Candidates for Commissioner Have Two Weeks in Which To File Names

Members of the City Commission set July 14 as date for the special election in which two new commissioners will be elected. This complies with the City Charter amendment which passed here Saturday by a vote of 107 to 10.

Candidates for the two new commissioner places must file their names prior to June 15, according to election laws reviewed at the meeting.

Court Discusses Nurses Home, And Bull Barn

The Commissioners Court gave Architect Bill Townes Jr., the green light to accept the new nurses home at Deaf Smith County Hospital and heard a delegation from the Lions Club concerning a county sales pavilion.

The nurses home, already inspected by members of the court, was endorsed as being "a good job" by Mr. Townes, who represented the architectural firm in Amarillo. The court ordered Mr. Townes to check with T. E. Seigler, hospital manager, and to proceed to officially accept the building.

Bull Barn Replacement

The Lions Club, represented by Dub Reeves, D. C. Kinsey, Bill Davis, and Jimmie Alford, appeared at the meeting in an effort to secure information as to "when and what" the county planned in the way of replacement of the Bull Barn. Court members pointed out that no definite steps can be taken until present property is disposed of according to law; they also reported that steps have been taken to sell both the bull barn and the lots, and indicated a probable 60 to 90 days before any definite steps are taken by the court.

General opinion of the court was replacement of the structure with a building "which would serve the entire county," including livestock and 4-H or FFA projects.

TELEPHONE TALK by W. L. Leavy, Manager

People Behind Your Telephone Service

I suppose you've heard the old saying that "people are known by the company they keep." Well, I'd like to switch it around and say that "a company is known by the people it keeps."

At the telephone company, you see, we're mighty proud of the fact that long service records are pretty common. Or should I say that we're proud of the many people who can boast of so many years of service with the company.

Right here in Hereford, for example, we have three telephone people with 25 or more years of service. They are Marie Sears, Ruby Daub and R. L. Ethridge. Leta Curtisinger, Loraine Morton and Virginia Curtisinger all have ten years or more with the telephone company.

On the five-year list are Opal Elliston, Lurline Cawthon, Bobby Lee Riddle, Virginia Wallace, Bernice Johnson, Alma Wallace, Lora Twines, Billye Smith, Ella Kropff, Mozell Phipps, Virginia Thomas, Lexie Ford, Rosemary Thomas, Ray Bosley.

COLOR EXTENSION TELEPHONES

Certainly it's not news that extension telephones save you time and steps, make life easier and more convenient for you.

But the news from the telephone company nowadays is that you can order extension telephones in eight bright colors. That means you can now have the added convenience of extension service with a handsome color telephone to blend or contrast with the color scheme of any room in your house.

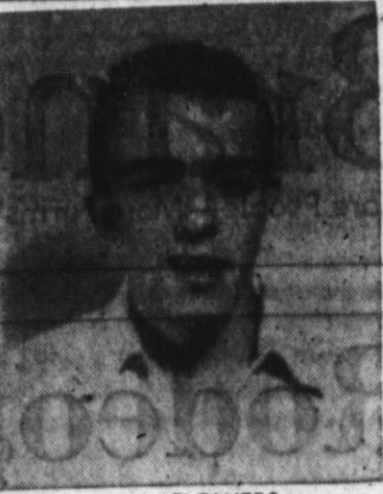

Or maybe you'd want a color extension to smarten up your office or your place of business.

The eight colors they come in are blue, yellow, red, ivory, beige, green, brown, and grey.

To put more color into your home, just call us and order a new color extension telephone. Or if it's convenient, come down to the business office, look them over, and pick out the color which suits you best.

The cost is $10.00 for the color set and installation. The monthly rate for home extension service is $1.00.

Call by number. It's twice as fast. SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Hail...

Irrigated Wheat Lost Max Dreyer who farms at Westway Corners reported a loss of between 90 and 100 percent on his irrigated wheat. The hail broke windows in the barn and cracked the windshield on a car parked outside. Stones were reported to be as large as golf balls.

He also had in 200 acres of milo which was pounded to the ground. Herbert Bippus reported 30-40 percent damage on his irrigated wheat and Bill Kendall, who has onions on Bippus' land also had extensive damage to his crop. Clarence Morrison's wheat was damaged.

Storm Wasted Three Hours L. B. Rickman said the hail, which came and went over about a three hour period seemed to cover a strip about two miles wide. Within that area it pounded 40 acres of his potatoes, leaving only stubs of plants sticking up, did between 40 and 90 percent damage to his irrigated wheat, and left his alfalfa, which was nearly ready to cut, about "half shot."

