Chief Of Police Cites Salary In Resigning Post

Chief of Police Leo F. Box has submitted his resignation from the Hereford Police Dept. to the City Commission.

City officials said Tuesday that Capt. J. T. Sanderson of the Hereford police will be Acting Chief, pending selection of a permanent replacement for Chief Box.

The chief cited the opportunity to work with a larger police department and an increase in salary as reasons for deciding to leave Hereford.

Chief Box came to Hereford on Dec. 1, 1952, to head the department after service on the Amarillo Police force.

Under his direction, the Hereford force has expanded from a staff of three patrolmen, to a total of 14 employees to meet the needs of an expanding community.

The 32-year-old policeman is a native of Grand Saline, Tex., and a graduate of McKinley High School in Fort Worth.

He has been an active participant in Avenue Baptist Church work, presently serving as director of the Adult Training Union and

Schools' Holiday Plans Announced

Programs and parties will emphasize the holiday spirit as the Hereford Public Schools prepare to observe the Christmas holidays.

Five numbers will make up the Christmas program to be presented by Mrs. Sank Ramey and Mrs. Fred Welch's junior high school home rooms in a holiday assembly at 2:30 on Friday.

Christmas carols sung by the student body will conclude the program. Suzanne Langley will serve as announcer.

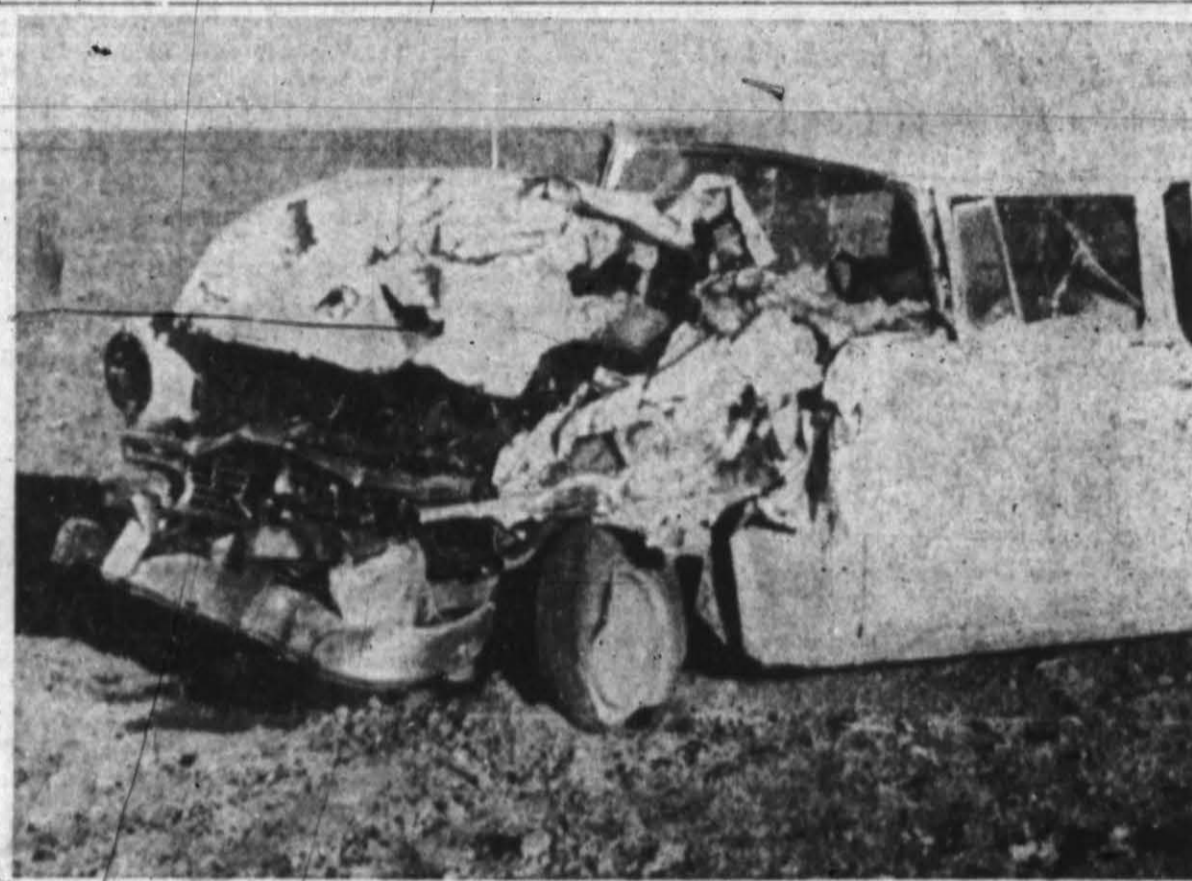

The 37 children in the four first-grade rooms at Central School will present a program for the entire school at 10:15 Friday morning in the combination gym-auditorium.

Traditional religious and popular Christmas carols will be sung by the children as colored illustrations are projected on the gym wall with the opaque projection machine.

Shirley and Alkman Elementary Schools will have no assembly programs, but each room will have its own Christmas party and party. Room mothers are assisting the teachers in preparing for the parties, according to Principals Bob Naylor and D. C. Martin.

The junior high and elementary schools are featuring unusual decorations in class rooms, halls and display cases. Many of the decorations

Wings Clipped By County Vote; Issue Still Alive

Hereford voters on Jan. 8 will again have a chance to pass judgment on the airport bond issue proposal.

This time the proposed issue will be for $100,000, a sum to be matched by funds previously appropriated by the federal government for construction here of an airport.

In Tuesday's elections, city voters approved a proposed $70,000 airport bond issue by a slim margin, 341 to 327.

City Commissioners canvassed the vote and debated action on the airport on Tuesday night. But their decision did not come until they met in a special session at Wednesday noon.

Technically, the commissioners might have used the $70,000 bond issue approved in Tuesday's election for the airport project.

