City Approves All-Time High Budget For 56-57

Both Expenditures And Revenue Reach New Mark

A $311,338 budget — largest in the history of the City of Hereford — was approved by city commissioners Monday night following the annual public hearing at City Hall.

The budget is $35,838 higher than last year's, which was itself an all-time record high of $275,500. The increase is almost identically the same as the 1954 increase over the 1954 budget, which totaled $240,400.

In presenting the budget for the fiscal year 1956-57, City Manager Cecil Massey said, "The City of Hereford is expanding at an amazing rate and has continued to maintain its position as the fastest growing small city in the south-west. Since the 1950 census, Hereford's population has increased 55 percent, totaling 7750 as of January 1956. This growth places increased demands on many of the municipal services, therefore resulting in an expansion of these services so that annually City officials must figure ways to effect economies and stretch the Hereford tax dollar to meet these demands without over burdening its citizens."

Revenue is also expected to reach an all-time high this year. The estimated revenue total is also $311,338, with ad valorem property tax and water and sewer revenue bringing in most of the City's money.

In the budget, Massey included $10,000 for Social Security or Texas Retirement. The City at present has no retirement plan, and Massey pointed out that the money may not be used, but since the Commission is considering a retirement program, the money was included in the budget.

Also listed in the budget were pay raises for almost all City employees.

Estimated Expenditures

The biggest increase in expenditures was listed in the general fund, which rose from $21,940 to $30,355 and the interest and sinking fund. Other expenditures listed include: Fire Department, $7,792; sanitary department, $22,684; parks department, $5645; police department, $30,748; street department, $15,607; water and sewer, $36,754; engineering department, $7,380; interest and sinking fund requirements, $68,860; social security, $10,000; and reserve and re-

Rebuilding Burned Out Bull Barn Is Pondered

Deaf Smith County Commissioners Wednesday still had not decided whether or not to rebuild the Bull Barn, which was gutted by an early morning fire Sunday.

Commissioners are expected to reach some kind of decision Monday, when they will hold a regular second Monday in the month meeting. No decision was reached at a called meeting Tuesday.

The building was built in the early 1900's and some of the highest priced Hereford cattle in the world were sold at the Barn. The county acquired the building after the Hereford Association which built it by public subscription, was disorganized.

It is therefore a pleasure for me to announce my candidacy for the office of county attorney."

The dust was gone and the sky was clear around town this week, and Hereford citizens were beginning to get busy planting their back yard gardens.

The annual softball meeting is to be held Friday night at 7:30 p.m. in the Jim Hill Hotel, and all managers have been urged to attend.

Winners of the hams given away at Piggly Wiggly last week were Alvin Wilkerson, Rt. 3; Clifford Jay Johnson, Rt. 2; and H. H. Smith, Rt. 3.

Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, Pioneer Of Hereford, Dies Wednesday Morning

Funeral services for Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, 78, of Hereford, are pending at Gililand Funeral Home. Mrs. Parker died Wednesday at the Deaf Smith County hospital where she had been a patient for almost five years.

She was born Mary Louise Wilson, Dec. 24, 1876 in Troy, Ala. On June 11, 1905, she married Mr. Parker at Belton. After their marriage, they moved to Hereford, where Mrs. Parker began active work in all civic enterprises. For several years after her marriage, she taught piano here and helped organize the Music Study Club, serving as its first president.

Mrs. Parker has been an active worker in the Methodist Church, and was pianist for many years. When a new church was built in 1929, she made many trips all over the country to determine what type of organ to place in the church. She was a member of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Parker served as president of the Women's Monday Club, the first Study Club to be organized in Hereford, and she launched the plans for the Hereford Library in her home. She made a trip to Belton for aid in compiling the first list of books, and persuaded her husband to arrange some shelves in the old Western National Bank to house the books.

She is survived by two sons, George W. Parker of Amarillo and W. L. Parker of West Palm Beach, Fla.; two daughters, Mrs. W. M. Wood of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. R. W. Redfield of Pasadena, Calif.; seven grandchildren; one nephew, C. C. Acker of Hereford, whom she reared; and two sisters, Mrs. W. E. Willis of League City and Mrs. C. D. Rice of Austin.

Citizens Protest Change In Voting Precinct Lines

A spirited verbal battle over voting precinct lines in Deaf Smith County came up Monday when county commissioners held a called meeting to meet with a delegation of voters protesting a recent change in the lines.

Commissioners made the change March 12 "to comply with a recent change in commissioner precinct lines." The Court explained to the citizens present that the change was made to make it easier to maintain roads in the area. The area protested was moved from Commissioner Precinct 3 to Precinct 2. The delegation present, which was headed by Bernice Northcutt, at one time charged that the change was made for "political reasons." One member of the delegation asserted, "You

Lipscomb County Clubs Are Active During Year

The first Home Demonstration Club in Lipscomb County was organized by a group of ambitious farm women of Booker, March 10, 1936. Today after almost a decade of service, many of these women are loyal members and supporters of the various clubs of Lipscomb County. Among the early organizers are: Mrs. Max Blau, Follett; Mrs. Geo. Seibel, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. John Paine, Mrs. Morris Smith, Mrs. Lizzie Hibbs, Booker. Oehlert, County Agent Miss Marie Ludwig served as agent for Booker until 1935. The late Mrs. George Robbins was Lipscomb County's first home demonstration agent. This year has been one of the most successful years in the history of Lipscomb County Clubs. We attribute a great part of this success to the THDA Committees in their thoughtful recommendations of the work programs, to the Year Book Committee in their wise selections of topics, and to the sincere and diligent efforts of the Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Roberta F. Pugh, who has served the County in this capacity since 1934. The clubs have endeavored to carry out at least two and in some cases three of the recommendations of each THDA program committee. The study of Social Security was taught in the clubs with the programs presented by the Home Demonstration women. This pertinent question created so much countywide interest that in December, 1935 a countywide meeting on "Social Security and Income Tax" was called. This meeting was to be held in the club house, but the crowd was so large that the meeting was moved to the courtroom. Cecil Parker, farm management specialist, was the speaker. He fully explained every phase of Social Security. In fact more time was spent on this part of the subject than on the income tax part of the meeting. This was a meeting for both men and women. The clubs have all reported an increased number of young home-makers in the Home Demonstration Clubs this year. The training of these young people is our primary aim so this report is an encouraging factor to the leaders of this work. The mental health program was studied in each club. Follett Club visited the Mental Hospital at Fort Supply, Okla., and learned of mental health by observation. They visited the institution's craft building, dairy farm and several homes. They served light refreshments to one ward of men patients. These cars of club members made this trip to Supply. All clubs sent banding material to Supply monthly. Mrs. Lee Meyer, County THDA chairman, reports the following on Civil Defense: The Home Demonstration Clubs have worked jointly with the Lipscomb County Red Cross to sponsor 10 classes in "Home Care of the Sick." Four home nursing instructors have been trained for Lipscomb County. Four adult classes of six girls for girls have been taught. One hundred, thirty-five women and girls have received Red Cross certificates in this program. Dr. Redwine, chairman of the Lipscomb County Red Cross, taught two classes in first aid. A list of blood type for 93 people is filed in the home demonstration agent's office and in the Red Cross office. The Follett Home Demonstration Club had an educational exhibit at Lipscomb County Fair on Emergency Supplies Needed for three days. They were awarded a blue-ribbon on the exhibit. The interesting quip on highway regulations taken from Texas highway instruction book resulted in very satisfactory grades. All members resolved to observe highway regulations more carefully and drive safer in 1936. Home Demonstration Clubs have helped in selecting 4-H leaders and when leaders are unable to function, 4-H girls are instructed to contact the president of Home Demonstration Club for assistance in securing needed help. The 4-H girls bring a program to the local Home Demonstration Clubs each year. The 4-H girls demonstrated the uses of dry milk this year. Their project was a beautiful Lemon Chiffon pie with topping. The clubs supported the March of Dimes in various ways. The Darrouzett club served a pancake breakfast with all food donated for this worthy cause. Proceeds from this breakfast was $122.50. This amount received a blue ribbon award on copper tooling at Lipscomb County Fair. Lipscomb County was well represented last spring at the THDA District 1 meeting held in Spearman in April. Twenty-eight members attended from the county. Mrs. W. L. Messinger of Higgins and Mrs. Lizzie Hibbs of Booker attended the State THDA meeting as delegates, held in Fort Worth in August. Locust Grove Club has restored its house to use for craft programs and recreation. They served lunches at sales, sponsored a hard luck party and served corn bread, beans and onions, dill pickles, coffee and doughnuts to finance the project. Games were played after supper. They were awarded a blue ribbon on their hat display booth at Lipscomb County Fair. Hata made during the hat construction program were proudly displayed by all club members in the county. At the monthly meeting of the Commissioners Court, Mrs. Fred Boren of Follett is chairman of the Lipscomb County Council. The citizenship program by club members was on "Jury Service." The qualifications and duties were thoroughly discussed. Reports from all clubs indicate a willingness to

