Condemnation Suits Are Filed By City

Seven condemnation suits were filed Friday by the City of Hereford against six property owners along Twenty-Five Mile Avenue (Highway 51). Suits were filed against Henry A. Turner, Annie L. Vincent, Cora Thompson, Bertha Witherspoon, Frances Dameron (2), and Jonnie Helen Estes.

A three-man special commission to decide the amount of damage property owners will suffer was named Friday by County Judge Homer Henslee and a hearing set for June 28 at 9 a. m.

Sixty property owners will be affected by the widening of the highway. Of that number, 50 have already reached agreements with the city and negotiations are still underway with three others.

The city is attempting to get the right-of-way so that the state can let bids for the highway widening program. When completed, the highway will be widened from a narrow two-lane road to a 75-foot highway with six lanes.

The 50 property owners who reached agreement with the city all will receive free curbing in front of their property.

Tracts of land 10 feet wide off of the east side of their property is sought by the city from Annie L. Vincent, Bertha Witherspoon, Frances Dameron and Jonnie Helen Estes. Five feet-wide tracts off of the west side of property belong to Frances Dameron and Cora Thompson is sought and "a tract of land of irregular shape" off the west side of Henry A. Turner's property is sought.

Around Town

A variety of topics were sharing talk Around Town this week, but Davy Crockett was getting the most conversation from the youngsters, since Francis Hardwick put up his life-sized picture of old Davy on Main Street.

F. H. A. girls will leave for Roaring Springs Tuesday morning at 6:30. Girls who are to make the trip are to turn in their money to Joan Brown by Monday noon.

Bill Lenderman, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, is in El Paso to attend a chamber of commerce convention.

Sgt. Burton Staats, Army recruiter, will be in Hereford every Wednesday from now on. He can be contacted at the post office or courthouse from 3:30 until 5 p. m.

Dr. C. D. Kelton is attending educational and scientific sessions of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Association convention in San Antonio.

Mrs. Glen Boardman has pointed out to The Brand that the outline which ran under a picture of the ceramic display last May 19 stated that the ceramics were made by some demonstration women. The ceramics were made instead by members of the Hereford Ceramics Art Club.

Ralph Martin, formerly of Levelland, is now employed by the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co. Martin is married and the father of two boys.

The Hereford Baseball team, members of the Central Plains Baseball League, will meet Lazbuddie here Sunday.

Faust Collier was injured last week while horseback riding at Canyon. His condition is reported satisfactory, however.

School trustees were debating heating the proposed new grade school when someone compared a certain type heating system with the old fashioned stoves that kept part of the room too hot and part too cold. Wilbur Axe had said he thought that the system was pret-

Trustees Set Price Of New School At $325,000

Hereford Rural High School District trustees voted 4-1 Wednesday night to seek a bond issue of $325,000 to build a new elementary school building. The vote came as a climax to a five hour meeting with B. R. Cantrell, Pampa architect.

Cantrell told trustees they would need $300,000 to build the type school they desired. The other $25,000 would be used to furnish the school and meet other expenses. Wilbur Axe made the motion setting up the $325,000 figure, and it was seconded by Ira Scott. All members of the board present, with the exception of Mrs. Earl Plank, voted in favor of the motion. Mrs. Plank maintained throughout the meeting that the school should be built for less than $300,000. H. H. Miller was the only member not present for the meeting.

Cantrell submitted three sets of plans to the board. The one accepted, with provisions for a number of changes, is in an L-shape. It has 16 classrooms, a combined auditorium, cafeteria and gymnasium, two offices, a bookroom, teacher's lounge, clinic room, kitchen, and seven restrooms. Cantrell estimated that the building could be built for $10 a square foot.

Next step in calling a bond election is the presentation of a petition to trustees, signed by at least 20 qualified voters.

vealed that a bond issue of $319,000 could be passed and still leave the district in the category of good bonds as far as Bond Market is concerned.)

There was some talk of raising the tax valuation and lowering the tax rate, which, in effect, would not raise taxes, but would allow a higher bonded indebtedness, it was pointed out. It was decided not to take such action at present, however.

Trustees vote to meet again Tuesday with Cantrell. The architect is to make changes in the plans for a meeting with members of the citizens committee.

Trustees also took steps to halt students from completing high school in three years, and regulated the amount of correspondence work the school would allow.

By a 3-0 margin, with Scott declining to vote, the board voted to allow no student to graduate from high school in less than four years, with two exceptions. Students who would be over census age during their fourth year and students who attend a recognized summer school were listed as the exceptions.

Under the new ruling no correspondence work will be accepted for graduation except:

- (1.) Students who would be over census age during their fourth year.
(2.) Students who need extra work to bring their credits to class equivalent standing. (For example, a student who had completed two years of high school attendance and who needed additional credits for junior standing would be allowed summer correspondence work.)

(3.) Fourth year students who need additional credits for graduation may take correspondence work during the school year.

The board also ruled that "No student shall omit the junior year. That is, students who graduate in three years will participate in no senior class activities except graduation."

Monday's Dollar Day In Hereford

Monday is Dollar Day in Hereford.

Everyone but the very newest arrivals in town already know what Dollar Day is, and to those who are not acquainted, a quick check through today's Brand will provide them with the answer. It is the one day of the month when all Hereford merchants give their very best bargains.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCracken and son Jack made a business trip to Sulphur, Okla., last week. Jack plans to leave today for Lubbock where he will attend summer school at Texas Tech.

Former Resident Is Accidentally Shot

Richard Lueb, 16-year-old Boulder, Colo., high school student, and former Hereford resident, was in the Denver General Hospital this week in critical condition after he was accidentally shot by a Denver amusement park marshal Thursday, May 28.

Lueb, accompanied by four other 16-year-old Boulder youths, said all he saw was the flash of the gun as the officer tripped and fell.

Two of the boys helped Petersen put the unconscious boy into his car. Petersen then drove to the park gate, when Lueb was transferred to a waiting ambulance.

Relatives are still somewhat puzzled over the shooting, which resulted in a shoulder wound for young Lueb and possibly damaged his lung. Physicians told him "you are the luckiest boy we have ever seen," and indicated strong hopes that he is expected to recover.

The accident occurred at 11:30 Thursday night at the Lakeside Amusement park midgeet-a-ut-a speedway, according to officers who investigated the case.

Young Lueb, the marshal and officer hired by the park, said that the shooting was an accident.

Petersen said he was investigating a disturbance behind a dark-

Southwestern Public Service Now Remodeling

Southwestern Public Service Company Thursday moved their offices into a temporary location at 121 West Third Street, while their old location at Third and Miles is being remodeled and modernized.

The temporary location, just east across the alley from McLean insurance, will be convenient and we are sorry," said Cleo McManis, manager, "but we feel that our new quarters will more than justify the temporary inconvenience to our patrons."

The modernization program planned by Southwestern Public Service includes a complete facelift which will modernize the present building on the outside and inside. Listed among the chief improvements inside the building will be lower ceilings, centrally controlled heating and air conditioning, and a modern electric kitchen. A new front will be installed as the major outside improvement.

"All records and files will be found in the temporary location until further notice," McManis pointed out.

Two Plead Guilty In County Court

Two cases have been cleared from the County Court docket. George Hass was fined $200 and cost of court on a plea of guilty to possession of intoxicants in a dry area and Judge Homer Henslee fined C. M. Nix $100 plus cost of court and three days in jail on a plea of guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Jennie Thompson Held Here

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock for Mrs. Jennie Thompson, 95, from the First Baptist Church in Hereford, conducted by Rev. Howard Scott, pastor. Interment will be in Gainesville at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

"Aunt Jennie," as Mrs. Thompson was known to literally hundreds of friends, ranging from the area's oldest pioneers to teenagers and youngsters, died Friday, June 3, in the Thurmon Convalescent home in Amarillo, where she has been for several months.

Widely acclaimed as one of the oldest living pioneers in the Panhandle, Mrs. Thompson was active until recently and enjoyed a good laugh more than the average person. This was emphasized on her ninety-fifth birthday (1935) when she greeted hundreds of friends from over this area.

She was born in Collin County, near Melissa, on Dec. 6, 1857, and moved with her family to Cooke County in 1870.

In 1875 she was married to Alex J. Thompson of Dexter, Texas, and to this union was born four sons. Two of the sons died in infancy and Edwin M. Thompson died in Gainesville, last year. Alex Thompson being the other son, who lives here in Hereford.

"Aunt Jennie" helped to organize and was a charter member of the Belle Moon Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star at Gainesville on Oct. 10, 1901. She also was a charter member of the Woodmen Circle at Gainesville.

She was converted at an early age and united with the Baptist Church at Dexter, moved to Gainesville in 1880 and was a char-

Local Delegate Attends Highway Meeting In S.D.

A bus-load of Texas Highway 51 boosters halted in Hereford long enough Thursday to pick up the local delegate to the second annual conference of the International Parks Highway Association and then headed for Rapid City, S. D., scene of the 1935 conference.

Joining the delegates here was G. D. Hardisty. Representatives from six mid-continent states and two foreign countries will attend the meeting this weekend. It is scheduled as part of a program aimed at designation of a single U. S. highway to extend from the Canadian border to the Rio Grande. Representatives of Saitillo and Monterrey, Mexico, and Regina and Weyburn, Sask., Canada, will also attend.

Building Permits Total $156,876

Building permits for the month of May were down some $15,875 in comparison with the month of April.

Of the 17 permits issued during May, 13 of them were for residences, and the other four were for repairs, additions, a garage and a storage room.

During April, there were 22 permits, 11 of them being residences; all costing a total of $172,325 as compared with $156,875 for May.

Permits listed are the following: Phillip Barkley, repairs and bathroom added, $300, May 5; E. H. Buckalew, residence, $7,000, May 6; Luke Fields, residence, $7,700, May 13; James Miles, storage room, $450, May 13; L. O. Wilson, residence, $8,500, May 14; Gus Rutland, residence, $16,000, May 14; D. C. Martin, residence, $13,500, May 14; W. C. McQuarter, residence, $19,000, May 15; Robert Thompson, $19,000, residence, May 18; R. B. Miller, residence, $15,000, May 19; Jay Shaw, residence, $10,000, May 21; Jeannette Morgan, repairs, $500, May 23; John Sands, residence, $12,000, May 23; Olin LaPlant, residence, $15,000, May 25; G. W. Newsom, residence, $12,500, May 25; Pauline Lowan, garage, $500, May 31; Douglas Kelly, residence, $8,000, May 31.

Local Methodist Pastors Returned

Rev. S. M. Dunham was returned as pastor of the First Methodist Church and Rev. E. L. Naugle was returned as pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church at the Northwest Texas Methodist conference held last week in Lubbock.

Held in the First Methodist Church Wednesday through Sunday, the convention was attended by some 1,000 laymen and ministers.

The appointments were read by Bishop Martin.

