Brock, Moore Are Named Honor Students Of 1955

Ginger Brock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brock, and Pickens Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Moore, are the two top ranking students of the Hereford High School graduating class of 1955, it was announced Saturday by Pat Sullivan, assistant principal. Miss Brock, who will be valedictorian of the class, has a grade point average of 96.03—the highest average a Hereford student has had in the last nine years. Ginger's record may be the best ever made at HHS, but records go back only nine years.

Pickens has a four year average of 93.28, to rank first among male students and win the distinction of being salutatorian of the Class of 1955.

Both students have been active in school activities as well as scholastic leaders. Miss Brock is secretary of the Senior Class and vice president of the Future Homemakers of America, Chapter II. Pickens is president of the Senior Class and is student director of the school band. He is also vice president of the choir and a member of the boys quartet.

Baccalaureate services will be held May 15 at 8 p.m. Bob Wear, Church of Christ minister, will deliver the address.

May 20 is the date of the Senior commencement. Dr. A. M. Meyer, president of Amarillo Junior College, will be principle speaker for the exercise.

Brannan Says President Seeks End Of Supports

A large group of Deaf Smith County and Northwest Texas farmers Friday night heard former Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan attack the sliding scale program as an attempt to liquidate the "family farmer."

Brannan, speaking at a meeting at the Hereford High School auditorium sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Farmers Union, said the present Administration is trying "to force the farmer to destroy his own program."

A cabinet member under former President Harry S. Truman, Brannan charged that Republicans intend to do away with all price supports. He pointed to the cut in price supports of grain sorghums this year and said that the reduction would throw grain sorghums into direct competition with corn. What the farmer will do, he said is to store his corn and buy your grain for feed. Then next year there will be a vast surplus of corn and the Administration will point to that and slide corn on down. That in turn will cause another drop in grain sorghum supports the following year.

Brannan said that reducing the price for a farmer's crop never would reduce the yield. The only way you can cut down surpluses is by controlling the amount of acreage planted, he declared.

Blames President
The speaker said he did not think that all the blame should be on the back of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, however.

"If Benson left tomorrow the program wouldn't change because it is the program of the President," he asserted. He charged both the Secretary of Agriculture and President Eisenhower with purposely making the farmer appear in a bad light to other segments of the nation.

Quoting an aid of the President as saying one of the reasons the national budget could not be balanced was because of the farm program, he asserted that only 1.3 cents of "your tax dollar" is spent on the entire farm program. "Yet they say to you that the whole tax program is out of balance because of that one penny and three mills."

Brannan compared present times with the pre-depression years. He said, "There is a striking similarity between these times and the times of Hoover and Coolidge." Backing up the statement, he said that the period 1927-29 was the greatest period of prosperity up to that time; but the farmers of the period were leaving their land and ending up in the bread lines of the big cities.

We found out on Black Friday that such prosperity "could be dissolved like a drop of sugar."

He pointed out that a 13 percent drop in the last two years in farmers' income, plus the fact that cost of production is steadily rising has put the farmer in financial difficulty.

He pointed to the four and a half million unemployed, saying that it didn't matter how many are employed, that the unemployed are the problem.

Attacks Interest Hike

He attacked the increase in emergency loan interest rates from three to five percent and blasted Benson's statement that the increase was needed because farmers should help pay for the program. He said that the vast amount of money borrowed for farm loans when he was secretary carried a general interest rate of only 7-8ths of a cent, and said "it never cost us more than an additional one percent to administer the loans and this included a reserve on the risk."

Electric Co-op Names New Directors At Annual Meet

One thousand and forty-nine persons were served lunch at the annual meeting of the Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op which was highlighted by the election of three new directors and a vote on irrigation rates.

New directors elected were Sloan H. Osburn of Friona, Dewey L. Wright, who lives south of Dimmitt, and Tom Danner, who lives south of Hereford. The three were elected by acclamation. Two hundred and seventy-six delegates registered for the business meeting.

All officers were re-elected for another year. T. E. Seiger of Hereford is president; Osburn, vice president, and H. H. Miller of Dawn, secretary-treasurer. Delegates voted to set irrigation rates at one cent per kw-hr during the months of November, December, January, and February and a cent and a half during the other eight months. A Co-op spokesman said he believed that the new irrigation rates are the cheapest in the state.

A Fort Worth catering service began serving the crowd shortly before noon and all had been served by 12:30.

Rainfall—up to three and a half inches in spots—left Deaf Smith County farmers joyful Friday night and brightened the county's agricultural outlook.

Particularly blessed with rain was the dry land area in the western part of the county. The three and one-half inch reading was reported in the Adrian vicinity.

The rain, which began falling Friday afternoon, stopping and then starting again Friday night, was highly scattered throughout the county. Hereford had only .32. It was highly beneficial to what wheat remains, however, and is expected to save irrigation farmers at least one watering.

Rainfall south and east of Hereford apparently tapered off to something like one-fourth to one-third inch in most places. Only .60 of an inch was reported at the Bushland Experiment Station.

Some of the readings reported included:

N. A. BLACK, who farms 29 miles west on Harrison, reported one and one-half inches. He said that the lack of wind—something unusual—added to the benefits of the rain.

TOM BOYD, whose farm is 33 miles northwest of Hereford, had an inch and 10 hundredths.

S. M. TWEATT, 22 miles west at Bootleg Corner, reported just a half an inch.

D. C. McWHORTER, Black elevator operator, was also reporting one-fourth an inch Saturday morning.

CHAS. R. HOOVER reported .83 of an inch.

G. K. HORTON, who farms 40 miles northwest of Hereford, just west of the Charlie Hoover place reported one and one-half inches of moisture.

JACK FORTENBERRY, the proverbial man who gets practically no rain at all, was all smiles as he reported two inches of rain in his area south of Adrian.

O. Z. BEZNER, who lives west of the 14-mile road, reported around one-half inch.

O. G. HILL, local rancher and cattleman, said that friends called him around midnight Friday to report three inches at Romero, N. M., and around six inches in the Arlie Dean County close to Nara Visa.

FRED COLLINS, located on the northwest corner from Garcia Lake estimated an average of around one-half inch, but said the rainfall was spotted on his place, varying from light moisture up to two inches.

G. W. BRUMLEY, around 20 miles west on Harrison Highway, reported approximately one inch of moisture.

Rain Brightens Farming Outlook

County Officials To Appear On Breakfast Panel

Deaf Smith County officials will be put to the test Wednesday when they appear as a panel at the monthly Chamber of Commerce Community Breakfast. Bill Lenderman, C-C manager, announced Saturday.

All elected county officials are expected to appear on the panel at the breakfast, which is to be held in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel. Moderator for the affair will be County Judge Homer Henslee. Two months ago city commissioners were featured at the breakfast during which time they heard suggestions and complaints about city government. This month's breakfast will give citizens the same chance to find out about the workings of government on the county level.

Lenderman said each office holder would speak briefly, giving an outline of the duties of his office and then the program would be turned into an open affair, with everyone who cares to ask a question or offer advice being given the opportunity.

The breakfast will begin at 7 a.m. Lenderman urged all who plan to attend to phone the C-C office Monday to make reservations.

"We need to let the hotel know how many will be there," Lenderman said, "so that there will be no delay in getting everyone served promptly."

The meeting is open to the public and all persons, whether Chamber of Commerce members or not, are urged to attend, the manager said.

Whitefaces Put Title Hopes On Line In Games

By BILL KNOX
The Hereford Whitefaces will meet the rugged Dalhart Wolves here Wednesday afternoon in a double-header which is sure to decide the district championship. The Herd will meet Panhandle Tuesday, the day before, in another conference game which should be an easy victory for Hereford.

However, three games in two days creates a bad situation for pitchers, says Coach L. B. Russell. Russell is expected to use Francis Boyd (5-1) and Homer Hershney (0-1) against Dalhart, while G. C. Merritt or Budy Jowell will probably go against Panhandle.

Last year, Hereford's only two losses were to the Wolves, but this year Hereford may be given the advantage because of added experience and the fact that both games will be played on the Whitefaces' home field. It was originally scheduled that the teams play one game at Dalhart and one at Hereford, but bad weather conditions caused postponement of the first game after the Herd had already journeyed to the Wolves' home ground.

Dalhart pitcher Bill Wilson won both games for Dalhart last year, but "he'll face better depth and more rugged batters this year," states Coach L. B. Russell. Russell boasts a hard-hitting outfield of Danny Elliston, Kenneth Walterseid, and Bill Calloway, while Jack Burrus and Taylor Sims are

Closing Hours Discussed At Merchants Meet

A discussion of Saturday closing hours highlighted Friday morning's weekly meeting of the Merchants Committee.

Merchants discussed what time to close Saturday night. Some wanted to close at seven, others at 7:30 and others still later. Urvin Streu, chairman, concluding, said "Due to difference in trading habits, all of us will not be able to agree on one time." He then suggested that competitive merchants get together to decide what time they would close and announce that time to the public.

Shoplifters also fell under discussion. Don Zimmerman reported shoplifters busy last week and a general alarm was sounded among merchants of Hereford.

Other topics discussed included planned rodeo specials and a discussion of the time of publication of The Sunday Brand, previous to each dollar day.

M. J. Ivie Is Buried Here

Funeral services for M. J. Ivie were held Saturday at 2 p.m. in Amarillo at the Blackburn-Shaw Memorial Chapel. Curtis Camp, San Jacinto Church of Christ pastor, conducted the rites. Death occurred Tuesday in the Veterans Hospital.

Born Nov. 4, 1877 in Missouri, he was a veteran of the Spanish-American war. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Interment was made at West Park Cemetery in Hereford Saturday at 3:30.

Survivors include: wife, Mrs. Eunice Ivie, Amarillo; three daughters, Mrs. J. L. Juffell of Amarillo, Mrs. Edna Henslee of Dalhart, Tex., and Mrs. Everett Sillworth of Amarillo; two sons, Brock Ivie of Friona and Jay Ivie of Dalhart, Tex.; and a sister, Mrs. Mattie Hackett of Mangum, Okla.

Around Town

"How much did you get?" That's the question Around Town today following the rain that fell Friday night. The moisture left Deaf Smith Countians in an optimistic mood and agriculture prospects much brighter.

Postmaster Jim Lipscomb reminded merchants Saturday that back door deliveries will begin here Monday. Lipscomb said it would be wise for all stores to have their names painted on the back of the buildings so that they could be easily identified. The move came at the request of the Merchants Committee.

There will be a regular meeting of the Hereford Camp Fire Council Monday night at the Camp Fire Hut. Time for the meeting is 7:30 p.m.

Both the Lions and Rotarians will hold their Ladies' nights here Thursday. The Lions will meet in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel and the Rotarians in the Shirley School auditorium. Highlight of the Lions affair will be political talks by campaign managers of various candidates for club offices.

Hereford volunteer firemen and their families were treated to a free movie by Francis Hardwick recently. The firemen saw "On the Waterfront" at the Star Theatre.

A large delegation of Hereford realtors are planning to attend the 1955 Educational Conference, sponsored by the Texas Real Estate Association in Amarillo Tuesday, May 3. The meeting will be open to realtors, their sales staff and all licensees, according to announcements, including representatives from Amarillo, Hereford, Dalhart, Borger and Pampa.

