in the choir were selected to represent nearly 30,000 Baptist students enrolled in Texas colleges and universities. They are the choice youth of 1,251,000 Texas Baptists and the 3,400 churches of this faith.

Why Does He Grab For More Power?

Our state has a tradition that has never been dishonored.

Texans have never given a third term to a governor.

The heroes who won freedom for Texas molded that tradition.

Those who crushed a tyrant's awful power in the Battle of San Jacinto warned that no man should be given power too long, lest that power corrupt him.

That warning became Texas tradition. And it has been stronger than any written law. Not once has it been violated in the 109 years of Texas statehood.

But now comes a man who demands that you set him above all others in Texas history — even the immortal Sam Houston.

And he demands that you ignore the solemn warning sounded through the years by Texans who used their power wisely — and returned that power to the people.

Allan Shivers has tasted power. He does not choose to give up that power. Instead, he grabs for more.

After 109 years, should Texas dishonor its tradition and the heroes who molded that tradition?

The Governor and Those State Printing Contracts!

Early in the present campaign, Ralph Yarborough accused Mr. Shivers of having been interested in and benefitted by printing contracts made in violation of the law with the Times Publishing Company, of Mission, Texas, publishers of the Mission Times, and in which Mr. Shivers was a Stockholder. This law provides: NO MEMBER OR OFFICER OF ANY DEPARTMENT OF GOVERNMENT SHALL BE IN ANY WAY INTERESTED IN SUCH CONTRACTS; and "all such contracts shall be subject to the approval of the Governor, Secretary of State and Comptroller."

When this charge was brought to his attention, the Governor stated that he disposed of his stock in this Company when he became Governor.

Newspapers are required by Federal laws to make annual statements showing the ownership, management, etc., and to file one with the postoffice where published with the Postmaster General and to publish these Sworn Statements in their paper. Copies of the Mission Times containing the annual statements made in 1948, 1949, 1950, 1951, 1952 and 1953, were obtained, photostatic copies made of each, a set of which is on file in the Yarborough for Governor Headquarters at the Jim Hill Hotel and may be inspected by any interested person.

These Sworn statements show Mr. Shivers listed as a Stockholder as follows: In Statements dated September 28th, 1948; Statement of October 3rd, 1950; and the statement made October 5th, 1951. Mrs. John H. Shary and Joe T. Cook, Editor are listed in all; Mrs. Allan Shivers is listed as one of the owners in all of them, except the statement of September 28, 1948.

It was charged that during the year 1951, contracts were awarded to the Times Publishing Company for nine first class and four second class contracts;

We also have photostatic copy of a letter dated July 21st, 1954, by Joe T. Cook, Editor of the Times, and addressed to "Dear Fellow Editor", mailed to Newspapers over the State in the interest of Mr. Shivers, in which he states: "Allan with whom I'm associated in the publication of the Times is one of our groups. He is an active member of the Texas Press Association, and during his service in State Government he has considered the Press of Texas his closest friend and ally. Allan Shivers speaks our language because he is in the publishing business.

We are legally advised that "Under Texas Community property law, the dividends from the wife's corporation stock are community property regardless of whether the stock is her separate property or community property, and even though the stock may have been a gift from the husband, -- (Authority cited: Texas Jurisprudence Sec. 102), therefore, he had an interest in these contracts when his name did not appear in the Sworn statements.

A list of contracts awarded, subject to Mr. Shivers' approval, shows: For the year beginning Sept. 1, 1952, thirteen first and twenty-one second class contracts; For the year beginning Sept. 1, 1953, ten first class and forty second class.

Since the evidence above came to light, Mr. Shivers has had little to say about State Printing Contract, but he repeats the charge that Yarborough goes over the State, slandering him and his family. Attorney General John Ben Sheppard, however, came to his assistance by saying the law requiring the Governor's approval of such contracts was merely a routine matter, intimating there really wasn't anything much wrong about it after all. Apparently he feels the Governor is above the law.

We are not accusing the Governor as being a Criminal; but since he and his Supporters, have and are making some rather serious charges against Ralph Yarborough, with no evidence offered in support of such charges, we believe in justice to Mr. Yarborough the facts stated herein should be brought to the attention of the public.

Facts hurt sometimes, but in politics and other matters, the best policy is to give the facts and let the chips fall where they may.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I prevent stickiness of a waxed floor?

A. Try washing up the floor with ice water after waxing it, and then go over the floor with a dry cloth. If this does not help, it is probably due to the fact that the varnish has not dried properly.

Q. How can I remove grease from trousers or other fabric?

A. Saturate with turpentine; then place the spot between two pieces of blotting paper and press a hot iron over damaged part a few minutes.

Q. How can I make lavender sachets?

A. By mixing sixteen ounces of lavender flowers, four ounces gum benzoin, and two drams oil of lavender.

Q. How can I make a pineapple plant?

A. Cut off the top of a pineapple and place in a glass jar, with water. It will soon take root. Then place it in a flower pot, and the result will be a pretty, inexpensive plant.