Mrs. Childers Is Most Active In H.-D. Market Here

When the H. D. Market and Gifts was opened June 9, 1934, Mrs. R. C. Childers baked cakes to sell, and has been baking cakes ever since. She has missed only two or three sales days, being out of town on these occasions. This project has proved to be a record, we think. During the past 21 months she has baked over 650 cakes for the market alone. In addition she keeps her home freezer supply of baked goods replenished, and is ever ready with a cake, other baked goods when friends, neighbors or church members need a helping hand. With two youngsters in college baked goods find their way in those directions too. Besides cakes, she has sold cookies and pies when supplies at the market did not meet the demand. In her baking project, Mrs. Childers has used over 200 dozen eggs from their caged laying flock. Most of these eggs could not have commanded the price they receive due to slight imperfections of the shells. The quality of the egg is not impaired, only its container, the shell. By converting these eggs into baked goods she has turned culls into profit. It would seem that such a baking undertaking would keep most farm home makers busy, but not this housewife. She is an expert seamstress along with her many other accomplishments. Often after making an article for her own use, or to give she whips up a few to sell at the market. Mrs. Glenn Snyder spent Easter Sunday in Tulsa with her daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Ike Holman and daughters. Mrs. Cliff Estes is in Bryan where she is welcoming a new granddaughter. The new arrival is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Clifford Estes.

H. D. CLUB WOMEN surprised themselves with their ability as hat makers, and readers will probably be equally surprised to learn that the representatives from several H. D. Clubs made the hats they are wearing in the picture. Mrs. John Draper (left) is from the South Hereford HD Club, Mrs.

Community Parties Are Fun, Club Women Of Messenger HD Club Find

Doing things for others whether it is quilting, sewing or entertaining is a year round project of the members of the Messenger Home Demonstration Club with members scattered on both sides of Harrison Highway 25 or more miles west of Hereford. The member living the closest to town is probably Mrs. S. N. Thweatt, whose home is at the old Bootleg Corner. South of her are Mrs. R. J. Coleman, Mrs. Bruce Coleman, Mrs. W. D. and Mrs. Bob Howard. To the west are Mrs. N. A. Brown, who is now county council chairman, Mrs. Floyd Brown and Mrs. Ernest Brown, all active members. Others who attend regularly are Mrs. E. M. Jack, Mrs. J. E. Rouse and Mrs. Elmer Northcutt. These women working together have recently quilted two quilts to go to Girlstown and made a dozen pairs of pajamas earlier this season to send to the girls at the home. Christmas and Thanksgiving parties for the family are annual affairs as is the political rally held at the Walcott School to add to the club treasury. Candidates are invited to speak and pies are auctioned off and later sold with coffee from the school cafeteria. On each occasion there has been more pie than the crowd could eat. Women in the Messenger Club have a system for serving crowds that could well be copied by other communities holding social functions. Serving is well organized from the school's cafeteria. Fun is added to the occasion with votes for a cake for the prettiest girl and the ugliest man in the crowd. Club members have also entertained other clubs and have cooperated in special meetings. Mrs. H. D. Howard gave instructions in copper craft to members from other Deaf Smith and Parmer County women's clubs. Mrs. N. A. Brown, Mrs. R. J. Coleman and Mrs. Floyd Brown have attended district training meetings and Mrs. Coleman went as a delegate to the THDA meeting in Dallas two years ago. Two members have also been called for jury service. Whether it is "42," or a wiener roast or a big Thanksgiving supper, community parties with the Messenger H. D. Club women as hostesses leave pleasant memories in the minds of those who have attended.

Out in this neck of the woods practically everyone is dependent upon agriculture and, therefore, deeply interested in the farm support price bill. We hear a lot about farm subsidies, over-production and surplus commodities. Sometimes, it even sounds as if the farmer is entirely dependent upon the whims of his federal government.

On the other hand, there are quite a few other people who are also rapping away on the federal doors and asking for subsidies in the form of tariffs, cost-plus contracts and special privileges. These items also amount to 'subsidies'—but are usually called other names—right now, for instance, the wool manufacturers are asking for a tariff boost on imported wool fabrics to 45 percent of their value from the 25 percent which they now enjoy. A large corporation seeks to stop imports from Japan and Italy of kitchen canisters—and the Gloucester, Mass., fishermen are screaming to high heaven about the importing of Icelandic and Canadian fillets. Electrical companies rigidly criticize purchase of generators from England by our government. Others who are seeking even more protection right now include watch and screw makers, tuna fishermen, and floor-spar miners; the wine, wallpaper, knit glove, cotton textile, china-ware and wooden boat industries are also asking for more tariff subsidies. This is only a few as recently recorded in the Wall Street Journal.

When you sum it all up, the situation merely says that American industry cannot compete with foreign trade—and maintain the standard of living enjoyed in this country. Still, the workers in these industries are often the first to criticize farm subsidies and support prices. The farmer, too, is entitled to a comparable standard of living and, when you subsidize industry, it soon becomes necessary to subsidize agriculture. If they would throw all of the industrial subsidies out the back door, the farmer could most easily compete on a non-subsidy basis. This would, without doubt, lower the American standard of living. Meanwhile, subsidies—industrial or agricultural—are complicated, expensive and cumbersome. Back in 1946, I made the statement that no person in the present generation would ever live to see the day when agricultural subsidies will be completely abolished. This statement is still as true today as it was then.

Remember Mr. and Mrs. Willis Edelman? They are coming back to this part of the country. About five years ago they sold out and moved to "Cool Colorado." They were in the vanguard of the western trek, and will be among the first to return. First they ranched for a while, then operated a tourist court at Walsenburg. They are fine folks—and we hope they are setting a pattern for all of those other good Hereford people who have moved to Colorado in recent years.

Troys Carmichael and Tom Drape recently got into an argument about the common name of the female bear. "You call a female swine a 'sow,' a female sheep an 'ewe,'" said Troys; "I've heard of 'cows,' 'mares,' 'hens' and 'does.' I even know that a female ruff is called a 'ree—but what do you call a female bear?"

I suggested "Mama Bear," but neither of these guys would settle. Finally, I looked it up in the dictionary and it said a female bear is a "ursa," but Tom insists that this is Latin—and he wants the common name: Can anyone come to the rescue? Honest, I can not think of two more argumentative characters, or any two people who know less about bears. If they find out, they will probably start arguing about something else—but maybe it will get them off my neck. Surely, someone around here will have the answer.

Grapevine rumors have it that Taylor and Sons of Canyon have recently been dickering with a local food store. The deal is supposed to wind up within a week or two.

Destruction of the bull barn by fire removed another community landmark, and put the Lions Club wrestling bouts out of commission. There is nothing definite on what the county will do, or what the Lions will do. Both will collect partial insurance on the loss. Certainly, the county has no consistent need for a sales pavilion—and the Lions would do well if they were housed in more adaptable, safer quarters. However, there is extensive need for a home for the 4-H Livestock Show, and for a county machinery barn. The Commissioners Court is slated to meet Monday—and this topic will probably be kicked around extensively.

Once upon a time, we had a committee which was working on a community exhibit center, featuring a location with various buildings for clubs, calf shows, sports arena, etc. This seems like a good time to again consider the project. If it ever had any merit, it would certainly be more pronounced now.

The Lions, meanwhile, say that they will secure a temporary location, probably in the old Furr building on Third Street, for their wrestling matches. Slim Wester, the chief mogul in this deal, says they hope to be in operation a week from Saturday, April 14. There is a lot of talk about building a sports arena. This could be a real community service, provided they erect a nice building that might double on occasions for a community meeting place. Everything right now, of course, is still in the talking stage.

Gathering of district Home Demonstration leaders in Hereford this week is a compliment and a tribute to the work done by our own HD members and leaders. We are mighty glad to have them as guests in Hereford, and wish the district group every possible success.

Four Area Men To Get Draft Calls

There are four out of 593 Texans to be called for the May draft call that are from the four county area, served by the local draft board, Mrs. Eunice L. Petersen, draft clerk, reported Tuesday.

The four county area includes Deaf Smith, Castro, Farmer and Randall counties.

The 593 Texans are the state's share of a national call for 12,000 men, all for the Army.

At The Movies

Hell Below Zero

Alan Ladd reportedly rises to new heights of adventure at the bottom of the world in Columbia Pictures' "Hell Below Zero," that will show Thursday and Friday at the Tower Drive In. Joan Tetzel is featured as Ladd's feminine lead, while Basil Sydney and Stanley Baker round out the cast of principal supporting players.

In "Hell Below Zero," Ladd is seen as a hardy American adventurer who signs up as mate on an ice breaker heading for the polar seas to rendezvous with the whaling fleet. Miss Tetzel is traveling to investigate the suspicious death of her father, co-owner of the great whaling enterprise.