If you have any old refrigerators or ice boxes that you think you should get the docs off of for safety's sake, Dick Walker has agreed to do the job free. Walker points out that in 1948, 97 children died when trapped in the discarded boxes. In 1953 only 29 deaths were recorded. He attributes it to caution, and doesn't think now is the time to stop.

The Quarterhorse show Saturday attracted some of the top horsemen in this area.

'Lay Away Tenth Of Land, Solve Surpluses'--Hammond

A nation-wide retirement of a tenth of every farmer's overall acreage was proposed as the logical solution to "agriculture's sickness" by J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, in a speech before Hereford Lions Wednesday.

Under the plan each farmer would be allowed to plant whatever-crop he desired. Hammond compared it with industry shut-downs, saying that when an automobile manufacturer produced more cars than he could sell he shut down operations. He said an overall 10 percent cut down would do away with farm surpluses, "and surpluses are our problem."

"There are two kinds of economy in this country," the FB president stated. He defined the two as an economy of plenty and economy of shortages. Saying that the rest of the nation practices an economy of shortages, he stated, "We 13 percent (farmers) cannot afford to practice an economy of plenty."

Hammond declared that the farmer was "the last fellow to be subsidized," and stressed that with that exception every other group of Americans are subsidized. Backing up the statement, he explained that lawyers are protected by laws keeping others from practicing and that taxi cab drivers are protected by city ordinances, keeping the field from becoming overcrowded. The Tye farmer emphasized that the agriculture problem "is a nationwide problem." He said, "We can't solve a problem here in Texas that creates seven more problems in seven more states."

Speaking of grain sorghums, Hammond said that the Farm Bureau kept the parity on sorghums from being 60 percent instead of 70. "We got them to set it at 70 percent," he said.

"We are all a part of the agricultural machinery," he stated, "and you and I have to look after these difficulties and provide the solution."

GIVES HIS ANSWER — J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, gave Hereford Lions his solution to the problem of "agriculture sickness." Hammond proposed a nation-wide retirement of a tenth of every farmer's acreage to control surpluses. He said resolutions to that effect have been passed by both the Texas and National Farm Bureaus. Brannan.....

He charged Benson with personally dropping cattle prices 10 cents in one speech by "telling the packers he would not protect the farmers."

He criticized the USDA action in cutting milk support prices from 90 to 75 percent, saying, "We will have the largest stock of dairy products and the greatest milk production in history this year."

He pointed to proposed cuts in funds for the school lunch program, Soil Conservation Service and Rural Electrification Administration.

Brannan was introduced by John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, who introduced him as "the last secretary of agriculture the farmers had."

White said that "Caesar came, he saw, and he conquered. Benson came, he saw and he left," he added.

"He left with a great plan—he is going to have a meeting in six weeks. Would you wait a week to call the fire department if your house were burning down?"

The Texas farm leader said, "Grain support prices should be raised immediately back to 85 percent."

White was introduced by Alex Dickie Jr., of Denton County, president of the Texas Farmers Union.

Jay Boston, Deaf Smith County Farmers Union president, made opening remarks and introduced Dickie. He said the Farmers Union was the first organization that elected to fight the drastic cut in support prices for grain sorghums. "And we are not through yet, we are going to continue to fight," he declared.

Bill Lenderman, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, made the welcoming address, and entertainment was provided by the Berg Sisters, Farmers Union Trio.

Father Bartholomew Paytas gave the invocation and Rev. Howard Scott the benediction.

Hereford Semi-Pro Team To Open Home Season Sunday

The Hereford baseball team, members of the Central Plains Baseball League, will open their home season today against Friona. According to acting manager, Wendel Burdine, added youth has strengthened Hereford chances of taking a championship despite the loss of several veterans.

The Hereford team also boasts depth and good pitching strength

Homer Hershey, Francis Boyd, John Winkler, James Parker, Terry McRight, and Kenneth Brock all staff the Hereford pitching delegation.

Good hitting strength comes from Raymond Laeb, Charlie Duvall, Leroy Suttle, and Harold Robinson. The outfield will probably be Don McNeil, Leroy Suttle, and Charlie Duvall, while Taylor Sims will catch. Starting infielders are yet to be decided.

Numerous improvements have been made to Veteran's Park, and all baseball fans are urged to attend the first game for good entertainment. Admission price will be 50 cents with children under 12 admitted free of charge.

Herd Takes Easy Victory Over Tulia In 1-A Battle

By BILL KNOX
The Hereford whitefaces stamped past the rejuvenated Tulia Hornets 15-8 last Tuesday in a district 1A game. It was the third straight 1A victory for the Herd, which is keyed and ready to have battle with the Dalhart Wolves twice Wednesday in battles which will decide the district championship.
Francis Boyd rulled up his fifth victory for the Herd while pitching the complete game. Boyd has lost only to Amarillo this year. He pitched consistently and was stingy with the Hornets until the fifth inning when he faltered and gave up five runs, most of which were unearned.
The Whitefaces continued to scorch the base paths with safe blows, pounding out 14 against three Tulia hurlers. Danny Elliston had a perfect day at the plate, three for three, to lead Hereford bat-wielders, and Richard Hagar, Bill Calloway, and Bill Albracht all connected for two safe blows apiece. Elliston's "hay-day" at the plate raised his already superlative average to .556 for seven games.
Tulia got seven hits off Boyd including a double and a triple both by Bobby Fritch. The Hornets used three pitchers against the Herd, but none succeeded in baffling Coach L. B. Russell's charges. James Lacy started but gave way to Gales in the third. Charlie Edwards relieved Gales in the sixth. Hereford started scoring with one in the first. Bybee led off with a strikeout, but when Chandler overthrew first after dropping the ball, Bybee went all the way to third. Sims popped to third, and Elliston walked, then Bybee was thrown out trying to score on Hagar's ground ball. The run came when Elliston scored on Calloway's single.
Tulia took a brief lead in the last of the second, but failed to hold on to it for long. A sudden outburst of wildness by Boyd plus a single by Jeff Chandler gave them their runs.
Determined to keep the lead, the Whitefaces stormed back with seven runs in a big third inning.

Elliston and Hagar led off with consecutive singles, and after Calloway had fanned, Albracht kept up the string. Three consecutive errors by Tulia finished up the spurge of mostly unearned runs for Hereford.
Hereford was again held scoreless in the fourth, but Tulia managed to score a single run. A triple by Bobby Fritch and an error by shortstop Lynn Bybee sent across the run. After the Hornets had splurged for five runs in the fifth, they didn't score again, but the Whitefaces continued to clock. They scored four more in the fifth and Homer Hershey's home run with two on in the sixth added three more to the already bulging total.
The Tulia starter, James Lacy, was charged with the loss, while Francis Boyd was the winner. Hereford will meet Dalhart in an all-important double-header Wednesday.

LEGAL NAME!
AUSTIN, Tex. —It's the law in Texas: water districts can't use money received from the sale of their bonds to install fire hydrants. So much items in these districts are referred to as "flushing" hydrants. Nothing illegal about them.

AGE CUTS TAX
HELENA, Mont. —Antique motor car collectors in Montana got a break from the Legislature—no longer do they have to buy license plates every year. As long as one owner has what he considers a collector's item, he need buy only one plate. The only other time the car needs another license plate is when it gets a new owner.

VOTE PAYOFF
TOPEKA, Kan. —The Kansas State Senate was considering a bill to increase expense allowances for Lieut. Gov. James McCuish, who was president. The first vote count showed a 20-29 division.
Chortling lawmakers reminded McCuish he had the tie-breaking vote before the embarrassed lieutenant governor acted, however, senators abandoned their practical joke and changed their votes. The bill was passed unanimously.

Softball League To Open Play Here Tuesday

By BILL KNOX

Plans have now been completed for the Hereford Softball League which will go on throughout the summer. The schedule will begin Tuesday, and games will be played on Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday of each week.

Seven teams are members of the league. Four are repeaters from last year, with three new entries. Members of the league are Summerfield, Knights of Columbus, Hotel Jim Hill, Cooper's Market, Rutherford's, Popular Store, and Piggly Wiggly. Hotel Jim Hill is the defending champion.

To emphasize youth on the club, a team may have a roster of 18 players if three are under 6 years of age. If none are younger than 16, a roster limit of 15 has been set. Teams have until May 20 to turn in their final roster.

Schedule This Week Games Tuesday, May 3
(a) Piggly Wiggly-Coopers
(b) K.C.-Summerfield
Thursday, May 5
(c) Jim Hill-Rutherford's
(d) Popular-Piggly Wiggly
Friday, May 6
(e) Rutherford's-K.C.
(f) Summerfield-Piggly Wiggly
(g) Denotes home team.

MRS. LYNN KESTER presided a program for the Sudan Garden Club Thursday including setting of tables and flower arrangements. Tables for a teen age party, breakfast, formal dinner, bridge luncheon and an outdoor supper were laid with appropriate linen and crystal, china and silver. In the afternoon Mrs. Kester showed a film on appropriate crystal and silver table settings and told how to care for fine china and silver and how to buy. Approximately 50 attended the program.

Former Hereford Girl Is Married To Lubbock Man

Mrs. E. C. Gee of Lubbock, formerly of Hereford, has announced the recent marriage of her daughter, Tommye Leores, to James Edward Stauings, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stauings of Lubbock. The wedding took place April 16 in the Williams Memorial Church of Lubbock with the Rev. J. C. Holman, pastor, reading the wedding service. The bride given in marriage by her brother, Charles Gee, wore white imported lace-overshoe blue tulle, with veil of illusion caught to an ice blue satin crown. She ended Lubbock High School and Texas Technological College. He is presently employed by the Kuykendall Co., in Lubbock. For traveling when the couple left for points in Old Mexico on a short wedding trip, the bride was dressed in a pink and gray suit with gunmetal accessories.

At the reception held in the bride's home, Mrs. Pat Ridgway registered the guests and Mrs. R. E. Sorge and Mrs. D. E. Visage presided at the refreshment table.

Mrs. Lee Cocanougher has returned from a three weeks stay in Hot Springs, Ark.

Teacher Builds Own House In Two Years

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Ever think of building your own house—with the fun of patting every little stone in place, and sweating lovingly over blocks, and boards and beams? Helen and Stuart Welty of Fairborn, Ohio, had that dream, and what's more, they did something about it. They built a house so good in fact that it has just won first prize in a national do-it-yourself contest sponsored by Woman's Home Companion.

The stonework was done by Helen, every last bit of it. The finished Cape Cod house has three rooms down stairs, two bedrooms and bath upstairs. A garage will be completed soon.

It all began when the Welty's missed out on a house they wanted while they were scraping up the down payment. They decided to mend their heartbreak by investing in a mail order house plan and materials for a house to be built with their own hands.

"Little did I realize that two years after I put down that first stone I would lay the last," says Mrs. Welty. "I taught kindergarten half-day while we were building and I was always anxious to get home to my stone pile."

She wanted a stone house, and ditted every stone together just like a jigsaw puzzle. She didn't feel safe on a scaffold so the chimney was stone faced by climbing a ladder, requiring many trips. Thirty feet from ground level she placed the last stone.