Q. How often should the lawn be watered?

A. During a dry spell of weather it is far preferable to soak the lawn thoroughly every two or three days, than to sprinkle it lightly every day.

Q. How can I remove water spots from varnished furniture?

A. By rubbing the surface with a cloth or feather dipped in camphor oil.

Q. How can I distribute the wear of a rug?

A. When taking up a rug for cleaning, turn it around before replacing it and the wear will be distributed. So place a safety pin in a certain corner, that you may know this corner of the rug should go to the opposite corner of the

Q. How can I remove tar stains from fabric?

A. Rub a little lard, kerosene, sweet oil, or butter on the spots; let them stand a few hours, then wash with soap and warm water.

Q. How should paint brushes be washed?

A. A paint brush can be cleaned by washing it thoroughly in hot soda water and soft soap.

Q. How can I easily paint screens?

A. Instead of using a paint brush to paint the screens, try covering a small block of wood with an old piece of carpet, tacking it securely to the edges of the block, dipping this into the paint and rubbing over the mesh.

Mr. Grain Producer
Will You Have Sufficient
STORAGE SPACE
For Your Crops!!!

If you want to sell your grain (particularly grain sorghum) for the highest prices you may need storage space.

The nation has more grain and oil seed crops in storage now than ever before -- Texas storage facilities are full in most areas, so YOU will have to be responsible for finding space for your 1954 crops.

If you can't find commercial storage -- and do not provide your own approved farm storage; you will have to sell the crop at harvest time when prices usually are lowest and lose the benefit of government support prices.

Conditions and price supports vary within the State by county. For instance, the support price on grain sorghum varies from $2.09 to $2.62 per 100 lbs.

You can store grain sorghum on your farm without loss of grain or quality if it is:

- Dry enough
- Stored in approved structures
 - That are protected from outside moisture, insects, rodents, bugs and other hazards.
 - That have adequate turning or drying equipment.
- Fumigated and ventilated.

You can contact county agricultural agents and county Agricultural Stabilization Conservation officials for more detailed recommendations on storage methods and requirements.

DON'T SELL SHORT
Check for available space from your local commercial elevator.

If space is not available from normal channels, check on cost and feasibility of providing your own "on-farm" storage.

Build the type of storage that will be most suited to your long-time farming operation.

Accident-Free Man Hours Hits Second Million

Southwestern Public Service Company employees have now worked two million consecutive man-hours without a lost-time accident, the longest continuous accident-free period in the company's history, and one of the top safety records among the nation's electric light and power companies.

Only seven other electric companies in the country have achieved the two-million mark for the entire company, the records of the Edison Electric Institute reveal. The EEI award for recognition of million man-hour or more safety accomplishments was inaugurated in 1933, and to be the eighth out of nearly 300 member companies to reach the two-million accident-free man-hours goal is a significant safety achievement for Southwestern Public Service Company.

The present unbroken string of accident-free days began on January 30 of this year. The company is averaging less than one lost-time accident for every million man-hours, as compared with a utility industry average of 11.50 lost-time accidents for every million man-hours worked.

The old saying, "You couldn't do it in a thousand years" applies to this recent safety accomplishment for it would take one man a thousand years to accumulate two-million man-hours without a lost-time accident. The 1850 Public Service Company employees need just over three months to accumulate a one-million total.

Three-million without an accident is the next goal, and the Public Service folks are after it.

Bendix Canterbury

The luxurious appeal of beautifully tooled leather hand-laid in the decorative panels of heavy, white oak doors thrills the eye as one examines the casual, modern styling of the Bendix Canterbury. Built of white oak solids throughout, the Canterbury is finished in the choicest of blond oak veneers hand-rubbed to a soft, bisque shading. Solid brass hardware on the doors highlights the informal arrangement of the acoustical grille. Safety glass is front removable for simplified cleaning of the tube face.

Let's Cook Something

Stuffed Vegetables

Stuffed vegetables are a favorite for hot weather dining, even though rising temperatures make the refrigerator a more popular part of the kitchen than the oven. Hot dishes have to be a part of summertime meals, however, and a stuffed vegetable dish that doesn't require long cooking can be the one hot part of a filling and nourishing meal, yet still allow the cook to arrive at the table looking comfortably cool.

The time is right, in view of the bounty from summer gardens, to apply this excellent way of serving to many members of the vegetable kingdom. Beets and cucumbers, large tomatoes, onions, summer squash, tomatoes and cabbage—all may be hollowed out, filled with a well seasoned mixture, baked and brought to the table; good for lunch and, provided enough meat or fish is included in the stuffing, sufficiently substantial for dinner, too.

Stuffings, for the most part, consist of cooked meat, poultry, nut or cheese; bread crumbs, corn, cooked rice or macaroni and seasonings. These may be varied to suit the taste of the individual family or, with imagination the housewife may be able to satisfy members of the family who prefer different foods.