Commissioners Dr. R. R. Wills and Troy Moore in Tuesday's meeting first proposed calling the new election, and Neil Cooper said he would certainly favor such a move provided the CAA would approve the further delay.

Mayor Henry Sears said he did not feel it fair for the commission to take any further action without putting the issue before the voters of a project to be operated completely by the city.

The interest displayed by voters in the city election, with a total vote of 668, contrasted markedly with past city elections when as few as 47 voters turned out.

In presenting the $100,000 bond proposals, the commissioners said they feel that the bonds can be issued and paid for without any increase in the present tax rates or valuations.

Cotton Yield Set At 15,974 Bales

Hereford area cotton fields have yielded 15,974 bales during the ginning season just ended with wind-up operations now in process at the four gins of this area.

Of these gin totals, more than 9,000 bales are estimated to have come from Deaf Smith County's cotton acreage for 1956.

Growing conditions during the past season produced high quality lint for which top prices were paid. Ginner's estimate that the average price paid per bale was $150.

Gross income for the 1956 cotton crop is expected to total $2 million, according to figures in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office.

Forrest To Head Newly Appointed School Advisors

Leo Forrest was elected to head the new citizens advisory committee on school building needs and finance during the groups first meeting on Monday night in the high school library.

A steering committee to be made-up of Robert Wagoner, the school board president, Fryd Cunningham, schools superintendent, and Forrest was named by the general committee members.

Sub-committees and their members are: Auditing committee to study space and facilities, school enrollment and organization; Jack Renfro, temporary chairman, members Murphey White, Carl Straffuss, C. L. McBroom, Bill Woodford and Roy Clark.

An accreditation committee to study requirements for school facilities and their affect on the school program has Mrs. Claude McDougal as temporary chairman, and members Mrs. W. H. London, Mrs. Harold Beauchamp, Mrs. Owen Andrews, Mrs. George Olson and J. B. Noland.

A committee to study the financial structure of the school district and the affect proposed legislation might have on school finance is headed by Ed Line as temporary chairman, with Ed Loerwald, Lloyd Pool, N. D. Bartlett Jr., Harold Shearhart and John Douglas Pitman as members.

Dr. Emmett Smith of the teacher accreditation school at West Texas State College met with the committee as a consultant. In outlining work that members might like to pursue, he said that 6,000 similar committees are active in

The warden said bobwhites have been forced to feed in bare areas, with little or no cover, making them easy prey for predators.