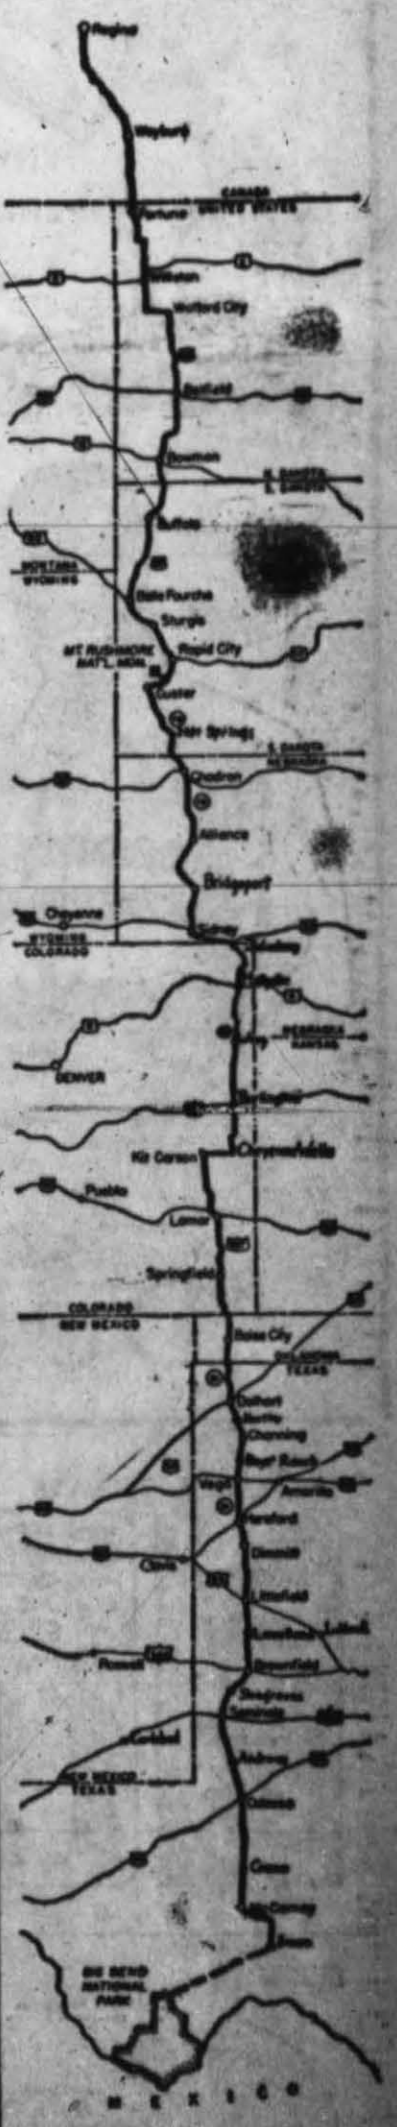

Son Of Herford Man Is Buried

Benton Bradley Slagle, son of S. B. Slagle of Hereford, died Sunday May 29, at his home at 201 S. Houston, Amarillo. Mr. Slagle had been in ill health for the past two years.

Born Jan. 21, 1892, in Nodaway County, Mo., he was married to Margaret Martin, March 27, 1911. Mr. Slagle lived in Colorado for many years, moving back to this country after retiring from active farming a few years ago.

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church in Panhandle, Tuesday, where he was a member, and burial was in the Panhandle Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Slagle; his son, Martin G. Slagle of Amarillo; his father, A. B. Slagle of Hereford; four sisters, Mrs. Wilda Pennington, Berger, Mrs. Virdie Cummings, Panhandle, Mrs. Celestia McNeil, Amarillo, Mrs. Connie Johnson, Hereford; two brothers, Sylvester Slagle, Hereford and Roy T. Slagle of Friona and three grandchildren.

Folks who might have the idea that Hereford is getting to be a city should talk things over with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Click, who live on north Avenue K. Leonard was out in the front yard trimming a hedge Thursday morning and, when he came close to the air conditioner by a window of his home, noticed a bird huddled beneath the frame. He walked over and, to his amazement, discovered that it was a baby pheasant.

"Off hand you wouldn't think a baby pheasant presented many problems," says Mrs. Click, "but it does." They carried it in the house and after several tries discovered that it dearly loved parakeet seed. Right now they are considering possibilities of farming the bird out with some brooder chicks. I suggested that they call Harry Danforth and Jack Wright, both of whom are old pheasant men, although they both recall their experiences along this line with some misgiving. The real question, "Where did the pheasant come from?" still remains to be answered.

A. N. Hopson was in to straighten us out regarding the picture which recently appeared on the cover page of the "Farmer Stockman" and was reproduced in The Brand, which expressed some doubt as to the authenticity of the photograph. We raised a question as to what happened to Consumer's Fuel offices, and the No. 3 hole on the golf course. Mr. Hopson says that we are wrong, however. He says the photograph is authentic and genuine, and that it was not a composite. It was taken from his field, five-eighths of a mile south of town. The photographer even sent him some of the prints. Mr. Hopson says he sees the view every day, just as it appears in the photograph. He also explains absence of the golf course in view of the fact that it dips along the slope of Tierra Blanca Creek—and is lost completely from view.

What's more, I am thoroughly convinced. It is a wonderful piece of photography. I was wrong to doubt it. I guess 25 years in the newspaper business has made me suspicious of everything—even pictures.

Bob Wilson, school bus supervisor, got to reading about population trends and increases in the United States—and about that time the best must have gone to his head. Anyway, he got out his pencil, used the formula in the article, and came up with the final conclusion that Hereford will have a population of 2 million people in 50 years. Bob says this is undoubtedly right. If you have an hour or so, he will get another pencil and convince you.

Personally, I think he is all wrong. He is probably using formulas based on births and deaths and longevity. The Bureau of Vital Statistics, in my opinion, is inferior to the Weather Department—if possible. They are inclined to go on facts. They seldom, if ever, include so-called "hunches" or the human element. This is where they fall down.

Pick up a magazine and leaf through the pages. You'll find ads for more prepared foods than you ever dreamed about. Some of the later ones are canned gravy, ready-to-spread cake icing, fried potatoes, corn on the cob, and frozen foods. By actual statistics, the housewife today has at her beck and call in the supermarket an average choice of 4,893 prepared, pre-cooked and ready to eat foods. She could serve her family two different foods every meal, every day, for two years, and 52 days without once duplicating a food.

And this is where the human element comes into the picture. The men are going to start preparing their own meals on paper plates, thus resulting in more and more bachelors. The final result will be fewer marriages and fewer children. All of which means a slow down on population increase. I definitely figure that Bob is all wrong. In 50 years, the population of Hereford will be not more than 1 1/2 million.

Harold Close and Jack Wayland, former manager of the local gas company, dropped by Friday to say "Hello" and talk over old times. We got to comparing notes on things we used to do back in 1908-10—and I sure was glad that the children weren't around listening in. They think of enough things without any tips from a trio of old maestros.

Ernest Joiner, the Penhandle's first-time editor of the Radio Banner, is becoming famous. Here is his latest observation, which concerns Galveston's new political set-up: Says Ernest: "The new mayor of Galveston is determined to keep the city open for gambling, drink and prostitution. Well, that's what built Texas to start with. It isn't polite to say it, but a lot of folks know that's what has kept it going so long, too."

Certainly, I cannot agree. I will admit that these vices were the forerunner of progress in Texas, and that they played an important role in early Texas history—but it was the honest, God-fearing people who drove out these vices and laid the real foundation for Texas present day growth and progress. As the communities abolished vice, they grew and flourished. Take Galveston, for instance, which has long boasted of open gambling. It is a mere midget beside Houston, which long ago settled down as a law-abiding community. Dallas, the second largest city in Texas, discourages vice and emphasizes long-hair opera; it also left Galveston far behind many years ago.

I was interested, especially in view of the fact that we plan to attend the 76th annual Texas Press meeting in Galveston this week. I have figured up a good out, though. People are always mistaking me for Sam McLallen and if I turn up in any of the wrong places, I am going to give his name instead of mine. I can't understand how anyone could confuse me with a baldheaded character like Sam; in the first place, but I might as well use the occasion for what little, questionable advantage it might afford.

We agree with the wisacre who said: "Someone did a lousy embalming job on Davy Crockett" and, herewith, give you some more local verses:

The Plains would 'a rung a shout of glee
Had Davy 'a spied Deaf Smith County.
"This is the place to settle I can see—There's nothing on the horizon to tantalize me!"
Davy, Davy Crockett
Looking for a home was he.
Naomi Hopson

The Cub Scouts took this yell and song to the Palava, Amarillo Saturday, May 14.
Born on the plains in the Golden Spread,
We raise wheat for our Daily Bread,
When we were eight, we joined the cubs,

And landed at the Palava like the rest of the Bubs!

Davy, Davy Crockett,
King of the Wild Frontier!
Our land is biggest, our land is best,
We know for sure, we'll stand the test,
Give us a chance to show you all,
We're men like Davy tho we're purty dern small.
Davy, Davy Crockett,
King of the Wild Frontier!
Davy, Davy Crockett,
The man who had no fear!
Yell:
Be sure you're right, then go ahead,
With Davy's Motto, We'll knock 'em dead
Here to win our best we'll do
We're from Hereford, Pack 52—
Yea!

Words by Den Mother,
Mrs. Joe Reinauer
Den 2, Pack 52.

Davy came to Hereford many years ago;
The weather was so dry the taters wouldn't grow.
He dug a well and made the water flow.
Now Hereford grows all kinds of crops,
It's really on the go.
Hereford, Hereford, Texas,
The town without a toothache,
Sooo—
We're glad he came to Hereford and we thank him so.
For digging us a well before he had to go.
The kids are all so happy with teeth that fairly glow;
And Hereford's known for lots of things,
Including Tater Joe.
Mrs. R. L. Criswell.

Hereford Woman's Mother Is Dead

Word was received here Friday of the death of Mrs. R. P. Hutton of Dalhart. She is the mother of Mrs. Hall Beavers of Hereford. Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning in the Pine Street Methodist Church in Dalhart.

Mrs. Hutton died after a long illness, living only one week after suffering a severe stroke. Her late husband who preceded her in death several years served as Dalhart County Sheriff for many years.

One-Legged High Jumper

AKRON, Ohio—Ted Stetzk, high jump star of the Coventry High School track team, is an inspiration to his teammates.

Not only does he win first place points consistently, but he performs his jumping feats with only one leg!

Coach Ed Kormanik was tipped off about the youngster by members of the track squad.

Here's what Kormanik saw: The high jump bar was set at five feet. Young Stetzk peeled off his sweater and bounced around on his left leg to warm up. Then he took three hops and with a terrific lunge dove over the bar. He landed head down in the sawdust pit, using both of his hands to cushion his drop.

The coach looked on in disbelief. He was even more amazed when the handicapped boy jumped over the bar at 5 feet 1, 5-2, 5-3 and finally at 5-4. The school record was 5-4.

From that day on, Stetzk was a full fledged member of the team and won first places in two of the next three meets.

Stetzk's right leg was amputated after a train accident when he was four years old.

Officers Installed By Rainbow Girls

Hereford Assembly of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, installed new officers in a formal ceremony Friday night at the Masonic Hall. Decorative appointments in the assembly room featured a brown and pink color scheme with arrangements of roses marking stations of the line officers. The station of the worthy advisor was flanked by baskets of pink roses and iris. Officers carried hand-bouquets of pink rosebuds and net. Officiating were: Installing officer, Melrose Wilson; marshal, Sylvia McCracken; recorder, Joan Moore; chaplain, Dorothy Veigel; and musician, Martha Jean Brown. Miss Sharon Dickens of White Dyer, cousin of the incoming officer, sang "Because" as she was being installed.

Former Hereford Girl Marries At Levelland

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of a former Hereford girl, Miss Donetta Davidson, to Mr. Jim Mac Luker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Luker of Levelland.

