First Bale Of Cotton Ginned

Deaf Smith County's first bale of cotton was brought in last week by R. F. Day who farms five miles southeast of Hereford.

Day brought his bale in to Hereford Gin Co., last Saturday. The bale weighed 420 pounds from a 1385 pound load. The variety was Paymaster. The cotton graded out as middling 31-32.

The Deaf Smith County farmer produced the county's first 1955 bale two days earlier than 1954's first bale, which was brought in Sept. 19.

Day said he pre-watered and then watered the crop twice. He expects to make from three-fourths to a bale an acre on his 13 acre allotment.

Rain will probably slow down harvesting a bit, but Day said he still expects to get in several more bales in the next few days. "There is quite a bit of cotton out our way ready to pick," he said.

Trautmann Bros. also brought in three bales last week and Travis Stone, who farms the H. H. Frye place two miles south of Black, brought in the first bale at the Tri-County Gin. S. W. Patterson, manager, said the cotton was of good quality and turned out 460 pounds of lint from 1800 pounds of seed cotton. Stone brought in his load Thursday.

Around Town

Rain and little else, was the talk Around Town this week. With a heavy overcast and an inch of rain already measured in most sections, wheat growers were wearing their best smiles.

The regular meeting of the County Home Demonstration Club Council will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the Veteran's Club House instead of the county courtroom as previously announced. Mrs. N. A. Brown said Saturday.

Dove hunters were asked to take it easy Saturday by the REA. Electric line insulators are taking a beating from rifle and shot gun blasts, according to a spokesman. Several circuits have been knocked out completely in the Summerfield and Black areas. REA asked hunters to "spare that insulator."

Mrs. Joe Rogers, 401 25-Mile Avenue, says that there really is a Santa Claus. Mrs. Rogers was the winner of the combination radio phonograph at Ben Franklin's.

Hereford Motor Co. was crowded with automobile fans Friday. The occasion was the showing of the new 1956 Fords.

Hereford Boy Scouts will be admitted free to West Texas State College home football games this season. Scouts must be in uniform to attend the games.

Troy A. Powell, representative of Southwestern Life Insurance Co., is one of 19 agents attending a one-week company school in Dallas.

The Deaf Smith County budget hearing will be held Monday morning at 11 a.m. in the commissioners courtroom.

Reports from Littlefield state that Rev. and Mrs. S. E. Eldridge and daughters, Beverly Ann, 17, and Nancy Beth, 14, all injured in a traffic collision Sept. 11, are all doing fine. All four, former Hereford residents, are still in the Medical Arts Hospital there, but all have been taken off the critical list.

Low bidder on new construction on U. S. Highway 60 was Gilvin-Terrill, Inc., of Amarillo. The low bid was $245,321.15. One hundred and eighty work days are expected to be needed to complete the work. The contract calls for widening the highway from Highway 51 in Hereford southwest to the Castro County line.

Yield-Right-Of-Way signs are now up at the corners of Third and Park, Fifth and Park, Sixth and Park and Main and Avenue B.

Electric Appliance Fair Features Free Puppet Show; Opens Wednesday

Featuring a free puppet show, an electric dryer as grand prize, and $175 value in booth prizes by the seven participating dealers. Hereford's first electric Appliance Fair is scheduled to open Wednesday, Sept. 28 and continue through Thursday. The promotion will be held in the old Furr Food building on Third Street.

Chief object of the event will be showing of the latest in modern appliances by the individual dealers during the two days.

Bids On School To Be Opened

Hereford Rural High School District trustees will open bids on construction of the new Fla Alkman Elementary School building Tuesday night. Trustees will decide then whether or not to accept any of the bids. The board will also meet with their bonding advisor.

Livestock Sale Set Thursday

Cansler Livestock Auction Co., located one-half mile southeast of Hereford, will hold its first sale Thursday, it was announced Saturday.

Otis Cansler, owner of the newly constructed auction barn, said there would be ample buyers on hand for all kinds of cattle, Bob Herron of Roswell, N. M., will be auctioneer.

Cansler said the auction would begin at 11 a.m. If any hogs are brought to be auctioned, they will be sold from the trailers, he indicated. Sales will be held each Thursday.

Housing Again Hard To Find

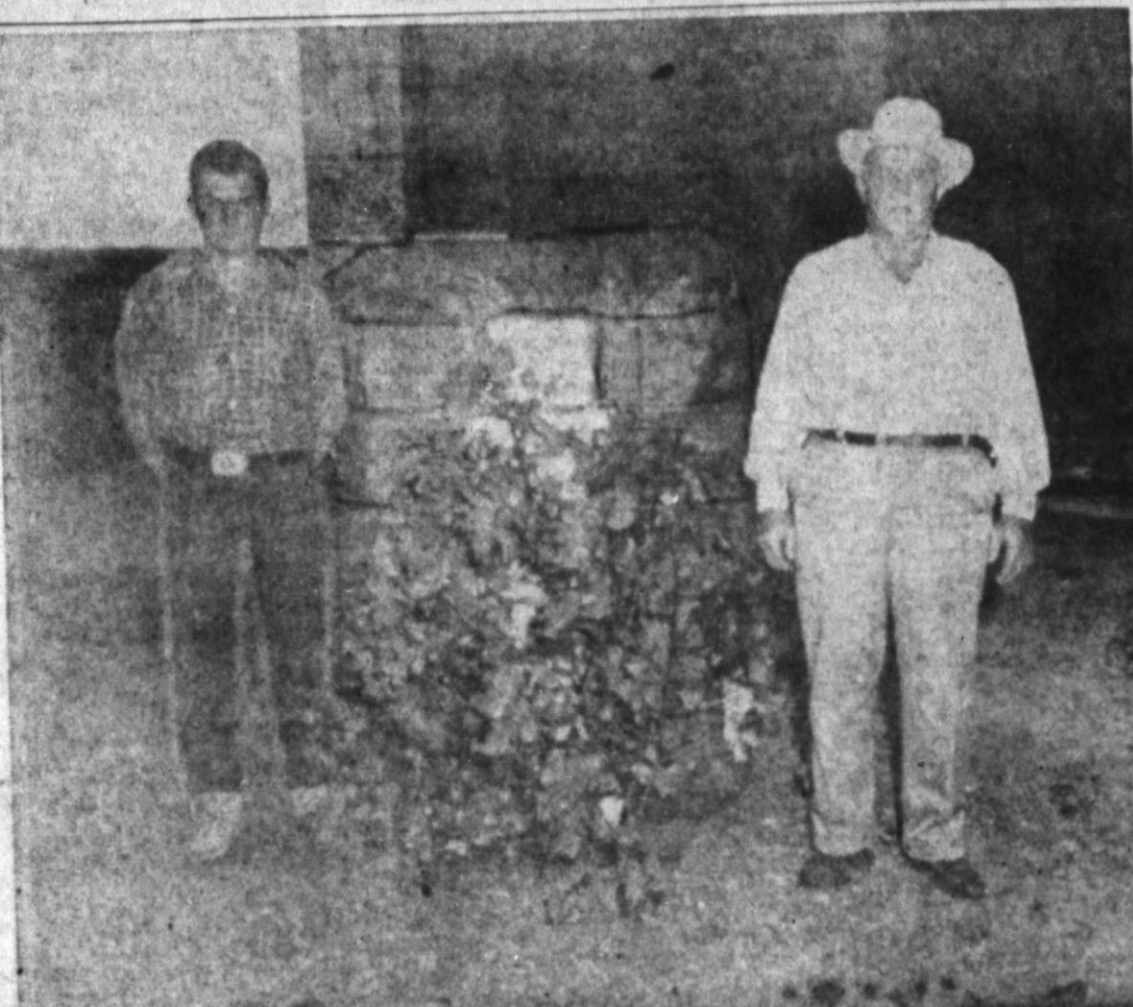

It's that time of year again, and housing is getting to be a problem. Each year during the lettuce harvest, housing becomes a scarce item.