Illness Is Fatal To J. B. Little; Westway Pioneer

A pioneer resident of the Westway Community, Jossie Bester-Little, 82, died at Deaf Smith County Hospital on Monday after an illness of several months.

Funeral services for Mr. Little were conducted on Tuesday at 4 p.m. at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Alby Cockrell, pastor, and the Rev. Grady Allison of the Avenue Baptist Church officiating.

Palibearers were Joe Landers, Elmer Combs, P. B. Sowell, Merlin Kaul, Clarence Morrison and Roy Lee Wilson. Burial was in West Park Cemetery with Gilliland Funeral Home in charge of the arrangements.

Born on Feb. 15, 1874, in Mississippi, Mr. Little was the son of the late Jack and Nancy Little. He and Miss Fanny Long were married in 1900 at Waco, Tex. Mrs. Little passed away in December of 1916.

Mr. Little came to Texas in 1885 from Mississippi while still a boy and to Deaf Smith County in 1923 from Clarendon. He was a farmer in the Westway Community until the time of his retirement.

Survivors include one son, Sam Little of Gunnison, Colo.; three daughters, Mrs. Fanny Rudd of Hereford, Mrs. Eula Weeks of Denver and Mrs. Mertie Griffin of Pampa; 11 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

Snowman Cake Treats All The Family

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

An edible snowman will be the life of a holiday party and beguile both small fry and older folk.

Showy and good to eat, our Snowman Cake has definite advantages. The materials for him are collected quickly, the cake base and frosting are simple to prepare and even unskilled hands can put him together. Best of all, he costs about $1 and feeds a crowd.

We baked the Snowman Cake on two racks of our oven — a batter-filled custard cup and square pan on a rack just above center; two bowls on the next lower rack. All cakes turned out beautifully.

To serve your snowman cake, give the guest of honor the cupcake head, then slice wedges from the next small round and so on until every last crumb is eaten. We served the Snowman with vanilla ice cream topped with a red cherry sauce that added more cheer in a holiday color.

SNOWMAN CAKE

Ingredients: 2 packages (1 pound and 4 ounces each) instant yellow cake mix, 2 cups water, 2 egg yolks, 3 eggs, Easy Lemon Frosting, red fruit-flavored ring-shaped candies, yellow and red gumdrops, semisweet chocolate pieces, peppermint candy cane.

Method: Grease and flour a custard cup, a 1½ quart heat resistant baking bowl and a 2½ quart heat-resistant baking bowl. Line the bottom of a square pan (9 by 9 by 1½ inches) with paper. Empty cake mix into large (4 quart mixing bowl. Add water, egg yolks and whole eggs. Beat until smooth and creamy — 3 minutes. Pour batter into prepared cup and the bowls, filling each 2/3 full. Pour remaining batter into prepared square pan. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes for cupcake, 30 to 35 minutes for the square cake, 45 to 50 minutes for small round cake, and 55 to 60 minutes for large round cake.

Turn cakes out and cool. To make snowman, place square cake on flat tray or board. Frost with Easy Lemon Frosting. Place large round cake on top of square cake (rounded side up) and frost. Then place small round cake on top of large round cake (rounded side up); and frost. Put cupcake on top of small round cake (rounded side up) and frost. Shape mounds of frosting at sides to resemble arms, and small mounds of frosting at sides of head to form ears. Use ring-shaped candies for eyes and mouth. Make bow tie at neck with yellow gumdrops and use red gumdrops for nose. Place chocolate pieces down front of snowman to resemble buttons. Insert candy cane through arm and put red paper hat on head — makes about 30 servings. Store frosted cake uncovered in cool place to prevent frosting from becoming too soft.

EASY LEMON FROSTING

Ingredients: 2 egg whites, 1½ cups sugar, ½ teaspoon cream of tartar, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, ½ cup boiling water.

Method: Put egg whites, sugar, cream of tartar, lemon juice and lemon rind in large mixing bowl; mix well. Add boiling water and beat at high speed of electric mixer until mixture stands in stiff peaks — 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 5 cups of frosting.

HERE'S A SNOWMAN CAKE both showy and good to eat.