The vows were exchanged Sunday May 29 in the First Methodist Church of Levelland with her father, Rev. Don Davidson, pastor of the church, reading the service.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Rondel, and her attendants included Sue Barnard of Hereford, Ann Brazier, Elwana Latham and Mary Markham. Neil Atchison served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Levelland High School and attended McMurry College in Abilene the past year.

Mr. Luker graduated from Levelland High School and is also a graduate of Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

Following the reception, which was held in the home of the bride's parents, the couple left for El Paso where he is stationed with the armed service at Fort Bliss. Upon his release from the army he plans to study for missionary service.

Rev. Davidson and his family lived in Hereford for four years when he served as pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Three Honored At Capping Ceremony

Three Hereford girls took part in capping ceremonies held by the Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing at the Amarillo Junior College Friday night. The girls are Cecelia Wilkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wilkins, Gracie Fotheringham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fotheringham, and Ginger Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith of Dawn. The girls graduated from Hereford High School in 1954 and entered the nursing school in June. The capping ceremony comes at the completion of one year of training, and study courses at Amarillo Junior College.

DOROTHY VEIGEL... caring for children is fun

Dorothy Veigel Considers Caring For Children Fun

By MRS. JOHN McLEAN

Mixing formulas, changing diapers and telling stories to preschool youngsters is Miss Dorothy Veigel's idea of a good time. And that's what she spent last summer doing at Juliette Fowler Homes' Gates Cottage in Dallas, and that's what she expects to do again this summer.

Dorothy, 19 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Veigel, is a member of the First Christian Church of Hereford and a 1954 graduate of Hereford High School. She plans to be a missionary or do benevolent work, and in July last year, after her minister, Rev. Don Root, had written to the Homes stating that Dorothy was interested in gaining practical experience in benevolent work, she started her work in Gates Baby Cottage.

She wanted to work without pay to gain experience which might guide her in making decision about college preparation for a service career.

Her first duties at the Home were telling stories and entertaining small children. She quickly proved herself competent in working with children and was given other jobs.

When the housemother in the nursery took her vacation, the children's home superintendent appointed Dorothy relief housemother. Later she relieved in other departments when housemothers were on vacation. She did an excellent job wherever she was assigned and did not know until the day she left to enter West Texas State College in the fall, that she had been on the pay roll all summer.

She will leave today for Dallas and the Juliette Fowler Home where she will receive a full-time salary and will work in all three of the homes; The Gates Baby Cottage; Children's Home and the Home for the Aged.

Dorothy earned more than her salary during last summer and she will do the same again this summer. She earned the appreciation and affection of everyone in the Home and served as an inspiration to those working with her. She has also found a workable

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED -- Miss Ruth Holloway of Brownwood who has been a guest at the J. H. Fish home the past week, has been honored at several informal affairs. Miss Holloway is the fiancee of Beryl Fish and plans for the wedding indicate an early date in September. Both Mr. Fish and his fiancee are students at Texas Technological College, Lubbock and after their marriage they will return to the Lubbock school to continue their studies. Wednesday evening a group of Hereford High School classmates of Mr. Fish were entertained informally in the home of his sister, Mrs. Carl Johnson of Friona, to meet the bride-elect. Those included were Pat McCullough, Sylvia McCracken, Richard Tucker, Jerry Witherspoon, Bill Carmichael and Marlan Jo Wilson.

MR. AND MRS. J. D. NEILL... celebrate silver anniversary

Open House Honors J. D. Neills On Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Neill observed their silver wedding anniversary Sunday at open house held in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr.

Roses were used in the decorative appointments about the house and the lace covered refreshment table was centered with a silver basket filled with yellow rosebuds. Cake squares and other tea delights were ornamented with silver accents in sugary spun icing.

Assisting with the house party were Mesdames Troy Moore, C.E. Gunter, C. J. Crump, R. A. Daniel Jr., and O. G. Hill Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. stood with the honorees to receive the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Neill were married in Clovis, N. M., May 25, 1930. They moved to Van Horn where they resided seven years and then returned to Hereford for a couple of years. They had made their home on a ranch near Higgins for several years when their property was struck by a tornado, and they returned to Hereford. They now make their home in the Progressive Community where they have farming interests.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Neill are members of the First Presbyterian Church where he serves as an elder. Mrs. Neill is active in church affairs and is a member of the Music Study Club. Both are interested in civic affairs and he takes active part in The Hereford Riders Club activities.

Singing the guest register at the Sunday afternoon open house were Messrs. and Mesdames C. J. Mountz, W. J. Stanford, C. W. Parker, D. H. Alexander, Ellis Coombes, S. L. Walsler, Fred Axe, W. S. Kerr, Grant Fuller, E. W. Dettman, C. C. Rockwell, Geo. V. Stambaugh, R. G. Poeler, Ralph Hastings, Leo Forrest, Joe Story, Geo. Millard, J. A. Pittman, Ansel McDowell, Henry Sears, Howard Gault, T. Mesdames Willie Daniel, W. J. Krumben, H. A. Close, C. C. Ferguson, H. K. Fox, Clay Ridgway and Dyalitha Bradly and Mr. Henry Benson. Misses Sharon Moore, Karen Sue Daniel, and Mattie Mae Swisher, and Troy Don Moore.

Miss Patricia Hardwick To Become Bride Of J. Lackey

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Hardwick are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Patricia, to Mr. James Lackey Jr., of McCamey.

The wedding will take place here in the First Presbyterian Church June 25 with the pastor, Rev. Russell Winger, conducting the service.

Miss Hardwick is a graduate of Clovis, N. M., high school and received her degree from Texas State College for Women in Denton. For the past four years she has been a teacher in the elementary schools at Roswell, N. M.

Mr. Lackey is a graduate of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and is presently employed with the Dowell Oil Company of Odessa.

Dr. Ansel McDowell Jr. Receives MD Degree Friday

Dr. Ansel McDowell Jr. received his M. D. degree from the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston June 5.

McDowell graduated from Wellington High School in 1918 with honors and received an appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, but was too young to accept the appointment. He entered the University of Texas for pre-med study and received his B. A. degree from the University in 1921. While there he was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and a member of the University Band.

He married Miss Diane Wells of Wellington in August 1921 and enrolled in the school of medicine that fall. He completed his course in February 1925 in the upper 10 percent rank. Since that time he has done a preceptorship in the Nebitt Clinic in Canyon.

Dr. McDowell and family will go to Norfolk, Va., for one year of internship in the U. S. Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ansel McDowell Sr. and sons Jim and Donny, and Dr. and Mrs. McDowell and small daughter are expected to return home today after attending the ceremonies.

Dr. F. J. L. Basagame of Wharton, American Medical Association trustee, and a past president of the Association, was the principal speaker. The invocation and benediction were given by Rabbi Louis Wigon. They also attended the faculty reception and other events designed for the entertainment of parents.

Woman Pilot Has Flown Since She Was 12 Years Old

By IVY COFFEE
PONCA CITY, Okla. — Flying is the life of Jerrie Cobb. She's been doing it almost half of her 24 years.

One of the few women who ferry planes over the world for an aircraft delivery service, she has just completed her longest flight. It was an 8,500-mile trip from California to Asuncion, Paraguay, flying a single-engine, eight-passenger plane. This trip involved a hazardous stretch over the Andes Mountains, which required the use of oxygen at times.

Jerrie feels that she is more at home in the air than on the ground and her log book proves it. She has marked up over 4,200 air hours and has flown over a half-million miles.

A slender, self-reliant blonde, she can service planes as well as fly them.

Jerrie has no home base. The company office is in Burbank, Calif., and she has clothes in Burbank, Miami and at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cobb in Ponca City.

Working for Fleetway Aircraft Delivery Corp., she has flown all over the Americas and has made three trips to Europe.

Jerrie laughs at people who describe her as a woman of courage doing dangerous work. She insists she "just flies." But she admits she always tries to figure out in advance what she would do in an emergency. She says:

"When something happens, it happens fast and you have to know exactly what to do right then."

At the end of her flight she always dutifully sends a telegram on cablegram to her parents. Her father, a car dealer and former Air Force colonel, taught her to fly when she was 12. She received her private pilot's license at 16.

Clay tiles in blue and white were used extensively in 7th century Mexico to decorate the living quarters and religious rooms of convents.

ORNAMENT HELPS FRUIT

HILLSBORO, Ore. — Rich and Son Nursery reports it has received a patent on a new tree, named the Oregon plum, developed from the ornamental flowering purple leaf plum, Prunus Pissardi, and the yellow-fruited plum, Shiro. The new variety retains the blossoms and colored leaves of the ornamental tree. The fruit is characterized by red outside and apricot yellow inside, the nursery says. Growers say a number of new fruits have been developed in Oregon but use of a tree known chiefly as an ornamental is rare. In 1947 it took only 800 bushels of wheat to buy a farm tractor. Now it takes about 1,300 bushels.

NO CITY CAT

BATTLE, Mont. — A 15-pound female bobcat on his front porch greeted Carl A. Nowquist when he arrived home for lunch. He dashed into the house emerged with a .32 gauge shotgun and one "blast" and

Young People Warned Not To Undersell Themselves

There is more to job seeking than deciding what you'd like to do and knowing where to look. Sometimes even after you've set your sights, you can't land the job. This applies even to the summer, weekend or after-school work.

"Why" you ask when you stack your qualifications against those of the successful applicant. "I seem to be better qualified in every way," you might say. But one employer reminds us:

"Most young people undersell themselves when they apply for a job. They overdress or have annoying habits that irritate the interviewer. The first person to be impressed is the interviewer whether he is the boss or delegated by the boss."

What are some of these mistakes? Our employer offers these as worth your consideration:

1. Your letter seeking an interview should state qualifications simply on plain and unlined stationery. Avoid garish high fashion writing papers and colored inks. Typewrite the letter if you haven't a neat legible hand, and incidentally good handwriting is a requirement of many jobs.
2. Dress simply in dress or suit for your interview. Your hair should be clean and brushed into a neat arrangement. Wear a hat. Be sure that stockings seams are straight, shoes polished, and that coat collar is brushed free of dust.

druff. Avoid high heels, long earrings, and too potent perfumes. A light fragrance is fine. Don't cross your knees at the interview.

3. Too much makeup is taboo. Blot lipstick after you apply it and blend it in with your natural lip-line. Avoid over-made-up lips that sprawl out over your face.

4. Here's a simple makeup: Wash your face. Dry it. Apply cleansing cream. Remove it with tissue. Apply foundation cream the same or one shade darker than your regular skin tone. Take a speck of rouge—dot it under each eye, blend it into the skin. Brush powder lightly over your face. Brush off with dry cotton. Whisk an eyelash brush over lashes and eyebrows. Dab a bit of oil onto your little finger, rub on eyelash tips and brows.

5. When you talk to the employer, speak up. Answer questions clearly. If you think you are good at some phase of his business, say so. If it is a selling job, you might say, "I've always wanted to work with people" or "I adore selling" or "I like (whatever the product happens to be)." The main idea is to show enthusiasm for the job. Don't act like it is a step gap to another or a fill-in until next school season, even if it is.

6. Write a note immediately to the man who interviewed you thanking him for the chance to apply for the job and for his kind-

Cook Book Is Answer To Club's Money Problems

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Recipes of the "outs" don't help sell the cook-book for the "ins," wives of members of the 84th Congress agreed when they decided to publish a new edition of their own Congressional Club Cookbook.

