Emergency Feed Program Begins

The Emergency Grain Feed Aid Program in Deaf Smith County will go into immediate effect...

A release issued by the ASC and FHA offices said that "applications for feed may be accepted until midnight March 2. The total amount of feed grain for which applicant may qualify will be the feed required to carry his livestock through March 15, 1956, taking into consideration feed on hand."

Application for feed will be accepted starting Monday at the FHA office on the third floor of the courthouse.

- Steps to be taken were outlined as follows: 1. Application should be made at the FHA office. 2. FHA Committee must approve application. 3. Application must be taken to ASC office (first floor courthouse.) 4. ASC issues purchase order.

Around Town

Hereford had rain, sleet and snow Saturday, but folks Around Town, although thankful for any moisture, still didn't think that they received enough. A heavy overcast kept hopes alive, however. Farmers and businessmen alike had their eyes glued on the sky. At any rate, it was the first measurable moisture of the year.

John D. Zahn of Muleshoe has joined the Hereford Farmers Home Administration office in Hereford as assistant emergency loan supervisor. The FHA office, located on the third floor of the courthouse, is open from eight to five Monday through Friday.

Work on the school census here is almost complete, it was reported Saturday. Mrs. William J. Stanford, chief enumerator, said that it is important that all children born between Sept. 1, 1938 and Sept. 1, 1955 be included in the census. "If you have been missed we would appreciate your calling 1387 or 1866-M and giving us the needed information," she said. Mrs. Stanford also pointed out the need for including pre-school age children.

Lowell Sharp To Seek Re-Election As County Sheriff

Sheriff Lowell Sharp Saturday announced that he would be a candidate for re-election.

Sharp, who issued a formal statement, is presently serving as both sheriff and tax assessor-collector. The two offices will be separated in 1957.

His statement follows: "In announcing my candidacy for re-election for the office of Sheriff of Deaf Smith County, I wish to express my deep appreciation for the support and fine cooperation from the citizens of this county during the past three years. Without such cooperation no law enforcement agency can function efficiently, and I am of the opinion that no other Sheriff's Department enjoys a more satisfactory relationship with the citizens." Bryan Robinson To Speak At High School Baptist Banquet Thursday

Bryan Robinson, dean of students at Wayland College, Plainview, will be guest speaker at the annual High School Senior Banquet sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Robinson, who has been in charge of the counselling program at Wayland since 1953, has become particularly well known over the Panhandle Plains area as an interim pastor, having served in that capacity for the First Baptist Church in Plainview, Hale Center, Groom and Olton. He gave up the pastorate at First Baptist Church, Oil City, La., where he had been for two years, to join the Wayland staff.

Robinson is a graduate of Baylor University and of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth. Further graduate work has been done at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, where he and Mrs. Robinson lived for two years after he was released from service following World War II. In addition, he has done graduate work in psychology at Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

When he isn't busy with student affairs at Wayland, he is likely to be building a television set or installing a hi-fi set in his home which adjoins the college campus and which is a gathering place for Wayland students. Or he may be playing a clarinet in the Wayland Wonder Band, which was organized for the basketball games for which Wayland College is not allowed to receive money.

Robinson is also a popular speaker for youth revivals, banquets and high school commencements. At Wayland, he is director of overseas students, adviser to Wayland Student Government Association, chairman of counselors for the six dormitories and campus housing. He also teaches a course in "Orientation" for all new students and oversees freshman initiation programs at the beginning of each college session.

Robinson is a graduate of Baylor University and of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth. Further graduate work has been done at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, where he and Mrs. Robinson lived for two years after he was released from service following World War II. Richard Hunter Shows Grand Champion Calf

Jim Conkwright Has Reserve Champ Of Show

Richard Hunter of Hereford won top honors in the Tenth Annual Junior Livestock and Poultry Show sponsored by the Rotary Club, here Saturday when his calf was judged as Grand Champion of the 1956 show.

In winning the top honors, Hunter reversed last year's decision when his calf was judged Reserve Champion and the calf shown by Jimmy Conkwright, also of Hereford, won top honors. This year Conkwright's calf was declared Reserve Champion.

Hunter's calf was also winner of the heavyweight division and Conkwright's ranked second. Conkwright was shooting for his third Grand Championship trophy in as many years.

Pat Robbins of Hereford was the winner in the lightweight division. His 825 pound calf was champion and Wayne Boomer of Bellview, N. M., showed the Reserve Champion.

Heavy Calves

Third place winner in the Senior Calves division was Kenneth Clearman of Summerfield. Jerry Biddle of Vega ranked fourth and Modell Hunter of Hereford was fifth.

Six place honors went to Pat Robbins of Hereford, Don Boomer of Bellview, N. M., ranked seventh; Donald Curry of Dimmitt, eighth; Danny Thomas of Hereford, ninth; Walter Kaul of Hereford, tenth; Ronnie Nelson of Dimmitt, eleventh; and Tom Tatum of Black, twelfth.

Light Calves

Third place winner in the lightweight division was Weldon Tatum of Black. Dovie Johnson of Hereford was fourth; Jamie Clearman of Summerfield was fifth and David Brumley of Hereford sixth.

Lynn Boomer of Hereford was seventh; Eugene Vasek of Hereford, eighth; Walter Kaul of Hereford, ninth; David Brumley of Hereford, tenth; Stephen Slagle of Hereford, eleventh; and Don Howell of Dimmitt, twelfth.

Don Howell Of Dimmitt Has Grand Champion Lamb Of Rotary Club Show

Grand Champion lamb of the Junior Livestock Show held here Friday and Saturday was shown by Don Howell of Dimmitt while reserve grand champion honors went to Pete Plank of Hereford.

Howell's lamb was first place in the Southdown class and Plank's lamb was runner-up in the division. Donald Curry of Dimmitt showed the third place lamb in the division and another of Howell's entries placed fourth.

Top honors in the fine wool division went to three Dimmitt boys. Norman Nelson placed first, Danny Bruten was second and Boyce Tate, third. Fourth place in the class went to Don Renfro of Hereford.

Jack Hagar of Hereford showed both the first and second place lambs in the cross bred division.

Zoning Hearing Set For Tuesday

Hereford's Zoning Commission will meet Tuesday night to consider a request made by L. D. Martin and R. D. Williams to rezone two city lots.

Lots involved are 10 and 11 in Block 11. Events Addition, which are located at the north end of Main on Park Avenue.

Martin and Williams want the property rezoned from Zone C, multi-family, to Zone D, local retail district. They propose to build a brick and tile building to be used for a furniture store.

All property owners in the area have been notified, city officials said.

Winners in each class are: Small Breeds of Southdown Crosses—Don Howell of Dimmitt, first; Pete Plank of Hereford, second; Donald Curry of Dimmitt, third; Don Howell of Dimmitt, fourth; Norman Nelson of Dimmitt, fifth.

Fine Wool — Norman Nelson of Dimmitt, first; Danny Bruten of Dimmitt, second; Boyce Tate of Dimmitt, third; Don Renfro of Hereford, fourth; Don Renfro of Hereford, fifth.

All Other Breeds — Jack Hagar of Hereford, first; Jack Hagar of Hereford, second.

Mary H. Maples Shows Champion Bird Of Show

Six of the 28 entrants who brought a total of 152 birds to the show walked off with grand prizes in the Poultry Division of the Tenth Annual Poultry and Livestock Show.

A trophy for the champion bird of the show went to Mary Helen Maples of Dimmitt. Fountain pens were awarded to Mary Helen for the champion male bird of the show and to Cecelia Burrus of Walcott who showed the champion female.

James Burrus received a trophy for champion pen of the show and a cash award of $2 and a other of $1.50 went to Sharon Bezner of the Jolly Girls 4-H Club for the champion and reserve champion in the egg production exhibit.

Rosettes went to Sharon Bezner, champion parti-colored hen; James Burrus, champion solid colored hen; Mary Helen Maples, champion solid cock; Cecelia Burrus, champion solid hen; Mary Helen Maples, champion solid cockerel; Sharon Bezner, champion solid pullet; Berl Couch, champion parti-colored cock and hen; Gerald Wayne Shirley, champion parti-colored cockerel; Sharon Bezner, champion parti pullet; and Mary Helen Maples, champion parti-colored cockerel. Six Arrested For Firing From Auto

Six Hereford Boys were released to the custody of their parents this week following their arrest near Canyon for shooting a 22-caliber rifle from a moving automobile.

No charges were filed against the teen-agers. Local officers, accompanied by the parents of some of the boys, drove to Canyon to bring them back home. Officers found three home-made blackjacks in the car.

The Argen Draper 4-H Club met Thursday at Gail Miller's. Mrs. L. W. Tooley conducted a demonstration on fabrics and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Christian of Abilene, former residents of Hereford, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Rutter and other friends Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Annual Jaycee MOD Radio Auction Comes Off Sunday

The annual Jaycee Radio Auction to raise funds for the March of Dimes will be held Sunday afternoon over Radio Station KPAN.

Gerald Hale, Jaycee president, said that anyone having anything they would like to donate to the auction should call at the station Sunday morning. The auction will begin at 1 p.m. and continue until about 6:30.

Don Morgan, talent chairman, also issued a call for anyone who would be interested in helping provide entertainment during the period. Morgan can be contacted at his home, phone 1662-J, or at the station Sunday morning.

Jaycees will have five cars out picking up donations and delivery goods, and in addition will sell poll tax slips. Anyone wanting to pay their poll tax can do so by phoning during the auction. A Jaycee will pick up the money and deliver the slip.

Livestock Sell Climaxes Annual Livestock Show

Hereford State Bank was successful bidder on both the Grand Champion and Reserve Champion calves Saturday afternoon at the Bullbarn to climax the Tenth Annual Junior Livestock Show.

Richard Hunter sold his Grand Champion calf, which weighed 1067 pounds, to the Bank for $640.20 at 60 cents a pound. The reserve champion, shown by Jimmy Conkwright, sold for $425.70 at 45 cents a pound.

Dimmitt Entry Is Judged Champion Hog Of Area Show

Cole's entry edged out Jerry Cluck's entry for top honors in the Swine Division. Cluck's Poland China hog won reserve champion honors for the Hart boy.

David Cole of Dimmitt won top honors in the pen of three division with his Chester Whites.

Swine judging took up most of the afternoon Friday with entries in six classes. Selection of the best pen of three followed the individual awards.

Placing first in the Duroc class, which had the largest number of entries, was Jim Auten of Hereford, with reserve honors going to Drew Kershen, also of Hereford. In the Light Chester White class, Jim Cole of Dimmitt took first place with what the judge termed an "outstanding barrow." Exceptional length and a nice arch gave the entry the nod over others, and eventually the grand champion award. Larry Morris of Dimmitt placed second, David Cole was third, Jim Cole fourth and David Hammond of Vega, fifth.

Jerry Cluck from Hart edged out three entries from Dimmitt to take first place in the light Poland China Division. Second place went to Donald Curry, third and fourth to Lynn Thompson and fifth to Don Howell.