The wind was strong enough to turn a car body completely around at the Rickman place. Damage was also reported on O. B. Southern's crop. B. F. Cain had some damage on his wheat, onion and alfalfa.

At Bootleg There was hail also at Bootleg corner, but residents of the area said it had little effect on them since their dry land wheat was already gone. Chester Wiggins at Summerfield reported a little hail but not enough to damage his crop. He had 1.5 inches of rain.

Reports from over the county indicate that the rain was certainly spotted.

1.45 Inches in Town Jim Wiman of the Soil Conservation Service reported that their official gauge in town at Gifford Hill Western recorded 1.45 inches of rainfall. Charles R. Hoover near Walcott reported .3 inch. Carl Wimberley at Dawn recorded 3 inches and Frank Witkowski, 20 miles northwest recorded two inches. Phillip Miller also had 2.5 inches and Clay Angelo recorded 1.1 inches in the gauge at the Fire Department. Eskimo Ranch reported 3.6 inches and Homer Brumley had better than an inch eight miles east of town.

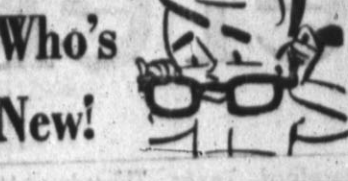

Checked Rain Apparently throughout the county the rain checked the land. For example R. L. Oceanougher on his home place eight miles east of Hereford reported 3.5 inches of rain, but his Castro County place had only a half inch of moisture.

Charlie Hale reported two and a half inches on his farm six miles east of Walcott which brings the total up to six inches on that particular area during the last week. However, on his place right at Walcott, he received only a half inch of moisture last night, and it has had only two and a half inches during the week.

Mrs. N. A. Brown, 29 miles west reported a half inch of moisture but said that one mile west of there, there was not enough rain to gauge. At Bootleg corner they recorded 1.8 along with the hail and Floyd Brown, 27 miles west on Harrison reported 1.3 inches as did the Richard Boys, 40 miles northwest.

W. H. Vieck, near Progressive, recorded an inch there, and said they had had no reports of hail in that vicinity.

Palmetto Polo Saturday morning a Palmetto Polo Game will be featured at the Riding Club arena between members of the Hereford team and members of the Albuquerque team. There is no admission and game time is 10 a.m.

Rodeo performances will start at 8:15 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and there will be a matinee performance at 2:30 Sunday. Admission is 50 cents for children, $1.50 for general admission and $2 for reserved seats.

On Booster Trips All Pioneer and Western Wee activities were preceded by enthusiastic booster trips to neighboring towns. Participating in the first two trips were Messrs. and Mesdames Leo Forrest, Ralph Sears, Mal Stewart, Emmett Milburn, Bill Davis Jr., Walter Johnson, Don Houle, Lloyd Sharp, Bartley Dowell, Don Little, Jake King, Loyd Lovel, Clyde Caves and L. A. Smith.

Also Guy Lawrence, Lowell Sharp, Bill Lenderman, Jesse Davis, Loretta Payne, Joan Mayfield, Gay Martin, Bill Hardwick, Hap Cavness, Mrs. Wylie Roberson, Meredith Ireland, Nell Spradley, Freda Beauchamp, Earlene Walton, Pat Walton, Mutt Wheeler and about 35 children.

What's This

By Chris

Hello again readers and this time for the last time. This is a day of farewells and I wanted to bid adieu to you today also.

The time that I have spent writing for you has been very enjoyable and it will be like losing a dear friend, but all things must end and I must leave these things to the eager youngsters who will be taking my place now.

I would be happy to know that you enjoyed reading my column just half as much as I enjoyed writing it.

I overheard Morris Hacker saying that he would be a free man only till Monday. I hope he and Gwen will be very happy and the same to Bob and Donna.

It was a sadder faced group of white clad graduates who made their way down the aisle last Sunday night. Some were long faced because they were so scared they couldn't move their facial muscles; others like Jonnie Malone were saw part of the time and jocular the other part. Leave it to Ronnie to cheer everyone up! If he hadn't stepped on his nose going up the steps to the stage and unthreatened to fall on his face, I'm afraid there wouldn't have been a grin all night!

Then there was the girl who came down the aisle as if she saw a wooden leg, but that wasn't it at all. The "shameful" fact is her mother was noising her heel which chose to come out at a very inopportune time.

Louie runs thinks Carl's car is the most... especially at school... (gravel, you know?) Mr. Stanton can walk more like a teen age boy than teen age boy can... right? That was the jazz!

So with this last word, I will be leaving. Thank you so much for your support and suggestions. May you always have the best.

