BANKS HAVE FINE SHOWING IN OCTOBER STATEMENTS

Bank deposits in the Big Spring section are beginning to climb and this increase should continue the rest of the year.

In the report made to the U. S. Comptroller on October 10 the three national banks of Big Spring show combined deposits of more than $2,682,019; cash on hand $718,685; loans $1,719,424; cotton acceptances $354,703; commercial paper $242,628; total resources of more than three and one third million dollars. The deposits show an increase of more than $200,000 since the statement of June. The three banks of Big Spring have the following in their reports:

First National Bank: deposits, $1,017,699.37; cash on hand $351,155.14; loans $748,400.74; total resources $1,247,980.58.
State National Bank: deposits $1,023,900.07; cash on hand $206,793.02; loans $517,739.47; commercial paper $242,028.95; cotton acceptances $174,718.27; resources $1,222,679.71.

West Texas National Bank: deposits $640,419.09; cash $160,787.37; loans $453,284.25; cotton acceptances $179,985.56; resources $909,650.35.

WEST TEXAS PRESS ASS'N. TO MEET AT LAMESA

The second annual meeting of the West Texas Press Association will be held at Lamesa, today and tomorrow (Friday and Saturday), Oct. 21 and 22. Editors and newspaper men from all over West Texas will attend this meeting and an interesting two day program has been arranged. Several entertainments, including two banquets will be given in honor of the visiting newspaper men, by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce.

Editor T. E. Jordan and Jena Jordan left this morning for Lamesa to attend the Press meeting. Big Spring will ask for the next meeting of the West Texas editors, the invitation to be extended by secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Telling Others About Our County

The Big Spring Country Has The Goods... It Is Up to Us to Tell and Show the World That We Have

We know West Texas is going to be the cotton empire of the world because cotton can be produced here at less cost now than in any other section of the cotton belt. The coming of the mechanical picker and the ability to sled cotton in our territory will enable us to compete with the cheap labor of India and hence no section can wrest the belt from us. Furthermore our farmers can make cotton a side line instead of the main crop, and be the most independent producers in the world. There is no section in the world where dairying, hog and poultry raising can be carried out more profitably. We have an ideal climate; a very short winter, and never what you could call a severe one. It is not absolutely necessary to provide shelter for livestock though it pays to do so. Feed can be produced in our county or purchased at less cost than elsewhere. Some day we will plant more feed and fatten livestock for market instead of selling to feeders who make a big profit fattening our cattle and sheep on Nebraska and Kansas corn. Our maize if ground has as good feeding value as corn.

The poultry and dairying business in West Texas is going to attain vast proportions as everyone who tries dairying and poultry raising and find they can have steady cash income and get away from the old credit system are boosters for these profitable industries.

West Texas offers wonderful opportunities to the man who is not afraid to work and wants to make his home in a new country. In no other section is it possible for a man to pay for his land with the proceeds of one crop as has oftentimes happened in our own county.

The Big Spring country has the land and a cooperative effort to place our section before the home-sucker is going to bring good results.

Mrs. Robert Currie left Wednesday night for a visit in Dallas.

Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs Flower Show Will Be Held Nov. 5th

Mrs. Marrs, Official in P. T. A. Work of State, Speaks of Parents Obligation in Training Children

The broad program of the Parent-Teacher work in the state of Texas and in the nation, its interest in developing the schools, of providing wholesome recreation for the boys and girls, and helping them to make social conditions such as to provide a better world in which to live was discussed by Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs of Austin, vice president of the National Congress of Mothers, and Parent-Teacher Associations, and also Educational Secretary of Texas, at the First Baptist Church, Wednesday evening.

A short program was given preceding the talk by Mrs. Marrs. Following a prayer by Rev. D. H. Heard, Miss Evelyn Jackson, accompanied by the piano by Mrs. Omar Pittman, gave a violin solo, and Miss Lillian Higncock very sweetly sang "By the Waters of Minnetanka."

Mrs. Marrs was introduced by Supt. P. B. Bittle who stated that it was indeed a pleasure and a privilege to have Mrs. Marrs a guest in our city and to have the opportunity of hearing her discuss the Parent-Teacher work. Preceding the benediction by Rev. W. C. Hinds, Mrs. B. Reagan, prominent P. T. A. worker, gave brief history of the P. T. A. in Big Spring and also made an announcement concerning the school of instruction conducted by Mrs. Marrs on Thursday.

Mrs. Marrs, who came to our city in response to an invitation from the High School Parent-Teacher Association, spoke briefly on the big subject of P. T. A. and their work. She stressed the big thing of such organizations as being able to arouse the parents to their obligation of helping to train the child at home, and to keep in intimate touch with his work at school. It is wrong for the parent to send a "broken" child to school and expect the teachers to repair him. "Parents and teachers must work hand in hand for the welfare of the child," Mrs. Marrs said.

"Fathers are parents, and we should have more of them in our Parent-Teacher organizations," Mrs. Marrs stated. "If fathers will take an active interest in P. T. A. work more things can be accomplished and with less effort. Father is placed on the home pinnacle with mother in the Parent-Teacher organizations and they want him to take an active part in the association's work." Seven objectives of the home and school were enumerated and stressed as important factors in the development of strong characters and initiative in the child.

The school of instruction conducted by Mrs. Marrs on Thursday was well attended by members of the P. T. A. of the city schools as well as by many of the officers and members of the rural P. T. A. S. Two sessions were held; the morning session beginning at 10 o'clock and the afternoon session being held from 1:30 to 3 o'clock. At the noon hour a light lunch was served to everyone attending, with members of the local P. T. A. as hostesses.

While in this city Mrs. Marrs was the guest of Mrs. E. H. Hoppel, president of the High School P. T. A.

COOKING DEMONSTRATION HELD BY H. E. INSTRUCTOR

A series of cooking lectures and free demonstrations have been in progress this week under the auspices of the Texas Electric Service Company, and they have been well attended. An experienced home economics instructor has been in charge of the cooking school and in her demonstrations she used the Hotpot electric range. The classes are held from 2:30 o'clock until 4:30 o'clock each afternoon, and if you have not been attending these lectures come the closing days.

Because of the crowded conditions in the Texas Electric Service office in the West Texas National bank building, the cooking school has been held in the corner space of the new Elliott building, on Third and Rannels streets. A cordial invitation is extended every housewife in Big Spring and Howard County to attend these lectures.

NEW BUILDINGS UNDER CONSTRUCTION; MORE PLANNED

With the new Crawford Hotel of 150 rooms now nearing completion and splendid progress being made in erecting the new Douglass Hotel of 50 rooms and nine store buildings we have made a big step forward with a building program which bids fair to continue without interruption.

The work on the half million dollar or more sub station of the Texas Electric Service Co. is going steadily forward, but several months will be required to complete this immense project. Other buildings in prospect are:

Big addition and remodeling of the plant of the Southern Ice and Utilities Co., and the building of an up town station.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. is to rebuild their system and erect a modern office building.

The King Chevrolet Co. is to erect a two story fire proof sales and service station at the corner of East Third and Johnson streets.

Jim Allen to build a two story business block at corner of East Third and Rannels streets.

Lester Fisher planning a business just east of new Crawford Hotel.

C. W. Mitchell of Midland is ready to erect modern business building at corner of West Third and Gregg streets.

A feed mill is one of the needed projects in our city that is going to be built.

The opening of the new Edwards addition, the beautiful restricted section will give a new impetus to the home building program now in progress in our city.

T. & P. Railway, City and County planning a viaduct across railroad tracks on Gregg street.

Magnolia Petroleum Co. now laying pipe line across county.

Prairie Oil and Gas Co. to build pipe line across county.

Several gas companies are seeking franchise to pipe gas to Big Spring and one company is ready to start work as soon as franchise is granted.

Crawford Hotel Will Soon be Ready

A. J. Crawford, Owner, Here to Speed Up Work of Having Hotel Ready for Guests by Nov. 9

If ever an effort was being made to hurry up the completion of an undertaking it is now being put forth to complete this fine hostelry in time for the Methodist Conference which will be held here November 9 to 16.

A. J. Crawford of Carlsbad, N. M. and Big Spring, is here to see that all work is speeded up but not slighted. A big formal opening will not be attempted until a later date.

Just as soon as the painters complete their part of the work in the guest rooms, the carpets will be laid and the furniture put in place. A carpet man, an expert in his line is expected to reach here in a day or so to superintend the work of placing the carpets.

Calvin Boykin who is to be manager of the Crawford Hotel is here ready to take charge just the minute the hotel is completed. Mr. and Mrs. Boykin and two sons arrived last week from Carlsbad, N. M.

The opening of the Crawford Hotel is going to prove a wonderful thing for Big Spring and you will recognize this when you note results. The Crawford promises to be a beehive of industry from the opening day and many people are going to be attracted to our city to make their headquarters.

Big Spring can never do enough for Mr. Crawford for giving our city this wonderful and needed hotel.

COTTON RECEIPTS OVER 5843 BALES UP TO DATE

According to the records of Public Weigher J. W. Carpenter 4693 bales of cotton had been weighed at the local cotton warehouse up to Thursday morning. Additional ginings include 1300 round bales equivalent to 650 square bales, ginned by the Kelsing gin of this city.

Cotton has certainly been rolling in the past week; at the rate of from 250 to 300 bales per day. If more pickers could be secured and the fine weather continue there would be an even greater number brought in each day.

Hardware Dealers Convention Here

Many West Texas Towns Represented at Annual Meeting of Dealers Here. Banquet at M. E. Church

Hardware dealers from many West Texas towns attended the annual West Texas Hardware Dealers convention in session in this city on Tuesday, Oct. 18. Besides enjoying an interesting program the visitors were the guests of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce at a banquet served in the basement of the First Methodist Church, Tuesday evening. Joye M. Fisher was toastmaster on this occasion and announced the following program:

Vocal solo—Miss Lillian Hancock
Violin solo—Miss Evelyn Jackson
Mrs. Omar Pittman, accompanist
Welcome Address—B. Reagan.
Response—Claud O. Crane, Midland.

Frederick Pfaff of Fort Worth, field representative of Texas Hardware and Implements Dealers Association was the principal speaker of the evening and his discussion was along the lines of association activities. Mr. Pfaff outlined the advantages of being a member of the state association and urged all hardware dealers present to join.

A question box was conducted by Harvey L. Rix, local hardware dealer, and several questions of vital interest were discussed, such as: Is It Practical to Operate a Hardware Store on a Cash Basis? Can any Hardware dealer afford to sell without security? Which is more profitable to buy in small or large quantities? and others.

Mr. Pfaff also gave an illustrated lecture on store arrangement, display of goods and selling, which was greatly enjoyed. The light vein of the program came in a comical play "Selling the Hammer," which was directed by Mr. Pfaff.

SCENIC DRIVE AROUND MOUNTAIN TO BE IMPROVED

A committee from the Wednesday Luncheon club with W. V. Montin, chairman, is working on a plan to have the Scenic Drive around the Big Spring Mountain improved. This beautiful drive is one of the chief spots of interest in Big Spring and visitors delight in viewing our prospering city from the heights of Big Spring Mountain. The road up to the mountain and around it is in a terrible condition and it is necessary that work be done on it at once or it will be almost impossible to make this climb. This committee is anxious to have the road improved and in good condition so that the 300 or so preachers who will be in our city in November to attend the Methodist Conference can enjoy this scenic drive around Big Spring Mountain.

SOUTHERN ICE AND UTILITIES PLAN TO ERECT NEW STATION

The Southern Ice and Utilities Co. has recently purchased the property at the corner of Main and Ninth streets and tentative plans for the erection of a retail ice service station thereon are under consideration. If plans go through as specified the plant will be completed by March first, and in plenty of time to take care of the heavy demand for ice during the summer months. This service station will in a large way, relieve the congested conditions at the local plant north of the track.

An attractive and neat building will be erected at this place, one that will be an asset to our city. Besides the up to date building, attractive surroundings of grass, flower beds, sidewalks and other improvements will be made.

Detailed plans of the Southern Ice and Utilities Co. concerning this preliminary announcement will be given next week.

ANNUAL C. OF C. BANQUET TO BE HELD IN DECEMBER

The date for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet has not been set definitely, but at a called meeting of the board of directors on last Monday afternoon it was decided that it would be sometime the early part of December. At this time the election of a board of directors will also be held.

Judge J. B. Littler made a business trip to Lamesa Tuesday.

THE CALL OF THE PROPHET

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings 19:19, 20; Amos 7:10-15; Isa. 6:1-8

GOLDEN TEXT—I heard the voice of the Lord saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Chooses His Helpers
JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Call to Service

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Spirit of the Volunteer
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Need for Modern Prophets

A prophet is one who speaks forth the message of another. A prophet may foretell events, but his primary business is to speak forth God's message.

I. The Call of Elijah (1 Kings 19:19, 20)

1. His occupation. He seems to have been a well-to-do farmer, as there were twelve yoke of oxen in service when God called him. It was while engaged in his common duty that he received the divine call.

2. How he was called. Elijah cast his mantle upon him as he passed by.

II. The Call of Amos (Amos 7:10-15)

1. His occupation (v. 14). He was a herdsman and gatherer of sycamore fruit.

2. He was a prophet, not by succession nor tradition in the prophetic schools.

3. God called him from his humble life to stand before the king. God is not straitened for helpers. He raises up workers from unexpected quarters, fills them with His Spirit and sends them forth.

III. The Call of Isaiah (Isa. 6:1-8)

1. Isaiah's vision of the Lord (vv. 1-4). No one's ministry will ever be fruitful until he has had a vision of the Lord.

(1) He saw the Lord on His throne (v. 1). The supreme need of a servant of God is to have a vision of Him, even to see Him on His throne. Just now, perhaps as never before, we need a vision of the enthroned Lord, as the awful darkness is settling down upon the world.

(2) He saw the Seraphim above (vv. 2, 3). Their standing indicated that they were in readiness to do His bidding. Their equipment with six wings showed their ability to execute the divine will. In the divine presence, one pair was needed to veil the face from the divine glory, one pair veiled the feet which had been soiled in contact with the world, while the third pair was suspended in midair waiting to depart on the divine errand. As they waited in His presence their continued cry was "Holy, holy, holy."

(3) He saw manifestations of majesty (v. 4). As the holy ones cried the very doorposts moved and the temple was filled with smoke. Smoke indicates the divine presence in anger (Ex. 19:8; 20:18).

2. Isaiah's conviction of sin (v. 6). When he got a vision of the holy God he was smitten with a sense of sin. The reason that men think well of themselves is that they have never seen God. Face to face with the Lord, Isaiah saw himself as wholly vile. He realized that he had sinned in speech, and in in speech, then in heart, therefore the cry of despair.

3. Isaiah cleansed from sin (vv. 6, 7). Having been convicted of and confessed his sin, a burning coal was sent from the altar which purged away his sin. His penitential guilt was forgiven and removed.

4. Isaiah's call (v. 8). His call from God did not come until after his cleansing. The purged soul is the soul ready for the Lord's service.