Three entries in the heavy Hampshire class gave first and second to Lynn Thompson and third to Donald Curry of Dimmitt.

A gilt belonging to David Brumley and one shown by Charles Vasek gave Hereford the champion and the reserve award in the Light Hampshire Division. David placed third with another entry. Wilson (Continued on Page 6)

A total of 26 calves went through the ring averaging a little over $297.00 each. Total sale on the 26 calves amounted to $7,737.42.

Lloyd Oten, veteran Cloy's auctioneer, again cried the sale, assisted by Homer Brumley, Bonnie Brumley, B. B. Northcutt and Sylvester Slagle.

All livestock sales totaled $9,757.81 as follows: Calves $7,737.42, lambs $430.65 and pigs $1,589.74.

Last year the Grand Champion sold for $858 at 97 1/2 cents a pound and the reserve champion brought $650 at 82 1/2 cents a pound.

DIETS FOR PETS

ESTES PARK, Colo. — Humans aren't the only animals troubled with too much fat, heart disease and kidney ailments. You dog has 'em too. Veterinarians are prescribing diets to make a dog's life longer and happier.

Dr. Mark Morris, 55, who has been experimenting with dog diets since 1928, says his diets have lengthened the lives of dogs from two to four years. That's the equivalent of adding 15 to 30 years to the human life span.

He noticed startling improvements in dogs whose symptoms indicated special nutrition was necessary. But when the dogs were returned home and the owners disregarded feeding instructions, the symptoms recurred.

Property Owners Face Two Suits

By MRS. T. B. THOMAS

City Attorney Earnest Langley has been authorized by the City Commission to file condemnation suits against two property owners who have not yet signed right-of-way papers for property needed to build the Highway 51 underpass.

Suits will be filed against Green and Scott and the Hereford Potato Growers Association, it was learned by The Brand.

A final offer of $100 has also been made to the heirs of the A. W. Gregg estate for property needed for highway right-of-way. Commissioners said that if the offer is not accepted, a suit will have to be filed.

The three pieces of property are the only ones which have not yet been secured. City officials said they did not know exactly when work on the highway and underpass will begin.

Ralph Mitchell, Jack Brown was the Baptist minister Sunday.

Lenderman To Lead Small City Discussion At Meet

ABILENE (Spl.) — W. M. (Bill) Lenderman, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, will be in charge of the group discussion for cities of 25,000 and under population at the Third Annual Industrial Development Conference to be held Thursday in Abilene.

The entire afternoon of the one-day conference, which is sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be devoted to two group discussions, including the one for cities under 25,000 and one for those over 25,000.

The morning program, planned by a committee headed by E. L. Beulow of San Angelo, includes four speakers, one panel discussion, and two problem-clinic sessions.

In the opening address, Fred H. Husbands, executive vice-president and general manager of the WTCC, will discuss "The General Outlook" for West Texas industrial development.

Dr. Lawrence J. Tidrick, chairman of the department of industrial economics of the Southwest Research Institute in San Antonio, will follow with an address on "West Texas Resources and Opportunities."

"Subsidies, Boon or Boomerang?" will be the subject to be presented by Delbert Downing, the manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

The story of the rapid increase in purchases by Sears, Roebuck and Company of consumer goods manufactured in the Southwest will then be told by Davis McMahon of Dallas, in charge of Sears' General Merchandise Office there.

A panel of four speakers will tell of their experiences in helping to develop local industry. The panel members are C. Ray Martin, chief of procurement and technical assistance for the Dallas regional office of the Small Business Administration; H. J. Tanner, manager of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce; J. H. Greene, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce; and B. A. Butler, publisher of the Rising Star Record.

First Formal Step Taken Toward Organizing Vegetable Organization

In the first formal step toward possible organization of a huge commercial vegetable marketing enterprise on the Texas High Plains, farmers, businessmen, and individuals will assemble in Plainview Tuesday, January 31, for an advisory board meeting.

It will be at this time that the projected development will be examined from the practical viewpoint of organization, production, and marketing.

To lead a discussion on the technicalities of such an operation will be two men who are specialists in their fields, J. F. Rosenborough, Extension horticulture marketing specialist of Tyler, will examine marketing aspects.

Dr. George Elie, Assistant Dean of Agriculture at Texas Tech in Lubbock, will study production problems.

Ronald Davis from the Lazbuddie Community in Southwestern Parmer County, with whom the plan for big-scale vegetable marketing and production has originated, reports that "from 25 to 30 Plains communities will be represented" at the meeting.

From each of these communities will be one person who has volunteered to serve on an advisory board. It will be this board that will listen to and weigh the information which will be presented at Plainview. In the light of what is learned at the meeting and other know factors the board will be asked for advice about further procedure. "We are fortunate enough to have secured men who are the very best in their fields," says Davis. "And they will tell us the facts on whether our plan appears to be feasible."

Beside members of the advisory board, representatives of the press, businessmen, farmers, chambers of commerce, agricultural officials, and others have been invited to sit in on the discussion. It is possible that as many as 150 persons will attend the meeting.

The Plainview auditorium will be the setting for the meeting, which is to get underway at 2 p.m.

Smith Is President Of Methodist Church Group

The men of the Wesley Methodist Church held a covered dish supper Thursday night with 38 present. A. Petersen was guest speaker.

After the meal an organization of the Methodist Men was set up. The following officers were elected: Ralph Smith, president, Joe Merrill, vice president, and A. G. Martin, secretary treasurer.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 15.

Letter To The Editor

To start on farm problem—A lady told me the other day if we can't make a living on the farm, to move off.

Now that is a very good solution, but her husband happens to be protected by unemployment insurance at the taxpayer's expense. For if her employer can't make it, it's backed by the government. All the tariffs are backed by the government. If all the farmers had the luck that the West Texas and New Mexico farmers and ranchers in the dry land areas have had there would be no surplus. Why? No crops.

All we do is to be taxed to help foreign countries. That is, send them money which is handled by a few and a very few. They can't buy with money something they haven't got—food and clothes.

God sent this surplus to help our neighbors. Why not send that food to the needy. Let the missionaries handle the situations, not the politicians. We know those people are starving. They can't eat our tax money, but they can eat food.

We need two or three years' surplus due to flood, drought, insects and freezes in different parts of our own U.S.A.

We have been selling cows at 9 cents and calves from 11 to 15 cents. Meat at the meat counter from 39 cents to $1.05.

I just read last night that a big packing company's income is up 145 percent in 1955 over 1954.

Can anyone in the cattle business explain that?

I have a friend in Detroit. Her husband is a mechanic at $4 an hour. If a farmer or cow man were to get $4 an hour, 18 to 20 hours a day with time and a half for overtime he wouldn't need but one crop in five years. I, myself, don't care about government interference. They tell us enough now. What and how to do it. It seems we have a surplus of everything. I am afraid now the government will start cutting down on children being born, as by the looks of schools, that's a terrific surplus.

No one will have to work. No food surplus and no one to use it. No fear of atomic bomb as we won't have anything the commies want. Let's think that over.

We haven't done anything but make enemies of the poor people in foreign countries and millionaires out of the politicians.

'I'd Rather Be Governor Than President' -- Daniel

By JIMMIE GILLENINE

AUSTIN — Sen. Price Daniel Saturday left little doubt that he would be a candidate for governor when he spoke to some 200 newspaper editors gathered for the annual Mid-Winter meeting of the Texas Press Association.

Daniel, in his speech and a press conference which followed, told newsmen that he would give a definite answer in the next 30 days. He said, "Regardless of the governors race, I shall not be a candidate for re-election to the Senate of the United States unless some compelling public duties arrive."

Texas editors were almost unanimous in agreeing that Daniel would not make the race for the top job in 1956. There was little doubt after the Senator said, "I would rather be governor of Texas than President of the United States."

No Political Trade
Daniel lashed out at charges made by Reuben E. Senterfitt, only announced candidate for governor, that he had made "political trades."

"I am a party to no political trade," he declared. "I did not make a trade with Shivers and I did not make a trade with Yarborough. Such trades are illegal and absurd. Price Daniel has never made a political trade and he never will make a political trade."

Reason For Waiting
Asked why he was waiting to make his announcement, Daniel told newsmen that three pieces of legislation which he is pushing in the Senate must be "well on the way" before he could announce. He identified them as the natural gas bill, farm legislation and the narcotics bill.

Asked if he thought he "could do it" announcing so late, Daniel reminded reporters that he got out of the army on May 1 and announced for attorney general on June 1 and won the election.

Speaking of the farm situation, the Senator declared it to be "pretty serious."

Challenges Newspapers
Daniel challenged newspapers to exercise diligent surveillance of State, county, city and school government. He said, "Freedom of the press cannot work without full reporting."

"My thanks also are extended to the Commissioners' Court for their efforts in providing the modern equipment and trained personnel necessary to operate our department at a higher level of effectiveness. Their continuing interest in the problems of our office has been assurance of complete protection for the citizens of this county.

"On Sept. 20, 1955, it was voted to separate the office of Tax Assessor-Collector from the Sheriff's office. This separation is to become effective Jan. 1, 1957. Should you see fit to place me in office for the coming term, separation of the offices will enable me to devote my entire attention to the sheriff's department, with an emphasis on more active law enforcement.

Since being in office, I have instituted a complete system of records in criminal cases, and through the assistance of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Texas Department of Public Safety have been able to utilize the latest methods of identification and scientific crime detection.

"I have been and will continue to be open to any suggestions that will be of help in improving our services to those in need of them. I sincerely solicit your vote and your support, and pledge to continue to offer you the best of my efforts and the efforts of officers of my department."

Five Youths Face Assault Charges

Five Hereford teenagers face charges of aggravated assault following a complaint filed by a sixth this week.

The boys, all Hereford High School students, allegedly forced the 17-year-old boy to let them cut his hair. An "H," typical of that received by many college freshmen, was outlined in the boy's hair.

Three of the boys are 17 and the other two 16. They are free on bond.

Rev. Scott To Attend Wayland College Meeting

PLAINVIEW (Sp.) — Rev. Howard Scott of Hereford is expected for the annual mid-winter meeting of the Wayland College Board of Trustees at 1:30 o'clock, Jan. 23, according to W. A. Mays, Am-arillo, chairman. This meeting is traditionally held during the Pan-handle Pastors' and Laymen's Conference, which this year will be in session on Jan. 23-24.

President A. Hope Owen will report on the state of the college. J. L. Harden, business manager, will report on the progress of the building program including remodeling in the Administration Building to provide a new combination bookstore and snack bar; construction of Brotherhood Hall, the project of the Baptist men in Districts 8, 9 and 10 to provide dormitory space for 50 young men; construction of a residence hall for 34 young women; and plans for Van Howeling Memorial Library building for which ground will be broken in the spring.

Other matters on the agenda include approval of Commencement plans and recommendations for faculty tenure.

Rev. Scott is a member of the trustee committee on endowment.

for amount of feed approved.