This year, apparently is no different than past years. Once again house hunters are outnumbering vacancies. The Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce reports that they have no listings whatever of apartments, rooms or houses at present. Thursday's Brand carried only a few listings. Two houses, seven apartments and four rooms were listed for rent.

Draft Call Will Double October's

Deaf Smith County's draft call for November will probably double October's call, according to figures released by the State Selective Service Headquarters this week.

The State quota is double that of October. Mrs. A. Petersen, local draft clerk, said Saturday. Reason for the increase is the Navy's 10,000 national call.

Annual Staff Is Announced By Mrs. Criswell; Orders Requested

Annual staff members for the 1956 Round-Up of Hereford High School were announced Saturday morning by Mrs. Dalton Criswell, sponsor.

Members of the staff this year are: Lewis Black, freshman; Linda Burkett, Peggy Graham, Suzy Loeberwald, Gladys Lee, sophomores; Bobby Veigel, Kay Skypala, juniors; and Carolyn Virden, Tommy Weemes, Sammie McLallen, seniors. Mrs. Criswell urges all persons not students of high school who wish to purchase annuals to buy them in the school library or from any staff member from Sept. 26 to Oct. 5. The price is $3.50, and the annuals may be bought on the installment plan by paying $2 on them now and the remaining $1.50 after Christmas. There will be no Round-Ups sold in May when the annuals arrive, because the number of covers won't account for any annuals bought after Oct. 5.

Enlistments In Reserve Unit To Be Taken Tuesday

Interested in joining a local reserve unit? If you are here is your opportunity to get a full day's pay the day you sign up.

First Lt. J. R. Kirkwood said Saturday that enlistments in Co. A, Aviation Engineer Battalion, would start Tuesday night. A meeting is to be held in the county courtroom in the courthouse beginning at 7:30 p.m. Anyone between the ages of 17-34, with or without previous service, is eligible to enlist in the local unit, Kirkwood explained.

A representative of the Fourth Army Advisor will be here to enlist those interested in joining the unit. Obligated reservists can be transferred to the local battalion without physical examinations or enlistment papers.

Men between the ages of 17-18½ must have their parents' consent. Parents, wives and others interested have been invited to attend the meeting Tuesday night.

Polio Vaccine Is Available Here

Limited quantities of Salk polio vaccine are now available through commercial channels in Hereford. Dr. R. R. Wills, county health officer, said Saturday.

Dr. Wills said that the vaccine was being sold on a demand basis, and that no age restrictions had been set up.

Three shots have been recommended by the Public Health Service. The second dose should be given two to six weeks after the first dose and the third should be given about seven months after the first, preferably shortly before the next poliomyelitis season, according to the PHS.

Belias, the fighting fish which are used to stage fish fights in Thailand, must pause occasionally and go to the surface of the water for air.

Irrigation Pumps Halted By Rain

County Gets Up To Inch And One Half

Deaf Smith County farmers—especially wheat growers—were counting their blessings Saturday. A general rain which brought as much as an inch and a half of moisture left them in an optimistic mood.

The rainfall began Friday night. It fell slowly and soaked into the ground. Saturday morning it began raining hard to add to the measurement, and late Saturday it was still raining in several sections of the county and a heavy overcast gave hopes to the entire area.

Hereford received .32 inch Friday night and early Saturday morning and then from about 10 until noon another .33 fell, giving the city a total of 1.03, according to the official gauge kept by Clay Angelo.

Some of the county missed out on the rain, however. The area near the New Mexico border got only scattered showers, although some sections in that area reported as much as an inch.

N. A. BROWN, who lives 28 miles west of Hereford on Harrison Highway, reported more than an inch of rain had fallen Saturday and said, "It's still coming down hard." Brown, a wheat farmer, said the rain couldn't have come at a better time.

A. R. DILLARD reported only .04, however. He lives 17 miles northwest of here.

IRA SCOTT, 13 miles west, reported an inch and a half since Friday morning. He said the rain was very beneficial.

JIMMIE JESKO had a little better than a quarter of an inch. He farms two miles west and three miles south of Summerfield.

The Seven-Bar ranch got about half an inch.

R. E. DAY, five miles southeast, reported .82 and said it was still raining.

Price Support For Beans Given

Deaf Smith County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee Chairman Walter Hodges Sr. reports that the national average support level for 1955-crop dry edible beans will be $6.36 per hundred pounds. This is 70 percent of the Feb. 15 parity price of $9.08 per hundred pounds.

Chairman Hodges explained that price support for U. S. No. one 1954-crop beans was based on a national average support level of $7.24 per hundred pounds, which was 80 percent of the Feb. 15, 1954 parity price for all dry edible beans.

Price support for 1955-crop dry edible beans is being set at a level aimed at encouraging maximum production in domestic and export consumption channels and at the same time discouraging excessive overplanting of the 1955 crop. Although 1954 production was about the same as in 1953, this was due primarily to reduced 1954 yields. The acreage planted to beans in 1954 was nearly 20 percent larger than in 1953.

This year, with acreage allotments in effect on the six basic commodities, there may be a tendency to shift further acreage into bean production, so that 1955 acreage planted to beans might be as large or larger than in 1954 acreage. Latest information on 1954-crop price-support activity indicates that nearly four million hundred weight are now under price-support loans or purchase agreements.

The State ASC office has advised the local ASC office that price support program will be announced in the near future.

Week Damage Light

Friday afternoon about $75 damage resulted from a minor collision in front of the Newstand on Main Street.

Pat Parker, driving a 1953 Chevrolet pickup, pulled out of his parking place, according to the police, and hit the right rear fender of a 1953 Chevrolet, driven by Ruth Reeves Conrade, who was going west on Third Street.

Pat Parker was given a ticket for failure to give right-of-way and not having a license.

More Than Fifty Witnesses Called For Two Trials

More than 50 witnesses have been called by State and defense attorneys for two murder trials which are docketed for Monday in District Court.

The murder with malice trials of Clifton D. Potter and Melvin O. Wheeler are both due to go to trial Monday and a special venire of 120 persons has been called. Only one of the trials is expected to actually go to trial at this time, but apparently the State wants to make sure that one of the cases will be ready.