The following recipes have been worked out by Mrs. Herbert Haseloff, who has grown her own vegetables this year. She finds stuffing vegetables a good way to get her husband, who likes meat, to eat vegetables. Likewise, the children, who like vegetables, to eat more meat. Here are some of her recipes:

Stuffed Summer Squash

4 or 5 medium squash (yellow)
1 1/2 cups green beans, chopped fine
1 onion, chopped fine
1 cup ground beef
1 cup pork sausage or ground pork
2 eggs
3 small carrots, chopped fine
Salt and pepper to taste
Hollow out the squash longwise and chop pulp fine and mix with meat. Add cooked green beans and rest of ingredients, blend well and fill squash cases with mixture. Cover lengthwise with strip of bacon, place in casserole and bake in 300° degree oven for one hour or more.

Peppers Stuffed With Corn

6 large peppers
1 small onion
1 cup ground beef
1/2 cup ground pork (fresh)
1 cup whole kernel corn
1/2 cup tomato pulp
2 eggs
1-8 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
Cut a slice from top of each pepper and remove seeds. Stand in greased muffin cups to hold shape. Cook together meat and onion until mixture begins to brown. Mix well with all other ingredients and fill pepper cases with this mixture. Top with a strip of bacon and bake uncovered slowly in a 300° degree oven 45 minutes or an hour.

Stuffed Cabbage Leaves

Stuffing:
1 medium onion, chopped

1 pound ground beef
1/2 pound cooked ham
2 green peppers, chopped fine
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup chopped fresh tomatoes, do not use juice
Salt and pepper to taste
2 cups cooked rice
Sauté onion, beef and ham in small amount of butter, add remaining ingredients and mix all thoroughly with the hands.
Wash cabbage leaves thoroughly, using the inside leaves, which are tenderer. Place two leaves together and place a mound of mixture in center. Fold edges together and fasten with toothpicks. (This amount should make six individual servings.) Stuff remainder of leaves and place all in a shallow casserole with 3 tablespoons of water. Cover and bake in 300° degree oven for about one hour.

Here is a recipe for the men in the family who usually like anything prepared with onions:

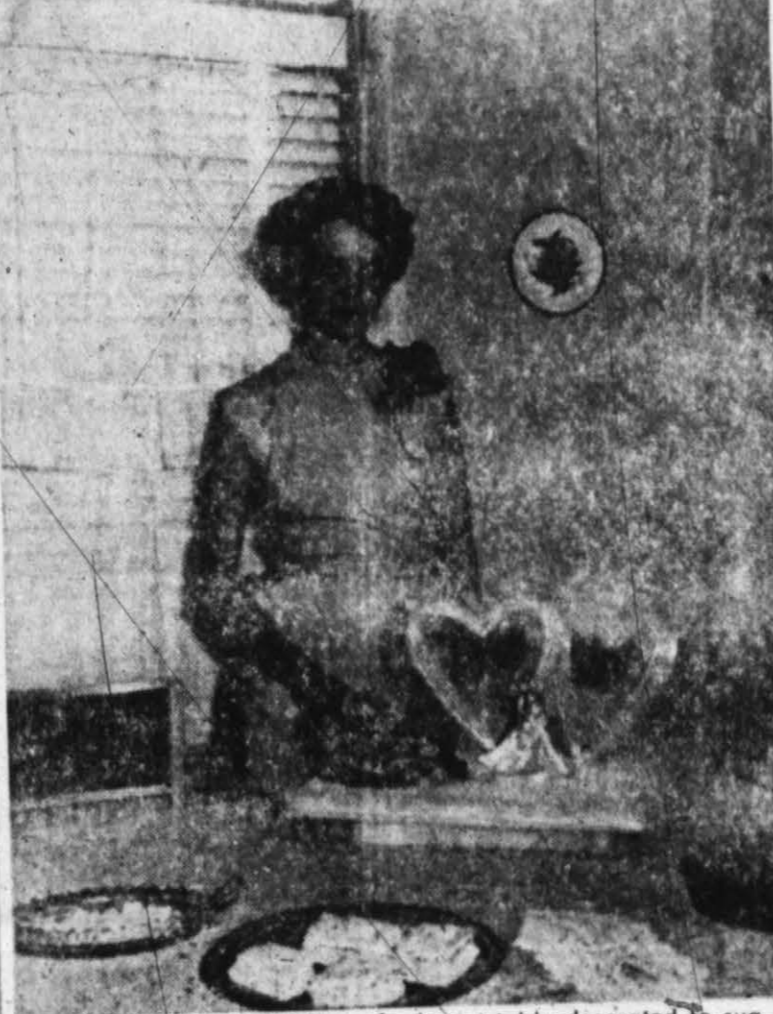

Onions Stuffed With Nuts

4 large onions
1 1/2 cups cornbread crumbs
1/2 cup chopped peanuts
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons minced parsley (optional)
1 cup cooked ground or cubed beef
Salt and pepper to taste
1/4 cup dry bread crumbs
Peel onions, cut a slice from top of each and boil in salted water until tender, about 30 minutes. Scoop out centers to make shells a fourth-inch to a half-inch in thickness. Mix all ingredients together and fill onion shells with this stuffing. Toss dry bread crumbs in a teaspoon of margarine, which has been melted, and sprinkle over tops of onions. Sprinkle generously with Parmesan cheese and bake in a moderate oven, 350° degrees, till crumbs are brown. (Twenty to thirty minutes.)