Seventh and Eighth Graders Have Skating Party, Dinner in Amarillo

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS
The seventh and eighth grade girls and boys left school about 5 p.m. Monday, for the Roller Rink in Amarillo. Their teacher, Thomas L. Collins, drove a bus to Hereford, accompanied by A. L. Shelton. Here the group transferred to Walcott's High School bus, with its driver and his wife going in and Mrs. S. O. Perkins.

school with the regular riders. During the day they attended classes, along with other students. Each turned in their pre-registration of subjects they plan to take next fall. These blanks with the requirements for entrance to and graduation from, Hereford High School were left with Mr. Collins, by Mr. Overall and Fred Cunningham on their visit to Walcott School last week.

Practice Baseball
A group of young students, boys of the community, had some good baseball practice on the school diamond - after school Wednesday. They worked-out about two hours. Could it be they expect to win the game next time they play a game with their Dads?

Thank God we here at Walcott got some fine rain Wednesday night. The welcome moisture started falling about 8 o'clock, a heavy fall, for nearly an hour. Then slower, steady rain-was still falling at midnight.

Water stood everywhere. How much? The new rain gauge didn't register here in the house - for some reason. However we estimate at least two inches.

Charles Hoover's gauge shows between 2.3 to 2.5 inches of rain. His home is just north of the school.

PICNIC
Walcott School's closing picnic is planned for Friday, June 1, to be held in Palo Duro Park - unless rain prevents. Bring a basket picnic lunch and come-everyone in the community. Jimmy Northcutt came home on Monday from Tech in Lubbock. He is leaving Friday for Wyoming and Idaho to do forestry work. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Northcutt.

A&P Packing Shed Opens Monday

The A&P packing shed opened Monday morning with one shift reporting for work, according to an announcement made through the Chamber of Commerce today. The shed was packaging potatoes this week, reports said, as part of the four-state area handled through the local point, and will likely swing into other products as the seasons advance. When the package plant closed last December, approximately 300 persons were carried on the payroll comprising three shifts, each day in packaging of crops.

Carl Swanson, manager last year, returned to Hereford around May 15, and has since that time been busy preparing to open the plant.

Products packaged through the Hereford plant are for exclusive use by A&P retail stores. Products handled through the sheds are generally produced in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, varying with the seasons.

Ground Observers Get Tornado Alert

Hereford's Ground Observer Corp manned their posts Monday and Tuesday afternoons after receiving their first tornado alert warnings. However, no storms were reported from this vicinity.

Tuesday afternoon the call came about 4 p.m. from Oklahoma City warning local observers that storms might occur between 5 p.m. and midnight. Storm area was reported to originate in New Mexico and travel in a northeasterly direction, taking in Dimmitt, Hereford, Canyon, Berger and Perryton in the Panhandle.

The call came from Oklahoma City at 1:10 p.m. Monday according to Clay Angelo, who heads the local post. By 2 p.m. observers were on duty and manned the posts until 9:45 p.m. when they signed off after storm dangers had passed.

On duty during the alert were Douglas Womble, George Davis, Larry Edwards, Jan Wallace, Bessie Saulcy, Mable Vaughn and Angelo. The United States Weather Bureau had reported danger of the storms in the area between Hobbs and Dodge City, Monday, which left Hereford on the northern fringe of the storm area.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ackerman of Washington D. C. visited with Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Widdfield and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Scott Tuesday.

PAIR IS INSTALLED AS CO-FAVORITES

Seed And Drever Tie For Medalist

Charles Seed and Max Drever, both of the Hereford Country Club, tied for the medalist honors in the qualifying rounds of the annual Club Championship Golf Tournament held here Saturday and Sunday.

Seed and Drever both shot 72's to tie for the honor. Seed hung up a pair of par 36's, and Drever knocked up a 35 on the first nine but fell to a 37 on the last go-round.

The pair were given the co-favorite role in the tournament. Seed is the present city champion. Seed knocked out Max Drever in the semi-finals before taking out Jeff Minton for the championship in the city tournament.

The qualifying deadline was extended to Tuesday before tourney play began Wednesday, Memorial Day. Defending champion Bob Lindsey didn't have to qualify but was eligible to compete for medalist honors. Lindsey had not qualified on Monday and it was not known whether he would or not.

John Renner gave the field a run for the money by firing a 73, only one stroke back of Seed and Drever. Renner's score was the next lowest. Other low scores were Jeff Minton's 74, a 75 by D. B. Robertson and J. A. Pitman's 76.

Meredith Ireland took medalist honors in the women's division with an 88. Defending champion Helen Ann McWhorter didn't qualify. Juanita Sims' 91 and Rowena Rosey's 96 were next low.

The tourney is a 36-hole medal play affair. The golfers shot 18 holes Memorial Day and will shoot the last 18 today.