Favorite recipes of the lawmakers' wives, gathered into a cook-book and widely used have helped them to have a meeting place of their own. The third edition, published in 1948, paid off the last mortgage on their clubhouse and subsequent editions have supported it.

The new book, due in September will be a personalized, loose-leaf edition with one recipe from each of the 337 members photographed for reproduction in their own handwriting. It will cost around $3.

With the turnover in Congress and changing membership, it's difficult to keep the book current, Mrs. Abernethy, wife of the Democratic congressman from Mississippi, cookbook committee chairman, told me. "The new members don't want to buy the old one because they don't want to send it to anyone without their own recipe in it. With a loose-leaf type we can add or remove recipes with each new Congress."

Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Nixon, wife of the vice president, each has been invited to submit a recipe for the new book. Past editions have included favorite dishes of Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Truman. Bess Truman's recipe for Ozark Pudding caused quite a to-do because people didn't follow the rules to beat it by hand and it didn't turn out the way it should.

Each member is being asked to submit three recipes from which one will be selected.

"We found we got too many recipes for salads or desserts," Mrs. Abernethy explained. "Once we got eight recipes for the same kind of cookie."

Three members who have had home economics training are on the committee. They are the wives of Congressman Harold Love (R-S.D.), Ralph Harvey (R-Ind.), and George Andrews (D-Ala.) "They all have real cookbook sense," Mrs. Abernethy added.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. What rouging technique will add fullness to my rather thin face?

A. If you will place the rouge rather far out on your cheeks, the white area in the center of the face will be increased, and thus the illusion of fullness is imparted to the entire face.

Q. How can I help to prevent wrinkles around my eyes?

A. A little mineral oil massaged around the closed eyes nightly will help.

Q. What is a good corrective treatment for a too-oily skin?

A. Equal parts of cologne water, witch hazel, and rose water, sponged on the face, will help. Try to avoid fatty foods in your diet, too.

Q. Please suggest a good face-makeup routine.

A. First, wash the face thoroughly, removing all soap, and apply skin lotion or tonic, and let dry. Then apply a foundation cream or vanishing cream, rubbing in lightly and evenly. While the face is still damp, blend your rouge into the cheeks. Then apply the powder evenly and carefully, being careful not to use too much.

Q. What are the proportions for a lemon rinse after the shampoo?

A. The juice of one lemon to one quart of clear, warm water.

Q. How can I make a camomile rinse for my hair?

A. Add four tablespoons of camomile flowers to one quart of water and boil for five minutes. Strain through cheesecloth, and use this as a rinse for light hair.

Q. What is the ideal weight for adult women?

A. Adult women, five feet tall, should weigh about 100 pounds. For every additional inch, allow about five pounds extra. If exceptionally large-boned, allow an additional five pounds and if small-boned, subtract five pounds.

Q. What is a good hip-reducing exercise?

A. Sit on floor with soles of feet pressed flat against each other. Place hands on knees, draw abdomen in and up, spine erect; now, with a rocking motion, swing first to right, then to left, very rapidly. The harder and farther you rock, the better. Repeat at least 50 times.

Q. What rinse will help bring out the lights in blonde hair?

A. Try adding a level teaspoon of borax to a gallon of water, after shampooing the hair.

Q. I have some unsightly scars left on my face by pimples. Is there some way I can treat these?

A. Try bathing these regularly with a solution of boric acid, followed by an application of zinc ointment.

Q. What can I do to hide dark circles under my eyes?

A. They will be less prominent if rouged slightly.

Best Students Are Needed To Meet Future Challenges

(Editor's Note: here's an expert's report on the new problems that education must face because of population increases. Dr. Raymond Walters retires in August after 23 years as president of the University of Cincinnati. He looks at the future in the light of past experience).

DR. RAYMOND WALTERS

By Dr. Raymond Walters
CINCINNATI, Ohio—There have been amazing advances in the scientific fields in the past 20 years, especially in the university graduate schools of the United States. It is these graduate schools which have supplied personnel in physics, chemistry, metallurgy, and other scientific areas to the more than 3000 industrial laboratories throughout the nation. From the roster of these university graduates have come many of the creative ideas in pure science and the practical methods in technology which have led to industry's enormous increase in mass production.

From our liberal arts institutions and from our colleges of business administration there have issued in the past 20 years graduates who have introduced progressive ideas and methods as executives in business and industrial administration.

All education and especially higher education faces a special challenge in view of population increases. With a considerable proportion of our people in the older age brackets and in retirement, there will be a pressing need for younger and middle-aged persons possessing an essential education, outlook and training.

Indeed, it has been prophesied that there will be more jobs available in the coming decades than persons qualified for the jobs. How do today's students compare with those 20 years ago? Unquestionably I rate them as fine generation as America has ever had. I base this on experience at C and on visitation to campuses in all parts of the country.

Should everyone go to college? I do not think so. The opportunity should be afforded for those easily desiring higher education. In accordance with our grand American tradition, there should be no barrier of class or race or insouciant family income.

The total enrollment of full-time and part-time students in American higher education has increased about 50 percent in the past 20 years. One of the factors which may prevent this would be the financial limitations of private colleges and universities. They simply do not now have the funds for the teachers, buildings, and other facilities needed to handle such numbers. However, state universities are making plans to do their utmost.

We are tempted in these days of recession to let up in respect to high standards. We should, I think, be courteous but unyieldingly to parents who will permit their children to play hard and dangerously football and basketball and allow their child to take part in a boxing ring which but are precluded from having them stretch their intellectual muscles for fear a mental breakdown.

Lest I be misunderstood, let me say that I favor advanced education beyond high school for those who, in the future tidal wave of youth, earnestly desire it even though they are not intellectually gifted. These young men and women will become voting citizens; or the wise use of the ballot they should be well informed. Moreover, in the human side, they are fine material. They should receive patient, skillful teaching so that they may value the best leaders, may be good followers and supporters of worthy causes.

Personally I strongly favor the creation of public junior colleges granting the associate of arts degree for two years of study. These should be controlled and financed by the public school boards with possible supplementary appropriations by the states. This mode of meeting the problem is exemplified in the public junior colleges of California, Texas and other states.

Whether in the standard four-year college or the junior college, it seems clear that preparation should be afforded youth for the actualities of American life in the approaching industrial era. Mass production of goods will soon afford a great deal of free time for the mass of our people. Will the shorter working week be monopolized by amusements, by trivial entertainments?

My own concern is regarding standards of excellence for America. We must, I think, seek out the boy and girl capable of the scholastic requirements essential for training first-rate scientists, engineers, and leaders in the professions.

Here is the real field, as I see it, if America is to advance in competition with the best intellectual products of Great Britain and Europe. We must not fool ourselves about this. Merely raising the average of mediocre performance will not compensate for failure to keep America first rate.

GOOD SOFTENER
A little mineral oil rubbed in the mitt of Junior's father's glove will soften and condition it. The oil may also be used on drills, lathes, power saws as well as Dad's hunting and fishing gear.

TSK!
ST. LOUIS—Mrs. Ethel A. H. Shepley, wife of the chancellor of Washington University, says she was shocked when she read a proposed constitution for a woman's club at the university.

Article III read in part: "The wives of the Chancellor . . . shall be honorary members."

SAFE BURGLARY
RICHMOND, Va.—Burglars jugged a 300-pound drug store safe into a car and took it to a secluded spot in the woods. There they found it was empty. They found, also, it hadn't been locked in the first place.

Tetanus Shots Are Needed By Your Children

By DOROTHY V. WHITFIELD, M.D.
Tetanus, or lockjaw, is a serious disease. It's not very common these days but since almost everyone who gets it dies, it's worth quite a bit of trouble to avoid it.

Tetanus is caused by the tetanus germ. This germ is present in street dirt and is especially abundant around barns where there are cows and horses. It is also abundant in manure used to fertilize gardens.

The tetanus germ is different from many other kinds of germs. It has the special ability to form spores. These spores are a form of the germ that can live under conditions that would kill the regular germ. They can withstand drying and sunlight and even boiling.

Tetanus spores can only grow when they get into a dark, warm place away from air. If there happens to be a tetanus spore on some object that gives you a deep puncture wound, there is danger you might get tetanus. If you get a wound from which there is danger of tetanus and you have never had tetanus shots, you must have tetanus anti-toxin. It is the only thing that will act quickly enough to prevent tetanus after an injury. We cannot make tetanus anti-toxin in the laboratory. The only way we can get it is to inject horses with the germ and then take blood from the horse.

Horse serum makes some people quite sick. We can avoid using horse serum if we give shots of a material called tetanus toxoid before a wound occurs. The toxoid is made in the laboratory and has no horse serum in it. It is, however, not powerful enough to use alone after the wound. If we give a person two shots of tetanus toxoid two months apart he will have a good deal of immunity to tetanus in his body. It won't be quite enough to completely protect him from a bad wound, so that at the time of injury we boost his immunity by giving him an additional shot of tetanus toxoid.

It's sensible and intelligent to see that your children, you, and the rest of your family too have tetanus shots regularly every two

AIR SERVICE
CHATSWORTH, Ga.—Service station operator Walter Bayne says the unidentified pilot of a light plane landed on the highway near his place, taxied up to buy a tank-full of gas, a soft drink and a pack of chewing gum and then took off.

NO DELIVERY SERVICE!
CANTON, Ohio—Within a few hours after a woman reported that someone stole her radio, police promptly phoned her that they had caught the thief and recovered the radio. But it took a lot of arguing to get the woman to stop at the station for it. She told the detective in charge: "I didn't bring it up here, and I can't see why I have to carry it back home."

ECONOMY FIRE
BREVARD, N. C.—After taking bids on the razing of an out-moded house on the campus, Brevard College took a cheaper way out and had the building burned. Cooperating was the fire department, which used the flaming structure for a fire-fighting demonstration.

CUF Installs New Officers

Mrs. Robert Veigel was installation officer, Wednesday when the Christian Women's Fellowship met for the monthly luncheon, worship and study.

Those installed as leaders for the coming year were: Mrs. O. H. Culpepper, president; Mrs. B. F. Cain, vice-president; Mrs. Harold Beauchamp, recording secretary; Mrs. Bert Brown, treasurer; Mrs. Bob Caple, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. Y. Moreman, worship chairman; Mrs. F. S. Smith, service chairman and Mrs. Glenn Williams, study chairman.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Glenn Williams and Mrs. J. S. Smith had charge of the dedication of gifts to India.

Mrs. Carlos Vaughn lead the study on India, assisted by Mrs. Bob Caple and Mrs. Jack Winget. "All The Way My Savior Leads Me" was sung by Mrs. B. F. Cain and Mrs. Bob Caple to 31 members and seven visitors present at the luncheon.

Soaking Clothes
Do not soak the clothes in hot water and then leave them until the water is cold, as cloth fibers expand in hot water and contract in cold. This means that it will hold the dirt. When it is desired to soak the clothes for some length of time, make a suds of cold water.

Pie Dough

When making pies, mix an extra amount of pastry. Rub over with lard and it can be placed in the refrigerator for a few days before using.

The Scalp

If falling hair is the result of a long illness try using a stiff-bristled brush for stimulating the scalp.

Storing Soap

The wrappers should be removed from laundry soap before storing away, to give better service and to make the soap last longer. Keep the wrappers on scented toilet soap to prevent losing the delicate odor.

