County Dropped From Federal Crop Insurance

Deaf Smith County is one of the 16 counties in a five state area which has been dropped from the 1956 Federal Crop Insurance program.

Reason given for dropping Deaf Smith and the other 15 counties from the FCIC rolls was the heavy losses suffered by the counties during the last six years. Sixteen million dollars reportable was lost in the 16 counties above the premiums paid.

The FCIC, which was set up under certain regulations by which the insurance program would support itself, said continuing heavy loss payments in the counties would make it impossible under present regulations to continue (Continued on Page 2)

Grand Jury Says Pressure Is Used Against Members

A Deaf Smith County grand jury returned nine indictments during a regular session last week and in their report to the District Court complained of "pressure" used against individual grand jurors.

Three were indicted for child desertion, two for second offense driving while intoxicated, and one each for assault with intent to murder, first offense DWI, and burglary (two counts).

In the "pressure" charge, the jury issued the following statement, signed by James Q. Hall, foreman of the jury:

"We, the Grand Jury of Deaf Smith County, Texas, duly organized as such at the January term of the District Court of said County, report to the District Court that at the request of the County Attorney of this County we have carefully investigated a charge made by Arie Darrel Harkins that on the 6th day of February, 1955, he was arrested by the Highway Patrolmen Kirkwood and Blair, and when he was taken to the County Jail that he was thrown to the floor and his foot and leg was twisted until his knee was broken, the same being a charge of aggravated assault against said patrolmen.

"As a result of such investigation, and after carefully hearing fully all witnesses offered and available on the case, we find and herewith return a No Bill in said cause.

"In connection with this case and the investigation of the same the Grand Jury further finds that a great deal of 'pressure' was used against the grand jurors individually, while at their homes and other places and while not in session as a grand jury, to cause the grand jury to return a bill or indictment in this cause; the grand jury is of the opinion that such pressure and such tactics are improper and are condemned."

A true bill was returned against Carl Mayberry, charged with assault with intent to murder.

Indicted for second offense DWI were Morris Sheppard Roe, and Pete Encinas, two counts was also indicted on two counts of burglary.

Wayne E. Tucker and two others were indicted for child desertion. Tucker is under custody, but the other two have not yet been arraigned. (Continued on Page 2)

As district council president, Mrs. Gene Loerwald of Hereford will preside at the conference, which will be held in St. Anthony's auditorium.

Activities for the day will begin at 9 a.m. with Holy Sacrifice of the Mass at St. Anthony's Church. Registration begins at 9:30 and a coffee hour, hosted by St. Anthony's parish council, will precede the business session.

Water Depletion Tax Deduction Report Lacking

No ruling has yet been received from the commissioner of Internal Revenue on the High Plains Underwater Conservation District's request for a ruling on whether or not an expense deduction for water depletion might be allowed under present tax laws.

The request, made Jan. 10 by the District, was presented by Lloyd Crosin, attorney from Lubbock, Joe E. Greenhill, Austin attorney, and Ray Lawrence, public accountant from Lubbock.

The District issued this statement recently:

"We do not have a ruling from the tax commission at this time, but we have a report from Washington to the effect that our request for water depletion deduction is progressing on schedule and that we should have an answer sometime soon. We have indications that our request is being studied very carefully and that every issue involved is being scrutinized thoroughly.

"We have high hopes that the ruling, when it comes, will be favorable to our High Plains people and as progress reports reach us from Washington, D. C., we will pass the news to our people."

The District seeks a depletion allowance similar to the oil depletion allowance. Virgil Dodson, Deaf Smith county Farm Bureau president, pointed out that such a depletion should be allowed because if and when the underground water is depleted, the value of the land will be vastly decreased.

Around Town

Folks Around Town were talking about the accidental death of Roberto Meeville, 35, Italian deputy and leader of the neo-fascist M.S.I. party, this week. Meeville, who was killed in an automobile crash in Italy, was a prisoner of war at the Hereford camp during the war.

Gracie Brunson was winner of the cedar chest given away at the annual H&H Furniture Lane Cedar Chest Party. Fifty-two girls attended the annual affair.

Veterans of Foreign Wars will install new officers for the coming year Thursday night. Installation program is to begin at 8 p.m.

In case you have let it slip your mind, Friday was the last day to file your income tax form, and the last day you could drive your automobile lawfully without the new safety sticker.

The famous Wings Over Jordan choir will perform at the high school auditorium this afternoon at 3 p.m. The choir, the best known of all Negro spiritual singers, are expected to attract a large audience. No admission price will be charged, but a free-will collection will be received. The appearance is sponsored by the Hereford Ministerial Alliance.

Polio Shots To Begin This Week

Dr. R. R. Wills, county health officer, Saturday night was to pick up the first Salk polio vaccine for the Deaf Smith County area in Amarillo. Dr. Wills personally made the trip to Amarillo after a Shamrock Oil Co. plane rushed the vaccine from Austin.

In announcing the arrival of the vaccine, Dr. Wills said that first and second grade students in Hereford would begin receiving the shots sometime this week. He stressed that only those students who had turned in signed permits from their parents would be inoculated. "It is too late now to sign permits," he said, pointing out that he had to order an exact amount of vaccine, according to the number of students whose parents had signed permits.

Vaccine Shortage
Dr. Wills said that there is a definite shortage of the vaccine for people who just want to get the shots on their own. In fact he said he doubted seriously that he would get enough of the vaccine (other than that allotted to the county for the first and second grade program) to inoculate 100 persons.

The county health officer said that contrary to reports and "rumors," there will definitely not be enough vaccine to go around to all persons wanting to buy the shots.

It was also pointed out that students would receive only two shots, instead of three as originally planned. He said the shots would be spaced two weeks apart and emphasized that the third shot would not be supplied free.

Dr. Wills said he was well aware that parents of many of the students would say they did not have a chance to sign the permit. He pointed out that they have had six weeks to make up their minds.

"There are a lot of things I'd like to change myself," he said, "but there is just not enough vaccine."

Six companies make the vaccine, according to Dr. Wills. He has been in direct contact with all six and has orders in to each company, but all have promised him only limited amounts of the vaccine.

He said the companies had pointed out that it would be late summer before any vaccine would be available for private use—possibly late August.

When the vaccine does arrive for private use it will be given on a first come basis, Dr. Wills said.

Sessions explaining the workings of the small claims court and Texas "hot check" laws will be offered at the Chamber of Commerce Merchants Committee credit clinic which begins here Monday as well as techniques of present-day credit and collection procedures.

The 10-hour course begins at 8 p.m. Monday at Firemen's Hall, under the direction of Heinz Ulrich, retail credit specialist from the University of Texas.

Between 50 and 60 are expected to take the course. A certificate will be awarded by the University of Texas to all who complete the course satisfactorily.

A C-C spokesman said a person must attend at least three nights in order to get the certificate.

Farm Bureau President To Speak At Five County Meet

Farmers and farm leaders from five counties will gather at the Friona School auditorium Tuesday night, April 26, at 8 for a public forum on the future for farmers.

Swisher, Castro, Bailey and Deaf Smith counties have received invitations from Farmer County Farm Bureau to publicize and attend the meeting.

Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau officials estimated that 50 farmers from this county would attend the meeting, which they termed "highly important."

Speakers for the evening will be J. Walter Hammond, Texas Farm Bureau president, and Harold West Texas Farm Bureau secretary. Hammond farms near Tye and West farms and operates a grain elevator at Bishop. Hammond has been president of Farm Bureau in Texas for 17 years and has gained unusual recognition in Washington and Austin as the farmer's representative. He was recently recognized as "The Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" by the farm magazine, Progressive Farmer.

West has been Texas Farm Bureau secretary-treasurer for several years. Both men have had extensive experience in state and national farm legislation.

This meeting, arranged by Farmer County Farm Bureau, is not called for the purpose of making protests, according to A. J. Ellison, Farmer County Farm Bureau president. It is a meeting at which farm problems, past and present will be discussed on a constructive basis. Milo, cotton, wheat and other commodities will be subjects of the meeting. Farm Bureau's views on the much-discussed milk situation will be presented. The general national farm program will be well covered, too.