Potter is charged with murdering George Thompson and Wheeler faces charges of stabbing Mike Huckert to death almost two years ago.

Out of town relatives and friends who were here Thursday to attend the funeral of Allen Huehes included Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Montgomery of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Yelverton of Portales, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Millard, Nancy Millard and Mrs. Fred Fox, all of Amarillo; Lucille Park, Francis Brown, Jewell Foster, Mrs. S. Pruitt and Mrs. Herb Green, all of Dumas, and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cocanougher of Friona.

Zoning Commission Says No To Rezoning

The City Zoning Commission refused to re-zone a tract of land owned by H. B. Stanfield when they met Wednesday night to consider such action.

Stanfield and J. M. Gilliland had asked that their property be rezoned, but later Gilliland had withdrawn his request.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Awtry Sr., returned from an extended trip through Texas Tuesday.

Leader Of Texas Citizens Council Declares 'Negroes Are My Friends'

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff

Ross Carlton, who wants Texas to continue segregating whites and Negroes, excused himself to answer the phone.

"Yes, this is Carlton," he said in the kind of gravelly drawl many big men have. "Good to hear from you, George. Haven't seen you in years."

Two minutes pass during which Carlton listened to his caller, with now and then an approving "Yup" and "Uh Huh." Finally:

"That's exactly the way I feel,

George. I've got a jillion friends who are Negroes. It's not that at all."

"Sure, I'll have a membership card in the mail for you today. Sure will."

Thus another member is enrolled in the Texas Citizens Council. Carlton is president and attorney. The council is pledged to uphold segregation by all-peaceful and legal means.

Carlton is a big (6 foot, 2 inches) friendly man who likes to wear sports shirt and slacks at work. He is 44 years old, his left arm is scarred and stiff from an old auto accident. He slouches in his big chair and talks easily.

His office, rather small and old-fashioned, is on the top floor of the Commercial building in Dallas. If he's wealthy, it doesn't show. The yellow paint is peeling in spots on his office ceiling. There is a thumb-sized hole in the armrest of the leather sofa. The dust-covered, silver cigarette lighter on his desk doesn't work.

The law books are in the outer office, shared with his partner. In his office Carlton has a strange collection running to "Texas Folk Songs," "Works of Plato," "Information Please Almanac," "Setters from Lee's Army," "Gashouse McGinty" and a Spanish grammar.

Carlton does all kinds of law work but concentrates on business law, which he likes despite the fact it is colorless and "just damn hard work."

More phone calls about the council's work interrupt the interview. Carlton asks his partner to take his calls so he can give all his time to answering the questions, which he has been told will be about him, not about segregation arguments.

"Guess my relations with Negroes have been about the same as every one else's."

"I was born and raised right here in Dallas except for four years as a boy in Atlanta. My daddy was in the school book distribution business. I was puny as a boy. Had asthma and spent years in bed. Learned to read in bed."

"We've always had Negro servants. I've lived with Negroes all my life and played with little Negro kids. I don't have anything against the Negroes."

"No, I've never run for public office. I was assistant attorney general under Gerald Mann in 1939 through 1942 and I handled Mann's campaign in Dallas County one year. I suppose you would call me a conservative Democrat. (A picture of arch-conservative Coke Stevenson, inscribed to "my good friend, Ross Carlton," hangs on the wall). In 1952, well, I just didn't vote."

"1956? Well, I think it (segregation) will be at least one of the outstanding issues in the Southern States. It could be the only issue in the campaign for governor here in Texas."

Had he thought of running for governor?

"I've been asked about it but haven't given it any particular thought. I suppose if there were no candidate taking the right stand (against integration) I would consider it. I've never actually wanted a public office."

"I didn't ask for this job (heading the Texas Citizens Council). They already had an informal organization going when they called on me. Now our council is growing naturally into a sort of supervisory council for those in other cities. We have them now in Kilgore, Gilmer, Marshall, Orange, Fort Worth Waco and LaGrange. So far we are doing it entirely on a voluntary basis. There are no salaries and the only money going out is for out-of-pocket expenses, like phone bills."

"It takes more than half my time now and I'm not pushing it." Carlton was asked why he got into it.

Get Glamor While You Work

There are compensations in being a housewife, as movie actress Carolyn Craig illustrates here. Exercise every day is assured if one makes a career of the homemaking role. Gripes you might about dusting, washing and mopping but it does whittle inches. Unlike well-heeled friends who may have their figures smoothed and padded into shape by experts, you save money doing your own work and melt off pounds thereby.

The carpet sweeper, vacuum cleaner and mop will shake any torso out of the doldrums. High and low dusting from bookcase tops to chair legs will help pay off in a streamlined chassis, too. And who will dispute the thinning possibilities of the wash board?

Whether you wear your old A or H designs out of last season's wardrobe or have gone into the Y and wherefores of a new wardrobe, you'll want to be slim and attractive.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make a good shampoo?

A. Cut a bar of pure Castile soap into small pieces. Pour boiling water on the soap, enough to make a thick jelly. Beat until thickened. It will keep the hair and scalp absolutely clean and pure. Bottle and keep for future use.

Q. How can I remove rust from steel?

A. Rub it with linseed oil and allow it to soak for several days. Wipe off, then polish with powdered, unslacked lime until the rust is loosened.

Q. It's a matter of principle. I'm not going to accept integration. It is my belief a majority of the people of Texas will not if they can be shown something can be done about it. I intend to show them."

The phone rang. An urgent call was being let through.

"Yes, this is Carlton. Why, Hello Senator. Why, sure, sure."

It was a very influential state senator.

"That's just the way I feel, Senator," Carlton said after listening a moment. "I don't have anything against Negroes. Yes, I'll have a card in the mail for you right away."

Q. How can I avoid having soggy pie crusts?

A. The bottom crust of a pie will not absorb the juice of the fruit if it is brushed with flour or the white of an egg.

Q. How can I refinish varnished surfaces?

A. When refinishing varnished surfaces use a polish made by mixing 1 quart of good vinegar, 2 ounces butter of antimony, 2 ounces alcohol, 1 quart of oil. Always shake thoroughly before using.

Q. How can I retain the color of green vegetables?

A. If a little soda is added to the boiling water just before putting in the green vegetables it will make them retain their fresh color.

Q. How can I make a mouth wash?

A. Dissolve one teaspoonful of salt in a pint of boiled water. This has antiseptic qualities and also leaves the mouth fresh and clean.

Q. How can I remove warts?

A. By washing in water, in which a quantity of washing soda has been dissolved. Let the hands dry without wiping. Repeat this bathing frequently, or until the warts disappear.

Q. How can I prevent rusting of irons?

A. They will not rust when they are packed away for any length of time if they are rubbed with a little fat that contains no salt, such as mutton fat. Then wrap them in brown paper.

Q. How can I make it easy to thread a needle?

A. Before threading the needle, try cutting the thread on a slant. It will point the thread and facilitate the job.

Q. How can I keep bed spreads from wrinkling?

A. It will not wrinkle and can be kept off the floor by beginning at the top and folding it in half toward the foot. Then fold from each side to the middle, in this way making a triangle with its base at the foot of the bed. Fold the point over the footboard.