Window Sills

When a room has white or cream-colored window sills it is well to keep them varnished frequently to prevent dust from becoming ingrained in the finish.

Wet Shoes

Dry wet shoes very slowly and then stuff them with paper, to prevent cracking.

Ivy Poison

Rub the affected parts with common laundry soap, dipped in water to moisten. Continue these treatments until the poison stops spreading. This also relieves the itching.

Removing Walnut Stain

If a washable garment has black walnut stains on it, rub the stains with household ammonia before laundering.

Knitting Needles

To clean steel knitting needles that have become rusty, try rubbing them up and down in earth.

Embroidery Cotton

It is a great convenience before starting a new skein of embroidery cotton to cut off about six or eight inches of it and fasten it to the little band on which is given the number and shade. Keep these samples filed carefully and you will experience no difficulty when desiring to match it.

Bruises

If a bruise is rubbed with butter as soon as the bump occurs, it will seldom become discolored.

Jack Wilson of Albuquerque transacted business in Hereford the past week. While here, he visited with his sister, Mrs. W. F. Gillis, and with Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Smith.

Damage Light In Auto Crash

An accident involving a 1955 Ford and a 1951 Chevrolet occurred Thursday afternoon when the Ford, driven by Sybil Ann Davis, backing north to turn into a driveway, struck the parked Chevrolet, owned by H. F. Paetzold, with the back left tender of her car. The Chevrolet was not damaged but approximately $100 worth of damages were received by the Ford. Miss Davis was charged with negligent collision.

KC's, Jim Hill Post Wins In Softball League Play

By BILL KNON

The KC's and Hotel Jim Hill remained deadlocked in a first-place tie as both won their games Friday night. The Knights crushed Rutherford's 18-4, and Jim Hill pulverized Coopers 22-10. Both were abbreviated five-inning contests.

Kenneth Walterscheid won his fourth game without a loss as his teammates backed him up with good fielding and timely hitting. He gave up only five hits. Aroldo C. A. Shanks, and Jim Russell all had a go at stopping the KC's at the plate, but none succeeded.

Rutherford's scored all their runs in one inning. But the KC's scored consistently, bagging at least one in every inning. Their biggest inning was the third when they scored eight runs. Rutherford's scored their runs in the third.

The KC's started off with three in the top of the first. Peters popped to first, but Fangman and Albracht both walked. Bill Stengel lasted them in with a double then scored himself on Tony Urbanczyk's single.

Danny Elliston's line single into left was wasted as Rutherford's was able to put nothing across in their half of the inning. However, the Knights continued to add coal to the already hot fire by tallying three more in the second. Walterscheid led off the inning and was hit by a pitched ball. Peters drew life on Maxwell's error, and both scored when Albracht also got on by way of Maxwell's error at second base. Bill Stengel again scored him, but this time it was on Larry Summers' error at shortstop.

The Knights binged in the top of the third. They scored eight runs to make the score 14-0. Koelzer led off with a double, then Kershen and Walterscheid both walked. Peters plated them with a single, and Fangman's triple tallied him. Albracht walked, but Bill Stengel fanned. Urbanczyk accounted for two more with another single, and Bud Stengel got on by way of Larry Summers second error of the inning. Koelzer drove another in with a long fly, to finish out scoring for the KC's in the top of the third.

Rutherford's only runs were scored in the last of the third. Action whiffed to lead off, but Bryant walked. Maxwell popped to short, then Elliston drew a base on balls. Callaway received credit for another RBI as he scored Bryant with a broken-bat single to center. Then Larry Summers blasted a three-run homer to finish out scoring for Rutherford's.

The KC's scored three more in the fourth and one in the fifth to make the final score 24-4, and pick-up their fifth win against one loss.

Jim Hill also smothered Coopers 22-10 to keep pace with them and remain deadlocked for first.

Household Tips

Use distilled or rain water in your steam iron to prevent rust or lime crust from forming in the water receptacle.

Wash your children's seersucker or corduroy clothing soon after they are soiled. Allow the seersuckers to dry on a hanger. Corduroys do not have to be ironed.

A cream wax, used on kitchen furniture, will help to keep colors from fading. It will also protect it from scuffs and scratches.

The more food that "goes through" the freezer, the less operating cost there will be per pound. Families who arrange to "live out of" their freezers as much as possible, and thus have a rapid turnover of frozen food, make the most economical use of this appliance.

Is your pet bird molting out of season? Then you have probably been keeping your bird in an overheated room, or in a cage to rear a sunny window.

Wondering what to season that tomato juice with so it will be especially delicious? Try onion, green pepper, Worcestershire sauce, celery seed, lemon juice, salt and pepper, sugar. Allow the juice and seasonings to stand in the refrigerator for a couple of hours, then strain and serve.

When you have some extra chicken stock, try cooking rice in it.

Here's a different and delicious fruit salad to serve with sliced cold baked ham. Drain syrup-packed red sour pitted cherries and arrange with sliced banana on crisp greens. Serve with a mayonnaise or sour cream dressing.

Salads, mousses and parfaits may be frozen in molds. Pour the mixture to be frozen into the molds, after rinsing them in cold water. Seal with a strip of cloth that has been rubbed well with melted butter or lard. Bury the mold in equal parts of ice and salt for three or four hours.

Cream a half cup of butter or margarine with a teaspoon of sugar and a tablespoon of molasses,

Here's a different kind of snack: Cover slices of bread with processed cheese, thinly sliced. Top with canned apple slices and a sprinkling of brown sugar and cinnamon. Broil until the cheese begins to melt. Serve at once with coffee or tea for grownups; milk or cocoa for small fry.

When you want to measure a full cup of shortening, press the fat firmly into the cup so there are no air spaces, then level off with the edge of a table knife or a spatula.

Grease, food and liquids spilled on the kitchen floor, and using rickety chairs and stools to stand on to reach high places, are the main causes of falls in the kitchen. Play safe! Wipe up spills as soon as they are made; use a sturdy kitchen stepladder when you have to reach a high shelf.

making sure that you add the sugar and molasses gradually. Serve over waffles, pancakes or French toast for something good!

Tea-party special: Make tiny sandwiches of sponge cake and raspberry jam; spread all sides with softened cream cheese and roll in toasted coconut.

Do not serve meat loaf cold if you have kept it more than 24 hours.

Chicken salad for a party snack benefits from the addition of almonds and ripe olives. Mix in the almonds just before serving so they'll be crisp.

Some Indians receive government checks in payment of rental of their lands, but no Indian receives a pension just because he is an Indian.

Women Are Jewelring Most Everything With Glitter

By EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO—Clip the barb off two matching fishing lures. Push large pearls over hooks. Glue rhinestones and sequins here and there. Attach to drop earrings and glue sequins and rhinestones to cup of earwire.

What is it? An eye-catching pair of earrings with an outdoor touch. It's the newest how-to-do-it chore Robert Deutsch has created for thousands of housewives who seem to thrive on such projects.

Women—with an eye for something glittery to wear, use, or just have around the house to look at, plus a yen to make it themselves, keep him scratching for original ideas to keep them busy.

For all concerned, it's a case of all that glitters is gold. As the world's largest purveyor of loose beads (some 100 tons a year), rhinestones, fake pearls, sequins and cork, his five-and-dime items are distributed through some 15,000 variety stores.

His staff of 30 women instructors travels fulltime to give on-the-spot demonstrations.

His small factory on Chicago's northwest side fills a million packages a week with fake pearls from Japan, beads from Germany and Italy and rhinestones from Austria. The sequins are made in the United States from motion picture film. He now operates five companies. Their combined sales last year totaled five million dollars.

Women often suggest unusual materials to use.

Deutsch heard Texas women were covering fishing corks with sequins to make sparkle bobbers to be hung from a celt or wherever the wearer considered them attractive. He ordered four million of them and 20,000 pounds of half-inch straight pins for attaching the sequins to the corks.

Women jewel everything from scrub buckets to plastic handset telephone covers. Tissue dispensers, piggy banks, hammers, hats, necklaces, sweaters, cranks, furniture all are like patty in a woman's hands when a tube of cement and an envelope of glittery jewels are handy.

The Military Sea Transport Service carried nearly two million passengers in 1952.

Nitrogenous material from decaying plants is held in the soil by fine particles called colloids.

The Army Adjutant General's office keeps files on nearly 20 million Army and Air Force veterans.

The Southern District of Lower California, in Mexico, has a climate resembling rabia's.

A Jack rabbit can run as fast as a good race horse, often attaining speeds of 45 miles an hour.

Dr. T. R. Murrroughs, a Chicago optometrist, says that distant pastures actually are greener to the eye because the atmosphere filters out yellow light, leaving the impression of deep green.

"I love the time-saving advantages of my ELECTRIC RANGE!"

says Mrs. James Russell,
1009 BALTIMORE STREET
PLAINVIEW, TEXAS

Reddy Kilowatt just loves to take the work out of cooking, as he has for so many homemakers like Mrs. Russell. "Preparing breakfast for my husband, James, is a snap. The controlled heat of our electric range turns out perfect pancakes every time." Start the day right—cook breakfast electrically.

The modern range? Of course, it's electric. Mrs. Russell points out the "plus values" on her electric range. "The minute minder — convenience outlets — grill — automatic timer — and well-lighted work surface are all wonderful. They give me a big bonus — extra time for other things."

Perfection comes from accuracy — and the heat of an electric range is pre-set, no outside force — a breeze, for example — can affect it. In Mrs. Russell's words: "I can put my pie in the oven, set the timer, and go about my other household tasks while my electric range bakes the pie perfectly."

Yes, in ranges, as in all other appliances, to be modern, it must be electric. And if it's electric its convenient and time-saving, like Mrs. Russell's all-electric kitchen. "My all-electric kitchen affords more leisure time for my family and friends." Yours will, too.

Is Your Hospital -- For Better Or Worse

The Deaf Smith County Hospital Board reported to the people Wednesday morning at the Chamber of Commerce sponsored breakfast, reviewing present facilities, services, current needs, and briefly touching on finances. The group also threw open the doors for suggestions, complaints, and general comment.

In at least one phase, we would say that the Hospital Board last Wednesday found itself in much the same position as many of our churches: The people who most needed to hear the story were not there!

The hospital was founded in 1924 as the result of acute need in this territory. It was built as a community project to be operated "by the people -- and for the people." During the past 30 years the hospital has grown extensively. It has added many new services and, in the process, has altered considerably in operation. The final result is that hundreds of people no longer have the same deep-rooted feeling which led the founders who created the hospital to fill a public need 30 years ago.

Instead of standing up for "our hospital" -- right or wrong -- as we would our children, many of us are prone to refer to the institution as "they" and to criticize prolifically, sometimes unjustly. We make this statement because the hospital is unquestionably one of the most controversial "hot potatoes" to be found in area politics.

If we are to believe the Hospital Board members, Deaf Smith County Hospital charges are lower than the average hospital in West Texas. It collects the unheard of average of 97 to 98 percent of all accounts. It operates with only $5,000 in county tax money each year, and this amount is generally placed on permanent improvements. It offers services comparable to hospitals in large cities, along with parallel equipment. Such, at least, was reviewed at the open meeting and went unchallenged by critics.

The most pronounced short-coming of the institution, in view of these statements, would probably be in the field of public relations, centering around lack of understanding on the part of the public.