5. Purchase order is presented to "approved dealer."

6. Eventually certificates go to Commodity Credit and dealer receives surplus grain to replenish stock.

It was pointed out that the certificates would be good for grain only and that feed for cattle must be obtained in the county where cattle are located. Feed for cattle in counties not under the drought aid plan cannot be secured even though the farmer or rancher may live in such a county.

Only foundation stock, including replacements, will be eligible under the program. Cattle being fed for market cannot qualify. To be eligible, the applicant must make the "major part" of his income from farming or livestock.

Dealers approved so far are Paekard Milling Co., Dawn Co-op, Hereford Milling Co., West Texas Feed and Seed Co., Hereford Poultry and Egg Co., and Hereford Grain Corp. Others may be approved later, Collier said, and a list of all approved dealers will be listed in the ASC office "at all times."

To be eligible for feed, dairy-men must have grown at least a part of their own feed, it was pointed out.

Under the program, farmers and stockmen will be paid $1 per cwt. for designated surplus feed grains; 75 cents for mixed feed containing at least 75 percent surplus feed grains; and 60 cents per cwt. for mixed feed containing at least 60 percent designated feed grains.

Mrs. Maurice Tannahill said that due to the fact that Hereford received 500 boxes (each containing 50 ten cent boxes of peanuts) instead of the 50 ordered, a special drive is being made to sell a carton at a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Blanton of Hereford were among those attending the annual mid-winter assembly of members of the Texas Butane Dealers Association in San Antonio Saturday. More than 600,000 small-town and rural families in Texas are now served by dealers in butane and propane, dealers were told at the meeting.

Highway Patrolmen Kenneth Maxwell and Joe O'Rear reminded motorists Saturday that they have until April 15 to get new safety inspection tickets on their automobiles. The patrolmen said that it appeared that the usual last minute long lines will result again this year.

Ralph Smith, president of the Hereford Benefit Association announced Saturday that the annual meeting will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. in the County Court room. The purpose of the meeting is to elect officers and transact other business. All members of the association are requested and urged to be present.

A representative of the Social Security office in Amarillo will be in Hereford Monday. He can be contacted at the courthouse at 9:30.

KNOX'S KNOTHINGS

By BILL KNOX

The newly formed City Basketball League should be a good thing for Hereford. It should offer some good basketball on a fairly high level.

Last year the league was formed and it may be said that the type of play wasn't the best. In fact it more resembled football. But this year holds more promise and greatly improved play.

One good aspect of the deal is that all money taken in will go to the Hereford Athletic Fund. By doing it this way it could help high school athletics a great deal, and at the same time keep the league going without expenses.

At the present time we must lean toward the Faculty if we were going to venture so far as to predict a winner. All the dope indicates that they'll be tops and we'll go along with it.

With such players as Cubby Kitchens, Buck Overall and Glenn Brown, they'll field a potent team and be mighty rugged to handle. Kitchens displayed his talents a while back when he played on the Hereford team which defeated the renowned Redhads and almost stole the show. Brown, also did alright for himself in that game.

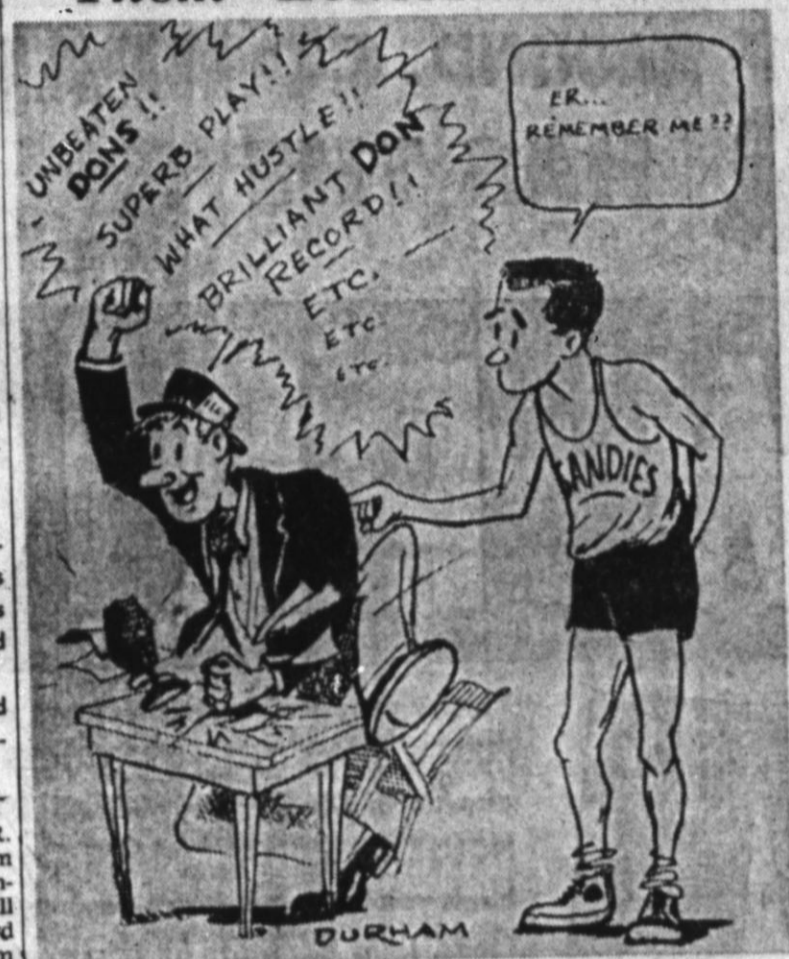

And as we've mentioned before, Buck Overall, new principal at high school, was an All-Southwest Conference basketball player with Texas U. That means he must be pretty good.

We think that it's a very fine idea to have a Letterman's Banquet instead of a football banquet to which only football players went. That way all other boys who participated in other athletics such as basketball, baseball, golf and tennis were not honored in any way. This way every athlete will be invited.

We think that for a long time basketball, baseball, golf and tennis players haven't received the recognition they should. A banquet where all athletes are invited would be just the thing.

Two Games To Open Basketball League Play Here

Two games will open the 1956 City Basketball League schedule, it was announced today by league officials. In the first game to begin at 7:30 Monday night, the Faculty, headed by Cubby Kitchens and Buck Overall, will clash with Friona. The Faculty is a preseason choice to take the title.

The second game will see Piggy Wiggy take on Summerfield. The Pigs will be favored to take this game also. The League was formed last week when managers of the teams met and drew up plans. Piggy Wiggy took the title last year.

Herd Checks Dumas For Three Periods

By BILL KNOX

After being held in check for three quarters, the powerful Dumas Demons roared back in the final quarter to capture a 56-47 decision from the Hereford Whitefaces Friday night at Dumas.

At the same time, the Hereford "B" team found out just what defeat tasted like when they took a 56-47 licking on the chin, the same score as the varsity game.

Previously the Herd had taken a crushing defeat from the Demons, but it turned out to be a different story this time. At one point in the third quarter Hereford was in the fore, but some fine clutch shooting by Duane Cleveland and Don Holtzclaw brought Dumas back to the front in the final stanza.

Ball-handling, one thing which has been absent from the Whitefaces most of the year, was present this time in the form of Don Weeks. It was a definite factor in the better showing made by the Whitefaces. It was Weeks' first game after becoming eligible for the varsity, and he dunked in 19 points.

The Whitefaces displayed an even scoring attack, but couldn't stand up to the Dumas onslaught.

in the final quarter. Duane Cleveland sank three quick goals from the floor to give the lead back to the Demons and they never lost it after that. However, Hereford never allowed Dumas a comfortable lead after surrounding their margin.

The Demons had some bad moments in the first three quarters, thanks to some fine shot-making by Weeks, Norman Bookout and Fred Lookingbill. Dumas was obviously stunned by the surprise show of strength made by the Whitefaces.

Dumas reserve strength played a big factor in their victory. However, Hereford will be even more strengthened when Leroy Morrison an accurate jump shot artist, joins the club Monday.

Despite Lanky Jim Curtsinger's 32 point outburst, the Dumas "B" team gobbled up the Hereford "B" by the identical score as the "A" game, 56-47. The Whitefaces never got going well until the final quarter. But Dumas offset things by getting hot themselves in the final stanza.

Coach Kitchens Has Praise For Charges

Coach Cubby Kitchens of the Hereford Whitefaces expressed satisfaction and more optimism with the showing his Whitefaces made against the Dumas Demons Friday night.

"The boys played a good ball game," he said. "We've improved a lot from the first of the year." To back up his statements Kitchens pointed out the fact that Dumas had earlier in the year given the Herd a good thrashing and Friday they won by only 56-47.

"Don Weeks helped a lot, and I hope Morrison will help the club some." Weeks joined the club for the game Friday after becoming eligible Thursday. On Monday, Morrison will become eligible.

Tierra Blanca Medical Society Meets In City

"The Incidence of Malignancy in 100,000 People Seen in General Practice" was the topic of Dr. A. T. Mims of Hereford Tuesday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Tierra Blanca Medical Society here in the Hereford Clinic.

Doctors from five cities were represented at the meeting. The Society meets in a different city each month. A program committee made up of the following doctors was named by Dr. L. B. Barnett, president: Pete Spence, Lee Spring, R. A. Neblett, F. V. Richards and R. F. McCasland. Those attending the meeting were Drs. R. A. Neblett, C. R. Neater and R. A. Masters, all from Canyon; Pete Spence, H. W. Bischoff and Chas. M. Vandiver, all from Dimmitt; Paul Spring, Lloyd Schakelford and Lee Spring, from Friona; F. V. Richards, E. P. Stewart and R. F. McCasland, from Tulla; and Lewis B. Barnett, Wm. D. Lawrence, R. R. Wills, Millard W. Nobles, A. T. Mims, Roy J. Grubbs, J. W. Barnett and H. A. Cavness of Hereford.

SLUMBER TIME
WALHALLA, S. C. (AP)—The Rev. Eugene Mason, baby sitting with his 1 1/2-year-old son, lay down by the youngster in an effort to coax him to sleep.

But it was the minister who fell asleep. He was awakened sometime later by the sharp ringing of the telephone.

It was a neighbor calling to report that the boy had wandered to his house seeking excitement.

THANKS FOLKS!

FOR YOUR CONTINUED SUPPORT OF THE LIVESTOCK SHOW

We, of the Rotary Club, wish to express our appreciation to the many people who have helped out with the 10th Annual Junior Livestock Show, both with your time and money.

We are especially grateful to the members of THE LIONS CLUB, HEREFORD RIDERS CLUB, and the KIWANIS CLUB for their continued support and help with the Livestock Show.

The Show has been a success again this year as in the past... much of this is due to your help and support. We appreciate it. IT IS ESPECIALLY GRATIFYING to note that every bit of help we received for this occasion was VOLUNTEERED, which shows that the spirit of cooperation among Hereford folks will continue to make our town the grandest place in the world to live.

'Stepchildren Of America' Studied

"America's Stepchildren" was the theme of the program when LaPlata Study Club held a meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Raymond White. Mrs. W. J. Krumbeln, president, presided over the business session.