5. Isaiah's dedication (v. 8). As soon as he was cleansed he quickly responded for service. The one who has been sanctified and made meet for the Master's service readily responds to the call of God. He did not wait to see the end from the beginning, but freely gave himself up to that service.

6. Isaiah's commission (vv. 9-13). Because of the unpromising outlook, Isaiah shrank from his responsibility. He saw the people steeped in selfishness, but in spite of that the Lord assured him that their blindness and sin would not continue forever. The people would go on in sin, be taken into captivity, and the land left desolate; but as the oak, after shedding its leaves is for a time apparently lifeless, yet it retains its substance and so can manifest its life, the prophet is given to see under this figure that despite the deadness of the nation a remnant shall be saved. The holy seed of the kingdom shall come to fruition in the last days.

WINKLER TO RUN WIDE OPEN!

"Wide open" production of oil in Winkler County is expected to start in the immediate future, according to well authenticated reports from oil men interested in that section. Cause of the change of policy is the reported end of an "agreement" under which production here has been restricted.

One of the oil production companies in the Winkler field has served notice that so far as it is concerned, the "agreement" is "off" and that from now on, it will drill in new wells as rapidly as possible. This will force the other companies to do the same, and will start a greater drilling activity than Winkler County ever has experienced.

There are about thirty wells in Winkler County now resting at the top of the pay. It is said that all of them can be drilled in within 48 hours if necessary.

Winkler now has a production of about 10,000 barrels daily average. Completions of thirty new wells probably would quadruple this. The new drilling which is anticipated as the result of the "agreement" is expected to further raise Winkler production to approximately 60,000 barrels a day.—Odessa Times.

HOWARD COUNTY FARMER EXPECTS BIG SYRUP OUTPUT

Ravages of the cotton worm, early frost or the low price of cotton are not dreaded by H. D. Covington, Howard County farmer, who lives six miles northwest of Big Spring. Covington is expecting to get 1200 gallons of syrup from nine acres of cane according to estimates by farmers who have had experience in syrup making. For this syrup he will receive $1.00 to $1.25 a gallon. The nine acres of cane will yield him about $100. The fertile land upon which the land is grown is priced at $25.00 an acre. The making of syrup by the farmers of West Texas is fast becoming an important industry.

HOW I MADE MY FARM PROFITABLE

I try to make my farm more profitable by improving my land every year. Poor land means poor farmers. And in this time of high taxes I cannot afford to have any "boarder acres" on my place.

My first step is to stop washing, fill up gullies and see that the land is well drained. I make good hillside ditches to stop the washing, filled up gullies with brush and trash, then drained the wet land with ditches. I fertilize the poorer places and plant them in lespedeza, then put a few cows on it. I have never had land that was too poor to pay me a profit when planted in lespedeza and pastured with milk cows. Cows and lespedeza will bring any land up to raise good crops in a few years.

On the land I cultivate I rotate the crops so as to have two soft-building crops on it every three years. First, I plant it in cotton, and in the late summer I sow bur clover or vetch in the middles. This gives me a cover crop for the winter and a green crop to plow under in the spring.

On my good land I plow this under in March and plant in corn, leaving every third row to be planted in soy beans in April. I have the cover crop on the poorer land until the last of April, when I plow it under and plant peas or soy beans for hay. The next fall after cutting the hay I plant oats and vetch.

By this system of rotation I am raising a third more cotton and corn on my land than I did ten years ago. I am raising plenty of feed for a flock of hens, a herd of dairy cows, and several brood sows, and these pay me an income as large as my crops do. By this rotation I have no "boarder acres" on my farm and each year my land is producing a little more than it did the year before.—J. Nelson in Farm and Ranch.

SICKLY, PEEVISH CHILDREN

Children suffering from intestinal worms are cross, restless and unhealthy. There are other symptoms, however. If the child is pale, has dark rings under the eyes, bad breath and takes no interest in play, it is almost a certainty that worms are eating away its vitality. The surest remedy for worms is White's Cream Vermifuge. It is positive destruction to the worms but harmless to the child. Price 85c. Sold by

WE MUST SHOW THEM

It is suggested that the biggest thing the Realty Board could do is to erect a high tower near the T. & P. depot and arrange with the railroad company to hold passenger trains here until every passenger can be taken to the top of the tower so he can get a view of the fine farming land which starts just north of the city, and extends for a distance of three hundred miles northward.

It is pointed out that folks going thru Howard County on the passenger trains or coming thru on the highways from the east, west or south have no idea of the agricultural possibilities or activities of our county because railroad and highways are mainly thru the hilly or broken section of our county.

It is suggested that since it may be some time before we can provide the tower, that visitors be taken for a trip over Scenic Drive or taken for a ride out thru the farming section. When you tell a person who has not had an opportunity to get away from the railway or highways that we have a great farming section, he is inclined to give you the horse-laugh until you take him out and show him.

MECHANICAL MAN RESPONDS TO TELEPHONE ORDERS

New York, Oct. 14. — A "mechanical man" whose faculties are at both ends of a telephone connection and whose functions imitate those of human workers Friday held the center of the stage of scientific achievement.

This modified automaton responds to the voice of a master as effectively as a servant to the housewife, a clerk to a broker and as mechanic to the garage men.

The machine, an electrical contrivance known as the "Televox," was demonstrated here by R. J. Wensley, engineer for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company.

The device has an extremely sensitive ear, attuned to voice sound waves that must be delicately carried to a mechanical "brain."

Orders are issued through a tuning fork into the telephone to which is attached a small loud-speaker. The telephone connection is made in the usual way. When the bell rings at the post of the automaton a ringing relay calls into action the equipment, which lifts the receiver. Amplifiers then take up the sounds that come over the wire, the different sounds thus magnified controlling different wires, and the current thus transmitting throwing on or off a switch, as desired.

The televox is contained in a box three feet high and two feet wide and consists of a series of sound filters, amplifiers and magnetic levers. It responds only to sound transmitted by telephone, and only to sounds pitched in certain keys.

In the demonstration at the first sound sent over the televox the automatic slave lit a series of lights; at the second, it turned on an electric fan; at the third, it switched on a searchlight.

Three of the machines are in active use by the War Department, stationed at the three reservoirs that supply water to Washington, D. C. There they watch over water levels, performing perfectly on a twenty-four-hour a day basis, the duties the same number of human workmen would be called upon to do in eight hours.

Mrs. J. I. McDowell returned Saturday morning from Fort Stockton where she attended a Presbyterian Conference.

WEST TEXAS HAS NO COMPETITION

West Texas has no competition as a paradise for homeseekers. Nowhere in the United States can such fertile lands be purchased at such low prices. Nowhere can you find land which will produce crops sufficient to pay for the land in one season. If the folks in Iowa who are unable to derive any profit from farming on their $200 to $600 per acre land, if the folks in Dakota, Minnesota and other northern states who are housed in by wintry weather six months each year, could be persuaded to visit this section of West Texas we know we would be unable to take care of the influx of new homeseekers. Take such a year as the present — and under the most adverse conditions, many a cotton patch is going to yield a third of a bale of cotton per acre — and this means the land is producing a crop which would meet the purchase price of the land.

There are two needs that we have yet to meet. On every farm we must have dairy cows, hogs and poultry so the farmers can make their living at home and have cotton as a cash crop. With this plan in force we would have the richest and best farming section in the world.

Next we must advertise West Texas to the world. Outside of those who really know our section, it is the most misunderstood land in the world. Most people have an idea it is a desert and that horned frogs and rattlesnakes are the principal crops. We must get the world to see West Texas as it really is — one of the greatest agricultural sections in the world. Where fertile land sells for less than elsewhere and where crops can be planted and cultivated with less cost and trouble than anywhere in the world.

If we can get our West before the people and persuade them to visit and make investigation there is not a doubt but that we can secure them as homeseekers.

We have the goods, but by reason of the great flood of adverse advertising our section has received at the hands of the ignorant, it is going to take a long pull and super-salesmanship to put West Texas on the map.

CEMETERY ASS'N FUND

Answer us this question — Have you donated to the Cemetery Association Fund? This money is to be used to pay the salary of a sexton for the upkeep of Mt. Olive cemetery and for other expenses at the cemetery. You could not contribute to a more worthy cause and no one needs your money any more than does the Cemetery Association. Even though you do not have loved ones buried there, you might cooperate with the committee who is working to keep the good work going that we might retain a sexton there who keeps up the appearance of the place. Don't put off — but send in a donation today. Any amount will be gratefully received. Mail the money or check to John F. Wolcott, chairman.

Healthy Live Stock Will Pay You Bigger Profits!

The wise farmer does not take a chance with the health of his livestock. He realizes that it is much easier to prevent diseases than it is to cure sick animals.

Therefore, he does everything in his power to eliminate the possibilities of contagion and any weakness which will mean loss to him. You can enjoy the same advantages as other prosperous farmers by the continuous feeding of Dave's Stock Salt. It abounds with the health building elements so necessary for proper growth and development of livestock.

You cannot afford to go another day without giving your livestock the protection which this wonderful tonic affords.

Protect the Health of Your Livestock

After feeding Dave's Stock Salt, for a period of three months you then receive a HEALTH GUARANTEE which protects you against loss of Hogs, Cattle, Sheep or Horses by disease while they are being fed this wonder working tonic. (Note: This is not represented to be livestock insurance and must not be so represented by any agent or representative of this company.)

FARMERS & RANCHERS STOCK SALT CO., Inc.
 Omaha, Nebraska

Cattle

Dave's Stock Salt tends to promote proper food assimilation, increase weight, and keep up the vigor of the animal. It prevents proper functioning of the milk making organs of the dairy cow and may be used along with Epsom salts, linseed oil or meal.

Hogs

Dave's Stock Salt is prepared to meet the requirements of an ideal chemo-mineral mixture. The aim is to prevent worms and tone up the whole system, helping to keep the hogs fat and increasing the rapidity of growth. Brood sows should be more productive, and the profits increase.

Horses

Dave's Stock Salt helps to remove nervous tendencies of horses and promote greater strength and increased resistance. Dave's Stock Salt also balance the feed and make hard and muscle, assuring steady and healthy work animals. It is especially beneficial during the rash season.

Sheep

The regular addition of Dave's Stock Salt to the feed of sheep and lambs should protect their health, and reduce stomach and bowel trouble to a minimum. Dave's Stock Salt helps to properly balance the feed and insures proper functioning of internal organs.

DAVE'S STOCK SALT

It is no trouble to feed Dave's Stock Salt. You just mix a little with the regular feed. Complete directions accompany each bag — safe, simple and sure instructions which eliminate any chance of going wrong. It should not cost you to feed

Dave's Stock Salt. The added profits gained from increased production should pay you far more than your initial investment. It will be easy for you to convince yourself. Buy a bag from your nearest representative — and realize more from your stock.

Pure Bred Seed For Distribution

Howard County Farmers Union Purchased Carload of Purebred Cotton Seed to Sell to Members

A movement to have a better grade of cotton in Howard County has been talked for many years and to encourage same the Howard County Farmers Union searches out the best and purest seed to be obtained and sells it to the members at just about cost. The association handles these seed on the most economical plan of distribution it is possible to adopt. Their sole and only purpose being to encourage the raising of a better grade of cotton in our county.

This year they find that Nueces County has had the best cotton and naturally the best planting seed. They have purchased a carload of "Blue Wagon" staple cotton seed, said to be the very best seed in Texas. Combining the highest ideals in cotton breeding with absolute purity and excellent maturity resulting from a heavy yield and no dead cotton makes this the very choicest seed. "Blue Wagon" staple cotton runs from 1 1-16 to 1 1-2 inch staple, depending on climate and soil conditions. This length combined with strength, uniformity and character of staple has brought thousands of dollars in premiums to the Nueces County farmers. This is a heavy producing, early maturing, drought resisting, high linting, big boll, staple cotton.

The Department of Agriculture of has examined the growers fields and they have been declared satisfactory for registration and certification so you are assured of a pure variety for planting.

A carload of these fine seed will be received in Big Spring within the next two weeks and all those wishing to secure some should place their order with T. E. Satterwhite or W. F. Cook.

Remember good planting seed is going to be mighty scarce next spring so don't be caught napping.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT

We, the officers and members of the Lode Star Division No. 90 G. I. A., of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers extend our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Walter Deats and Mrs. Chas. Jones in the loss of their dear mother, Mrs. Jennie E. Everley who was called to her home on high. Even though the hearts are breaking, keep faith with Him who knows what is best and you shall find everlasting life when you join your loved ones in that Home Above.

Whereas, the Death Angel has taken your loved one from home, be it resolved that we convey our sympathy to the grief stricken ones; and be it further resolved that our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days; a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family; and a copy be spread on the minutes of our lodge; and also printed in the Herald.

The light of life went down,
And sunk behind the hill,
The glory of the setting star,
Clear suddenly and still.

Fold her, Oh Father, in thine arms,
And let Him henceforth
Be a messenger of love
Between our human hearts and Thee

Many cities are selecting some certain trees and encouraging every citizen to plant same. The China berry tree is about one of the most outstanding and attractive trees to be found and Big Spring might do well to pick this tree.

The Brass Plaque
By CLARISSA MACKIE

(Copyright.)

EVERY morning at nine o'clock, Faith Lantry passed the antique shop, and she always found time to gaze in the window at the various pieces of china, glass, pottery, pewter, brass, or what not, occasionally finding something within her limited means as a newspaper writer to add to her cozy room in a nearby moldering brown-stone block.

This summer morning, the little old shopkeeper was rearranging his window. There was nothing but metal displayed. Such an assortment of tarnished silver, Sheffield plate, crusted brass and copper, green with neglect. Someone else crowded into the narrow window space but Faith did not look up.

"The lovely plaque!" she murmured to herself moving toward the door of the shop.

At that moment the shopkeeper was tapping a tarnished brass disk with a crooked forefinger. He glanced up at the tall young man in spectacles who grinned back cheerfully at him, and beckoned him into the shop. The young man laughed and ran down the steps into the dusty little place. As the door clanged behind him, he looked around and saw the girl with the big dark eyes who had stood beside him outside.

"The shopkeeper crawled out of the window and looked at his two customers in a sociable way.

"I'll bet it's the sundial," he nodded wisely.

"There is no price on it," said Faith.

"Five dollars to you, miss," said the man promptly.

She shook her head and turned away. If he had only said "Three dollars!"

"Five dollars is a lot for that plate," said the youth frowning. "It's a sundial plate, isn't it, and the marker is gone."

"I have the marker somewhere," said the other. "It's very old, sir, and there's engraving on it—if you can make it out."

"Let me see it, please," said John Wayne with more interest.

Faith lingered nearby, meaning to hold the plate in her hand if she could. She wanted that sundial that once had stood in some old garden, and "marked only sunny hours" as most of them declare. What fun it would be to clean it little by little, and under the crust of verdigris and dirt, suddenly see the polished brass shining out! What a brilliant corner it would make in her little workshop! The sundial would form the nucleus for that dream garden she would have some day—with a rockery where grew sweet alyssum, live forever, myrtle and other trailing plants. What was that odious shopkeeper saying now?

