Around Town

When more than two people gold together Around Town this week, the topic invariably shifted to Grain Sorghum, all of which indicated a record crowd for the big meeting called in the District Court room here for Thursday night, Feb. 3.

The Lions pancake supper did break in, however, to diaw around 750 persons Friday night, despite two Cub pack meetings and several programs. The proceeds are already spent, however, according to. Lion President Cecil Massey, who said that proceeds will be used to help pay for new equipment re cently installed in the high school. A portion will also be used to help defray expenses of the F.H.A. gir's exchange student program.

Friends of Cecil Guseman were happy this week to learn that he is considerably improved following a heart attack in California. He has been moved from the hospital to the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel in Los Angeles.

By D. C. Kinsey

The most overtaxed people in the country, without a doubt, are car owners.

Of every dollar spent for a new car, an average of 32 cents is pald in federal, state and local taxes. On top of that are the gas taxes. In this country 53 million drivers are contributing close to 5 billion dollars a year in tax revenue.

The users of the highways should, of course, pay for those highways. But nearly half of the taxes collected from-car drivers are used for government expenses that have nothing to do with automobiles. So the car owner is being soaked twice, once as an ordinary citizen paying his regular taxes and a second time as a car owner.

Every year the motorist pays for a coast-to-coast highway he never gets. By now, say the experts, there could be 40 such roads if car and gas taxes were used to improve driving conditions.

Most of these taxes are based on the theory that a car is a luxury, or that by taxing the car owner you are soaking the rich.: There's a positive answer to that right at our own used car lot. It's pretty obvious just from looking over our tested used cars that you can buy the feel of luxury without paying luxury money. Here we have several cars that have been checked and examined to make sure you will get from them what you want from any car; They'll get you, there surely economically in style and comfort. Take one out for a spin yourself.

ILLUSION OF HEALTH

ANN ARBOR, Mich. W-You don't have to feel sick to be sick That was the finding of the University of Michigan medical school in examinations of 500 business executives who got company - paid checkups at University Hospital.

Forty-one percent of the 500 were sick and didn't know it, and 25 percent of these needed treatment immediately. About 45 percent of the sick men were found to have stomach disorders, while another 24 percent were found to have cardio-vascular heart or blood vessel) trouble.

Four of the executives who thought they were perfectly healthy were found to have cancer, and one was found to have tuberculosis. Three were diabetic, 12 had gallstones, and 16 peptic ul-form of increased revenue, national publicity and diversification. Now, it seems, they may even unite two relatives who have never before seen each other.

The interesting story came to light recently when John J. Pactzold, widely known farmer of this community, went to the Hereford Red Cross office with a problem which he felt they might help

It all started around three years ago, when a man in East Germany got the name and address of Mr. Paetzoid from a sack in which the Hereford man had shipped po- poo. tatoes. He is not sure if the man received potatoes in the sack as part of the government overseas program, or if the sack was used. after being emptied, as wrapping material and thus made its way into the East German Zone.

The German lived in the same part of the country from which Mr. Paetzold's family migratedand he prissessed a name which also indicated relationship between the two men. Too, there were ocher circumstances which the Red Cross does not wish to disclose in view of protecting other memers of the man's family.

Through continued correspondence, Mr. Paetzold learned that this, his possible kinsman wanted, more than anything else, to come to America. The man finally made his escape into West Germany from the East sector and, in time, managed through some government contacts to migrate to Canada, where he has been working for the past year.

The dream of coming to the United States-and especially to Texas-has never left him, however, and during his year in Canada the kinsman has been diligertly saving his money toward fulfilling that ambition.

This is the point where Mr. Paet zold sought aid from the Red Cross. The man says he can pay his own transportation and has enough money to carry him through emergencies. Mr. Paetzold says that he will give the man employment.

The local Red Cross chapter, icllowing this angle, helped fill out papers for the would-be resident of Hereford, including affidavits and financial responsibility.

elimination are often causes of this Sometimes too much pepper and other spices in the food aggravate redness in the nose and other parts of the skin. Your best bet is to consult your doctor about this.

Q. How can I bleach the hairs on my legs?

A. Apply periodically with cotton pads a mixture of one-half teaspoon toilet ammonia and three tablespoons of peroxide. This has to be mixed fresh for each application.

