TO BE OR NOT TO BE — Pictured above is the architect's drawing of the new Ela Aikman Elementary School. Voters of the Hereford Rural High School District will decide Tuesday whether or not to approve a supplemental $95,000 bond issue so that the school can be built. A $325,000 issue, which has already been approved, was short of the needed money to construct the school building. Part of the new issue will be used to construct an addition to the high school shop, if the bond vote is favorable.

School Bond Vote Will Be Held Here Tuesday

Supplemental Issue Will Be Voted On By Citizens

Voters of the Hereford Rural High School District will make their decision Tuesday on whether or not to approve a $95,000 bond issue to supplement a $325,000 issue already approved for construction of a new elementary school.

The $95,000 issue was called by school trustees after bids were submitted for construction of the school. Low bids, plus architect's fee and an estimated $16,000 for furnishing, came to a total of $377,775. That is $68,775 short of the $325,000 available.

The remainder of the money from the new bond issue, about $26,225, will be used to build an addition to the high school shop, if the issue is approved. The addition had been planned by the Board for several months to meet demand from students to take the course.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. There will be two voting places, at the School Tax office in the courthouse and at the Dawn School. Sylvester Slagle is election judge of the Hereford box and Bertha Frye will be in charge of the Dawn box.

Bids were issued on plans drawn by Cantrell and Co., architects. B. R. Cantrell told the Board that he believed that the building could have been built for $325,000 in June of this year, but said that costs have jumped drastically since that time.

School trustees voted five and one in favor of calling the election. H. H. Miller cast the deserting vote.

Qualified voters are those residents of the county who have property listed on the School District tax roll and who have a poll tax slip or exemption.

Around Town

Airplane talk was about it around town Friday. The airplanes getting talked about were the ones flying around town hunting for the pilot of another plane. The pilot wasn't ever found. In fact, no one knows of one who is missing.

The Tower Drive-In Theatre will be closed following Monday night's show. Francis Hardwick announced Saturday. "Getting a little too cool," Hardwick said.

Coach B. Russell wasn't as lucky as the President Friday. It was both Scat's and Ike's birthdays. The President reportedly had a fine time, but Russell saw his team on the losing end of a 19-7 count.

More new 1956 automobiles! The new DeSoto will go on display at Warren Motor Co. here Wednesday.

Ann Smith has been named drum major of the Stanton Junior High School band. She was selected from a field of 14.

CHURCH COUNCIL CONVENTION MONDAY

The district convention of the United Council of Church Women will be held here Monday in the First Presbyterian Church. Registration will begin at 9:30 and the session will open at 10 o'clock. Mrs. C. M. Carter of Amarillo will be the main speaker.

Lunch will be served at 12 noon instead of 12:30 as previously announced. In the First Methodist Church dining room with the WSCS serving the luncheon. The Presbyterian Church nursery will be open.

George Graham Resigns As Superintendent Here

George Graham, superintendent of Hereford schools since 1946, resigned Thursday night at an unannounced meeting of the Hereford Rural High School District trustees.

Graham's resignation came following a two week controversy over the type of music the Hereford High School band would be allowed to play. It apparently came as no surprise although Robert Wagoner, president of the School Board said the action was unexpected and had no connection with the band incident. The superintendent's resignation is effective on Nov. 1.

Graham's written resignation was accepted by the Board at the Thursday night meeting. Graham did not mention his reason for resigning.

In the resignation Graham said, "I am tendering my resignation as superintendent of the Hereford public schools. I should like to express my appreciation for the many courtesies extended me. It is my belief that Hereford has one of the outstanding schools in the Panhandle, and I know that you will exert every effort to maintain and improve the educational opportunities for the boys and girls of this community."

Graham said he would be connected with a firm that sells school and church furniture. He will have the Panhandle district, but said he did not plan to continue to make his home in Hereford.

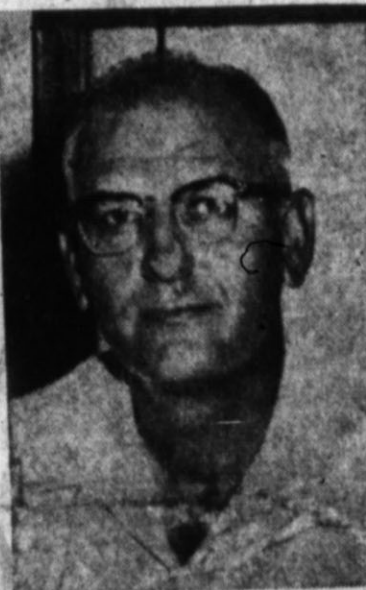

Wagoner said that Graham, who was beginning his tenth year as superintendent here, called him Thursday and asked him to call a special meeting of the Board. The Board had met Tuesday night, but Graham was out of town that day and did not attend the meeting. Another called meeting was set at the Tuesday night meeting for this coming Tuesday. Wagoner said all Board members were present at the meeting. Apparently the resignation came as a result of the Board's decision to allow the band to play a jazz number at football games. High School Principal Pat Sullivan had ordered the band not to play the music at football games and had been backed up by Graham, who said that he told Sullivan to issue the order.

Wagoner said that the Board would carefully screen applicants for the administrative position. "We are definitely open for applications," he stated.

Graham was appointed school superintendent in August of 1946. He replaced Chester Strickland, who resigned to accept the position of superintendent of Denton schools.

The present superintendent came here from Dalhart, after serving as superintendent there for a year. While superintendent, Graham worked hard to keep classroom space up with increased attendance. The new high school building and Shirley Elementary School were both built since he came here in 1946. Construction of another new elementary school is planned.

GEORGE GRAHAM turns in resignation

Enrollment in local schools has increased 2 1/2 times during his administration.

Grain Harvest Begins; Crop Larger Than '54

Elevator men said that the harvest "hasn't anywhere near reached its peak yet, but it has a good start." The Dawn Co-op Elevators reported that "we are doing awfully good out here. We have a good average yield and have some grain going on the ground already." A spokesman for the elevators said grain began going on the ground there Tuesday morning. He said that so far growers have been averaging about 3500 pounds per acre. "We look for just as good a crop this year as last or maybe even better."

A Hereford Grain Corp. spokesman said they had reached about half of their capacity. He also predicted that this would be a good year, with "a little higher yield than last year." He said that yields ranging from 2500 to 5000 pounds per acre were coming in.

A Pitman Grain Co. spokesman said "we are kinda busy." He said that the harvest hasn't yet reached its peak, but said it is well on its way. "We have had some yields below last year and some above," he said, "but we have more acreage this year and I look for the crop to be a little larger than last year."

Henry Sears of Sears Grain Co. said he expected a "wonderful crop" this year. "It will be as good or better than last year's," he predicted.

Sears said that the grain was good quality, "nice dry grain."

Alton Fraser of Fraser Elevators said that the harvest has "just scratched the surface so far." "There is more acreage this year than last and no doubt more grain," he said, "but the weather can change that a lot." Fraser said, "You don't have anything until you get it in the bin." He said that if the county had ideal harvest conditions the crop would exceed last year's.

Market price on grain sorghums at present is $145 per cwt. Most county grain has been selling at the market price but the advent of warm, sunny weather has caused more farmers to place their grain in government storage. The running price on government storage at present is $1.54 per cwt.

Funeral Services Held Friday For Albert Springer, Prominent Farmer

Albert Springer, prominent Castro County farmer, died Wednesday after a short illness in the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Funeral services were held Friday at the Church of Christ, D. C. Lawrence, Dimmitt minister, assisted by J. V. Davis, Hereford minister, conducted the services. Burial was in West Park Cemetery. Pallbearers were N. D. Boylett, John A. Pittman, S. W. Patterson, C. N. McClure, Grady Rogers and Herb Schmidt.

Mr. Springer was born July 13, 1897 in Sidney, Ark. He married Annie Mae Steel in 1916 and they moved to Castro County, south of Hereford, in 1917 where Mr. Springer was a prosperous farmer.

Survivors — his wife, Annie Mae Springer; two sons, George Albert and Charles Springer; one daughter, Mary Lois Summers of Dimmitt; five grandchildren; three brothers, Earl Springer of Hereford, Jack and Marion Springer of Kress; seven sisters, Mrs. A. T. Jones, Mrs. T. L. Sparkman and Mrs. Edward Roberson, all of Hereford, and Mrs. Andrew Gillian of Melvin, Mrs. W. L. Johnson of Plainview, Mrs. Livie Johnson and Mrs. Tom Johnson of Hale Center.

Jet Pilot Search Is Given Up

Deaf Smith County officers spent almost the entire day Friday hunting for a jet plane pilot following a report that a jet had been seen smoking near Hereford and an object which looked like the pilot had been seen falling from the plane.

City police and sheriff's officers, aided by a helicopter and two other planes from the Amarillo Air Force Base, searched the entire area northeast of here, but did not find anything. The search began at 10 o'clock Friday morning and continued until nightfall.

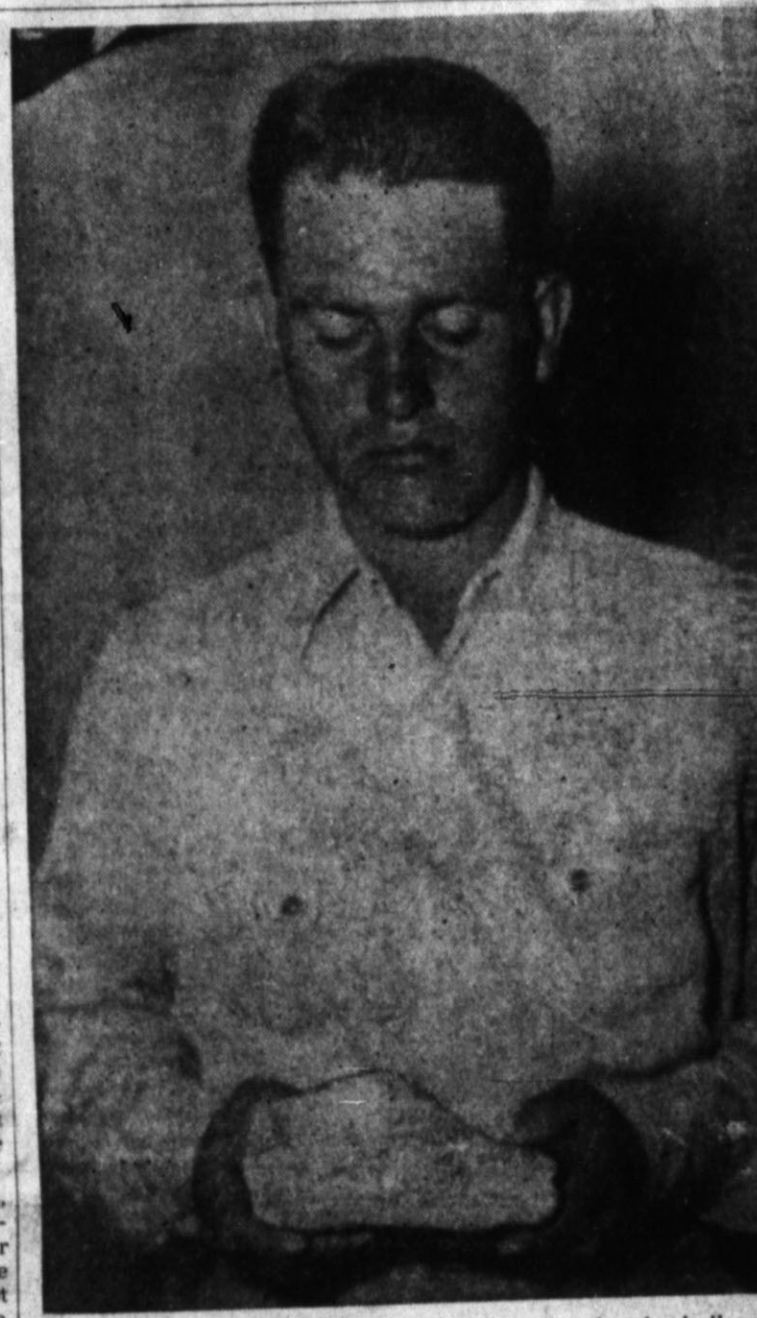

Police Chief Leo Box and Deputy Sheriff Charles Skelton both said that they had received no official report of a plane or a pilot missing.

Box said the search began when Jimmy Lawhon reported to him that he had seen a jet plane flying northeast of here smoking and saw something fall from the plane. Lawhon said the object looked like a man. He said it appeared that a parachute fluttered, but did not open.

Telephones at the police station, sheriff's office, radio station and The Brand almost rang off the walls as citizens asked what the planes were searching for. The helicopter landed on several occasions to make contact with local officers, and citizens reported the landing, thinking that the pilot had been found.

The search was given up Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Kyle of Fort Sumner, N. M., and John L. Williams Jr., and family of Anaheim, Calif., visited in the home of their grandmother, Mrs. E. J. Williams and their aunt, Mrs. M. C. King.

A HUMAN FOOT? — Doyle Cox looks over what he believes to be a petrified human foot he found on his father's farm last week. The object is shaped almost perfectly like a foot. It is chipped off on the heel and toes, however. (Staff Photo)

Mystery Object Found By Farmer May Be Human Foot

A Deaf Smith County farmer Wednesday dug up what he believes to be a petrified human foot.

Doyle Cox, who was plowing up grass on the farm of T. B. Cox, his father, uncovered the "foot" and brought it to The Brand. It slightly resembles cement, but has numerous tiny holes.

It is shaped like a right foot and is only eight inches long, although the tips of the toes have been broken off. It has a perfect instep and resembles a human foot in every other way, with the exception that it is extremely flat footed.

Cox's farm is 12 1/2 miles northwest of Hereford. Doyle said he spotted what he thought was a funny shaped rock and picked it up. The more he examined it the more he became convinced that it must be a human foot, he said.

"As far as I know there has never been anyone buried out there," he said, "and I never have found any Indian heads or anything which would make you think it was an Indian's foot."