If we place ourselves in the position of the men and women who founded the hospital, it could easily appear in a different light to many people. Without an adequate hospital, Deaf Smith County would certainly be a poor place to live. The same basic need for a hospital exists today, in a much greater emphasized form, than existed in 1924.

Severe critics of the hospital should definitely consider this angle of the situation. They should make a careful and complete investigation of the operation, checking all phases. If they discover questionable circumstances, their findings should be pointed out to the Commissioners Court of Deaf Smith County, which is actually responsible to the people for any and all operations of the hospital. On the other hand, if they find the operation good, they should pitch in and do their best to help make it even better.

Today just as in 1924, Deaf Smith County hospital belongs to the people of this county. If it has exceptional faults, we have no one to blame but ourselves. The hospital is still operated "by the people". When we criticize its operation, justly or unjustly, we are criticizing ourselves. This is one of the responsibilities which inevitably goes along with ownership and, as owners, we should operate a hospital to which we can point with pride.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Is Drought Broken? Some Say Yes, But Most Say No

After good recent rains, there is much talk about the drought being broken. Do you believe that it actually has been?

PAUL ARTHO

It may have in some of the sections but I don't believe that it will be general. It hasn't out here.

MRS. WILLIAM WIMBERLEY

I really don't believe that it has because the moisture hasn't sunk down too deep. Out here at Dawn, we haven't had an awfully lot of rain.

MRS. J. G. FORTENBERRY

We've had good rains but I don't believe that the drought has been broken for good.

JACK RENFRO

I don't think it has as I believe that it will be dry in June and July and also will be warmer than normal.

DOC KIRBY

I believe it has although it has been too little in some places and too much in others. Generally I think it has been broken.

JOHN JACOBSEN JR.

In some localities you could say yes but in others there was not enough rainfall to say the same. Indications are that it will not be as bad as it has the past few summers though.

MRS. HAROLD L. HERSLEY

All I can say is that I hope and feel that it is over with.

MRS. EZRA NORTON

I believe that it is broken and also that we will be having more rain.

WELDEN GOODIN

I don't think it is over because we haven't had enough rain to break it.

MRS. WAYNE McELROY

The rains are so general around that I really believe that it has been broken. If not, it stands a good chance of being so since there is prospect of more rain.

What Other Columnists Are Saying

Do you ever get the feeling that you're the only one that ever wants to get anything done for your town -- for your club -- or for your church?

To us, that feeling would appear to be perfectly honest, because in too many instances, it is just about true. We have often reflected on the fact that there only seems to be a handful of men and women in every community who ever do anything worthwhile for themselves and their neighbors.

We have never been any slacker yet, however, where there weren't those pitiful few to keep things rolling along. We wonder at times what would happen to a community or organization if all the workers should suddenly up and move some place else.

The shameful fact about all of this is that those who do the work so often go thankless. Not only do they go thankless -- more often than not they are the most resented, the most cursed out people that can be found.

It's so easy to criticize. Next time you start to, think for a few moments. Put yourself in his or her shoes. Would you be willing to invest the time and effort they have in public service?

—STATE LINE TRIBUNE

Tornado season is here. Canadian has five police radio units in this community, and is cooperating with the Panhandle-wide tornado warning and look-out service. In event of an imminent tornado here, fire sirens will be sounded in a continuous blast, and police cars will cruise the town with sirens open.

—THE CANADIAN RECORD

TOO MUCH RAIN

More rain showers fell over Swisher late last week as well as many other sections of the area. Most farmers hoped the showers would end so that they could plant -- or re-plant in some instances -- their cotton. Happy received heavy showers for the first time since the May rains began. Tulla vicinity has been spared so far the devastating hail which ruined crops in the Olton and Hale Center areas. Hale Center received from 14 to 18 inches of rain in a period of two weeks. —THE TULLA HERALD

By MARGARET ALSTON

"Success is measured by service. What we do in the lives of others will come back to us in other returns," is a favorite quotation of Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, and also one which she lives by. First spoken when she gave her address at her high school graduation at which she was an honor student, she has since received many blessings from living up to it.

Born in Wise County, Aug. 9, 1901, she attended school at Post and Belleview. In 1915 her family moved to Hereford because of her mother's health and her father, who was a rural minister, believed it to be good land with a future before it and a good place to raise his two girls.

In 1920 she graduated from high school, after which she took a business course at the old Christian College when it was in Hereford. Mrs. Manjeot was the first to write a high school column for The Brand.

The first job for Gladys Manjeot, then Gladys Howton, besides working in stores on Saturday and candleing eggs at a grocery store, was working at the County Clerk's office for A. O. Thompson. She soon became deputy clerk and fields us that she issued her own marriage license June 12, 1921, when she was married to Arthur Lloyd Manjeot at her home. They have one son and have taken several boys into their home and reared them.

Mrs. Manjeot has been a member of the Baptist Church since she was 12 years old. Being a person who loves people and loves to work with them, she especially likes to work with the young people. For many years she has worked with the Sunbeams and with people. She started the first camp for the Baptist youth of West Texas at her home when they lived west of town. Since, it has grown to be the largest camp of its kind and she is duly proud that she has been a part of it. She has also been the Association Young People's leader, president of the Tierra Blanca W.M.U., president of the local W.M.U., and organized the first YWA house parties and camp.

In 1932, the Manjeots moved to Elida, N. M., where she did many things for the community, including starting a library, starting a youth camp for the children in New Mexico, served as president of Roosevelt County W.M.U. and as state young people's leader for three years. In 1939, they returned to Hereford where they have lived ever since.

Since 1916, she has taught a Sunday School class almost continuously. When she started, she taught a class of juniors and is now teaching the Fidelis Matrons Class.

A member of the Pioneer Study Club, she is past president of it and of the Hereford Garden Club. She was also Governor of District One Texas Garden Clubs Incorporated, a member of the Hereford Church Council, past Worthy Matron of the Order of Eastern Star of which she served two terms, first Mother Advisor of Rainbow to serve two terms, and she served with her husband on the board of directors of Rainbow from 1946 until 1951. She also served on committees of the Chamber of Commerce and has been connected with Camp Fire groups for a number of years.

National recognition has been hers in writing for the garden club. She also studied to be a national instructor and judge in the club. While governor of the club, Gladys helped to institute a scholarship, given by the District One Garden Clubs to a worthy student who is attending Texas Tech and who is taking up the study of horticulture. She also, helped with many civic campaigns such as "paint up, clean up" and the securing of trucks by the city to collect garbage.

Taking pictures, especially of flowers and flower arrangements are two hobbies at which Mrs. Manjeot is very apt and able. She has won many awards for her work in that field.

Well known among the circles of the young people in Hereford, through her efforts as well as others, many things for the youngsters have come about including the swimming pool. During the war, she was secretary of the USO. When it was discontinued, Mrs. Manjeot worked to get the place for the high school students to meet, and succeeded in doing so.

A booster and good ambassador for the town, Mrs. Manjeot definitely loves Hereford. On her many trips to conventions and meetings she never fails to give the town a boost whenever opportunity affords a chance.

"The biggest challenge to Hereford is on the part of the people to realize that Hereford is expanding and is changing," says Mrs. Manjeot. "It is no longer a town in the 1920's, but is fast becoming a small city. We must provide adequate school facilities and whatever is needed so that it may grow more. We also must provide opportunities for those of other

TWELVE YEAR RECORD

La Faun Ballard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ballard, has been presented an attendance award by A. E. Baker, principal of Floydada High School, for being neither tardy nor absent from school for 12 years. Such an unusual feat aroused our interest and we began delving into the life of a girl who could attain such a distinguished honor. To begin with, at the age of five, she and her mother were looking at a picture of a boy who had gone to school for 11 years without missing and La Faun remarked, "If a boy can do it, so can I!" and she has. Numerous times her mother prevailed upon her to remain at home, knowing she was not really well enough to go to school, but La Faun was most persistent and so it is that she received this distinct recognition.

TORNADO HITS WHEELER COUNTY

A tornado cut a destructive path through the south-east part of Wheeler County about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, injuring four people, completely demolishing at least five homes and numerous outbuildings and killing many head of livestock and fowl. Power and telephone lines were torn down, trees were uprooted and broken and fences were destroyed by the swirling wind. The funnel was first spotted just north of Lutie, 12 miles south of Shamrock. It travelled a zig-zag path north and east, leaving Wheeler County at the Texas-Oklahoma border, 15 miles east of Wheeler, after lifting 167 feet of black-top paving out of Highway 152. The Bond Ward family was injured in the storm.

SCHOOL BUILDING BURNS

A Levelland Junior High School building -- which survived an attempt at arson last year and had only six more days of usefulness before it was scheduled to be demolished to make room for a new building -- remained only a hollow, blackened shell Friday after flames gutted the one-story brick structure late Thursday night. The fire was first reported at 10:36 p.m. by an unidentified man who called by telephone. Only moments later two Levelland teenagers came to the fire station to turn in the alarm. They were quoted as saying they saw electric lines leading into the building blazing at the service pole. It was this which led to early speculation that the fire might have started from an electrical short.

—THE HOCKLEY COUNTY HERALD

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher discusses prosperity this week, a matter he has only a theoretical knowledge of.

Dear editor:

I know this country is supposed to be booming, making more cars than ever before in history, big manufacturers showing more profit, more workers taking home more pay, Internal Revenue department getting more taxes than ever before, but I was beginning to think I was all alone in finding out despite all the prosperity I hear about I never seem to have quite enough money to make ends meet.

However, I am pleased to know I have company. The Federal government and most of the State Legislatures are in the same boat.

"General fund revenues the past year have been lower than anticipated," a news article I read in a paper last night reported, adding that the situation was causing the government to wonder how it was gonna stay out of the red.

I know exactly how it is. That's exactly my situation out here. Most of my prosperity doesn't last over a day or so. The minute I get to feeling I have the thing licked, that everything is under control, a new expense crops up, and the old familiar nip-and-tuck situation stares me in the face again.

I tell you, spending anticipated revenue is one of the most hazardous undertakings ever attempted. If a man could anticipate his expenses like he can his revenue, there might be some chance of getting even, but something always goes wrong, on my farm or in congress. I can sit down now and figure up just how much my farm ought to make this year, how much the expenses ought to be, how much I ought to have left over, but when the crops are all in and the expenses all faced, my financial situation is as confused as Washington is over how big the Russian air force is.

I know the country must be at the highest peak of prosperity it ever experienced, I keep reading it in the papers, but I'm here to tell you it ain't enough. Everybody is making more money than he used to, but the number of people who can't quite make ends meet seems to be about the same.

If my subscription is due, will you please hold up the bill a little while, three more expenses I wasn't counting on just turned up. In the midst of the country's biggest prosperity, me and the government can't seem to stay ahead.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Congratulations To Mrs. DeHart

Home Demonstration women of Deaf Smith County recently announced the selection of Mrs. Earl DeHart as "Outstanding Club Woman of the Year" in a recognition service sponsored in connection with The Brand. Mrs. DeHart is the fourth woman to be accorded the honor and, without doubt, adds emphasis to distinction of the award.

Mrs. DeHart unknowingly started working for the award when she was a small girl. As a Deaf Smith County 4-H member, she reflected credit to the community, in area and state-wide competition with other 4-H girls. Her record as a persistent worker has followed her throughout her career as she graduated into Home Demonstration work, leadership and community service.