Mrs. Kenny Gearn, who presented the program, likened America to a rainbow—a blending of many colors of people shading from near white to brown, to almost black, mentioning that there are 13 millions of colored peoples in the United States.

Mrs. Gearn pointed out that most of America's colored people came to this country seeking better opportunities, but the Negro did not come of his own free will. She gave statistics showing that colored people have progressed in literacy from five percent during slavery to well over 90 percent at the present time and that many have reached national and international fame in many fields.

She told of Mary McCleod Bethune, educator, who established a school for colored people at Daytona Beach, Fla., in 1904 with almost no equipment, which now has grown to a million dollar plant.

"President Roosevelt asked her to serve as a member of the Colored division of the National Youth Administration in 1934. Ida Tarbell chose her as one of 50 women who have contributed most to the enrichment of American life.

"Mrs. Gearn concluded, "Negroes are loyal American citizens and we must practice the principles we have long professed, the Christian principle of universal brotherhood, and the democratic principle of freedom."

Refreshments were served during the social hour to Mesdames A. J. Schroeter, Don Little, Frank Prowell, Dalton Crieveil, Claude McDougal, Liston Wilson, Louis Woodford, Homer Brumley, N. D. Bartlett Jr., Kenny Gearn, Elmer Patterson, J. R. Johnson, Milton Adams, W. J. Krumbeln, Leroy Aven, Jay Boston and the hostess.

WSCS Groups Begin New Study Book

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church held three separate sessions Wednesday to begin the new study book "The Christian Mission in a Revolutionary World."

The first session was held at the church Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock with Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr., as leader. She was assisted by Mrs. S. L. Easley and Mrs. A. T. Mims.

The second session was held at 3 p. m. with Mrs. Ray Johnson as leader. Her assistants were Mrs. Tom Alderson, Mrs. Frank Terrell and Mrs. Dean Bishop.

Alasia Circle met in the home of Mrs. Hugh Clearman at 3:30 in the afternoon. The devotional lesson was given by Mrs. Gid Brown. Mrs. Richard Ireland and Mrs. Bill Brady. The first lesson in the study book was presented by Mrs. J. M. White and Mrs. Kenneth Weaver. Mrs. Colby Conkright, general president of the WSCS, was a guest speaker.

Films On Polio Are Shown For Women's Club

Two films on Polio were shown at the La Madre Mia Study Club session held Monday night in the home of Mrs. Glenn Wilson. Mrs. Louis Beckman was cohostess.

Mrs. Glen Hopson was in charge of the program for the evening, presenting A. O. Thompson who showed the films "Remember Me" and "Interim Report."

Mrs. Townsend Douglas, a representative of the Child Study Club explained the club's activities in the Mother's March of Dimes that is scheduled for Jan. 31.

Members answered roll call with names of outstanding business women and during the business session Mrs. Ted Hardwick's name was added to the finance committee and Mesdames Calvin Kitchens and Cuby Kitchens were named to (Continued on Page 5)

Fred Cunningham Is Club Speaker

Superintendent of schools, Fred Cunningham, was guest speaker at the Bay View Study Club meeting held in the home of Mrs. E. W. Harrison Thursday afternoon.

Dealing with the subject "A Look at Our Schools," Cunningham spoke first on the White House Conference on Education, naming the six fundamental phases taken up by the conference, which included: (1) Education of the masses, (2) How to run the nation's schools more efficiently and economically, (3) Special School Days, (4) Formation of citizen groups, (5) Well organized study groups and (6) More public information.

"Teachers must teach, but they must also work more with children as persons," he said.

When speaking on "Adult Education," Cunningham told how adult education first came about as it became necessary for the ever increasing immigrants. He said, "Now, the purpose of adult education is that adults may have a better understanding of what our schools are trying to do. Adults are finding that there is never a time to quit learning. They must be ever learning."

Mrs. Will S. Kerr, vice president, presided over the business session when the program committee for 1956-57 was appointed. Those to serve are Mrs. Howard Gault, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Lee Benefield, Mrs. J. C. McCracken and Mrs. J. W. Spradley.

Announcement was made of the Jan. 28 date for the second teen-age show at the Star Theater which will be "The Left Hand of God." This show is sponsored by the Bay View Club and members will assist Mr. Hardwick at the show.

Those present were Mesdames D. H. Alexander, Phillip Barkley Lee Benefield, Colby Conkright, Howard Gault, Francis Hardwick, A. M. Jones, Will S. Kerr, J. W. Kirby, Paul Mathers, J. C. McCracken, Ansel McDowell, Eugene Naugle, J. P. Slaton, J. W. Spradley, Carl Perrin, Miss Frances Turentine and the hostess.

L'Allegra Study Club's Regular Program On Music

A program on "Music" was presented at the L'Allegra Study Club session held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Jr.

Mrs. Darrell Blanton, leader, spoke on "The Boy and the Piano" stressing the thought that boys should be given an opportunity to learn to play the piano if the seem interested. A talent for other types of music may be discovered through piano lessons, she said. In conclusion she said in part "A sense supreme musical ability is neither inherited nor passed on and while it is still debatable whether musical talent can be inherited, it is certain that musical ability can be developed through early discovery of talents."

During the business session members voted to sponsor a Blue bird group and plans for the Valentine party to be held on Feb. 15 were discussed. Husbands will honor guests and the party will be held in the home of Mrs. H. Cavness. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Richard Ireland Feb. 2. Members present were Mesdames John Estes, Gerald Hale, Bill Hardwick, Hilton Higgins, James Ellis Higgins, Chas. Hill, Bill Lawrence, Joe Lyons, J. W. Robinson, Jr., Stanley Slagle, and the hostess.

L.A.E. Topic Is 'Interest In Your Community'

Mrs. Luther Lesly served as the hostess for L.A.E. Study Club on Tuesday afternoon when a program on Community Interests was presented. Roll call was answered by members listing needed civic improvements for Hereford.

Mrs. C. E. Beauford spoke on "Maintaining a continuing program to develop a greater sense of civic responsibility among all citizens of the community, using Statesboro, Ga., as an example."

She told how Statesboro with a population of 6000, carried out by careful planning and hard work and the cooperation of its citizens, a worthwhile recreation program to combat juvenile delinquency, and of their plan for supervised recreation for everybody from 8 to 80. She described their swimming pool which is rated as the finest in the state, the new library and baseball, football and volleyball facilities.

Mrs. Luther Lesly reported on Community Builders as having been listed in the Hereford Brand, naming Father Gillis, Fred Baird, Mrs. Earl Plank, Colby Conkright and Mrs. J. F. Ward.

Members attending were Mesdames George Suggs, Sandford Smith, C. E. Beauford, Max Drevier, T. W. Roberson and the hostess.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Features High-Jinks Party

Members of Kappa Iota, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority were entertained at a high-jinks party given at the Jaycee Clubhouse Tuesday evening. Mesdames Clyde Russell, R. J. Cramer and Virgil Moore were official hostesses.

A short business session was held when plans were made for the annual Sweetheart dance which will be held Feb. 14 at the Jim Hill Hotel. The club sweetheart will be honored and husbands will be honor guests.

Games of forty-two and canasta were enjoyed with Mrs. Pete Guinn playing high for the canasta award and Mrs. Paul Harvey and Mrs. Neil Cooper were prize winners in games of bridge.

Refreshments of hot punch and other tea dainties were served from a table done in white and spring green. Green tapers gave candlelight and colorful fruit and greenery formed the table centerpiece. Greenery also encircled the punch bowl.

Members attending the party were Mesdames Ronald Bablone, Harold Beauchamp, Jim Calmes, Neil Cooper, R. J. Cramer, Pete Guinn, Paul Harvey, F. H. King, Reuben Knox, Chas. Laing, H. A. Lamm, Cecil Massey, Virgil Moore, J. H. McDonald, Glenn Nelson, Jess Robinson, Clyde Russell, J. D. Whitaker, Ann Woodward and Bill Fritzell.

Clarks Observe 64th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark, who will observe their sixty-fourth wedding anniversary Tuesday, will spend the day quietly. Both have been confined to their home for some time, but together they manage to take care of the household duties.

They were married in South west City, Mo., in 1882 and came to Texas in 1907. He operated a blacksmith shop here for many years but has been retired for 20 years. They are lifelong members of the Christian Church.

They have two children—Mrs. Davie Grimes who now makes her home with her son James in Colorado, and Mrs. Herman Stewart of Fayetteville, Ark. They have four grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Two Celebrate Their Birthdays

Two birthdays were celebrated at an informal forty-two party Tuesday evening when Sam Long and R. N. Yarbrow were named honorees. Mrs. Long and Mrs. Yarbrow served as hostesses at the Long home.

Birthday cake and coffee were served to Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hagans, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Daniel Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Sam Long and Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Yarbrow.

June In January Is Theme Used For Farm-Ranch Club

Mrs. Waldron Melton was hostess for the Farm and Ranch Club luncheon program Wednesday at her home. A June in January theme was used in appointments for the luncheon table which was laid in brown linen. Centering the table was a pink and white watering pot filled with philodendrum and surrounded with a wreath of pink spring blossoms. Place cards were in shapes of tiny watering pots with pink and white flower decorations matching the centerpiece. China was in the pink and white lotus blossom pattern.

Mrs. Jimmy Stocks, guest, presented the program on picture framing. She demonstrated making a picture frame and showed several frames already made. Of special interest was the wood-burned frame and one in copper craft. Mrs. Stocks also showed copper trays and containers.

Mrs. Hershel Burrus won the club prize and others present were Mesdames J. V. Perrin, G. S. Solomon, Jimmy Stocks and the hostess.

Faithful Workers Have Class Social

Faithful Workers Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Alton Fraser Monday evening with Mrs. Zebahia Lloyd and Mrs. Homer Hamilton serving as hostesses. Roll call was answered with favorite verses of Scripture.

Plans were discussed for the class welfare project and names were drawn for secret pals.

Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served during the social hour.

Those attending were Mesdames Roy Calvert, Ralph McCullough, Roy Thompson, C. E. Beauford, Grady Parsons, Joe Kendall, Viola Gray, Alton Fraser and the hostesses. Mrs. H. L. McCullough of Harrison, Ark., was a guest.