The Welty's did their own work except for electrical and plumbing installations. The house includes built-in features such as china and kitchen cabinets and shelves. Outdoor handiwork includes banister flower beds made of the same stone as the house. A current project includes an outdoor fireplace and basement recreation room.

Ancient siege engines threw stones up to 800 pounds in weight. Foxes do not hibernate and are as active in winter as in summer, even in cold climates.

Scientists estimate that there are more than 100,000 species of fungi.

General Hood Headed Two Brigades During Lifetime

Fort Hood—Few students of the Civil War know there were two Hood's Brigades.

There was the valiant body of armed men led by Lt. Gen. John Bell Hood, after whom Fort Hood was named.

And there were the 11 children of Gen. and Mrs. Hood.

It was after the war, when Gen. Hood moved to New Orleans and married the former Anna Marie Hennen, that the latter band came into existence.

But the same cry—"Here comes Hood's Brigade"—went up when the family went strolling.

All this was recalled by a recent visitor, Mrs. Anne Clinton Crothers of Baton Rouge, La., an 80-year-old grandmother who played with the Hood children.

"My father and mother, Judge and Mrs. Tomas Pipkin Clinton, were great friends of the Hoods back in New Orleans," Mrs. Crothers recalled. She played with the Hood children, including the three sons of Tins.

"My mother loved to go over on a summer's evening and see the yard full of children. Mrs. Hood always kept the children so nice, my mother later told me. Until she died, my mother had a picture of Gen. and Mrs. Hood and all the children on her bedroom wall."

A yellow fever epidemic struck New Orleans in 1853, killing more than 20,000 persons. When the plague appeared to be over the following summer, the Hood family was stricken.

Gen. Hood was only 48 years old when he died of yellow fever. Mrs. Hood succumbed, too, and their oldest daughter, Lydia Maria, in order to keep the remaining 10 children together, the Texas Brigade Assn. bought a house in Austin and planned to obtain a housemother to care for the brood. But the house was never used.

Guardians of the children decided individual homes would be best. "They were all adopted by people who gave them good homes and all the advantages," Mrs. Crothers said.

Mrs. Crothers said of Fort Hood: "I didn't expect it would be so big."

DANDELIONS
Although it's a little out of the feed line, we can't help but notice all the dandelions this year. This weed has always been a local lawn pest, but this year so many beautiful lawns are just full of them. I see people every day, digging in vain, to rid their premises of this weed.

The easy way to really get rid of them, and I mean kill them, is to use the new improved WEED-ONE, it contains 2,4-D plus 2,4,5-T and kills the weeds without killing the grass. One application will kill them and spray the average lawn for about $1.00. Naturally we have a large stock of this product on hand and a sprayer to loan you.

While we are on the subject of lawns, most nursery men and grass people agree that you should fertilize your lawn twice a year, once in the spring and once in the fall. This year we have a new product that is made in Clovis, it contains dehydrated manure, and no weed seeds. We have used it with much success so far and it is available to you for $3.75 per 80 lb. bag, and we will loan you a spreader.

And for your people that are starting new lawns this spring, we have, in stock, almost every variety of lawn seed that is adaptable to this area. Come in and check our prices also let us show you some lawns that are already established with some of our lawn grass mixes.

THREE WORLD'S RECORDS!
Research often reduces chances for record performance. Even with this handicap the Purina Research Farm at Gray Summit, Missouri, is credited with at least 3 world's records.

One is for pork production. The farm for four years sent to market an average of 17½ hogs per year per each sow and gilt kept on the premises. For 3 consecutive years the Farm has marketed a fraction over 90 percent of all ducks put down, another record. The Farm also has the best record ord for egg production and number of poult per hen ever reported on turkeys.

RANGE MANAGEMENT TIPS
Giving chicks a good start during the first few weeks is important. Pullet development and management during the growing period are also important. Here are some helpful hints.

1. Move pullets to range when 6 to 8 weeks old, weather permitting.

2. Provide at least one acre of good pasture for each 100 pullets.

3. Provide 3 inches of feeder space per pullet.

4. Provide 5 to 8 inches of roost space for each pullet, depending on breed.

5. Range shelters, feed hoppers, water fountains should be moved often enough to prevent concentration of droppings, which kill range grasses and may cause disease spread.

6. Clean and disinfect range shelters before use each year with Purina Insect Oil to control lice, mites and disease germs.

HEALTH HINT
If you see bloody droppings, it's a good indication your chickens have Cecal Coelidiosis. If so, start treatment immediately with Purina Sulfanox. Ask for complete treatment instructions. It's a good idea to get a supply of Sulfanox before your birds get sick, because quick treatment is your best assurance of success in controlling the disease.

When birds go off feed... due to Air Sac Colds, use Purina Check-R-Aid, a highly fortified formula with vitamins and antibiotics. This complete feed is wonderful in reducing mortality from Air Sac disease. Stimulates appetite, too. Ask about it.

Girl Of Year Is Honored At Founders Day Banquet

Texas Kappa Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority has selected Mrs. Dorothy Mercer as its Girl-of-the-Year.

Mrs. Mercer was officially introduced Friday night at the Beta Sigma Phi Founders Banquet held in the First Christian Church fellowship hall. Mrs. Margaret Witherspoon, sponsor, made the presentation of the award to Mrs. Mercer, who was selected for the honor on the basis of her service to the chapter as recording secretary in 1954 and program chairman in 1955. Previous Girls-of-the-Year are Mesdames Catherine Moore and Margaret Harvey.

arrangements of illas and yellow tapers rising from beds of bridal wreath.

The program opened with the singing of The National Anthem followed by rituals conducted by Mrs. Betty Babione, president, who served as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Ann Line and Mrs. Margaret Harvey gave the Beta Sigma Phi invocation.

After the introduction of special guests, Mrs. Babione gave "A Time to Dream" outlining the dreams of the founder for the sorority and concluding with the dreams and accomplishments of the local chapter.

GRUNTING PAYS
SOPCHOPPY, Fla. — Grunting earthworms is a profitable business in many sections of Florida. Over 100 men, women and children are engaged in grunting, or rubbing up, earthworms in Wakulla County alone; packing them in containers with the proper sand, muck and moss and shipping them to various parts of the South.

To get the worms out of the earth workers drive in short wooden stakes and then use an axe, spring leaf iron or any other suitable iron for rubbing the top of the stake. The vibration makes the worm—prized as fishing bait—come to the surface.

You can make more worms come out by using batteries connected to steel rods but more worms are killed that way.

One dealer last year shipped over $12,000 worth to Florida customers alone. Recently one man and his wife grunted in 84 quart—about 300 worms to the quart—in two days.

Try a different sauce with fish fillets. Add a couple of tablespoons each of catchup and chopped dill pickle to white sauce. Use 1/4 tablespoons of butter or margarine and the same amount of flour to a cup of milk for the sauce, and season with salt and pepper.

The U. S. auto industry has produced more than 136 million cars since 1900.

Miss Leona Urbanczyk Bride Of Sam Mazurek

If a double-ring ceremony read in St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Miss Leona Urbanczyk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Urbanczyk, became the bride of Sam A. Mazurek, son of Mrs. S. A. Mazurek and the late Mr. Mazurek of Amarillo, at 8:30 Tuesday morning. Vows were repeated before altar decorations of white gladioli and stock with Cathedral tapers lighting the setting. Rev. Richard Mac Lellan of St. Joseph's Church of Rowena, read the ceremony. Preceding the ceremony, Edward Dziuk Jr., nephew of the bride, sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," accompanied by Mrs. A. H. Reinartz, organist, sister of the bride, who also played the processional and recessional, and for the nuptial high mass. During the offertory, Mr. Dziuk sang "Panis Angelicus" and he sang "Mother at Thy Feet We're Kneeling" as the couple paused on their way to the altar to present flowers at the Altar of "Our Lady."

Bridegroom's Sisters Attend
Misses Ann and Lois Mazurek, sisters of the bridegroom, served the bride as bridesmaids. They wore turquoise gowns of nylon net over taffeta, fashioned with fitted bodices having high neck and pointed collars, and ballerina bouffant skirts. Their hair was made of matching net embroidered with pearls and their long gloves were of turquoise lace. Both carried colonial bouquets of toast colored carnations.

Carla Stengel, niece of the bride, wore a dress identical to the bridesmaids' and carried a satin and lace basket laden with flowers. Charlie Stengel, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a satin and lace pillow.

Dick Brajard of Amarillo was best man and Adrian Haiduk of Amarillo and Tony Urbanczyk, brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Ushers were Joe Gulde of Amarillo and J. W. and A. C. Stengel, brothers-in-law of the bride.

Bride Wore Lace
The bride's gown of Chantilly lace and bridal satin was fashioned with a large bodice trimmed with seed pearls and sequins, designed with petal collar and miniature face buttons fastened the bodice down the back. Long lace sleeves tapered to deep petal points over the hands. Wide tiers of lace and tulle embroidered with seed pearls and sequins, accented the full bouffant skirt of slipper satin, that drifted to a chapel length train. Her finger-tip length veil of nylon tulle was held by a bonnet-brim of fluted tulle with matching lace and pearlized sequin trim. She carried a white prayer book topped with bride's roses and stephanotis.

The bride's mother wore a gray crepe dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece dress with navy accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Breakfast Follows Wedding
Following the wedding a breakfast was given at the country home of the bridegroom's uncle, John Kalka, with Mrs. A. C. Stengel and Mrs. Alice Cooper assisting. Guests were members of the bridal party and Father MacLellan, Father Bartholomeu Paytas and Father Nathaniel Madden.

At high noon a luncheon was featured for the immediate families at the home of the bride, and at 6 p.m. a formal reception was held in St. Anthony's School Hall.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to points in Colorado, the bride was wearing a nubby tweed navy suit with pastel blue accessories and a yellow carnation corsage. After May 1, they will be at home at 4444 Travis St. in Amarillo.

Mrs. Mazurek is a 1933 graduate of Hereford High School and has served as treasurer for the Catholic Youth Club and St. Anthony's Choir.

Mr. Mazurek is a graduate of Price College, Amarillo, and is presently employed at Hunter Hospital Supplies in Amarillo.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mulherin, Robbie and Julie, Kenneth Mazurek, Mrs. Adrian Haiduk, Ed April, Sally Quigley, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Kotara Jr., and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Urbanczyk, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Urbanczyk, Mrs. M. J. Warminski, Mrs. Helen Warminski, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Skibinski and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Wyatt and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warminski and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Haiduk and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Wyatt and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kalka and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bickel and sons, all of White Deer; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jungman of Pep, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie

This column started in Liberal, Kans., early Wednesday morning. And I do mean early. It will probably ramble around quite a bit and wind up by accomplishing very little. Which, after all, pretty well describes my personal contribution to the "drought-busters" who this week visited Eastern Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle, finishing their tour in Tucuman, N. M.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson is the head man in this story. It is difficult for me to write about Benson, chiefly because I find myself in discord with many of his general policies, which can easily wreck havoc with the agricultural economy which is the basis of development, progress and living standards in the Panhandle country. Benson, on the other hand, is a likeable individual. He has a wonderful sense of humor and, during the day I traveled in his delegation, seemed to be making an honest, sincere effort to find out the "real score" concerning agriculture and soil erosion in the "blow" country. Just like he promised, Benson made every effort to avoid the slow spots. He was looking for down-to-earth information. Furthermore, he seemed to put exceptional stress on the opinion of the average man.