Much more important than her recent recognition is the fact that Mrs. DeHart not only learned, but put into practice, the fundamentals which she acquired through 4-H and Home Demonstration work. Realizing that her own advantages were made possible through the effort and sacrifice of other women, Mrs. DeHart has repaid her obligation many times over in the work she has helped sponsor for youth of the area.

Her recognition is a mark of distinction, indeed, but it cannot begin to compare with the satisfaction which she is bound to realize as some of "her 4-H girls" march across the stage to receive their diplomas or as they walk along the aisles along the way to marriage, homes and true American citizenship.

Girls who travel along the path of Home Demonstration training and, in turn, adopt a role of leadership along that same path when they become mothers and women, speak well for the program in general. They seldom ask favors, and they never seek personal glory. The situation, all in all, makes the recognition of such a person a genuine privilege and, at the same time, stands as a tribute to the Home Demonstration service in Texas.

Pioneer Days

Hereford's annual Mid-Plains Pioneer Day was observed Friday, May 27, and went down in history as an outstanding success. The occasion, in addition, presents an angle which is seldom considered in this area.

Strangers, particularly people from Virginia, Massachusetts, and other areas steeped in historical lore, are most often confused at the emphasis which residents of this area place upon the occasion of Pioneer Day.

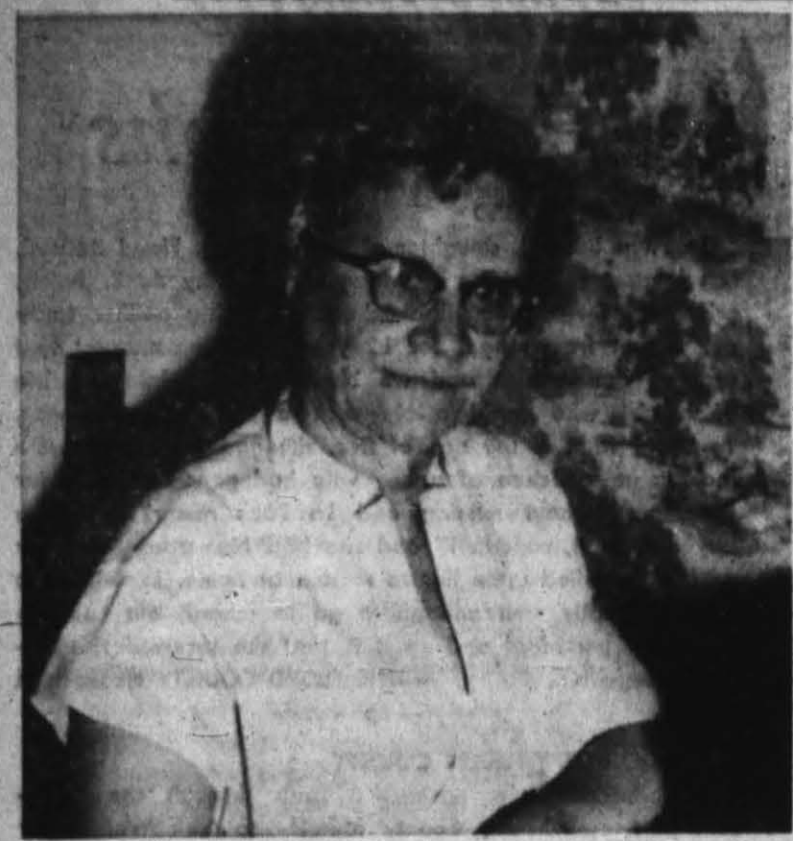

The visitors simply cannot understand why an area like the Panhandle -- a country so new that its history is negligible -- places so much emphasis on history. Offhand, our explanation was rather vague but, after thinking the situation over, it seems fairly clear and cleancut.

First, it is perhaps like growing trees on these vast Plains. Trees are so few that we appreciate them all the more. In planting trees, we go whole hog. We love them because we do not have an abundance.

The greatest asset though, lies in the fact that many of our early settlers are still with us. Instead of honoring a picture, a legend or a memory, we are fortunate in being able to visit and talk with the folks who actually made our history. This is one of the few areas where the situation still exists, and for that reason, it cannot be stressed too much.

Altho the quality of mercy is grade A, the distribution is so erratic that about half of the world is denied even occasional delivery.

Ronald Davidson has been a guest this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Briard.

Darrell L. Blanton and Harry Bennett returned Saturday from a trip to parts of Texas and Oklahoma.

Attending a family reunion at the Malcom Cassels' home over the weekend were: Mrs. Bill Anderson and children J. O. and Mary Frances of San Antonio, Mrs. Guy Smith of Tulsa, and Mrs. Della Womble of Kansas City-Kans.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcom Cassels are her sister, Mrs. Ray Parmer and three sons, David Gene, Mikey, and Roger of Canyon.

Mrs. W. E. Dunlap of Amarillo visited Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Colby Conkright.

Looking over the batting averages of different teams sometimes proves to be quite interesting. It may also bring into the open why a team is winning its games or why it is not.

One of the most surprising teams the Knights of Columbus, while lodging themselves in first place, have compiled the most impressive batting average of any other team in the league. Their average of .433 is tops, but that is where their supremacy ends.

Excluding batting average, Piggly Wiggly leads in everything except home runs. They have scored 89 runs in six games for an average of 16.5 points per game. Their nearest competitor in that column is Summerfield who is 20 runs behind. Their 73 hits is also 11 more than the KC's, their nearest rival. The Pigs average of .429 is only four points below the Knights.

But yet, they are in a tie for third and fourth with Summerfield after losing to Jim Hill recently and to Summerfield earlier in the season. Summerfield's average is only .324. However, they have batted 182 times, more than any other team. This seems to point out the fact that Piggly Wiggly, when meeting a weak opponent, literally pours it on, completely demoralizing the opposing team with a crushing defeat. At the same time they fatten their batting averages. Then when they come up against a strong opponent, they choke—that is, when forced to play to win instead of holding a track meet, they find the going somewhat rougher.

On the other hand, take a look at Rutherford's. The only time they have actually played to win has been against a weak opponent, the Popular Store. They massacred them, but that is the only game they have won all year. Their average of .395 is third. However, they have established themselves as one of the more powerful teams in the league. They have played only four games but still lead in four base clubs with 11. Piggly Wiggly has played six games, hitting seven homers. The KC's have hit nine in five encounters. Bill Callaway, youthful third baseman for Rutherford, leads the league with four, the equivalent of Hotel Jim Hill's entire total. John Renner has three of these four. Bill Howard has the other.

Jim Hill's showing at the plate is among the more surprising. They have played four games, losing only to the KC's, and they are in second place. But they have scored only 40 runs and have gotten only 38 hits. Rutherford has played the same amount of games and have scored 66 runs and have 49 hits. The only thing about this that makes sense is that Hotel has been getting fairly good pitching, and Rutherford has been getting none at all.

This all goes to show that anywhere baseball or softball is played, nothing that happens will comply with the law of averages. Especially in the Hereford Softball League.

Certified Mail To Be Introduced

A new service known as "certified mail" will be introduced in post offices throughout the United States June 7.

Certified mail service provides for a receipt to the sender and a record of delivery at the office of address. No record is kept at the office at which mailed. It is handled in ordinary mails and no insurance coverage is provided.

Only first-class letter mail having no value will be accepted as certified mail. This does not include articles of a non-negotiable character and other matter which would involve a cost of duplication if lost or destroyed. The mail may be sent by air on payment of the required postage. Return receipt service and special delivery service are available on payment of the prescribed fees.

Certified mail fee in addition to postage is 15 cents, return receipt seven cents, inquiry fee 10 cents. A certified mail stamp will be available for the fee. However, this fee and postage may be paid by ordinary stamps, meter stamps, or by permit imprints.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means to humbly and sincerely express our deep appreciation and thanks to each and every person who has given us so much needed help and kindness. No Hit Game Turned In By Piggly Wiggly Ace

By BILL KNOX

Pitching ace Don Morgan twirled a no-hit masterpiece as Piggly Wiggly took a wind-blown 13-0 victory over the Popular Store in one of two games Friday night. Hotel Jim Hill sauntered past Rutherford's 20-11 in the initial fracas.

Morgan pitched a near-perfect game. Not a man had reached first base until the fifth inning when he walked Walt Kaul. He fanned nine men, and Piggly Wiggly made no errors behind him.

But Piggly Wiggly couldn't seem to get exactly the right combination off of H. L. Presley either at the onset of the game. However, a big third and fourth inning overwhelmed the Popular Store.

In the first game it started out to be fairly close. But Hotel remedied that situation with a big sixth inning. Rutherford's again continued their home run spree. Jack Buggis lashed out two, and Bill Callaway blasted his fifth of the season. Timberlake was the only Jim-Hill player to connect for the circuit.

2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
Cream butter and sugar and melt chocolate. Beat eggs well and add to sugar mixture. Then add the melted chocolate. Mix dry ingredients and add alternately with the liquid. Add flavoring and nuts and bake in a loaf pan at 350-F degrees for 45 minutes.

Uncooked Frosting
1/2 cup butter
2 squares chocolate
1 and 1/3 cups powdered sugar
1 whole egg
Melt butter and chocolate, add sugar and egg and cream until smooth. Then add:
1 tablespoon vanilla
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup chopped nuts
1 pinch of salt
Beat all together until well blended and spread over top and sides of cake.

Despite Piggly Wiggly's very slow start the game against the Popular Store was never in doubt. The Pigs scored their first run in the second. Lueb walked to lead off, but Corbett popped to third. Wilson drew another walk, and by this time Lueb was on third. The run scored when Johnny Fields muffed Stanley Slagle's grounder at second. The run was scored without the benefit of a hit.

They went back to old form in the third. Brock led off with a base on balls and Dement flied to center. Lueb popped to the catcher, leaving a runner on first with two out. Corbett's triple scored Brock and after Wilson had drawn another walk, Stanley Slagle blasted a triple. Morgan's double brought him in.

The fourth inning iced the game. The Pigs blasted six hits in this frame to send across eight runs. Pickens and Brock both had four-masters in the inning.

Jim Hill and Rutherford had a fairly close battle until the sixth inning. Rutherford's fielding was again shabby, but they displayed some of the most feared hitting power in the league. They collected 13 safe blows compared to Hotel's 12, yet Jim Hill outproduced them in runs 20-11.

Q. How can I resize an Axminster rug?
A. Stretch the rug tight and tack face down on a floor, or some flat surface. Sprinkle with a solution made by soaking and dissolving 1/4 pound of flake glue in 1/2 gallon of water. Let the rug dry at least a day. Care should be taken not to put on so much glue that it will show on the right side.

Chocolate Prize Cake
A Favorite of Mrs. Culvert
Here is a $10,000 prize recipe called Chocolate Prize Cake. The recipe was sent to Mrs. Roy Culvert by a friend, Mrs. Sid Lewis of Falls City, Neb., whose mother won the prize for the cake.

Mrs. Culvert says she has used the recipe for the past 10 years, and while during that time she has also tried many other recipes, she has not found any so good as this one. It is simple and easy to make and remains moist and creamy, making a wonderful addition to any meal as well as party fare. Here is the recipe:

Chocolate Prize Cake
1/2 cup butter
4 oz. bitter chocolate
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup nuts

Q. How can I prevent smashing snaps on clothing when laundering?
A. Snaps will not be smashed and ruined if they are snapped together before putting the garment through the wringer.