Dr. and Mrs. Norman Roberts of Columbus visited in the M. T. Rutter home recently. Dr. Roberts was pastor of their church in 1941, when the Rutters lived in Weatherford.

Murdock To Grapple Here Saturday Night

Colorful Frankie Hill Murdock, the bearded grappler from Waxahachie will return to the local wrestling scene here on Saturday night.

The sleeper artist, who sometimes forgets to waken his victims, will tangle with another newcomer, Buck Lispton. The match will be for the best two of three falls or one hour time limit. Murdock is a past holder of the Southwest States Junior Heavyweight Championship.

Art Nelson and Jesse James will clash in the other event which will also be for the best two of three falls or one hour time limit. Nelson, rugged Canadian is a member of the famous Rip Rogers-Art Nelson tag team champions. James has wrestled here before as a big favorite.

Hereford Polo Team To Tackle Albuquerque

The Hereford Rider's Club's top notch palmetto polo team will engage a palmetto delegation from Albuquerque, N. M., here at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The Hereford Riders were one of the first in this area to organize a palmetto polo team. Since then they have rolled up a fine record, finishing second only to Dalhart last year.

The Hereford crew is coached by Faust Collier. Other outstanding players are Harold Beauchamp and Floyd Walton.

KNOX'S KNOTHINGS

By BILL KNOX

Work on the new Little League Baseball Park is progressing steadily, and when it has reached its completion it will be one of the better recreational spots in this area.

In our estimation, Little League officials and the Jaycees, who are doing all the work, are to be commended. When completed, the park will be a fine asset for the small city of Hereford besides providing rich entertainment for many baseball fans and warm competition and sportsmanship for many youngsters.

The field is now beginning to look like a baseball park. The fence has been put up, the basepaths in the infield have been sandd' down, the light towers will be put up shortly if they already aren't, and the grand stands are all but ready.

The only thing which may need more time is the grass. It has not really achieved sufficient growth to withstand all that it will go through this year, but it is long enough so that in a short while it will be just right. The infield, in fact, may not need much more growth, but the outfield needs plenty. But outfield grass is not needed very bad and it should be out good by mid-season anyway.

Right now it is hard to tell just who will come up with the best team. All four promise to come up with an above-average team, however. It should all make for some ripe competition.

But of the many fine players out, Joe Smith seems to have a nice collection of them on the Yankees. Holding true to Yankee culture, they will probably be pre-season choice. The Bombers have been working out at Veteran's Park almost since the teams were organized.

Smith has come up with a classy infield, some powerful hitters, and some fine pitchers. No immediate weakness is visible, and he might even uphold the Yankee tradition by having one of the strongest benches in the league.

But we mustn't overlook the other teams. Blue Turpin's young Giants will be hard to derail. Blue's infield is fine. He has some good hitters and pitchers. He may also have the inside track for future years—his club is young.

The Dodgers, managed by Larry Summers, will cause the other teams plenty of static. Their pitching is strong as is their hitting. His infield is a question mark.

Don Morgan's Cardinals are not to be overlooked. His infield will rank high with the other three teams, his pitching is not bad, and his hitting is pretty good.

PARK SHOULD BE FINISHED BY THEN

Little League Opening Set Back Until June 11

Date for the formal Little League opening was postponed until June 11 at a Little League meeting here Monday night. The postponement was due to the fact that the Little League park was not completed by the anticipated date.

Opening was originally scheduled for June 4.

Officials said the extra week should give workers plenty of time to complete the park. Work had been delayed by the failure of equipment which was ordered to arrive. The Hereford Jaycees are in charge of the labor for the park.

League president Ray Cowsert said that "we want to get this thing started as quickly as possible but we feel like we should wait until the park is completely finished to open the season."

All four major and minor league teams have been holding workouts on the site of the new city park at the end of I Street. Uniforms will be issued in the High School gymnasium Wednesday, on June 6.

Cowsert pointed out that this doesn't necessarily distinguish the major leaguers from the minor leaguers. "Managers may switch from the major leagues to the minor leagues until the roster deadline which is June 25," Cowsert said.

The managers and officials also discussed the pitcher eligibility rule. During the first five games that a team plays in the season, a manager may use any of the boys on his roster as pitchers. Beginning with the sixth game that a team plays in the season, the first five boys used as pitchers thereafter are that team's registered pitchers for the balance of the season.

No other pitchers may be used except in the event of a pitcher's being lost permanently because of illness, injury, or moving away. The player who replaces the lost pitcher must be selected from the original roster and cannot have an older league age.

A team can have no more than two pitchers whose league age is 12 and not less than one whose league age is 10 or younger.