MILK HARVEST UNDERWAY — N. G. Elliston, in the truck, was typical of many county farmers, last week as he began getting his grain sorghum "in the bin." Doing the combining is Clyde Smitters. Elliston farms 5 1/2 miles southeast of Hereford. He is expecting to harvest about 3000 to 4000 pounds per acre. (Staff Photo)

Another week has come and practically gone. Seems like we are busy all the time and we still don't get caught up. We always have a hand full of citations when there isn't something else to be done. When you see us driving around town loafing we are usually looking for something or somebody.

We have handled 361 citations this year to date. Some were returned un-served, but those take more time than those we are able to serve. I wish all residents would number their houses so the numbers could be seen at night. Don't like to drive down the street shining a spot light on folks' front doors trying to see their house number.

How do you like the yield right-of-way signs the city is trying out? I am in favor of more. With this kind of sign we can make what Leo calls a "Hereford stop" and still not violate the law. I think they will serve the same purpose as stop signs (in some locations) and will move traffic a little faster. Goodness we need to move fast as possible this day and time even if we aren't in a hurry or have no place in particular to go.

Have about nine in jail at this time. Two are to go to Huntsville as soon as the papers are ready. Have one laying out 60 days and $500 fine and costs. He will be around to help with the last watering next summer. About 236 days. Have one waiting for the grand jury and one waiting for the U. S. Marshall. The others are just waiting for a friend to bail them out.

Frenchman Says U.S. Women Who Work Aid Econom

By RUTH COWAN (For Jane Eads)
WASHINGTON — An important French business woman has gone back home convinced that the main reasons for the high standard of living in the United States are installment buying and the number of married women who work.
Mrs. Edmond Foinant, president of the Assn. of French Women Executives and director of a machine tool company in the Ardennes, headed a group of 11 French business women.
Their cross-country visit was sponsored by the U. S. Foreign Operations Administration and the French Ministry of Economic Affairs.

Mrs. Foinant's observations and impressions appear in the current issue of France Actuelle, published in Paris and distributed in Washington as a fortnightly report for Americans on modern France.
Here are highlights:
"The general belief in France is that not many women in the United States have jobs." Yet in factories and business she visited she reported she found at least 60 percent of the working women were married.
"Always I asked why. In almost every case the answer was 'to buy things for our house' or 'to help buy a new automobile' or 'to help pay the rent on a better home' etc.
"Though Americans eat well, food is less important in the family budget. In France the question of eating well is of first importance on all budget levels. I'm not sure

English Prof Retires To Be Writing Student

AP Newsfeatures
JONESBORO, Ark. — Dr. F. W. Plunkett, 75, retired after more than 20 years as head of the English department at Arkansas State College, has enrolled as a student at the University of Michigan. He already holds degrees from several colleges.
Now he's studying creative writing. "I think I might have a little talent along this line," he says. "It won't take but one semester to find out. If I do, then I will try to develop it; if I don't, that's well and good, too."
He has branched out into new fields before. With a Bachelor of Science in education and a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Missouri plus a couple of years of school teaching, Plunkett decided to become a fig raiser.

In 1909, he went to Texas. But before he could get his fig trees, a freeze killed off the orchards in that many Americans really know good food."

It interested Mrs. Foinant that American girls take home economics courses, but it is her belief that French girls trained in the home are better cooks.
She credited the United States with finding a solution to management-labor relationship based on education:
"Americans are trained, through their most formative years, to be good cooperative citizens. American youngsters are taught in their schools that productivity is the most important thing, and that successful production is the result of friendly, collective effort between capital, management and labor."

the area. He decided that fig raising was not his line.
For a time he operated a dairy farm. Then in 1925, he entered Rice Institute to get his Master's degree. He did graduate work at the University of Texas, University of Chicago and won his Ph.D. at the University of Indiana in 1931.
By that time, he had been head of the Arkansas State English department for a year.
His interest in creative writing was born with retirement.

Grain Sorghum Growers Vote To Organize

A group of grain sorghum growers met here Thursday night at the courthouse and voted to organize a district Grain Sorghum Association.

The meeting was called by R.G. Peeler, who acted as moderator during the meeting. Only 13 farmers attended the meeting, but Peeler blamed the poor attendance on grain harvest. "We found out earlier in the year when approximately 80 growers met that they want an organization of this kind," he stated.

The group voted in favor of assessing dues of a fourth a cent per hundred on sorghum. Peeler said that the group's main function would be to get a "voice in Washington and have grain sorghum made a basic commodity." He said, "The only reason we got a price support cut this year was because we didn't have that kind of protection," he declared.
"If we can get grain sorghum declared a basic commodity we will be in the same position the corn boys are in," said the speaker.

All of the farmers present agreed with Peeler. Jay Boston said that the longer "we wait the worse shape we are going to be in."
Wheeler said that this is just one of about 12 county meetings being held. Other meetings are being held in "all of the irrigation counties around here." He said that representatives of the 12 counties would meet here Oct. 20 to form a district Association.

Gaston Baer and Mrs. Irving Alexander returned Saturday from Albuquerque, N. M., where they attended the funeral of J. Moise.

Bible Words for Today

MATTHEW 11:28-30—"Come to me, all who labor and are heavy-laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." (RSV)

This is the great church bell calling all men to Christ. As the church bell calls men to worship, this great bell peals out welcome to all who are burdened. Each one who heeds the invitation and turns to Christ is given rest for his soul. It is not the rest that comes from idleness. God does not give rest by exempting man from work or duty. This rest is serenity, the profound peace for a man's soul.

Humanity in every generation seeks this rest. The cry of the human soul is, "Where can peace be found?" As Jesus looks on the world's weary, burdened people He longs to be their Friend, Teacher, Companion and Savior. The compassion of Christ gives this great invitation. "Come to Me" is His wonderful blessing. When accepted by man it gives him peace, poise, power, security, comfort and tranquility. Indeed it is the great invitation to all.

Boy Is Slightly Injured In Car, Bicycle Collision

Two accidents Thursday afternoon caused minor damages and slightly injured a Junior High School student.

Lyle Patton had several teeth chipped and suffered slight bruises and facial cuts when he came around the bus barn on his bicycle at the high school parking lot and collided with the right front door of a 1951 Ford driven by Bill Drake. Drake had just turned off Union Street into the parking lot. Damages were estimated at $36.

The second accident involved a 1955 Buick driven by Mary Harman and a 1952 Chevrolet driven by Martha Arellano.

The Buick was traveling north on Main and collided with the Chevrolet 50 feet north of Fourth Street. The Chevrolet was backing out of a parking place.

Damage was estimated at about $75 to both cars. Mary Arellano was given a ticket for failure to grant right of way.

The Popular Store

This has been an exciting week for the community, especially Friday. First came the announcement of Supt. George Graham's resignation and, while people were still talking about this event, word got out that an Army jet plane had crashed in the area.

Supporting the crash story was the presence of search planes and a helicopter. It apparently turned into a false alarm, however, and things had quieted down by football time. People were again wondering Saturday when and how the school board will replace Mr. Graham in mid-semester.

Board President Robert Wagener Friday said that they didn't know. He says that it will probably hold the spotlight in the meeting scheduled for next Tuesday. The board has the choice of elevating someone already in the system, or of importing a new superintendent from some other community. Both of the routes have advantages and disadvantages, school board. I still think this is right; but apparently my item was confusing or vague. Anyway, it was so interpreted by H. H. Miller, who explains his opinion in a letter on this page.

Certainly, it was not my purpose to mislead or misinform anyone regarding the coming election. Maybe I was recalling a little bit too vividly the numerous times the community has been forced to call upon its churches for classroom housing during recent years. Maybe I was thinking about those kids who had to sit on orange crates and go "half-days" a few years back. Anyway, folks can still vote what they feel is right. That's what elections are for. Personally, I am still going to vote for the bonds. The board has studied the situation pretty closely—and the bond election comes from a majority recommendation.

Some people agree with the board, some disagree. All in all, though, every fair-minded person will have to admit that Hereford does have a good school system—one of which we can be proud. Good schools, in addition to providing emphasis to the growth and progress of the community, are most important because they provide training upon which the future citizenship, success and happiness of our children are based. The board now needs and deserves the help and cooperation of the community and school patrons more than ever before.

Last Thursday I had a paragraph in this column stating that people should not vote against the coming bond issue because they were mad at the superintendent, principal or any member of the also beginning to weaken. Anyway, I am working on it real hard.

Right now, I am also busy trying to promote my wife and the office force into insisting that I go pheasant hunting. If they can convince me that I should go, it sounds like a good deal. I understand it requires very little walking, lots of sleep and plenty to eat. If guys like Dale Tinnin, Otis Hall and Sam Nunnally can get their limit, it must be a real cinch. Emmett Milburn, of course, is an expert, but I know it can't be very rough or those other three characters would be going back for a second round.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Jimmie: Have just read the Hereford Brand, including your "Bull" column, and must say I have to take issue with you in regard to the school bond election next Tuesday, as you seem to believe that voting against the bonds amounts to young against any school at all. We have $325,000.00 with which we can build the sixteen-room school and cafeteria.

It will probably be necessary to call for more money within the near future to build more school room as we cannot see the end of our building program, now. I believe we should be starting two buildings now instead of the one.

We do expect a raise in property valuations next year for school purposes.

I do not believe in building cheaply and we do not have to do so. We can build a good building with the money we now have, so, Jimmie, you can see that voting against the bond issue next Tuesday is not voting against any school at all, for we can build the school though the bond issue fail to carry.

Sincerely,
H. H. Miller

Five Injured In Crash Near Here Friday Afternoon

Three Latin-Americans were hospitalized and two others treated for injuries Friday following an accident about five miles northwest of Hereford on a county road.

Hospitalized were Tiofilo Romero, 27, Erminio Suniga, 33, and Guadalupe Rodriguez, 32. Treated for injuries at the Hereford Clinic and then released were Andres Minos and Lencso Lopez.

Highway Patrolman J. R. Kirkwood, who investigated the accident, said that Minos was driving a 1955 GMC pickup and that the others were passengers. He said Minos failed to make a sharp turn and crashed into the bar ditch. Estimated damage to the pickup was $900.

Patrolman Kirkwood said the pickup was owned by Charlie Houston. None of the men were believed to have been seriously injured.

Farm Bureau To Hold Convention Here Saturday

The annual Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau county convention will be held Saturday at the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom, Virgil Dodson, president, announced this week.

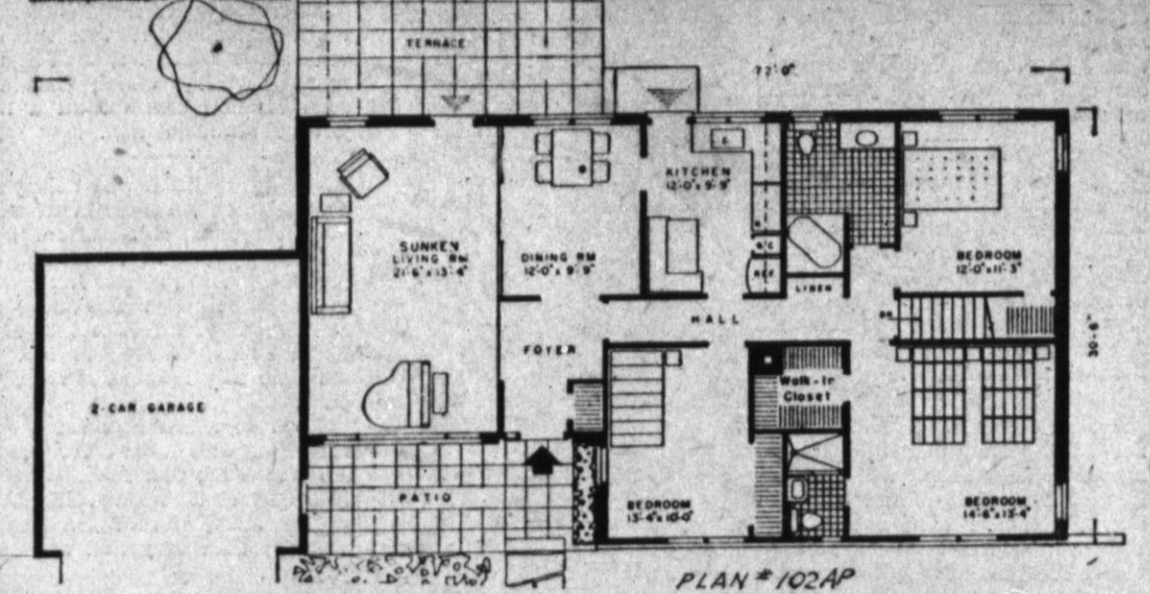

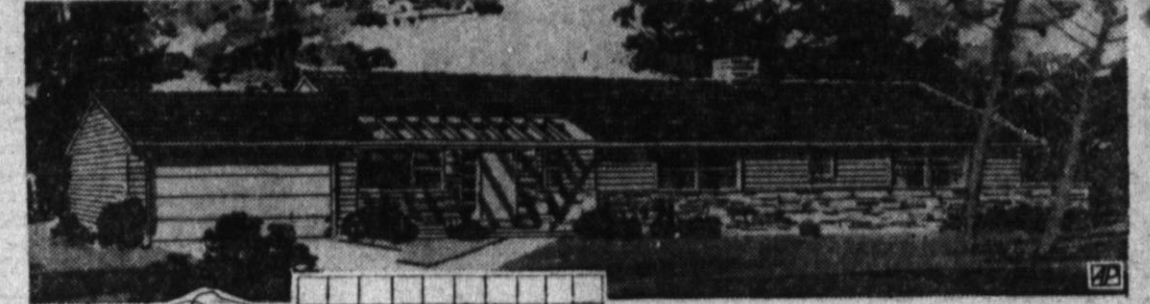

Dodson said, "The passing of one bill in the Texas legislature could easily mean more money in your pocket as a farmer than you could possibly make by harvesting the maize on Oct. 22. What happens in Austin and Washington can affect your farm income more than any day's work you can possibly do. It is important that you come to your county convention."

The FB president said that resolutions to be presented at the state convention would be voted on at the county meeting.