Benson had a staff of seven men from Washington. They included assistant secretaries, co-workers and one man from the Office of Information. His regular traveling companions on the trip also included a heavy "Press" staff (around eight men) with representatives from Associated Press, United Press, Scripps-Howard, Chicago, and Life Magazine. The "Working Press," as these boys are called, have considerable respect for Mr. Benson. They also say that he is most cooperative—and that he likes to have his picture made. This is a little bit unusual in view of the fact that Mr. Benson is considered by the "Working Press" of Washington, D. C., as the most difficult of all Cabinet members with whom they travel. Despite his willingness to cooperate at all times, he keeps them working on a long, full-time schedule.

The Associated Press representative said that he had been with Benson on the entire trip—and that four and one-half hours sleep was the most he had been able to grab during any single night. Most of the press boys dozed and catnapped on the bus all day Wednesday.

"When you go with Benson, you really roll," they said. And they sure hit the nail on the head at Liberal, where Hugh Clearman and I joined the delegation Tuesday night. Hugh arrived ahead of me and when I met him and District Agent Knox Parr of Amarillo, the first information I got was to report on the mezzanine at 6 o'clock. We left a call for 5 o'clock—and, just to be sure, the clerk called us at 4:45 Wednesday morning. Hugh said it didn't matter as far as he was concerned, though, because I snored so loud all night that he didn't ever get to sleep in the first place.

When we got to the breakfast room, Mr. Benson was already halfway through eating and was doing a lot of kidding with the Kansas Jaycees, who also rolled out early to serve us the famous "Liberal Pancakes."

Offhand, I would conclude that Mr. Benson takes quite a bit of pride in being an early riser, which does not necessarily mean that I agree with him on the subject. We rolled out of Liberal around 10 minutes in advance of our 7 o'clock departure time and before 8 o'clock we were visiting a dairy farmer in Texas County, Oklahoma.

"I guess you've already been up and done a day's work?" This was Mr. Benson's inevitable question to everyone we ran across before 9:30 a.m.—and he would then give someone in his caravan a dirty look, just as though they had overslept and spoiled his whole day. Like I said, he has a phobia about getting up early. He also seemed to get quite a bang out of kidding the people on his staff and in the delegation.

Research-wise, I think Mr. Benson and the press boys found very little of interest in the Panhandle. To be honest, the erosion in the Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas Panhandle area is nothing to compare with what they had seen the previous day in Eastern Colorado. He did get quite interested in the humps left from the "dirty 30's," though, and stopped the bus to carefully check some areas which had been turned back to grass. This was in the Oklahoma Panhandle out of Guymon.

The Oklahoma Extension service boys presided over the trip from Liberal to Texhoma and, despite the cracks they kept making about Texas all along the way, they have apparently visited in the

"NEVER BEFORE, ANYWHERE, have I been called this," declared Sec. Benson upon receiving his official plaque designating him as a "Ding Dong Daddy from Dumas." The certificate was presented on a location in Moore County northeast of Dumas. (Staff Photo)

Lone Star State enough that they have absorbed some of our tactics. They are most proud of their limited irrigation—and seemed to be showing off this phase more than their erosion damages. Around the Spearman-Dumas country, it was the same story. We even stopped at an F.H.A. financed irrigation project of some means—and Mr. Benson showed quite a bit of interest in irrigation. Perhaps it was this interest that led the group to switch their route during the lunch hour at Amarillo—and include Hereford on the itinerary. Anyway, they did just that.

Being a country boy, I was quite interested in the manner in which things were operated. If you wanted to talk with Mr. Benson, it was easy, and this included the newspaper boys. All you had to do was drop back and tell his assistant, Harvey Dahl, who would set up the deal. Mr. Benson always sat on the front seat on the right-hand side next to the window. Those who wanted interviews occupied the seat on his left. I would also say that he is under constant pressure. Group after group would visit with him—and most of them had an axe to grind. Maybe this is why he likes to get up early. Anyway, he has a job he can keep so far as I am concerned.

Furthermore, he never appears to stick out his neck on any given subject. This may be standard procedure for all Cabinet members. Anyway, it is definitely standard with Mr. Benson. The only out and dried opinion I heard him make on the tour was the fact that a good rain would do a lot toward curbing the drought. He dressed in a pair of slacks, a corduroy jacket and wore a sports shirt. He would appear to be around 45 years of age, although I am sure that he is much older. He obviously keeps in excellent physical condition—although he does have one weakness, which is eating candy. The Secretary even bought several boxes of candy in Amarillo and passed them out to the delegation along the way.

As I said before, Sec. Benson likes to talk to the average man. On the stretch into Amarillo he moved up close and started a conversation with the bus driver. He even called up some of his boys to hear the fellow's story. The driver told Mr. Benson that his regular run was from Amarillo to Oklahoma City, and that he thought the worst blowing in this part of the country was around Wheeler, Tex. Mr. Benson was most interested and took down some notes. In fact, this was the only time I saw him take any personal notes on the trip. Then he asked the driver about housing conditions and food costs in Amarillo. The driver said that Amarillo was the best place in the world to live—except for the blowing sand.

Mr. Benson was consistent in this approach throughout the trip. He always by-passed the big-wigs and walked over to the farm hands who were operating machinery or pumps. He seemed to place much more emphasis on these opinions than upon those from the dignitaries.

This could be due to his basic nature—or more likely to the fact that he encounters so many pressure groups. He apparently weighs and calculates the source of requests as much as he does the things people have to tell him. If I wanted to get something from Sec. Benson, I would push my typewriter over in the corner, get a sheet of ruled tablet paper, take a stub pencil—and write the Secretary a letter, taking care to misspell several of the words. Maybe I am wrong, but I think he is definitely for the "little man."

THE TEXAS TUMBLEWEED which adorns the hat of Mrs. J. B. Riffe of Texhoma, Okla., was mistakenly identified as a "critter." This "last Wednesday morning by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson when the special bus made one of its rare stops across the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandle. Benson did appreciate the joke, however, and spent several minutes inspecting the "critter." This is strictly one man's opinion, not especially connected with the tour, but I have a feeling that Sec. Benson looks on the entire farm program more as a relief measure than a basic economy for the nation. With such an outlook, he naturally resents any effort on the part of business men or large scale farmers to keep their income on a high plane at the expense of subsidies.

"This is not agriculture out here," declared one of the newsmen. "It's long-shot gambling." Several members of the Washington, D. C. press section saw the Panhandle for their first time—and they were ever-amazed at the flatness of the country. This started around Spearman and was still a topic of conversation when we left the caravan at Hereford. These boys were also amazed at the cattle conditions. They wanted to know how many head of cattle the country ran to the section—and appeared stunned when we finally convinced them that instead of "heads to the section," we usually had around "25 sections to the head" with poor range conditions such as existed over most of the tour.

Mr. Benson probably already had this information. Anyway, he did not show any signs of interest. Again, he may have been concentrating on erosion, and just didn't want too many things mixed up in the report. About the only time he got off was on the topic of irrigation—and that was more or less forced on him by the tour directors.

Grain sorghums got much the same treatment. The topic came

COST OF IRRIGATION wells and equipment in the deep-water area of the North Plains seemed to hold much interest for Mr. Benson, who lifted his eyebrows when he heard the $12,000 to $16,000 estimate. Benson is seen on the left as Morton explains the operating mechanism of the pumping equipment. Benson also learned why many Moore County farmers cannot use gas from their own farms to irrigate their crops and help beat the drought. (Staff Photo) up once or twice, but was given "taboo" treatment. They had an open meeting at Liberal Tuesday night and the delegation made quite an issue of grain sorghums—but got little more than a promise to consider the situation from all angles.

Liberal, incidentally, sold completely out of hotel and motel accommodations early last week. Everybody and his dog, it seems, had an axe to grind with the Secretary of Agriculture.

Old Clearman and I spent all of our spare time trying to figure out why we were invited on the tour in the first place. We never did come up with a sensible answer. Hugh took over the microphone as announcer, when we hit Deaf Smith County and he did a swell job telling the facts and figures. Honestly, I didn't know he had it in him. Knox Parr seemed to be in charge of the trip across Texas and various agents would board the bus at each county stop, then tell the story of erosion as the bus rambled across their particular county. Hugh was the only County Agent to make the whole tour, though.

Hugh went to town on irrigation and pointed out how the grain sorghum stubble was helping hold down the land. However, if Mr. Benson got the connection with more support along this line, he did an excellent job of ignoring it completely.

Naturally, I felt a little bit flattered at being the only Panhandle newspaper man on the bus. The Amarillo news followed the tour out from Liberal in a staff car and made all of the stories, but the Ft. Worth Star Telegram was the only other Texas paper with a representative on Mr. Benson's bus. I still can't figure out the deal and, besides having a wonderful time, I can't see where I contributed one single thing to the tour.

I almost forgot about the little Jap from Life Magazine. He took all of his pictures on a 35-mm. camera and I didn't hear him say one single word on the entire trip. Some of the photographers also got

Miss Sue Scarth, Joe Hershey Wed

Miss Sue Scarth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard R. Scarth of Stratford, became the bride of Joe Hershey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace L. Hershey, in a double-ring ceremony read at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church by Rev. Howard E. Scott.

Large baskets of white stock and greenery flanked by seven-branched candelabra holding lighted tapers formed the altar background. Mrs. Wm. J. Stanford of Lufkin, organist, played a prelude of "My Own True Love," "Wonderful One," "Always," "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Miss Hilda Stohler, classmate of the bride at Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene, soloist sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "No Other One" with Mrs. Stanford accompanying. Mrs. Stanford played "September Song" while vows were spoken and the traditional wedding marches as the processional and recessional.

Miss Donna Jean Stagner of Odessa, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length dress of pink net over taffeta with a white lace bolero with pink taffeta accents, and full skirt. Her head band was of lace with pink net edging and she carried a sheaf of pink feathered carnations tied with pink satin streamers. The soloists dress was identical to that worn by the maid of honor.

The bridegroom's father served as best man and ushers were John Dale Kelly of Panhandle, Hugh Clearman, Jack Fowler of Lakeview and Wm. J. Stanford of Lufkin.

Bride Escorted by Father

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace and Skinner satin. The lace over dress was fashioned with fitted bodice having a deep yoke of illusion set off by lace flowerlets and seed pearls, and long sleeves that came to petal points at the hands. The full gathered lace overskirt edged in a wide satin fold, fell open in front at the waistline to reveal the floor length satin skirt and graduated to full length at the hem. The train was of white lace and topped with a single white orchid.

The bride's mother wore a pink linen and lace dress with black and white accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore navy sheer with navy and white accessories. Both wore white carnations.

Reception at Church

Following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors where the bride's table was laid with a white cutwork linen cloth over pink and centered with an arrangement of pink and white

Gay Malone, Gene Lewis To Wed June 5

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Malone are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Gay, to Gene Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewis of Dimmitt.

The wedding will take place on June 5 in the home of the bride's parents, 200 Bennett St.