A pitcher cannot pitch more than six full innings (18 outs) between Monday morning and Sunday night. The games are not excepted.

The period Monday morning to Sunday night is a definite period, not an example. This rule does not prohibit pitching more than 18 outs in any seven day period. It only prohibits pitching more than 18 outs between Monday morning and Sunday night. A pitcher cannot pitch in more than one game in any one day or pitch in two games in two days.

A pitcher, having pitched in four or more innings in a game, and still has not pitched 18 outs, will be ineligible for further pitching duty until he has had three calendar days rest.

The directors also planned a parade and opening ceremony for the first game, which will pit Don Morgan's Cardinals and Joe Smith's Yankees. A parade composed of all Little League players in their uniforms will start in town and go to the ball park and each boy will be introduced before the game starts.

Mrs. C. T. Ward and small son of Levelland spent several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Rutter recently. Mrs. Ward is Mrs. Rutter's sister.

POURING CONCRETE—Jimmie Bounds pours concrete around a post down the left field line. The fence will be of pine framework and chain link fence. The outfield fence will be metal. (Staff Photo)

Rain, Too Late To Salvage Wheat, Still Gives Boost to Grain Sorghums

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT

Many of the farmers have lost part of their long dry faces since late Wednesday afternoon. Now, they are smiles and wishes.

The rain was fine but was too late for wheat crops, but with more there could be a maize crop. Bootleg corner had .80. Five miles west, Dan Guseman had little better than one inch.

Charles Hoover had two and one half; four miles east, two inches. In our south field, there wasn't enough to wet the lister beds; on the south side was dry dirt. There are clouds and it's a hot morning, so we're hoping we will get a lot more before it decides to stop.

Little Black Cloud
Before the rain started there was a real black cloud in the west, didn't look good and when it hit it was a bad dust storm, lots of wind. But didn't tear up anything here.

By the time it reached Johnson Brothers ranch, the wind was much stronger and broke a lot of tree limbs. They received a good rain. Mrs. Porter Johnson reported.

Mrs. Bobbie Northcutt visited Mrs. S. N. Thweatt Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown made a business trip to Oklahoma City.

Mrs. C. W. King of Rosedale and daughter, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown Wednesday.

OLDER BOX ELDER—The early history of these four trees east of the present home of J. C. Cates on the Farm to Market road east of town is uncertain but for many years they have added beauty to the roadside and furnished a playground for the children living nearby until the advent of television offered indoor entertainment enhanced by air-conditioning. All Pioneers Aren't Necessarily People

By ROBERTA CAMPBELL
 All of the pioneers in the area will not gather on the Court House lawn this weekend to recount stories of the past.

Some will be standing at the former homesites of the visitors or maybe along the fence rows, with green branches smiling over memories of early life in Deaf Smith County.

There is hardly a person who does not have tender recollections of trees that offered shade from the summer sun, or a place to play or luscious fruit (who said a green apple isn't luscious to a child with no concern for consequences). Especially when he was a youngster on the prairie, with only an occasional tree, that the Creator seemed to have added as an after-thought.

First Landscaping
 Probably the first landscaping done in the area was along Tierra Blanca Creek when the cowboys working cattle on neighboring ranches along the Palo Duro brought back cotton wood limbs. They stuck these into the ground around the springs which once were running all along the creek bed before irrigation stopped the flow of water.

These trees added a great deal to such places as the Brady's, Tom Ivy's and Sulphur Park which G. R. Jowell used as headquarters for his famous Whiteface herd and Judge L. Gough introduced to the public as a recreation ground that remained popular for fishing until it changed hands again and was closed to the public.

Hackberry and Saddlebags
 Hackberry, which are not common to the area, likely came to the county via saddle bag as did the others mentioned, but they grow so slowly that they were not set in any great numbers.

Corinne Jowell Neeley, recalls however, that they showed hackberries from a tree or two that used to grow along the creek east of town.

Her earliest recollection of early day orchards, the pioneer's pride, was the nice one on the north side of the house at the old K.C. P. Arthur place in the north part of town.

The one she recalls with a great deal of pleasure was at her grandfather's, J. C. Cox, where she and her brothers and sisters always went for an Easter Egg hunt.

Arbor Day Program
 Mrs. Neeley remembers an Arbor Day program when the whole school set trees in what is now the Jaycee Park but she does not know if any of the trees survive.

This apparently was Hereford's first attempt to establish a park on the creek south of Hereford.

Trees were also set where Veteran's Park now is but rabbits met for a bark chewing picnic and ended the project according to reports.

Many of the early settlers set out fruit trees at their homes and enjoyed the fruits thereof in the years that spring came early to the Panhandle. As the old orchards died out the enthusiasm of the next generation also became less and less, so fruit trees were not so much in evidence in the locality.