"We urge every farmer, rancher and banker, and others interested to turn out for this meeting that we believe will be of great benefit to everyone," Ellison said.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Cancer

Dr. A. T. Mims told Hereford Kiwanians ways of detecting signs of cancer at their regular noon luncheon last week.

Program Chairman Jess Robinson also presented a group from the high school home economics department, who told club members what the FHA Club does and what it stands for.

Appearing on the program were Sylvia McCracken, Yvonne Axx, Bonnie Lewis, Paula Beth Corbett, Dolores Loerwald, Mrs. J. J. Durham and Mrs. Frank Frowell.

Melvin Carden Suffers Burns In Home Blaze

A Hereford man suffered burns on his face, hands and arms Thursday afternoon when gasoline with which he was washing greasy clothes in the bathtub became ignited.

Injured was Melvin Carden. His burns were not serious enough to require hospital treatment, however. Carden's wife also received minor burns in the blaze.

The Carden's bathroom, at their home located on Thirteenth Street, between Avenue I and J, was damaged, mostly by smoke.

Trapped
Carden was trapped in his bathroom for a short time after the gasoline ignited, apparently from a pilot light of the water heater. The room had been recently painted and the door "stuck" when he tried to flee. He cracked the door panel with his fists before he finally forced it open.

The blaze was under control when Hereford firemen reached the scene.

MELVIN CARDEN, pictured above, narrowly escapes serious injury Thursday night when he was trapped in a blazing bathroom. Fire, caused by ignited gasoline which Carden was washing clothes, with in the bathtub, swept the small room and when Carden reached the door it was stuck and he could not open it. He finally forced the door open to gain his freedom, but received burns on his face, hands and arms. In the picture above, Carden demonstrates the position he was in when the door would not open. Merchants Seek Ordinance To Halt Itinerant Peddling

A committee headed by Paul Harvey was instructed to meet with the City Council and get a "workable city ordinance passed to control 'itinerant peddlers' at the regular weekly meeting of the Merchants Committee Friday.

The group discussed the problem and instructed the committee to seek an ordinance with "some teeth in it."

Committee members also instructed Bill Lenderman, Chamber of Commerce manager, to contact the postmaster and request that back and side door delivery of parcel post be made beginning April 18 or as soon as possible. Lenderman contacted the postmaster and the service will begin May 2. Merchants of the town have agreed to mark the back of their buildings so that it can be easily identified.

Lenderman was also instructed

GETS ARE OUR TIME

By D. C. Kinsey

Almost everyone can remember the days when the standard color for automobiles was black. You expected a car to be black just as refrigerators today are white. Twenty years ago, black was the color of 75 percent of the cars made; today only 10 percent of our cars are black.

Livelier shades on automobile bodies only became practical in 1939 when the development of titanium and cadmium increased the durability of auto paint by 400 percent.

Now that almost any shade of exterior finish is possible, psychologists are starting to develop theories about automobile colors -- and I'll pass them along for what they're worth. You can try them out on your own car, or on the cars at our lot.

First of all, two-tone color jobs are supposed to make a car look longer and lower.

Colors at the red end of the spectrum make a car look bigger, the psychologists say, while colors at the blue end make it look smaller. At the same time they say that dark colors tend to make a car look smaller and heavier, but light colors make a car look larger and lighter.

Where this leaves a car that's dark red or light blue, I haven't the foggiest idea, since according to these theories they would be both heavier and lighter at the same time.

The durability of car paints that came with the application of titanium and cadmium has been a great boon to the used car buyer, as anyone can see by looking at the colorful display on our lot. That showroom shine lasts a lot longer these days, and especially on cars that have been given reasonable care. That's the kind we buy, and the kind we sell.

Come look at our array of new Spring colors in the 1956 Buicks!

What's This

By Chris

Greetings everybody, and may you make the most of the weather. Did I say weather? It's the most! I suppose all of you read about the band solo contest. Pretty good! Six first division ratings out Hereford. I certainly hope the choir will do as well.

My curiosity is killing me, for you to know what J. B. and Verla were doing in the hall Thursday afternoon, but I guess I'd better not tell. Uh-hi--you might ask Pickens. Me thinks he has a pretty good idea.

The Junior-Senior banquet has come and gone for another year, and what we didn't see. Wow! Most of it is top secret and you know, I sort of have to look out for old self, but would I ever like to tell you!

That Coach Stark has got to go! Did you know he has three sets of eyes? That's the truth, cause I know and if you don't believe me, just ask me. Man, he's the swingiest!

Clarence has a new nick-name these days. Old Tickerlib Tee-bee really had it the other day in the library; had the laugh that is--

Let me tell you about Dean Stevens; poor boy I'm afraid he's getting in a rut. All he likes to do nowadays is look at pictures of pretty girls in bathing suits and listen to "I'm in the Jailhouse Now."

I'll bet you're wondering why Carolyn was carrying a "Hereford Brand" around with her last week. I know! The same reason she went to Dimmitt Thursday night to see the Senior play.

Well guys, Pat Taylor is foot-loose and fancy free again and I'm really wondering what she'll do next. From what I heard, her trip to San Angelo was quite the thing. Of course I didn't hear it from her, but with the aid of my hidden wires and microphones, I managed to get part of the low-down.

You know there is something that I've been wondering about lately. I keep wondering if all of Danny J's intentions are honorable or questionable. Well really! No offense meant!

I'd like to leave this little reminder for you to ponder. Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall--1 Corinthians 10:12.

See you next week--

Junior-Senior Banquet Marked By Paris Theme

The big event for high school juniors and seniors, the annual Junior-Senior Banquet, was held in the Shirley School gymnasium Friday evening. Built around the theme "Evening in Paris," a new look marked the event with a setting of old France featuring sidewalk cafes, beneath bright colored awnings and cobblestone curb. The junior class colors of silver and blue were carried out in miniature Eiffel Towers which were used in decorative appointments, and cables for four were centered with lighted tapers matching the red, blue, green and white stripes in the awnings.

Memory booklets done in silver and blue had the program and menu printed inside. The program included: "Merci au Dieu-Monieur Pat Sullivan," "Paree, Ah-Gay Paree" - Donald Zimmerman, "Ah Merci Beaucoup" Pickens Moore, "Innocents Abroad" Le Quatre, with the quartet members, Raymond Wells, J. B. Wills, Clarence Caywood, and Pickens Moore.

The main speaker for the evening was Roy Bass, Lubbock attorney, whose subject was "Rendezvous Headlines." The concluding number was "Sorry to Say Au Revoir" - Monsieur Don Moore.

Approximately 260 attended including members of the high school faculty and members of the junior and senior classes.

Mrs. A. J. Schroeter provided informal music throughout the evening.

Class sponsors are Mrs. Dee Lowry and Craig Johnson, juniors, and Mrs. Billye Buck and L. L. Chisum, seniors.

Junior class officers include Donald Zimmerman, president; Bill Albracht, vice president; Kay Barnard, secretary and Wanda Kimbrough, treasurer. Senior class officers include Pickens Moore, president; Buddy Godfrey, vice president; Virginia Brock, secretary and Gay Malone, treasurer.

General arrangement committee for the banquet included Bill Albracht, Gene Streun, Eddie Morris and Loerwald.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Boulware of Miles City, Mont., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Weir. They visited with relatives in Odessa before coming to Hereford.

Mrs. Dell Berry of Oxnard, Cal., a former resident of this area accompanied by her niece, Mrs. Max Grant, Camarillo, Calif., arrived at the M. L. Hardy home Saturday, April 9, for a 10 day visit among old friends and neighbors. Many changes have been noted in the town and county in the 12 years since Mrs. Berry left the Plains.

"Fast and the Furious"
A Palo Alto production "Fast and the Furious" starring John Ireland and Dorothy Malone is an exciting story about the Pan-American road race.

Miss Malone, wealthy sportscar driver, is encountered unknowingly by a fugitive truck driver who has been accused of committing a murder by shouldering another truck off of a road and causing the death of the driver.

At gun point he forces her to accompany him in her Jaguar to Mexico.