Miss Malone is a senior student in Hereford High School and will receive her diploma in May. She is a member of FHA, treasurer of the senior class and president of Carnation Theta Rho Club for girls.

Mr. Lewis is a member of the senior class of Dimmitt High School and a member of the Plainview National Guard unit.

The couple plan to make their home on his farm north of Dimmitt.

Kiwanians Hear Irrigation Talk

Harold Banks, manager of Gifford-Hill-Western Inc., in Hereford, outlined the use of underground irrigation for Hereford Kiwanians at their regular meeting last week.

Banks showed club members colored slides showing the before and after effects of underground irrigation used on a farm.

Dr. H. A. Cavness, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Here's how to dress up a salad for that cold-cuts supper when you are having company. Use a medium-size head of cabbage and carefully spread out the outer leaves, cut out the center and mix it with grated carrot and salad dressing for your slaw. Pile the slaw back into the cabbage "bowl" and then sprinkle with minced parsley.

carnations and stock. The doubling cake was set on a mirror edged with pink net dotted with pink rosebuds. Miss Barbara Hall and Miss Hilda Stohler presided. Mrs. Owen Stagner, aunt of the bride was at the guest book.

Receiving the guests with the couple were his parents, her mother and the maid of honor.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride traveled in a two piece black dress with black and white accessories, and she wore the orchid lifted from the wedding bouquet. Mrs. Hershey graduated from Hereford High School and is a student nurse at Hendrick Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Abilene. She is a member of Texas Nursing Students Association, and holds an office in the regional TNSA. She serves as treasurer of the senior class at Hendrick Memorial and will receive her diploma in August of this year.

Mr. Hershey graduated from Hereford High School in 1950 and received his degree from Texas A&M College in January 1955. He entered the Army in February and is now stationed at Fort Carson,

Colo. Out of town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Scarth and children of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. The Revival Of Folk Songs Topic For Music Study Club

Mrs. J. R. Allison was leader of the program on "The Revival of Folk Songs" when the Music Study Club held a meeting Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Howard Scott.

In discussing present treasures and future hopes of church music, Mrs. Allison stated that hymnody began in 1833 when William Sandys published a book of songs entitled "His Carols—Ancient and Modern," and from this timid beginning has sprung a vast revival of true carol singing and an adoption of folk songs as a legitimate, expressive source of many of today's hymns. The old hymnal was evolved from such devout forefathers as John Merson Neal who wrote his hymnal while living in and alms house.

An ever increasing company of religiously minded musicians is composing new and worthy music in the old spirit, but in the idiom of our times. We can thank God that He has led us so far toward a pure worship where the prayers will sing and the music will pray.

Musical selections carrying out the theme of the program included "Sheep and Lambs" a vocal solo sung by Mrs. W. T. Carmichael with Mrs. A. J. Schroeter accompanying; "Prayer," (voiced) by Miss Mattie Mae Swisher with Mrs. Howard Scott at the piano, and two chorus numbers "When Streaming from the Eastern Skies" (Dykes) and "Give Us Faith for Today" (Wilson). Mrs. H. K. Fox sang "Little White Rose," by Cadman.

A short business session was held with Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait, vice president, presiding. Plans were made for the closing luncheon on May 9 and the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs Fine Arts tea was announced for May 6.

Members present were Mesdames J. R. Allison, Bill Brady, W. T. Carmichael, R. P. Conaway, B. Y. Crosthwait, C. G. Ferguson, H. K. Fox, J. C. McCracken, C. J. Mountz, J. D. Neill, C. W. Parker, Earl Phillips, T. W. Roberson, A. J. Schroeter, John Sims, Jeff Gilbreath, and the hostess.

ATTEND WSCS MEET

Attending the annual district conference of the Woman's Society of the Methodist Church held in Dalhart Tuesday, Mrs. Mesdames Colby Conaway, M. M. Beavers, Jim Black, Ed Warren, S. M. Dunnam, Bert Bommer, G. W. Edwards, Grant Hanna and Miss Naomi Hare, returned missionary from Peru, representing the First Methodist Church. What's This

—By Chris

Hi there! Good to "see" you again. I mean to say, this weather's getting me down. Who was the smart start that said if you stood still very long, you'd be buried alive? Oh, I remember now. Usually Bill's not so wise, but there's a lot to think about in that little crack of his; so you'd better keep moving.

Say—did you know that Ronald Sherman had his first short story published? Yep; right in our own Whiteface paper! It's a real rip-roarin' bush-whackin', son of a gun, but don't take it to heart, I think it's only fiction. Oh, by the way; keep your eyes open for further works of this master mind. His pen name is "Captain Billy 'Ranch Zmirz'."

The hand did a pretty good job at contest, didn't it? "Super" had them jumping to attention by the flick of one eyelash. You should have seen the brass flash when he stepped to the platform. Now, that's what I call precision. In fact, the school has been making a name for itself, and I just know we'll make 'regional in football and state in basketball next year." So, what if I do have my fingers crossed. I have a lot of school spirit.

Did you hear of Glenna Fore's mix-up? Seems she wrote a letter and sealed her algebra assignment into the envelope. It must be an acute case of love or hate. She's either so in love she can't think straight, or else she hates her algebra pretty bad. On second thought, that could just be a very poor excuse for not having a paper to turn in. Wonder what Dub thought if he really received an algebra assignment instead of a letter?

Hey, have you heard this viewpoint? "Don't take life too seriously, you'll never get out of it alive." What about that? Be "seeing" you.

a little peeved at his methods. About the time they would get ready to shoot a picture, he would run and stand right in front of them until it was too late to shoot. One of the boys even went so far as to declare that all Life photographers were trained to ruin other people's shots. It didn't bother me much, though. I usually just stepped around and took another angle. However, I will admit that it was vexing at times.

We also had quite a dramatic scene at the Amarillo Club, where we ate lunch. Everybody wanted a telephone—and fast. All of the newsmen grabbed telephones when they hit the place. Sec. Benson soon tied up two lines, however, leaving only two pay booths open for the press. Some of the boys never did get to file their stories. I finally got through to Hereford—and everyone I wanted to talk with had gone to lunch.

Elizabeth Cocanougher Bride Of Nola Stockett

The sanctuary of the First Methodist Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Lee Cocanougher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cocanougher, and Nola M. Stockett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Stockett, Saturday afternoon at 4 p.m. Rev. S. M. Dunnam read the single-ring ceremony.

Arched candelabrum with white tapers lighted the altar which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and stock.

Mrs. S. M. Dunnam played an organ prelude and accompanied Miss Colline Brown who sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer" in conclusion of the ceremony.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Cocanougher served as maid of honor, wearing an aqua ballerina-length dress of crystalline made with long waisted bodice having a low neckline and full skirt. She carried an arm bouquet of pastel shaded daisies. Nancy Autry of Stinnett was flower girl. She was dressed in yellow and carried a white satin basket filled with rose-petals.

Ed Reed of Claude served as best man and ushers were Donald Luke Bagwell of Claude, and Virgil Cocanougher, James Sisemore of Plainview was ring bearer.

Bride Wears White Lace

The bride wore an original gown of white lace over taffeta fashioned with bolero jacket and bouffant skirt worn over hoops. The jacket was detailed with satin cording echoed by satin cording circling the waist-length skirt. Her waist length veil of illusion cascaded from a regal lace halo outlined with mock orange blossoms. Lace gauntlets completed the ensemble and her white Bible was topped with gardenias and stephanotis.

Her traditional something-old was an heirloom necklace belonging to her mother.

HAZARDOUS PARKING

CANTON, Ohio—Most of the time, a nickel in a parking meter gives parking time. But when Mrs. Joanne Wensel, 21, put a nickel in one recently, it toppled over, and whacked her in the ankle for a hospital-grade injury and ripped one of her nylon stockings. By the time she got back from the hospital, she needed another nickel for the meter, fixed by city employees.

Back to Mr. Benson. He is friendly, cordial, most alert and one of the most courteous and considerate people I have ever seen. If he moved to Deaf Smith County and started operating a farm, people around here would like him immensely as a neighbor and friend. He is just that sort of man. What's more, he apparently has a lot in common with the people of this Western Country. Common as an old shoe, and always trying to help the underdog get a foothold. Furthermore, he seems to be about as hard-headed as they come. I would figure him for the kind of old boy who would get to be president of the Chamber of Commerce in a few years, and it wouldn't be long before he had one of the biggest grain sorghum acreages in Deaf Smith County. He would go in for irrigation in a big way, and would be the type who would have sugar beets, potatoes and lettuce. He is a natural born leader, a fact borne out with his life's record.

dust-laden road, I could not help but think how easily the tables could have been turned. If Mr. Benson lived in Deaf Smith County, he would probably be in there boosting for higher support prices on grain sorghums. He would probably have been one of the delegation who went to Washington—and dog-gone if I don't believe he would have gotten them, too.

Such are the fates of life. No one will ever know the answer. A lot depends upon a man's background, his training and his moral beliefs. For these reasons, many of us in this Panhandle Country will never agree with Sec. Ezra T. Benson. A large number will condemn him, some unjustly. As for myself, I realize you cannot come to know a man in one single day of traveling, but he definitely has my respect as a sincere, honest man who is carefully and conscientiously discharging the duties of his office "like he sees them." It is also to be remembered that next to President Eisenhower and Sec. Dulles, he possibly holds one of the most important posts in the world, for upon many of his decisions and recommendations hinge not only the fate of the Texas Panhandle, but also the eating habits of many peoples scattered over remote parts of the civilized-world.

Miss Sue Scarth, who became the bride of Joe Hershey Sunday, was honored at a pre-nuptial shower tea given in the home of Mrs. Lawrence McGee recently. Hostesses were Mesdames McGee, H. I. Caraway, Dale Kelly, Clyde Russell, Lloyd Sharp, Lowell Sharp, B. E. Roberson, W. P. Axe, Ira Ott, George Graham, Floyd West, Floyd McGee and Wayne Newsom.

The refreshment table, covered with white organdy over pink, held a center arrangement of pink roses and white lilies flanked by flame-tipped tapers. Entwined hearts and love birds suggested the romance.

Mesdames George Graham, Clyde Russell, Lowell Sharp and H. I. Caraway presided and Mrs. Owen Stagner and Bonnie Axe registered the guests. Approximately 75 guests called during the party hours.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Commissioners Get Expense Increase

Considerable discussion has followed the recent increase in traveling expense allowances for Deaf Smith County's Commissioners. The question, all in all, seems to be an argumentative one -- even among the commissioners.

The Commissioners draw a salary of $2,100 annually in Deaf Smith County. In addition, they have been drawing $25 each month to cover travel expense over their precincts. With the new increase, they will draw $50 per month in travel expenses, giving a total of $2,700 annually to each County Commissioner -- or $10,800 for the four.

Increasing costs in the purchase of automobiles and in general operation of their individual cars was cited as the chief reason for establishing the increase. Some of the Commissioners also pointed out that they were not drawing the maximum salary allowance for the county. Deaf Smith County, in addition, is the fifth largest county in Texas, a fact which once again points to considerable expense for a Commissioner who carefully checked the needs of his precinct. This is more especially true in Precincts 3 and 4, which cover larger areas with small populations.