Fruit Promoter
 However, Burl Elliston, a sort of "Johnny Peach Seed" to the area has continued to talk up the idea of Hereford as a fruit growing region and had encouraged others by passing along peach trees from his and his parents, the late A. H. Elliston's home orchards to many people in the county.

Burl's favorite story is about the tree which he gave to Jimmie Gilentine and then (he insists) had to set out after giving it to him.

Bois D'Arc
 A bois d'arc hedge now serving as a windbreak along the fence row where Mrs. A. R. Hughes has lived since the early 1900's was a part of the Pierce's family's transfer from Ellis County.

Mrs. A. C. Pierce recalls that her father-in-law built a house here like the one he had left behind, which was quite modern at the time, and set out the hedge and yard.

Several years later when Mrs. Hughes moved to the place with her parents, the C. F. Gallaghers she remembers that her father trimmed up the hedge underneath and as the neighborhood settled up it became a rendezvous for all the children.

Long Time Ago
 Her son Clay, Cawthorn and Noel Bryant, Jack Wederbrook, and Howard and Wilson Forrester first made it popular with the youngsters when they gathered with the shell from an old oil stove and a pan of potatoes. A fire was built under the stove and the pan for frying the spuds set over the burner.

Jack France, Carl and Virginia Moseley and the younger Wederbrook children later became a part of the crowd that picnicked under the hedge on fried potatoes principally.

The old row of trees escaped by their bark when the farm to market road was paved east of town and a fence hampers their accessibility but Mrs. Hughes' grandchildren still enjoy them and have

WRAPPED IN A COOK APRON—This old river elm arrived in Deaf Smith county before it would make a good switch. It was strapped to a suitcase, belonging to H. D. Beardman's father, who brought it along wrapped in his wife's cook apron, from the Solomon River in central Kansas. Glenn Boardman recalls that there were several of the little trees tied together which were set out at his father's farm home east of Hereford. This one is still to be seen on the fence row north of the house. It has taken a new lease on life since an irrigation ditch has been put along the west side of the field where it grows. (Staff Photo)

Halloween Days
 However, their grandmother recalls that the most fun anybody ever had with the fruit was on Halloween a long time ago when she and Miss Anna Miller were decorating for a church party. They had arranged a corn shock in the corner and set a pan of it in flour, rolled in flour, near the shock.

Young celebrants, thinking the

A RENDEZVOUS—Bois d'arc, a species of tree which outlasts any other variety as a fence post and upsets the temper of any one trying to drive a staple into it, form this hedge along the fence row at the home of Mrs. Edith Hughes southeast of town. Almost a half a century ago it first became a gathering place for children in the neighborhood who came to picnic. The hedge was set by Pierce, who improved the land about 1901. (Staff Photo)

 Monday morning the club women from Precinct 2 went to the Commissioners Court to make a report on the last quarter's work of the club. One of the best parts of the program was the discussion of the dress making course which was given last summer. Janice Turrentine modeled the Easter suit her mother, Mrs. George Turrentine, made.

She was really dressed up with white sailor hat, white sandals, and a corsage. When asked her opinion of the dress making course, she said, "Oh! I think it's wonderful!" Mrs. Turrentine had made Patti, the youngest, accompany the others to the court meeting.

At council we had three girls to visit: Barbara Brown, Jan Hodges and Kerry Hall.

The new leaflet on "Guide for Controlling Insects on Vegetable Crops in Texas" does not contain the formula for poison bait. This is the formula so I would suggest your cutting this out and keeping it handy. This is for the control of cut worms and slugs: ¼ pound Paris Green, 5 pounds wheat bran, three or four quarts water.

Mix thoroughly the poison and dry bran. Then moisten the mixture with water until each flake of bran has been wetted. Prepare this bait in the morning and apply it late in the day so that it will be moist and attractive when the cut worms begin to feed in the evening. Scatter the bait lightly and evenly on the soil surface of the garden or around the bases of plants that have been set out.

This same poison is used for mole cricket bait.

Mrs. T. J. Parsons bought the last package of light bulbs. Don has made some very attractive wood inlay table lamps and needed the bulbs for it. The 4-H girls still have a few bulbs left and will decide soon just how they will handle these.

We have just heard that the Pat Sullivan's baby has arrived. They named her Susan Cathleen.

CHDA Suggests Consumers Consider More Than Price

WHEN IT COMES TO EGGS
 Merchandising methods for most food products have undergone radical changes within the past few years, but in the case of eggs, not many new approaches have been used to inform consumers about egg values at the retail level, according to Mrs. Argen Draper, CHDA.