TO MAKE HOME IN ALASKA — Mrs. Abel Ruga and three-year-old daughter Diane, are shown looking over descriptive maps of Alaska where they will join Mr. Ruga next month. Mr. Ruga drove the family car through earlier this month and as soon as living quarters are found in Anchorage, Mrs. Ruga and Diane will make the trip by plane. He spent several years in Alaska in service during the war and has wanted to return ever since. Now that new oil fields are being opened up there, he expects to engage in land-leasing and mineral rights. He has had much experience, having worked with oil companies for many years. Both are looking forward to life in Alaska, and so is Diane who says she is going to be an Eskimo, live in an igloo and build a snow man. Mrs. Ruga is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Acker and is a registered nurse. She plans to resume work as a nurse later in Anchorage if conditions remain favorable and they decide to make Alaska their permanent home. (Staff Photo)

NEW HEREFORD RESIDENT — This young couple, both students at Abilene Christian College until the close of the first semester last week, have come to Hereford to make their home. He received his degree at ACC at midterm and Monday assumed his duties in Hereford High School as teacher of mathematics and history. They are Mr. and Mrs. Don Carter Nickson, formerly of Crosbyton, who were married on Sept. 1, 1955. They are members of the Church of Christ and have already affiliated themselves with the local church activities. They live at 406 W. Sixth Street. (Staff Photo)

Your Congressman Reports

The farm message to Congress was 14 pages of words advocating the adoption of many policies that have been on the books as farm legislation for a number of years. Policies that the present Secretary of Agriculture has had, and now has, the power to adopt but which he has not only failed to adopt but has vigorously refused to adopt. What the farmers need is action, not words.

The Race Issue

If some of the big city and far west Congressmen would spend as much time representing their own constituents as they do trying to re-make the South, the whole country would be better off. A lot of this fanfare and trumpet blowing by these self-appointed saviors of mankind smells suspiciously political and sounds the same way.

The Foreign Aid Recommendations

Russia found out that she could not break this country by an armament race. Hence, she announced a reduction in her armament program and stepped up her contributions, grants and loans to foreign countries, probably thinking that if she couldn't break us one way, she could another. The Administration immediately took the bait and started advertising an increased foreign aid program. Dulles then announces with great alarm that we are in an economic war with Russia. This was no startling news to me. If Russia has the same experience in her foreign aid program that we have had, she will soon find out that she can't buy friends. Let us not be misled.

More About Kiev

An interesting incident happened while we were being driven from the airport at Kiev to the hotel. In all the Russian cities the automobiles go hurtling down the street at breakneck speeds and the drivers are not seemingly interested in the fate of pedestrians. However, we were told on several occasions that if a driver hit a pedestrian it was a pretty serious offense. My observation was that it was the agility of the pedestrians and not the astuteness of the driver that prevented many collisions.

The driver of the car in which we were riding from the airport was sailing merrily along at about 40 miles an hour and approached a crosswalk that was literally teeming with pedestrians. He made no effort to touch his brake but did honk his horn twice. As usual, the sea of human beings parted just barely in time to prevent the killing of a half dozen or more. However, one fellow did not get back far enough, and it looked like nothing could avoid our car hitting him. After a fast game of zigzag between the pedestrian and the car, we missed him by less than 100th of an inch. All of us were very thankful that an accident had been avoided and thought that the matter was ended. However, when we drove up to the hotel, another car drove up occupied by the pedestrian and another fellow. They talked at length with the driver of our car and all left together. Our group had been riding in three cars and, usually, the same drivers stayed with us all the time we were in one city. The next morning after this incident, our former driver had been replaced by a new one. We asked the interpreters and some of the officials what had happened to the other driver. They merely shrugged their shoulders and said he was probably driving for someone else. However, we pressed the issue several times after that and never did receive a satisfactory answer. We never did see the driver again, although the other two drivers and the substitute driver who was assigned to us remained with us all the time we were in Kiev.

Free Market in Russia

The last vestige of free enterprise in the USSR is a market place called the free market. It is very similar in appearance to our farmers markets of public markets. The products sold at these places are mostly agricultural. We were told that when the members of a collective farm made more than their "norm," the surplus was divided among the members who could sell their share or use it as they pleased, or on the other hand, the entire surplus might be sold by the group and the proceeds divided. Stalls for displaying merchandise for sale can be rented by an individual or by a group, such as a collective farm group. There is no set price on these products, as is the case concerning all other items in the USSR. The products can be sold in the free market for whatever the customer is willing to pay. We saw milk being sold at one stall for 75 cents a quart and at another stall for $1 a quart. There was some Russian writing which I assume meant that the quality of the $1 milk was better than that of the 75 cent milk. There were fish stalls, meat stalls, flower stalls, fresh vegetable stalls, milk and cheese stalls and so forth. Meat was being sold for $1.75 a pound at one stall and for $2 just a few steps away. Suckling pigs are considered a delicacy in Russia. So, since the members of a collective farm group raise some livestock of their own, there were a lot of these suckling pigs for sale at the free market. They were very small, about a foot long, and were stacked-up on the floor like cord wood. Some had been shaved and looked very dirty, while others had been scalded and were a pinkish color. The meat for sale is in huge hunks and the attendant cuts off whatever part you want. In order to meet the sanitary requirements, he must present his meat for inspection and then rent a white apron and a pair of white sleeves before he can sell the meat. After this ritual, it appears that the health requirements are completely relaxed. Meat is out in the open and nothing to protect it from flies or any other insects. The fish are stacked up in large trays next to the scales with no refrigeration. It is not difficult to find the fish market. We took pictures freely and the Russian people in many instances seemed to want their pictures taken.

HEAT CUTS GRADES

NEW YORK (AP)—If your youngster's report card is poor, maybe you should blame the heat, not the homework.

Zephyrin A. Marsh, an expert on heating and father of seven children, told a meeting of educators that overheated classrooms in a majority of the nation's schools are dulling the learning capacity of grade school children.

Marsh, director of school activities for the Minneapolis Honeywell Co., says, 20 to 30 youngsters packed into an average classroom will generate enough body heat to warm a five room house in freezing weather. This heat, he says, is the principal cause of overheating which makes pupils drowsy, inattentive and difficult to instruct.

You Can Find Place To Use Good Deeds

It doesn't cost anything to be charitable, and you can help other young - moderns through your efforts.

"How," inquires one girl, "can I distribute a few good deeds around. There never seems to be any opportunity to do so."

Easy, says the report from one group of young moderns who have come up with these pointers on how to spread kindness:

What about the new boy or girl in your neighborhood? Have you tried to integrate him into your social life or have you done your best to "keep the interloper out."

Then there is the classmate who doesn't quite measure up to the crowd in style. Perhaps she's wearing homemade dresses or lives on the wrong side of the tracks. Is she left out of parties because of that even though she measures up in other ways?

Are you critical of the student whose grades are low because she just isn't as bright as you? Have you labeled her "stupid" or "dimwit" or some other unkind tag?

Do you ridicule the parents or homes of your friends because they're not as elegant as yours?

Are you a snob about the boys you date? Do you prefer the boy with the biggest wallet and best car even though he isn't as good a character as another suitor?

Are you the jealous type who always fears a prettier or wittier girl will interest your current beau, so you never ask her to a party?

Do you try to outsmart your friends party-wise? When it comes your turn to entertain do you do it so lavishly that it embarrasses those who've just feted the same crowd?

When you are asked to get a date for a boy friend, of your beau, do you pick the least exciting girl you know because you fear competition?

How about your sister? Do you deny her the use of your earnings, stockings or evening wrap just because you are selfish even though you make reasonable excuses to yourself?

Are you ashamed of your parents for silly reasons, such as the fact Dad sits at home in his suspenders or Mom likes to hover in the kitchen, and they are not as glamorous as your friends' parents?

If you know of an opportunity in a part-time job that fits the experience of a friend, do you withhold the information even though you can't take the job yourself?

Do you give others a break on gossip, withholding what you surmise to be true because you don't have the facts?

Sometimes it seems that we are perfect-good friends, neighbors and classmates. A little soul-searching is likely to reveal a very uncharitable attitude toward others, other young people say.

Be fair to yourself in analyzing your chairableness though, young moderns stress. The fact that you might prefer kids who like horses to those who prefer to ski or skate doesn't mean you are snobbish at all. You just have more in common with that group.

LOST LAUREATE

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—The Southwest Writers Conference asked the governors of each state to appoint a poet laureate if they didn't already have one.

Spokesman for the conference said several governors replied that their states didn't have one—and wondered how you went about getting one.

HAND ADMITTED

HINTON, W. Va. (AP)—A red-faced citizen finally admitted that a severed human hand found along a busy city street the other day belonged to him. A friend had brought him the hand from medical school.

Police wouldn't name the man, but said he planned to play some practical jokes with it and hung it in his garage. The man guessed his dogs must have pulled it down and dragged it into the street.

Rev. Lester Jones, vicar of the local Episcopal church, has a talk he gives about "Worry." In addition to being quite a good talk, it also established Rev. Jones as a speaker of above average ability. He is rather clever with his presentation of the topic, especially where he loses his notes, which worries him a bit all along through the talk.

He proves by the Bible, by logic and by plain old horse sense that it really doesn't pay to worry. "What is ever accomplished through worry?" asks Rev. Jones, and you might sum up his conclusions with the single word, "ulcers."

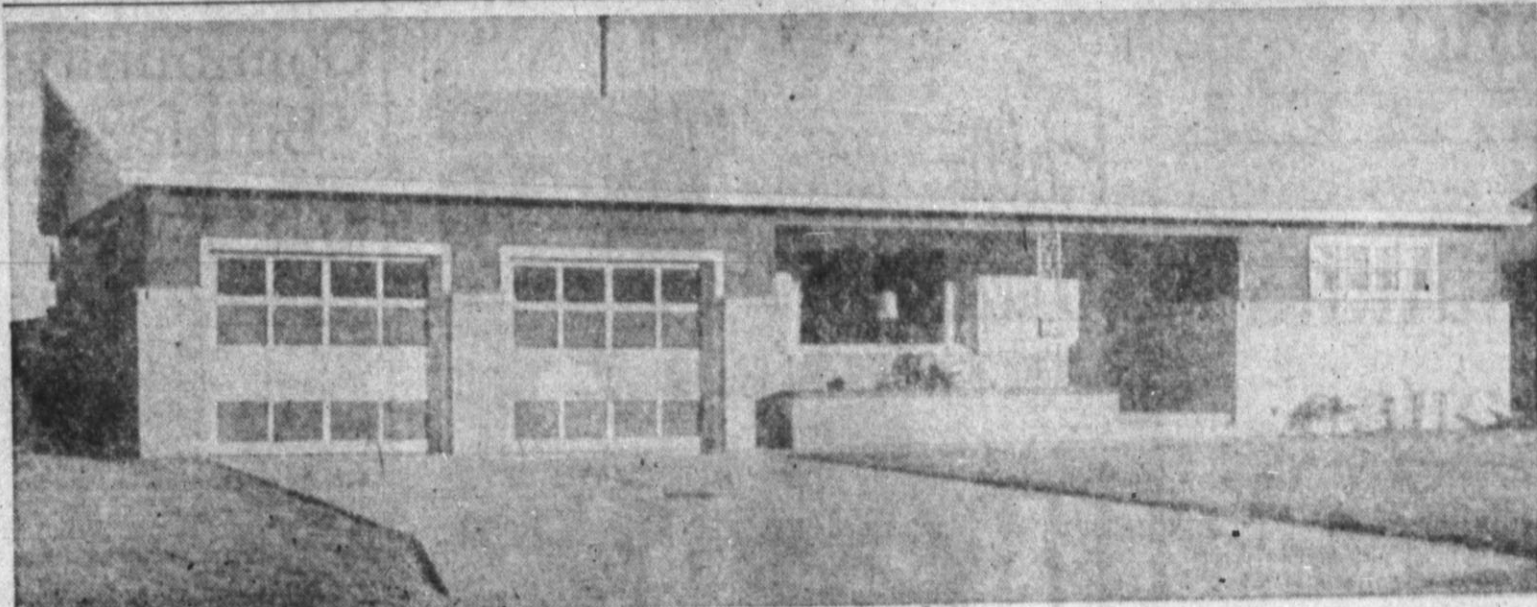

I thought he made a wonderful talk. However, I cannot say that I agree with him all of the way. I have noticed along the line that the people who usually get the job done are the ones who worry about it. The old boy who worries about his bills is much more likely to pay them than the fellow who seldom, if ever, worries about them. Edison made the first incandescent light bulb because he worried about it and worked in it and worried about it some more. Generally speaking, the old boy who worries about his golf score is the one who usually lowers his strokes, whereas the fellow who doesn't really care drops the game entirely.