Q. How can I cleanse my skin thoroughly without using soap and water?

A. Wet a piece of cotton in cold water, squeeze dry, moisten with a tonic of witch hazel diluted with a little toilet water, dip into cold cream, and apply to the skin, rub bing upwards.

Q. What astringent do you recommend for the skin?

A. One of the best is witch hazel.

Go Back, Mr. Pat, Go Back - - Quick!

Old Timers who settled this country 40. 50 and 60 years ago like to dwell on their fine neighbors. They attribute their very existence and survival to the factor of Western Hospitality. The situation is meritorious. Their pride is justifiable.

What's more important, though, is the fact that the same spirit of hospitality crops up from time to time. Down at Shamrock, for instance, the people did a mighty nice thing for one of their neighbors. They chipped in their dimes, quarters and dollars and bought a 100-inch advertisement (approximately two-thirds of a page) which appeared in the Plainview newspaper last week. The advertisement read:

"CITIZENS OF PLAINVIEW: Shamrock Texas, wants you to meet A Swell Guy Who is Moving to your town - Norman (Pat) Patrick!

"Shamrock regrets to lose Pat and congratulates you. It may be unusual for a town to advertise the fact that it is losing one of its top citizens, but the community of Shamrock is so appreciative of the service this friend has rendered us in so many ways, we decided to buy an advertisement and blicly congratulate you on your good fortune in getting him as a citizen.

"We commend him to you as a Christian gentleman, a warm personality, an ethical hard-hitting business man, and a public spirited citizen whose enthusiam won't quit. Everybody in Shamrock, Texas, where he has resided for 13 years, loves Norman Patrick and his good family . . . . . . "

Unfortunately, we do not know Mr. Patrick, but we are inclined to agree with the Shamrock folks. Any man who merits such concern and appreciation on the part of his

Vegetable Vistas

Announcement this week of the location of an A. and P. packaging plant comes as a welcome surprise to most citizens of the community.

Just what the firm has in mind it still indefinite, possibly, even to them. The movement, to many producers, will appear as a possible answer to a pressing problem. Through domination of the market due to processing facilities, the lettuce deal is fairly well controlled by a few large firms. Some of these firms, in the past, have found it impossibe to harvest all crops, which make things difficult for the grower as well as the processor.

If A. and P. opens a market, purchasing lettuce and other produce in much the same manner as elevators and gins purchase grain and cotton, new vistas will be opened in the growth of vegetables in this area. Their demands can also easily spread into the growth of carrots, radishes, turnips, peas, beans and other produce.

If they follow the previous "Grower Shiptheir own are but one ference in processing, they will by necessity be only a replacement for the Houston plant under the previous system.

Meanwhile, there is little that the community can do, except wait for details through official announcements. To say the least, they are one of the biggest retailers in the business and their interest in Hereford in dicates great future possibilities along the line of expanding vegetable production.

neighbors is, by necessity, a wonderful man and an outstanding citizen.

However, if we were permitted to offer the gentleman a bit of sage advice, it would be: "Move back to Shamrock, quick, Mr. Patrick! No matter where you wander on the face of the earth you are not likely to find more thoughtful, more considerate or more appreciative neighbors than you had in Shamrock." Even the Old Timers never made a more neighborly guesture.

America's Answer To Communism

An announcement was made in Hereford recently which should literally shake the walls of the Kremlin in Moscow. That announcement concerned the sponsorship of devotional periods in Hereford High School, conducted daily by the Student Council.

The devotionals are non denominational They make no pretense toward raising the old question of church and state. On the contrary. They appear at the request of fine, wholesome boys and girls and, coming as they do, the devotionals represent America's true answer to the challenge of Com-

Faced with ruthless Communism on one hand and by the unknown quantities of Atomic Power on the other, the leaders of our nation are turning, more and more, toward Divine Guidance in the course of conducting the affairs of our nation.

This is fitting, indeed, when you recall that Thomas Jefferson sought Divine Guidance when he wrote out the inspired pages of our Constitution. Abraham Lincoln, likewise, sought Divine Guidance when our nation was threatened with strife and in-

Monday Stinkers

"You can't be good on Sunday, then be a stinker on Monday."

The admonition of Dr. Wm. H. Gordon, who this week spoke before the Hereford Rotary Club upon the event of it's observance of the organization's golden anniversary, can well be applied to the individual along with the group.

Many of us, clothed in the garments of self-righteousness, often fail to recognize our own short-comings as Christians and as citizens. Going to church on Sunday is good, even for the most wicked. However, is does not atone for our sins "last week" "next week" and for "weeks to come."