How Can I?
By Anne Ashlley

By ANNE ASHLEY
Q. How can I wash feather pillows?
A. Boil for 15 minutes in a boiler of water softened with one-third cupful borax and one tablespoonful ammonia. Do not use soap nor soda. Lift out, lay on the washboard and scrub with a stiff brush dipped in heavy suds. Rinse in two waters, squeeze as dry as possible, shake thoroughly and pin to a line in the shade. Shake and turn several times daily. It may take a few days to dry them thoroughly.

Q. How can I make the hair shiny?
A. After shampooing the hair, use a half cup of vinegar in the last rinse water. It will give the hair a sheen and make it soft and fluffy.

Q. How can I avoid a flat taste in boiled water?
A. The boiled water will not have this flat taste if it is poured back and forth from one bottle to another. Or, shake it in a large bottle.

Q. How can I fasten the food grinder to a slippery surface?
A. If the kitchen table is too slippery to attach the grinder, place a small wad of paper between the grinder and the table, tightening the screws on the paper instead of the table. It will be secure and safe.

Q. How can I make creamed hard-boiled eggs?
A. Chop and serve in a thick cream sauce on toast. An attractive garnish can be made by shredding a part of the yolks for a garnish and adding strips of green pepper.

Q. How can I dye canvas shoes?
A. Plain, white canvas pumps can be tinted any desired color by using a small package of good dye, and applying with a brush.

Q. How can I get rid of rats and mice?
A. Rats and mice will not stay around a place where there is chloride of lime. However, as chloride of lime will eat into almost anything it touches, place it in

STREU HARDWARE

To Dry Lettuce
After washing lettuce, place it in a clean towel, and twirl it around and around a number of times. This drives nearly every particle of water out of the lettuce.

Bruises on Furniture
Take a piece of blotting paper, soak in warm water and place it over the bruise. Apply a warm iron until all moisture is gone. Repeat operation if necessary.

Smooth Gravy
It is said that gravy can be prevented from becoming lumpy, by adding a pinch of salt to the flour used for thickening, before mixing it with water.

Heavy Fabrics
Before stitching such materials as khaki and heavy duck or canvas, rub the hems and seams with hard yellow soap and the needle will penetrate easily.

DEAF SMITH COUNTY CHECKERBOARD NEWS

By Frank A. Gyles, Jr.
PACKARD MILLING CO.

HERE'S WHY IT PAYS TO CONTROL FLIES
Whether you're a dairyman, stock farm operator, or general farmer, you make more money by using a good fly control program. This is above and beyond help to health and well-being of animals and humans by spraying.

HOW DO YOU RATE AS A HOG MAN?
The average hog man weans only about 6.47 pigs per litter, but the Purina Research Farm weans 9.15 pigs per litter under average farm conditions with regular farm equipment. It takes 5 pigs to break even.

MAKE MORE BEEF
Extensive tests indicate that beef cattle protected from horn flies gained 15 to 30 pounds more than unprotected cattle during the grazing season. An extra income of $2 to $5 per head, at least, for a spray cost of about 10 cents. Purina Stock Spray will do the job.

WORM PIGS AT WEANING
Round worms slow growth, rob pigs of food. It's easy to worm pigs at weaning with Purina's new Pig Wormer. Simply feed it for 3 days. Costs only 4 cents to 6 cents per head above regular feed costs. Pig Wormer's active ingredient is cadmium oxide, and our store is the only place you can get this proven worm killer already mixed at just the right level.

MAKE MORE MILK
Experiments also showed that cows in sprayed herds averaged over 3 lbs. a day more milk than cows in unsprayed herds. That's 200 extra pounds of milk per cow in a 60-day fly period. Order Purina Dairy Spray for cows and Purina Building Spray for your buildings.

HEALTH HINT
Fly control in the home is easy with Purina's two wonderful sprays... Aero Home Spray, and Home Spray. They kill flies, mosquitoes, gnats, roaches, ants, spiders, silverfish and many other pests. Economical, too. Ask about them next time you drop in.

CHICK STARTENA PAYS OFF FOR LOCAL POULTRYMAN
KENNETH Rudd, was in the other day and reported that the 300 Hy-Lines he started on Purina Chick Startena were a month old, and he had not lost a single chick. His father Paul Rudd, started 375 White Lechorns at the same time, and not to be outdone by his son, he also has not lost a chick.

ASK FOR FREE HOG BOOKLET
Next time you're in our store, ask for a copy of the Triple Profits Hog Book. It will help open the door to the Purina Hog Profit Plan for 1955. Many helpful management tips in this 24-page illustrated booklet. Be sure to ask for yours.

Willow Furniture
To clean willow furniture, use a solution of salt and water. Apply to furniture with a stiff brush. Scrub well and dry thoroughly. The furniture will last longer through this method of cleansing.

Stripes Featured In Baby Clothes

By DOROTHY ROE
This season's well-dressed baby steps out in stripes.
Even the tiniest members of the younger set are fashion conscious nowadays, and see their approval of the gay, comfortable clothes top designers are turning out for them. Gone are the days when babies were dressed in cumbersome frilly swaddling clothes. The modern baby has his streamlined sports, sun and play wardrobe just as Mom and Pop do, and gets dressed up in those lacy batistes only for an extra special occasion, such as christening.
Fabrics for baby clothes have gone modern, too, to provide easy laundering for Mom, as well as soil and wrinkle-resistance to keep baby looking spic-and-span longer. You'll find nylon-and-wool blends in the new toddler clothes, that wash as easily as a pair of stockings, dry in no time and need little or no ironing.
Colors in these new small-fry fashions are bright and permanent don't fade or run when washed or exposed to the sun.

It's a great age for babies and also for mothers, when science takes the drudgery out of keeping baby clean.

Lions Are Told Of Danger Of Cancer

"More children die of cancer than any other disease," Wayne Thomas, speaking in behalf of the Cancer Crusade, told Hereford Lions Wednesday at their regular noon luncheon held in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel.
Thomas pointed out that while 44 deaths were recorded in the state due to polio last year, 9,000 were attributed to cancer. The civic club speaker said doctors say that a large percentage of those who died could have had their lives spared if the disease had been found soon enough.
Thomas said the American Cancer Society is trying to get the public aware of the dangers of cancer as well as raise funds for research. He said that one person out of every four are doomed to have cancer of some sort.
"The speaker said that lung cancer is at present the biggest attacker of males, while breast cancer is the most common in women."

GRASS ROOTS

I feel that all good writers start their epistles out with something clever to stimulate interest in their readers thereby insuring the reading of the rest of the stuff that follows. It is Saturday morning and I understand that the fish are biting all over the country so anything clever I had to say would be tinged with bitterness so will pass.
The green bugs have just about harvested the wheat. I have no idea what the percentage damage would be but there were very few fields that got by without the little monsters. I'm sure this year is the worst they have ever been anywhere. The stock question all during the time the bugs have been stuffing away on the wheat has been "Can they be controlled?" Needless to say we tried everywhere to get the answer. The state entomologists said one thing and the insecticide people said another. Many farmers went ahead with spraying programs with varying results, but on the whole the bugs kept chewing away. As a last ditch stand two men came to Hereford with the idea of spending some time and money to find out if the Spring Grain Aphid could be controlled. I am glad to report that their results were very good and that they have set up a scheme of control that will no doubt be accepted throughout the wheat growing districts of the United States where green bugs are such a menace.
These two men were Hollis Schumter of the Val-Air Company, and Mr. Buddy Johnson and the Stauffer Chemical Company. Without making a formal report on what they did I can sum it up for you in pretty short order. They lined themselves up a farmer that had as bad an infestation of bugs as anything they could find, and talked him into saving back twenty acres of the field for their experiment. Buddy brought down every known insecticide that will kill insects and Hollis flew the material on. They treated 10 acres of the field, and left 15 acres untreated for a check plot. With further advance they really knocked the slugs out of the log by the name of green. The next problem was getting the material cost and application cost down to a figure that would be practical for application. By applying different rates of the insecticide they found that they could get 90 to 100 percent kill for about what a bushel and a half of wheat cost. Whether or not the farmer thinks he can afford this is up to him. But it will be good news to all that the bug can be controlled now, and that the cost of treatment is not prohibitive.
Contradictory to lots of thinking the green bug does not grow wings and fly away. Actually there are three distinct species here in our area. Two species that have no wings and one species that does have wings. The latter only uses his wings to fly over to the other field after he has killed the one he is on. This insect lives here the year round, and makes his winter home in the soil. By killing all volunteer grain EARLY a lot of the insects can be killed before the wheat ever gets to the stage where they congregate on it. Wheat is not the only host plant either. All the small grains are home to Mr. Bug.
As before stated the treatment of the wheat now is certainly up to the farmer that has the wheat, but we are very glad that at long last we can now recommend a treatment that we feel will do the job. At least do the job better than anything that we have had available before. The field that was treated during the experiment was on Chester Wiggins farm and it is something to see.