Jewett, of Adkins recent-ly. Rev. Paul Odum, pastor of the Adrian Methodist Church, read the service before an improvised altar of greenery and American flags.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Erna Lou Jordan, organist, played wedding melodies and accompanied Miss Margaret Leslie, who sang "Because", and Mrs. Lucile Tolbert who sang "With This Ring, I Thee Wed".

Miss Annie Leslie, as maid of honor, wore a ballerina length dress of peach colored nylon with Peter Pan collar, completing the fitted waist, and had matching linen shoes. Her bouquet was of orchid chrysanthemums and orchid lace. June Leslie and Edna Faye Brown served as bridesmaids. Should We Build Texas Roads On Basis Of Need... Or On Political Promises?

Marshall Formby, Hereford's own appointee to the State Highway Commission, this week spoke out concerning campaign promises regarding the highways of Texas. Knowing Formby, both as a competitor and as a friend, we feel sure that he would not have issued such a public statement had he not considered the matter of prime importance to the future of Texas.

Charges and counter-charges have cluttered up the 1954 campaign for governor. Some of them we believe, some we take with a grain of salt - and this goes for both candidates.

Formby's alarm seems well founded, however, in that Ralph Yarborough has promised support and sponsorship of numerous roads, including a $5 million pleasure-resort bridge into the Galveston, Texas, playground area.

If Yarborough makes these promises lightly in an effort to garner more votes, well and good. On the other hand, if he is sincere and means what he is saying, we can well understand Formby's alarm. It would, for certain, spell out the doom of Texas outstanding highway department.

As Formby says, the Highway Commission today operates outside the realm of political road-building. He even goes so far as to declare that "not one dime" has ever been spent during his tenure of office as result of political pressure or campaign promises. He further states that Texas roads are constructed strictly upon a program of actual need, based upon traffic counts, highway accident reports and other statistics gathered within the department.

This, in our opinion, is the way the highway department should operate. If Canyon needs a four-lane highway, we see no sense in by-passing the situation and building a pleasure bridge on the coast, simply because that area may have more voting strength. The same is true of schools and other public institutions of Texas, all of which could easily face political discrimination if we place our Texas improvements upon the basis of "to the victor belongs the spoils."

Hereford is fortunate in that the people know Marshall Formby as a friend and neighbor, a cool-headed young man who, as West Texas first appointee on the Highway Commission, is making an excellent record in an important office. Furthermore, we know him as being honest and sincere and knowing these things, we also feel that Texas is fortunate in having on the Highway Commission a man of Formby's caliber - a man who is not afraid to speak out in behalf of the future of Texas.

Texas do not have to drive far to see the result of graft and corruption in other state highway departments. Graft spreads like cancer when it comes to building state roads under the "spoils system". Only if the Texas Highway Department continues to stay out of politics can we expect to continue with our present highway system, which is the envy of all other states in the Southwest.

WONDER WHAT

Mr. Yarborough Thinks About Us

There are a lot of people who have definite ideas about Ralph Yarborough, pro and con, in his race for governor - but did you ever stop to wonder what Mr. Yarborough might think about Hereford following his visit here on Friday, Aug. 13? Without question, Hereford "done him wrong". In addition, we left the impression that we have a backward community, destined to die and wither by the wayside as progress continues in the Texas Panhandle.

Specifically, we refer to the fact that the candidate was forced to fly beyond his destination, then travel 21 miles back to Hereford by automobile in order to land the comparatively small plane. This, of course, is nothing new to persons who regularly fly into Hereford, nor to local people who own planes and must keep them in Friona, because Hereford has no adequate airport.

Naturally, the candidate did not point out this short-coming of the community, but we could not help but wonder what he thought of Hereford sending his air traffic into a town less than one-third its own size. What would soon happen if Amarillo sent its transport traffic into Hereford - or to Canyon? The answer is obvious and, we think, needs no further comment.

An adequate airport should be No. 1 on future community planning. It should have the support of the city, county, Chamber of Commerce, and civic clubs. It should have the support of Yarborough boosters and of Shivers boosters, alike. A little bit of individual enthusiasm, such as has been shown on both sides in the current governor's race will make an airport in Hereford a reality.

"I Know What The Foundation Can Do"

Every man, woman and child in Deaf Smith County should see and talk with Carolyn Osborn, age nine.