Praising Farm Bureau's work in the past year, he said that the state Bureau supported 21 bills that passed in the State Legislature, supported only eight bills that failed to pass, opposed five bills, four of which did not pass and reached a compromise on the fifth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Miller of McCook, Neb., arrived Oct. 3, to visit with Mrs. Miller's brother-in-law and family. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rogers, and other friends. The Rogers and Millers went to Springer and visited with the L.D. Boyds. They returned to Hereford Wednesday. The Millers left for home Friday.

HEREFORD IMPLEMENT COMPANY

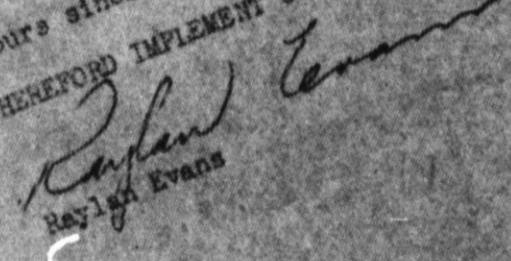

October 15, 1955

To all our Friends and Customers:

We should like to take this means to express our sincere appreciation to all of you who have contributed toward our success in the appliance field since 1948. Your help, patronage, and friendship means much to us, and we take pride in having been able to serve you. We shall endeavor to merit your trust in the future.

A very few units remain in our inventory, so may we remind any of you who are in need of new appliances that the heretofore unheard of low prices are still in force.

We have received word that the International Harvester Company has sold its entire appliance factory facilities. This means, of course, that after our present inventory of International Harvester refrigerators, freezers, and air conditioners is exhausted, we shall no longer have the pleasure of serving you in these lines. We shall continue to provide parts and service as set forth in the company's service warranty, and in addition, continue to stock replacement parts as they will be needed in the future. We shall be pleased to serve any of your needs.

Yours sincerely,

Perryton Rangers Corral Sluggish Whitefaces

Second Straight Loss For Hereford

By BILL KNOX

The loose-tackling, overrated Hereford Whitefaces went down to their second straight conference defeat Friday night as Jimmy Todd and the Perryton Rangers took an early lead then fought back to hold it Friday night at Whiteface Stadium while churning to a 19-7 conference victory.

The Whitefaces went into the game a slight favorite, having lost only to mighty Phillips previously. But the Rangers, who still sport an unbeaten record, marred only with two ties, soundly outplayed the Whitefaces from start to finish.

Both teams got off to a blazing start then settled down to a defensive battle. Perryton led the game in the fading moments of the contest when Jimmy Todd clinaxed a drive by going over from the two.

Hereford's highly touted offense never did get started. Perryton threw up a stout defense and clogged up would-be holes in their forward wall. Hereford's best bet seemed to be through the airways or around end.

Slippery quarterback Tommy Johnson kept Hereford guessing with his adept fakes. And Jimmy Todd and Demphsey Gyger plowed almost at will through the Hereford line.

Hereford backs Wayne Smith and G. C. Merritt were effectively handcuffed. Ranger lineman Bill Jymes led the spirited Perryton line in their stout defensive stand.

One bright star shone for the Whitefaces on defense. But Gene Waits and Tommy Weemes weren't enough. Waits' outstanding play in the middle of the Hereford line kept Perryton from running up a larger score. Weemes was a star at his middle linebacker spot.

Penalties, which have plagued the Whitefaces all year, finally hurt the Herd. Hereford got only four first downs all night, but numerous others were nullified because of penalties. Perryton never was seriously hurt by penalties.

The Rangers got the first break with little over two minutes gone. Hereford facing fourth down, Bobby Veigel was back to punt on the 30. But the Hereford line leaped and Veigel was forced to hold the ball. He was dropped on the 30. It took the Rangers only two plays. Todd raced over from the 29 but missed the extra point.

Then Hereford fought back. Sparky Tommy Weemes, offensive and defensive standout for the Herd all night, ran the kickoff all the way back to the 42. Smith was good for three but Hereford was penalized to the 39. Smith racked up 13 around end and Bryant hit Bobby Veigel with a fine pass play on the Perryton 25. Smith picked up 13 more. Callaway and Merritt carried to the 4 where Callaway crashed over for the Herd. Kaul kicked the point to give Hereford the lead.

Then it settled down to a defensive battle. On the next series of plays Ed Schroeter intercepted Floydada 0; Slaton 0

Dumas Ties Eagles

The powerful Dumas Demons had to fight hard to come out with a tie against the surprisingly strong Canyon Eagles Friday night before a large homecoming throng.

Dumas has now won one and tied one in conference play, while Canyon has tied two games.

Canyon first put six points on the scoreboard early in the first stanza when quarterback Charley Noblett sneaked over from the three yard line.

The two teams waged a terrific defensive battle all throughout the second and third quarters and part of the fourth period. Canyon, apparently, had solved Dumas' single wing type of offense. Canyon runs off the split T.

Dumas finally got the break they needed in the waning moments of the contest when Jim Tiner raced over the Eagle goal line standing up from the 21. The Demons had recovered a Canyon fumble to set up the score.

Dumas' next encounter with the Hereford team will find the Demons topheavy three-touchdown favorites. The Demons have won five and tied one, while Hereford sports a 4-2 record for the year. The game will be played at Hereford.

DISPLAYS MEDALS — Skelton displays the 34 medals which he has won in pistol shooting contests all over the Southwest. The two certificates are for setting new records. (Staff Photo)

Phillips Blasts Dalhart Wolves Behind Jackie Webb

Speedy Jackie Webb led the Phillips Blackhawks to a 63-0 IAA conference victory over the Dalhart Wolves at Dalhart Friday night.

Webb raced for three touchdowns against the Wolves, while Marvin Neely and Tommy Newman each scored twice.

Shamrock Irish Fall to Fired-Up Lefors Pirates, 32-0

Led by Johnny Quarles and Ronnie Rice, the Lefors Pirates coasted to a 32-0 victory over the hapless Shamrock Irish of district IAA Friday night at Shamrock.

Lefors first drew blood in the first quarter when Quarles scored one touchdown himself and threw a pass to Howard Bradford for another score. Rice ran the kickoff back all the way in the third quarter for Lefors.

Rice scored again in the third quarter on a 30-yard run. James Warren went over from the two for the final touchdown. Tommy Hendrick and Bernard Johnson scored extra points for Lefors.

KNOX'S KNOTHINGS

BY BILL KNOX

It's sure a small world. You may recall that after Hereford's smashing 52-19 victory over the Portales, N. M. Rams we ran a little ditty in our column to the effect that the brand of football played in Texas is somewhat rougher than New Mexico gridiron antics.

We used as the basis of our statement a somewhat colorful anecdote from the Portales coach, Max Norwood. Speaking to Whiteface Coach Seat Russell after the game, Norwood said that some of his boys had confronted him with the fact that the Artesia Bulldogs, who the week before had defeated Portales 20-6, "weren't good enough to wear Hereford's warm-ups."

And now we find that Bill Canino, sports editor of the Artesia Daily Press, has, by some means, acquired our article and spoken his word about the subject. And we may add that his views differ considerably with ours.

First let us get things straight. Mr. Canino, it seems to us, is aiming a direct blast at Ram Coach Norwood for what he calls "knocking New Mexico ability." Maybe it's those 185-pound Ram football players, who have played both Artesia and Hereford and ought to know, that Mr. Canino should accuse of "knocking New Mexico" (Continued on Page 8)

Gun Enthusiast Has 34 Medals

It may not be too wise to duel with Hereford Deputy Sheriff, Charles Skelton if you like living. Skelton, a gun enthusiast from boyhood, has won medals from all over the Southwest as a trick gun artist and in exhibition and contest matches.

Skelton's collection of medals totals 34. He owns a medal for almost every branch of pistol shooting there is. Previously he was on the Amarillo Police Force and in the Border Patrol before coming here.

Among the medals of which he is proudest are two which he established new records in, the 22.5-shot and the Jap Match. He was awarded certificates for both of these. Skelton has been a gun enthusiast all his life but didn't start shooting in match competition until he joined the Border Patrol. "I got on the team because they gave team members unlimited amounts of ammunition and I liked to shoot," Skelton said.

Skelton's specialty is aerial work—he uses a Smith and Wesson specially made 357 Magnum. He has pitched two bottles up, drawn, and broken both before.

Skelton was timed, while drawing and firing five shots within a target the size of a human heart at a distance of seven yards, at 1.2 seconds. Without the draw he was timed at .8 second.

So if you're being arrested, do not resist arrest. Not with Charles Skelton anyway.

Littler took the Los Angeles Open, Phoenix Open, Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas and the Insurance City Open.

Horizon Club Names Committees

Committees were named at the Silver Teen Horizon Club meeting held in the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Homer Brumley Tuesday afternoon.

Appointed to serve on the nominating committee were Phyllis Goetsch, Virginia Witherspoon, Betty Paetzold and Linda Parker. Constitution and By-Laws, Carolyn Knox, Betty and Dollie Paetzold, Novella Findley and Ruby Brewton. Telephone, Melba Gay Lawrence, Patsy Cowart, Sue Channer and LaWanna Lookingbill.

Plans were discussed for fall activities of the group during the business period.

Others attending were Donna Witherspoon, Carolyn Kirby, Betty Kroppf, Lynda Phillips, Nona Marie Strange, Ella Marie Williams, Phyllis Sumner, Carol Ann Newell, Janie Bookout, Eugenia Alexander and Dolly Prowell.

COUP DE GRACE AT COEUR D'ALENE

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho — Ralph Reinhold of New York kept cool when a fish made off with his line. Reinhold took after the fish in his boat on Lake Coeur d'Alene, reached into the water, grabbed the broken end of his fishing line, tied it up and reeled in a 30-pound Kamloops trout.

"To ask a favor of a couple of young area ladies, who did a little beer switching behind the Tribune office the other night. Now that is their business, and aside from the fact that we couldn't help but see the license numbers on their very new cars, the only thing we want to ask is that they please go behind some office where they're not working at night to switch their beer from one car to another. We have a hard enough time as it is convincing the sheriff that there is so much legitimate night work at a newspaper office. He's no doubt many a time thought what a perfect set-up for a boot-leg joint. The only thing that makes it impossible is the fact that we are so broke we couldn't find enough cash to purchase some for our own use." — Eddie Irwin in the Morton Tribune.

Martin also gets credit for this one: "When an old boy starts talking about people coming to see him about running for office it's a sure sign that a bunch of his wife's relatives want to get him elected so they can all get jobs. And he'll run too, and the relatives will probably get jobs."

"Start keeping score and see how many times trouble starts because some fellow wants to deny someone else a right which he demands for himself." Troy Martin reasons in his "Cracker Barrel" column in The Oilton Enterprise.

Dogs rarely live beyond 20 years — cats live longer.

UNUSUAL HOBBY — Dr. Fredrick McGregor, of Corpus Christi, a chiropractor turned photographer, looks over a copy of one of the 6,000 or more books he has collected. His hobby is unusual because he seldom gets around to reading any of the books. McGregor explains why his library remains unread: "By the time I finish the paper at night I usually fall asleep if I try to read a book." (AP Photo) ability." After all it came from them to begin with.

Canino says in his column that the Bulldogs had five touchdowns called back while defeating Portales, 20-6, a 14 point margin. He thinks that Artesia has trouble with penalties? Or is he blaming New Mexico referees? Does he know how Hereford has been plagued by penalties? We've had 10 touchdowns called back in four games, three against Portales.

We mentioned in our article that Artesia was being billed as "championship caliber" in Mexico. Artesians don't seem to think so highly of their home town boys. Canino asks, "Who picked Artesia as best in the state?" We figured he did, but we guess he didn't.

But let's be reasonable about the whole deal. Artesia defends itself on the statement about the warm-ups. Then they contradict themselves in denying they're best.

We think that if they are good enough to wear Hereford's warm-ups they are good enough to win the New Mexico state championship!

At any rate, there is one thing which comes out of it. Portales got the short end of the deal both times! Good luck, Mr. Norwood. We hope you still have your job.

Whiteface halfback Wayne Smith appropriately called "Racehorse" by his teammates, seems to be getting the rough end of things this year. Smith, who steps the 100-yard dash in 9.9, has scored 30 points this year but has had the misfortune of having five touchdowns called back. He doesn't seem to mind though. He runs just as fast as ever.

a Perryton pass and took it to the Ranger 32. The Whitefaces lost possession, however, on the 23. Perryton was forced to punt out on the Hereford 26 yard line.

Bryant skirted for 12 on the first play. Then he lost four before Merritt and Smith picked up nine. Veigel punted out on the Herd 48 yard line on fourth down.

Neither team got rolling before halftime. The ball changed hands five times after the end of the first quarter. But only minutes before halftime Perryton took advantage of a bad punt which rolled out on the Hereford 40.

Jimmy Todd, Dempsey Gyger and Melvin Carter ate up yardage consistently until the Rangers got a first down on the Hereford eight. Carter and Todd carried to the one-foot line where Johnson sneaked over. Again Todd's kick was no good.

After that Hereford never did get out of trouble. Perryton's stout defense kept them in the hole all the time. And Hereford's once-brilliant offense seemed to have lost its sam.

But in the fourth quarter the Whitefaces threatened meekly one time. Waits fell on a Perryton fumble on the Hereford 38 yard line, then the Herd rolled. Merritt and Bryant carried all the way to the Perryton 41. Callaway and Smith racked up nine to the 32. Merritt found a big hole but was hit hard He's no doubt many a time thought what a perfect set-up for a bootleg joint. The only thing that makes it impossible is the fact that we are so broke we couldn't find enough cash to purchase some for our own use."—Eddie Irwin in the Morton Tribune.

Martin also gets credit for this one: "When an old boy starts talking about people coming to see him about running for office it's a sure sign that a bunch of his wife's relatives want to get him elected so they can all get jobs. And he'll run too, and the relatives will probably get jobs."

"Start keeping score and see how many times trouble starts because some fellow wants to deny someone else a right which he demands for himself." Troy Martin reasons in his "Cracker Barrel" column in The Olton Enterprise.