SUPT. CUNNINGHAM ELECTED TO AREA PLANNING COUNCIL

LUBBOCK — Plans for an organization that can "turn opinions about West Texas school operations into facts" will be drawn up by a five-man committee elected by school administrators meeting at Texas Tech.

The school executives authorized the committee to outline tentative organization, financing and program for a West Texas School Study Council.

The Council would give school administrators opportunities for discussion of common problems. It also would provide a center for research on those problems.

Cunningham Named

Named to the planning committee are Superintendents T. A. Roach, Andrews; Weldon Marcom, Levelland; and Fred Cunningham, Hereford; and Dr. Morris Wallace, Tech education department head.

That committee was authorized to name a fifth member chosen from the Tech faculty.

The committee will report its findings to a meeting of West Texas School administrators Jan. 29 at Tech.

Dear To Budget

In discussions preceding formation of the planning committee, the school executives agreed that "flying by the seats of their pants" was costing their schools dearly in time, money and efficiency.

"We're more likely to solve our problems with facts than with opinions," Roach pointed out in urging the establishment of a research program.

"We've got to take a long look at West Texas school problems before we can hope to make real progress in eliminating the myriad of everyday problems which are taking so much time," Marcom said.

He added that "Public schools are being challenged to perform at even higher levels by a public that is becoming more and more aware of its schools and their programs."

Suggests Idea Pool

Cunningham pointed out the need for the schoolmen to pool ideas on problems and turn those ideas over to personnel who have time for research.

Dr. Wallace presided at the meeting in the Tech Union Building.

If established at Tech, the center would have access to consult-

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment — on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars.

This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

SCALE OF PRICES

 Children under 12 are weighed when they enter and charged a cent for each pound they weigh before eating.

Pity The Harried Salesgirls

Who has her Christmas shopping completed by Thanksgiving?
 Answer: the salesgirl.
 For her, that Christmas feeling comes both early and late—before Thanksgiving when often by ruling in the larger department stores she does her own gift buying and on Christmas Eve when the last laden customer staggers out into the street.
 In between comes the big rush that works up to a back-breaking, feet-and-head-aching crescendo the last week before the holiday. So when you groan at the prospect of your Christmas shopping just think of her—the girl who has to deal with the rush eight hours a day, every working day.
 Trying to bring a happy Christmas to the salesgirl should be the good resolution of every shopper. And it wouldn't be a purely altruistic one either, for the person who does will automatically lighten his own burden.
 Here are some suggestions from Lyn Phillips, head of a Christmas Club for men shoppers. She says: "The basic rules for a considerate Christmas shopper are simple: do your shopping early, and bring a list."

So take pencil, paper and a little time off from your daily round to list each person from your nearest and dearest to the most distant acquaintance who must be remembered. Then mark off, as nearly as possible, the type and price of the gifts for each. If they are in the clothing line check on color and size, and if you want the store to mail them get the full correct address.
Accuracy Is Vital.
 Shopping around the Christmas displays, without bothering the salesgirls, may help you finalize your ideas. Then you are ready for the great assault.
 When you have a large order for one department it may simplify the whole matter if you hand in the details—make sure they are absolutely accurate—so the gifts can be wrapped at a less hectic time.
 In 15 years on the selling end of all kinds of products, Miss Phillips has found that people who employ such tactics are the easiest to serve and the most satisfied.
 If you cannot conform to the idealistic policy of knowing precisely what you want, without having the salesgirl show you alternatives, the earlier you shop the better.

What the Girls Say
 Just how hard it is on the salesgirls can be judged from some of their remarks. Said one, in the department: "Dates are out for me during nearly the whole shopping period before Christmas. All I can do when the day is over is flop down and sleep it off."

 And another: "The only way I can keep going is to have a massage twice a week. It helps me relax and recuperate."
 But their feelings towards you, the customer, are not too harsh. The general consensus is that even if you are a little inconsiderate and impatient occasionally, you are rarely rude. Difficult men are less frequent than demanding women, but when a man is difficult he makes up for about four female counterparts.