Price Per Dozen?
 Price on a dozen basis has been the big sales appeal in selling eggs for many years, she points out, but inquires why not tell the consumer about the food value in a dozen of eggs which weigh one and a half pounds? Are consumers entirely familiar with the fact that eggs are one of the basic seven foods needed for maintaining good health? Are consumers familiar with grades and quality factors.

Advertising should supplement educational work by pointing out such facts that quality and size of eggs are not related, she says. Small or medium eggs can be A or AA quality.

"Quality is based on factors such as condition of yolk, and albumen along with the cleanliness, soundness and color of shell. The air cell in the egg may also be described as an indicator in determining egg quality. Eye appeal with respect to display and the eggs themselves may also be an aid in selling more eggs," says Mrs. Draper.

Quality and Grade
 The specialist also points out that a lack of confidence in the quality and grade of eggs purchased in many instances is the reason consumers buy eggs from sources other than retail outlets. Misleading labeling is cited as a major cause for this lack of confidence.

Weight is considered in grading eggs and is a definite factor in determining their value but quality cannot be determined by sight. Interior quality can be measured only by seeing the egg before a candling light and all eggs stamped with the official U. S. Standards for shell eggs have been candled for quality and sorted for size by a qualified egg grader.

Producers, retailers and consumers could all profit, believes Mrs. Draper by giving more consideration to the value of the food contained in a pound and a half or two pounds of eggs. They are a top buy, she emphasizes.

Three Delegates To Attend Camp Don Harrington

Pat Dawson, Merry Kay Paul and Martha Logan are the three 4-H girls who will represent the county at Camp Don Harrington for the three-day camp the first week in June.

The girls, accompanied by Mrs. L. W. Tooley, adult leader for the Argen Draper 4-H Club at Dawn, and Mrs. Dorothea Prowell, assistant H. D. Agent, will leave Monday morning and will attend workshops on gardening, first aid and safety, and recreation.

There will also be a short course on Electrical appliances and wiring.

Pat and Martha are from the Happy Homes 4-H Club and Merry Kay is a member of the Wickett 4-H Club. Selection is made on the basis of the score received on the record books.

The Reporting Was Biased When Texas Capitol Burned

By Ed Overholser

On Nov. 13, 1881, the second state capitol, built in 1853 on the site of the present capitol, was destroyed by fire. The Texas Siftings, a weekly humor magazine, reported the fire in an amusing style at present day newspaper readers might find a bit strange.

"The architectural monstrosity at last so long disfigured the town of the heaven - kissed hill the head of Congress Avenue, Austin, is no more," the account said. "The venerable edifice that bore such a startling resemblance to a large sized corn-b, with a pumpkin for a dome, and whose halls have so often resounded with legislative eloquence, reminding the distant hearer of a g barking up a hollow log, is no more."

"It took fire Wednesday at noon, and in two hours nothing was left but the bare walls. The old building, however, was filled with any historical reminiscences and thousands of bats, all of which perished in the flame."

On the Spot

"We were on the spot... pretty soon a tongue of red flame protruded through the window and felt around for something to lick, very much like that of a hungry boy who has been feeding on corn bread and molasses, and is anxious to get in the returns from all the outside precincts. It was a thrilling scene," said the magazine.

The Efforts of One

"Heroic efforts were made to preserve the public property. We noticed in particular one colored man, who... rushed into the burning building and rescued a large office desk."

He had the whole Western Hemisphere to choose, as a place to deposit that desk, but the only place that seemed to suit him, or that would answer his purpose, was a precipice or embankment, 20 feet high, on the west side of the capitol. He... hurled it down... where it lay on its broken back, mangled beyond recognition.

"Once more the heroic colored man disappeared into the doomed edifice, and, returning with an armful of public documents, he cast them over the brow of the embankment."

The brisk norther took charge of them, and the atmosphere was filled with foreign treaties of the Republic of Texas, and ancient archives, yellow with age, and bearing the proud signatures of Hispania's royal potentate.

As for Treasury

"When the alarm was given, it was supposed by a great many that the treasury, containing the million and a half cash balance, was in danger. The anxiety on the part of all classes to assist in removing the silver to a place of safety, was touching..." said Texas Siftings.

"Instead of the hideous old hen coop we have now a picturesque ruin, with columns that remind the traveler of the Parthenon and classic Greece and Italy."

An article in The Texas Capital, Nov. 13, 1881, states that the fire was caused... "through the carelessness of a department clerk, and the ignorance of a mechanic who ran a stovepipe against the paper and plank sides of a room full of books, instead of into a flue, as he supposed he was doing."