"Five dollars too much for the sundial, eh? If you both want it and neither one wants to pay five dollars for it, why don't you buy it together?"

A horrified silence fell over the dusty shop. The man, looking startled, turned dark red and shot a swift glance at the slender girl with the brief case.

"What do you mean?" she asked haughtily. "We are total strangers!"

The antique dealer was taken aback. "I'm sorry, indeed, miss, I beg your pardon. I thought you were two young people together, both looking at the sundial together in that way. I never meant anything."

The girl bowed a very sweet acknowledgment of the apology and turned to go.

"I might sell that plate for three dollars, miss," broke in the shopkeeper contritely.

Faith turned, tempted. "I wanted it for my garden," she murmured wistfully.

"Have you got a pedestal?" asked the man eagerly. "I've got one here—"

Faith broke into silvery laughter. "Excuse me, it is very funny, I haven't even got the garden, but some day I shall have one, and I was beginning with the sundial."

As she went away with the precious package under her arm, a little smile curved her lips.

She left the sundial in her desk, and went out to speak to the Sunday editor who had given her an assignment to write something about "My Grandmother's Garden."

"Here you are, Miss Lantry!" greeted Mr. Smith, the editor, "I want to present John Wayne, the landscape painter who is going to let us make some pictures of his wonderful gardens at Grasmere, to illustrate your article."

Faith was shaking hands with the spectacled young man of the antique shop. But John was speaking.

"If you will allow me, Smith, I'd like to illustrate that article myself—there's a corner of my grandmother's garden with a sundial that would fit in just right."

"We'd like nothing better, Mr. Wayne, but we cannot afford to pay your prices," said Smith bluntly.

"There would be no charge—just the pleasure of it. If you don't mind."

"If I don't mind! Hear the man—go now—why don't you show your garden to Miss Lantry some day?"

"I hope to," said John Wayne seriously.

John and Faith are still trying to decipher the writing on the old brass disk. The only word they have found so far is "Love," and as they have agreed that that is enough for the present, they are getting married on the strength of it.

"Beside," says John, there's a whole lifetime to learn the rest of it."

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OBSERVED AT GARDEN CITY

Fire Prevention Week, October 9 through Oct. 14, was observed by the schools at Garden City, and besides having a special program using Fire Prevention as its theme, a general cleaning up of rubbish in and around the school building was given. The pupils of the school made posters, practiced fire drills, and wrote themes on Fire Prevention. Following is one of the best themes submitted:

FIRE PREVENTION

By Albert Martin, English I - Garden City, Texas

"Beware of fire! A friend when respected; a foe when abused!" It is said that if the buildings which are each year destroyed by fire were placed on lots of sixty-five foot frontage, they would line both sides of a street from New York to Chicago.

Every year fifteen thousand lives are lost. The majority of the victims are women and children. The fire loss in America is five dollars for every man, woman and child. Almost all this loss is partly preventable or due to carelessness.

Therefore the United States with all its advantages is a nation of careless people. Carelessness is not a thing to be proud of. It is a great national sin.

The most common causes of fire are: carelessness in buildings resulting in defective flues or chimneys; improperly installed stoves and furnaces; poor wiring; carelessness with gasoline and kerosene; and with matches and lighted cigarettes. All these causes could be prevented. The greatest loss under strictly preventable circumstances is caused by matches and smoking.

The match is perhaps the most valuable and the most dangerous article made by man. Nearly five thousand flames are struck every minute! There is not one of these flames that would not develop into a destructive fire if it had a chance. Consequently, every match must be treated as a possible source of great danger.

Matches should never be left within the reach of small children, or where mice can get them. If one is dropped, pick it up. There are two classes of matches, those which may be struck on any hard surface and the kind which can only be struck on the box. They are the so called "safety" matches and are the best to use.

Rubbish should not be allowed to accumulate around buildings or in alleys as a lighted match thrown in there is surely to cause a fire. Rubbish should never be burned loose near buildings as it is likely to blow under them.

Many smokers carelessly knock the ashes from their cigars and pipes regardless of the sparks which fly away in the wind. When you see a burning cigar or cigarette stub, put it out. In this way you may prevent a destructive fire.

If you build a fire in the woods or a tourist park be sure to bury the burning leaves, or they may be blown into the forest by the wind, causing a fire undoubtedly.

Knowing these causes of fire, every effort should be put forth to reduce the fire loss. Let's start a campaign and do all we can to prevent fires.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our dear friends and neighbors for the many deeds of kindness and words of sympathy when we were called upon to suffer the loss of our dear mother. Your thoughtfulness in our hour of sorrow brought us comfort and we are grateful to each and everyone of you. We also thank you for the beautiful floral offerings. Waste Poisons in the Blood Make One Tired and Inefficient.

DO you rise lame and stiff? Drag through the day, listless and depressed? Evening find you all worn out? Have you given any thought to your kidneys?

Sluggish kidneys allow waste poisons to remain in the blood and make one tired and languid with often nagging headache, drowsy headaches and dizziness. ADDITIONAL ERROR 222,000 BALES IN REPORT CLAIMED

An additional error of 222,000 bales was made by the bureau of economics in compiling its recent estimate of carry-over and world consumption of American cotton, according to H. G. Hester, who asserts that the total published included for 1926-27 season in 500-pound bales instead of running bales. The error, in addition to the inclusion of 99,000 bales of foreign cotton copied incorrectly from census bureau figures, makes a total error of 221,000 bales too much in their carry-over, says Hester. The figures sent the New York cotton exchange by the bureau included a carry-over July 31, 1926 of 5,631,000 bales and ginning of 17,977,000 bales for 1926-27, making a total supply of 23,608,000 bales.

The consumption in 1926-27 was set at 15,777,000 bales, leaving a total carry-over on July 31, 1927, of 7,831,000 bales. In the above, secretary Hester points out, the bureau's 17,977,000 consists of 500-pound bales. The actual ginings reported by the census bureau were 17,755,000 bales, a difference of 222,000 bales. World cotton figures are compiled in running bales, not in 500 pound bales. Secretary Hester previously had indicated that 99,345 bales of foreign cotton had been included in the bureau figures.

That we should do unto others as we should have them do unto us—that we should respect the rights of others as scrupulously as we would have our rights respected—is not a mere counsel of perfection to individuals—but it is a law to which we must conform social institutions and National policy, if we would secure the blessings and abundance of peace.—Henry George.

The King Chevrolet Co. received two carloads of automobiles Tuesday.

Mrs. W. A. Reynolds left Saturday night for Dallas where she will select winter millinery for the Albert M. Fisher Co. Mrs. Reynolds will also attend the State Fair while in Dallas.

JAIL BREAKER OUTWITS PAIR HE LURES INTO BUSHES, FLEES

San Angelo, Oct. 13. — How J. S. Barrow, charged with swindling and jail breaking, coughed, he might have been lying in jail at San Angelo on Thursday, awaiting return to Big Spring jail from which he was a fugitive, but he did not cough and Thursday was being sought by officers whom he outwitted.

Barrow told officers here that he knew the hiding place of two alleged bank robbers. The officers took their prisoner and walked five miles through underbrush, and crawled another mile on their stomachs when Barrow said: "Wait here until I cough." The officers waited for an hour and then came home. They neither had Barrow nor the two prisoners who had escaped jail several weeks ago. — Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Shine Phillips left last Friday night for Dallas where he went to attend an executive meeting of the State Druggists Association. While in Dallas Shine witnessed the Texas-Vanderbilt game and also took in the sights at the State Fair.

Frequent Bilious Attacks

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks which came on me two or three times every month," says Mr. Ollie Miller, of Murray, Ky.

"I would become dizzy. My head would ache terribly, feeling as if it would almost burst. It felt exactly like a tight band was being drawn closer and closer around my temples.

"My stomach would be so upset I could not retain any kind of nourishment for hours. I would have to quit work and go to bed.

"My color was awful. I was yellow and my skin was drawn and dry. I did not have any energy—no ambition to work. I was just about half sick most of the time because of these spells.

"One day one of my neighbors, who has used Theford's Black-Draught for years, said he had noticed how bad my color was and thought it would help me.

"I got some Black-Draught immediately and began to take it regularly until I got my system clear of the poison I had been absorbing. I soon began to feel better and developed a fine appetite. I had no more bad headaches or bilious spells."

"How best can I trade in my present car for a new car?"

WHEN you are ready to trade in your present car for a new car, you naturally want full value for your present car. But most of all you want full new car value.

It will therefore pay you to consider varying trade-in allowance offers in the light of these basic facts:

- 1 Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value: i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 2 Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 3 The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.
- 4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 5 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.
- 6 Remember that you are making a purchase—not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply using your present car as a credit against the new car's purchase price.

SALVATION ARMY QUOTA IS $500 IN HOWARD COUNTY

Howard County's quota for the Salvation Army amounts to $500.00 this year and the campaign will be launched tomorrow (Saturday), Oct. 22 in Big Spring. The students of the Big Spring High School will raise this money by selling the Home Service buttons. Teams of workers will be placed throughout the business district of the city and they will try and meet everyone on the street and sell them a button.

J. C. Donley, representative of the Salvation Army, has been in our city this week conferring with the advisory board of Big Spring in making plans for this financial appeal in our community in behalf of this humanitarian work. This will be the only authorized Salvation Army appeal during the year and Howard County should raise her quota during this drive. Everyone knows the work of the Salvation Army, during the war, and all the good it is doing in establishing rescue homes, boarding homes for girls, industrial hotels for men, etc. and should contribute liberally.

The high school students of Midland conducted the drive in that city the past week and raised over $300 in the sale of Home Service buttons. Big Spring high school students should and can do better. Everyone help them go "over the top." Give until it makes you happy.

Members of the advisory board are: S. B. Stone, chairman; B. Reagan, secretary-treasurer; C. W. Cunningham, J. D. Biles, James Little, W. R. Purser, A. G. Hall, P. B. Bittle, and Dr. E. O. Ellington.

Are there more boy babies usually than girl babies? (Mrs. Del Rio)
Do young mothers give birth to more boys than mature mothers? (Mrs. Del Rio)
Is a birth certificate necessary for entrance to school in Texas? (Mrs. Sour Lake)
In what countries of the world has the most prevalent disease been the last few years? (Mrs. Rowena)
Germany has compulsory vaccination. Do you have any statistics showing the number of cases of diphtheria occurring in that country the last few years? What is the cause of pneumonia? (J. R. T., Corsicana)
Is the death rate higher for babies than for those over 15? (Mother, Lockhart)

ANSWERS
Based on records published by the Federal Bureau of Census for the year period, 1917-24, the ratio of male to female births in the United States birth registration area for the eight years is as follows:
Under 15 years, 122 boys to 100 girls.
15 to 24 years, 106 boys to 100 girls.
25 to 34 years, 105 boys to 100 girls.
Birth certificate is not necessary for entrance to school in Texas. It is necessary for entrance to school in a large number of other states. Birth certificates are necessary for so many things, that the parent will neglect having a child registered. Do all children of this column know all their children are registered the last few years?
The United States, Mexico and Russia are countries having the largest number of smallpox cases. The United States had 700,000 cases of smallpox during the last 15 years. Compulsory vaccination is the only way in which smallpox is successfully controlled. Smallpox is a communicable disease. It is caused by organisms that get into the air sacs of the lungs. There are two types, the milder and bronchopneumonia, and the more serious. A predisposing factor is the contraction of both types of disease. To prevent pneumonia, one should keep physically fit, avoid exposure to cold and wet weather, and give prompt treatment to a "cold."
The death rate for bottle fed babies is decidedly higher than for those that are breast fed. Every mother should nurse her baby unless directed by her physician.

ROOT ROT WILL FORCE CROP ROTATION

No one can drive through North and Central Texas without coming to the conclusion that root rot is a very serious menace to profitable cotton production. This year, as last, hundreds of thousands of acres some estimate in the millions have been destroyed by this fungus. Root rot is spreading rapidly through some of the best cotton lands of the State, and it will continue to spread until our system of cropping is radically changed.

Information on this disease has been available for many years. It has been published time and again in Farm and Ranch, in extension service bulletins and in the newspapers. It is known that it will attack almost any plant with succulent roots, but does not attack plants with fibrous roots. No cure, thus far, has ever been found, but it has been demonstrated that it can be starved from the land by planting of fibrous-rooted crops, keeping the field clean of weeds with tap roots. Yet farmers who lost 15 per cent of their cotton two years ago from root rot and 25 per cent last year, have planted cotton in the same field this year and are suffering serious losses. Many of them, no doubt, will plant cotton in these disease-infested fields again next year. They might as well plant their seed in concrete for all the profit they will get out of it.

The only thing that will save Texas as a cotton-growing State is a change in the system of cropping. Cotton must be rotated with grains if the damage done from root rot is even to be mitigated. Planting cotton in the same field year in and year out will increase the spread of the disease, and the more it spreads the greater the loss to the planter. There is none too much money in cotton for the planter even when the crop is normal. Reduce the returns by 15 to 35 per cent because of the presence of root rot and a loss is sustained that cannot be made up with high prices.

Right now is the time for farmers to take a good look at their cotton fields and make up their minds to plant cotton only on such lands that are free from root rot. Prepare the infested fields as early as possible for grains and grasses.

Not all dead spots in cotton fields are due to root rot. There may be other causes, but in the majority of cases it has been demonstrated that this fungous disease is more prevalent than any other, notwithstanding the general assumption on the part of many that it is alkali in the soil or that the dead spots are the result of lightning.

Balanced farming is safe and sane farming. It has been advocated for many years, but root rot and the boll weevil will apparently have more influence in bringing it about than the combined efforts of specialists and educators. — Farm and Ranch.

DON'T BLAME THE TEACHER

If your child is not doing his work in school or has not been making progress in his school work as he should, don't blame the teachers, for it's not their fault. When your child brings his or her report card for you to sign, you should look over it and see what he is doing, or better still consult your teachers. If the child is not doing his work "according to Hoyle" then get in touch with the teacher and cooperate with them.

We feel sure that the teachers in our school are ready and willing at all times to aid the children, giving them the best information and instruction possible. You and I have both been children, and know how children are. Of course some are worse about not bringing up their work than others. The parent can help the teachers in many different ways, and the teachers will appreciate your help. — Devils River News.

CHINESE ELMS THRIVE WHERE FEW OTHER SHADE TREES LIVE

For shade or as a windbreak the Chinese elm has proved its value in most sections of the United States. The United States Department of Agriculture introduced this tree nearly twenty years ago and now recommends it as useful and widely adaptable. It is particularly valuable in regions of light rainfall and extremes of temperature where few trees thrive. Trials indicate that the Chinese elm grows even more rapidly in the relatively dry area of the Middle West than in the moister regions of the Atlantic coast. Trees have weathered the severe winters of the northern tier of States and have made satisfactory growth near Yuma, Arizona, where few shade trees are able to survive the dry climate.