Christmas Pageant Idea Spreads Across Nation

By ROBERT E. VOGES

HASTINGS, Mich. (AP)—It is a Saturday night a few weeks before Christmas.

Ordinarily, it would be one of the big shopping nights of the year for merchants on the main street.

But all the stores are shuttered. Neon lights are turned off. Store windows are filled with religious displays instead of Christmas merchandise.

All commercial enterprises are shut down as the town stages its Christmas pageant.

Floats in a parade depict the story of the Nativity and church choirs lead the mass singing of Christmas carols.

The normal 6,400 population of Hastings is swollen to more than 20,000 for the pageant, an annual event.

There isn't a Santa Claus in sight all evening and not even the jingle of a single cash register can be heard on what normally would be one of the harvest nights for local merchants.

The event is sponsored by Chamber of Commerce. Originator of the idea was Philip Schubert, secretary-manager of the chamber.

"Even the merchants felt that Christmas was becoming too commercial," Schubert said. "What we tried to do was remove all the commercialism associated with it for one night."

Some of the merchants were skeptical at first. So were leaders of the church groups, asked to cooperate in the pageant. But Schubert plugged away with his explanation of the idea.

When the stores agreed to a complete shutdown on a busy Saturday night the churches were convinced and all 14 denominations in the town went to work on the project.

Schubert said the idea received unanimous approval.

Chambers of Commerce in Canton and Dayton, Ohio, Traverse City and Sturgis, Mich., Whittier, Cal., and Renton, Wash., wrote to say they were planning similar pageants.

A number of persons also wrote to say they planned to approach their local chambers or some other civic organization to suggest a similar event.

"The amazing thing to me," Schubert said, "was the willingness of people to work on the project. They didn't have to be asked. They came to the office, phoned, or wrote, offering their services. Believe me, that doesn't happen very often."

Samuels Home Is Damaged By Fire

A residence occupied by the Raymond Samuels family, colored, was seriously damaged by fire on Sunday afternoon, according to a report by Clay Angelo of the Hereford Fire Department. Both the exterior and interior of the house, located at 301 Whittier, were damaged by the fire of undetermined origin.

Mrs. Corinne Neely of the Red Cross here has been receiving food, clothing, bedding, dishes and other articles to be given to the family of seven children and the parents.

The ages of the boys were given as nine, seven, five and three years and those of the girls as seven and two years and six months. Other clothing and furniture will be picked up if the office of Mrs. Neely is notified.

Big Rattlers Hit By Drouth, Take To Gulf Beaches

ROCKPORT, Dec. 19 — Surf bathing rattlesnakes, routed by the inland drouth, have been providing a few extra bargains for anglers probing the beaches along Matagorda Island, according to Capt. Pug Mullinax, game warden supervisor for this area.

The captain frankly reported the unusual migration with some concern because he feared some unsuspecting surf fishermen might be bitten. He cautioned anglers to be on the lookout particularly in cover growth at waters' edge.

Mullinax quoted Foreman Leon Parker of the T. L. Wynn Ranch as saying the rattlers had moved to the surf "in unusual numbers."

In the semi-tropical coastal areas, the balmy winter days lure the surf casters in large numbers.

The captain said one man fishing at Cedar Bayou "tied into" a five foot rattler by casting over it while the reptile lay motionless in shallow water. He added that the snake was "as big around as a man's forearm" and that it put up a fierce struggle on the light tackle.

Hot dogs are traced back to a Frankfurt, Germany shop in 1559. It is also recorded they were sold to Coney Island vacationers in New York in 1871.

By Jimmie Gillentine

Time was when Old Santa operated in an orderly fashion. He was satisfied to merely drive a herd of reindeer and drop down the chimney. Grandma will tell you that he may have scattered a little soot over the place, but nothing to compare with the disorderly mess he creates in these "days and times." Worse still is the fact that he generally leaves a bad taste in your mouth.

Another thing, the kids are just too sharp for the old gent with the long white whiskers anymore. Junior knows good and well that it takes 2½ books of blue stamps to get his skates, 12 books of green stamps for mom's toaster and 4½ books of brown stamps for a genuine baby doll that walks, talks and wets the bed. After all, you wouldn't be very proud of the little man if he sat up until 12 o'clock Friday night pasting in stamps—and didn't suspect anything. One good thing, though, he feels like he really helped pay for the gifts.