Q. How can I make matches waterproof?
A. Dip them in melted paraffin. Use the paraffin while hot.

Q. How can I test the freshness of a ham?
A. Run a clean knife into it close to the center knuckle. The ham is good if the knife comes out sweet and odorless. It is not fit for use if the knife is smeary and has a strong odor.

Q. How can I remove scorch spots from clothing?
A. Boil in milk and turpentine to which soap has been added, and then dry in the sun.

Don't Neglect Safeguards While Waiting For Vaccine

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.

Every summer the fear of polio has sent cold shivers down the spine of almost every parent in the land. Now we can relax—at least we can as soon as the supplies of this precious new Salk vaccine are sufficient for all our children to receive their shots.

Parents have responded to this wonderful new milestone in the fight of man against disease with characteristic American enthusiasm.

I don't know what the final figures will show, but around Washington at least 90 percent of parents of first and second graders signed the slips giving permission to have their children given the vaccine in the schools. This is a wonderful tribute to the faith our people have in science.

These free shots for first and second graders are the gift of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. The vaccine for all these children takes just about all that is available right now.

The parents of youngsters not in the first or second grade must wait until more vaccine can be made.

Since the vaccine takes time to make and to test, the supply will not be enough for everyone until sometime in the fall.

Children who are in the greatest danger of getting polio should be given the vaccine before those in less danger. The most susceptible age group is the youngsters between 5-10 years of age; next comes the 1-5 years old, and finally the children over 10 and young adults.

Many parents have already put their children's names on doctor's lists and are anxiously waiting.

I'd like to give a tribute to all the mothers of my patients and to all other mothers like them. Not a one has asked for special favors. A real mother understands the feelings of other mothers and she will not try to push her youngster ahead of someone with a greater need. This sense of cooperation is the very life blood of our free and democratic land. It's what made Salk vaccine possible.

But it's hard to wait even though you know all the answers.

While you're waiting there is something you can do. Polio isn't the only disease we have conquered with vaccine.

Smallpox and diphtheria were once rampant in this land of ours. Now you seldom hear of a case—Why? Because we have shots against them. But these shots don't last a lifetime. They need to be repeated from time to time.

Smallpox vaccination should be done once in infancy and again about seven years later. Are all your youngsters properly protected against smallpox?

Diphtheria shots—usually are combined with tetanus and whooping cough and given in a series of three shots in infancy. Then one shot of all three should be given every two years until the youngster is in his teens. Are you children up to date on these booster shots?

If we become lax about these tried and true immunizations an epidemic of diphtheria or of smallpox could do more harm than an epidemic of polio.

While you're waiting for your Salk vaccine check up on your children's other boosters.

Texas Tech Has Complete File Of London Times Now

LUBBOCK—Complete microfilm copies of the London Times from 1785 to the present will soon be available in the Texas Tech Library.

The microfilm, containing more than 900,000 pages of the Times over a 170-year period, was purchased recently by the library in cooperation with the departments of English, government and history. The four College agencies are dividing the $5200 cost.

"This purchase is another important step in acquiring research material for our doctoral program at Tech," librarian Ray Janeway said. The microfilm has been shipped from England and is expected to arrive here in the very near future.

The shipment comprises 900 reels of 100 feet each, each reel containing 1000 pages. This complete record of one of the world's most respected newspapers on 35 millimeter film can be housed in one and one-half small storage cabinets. The same material in its original paper form would overflow a medium-sized living room, Janeway said.

For reading, the film will be placed in one of four special microfilm readers which then magnifies it to approximately newspaper size.

"For contemporary accounts of events in England, Europe and, to some extent, the United States, the London Times is unmatched," Janeway asserted. The Times regularly carries a full account of all British parliamentary action in addition to extensive coverage of all major European news events.

Two additional reels will be shipped monthly to keep the library set current, Janeway said. Janeway also reported that the Tech library now has microfilm copies of the New York Times dating back to 1939. A second order for copies of the Times between 1924-1939 has been placed. Contemporary microfilm copies of the New York paper arrive semi-monthly.

Early copies of the Dallas Morning News are also in the microfilm room of the library.

For Tech students, alumni and college historians, the library has microfilmed a complete set of The Toreadore, Tech student newspaper. Just recently, the library filmed Volume I, Issue I of The Toreadore to complete the set.

AIR AGE COEDS -- Pat Hopkins of New Carlisle, Ohio, and Pat Schell of Brooklyn, N.Y., get global instruction from Sgt. James B. Gilmer III, at Miami U.

Ohio Coeds Pioneer In Air Force ROTC

By NELLIE EVANS
Middletown Journal
OXFORD, Ohio -- Girl Air Force cadets are making history at Miami University here. The Silver Altair Flight, the nation's first ROTC unit for women, has been formally organized and recognized on the campus at Oxford.

It started when an enrolling freshman stopped at the Air Force ROTC registration headquarters, and requested permission to take aviation courses. It had been suggested, she said, by her high school advisor, who recommended that she prepare herself as much as possible for the air age in which we live.

"We could find no official regulations prohibiting the admission of women to ROTC classes," the Miami University Air Force ROTC commander, Col. Ernest J. White Jr., explains, "so we decided to give it a try."

Col. White confesses he was not decidedly enthusiastic when the "noble experiment" began, but now he is wholeheartedly in favor of the idea. Sharing his enthusiasm is F. Glenn Macomber, dean of Miami's School of Education, whose daughter, Jo, is administrative officer of Silver Altair Flight.

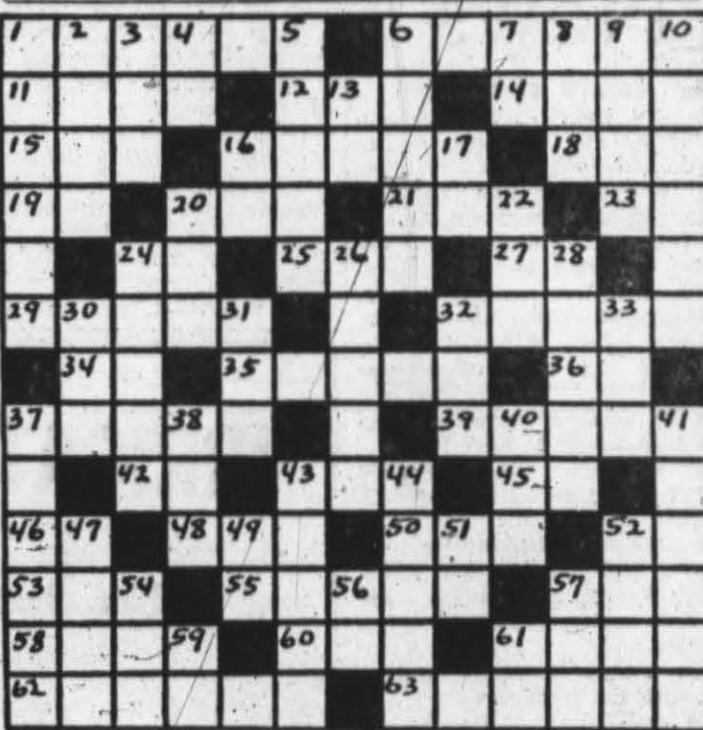

Col. White and his staff queried freshmen girls as they registered, and six attractive girls dressed in Air Force blue are the result of the questioning. Air Force permission was not needed at the time because the girls were not in sufficient number to increase the work load of the instructors. Now, however, headquarters is kept informed of the girls' progress—and it heartily approves.

Girls in an otherwise male class have proved to be a morale booster, says Sgt. James B. Gilmer III, one of the instructors. The men have to be on their toes to keep up with the women, who have shown a marked inclination to hit the books and learn rapidly. And on the drill field, the sergeant remarks proudly, the girls really do shine.

"In my opinion," he says, "the girls are as good as our drill team, and the team is better than average!"

The girls' ROTC subjects are the same as the men's. Unlike the men, they are not required to join the Air Force after graduation. Their uniforms are not furnished by the government and the university receives no governmental stipend for their training, as it

As for the uniforms — the girls selected a pattern and made their own. They're of AF blue line, and are styled with trimly tailored skirts and Eisenhower jackets. A pale blue silk scarf is worn at the throat, and the cap is an adaptation of the overseas model. Navy shoes with flat heels complete their attire. ROTC insignia is placed on either side of the collar, and the blouse is fastened with Air Force buttons.

Q. How can I remove mustard stains on linen?

A. Boil in water, in which washing soda, 1 teaspoonful to 1 quart of water, has been dissolved. After boiling, rub until the stains disappear.

Q. How should furs be cleaned?
A. When cleaning a fur, first beat with a length of rubber hose to remove all dust. Rub hot-bran or cornmeal into the fur and lay away for a few days, then brush it very thoroughly.

Q. How can I relieve indigestion?

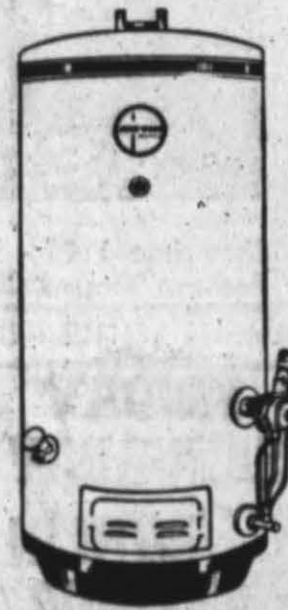

A. Nothing is better to relieve indigestion, or that full feeling after eating, than to chew a few sprigs of mint. Chew the mint thoroughly and swallow stems and all. It is nice to have a bed of mint growing in a corner of the yard.

FUEL FOR A GROWING EMPIRE

Want to watch the gas pumps go by?

It's wonderful what Variable Pitch Propellers do for getaway AND gas savings!

It's The Hardtop with Four Doors!

Another big reason for Buick's soaring sales is the 4-Door Dynaflo—the new hit in hardtops that's taking the country by storm. The "Convertible" look, with no center posts—but with separate doors for rear seat passengers. Shown here in the low-price SPECIAL model—also available in the high-powered Century Series. Both now in volume production to insure prompt deliveries.

ANY airline pilot will tell you that one big reason for the modern plane's greatly increased cruising range aloft is the variable pitch propeller.

To get off the ground, of course, the pilot needs plenty of acceleration, for take-off and climb. So his propellers must "bite" into air at a certain angle for utmost performance.

But once the plane is at cruising altitude, great power acceleration is no longer needed—fuel efficiency is. So the pilot switches the pitch of his propeller blades to high-economy angle—and gets a lot more mileage from the fuel in his tanks.

That's why Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo® is such a sensation across the nation.

For the same aviation principle that brings this two-way magic to the modern plane is now found in the twenty propeller-like blades whirling in oil inside the Dynaflo unit.

Just by pressing the gas pedal way down, you switch the pitch and get instantaneous getaway response or safety-surge acceleration.

Just by easing up on the pedal, you change the pitch to high-economy angle—and get new and better gas mileage in all normal driving and cruising.

It's a spectacular and sensible achievement—this new Dynaflo Drive—a brand-new thrill and a brand-new thriftiness.

And with it goes the might of record-high V8 power—and the level luxury of Buick's all-coil-spring ride—and the spacious roominess of Buick's broad interiors—and the host of other advanced features that add to Buick's brimming value.

Come in and try what is very definitely the performance thrill of the year—and see for yourself why Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