Human nature demands a certain amount of worry if we are to progress. In fact, when a fellow becomes satisfied with his achievement he usually starts going to seed. Maybe I have ambition and worry confused, but I think they go hand in hand. Also, I will readily admit that this worrying business can be run into the ground. Besides, it is sort of like Rev. Jones said, most people are going to worry, regardless. Anyway, it is an interesting subject and, without question, most of us worry too much about trivial things.

I once knew an old boy who had a "10-year test." His yardstick was "What difference will it make 10 years from now?" He would apply the formula to his problems—and you would be surprised how fast they would diminish. A few, of course, might pass the test and about these he would worry. The others he dismissed without too much bother. Most people do just the opposite. They are prone to worry about the little things, then to pop up and get married, change jobs or to cast their vote without giving the matter much thought. If you look back through the files of a newspaper, you can see how quickly some of the apparently big problems are forgotten. Things that worried people 10 years ago hold very little interest today, hence the old saying, "Nothing is so dead as yesterday's news."

Gaylord Newell recently installed a new-fangled barbecue outfit. He had around 100 chickens in the thing the other morning and was flooding them with hickory smoke. I tried to tell him that by handing out one of the fowls for a sample I could probably do a real good job of writing about it, but I never did convince him. He figures that I should be able to look at them and do just as well. I'll have to admit that they do look wonderful and smell wonderful. However, that's as far as my personal endorsement can go. I'll bet it would really be a lulu on ham, too. If I ever find out, I'll let you know.

Time was when a lot of outfits used to give out samples. Nowadays, the only ones I ever get are bad tasting medicines. They give you red, white, blue, green and yellow stamps—if you pay cash or 30 days—but samples are fast becoming a thing of the past.

There is hope, though, that they may come back. At least, that's what happened with the old-fashioned "sales pitch." Folks used to set up little stands and make these "pitches" on the streets and at medicine shows. Now they make them on TV. They are good, too. About once a month, I hear the pitch on a new-fangled hack saw that cuts any and everything but your hand. It will cut up, down, sideways or, as the man says, "in a circle," which is 360 degrees. "And, Brother, that's every direction there is." The only trouble is that I always forget the address by the next day and have, never yet, been able to take advantage of the "limited offer," which is open only to the first select few.

I got a haircut the other day and Bill Helton kept on telling me how prosperous and dignified a man looked with a new haircut. I agree with him on the dignity part but, these days, it is impossible to get a haircut and still be prosperous. It's like that old saying, you just can't have your cake, and eat it, too.

Notice where Grady Rogers is giving his place a face-lift. Like usual, business picks up sharply when anyone starts remodeling. They try to figure out the slowest time for the job—and usually pick the busiest. Anyway, it will be swanky when it's finished.

W. D. Nafzgar has worked out a farm program. He let me read it the other day, and he has several points that seem fairly sound. We tried to figure out how to get it before the big guns, but couldn't. However, he likes to argue about it. If you are interested, look him up.

ABOUT RAINFALL, I have nothing to predict immediately. I'm sorry, but I think it will be 15 to 30 days—and maybe not then—before we can see much relief. I sure hope I am wrong, but that's how I see it. The only encouraging thing is that I haven't missed in such a long, long time. The law of averages should run true to form. I should start missing pretty soon. I understand this Rainmaker Crick says it will be plenty wet this Spring. I hope he is right. However, I can see nothing better than a few freak showers before mid-February. Maybe not then. Like I said, I am sorry. I hope I am wrong.

The grapevine has it that quite a few high school girls have dropped the use of lipstick. The fad is making a little ripple all over the country. The idea is that the use of very little or no lipstick serves the same purpose that a lot of lipstick once achieved before the practice became so common. Maybe it's good, maybe bad. Who can say?

Right now there seems to be a spurge of stock buying on the part of once cautious West Texans. Mostly flyers on longshot stuff. Heard that one Hereford group bought 10,000 shares of uranium stock; also that another group is planning the same thing. These stocks mostly sell cheap, running from 1 1/2 cents to 5 cents a share. Once in a while they bit, mostly they don't. It is sort of like picking a daily double at the horse races. Right now the time seems ripe, for selling, though. Most everyone is interested in these flyers. For some reason, it makes me wonder what ever happened to the Savings Bond Chain deal which swept the country about this time last year. The deals are possibly a lot the same in that a few cash in, but many do not.

Hugh Bookout says 1956 will be a good year. He says that election years are always good years; they make for more business, better prices and generally good yields. Maybe it is psychology but, come to think of it, and I have to admit that he has something. His logic sounds good. It sure does.

More than half the nation's tart cherries are grown in Michigan.

NO HELP WANTED!

Truth About Panhandle Weather Is Bad Enough

Long the butt of wisecracks, both local and foreign, the Panhandle Weather is finally enlisting a few defenders. Their task, though tremendous in scope, is definitely well founded. Actually, we know of no situation more libeled in the Southwest.

Why? No one seems to know, but certain groups in Central and South Texas apparently take a delight in painting an untrue picture of weather conditions on the High Plains. This week, for instance, far less than an inch of snow fell in the Amarillo area while, at the same time two to six inches fell in the Denton-Dallas-Ft. Worth area. Yet, the radio, TV and newspapers of the metropolitan center screamed to high heaven about the terrible snow storm which was raging in the Panhandle.

Two years ago a Hereford man was in Austin, planning to drive home on Sunday. He picked up a newspaper Saturday to face a headline which read: "Norther Barrels Into Panhandle; Traffic Halted!" With some anxiety concerning the welfare of his family and fully expecting to delay his return home, he placed a call to Hereford. "The weather is fine," said his wife. "No roads are blocked in this area." Sunday morning he started home and, sure enough, the fog and mist made driving hazardous into Abilene. From Abilene on, however, conditions steadily improved.

Actually, the situation boils down to the fact that the areas which raise such a stink about Panhandle Weather are the ones with the bad weather condition. Whether they assume it is worse here, because their own weather is bad, or whether it is strictly a case of malicious libel, we do not know. Most employees who migrate into Hereford from other areas of Texas seem surprised at the mildness of Panhandle Weather, having been misled all of their lives. Many admit that they had never come to the Panhandle before, chiefly because of the terrible winters. The situation, unquestionably damages the interest of the Panhandle country.

Please don't be misled by our approach. We are not saying that Panhandle Weather is ideal, or that it approaches that of the Rio Grande Valley. It is rough sometimes, this we admit. It is possibly even slightly more severe than some of the other areas of Texas. However, it is bad enough when they tell the truth — and we can definitely see no sense in magnifying the condition through sheer imagination and flagrant untruths.

Besides, such inaccurate and dishonest reporting leads us to question the veracity of other coverage which appears in the down-state press.

Feud Develops Over Canyon Speed Laws

(Note: People usually get a bang out of any feud between newspaper editors, and they have a swell one in progress between Tulia and Canyon. The misunderstanding centers around Canyon traffic regulations which, the following clipping indicates, are not exactly to the liking of some Tulia residents.)

"Two weeks ago H. M. Baggerly, editor of the Tulia Herald, wrote in his column about how disgusting it is for the traveling public, including himself, to slow down while passing through Canyon on the way to Amarillo.

"We saw the column and passed it around downtown so others could read it. We also wrote Baggerly a letter, suggesting that the low speed limit was set as a protection for the children attending school at the new elementary school and for the slightly older children attending school at West Texas State.

"Baggerly published our letter last week, and commented that the highway was there before the school so Canyon should not have put the school where it is. He said the highways belong to all the people, not just to Canyon.

"Also in our letter to Baggerly, we suggested he might solve his problem of getting through Canyon to Amarillo by turning left at the stoplight and coming downtown where he can buy almost anything he can buy in Amarillo.

"Baggerly commented that he was not on his way to Amarillo to buy things, but to deliver printing ordered by Amarillo people.

"In the meantime, Mayor Hosea Foster read the column and the city officials went to work.

"They checked the tickets issued for speeding on the highway and found that none had been issued for less than 30 miles an hour, and none had been issued to folks from Tulia for slower than 45 miles an hour.

"They found that it takes 30 seconds longer to get through Canyon on highway 87 at 25 miles an hour than it does at 45 miles an hour.

"So, Mayor Foster wrote a letter to Mayor John Brown of Tulia, pointing out that the speeding tickets were issued only for flagrant violations, that the schools are situated on the highways and a policeman is on duty at the elementary school during school hours only, and that the city lets the college students look out for themselves for the most part.

"To help things along, Mayor Foster wrote, "If ye editor's time is so valuable, we will, upon notice, arrange a police escort through Canyon at 60 m. p. h."

"Baggerly, in his original column, said that a bypass should be provided around Canyon. We don't know if he's been told yet, but there's a road that runs from Happy to Amarillo that he could use if necessary. It's a dirt road, and would not be so fast as the highway, but at least the Tulia editor wouldn't have to come through Canyon."

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Panhandle Weather Not As Bad As Most Newsmen Say

Do you think that Panhandle weather is as severe as the Central and South Texas newspapers make it appear?

MRS. J. C. COX

I don't think so. I think it's pretty nice weather myself, I just don't think it's bad at all.

MRS. B. Y. GROTHWALT

I'm sure it isn't. Our winters used to be severe, but they aren't anymore.

MRS. M. T. RUTTER

No, not ever. Not even in our dust bowl days it wasn't that bad. I think we've had resort weather this winter.

MRS. E. W. YOUNG

No, I don't. I think it's less severe than it formerly was. Maybe they have formed an opinion of the weather in former years.

MRS. JASPER THOMPSON

No, I don't think it is. I think it is just wonderful.

By ROBERTA CAMPBELL

Sometimes we think the weatherman is just determined to be contrary about the Junior Livestock and Poultry Show.

Every year before the exhibits are out of the barn, it turns off cold. This time the disagreeable weather started right out with the judging and before the lams had been placed it was getting hard to tell whether people had feet or ice filling their shoes.