In the film, Ladd plunges into what is reportedly a hornet's nest of trouble when his man-hunt implicates the girl's former fiance, son of her father's business partner. Ladd, transferred to a whale catcher to get him out of the way, finds himself wedged tightly in the ice pack; the "rescuing" ice breaker crashes into it deliberately. Both crews are marooned on the ice where Ladd comes to grips with the killer in a titanic death grapple with ice-axes as weapons.

The Phenix City Story is a motion picture based on true events in the once notorious Phenix City, Ala., and emerges as timely and exciting as today's headlines.

The Allied Artists' release, which will show Friday and Saturday at the Star, graphically illustrates how Phenix City earned its infamous reputation as "America's Sin City."

"The Phenix City Story," benefiting to a tremendous extent from a fast-moving script, excellent direction and superb performances all down the line, recreates the town as it existed in its vice heyday and effectively dramatizes the events that led to Patterson's murder and the militia's raid.

A stratum of gas sand has been encountered by the drillers of the deep well near Adrian at a depth of nearly 1400 feet. This development still further strengthens the belief of the officials of the American-Canadian Land Company, who are drilling the well, that they will strike gas or oil within a short time. Those familiar with the work state that conditions are much the same as at other points where oil or gas has been found, also that the Adrian well is in direct line of the oil "lake" whose northern head is near Alva, Okla., where a flowing well was recently discovered, and which extends in a southwesterly direction beyond the Southwest Texas boundaries.

Child Study Club Holds Its Guest Night Program

Child Study Club was entertained in the home of Mrs. Lawrence McGee Thursday evening featuring the annual guest night program.

Helen White Moore, assistant professor of English at West Texas State College, Canyon, was the guest speaker using "Children's Literature" as her subject.

"Every child has the right to good literature and it is the privilege of parents to see that they have it," she said in introduction of the subject. She outlined a brief history of literature for children, mentioning the importance of myths, folklore and fairy tales in children's reading. Early writers influencing children's literature named were The Grimm brothers of Germany, Hans Christian Andersen, and later Hawthorne and Mark Twain.

She stated that young children naturally enjoy verse, but wrong selections can turn them against verse and poetry, and told of the work now being done in children's reading in the fields of biography and historical fiction, as well as text books in the elementary grades.

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising space by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment—on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it is used; and many other facts that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

KNOX'S KNOTHINGS

By BILL KNOX

We came back from the hectic Panhandle Relays with a severe case of sunburn, a pair of sore feet, and with a feeling of extreme satisfaction along with a feeling of disappointment.

The sunburn and the sore feet need no explaining; maybe the last does.

The feeling of satisfaction came from Wayne (Nimble-foot) Smith's brilliant performances in the 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash, while the disappointment came from the team's fourth place finish.

Actually we have no right to be disappointed. Fourth place in a meet where 32 teams are represented is very good. We guess we just forgot about the field events too much. They are very essential if a team is going to win a track meet.

The disappointment has already faded, however, and optimistic hope has replaced it. The district track meet is slated for Saturday at Canyon and Smith, along with the whole Hereford team, will have another crack.

Smith will be overlooked by no one. On the other hand, the Whitefaces may be overlooked by some before the meet starts, but if things go the way they might, that "some" may have made a serious mistake.

If the Whitefaces can master the field events, they will be extremely rugged to handle. So rugged, we think, that no one in this district could handle them. That is provided they can do somewhat better in the field events.

The Panhandle Relays were off fairly well with the exception of two events we noticed.

One was the semi-finals of the 120-yard high hurdles and the other was the semi-finals of the 100-yard dash. Seems as though the same situation presented itself last year in another event.

We overheard one high official of the meet murmur that when it came to measure hundredths of seconds, that's when he was going to quit. Apparently he should have already quit. He hasn't, and we don't think he meant what he said.

Those hundredths of a second may not mean anything to him, but to the player who is running the race they mean a whole lot. They could mean the difference in a race where the places are being decided by time.

In last year's 100-yard dash at Panhandle Smith finished third, reports we are hearing say that he didn't actually finish third. In fact, every coach we saw at Panhandle Friday and Saturday say he finished first.

Apparently there was some misunderstanding among the judges, but at any rate he got credit for only third place. This year, however, he left no doubt whatsoever as to who was the fastest man in Panhandle at the time.

He's going to be the fastest man in Canyon Saturday and probably the fastest man in Lubbock the next week.

Cinder Marathon Is Scheduled Saturday At Canyon

Smith Shines At Panhandle Relays

Dumas Demons Are Rated Favorites

The District 1A Track Meet will see the Dumas Demons take the favorite role when the meet begins Saturday morning at Canyon.

Fresh from their recent victory at the Panhandle Relays, they will be favored to nose out the Canyon Eagles and Hereford Whitefaces. Canyon finished second at Panhandle and Hereford finished in fourth place.

All eyes will be on Hereford's sparkling Wayne Smith. Smith will be favored to wipe out his own records in the 100 and 220 which he set when he was a freshman. He will be trying to cop the events for the fourth consecutive year.

The Demons and Eagles will be rated above Hereford mainly on the strength of their field events. Field events has been the Herd's handicap all year and remains the herd's sore spot. Coach Johnny Poindexter has expressed displeasure over this and reports that workouts in these events this week have been strenuous.

Other than Smith, Hereford will be favored to win no more first places, but will have several contenders which may not find it too hard to dislodge favorites. G. C. Merritt will be rated very close to Charles Neblett of Canyon in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 180-yard low hurdles.

Larry Rickman, a bright freshman prospect, will be rated about second or third in the mile run. He finished fourth at the Panhandle Relays. Donnie Price of Phillips was the only player from district one to finish ahead of him. Robert Kinsey should also place in the 880.

The 440-yard relay looms as one of the closest events which will be run. Dumas Demons will be given just a whisker's length edge over the Hereford Whitefaces. The Demons finished two and one-half tenths of a second better than the Whitefaces at Panhandle.

Dumas will be overwhelmingly favored to cop the mile relay. No one came close to the Demons at Panhandle. Phillips finished in third place and Hereford managed to come in only sixth.

Sims-Drever Cop Tourney Championship

Juanita Sims and Max Drever took championship honors in the Mixed Partnership Tournament by walloping Hootie and Punk Gilbreath 9&8 in the title match played last week.

The winners were each awarded $7.50 in merchandise, while the runnersup were given $5.00 in merchandise.

Revella Skypala and Jim Wood are slated to meet Charles Seed and Mary Jane Pitman in the first flight consolation finals, while Marie and R. R. White play Mary Harman and Ed Skypala for the consolation championship of the second flight.

Hereford linksters will journey to Littlefield Sunday to meet Littlefield golfers in an inter-city match at the Littlefield Country Club. Match play will begin at 12:30. All golfers, both male and female, are invited to participate. Bud Posey said. Posey asked that all golfers wishing to participate turn in their names to him or phone 1284 prior to Saturday evening.

Coach Frank McGuire has seven lettermen and six sophomores on his North Carolina University basketball team. His top performers are high scoring Lenny Rosenbluth and captain Jerry Vayda.

Outfielder Bob Borkowski of the Redlegs was nicknamed "Bush" as a youngster because he wore his hair long.

WAYNE SMITH . . . leaves everybody behind

Dazzles Fans With Two More Records

Nimble-footed Wayne Smith, after already establishing two new records, didn't let a brisk breeze prevent him from wiping out his own records Saturday morning at the Panhandle Relays despite the team's disappointing fourth place finish.

The rapid Whiteface athlete sped to two more records heading into a brisk breeze which kicked up dust on the track occasionally. He wheeled the 100 in 9.8 to erase the mark of 9.9 he set Friday afternoon, and clicked off the 220 in the magnificent time of 21.3 to rewrite his previous record of 21.5 which he also set Friday. The national high school record in the 220-yard dash is 20.6 set by Jesse Owens and tied by Eddie Southern last year.

The Whitefaces finished fourth in the gigantic meet where 32 teams were entered. The Herd established itself as a contender Friday by qualifying a player in seven of the nine events. However, the strength of the Dumas Demons was too much, and the Canyon Eagles and Stinnett Rattlers, behind Freddie Thompson, sneaked in in front of the Herd.

Hereford's 440-yard relay team, anchored by Smith, qualified with the fifth best time, but jumped up two places in the Saturday afternoon finale. Smith took the baton in sixth place, passed three men, and was threatening the Dumas anchor man at the finish. Springlake and Dumas finished in first and second.

"Blackberry" Shurbert of Rails experienced a run of tough luck in the high and low hurdles as Canyon's Charles Neblett took first in both. Shurbert set the record of 20.1 in the 180-yard low hurdles in the qualifying rounds but knocked over the last two hurdles in the finals to finish in fourth place. G. C. Merritt of Hereford took second place. Shurbert was second in the high hurdles, while Merritt failed to qualify.

Larry Rickman was the only other Whiteface to notch a point. He finished fourth in the mile run with a time of 5:01.7. Donnie Price of Phillips won with a 4:48.9.

Quarterback Richard Allen of the University of Florida threw four touchdown passes during the 1954 season, but never twice to the same man.