Dogs rarely live beyond 20 years cats live longer.

UNUSUAL HOBBY — Dr. Fredrick McGregor, of Corpus Christi, a chiropractor turned photographer, looks over a copy of one of the 6,000 or more books he has collected. His hobby is unusual because he seldom gets around to reading any of the books. McGregor explains why his library remains unread: "By the time I finish the paper at night I usually fall asleep if I try to read a book." (AP Photo)

Garden Beautiful Club's Tour Of Homes Set Friday

The sixth annual Tour of Homes sponsored by the Garden Beautiful Club will begin Friday Oct. 21 at 2 p.m. Seven of Hereford's newest homes will be open to the public for inspection from the entrance to the back door, each featuring the newest of the new in architectural design, materials, furnishings and decor.

The club's annual flower show will be held in connection with the tour with each home featuring a special theme. All the beauty of the October outdoors will be garnered in flower arrangements to carry out the theme in a color-coordinated show-case of beauty.

Members of the club will serve as hostesses and guides at each home and an interlude for Cokes featuring a brief "Get Acquainted Time" will mark the tour at the Gaston Baer Home.

Tickets will be priced at $1.00 and may be purchased at the first home to be visited, the Kenny Gearm home, or before-hand from any Garden Beautiful Club member. Visitors may begin or join the tour between 2 and 6 o'clock.

NO. 1 THE HOME OF DR. AND MRS. H. A. CAVNESS, 300 Star St. "Tiny Tot Tea"—Cindy and Stephen Cavness take time out for refreshments at the snack bar in the kitchen. The combined den and kitchen is paneled in apple green and mahogany. The folding door divides the living room and den. Colors used in the living room are predominantly brown and beige and furnishings are of period design. The den furniture is maple. This house is built of white brick with brown trim and has three bedrooms and two baths.

NO. 2. THE GASTON BAER HOME, 135 Ave. B. "Outdoor Living"—In a color scheme of turquoise and rose-beige, Mrs. Baer has decorated her home with 18th Century traditional furnishings. Focal point of the living room is a smoked mirror breakfront where the family silver, Meissen and Dresden are displayed. Many works of art, in a large collection, enhance the room. Of special interest is a pair of antique Sevres lamps and an original Frederick Waugh painting. The California style exterior is of hand chipped brick in shrimp and varied hues. The trim is in sage green and natural redwood. Cokes will be served here on the patio.

NO. 3. THE REAGEN PEELER HOME, 123 N. Texas Ave. "My Lady"—At the Peeler home you'll find the exterior pink in Roman brick. Mrs. Peeler has used French provincial furniture in the living room and dining room where she is shown against a picture wall. Colors of delicate pink and gray predominate throughout the house except in the den where Philippine mahogany and Early American furniture are used. Mahogany is also used for cabinet work in the kitchen.

NO. 4. THE CAWTHON BRYANT HOME, 312 Star St. "Football Follies"—Mrs. Cawthon Bryant is shown relaxing in the living room of her new home. This room is done in shades of pink and beige. The curtains are in rose-beige and the divan is beige and gold, with the carpet echoing these colors. The same colors are repeated throughout the house. Furniture in the living room is in 18th Century Mahogany, and Early American is used in the rest of the house. The house has two bedrooms and one and a half baths.

NO. 5. THE KENNY GEARN HOME, 321 Star St. "Little Boy In Blue"—This ranch-style house is of Roman rock face brick with inside panelling throughout in different kinds of woods. The walls in the pictured den are of driftwood with the flagstone wood burning fireplace balanced on each side with what-not and book shelves. Early American furniture is featured here. The den, living room and kitchen are separated by folding doors with the living room done completely modern. There are three bedrooms and three baths. The boys' bedroom is paneled in knotty-pine and has four stalls with five foot walls. In each stall is a built-in bed, desk and shelves. Their bathroom has two lavatories and two showers.

NO. 6. THE TOWNSEND DOUGLAS HOME, 112 N. Texas Ave. "Leisurely Living"—Susan, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas appears to be stirring up something in the kitchen. The exterior of this home is in cherry red brick emphasized with vertical wood in white, white shutters and charcoal trim. Furnishings are in American and French provincial with key colors of mustard, gold and aqua with coral accents. The combined kitchen and family room is done in antique maple finish and provincial wall paper. Draperies are trimmed in companion print to match the walls. The house has living room dining area, three bedrooms and three baths.

NO. 7. THE WAYNE THOMAS HOME, 206 N. Knight St. "Pretty Parties"—Mrs. Thomas and son

David take time out for play in the living room of their new home. The exterior is of brick and the house has a large living room, kitchen, den, two bedrooms, one and a half baths, utility room and double garage. Colors are green turquoise, gold and cinnamon on brown with mapleized woodwork throughout including the paneled den and built-ins.

Lone Star Club Makes Plans For Hallowe'en Party

Plans for a Halloween party to be given on Oct. 25, the next regular meeting date, were made at the Lone Star Study Club session held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Frank Lookingbill. Mrs. Earl Phillips was cohostess. The Halloween affair will be held in the home of Mrs. Louie LeGrand with husbands as honor guests. Program for the day was presented by Mrs. Vivian Major whose subject was "Peru."

She told of the Inca Indians and of their ancient buildings which have stood through the centuries, of the people in ancient times and modern and of their manners and customs. "The language is Spanish and the people are a blend of the Inca Indian and the Spaniard. American Oil Companies have approximately 70 million dollars invested in oil there—although Peru is only twice the size of Texas and has only 2000 miles of railroads. It is a good place to shop for furs and hand-wrought silver, but you must register with the police as you enter and obtain permission before leaving," she said. Members present were Mesdames R. G. Blue, Roger Corbett, V. E. Dodson, Leo Forrest, H. E. Henslee, Jim Higgins, C. D. Kelton, Joe Kendall, Vivian Major, Coy Phillips, Earl Phillips, Robert Thompson, Ed Warren, L. L. Womble, Glenn Witherspoon and the hostess.

Ceramic Art Club Studies Stains

Mrs. R. C. Childers conducted the lesson on "Stain work with antique effect" at the Hereford Ceramic Art Club meeting held in the home of Mrs. F. M. Kester Wednesday afternoon.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. O. H. Culpepper Nov. 9, when a lesson on china enamel will be featured.

Attending were Mesdames Phil Radovich, O. H. Culpepper, W. A. Awtry Sr., Carlos Vaughn, John Robinson, Alice Cox, R. C. Childers, Glenn Boardman, Don Root and the hostess, Mrs. J. R. Hickman was a guest.

O E S Past-Matrons Club Honors Mrs. W. C. Hromas

Members of the Past-Matrons Club of the Order of Eastern Star complimented Mrs. W. C. Hromas, member of the Grand Assembly of the Order of Rainbow, and mother adviser of the Hereford Assembly of the Order of Rainbow, at a seated tea given Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. B. E. Roberson.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Roberson, the honoree and Mrs. Mary Katherine Smith, committee member of the Grand Assembly, of Gainesville, and guests were presented with corsages that formed the points of a star carrying out the emblematic colors of the Order of Eastern Star.

The refreshment table was laid with a taffeta cloth centered with a large silver ribbon star with floral star points, encircled with miniature candles in flower holders. Mrs. A. L. Manjeot presided. Mrs. Mary Katherine Smith was guest speaker, reviewing the book "God So Loved the World" by Elizabeth Goige, which is the life

'Safeguarding Children' Is El Nino Club Topic

El Nino Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Doryal Young Monday evening.

In keeping with the club motto "Better Guidance of Our Children" a program on "Safeguarding Children Against Molesters" was presented by Mrs. Ben Childers. At the conclusion of the program each member was asked to tell what she had done to protect her children.

Mrs. Childers said in part: "Parents should caution their children against being friendly with strangers or getting into any kind of vehicle with strangers. Parents should also report any persons loitering about places where children play. Children walking home from school should be shown a route and a time check should be made. They should be told not to take any short cuts in alleys, by barns or dark concealed places. Walking together or in groups should be encouraged. If children were cautioned of strangers half as often as about crossing streets, there would be less opportunity for molesters."

Those in attendance were Mesdames Darrell Blanton, Jim Book-out, Ben Childers, T. J. Clay, R. A. Daniel Jr., W. M. Decker, O. G. Hill Jr., Robert Lindsey, Sam Nunnally, W. J. Reeves, Wayne Thomas, Bill Waldrep and the hostess.

Thanksgiving Plans Are Made By Guild

St. Anthony's Guild met for their regular meeting, Oct. 12, in the parish hall with 28 members present.

After the business session, which included some discussion of plans for Thanksgiving, members drew names for their "Prayer Pals" for the coming year.

The Halloween motif was carried out in the decorations and table appointments. After refreshments Mrs. Joe Peters showed moving pictures.

Hostesses were Mesdames W. J. Albracht, Agnes Cardinal, G. W. Hund, John Henderson, John Stengle and Gene Loerwald. Others attending were Mesdames John Albracht, Harold Banks, Arnold Betzen, Henry Brorman, Johnnie Dupnik, Ed Dziuk, S. A. Fangman, Henry Hellman, Harold Hersley, Eddie Hoffman, Andrew Kershen, L. J. Kuper, Ed Loerwald, Joe Peters, Joe Paetzold, Edwin Sky-pala, Ray Wilhelm, Harold Kreighauser, Matt Jesko, Frank Kuback, and Clara Aecker.

Assisting in the house party were Mrs. Vivian Major, Mrs. John Patton, worthy matron of the Hereford chapter O.E.S., Mrs. F. M. Kester, Mrs. Myrtle Witherspoon, and Mrs. Iva Cocanougher who registered the guests.

Out of town guests included Mesdames Frances Austin, Aileen Tilson, and Zella Smith of Plainview, Clara Lou Slack, Faye Cannedy, and Marie Hair of Canyon, Mary Katherine Smith, and Grace Bosley of Gainesville.

Those signing the guest register from Hereford were Mesdames Lee Curry, J. E. Beyer, F. M. Kester, Vern Witherspoon, Vivian Major, A. L. Manjeot, John Patton, Lee Cocanougher, A. O. Thompson, C. C. Ferguson and Miss Jessie Morris.

St. Anthony's Church Scene Of Koelzer - Blankenship Wedding

St. Anthony's Catholic Church was the scene Monday evening of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Koelzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Koelzer of Friona, and Mr. J. C. Blankenship, son of Mrs. Lola Blankenship of this city.

Miss Gwendolyn Jesko, organist, played the wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Elbert Lee Vance, soloist, who sang, "O Perfect Love," "Ave Maria" and "On This Day."

Miss Billie Jean Jesko, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a pastel blue ballerina length dress of nylon net and lace and carried a small hand bouquet of white carnations.

Daniel Koelzer, brother of the bride, was best man and ushers were Teddy and Arnold Fangman, cousins of the bride. Servers were Herman Jesko and Jerry Koelzer. Father Nathaniel Madden read the double-ring service and was celebrant for the nuptial mass.

The bride who was escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin and lace floor length dress made with sleeveless bodice and full skirt. The lace jacket was finished at the neck with a small Peter Pan collar and featured long petal point sleeves and a lace pephum graduating to three-quarter length in the back. Her veil of illusion was held by a crown of lace ornamented with seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Reception is held Following the ceremony approximately 125 guests attended a reception held in the dining room of St. Anthony's School.

Immediately after the bride and bridegroom had cut the first piece of the tiered wedding confection, another cake was presented to the bride's parents who were celebrating their 28th wedding anniversary.

After a short honeymoon trip the couple will return to Friona to make their home. He is employed with the McCaslin Lumber Company in Friona and Mrs. Blankenship will continue her duties as a nurse at the Friona Hospital.

Nearly 8,000 Americans now live in Lebanon, according to figures released by the Surete-General in Beirut.

Experiments show that birds cannot distinguish blue or violet.

MRS. BRADFORD O. VAN NESS
(Katharine Sigrid Snare)

Katharine Snare Is Bride Of Bradford O. Van Ness

Nuptial vows for Miss Katharine Sigrid Snare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Snare, 444 Sampson, and Bradford Ope Van Ness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil T. Van Ness of 31 Cranbrook Road, Livingston, N. J. were recited in the sanctuary of the Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon, Oct. 8 at 4:30 p.m.
Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor, officiated at the impressive single ring service before the altar arranged with white chrysanthemums and greenery, lighted by wedding tapers in seven-branched candelabra. Master Stephen Quinn, cousin of the bride, lighted the tapers. Family pews were marked by white satin bows.
To enhance the setting, an organ concert preceded the ceremony with Mrs. Wesley Quinn of Clovis, aunt of the bride, at the organ. Her offerings included Nocturne in E Flat (Chopin), A Lovely Rose is Blooming (Brahms), Prayer (from the Gothic Suite) by Boellman, Green Sleeves, Ich Liebe Dich (Grieg), Liebster Jesu (Loving Jesus We Are Here) Bach, If With All Your Heart (Mendelssohn), Dedication (Schumann) and I'll Come to You (Snare-Quinn) which was used at the wedding of the bride's parents.
Mrs. Quinn also played the wedding marches. Elsa's Bridal Processional by Wagner was used as the bride entered and the recessional was "Wedding March from the Rustle Wedding" (Karl Goldmark).
Attendants
Miss Susan Golembe of Dallas was maid of honor. She wore a fitted waltz length dress of coral crystaletta styled with a full shirred skirt falling from a long fitted waistline with side bow arrangement.
Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Bamford of Del Rio and Miss Katharine McFarland of Albuquerque, N. M. They wore dresses similar to that worn by the honor maid in aqua. All the feminine attendants carried bouquets of coffee-colored spider chrysanthemums tied with russet satin ribbon.