He did eat a lot of the groceries, didn't he?

Honest, did you ever see anything like it? You go in from work dog-tired and enter the house expecting a hot supper. What do you find? The living room is cluttered with debris from one end to the other. Things you haven't seen in months come to light in plain sight on the floor. Drawers from desks and tables have been removed, along with those from the kitchen cabinets, and dumped upside-down in the middle of the room in the frantic search for trade stamps. Your wife hits that harried look. The kids count a few times, swab with a moist rag, then bang their fist down on one of those little booklets. There's no mistaking the occasion. The family is again pasting up stamps, which means that Christmas is drawing near.

Santa Claus may have the "new look," but he is on the job. We live in the Elvis Presley age of Yuletides. The slipping-of-hands as the stamps firmly take place may have replaced the old dream of jingling of sleigh bells which many of us hold dear in our memories but, all in all, the spirit of fellowship and goodwill still reign supreme.

The year 1956 also marks the passing of local Christmas cards as many of us once knew and enjoyed them. However, as you gradually get into the spirit of pasting down trade stamps, you invariably run across an old photograph or two which causes you to pause and reflect on friends, memories and experiences of the past 12 months. Or maybe it will be a telephone number scribbled on the back of an envelope, an old letter or the program from a banquet you attended. Like I said, we are living in a different age. We anchor our friendships and personalities to different things—but Christmas is still one of the finest, most noble seasons of the year.

Fire Chief Earl Phillips, among other things, is becoming quite a toastmaster. He got a big laugh at the annual Fireman's banquet the other night when he introduced Jack Wright and Hap Wiseman, two retired firemen, then added: "Take a good look at these two, boys, that's how you will look a few years from now."

Bernard Roberson and Glenn Watts are announcing the formal opening of Sunset Lanes, Hereford's new bowling alleys. This is quite a deal, new building and all. In addition to "going first class," there is also a general trend of interest toward bowling these days. The new alleys are something the community has needed for a long time. Congratulations, Best Wishes—and we predict a successful operation, combined with community service. The teenagers are already giving it a fit.

Everyone is still talking about the niceties in the new Hereford State Bank. I guess I am old-fashioned, but I just can't get used to that continual flow of soft music. The pieces they play now are OK, but every time I hear it, I keep thinking of that record entitled, "No! No! A Thousand Times No!"

If you live on Star Street and have been deluged with blowing feathers, blame Dub Reeves and Otis Hall. They got lucky a few days ago and bagged some crippled geese. Since Hall was moving, they went out in Reeves' garage to clean the birds and wound up with a good six inches of feathers over the entire garage floor. Grady Rogers also has a complaint. He says that I can talk about Don Zimmerman's marksmanship but, he (Rogers) is no slouch. He proved it by Orpha Click—for whatever that counts. Anyway, I may owe him an apology. Certainly my remarks were a matter of assumption, rather than accurate knowledge. However, it still remains for me to see, instead of hearing about, the shooting ability of any pill roller I ever knew. Grady might be the exception.

ABOUT THE WEATHER! Many, many people are asking me to go back into the predicting business. If you recall, I quit just before this long, dry spell. The longest, in fact, in recorded weather history of this area. Lots of folks are most unhappy with "Windy" Winburn and Dan Trew—and I don't blame them. On the other hand, the past 12 months have been the most pleasant I have known in the 20 years I have been in Hereford, just because people aren't blaming me with the weather. I knew it was going to be bad. That is the main reason I quit. People just don't like bad news, especially about the weather.

In 1957, however, things are going to pick up. We are going to break the drought. We won't set any records on moisture, but we are going to get so much more than in '56 that everyone will be happy. It might be a good year to get back into the business. I even figure we might make a little wheat without a lot of irrigation costs. Next year will be the first time a lot of newcomers have ever seen Deaf Smith County like this. The cycle will start changing—and things will start looking up. A few old baldheads like Paul Harvey and Reed Williams will be moaning about having the rheumatism, but they can't do much about it—except drink lemon juice. In 1957 and 1958, the Tierra Blanca will run bank-to-bank and Buffalo Lake will go over the spillways once again. No doubt about it: 1957 is the year in which the cycle will begin to change. Remember, not so good as the years to follow, but a big, big improvement.