The American League, through its first 379 games this season, had an attendance of 5,300,009. This is an increase of 271,185 over the same number of games last year.

The yachting and rowing events of the 1956 Olympic Games in Australia will be held on Lake Learmonth, a 1,400 acre body of fresh water near the city of Ballarat. It is 77 miles west of Melbourne.

State And County Chairmen In Hereford For Meeting

MRS. JOHN GOLIGHTLY, Hico, state THDA president is in Hereford today to attend the District One Meeting being held in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Golightly has been a home demonstration club woman for 28 years and has held every office in her club and in Council. She served as State 4-H Committee Chairman, Vice President of District Eight, State Secretary two years, and a two-year term as vice president at large before being elected to her present office.

Mrs. Golightly is also active in community and church affairs, having served as president of the Hico PTA and Hico Garden Club. She teaches an adult Sunday School class. She is also serving as secretary for Erath County Farm Bureau.

In 1911 two very fine families moved to Deaf Smith County from South Dakota. The families were Mr. and Mrs. George Bippus Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. George Bippus Jr. Of these two families only Mrs. George Bippus and Herbert Bippus, who make their home in Hereford, are still living.

Meet Your Neighbors

Hereford, Texas, Thursday, April 5, 1956. Section Three

H D Chatter

Welcome to the delegates and visitors of the Texas Home Demonstration Association. We hope you enjoy the meeting and your visit in Hereford. It has been nine years since the citizens of this county have been hosts to the District Convention. We are glad to have you!

The community house at Ford is going to be nice when the trees and shrubs get big enough to show up. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dyer donated the shade trees. Honey locust, ash and red cedar were planted Wednesday. It is planned that pfitzer juniper, pyracantha, althea, vibex and pistonia be planted at the front of the building.

Two club members are going to visit Sadie Lee Oliver at Belton within the next 10 days. We'll have to get a report on this when they return. Maybe they can get Miss Oliver to pay us a visit.

Cannibalism in poultry is usually caused by over-crowding and over-heating. Be sure of the correct space and the correct heat; also be sure the chicks are getting a balanced ration. To combat cannibalism paint the windows red or hang red cloth or red paper over the windows. Also feed oats. Both these will help. There is red salve on the market you can get to paint the birds. Paint the ones that have been injured and also some of the others. Cannibalism is hard to combat.

This week we saw a dressing table lamp made from an apple cider jug. This was one of those half gallon jugs and made a nice lamp. You know you can get the necessary fittings at most hardware stores.

Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Wiltshire and daughters have returned to their home in Hot Springs, Ark., after attending the wedding of his niece, Miss Sylvia McCracken, to Pat McCullough, Saturday evening.

MRS. VIRGIL WALKER was the first county THDA chairman elected in 1946 when this office was added to the association. She served for two years and was succeeded by Mrs. Earl Dehart, Cultural H. D. Club who held the office for 1948 and 1949. Mrs. Frank Wilde, North Hereford H. D. Club, was the third county THDA chairman during 1950 and 1951. (The Wildes now live in Amarillo). Roberta Campbell, North Hereford H. D. Club, followed Mrs. Wilde in 1952 and also served two years.

MRS. T. J. PARSONS was elected to succeed Mrs. Hodges as THDA county chairman and will take over her duties at the close of the State THDA meeting to be held in San Antonio in September.

Council Is Connecting Link In Home Demonstration Work

The County Home Demonstration Council is the connecting link between the Texas Home Demonstration Association and the Agricultural Extension Service from A&M College.

The county THDA chairman, although not a member of Council, attends and works with the council which is made up of Committees responsible to home demonstration clubs from which their members are selected.

Smith County at the district meeting this year are Mrs. Dwayne Walker, Mrs. Cecil Boyer and Mrs. M. W. Sumner.

Presidents from the H. D. Clubs bring to council any information pertaining to Council and the Council Delegates take back to the clubs the council's business.

The county delegates to district and state meetings are also connecting links from Home Demonstration Clubs to the State Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert McIntyre of Dumas were Easter guests of her mother, Mrs. W. M. Megert, and other relatives in Hereford.

At the top of the Extension Staff is the State Home Demonstration's Leader and her staff who work with the county H. D. Agent. The agent works with the county council which is also attended by the THDA chairman, as has been stated.

These Women Help Make Home Demonstration Plans

Mrs. Argen H. Draper, popular Home Demonstration Agent of Deaf Smith County, also has many friends in other counties in the District here to attend the spring meeting. Mrs. Draper was recently selected as a Community Builder, weekly feature of The Sunday Brand, and works with a number of other groups in community activities. She writes a weekly column "H. D. Chatter" for the Neighbors page of The Hereford Brand, is a charter member of the H. D. Choral Club and sells regularly at the H. D. Market, established two years ago. Since she came to the county in 1947, a number of assistant agents have worked with Mrs. Draper. These are really agents in training who then go out to work as Home Demonstration agents in other counties. The Drapers live on an irrigated farm on Highway 51 south of Hereford where they raise registered Scotch Shorthorn Cattle and porkers which are currently going to market as homemade sausage. Honey is another of their farm to market products and the demand always exceeds the supply.

MRS. ARGEN H. DRAPER

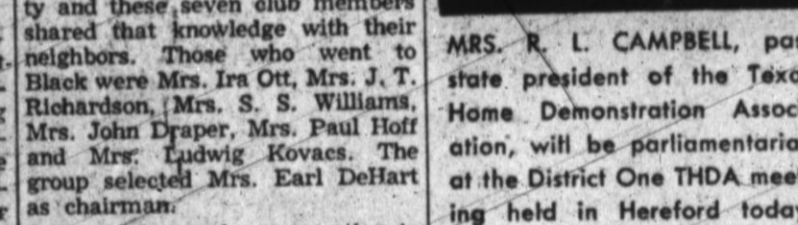

MRS. DOROTHA PROWELL

MISS DORIS LEGGITT

MISS FRANCES REASONOVER

MRS. R. L. CAMPBELL, past state president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, will be parliamentarian at the District One THDA meeting held in Hereford today. Mrs. Campbell's home is near Wildorado in Deaf Smith County. Her home demonstration club work has been a rewarding experience as she has watched the many changes come to the homes of our rural women through their interest and participation in home improvement programs.

Mrs. Edith Tarwater Hopes Her Song Will Be Adopted

Mrs. Edith Tarwater, Home Demonstration Club woman, from Armstrong County was runner-up in the state contest for a theme song for the National Home Demonstration Association held recently.

Changing from the NHDA theme to that of the THDA, Mrs. Tarwater has reworked parts of the song and hopes it will be adopted as the organization's state song. New at composing, but a long time member of the Washburn Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. Tarwater is now serving her second year as club president and is also the Council chairman. She has been sent from her county twice as a delegate to the state THDA meeting and twice to the District meeting.

She served the limit for one woman, continuously in office as the THDA county chairman. She is also, very enthusiastic about the three training meetings she has attended.

THIS VIEW of the W. P. Axe home shows the rose bushes to the left and a number of spring flowers blooming in the circular bed centered with an evergreen. Mrs. Axe, who is landscape demonstrator for the Wyche H. D. Club, will extend strawberries set last year to completely border the walk this year. (Staff Photo)

A COMPARISON of the C. R. Damron home in the Wyche community four years ago, before the owners started their landscaping program, and the yard as it is now. Not shown but bordering the drive on the south, is a row of red cedar set this spring. Mrs. Damron is president of the Wyche H. D. Club and has learned much to help her from the county's long range program on landscaping. (Staff Photo)

Landscaping Study Is Completed By Wyche Home Demonstration Club

This spring ends the four year study on landscaping in the Wyche Home Demonstration Club. During the time almost every yard has been improved and several new ones started. Among them is the C. R. Damron farmstead located seven miles southeast of Hereford.

Every homemaker dreams and makes plans for her future home and this dream came true for the Damrons when their six room ranch style house with bath and half bath, was completed in 1952.

With the house finished Mrs. Damron, who was landscape demonstrator for her club at the time, started making plans for her yard.

Argen Draper, CHDA, helped Mrs. Damron lay out plans on a draft sheet before the actual work was started and things that were taken into consideration were the shrubs that were damaged little by insects, wind or drought. Also the shrubs that required little labor such as pruning.

Color was another factor taken into consideration and the plans included something bright or soft to frame the pale green house from early spring until late autumn in either blossoms or foliage.

On the south side of the house Mrs. Damron planted four bright blooming shrubs, tall praeantha, forsythia and two crepe myrtles. Nandina was used under the windows and mahonia set at the corners on this side of the house.

Along the front porch a row of red barberry was set to give a bright color that could be seen from a distance.

Grass is essential for cleanliness and to help keep the house cool so bermuda grass was chosen for the lawn. This grass is popular because it will give a thick cover with a reasonable amount of fertilizer water and mowing.