The stoves in the poultry barn and in the Camp Fire Girls' concession stand proved to be about the most popular items in the show.

It must have been quite a jolt to the "fatted calves" which had been pampered for months to find themselves being given a bath right out in the open in that kind of weather.

We are sorry to see the names of Mrs. Roy Pruitt and Mrs. C. C. Acker on the hospital list. Mrs. Pruitt is adult leader for the Walcott 4-H girls and Mrs. Acker will be remembered by many people in the area as one with a pleasant greeting for depositors at the old First State Bank.

Mrs. W. E. Holcomb and Mrs. Ralph McCullough have also been recent patients and they say that not anywhere have they ever been treated any nicer than at our local hospital.

Community Builders

By JIMMIE LEE

The cattle industry has been a key factor in the development of Deaf Smith County, and today it continues to rank among the top industries of this area.

This week's Community Builder, Bill Dameron, is a leader in the never ending effort to improve the cattle business. This year he is serving as president of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association. He is the youngest president in the history of the Association.

He was born April 9, 1926 here in Hereford and has lived here all of his life. It was once said "He was bred, born and trained a Hereford specialist." Dameron's family was one of the first settlers here and his father's early visions and ambitions played an important role in shaping world wide confidence in and admiration for the Hereford Breed.

Dameron finished high school here in 1943. He then entered TCU at Fort Worth for one year and then served two years in the Navy. After his two years service, he re-entered TCU and graduated from the college in 1949. He also went to Brown University in Providence, R. I.

During his college years, Dameron played football for one year. He was president of the Junior Class at TCU and was also president of the National Intercollegiate Chamber of Commerce there. There were members from about 50 colleges and universities. He also played football at the Naval Training Station at San Diego, Calif.

Dameron married Nickie Wallace in 1950 at Fort Worth. They have two children, Kerri Lynn, 4, and Kimberly Ann, 16 months.

In addition to being the youngest president of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association, he is now serving his second term on the Board of Directors of the Texas Hereford Association.

Dameron said, "The Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association is an organization of about 200 members from the Panhandle, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The Texas Hereford Association has around 1000 members and is an organization of all registered Hereford Breeders."

Being the president, Dameron will be in charge of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association's forty-ninth anniversary blue ribbon sale, which will be held Jan. 25. This sale is combined with the Amarillo Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

"We have all seen an increased auction and private treaty this fall and winter. Hereford breeders throughout the country are definitely restoring more confidence to the industry by paying higher prices for good cattle this year than last," Dameron said recently.

"Our sale offering this year, though small in number, could very well be the best ever. You will find ages, quality, and pedigrees to meet the most discriminating demands of both the commercial and registered breeder. We cordially invite you to be our guests on sale day," he said at the forthcoming sale.

As you can see, ranching is also Dameron's hobby. He started his ranching career here in Hereford with his father, the late W. E. Dameron. "The late W. E. Dameron transmitted into this son all of his fine and beloved characteristics, which is quite sufficient to say of any man," the Association catalog said of Dameron.

When asked what he thought of Hereford, Bill replied, "Naturally I think it's the best town in the world. There is one thing I would like very much to see Hereford have and that is a youth center. One way to get it would be for all the civic clubs in town to have it as a project. If we could get one, I think it would be very unusual for a town this size. For me it would be a bigger asset than anything they could put in here."

Winding up the life story of this great cattle lover, there is one other thing which plays a very important part in his life, and that is church. Dameron belongs to the First Christian Church and this past summer he taught a college group. He is a deacon at the church.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

SALEM, Ore. — Mrs. C. W. Hedges was puzzled when she returned to her parked car to find it locked, but she went to the police when she found a shotgun, cartridge belt and a pair of men's shoes inside.

Next day Jim D. Tallman arrived at the police station to report the articles missing. He said he was returning the articles to his brother-in-law, saw a parked car on the street, and mistakenly thinking it the brother-in-law's put the articles inside.

To be sure they wouldn't be stolen, he locked the car which was a model which didn't require a key.

CANYON UPS WATER RATES

Faced with the prospect of expenditures higher than income, the Canyon City Commission last week passed an ordinance raising water rates. The rate increase will become effective with the March billings and will cover water used in the last half of January and the first half of February. In raising the rates, the commissioners noted that the 1956 fiscal year budget will include an item of approximately $61,000 needed for bond retirement. The fund will represent about 37 percent of the entire budget.

FLOYD COUNTY COTTON GROWERS HIRE LAWYER

A group of Floyd County cotton farmers, dissatisfied with their 1956 cotton allotments, have employed G. H. Nelson, Lubbock attorney, and plan to take what action is necessary to protect their interests, Horton Howell, chairman of the executive committee said this week. A meeting was called Monday night of all farmers who had contributed their money to help pay for attorney's fees. Some 40 farmers met at the high school auditorium here and after considerable discussion the group voted unanimously to employ Mr. Nelson. The group has some $3,000 on hand at present.

H. C. Weaver, district highway engineer from Lubbock, told Tulia Kiwanians Tuesday that the State Highway Department hopes to have plans and specifications completed for the new underpass to be constructed in southwest Tulia where Highway 87 goes under the Santa Fe tracks so that contract can be let by midsummer. This announcement came as good news to Tulians who have been conscious of the present bottleneck for many years.

SCHOOL INTEGRATION STUDIED

Three colored members of the committee which studied the local integration question last spring attended the School Board meeting Monday evening. They came to find out whether or not the Board had decided what to do about this matter next year. They first made it clear that they were not opposed to integration, but indicated that as far as they were personally concerned they would prefer to keep Dunbar in operation as long as possible, if they could get better facilities for it. They also expressed a hope that if the Board should decide to integrate next fall, they would try to use some of the Colored teachers who have been in the system a long time. Board members indicated that they thought the teacher situation was impossible and that no more bonds could legally be issued at this time to pay for new buildings for Dunbar.

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

(Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm probably has misinterpreted the news again, a habit of his, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I was out here on my farm this week sort of waiting around for Congress to solve the farm problem, if Congress can do it. It'll beat anything I've been able to do, when I got to glancing through a batch of newspapers I'd accumulated and ran across an article that made me pull my feet off the couch and sit up and pay attention.

According to it, a U.S. Senator wants Congress to map out a plan to discourage "city farmers" who operate part time.

At first glance, I thought this Senator was behind the times, that Congress had already mapped out a plan that'd discourage not only city farmers but all other kinds.

But after I got into it and read where he said "These city farmers—professional men and business men who buy a few hundred acres—help complicate the farm problem," and he wants something done to discourage them, I understand without agreeing.

I'm afraid the Senator is hunting up something to do to avoid plenty of work already staring him in the face.

If you talk with these city farmers, you'll find that a good many of em are already discouraged. I don't know whether Congress can take credit for this or not, but something or someboddy has done such a good job of discouraging city farmers that it has carried over to regular dirt farmers too.

I talked to a city farmer just the other day and, after making the downpayment on a farm a couple of years ago, he says he is now willing to let anybody operate the farm for all he can make off it if he'll just agree to keep up the payments for him.

Making money on a farm is easy when you do it on paper, but when you try it out, those paper profits always manage to hide out. Looks like you never can get to the bank with em.

I'd like to suggest to this Senator that he has already succeeded in discouraging the city farmers, that job is well taken care of. Now he ought to concentrate on encouraging the dirt farmer, and if he's shy of an idea, I'd like to suggest that nothing's as encouraging as a good profit.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

How To Make A Rickrack Dress

IT'S ALL RICKRACK — Alternating rows of bias tape and rickrack braid make a festive dress with the look of lace. Make it with any basic pattern with fitted bodice, gored skirt.

Beauty At Home

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Neatest trick of the season is an important-looking afternoon dress made from notion counter materials.

If you yearn for a new dress with a look of giddy extravagance on a pin-money budget, take a tip from local sewing center experts and stitch up a dress made of alternating rows of bias tape and rickrack braid. The finished product has the costly look of lace.

To make the dress, select a plain basic pattern with fitted bodice and full gored skirt. Be sure the skirt fits smoothly over the hips and has no gathers at the waist. It's simpler, too, if you select a pattern that has the sleeves cut in one with the bodice.

Cut skirt and bodice from firm, plain cotton net of the same color as your rickrack and bias tape. It is effective in black, navy or one of the new champagne beige tones. You will need about two yards of 72-inch net. Make the skirt, leaving the placket unfinished. If you have an automatic swing needle sewing machine, set it for a wide zigzag stitch. If your machine is the straight-needle variety, use the automatic zigzag attachment.

Start at the hemline with a row of rickrack and use a zigzag stitch to secure it to the net. Stitch a row of bias tape next, and alternate in this manner, row after row, to the waistline.

In making the bodice, apply the rickrack and bias tape first and stitch seams afterward. Take necessary darts in net, to achieve correct fit. Then start at the waistline and stitch alternate rows of rickrack and bias tape on front and back sections of the bodice, matching at underarm seams. The shoulder and underarm seams are to be stitched next. Turn raw edges of bias tape and rickrack under at neck and sleeves. Finish by facing with a row of bias tape. Join skirt to bodice and insert zipper.

It will take about 50 packages of rickrack and tape to make this dress. The sample dress in a size 12 required 176 yards of rickrack and 148 yards of bias tape, plus 14 spools of thread.

If this seems like a big project, work up to it gradually by using the same principle to make a party apron or a set of place mats. Then, when you see how easy it is, you can tackle the dress.

In a stage career, here's your chance. Just trot down to see Mrs. Patterson and try out for "Room For One More". There's always room for one more you know. By the way, I expect to get a pretty classy grade out of this little plug. Get me?

Say, you know that a stitch in time saves nine, so I guess I'd better sew it up. Be seen' you.

Greetings Gates! Guess what's new! Bill Knox has a real gone "H" chop—and how. Will this be the new fad? Well, it's hard to say at anyway, this burr is simply the most. You folks don't know that AOL, Billy Don, Don Marvin and Walter were interested in barber-shop quintet stuff did you?

Just call room 113 "Skid" row from now on. Poor Mrs. Crump didn't know what to think of all the commotion last Wednesday morning when the larger portion of the journalism class slid past her room and into the open door about three seconds after the tardy bell sounded. We got around it though; we weren't running in the hall—our feet didn't touch the floor once!

You know—the police force has a dull monotonous job. Nothing exciting ever happens to them—so I'll tell you what to do. You get about three or four girls together and dress in convict shirts, then walk across Main street. From the looks of things, there must be at least two or three officers in the hospital suffering from "fallen jaw". Now that's a rare disease—just call us the Gatesville Girls.

Yahoo-o-o!! In case you're wondering about exuberance, that means that mid-term tests are over, and the two extra "O"s on the end mean that I will never have to take another mid-term test (I hope).