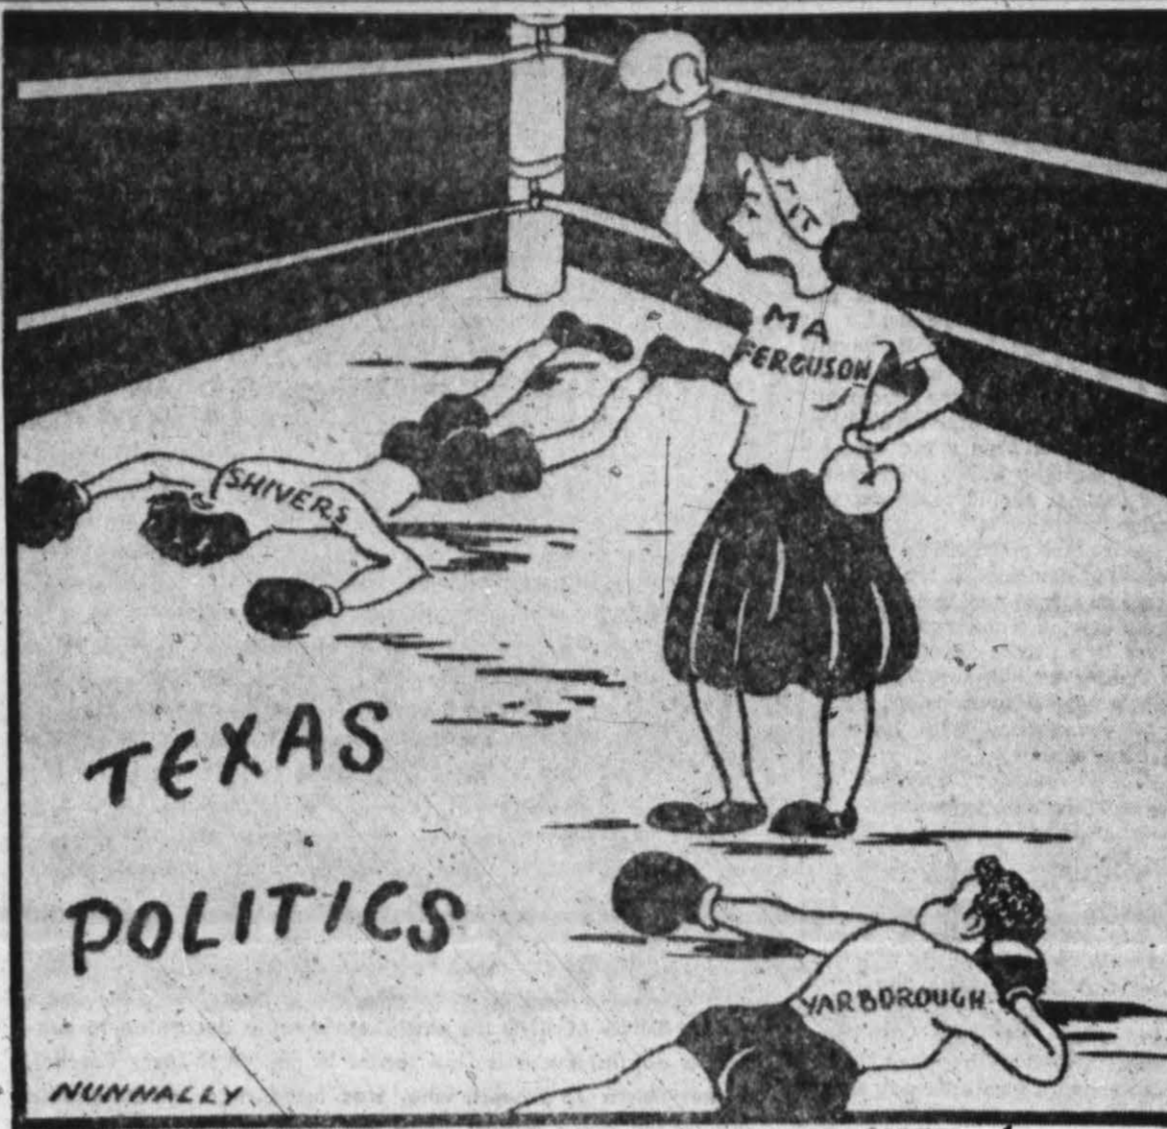

Just as she is pictured on the front page of your Brand today, the little girl is constantly in her wheel chair and, more important, she is once again learning to feed herself - a feat she has not previously accomplished since December, 1951, when she was stricken by polio. She has a wonderful smile, a multitude of courage and determination.

Little Carolyn is now taking third grade work in school - and, had she never seen or heard of polio, that's right where she would have been. She cannot move her hands and arms, but she can move her head. She has solved a difficult problem by putting the pencil in her mouth; thus, she has learned to write and draw with precision. Carolyn's teachers report that she is an unusually bright pupil.

"Yes, we had polio insurance," said Carolyn's mother who, incidentally is devoting untold hours of tender care and intelligent understanding to the young lady. "It helped, of course - for the first six months. Carolyn was in an iron lung five and one-half months, though, and these things are terribly, terribly expensive." She went ahead to point out that Carolyn's wheel chair, special braces, and newly designed self-feeding apparatus - even special shoes - were furnished through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The help also includes treatment, special therapy and, more important, training for the parents to continue with the therapy exercises at home.

One reason you find such outstanding kids like Carolyn is because they have such wonderful parents - the kind of people you would be under the same circumstances. "... the National Foundation is wonderful," says Mrs. Osborn. "I am asking now to help in the Mother's March - and if there's anything else I can do, just let me know. After all, I know what the foundation really means to polio victims."