All in all, the increase this past week may not be so far out of line as some critics are inclined to think. The job of being a County Commissioner is far more important than most people realize, chiefly because it is within the power of the Commissioners Court to handle the spend-

Vaccine Set-Back

Announcement that eight California children have contracted polio following the mass inoculation program comes at such a time that it may well set the entire polio vaccination program back several months.

This is possible, despite the fact that efforts are now being made to establish the plan. The United States Health department has emphasized that there is no cause for alarm, and have taken steps to remove the questionable vaccine from distribution channels.

The situation, as we recall, is almost parallel to that encountered shortly following widespread distribution of penicillin when several deaths occurred. As a result, the use of the new miracle drug was delayed in some areas for a few months.

However, vaccines are much like any other commodity in this respect. Their basic value stands, regardless of a minor error, a miscalculation or an unpredicted reaction. When you stop to evaluate the situation, eight such cases out of the hundreds of thousands of inoculations is indeed a small percentage.

Reports from tests on the Salk vaccine indicate that it does have exceptional value. This, in the long-run, assures general usage of the immunization program. The California incident, regrettable though it is, is merely another milestone in the march of science and progress. When the cause is uncovered, manufacturers and physicians will be in a position to take precautions that such an incident does not occur again. Such, at least, has been our experience in the use of other drugs and vaccines.

ing of all county funds, which is quite a sum.

The Brand has always fought for good roads, and we do not discount them now. However, we thought for a long time that the Commissioners failed to realize the importance of other phases of county business to their fullest extent. The new Court, however, is beginning to recognize some of these phases. They seem to be spending more time in the duties of administration, planning and general operations of the county and, at the same time, they are not neglecting the roads.

When we have good public officers, it is important that they receive equitable and adequate salaries. Certainly, we cannot expect them to operate county business out of their own pockets. Most other county officers have had salary increases in recent years, due to rising costs. All of which indicates that as citizens, we should possibly endorse the expense boost -- and expect a little more time and a little more interest on the part of our commissioners.

We'll Take That Rain -- Any Time

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson recently toured the drought-stricken areas of Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico to get a first hand idea of situations as they exist.

Some of it was sad, according to the Secretary, while other parts appeared better than he expected. In conclusion, he advanced two basic theories which seem to go hand in hand. Several times along the route, Sec. Benson frankly recommended a good rain and at the conclusion of his trip, he suggested that the people of New Mexico pray for rain. His other suggestion was that "we try to get at the source of the droughts, rather than combat them with emergency relief measures."

Mr. Benson is no doubt 100 percent right in his conclusions. We do need rain. Furthermore, we have frequently and often prayed for rain, both privately and publicly. What's more, this part of his conclusion pretty well answers his second conclusion, since the source of our droughts can easily be traced to a definite lack of moisture.

We recognize his reasoning as basic and sound -- IF it could be achieved. This same line of thinking lead to the development of surface irrigation in the Hereford area, and over a few other more fortunate spots on the Panhandle Plains. While our condition is not ideal, we know that these irrigation points do and can exist without relief in times of drought. Our area has pretty well proved Mr. Benson's point.

Meanwhile, he still has Eastern Colorado, New Mexico and scores of other points in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas which have no irrigation upon which to draw. These areas are the ones which honestly need his assistance and help. Furthermore, these areas are the ones which are blowing in on our own country, creating some serious damage, and bringing scores of unpleasant, uncomfortable days.

Mr. Benson is a big man. He is apparently sincere and honest -- but we doubt if he is actually going to be able to make it rain. Not even with the assistance of the governors of the five states to be included in his proposed drought pow-wow. What's more, even if he did, he would still have a lot of people who would complain about the time and amounts of moisture.

During his brief tour Mr. Benson arrived at the same conclusion residents of the area have held for a long time: "Bountiful rainfall is a sure cure for a drought." However, he seems to have missed one other practical cure for wind erosion. This would be "Stop the wind from blowing." He isn't to be censured, though. You have to live here several years before you take up this possibility seriously. Besides, if he can personally deliver those rains on schedule, we won't mind even if the wind does continue to blow.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:

Citizens Favor Jail And Courthouse Improvements

Need of improvements on the Deaf Smith County courthouse have been pointed out by many citizens. Do you think that a bond issue should be put before the people to see if they are willing to pay the cost of improving the courthouse and jail?

MRS. GLENN WITHERSPOON:

"I do think that the jail and courthouse should be improved but I do not know to what extent."

MRS. RONALD BABIONE:

"If the improvements are needed, I am in favor of it, especially since there are to be women jurors."

FRANCIS HARDWICK:

"I am in favor of it, although the cost would run $75 to $100 thousand, maybe more, plus a jail costing $50 to $75 thousand. We have need for it because our facilities are inadequate and as the city and county grows, they will become far more inadequate. We should take steps to prevent this from happening."

BILL SHORE:

"If it will help improve and further the community, I think the people should do it."

CHARLES REED:

"I believe that it should be done so as to make things more convenient for those who do business there: also be arranged to the advantage of the employees."

A. O. THOMPSON:

"I'd like to see the jail improved since I might need it some time. I think if the improvements are needed, they ought to be made."

FRANK COGDELL:

"I think that the people should decide as to whether or not they want it. I think that it needs it."

MRS. JAY BOSTON:

"Yes, I do think so. It seems as if it should be a community project."

MRS. LEE BENEFIELD:

"If it is necessary to have a bond issue, I think so. I know we sure do need improvements, especially in the courtroom."

MRS. JOHN HICKS:

"I think the people should have a voice in whether or not to spend the money for it although if the town is growing the courthouse should grow and keep up with it."

Days like last Thursday give us the gardening fever the very worst way and we almost have to tie up a foot to keep ourselves from going all out. Experience in years past never seems to carry over forcefully enough to remind us that we usually have some sort of flurry in May that sets things back if hail doesn't beat them to death before they freeze.

We were sorry to see Jack Fortenberry's name on the hospital list again. Mr. and Mrs. Fortenberry have lived in the northwest part of the country a long time and all their friends will be wishing for him a speedy recovery.

It is people like Margie Ford that keep customers coming back. The Hereford Creamery's Dairy Bar gets pretty full very fast at certain hours but regardless of how many cups of coffee she has coming up or how many malts on order she smiles pleasantly from one customer to another as she fills their orders in turn.

If they don't hurry and shoot that Atomic Device over on Yucca Flats Nevada we are afraid getting up at 5:30 is going to get to be a habit with our family. We didn't think such hours were too early when we used to go to bed with the chickens but that was the days before "Marko" and "Waterfront".

Buster no longer gauges his work by the clock but by "Rin Tin Tin" and "Disneyland."

Community Builders

By MARGARET ALSTON

Although Bill Lenderman has not been in Hereford but a few months, he can definitely be considered as a community builder since that is what he is.

Mr. Lenderman came to Hereford in September of 1954 to become manager of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce. "It appeared to me that the potentials of the area were so great that I couldn't afford to turn it down," was his reply when asked why he came here.

Born in Collins County near McKinney in 1904, his parents moved to Denison where he grew up and attended school. After graduation from high school, he attended Draughton's Business College.

At 19 Bill went to work for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad and worked until 1939 in the accounting department. In 1923, he and Miss Ollie Loper were married in Denison on May 11. They have one daughter, Mrs. Robert L. Doss, who is living in Denison.

Having left the railroad, Lenderman then went to work for the U.S. Department of Labor as a supervisor and inspector. His jurisdiction included Texas and New Mexico, making him a very busy man.

Three years later Bill entered the Army and served for three years as captain during World War II. While in the Army, he was stationed in India with the 725th Railway Operating Battalion. While there, the job was to keep the Ben Gal and Assam railway supply routes operating for the military forces in China.

When he returned to civilian life, he went back to his job on the Department of Labor, but only for a short while, for then he went into private industries, sales and sales promotion.

Bill Lenderman became interested in Chamber of Commerce work while in Graham, just before coming to Hereford. Since he is the manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Bill has little time for club work, but has been made an honorary member of the service clubs around town so as to be able to attend them when he has time.

A member of the Christian Church, he served as an elder in Graham. You can always depend on Bill to lead to singing or help in any way he can.

Mr. Lenderman has a lot of good ideas and ambitions for Hereford, the first one being a very important item--that of giving the leaders of tomorrow the adequate facilities for schooling. Also he believes that we should follow up with a municipal auditorium that would include facilities for our youth.

"Another thing," says Bill, "is a modern airport for the town, more and better housing, better facilities such as paving, water, sewerage and parks. In other words, we must get our house in order and be able to furnish it with all of these much needed things before we are going to get very far in interesting outsiders to come to Hereford and invest their money here."

Bill tells us that there is no question in his mind from the impression he has gathered from this area and from the folks who live here, that all of these things and more will be carried out.

CONSERVATION PIECE

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Mildred Miller went into a drugstore in her neighborhood at 11 p.m. to make a call on the pay phone there. At 11:45, Druggist Henry Mitton noted she was still talking.

"I forgot about her after that," Mitton said, "and we closed the store at 12:30."

Some time after that, passersby were attracted by a woman banging on the drugstore window from the inside. She shouted that she had been locked in the store.

Police called the owner, Lynn Abelson, and his wife drove to the store to let Mrs. Miller out.

"I'm so embarrassed," Mrs. Miller said. "I don't know what you're thinking, but you can search me."

"That won't be necessary," Mrs. Abelson said. "One woman can understand another woman's problems."

TWISTER STRIKES

A destructive twister struck the Kelton Community early Monday evening causing several thousand dollars damages to homes, outbuildings, farm machinery and fences. No one was injured in the blow which hit about 7:15 p.m. A large frame house on the Young farm was also toppled, and a tractor which it housed was overturned and left with its wheels in the air.

TRAFFIC OPENS

M. J. Wolfrum, local highway foreman, reported that traffic across the new Canadian River bridge on state highway 70 was opened to the public Friday, April 22. The approaches to the bridge were completed recently and all barricades removed. Some vehicles have been across the bridge, which has been completed for several weeks. The formal dedication of the structure is set for Friday, April 29, with a free barbecue as a highlight of the event.

BULL VS. TRUCK

Here's a tall Texas tale almost as fantastic as it is real. Friday night, Gerald Adams, an Amarillo truck driver, traveling north on Highway 87 just south of the Highway 86 intersection when he spotted a Brahma bull pawing the earth in the strip dividing the two lanes of traffic. Adams was driving a 1 1/2 ton truck traveling at an estimated 40 miles an hour. As he neared the bull, the animal lowered his head and charged the truck. "It felt as if the truck were tearing apart," said Adams. When the truck was brought to a stop after a skid, Adams found the bull apparently uninjured and still ready for battle. The truck had not fared so well. Damages were estimated at $400.

Morris Stevenson of Silverton, owner of the bull had been chasing the animal since its escape from the Tulia FFA rodeo. He said it was all right but was probably suffering from a headache.

FUGITIVE CAPTURED

Jimmy Lee Elliott, fugitive from Florida since 1947 on a charge of murder, was captured by Swisher County Sheriff Darrell Smith and Deputy Robert Potter Friday evening.

