Rogers Reviews Road Allotments

Austin, Feb. 11-A check on State Highway Department records has revealed that $152,923.22 was spent by the department on Deaf Smith County highways during the fiscal year 1954, State Senator Andy Rogers announced this highway and $67,983.69 for maintenance of existing road.

This was part of the whopping

$3,531,666.01 allocated and spent in the 15 counties of District 30 during the period, he said. Of the amount

"While the effect of these tremendous expenditures is good and much needed, it is plain that highway appropriations for the state must be ever larger if Texas is to keep pace with other progressive states in the building and maintenance of good road systems." The immediate future needs of Deaf Smith County are taken into account in the $246,074.46 worth of contracts signed for jobs that are now underway, and the $629,-200 planned for near-future construction.

Canyon Dedication Is Upset By Hereford Win

By Billy Paul Knox

The Hereford Whitefaces spoiled the dedication of Canyon High School's new gymnasium by taking a 57-51 spine-chiller from the Eagles Friday night at Canyon. The victory was sweet revenge for the Herd who lost to the Eagles by only one point earlier in the sea-

About 650 fans, a capacity crowd, watched Hereford jump to an early lead, then lose it-only to regain it in the second half of the game. Two of Canyon's aces, sophomores George Snapp and Chas. Neblett, were effectively bottled up by the onsurgent Herd who have a chance to tie for second place in District 1AA by taking their remaining fracases with Shamrock, Dumas, and Perryton.

It was Hereford's night as the Whitefaces hit from all angles and controlled the majority of the rebounds. Sconing honors, which usually go to Francis Boyd, were passed around, this time to Jack Burrus who scored 20 points. Boyd | Burrus hit for 16 markers to bring his season total to 551 points with three more games remaining to be played.

The first quarter was well played as both teams concentrated mainly on the defensive part of the game and scoring was comparatively low. The Whitefaces finally managed to come out on the long end of the count on some clutch shooting by Jack Burrus, Homer Hershey, and Francis Boyd. First quarter score was

The Eagles regained the lead in the second period, thanks to longshooting Joe Dickerson. In this exciting stanza the lead changed numerous times, but despite the absence of George Snapp. Canyon managed to hold a lead of 28-26 at intermission. Snapp accumulated three fouls in the early minutes of the first quarter, and was pulled to prevent his ejection by the foul route.

Canyon hit from the floor for a percentage of .333 in the first half, making 11 out of 33 shots. Hereford made 7 out of 26 for a percentage of .269. The Eagles held a comfortable edge in field goals. but the Whitefaces capitalized on Canyon fouls and made a considerable amount of free shots.

Canyon came out for the second half and played slow deliberate ball, emphasizing ball control, and taking a shot when the pathway was clear, but Hereford's fullcourt press upset the applecart. The full-court press; a common trademark of Hereford teams, worked effectively as the frequent pilfering of the ball by the Whitefaces rattled the Eagles and they were forced to resort to their old tactics of fast break style of bas- charge for the day, gave a demketball which they were also un- onstration of how to apply floweras the Whitefaces led, 40-39 at the end of the period.

Both teams pressed in the final quarter, but Hereford reserve strength paid off as George Snapp fouled off for Canyon and a Hereford crew of reserves, inserted at the beginning of the fourth quarter, hit with deadly accuracy and played top-notch defensive ball.

The uncanny accuracy, of the Whitefaces at the free throw line furnished the margin of victory. Canyon had Hereford bested 19-18 in field goals, but the Eagles fouled 19 times to Hereford's 13. The Herd made 21 free shots and the Eagles sank only 13.

High scorer for Canyon was Joe Dickerson with 17 points. Jack Burrus had 20 for the Whitefaces. BOX SCORE

Budget Saving Tip

EVER GET A craving for that old-fashioned combination-frankfurters, sauerkraut and potatoes? When we uo, our rood budget ruly approves!

when we prepare this dish,-we add a few tablespoons of dark brown sugar to the sauerkraut because we like the suspicion of sweetness it gives. Usually we put kraut, frankfurters and sman potatoes into a large skillet; cover the pan ughtly and let the flavors mangle gioriously until the sputis are cooked through. But the last few times we were in the mood for this supper dish, we tried baking it. This method met with the approval of our severest criticsour family. If you would like to y it on yours, the recipe follows.