The elm grows with numerous slender, almost wiry, branches. The leaves are elliptical and smaller than those of the American elm. Leaves appear early in the spring and the tree is one of the last to lose foliage in the fall. It is free from injury by plant diseases and insects and grows rapidly. At the Fort Hays Experiment Station in Kansas, Chinese elms have developed in four growing seasons from shoots three feet tall and the size of a lead pencil to tree from fifteen to twenty-five feet in height, with trunks from sixteen to nineteen inches in circumference.

Several nurseries in the South and West have realized the value of this importation and offer plants and seeds for sale. — Farm and Ranch.

THE COW, THE SOW, THE HEN, PROFITABLE TO THIS FARMER

J. M. McGinnis who lives on a farm 14 miles northwest of Big Spring in Howard County is proving to his neighbors and the world that the cow, the sow, and the hen will bring a profitable income the year round. McGinnis owns a farm of 160 acres and the chickens, dairy cows and hogs are bringing in an annual revenue of over a thousand dollars. During the past twelve months Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis have sold $605.65 of eggs, $233.75 of frying chickens, $253 hens; and from three Jersey cows, milk and butter amounting to $145.76, making a total of $1,041.16. Besides taking care of these sources of income McGinnis is cultivating 30 acres in cotton and 40 acres in feed this year. This crop has been made with money produced from sidelines and a nice balance is left in the bank after all expenses are paid.

Mr. McGinnis also has 18 hogs on his farm and keeps them fat to supply their meat demand at home. Diversified farming is being encouraged in Howard County and many of the farmers have adopted this plan.

It Was the Lucky Bill
By GRACE D. GOODRIDGE

(Copyright.)

EVER since he had won $10 for correctly guessing the number of beans in a jar during a contest when he was in high school, Edwin Gray had been obsessed with the thought of winning prizes, or, in other words, of getting something for nothing. There was nothing in the shape of a contest that he didn't try, and he had a large range of subjects to experiment with, but Lady Luck wasn't with him.

Finally when one of the big newspapers announced they would give $50 for $2 bills of certain serial numbers Edwin immediately saw fortune before him. He began saving every $2 bill he became the possessor of, often at a great inconvenience, for he absolutely refused to part with one. He even went so far as to borrow a dollar now and then, and the final folly came when he drew on his bank account. He began to hope at last the contest would close before his entire amount of money became converted into $2 bills; his roll of bills became so large he had difficulty in carrying it around, but he wanted them handy so he could scan their numbers as the editions of the paper came out.

Now, Edwin had an aunt in the country who studied bargains in the papers as assiduously as her nephew trained for prizes, but, unfortunately for him, she seldom could get to the city to do her own shopping and delegated Edwin to do it for her. The last commission was a large order for kitchen utensils. Edwin said uncomplimentary things about relatives in general and his aunt in particular as he made ready to execute her errand.

The kitchenware department was crowded with women eagerly pulling over the various bargains when Edwin descended into the melee. He wandered aimlessly about, his list in his hand, until at last he attracted the attention of a tired-looking salesgirl who evidently felt it would be a relief to wait on a man, after her fussy female customers. As most of the articles his aunt wanted could be obtained from the one counter, Edwin felt that, after all, his aunt wasn't so very unreasonable, at that.

Of course the shy blue eyes looking into his, as they discussed the merits of the various kinds of double boilers, had nothing to do with it, but Edwin was sure he had never before found a salesgirl to be so pleasant and helpful. She even went with him to the other counter he had to visit and offered him advice about selecting the remainder of things on his list, then they came back to her own counter and she made out the slip.

Edwin gave a bill in payment that necessitated quite a good bit of change in return. He fervently hoped it would contain a lucky two; if it did, he certainly felt justified in keeping it for himself. He surreptitiously drew the list of numbers for the day from his pocket as he waited. He did not notice the little salesgirl as she also drew a singular slip from the pocket of her apron.

Finally his change came. The girl slowly drew the crumpled bunch from the carrier and smoothed it out, and somehow Edwin found himself watching her face instead of his change. As she smoothed out the last bill, a two dollar one, she gave a little cry and paled slightly. They both bent their heads over it and looked then frankly consulted their lists. There it was, a winning number.

Edwin felt a delicious thrill, $50 for which he had not done a single stroke of work.

Then he looked at the girl, who was regarding him with a wistful smile. "I'm so glad you got it," she said softly, as she passed over the change. Edwin grew bold with the sentiment of the moment and the sympathy in the blue eyes, and pressed her hand as he took the money. Then he collected his bundles and left the basement.

The grass did not grow under his feet as he went to collect his reward, but somehow the thrill he had expected to get was not there. Instead, he saw a pale, tired face and beautiful blue eyes, and the desire that had been in them when she had seen the lucky number.

At 5:30 that night Edwin's feet led him to the employees' door of the store where the little clerk worked. She looked more tired and pale than ever in her shabby little suit and hat. To Edwin it seemed the most natural thing in the world to fall into step with her and place his hand gently under her elbow at the crossing.

And it seemed the most natural thing also to have her tell him how she had been tempted to slip the lucky bill and replace it with one of her own when his change came. Also it seemed to Edwin that everything had happened just as it was destined to happen when he had the idea to slip 50 crisp bills in his wife's handbag as she shopped for furnishings for their shining kitchen.

Time

A small boy's mother went to a meeting at which she was to take the minutes. Before she left he asked her where she was going.

She replied, "I am going to a meeting to take the minutes." After she left he went to his aunt's house.

"Where is your mother?" asked his aunt.

The boy replied, "She went to the meeting to take the time."

work blasting out a trench in the mountains south of Big Spring for the eight inch pipe line the Magnolia Petroleum Company is laying from DeLeon to their tank farm at Midland.

Crews are working at many different points in an effort to get the line completed as quickly as possible.

The six or eight miles of rock to blast out in the hills near this point is said to be the most difficult stretch on the entire distance.

This pipe line is just a short distance south of the pipe line the Gulf Company built thru here a few months ago.

It is stated that a survey is now being made for the third pipe line thru the county. According to reports the Prairie Oil and Gas Co. is to build from Crane and Winkler Counties to Ranger.

At the Peer Oil Co. Test
A run of hard luck has delayed progress on the Peer Oil Co. test on the C. D. Reed ranch in the eastern part of the county, recently. At present a broken clutch is causing a delay. This test has reached a depth of 1500 feet.

R. E. Sweeney at all Get Producer
R. E. Sweeney and others who purchased the Fred Carey forty acre tract in the Chalk field under bankruptcy proceedings have secured a good producer in their No. 2 G. O.

Chalk. They topped the pay at 1634 and drilled to 1669 with the well making an initial production of 75 barrels a day. A shot with 60 quarts of nitro increased the yield to 200 barrels a day.

This well is located in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 124, block 29, W. & N. W. survey.

A Marland Test in Borden County
Quite a bit of interest is being manifested in the announcement that the Marland Oil Co. is to drill a test well in Borden County.

This test is to be known as the McDaniel No. 1, and will be located on the southwest quarter of section 156, block 25, H. & T. C. survey.

At World Co. McDowell No. 1

A depth of 3900 feet has been reached in the World Oil Co. McDowell No. 1 on the L. S. McDowell ranch 20 miles south of Big Spring. The drill continues to encounter a hard white and brown lime formation. So far the oil sand found in the old General Oil Co. McDowell No. 4, located 1 1/4 miles northwest has not been encountered in this test.

Officials of the World Company are expected to arrive from Fort Worth to make a decision as to whether or not this test shall be drilled deeper.

Mrs. M. Wobben and daughter, Mrs. Albert Wobben, are returning tomorrow for a few days visit with relatives and friends at Ranger.

IDEAL WEATHER CONDITIONS

No one is complaining of weather in West Texas these for it is simply ideal. The bright days are indeed appreciated by the maturing crops as well as humanity.

It would be great if we have five or six weeks more such weather.

Larger feed and cotton crops being harvested as a result of continuation of fine weather conditions.

If Old Jack Frost will only visit a month or more it will mean many thousands of dollars for our farmers. Frost and weather are two things we can't do without for the next year or more.

A United Clear store is going to be established in Big Spring, reliably informed.

LeGears stock and poultry dealers..... Cunningham & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. John Snoddy Watsonville, Cal. arrived the week called here by the illness of Mrs. Snoddy's brother, J. Crawford.

E. W. Douthett of Abilene looking after oil and ranch interests in this territory, was here a visitor in Big Spring the week of the week.

RECENT BRIDE SOCIAL MEETING CENTRAL WARD P-T ASSOCIATION HALLOWE'EN MOTIF EXPRESSED IN SURPRISE PARTY CHICKEN BARBECUE AT CUSHING RANCH FRIDAY EASTERN STARS WILL MEET TUESDAY, NOVEMBER FIRST COLLINS BROS. DRUG STORE HAS FORMAL OPENING

Featuring the decorations of the Halloween season a very pretty setting was provided for the entertainment of the members and guests of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Central Ward school on last Thursday afternoon at which time a social meeting was held. Officers of the P. T. A. formed a receiving line and greeted the guests, introducing them to new teachers of the school and new patrons. A delightful program consisting of a talk, musical numbers and readings was enjoyed as follows:

"How We May Lose Our Child" Rev. D. H. Heard.
Song—Mrs. Hopkins' room.
Reading—Lucille Rix.
Piano Solo—Mrs. J. M. Fisher.
Violin solo—Miss Evelyn Jackson.
Reading—Emma Louise Freeman.
During the business session a report from the chairman of the membership contest, Mrs. C. W. Cunningham was heard. She reported that 200 members had enrolled in the association with 15 honorary memberships, and that $150 in cash had been obtained in the membership drive. The money will be used for school equipment, supplies and other expenses.

Mrs. Agnel's room was awarded the pennant in having the most mothers present at this meeting, and they will be privileged to keep the banner until some other room has more mothers present than they have at a meeting. Mrs. Agnel's pupils also won the prize in obtaining more members in the membership drive, than any other room at school. Miss Antley's room won second place.

At the close of the afternoon a delicious plate luncheon was served to a large number of guests. The teachers of the school are receiving praise for the splendid work being done at the school and also for the delightfully planned entertainment on last Thursday afternoon. Their plans and efforts are appreciated by the members of Central Ward P. T. A.

SOCIAL-BUSINESS MEET CLOSURE "GET ACQUAINTED" WEEK

A social and business meeting was held at the Junior High school last Friday afternoon bringing to a close "Get Acquainted Week" which was observed by all of the schools the past week. The week was set aside for a time when parent and teacher should become acquainted and for the school patrons to visit the schools and see the work being done there. Mrs. Ira Driver, president of Junior High P. T. A. presided at the meeting Friday and several important matters came up for discussion. Mrs. Driver announced that Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs would be a guest in our city Wednesday and Thursday and that members of the P. T. A. would assist in entertaining her. Members of the Junior High P. T. A. furnished salads for the noonday luncheon to be served on Thursday.

The Junior High P. T. A. is paying the expenses of a girl who wants to attend school in Big Spring and is unable to pay her own expenses. She works for her board and the P. T. A. provides her with clothes and school supplies and other necessities. Mrs. Homer Markham and Mrs. J. L. Thomas are her guardians.

At the social hour dainty wafers and tea were served to the large number of guests present. From a prettily laid table Mrs. Ira Driver presided over the silver service, with Mrs. Chas. Yarnell and Mrs. H. Markham assisting. A good attendance marked this meeting.

ATTEND NORTH WARD HALLOWE'EN PARTY TONIGHT

North Ward P. T. A. will have a Halloween party at the north ward school tonight (Friday). The public is invited and urged to come. There will be different booths, fun for both young and old, fish ponds and other jollification. Everyone is urged to be there and join the fun. Be sure to see it all. Be sure to come and help North Ward P. T. A.

A group of young people assembled at the Ferguson home last Saturday evening and surprised Theo with a combined Halloween birthday party. Thomas Joe Williamson kept Theo away from home all afternoon and Theo was very much surprised when, on arriving home, he was met at the door by a spooky ghost and forced to shake a cold, clammy hand. He was still more astounded when on passing on the next room he was greeted by a chorus of "surprises!"

A hilarious time followed and various games and contests were enjoyed such as bobbing for apples, biting apples, chewing strings for marshmallows. It seemed almost like the old parties when they were about ten years old. Fortunes were passed and the guests read them aloud, some of them being more poetry than truth. Following the games refreshments of hot chocolate, sandwiches and cakes were served. Ghost stories were told during refreshments.

The guest list was as follows: Frances Ferguson, Dorothy Oxshere, Elizabeth Northington, Homer Eddy, Thomas Joe Williamson, Lucille Rogers, Mabel Eddy, Miss Cox, Donna Carter, Anna Mae Freeman, Irma Lee Gary, Archie Clayton, James Tripp, Harold Harwood, Curtis Driver, John Louis Biles, Garland Sanders, Howard Smith and Theo Ferguson. Reported.

JAMES EARL LONG HONOREE AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Tuesday afternoon between the hours of three and five o'clock, James Earl Long entertained a number of his little friends with a delightful party in celebration of his fifth birthday. The young tots enjoyed several games after which they were lined up and invited to march into the dining room. The dining table was centered with a birthday cake, topped with five lighted candles. The little guests found delight in blowing out the candles and making good wishes for the honoree. Those attending this happy birthday party with James Earl were: Jack Dumas, David Dumas, Billy Cravens, Getty Agnes Cravens, Verna Joe Stevens, Mac Long, Rosie Lee Norman, Francille Martin, and Sister Sirth.

EPISCOPAL AUXILIARY MET WITH MRS. J. O. HAYES

Mrs. J. O. Hayes was hostess to members of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mary's Episcopal Church on Monday afternoon. A good crowd attended this meeting and all of the ladies present found diversion in sewing during the afternoon hours. The work of making vestments for the choir is being done by the Auxiliary.

At the close of the afternoon dainty sandwiches and tea were enjoyed.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Gilmour at Fourth and Johnson streets at three o'clock next Monday afternoon. All of the ladies are invited to be present.

PIONEERS GUESTS OF MRS. J. D. BILES

Mrs. J. D. Biles was hostess to the members of the Pioneer Bridge Club Wednesday afternoon entertaining three tables of players. The Halloween motif was expressed in the details of the party and baskets of yellow and black filled with dainty candies were given as party favors.

Mrs. E. O. Ellington was successful in making high score in the afternoon's games, and Mrs. V. H. Flowerlin made visitor's high score. Unusually delicious refreshments were served at tea time consisting of a salad course, followed by Bavarian cream and cake.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Frank M. Gary and Miss Hazel B. Threatt, Oct. 14; Ed C. Tays and Miss Grace Charis of Ackerley, Oct. 15; Vic Schroeder and Miss Lorene Miller of Midland, Oct. 18.

CHICKEN BARBECUE AT CUSHING RANCH FRIDAY

A jolly party gathered at the Cushing ranch in Glasscock County last Friday evening, the occasion being a chicken barbecue. This happy affair was sponsored by Johnnie Price and Charles Culp of Big Spring. Johnnie was chef, ably assisted by D. B. Cox and others in preparing the chickens. These were cooked to a turn over a bed of glowing coals and placed on a long table in the yard with the trimmings of hot toast, pickles, olives, etc. After the feast the folks adjourned to the large living room which had been cleared for dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Cox treated the crowd to some good old time music with violin and piano and when they were tired the victrola supplied the jazz.