We agree with Dr. Gordon. Citizenship, like Christianity, must be practiced daily before we can truly feel that we are getting the most out of life. And, in both cases, there is no better yardstick than the "Ten Commandments" and the "Golden Rule."

Do We Need To Increase State Tax On Gasoline?

The Texas Legislature is considering additional state taxes on gasoline and cigarettes to help meet rising costs of state government. Do you think these items should be further taxed? If not, what do you suggest? REX LEE

No I don't think there should be any further taxes on gasoline parficularly. It's high enough as it is. The public would be paying a six cent state tax and a two cent federal tax if they raised them any. The tax is 25% of the cost now and really is one-third of the price after you take out station profit. There's lots of things that aren't taxed now that could be taxed. For instance thrift stamps, I consider them a luxury yet they don't have any 20% luxury tax on them like you have on other luxuries. If they paid a 20% luxury tax we woudn't have to raise taxes on gasoline. People aren't going to be able to afford to travel if they raise the price of gasoline anymore. Then they don't have a tax on butane for road use. More and More pick-ups and big trailer trucks are changing to butane. All they have to have is a permit but they don't have to pay any tax. Then I think they should have a chain store tax . They are setting service stations up under a big oil company and are putting the individual operator out of business.

H. E. MILLER:

I don't think that further taxes on cigarettes would hurt anything. I read somewhere that they are considering an extra tax on beer and I don't think that would hurt either. In fact, I am in favor of further taxes on cigarettes and beer. I don't think that we need any more taxes on the absolute necessities of life. Looks to me like they could find some things that are not absolutely necessary to tax. I am in favor of them increasing taxes on cigarettes instead of gasoline, even though I am a heavy smoker.

MRS. GEORGE BRASHEAR:

I do beileve in taxes or anything that will help make this a better country. Of course we smaller people holler about them, but the heads of the country know better than we what to do and I am willing to let them decide what is best, I think that liquor is included in that and I think that they should tax that hard. We are really very fortunate in Texas. I have traded in Oklahoma and they are taxed much heavier than we are here. Besides that I come from a country where taxes are much higher, and, in comparision, taxes here are very low. I feel that I am very fortunate to be allowed to live here in this country.

We hadn't realized what a good investment sheep could be until the first old ewe we bought died this week and left a blank spot in our hearts. She was 14 years old and there hadn't been a spring that her wool alone hasn't amounted to almost, if not as much, as the $6.00 we paid for hos, As as extra bonus, her lambs have always been twins and up until last year she has raised them both.

Harry Whitchurch reminds us that it was he who suggested we should have some sheep to keep the weeds down around the place. In the last thirteen years we've seen a lot of Johnson grass and bind weed give up the ghost after being bitten off regularly by our little flock so we will be forever indebted to him even if he never quits laughing at us about

Mrs. Whitchurch has a fine sense of humor and we are always happy when we see her and can do a little visiting.

Fate played right into our hand a few days ago when we stopped at the Walcott school just before noon to make some pictures. Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Perkins had fixed hamburgers with french fries for lunch in the school cafeteria that day and we simply couldn't manage to put up any resistance when Mr. and Mrs. Collins very graciously invited us to eat with them.

More than fifty youngsters are enrolle din the school.

We also had a pleasant visit with the H. D. Club members in the Black community last week. We haven't figured out why they would punish themselves by inviting us back for a talk on copper craft when we had been there before.

Community Builders

By Nelda Guy Ricketts

In a farming community the most important thing is not the farms, but the people who live on the farms. The lives of these people in Deaf Smith County are being made easier and more productive through the Home Demonstration work, which extends to about 500 people in the county through the efforts of Argen H. Draper, who has been selected as this week's community builder.

Temporary Agent Mrs. Draper came to Deaf Smith County as a temporary Home Demonstration Agent in 1947-and is still here. When she arrived as the temporary agent, she wouldn't even promise Miss Doris Leggitt, district agent, that she would stay for six months.

When she first came here, Mrs. Draper found 15 Home Demonstration clubs serving all of Deaf Smith County, part of Castro and Part of Oldham Counties. Since then her district has been cut to include only Deaf Smith County and she now has a total of 11 Home Demonstration Clubs.