Mr. Van Ness served his son as best man.
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pearl-white embroidered silk gown fashioned with bouffant waltz length skirt attached to a fitted bodice having a deep yoke of illusion with portrait neckline outlined in scalloped lace, and short sleeves. Her tiered fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a coronet of heirloom lace embroidered in seed pearls. She wore white kid gloves and carried a bouquet of cream rosebuds showered with stephanotis and white satin streamers. Her Florentine handkerchief was used by her mother at her wedding and her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.
The bride's mother chose a slate blue peau de soie dress with jeweled trim for the wedding. Her accessories were in a matching shade of blue.
Mrs. Van Ness, the bridegroom's mother, wore a Lanvin blue silk taffeta dress with crushed strawberry accessories. Their corsages were of blush feathered carnations.
The ushers were Frank Parsons of Gallup, N. M., Richard Reinhardt of Albuquerque, and Lt. Neyland Allen of Del Rio.
Reception in Church
Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in Fellowship Hall. The table was laid with an heirloom white satin damask cloth and centered with an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Katharine Knowles, aunt of the bride, cut the tiered wedding cake and the bridegrooms cake was served from silver baskets. Mrs. Phillip Barkley, Mrs. H. A. Close, Mrs. Frank Gyles and Miss Lavada Shannon assisted with the serving. Mrs. Wendall Burdine secured names for the bride's book.
For the wedding trip the bride chose a charcoal woolen suit-dress with burnt orange silk lined jacket. Her accessories were in black and her corsage was of russet button mums.
Upon their return the couple will be at home at 7416 Delta in El Paso where Mr. Van Ness is serving as a civilian instructor of Philco at Fort Bliss Electronics School.
Mrs. Van Ness attended Texas State College for Women in Denton and was graduated from the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque where she was an active member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Mr. Van Ness has served with the United States Army and was graduated from the School of Electrical Engineering at the University of New Mexico. He was a member of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity.
Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Neil T. Van Ness of Livingston, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Quinn and son Stephen of Clovis, N. M., and Mrs. Oscar C. Knowles, the grandmother of the bride, of Wellington, Kan.
When the Black Ball Line established the first regular sailings across the Atlantic in 1818, the average time on the eastward journey was 34 days and on the return trip, 38 days.

Foreword To America's Music Lesson For Music Study Club

Mrs. Cecil Massey was hostess for the Music Study Club session held in her home Monday afternoon.
Mrs. H. A. Close, president, directed a short business session and announced the official call of the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs convention scheduled to be held in Spur Oct. 20-21-22. Mrs. C. C. Ferguson was elected delegate to the convention and Mrs. W. E. Dameron was named alternate.
"Foreword To America's Music" was the program theme with Mrs. Bill Brady as director.
As an introduction Mrs. Brady quoted from Gilbert Chase who likes all kinds of music and attempts to show that each type; serious, minstrel, ballad, spirituals, ragtime, and jazz must be woven together for a true American music.
Mrs. C. J. Mountz presented a vocal solo "Tally-Ho" with piano accompaniment by Mrs. A. J. Schroeter. The Hymn of the Month "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life" was sung by the club chorus with Mrs. Schroeter at the piano.
Those attending were Mesdames Sam Albright, Bill Brady, W. T. Carmichael, H. A. Close, Ellis Coombes, Ray Coneway, C. C. Ferguson, H. K. Fox, J. C. McCracken, C. W. Parker, Earl Phillips, T. W. Roberson, A. J. Schroeter, W. J. Stanford, J. T. Sims, Wayne Thomas, A. O. Thompson, S. M. Dunnam, W. E. Dameron and the hostess.

'Safeguarding Children' Is El Nino Club Topic

El Nino Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Doryal Young Monday evening.

In keeping with the club motto "Better Guidance of Our Children" a program on "Safeguarding Children Against Molesters" was presented by Mrs. Ben Childers. At the conclusion of the program each member was asked to tell what she had done to protect her children.

Mrs. Childers said in part: "Parents should caution their children against being friendly with strangers or getting into any kind of vehicle with strangers. Parents should also report any persons loitering about places where children play. Children walking home from school should be shown a route and a time check should be made. They should be told not to take any short cuts in alleys, by barns or dark concealed places. Walking together or in groups should be encouraged. If children were cautioned of strangers half as often as about crossing streets, there would be less opportunity for molesters."

Those in attendance were Mesdames Darrell Blanton, Jim Bookout, Ben Childers, T. J. Clay, R. A. Daniel Jr., W. M. Decker, O. G. Hill Jr., Robert Lindsey, Sam Nunnally, W. J. Reeves, Wayne Thomas, Bill Waldrep and the hostess.

Members present were Mesdames R. G. Blue, Roger Corbett, V. E. Dodson, Leo Forrest, H. E. Hennessy, Jim Higgins, C. D. Kelton, Joe Kendall, Vivian Major, Coy Phillips, Earl Phillips, Robert Thompson, Ed Warren, L. L. Womble, Glenn Witherspoon and the hostess.

Hostesses were Mesdames W. J. Albracht, Agnes Cardinal, G. W. Hund, John Henderson, John Stengle and Gene Loerwald. St. Anthony's Church Scene Of Koelzer - Blankenship Wedding

St. Anthony's Catholic Church was the scene Monday evening of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Koelzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Koelzer of Friona, and Mr. J. C. Blankenship, son of Mrs. Lola Blankenship of this city.

Miss Gwendolyn Jesko, organist, played the wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Elbert Lee Vance, soloist, who sang, "O Perfect Love" "Ave Maria" and "On This Day."

Miss Billie Jean Jesko, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a pastel blue ballerina length dress of nylon net and lace and carried a small hand bouquet of white carnations.

Daniel Koelzer, brother of the bride, was best man and ushers were Teddy and Arnold Fangman, cousins of the bride. Servers were Herman Jesko and Jerry Koelzer. Father Nathaniel Madden read the double-ring service and was celebrant for the nuptial mass.

The bride who was escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin and lace floor length dress made with sleeveless bodice and full skirt. The lace jacket was finished at the neck with a small Peter Pan collar and featured long petal point sleeves and a lace peplum graduating to three-quarter length in the back. Her veil of illusion was held by a crown of lace ornamented with seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Reception is held following the ceremony approximately 125 guests attended a reception held in the dining room of St. Anthony's School.

Immediately after the bride and bridegroom had cut the first piece of the blessed wedding confection, another cake was presented to the bride's parents who were celebrating their 28th wedding anniversary.

After a short honeymoon trip the couple will return to Friona to make their home. He is employed with the McCaslig Lumber Company in Friona and Mrs. Blankenship will continue her duties as a nurse at the Friona Hospital.

Nearly 8,000 Americans now live in Lebanon, according to figures released by the Surete-General in Beirut.

Lone Star Club Makes Plans For Hallowe'en Party

Plans for a Halloween party to be given on Oct. 25, the next regular meeting date, were made at the Lone Star Study Club session held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Frank Lookingbill. Mrs. Earl Phillips was cohostess.

The Halloween affair will be held in the home of Mrs. Louie LeGrand with husbands as honor guests. Program for the day was presented by Mrs. Vivian Major whose subject was "Peru."

She told of the Inca Indians and of their ancient buildings which have stood through the centuries, of the people in ancient times and modern and of their manners and customs. "The language is Spanish and the people are a blend of the Inca Indian and the Spaniard. American Oil Companies have approximately 70 million dollars invested in oil there although Peru is only twice the size of Texas and has only 2000 miles of railroads. It is a good place to shop for furs and hand-wrought silver, but you must register with the police as you enter and obtain permission before leaving" she said.

Members present were Mesdames R. G. Blue, Roger Corbett, V. E. Dodson, Leo Forrest, H. E. Hennessy, Jim Higgins, C. D. Kelton, Joe Kendall, Vivian Major, Coy Phillips, Earl Phillips, Robert Thompson, Ed Warren, L. L. Womble, Glenn Witherspoon and the hostess.

Ceramic Art Club Studies Stains

Mrs. R. C. Childers conducted the lesson on "Stain work with antique effect" at the Hereford Ceramic Art Club meeting held in the home of Mrs. F. M. Kester Wednesday afternoon.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. O. H. Culpepper Nov. 3, when a lesson on china enamel will be featured.

Attending were Mesdames Phil Radovich, O. H. Culpepper, W. A. Awtry Sr., Carlos Vaughn, John Robinson, Alice Cox, R. C. Childers, Glenn Boardman, Don Root and the hostess, Mrs. J. R. Hickman was a guest.

O E S Past-Matrons Club Honors Mrs. W. C. Hromas

Members of the Past-Matrons Club of the Order of Eastern Star complimented Mrs. W. C. Hromas, member of the Grand Assembly of the Order of Rainbow, and mother adviser of the Hereford Assembly of the Order of Rainbow, at a seated tea given Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. B. E. Roberson.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Roberson, the honoree and Mrs. Mary Katherine Smith, committee member of the Grand Assembly of Gainesville, and guests were presented with corsages that formed the points of a star carrying out the emblematic colors of the Order of Eastern Star.

The refreshment table was laid with a taffeta cloth centered with a large silver ribbon star with floral star points, encircled with miniature candles in flower holders. Mrs. A. L. Manjeot presided.

Mrs. Mary Katherine Smith was guest speaker, reviewing the book "God So Loved the World" by Elizabeth Gouge, which is the life of Christ. She presented the book as three movements of a great symphony: the first as gentle and tender, the second slow and powerful mounting into tragedy and the third, a song of victory.

Assisting in the house party were Mrs. Vivian Major, Mrs. John Patton, worthy matron of the Hereford chapter O.E.S., Mrs. F. M. Kester, Mrs. Myrtle Witherspoon, and Mrs. Iva Cocanougher who registered the guests.

Out of town guests included Mesdames Frances Austin, Aileen Tilson, and Zaida Smith of Plainview, Clara Lou Slack, Faye Cannedy, and Marie Hair of Canyon, Mary Katherine Smith, and Grace Bosley of Gainesville.

Those signing the guest register from Hereford were Mesdames Lee Curry, J. E. Beyer, F. M. Kester, Vern Witherspoon, Vivian Major, A. L. Manjeot, John Patton, Lee Cocanougher, A. O. Thompson, C. C. Ferguson and Miss Jessie Morris.

Katharine Snare Is Bride Of Bradford O. Van Ness

MRS. BRADFORD O. VAN NESS (Katharine Sigrid Snare)

Nuptial vows for Miss Katharine Sigrid Snare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Snare, 444 Sampson, and Bradford Opie Van Ness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil T. Van Ness of 31 Cranbrook Road, Livingston, N. J. were recited in the sanctuary of the Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon, Oct. 8 at 4:30 p.m.

Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor, officiated at the impressive single ring service before the altar arranged with white chrysanthemums and greenery, lighted by wedding tapers in seven-branched candelabra. Master Stephen Quinn, cousin of the bride, lighted the tapers. Family pews were marked by white satin bows.

To enhance the setting, an organ concert preceded the ceremony with Mrs. Wesley Quinn of Clovis, aunt of the bride, at the organ. Her offerings included Nocturne in E Flat (Chopin), A Lovely Rose is Blooming (Brahms), Prayer (from the Gothic Suite) by Boellman, Green Sleeves, Ich Liebe Dich (Grieg), Liebest Jesu (Loving Jesus We Are Here) Bach, If With All Your Heart (Mendelssohn), Dedication (Schumann) and I'll Come to You (Snare-Quinn) which was used at the wedding of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Quinn also played the wedding marches. Elsa's Bridal Processional by Wagner was used as the bride entered and the recessional was "Wedding March from the Rustic Wedding" (Karl Goldmark).

carried bouquets of coffee-colored spider chrysanthemums tied with russet satin ribbon.

Mr. Van Ness served his son as best man. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pearl-white embroidered silk gown fashioned with bouffant waltz length skirt attached to a fitted bodice having a deep yoke of illusion with portrait neckline outlined in scalloped lace, and short sleeves. Her tiered fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a coronet of heirloom lace embroidered in seed pearls. She wore white kid gloves and carried a bouquet of cream rosebuds showered with stephanotis and white satin streamers. Her Florentine handkerchief was used by her mother at her wedding and her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

The bride's mother chose a slate blue peau de soie dress with jeweled trim for the wedding. Her accessories were in a matching shade of blue.

Mrs. Van Ness, the bridegroom's mother, wore a Lanvin blue silk taffeta dress with crushed strawberry accessories. Their corsages were of blush feathered carnations. The ushers were Frank Parsons of Gallup, N. M., Richard Reinhardt of Albuquerque, and Lt. Neyland Allen of Del Rio.

Reception in Church Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in Fellowship Hall. The table was laid with an heirloom white satin damask cloth and centered with an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Katharine Knowles, aunt of the bride, cut the tiered wedding cake and the bridegrooms cake was served from silver baskets. Mrs. Phillip Barkley, Mrs. H. A. Close, Mrs. Frank Gyles and Miss Lavada Shannon assisted with the serving. Mrs. Wendall Burdine secured names for the bride's book.

For the wedding trip the bride carried a charcoal woolen suit-dress with burnt orange silk lined jacket. Her accessories were in black and her corsage was of russet button mums.

Upon their return the couple will be at home at 7416 Delta in El Paso where Mr. Van Ness is serving as a civilian instructor of Philco at Fort Bliss Electronics School.

Mrs. Van Ness attended Texas State College for Women in Denton and was graduated from the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque where she was an active member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Mr. Van Ness has served with the United States Army and was graduated from the School of Electrical Engineering at the University of New Mexico. He was a member of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Neil T. Van Ness of Livingston, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Quinn and son Stephen of Clovis, N. M., and Mrs. Oscar C. Knowles, the grandmother of the bride, of Wellington, Kan.

When the Black Ball Line established the first regular sailings across the Atlantic in 1818, the average time on the eastward journey was 24 days and on the return trip, 38 days.

Foreword To America's Music Lesson For Music Study Club

Mrs. Cecil Massey was hostess for the Music Study Club session held in her home Monday afternoon.

Mrs. H. A. Close, president, directed a short business session and announced the official call of the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs convention scheduled to be held in Spur Oct. 20-21-22. Mrs. C. C. Ferguson was elected delegate to the convention and Mrs. W. E. Dameron was named alternate.

"Foreword To America's Music" was the program theme with Mrs. Bill Brady as director.