Many chemical substances exist only in the solid form, disintegrating as soon as they melt.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Prof. Arthur W. Bromage, University of Michigan political scientist and former Ann Arbor alderman, says "councilmen and administrators need to observe good techniques if they are to serve the people as a winning team."

Then he listed these techniques in which he said civil servants must excel: giving the best in service; allowing all citizens and administrators to study major decisions; keeping a tolerant attitude and a sense of humor; being wise in press, radio and television relations; handling voter contacts with assurance and constantly trying to work for good government.

What's This

By Chris

Greetings Gates! I shall now proceed to dope you with my latest scoop. The issue of standardizing Hereford High School class rings, was voted on last Thursday: first by the seniors (but of course!), then by a mass meeting of juniors, sophomores, and freshmen. The issue was passed by almost 100 percent in favor. Sour grapes to the "about 15" who voted con.

Dwayne Williams had a little misunderstanding with one of the "Brain-beaters" (teachers to you) I won't call any names, but it was very amusing to anyone who happened to be in the library at the time.

We-ell! I must say that things have been looking a little different around HHS the last few days. (Annual picture week, you know.) There suddenly appeared a bunch of mother's sons uncomfortably stuffed into white shirts and trim ties, and creased jackets. And—get this! Blue jeans for a good ole' solid, American foundation. It certainly gives you a charge to see these whiz kids dressed in voluminous plaid shirts with shirt tail flapping one day and "presto kazuka" the next day they look like a junior version of Ray Miland. Well—almost.

Arlliss has really got the rhythm, man. I guess that's what he has. He looked "real" sharp sitting quietly at a table reading, then next thing, rocking the library with a blast of jazzy drum beats. Incidentally, this kid's the most! He was making jazz with the upper plate, and that's not a cowhide. Dig me?

The stands were just an itty bit crowded at the Hereford versus Littlefield game, so some of us lucky souls "got" to stand up. But we didn't mind though after all. We just dug us up a patch of sand behind the Littlefield bench and carried on a stimulated "conversation" with some of the best sports we've ever met. Let me tell you—they just smiled when we whispered into their poor bruised ears little phrases such as "Gore 'em Whitefaces!!" So being as how they were so sporty about it, once in a while, we'd break out with a "Yea Wildcats." We had quite a conflag, the "all of us." It was all in the game, of course.

Weren't all the blistered faces comical Tuesday and Wednesday? At first glance you'd think that maybe a band of Indians had suddenly been reincarnated with the faces of Barb Hall, Mary Anne Young, Ronnie Malone, etc., but when you took a second look, you saw that they were only suffering from first and second degree burns received at the Tri-State fair.

Now, I for instance, think it would be much simpler to take in the "sights" (broad statement) under the moon. Except for that excused absence from you know where. Oh well, that's a dirty shame.

Well, humans, one of us has got to go—so I'll be seeing you around. Tune in next week.

FANCY and PLAIN
By KENT SNARE

This football season is only a week gone but, one would think, that the casualty list was hoary whiskered with age, judging from the extenuation thereof. Course there is some bruin babble involved, there still being quaint coaching type characters, who practice delusion via the press. That section of the mentor brethren, being, of the same ilk, as those who diversify the playing numbers from those ensconced on the programme. Like Littlefield and others, past and future. That numbering deal is one item in football that should be standardized as the Pros do. A lot of college teams ascribe to that system and some of them even practice it. Ends in the eighty's, odd on the left and even on the right, thus through the line, tackles numbered 70 in sequence, guards in the sixties, centers in the fifties. Quarterbacks occupy the teens, halfbacks the twenties and the thirties, and fullbacks the forties. After all, in the big time, the paying customers put down their spandulux to see the players and want them easily identified, taking a companion view, that the opposition can look out for themselves, if able.

I started this thing with a casualty list and got off in left field without it, but to retrieve the thread of the list. The publicist for the WSTC Buffs is gonna wear out Hillman's little toe in the press. That toe has been in and out of print like a senate investigating committee.

Seriously, the press releases this week have their tale of woe, almost without exception. The following is no attempt to list them all, but just enough to emphasize how a lost cog here and there can effect the whole hog, and besides, I can't remember 'em all.

Maryland lost her fullback, Tom Selep. Sonically they still have Vebre but will have needed both for UCLA.

LSU, playing Texas Aggies in the Cotton Bowl, wherein the Tigers had not previously been able to win one, is shy their quarterback, Matt Burns, and oddly enough, the Kaydets lost their first string qb, Bobby Conrad with a twisted knee.

Texas Tech came up with a long wounded list, that is bound to hurt them, since it included Jim Sides, regular fullback with a cracked wrist; Arlen Wesley, guard with a lacerated leg and their regular center, West.

West Texas Buffaloes lost their fullback, Tuggle, with an injury similar to that of Sides. Arkansas had Preston Carpenter and Buddy Benson out of the Tulsa game with defects, as well as Ford, their center. The first two named are just half of the Hogs regular backfield. Baylor's Bobby Peters picked up a broke nose for a keepsake in the Hardin-Simmons fray, probably acquired it by running perpendicular.

It's nice to be able to say "CHARGE IT"

Shopping is a lot more convenient, more pleasant if you have a good credit record.

You don't have to hurry to the bank to cash a check before you start shopping. You don't have to carry a lot of cash. You don't have to pass up an unexpected bargain or go home disappointed because you lacked the money to buy something you saw unexpectedly and wanted particularly.

If you enjoy the reputation of paying your bills promptly, all you have to say is "Charge it."

Whether you're buying on a monthly charge account... or on a deferred payment plan... buy only what you will be able to pay for on the date it is due. Use your credit—don't abuse it.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Harris Says Johnson Grass Is Menace To County Agriculture

(Editor's Note: The following article was written by Will G. Harris as a letter to the editor.)

I hope I am not an alarmist, but the Johnson grass is ruining thousands of acres of this wonderful irrigated area. Something must be done and soon. I know valuable farms that are so badly set that one could not afford to farm them rent free. Just drive any direction from Hereford and you will see.

I claim the best way to kill Johnson grass is to keep it from getting started. If you have a clean farm keep it clean. You are "most blessed among men." When we ran cattle and raised dry land wheat we could keep it down. With irrigation, well, it will take your farm unless you fight it continually. I have always boasted that one could carry all the Johnson grass on goathead prairie in the crook of his arm. Now I do not know. I do know that I look for it continually, almost religiously, from the first green shoot in early spring time till the stalks freeze and fall farms into winter. If I knew where there was a sprig now I would stop writing, take a shovel and dig it. (The roots go too deep for a hoe). My handicap is that I have two strikes against me for I have almost six miles of bar pits to fight. These bar pits grow enough seed to infest every farm adjoining unless your commissioner is on the job. I am happy to say that mine is. But every business man, every citizen of Hereford had better get on the job too if he realizes that farming is the basic economy of this section and that for him to prosper the farmer must also prosper.