A delegation was here from Brownfield this week looking over the Brand office. They made the mistake of putting a new roof on their newspaper plant and, without any escape holes, gas collected and literally blew their building into small pieces. They were asking about Clyde Truly and Robert E. Thomson. Curtis Sterling, publisher, said he sure missed Clyde. Truly, it seems, was the only man in Brownfield who played a worse game of bridge than Sterling. In fact, he flatly dubbed Clyde as "Brownfield's worst bridge player." He also mentioned Tommy Zorns, but said Tommy was not half as bad as Clyde, although no outstanding credit to the game.

Anyway, the Brownfield paper is being printed at Lamesa and they plan to be back in operation in a month or two. However, the explosion put a damper on their Christmas plans.

Two Indian War Thrillers On Slate Of Star Theatre

"Mohawk" playing Friday and Saturday at the Star, tells the courageous story of the early settlers who fought and died to settle the perilous Mohawk Valley. Scott Brady plays a young artist - frontiersman who dares to love the daughter of the chief of the Mohawks, even as the Indians are warring on his own people. The Indian princess is played by Rita Gam.

Also starring Neville Brand as a revengeful brave, the story shows massive battle scenes as the Mohawks fight viciously against their white enemy to protect their centuries - old hunting grounds.

Pillars Of The Sky

"Pillars of the Sky" is showing Sunday and Monday at the Star Theatre. The movie has plenty of action and is set against a religious background.

The story is about an Indian uprising which takes place when the army tries to make a road through their treaty-given-land.

Sgt. Emmett Bell, played by Jeff Chandler, is a hard drinking, insubordinate first sergeant who fights against his will, insisting that the road rights are in fine print which the Indians never read. The situation is complicated further when Calla Gaxton portrayed by Dorothy Malone, falls in love with Bell. She is the wife of an Army captain, played by Keith Andes.

The force makes a desperate stand in the mission, Bell fighting side by side with a commanding officer and two other men he does not respect, Gaxton a garrison soldier. A cynic, he doesn't like the missionary because of his christian ideals.

of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waits, also of Hereford.

The couple was married in Clovis, N. M., on Nov. 10 in a single ring ceremony.

The bride is a student in Hereford High School.

But at the end of the story something happens to make Bell change his views of life.

"FARMERS AT THE CROSSROADS"

The Surplus Problem

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the ninth in a series of installments presenting the views of the Secretary of Agriculture on farm problems and needs, and their solutions. The views expressed or implied are not necessarily those of The Brand or its editors.

By EZRA TAFT BENSON

The farmers' basic problems go deeper than the post-war price-cost squeeze. They are due in large part to government price and acreage control policies. These took away the initiative of management making it impossible for farmers to make the most efficient use of their machinery. Continued indefinitely, these policies would have driven free farmers to a condition of peasantry.

The high, rigid, price supports which have been maintained were never responsible for the high prices the farmer received during the war periods. Prices were higher than the supports and, in so far as their effect on farm income was concerned, the supports might just as well not have been on the statute books.

But their continuation after the war has had a most harmful effect. Their principal result has been to pile up, in government bins, surpluses of farm products that have hung over the market like the sword of Damocles.

In the summer of 1956, the Commodity Credit Corp. still had almost nine billion dollars invested in price-support inventory and commodity loans — and this in spite of aggressive disposal programs under which this administration has moved to market more than five and a half billion dollars' worth of surpluses. Without this disposal, the government would have more than $14 billion worth of surplus agricultural products on hand. As it is, warehousing charges cost the American taxpayer, including the farmer, $40,000 every hour of every day and night. Every minute your watch ticks off costs another $700 for storage of surpluses created by rigid supports and other artificial measures.

THE GROWING STOCKPILE

This nine-billion-dollar stockpile, one which has built up about one and one-half times faster than it could be liquidated, is a catastrophe to our farmers. Though it is captive merchandise, it is a part of the world supply, and as such has a depressing influence on the farm prices. Without excessive stocks, the 1955 net farm income would have been 20 per cent higher. Therefore, at least two billion dollars were lost by our farmers because of the surplus problem.