As an introduction Mrs. Brady quoted from Gilbert Chase who likes all kinds of music and attempts to show that each type; serious, minstrel, ballad, Spirituals, ragtime, and jazz must be woven together for a true American music.

Mrs. C. J. Mountz presented a vocal solo "Tally-Ho" with piano accompaniment by Mrs. A. J. Schroeter. The Hymn of the Month "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life" was sung by the club chorus with Mrs. Schroeter at the piano.

Those attending were Mesdames Sam Albright, Bill Brady, W. T. Carmichael, H. A. Close, Ellis Coombes, Ray Coneway, C. C. Ferguson, H. K. Fox, J. C. McCracken, C. W. Parker, Earl Phillips, T. W. Roberson, A. J. Schroeter, W. J. Stanford, J. T. Sims, Wayne Thomas, A. O. Thompson, S. M. Dunnam, W. E. Dameron and the hostess.

Attendants

Miss Susan Golembe of Dallas was maid of honor. She wore a fitted waltz length dress of coral crystalette styled with a full shirred skirt falling from a long fitted waistline with side bow arrangement.

Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Bamford of Del Rio and Miss Katharine McFarland of Albuquerque, N. M. They wore dresses similar to that worn by the honor maid in aqua. All the feminine attendants

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Just Because We Can't Make It Rain Is No Sign That We Like The Drought

News coverage, one would think, is a routine item which the reader is entitled to expect when he lays down his nickel and buys his newspaper. It is possible, on the other hand, that we may be so engulfed in our own worries and problems that we fail to stress the subject sufficiently.

During the past week we have been somewhat surprised to encounter a divergence of opinion on coverage of news items in The Brand. Some people declare themselves as thinking certain articles are wonderful, others think that they are terrible.

To us, a good news story is one which is well written, informative—and without bias or prejudice. Viewed from this standpoint, it is exceptional for the reader to intensely like or dislike a story.

Such controversy over any story seems to us to be the result of a lack of clear understanding on the part of our readers as to the difference between a news story and an editorial. The difference, to us, is tremendous and, for this reason, it appears that Brand policy should be clarified on this point.

In any news story, it is our object to bring the facts of the situation to the reader who, in turn, makes up his own mind concerning the subject. Editorials appear on this page and they do express opinion, generally that of the publisher. They are, after a fashion, letter to the editor—and automatically carry his signature, along with full responsibility. Signed columns also often express opinion and are very much like the editorial. They are the two chief vehicles through which newspaper expresses its own opinion.

When you find a reporter's opinion in a story, he has done a poor job. He is either "overboard", or he is inefficient. He may quote what others say and do, but his primary purpose is to present a true account of the facts and circumstances as they have actually occurred.

Asking a newspaper to omit legitimate news within its scope of policy and general coverage is highly similar to asking that the post office not to deliver a neighbor's mail because of some personal desire for gain, or an effort to escape the results of some personal circumstance. The same person who would not think of asking the district judge to withhold sentence, often does not hesitate to ask the newspaper to shirk its Constitutional obligations and moral duties.

Not even the people who censure a newspaper for printing the facts would want things any other way—if they stopped and thought the matter over. The newspaper, after all, does not make the news! It merely records the events of the week and the day to the best of its ability, and without prejudice in its news stories. Your newspaper cannot make it rain—although the reporters and editors would much rather write about "soaking rains" than about "long droughts". All in all, they do the best they can to be fair and accurate in their reporting.

The reader, on the other hand, lays down his nickel or his dime, as the case may be, and buys his copy of the newspaper on FAITH; faith that the newspaper will carry the news within its scope, faith that the news will be accurate and unbiased, faith that the writers and editors will be sincere and honest in their opinions, although he may or may not agree.

All of which, to us, just about sums up the newspaper business—and leads us to the conclusion that if everyone viewed the situation as we understand it, life would be much more simple for all persons engaged in the newspaper profession.

Fire Prevention Is Year Around Vigil

Fire Prevention Week is over and, except for a few speeches, wholesale rides on the fire truck and a few posters noted here and there, it has already been forgotten by the rank and file of the area population.

Everyone admits that the annual occasion is a good thing. The firemen, who were already contributing more than their share, did most of the work but, to the public, it was just another National Week.

From one standpoint, we have to admit that the situation is good. It indicates that Hereford has an efficient fire department, that fire loss in recent years has been low and, in general, that the situation is well in hand. However, it is also well to remember the days when things were not so smooth—and we do not have to go further back than a single decade.

Since man first learned to cook his meat and warm his cave, fire has been a constant threat to his security. True, he may have learned to better control the hazard and use it to his benefit, but it is still an ever-present threat despite any feeling of security the individual may possess. The lives of loved ones or the savings of a lifetime can be wiped out through one bad fire.

Fire Prevention Week started as an annual observance in 1911, commemorating the notorious Chicago fire of 1871. Since that time it has become a nationwide institution. Certainly, it has some merit despite its sometimes apathetic acceptance in the average community.

It is an excellent time to inventory our personal hazards, to remind ourselves that many fires can be prevented, thus saving the necessity of fighting them. All in all, it should be practiced every week in the year if we are to maintain the present enviable low fire loss established in this area during the past few years.

Citizenship Tests

Did you ever stop to think how few Americans could make a passing grade on the Citizenship tests which immigrants into this country must face to become citizens?

They would be few, indeed. This, of course, is good business in view of the fact that all new citizens should have a working knowledge of our government, a background in our history and a passing acquaintance with our traditions.

On the other hand, when the average American-born citizen attends public school classes for a period of 12 years, absorbs information from newspapers, radio and TV, it does seem logical that he should be in a position to sit down, take the tests and come out with flying colors at any given time.

Our experience with new citizens generally indicates that they take more pride, show greater interest and do far less complaining than the average native born American. Many of them have recently immigrated from lands of famine into a land of feast, which may account for some of their enthusiasm. All in all, though, we are inclined to think that perhaps they may have been enthused through the actual accomplishment of passing the rigid citizenship test.

A similar citizenship test, if required before a citizen becomes eligible to vote, might serve the same purpose on a nationwide scale. It will never happen, of course, but it might lead to a more general observance of public duty. Besides, it is something intriguing upon which to speculate.

QUESTION OF FTHE WEEK

Passage Of Bond Issue Is Favored By Citizens

Voters of the Hereford Rural High School District go to the polls Tuesday to decide whether or not to approve a $95,000 bond issue to supplement a $325,000 issue already approved for the construction of a new elementary school. Are you in favor of this this?

GLENN BELL

I'm in favor of the issue. The town is growing and there is a demand for a big building.

GRADY ROGERS

We have to have schools. The town is growing and if we don't start with a large school now another bond issue will come up later that will have to pass for the enlargement of the school.

MRS. C. R. NICHOLS

I should say I'm in favor of it.

BLUE TURPIN

I'm in favor of the issue. I don't have any children, but anything that will be of benefit to the young ones I'm in favor of.

MRS. S. O. WILSON

I'm in favor of this. If we need a school we should go ahead and build one.

LLOYD OLSON

Yes, I'm in favor of the issue. The town is growing and the education system must grow with it. There are no signs of a decline.

MRS. TERRY KIRBY

Yes, I'm in favor of it. I'll be having a daughter in school soon.

MRS. OTIS KING

We need the school and will have to have a large one some time. We might as well do it now.

'Tater Peelin's

by Roberta Campbell

This is the time of year when we need to at least be twins and triplets would be even better. There's the last of canning and freezing to be done and we can't decide whether we should put up a few more peas, gather turnip greens, dress chickens, bring in the acorn squash, dig potatoes, put the facing on the window before winter overtakes us or finish cleaning up the back yard. Three people might stand a chance of catching up, but after 15 years of struggling we have come to the conclusion that one never gets everything done—on a farm anyway—so maybe we had just as well take a little time to enjoy some of the things we would like to do before we creak so far into the middle age that we topple over into old age without much warning.

Lately we have been high-pressed into getting down on the floor to play a game of marbles with Buster. We tried to explain that it would probably take a chain hoist to get us up again, but youth doesn't understand what it takes to lift a dead weight with stiff knees.

Looks as if the weatherman has decided to be real sociable with those who have crops to gather after giving us a good rain to sprout the wheat. October seems so peaceful after the bluster of spring and the heat of summer in this region that it is doubly appreciated.

Cute little quip decorating the wall over the kitchen cabinets in the home of Mrs. Art Manjoet—"Adam said to Eve, this is no time for Applesauce."

Community Builders

By MARY JO PETERS

The "fill in" is what this week's Community Builder likes to be. Mrs. Alice Cox says she likes to be wherever she is needed and can help some one out.

Mrs. Cox is a practical nurse and finds it a very helpful profession when it comes to helping people out as well as making a living. All the work she has done as a practical nurse in about 25 years has been praise-worthy for she has been most faithful to a most deserving profession.

"There just aren't enough hours in my day," says Mrs. Cox, which isn't surprising since her interests are so varied. People are just wonderful, but young people most of all, she says. She has worked as supervisor of the Cub Scouts for two years and served as president of the Golden Circle Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Cox worked with the children at the Labor Camp until she was asked to take over the women and teach them art. She also worked with the Sunbeams.

It was through the help of Mrs. Cox that three Home Demonstration Clubs had their beginnings. She has always enjoyed this organization and is a very active member, serving in almost every office at some time or another. Mrs. Cox is a member of the Home Demonstration Choral Club. Being quite fond of art, Mrs. Cox is a member of the Art Guild and president of the Ceramic Art Club. She paints and does a variety of other types of art.

Mrs. Cox serves as president of the Federation of Women's Clubs and is a member of the Citizens Committee. A member of the First Baptist Church, Mrs. Cox has one regret. That is that she is not able to take as active a part in her church as she would like.

Mrs. Cox is a qualified teacher of the home care of the sick and a licensed beautician. To Mrs. Alice Cox it doesn't matter who may be in trouble or where—she will be glad to help and very often she will find them in order that she may give a helping hand.

The mother of three children, Mrs. Cox thinks Hereford is a "wonderful place" and the only home she has ever known. Her parents moved here when she was just six months old. Hereford needs a community house, but schools, which are more important, come first, she said.

Humor From Other Columnists

Says Bill Perkins in his "Plain Talk" column in The McLean News: "Before anyone gets the wrong idea, 'Freedom of the Press' does not mean you don't have to pay your subscription."

"Pete Pituitary has decided that a summer resort is a place where bellhops think money grows on trays," according to Doug Poe in his "Nearly News" column in the County Wide News (Littlefield).

Paul Crume, Dallas Morning News columnist, tells about spotting the following sign: "You so-and-so keep stealing my paper I'll get you and how."

Appearing in the "Hash" column in the Uvalde Leader-News this week was this bit of wit: "Well I'll be a monkey's uncle—somebody must have had a party over the weekend to which we weren't invited! Did you know there were six DWI cases filed over at the courthouse over the weekend? We didn't get to go to the bull fight ourselves."

And Floyd Casebolt has this to say in his "Eastland Echoes" column in the Eastland Telegram: "An expert is one who has previously made the same mistake."

Asked by a reader when it would be proper for a gentleman to remove his hat, Frank W. Zelnke, in his "Percussions and Repercussions" column in The Bellville Times, said, "It should be done when mopping the brow, when taking a bath, when eating, when going to bed, when taking up collection, when having the hair cut, when being shampooed and when standing on the head."

Says Bill Miller in the Spearman Reporter: "We would like to educate the public to learn that we cannot start on Tuesday or Wednesday and print a newspaper in one or two days. Ordinarily, an advertiser feels that if they get their copy into this office a few hours before the deadline, the newspaper will not have a bit of trouble printing the paper. We do!"

A. Dill's column's name is humor or in itself. The Baird Star writer calls his column "Sweet 'N' Sour."

DIMITT HAS BUILDING BOOM

Dimitt building is now pushing close to the million dollar mark for the current year and should exceed that figure by the end of December. Optimists say that Dimitt's growth has been near phenomenal and the peak or highest building level is yet to come as new businesses continue to move in and old businesses continue to expand. —THE CASTRO COUNTY NEWS

FRIONA GETS FIRST BALE

First bales of cotton have been delivered in the last week to the L&H Gin and the North Plains Gin Company, both of Friona. First area bale went to the Mills-Fleming firm at Hub at an earlier date, Sept. 9. The L & H bale was ginned last Thursday, coming from the Bradford land 17 miles southeast of Friona, weighing 640 pounds lint from a 2960 pound load. Glynn Hughes delivered the first bale to the North Plains Gin, Wednesday of this week. His bale weighed 5021 pounds. —THE FRIONA STAR

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

(Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher has an odd theory this week, but that's not odd for him.)

Dear editor:

I was out here on my farm yesterday afternoon wandering around just to be doing, most people have to have a purpose for nearly everything they do but I don't follow that policy, there are some aimless things worth doing in this life just for the doing and no man should be called on to explain why, when I took a newspaper away from one of my cows, she was chewing on it, lack of minerals in her diet, I guess, and she can have it back when I get through with it. Me and my cows operate on a free-choice basis, they chew and I read any paper we can get hold of.

I sat down and smoothed it out and over on an inside, or un-chewed, page I ran into an article that got me to thinking.

According to it, the population of the United States will be 19 million by 1975, and the population of Texas will almost double, coming up to over 12 million. That's only 20 years from now.

While I didn't know there was any particular shortage of people in this world—the way it looks now the ones we got have a hard enough time getting along—I guess the people making the estimate know what they're talking about and we might as well face it, but what puzzled me is that nobody ever really explains why the population is increasing.

I think I know why. The reason is that the automobile manufacturers are making cars so fast the public is having a hard time buying all of them and yet if production is cut back it'll throw some people out of work and set up a chain reaction and consequently the only way to keep things from falling to pieces is to keep the population figures ahead of automobile production.

There are two things Americans can't stand, one is to see a car dealer with more cars than he can sell, and the other is to see a man walking when he could be riding, and my theory is that population figures are now definitely tied in with car production as definitely as deer are to the amount of grass available, and the population and car figures have no way to go but up.

It may get crowded eventually, Yours faithfully, J. A.