"The National Editorial Association... has protested at its Baltimore convention against what it calls a 'flagrant' regulation - that which makes the mailman a delivery boy for handbills. A ruling permits local post offices to deliver pieces of mail addressed simply 'Boxholder, Route...' Every one on the route receives a copy, unwanted advertising letters and pamphlets." BELLINGHAM, WASH., HERALD.

"AND STILL THE CHAMPION CAMPAIGNER... MA FERGUSON!!!"

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Some Say 'Ma Ferguson' Race Was Hotter Than 'Shivers-Yarborough'

Some people say the present race for Governor is the "hottest" in all Texas History, others say, "No, it was hotter when Ma Ferguson ran." What do you think?

VANNIE VINSON:

"I know there sure was a lot of controversy when Ma Ferguson ran, although I wasn't old enough to vote, I remember it was quite a contest. I just believe they had more turmoil and friction in that election than there is in this one."

ED TIEFEL:

"It was pretty hot then and it's getting pretty hot now. I don't believe there is very much difference in the two races."

HOMER HENSLEE:

"I really don't recall when Ma Ferguson ran for Governor but to the best of my knowledge this is the hottest election. The other might have been hotter than this one, but I believe this is the hottest contest that I can recall."

BOB FULLWOOD:

"I believe that the election with Ma Ferguson was the hottest campaign. Don't you remember the signs - 'Me For Ma' on some cars and 'No Ma For Me' on others?"

F. M. KESTER:

"I think that the race in which Ma Ferguson ran was hotter than this race is. That race was publicized all over the country and people in other states don't hear very much about this one. I was not in Texas at the time Ma Ferguson ran, I was in Arizona, but we even heard about it out there."

JIM LIPSCOMB:

"I think that this is the hottest race that we have ever had. There has been more publicity and more money spent than ever before. I don't believe there is any question as to which is the hottest race in the history of Texas."

ALEX O. THOMPSON:

"The race between Governor J. S. Hogg and George Clark in 1892 created more interest than any governors race that I can remember. That was away back before any of the people that are participating in this race were born. Of course this race is getting pretty warm."

Community Builders

By LOU PERRY

How she can do the most for her community has always been one of the main interests of Mrs. Dy-alpha Brady, head of the Hereford, Texas, Federal Credit Union.

In Welfare Work

Mrs. Brady first started working for the community with the State Department of Public Welfare, then called Texas Relief Commission, in 1934. She resigned this position in June of 1937 when she became supervisor of nine Panhandle counties. At that time she took the county welfare position, becoming the first county welfare worker in this vicinity. She continued in this work until February of 1953.

In 1936, Mrs. Brady helped organize the Credit Union, so when she went back to work for the county in 1937, she asked the Commission's Court to allow her to keep the credit union with her. They agreed to do so, because they felt that it would benefit the county. Later, when the credit union was able to pay a small salary, Mrs. Brady deducted that from her salary as County Welfare worker.

In 1941, with World War II necessitating full-time Red Cross activities, she also accepted the responsibility of Executive Secretary of the Red Cross and became the first executive secretary of the Red Cross in this vicinity. Not only did the Red Cross serve this county, but also the surrounding counties as well. She resigned Red Cross work in September of 1952.

Mrs. Brady has been a Credit Union creditor since 1936 and chose that work because at that time it seemed the most constructive way that she could do welfare work and contribute to the community as well as the individual. Another reason she chose Credit Union work was because she believes it teaches people how to save and helps them get into the habit of saving regularly. Then, too, the members have a place for credit when they need to borrow money. This Credit Union is not for profit or charity, but for the service of its members, Mrs. Brady said.

Few Bad Loans

The Credit Union teaches people to save small amounts of money, and they do not have to wait until they have a large amount, which is sometimes never possible. It also furnishes insurance protection free of charge to all members with both savings and loans. Since the organization began they have checked off less than $2,000 in bad loans, according to Mrs. Brady.

"Many of our members, before becoming members, went to out-of-town loan agencies, paying large rates of interest and never getting anything saved for themselves. Since the organization of the Credit Union, it has caused more people to do their borrowing at home. It has, therefore, increased home town business and increased a great deal of local insurance businesses, since out-of-town agencies usually demand that insurance be bought from them, she pointed out.

Since the organization began, they have loaned $1,750,000 in small loans. In the last year they have gained over $133,000 in assets and anticipate becoming a half-million dollar Credit Union before this year is over. There are over

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is being swept off his feet by a news article, his letter this week reveals. Probably doesn't like to stay on his feet anyway.

— O —

Dear editor: One of the best pieces of news I've ever turned up out here yesterday in a copy of a newspaper which I had used to spread out on the ground under my tractor while I was working on it. I was tinkering with the crankcase drain when I glanced down and saw the headline on this article and since it was fairly shady where I was I just stayed stretched out under the tractor and read it, knowin there wasn't any danger of oil drippin on me as the crankcase has been empty since week before last when I drained it to get enough oil to drive my car to town, and in case I ever need to use the tractor, I'll switch it back. Never did believe in hoardin oil.

Accordin to this article, the government needs about 200 inventions to improve different phases of the amer services, and has sent out an emergency appeal to the American public askin us to get busy.