At the time of Mrs. Draper's appointment there was no 4-H work in the county. At the present time there are eight 4-H clubs. Loyce Avant Sullivan, assistant Home Demonstration agent, is in charge of the 4-H work now. Born In Wellington

Mrs. Draper was born on June 10, 1914, in Wellington and attended high school in Wellington. She received her. Bachelor of Science degree from Texas Tech in 1940 and went to work for Farm Security. She started in the extension service in 1942 and served as Home Demonstration agent in Canadian before coming to Hereford. During her schooling at Tech,

Mrs. Draper taught in a one-teacher school and says she acquired a great deal of experience as she was the superintendent, janitor and baseball coach, in addition to teaching all the grades. She married Tom Draper Feb.

7, 1946, in Wellington. During her eight years in Hereford Mrs. Draper has developed a long-range training program which gives the women a more thorough study of the various phases of foods, clothing, good grooming, landscaping, etc., included in their program. Mrs. Draper has introduced programs on tailoring, clothing in general, good grooming and crafts to supplement the foods and landscaping programs which the women were working on in their club

Leader Training Plan She has started a leadership training program for Home Demonstration women and 4-H leaders, which is primarily to develop the individuals. They take courses that they, in turn, take back and teach members of their clubs. A Home Demonstration choral club that Deaf Smith County can well be proud of was organized under the leadership of Mrs. Drap-

Miss Doris Mahaffey went from Hereford to be the Home Demonstration agent in Terry County and Miss Clara Redman became the Dawson County Home Demonstration agent. Loyce Avant Sullivan is still serving as the assistant Home Demonstration agent for this county.

Mrs. Draper is a member of the Church of Christ and belongs to the American Legion Auxiliary and to the Eastern Star. She holds the office of Star Point in the Eastern Star.

Likes To Visit

If Mrs. Draper had time for a hobby, she would do a lot of visiting. She enjoys visiting with people and meeting new people, a factor that really ties in with her Home Demonstration work. She also likes to keep scrap-

It has been quite a merry go round at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spurlin the past few weeks. Donna Gail, their 6year-old daughter has been ill. It's nothing out of the ordinary for children to take the various childhood diseases, but Donna Gail doesn't believe in doing anything halfway. First, she obliginaly stayed home from first grade studies, while her face swelled to mammoth proportions and she recovered from the mumps. She was doing fine, then began having trouble with her tonsils, so Mama and Daddy took her to the hospital where she had her tonsils removed. She did wonderfully after her surgery, and the family was making plans for her return to school Manday morning. But such was not the case. Saturday, she came down with the measles. ### BOOTLEG ---Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher discusses an economic fact in his letter this week.

One of my neighbors was in town yesterday and he came back worried, saying he'd been talking to a drygoods man and he'd read something that had upset him.

According to the business man in town, he'd read the night before where some atomic scientist, in describing the future possibilities of atomic energy, provided it ain't all used up in one big swoosh in one war, had casually mentioned that in addition to all other things this new energy will accomplish, it'll also produce a pair of silk hose that'll forever. Just won't be possible to wear 'em out.

What worried this man was that if they can produce a pair of women's hose that'll last forever, they probably can do the same to men's sox, shirts, suits, hats, coats, etc., and if they do, where's that gonna leave the average drygoods man? Buy your kid a pair of stretch sox when he gets his first pair of shoes and he's fixed up for sox the rest of his life, which would certainly play havoc with the drygoods man's volume of business.

I do not look at the matter that way. In the first place, while I ain't questioning the ability of atomic scientists to build a bomb that'll blow the world to Kingdom Come, they've got to show me a pair of sox a kid can't wear out. Maybe they can do it, but I believe they'll come closer to sending a rocket to the moon.

But what I started out to say was that, even if they can, I'm not worried over the drygoods man's business, on account of I've got confidence in American ingenuity to always keep three jumps ahead of the average man's income. What if they perfect a pair of lifetime sox? They'll come out the same week with something else that costs just as much and will be considered just as essential and I suppose if a man's margin of profit was the same he'd just as soon be selling one item as another. I'd just as soon switch from cows to June bugs if the market was the same.

My neighbor and that drygoods man just don't understand the economic system. Take four years ago. The average family was already saddled with all the payments it could meet, without adding another single item, they were up to the hilt, but television suddenly developed into a reality and the average family is working that into its budget without a bobble. Don't ask me how, but it's a fact.