County Agricultural Situation Is Studied On Tour

The Sunday Brand

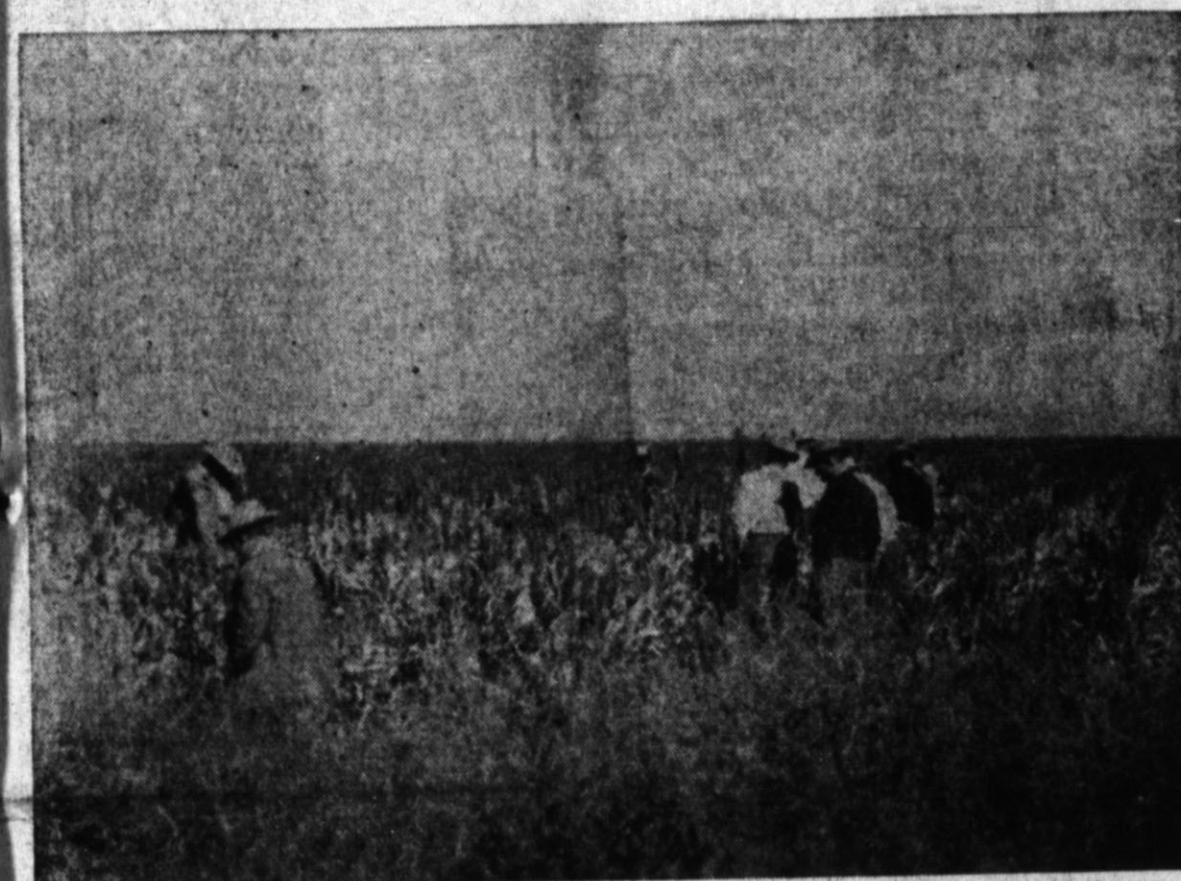

Hereford, Texas, Sunday, October 16, 1955 SECTION THREE

← AT JACOB BROS. — The group of men who went on the annual field tour sponsored by the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District are pictured at their first stop, Jacob Bros., looking over guar. The tour was held Wednesday after those who made the tour heard H. M. Bell, plant technologist, speak at the Lions Club luncheon meeting.

→ LOOKING OVER SESAME CROP — Second stop on the tour was at the Taft McGee farm to look over cowpeas interplanted in sorghums. The next stop was at Raymond Higginbotham's, where the men were shown his sesame crop (pictured), something new in Deaf Smith County agriculture.

← HYBRID GRAIN SORGHUMS — The fourth stop on the tour was at the Dale Coleman farm. There the delegation saw sorghums following alfalfa and hybrid grain sorghums. They had been shown slides on better farming by Plant Technologist H. M. Bell before the tour started.

→ IMPROVED PASTURE — The delegation's fifth stop was at the Luther Lesly farm. There an improved pasture was seen by the group. Caucasian bluestem and weeping love grass were admired by the group. The tour was under the direction of County Agent Hugh Clearman and Jim Wiman of the SCS.

← SEED PRODUCTION — At the Ira Scott farm, sixth stop on the farm tour, the group looked over some of the sorghum plants from which the hybrids are developed. It was explained that the fertile female plant was rare and therefore valuable. The male plant is the shorter of the two pictured.

→ WATERMELON TIME — Still at the Ira Scott farm the delegation got an unannounced surprise. Watermelons were split open and the group had an in-the-field feast. The tour followed a meeting of the Lions Club where farmers were guests of the members.

← GRASS FOR SEED PRODUCTION — On the seventh stop of the day the group saw grasses grown for seed production at the George Warner farm. Warner's grass plantings attracted a lot of attention, as they did on the tour last year, too. Big bluestem and Blackwell switch grass are grown by Warner.

→ FINAL STOP — The last stop was at the Albert Stengel farm where irrigated sorghums planted two rows on the bed were seen. The sorghums were ready to harvest and drew a lot of attention. Jim Wiman said that the tour would be held earlier next year so that it can be held before harvest gets underway.

What's This

—By Chris

Greetings all you good people! How goes it this early bright? Well, we've survived another week and now I'll cite you on some of the "important" happenings.

I suppose all of you know what a good showing we made at Phillips. I tell you, it was just too much! When the band struck up "Shake, Rattle and Roll," the Hereford stands went wild. It was sensational to say the least.

The question of the week is "to sit or not to sit," or in other words, whose chair is it? G. C. should know; but then on the other hand...

Well, test week is over and what do you know, Merle's still with us! So are Ronnie and Robert, yes... and Mrs. McDougal didn't resign. Under the circumstances, I'm going to hand her a bouquet!

It takes all kinds to make a place like H.H.S. I guess—Kinds like certain boys who unplug wall sockets so certain machines won't work in certain rooms. This boy, I have a feeling, is the kind who tapes up water faucets in the journalism work room, then asks unsuspecting bystanders to turn it on for him. Result: The bystander gets plugged with a gush of hot water.

Then there is the kind who writes little notes to "Helen Heartbreak" about the illustrious coach Kitchens. How many of you didn't know that the coach is another "Rock Hudson"? Oh, that many of you? Well, that's what one of his admirers wrote to Helen Heartbreak!

It seems Wanda K. forgot which seat she usually sits in the other day. Mr. Smith may or may not have been convinced that she really forgot. I don't know exactly...

Did you hear about C. J. S. and L. J. S.? You know, they nearly have the same initials which only adds up... interest. C. S. remarked to me, "I don't think I can face English Class today." (Thursday).

"Why not?" I asked as I was supposed to.

Well, she told me, but I don't believe I'd better tell you, because after all... I'm not indestructible, and she might tear me limb from limb! But then, if you're really curious you might try cornering her.

Doesn't Linda I. and her dashing little Knight cut quite the caper? They're just about made for each other, wouldn't you say? But then life's so sweet when you're only fourteen! (Sigh).

Duane's still at it! Did you see him dragging his dogs to THB office last week?

Say, do you know that little pint-sized, Lewis Block? He ran out in front of a six footer one day in the hall, and I heard someone quip, "He's going to get his block knocked off some day!" Catch the pun? How about that?

Did you notice that smile Melvin Fowler flashed around for a while? I never got the low down, but I wonder what his fight was about? Well, anyway, now he's "grown" a new front tooth, and all's well that ends well... which reminds me...

I have to run now, but I'll be back; and how!

New Slipcover Prints Featured By Masculine Appeal To Please Dad

DESIGNED FOR MEN — Humidor, cigars print on slipcover, a design for male appeal.

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer

There seems to be a let-the-men-live-too campaign afoot. Or maybe there is a movement under way to keep the men home nights on long winter evenings.

Anyway you look at it, the trend is toward pleasing the men in the home furnishings.

Upholstery fabrics are getting more to the man's taste. Ditto for slipcovers. Great big floral patterns which Mom preferred are almost impossible to find these days.

The motifs range from collector's cars, outstanding examples of ancient car models from James Melton's autorama, to a gallery of game birds by Don Eckleberry, a top bird illustrator. Dog lovers and hunters will appreciate canine favorites — beagle and hunter, also depicted on 36-inch cotton fabric.

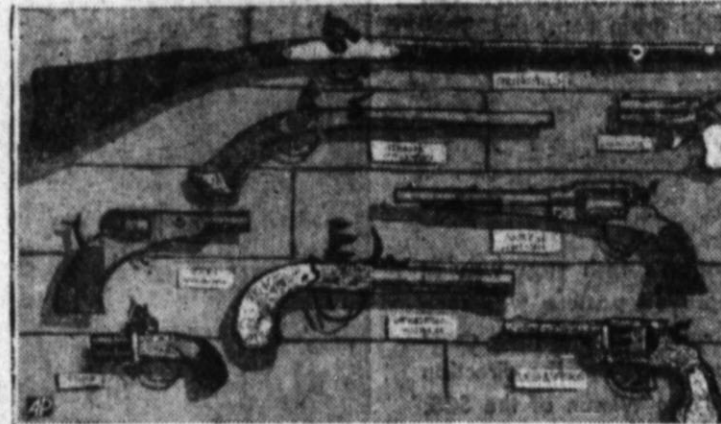

A gun collection of foreign and domestic fire arms should make a big hit with the modern gun man and for sit-by-the fire types there is a charming cigar, humidifier and a pipe pattern. Golf enthusiasts will surely tee off at portraits of golfers, and racing enthusiasts can be at the post any day of the week with race horses, prize ribbons, caps and spurs coveting on fabrics in living rooms or dens.

How to use them in the home? Most women will find a way to use these or some of the fabrics designed for men. A slipcover or draperies in a masculine print is ideal for den or living room. The woman who senses departure from the norm in home furnishings may begin with throw pillows of a pattern.

The man of the house is being catered to these days whether it is in a lamp, print, decorative fabric or a big easy chair greatly cushioned for capacious posteriors.

The effect to be achieved apparently is that a man lives in the house too.

GUN COLLECTION — Firearms of 300 years are shown on this fabric.

Walcott News

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS

Mrs. S. D. Dufur and Mrs. Norman Miniks and Nancy and Margaret, came to school Wednesday morning to visit during chapel period. The third and fourth grade pupils of Mrs. Thomas Collins had the program. The entire group sang "The Eyes of Texas," "Billy Boy," and "Halloween." These children from the third grade told stories from the reader, "Little Lost Bobo"; Rose Neinaast, Dianne Jack, Elizabeth Burrus, Sue Minyen, Norman Cole, Gary Rudd and Gary Miniks. From the fourth grade reader, "The Girl Next Door," playlet was given "Silly Sam." Leo Roberson was the announcer and gave "Signs of Health." Nancy Tyler was Smart Sue; Clyde Lockhart was Silly Sam; Carl Myers was the Reader; and Steve Patton the dentist.

Since this is National Fire Prevention Week; our principal, T. L. Collins, asked that all pupils make some kind of fitting poster. The results are amazing. We had a "Fire Drill," in the afternoon. All the children got out of the building in a fast, orderly manner. Some are wondering what we'll be doing the next time the fire bell rings.

Mrs. N. E. Tyler Sr., is visiting in the N. E. Tyler home. She has been visiting all her children.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Tyler had as their Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hall of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hall and daughter, Kerry and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Simpson and family of Floydada.

Walcott's Annual Halloween Carnival will be held on Saturday night, Oct. 29. Mrs. Don Guseman, chairman, called a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the school house. Mrs. J. V. Perrin, Mrs. Glenn Burrus and the teachers talked over plans for this carnival. Sounds like there will be plenty going on around here that night. It's time now to be thinking how YOU can help. Look up any "white elephants" at your house; decide just what you will want to put in the Country Store. Cakes will be needed for the "Cake Walk" and pies for the kitchen.

Walcott class rooms will omit their Halloween parties this year. All the children will have a big time at the Carnival anyway.

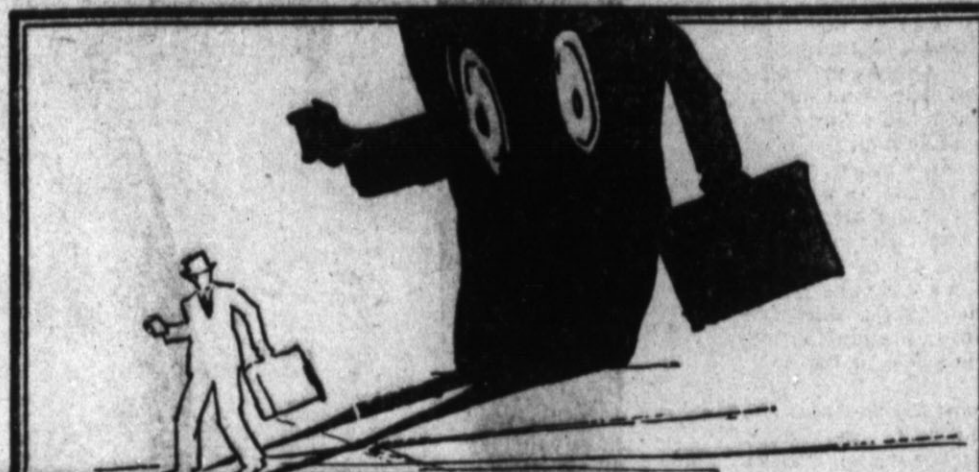

Raymond Collins spent Monday night at home. Seemed good to have him. He is in school at West Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Burrus and family and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Burrus and girl's went to Amarillo Wednesday evening to a dinner given in honor of St. Charles Marie, a former supervisor in St. Anthony's Hospital when the two women were in nurses training.