That's just the kind of job I've been lookin for, and I will accept.

With the government shy on inventions for the army and long on agricultural products, I can't see any sense in farmin in August, pilin up more surpluses and gettin the price support program so flexible it's limber-legged, and will get to work on this new assignment immediately.

I don't know what I can invent, but the hours and the workin conditions suit me fine and I got confidence the government will treat me right in the way of a salary.

Workin with your brain beats workin with a tractor all to pieces. I doesn't take any lubrication oil, sharp turns at the fence row, ain't stirrin up any dust, ain't addin to the surplus, and you can do it stretched out under a tree in the shade.

Up to now, I've had difficulty convincin some people I wasn't loafin when I was out here on my farm hunched over in deep thought, recognizin that unless we solve the world problems there may not be too much point to farmin anyway but with this new job of inventin, a whole lot less naggin ought to take place. If there's one thing an inventor needs, it's peace and quiet.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Lawn Is Important Part In Landscaping Grounds

The real meaning of "green thumb" is being on the job to give water or fertilizer to plants or lawn when needed—not tomorrow, or next week—but right at the time.

At least that's the way Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. reasons. That probably is the answer to her success with gardening over a period of years and since she and Mr. Hill moved into their new home on North Main St.

Mrs. Hill believes that next in importance to water, light and air, comes grass. "It furnishes a carpet on which we play as children and it becomes a cover for us when we are dead. Mother Nature gives it to us as a constant benediction, for other things may perish but grass comes again and again. Its roots hold the earth in its place and prevent its soluble parts from washing or blowing away. It goes into the solitude of the deserts, climbs steep mountain slopes and helps determine the destiny of nations. It yields no flower nor fruit, and yet the world would be depopulated if its harvest should fail for even one year."

Lawn Techniques

There is one best time to start a new lawn, to renovate a poor one or to give a beauty treatment to one already established. That is in late summer or fall. In this area, August, September and October are ideal months for sowing the seed and for growth of seedling grass.

As long as the ground can be worked the soil can be seeded. Even if the seed does not germinate until the next spring the lawn will be ahead of the one where final preparation has to be made after the winter season. Conditions are better for germination and growth in the fall, weeds are fewer, there is less disease, and less seed will be required because of better germination conditions. Four pounds of good seed per 1000 square feet in the fall will produce thicker and better turf than 6 to 8 pounds planted in the spring.

For fall planting select perennial varieties that will not winter-kill, and be sure that the seed is good, well cured and thoroughly cleaned.

Liberal use of grass food before planting will help. Do not sow the seed too thick, and if possible keep the newly-seeded areas moist. If it is impossible for you to keep the ground moist after planting, it is better not to water at all and depend on the rain.

Soil Conditioners

Do not make the mistake of thinking that all that is necessary is to plant and then cut the grass when it gets too long. Fertilizing, weed control, rolling and watering are also necessary if your lawn is going to add to the beauty of your home. Now, with so many commercial products on the market, both for fertilizing and weed control, it is much more simple to give a lawn the care needed. Precaution should be exercised, however, or harm may be done.

Never apply fertilizer or wet grass. Apply it on dry grass and then wet it down thoroughly and immediately. This sifts the fertilizer into the soil where it belongs.

Early in the fall put on 6 to 8 pounds of nitrogen-phosphorus-potash mixture in 10-4-4 proportions, per 1000 square feet. Then three or four weeks later make a second application. This will put the lawn to bed for the winter except for watering now and then, which of course depends on the amount of moisture in the area during the winter months.

Bone meal, barnyard manure, or any other fertilizer high in nitrogen content works well here.

Never cut the grass too short for the roots will suffer if you do. During the hot summer months it is best to set the mower at 1 1/2 inches, but in cooler weather the mower may be set at 1 1/4 inches.

One deep watering per week is better than several light waterings. Set the sprinklers and leave them until the ground is soaked. Hand watering is never very successful because few people have the patience to stand in one spot long enough to let the water go deep enough for thorough watering.

Works With Garden Club

Mrs. Hill has been a member of the Hereford Garden Club for the past ten years, and has served as president of that organization. She is a national flower show judge and a member of the National Council of Garden Clubs. She is also a member of the Flowering Group, which is composed of nationally accredited judges.

During the years of work with the club she has studied landscaping and gardening, how to grade and how to arrange flowers. She has developed a garden of unusual charm in keeping with the architectural lines of her home. She enjoys working with flowering shrubs and finds room for oriental and double peonies, altheas, crape myrtles and many others. One of her chief delights is raising gladioli—in fact, she can't remember when she was not interested in growing some kind of flower.

Of course, she admits that things do not always turn out as expected or planned, and she warns, "If you have succeeded in getting a good lawn started, now that you know how to fertilize, water, weed and cut, you still have a lot of things to combat in the High Plains Area. If you are to keep your lawn looking good, you will need to acquire patience and a sense of humor. For example, my own lawn was seeded to blue grass and clover, and now it is almost completely in Bermuda grass. Where did it come from? I don't know."