Herd Scores Second Win In District Play Friday

By BILL KNOX
The Hereford Whitefaces club beat their way to their second straight conference victory by rumpaging past the impotent Panhandle Panthers, 13-3, Friday afternoon at Veterans Park. The victory was the second straight district win for the Herd who have previously defeated Tulin in a conference game.

The Whitefaces, as usual, got off to a slow start, but after the first inning Francis Boyd silenced Panhandle, and the Whitefaces' big bats started booming, displaying a power which completely smoothed the Panthers.

Francis Boyd turned in his most remarkable pitching performance of the year for the Whitefaces. After a very shaky first inning in which he allowed three runs to cross the plate, he settled down and turned "thumbs down" on any more Panhandle runs. Bud Jowell, who was sent in in the seventh, also continued the mound mastery held by the Herd over the Panthers.

Hitting the previous score spot in the Whitefaces attack, truly proved to be the strong point Friday as Whiteface batsmen sprayed base hits to all fields. The Herd-shelled Panhandle pitcher Martin Mitchell for 15 hits including four doubles and a triple, failing to score in only one inning. Four Hereford players each connected for two hits, while Francis Boyd and Bud Jowell scattered the five hits given up to Panhandle equally among five players.

Panhandle collected all their runs in a "bump-sum," scoring all three of their runs in the first inning. Teddy James led off with a single and stole second. Lynn Bybee muffed Leon Simpson's grounder, putting runners on second and third, then Coy Mitchell walked, leading the 'sacks with none out. Still keeping the rally going, Max Calahan singled to drive across the first two runs. Then after Chuck Starr had fanned and B. E. Brown and hit into a force out, Glenn Cockrell drove in the third run with the third Panhandle hit of the inning. Boyd got Miller on a strike out to end the inning.

Mitchell's wildness and a leaky Panhandle infield gave Hereford the request of the County Attorney three more runs in the third. Calaway reached first on James' error and went to third on Billy Albrecht's single. He scored on a wild pitch, sending Albrecht to third where he scored on Burrus' long fly to left field. After Walterscheid had walked and gone around on errors, he scored on Francis Boyd's single.

Panhandle never again scratched, and the Whitefaces continued to pour on steam throughout the game, gaining momentum as it progressed.

Hereford dented the scoring column for only one run in the first, Panhandle still holding on to a 3-1 lead. After two were out, Danny Elliston walked and went to second when Mitchell's attempted pick-off

MR. AND MRS. PHILLIP SHARP

Sowell-Sharp Marriage Vows Are Solemnized

The First Methodist Church was the scene recently for the marriage of Wynogene Sowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Challe Sowell, to Phillip Sharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sharp.

Rev. R. R. Gilbreath, retired Methodist minister, of Amarillo, read the double-ring service. Tall baskets of white stock flanked by candelabras holding wedding tapers, formed the decorative altar setting.

Mrs. S. M. Dunnam, organist, played a medley of nuptial music preceding the ceremony including "Ave Maria," "O Perfect Love," "Because," "Why Do I Love You" and "Traumerel," and accompanied Miss Colline Brown, soloist, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" at the conclusion of the ceremony. "Bless This House" was played softly as vows were spoken and Wagner's and Mendelssohn's wedding marches were played as the processional and recessional.

Attending the bride as maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Denton of San Antonio wore a waltz length dress of aqua net over matching taffeta. Her bouquet was of pink carnations, and she wore a bandeau of flowers in her hair.

Virgil Cocanougher served as best man and ushers were Leslie Sharp, brother of the bridegroom, and Charles Frye of Amarillo, brother-in-law of the bride.

Bride's Dress of Lace and Net

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a waltz length dress of white Chantilly lace and net over taffeta. The bodice of taffeta was topped with a lace jacket having long pointed sleeves and petal point collar. The lace jacket was echoed by lace tiers circled on a diaphanous net skirt worn over hoops. The tiered scalloped veil of illusion was attached to a lace pancake hat by tiny flowerlets. She carried a white Bible marked with white rosebuds and showered with satin streamers.

Mrs. Sowell, mother of the bride, wore a dusty-rose dress with navy accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Sharp, mother of the bridegroom, wore a rose lace dress over taffeta with navy accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Reception in Church

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in Ward Hall. Baskets of white flowers decorated the room and the serving table was laid with lace over aqua. A large mirror edged in aqua maline and net puffs centered the table, and the tiered wedding cake featured tiny sugar-spoon flowers in aqua. Mrs. Chas. Frye of Amarillo, Miss Anna Jo Southall of Dallas, Mrs. Roy Calvert, Mrs. Dale Kelly and Mrs. [Name obscured] assisted with serving.

For the wedding trip to Carlsbad and other New Mexico points, the bride traveled in a powder blue linen suit with navy accessories and the rosebud corsage detached from the wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Sharp was graduated from Hereford High School and attended Draughon's Business College in Amarillo.

Mr. Sharp also graduated from Hereford High School and is now attending Texas Western College in El Paso. He is also working at Fort Bliss in connection with his college work.

The Job Of Parenthood Is Discussed For El Nino Club

Woman Asks Recognition For Author Of Flag Pledge

By HARRY NASH

PORTSMOUTH, Va.—A Portsmouth woman has asked President Eisenhower to issue a Flag Day proclamation this year, naming Francis Bellamy as the author of the pledge of allegiance.

Margarette Miller has also asked the Post Office Department to issue a postage stamp in memory of Bellamy, who was born 100 years ago—May 18, 1855—at Mount Morris, N. Y.

Both a White House secretary and a Post Office spokesman have advised her the requests were being considered.

"The pledge of allegiance," Miss Miller says, "is recited by 160 million Americans and is the basis for our claims to a free country and democracy. It is the showcase for all the world to see and profit by. A commemorative stamp would give added emphasis to the patriot responsible for this concise piece of loyalty to his country."

Miss Miller, a slim brunette in her early 40's, has devoted most of the past 19 years to untiring efforts to identify Bellamy with the pledge in the national mind.

She first became interested when someone told her the body of the man who wrote the pledge rested in an unmarked grave. She began an investigation which disclosed this report was not true, but which subsequently convinced her that Francis Bellamy was the author.

As a result she has fired a steady barrage of letters at governors of the 48 states, Congressmen, school authorities, and publishers of reference books in her efforts to have Bellamy, who died in 1931, credited with the authorship of the pledge.

Her efforts have borne fruit. Governors of 45 states have issued Flag Day proclamations naming Bellamy as the pledge author. Bellamy is so credited in Bartlett's Quotations, the Encyclopedia Americana, and the Encyclopedia Britannica. The United States Flag Assn. attributes the pledge to Bellamy.

Each year for 12 years Miss Miller has presented an American flag, in memory of Bellamy, to a representative high school in a different state. She makes the presentation personally, always on Columbus' birthday. This year's award will be made to Franklin High School, Seattle, Wash.

Children Enjoy Sand For Years, Experts Explain

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

In planning toys for your child it's good to have a few things he can grow up with.

Sand is something a child loves to play with for years and years. When the baby is a year old he will enjoy pouring sand from one bucket to another. As he gets a little older, he will like to strain it through a strainer or beat it with an egg beater, or make pies and cakes, or just make holes in the sand.

The still older child will make more elaborate constructions in the sand. He may make roads and run toy cars on them. He makes a farm, and stocks the barn and build houses and schools and playgrounds. He'll work out all sorts of imaginative ideas of the sand.