Here's Tips For Girls On 'Figure Problems'

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Most girls have some figure problems. And if the rest of the girls are wearing bulky fabrics, bright color contrasts and horizontal stripes, what is the short, plump girl to do?

Local sewing center experts have the answer. Go ahead and buy the current fashion, they say, but learn how to adapt the dress to suit your own figure. Remember that good fit is the single most important thing about the outfit you sew, and don't forget the effect of optical illusion.

The versatile felt skirt, for example, is now almost an entrance requirement for a high school girl. The circular felt skirt can give a generous hipline look even if it is not carefully hand-made. More flattering is a skirt that smoothly over the hips but retains the circle effect at the hem.

Another hazard for the short girl is the saved-in-half look, which results from the combination of a bulky skirt and contrasting skirt sweater. The answer to that is overblouse in matching felt. The jumper effect carries the eye up-and-down line, without losing the fashion importance of a felt skirt. You still get color contrast from the sweater or blouse beneath the overblouse, but look taller.

Many felt skirts, too, have a horizontal decorative treatment, running around the skirt. Choosing the trim is the best part of making your own skirt, because you can choose a motif that will be flattering. Diamond-shaped appliques, placed vertically, give an optical illusion, especially when lines of rickrack trim run from the tops of the diamonds to the waistline, accentuating the tapered-waist look.

This kind of felt skirt can be made with a standard pattern. Its secret is that underneath the decorative diamond appliques is a hidden seam. The top half of the skirt is cut to eliminate unnecessary bulk. The bottom half of the skirt is cut in a full circle, so that fullness begins below the hipline. The final effect is an easy flare, with well-disciplined fullness.

It's a good trick to use the automatic zigzagger on your sewing machine to stitch down the rickrack trim. Experiment on a scrap of fabric until you get the zigzag stitch to match the size of the rickrack. This makes the rickrack lie flat and holds it more securely.

Estimated fire losses in the United States were $784,953,000 in 1952 as compared with $731,505,000 in 1951.

The Dead Sea is 10 miles wide and 47 miles long.

OPTICAL ILLUSION — This gay felt skirt and matching overblouse has slenderizing effect for the girl with a figure problem. Easy to make at home.

ADEQUATE WIRING

says Mr. H. L. BRADLEY
306 AUSTIN ST., BORGER, TEXAS

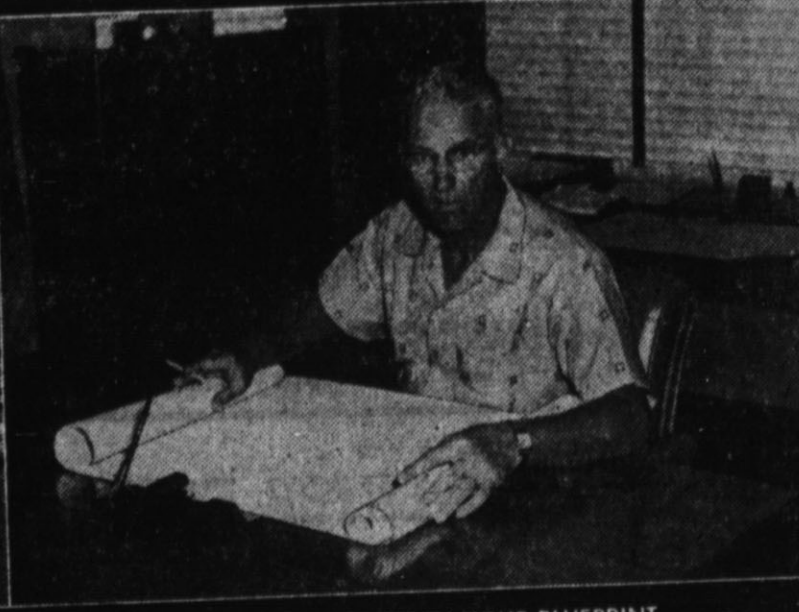

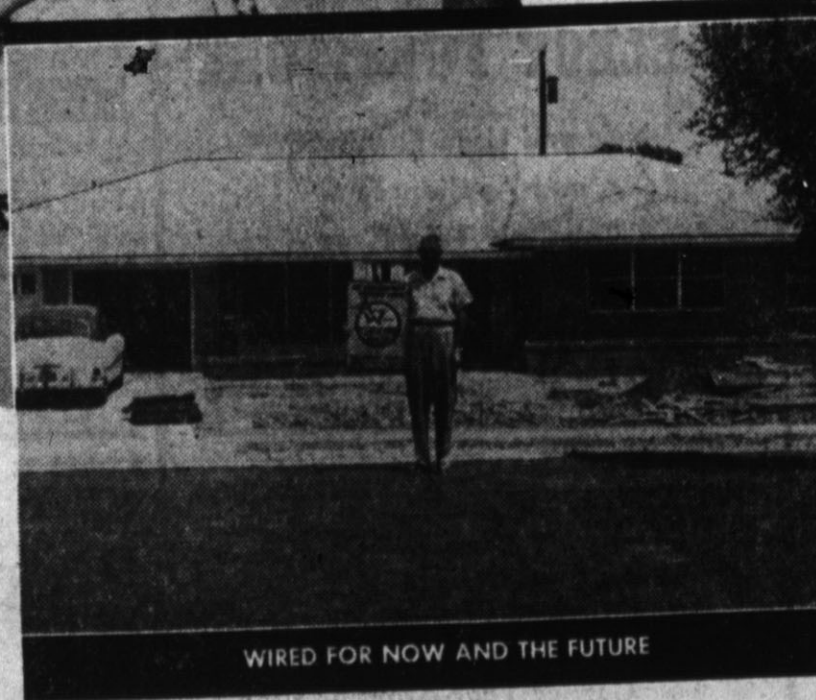

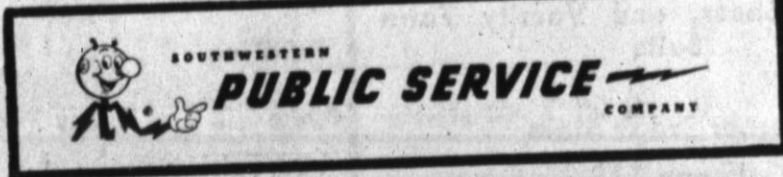

"Yes, I demanded Certified Adequate Wiring for my new home because I want it to stay modern, and be ready for the electric appliances of tomorrow."

The lifeline of your home in this age of electric living is the electric wiring. Adequate wiring is an investment that pays dividends every day — dividends in convenience, comfort and pleasant living — electric living.

The biggest bargain in any house — be it modest or a mansion — is electric service. The average cost of a residential kilowatt-hour, for example, is down 14% from 1946. Can you think of anything else that costs less today than it did in 1946?

To make this big bargain even better, tell your qualified electrical contractor that you want your wiring brought-up-to-date now. And, if you're building a new home, remember wiring never costs less than it does when you're building.

WIRED FOR NOW AND THE FUTURE

HAVE GOOD WIRING IN YOUR BLUEPRINT

LOOK FOR THIS SYMBOL

"Believe me, 10 years from now, you'll be glad that you demanded that your house be certified as an adequately wired home. Just tell your building contractor, or electrical contractor, that you want certified wiring."

"Be sure that certified wiring specifications are included with the blue print of the original construction plans. And have the wiring specifications included in the original papers for your loan application."

"This is the symbol to look for and demand to electrically insure your home for the future, and to do away with extension cords, shrinking TV pictures and blowing fuses."

Baylor Had 'A&M's Trouble' Way Back In 1915, Records Reveal

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Little is known today of the Stonerod case. In fact, Baylor never was officially penalized for it although voluntarily surrendering the championship. Today Baylor is listed in conference records as champion in 1915. It appears the champion should have been Oklahoma.

Stonerod was admitted by Baylor on credits from a Pittsburgh high school. He came out for football and easily made the team. He was the possessor of a strong, firm voice, one of the major requirements in those days to be a quarterback. They yelled the signals then; there was no huddle. Baylor lost only one game, a nonconference affair with Sewanee—it beat Rice, Southwestern and Oklahoma A and M, three members of the conference. A team didn't have to play a round-robin then in order to be eligible for the championship. Three conference games were enough.

L. Theo Belmont, then athletic director of the University of Texas, was thumbing through some college annuals. He came across the picture of a football team. Right smack dab in the middle was this Stonerod, who had quarterbacked Baylor's title drive. Belmont called Baylor's attention to it. C. P. Mosley, the Baylor coach, investigated. He says that Stonerod revealed that he had been on the football squad at another college before coming to Baylor. It wasn't unusual for such things at the time but Mosley would have none of it. He told the Southwest Conference he was forfeiting the championship. Where Stonerod is today isn't known, at least in these parts. It isn't known either by Carnegie Tech of Pittsburgh, which lists Thomas M. Stonerod as a letterman in 1912.

In that 1915 season Oklahoma was undefeated and untied and ran up 370 points to 54.

It played Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma A and M as its conference games, a schedule as tough as Baylor's. Why Oklahoma, which wound up in a tie with Baylor for first place, wasn't awarded the championship in view of Baylor's default is one of the mysteries of conference football.

However, the conference didn't start officially awarding championships until 1922 and it really didn't matter except for the record. Oklahoma, which left the Southwest Conference in 1919 and has won many titles of its particular league since then, probably won't mind the snub.

The conference has a different kind of problem from that of its early years. Then, it was largely the question of ineligible athletes, fellows who played at various colleges over the country—the so-called "tramp athletes" you don't hear about these days. Now the big trouble is from the alumni—the old grads who, through pride in the school, go out and try to buy the athletes. They offer fantastic benefits to the high school boys who run like Kyle Rote and pass like Sam Baugh.

BRAND BABIES — Hi-O-Silver, Duane Warren rides again! Duane is the 10-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Warren. (Staff Photo)

This is a more difficult problem to solve than anything that ever has faced intercollegiate athletics. Obviously it never can be solved completely. The alumnus just can't be caught up with in every instance of proselyting.

The conference took the only step it could possibly follow when it handed down a decree the other day that in the future the school itself would be held responsible for the doings of its alumni. In other words, if an old grad pays an athlete on the side the college to which he is going will be penalized whether it knows of the shady doings of its alumnus or not—that is, if the old grad is caught.

The colleges are going to instruct the alumni on what they can or can not do. Most ex-students will heed the warning and stay within the rules. They wouldn't want to Baker, who held the title for six years, relinquished it at the tournament here, but in an exhibition he beat both E. F. Chandler, of Richmond, the winner, and A. M. Simpson, of Danville, the runner-up.

WHO GOT THE FOOTBALL?
CORNICANA, Tex. (AP)—The only casualty at the high school football game between Corsicana and Waco was L. L. Levy, a spectator. He suffered a black eye when a stray football struck him in the face.

ROBBERY TIP
CLEVELAND, (AP)—Cabbie Lou Takacs is happy he got that five-cent tip. Shortly after a fare handed him five pennies for a tip, Takacs was held up by a gunman who robbed him of $10. Police arrested a suspect who protested his innocence. But Takacs remembered one of his tip pennies had been blackened and had a dent in it. Sure enough, it was in the suspect's pocket.

Working for the betterment of mankind is excellent, if you are really working for the betterment of mankind.

Foreign correspondents have as much difficulty understanding developments in the United States as do our commentators.

The national debt, which was such a fearsome threat when it was nearing fifty billion dollars, doesn't worry many people today, at 270 billion.

One thing is certain about Russo-German relations. The Germans will some day turn on the Reds to regain that part of Germany now called Poland.

Khrushchev says Communism is on the rise and capitalism on the wane, but the fellow in eastern Europe would never suspect it, on visiting the West.

Several famous Germans have listed the reasons why the Nazis didn't win World War II. Most of them forget the main reason—their cause was all wrong.

Despite all the analyses, the question whether recent German-Russian talks in Moscow were a victory or defeat, for the West, will be answered only by time and events.

Among the President's critics, one accused him of spending too much time away from his job, playing golf, being in Denver, or Augusta, or Gettysburg, or reading western stories. We didn't know he read western stories.

NEW YORK — Pretty Mrs. Jeanne Anderson isn't a millionaire, but she is responsible for the collecting of three million dollars a year.

Jeanne is the woman behind the fund-raising telethons for United Cerebral Palsy. Her job is to organize, supervise and direct the shows all over the country. This also includes getting the topnotch talent which appears on them.

(Telethons are those fund-raising television shows on which famous entertainers and civic-minded citizens appear asking for contributions. These celebrities then accept the pledges over the telephone.)

Helping Jeanne in her man-sized job are three other women: Lillian Ignoffo, the talent coordinator; Margaret Becker, secretary of the operation; and Ricki Thornhill, contact girl with the Theater Authority which supplies many of the famous folk in the entertainment world.

The entire operation hinges around Mrs. Anderson's directions—to her girls, her 13 field men and UCP's 350 local affiliates throughout the country.

"Each telethon must be handled in a different way," she says, "whether it be big cities like New York, Los Angeles, Chicago or smaller ones like Waco, Tex., or Eau Claire, Wis."

"The telethons usually start on a Saturday night and end Sunday evening. There is talent to be provided, both national and local. Field men must organize each community for the project. Telephones are to be manned.

"And naturally with so many people involved, there are bound to be differences of opinion that must be ironed out — That's my job too."

But for Jeanne, 32-year-old blonde who calls Washington, D. C., her home, being busy is nothing new. She formerly was travel editor for a New England newspaper, and later was a public relations specialist for a large industrial firm.

typical show was the one held at Asheville, N. C., last July. First UCP telethon ever held there, it was a 15-hour event at the city auditorium.

"It was an over whelming success. Broadcast over WLOS-TV, it raised $40,000 for the care and treatment of the cerebral palsied in the Asheville area, Mrs. Anderson says.

"Civil Air Patrol members used their cars to pick up pledges. Even CAP members from Tennessee and South Carolina helped. The local newspaper was a tremendous help, too. "Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice former football great at the University of North Carolina, was one of the celebrities partici-