I am told there are counties to the south that have found a spray that will kill Johnson grass and that they have killed it in all the bar pits. Please, oh please kill it in our own bar ditches. Unless you do sooner or later (mostly sooner) it will creep in tenaciously to take this valuable land.

Say that I am panicky (I have been called worse than that), but when you town boys sit down to eat on some of the products grown in this area at your civic clubs, consider ways to help us old country boys make a little money too, as well as yourselves. Everyone knows that very little money can be squeezed out of the cattle business. Yesterday I listened to market reports from Amarillo. Hogs were 16 cents per pound, milt was $1.40 per hundred. It looks impossible to operate at all even on a farm free from Johnson grass. I make the above statement advisable after studying what it costs to stay in the competition that our modern methods demand. A large percent do not stay. An up to date tractor, with lister planter, costs approximately $5000. A combine to harvest the grain costs another $5000 or more. It would take at least another $5000 to buy cultivators, land levellers, ditchers, plows, harrows, irrigation motor and other equipment. I think the above figures are very conservative. If one specializes in vegetables his costs are enormous.

I have written the above in all sincerity. Drive out and see if you do not think there is enough Johnson grass already gone to seed to sow every farm in the county. Think what it will be next year, the next and the next if something isn't done about it.

The Sheriff Reports

Another week has passed with no unusual happenings except the election and a minor stabbing. The stabbing was a result of the Mexican Independence celebration and not the election. A little party at one of the National Labor Camps ended with a fight and one old boy was trying to help his buddy and the pack turned on him. The result was the buddy didn't get a scratch and the good doer managed to get away with three stab wounds. The fight happened about 11:30 p.m. and they got around to reporting about 5 a.m. Don't mind being called at 5 a.m., but if they had reported earlier we could have taken care of it when we were called at 1:30 a.m.

Was glad to see the offices separated. Whether I'm sheriff or someone else, I believe the tax office especially can be operated more efficiently when separated from the sheriff's office. The tax roll has grown, license tag sales have increased and additional reports to make until the tax office has become a big job. There has been no time for outside tax assessing without extra help.

Have helped a little (very little) with traffic around the schools and I believe with the cooperation of drivers, including a little courtesy, the traffic can be controlled fairly easy. The police have noticeably slowed traffic during the rush hours around the schools. The use of hand or directional signals will help traffic at the intersections. It helps the fellow trying to direct traffic too.

Have eight in jail this a.m. (Friday). Three fresh ones last night. One being charged with DWI and two for drunkenness. The weekends will probably be busy until lettuce harvest is over.

See you next week.

MRS. A. LOWTHER... honored on eighty-eighth birthday

Mrs. Lowther Is Birthday Honoree

Mrs. A. Lowther was honored on her eighty-eighth birthday Thursday afternoon by a group of members of the First Christian Church at a party given in her home. Birthday cake and gifts were featured and close friends who were co-workers with her in the church, called between 3 and 5 o'clock to extend felicitations.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowther were married in Del Norte, Colo., in 1897, and moved to Monte Vista, Colo., to make their home. They moved to Deaf Smith County in 1919 where he was engaged in farming until he retired and moved to Hereford. He passed away in 1953.

For the past 10 years she has been confined to her home, but she was active in the Christian Church before that time and pursued several outdoor hobbies. Her favorite pastime was growing beautiful flowers, but the hobby that she has been able to enjoy longest is writing letters to friends and relatives. At times she is well enough to write, even now, or dictate letters to a helper.

She is the mother of four children, all of whom died in infancy. Those attending the party were Mesdames Fannie Elliston, Nona Jowell, B. F. Cain, H. M. Thomas, J. J. Clark, John Robinson Jr., S. O. Wilson, Carl Williams, F. M. Kester, Robert Veigel, Fred Moreman, Velma Hodges, Kate Caldwell, Earl Phillips, Gregg Johnson and Rev. and Mrs. Don Root.

NEWCOMERS OF THE WEEK

T. M. Cox Family Got Off To Good Start After Moving Here

T. M. Cox Jr., got a good start in Hereford. He walked up to the mayor, shook his hand and welcomed him to Hereford. Cox's friendliness earned for him and his family the title of "Newcomers of the Week."

It was really all a mistake. Cox didn't know that Henry Sears had lived in Hereford for quite a number of years, and he didn't know that Sears was mayor. He saw Sears busily moving furniture in a house near his and went over to shake hands and welcome him to the city. "Hereford sure is a friendly place," he assured the mayor.

Mayor Sears, who was actually helping his sister move in, was startled, but agreed with Cox. He said afterwards, "Right then is when I labeled him as a mighty good citizen."

The Coxes moved here from Dumas. Cox is with the General American Life Insurance Co., and was transferred to this area.

"We picked Hereford to make our home in because it was such a clean looking town and since we had heard about the city's fine school system," Mrs. Cox said.

The Cox family doesn't feel like complete strangers here. Since George Graham and Don Martin were on the faculty in L. Hart when Cox got his first coaching job, Tim, as Mr. Cox is known to his friends, also coached in Olton, Claude and Bolivar, Mo. He piled up a record of 48 wins and only six losses in five years of coaching.

The Coxes have two children, Sharyl and Mike. They are members of the Methodist Church, which, according to Mrs. Cox, "has welcomed us with open arms." In fact Sharyl wants to go to Sunday School every day, Mrs. Cox said.

The Value of PERSONAL CREDIT

Credit is much more than a temporary substitute for cash.

It is a very practical convenience and... when used properly... a symbol of integrity and a source of personal prestige.

The monthly charge account, for instance, amounts to much more than an extension of time in which to pay for what you buy. It enables you to shop without carrying large sums of cash... saves time because you don't have to wait for change... eliminates bookkeeping because itemized statements of your purchases are supplied by those you buy from.

For most people, the privilege of credit is a necessity as well as a convenience in the purchase of major items. Deferred, or term, payments solve this problem... enable us to buy and use immediately such things as a piano, refrigerator, radio or furniture, and to pay for them over extended periods.

The privilege of a charge account is extended purely as a courtesy and convenience, and without interest or carrying charges. In the case of long term credit, a small carrying charge is added to cover the increased expense of bookkeeping and the investment represented in the merchandise.

The intelligent use of personal credit brings many of the good things of life within reach of those who might never enjoy them if they had to defer every purchase until they had accumulated the cash.

Even Ranchi-pie, the Coxes dog, seems to like Hereford, although he declined to give a definite statement.

Other newcomers in Hereford are the Roy Dosseys, 304 Avenue I, the Ivan Colemans, 117 Avenue B, S. B. Harvey, Addie Miner, 606 East Third and C. D. Fitzgerald, 701 Knight Street.

So You Want To Be Lend An Eyeball, A Produce Grower You Archaic 3-D's

This editorial reminds us of an Old Maid telling a mother of 12 how to raise children. It concerns truck farming, a field in which we have absolutely no background or experience. In fact, except for bankers, we can think of no other person less qualified to advise a farmer on how to raise vegetables. Therefore, we ask that all farmers take the whole thing with a grain of salt, since the conclusions are based solely upon 17 years of observation by parties indirectly interested. We furthermore realize that people will do what they please, anyway, and if it results in a few good family arguments the article will far exceed our fondest expectations.