A sand pile in your backyard will not only provide your child with many hours of wholesome play, but it's likely it will be the center of much neighborhood play. Even the big boys will come over now and then and build an airport or a railroad yard or some other elaborate project. Usually the little ones love to have the big boys come, and if you give them a little friendly encouragement—friendly words and maybe a plate of cookies now and then—you will find that your children have a delightful and valuable companionship with other children of all ages.

Ordinary yellow building sand is quite satisfactory. In fact, it lends itself to more elaborate constructions than white sea sand. It's so much cheaper too—unless you live on the beach. If you live in the country or any place where you have lots of space, a load of building sand dumped in a sunny spot is all you need.

If your space is limited, you will need a sandbox so that the sand can be kept more or less in one spot. Get a sandbox as big as your space will allow. A large wooden box, made with tiny cracks between the boards at the bottom to let the rain drain off makes a good sandbox. A seat 10 inches to a foot wide all the way around is desirable. If the box is provided with a cover of either wood or heavy canvas, it can be used sooner after a rainstorm than if it is necessary for the sand to dry out in the sun and air.

A few sand toys will be needed. Shovel, wheelbarrow, spoons, small shovels, shells (obtained from a fish market) are good.

Pails, buckets, tin cans, boxes, small models are all useful in the sand.

A flour sifter, a strainer, an egg beater, a rolling pin and many other kitchen utensils can be used.

Later on, toy cars, trains, trucks, airplanes, figures of people and animals will all be enjoyed in the sand.

Anne had been playing in sand for years and loving it. One day her parents took her to the ocean to see the surf and dabble in the water. Anne took a brief look at the expanse of blue water, then clapped her hands with glee: "What an e-nor-mous sandpile," she shouted and began to dig.

Teen Talk

By VIVIAN BROWN

It is fashionable to teach Sunday school these days. Lots of young people look forward to spreading The Word each week. Movie actress Gale Storm finds that "teaching Sunday school can be a very rewarding experience" although Gale confesses that at first she was afraid her young pupils just came to stare at a movie star.

If you do teach young people at these classes, try to make the meeting interesting instead of dull. One Sunday school teacher, Christine McLaren of Des Moines, Iowa, hit on a wonderful idea which paid off in many rewards to her.

She had been thinking for some time about doing a Biblical map to bring the ancient world out of the Bible in simplified form. Then one day she decided a wall mural would be one way to improve the run down wall of a basement church hall where Bible lessons were given. It would not only improve the wall, she reasoned, but it would fascinate the young people.

The wall had never been painted so Mrs. McLaren really labored with a brush that soaked up her paint on the rough plaster as fast as she put it on. Brushes wore out and sponges took over.

Her idea was so successful that now the Bible map appears in wallpaper form for others to enjoy. There are five panels of the Old Testament, panels being 27 inches wide with a design 60 inches long on 10 foot strips in washable and scrubbable wallpaper—enough to enhance a pretty big room.

Many ideas can perk up Sun-

PORTABLE PIANO -- Junior now can keep up with his piano practice even when he's sick in bed. The new portable electronic piano can be set up anywhere.

Portable Piano Can Take Place Of Guitar, Fiddle

Don't be surprised one day soon a guest arrives at your party bringing his own piano.

The first portable electronic piano, which can be carried in its own case, is expected to be available throughout the country this summer. It weighs about 75 pounds and when packed in its case looks something like a man's two-suitcase.

The guest who arrives with his own piano unsnaps the lid of the case, sets up the piano on a table or on its own detachable legs and sits down to play at a 64-note keyboard. Without less, the piano is less than 8 inches high, 3 1/2 inches long and 2 1/4 inches wide.

Because of built-in volume control, the portable piano is recommended for hospital or sick-room use. The volume can be turned down so low that only the player can hear it, wearing earphones. Or it can be turned up to concert-hall volume.

By adjusting bass or treble, the piano can be made to sound like a guitar, a bass fiddle or a harpsichord, says Reuben C. Roling, president of the company which perfected it after six years of research.

Suitable for use in trailers, small boats or small apartments, the little piano can go along on picnics or motor trips. About the only one who may not appreciate its advantages is Junior, who now may have to practice his piano lessons even when he's sick in bed or on a vacation—the piano will go along.

A BIT LATE

RICHMOND, Va.—A phone call caught Mayor Thomas Bryan nunching a late bedtime snack.

"Claggett, Ontario, calling Mayor or Bryan," said the long distance operator.

"This the governor of Virginia?" the caller asked. "No? Oh, the mayor of Richmond. You'd do just fine. . . I've just been reading about a man you have down there."

Stonewall Jackson. I certainly admire the way he marched his men and fought. . . You're doing a good job down there." Bryan never did find the identity of his Canadian caller. He agreed, though, that Stonewall Jackson was a fine Confederate general 90 years ago.

Sandies Down Whitefaces Despite Albracht's Homer

By BILL KNOX

The classy Amarillo Sandies spun past the improved Hereford Whitefaces 16-2 in a tangle played in Veterans Park Thursday afternoon. The Sandies had defeated the Whitefaces earlier in the season by a 27-0 count, but they met much tougher competition in their second fracas with the Herd.

Albracht Homers

Amarillo was in complete command all the way, clouting two Hereford hurlers for 12 hits. Jimmy Davis and Buddy Whippo head Hereford to four bingles. D. A. Malson connected for a home run for the Sandies, while Bill Albracht clouted an inside-the-park four-bagger for the Whitefaces.

Homer Hershey started and gave up nine runs and nine hits to Amarillo, walking nine, and fanning five. Francis-Boyd relieved in the sixth, giving up three runs and three hits, and issuing three bases on balls. Winning pitcher Jim Davis pitched the first four innings and yielded only three hits to the Whitefaces. Buddy Whippo allowed only one bingle in the final three stanzas.

The Sandie barrage was constant. They scored in every inning, tallying two in the first, one in the second, two in the third, two in the fourth, two in the fifth, five in the sixth and two in the seventh. Hereford scored one run each in the fourth and sixth innings.

Amarillo started the scoring by tallying two in the first. Ray Ruffin led off with a single, but Bobby Burkett flied out to right field. Jimmy Weston forced Bassett at second after he had walked, and stole second, putting Ruffin on third. Bobby Verplank's single scored both to give the Sandies a two-run lead.

After Davis had retired the Whitefaces in order, Amarillo came back with another run in the second. D. A. Malson initiated his batting war against the Whitefaces by clouting a bases empty home run to account for the score.

They continued to slowly but surely build up their lead by accounting for two more in the third. After the first two men had been retired, McWhorter drew life on Lynn Bybee's error, and Malson scored him with his second hit of the day, a double. Malson scored on Davis' single.

Sims Singles

Taylor Sims lined a sharp single to left for the Whitefaces first hit of the day in the third, but it was wasted as Kenneth Walterscheid, Homer Hershey, and Lynn Bybee were retired to snuff any Hereford chance of scoring a run.

Two more runs crossed the plate for Amarillo in the fourth. Taylor Bassett walked, then stole second to start the inning. Weston fanned, but Verplank again drove him across with a single. He reached third on Bybee's error and scored on Malson's third hit another double.

Elliston Gets RBI

The Whitefaces dented the plate for the first time in two games with the Sandies in the fourth frame. Hagar led off by reaching first on Malson's fumble of his easy roller then Barrus flied to center, Hagar tagging and taking second base. Calloway walked, putting runners on first and second, but Albracht forced Hagar at third, runners still remaining at first and second with two men retired. Calloway scored on Danny Elliston ground single into left field to give the Whitefaces their first run.

The Sandies scored two more in the fifth while holding the Whitefaces scoreless to run the score to 9-1, then made it 14-1 with five in the top of the sixth. Hereford's last run came in the sixth on Billy Albracht's homer, Amarillo two more in the seventh to bring the final score to 16-2.

Hereford 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 2 4

BANDIT CONTROL

CANTON, Ohio—Don't try this yourself, but it worked for a woman clerk, Miss Anie Tanotta, at Susie's Grocery. When a bandit poked a gun at her and ordered her to put up her hands, Miss Tanotta shoved him toward the door and ordered him to "get out of here." The man ran out and was still running the last she could see of him, she told police.