Preface this main dish, if you ke, with a thick peasant-style youp. For dessert we're likely to whip up an airy souffle and put it in the oven when the saurkraut, frankfurters and potatoes come out. If we choose to serve a vanilla souffle, we accompany it with a fruit sauce. With a chocolate soutwe usually serve whipped Favorite Recipes Of Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill, Jr. February is the ideal month for ntertaining. Party givers can go rilly for St. Valentine's day or atriotic on Washington's or Linoln's birthday. Fancy cakes and salads shaped like hearts make or festivity on Feb. 14. Or taking cue from Lincoln's rustic beginnings, you can serve little cake rolls iced in chocolate to represent small logs. Cherries and intchets go hand-in-hand for a Washington's Birthday party.

The salad is the beauty spot of he menu-it tastes so good and what is more, it makes the whole meal taste better. Then too, spring weather and light fruit salads are wonderful affinities which 'means wonderful eating.

A good cook can let her imagination loose in the spring. That way she dresses up plain-Jane meals or the fanciest party menu, and feeds her family foods they need, a wealth of vitamins and minerals for good health.

Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Jr., has worked out some salad recipes for today's "Let's Cook Something" which are a delight to the eye as well as to the taste. She uses these recipes often both for the family and for parties.

Tribute To Fine Teacher

The trials and tribulations of a school teacher are manifold. His chances of gaining fame and fortune are meager. He does have other rewards, however, in that he can watch the seeds of his efforts sprout and bear fruit in future generations. In addition, a good, well balanced teacher possibly has the opportunity for making more friends than any other professional

All of these things emerged in Hereford recently when a letter from the Eighth grade students (class of '54) appeared before the school board in a request that the present junior high school be named "Stanton Jr. High" in memory of H. V. Stanton, Within a matter of seconds, the suggestion was adopted unanimously by the trustees.

By coincidence, the event took place almost on the anniversary of Mr. Stanton's death. Any teacher, of course, would like to have a school named in his honor. Still greater -- and a factor that would have been even more sincerely appreciated by Mr. Stanton -- was the fact that the suggestion came from deep within the hearts of the students. While the expression came from one class it was, undoubtedly, an expression from the entire junior high student body.

H. V. Stanton was a wonderful man,

Poultry Increase In Livestock Show

The Junior Livestock show, scheduled for next Friday and Saturday, is predicted by its Rotary Club sponsors to be one of the largest yet appearing in the community.

Starting with humble beginnings, the annual show is now attracting hundreds of entries from interested boys and girls in the four-county area. It is also interesting to note the exceptional emphasis which the show is placing on poultry entries. This division, a minor field at first, is fast becoming one of the major attractions.

The sponsors are to be commended upon accepting and expanding this phase, which is seldom encouraged in similar shows. Poultry entries are popular because they do not require an excessive outlay of cash, also because they are available equally to girls and boys. Much credit for development of this particular phase is also due the Home Demonstration and 4-H leaders of the grea.

The Junior Livestock show, although sponsored by the Rotary Club, has become a community-wide affair. It attracts the interest, the work and the contributions of many citizens. All of these citizens are interested in one thing: the improvement ged were egment of the youth of the

The annual show, in interesting more and and more boys and girls in our opinion fulfills its prime purpose. In addition to learning methods of stock feeding and poultry raising, the boys and girls of the community are also being occupied in worthwhile endeavers. When you compare this occupation with juvenile delinquency records and hanky-tonks found in many cities it is difficult to refuse any assistance asked toward making the anual Junior Livestock Show bigger and better.

Highway Progress

Announcement was made this week of preliminary work toward widening 25-Mile Avenue through Hereford. The question, somewhat explosive, will meet with various reactions.

People who live along the strip will, in some instances, be against the improvement and a few will have justified the complaints. Most of them, however, have accepted the situation as one necessary to progress and general improvement.

Problems of this type constantly occur. They are as inevitable as community progress. Sometimes they create hardships on individuals; sometimes they are even settled in courts, according to laws provided for such circumstances.