Since there was a lot of space between the house and the public road in front Mrs. Damron planned a double driveway which divided the yard into two sections. In the front section she used tall juniper at the back corners and low spreading junipers were used to lead off and fill in between.

For added color in the spring, Mrs. Damron chose tulips, hyacinths, and grape hyacinths to set around the front door steps.

At the back of the house two or three trees have been set for afternoon summer shade.

All that goes up doesn't come down when a lawn is watered with a sprinkler system so the Damrons use irrigation tubes to take water from the concrete ditch that runs across the front yard.

Shari, 11 and nine year old Gloria have fun wading in the ditch and watching the water for their mother during vacation. The Damrons also have a 16 year old daughter Barbara.

W. P. Axe Home

Poor planning costs plenty—so the W. P. Axe family made the most of their plans before their six room with utility ranch style brick home was built in 1954. Mrs. Axe drew the plans for the house for her family including her husband, two daughters, and a son.

When Mrs. Axe was named landscape demonstrator for the Wyche H. D. Club the next year, again with Mrs. Draper's help, plans were drawn to scale allowing space for full growth of plantings included in the landscape.

Beauty of the shrubs and adaptability to climate were the chief factors governing the selections.

Following the rule that everything in front of the house should be evergreen Mrs. Axe chose those with particular beauty during the winter months.

On the west side she set a French lilac, red twig dogwood, honeysuckle, euonymus japonica, mahonia and praeantha.

A group of one praeantha, two nandina and three mahonia were planted with a mugo pine added

Cultural Home Demonstration Club Is Youngest

Cultural H. D. Club is the youngest home demonstration club in Deaf Smith County. It was organized Aug. 21, 1948 in the commissioner's courtroom, when the need for such an organization in the immediate area northwest of Hereford continued to grow.

Several women in this area were members of the North Hereford Club at that time, but as their neighborhood became more settled they saw the need to get these women into H. D. work. North Hereford club, its membership already to the point where very few homes were adequate for meetings just wasn't the answer to the problem. After much thought, planning and deliberation, it seemed that subtraction, division and multiplication was the only tangible solution.

By subtraction, these members withdrew from that club; by division two clubs were now functioning; enlisting neighbors interested in the aims of H. D. Clubs multiplied our numbers.

From a charter membership of 10 women, membership has fluctuated both up and down since then. In checking we find six of the charter members are still actively engaged in the club's work. These women are Mesdames R. C. Childers, Earl DeHart, Louie Olson, Grady Parsons, J. T. Richardson and Pat Robinson.

April 14, 1953, when the club was only eight months old, four of these charter members attended the District 1 THDA meeting held in Canyon. Last year these same women attended the District meeting. In fact they have attended most of them. They are Mesdames R. C. Childers, Earl DeHart, Louie Olson and J. T. Richardson.

Buddy Godfrey, student at Texas Tech, spent the Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Billingslea.

Lu Durham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Durham, is home for the Easter Vacation. Miss Durham is a student of nursing in Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas.

Let your living room demonstrator know if you are interested in a program on making lamp shades. This month we are planning a training meeting on this and if the club wants the program I'm sure the demonstrator will take the training and give it in a special interest group meeting.

Jessie Terrell came to the office asking for a bulletin on "How to be in Two Places At One Time." She has been planning to attend the District Meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association and the Circle to which she belongs has elected her delegate to the District meeting of the WSCS in Amarillo on the same day. Now wouldn't that be a popular bulletin if it were available?

ond and fourth Sunday to hold preaching services.

Rev. Bob Hunt, a senior student at WT in Canyon, fills the pulpit on the first and third Sundays.

The only organized group in the community is the Bippus Home Demonstration Club with a membership of seven women.

Officers of the club this year are Mrs. G. V. Hall, president; Mrs. Jimmy Perrin, secretary; Mrs. Elmo Hall, council delegate; and Christine Fortenberry, reporter. The other three members, Mrs. J. G. Fortenberry and Mrs. C. F. Hornfield who have held offices in the past and Mrs. Jackie Dowd.

The club meets on the second and fourth Wednesdays and at one of these meetings the program is brought by Argen Draper, county home demonstration agent. Her demonstrations have been of interest to the women who are ambitious about their club work.

Last year club members chose as their project making curtains for the windows at the community house. The women furnished the money to buy the material for the auditorium windows and used flowered feed sack material for the kitchen. Attractive and serviceable curtains were made by the members working together.

A special interest meeting was held at the J. G. Fortenberry residence last May when Mrs. Draper gave a demonstration on upholstery. Six county H. D. Clubs were represented at the meeting and five chairs were upholstered. Cushions for two others were recovered.

Mrs. Elmo Hall, who was yard demonstrator for the last two years, has improved her yard using native grass for the lawn and setting shrubs and trees in her project in landscaping.

Mrs. Hall also made a walk of her back yard gate, which makes an attractive and useful addition to the grounds.

Mrs. G. V. Hall is living room demonstrator for the club this year. The Halls have done a good deal of remodeling at their home in recent months.

Homes may be far apart in the Bippus Community but the people who live in them are closely united in all community activities.

Tom Woodford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Woodford, J. D. Willis, son of Dr. R. R. Willis, and Virginia Sigle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pclmar Sigle, left Monday for Boulder, Colo., after spending the Easter vacation here. They are students at the University of Colorado in Boulder.

Kid Party Is Fun, Dawn HD Club Finds

By MRS. MURL LITTLE Very Worthwhile

Backward turn backward oh time in thy flight. Have you ever wished it could? What fun to be a carefree child just for a day. Well, the members of the Dawn Home Demonstration Club finally achieved it. No fountain of youth was unearthed. We went Ponce DeLeon one better and had a kid party in Ray and Arliss Stewart's barn. So what if the cows thought "dig those crazy mixed up kids"? We had fun.

My, my, Mr. Fuller what lovely legs under those short britches. Are you sure you wore those to school? No wonder Jessie Lee snatched you up. Come examine me Jessie Lee but your bow on your pantaloons is untied. Didn't mothers make dresses longer in those days?

Ge, Arliss you look sweet in your little ruffled pinfore. Bet you were quite a schoolgirl.

Well, who in tunket? Why it's Lois Brown. My doesn't she make a cute little boy? Hey Lois better put that popgun back, it might go off.

There's two cute kids. Well blow me down Ruby Jo are you having trouble keeping those long handles nice and neat under those long black stockings? And hey Johnnie I'll bet those short britches were the cat's meow.

Mrs. Bentley don't let that kid in the straw hat (T. L. Sparkman) pull your pigtails.

My, those pigtails of Mrs. W. J. Stewart are pretty with those red bows.

Mr. Cordor you must wear a goatee cause you didn't dress like a child, so if you won't be a kid we'll give you a goatee.

Hey Hazel those chairs 'aint funny 'cept to others when they collapse.

Wow, the smoke from those candy cigarettes. Bet your mamma doesn't know Ray. Please don't chomp on that bubble gum so hard Rita.

What have you got in your sack lunch Aunt Mattie? Sure glad we all brought one. Annie you and Ruby come over here and help us sing these rounds.

Well that's what you might have heard had you been here Aug. 22, 1954. The two cutest kids received a pop gun and charm bracelet. They were Han and Jessie Lee Fuller.

The children dressed as adults. We feel like parties like this help our Home Demonstration Club to be better and ease the cares, and wipe the brows. If you have to find a reason for a club well here's one.

We're homemakers mothers and club members, too. So course we have lots to do. We dry the tears and wipe the nose. Kiss the hurt and mend the clothes. We wash the dishes and maybe the car. And see that the kids don't roam too far. We iron, we mop, cook and sew. And if there's a garden take time to hoe.

"Why go to club?" someone asks. "Why take on another task? Haven't you enough to do, without leaving home for an evening or two?"

"Why?" you ask, well here's the clue: Sometimes we learn something new. Something helpful, something fun. A "new-way" to be done.

And some... just "get away."

From routine chores that fill the day. It's fun to meet to talk and chat. No gossip (We wouldn't do that). It can remove our grouch and leave a smile. And make being just a housewife very worthwhile.

Hansford County Club Is Active

The Morse H. D. Club of Hansford County is sponsoring a First Aid Class open to anyone wishing to attend. This is in compliance to the Civil Defense Recommendations from the State Organization. There are 11 charter members of the class which is being instructed by Cecil Bigton.

Miss June Gibbs conducted a four day landscape school in Hansford County. Recently several yards were visited to bring out and study various problems and advantages. Mr. Johnson, horticulturist from the Woodward Experiment Station, Woodward, Okla., was guest speaker and demonstrator. He gave most valuable information on species adapted to this section of the country. The homes of Mrs. T. D. Sapeting, D. B. Keim, B. J. Garnett, Wesley Garnett, and H. M. Shedd were visited.

Nineteen hundred trees and shrubs have been ordered through the Extension Service to beautify the wide open spaces of Hansford County. This year has marked more interest than ever before in using windbreaks on homesteads. With an increase of irrigation wells over the county comes the desire to grow something and there is nothing lovelier than a tree.