Those enjoying this hospitality with Mr. and Mrs. Cushing were: Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McEntire and sister Mrs. Clarke of Dallas, Misses Virginia McEntire, Hallie Cox, Wanda Lavelle; Dorothy Homan, Mary Lou Cushing, and Johnnie Price, Charles Culp, Wm. Cushing Jr. and Mr. Martin of Ross City.

CANDY PULLING FOLLOWS EASTERN STAR MEETING

A delightful surprise to the members of the O. E. S. Big Spring Chapter was a candy pulling at the Masonic hall on Tuesday evening, following the regular meeting of the lodge. This happy affair was planned by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Chas. Eberley, and a jolly good time was in order during the evening. A color theme of black and yellow was carried out in the decorations of the hall and favors expressing the Halloween theme were given each one. About thirty four guests were present.

NORTH WARD P. T. A. MET IN CALL MEETING TUESDAY

A called meeting of the North Ward P. T. A. was held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Plans for the year's work were discussed and preparations for a Halloween carnival were made. The carnival will be held at the North Ward school Friday night at 8 o'clock and everyone is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

The North Ward P. T. A. has seventeen active members with Mrs. A. H. Bugg president. A membership campaign is being conducted this week for new members in the association.

BIG SPRING STUDENTS WIN HONORS AT TEACHERS COLLEGE

Leo Forrest, son of J. A. Forrest of Big Spring, is a sophomore in the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon this fall, and recently at a meeting of his class Leo was elected to serve as president of the sophomore class.

Willie Dawes, a freshman at the college, has been elected to serve as vice president of his class.

Miss Albee Dawes who is a senior at the college, and a music major, has been chosen to lead the Elscholar Literary Society in the capacity of president this year.

MISS JEANETTE PICKLE ELECTED ASST.-MAN. HOCKEY TEAM

Denton, Texas, Oct. 20. — Miss Jeanette Pickle of Big Spring, a junior at the College of Industrial Arts, has recently been elected assistant manager of the hockey team in the Women's Athletic Association. Miss Pickle is a physical education major and has been active in athletics since coming to the college.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS TO OBSERVE OPEN HOUSE

The members of the Knights of Pythias and their families will observe "Open House" at K. of P. hall, Friday night, Oct. 21. A splendid program has been arranged. Refreshments will be served during the evening. Visiting K. of P. in city are cordially invited to attend.

EASTERN STARS WILL MEET TUESDAY, NOVEMBER FIRST

The next regular meeting of the Order of Eastern Star will be held on Tuesday evening, Nov. 1. At this time a report from the Grand Chapter meeting at Mineral Wells will be given and all of the members are urged to be present. Visiting O. E. S. members are cordially invited to attend.

Those who were absent from the last meeting on Tuesday evening, missed a real treat. Their presence was missed and the worthy matron was sorry they were not with them at this social hour. Be sure and attend the next regular meeting.

Mrs. Chas. Eberley, Worthy Matron.

PIED PIPER DELIGHTED SCHOOL CHILDREN LAST WEEK

The party for the younger generation given by the Pied Piper at the Albert M. Fisher company was wholly successful. About 3000 souvenirs were given away to the little tots and a conservative estimate of the crowd that thronged the store was placed at 2000, mostly children.

The entertainment was to start at four o'clock, but an hour before this time the sidewalk in front of the store was so congested with children that the party had to be entertained in the street. The passersby on this occasion were few since the old as well as the young enjoyed the Pied Piper's program.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AND BOX SUPPER AT LUCIEN WELLS

A Halloween party and box supper will be held at the Lucien Wells school tonight (Friday), Oct. 21, and a cordial invitation is extended the general public to attend. Everyone is urged to come and bring well filled boxes, and the men are invited to bring well filled purses to buy the boxes. A jolly good time is being planned and you will miss a good time if you fail to attend. The proceeds will go to the school fund to buy equipment and other things. The entertainment will be held tonight (Friday) instead of Saturday as was announced in last week's Herald.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS BANQUET

The Business Men's Bible class of the First Baptist Church had a banquet last Tuesday evening in the basement of the church. The men and their wives report an enjoyable time. Fifty five attended the meeting. The "feed" was the concluding event in a contest that had been running for the summer months. The program also marked the beginning of a new contest. Much enthusiasm was given the new contest by the "peppy" speeches made by Toastmaster J. Fred Phillips, W. I. Faust, T. R. Gathright, Mr. Sibley, George Gentry and V. A. Fuglar. The splendid music for the program was furnished by Miss Hancock, Miss Evelyn Jackson, Mrs. Omar Pitman and Roy Cornelson.

Mr. J. W. Higgs is the new president of the class. J. Fred Phillips and Roy Cornelson are captains of the two teams in the new contest. The class is for men only and is held in the Sunday school annex. Rev. D. H. Heard is the teacher.

ENTRE NOUS BRIDGE CLUB GUESTS OF MRS. T. REED

The members of the Entre Nous Bridge Club were entertained by Mrs. Travis Reed on last Tuesday afternoon and a Polly session was in order. In the series of interesting card games of the afternoon high score honor was made by Mrs. J. J. Hair.

Dainty luncheon covers were spread at refreshment time and dainty salads and lees were served to the two tables of players.

COLLINS BROS. DRUG STORE HAS FORMAL OPENING

Scores of people attended the opening of Collins Bros. drug store held Tuesday afternoon and evening between the hours of two and nine o'clock. A record breaking crowd visited the new business house and the crowd attending the formal opening has been estimated to reach the 3000 mark. Favors of silver vianities were given the women and young ladies visiting the store during the opening and the men were presented with cigars. Refreshments of hot cream, gum and cold drinks were served complimentary to every guest. While inspecting the store and enjoying refreshments the guests were entertained with popular music furnished by "The Little Ramblers," local high school orchestra. Beautiful roses, cut flowers in vases and baskets lent beauty and grace to the pretty setting.

The Collins Bros. drug store is an asset to our town. In the attractive new Collins building at the corner of Runnels and East Second street it is favorably located for much trade. The store is completely furnished with new equipment, with handsome show cases, display counters and ice cream parlor fixtures of oak finish. Besides carrying a complete line of toilet articles, drugs and sundries, the Collins drug store will have a prescription department in charge of a graduate pharmacist. The office of Dr. T. M. Collins is also located in the drug store.

Alfred R. Collins manager of Collins Bros. drug store, is experienced in this line of business and because of his friendly manner and accommodating ways he will win many new friends in the business world. He is a likeable young man and extremely popular among the school students having been athletic coach at the Big Spring High School the past season. He is sure to do well in business and each day he will add new names to his list of satisfied customers.

BIG SPRING STEERS TO PLAY ROBY TEAM HERE TODAY

The first real football game of the season to be played on local ground is scheduled for this afternoon at 3:45 between the Big Spring Steers and the Roby High School team. Suffering defeat at the hands of Lubbock and Abilene both class A schools, the Steers are recovering from injuries received in these games and are counting strongly on winning today's contest. Roby has a fast team and is one of the strongest contenders for the district championship. Winning from Colorado with a score of 32 to 6, defeating Reno 7 to 0, and whipping Merkel, the Roby boys are going to make it hard for the Steers in today's game. They are determined to win district championship and the Steers are determined that they will keep them from it, thus this little will tell the tale.

Some of the best players on the Big Spring line up are not completely recovered from injuries received in the Abilene game but they will be permitted to start the game and play for awhile. After a strenuous week of practice the Steers feel that their line up is strengthened, and they are in tip-top shape to meet the Roby eleven.

Preceding the game a parade of football players, pep squad and high school students will march through the down town section, out to the ball park on the east Bankhead highway. The game is called promptly at 3:45 o'clock. Tickets are on sale at 35c and 50c. Come and help cheer the boys to victory. They need your support.

FEDERATION OF MISSIONARY AUXILIARIES TO MEET

The Federation Missionary Auxiliaries will hold their regular meeting on the Fifth Monday afternoon of the month, which will be October 31 at which time they will be guests of the women of the First Christian Church. A cordial welcome is extended all church women to attend this meeting.

The Big Spring Herald

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice, Big Spring, Texas, under Act of Congress, May 8, 1897.

Big Spring, Friday, Oct. 21, 1927

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC: Any erroneous reflection up the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm, or corporation, which may appear in the columns of this paper, will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to attention of the editor.

Boys and girls poultry clubs, calf feeding clubs, canning clubs, feed raising clubs are worth more to a county or a community than any activity which can be promoted. The hope of better farming is with the boys and girls.

Folks from other sections of the U. S. can visualize hundreds of opportunities in Big Spring and surrounding territory which we on the ground overlook entirely. You note that new capitalists are quietly making investment here—they know Big Spring is sure for a big growth.

Howard County oil fields will have their day. There is little incentive to seek new oil wells with oil selling below the cost of production. We can afford to wait until the price of oil returns to normal before we endeavor to encourage more development in this territory.

One high powered local city builder guarantees to pep things up to such an extent that the population of Big Spring will be 54,000 within three years; the hotels will have to double their capacities and street cars will be on our streets—if they will give him funds to carry out his program.

A stock company should be organized to start a poultry colony to promote the poultry industry in this county. By this means we would be in a position to show a prospective poultry raiser just what it would cost to launch into the poultry business on a commercial basis. We must show others we have faith in the proposition.

Members of the Realty Board should point out to new home-seekers the big opportunities in dairying and poultry raising. Extra efforts should be put forth to bring dairy farmers and poultry raisers to the Big Spring territory where conditions are ideal for these enterprises.

Before you should expect others to build up your town you should show a willingness to put some of your money in home enterprise. A feed mill, a cooperative cold storage plant, a warehouse for cotton seed and feedstuff should be built by local capital. Our community needs them. They would pay big returns.

Yes! We Have "it"

Cook's Armorcote
The "Pool-Proof" Lacquer

It is the only practical lacquer for brush application over any surface by amateur painter or skilled craftsman. It will not "blow" or "peel"—it is odorless, quick drying and durable. It works like an enamel—levels up perfectly—and gives a hard, permanent finish that is like tile. Take your choice of twenty-one shades and clear—match any shade you want through lacquer to which a large piece of furniture costs only a few cents. Cook's guarantees it to give good results on furniture, floors, woodwork, porch furniture.

H. H. HARDIN
Lumber

Even the chickens ought to be glad that some 300 or 400 ministers are going to be our guests from November 9 to 15.

The Express company plans to inaugurate an extension delivery service in Big Spring along about November first.

A sidewalk building program should certainly be encouraged in Big Spring. If we are to make the growth and progress expected property owners must get in step. Sidewalks are needed in our city.

Any plan to make the feed crop worth more and any plan to encourage raising larger feed crops in our county is to be commended. When we begin to market our feed by feeding to cattle, hogs and poultry we will get just about double the price it now brings.

One of the greatest assets West Texas possesses is her healthful sunshine. Many other states and localities have learned it pays big to advertise this feature. Some day West Texans will come alive, advertise and cash in on this sunshine.

Accessible stock pens which can be used by the livestock raisers who must ship their stock to market has long been a big need in Big Spring. The Texas Railroad Commission will see that the livestock men get a square deal when a representative of the commission makes his trip of inspection.

The old dairy cow and a bunch of good chickens, if properly cared for will enable most any moderate sized family to adopt a cash basis for living expenses. There is always a cash market for cream and eggs. If you are sick and tired of the old mortgage—one crop system—try the dairy cow and poultry plan.

Forty dollars per ton may seem a high price for cotton seed, and cause many to foolishly dispose of all their seed. But cotton seed at two or three dollars per bushel is much more, and that is what many will have to pay for planting seed next spring. Good seed is going to be scarce, and Howard County growers should save plenty of seed for planting if not to sell.

If you want your hair to turn gray right quick, just watch the many narrow escapes when the flock of children break loose from the Central school building at noon time. It seems it must be necessary for a number of fast driven automobiles to hit this spot about the same time. Auto drivers who are addicted to speed should surely shun streets adjacent to school buildings unless they desire to figure in a deplorable tragedy.

"All things come to he who waits" may have been true at some time in the world's history, but we are inclined to doubt it. In the days of 1927 all things come to the fellow who is on the job hustling every minute of his time.

If you want folks to think well of our town, treat them courteously and show them a favor if within your power to do so. Many times visitors are in Big Spring with lots of time to kill, and they would appreciate your meeting them in a friendly way; and if you had the time to take for a drive out thru the farming section.

The Realty Board's promise to see that street signs are erected on all streets in Big Spring is gratefully received. Street signs and numbers on residences are essential—and especially so since Big Spring is growing so rapidly. To those of us who are familiar with all the cow trails in this section these conveniences may seem superficial, but to new folks in our city street signs and numbered houses are a necessity.

VISITOR FROM MISSOURI

John McCamon of Thayer, Mo., arrived Saturday night for a visit with relatives and friends in Big Spring and Howard County. Mr. McCamon is a brother of the late Mrs. C. A. Merrick. This is the first visit that he has ever made to Texas and it is the first time that he has ever seen any of his nieces and nephews. He is delighted with the country he says, but keeps expecting to see our cowboys and wild animals, so typical of West Texas, as pictured on the silver screen.

BRAINS COUNT!

The man who uses his brains will make his mark, whether his business be handling a shovel or managing a bank. The trouble is not that people are without brains, but that they do not use those they have. It takes brains to shovel a ton of coal into a cellar in a quick, clean, satisfactory way, just as it does to build a railroad. It is troublesome and often tiresome to think, but the reward is sure and satisfying. The thinker will accomplish more in a month than the plodder in a year, but nevertheless, add to your thinking industry. The

Novarro and May McAvoy in "Ben Hur"

BIG DRAMA SIMPLE EMOTIONS

Opportunity to view in color the magnificent spectacle of "Ben Hur" at the R. Lyric theatre Tuesday, Oct. 24. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's production in arrangement by C. B. DeLoach, Jr., will be the novel, "Ben Hur" by Lew Wallace. The novel, "Ben Hur" was the most popular book in the United States for years. Now, in the motion picture, the famous Sea Fight scene is a thrilling outdoor scene. The lovely romance of Ben Hur, and Esther, the Old World masterpiece in color. We see the Procession of Palms; "The Last Supper," a color replica; "The Pool and the Vale of Hinnon," the miracle healing the mob and the terrible catastrophe that toppled towers at the death of the final scene with the women kneeling for the Crosses is said to be the most beautiful scene of Ben Hur, and the Sea Battle is the outstanding scene of the cinema.

world. Ramon Novarro as the galley slave and charioteer, May McAvoy as the sweet Esther, and Francis X. Bushman as the cruel centurion, exert a potent magnetism on every spectator. "Ben Hur" is presented with a magnificent cast that includes such stars of the picture firmament as Ramon Novarro, Betty Bronson, May McAvoy, Francis X. Bushman, Carmel Myers and 150,000 others in support. Novarro's performance as Ben-Hur is a surprisingly vigorous and dramatic portrayal, even to his most ardent admirers. Bushman is an excellent Messala, and May McAvoy as Esther is wholly delightful. Of equal excellence is the entire cast.