The year 1955, among other things, has placed emphasis on the fact that produce farming is a vocation which must be figured on an average, rather than on a single-year basis.

The potato crop, for instance, was a flop, due to sagging prices. Lettuce, cabbage and carrots, on the other hand, are currently paying handsome returns. Next year, in all probability, the situation may be reversed.

The manner in which the individual farmer interprets this situation will, of course, determine his future operation and his success. To us, it appears that vegetable production is hazardous—offering exceptional returns against heavy possible losses. Considered over a five-year or a 10-year period, however, it is a sound business venture, and therein appears one method of successful operation. In addition, it is easy to see that many new growers are prone to jump into last year's heavy paying crops, thus creating a surplus and frequently ruining the market.

Another conclusion, made obvious by truck farming in the Hereford area during 1955 is the possibility of growing several different vegetables by each farmer. This is apparent as we watch the men who failed to profit on potatoes come back with good returns on lettuce and carrots, all within the same year. If you add similar crops like English peas, green beans, and broccoli, the importance of price hazard diminishes with the number of crops, offering some probable security.

We mention these things not because we are experts, but chiefly because scores of new growers jump into the field following "good years" such as lettuce and carrot men are now enjoying. In addition, the drop in milk support price already has hundreds of producers considering a "flyer" in vegetable production next season.

Truck farming, even with its price factor risk, is certainly no more hazardous than growing wheat in the Panhandle. However, it does involve a lot more hard work, along with a much heavier outlay of cash, before the farmer gets his return—whether it be good or bad. All in all, though, we would say that truck farming has been good for those who stuck—and that it has been definitely a good source of revenue for the area as a whole. The big thing, we would say, is to talk with ones friends and neighbors who have had experience, then proceed with caution.

The big city papers, magazines and TV stations—even a few senators and top brass educators—have been doing a lot of needless worrying about whether the younger generation can read. A few executives even get upset because they can't spell.

All of which, in our opinion, is putting the cart before the horse. We'd be happy if they could even talk.

Out at the football game the other night some of the conversation seemed to be a little bit involved and, after several days of investigation, it fears us up (favorable teen age reaction) to announce that we are hep to some of the lexicon of the high school set. The situation, we admit, is due in part to a survey made recently by Town Journal magazine as follows:

"Hyper's is a fairly new one. It means more super than dooper and if you really want a superlative you can go to 'absolutely glurpy.' 'Give me an eyeball' means 'read this,' and we hope you have and are.

"A 'glue face' is one who seldom smiles and is frequently applied to principals, losing football coaches and others of the pedagogical world whose academic paths are anything but groovy.

"If you are an 'archaic'—over 21—it is possible that you are a 'square'. But it is even worse to be a 'cube' because then you're a square in three dimensions or definitely '3-D'. If you're a sharp dresser, however, it helps because you could develop into something that's absolutely 'frantic' (needless to say what's 'frantic' in high school might be also frantic in the adult world)."

These terms are, of course, only a few of the ones which you will hear around the house during the next few months. However, they do overcome any argument that high school students cannot master and learn to speak a foreign language in any given two-week period.

All of which sends us along with the kids. What's the use of learning how to read and spell in a language you don't even speak? We do hope some kind hearted neophyte will keep us informed on the new words, though. It's tough enough to just get by when you're an 'archaic 3-D,' much less try to keep abreast of the times.

Women Jurors

District Judge Harry Schultz deserves a pat on the back for the manner in which he 'shoots square' with the women jurors. He takes time to carefully explain that women who have children under 16 years of age are exempt by Texas statutes from jury service.

"This does not mean that you must disqualify yourself, or that the court wishes you to do so," points out the judge, "but in fairness I feel that you should realize the condition."

Most of the women immediately claim the disqualification. A few, however, choose to remain and take their chances along with other jurors.

The result, we would say, is good. People appreciate fair treatment, and those who remain will make excellent jurors, due to their sincerity. Women jurors are adding dignity, wisdom and interest to Deaf Smith County court trials and decisions. One reason, we feel, is the appreciation of both men and women for the aboveboard attitude of the courts.

Those postage-stamps size bathing suits the girls are wearing sure satisfy the males.

Then there is the man who spent a thousand dollars to cure his halitosis only to discover that nobody liked him anyway.

All that some girls give up when they marry is housework.

Everything looks green in the spring until the race tracks open and then the green disappears.

When a man and his wife divorce, their accounts differ. Her's becomes larger and his becomes smaller.

Today's husband is not only expected to bring home the bacon, but to fry it and serve it too.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

City Annexation Plan Gets Citizens' Backing

The City of Hereford has started proceedings to annex two new tracts of land into the city limits. Are you in favor of such action? Why?

MRS. H. C. PARVIN

I don't see why they shouldn't add these two sections. It will help keep the city clean and give the people the advantages of city service.

JAY SHAW

I'm always in favor of something like that simply because it will help the looks of the town. If they are in the city limits a building permit is required and then something more substantial is built.

T. E. PRICKETT

I'm in favor of adding these sections. People are doing quite a bit of building out that way and they should be entitled to the facilities of the city.

G. H. ROGERS

Sure I'm in favor of adding these sections. For one thing, this will mean additional revenue and would create better sanitary conditions.

MRS. WAYNE LAWRENCE

I believe this is a fine idea since it means more progress in our city and added facilities both beneficial to the city and the people.

D. L. YOUNG

I think they should be added for sanitation reasons and for the use of the fire department.

J. O. MILLER

As far as I know I would think the property owners would welcome this and it would be beneficial to all.

MRS. L. H. LANE

I don't see why these additions shouldn't be added to the city tax list.

MRS. REECE LAWSON

I'm in favor of adding these new tracts since it will be for the benefit of the community.

'Tater Peelin's

by Roberta Campbell

If Johnny doesn't learn to read then it will be his own fault according to the teaching program outlined on the TV show Monday night in which Agnes Elliston Branson, teacher in Amarillo, was answering the questions on the present methods of teaching reading. Agnes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Elliston and has been on the teaching staff in Amarillo for several years.

Apparently our children are getting along all right with reading because we don't hear any complaints.

If parents had a suggestion for our teachers it would likely be that they do not become so absorbed with the job of teaching that they overlook the shy little fellow who is hoping for a chance to lead the children to the bus or to deliver a message to the principal. It is so easy for a teacher to give these coveted errands to the more aggressive child who practically waves his arm off in her face or jumps up at the slightest suggestion. Actually it is the timid youngster who needs to be made to feel a little extra special in the eyes of his classmates.

Our heart always goes out to a child we see wandering alone on the playground, particularly in those first weeks of school.

Looks as if Herman Welty's well rig will make an oasis out of our kitchen faucets again. We have plenty of water in the well at the house after being unable to pump a drop since the first week in July. The same thing happens every year when the heavy pumping season starts, but we should have enough water to last awhile this time as the cylinder will be set about 20 feet lower than our irrigation well.