In the final analysis, however, such things are usually ironed out in the light of general community benefit and improvement. No one can deny that an improved Highway 51, complete with six-lane traffic, a safe intersection with U. S. 60 and an underpass south of town will greatly improve the community. When one compares the benefits in lives saved, accidents averted and community welfare, it assumes a different

A democracy, after all, can only flourish and succeed when the welfare of all people is placed first, along with fair treatment of the individual.

Birth Rate Goes Up

Recent figures show that the number of babies born in 1954 set a new record in the United States. Tentative figures show over 4,100,000 1954 births.

The significance of this record crop of ba-. bies is further increased by the fact that it represents the fifteenth year of successive increase in the U. S. birth rate.

The long-term economic result of this trend is to be felt within five years. There seems to be little doubt but that the babies born in the early forties will begin to earn salaries and wages increasingly in the next five years. By 1960, the number of students entering college and entering the job market will be rapidly rising and, thereafter, the effects will be felt on a very broad economic front.

These figures have led many experts to be optimistic about the future in the United States. There seems little doubt that the soaring birth rate in the United States will increase the demands for goods and services and education in this country to a prosperous high in the coming years, barring some economic - cata < trophe.

Local Tax Payers Frown On Any Additional Levy

Recent discussion has centered around the question of taxing personal property, such as household items, silverware, radios and similar items. What do you think of such a plan?

The constitution of Texas states that taxes shall be equal and uniform, and that all property in the State shall be taxed, except certain property specifically exempt which includes a $250 value of household and kitchen furniture for each family, In my opinion the basic principal of "equal and uniform" taxes is not violated by the exclusion of All household and kitchen furniture throughout a given taxing unit. Practically the only people who would benefit by a tax on household furniture would be non-residents, unusually large property owners, railroads, utility companies and other corporations. The cost of assessing this type of property is excessive and the aggravation and annoyance to the property owner would, it seems to me, be out of all proportion to the revenue derived. I'm agin' it.

O. L. BYBEE:

The law provides for taxing some personal property. None of the non-luxury household items are taxable. I feel that the paper work involved would be more trouble than the taxes would be worth. The people that don't have real estate wouldn't render theirs and there would be no way of enforcing the law.

MRS. JIM WITHERSPOON: I think that the extra bookkeeping involved in something than the taxes would be. MRS. J. P. SLATON:

As far as I'm concerned I'm taxed enough. I pay taxes on my household goods and radio and my car and have always paid taxes on them. I haven't heard any discussion. I'm sure that there are people who don't render their things and pay taxes on them.

Community Builders

By Nelda Guy Ricketts

A board to help conserve water in Deaf Smith County, something that is very vital in this part of the country came into being through the efforts of Frank Bezner, and other community builders of this area.

"Water is one of the most precious things there is in this area since rainfall is so scarce and when the underground supply is gone-that's all," says, Frank.

Frank Bezner was also trustee and chairman of the building committee for St. Anthony's Catholic Church fr 14 years-all during the time they were working and paying for the new building at the corner of Park Avenue and High-When Bezner moved to Hereford in 1925 there were only 10 or 15 families members of St. Anthony's Church in Hereford and today there are about 180 families represented in the church. Native Texan

J. Bezner was born in Lindsey, Tex., on Dec. 3, 1907, in a semi-log house. Lumber for the house was originally hauled from Sherman, Tex.

He attended school through the fifth grade in Lindsey, but after the fifth grade he would have had to go away from home to attend school. Being the second oldest of 12 children, he felt that he would have to stop his schooling and go to work. He worked on the farm for his father after that,

In addition to working on the farm, he sold Sunday papers. He recalls that one of his first jobs was carrying water to a threshing

On Nov. 4, 1935 he was married to Beatrice Fangman. They have six daughters and one son, Maccella Marie, 17; Bernadette Eugenia. 15; Carol Ann, 14; La Verne Cecelia, 10; Janie Elaine, 3; Judith Patricia, two; and Frank J. Jr., 71/2 months.

Active In K-C's Frank is a charter member of both the third and fourth degree Knights of Columbus and has held most of the offices in both organizations including the office of Grand Knight in the Fourth Degree and Faithful Navigator in the Third Degree. He served as district deputy of the Knights of Columbus jn 1943-44.