Panhandle officers were alerted by the Potter County sheriff's office Friday. A short time later Smith received a tip that the man was in Tulia. Smith went in the front door of the suspected hideout and Elliott ran out the back door, and found Potter waiting for him.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher takes a confident view of farming, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

Last night I was thumbing through a magazine wondering if there was anything in it I'd be interested in reading, most articles in magazines are written for neurotic women and I usually just skim through em, when I noticed an article about farming and I settled down on it.

That is it wasn't exactly about farming, it was about the farm population.

According to it, a hundred years ago 80 percent of the population of this country was farmers, but the percentage has been dropping steadily, as towns and cities grew bigger and bigger, and today it's only 19 percent. That's right, the article said only 19 percent of the population of the country are farmers, and furthermore, it adds, the percentage is dropping at the rate of one percent a year.

Now it doesn't take any mathematics to figure that if this trend continues, in 19 years there won't be any farmers left.

This bowled me over. I knew there were possibilities of the country running out of oil, gas, coal, uranium, plutonium, and whooping cranes, but didn't know us farmers were in the same category. I had always figured you couldn't run out of farmers anymore than you could run out of candidates for office, that as long as there was any land left a farmer would show up with a plow, the same as when an office becomes vacant, a candidate would always turn up with a promise.

But if these figures are true, this represents a real crisis and some department of the government ought to get to work, say the wildlife department, which could divide its efforts between vanishing farmers and the disappearing whooping cranes. They could set up a national preserve for farmers, check 'em with their binoculars every spring to see how many made it through the winter, and leave food scattered around to let 'em know the rest of the nation was still friendly.

However, this morning I came outside and started checking around myself and as best I can tell, every piece of land around here is still being farmed like it was for generations and if farmers are disappearing, you can't tell it by looking. I'll be glad to have some food scattered around for me, but I ain't planning on quitting.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Let's Cook Something

Delicate Banana Cake Just Right For Special Events

The delicate moistness of this banana cake makes it just right for special occasions. It isn't hard to make even if you are a beginner, and if you follow directions you'll have good luck. It is wonderful served while still warm, and while it is moist and rich, it is as light as angel food.

"Come for Pie and Coffee" may mean the simplest form of entertainment, but it can also mean an elaborate party. Banana cake is right for either.

The recipe comes from Mrs. Vernon Wilson, who treasures it from her mother's files. She makes it over and over again, walpin it together in very little time. Try it first on your family and then share it with your friends.

Banana Cake

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup shortening
- 3 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons soda (level)
- 1/2 cup sour milk
- 2 eggs beaten well
- 1 1/2 cups ripe mashed bananas
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- Cream shortening and sugar, add two tablespoons of the milk, and then the well beaten eggs. Sift flour and soda together and add to shortening mixture. Add remaining milk and mix well, and add the bananas and flavoring. Pour in 3 nine-inch cakepans, line with waxed paper, and bake in 375-F degree oven for 25 or 30 minutes.

Cream Cheese Icing

That old saying "the filling makes the cake" may not be entirely true in this instance—but it adds quite a bit. The cream cheese complements the moist content and the banana flavor.

- 1 3-oz. package cream cheese
- 2 cups powdered sugar
- 1/2 cup sweet cream
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Blend all ingredients (at room temperature) together and spread between layers and on top.

At The Movies

"PRINCE OF PLAYERS"
"Prince of Players," which shows Wednesday and Thursday at the Star Theatre, is a gem of America symbolizing the vigor, daring and romance that conspired in the birth of American Theatre as reflected by those 19th century theatrical giants, "the Mad Booths" of Maryland.

Richard Burton portrays Edwin Booth with the ease of a master craftsman, while Maggie McNamara is cast as the ethereal Mary Devlin. Raymond Massey dominates the early part of the film, setting the mood of the real-life drama of the Booth clan as the roistering, drunk, oft-mad but fabulously talented Junius Brutus Booth, father of Edwin and John Wilkes Booth. John Derek is properly flamboyant as the jealous younger brother who brings dishonor with his murder of Lincoln.

Primarily the screen play concerns itself with Edwin Booth and his transcending love affair with Mary Devlin who later becomes his wife and salvation. The strain of madness is in Edwin, the same as it was in his father before him; and in his fears he turns to alcohol.

Showing Sunday and Monday at the Tower Drive-In Theatre, "NAKED SPUR," starring Janet Leigh and James Stewart. Tuesday and Wednesday is "THREE SAILORS AND A GIRL" with Jane Powell and Gordon MacRae.

New Officers Elected By El Nino Study Club Monday

New officers were elected at the meeting held by El Nino Study Club members Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Bill Decker.

Mrs. Edgar Skypala was named president with others including Mrs. Bill Waldrep, vice president; Mrs. Bill Decker, recording secretary; Mrs. Doryal Young, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Wayne Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. Bill Hardwick, reporter; Mrs. Ben Childers, parliamentarian and Mrs. Sam Nunnally, historian.

During the business session plans were made for the next meeting which will conclude the year's activities. A dinner in Amarillo will be the order of the day with installation of officers as a feature.

Wayne Thomas, guest speaker, presented the program for the evening on "The Law As It Applies to Mothers." He stressed the importance of definite plans for children's future by all parents, making a will and appointing a guardian who will be distributor of and will handle the estate. He explained jury service for women and said "Since women of Texas now have jury service, they should acquaint themselves with court routine and the duties of jurors."

Those attending the session were Mesdames J. W. Barnett, Jim Bookout, Ben Childers, R. A. Daniel Jr., Byron Durham, C. G. Hill Jr., John Jacobson r., Robert Lindsey, Sam Nunnally, Edgar Skypala, Bill Waldrep, Doryal Young, Wayne Thomas, Bill Hardwick and the hostess.

Local Students Active In Rodeo

Two Hereford students are taking an active part in Eastern New Mexico University's twentieth annual spring rodeo, which will be held May 6-7.

Joe Hacker is on the parade and special events committee and Clark Dobbs a member of the concessions committee. The Agriculture Club sponsored event will get underway with the crowning of the rodeo queen at a special assembly Friday, May 6. Two shows are planned—one Friday evening and the other Saturday afternoon.

What's the best place to save for Cowboys, Indians and Space Cadets?

Of all the reasons for saving money—and there are hundreds—certainly none is bigger or more important than building up a nest-egg to take care of your children's future.

And where's the best place to build up your nest-egg? Right now, 14 million Americans think the best place is an insured Savings and Loan Association! Here's why!

ONE—You get excellent returns. That's because insured Savings and Loan Associations invest most of their funds in sound, steady-paying home mortgages.

TWO—Your savings are safe—protected by good management and substantial reserves. They are insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation—an agency of the U. S. Government.

THREE—These Associations are local organizations. They offer friendly, helpful and convenient service.

And here's another point: When you're thinking of buying a home, remember that insured Savings and Loan Associations make liberal loans. They see to it that you get the money quickly—and at moderate rates.

Why not come in and open savings accounts for yourself and for your children today. And if you need a home mortgage loan, let's talk about that, too!

Lone Star Club Has Program On Deep Freezing

Lone Star Study Club members held their regular meeting in the REA kitchens Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. G. W. Newsom and Mrs. Roger Corbett, serving as hostesses.

The program was in the form of a demonstration on "Deep Freezing and Canning," presented by Mrs. Claudette Holl of Amarillo, home economy specialist for the International Harvester Company.

Mrs. Holl demonstrated simple salads, angel food cake with frozen orange juice and whipped cream, canned biscuits and told how to prepare chicken to the best advantage for freezing. She recommended no seasoning of meat until after cooking and chilling hot rolls thoroughly and freezing instead of half-baking before freezing.

Mrs. Newsom, president of the club, announced the next meeting on May 10 which will be in the form of a luncheon at the Western Wheel Inn. Officers will be installed at that time.

Special guests were Mesdames Jack Williams, Charles Hood and Joseph Paetz.

Members present were Mesdames Roger Corbett, V. E. Dodson, W. S. Fluit, Jim Higgins, John Jacobsen Jr., C. D. Kelton, Vivian Major, G. W. Newsom, Coy Phillips, Earl Phillips, Robert Thompson, L. L. Wemble, and Glenn Witherspoon.

EXPENSIVE FIND
 KALAMAZOO, Mich. — James Bailey was looking for a restaurant when his car went out of control and crashed through the plate glass window of a drugstore. It came to rest against the lunch counter causing $3,000 damage.
 Booked on a reckless driving charge, Bailey, 23, explained: "I was driving fast because I was hungry and in a hurry to find a restaurant."

TWO-WAY HIT
 PORTLAND, Oreg. — An explosion in an electric substation caused by lightning blew Harold Judd of Vancouver, Wash., 25 feet across a room and out the door.
 After he counted his bruises and scratches—not serious—he found his car, outside the building, had been damaged to the extent of $100.

Here's How To Become Another Young Smoothie

By VIVIAN BROWN
 AP Newfeatures Beauty Editor
 A man needn't be a wolf to size up a girl by her legs. If stockings serve as a screen against the outer world, chances are she doesn't work at glamor.
 The "lazy leg groomer" misses the fun of picnics, beach parties and other playtime occasions—all because she can't bare her legs.
 A good routine and a little know-how will put your legs in the chic bracket quickly, so that you can go from garden to golf course without staying in slacks.
 Defuzzing comes first. If you haven't been faithful to a leg smoothing routine during winter months, start now.
 Take your choice of methods. There are hot or cold waxes to keep legs hair-free for a longer period, not simple to use at home, although salon operators do an effective job. Cream depilatories are not easy to use. The safety razor requires a steady hand and a good lather to avoid nicks.
 The electric razor is preferred by many women. New shavers are designed especially for women, available in peppermint pink and feminine dutchess blue with the cutting edge set in just the right place to do a proper job of hair removal without scraping the skin as Dad's shaver might do. A little talcum is brushed on dry legs just before shaving and the razor is whisked over the legs, pitting you in the sleek kick bracket.

TAKE IT OFF — Leg defuzzing is made easier with new electric shaver's special cutting edge. Available in pink or dutchess blue.

A good lubricating oil should be rubbed over the legs each night, massaging it up over knees and thighs. Biot it off carefully before going to bed to avoid staining bed linens.

Women who do sedentary work are likely to have thighs out of proportion to their figure. A rolling exercise may help slim them down, but walking at a brisk pace is the best exercise for this purpose. Wear a good fitting girdle and this will serve as a massager as you attempt to trot your fat off. Walking also helps shake weight off the wastline. But don't expect to lose inches if you just mope your way along. Step lively and you'll whittle away inches.