Let me tell you what happened to Glenn P. while he was attending to his "wailing sheet" (test paper) to you. He reached down to get his notebook out of the desk he was occupying and what do you think? It had suddenly grown to the desk. He finally retrieved it and stuck to it was the gooiest, stickiest, gummiest piece of bubble gum you ever had occasion to see in your life. Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Blaylock of Friona visited in the home of Mrs. J. E. Rouse Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jack had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lea of Friona.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Howard spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Don Kenedy and children. Mrs. Kenedy is the daughter of the Howards, now living in Clovis, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Northcutt were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Hartman of Friona recently.

C. W. King of Rosedale, N. M., passed away Friday in the Clovis Hospital. Mr. King, who had been ill for some time, had lived in the Rosedale Community since 1909. He was the father of Mrs. Billie and Maxine Brown. Funeral services were held Monday at the First Baptist Church of Clovis, N. M., with interment in Lawn Haven Memorial Park. Those attending from Garcia were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Northcutt, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt, Mrs. Dan Guseman, Mrs. Jim Monroe, Mrs. Virgil Bomar, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown, David, and Barbara.

The L. W. Campbell family moved Saturday to Clovis, N. M. They were farming for Frank Ford.

His son, Roy, brought him to Mrs. Brown's home Wednesday afternoon and he will remain there until well enough to return to his farm home at Rose Dale.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Coleman and boys, Teddy, Rex and Joe, made a business trip to Lubbock Tuesday. They reported no snow at noon in down town Lubbock.

Mrs. S. N. Thweatt received a letter from her sister, Miss Mattie Lou Hagan, Wednesday morning reporting very cold winter weather and a small amount of snow at Levelland.

Make This Cake Do Double Duty

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
Bake a loaf cake and use it several ways — plain and fancy. Slices of the cake will make the foundation for Individual Baked Alaskas when you are having company. The rest of the loaf cake will be welcome at family meals — with fruit or chocolate pudding, for instance. We like slices of the cake toasted, too, for afternoon tea.

One caution when you try this recipe for Individual Baked Alaskas. Use a really large cookie sheet so you'll have plenty of elbow room when you are covering cake and ice cream with meringue. This guidance comes from our own experience; pay attention to it.

And another piece of advice. Enlist the help of your sister, your cousin or your aunt when you are assembling the individual cake-and-ice cream concoctions. They take two people — both working fast. I can usually manage one big Baked Alaska myself, but I find these small ones are tricky because it takes time to spread each of them with meringue.

GOLDEN LOAF CAKE

Ingredients: 2½ cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 2/3 cup milk, 5 egg yolks (unbeaten).

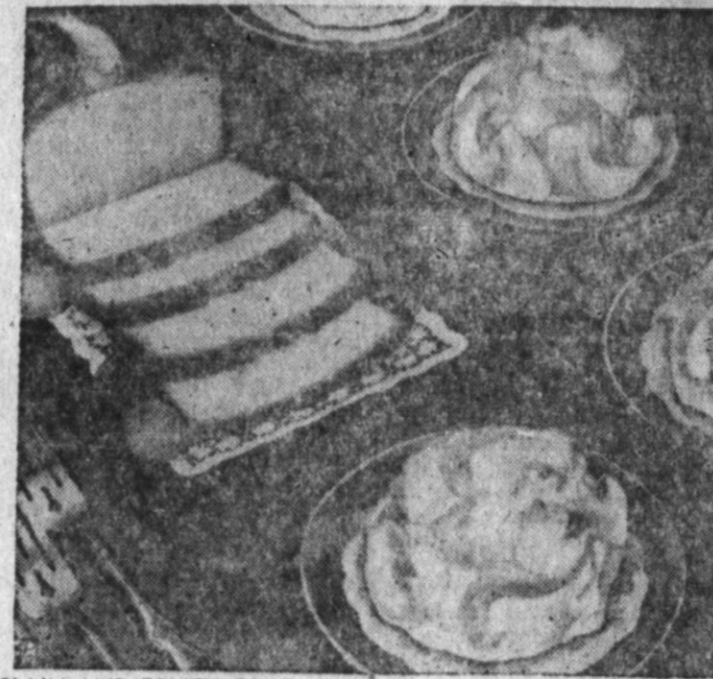

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir butter just to soften with the orange rind. Sift in dry ingredients. Add 1/3 cup of the milk and the egg yolks; mix until flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at low speed of electric mixer, or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. Add remaining 1/3 cup milk and beat 1 minute longer in mixer, at low speed, or 150 strokes by hand. Turn batter into loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches) that has been lined on bottom with brown or waxed paper. (It is not necessary to grease bottom of pan or paper.) Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 to 55 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

fore they can show their pictures on the screen. My husband and I were visiting them Tuesday night and saw the pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown and son Tommy and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and sons, Earl and Roger, visited in the home of Mrs. C. W. King Wednesday night.

Mrs. S. N. Thweatt was in Hereford Wednesday to see the doctor. She is having back trouble again.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Coleman were in Amarillo Wednesday. Mrs. Coleman did some shopping while Mr. Coleman attended to business. They also visited with Mr. Coleman's sister, Mrs. Dallas Earl Coldiron.

PLAIN AND FANCY CAKE — Doubles as loaf or baked Alaska base.

Allow cake to stand in pan on cooling rack about 10 minutes; turn out on rack; strip off paper.

INDIVIDUAL BAKED ALASKAS

Ingredients: 3 slices (½ inch thick) Golden Loaf Cake, 4 egg whites, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 pint very firm brick ice cream, 1 package quick-frozen raspberries.

Method: Cut each of the three slices of cake in half. Place on large cookie sheet. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add the sugar, a tablespoon at a time; beat after each addition until sugar is blended. Beat in vanilla. Continue beating until meringue stands in stiff peaks. Cut very firm ice cream into 6 equal parts, each a little smaller than the half slices of cake. Place a slice of ice cream on each slice of cake. Spread the meringue over cake and ice cream covering completely. Place in a very hot (450 degrees) oven for 4 or 5 minutes, until meringue peaks are lightly browned. Serve at once with thawed frozen raspberries as sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Make sure that ice cream is very firm; cut it with a knife dipped in hot water.

$12 Million To Be Spent In 1956 By Public Service

Continued growth and expansion within its 45,000 square mile service area will make it necessary for the Southwestern Public Service Company to spend more than $12,000,000 for new construction in 1956. It has been announced by A. R. Watson, executive vice president and general manager of the electric light and power company. "Growth goes on in this territory—and so does our need to keep abreast of the continuing demands for service of our customers. Although we have spent more than $180,000,000 in the last 10 years, we must continue our construction and expansion at a high peak to assure adequate electric power for all parts of our region," Watson said.

ADEQUATE WIRING-

Doorway to pleasant Electric Living!

for Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Keeling
LEVELLAND, TEXAS

Your enjoyment of electric living can be complete, as it is in the lovely Levelland home of the Keelings. All it takes is the best investment you can make in your home... wiring that meets your present needs... and those you plan for the future. Mrs. Keeling says: "Our all-electric home gives me more time for the things I want to do. More time for Sandra Kay and George, our children, for sewing, which I enjoy very much, and for playing a part in the activities of my community." Time for the things you want to do... and at the bargain prices of electric living. Adequate wiring assures it for you.

Of course, there are many things all of us want to do, but can't. Most of us would enjoy servants to wait on us, for example, but few of us can afford hired hands. All of us, can afford the wired help of Reddy Kilowatt, though.

As Mr. Keeling says, "I think electric service is a real bargain." Time for the things you want to do... and at the bargain prices of electric service... these are your pleasures with modern electric living... yours when your home is wired for the future.

HEREFORD MAN GETS AWARD — Sgt. Charles A. Boyd (right), 35, of Hereford, gets a "Conspicuous Educational Achievement Certificate" from Col. Paul E. Todd, Tenth Air Force deputy commander, at headquarters at Selfridge Air Base, Mich. It was for completing in 10 months of spare time study correspondence courses on armament systems, weapons mechanics, vehicle maintenance and a fourth on officer candidates covering 27 subjects, all of which usually takes about two years. The World War II Navy aerial gunner and Air Medal winner, who was wounded when a Jap kamikaze strafed the flight deck of his aircraft carrier, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Boyd of Dalhart. For the last 19 months of his five-year Air Force career, Boyd has been a weapons maintenance supervisor for Tenth Air Force, which maintains the combat readiness of Air Reservists and supervises Air National Guard training in 13 Midwest states. With him at Selfridge are his wife, June, and their sons, Patrick, 5, Michael, and Timothy, 2. (Air Force Photo)

A birthday party was held Wednesday afternoon for Jim Shearhart of Hereford in the home of his grandparents, the Earl Coles, also of Hereford. Those attending the party were: Kay, Donna and Sue Cole and Jane Shearhart, all of Hereford and Jana, Bill and Cheryl Cole, of this community. Jim and Jane's folks, the Harold Shearharts left Monday for Dallas for Mrs. Shearhart to receive medical care there. They were snowbound Wednesday in Bowie while they were returning home.

About 64 people attended prayer meeting and fellowship. The fellowship was in the form of a farewell social for Mr. and Mrs. D. A. LaGrone, David, Wayne and Louis after prayer meeting services at the Frio Church Wednesday night. A lamp was given to them from the church, as a farewell gift. Refreshments of cookies, candy, cocoa, kool-aid, and coffee were served to the group present. The LaGrone family plan to move at the first of the week to a farm near Vega.

FISHERMAN GETS SHIRTS CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — A thief using a four-hook fishing plug landed 21 dozen work shirts, worth about $400, from a clothing store.

Henry Sear, the store owner, said the man tore a hole in the roof and used a length of stout line to lower the plug repeatedly into a pile of shirts without ever entering the building.

The lure was found on the floor apparently where the thief had dropped it beyond retrieving.

Smartest Buy in the fine-car field

You've probably noticed that more and more people seem to be stepping into the upper circle of fine cars. And there can be no doubt that "good times" have a lot to do with this. But all by itself, it doesn't explain the sudden spurt in sales of the finest of Buicks—the 1956 ROADMASTER. For it has always been our experience that folks with the wherewithal to buy any car they choose are apt to be the choosiest of all. So it seems quite clear that the marked and increasing preference for ROADMASTER is in the fineness of the car itself.

We can tell you why very simply. ROADMASTER starts off with all the virtues that have vaulted the full line of Buicks to soaring popular favor—then caps that acclaim with a worthiness all its own. You sense this especial eminence at once—in the individualized styling of this gracefully proportioned car. You recognize it again—in the quiet elegance of its custom appointments—and in the good taste of its luxurious fabrics and color harmonies. But you know it for sure in the lift and thrill and spirit of ROADMASTER performance. For here is the obedient might of the highest-powered V8 engine in Buick history—coupled to the flash-fast response and absolute smoothness of an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo—most modern transmission in motoring today. And here is Buick comfort, Buick handling ease, Buick roadability, and the great Buick ride—each brought to its peak in this Buick of Buicks. In all truth, no man who puts true merit above mere symbol could ask for more than is his in ROADMASTER. If that applies to you, we'll be happy to arrange an introduction. Will you phone us—or come in—for a demonstration soon?