To mobilize the citizenship, to sell their city is the plan of the Gateway Club at El Paso. Starting with the red caps at the depot and the men at service stations and garages, they are urging that every visitor arriving in El Paso be treated courteously and every citizen be trained to have something good to say about his home city when he meets the stranger. This is indeed a good plan and every city might well adopt same. Folks like a friendly greeting and like to meet people who have a good word to say of their town. Loyalty and courtesy are virtues which need to be cultivated.

BIG BUSINESS SATURDAY

The business houses of Big Spring were overrun with buyers last Saturday and one of the biggest days business in months was enjoyed.

The beauty of it was that most of the buyers were laying cash on the barrel head.

Many busy business days are due from now until the first of the coming year. The streets of Big Spring are far too narrow for the Saturday crowds during the fall season.

Editorial Eyes

By RUDY DOUGLAS

MENTALLY Alice Lanchorn filled the editorial room, even to overflowing physically she certainly did not.

However, what there was of Alice physically was simply beautiful from shingled head to dainty feet.

She always looked through her big mail eagerly for the letters marked "personal" and read those before taking up the manuscripts from hundreds and hundreds of strangers.

Her lips curled happily as she found one from Ethel Ward, her life-long chum. Ethel still lived in the town of her birth, in the Middle West, while Alice had been drawn to the East by the power of ambition. And now, Ethel was preparing for her marriage to Stanley Bradshaw in the near future and would no doubt settle down to domestic happiness.

"Dearest Alice," read the little-girl editor, "I am going to ask the greatest kind of a favor of you. Stanley is going to New York next week and intends shopping his poems about the various magazines. I don't know a thing about poetry—all I know about is dogs and ponies, so I can't say whether his poems are any good or not. Of course I've told him so much about you that he swears he knows you by heart, and I am sending him to you, poetry and all. Please don't be foolish and spare his feelings if there is nothing in his work; but help him all you can. He's frightfully nervous about it. I sometimes wish he weren't."

"Also, dearie, do be good to Stanley and let him take you about with him—he will be a stranger in a strange land, so be a sport and show him the sights. Hope you take to each other because you're both true blue. Much love—will write more later. Ethel."

Ten days later Alice received the card which she had been looking for and a moment later, Stanley Bradshaw stood within her sanctum.

They liked each other without hesitation—frankly, and instinctively. He drew forward a seat and they first had a long chat about home. After that he shyly yet eagerly brought forth his poems. Alice knew they were very dear to him and she hoped with all her soul that she would not be called upon to chill his ambitions.

Alice smiled softly and held out a hand. "Come back at about five—perhaps we can have dinner together and I will tell you all about the poems."

"It's too good of you," he said bashfully. "I need not tell you that more than half my life has been spent in effort and that I hope to win out."

Alice knew that her heart was thumping in dull turmoil as she waited for Stanley at five o'clock. It was a beat quite unknown to her and startled her with its persistency.

He greeted her with a breathlessness that proclaimed the fact that she had not been out of his mind for one moment since leaving her.

"I am going to talk poetry, before we go out," Alice said knowing full well that they could only skim the surface of any other topic until that subject had been thrashed out.

He thanked her with his eyes—meeting the glorious depths in hers with a long look of understanding.

"You have an exquisite poetic sense," Alice told him, "but if you want your verses to live you must make them breathe, throb, pulsate with something which you—well—I may be wrong but I feel that you have not yet held your head close enough to mother earth to get the intensity of her longings—the vast emotions, heartbreaks, love, tenderness—"

She held out her hands to him now as if to soften the effect of her words. "You have it within you to become one of the world's poets. I do not want to publish these as they are—you would be sorry."

Stanley never knew how roughly he took and held the hands she offered him. There was a fierce look in his eyes and he beat back with an effort the rapid flow of words that threatened his tight pressed lips.

"I know those poems are feeble, inanimate soulless things," he said. "I knew it when I stepped into this room this morning." He drew her suddenly against his breast and tipping back her face stroked the soft hair from her brow. He looked down into her startled eyes a long moment, then added: "When I left you, a grief so intense plunged through me as to make me physically ill, and all through the day my blood has been beating tumultuously like a lion on the cage." More softly he said: "I think for months I have been anticipating something tremendous. I believe in my heart that Ethel has brought this meeting about. It is she who has put your soul into my keeping with her constant reminders of you. She talks of you continually—I seem to have known you always—there will never be any other love in my life."

He released her and stiff stood speechless.

And out West, in rough knickers and heavy boots Ethel Ward tramped happily about among her ponies and dogs and by her side was a big man who knew no more about poetry than Stanley did about the breeding of ponies, but he did know that he and Ethel loved each other and that where there was a will there was always a way, and he was going to find that way even though Ethel was engaged to a poet.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Holiday Friday

When school opened last Friday morning scarcely half of the students were present. The majority of them had gone to Abilene to root for the Big Spring Steers, who played the Abilene Eagles there Friday afternoon. At the end of the first period, the students were called into the assembly hall where the principal announced that school would be dismissed for the day. Many of the students and some of the teachers, and even Bill Olsen, left immediately for Abilene to see the game.

Assemblies of the Week

The students of the Big Spring High School were called together on Monday morning for the purpose of introducing the members of the 1927-28 annual staff. The following students on the staff were introduced:

Editor in chief, Howard Smith; business manager, Theo Ferguson; social editor, Lucille True; asst. business manager, Val Williams; snap shot editor, John Louis Biles; asst. snap shot editor, Archie Clayton; class editor, Virginia Whitney; freshman editor, Nancy Dawes; athletic editor, Albert Bettie; joke editor, Joe Pickle; art editor, Elda Mae Cochran; art editor, Winelle Kavanaugh; sophomore representative, Mary Elizabeth Stedman, junior representative, Maywood Rix; freshman, Lucille Rix.

After each one was introduced his special work was outlined by the editor in chief of the annual. The members of the staff have plenty of enthusiasm and are certainly interested in their work. The business manager announced that there would be sixteen pages added to the annual this year and that it was sure to be a good year book. The entire student body will cooperate with the annual staff in making this year's El Rodeo one of the best.

Assembly was held on Wednesday morning for a short devotional exercise. An inspiration talk was given by Rev. R. L. Owen in which he compared the life of a human being to a common ordinary lead pencil. His talk was interesting, and brought a lesson home to the students who appreciated his talk immensely.

The assembly held on Thursday morning was a pep meeting to stir up enthusiasm for the game Friday to be played between the Steers and Abilene Eagles at Abilene. Even though Abilene did defeat us the Steers will ever cherish the hope of being able to defeat Abilene some day. Lucille Rogers, Carleton Davis, and Winona Taylor, the pep leaders, led the students in several songs and yells. "Plush" Yarborough, captain of the Steers, "Red" Coots, "Perry" Johnson, and "Ickey" Manuel made short speeches.

A pep rally was held Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A. and a large crowd gathered at the station to see the boys off to Abilene.

Latin Class Has Picnic

The members of Latin 4 class, went on a picnic to the new wells Wednesday afternoon after school. Games were played until about five thirty and then all gathered around a big bon fire and roasted wienies. Those enjoying the picnic were: Virginia Whitney, Mamie Hair, Katherine Bettie, Reba Leach, Ina Mae Bradley, Anita Musgrove, Louise Mandin, Dick Hatch and Aaron Gensberg. The picnic was chaperoned by the teacher, Miss Vesta Mosteller.

Sophomore Girls Have Picnic

On Friday, Oct. 11, after school, the sophomore girls went on a picnic at the new wells. One brought a kodak and took several pictures. A number of games were played after which a picnic lunch was enjoyed. Those attending the picnic were: Freddie Sellers, Lennah Rose Black, Elda Mae Cochran, Vida Robinson, Imogene Runyan, Edith Stedman, Winelle Kavanaugh, Janice Mellinger, Marie Vick, Fannie Sue Read, Lorene Read, Anna Pauline Jacobs, Hazel Jordan, Uda Teague, Opal Lain, Evelyn Walling, Jimmie Reeves, Margaret Bettie, Mary Elizabeth Stedman, and the sponsors, W. R. Scott Jr., and Vesta Mosteller. Reporter.

Gus and Bob Nunn of Brown County were here the latter part of last week for a visit with their sisters Mrs. Dora Roberts and Mrs. Ota Chalk and had a most delightful time during their stay. They were surprised to find that Howard County was developing into such a fine agricultural section.

TWO SHOWINGS OF "BEN HUR" AT R. & R. LYRIC EACH DAY

"Ben Hur" the world's mightiest attraction will be shown at the R. & R. Lyric theater three days next week beginning Monday, Oct. 24. Realizing that large crowds will attend the showing of "Ben Hur" the manager of the Lyric announces that there will be only 2 complete showings of this mighty drama of love and revenge each day, and urges everyone to come on time. Shows will start at 2:30 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. and the doors will open thirty minutes before the show starts. Everyone who can is urged to attend the matinee in the afternoon to avoid crowded conditions at night.

"Ben Hur" is a picture that everyone will want to see. It is not its complexity of emotion that makes this picture great but its depth and truth mark its greatness. Revenge to overthrow the Roman who destroyed the House of Hur and Love are the elements of appeal that make this story so engrossing. You can't afford to miss such a masterpiece.

THINKS THERE'S WATER FOR ALL

As an old time Texan, a man who has seen Texas develop from a buffalo range to a cattle range, and then to the grand State it is at present, I can't help but wonder why anyone would want to stand in the way of the development of the water resources of the State. I was glad to see in a recent issue of The Star-Telegram that a gettogether meeting had been held and that the chances are that a plan will be worked out that will be agreeable to all concerned.

I have made my home for 21 years near the tributaries of the Colorado river and can say that no river has a better watershed than the Colorado, and I feel safe in saying there will be plenty of water for all purposes. There will be plenty of water for the rice people of South Texas, though they probably won't be able to see water rushing into the Gulf as they have in the past.

As to West Texas, I think it is the best section of the State, and I am speaking from experience. I have been over the state from one end to the other, and believe that West Texas is the most productive area in Texas. It grows more stuff with less rain than any other part of the world, and with plenty of water available West Texas would make California take down her signs.

I hope to see every river and canyon with a dam to impound the water that is now going to waste.

M. W. Harwell in Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

TRAINING BOYS FOR CITIZENSHIP

Adults interested in the work of the Boy Scouts point out, in connection with the annual campaign for support of scouting activities in Fort Worth that increasing devotion to organized work along civic lines must be of vast value to the community in future years. Boy Scouts are being trained to take part in public affairs and to assist in public endeavors of all sorts. The result must be inevitably to increase public spirit and public ability among citizens of the next generation.

The Boy Scout movement, especially in its later aspects, has come to serve an admirable purpose in the scheme of public education and training. It is the great public school of citizenship. As in the ordinary schools, the child learns by doing the things necessary for education, the Boy Scout learns to be a citizen by practicing citizenship. Hardly a resident of Fort Worth but has come in contact with the Boy Scouts in some of their citizenship duties. They have been found assisting on public occasions, rendering invaluable service.

It is this factor of the future which makes the Boy Scout movement so important to the public. The American nation and every community in it is committed to a policy of giving the youth the best possible foundation for his mature year. The Boy Scout has put before him in such a manner that he does not for an instant lose sight of it the idea that he is preparing himself to be a citizen in his community. From such a school it is not too much to expect that we shall obtain our civic leaders of the future.

Because of the civic training alone, the Boy Scout movement is entitled to the full support of the community. — Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

A BLEND THAT HAS HELPED TO MAKE New Orleans world-famous FOR ITS COFFEE

TRAVELERS, who have sailed the seven seas, have for generations praised the good things they have found to eat and drink in New Orleans—seafoods, pastries and all of the fascinating creations of noted French chefs.

Above all, they talk about the wonderful coffee to be obtained in the restaurants of the Old French Quarter. Here they have found exquisitely-different coffee—full, rich, and satisfying; with a delicious, haunting fragrance, and a flavor that once tasted is seldom forgotten.

Today this pure coffee, blended to perfection, is being roasted and packed in air-tight vacuum cans, and sold over grocers' counters in hundreds of cities.

That Little Piece of Glass

By DORTHEA K. WHITING

(Copyright.)

"RISE and shine! Hit the deck! Lively, now!"

With these words a new day and a new life had begun for Algy. Only a short week before nothing had been further from his mind than enlisting as an ordinary seaman.

Blessed with a good education and an exceptionally good physique, he had rambled along through life, finding it one long sweet song. Left an orphan at twelve years of age, by virtue of a train wreck, he had inherited much more money than was good for him and, as it is apt to be the case, the finer points of his character had been corroded by the rust of indolence.

Peted and thoroughly spoiled, his spirit of patriotism had lain dormant through the most stirring times that his country had ever known.

"Let someone else do it" had been his attitude. But one day a little piece of glass had altered his whole life.

Driving his big racing car through a little village at high speed, a little piece of glass neatly slit a rear tire, a fact which Algy took cognizance of when he found himself sitting in a flower garden with the windshield wrapped around his neck.

As he regained his feet and attempted to remove his somewhat bizarre necklace, he heard a hearty chuckle which developed into a whole-hearted laugh. He tried to assume a dignified attitude and, turning toward the sound, he became aware of an exceedingly ornamental young woman, who was making desperate efforts to register an expression of sympathy.

Every wriggle the unfortunate Algy made, however, seemed to amuse her, so that her attempts at gravity were dismal failures.

Now, no man likes being laughed at, least of all one who had been pampered as Algy had. His attempt at haughty indifference was the last straw and the girl shrieked.

Eventually, she controlled herself long enough to assist him in ridding himself of his encumbrances. Then she insisted on his coming into her house to wash up. Aside from a few scratches, he was uninjured, and some minutes later, with a glass of milk and some delicious cake as refreshments, he was laughing as heartily over his recent plight as was Dorothy.

Their laughter had put them more at ease than a dozen conventional calls would have done, and they were soon chatting away like old friends.

She was a college girl, he found out, the daughter of a retired naval surgeon, and her mother had been dead for some years. He left, after an hour or so, with a cordial invitation to come again.

Something in this wholesome girl was very attractive to blase young Algy and, as would be expected, he paid court to Dorothy. But at last he had found someone to whom neither his money nor his social position meant anything. Piqued beyond measure at her lack of interest in him, he redoubled his attentions; until, finally, sitting in the vine-covered piazza in the soft moonlight, he asked her to marry him.

In silence she listened to him and then: "Algy," she said, "has it ever occurred to you that your country is at war? Do you realize that the liberty of the world is at stake? Can you conceive of any true American girl caring for a man who spends his time in idle amusement, while the country which shelters him is calling on her sons for help? When you have done your 'bit' come back again, Algy, and ask me. Then, I'll give you my answer."

Algy returned home dazed. To think any girl would refuse him! The little chit must be out of her senses. Still, wasn't there something in her argument? The logical result of this train of thought ended in a recruiting office, the following morning.

Eight months later a young, uniformed man, a sailor, turned into Dorothy's gate. Brown as a berry, with long lean limbs, he swung along, with a little swag, which told the world that he belonged to a fine body of fighting men.