Miss Doris Leggett, District home demonstration agent of Amarillo, began her work with the Extension Service as H. D. agent in Wabarger and Dallas counties. She is a graduate of West Texas State College and has been in her present position since 1940. Her work takes her over the 22 counties in the district to confer and make plans with the county H.D. agents. Miss Leggett is known by most of the H. D. Gayle Gault has returned to Norman, Okla., where she attends the University of Oklahoma, after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gault, at Easter time.

So—come be our guest—at our Spring Fashion Festival—and at the wheel of the most spirited Buick yet.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo* Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

THE DRAWING made by Mrs. J. E. Dyer to a scale of 48 feet per inch outlines Ford Home Demonstration Club's plans for landscaping the grounds at the community building which was formerly the Ford School. The school, located 20 miles north on Highway 51 was discontinued a number of years ago but has been used more recently as a community center.

Ford Club To Landscape Old School Grounds

Still sits the school house by the road, but it will be no ragged beggar when members of the Ford Home Demonstration Club complete their landscaping program planned at their last meeting.

The building which was abandoned as a school several years ago has been serving as a community center lately and the Ford H. D. Club has decided to do something about the grounds around the red brick building located on Highway 51 north about 20 miles.

Plans are to use pfitzer juniper and red cedar in the screen plantings and honey locust and green ash for the trees back of the community building.

Evergreens to be used in front include vitex, althea, photinia and pyracantha.

Club members are enthusiastic over the possibilities though they realize it will take hard work and time to complete the landscaping program.

David Goldston, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Goldston, and Homer Hershey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hershey were home from Texas A&M College to spend the va-

Naming Roads Is Successful Project Of Cultural Club

Cultural H. D. Club has one community project. The initial work was completed in June 1955, but the expansion and maintenance of the project goes on from year to year.

Plans were formulated in January, 1951 for the naming of the roads in the Northwest Hereford area in which the Cultural Club members live. The Westway Club was contacted and they too were interested in the project since most of the east-west roads continue through their community.

Mrs. R. C. Childers headed the naming committee from the Cultural Club and Mrs. Paul Rudd was named chairman of the Westway group. These groups met in joint session and plotted the map. The east-west roads were named for flowers and called lanes. The north-south roads were named for trees and called roads.

Lumber for the signs was purchased by the club. One member's husband cut the lumber into correct lengths with his power saw. The women then took over and painted the boards. In another all day work session the names were stenciled on. Jack Renfro, a community resident, learning of the undertaking offered to donate the posts needed to erect the signs. Discarded potato digger rods were collected by the women. Again the male population came to our rescue as these rods had to be heated and straightened before they could be used. Meanwhile another man was "preparing" the posts by cutting notches and drilling holes to mount the signs.

At last the preliminary work was completed. When the committee contacted the county commissioner, J. C. Morrison, about location and placement of the signs on county property he readily offered the services of his men in digging the post holes. A map of the area showing proposed locations was given him and another job was completed.

June 14, 1955, 8:30 a.m. was the time set to begin placing the signs. Working crews were equipped with posthole diggers, shovels, hammers, wrenches, pliers and etc. Pick-ups were loaded and crews dispatched. With the aid of three men who volunteered their services this job was accomplished by noon.

Hard work, long hours and excellent cooperation brought the sign project to a completion. The long hours of work and the cooperation of community men made the undertaking a success. These men received our thanks for their efforts. Fred Wollington prepared the posts for the signs; Earl DeHart cut the lumber for the signs and straightened the rods; J. C. Morrison and his men dug the post holes; Jack Renfro donated the posts; and the final work done on June 14 by Paul S. Corbett, Raymon Childers, Jr., and Kenneth DeHart.

Creosoted posts were used and most of them are standing today. The signs as well as the arms on which they hang have fallen prey to thoughtless vandals and careless hunters. We often wonder when trying to direct strangers if they will find the sign at the corner where they are to turn.

Terry McRight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson McRight, was in Hereford over the Easter holiday weekend. He is a student at Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

George L. LeGrand who has been employed in Kansas City for the past several months, visited his family and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louie LeGrand over the Easter vacation.

Floyd Ross who, with his family, has recently moved to Leveland, transacted business and visited with his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Ross, Saturday and Sunday.

Ford Community Plays Together

Typical of the kind of get-togethers the people in the Ford Community enjoy was the one held at the Dwaine Walker home in January when members of the Ford Home Demonstration Club, and their families met to spend an evening playing games.

Some chose "42" while others preferred canasta or pinocle. Refreshments were served to

These HANDS of MINE

Whether building a life or a skyscraper is involved, a clear understanding of the project is necessary... a plan must be in mind. The man who starts to raise a family without first considering his earning power, cost involved and the necessity for God's help — faces serious difficulty. To correctly raise a building an architect, blueprint and a builder are essential. To properly build a man — prayer, Bible reading, Sunday school and church attendance are good tools to work with. To calculate the pitch a roof must be is easy but without God's help, to determine the worth of a young life is impossible. Architects design houses. Builders put them together. But only God can build a man out of a boy. The church, through these firm hands of mine, pictures to humanity the world's greatest designer... Jesus the Christ. World builders could not get along very well without Him. He has never poured a bad foundation, nor laid a sill out of level, nor raised a wall off plumb. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it," Psalms 127:1.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we too Sunday, "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

bench are Mrs. W. E. Melton, bailiff; Mrs. T. H. Staubyn, defendant; and Bruce Parker, judge. Standing are Mrs. Roy Frazier and Mrs. A. P. Coombes, defense attorneys.

Mock Trial Is Held By H D Club Women In Gray County

By HELEN DUNLAP
The citizenship committee of the Gray County Home Demonstration Council is working with the club membership to inform the women about jury service. Its purpose is to prepare them better to serve the courts. Some women have already been called for jury service, making them realize the need for help in understanding the job.

Recently the citizenship committee held a mock trial, resulting from requests for help in understanding court proceedings and in learning about duties of jurors. County Judge Bruce Parker lead this demonstration, with all women participants. During February they became interested in this demonstration when Judge Parker talked to the council with reference to duties of jurors.

In the mock trial, Mrs. Walter Noel was judge; Mrs. V. Smith, sheriff; Mrs. W. E. Melton, bailiff; Mrs. Ernest McKnight and Mrs. Roy Tinsley, prosecuting attorneys; Mrs. Roy Frazier and Mrs. A. P. Coombes, defense attorneys; and Mrs. T. H. Staubyn, defendant. Other club members served as witnesses and as jurymen.

Mrs. Staubyn was tried and convicted of driving while intoxicated in the mock trial. The women report that this comical demonstration of a trial has given them a better understanding of the work of the court. They feel, in the event they are called upon to serve on the jury, that they can do it more intelligently.

Recently Gray County spent $300 in purchasing the booklet "The Right of Trial by Jury Shall Remain Inviolable." These pamphlets are distributed to people to help them understand their duties as jurors. The citizenship committee feels partially responsible for this purchase, since the committee showed a sample copy to the judge shortly after the state meeting last fall. The women asked that additional copies be secured.

The clubs have all held programs giving the responsibilities of jurors, and two clubs held additional programs, given by members of the League of Women Voters, their different method of presentation impressed the women.

Entire Family Is Thought Of By Cultural Club

The Cultural H. D. Club sponsors activities for the entire family despite the fact we have no community building for such gatherings. Such buildings as granaries, barns, garages and vacant residences have been used.

Our annual summer picnics have proved to be the most popular. In the beginning these picnics were held in the community, but in recent years have been moved to the park. With picnic tables already provided there, along with the shade trees and playground equipment available, both young and old enjoy these get-togethers.

Yes, we find it a problem to plan such activities because each family has church, school or civic obligations that often conflict with any suggested date. Despite this, we set a date when most of the families can attend, and hope that the next time the absentees will be able to attend.

A few of our homes are adequate for club luncheons. We usually have two luncheons a year when prospective club members are our guests.

Rance HD Club Organizes 4-H Club For Girls

At a meeting of the Rance Home Demonstration Club members discussed the need for a 4-H girls' club since there were a number of girls of club age in the community. Mothers and the girls were consulted and all expressed interest in organizing a club. Ten girls came for the first meeting.

The members enjoy their club work under the leadership of Mrs. Troy Ray and Mrs. E. J. Hodges. They will be glad to have other girls join the club.

Improvement Club Works On Weight

Mrs. George Turrentine has been instrumental in organizing a weight reduction club in the community in which she lives. The club has 10 members. The main object is to lose weight intelligently, by eating balanced diets, and using exercises to lose excess fat from certain parts of the body.

When the club meets, good eating habits and menus are discussed. If you put less food calories into your body than it requires, you are going to lose weight, and if you don't have a balanced diet while you are losing weight you are going to get sick.

Clubs Nominate Candidates For HD Woman Of Year

An about face from last year's choice, home demonstration club women of Deaf Smith County favored selection of the Outstanding Home Demonstration Club Woman of the Year from nominees from the clubs instead of entirely by secret committee.