Miss Rae Brunson, a second year student nurse at St. Anthony's School of Nursing in Amarillo, has been chosen to attend the Texas Nursing Students' Association Convention to be held in Fort Worth April 17-21. Miss Brunson is the daughter of Mrs. Ada Brunson, Route 4 Hereford.

A memorial loan fund, to honor the memory of the late Dr. R. T. Galt is being established by the medical staff at St. Anthony's Hospital to provide financial assistance to women entering nurses' training at the hospital.

Young women interested in enrolling at the School of Nursing in September of 1955 should contact the Director of Nursing, 711 North Park, Amarillo.

Due to the fact that the new residence will not be ready for occupancy by September a limited number of applicants will be accepted this year. Those whose applications are received first, provided they qualify, will be given preference.

New Polio Vaccine Forecasts Future

Announcement regarding the startling success of the new Salk Polio vaccine comes as a signal victory to the American people. Wrapped in the new vaccine are thousands of hours of scientific research and American "know how" for which this country has become world famous. More important, though, is the fact that the new discovery was financed by the dimes and dollars of Americans from every walk of life and collected from the smallest hamlet to the heart of the largest cities.

Saving our own children, along with those of our friends and neighbors, is within itself a just reward for our efforts and our contributions. However, the success of the Salk polio vaccine is much more far-reaching in scope. Already President Eisenhower has declared it to be a world property.

There is also the factor of accomplishment from the standpoint of service to one's fellow man which embodies all of the Christian tenets upon which this nation was originally founded. The American people contributed voluntarily to the polio drive each year, not because of the research program but chiefly to help their fellow beings. Very few people even knew the research program existed and even that they had little faith in any degree of success. It is all the more heartening when our Chief Executive follows the same basic principle by announcing that the new serum will become world property. This step is a continuation of the basis upon which the vaccine was financed and discovered.

Success of the drive to stamp out polio also contributes heavily to the possibility of defeating cancer and other scourges which afflict the human race. Certainly, if the American people can work together to defeat one "impossible" disease, we can work together to defeat others.

Salk polio vaccine is one of man's greatest contributions to humanity and, while we do not lessen the value of the accomplish-

Ladies Score Again

"When you want something done, get the women behind it."

Most successful promoters adopted this formula long ago, and it holds true despite the changes in methods of living. Right now, we have in mind the rural road signs which are dotting many areas in Deaf Smith County. The project, when it first started, would have been vetoed by most men as impossible and probably not worth the effort. The women saw things differently, however; they pitched in and went to work. As a result we not only have scores of community road signs in rural areas, but also have the names of residents and directions listed on many of the intersection markers.

Maybe the women got tired of being interrupted by travelers who were seeking rural residents. Maybe they saw a chance to help club coffers. Maybe they just felt like it was a good community service project.

Anyway, they went to work. They did a swell job -- and the markers in rural areas are today something to which the whole country points with pride and satisfaction. It's another job which the women tackled, and did well.

ment, we do feel that the Christian spirit of brotherly love which made the success possible is even more important than the successful result. It forecasts survival of the human race in that proper application of the atom research can completely revolutionize the life and existence of all people of the world -- provided the results are aimed toward improvement, rather than toward destruction.

The same American money and "know how" could as easily have been developing deadly germ warfare methods. Instead of polio vaccine. Today, this nation might be spreading death instead of life and hope over the world.

That is why we say that the achievement of a successful polio vaccine, no matter how great and wonderful, is still secondary to the basic thinking principles of the people of the nation which made the discovery possible. Today, we can well be proud to call ourselves Americans, and we should strive all the more to instill within our children the tenets of Christianity and Americanism which fundamentally made the success a reality.

A Part Time Job For Better Living

"TAX FREE INCOME FOR YOU!"

Around 10,000 families can increase their income from 20 to 50 percent with part time work. The job is pleasant, can be done at home -- and it will enrich the lives of every member of the family.

The above ad, if it appeared in The Brand classified columns would draw approximately 1,000 telephone calls and letters from interested applicants. Yet, the same offer awaits every family in the Hereford area -- and we predict that fewer than 100 families will avail themselves of this unlimited opportunity.

To be specific, we refer to the fast disappearing family gardens on the farms and in small towns of West Texas.

People who have a difficult time in balancing the budget should, without a doubt, do a little investigating. Rather than extoll the nutritional value of home-grown vegetables, we will call specific attention to the fact that the home-grown vegetable is today one of the few tax-free items in the United States. When a man works to earn a dollar with which he buys vegetables, he pays around 20 percent withholding tax, establishing an immediate cost of $1.20 on his $1.00 purchase. Gardening, on the other hand, is tax free to the man who is willing to plant a few low-cost seed.

Hereford, in addition, has one of the lowest water rates in the country, which makes gardening an even more practical avocation than in many places. Add to this the ever-increasing shorter store hours, additional leisure time and low initial cost -- and you have a perfect set-up for thousands of gardens in the fertile soils of Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

Too, there is a definite satisfaction from the basic accomplishment of just "growing things."

Family gardens and cow chips are the two big items which made the settling of this country possible. If you doubt the statement, you have only to visit with some of the old timers who will tell you that the yields from their gardens were often the only means of existence in the early days. And the same opportunity can be today's answer to rising costs from scores of directions. A family garden can buy a new piano, make the down payment on a new automobile -- or pay the mortgage on the average home over a reasonable period.

Besides, gardening is fun. You'll be surprised. Many people consider gardening as a hobby but, to the great majority, it can be a means to successful living and higher standards. It affords one of the greater advantages of living in a small town which, too often, is neglected or overlooked in the mad rush of 1955 existence.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK Sentimental Reasons Are Given For Keeping 'Junk'

Everyone has some particular object around the house that they consider useless. What falls in that category at your home, and why do you keep it?

MRS. VIRGIL ZUMWALT:
"My husband's old violin that is too old to be used but is kept because of sentimental reasons."

MRS. BAXTER LONDON:
"I have an old lamp that I haven't got the nerve to throw out."

MRS. LESS THOMPSON:
"An old iron dutch oven that we have no use for but have kept for years."

MRS. JOHN TORBIT:
"My husband's tool closet. We keep it because we have to put his tools someplace."

MRS. G. T. SLAUGHTER:
"I have an old quilt box that my mother gave me. I don't want it now, but I don't want to throw it away."

MRS. RONALD MATHEWS:
"I have some old cooking utensils and dishes that I keep because of sentimental reasons."

MRS. C. R. WINGET:
"An old bird cage. I keep thinking that I'll get me a bird someday."

MRS. W. C. HROMAS:
"I expect something useless around my house would be paper weights which I keep because they are gifts."

MRS. JACK BROWN:
"I've an old carpet sweeper good only for collecting dust. I don't know why I keep it."

We've come to appreciate television in a new light. It is of course entertaining and informative but we think perhaps its greatest advantage is its adaptability to squelching a bore. The fellow who has been in the habit of monopolizing his audience because they are forced to listen out of courtesy, will find he is no competition at all for television, so long as those present see fit to keep their eyes on the screen and their hands off the volume control.

Our baby has learned to walk.

Every year we find ourselves feeding a lamb on a bottle and the one which fell to our lot this year wasn't able to stand up when we brought it in from the pasture. It could only drag its hind legs along so we put it in a box and each time we fed it it gained a little more momentum. After three or four days it could brace its wobbly little knees against the box and stand. Yesterday it finally managed to take a few steps and the cardboard enclosure right away turned into a prison.

Sheep amaze us. A lamb will live with any encouragement at all and a grown sheep will die with all the medicine the veterinary can prescribe.

Spring has come officially on our little farm. We set our first hen last Friday and the kittens have their eyes open. For mass production a brooder is more satisfactory but we like to have an old hen or two with a bunch of chickens to rustle for as an incentive to keep us from getting too trifling to work.

The secret of the successful home garden is not to plant more than your wife or children can cultivate.

Hunters are now safe for another year, if they can survive the highway carnage in the meantime.

Religion has to be the real thing to withstand the assault of ignorant devotees and foolish enemies.