Dorothy opened the door herself and stared as though she were seeing a ghost. Slowly her gaze traveled from head to foot and finally rested on the little gold chevron on the left arm. She opened her mouth to speak, but Algy was too quick for her.

"Well, Dorothy," he said, "I'm back for my answer, and please make it snappy, dear, for I have only 48 hours' liberty."

As he spoke he caught her into his arms and from the face hidden on his shoulder came a meek little query: "Do I really have to answer?" "You sure do, Dot. Here I've gone and joined the navy and got so salty folks get thirsty from just looking at me. Yep, I'll tell the world you're got to answer." And she did.

Framing Pictures

Black-and-white pictures should seldom be framed in brown or gold, but should be mounted on white or gray and framed in narrow moldings finished in dull black, olive or gray of a shade darker than the mount. But if the subject is strong in treatment, close framing, with a flat, wide molding of gray or dull green, is effective. Since close framing gives a picture a heavy look, it should be used only for large, important pictures. Small pictures look best mounted on cardboard.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Currie and son, Temp Jr., left Wednesday evening for a visit in Dallas.

"Cohen, I've been to the bank to borrow some money, and they say all I need is that you should sign to this note your name. Then I can have all the money I need. Ain't they fine!"—"Able," answered Cohen, reproachfully, "you and I have been friends for many years, and yet you go to a bank when you need money. Able, you just go again to the bank and say that they should sign the note, and then Cohen will lend you the money!"—Ex.

TWO COLONELS MEET!

WANTING MORE FARMERS

Howard County plans to spend three to five thousand dollars in advertising its advantages as an agricultural center, with the object of attracting settlers on its fertile unoccupied acres.

There's a movement that might be imitated by other Texas counties. We have in Howard one of the richest unoccupied agricultural empires in the world. Land is cheap, the yield enormous, and marketing facilities among the best. Why not farmers on our farms? That is the Howard County has, and it is a good one.

All is said and done, our country and continued progress brought back to the soil. Any country not based directly on culture is a futile and fleeting thing.

NATURE—TWO WAYS

A tourist came upon a small boy sitting on a rail fence by the side of the road and watching a great red glow in the western sky.

"My boy," he said, enthusiastically, "I am glad to see that you appreciate the beauties of nature."

"Yes, sir," assented the lad.

"There is nothing that equals a beautiful sunset," pursued the tourist. "Do you come here often to watch it?"

"That ain't no settin' sun!" replied the boy, turning a beaming countenance toward the other. "That's our school house burning down."—Ex.

"MASKED MARVEL" TO APPEAR AT RINK AGAIN

"CACTUS" PETE BROWN

Promoter Clyde Miller's next mat attraction will be staged Monday night, Oct. 24 at the skating rink, and he is bringing together two of the leading middleweight grapplers in this country. "The Masked Marvel" and "Cactus" Pete Brown, will swap wrestling holds and body weight honors of this state in a finish match the best two falls out of three. "Cactus" Pete recently met and defeated the "Masked Marvel" on the local mat and this clever grappler will again display plenty of speed, in fact enough to warrant the promoter to bring him back for a return engagement. Cactus Pete, like Matty Matsuda, is a reigning favorite throuth this section of the country and draws packed houses wherever he demonstrates his artistic work.

The Masked Marvel is one of the greatest boys in the game today. He has fought his way to the top and is recognized as a real tough boy. He holds no fear for any grappler and is ready for this match at any time. This clever wrestler has adopted a style of wrestling all his own, that appeals to the lovers of the mat sport.

A series of local preliminaries will precede the main event and fans are assured a grand and glorious time. Claud Thompson of Houston and Hames Martin of Snyder, and Otho Jackson of Big Spring and Fred Wilson of Midland will go three rounds in boxing together with local preliminaries.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

By
West Texas Chamber Commerce

Haskell — Marked improvement in quantity and quality of agricultural exhibits all over West Texas was noted by Exhibit Manager B. M. Whitaker in his visits to fairs and regional expositions of the section this fall. Many displays in community and sectional fairs compared favorably with the State expositions, he said.

Fort Worth — A comprehensive handbook of West Texas, presenting West Texas resources and development present and prospective, has been prepared by Roscoe Ady, for many years industrial commissioner of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, and an authority on West Texas development. A sizeable order for the handbook has been placed by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and that organization will keep a ready supply for distribution to West Texas chamber of commerce executives in its member towns.

Coleman — Coleman is at work raising finances for a five-story office building, decision for erection of which was reached in less than 45 minutes by a local committee. A man is on the ground also who in all probability will build a creamery.

Dallas — West Texas exhibitors dined with East Texans at the Adolphus Hotel the evening of Oct. 14 when the East and West Texas Chambers of Commerce held jointly an annual exhibitors banquet for State Fair visitors. Manager Homer D. Wade, Exhibit Manager B. M. Whitaker, President R. W. Haynie, all of the West Texas chamber represented that organization. Officials of A. & M. College and East Texas Chamber heads were also prominently identified with the success of the affair.

Spearman — The second annual district convention of the new Trans-Canadian District of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will meet here in 1928. Dalhart withdrew its application for the meet October 10 at the Perryton first convention, in favor of Spearman. An unbounded enthusiasm characterized the delegates which came from the north panhandle and three outside states. Much constructive activity is expected from this quarter with organization into a definite district.

Canadian — Publicity Manager E. H. Whitehead of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was here last week on the last lap of a ten-days tour through the Trans-Canadian District of the organization, the purpose of which was to collect publicity data. Material obtained by Whitehead will be prepared by the publicity department of the West Texas Chamber for use in the official magazine and for release to leading papers of the State.

Presidio — Presidio is one of the eight new towns which have come into the West Texas Chamber of Commerce membership since the last bi-monthly report. These towns include: Juarez, Mexico; Tornillo and Fabens; Hot Springs and Las Cruces, N. M.; Eola, Concho County; and Lakeview, Hall County.

Tulla — A new, 20,000 egg capacity hatchery will be ready for operation in Tulla soon. It is estimated that daily sales of poultry products from here amount to $1300.

Brady — Governor and Mrs. Dan Moody have been asked to attend Brady's annual Turkey Trot to be held here Nov. 11. West Texas Chamber of Commerce officials have also been invited to participate in the event, which will be climaxed with an elaborate banquet in the evening.

FORD'S NEW CAR SAID TO MAKE 80 MILES TO GALLON

Washington, Oct. 11.—The new Ford cars eagerly awaited by the motor world for the last six months, is being advertised in the orient as capable of running sixty miles per gallon of gasoline, it was learned here Saturday.

This unbelievable mileage, advertised by regular Ford dealers in China would make the new Ford three times as economical on gasoline as any other car in the world. It could only be accomplished, government experts here said, by a revolutionary advance in motor mechanics and would place the new Ford in a class by itself.

While this news was reaching the motor world via the orient, it was further learned that Ford dealers expect models of the new cars will be placed on display throughout the country within the next three weeks. If this display schedule is maintained deliveries of the new car will start about November 1.

The oriental advertisements, the first to be made of the new car, declare the 1927 fall model Ford will be larger, sturdier and lower-slung than any of its predecessors. It will be built in six models, the advertiser declared.

"Standard equipment will include self-starter, wire wheels, speedometer, windshield wiper, ammeter, gasoline gauge, oil gauge, dash light, shock absorbers and four-wheel brakes," the advertisement read.

"The engine will be rated at 34 horsepower (comparable to 21.7 horsepower in the Ford's chief competitor) to drive the car up to sixty miles per hour in thirty seconds."

As announced previously by International News Service, the advertisement said the new Ford would be of "standard gear shift type, with three forward speeds and reverse."

"The new machine will be equipped with tandem flywheel, dynamo, generator, irreversible steering gear, which will not deflect on rough roads, new force-feed oiling system, new water pump, heavier axles, heavier and wider frame and transverse type springs. The new model will have a wheel base of 104 inches."

STATE CONQUEST CAMPAIGN

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 17. — Recent results of activities of Baptist workers in the state Conquest Campaign indicate that "success week" which begins Sunday, Oct. 23, will be an outstanding success in the fall round up of the campaign, according to Dr. F. S. Groner, Executive Secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

During this week the eighteen district organizers appointed at the beginning of the campaign last December will direct associational activities through the hundred and twenty associational organizers, in a concerted effort, in support of which similar organizations among the B. Y. P. U., the W. M. U., and the Baptist Sunday schools will be active. This combined force is perhaps the most gigantic that the Baptists of Texas ever organized, and in magnitude and efficiency has been rivaled by few campaign bodies in any field in recent years. Not one of these hundreds of organizers will receive compensation.

While it is impossible at this early date to compile final figures on donations made to the campaign on Oct. 12—"One Day for God"—the many reports, letters and checks already received at Baptist headquarters have proven the day an unusual success financially. It is believed that donations for that day will exceed expectations by a generous margin.

Mrs. Ida Wolcott and daughter, Miss Elsie of Midland, visited friends in this city Monday afternoon.

Miss Emily Bradley left Saturday night for a visit with relatives and friends in Dallas and to attend the Dallas Fair.

THE MISS WISWELL

Miss Wiswell had just arrived in the world. She was about a year old and as yet she had no names of course.

At first she received a letter and the letter was written by a good friend of her mother's. She read the letter because as a little girl she clutched it with her little pink fingers and though she was not the most wonderful child in the world it was her first letter. It made it seem much nicer.

She was fat and good she had that other little sisters were who had a baby sister. She showed her letter with her.

Miss Wiswell—You see I have your first name and so I will let you. I know you had a first name you would like me to call you by it. I don't feel old at all—your mother and I want to be together and we remember so much of our childhood together. You can think of ourselves as your children.

If you can think of yourself as a child even though you have grown-up it does make you like the letter.

FREE HEALTH LECTURE AND COOKING DEMONSTRATION

The Ladies Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church has been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. L. E. Tillman, Dietician, and Food Expert of St. Louis, Mo., next Tuesday night to give the people of Big Spring a practical demonstration of the New Method of Cooking.

Mr. Tillman has been giving these lectures to the various schools and churches of Chicago, St. Louis, Dallas and other large cities and has prepared something new and unique in the art of cooking. Come and see him prepare food as endorsed by Mayo Bros., the Battle Creek Sanitarium and many of America's greatest Doctors and Dieticians.

Bring your friends as it is free and a delicious luncheon will be served of food such as potatoes, carrots, macaroni, etc. all of which will be boiled before your eyes without a drop of water. Learn how to fry without grease.

If you have children who will not eat vegetables, bring them along, and we will let you watch your own children eat and enjoy foods prepared the health way. Your interest in your own and your children's health should prompt you to attend.

An Eastern concern agrees to furnish the church kitchen without cost in proportion to the number of MEN who attend this entertainment; so the men are especially invited.

There will be nothing for sale so leave your pocket-book at home.

COLLEGE EXTENSION WORK TO BE GIVEN IN BIG SPRING

Colleges throughout the state have been offering work to be applied on degrees for sometime by correspondence. This work, however when applied in residence only receives one third credit. The Abilene Christian College has been active in giving courses by correspondence for sometime and for the last few years have been arranging groups in various cities for extension work and sending an instructor to lecture on whatever courses are given and hence allow the student full credit for the amount of work done. The same as if done in residence. This work is fully recognized and will be accepted in any college or university in the state.

There will be a meeting at the high school building in class room No. 21 Saturday, Oct. 22 at 10 o'clock a. m. when all matters pertaining to this work will be fully discussed by Professor Carter.

All who are interested in correspondence work or who want either to finish work necessary to Bachelor of Arts degree or simply to increase their education are urged to be present at this meeting.

This offers something never before offered in Big Spring and presents a golden opportunity to its citizenship, so don't forget the time and place and be there. J. D. Boren

DAIRIES BRING WEALTH

J. L. Lancaster president of the Texas & Pacific Ry. is a strong advocate of diversification and in a recent talk to the Dallas Agricultural Club stated that farm dairying with blooded-stock will do more to bring about a prosperous condition in Texas rural communities than any one thing. He stated the Texas & Pacific Ry. was tremendously interested in the development of the livestock industry in the territory his line serves.

"Texas will have to establish a strain of dairy cattle to put the State on the map as a dairying State. To aid in this our road is starting to distribute pedigreed bulls in strategic points along the line."

The last statement of Mr. Lancaster was interpreted by those present as a far-sighted policy for the good of all Texas. He discussed the one crop proposition as it has affected Louisiana in the sugar cane belt. Texas, he said, has the same problem to some extent and diversification is the only answer.

Mr. Lancaster related the fact that his road hauled alfalfa from the West Texas Plains around Peecos to East Texas for consumption by dairy herds. Commenting on this wasteful haulage he said: "West Texas ought to be taught how to feed this hay to cattle to get the most out of it, and East Texas farmers ought to be taught how to conserve their own forage for their own cattle."

Dr. and Mrs. Wofford B. Hardy on Wednesday of this week moved into the Louis Skalicky home in College Heights addition recently completed by E. H. Josey builder of better homes.

WELCOME CHANGES FOR THE BREAKFAST MENU

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of cooking articles by six of the country's best-known cooks.)

Bacon, eggs, toast, cereal. Mighty good for breakfast, but don't we sometimes get tired of them?

Hot breads are always welcome, and they don't take very long to prepare. And waffles make a big hit, although they require a little more work on the part of the cook. However, it's worth it, when we see the look of pure joy on the faces of the youngsters while they eat.

MARGARET ALLEN HALL

Berry Muffins

Blueberries, huckleberries, raspberries—any berries in season—are delicious in muffins. Miss Margaret Allen Hall, nutrition specialist at the Battle Creek College of Home Economics, gives her favorite muffin recipe.

1 cup fresh berries
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder

Sift the dry ingredients together. Cream the butter and sugar. Add the milk and the dry ingredients alternately. At the last, fold in the berries.

Always flour berries before putting them into the batter. This keeps them from going to the bottom.

It's always best to have a hot oven for biscuits. If you cook with a modern long-shafted oil stove, turn the flame until yellow tips appear, about 1 1/2 inches high above the burner area. This flame pre-heats quickly.

Golden Corn Muffins

Corn muffins, crisp and golden crusted, are delicious. This is how Miss Hall makes them.

1/2 cup cornmeal
1/2 cup flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 cup milk
1 egg
4 teaspoons baking powder

Sift the dry ingredients together. Beat the egg, add the milk and stir in the dry ingredients. Then add the melted butter. Turn into muffin tin and bake in a hot oven twenty-five to thirty minutes.

New Pancakes

Pancakes? Of course! Every family likes them, sour milk, and buckwheat. But have you ever tried rye pancakes? Delicious. The following recipe is contributed by Miss Lucy G. Allen, principal of the Boston School of Cookery.

Mix one cup each of rye meal and bread flour, one-fourth cup of sugar, two teaspoons of cream of tartar, one teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon of salt and one-half teaspoon of grated nutmeg.

Add one well-beaten egg and one cup of milk. Beat well and drop by spoonfuls into deep fat. Drain on soft paper and serve hot with maple or any good sweet syrup.