When the nominee was elected by her club her qualifications were then presented for judging by a local secret committee whose final decision is being announced today. Nominees and their qualifications as submitted by fellow club members are:

Mrs. C. F. Homfeld, Bippus H.D. Club, who is sponsor of county 4-H Clubs and 4-H leader for the Caprock 4-H Club. Mrs. Homfeld was chosen for her personality and her ability to make friends. In club work she has had a perfect attendance record this year and works each Sunday with the Bippus Community's Sunday School and also with the Church. She also worked with the Red Cross drive this year.

Mrs. Louise Olson, Cultural H.D. Club, served her club as president the two years before this and is parliamentarian and a member of the cheer committee this year.

She works with the WMU and the Sunday School of her Church where she has taught the primary class for the last 15 years. She also belongs to the Friendship Club.

Members of her club report that she is a good neighbor, always ready to help others, and has been inspirational in promoting H. D. Club work in her community. She has also encouraged 4-H work.

She was instrumental in the Club's support and visit to Giristown last fall. She has been a member 25 years and has held every office in her club and was council chairman.

Mrs. H. S. Fuller, Dawn H. D. Club, is serving on the yearbook committee this year after her two years as the Dawn club president. She is also corresponding secretary of county H. D. Council.

She works with her husband as treasurer of the Dawn church and sponsor of the Young People's class in the Training Union. She attends and is treasurer for the Dawn School Cafeteria.

Mrs. Fuller is room mother for the third and fourth grade room of the Dawn School, a member of the Dawn Parent Council and the WMU.

She is described by club members as a cheerful and competent worker and regular in attendance in anything connected with club, church or community. One of the things much appreciated by women without transportation was her picking them up to take them to meetings.

Mrs. Fuller is the mother of four boys, three in school. As well as her many outside activities she takes time for family worship and recreation, keeps her house and feeds her family well. She raises a garden and chickens and does a great deal of canning, freezing and baking.

In spite of all these activities she has time for anything she is called on to do.

Mrs. Dwayne Walker, Ford H.D. Club, is president of her club and chairman of the Council recreation committee.

She is interested in the social life of the Ford community and also started the community project of landscaping the school grounds and fixing up the building.

Personal characteristics that the club members have listed are that she is dependable, tactful, well organized and is enthusiastic and willing to do her part and more.

As a member of the recreation committee of council she has helped with the council Christmas party the past two years.

Mrs. Walker is a delegate to the district meeting. She attends her church regularly and helped with the Bible School in the summer.

Mrs. N. A. Brown, Council chairman of the Deaf Smith County Council is also secretary for the Messenger H. D. Club and chairman of the expansion - education committee.

She is a member of the board of directors for the Deaf Smith County Red Cross, a member of the Walcott P-TA and helped entertain the Walcott 4-H girls.

Club members sending in qualifications, say she is unselfish and always enthusiastic about her club and church work. As well as regular parts of club programs she took the first aid course and the tailoring course given to H. D. Club women.

Offices she has held in club include president, vice president, chairman of expansion - education committee in council, and served seven years as council delegate.

Mrs. John P. Slaton, South Hereford's H. D. Club's nominee is the chairman of the nominating committee.

Club members report that her most outstanding activity was back in 1922 when she asked a lawyer to draw up a petition for a hospital in Hereford. In a short time she had 500 names and a bond was voted. The hospital was completed in 1925 and she was the first superintendent.

Mrs. Slaton has always been interested in flowers. She has shared flowers from her garden along with other things with others. She is active in church work, is a charter member of the Hereford Garden Club, the Bayview Study Club and the South Hereford H.D. Club.

When her club was to entertain another club last year she asked to have it in her home and made all the arrangements for refreshments and entertainment for the visiting clubs.

When Home Demonstration Club work was first started in the county she helped to get an agent and has helped to keep the work going. Because of failing health she has given up all club activities except that of the South Hereford Club.

Mrs. Alice Cox was nominated by the West Hereford H. D. Club and they list many activities among her accomplishments.

Mrs. Cox is recreation chairman and civil defense chairman for her club and is reporter for the H. D. Choral Club.

She sings with the chorus and is president of the Federated women's clubs, president of the Ceramic Art Club which sponsors a group of Camp Fire girls, attends church and works with the Golden S. S. class. She is a member of the Art Guild, assists with the Red Cross, the Migrant Labor Camp and served on the Citizens Committee. She is a member of the Ground Observer's Corps and helped the Boy Scouts in obtaining ceramic achievement.

Mrs. Cox has also found time to attend special demonstrations on upholstering, meat cutting and outdoor trash burners.

She has represented her club twice at Commissioners Court.

She has worked in H. D. Clubs for many years and during that time has helped organize three clubs. She has also served in most of the Council offices and offices in H. D. Clubs.

Mrs. C. A. Saulcy is president of the Westway H. D. Club and a member of the Finance Committee in Council.

She was 4-H leader for four years for the Sadie Lee Oliver 4-H Club and was secretary treasurer for the County Wide 4-H one year. She attends church and is a member of the Nettie Price Slaton Circle. She taught the young people's Sunday School class at Westway two years and now teaches the Juniors at Westway.

Among other qualifications listed were those of being able to mix with people and have fun. She enjoys visiting with the sick and the old and blind and remembers them with some little gift on special days.

She went as a visitor to the State and District Meetings the past two years and brought a full report back to her club.

She visits the new neighbors in the community and invites them to join the H. D. Club.

Since she was elected by acclamation members feel this shows how they value her work as a club member.

She engages in many other activities such as keeping children for mothers of a new baby, helping two nephews to find a new life outside the orphan's home and has worked with the Red Cross.

She helped organize the Improvement Club and is still an active member. She maintains a beautiful yard, raises a garden and does a lot of canning.

Since she started work with the Westway Club in 1946 she has worked every year in some capacity with Council.

Her greatest pride is her six grandchildren.

Mrs. W. P. Axe, vice president of the Wyche H. D. Club has also served as landscape demonstrator for her club and has attended the special training meeting on landscaping including the building of a trash burner for the back yard.

Other demonstrations she has given were planting of rose bushes but the best demonstration in this capacity is a visit to her own home where a complete new project was started when their new home was built two years ago.

Members who work with Mrs. Axe say she is a very willing and capable worker and is sincere in her efforts to improve her club and her community.

Recently she was hostess to a "42" party for the Wyche Club and community.

First Aid Put To Use By Club Women In County

Cultural H. D. Club women have participated in first aid courses in connection with the Civil Defense program.

Mrs. Earl DeHart took the First Aid Instructors Course as taught by J. C. Reese and Marlin Gilliland.

After receiving her instructor's certificate she organized a class in her neighborhood. Mrs. Louie Olson opened her home for the class meetings which were held one afternoon a week.

Seven women received their Standard First Aid Certificates at the close of the course. They were, Mesdames Wayne Johnson, Paul S. Corbett, Carlos Vaughn, John Hunter, Jim Ricketts, Grady Parsons and Louie Olson.

Some of the women put their knowledge to use before completing the course. When little Fred Ricketts, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ricketts fell and broke his arm, his mother and Mrs. Hunter administered first aid before taking him to the hospital.

Another member reported that she treated her husband for shock following an accident. Until she studied first aid, she did not know how to diagnose shock symptoms nor how to treat a patient in the state of shock.

Although Mrs. Leona Packard was unable to complete the course, due to illness, she too put her first aid into practice. When a calf received a bad cut and apparently would bleed to death, she used a compress and direct pressure to stop the flow of blood. Yes, she saved the calf.

Another member reported on a highway accident. A man fell from a moving truck, which she was following. She stopped to render as-

MRS. WILLIE MODISETTE

Mrs. Modisette Is New Member In H. D. Work

Mrs. Willie Modisette who formerly lived in Coventry, England, has been welcomed as a new member this year in Home Demonstration Club work in Armstrong County.

Mrs. Modisette and her family have been residents of the Wayside Community since 1946. She met her husband while he was stationed in England in military service. She was working at the time for General Electric in Coventry.

The Modisettes have three children. Royce, eight, Marion, six, and Faye, five.

Since the club was working on citizenship, members decided to climax the study with Mrs. Modisette's naturalization ceremony held in Amarillo Nov. 9, 1955.

The women were proud of this new member and encouraged and helped her anyway they could. Eight of the members went with her when she obtained her citizenship papers.

Other than her club work, Mrs. Modisette takes an active interest in the school and is Sunday School song leader and teacher of the beginner class.

She was recently honored at a

Wheeler County Clubs Active In Many Programs

Wheeler County Home Demonstration Clubs have been active in Civil Defense leader training, with programs on family preparedness to meet disaster and 28 members have completed home nursing courses. A first aid class will be started in Shamrock in May, being taught by a local doctor.

Two clubs have reported making 12 quilts and giving other household supplies, furniture and clothing to tornado victims in the county.