At first we thought things couldn't get much worse, but then we remembered how we carried water in a bucket from the neighbors when we were a kid and how the hot ground blistered our bare feet. Then we could also be glad we simply had to fill a can at the irrigation well instead of hauling it on a slide with a team for several miles and strain the wiggle-tails out of it before we could drink it.

What, we wonder, is wrong with people who cry for The Good Old Days? Maybe they haven't tried 'em lately.

Community Builders

By MARY JO PETERS

If there were as many people who believed in Hereford and in Hereford's produce as this week's community builder, Mrs. Rosa Speer, does, we would not have to look for as many markets for our produce as we do now. Mrs. Speer believes in making sure all the food she eats that can be grown in Deaf Smith County, is grown here. The results are quite surprising. Mrs. Speer has just celebrated her eighty-fourth birthday. She is a very active woman who believes in doing everything for the betterment of the town by voting and doing all the duties required of a good citizen.

Mrs. Speer moved to Hereford from Missouri in 1917 and found Deaf Smith County to be just what it was from her first impressions. The greatest change in the town was the replacement of the old windmill, which was an outstanding sight when she first came here, comparable with the TV antenna, she believes.

Mrs. Speer is quite proud of the wonderful schools and churches. When in California she was selected as one of the judges for "Queen For a Day;" the reason being that she was from the town without a toothache.

Mrs. Speer has two daughters, two grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren. She is a member of the First Christian Church in which she is very active. She still goes to most of the affairs sponsored by the church. As a member of a canasta club, she cooks for a hobby and has a great love for people.

With lots of ideas for a growing town, Mrs. Speer is never idle. (See picture on page 6)

SHEPPERD SAYS

Ban Ex-Officio State Board Membership

(Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of four articles written by the Texas Attorney General on the problem of state board membership in Texas.)

By JOHN BEN SHEPPERD
What is the solution to this problem? Should ex-officio board membership be abolished? Should we have a sweeping reorganization of the whole system? Should we go about it board by board? A number of proposals have been made. A change in Veterans' Land Board has been voted by the Legislature and will be submitted to the people next year. This change will replace busy elected officials with citizens appointed by the Governor with knowledge of veterans' affairs and finance.

The other Boards relating to the General Land Office and the leasing of lands might also be revised and combined to give the Land Commissioner the benefit of expert advice from citizens. Perhaps the Legislature could spell out their qualifications — a geologist with many years' experience, an oil business executive, a graduate engineer.

We need experts to take care of leasing the millions of dollars worth of land involved, especially since we have acquired the additional area of the tidelands. In any case, the leasing, now handled by nine separate boards, among them the School Land Board, Board for Leasing of Texas Prison Land, Board for Mineral Leases on Lands Owned by State Agencies, and Board for Lease of Texas National Guard Armory Board Lands, could all be handled by one board composed of qualified citizens and the Land Commissioner.

One Man Responsible
The functions of the Intangible Tax Board could be much better handled by the Comptroller and his staff, and in the same way the Banking Commissioner and his examiners could take over the functions of the Banking Board, with the supervision of citizens on the Finance Commission.

Why not put a doctor on the Anti-Cancer and Pellegra Commission instead of the Attorney General, and replace him on the Employees' Retirement System Board with an able actuary. Similar improvements could be made on every board.

There are several methods of reorganizing these boards. Some states give the job of administering a program to an elected state official and a purely advisory board is named. This gives the people a direct check on the program.

Or the governor can appoint all the administrators. Thus, we have an elected official who is responsible to the people choosing the heads of state departments.

Or the governor could name the members of boards who would hire and fire the administrator, but he would have the authority to run the program.

What Now?
In order to decide what should be done about this serious and expensive problem, we need you and your neighbors to talk it over and decide what you want. Talk it over with your elected representatives and get their views. The citizens of your community may want to

COMMISSIONERS UP PAY

The County Commissioners Court Monday, in a tense session abruptly closed by County Judge Paul A. Williams so that one county commissioner could make statements he said were off-the-record to the press, approved three to one the controversial salary increases which they proposed on July 30. Salaries were ordered into effect, retroactive to Sept. 6, which gave top county elective officials their second raise within the year. For the six highest-paid elective officials, the raise was $2,454.40 above their immediately previous salary and over $3,100 more than they drew a year ago. New salaries ordered by the court are $8,500 for the county judge, tax assessor collector, sheriff, county attorney, county and district clerks; $7,860 for four county commissioners and $5,880 for the county treasurer.

FRIONA GETS FIRST COTTON

First bale of 1955 cotton was delivered last Friday in the Friona area. J. W. Wright, three miles east of Hub, took the first bale to the Mills and Fleming Gin where it was ginned late Friday afternoon then brought to the Friona State Bank where it was displayed on the sidewalk over the weekend.

FINE BOXES APPROVED

After some discussion about the problem of collecting parking tickets, the Littlefield commission decided to order lock boxes to be fixed to a post in the center of each block. Tickets in the form of envelopes will then be used and drivers can slip a quarter in the envelope and drop it in the box a few steps away. Fine for tickets not paid will then be upped and officers sent to collect them.

HOSPITAL BOND VOTE SET

Terry County Commissioners Monday morning accepted petitions for a county hospital and set in motion activity towards an eventual $300,000 bond election and tax reallocation vote. By voting to reallocate constitution taxes, Commissioners opened the way for Terry County taxpayers to approve a county hospital without an increase in tax rate.

PHONE HIKE SOUGHT

A request for an increase in local telephone rates was tabled for the time being by the Canadian City Commission Tuesday. George Newberry of Pampa, district manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, appeared before the Commission at its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon to present a formal application for a rate boost. Rates are now $7 per month for business telephones. $4.75 for one-party residential service and $4 for two-party service.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher discusses the farm problem this week, leaving it as unsolved as it ever was.

Dear editor:

Everybody is talking about the farm problem these days, the Republicans are saying it's not nearly as bad as it sounds and anyway they're going to do something about it right away, the Democrats are saying they can do something about it better and are hoping the problem gets solved but not before they get a chance to do it, and the farmer, he's in favor of the problem being solved, but it looks like whoever solves it, the solution is gonna come a little late to do any good this year.

I have been giving this problem some study lately and it seems to me all the experts and brains are working on the wrong type of solution.

That is, they're all trying to figure out how to increase the price of farm products without bankrupting the government, although I think this is putting an undue burden on the backs of the farmers, as I believe the government, if it tried hard enough, could go bankrupt without guaranteeing the farmer a cent.

But the point I'm making is that the experts seem to believe if they could get the market price of farm products high enough, the farm problem would be solved.

This may be true of most farmers, but not me. It's nice to get a guarantee price for a bale of cotton or a barrel of rice or a bushel of wheat, but that still leaves somebody going up one row and down another. What I'd rather have is a guaranteed annual profit.

Now I'm not saying that the production of food is as important as the production of cars, for example, but if the automobile workers are going to get a guaranteed annual wage, I'd like to see that system carried over into farming too. There are just as many layoffs in farming as there is in manufacturing.