It is far worse to send untrained men into battle than to train them and not need them.

There are always enough publicity-seekers to take on needed projects plus unneeded ones.

Have you tried going to church, and leaving your problems there each Sunday recently?

Community Builders

By MARGARET ALSTON
"Everything I am or have I give credit to God for," said Lester Galley when being interviewed for our Community Builder.

Galley, who is farming a half section northeast of Hereford, is the owner of the first farm in Deaf Smith County.

Lester Galley was born Dec. 12, 1888 on a farm near Traer, Iowa. He lived in Traer 10 years, and attended school there. In 1908, after he had graduated from high school his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Galley, and the family, moved to Hereford because of ill health.

When they arrived here, they were scorned and called nesters because they were breaking up the land. Galley recalls that at one time if a man wore a cap instead of a Stetson, he was not even spoken to by the people.

In 1918 they bought the farm that they now have. It was the same year that Galley married Ruth Trimble, who had been teaching at the Askren country school. They have two children, Charles, who has three children and is living in Amarillo, and Orval, who is farming the home place, and has two children.

Galley would much rather get behind a project and push it than to be out in the spotlight. This is evident in the work he has done with REA. When it was first started in 1936, he became one of the first directors for six years. He also helped organize a 4-H Club which at that time was called a boys' "pig club."

When castor beans were started in this country, there were about 600 acres grown, the harvest of which was overseen by Lester Galley.

Besides raising hogs, which were of top grade, he had a herd of dairy cows for 25 years. The herd was one of the top 10 in a dairy herd improvement contest.

After the Askren school had consolidated with the Dawn school, Galley became a trustee in 1920, and served in this capacity for three years. In 1929 he became trustee again and served another seven years.

A member of the Assembly of God, he has been a deacon for the past 21 years and has helped the church in many ways. From six to eight years, he was the Sunday School superintendent, and at the present is teaching the men's Bible class.

At one time he was an elder in the Presbyterian Church for eight years, and was Sunday School superintendent at the Community Sunday School, which was held at the Askren and Dawn schools.

Lester believes that Hereford people are most cooperative, which is the reason for their progressiveness. Galley is also a strong believer in the saying "the town without a toothache," as he has nearly perfect teeth. He credits it all to the water.

A packing plant to further the farming industry is what Hereford needs according to Galley, and he should know since he has been farming here for 46 years. (See Picture on Page 5)

The Sheriff Reports

We have just finished a two day session with the Grand Jury and it was a full two days. Believe they handled 18 cases. They billed nine out of the 18. Don't believe we have had a Grand Jury that worked any harder than this group and we have had some good ones.

Some people still do not understand the way our District Court is operated, also they do not know who has the authority to call various cases to trial. The Judge is the one who calls the cases for trial. Contrary to what some may think, the Sheriff has nothing to do with a case after a person is arrested and placed in jail or released on bond. Some people have the idea the Sheriff is able to answer all questions and take care of all problems. My department nor any other Sheriff's department is able to completely handle all problems or answer all questions but we will be there trying and doing our best.

Have said before that I like this job because it is not routine and something unusual and different is always showing up. Something happened a few days ago that certainly is unusual. A fellow we have had in jail several times and for quite a spell the last time, became quite familiar with things around the jail. After being released on bond, he came back to the jail and managed to make his way to and into the locked closet where we keep our evidence, etc. He helped himself generously and went on his way. We figured he

MEMPHIS SEEKS MORE PAVING
With approximately 70 blocks up in the paving program, the street paving committee decided in a planning and coordination meeting at the Cyclone Drive-Inn last Friday night to try for 100.

The meeting was for the purpose of reporting on the progress of the paving drive by each street chairman and try to solve the different problems that each chairman had encountered in contacting the property owners.

Mayor Pro Tem O. L. Helm told the group that they could assure each property owner that there would be no increase in city taxes to pay for the city's part of the project.

VOTING SET SATURDAY
Absentee voting for the $175,000 bond issue to build a Terry County park and swimming pool, started this week. The election day is Saturday, April 16.

Present plans are to build a swimming pool with a 6,000 square foot swimming area, and a bath house and concession stand facilities and a grandstand for parents beside the pool. Three tennis courts are included in this plan and the Party House to accommodate groups from 50 to 60 people is near the Old Lamesa Road entrance.

Plans are to extend the park over as much of the 44-acres as the $175,000 will allow and still do a first class job of it.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY DUST DAMAGE HEAVY
Blowing wind and dust that have swept the Middle west and southwest in the last week have damaged at least 120,000 acres of Collingsworth County land in some degree, the Soil Conservation Service estimates.

On some of this, damage is severe. On some it is light. There is no way of telling definitely how much land has suffered damage, but the SCS is accepting the above figure, Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service said. This is roughly one-fourth of the land in the county.

Long-time residents compare the sand storms of last week and Sunday with those of the mid 30's when wind erosion was at its worst.

RABIES SCARE
According to the last count Saturday April 2, 226 dogs had been picked up by the city police since the rabies scare three weeks ago. Along with the dogs about 139 cats have been taken to the city pound.

After a wild dog that traveled all over Weslaco and is known to have bitten 25 dogs was found rabid, the city commissioners passed an ordinance that all stray dogs and cats found roaming in the streets should be picked up. All animals not claimed by their owners within 48 hours, are killed in order to stamp out any further infection. The ordinance will be in effect until April 25.

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher discusses the future of agriculture this week, a subject he knows as much about as he does anything else.

I was out here the other day reviewing my assets, going over in my mind what the agriculture situation is and trying to figure out if I was about as well off as the amount of work I'm willing to put out would entitle me to be, and on the whole, despite the fact things could be a lot better, I guess you could say I'm getting along and after all when you can say that, things are in normal shape.

I was figuring up my assets on the margin of a newspaper and after I got through calculating I looked the paper over and ran into an article that set me to worrin'.

In this article, the Secretary of Agriculture was trying to prove that farmers are in fine shape and things ought to continue that way. Now I'll tell you, when the experts start trying to prove to me my future is secure, my first reaction is to begin wondering if something's wrong, and one of the arguments advanced by Sec. Benson didn't help a bit.

According to him, one of the reasons times are good and are gonna get better for the farmers is that he sees a "continuation of high domestic demand for food."

As I understand this, he believes farming is secure because people are gonna keep on eating food, and in one sense he's right, that is, I believe it's a fairly safe prediction that there will never come a time when people will lose interest in something to eat, but on the other hand I doubt if there ever was a time in the past when they lost interest in that either, and everybody knows there have been times in the past when farmers were busted.

I tell you, basing farming prosperity on the proposition that there's gonna be a steady demand for food is hunting pretty hard for something to be optimistic about. I believe farming is gonna continue to be a good enterprise, but I ain't basing it on the idea it has to be because people have to eat. You might as well argue banking is gonna stay good every month out of the year forever because people like money.

I'd appreciate it if the experts would stop telling me when I'm well off. The minute I ain't, I'll know it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Lily Pons All Charm, But Still Scared Of Audience

By W. G. ROGERS

NEW YORK (AP)—For a real farmer, I give you Lily Pons. It's not anything she works at and there isn't much of her; but what there is, the whole half-pint Pons, is solid charm.

A mite of a singer with a monster of a reputation, Miss Pons has an audience that has grown from a little provincial opera houses to her native France to the biggest centers of Paris and New York, to the world's largest concert stages, and lately, uncounted radio and TV fans.

When she works, she goes at it hard; when she rests, ditto. She rests in a home she used to have in Connecticut; or in France; or in a new home in the West; or in her apartment in New York where I saw her. Here with Matisse, Utrillo, Braque and Dufy, all French and all modernist, looking down at you from the walls—and maybe out the windows, too, at the East River vistas north, south and east, Miss Pons said. "I've always wanted to build my home, and now I've done it. In Palm Springs, Calif. Perched on a sort of a saddle of a mountain." She shows pictures of it: walls in pastel colors chosen by her, brighter divans and cushions, rich rugs, brilliantly striped tenting, a swimming pool, and her initials, L.P., twisted and cuddled together Oriental, alphabet fashion, for designs in the rugs and for the plots in the formal flower garden.