Rice Griddle Cakes

Rice griddle cakes have made a name for themselves down south. And there's no reason why folks everywhere should not like them. Miss Rosa Michaelis, New Orleans cooking expert, gives her recipe for them.

1 cup boiled rice
1 cup milk
1/2 cup flour
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon shortening
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Mix rice, milk, melted shortening, salt and well-beaten egg. Sift the dry ingredients and mix in the beaten whites of the egg. Bake well in hot waffle iron. Some of the modern devices require no grease in the baking. Serve at once.

Hot Waffles!

And where can you find a dish more enticing than waffles, served with rich maple syrup, corn syrup, or molasses? The following recipe is also Miss Michaelis'!

3/4 cup flour
2 cups milk
4 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon shortening
1/2 teaspoon salt

Sift dry ingredients; add milk to the yolks of eggs. Beat thoroughly and add to dry ingredients, now the melted shortening and mix in the beaten whites of the egg. Bake well in hot waffle iron. Some of the modern devices require no grease in the baking. Serve at once.

Many women set the table the night before, and have all cooking utensils needed for breakfast laid out to save time in the morning. This avoids much needless early morning confusion.

All stove users will be glad to know of a wick cleaner which fits over wicks, and removes all char and sootiness at a simple turning. Very inexpensive and saves hands.

Whiter Clothes

Did you know that clothes rinsed in hot water come out very little whiter than those that were washed in cold water?

Oil News From Other WT Fields

37 New Locations

Thirty-seven locations for new oil tests were made last week in 13 West Texas counties, the greatest number in any week this year, swelling the total for the last seven weeks to 141.

All but two were in the Trans-Pecos on the Edwards Plateau or in Far Western Texas. Pecos County again topped the list with 13. Crane County was next with six. Winkler, Jones and Howard Counties each gained three locations: Crockett County two and Borden, Dickens, Fisher, Glasscock, Scurry, Lamb and Loving Counties one each.

In Howard County: Howard County locations were as follows: Miley and Marland Oil Co. No. 1 Read, 1320 feet from the north and west lines of section 12, block 31, township 1 north, T. & P. Railway Company survey; Marland No. 1 Richardson Estate, 1320 feet from the north and west lines of section 12, block 32, township 1 south, T. & P. Railway Company survey, and Coyle & Concord No. 1 Dora Roberts, 1820 feet from the north line and 660 feet from the east line of section 156, block 29, W. & N. W. Railway Co. survey.

In Borden County: The Marland Oil Co. made a location for No. 1 McDavid 1320 feet from the south and west lines of section 156, block 25, H. & T. C. Railway Co. survey.

In Loving County: Lockhart Bros. made a location in Loving County for their No. 1 Fee, 4220 feet from the east line and 1660 feet from the west line of section 85, block 33, H. & T. C. Railway Company survey.

Other West Texas Counties: Lamb County's location was made by the Mann-Freel Company of San Angelo for its No. 1 Ellwood, on the center of the west line of section 9, block T, Thad A. Thomson survey. J. B. Mims and others made a location in Scurry County for No. 1 Koonman, 560 feet from the south line and 530 feet from the east line of section 220, block 2, H. & T. C. Railway Company survey. This also will be a 3500 foot test. In Glasscock County the California Company located its No. 2 Currie, 330 feet from the north line and 2210 feet from the west line of section 213, block 29, W. & N. W. Railway company survey.

Crockett Gusher Weakens

Gulf Production No. 1 Thompson section 71, block 2, I. & G. N. survey, Crockett County, which jumped Yates pool in Pecos County to the east side of the Pecos river a month and a half ago, when it created a sensation, flowing 700 barrels per hour, is reported to have dropped to four barrels per hour, 94 per cent water.

To Spud in Soon
Within two weeks, J. E. Williams

Amarillo oil operator, expects to have his oil well drilling rig up and ready to spud in near Fabens, he said this week.

Williams has obtained leases to 10,000 acres. He is waiting to get more acreage before announcing the location of his test well, he says.—El Paso Post.

Another Yates Well Shows Water

Water encroachment has appeared in another gusher in the eastern part of the Yates pool in Pecos County, according to reports from the field. This is the Mid-Kansas and Transcontinental No. 3B Yates, in the southeast corner of section 61 I. & G. N. block 1.

A half dozen successive tanks showed a raise of water content from 2 per cent to 15 per cent in a single day—Saturday—according to reports from the field.

This well is a virtual offset to the Marland Oil Company No. 1A Yates in the northeast corner of section 60 which has been showing water for sometime and which on last report was making 40 per cent, though radically pinched.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

FATHER OF MRS. M. E. BARRETT CLAIMED BY DEATH

Many friends in this city sympathize with Mrs. M. E. Barrett in the loss of her father, W. B. Mauldin, who passed away at his home in Blanket, Texas, on Tuesday, Oct. 4. Mrs. Barrett was unable to attend the funeral services of her father. Mr. Mauldin was a real Texas veteran and had already passed his 37th birthday.

W. H. Mauldin of New Mexico, a brother of Mrs. Barrett attended the funeral at Blanket, returning to Big Spring for a visit with his sister. Mr. and Mrs. Mauldin left Tuesday morning for their home in New Mexico.

Misses Donna, Adine and Agnes Carter arrived Saturday morning from Marshall where they were called by the illness of their father, Geo. C. Carter. Mr. Carter underwent an operation for the removal of gall stones last Monday and is reported to be getting along nicely. Donna left Sunday morning for Denton, where she is attending the College of Industrial Arts.

Save half a ton every year

This is the Charter Oak Coal Saver. The red tag identifies it. Look for the tag when you buy.

Think of half a ton of coal in one big coal bucket or on one great shovel big enough to hold it all at once. A lot of coal....

That is how much you can save this year and every year if you heat your home with a Charter Oak Parlor Furnace equipped with the Charter Oak coal saver.

The Coal Saver is an exclusive patented automatic damper which regulates the fire for you. It controls the heat in your home by giving you a fire which burns neither too fast nor too slow, but at a steady, even temperature.

The Charter Oak Coal Saver costs no more. It is a regular part of Charter Oak Parlor Furnaces. Let a Charter Oak dealer explain it to you, and ask him or write us for descriptive booklet.

HOW DO YOUR FEET POINT?

When you find a man's foot turned in the direction of evil doing it needs not the foresight of a seer to predict that he will wind up on the streets or in the penitentiary. There is no such thing as chance. Every- thing depends upon the direction in which a man's toes point what goal he attains. If he sits down and twists his legs about the rungs of an arm chair day after day his goal will be a corner in the almshouse. If his toes point in the direction of the picture show or brothel, his fortune will be that of the seedy in- dividual looking for odd jobs, the rednosed soak or the close-cropped toiler who labors under the dis- ability of a ball and chain. Young man, have your feet begun to point in the direction of that vestibule of hell where sits the "scarlet woman?" Are you herding with the giddy fools who follow the Devil's calliope? Your feet are already in the mire of debt. You have been doing things lately that have stag- gered your conscience. Do you expect to win out against the "principalities and powers of dark- ness?" "Remove thy foot from evil!" If you have to leave your boots in the mud, pull out! If you have to cut off the right foot or the left hand, delay not to cut loose. "Remove thy foot." — The Battery Man.

PUT YOUR MONEY ON CAL

Will Rogers has made a wager with William Randolph Hearst that the Republicans will nominate Calvin Coolidge for the presidency and that he will make the race. The wager is $5,000 to $15,000. Rogers also agrees to bet Hearst, at odds of 5 to 1, that Coolidge will be elected if he chooses to make the race. If we had one half Roger's nerve or one millionth part of his money we would want to take part of that bet. The Republicans can't possibly keep from electing a president in 1928. The Democratic party is split before the race has started and any candidate that can be picked will be unable to hold the factions together. Democrats seem to take their politics too seriously— while the Republicans don't permit politics to interfere with their busi- ness. The pie counter is theirs and they are going to swing onto it.

Why Chevrolet Performance is Thrilling Millions!

Never before was a low-priced car so delightful to drive as today's Chevrolet!

Fast get-away... easy, smooth operation... high speed roadability... unflinching power... and flashy acceleration——exactly the type of performance that everyone wants in an automobile today!

And the source of this matchless performance is the Chevrolet valve-in-head motor, a motor that has established a world-wide reputation for its remarkable power, dependability and economy.

In addition, there is all the finger-tip steering, all the positive braking and effortless gear shifting that have made Chevrolet so decidedly popular for congested traffic.

And never before was a low-priced car so comfortable—for Chevrolet springs are 88% as long as the wheel base... and built of chrome vanadium steel!

Come in! Learn what a feeling of confidence it gives you to drive a car that is powered for every need... that is smooth and quiet at every speed... that responds to the slightest pressure on the steering wheel.

Then you'll know why millions have acclaimed today's Chevrolet as the finest performer in the low-price field!

The Chevrolet valve-in-head motor now possesses such modern improvements as AC air cleaner, AC oil filter, improved oil pump, chrome plated piston pins and Delco-Remy starting, lighting and ignition—features that make this remarkable power plant even more efficient than ever before.

300 PREACHERS EXPECTED FOR METHODIST CONFERENCE
Over three hundred preachers are expected to attend the annual Methodist conference which will be held in our city from Nov. 9 to 16. Preparations for entertaining the visitors are being made by the committee in charge working with the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. It is hoped that the Crawford Hotel will be ready to accommodate the visiting preachers by November 9 but in case it is not open by that date the ministers will be entertained in the homes of Big Spring people.

The cooperation of every citizen is needed during this conference. If you have accommodations to offer let it be known and entertain several of the preachers in your home. Your help and interest will be appreciated.

Statement of the Ownership, Management, Circulation, Etc., Required by the Act of Congress August 24, 1912

Of Herald published weekly at Big Spring, Texas, for October 1, 1927. STATE OF TEXAS, County of Howard.

Before me a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid personally appeared T. E. Jordan who, having been duly sworn and according to law, deposes and says that he is the owner of the Herald and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are: Publisher, T. E. Jordan, Big Spring, Texas. Editor, Jena Jordan, Big Spring, Texas.
2. That the owners are: (Give name and addresses of individual owners, or, if a corporation, give its name and the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock.) T. E. Jordan, Big Spring, Texas.
3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: Merzenthaler Linotype Company, New York, N. Y. Barnhart Bros. & Spindler, Dallas, Texas.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation whom such trustee is acting for; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

What Would Be the Use?

By SARAH E. MCCAHEY

(Copyright.)

MARY leaned forward in her wheelchair to explain to her visitor about the Hartford callers.

Elizabeth, her sister, sat near by, her pretty face tinted like a rose, almost belying the fact that she, too, was an invalid.

Myrtle, their caller, sat in a comfortable little rocker, her generous proportions filling all the available space.

"You know," said Mary, earnestly, "our Hartford friends wrote quite some time ago that they intended making a trip to Vermont, and they wanted to know if it would be convenient for us to have them here on their way back home some time in September."

"Of course, we wrote them that it was impossible for us to have guests under the circumstances, but that we would be delighted to see them and hoped they might call on their way home through Elmwood."

"And did they come?" asked Myrtle, curiously.

"We'll come to that later," gently interrupted her sister. "I haven't got them here yet."

"Go ahead," said Elizabeth resignedly. "Tell about seeing them coming down the street."

Mary smiled appreciatively at the remembrance and went on with her recital.

"One day in early September I was sitting in the bay window with my chair down close, and I saw a woman coming down the street looking at the house numbers. When she reached our house she looked up at the number and waved to someone invisible near the corner of the street, and presently our visitors from Hartford were in the room."

"My, but we were glad to see them and they were glad to see us!" exclaimed Elizabeth, her eyes dancing. "And when we began to talk!" said Mary.

Elizabeth raised her eyes in mock horror.

"Talk? I never heard so much talk in all my life; everybody was talking, and at the same time. We talked clear up to the time my brother came home to supper, and you should have seen them! They almost kissed him." Elizabeth chuckled softly.

"After supper," began Mary again. "After what?" cried Myrtle. "Did you two invalids get supper?"

"Why, of course!" said Mary, looking surprisedly at Myrtle's inhospitable question.

"For invalids, you do the most wonderful things," murmured Myrtle apologetically.

"Of course, we regretted we could not invite them for a prolonged stay, but, as I said before, that was impossible under the circumstances."

"That's what I call reversing the usual order of things," Myrtle said. "Instead of folks coming to see you to bring in a little cheer to you shut-ins you entertain them so well that the callers forget what they came for."

"I wouldn't quite say that," protested Mary, smiling.

"If I had to whisk around in a wheelchair, prepare meals, make my own clothes as nicely as you two do, and generally keep things going as smoothly as you do, I think I'd be apt to tell the world about it occasionally."

"What good would that do?" asked Mary: "what would be the use?"

"That's what I call spiritual superiority over physical difficulties. Now with me, every pain I have I almost howl, and I have to talk about it in to the bargain."

"What's the use?" asked Mary, smilingly.

"I want you to have this begonia slip, Myrtle," said Elizabeth, coming into the room with a small pot of green, glossy leaves on a little stalk.

"That was meant for you, Myrtle," said Mary, mischievously, "but Elizabeth wouldn't let me give it away."

Elizabeth's face sobered.

"Isn't that I didn't want Myrtle to have it, but I raised it from almost a leaf, and I was curious to see how big it would grow," said Elizabeth as she looked pleasantly at Myrtle.

"I can understand that, Elizabeth," replied Myrtle. "I'd not want to give it away too readily; it's like parting with a bit of your luck. But I must be going. It's beginning to get dark."

She rose from her comfortable rocker.

"Now, Myrtle, look out for the stairs," admonished the gentle Elizabeth, "and don't catch cold during this changeable weather."

"Can you beat that?" mused Myrtle to herself, as she cautiously felt her way along the dark street. "Every time I visit those two brave shut-ins and see the pleasure they manage to extract out of the ordinary everyday occurrences of life I come away feeling ashamed of myself and determined to never again, as long as I live, complain about anything that might happen to me."

Just then she reached the corner of Branston street and had to wait a few minutes for the evening traffic to race by before she might find an opening in it wide enough to allow her to dash across the street.

"I declare," she said exasperatingly, "I never saw such confusion in all my life. Such poor system. Someone ought to complain."

But at the familiar word she suddenly stopped short as the philosophy of patient Mary came to mind:

"What good will it do? What's the use?"

If you doubt that honesty is the best policy take a lesson from the man who stole a dog and tried unsuccessfully for two days to sell it for three dollars. Discouraged at last in his attempts to find a buyer who would offer him more than two dollars, the thief took the dog back to the lady who owned him and was rewarded for his honesty with a five dollar bill.—Ex.

"What am I arrested for?" asked the corrupt voter.
"You are charged," said the officer, who was entering the arrest in the station house ledger, "with having voted eight times."
"Charged, hey?" muttered the prisoner. "That's queer. I expected to be paid for it."—Ex.

Mabel: "My father gives dollar every birthday, and I seventeen dollars now."
Jane: "How much does he pay you?"—Ex.