If the political experts will tackle the farm problem from that angle, I'm not sure they can come up with a solution, but it'll sure make better reading.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The Black Sea may have been so called because its waters appear black during heavy winter fogs.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

- Q. How can I remove oil stains from leather?
A. By dabbing the spots carefully with spirits of sal ammoniac. After allowing it to remain for a while, wash with clean water. If necessary, repeat the treatment, but be careful not to injure the color of the leather.
- Q. How can I give myself an invigorating bath?
A. When one is tired, and every muscle seems to ache, try taking a warm bath at bedtime, to which has been added 1 cup of Epsom salts and 2 tablespoons of mustard.
- Q. How can I separate glasses that have stuck together?
A. Pour cold water into the inner one, and place the outer one in warm water. They will separate readily.
- Q. How can I save time when cleaning the bird cage?
A. Cut eight or 10 thicknesses of heavy white paper, and place at the bottom of the canary's cage. Every morning a sheet can be removed, leaving a nice clean floor. This will save much cleaning of the cage.
- Q. How can I easily remove ink stains from school children's fingers?
A. These stains can be removed by rubbing with a cloth moistened with household ammonia, and rinsed in clear water.
- Q. How can I keep egg yolks?
A. If it is desired to keep egg yolks for several days, cover them with cold water until needed.
- Q. How can I strengthen the sewing when hemming a skirt?
A. If a double stitch is taken every few inches it not only strengthens the work but should the hem rip, it cannot be a long one.
- Q. How can I make a prune salad?
A. Stuffed prunes make a delicious salad when stewed, then chilled and seeded. Stuff with cream cheese and nuts.
- Q. How can I make wall paper paste?
A. Dissolve glue by soaking for 24 hours in cold water. Soak 4 gallons of water; then stir in 1 quart of flour which has been mixed into a smooth paste with cold water. Now add the glue water. This much should paper one large room.

HEREFORD MEDICAL and SURGICAL CLINIC
P.O. Box 352
Hereford, Texas

Patients of The Hereford Clinic:

On October 1, of this year, the Doctors of the Hereford Clinic will work by appointment in the afternoons. Since the installation of rural telephones has made it possible for patients living in the country to contact Doctors of their choice, we of the Clinic Staff believe that this will be a great saving of time to both patients and doctors. Appointments are unnecessary in the mornings.

Each doctor will leave sometime in each hour to see emergency patients, or patients who need to be seen at that time, who do not have appointments.

The procedure to follow, in making appointments with your doctor of choice, will be to call 795 and ask for the doctor's office with whom you wish to make the appointment.

Each doctor will start accepting appointments on September 26th for October 1st, or later.

FLYING FOR FUN
TAMPA, Fla. (U)—It's rather like the postman taking a long walk on his day off, but pilots of the speedy Stratojet bombers at MacDill Air Force Base here have a hobby of flying light planes.

The SAC (Strategic Air Command) Aero Club at MacDill owns four light planes, one of them a four-seater.

Aero Club members rent the craft on an hourly basis or by the week if a flier can take off that long. Money from the plane rentals keeps up the planes and sweetens the kitty for purchase of more light craft.

GIVE THEM AIR!
WACO, Tex. (U)—A new city ordinance puts a sort of distance-smell test for control of livestock within the city limits.

The limits: no hog raising within 200 feet of a residence, plus a minimum of 1/2 acre per hog. No cows, horses or mules within 100 feet of residence; no sheep or goats within 50 feet of a residence.

FIRST BRAND ON HAND
SALEM, Ore. (U)—Oregon's livestock brand book lists 11,725 brands in its 1955 revision and Roy K. Nelson, supervisor, says the state's first brand, the letter D, is still on hand after a span of 106 years.

The D brand first was put on five sow elk gentled by Russell Dement who came up to Myrtle Point from California during the 1849 gold rush. He later swapped the elk — legend says — for cows. Cows owned by his descendants still carry the brand.

Guests coming for lunch? Pack hot cooked rice into individual ring molds—the aluminum ones used for gelatin salads. Turn the rice rings out, fill with creamed seafood and garnish with parsley and pimiento.

Save the liquid from sweet pickles with which to make another relish. Drain a can of green beans and pour the pickle liquid over the drained beans. Add some thin onion rings and refrigerate overnight. These pickled beans taste delicious with ham sandwiches.

Marinate asparagus (fresh-cooked or canned) after you have drained them, in a tangy French dressing. Serve on salad greens and garnish with rice-hard-cooked eggs. To "rice" the eggs, force them through a small fine strainer with a teaspoon.

It pays to take care of electric cords. Coil them loosely in a drawer or on a shelf so that sharp bends won't break the fine wires or insulated covering.

Household Scrapbook

By Robert Lee

The Medicine Cabinet
A few suggested remedies to keep in the household medicine cabinet are: Bandages, cotton, and adhesive tape for wounds, iodine and mercurochrome for cuts and abrasions, witch hazel for bruises and sprains, epsom salts for a strong purgative, boric acid for an eyewash, and bicarbonate of soda for indigestion.

Airing Blankets
The bed will be fresher if the blankets are put out on the line occasionally to let the wind blow through them.

Orange Tea
Try putting a piece of dried orange peel in the container with the tea, to give it a different and delicious flavor.

Lemons
If a recipe requires only half a lemon, do not throw away the other half. It will keep until a use is found for it by placing it on a dish, cut side down, and putting in the refrigerator.

Dusty Curtains
If the curtains are dusty, but not dirty, hang them on the clothes line and brush thoroughly. Dry bran may also be rubbed into them then shaken and brushed carefully.

Dust the Windows
If the windows are dusted just as often as the furniture in the room, they will not require so much washing.

ful of cold water to the white of an egg before beating.

The Bread Box
To prevent rust in the tin bread box paste a piece of oilcloth on the bottom of it.

The Dishcloth
The majority of women are very particular about clean towels but sometimes forget the dishcloth, which really needs more attention than the towels. Wash the dishcloth after each meal and dry thoroughly before using again.

Steaks and Chops
When broiling steaks or chops in the oven, put just a little water in the pan under the broiler, to prevent the essence from the meat dropping off the pan and hardening.

Organides
Gum arabic is excellent to use as a stiffening for delicate organides and muslins.

Olive Oil
Olive oil should be kept in the bottom of the refrigerator. This is because it freezes very easily, and should be kept as far as possible from the ice or the unit.

Rose Bushes
Rose bushes may be transplanted any time between October and the middle of November, also in the spring. They should be dug up very carefully and transplanted immediately before the roots have a chance to dry.

Net Curtains
It will not be necessary to iron coarse net curtains if they are starched and then hung while wet on the rods at the windows. Pull them into the proper shape and folds, raise the window so that they can dry quickly, and the result will be pleasing.

Meringue
A double quantity of meringue can be made by adding a teaspoon

The ancient Romans used polished metal for mirrors. In World War I a huge mine field containing more than 70,000 mines was laid from the Orkney Islands of Great Britain to the coast of Norway by England and the United States in an effort to control submarines.