Kansas Man Takes 10 Gallons Water Back To Small Son

Ken W. Conner of Prairie Village, Kansas, was in Hereford Wednesday, as he put it, "Just to see the Town Without A Toothache."

Mr. Conner, an employee of an equipment supply firm in Kansas City, read about Hereford in Time magazine around four years ago. He wrote immediately and arranged for Express shipments of Hereford water for his year-old son, who is now five.

"He has been drinking Hereford water since," said Mr. Conner, "and his teeth are perfect."

Mr. Conner visited with Dr. W. G. Heard and collected material from the Chamber of Commerce prior to his return. He also bought 40 one-gallon syrup jugs from a drug store, had them carefully washed and is taking 40 gallons of Hereford water back to Kansas with him.

"Express bargains sure do run up the cost," was Mr. Conner's chief opinion; "besides, I wanted to see the town," he said.

Bill Howard, Blue Turpen and Gerald Hale went to Conchas Dam, N. M., to fish last Thursday, and planned to return today.

Mrs. Paul Strickland, Mrs. R. T. Taylor, and Mrs. Lee Campbell, all of Friona, were shoppers in Hereford, Wednesday.

FANCY AND PLAIN

Prior to the '53 Footballer season I guessed that the foot would get back into football more prominently, with the return to the eleven man college type game. I was at least a year premature in my premise. The one play punter is no longer extant and his demise dates back to that rule change. The quality of punting has deteriorated, no little, and the effects told in many a tussle. Superior kicking by Latner was the main cog in the Irishers' win over Oklahoma. Although the Sooners made it close with a Green kick return of considerable yardage. Oklahoma punting was their nearest approach to small time football in their otherwise bigtimer type ball club and you can wager a smidgeon or even a blob, that corrective measures are being applied even now. Do you recall Purdue kicking Michigan State into a goal-line hole, wherefrom the Spartans, in turn, didn't kick themselves from out and that 6-0 Boilermaker blast was resultant. Even the Rose Bowl fracas had a punting episode. Michigan State was only a single pernt ahead when Mr. Wells fielded that blooper and scooted 62 yards to a score, mainly because the kick didn't catch up to the Uclan coverers. When I came up with my kicking hazard last lap, I had in mind that some coaches would substitute the quick kick on early downs in lieu of the booter specialist, who was no longer available for insertion at will. A low quick kick, on second or third down, when fired right at a drawn-in, unsuspecting safety, often will extract a frantic, touching gesture out of him. The offensive ends, whom I trust had been apprised of the maneuver beforehand, could then avail themselves of the safety's consternation and defection. The gesture is always enhanced, as far as results are concerned, if the inside end blocks the addled safety and his teamie thereby covers the apple. Ordinarily, if plays mature, this leads to ball retention and considerable progress in the proper direction. Speaking of end play, reminds me of that oldie anent the coaching school tutor who was asked to describe a surefooted defense against a particular brand of short passes. The cst promptly claimed that he advocated, "containment at the line of scrimmage". As an afterthought and to reach the plane of his audience, he made this verbal concession. "In the old days, we would have said we knock the pants off the receiving end before he can unwind." Passing was another suffering phase of football in the '53 season, sans specialist chunkers and receivers. Defense will again come first in the requirements demanded of picketmen, plus some applied aptitude in downfield blocking. The scarecrow type of offensive end, on stilts, built for pass snatching only, went that way and won't be back. So the return to rugged individuals, who can plug the dam or tear it down and still catch a football on occasion, awaits only the ability of the recruiters to produce them, 'cause that's what the man will want. Until the recruiters procure them, the coaches will be dipping into their parcels of guys yclept Murgatroyd, trying to come up with a Baston, an Oosterbaan, a Skladany, a Hart, a Bechtol, a Fesler, a Poole or even a Brick Muller, any of which could plow without horses, move hedges and spear an errant pighide and move with same. Screen passes to backfielders increased in volume in '53 and we can look for more of the same. The fire and fall back type of passing is kaput, for now the defender is as fresh as the potential receiver and has small need of a bicycle to stay in the game.

Sponsored by Adlai Stevenson, (Aug. 19, 1952) opposing Truman's veto of the tidelands bill, handed to Governor Shivers at Springfield, Ill.

- IF... You considered the future and welfare of TEXAS the most important part of your public career, and
- IF... You knew that the future of TEXAS was vested in the education and training of TEXAS youth, and
- IF... You knew that the loss of Texas tidelands would mean depriving TEXAS school children of $32,000,000 annually in educational funds, and
- IF... The democratic convention in session at Amarillo in September, 1952, INSTRUCTED you to do all within your power to RETAIN THE TIDELANDS FOR TEXAS and protect this income for TEXAS SCHOOL CHILDREN, and

FINALLY IF... WITH THIS IN MIND, YOU SAT FACE TO FACE WITH ONE OF THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES AND ASKED HIM IF HE WOULD SUPPORT TEXAS IN ITS RIGHTFUL FIGHT TO RETAIN THE TIDELANDS FOR TEXAS — FOR THE SCHOOL CHILDREN — AND THE ANSWER WAS NO — VERIFIED BY LETTER!