A member of the Rotary Club, Frank takes an active part in the annual Livestock Show. He feels that it gives the younger people an opportunity to learn more about livestock and showmanship. In ac dition to that, he just plain enjoys

He is a director of the Rotary Club, a director of the Hereford National Farm Loan Association director of the Consumers Fuel coop; and vice president and director of the Deaf Smith County Farm

Frank is a charter member of the Farm Bureau and served as a director when it was first organized "way back yonder."

Had Rough Time He can recall days when the going was not so easy as now. One Saturday afternoon he and his wife came to town with a five-gallon car of cream in the back of the car-as they turned the corner at the Bull Barn, the cream can turned over and spilled all over the car. The result was that the Bezner's went home that Saturday night without any groceries, because the cream was all they had with which to buy their groceries. During the dust bowl years. Frank and his brother sowed 9,000 acres of wheat in four years and harvested 3,000 bushels during the same time. After that seige, Frank had $44 to his name to start over with. Now he owns a farm south on Highway 51 and in 1953 built a new home on the location.

Frank enjoys fishing and snooker for a hobby-though his fishing time is rather, limited.

A great sports fan, Frank found that he was almost not getting any work done during the baseball series on television.

As a community builder Frank feels that one of the things that needs to be done most in this country is conserve water. He also thinks that Deaf Smith County waited about 15 years too long to start on their conservation prac-

Frank also thinks that widening Highway 51 will be a big boon to Hereford and plans to help with getting easements on the right-of-

BOOTLEG ---Philosopher

Editor's Note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson you'll agree when you read the following.

I know as much about international affairs as I do about whether there's any uranium under my farm out here at Bootleg but lack of information never has been any bar to having an opinion, in Congress or out, and I have been giving considerable thought to the international situation lately and have come to a conclusion.

The trouble with the United States, and the advantage Russia has over us, is that we haven't got any pupper state, one you can pull the strings for but dodge the responsibility of. If Russia wants to stir up some trouble in Korea, for example, she doesn't come out in the open where the rest of the world can oin it on her, she uses her puppet state, Red Ching, which in turn uses some of its undercover men in Korea. The scheme kept us looking ridiculous in Korea for

Now the same thing is happening in Formosa. Russia is supplying Red China with materials and ideas, Red China is formenting trouble in Formosa, and the United States and her allies are left with the job of trying to stop bullets after they're fired, when everybody knows the only way to do it is to eradicate the guns, but the guns come from Russia and we can't get at them because we just ain't the war-starting type, which is a good thing, but which leaves us with the burnt end of the stick, if you follow my military

But there is a way out, and I'm surprised that somebody else hasn't thought of it first. What the United States needs is a puppet state to do its fighting without requiring an act of Congress or involving the nation.

Now here's my proposal. There's Rhade Island sitting up there, not doing anything outstanding but not causing any trouble either and without very many votes. Why don't we declare Rhode Island an independent nation, sever our relations with it as a state, and then channel all the men and weapons needed through it and let her handle the Formosa situation or any other spot where the Communists break out? As an independent nation, with no connection with the United States, Rhode Island could start shooting where ever shooting is required, and we could sit back and send diplomatic notes to Russia every time Russia's toes were stepped on saying ain't it unfortunate but we can't do a thing with the independent and liberated nation of Rhode Island, she buys a little equipment from us now and then, we got receipts to show for it, but beyond that we don't have any connection with her, and if anybody wants to declare war on her, go ahead, we can't help it, but if you fly over our area getting to her, that'd be a violation of our air and an act of war against us, which is a horse of a different color.

This idea might not work, but you can say the same for most of the diplomatic ideas tried up to now.

So you may wonder-how come? What's different about the Buick ride that makes it such a marvel?

The answer is-plenty.

Most cars have coil springs on front wheels only. Buick has them all around - and this year they're newly calibrated for even deeper smothering of jounce and jar. So here your ride is balanced, buoyant, level, serenely smooth.

Most cars drive through the rear springs. Buick drives through a torque-tube that takes up all driving thrust, wipes out rear-wheel wiggle and wag, steadies your going to a sure and solid track.

And no other car in all America has these great comfort extras plus the backbone of a massive X-braced frame plus both direct and lever-type shock absorbers to snub afterbounce plus a special front-end geometry to stabilize "cornering" plus tubeless tires on extra-wide rims for softer riding and greater stability.