There are two things you can depend on: American business ability to bring out something new, and the public's ability to find a way to meet the payments on it.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Question Of The Week...

I don't think these items should be taxed any more and I would suggest that thrift stamps be taxed for one thing. I think that there should be additional taxes on chain stores. I also think there should be additional taxes on natural gas that goes out of the state.

A. J. SCHROETER

After investigating the problem in connection with my affiliation with the Panhandle Motor Hotel Association, I think that the legislature should increase the gasoline tax two cents. The money will be used to improve our roads and to build more farm to market roads. Good public roads will keep Texas from having to build toll roads, which are much more expensive to the driver and which by-pass all business around towns like Hereford. Our association is recommending that the extra two cent tax be passed.

And man! What that does

for Dynaflow*!

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY

This is for sure . . .

There's never been anything in your cardriving experience like the feel of Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow* - because there's never been anything like it in a car

In a modern plane, yes. For this is the principle of variable pitch propellers used on airplanes. Their propeller blades change "pitch" for quick take-off - then change to another "pitch" for better gas mileage in cruising aloft.

Now you can do the same thing on the ground-in a 1955 Buick.

Twenty propeller blades have been ingeniously engineered into the Dynaslow unit. They pivot - one way for a big boost in gas mileage while cruising - another way for brilliant new performance.

You switch the pitch for instantaneous acceleration just by pressing the pedal way down. Then it happens ...

A build-up of momentum as smooth as oiland as quick as a split second. Dazzling new xesponse on getaway-or a spectacular burst of instant safety-surge power when you need it out on a highway.

It's pure thrill - and a happy surprise in its far better gas mileage in cruising. Yet Variable Pitch Dynaflow costs not a penny more than earlier versions of this wonder drive.

How about you trying it?

That way you can also look into the sizzling new horsepowers, the fresh new styling, the envied ever-level ride, the eye-opening low prices - all of which are making the 1955 Buick the hottest seller in all history. Come in this week, won't you?

Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

What's This

Well, it's about that time, again, so lend an eyeball. Have you seen Homer Hershey lately? Maybe he has Spring Fever-anyway, he's skipping to his classes, now! Ha! How did you like that nice Assembly Program we had Tuesday? Weren't they grand? It could be because Pat Newell, Bill Rose, Willie Waits, Dabney Williams, and Kit Sanders were adding their melodious strains to the occasion.

Here is a little ditty dedicated to all the 1954-1955 brides: The name is "Proposal-at last!" "I've planned and schemed and lured you to this moment, dear. Never have I ever spent such a busy year! Now the magic hour has come. I can read your eyes! Heaven help me register genuine sur-

Say, you know that Dean Stevns certainly has long arms! You usf ask him if you don't believe it. It looks like someone else has 'changed partners." Now it's Clyiene Allred and Buddy Godfreycute couple!

For anyone who's interested-1 found out that the "Smashed Six" turned out to be the "Terrified Three!" Some joke, huh? Too bad somebody lost a tire and had give up the chase! Ha.

You should have seen what saw the other morning! A certain somebody started to sit down in our "famous" desk in Journalism. He didn't know, poor, guy. You should have seen his face when he found himself sitting out in the middle of the floor with the desk on top of him! I won't call any names, but his initials are Coach

Ask Mrs. Patterson whose engagement ring she was sporting the other day. I wonder if her husband knows?

Mr. Miller didn't say-what kind of bow he made in assembly did he? It looked a little like a cross between the can-can and the balet.

These people who start out for an exhilarating game of golf, and wind up playing ping-pong! Quite a contrast isn't it? "Betcha" Gary Southern knows what I mean, don't you Gary?

Did you see Betty's little pink number (sweater)? Straight from Paris with a capital "P." Well, people, it's time again for the old good-bye routine, so I'll be seeing you come Sunday,

"Tenjoy my family while I dry my clothes ELECTRICALLY!" says MRS. PAUL FRANCIS

909 SOUTH 4TH STREET ARTESIA, NEW MEXICO "Time releasing" is the way Mrs. Francis describes her new electric clothes dryer. Time that was once devoted to outdoor drying drudgery is now available for family enjoyment and

"I used to hear that you didn't need a dryer with beautiful New Mexico sunshine," Mrs. Francis says. Yes, the sunshine is beautiful in the southwest, but so are the colors in your clothes - if you don't let that beautiful sun fade them, and dry them in an electric clothes dryer.