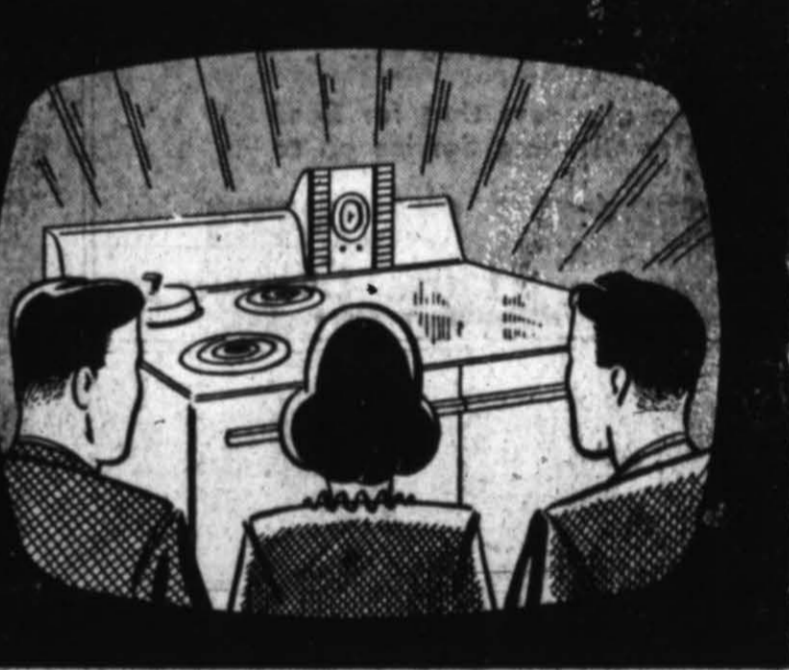

"I discovered the difference in clean electric cooking when I took over a T-V cooking show!" says: Mrs. Charles King, University of Texas Home Economics Major 3703 CIMARRON, AMARILLO, TEXAS

"I wanted an ELECTRIC RANGE!
 I didn't know what a thrill it was to cook electrically until one day I substituted for the home economist on a television cooking show. At the station, I used an electric range — which was my first experience with this modern cooking method."

"Hubby said 'NO'!
 I pleaded with my husband to get me a modern electric range. He wouldn't budge — just couldn't see it — insisted our old stove was good enough..."

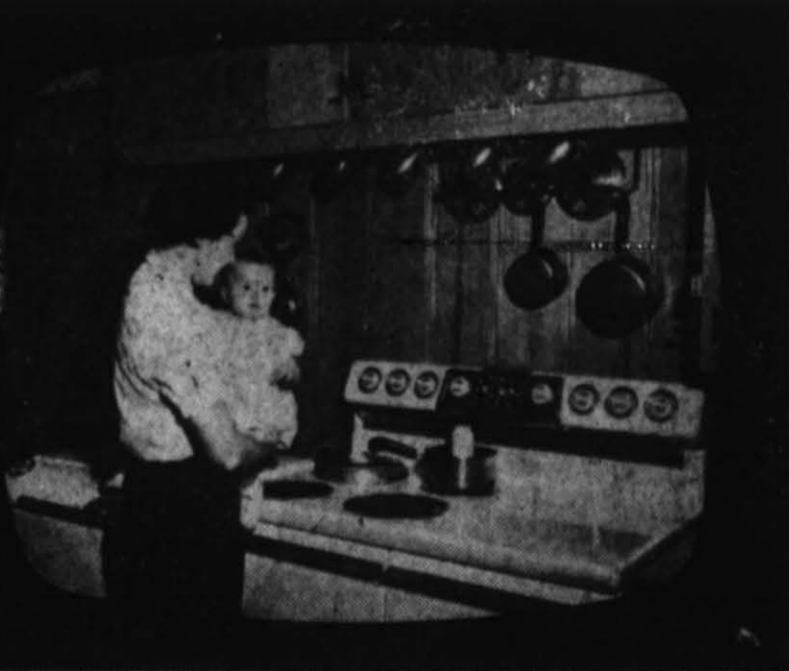

"Until . . . he visited friends who have one. . . until one time he paid a visit to some friends of ours. He wanted coffee and, as they were busy with their baby, they told him to go out in the kitchen and make his own."

"Never had he made coffee so fast! My husband was amazed! Never had he heated water for coffee instantly (leave it to a man to notice efficiency). He came home full of excitement. His mind was made up. I was to get my lovely electric range (at last)."

"He told me the good news and we saw a Reddy Kilowatt Dealer right away . . ."

"Now I do my cooking the electric way, and what a difference! It's so clean, so dependable, so accurate and these things count with me since they are the foundations for good cooking. As a professionally-trained home economist, I know!"

tongue; English; and the lulling, soothing language of the underwater world.

He didn't have that third lung with him, or the other parapernalia, but he is Philippe Diole, the aqualunger.

You might think all you need to be, to explore underseas, is an athlete. Diole's books, locks and talk prove the contrary. To be sure, he's a swimmer, diver and fisherman. But he's also linguist, archeologist, almost a lawyer, and also an ex-newspaperman.

Archeology won his allegiance when he was at the Louvre, at a time when the great museum was the big place for scholars in that field.

Then—"I wanted to live," he said, meaning he wasn't getting rich. "I like to live," he emphasized, and became newspaperman and editor of two big Paris dailies. He worked on Combat, with Albert Camus, on Match, on Beaux Arts, and on Paris-Soir. There was a day when he got out 22 editions, from dawn to nightfall, to keep up with fast-breaking war news. He was a roving correspondent, traveling widely in Africa.

"I loved to swim, and my friend, Philippe Tailliez, captain in the French navy, introduced me to the aqualung. I dived with it first at Toulon—and for Paris-Soir I wrote the very first piece ever written about it. I did underwater hunting. With my special underwater gun I shot an arrow right through a finger—my own finger.

"Now I hunt for other things." He has found ancient Greek wine jars, statuary, coins, remnants of huge pillars, sites of the docks of antiquity, skeletons of old Loats. He has traced Roman roads. He has found underwater proof, particularly in the sixties of the craft, that the Romans sailed regularly to far-off India.

When he's not under water, he likes the driest of dry land, the Sahara. His book, "The Most Beautiful Desert in the World," out already in Paris, is due here later this year from his publisher Julian Messner. He goes back to the Sahara in July.

Isn't that pretty hot? "I'd rather be there in July than in hot New York."

"Don't you have to be rich to travel like this on your own archeological safaris?" I asked, remembering I recently talked to a man who spent half a million dollars exploring in Arabia.

"I take three camels," he said, "and drivers, and one guide and one cook, and to get way down into the farthest southern Sahara and back, and stay there a month costs me just about $100."

The new book, "The Gates of Sicily," tells of a trip by and his wife took around Sicily, driving their car and swimming, too, or one foot in the water and one ashore.

Diole's wife appears in text and photo as Mme. Monsenergue. She has dived to 65 meters, which Diol believes may be the deepest ever dived by a woman. It was she who once had one of these narrow squeezes about which Diole does not write, and does not talk, either, unless you insist:

"We were perhaps 45 meters down, where your mind gets a bit hazy. My wife had used up her main supply of oxygen, but could not remember how to turn the screw in the tank on her back to let in the reserve. I was right beside her, but of course she couldn't tell me. Then I sensed that she was in trouble, saw her eyes dilated, realized what was the matter, and turned the screw. Afterward she told me she'd been planning, desperately, to shoot straight for the surface... it was either the bends, the diver's menace, or suffocation."

Frenchman Combines Diving And Writing

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK, April 30—A kind of hypnotizing science-fiction figure—a figure with web feet, mitted hands, three lungs tubes wrapped around where head and neck should be, an oval mask like the mask of a monster, belting and webbing here and there, a hump-

You'll feel like a pilot

without leaving the ground

Just wait till you switch the pitch of Buick's new Dynaflo!

It's The Handcap with Four Doors!
Here's the new hit in handtops that's taking the country by storm—Buick's pioneering and pace-setting 4-Door Riviera. The "convertible" look, with no center posts in the side-window areas—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers. Shown here in the low-price SPECIAL model—also available in the high-powered CENTURY Series. Both now in volume production to insure prompt deliveries.

How would you like to take the wheel of a high-powered Buick and feel an experience you never felt before in any earth-bound vehicle?

How would you like to do—just by pressing down the gas pedal—what a pilot does when he's ready for take-off?

And how would you like to drive with the happy thought that you're getting plenty of miles per gallon in normal cruising—and the electrifying action of the world's first airplane-principled transmission when you need it for split-second getaway response or accelerating power?

It's all for you when you say the word and slip into the driver's seat of a new Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Not only do you take command of record-high Buick V8 power—and the most envied ride in the industry—and the brawn and heft and luxury of a truly solid automobile.

You also call the turn on twenty propeller-like blades deep inside a wondrous new Dynaflo that's patterned after the principle of the modern plane's variable pitch propeller.

You hold these blades in their high-economy angle when you press the pedal in the normal way—and you get a lot more miles from a tankful of gas.

You switch the pitch of these blades to take-off position when you press the pedal way down—and you get spectacular action instantly.

Don't take our word alone that this is thrilling beyond all previous experience.

Talk to anyone who's tried it. Or, better yet, come try it yourself. That way you can learn firsthand why Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs. Drop in this week, won't you?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Mothers Needle Club Holds Meet

The Mother's Needle Club met last Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. A. T. Jones.

Each of the women brought some sewing with them and had a nice time working and visiting with one another, a club spokesman said. The club, which meets once a month, tries to plan some entertainment for the families. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Ethel Gunstenson, May 19 at 3 o'clock.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. Ola McClure, Mrs. Laura Sparkman, Mrs. Ethel Bush, Mrs. H. E. Lindley, Mrs. Annie Springer, Mrs. Autrey and the hostess Mrs. Dovie Jones.

Local Golfers Take Fourth In Regional Meet

By BILL KNOX

The Hereford High School golf team of Keith Hodges, Charles Seed, Dale Taylor, and Jeff Milton won fourth place at the Regional meet held at Lubbock last week.

The showing made by the Whiteface linksters was not at all a bad one as eight teams were entered in the meet. The winner, Monahans, was not even seeded, and top-seeded Brownfield placed third only a few strokes ahead of Hereford.

Hereford was third at the halfway point while Monahans and Shamrock were knotted for the top rung of the ladder. Brownfield was close behind in fourth place.

The meet was originally scheduled to be played Friday and Saturday, but the second round had to be put off until Monday because of the bad weather conditions.

Father Edmund Hartigan Is Speaker At Guild Meeting

St. Anthony's Guild entertained the Antonian Circle at their regular meeting Wednesday night, April 27, in the school hall. Mrs. Andrew Kershen presided over the business meeting and Mrs. Charlie Berend was in charge of the program.

Resolutions adopted at the recent meeting of the DCCW meeting were read. Mrs. Harold Hershey, Mrs. Harold Banks, and Mrs. Herman Paetzold were appointed as a committee to begin work on the new year book. Other committees were appointed as plans were being made for the dedication of the new St. Anthony's school, rectory and convent. The dedication will be held May 15, and open house will be held from 1 to 8 p.m. Price College band and Hereford High School band will entertain. Plans were also made for the parish to give a household sower for the rectory and convent in the very near future.

only one will graduate. Keith Hodges. He should be ably replaced by the always well-stocked Whiteface reserve strength. Charles Seed is a Sophomore, while Taylor and Minton are both freshmen.

Father Edmund Hartigan, pastor of St. Joseph's Parish, Amarillo, was guest speaker. His topic was "Little Things Mean a Lot."

Following the meeting, refreshments were served to about 45 members and guests. The serving table was laid with a lace cloth over pink roses flanked by lighted candles. Other decorations were in the pink and white motif. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Joe Paetzold, Ed Reinauer, Joe Reinauer, Charles Wilhelm, and Joe Peters.