The surplus problem began with our price-supported basic commodities. Accumulations of these led to acreage restrictions. Nearly 30 million acres were diverted out of wheat and cotton. Many of these acres went into other crops causing surpluses of these crops until, now, nearly every farmer and rancher is adversely affected regardless of what he produces.

The acres taken out of cotton and wheat were shifted mainly into feed grains. This shift accounted in large part for the increase in total feed grain production, and contributed substantially to the surplus of corn now in Government hands. The resultant low price of corn and other feed grains encouraged added livestock production, which helped to bring on the low prices for hogs and feed Coach A. L. Shelton announced in assembly Wednesday morning that the Walcott boys basketball team would play Vega there on Friday afternoon.

Musical Program

Children of the third and fourth grades gave the chapel program on Wednesday. Several Christmas songs and carols were sung—"Jingle Bells," "Up On the Housetop," "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town," "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," "Aspy In a Manger," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "The First Noel," "Joy to the World" and "Silent Night."

The third grade presented a playlet, "Paddy's Christmas," taken from their reader. Helen Newman, announcer; Gay Wyly, reader; Keith Henderson, Paddy Bear; Kay Minyen, Mother Bear; Willie Bob Steward, Father Bear; Linda Bias, Aunt Bear; John Perrin, Uncle Bear; Terry Hutson, Helen Newman and Rex Williams, children.

In closing three choral readings were given.

Models in Show

Mrs. Roy Pruitt, Merry Kay and Royce Lee attended the home economics style show in the Hereford High School auditorium on Tuesday night. Royce Lee modeled garments in the show.

Deaf Smith County's sheriff, Lowell Sharp, and the fire marshal, Clay Angelo, were at Walcott on Wednesday morning to leave tickets for a benefit movie. Each ticket will admit one person when accompanied by a can of food for the show at the Star Theater on Saturday morning. Tickets were given to the pupils and many are making plans to attend.

New Folks Here

Another new family has moved into the Walcott community from Abernathy. They are Mr. and Mrs. John Troy Kerr and their five children — Geneva Faye, a sophomore in high school; Mary Eleanor, an eighth grader; Esther Mae a third grader; Harry, five years old; and Robert, four years old. The Kerr family is living on the Doris Buskey place about 2 1/2 miles east and one-half mile south of the school. We hope they like to live here.

E. M. Sessums and Bobby visited a short while in the T. L. Collins home Wednesday night.

SHIFLESS THIEVES

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Dee Sparks of Shawnee found that someone had converted his conventional car into one with "no shift." Thieves stole the gearshift and pin.

cattle in the winter of 1955-1956.

VICIOUS TRIANGLES
Uneconomic price manipulation stimulated excess production abroad. It encouraged substitute products to rob our markets here and in other lands. As expanded production abroad robbed us of traditional markets, it helped destroy our export outlets. It even attracted foreign production to our shores to compete here. Unless the basic problems are solved, these things will bring upon our farmers the most stringent production and marketing controls in history.

There is no government program that can provide a decent living for a family with a cotton allotment of four acres, a tobacco allotment of less than one acre, a wheat allotment too small for efficient use of necessary equipment, or a corn allotment cut down to size that the rigid 90-per-cent price support program would impose.

A cotton farmer with a four-acre allotment, a tobacco farmer with his half-acre allotment, or a wheat farmer with an allotment only 60 per cent of what he used to grow needs something besides 90 per cent of parity.

When a commodity gets into the fix of being produced for the government rather than for a growing market, its producer almost inevitably finds a ceiling placed on opportunity.

GOD WITH US

... this Christmas, in Bethlehem of Judea, in America and throughout the world. It is Hallelujah! And the bright star of hope has never shone brighter as we commemorate the birth of our Lord. The shepherd keeps watch o'er his flock as multiplied millions prepare to break the cover from gifts made possible through thought and treasure of others. As carols roll out across the night breeze in reverence to His name, may we never forget to thank God for Jesus, and for liberty and freedom to worship the Christ Child. His "name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace."