In citizenship, all clubs have studied jury duty and four or more members have served when summoned. Some clubs are helping with the Youth Center that is being organized in Shamrock. In Mobeetie, clubs are helping in the starting of a new library in their town. Mental health programs have been held in all the clubs. A box of various needs, and a card table was sent to the Mental Institute in Wichita Falls, two clubs reported sending packages of pajamas to a T.B. Sanitarium.

4-H Citizenship ceremony in her community and expressing her early impressions of the country on this side of the Atlantic she said "I had heard of the wide open spaces of Texas, but I did not realize they were so wide." She said "New York was fabulous but lonely."

The Hudson Hotel was the largest building she had ever seen and she was amazed that her room was 20 floors up.

Pleased with her new home, she says "I am proud to be a citizen of the United States. It means so much to me."

Eleven 4-H Clubs Are Now Active In Potter County

In Potter County there are 11 home demonstration clubs and four 4-H girls' clubs.

To encourage 4-H girls' work in this county the Council bought uniforms of various sizes; girls and leaders made these and they are kept in agent's office and the girls check them out to wear to District Camp, State Round-Up and other special occasions. Council sponsors a leader to the Round-Up, sends a girl to the State Dress Revue at the State Fair; and sends a leader and three girls to District Camp. Home Demonstration clubs asked the girls to give demonstrations to the clubs in June.

At the annual county-wide Spring Party in 1955, one of the guest speakers was County Judge W.M. Adams, who spoke on "Women in Jury Service." Approximately 216 club women and guests, representing the 12 clubs, attended.

At our know-your-government assistance, and used the blanket from her car to keep the man warm until the ambulance arrived. She also advised others at the scene not to move the man in case there were broken bones.

These stories are only a few follow-ups on a few of those taking this course, but there are many more to be sure. We need to get busy now with more courses and bring our First Aid knowledge up to date.

meeting in June, the county judge, county commissioners, county auditor and the state highway department, representing the expressway, talked on county problems and county government.

Sunnyside Home Demonstration Club celebrates each member's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary—this includes the entire families of the members—and in 1955 they celebrated the club's twenty-fifth anniversary. The Bushland Home Demonstration Club sponsors one girl in the children's home.

The Triangle Club was helping a handicapped child by providing transportation to school; since this was by cab it became such a responsibility the other clubs wanted to come in on it, making it a county-wide project, and they clothe the child, too. Packages of cosmetics were sent to the State Health Hospital. All the clubs donate to Boys' Ranch; Girls' Town; as well as all the drives of heart, cancer, TB, Red Feather, crippled children, and March of Dimes.

Miss Jonna Bloeker left Saturday for Clarendon to spend the Easter vacation. She accompanied her granddaughters, Mr. and Mrs. John Bloeker to their home after they had spent a few days here in the home of their son, John Bloeker Jr.

Mrs. Glynn Harrel Council Chairman In Carson County

Mrs. Glynn D. Harrel, Groom, has served as Carson County Council chairman for the past two years and has been active in Home Demonstration Club work for several years.

She has been 4-H sponsor for the Cornet Clover 4-H Club and served as county 4-H sponsor for two years.

Carson County has 11 Home Demonstration Clubs with 158 members.

At this time we do not have an agent but hope to have one before many days roll by.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith and children were in Lordsburg, N. M. over the Easter weekend. They were guests of her sister, Mrs. Emil Dettman and Mr. Dettman, former residents of Hereford. They were accompanied by their niece, Gail Biggers, a student at Texas Tech, who visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Biggers, who have recently moved from Hereford to Lordsburg.

Randall County HD Club Gives Community Feast

The Jowell Home Demonstration Club in Randall County furnished a free supper and the entertainment at a community meeting at the Jowell school in January.

About 55 people were served baked ham, potato salad, vegetable salad, baked beans, bread, cake and coffee.

The entertainment was furnished by members modeling old clothes dating back as far as 1867. The short, long-waisted dresses of the 1920's drew much laughter from the audience. The old hats and pointed shoes were equally amusing.

A man's derby and swallow-tail suit of the early 1900's brought howls of merriment, especially from the children.

Then there were the long full dresses and suits dating back as far as 1870. Old-time hairdos and old jewelry and a key wind-watch added emphasis to the different eras.

Mrs. Grace Raymond, club president, furnished music at the piano and Ervin Davis and Pete Leavitt, two Farm Bureau boys, played selections on the guitar and the French harp.

Crafts Helpful Many HD Club Women Find

By MRS. EARL DeHART

Crafts have always been of interest to members of the Cultural H. D. Club members. At first this was handled as club programs, but was changed to special interest meetings. This was found to be most favorable and rewarding to both the teacher and student.

Aluminum tray making, shell craft, fabric painting, copper foil tooling, glass etching, nylon corsage making, glove making and advance tailoring have all found interested women. Through these programs our clothing construction is better, our wardrobe made more interesting by the personal touches we have learned to make, and with properly planned and fitted accessories. Our homes have been made more attractive by our own efforts. Last, but not least, the knowledge learned has enabled us to make gifts for our friends and loved ones that are much more appreciated by most people, because we took the time to design and make some article just for them.

The do-it-yourself trend enables one to give better gifts and best of all keeps one's mind and hands busy with something constructive and worthwhile. In these days of stress and strain, the person that is interested in several types of crafts or hobbies can relax after a day of tension, and enjoy his family and friends. Learn to do as many crafts as you can afford or have time for, later on it may become a favorite.

Our craft work, except the advance tailoring, which was taught by Argen Draper, has been taught by women in the club. They had previously acquired these skills elsewhere, or were trained in leadership training meetings by qualified teachers of the subject.

Our next craft will be millinery. Two of our members have been trained and in the near future the members interested in doing the work will be helped. It is just another step in our efforts to plan a complete personalized wardrobe for milady.

The club cooperates with other clubs of this precinct who meet with the commissioners' court.

We follow the program of work made by the countywide yearbook committee and the demonstrations are given by the county agent, Mrs. Argen Draper, or trained demonstrators under her supervision.

Our club is financed by having a hostess gift at each business meeting.

Farm Sale Can Be Money Making Deal For Clubs

Although not a money making organization, the Cultural H. D. Club does have its money making projects. Such monies are used for community projects, contributions to worthwhile fund-raising campaigns such as Cancer, Polio, etc., and remembering the ill members with cards, small gifts or flowers. From its inception, the serving of farm sale lunches has been the main source of revenue. Advance planning and preparation, cooperation among members, quality food, and generous size servings at reasonable prices are the secrets of a successful farm sale lunch. When you get compliments on the quality of food served, and get repeated requests to serve lunch instead of your having to ask for the privilege, then you know the efforts expended heretofore were not in vain. From the trial and error methods in the beginning, a system that works well—at least for this group—has been developed. Formerly each member furnished both sandwiches and pie for these lunches. Now only home baked pies are furnished by the members. All materials for sandwich making, hot dog fixings and cold drinks are bought by the club. Only three now—sliced boiled ham, chicken salad and pimento cheese. The chicken salad and cheese spread are made by members of the club. The "sandwich building" crew keep the serving crew supplied with freshly made and wrapped sandwiches during the serving period. When possible one woman performs only one job on the serving line. Otherwise the speed of the chow line is slowed. Too many kinds of foods to choose from also impede the progress.

Recently a new item was featured that proved to be highly successful. Two members brought raised yeast dough and during the afternoon, freshly cooked doughnuts and coffee moved very fast. Who can resist the aroma of cooking doughnuts anyway? This undertaking would be too much along with the lunch we serve as available working space is usually at a premium, and lunch time from the sale activities is also limited. But during the afternoon the crowd wanders in and out, eating and drinking all afternoon.

Try to get an estimate on the crowd expected and plan food supplies etc., accordingly. The person holding the sale expects you to serve the crowd and keep the potential buyers there. Whether they be early or late arrivals, they usually want food immediately. If people have to drive back to town for eats, then they seldom come back to the sale.

The last farm sale lunch served by Cultural Club was in January this year when a net profit of slightly over $100 was realized.

ALL IN A DOG'S DAY
INVERNESS, Fla. (AP)—Leonard Swett is sorry he took his dog along on a hunting trip. When the dog jumped from the car he knocked a pistol to the ground and discharged it. Swett suffered a leg wound. However, the dog helped Swett's son, Bobby, bring in a seven-point buck deer.

Ochiltree County Clubs Work Hard On 4-H Program

Ochiltree County Home Demonstration Clubs have been working on several of the recommendations, but the one we feel we have gained the most in is the Girls 4-H program.

The progress in the county since last year has been good. There were three 4-H Clubs last year with 31 enrolled, and now we have five 4-H Clubs with a membership of 70. We are contacting rural girls of 4-H age. We also encourage the girls to keep accurate records of activities.

The 4-H girls are in general studying sewing at this time. Patterns, markings of patterns, materials and plain sewing are being stressed, especially for the beginners.

A number of the girls are studying the shrub identification. The Home Demonstration clubs are providing many of the leaders.