She likes parties, she enjoys company; and parties and company like her, for she is vivacious and witty. But she's no party-goer, and says she never was:

"After a concert I must be alone. I've been nervous all day—"

"You! Nervous?"

"Me. Nervous," she insists. "It used to be worse. I was nervous from the time I woke up in the morning, at 7 or 8; I was so nervous I could be sick. I'm not so nervous now, I say to myself, it's silly, nothing can happen, people love me, I love the people. So it's better. But I'm still nervous."

"I have to keep my health," she continued. "I can't go out to night clubs. From the very first I said to myself, my career alone must matter, my career was my religion. I wanted perfection."

Is it easier to keep people away here, or in France? which place has more temptations to ween her from a career?

"This country"—she's been a citizen 15 years. "There are more distractions here. Of course it is not perhaps just the way it ought to be even in France. Education, there is taken more seriously, perhaps too seriously; here much less seriously, perhaps not seriously enough."

She wished there were more opera houses in this country. She wished there were more symphonies—"not all Brahms and Beethoven, either," she agreed, waving them off, "but some of the programs of more varied, fresher fare that New York Philharmonic audiences have been hearing on Saturday nights." She was referring to the series in which her husband, Andre Kostelanetz, has taken over the Philharmonic podium for two seasons now.

Miss Pons' coloratura is most often heard in the roles of Rosina, which she is doing with the Metropolitan this year in New York and on tour, and Lucia, Gilda and Lakme. Despite the radio and TV programs, opera is her field; and her fan mail now as always, she says, invariably mentions opera.

The Sheriff...

was the most likely of the suspects so he was picked up for questioning. Our guess proved to be correct as he readily admitted everything. This next one is good too. Both cases slightly embarrassing but something that could have happened before in our inadequate jail. At one time, ages ago, a stove or heater pipe was extended up through the roof of the jail. Later, the pipe was removed and the hole covered with roofing material. Well, one or more of our guests discovered an escape could be effected by making a hole in the roofing above the former exit of the stove pipe. That is exactly what was done only the prisoner or prisoners just used the opening so they could go for supplies they wanted and probably some visiting and not to make an escape as you might think they would do.

Due to the location of the opening it was not discovered until we received a tip. The tip, of course, came after the one most responsible had been carted off to Huntsville. Careless? Well, yes, it could have been prevented, but due to the small amount of space and the crowded conditions we tried to give the prisoners the benefit of a little extra space so they could walk around and get a little needed exercise. If backfired but there won't be any shoe soles worn out from now on. I might add that prisoners, confined for several days need and should have a chance to move around a little. Really, you never know what will happen next.

We now have seven in jail and were up to 19 at one time since the last writing. Betty has been nursing measles for a week or two in addition to her regular chores at the jail.

See you week after next.

Something Favorite Of Grandmother's Time Returning To Table

Here is an old favorite of grandmother's time returning to present day tables. Cabbage rolls are as wholeheartedly approved on today's menus as when grandmother scoured for something different to prepare for her family and made up recipes to utilize the vegetables and meats that grew in the farm.

Without conscious effort she usually came up with a dish that provided nutritional requirements, was decidedly on the thrifty side and yet tasted like a million dollars.

Today's recipe for cabbage rolls is just such a recipe. It belongs to Mrs. Sam Albright whose grandmother prepared it for her family, and later her mother changed it a little to suit her family's taste, and now Mrs. Albright includes it in her menus for family and informal entertaining. It needs only a salad, dessert and beverage accompaniment.

- 1 large head of cabbage
 - 1 pound of ground beef
 - 1/4 pound ground pork
 - Another cup of milk
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 2 tablespoons brown sugar
 - 1/2 cup hot water
- Cook rice in the 1 1/2 cups of milk until fluffy. Remove cabbage leaves from head and immerse in boiling salted water. Cook until the leaves are partially translucent and pliable, then drain.
- Combine meats with milk, salt and pepper, and cooked rice and mix thoroughly. Spoon mixture on each cabbage leaf and roll, fastening with toothpicks or tying with string. Brown the rolled leaf in hot fat in skillet and sprinkle with brown sugar. Add the hot water and cover, and allow to simmer on top of stove about 2 hours. This makes six generous servings.

CORKS FOR HEARTS

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Charles P. Bailey says he has used living "corks" to plug leaks in more than 50 critically damaged hearts. The "corks" are pieces of cartilage taken from the patient's rib.

He wraps the "cork" in a section of pericardium, the sac which encloses the heart. It is grafted into position and grows fast.

Dr. Bailey says he uses this method to correct "insufficiency" when the valve fails to close properly and the blood flows both ways in the left side of the heart rather than being pumped through the body.

Dr. Bailey says the mortality rate of his patients is high because of the desperate condition of such patients. But, he adds, the mortality "has improved progressively."

RETIRING ALARM CLOCK

CROSSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Dewey Holman is about to retire from his shoe shop and start sleeping late in the morning. When he does, a lot of folks may be late for work.

For 15 years, Holman has been wearing out a big, time-to-get-up warwhoop at 7 o'clock each working morning. He doesn't know just how he started his window-rattling vocal exercise but he's come to look upon as something of a civic obligation. When he was sick once, several persons complained they overslept.

NURSERY FLOOR
Rubber tile makes an ideal flooring for the new baby's room. Resilient rubber is noise muffling as well as slip resistant. It's easy to keep dust free and even light pastel colors are entirely practical because just a once-over with a damp mop easily removes soil.

Because rubber is easy to cut, you can include special decorative designs in your do-it-yourself project for the flooring or a matching table top.

Baby Beauty Starts With Health Habits

By VIVIAN BROWN
If you want your youngster to be pretty, keep her healthy and happy.

These pointers suggested by pediatricians will help keep any little girl or boy in the pink:

1. A well fed baby is usually in good humor. Make sure your baby is fed on time, gets enough food, and eats things that agree with her.
2. A bath is soothing and relaxing. If Baby is the nervous type who wakes at night, a bath just before sleep time will put her in the mood for a good night's sleep.
3. Wash Baby's face with lotion after a meal. Brush her hair and remove the bib. This early start in good grooming will pay off when your youngster comes of age to tend to her own clean-up chores.
4. Schedule playtime just like sleep or the bath. Some youngsters need Mother to guide them during this period, and child experts say that each child should have the benefit of Mother's individual attention for at least one hour a day. The play period is a good time.
5. A baby must be kept dry. She may show a dislike for having her diaper changed, but she'll be more unhappy wearing it wet.
6. A youngster should be distracted when you try to dress her. Hand her a toy or other object during this time or if the child is old enough to understand, talk about a proposed outing to keep her mind off the dressing chore. 7. Nails are difficult to keep clean when Baby walks around in bare feet, and that's where Mom's That way you can pour clear water over her head without bending her head back.

complexion brus comes in handy. 8. Use one of the new shampoos that will not cause the eyes to burn if shampoo dribbles in them.

9. Let your youngster run around in comfort without worrying about what the neighbors think. Don't torture children with dress-up clothes. A comfortable costume for tots during warm weather is just a diaper and dry pants. New over-pants of latex are attractive, have no slide fasteners, elastic or snaps

10. Be sure that Baby gets a good night's sleep in a comfortable bed and naps on schedule during the day. Happy babies are contented, rested babies.

When you press the pedal as you normally would, you move ahead in velvety smoothness, getting plenty of miles from each gallon of gas . . .

Because twenty propeller-like blades inside the Dynaflo unit, spinning in oil, have an angle of "pitch" for top economy — like the modern plane's propellers when cruising in the air.

But comes the need for emergency acceleration, and — like a pilot does for quick take-off and climb — you switch the pitch of those Dynaflo propellers for action, just by pressing the pedal all the way down.

Instantly, you get full-power response for split-second getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge to get out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's a response thrilling beyond all previous experience — because there's never been anything like it before in any car.

And we'd like you to try it — along with the walloping new V8 power, the cruiser-steady ride, the fine handling ease, and the true big-car roominess that are all part and parcel of every Buick.

Can you come in today — this week, for sure — and test pilot the hottest Buick yet built?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