There are about 20,000 units in a dragonfly's compound eye.

which looked like an enlarged broom handle, he grasped in his hand.

The other staff, that accompanied him, was the staff that wanted him to attend the Yorktown centennial, and to take it, the staff along so as to lend tone and dignity to the occasion.

By Jimmie Gillentine

These days you hear a lot of talk about soil banks. Like President Eisenhower and Secretary Ezra T. Benson, I don't know a lot about how the thing will work out across the county, but it should do pretty good out here on the Plains. During March and April, when the dirt starts blowing, the thing we need most around here is a place to store it — and the soil bank could be just what we have been looking for.

During the past three months, for instance, there has been enough Colorado soil passing through here to open up a Cripple Creek of our very own. Instead of going to Colorado for summer vacations, folks could merely walk over to the soil bank, draw out a few acres and have an enjoyable time. The nice thing about this soil bank is that it differs from money. Instead of being hard to get, any and everybody has more Colorado and New Mexico soil than they want. Fact is, they will be glad to turn it over to the soil bank without interest — if the bankers will just go to the trouble of collecting it from their floors and carpets.

The only trouble with the whole plan is that of Saturday afternoons and holidays. What are folks going to do when a duster blows in on one of these occasions? Knowing bankers like I do, I would say that it would be unreasonable to expect them to work on Saturday afternoons and holidays. And, for sure, these dusters have no respect for banking hours. I guess this is one of the things Mr. Eisenhower and Ezra must have overlooked.

ABOUT THE RAIN. It was a dandy. It sure was. Uncle Andy Thomas was circulating around the courthouse Monday afternoon — and claims that he predicted the thing several days back. Frank Beizer reminded Uncle Andy that it was easier to say this after the rain than before, but Mr. Thomas says just ask any of his friends and neighbors. I sympathize with Uncle Andy, maybe because I know from experience just what he is going through. I tried this weather predicting business for a long time, but finally got smart and quit. When you are right, folks won't give you credit for your predictions — not even Frank.

Those who are working nearest and hardest on the Little League program report that the JayCees are the unsung heroes of the deal. These boys have been out hauling materials, pouring concrete, spreading sand and even trying their hand at welding. What's more, they have done a wonderful job. Ray Cowser, president, says we can never repay them for their unselfish community service on this project.

The Little League park, incidentally, is something of which the whole community can well be proud. Already, it looks like a picture out of a special New York promotion — and it is scheduled to look even better when completed. The park would be an asset to the community even if it were never used as a ball field. Honest, it is neat, trim and so well appearing that it would make a wonderful attraction — just from the standpoint of sheer appearance. Next time you have a visitor, be sure to show them the L.L. grounds, located west of Shirley School. It is with a half piece of corn bread which Jim Lipscomb threw over my way and a plate of tossed salad.

Marlin Gilliland says: "Don't ever take your wife fishing for the first time; she'll beat you hands down." He and Mrs. Gilliland recently took a brief excursion to Possum Kingdom and, despite Marlin's many years of bragging, she consistently came in with two fish to his one each time they went out.

It took their son, John, to steal the show, however. At the concert at high school the other night it fell John's lot as M-C to thank all of the merchants who had furnished props. Things went along well until he came to the last item and said, "I also want to thank Gilliland Funeral Home for donating us the coffin."

Frank Barber is no little upset over the way we spell "Escabada," the former XIT ranch division of which our own C. R. Smith was foreman. There were no "R's" and no "X's" in the spelling, says Frank — and I am sure that he is right.

Meanwhile, our political candidates don't realize how lucky they are. In Ochiltree County all county candidates had to pay out $150 each to get on the Democratic ticket. Down in Gilmer, Texas, it cost them a flat 10 percent of one

DEAF SMITH COUNTY Cotton Classification Applications Must Be On File by August 1

Deaf Smith County cotton growers must file their application for cotton classification no later than August 1, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. This week they announced the procedure to be followed by cotton farmers in obtaining cotton classification and cotton market services in 1956.

Under the Smith - Doxey Act crops of producers organized to promote the improvement of cotton, which adopt a variety of cotton file application, arrange for ginning, and meet certain other requirements as to membership are eligible for these services.

It is necessary for cotton producers to prepare and submit their applications as soon as cotton has been planted and well in advance of the ginning season if they are to receive the maximum benefits from the services as members. Applications must be on file by August 1 in the following counties in Texas: Dimmitt, LaSalle, McMullen, Live Oak, Karnes, DeWitt, Jackson, Matagorda, and all counties lying south of those named. All other applications must be filed no later than Aug. 1, and must be filed with a classing office of the Cotton Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

Those not filing applications early may fall to obtain the classification of cotton ginned early in the season.

Samples submitted under this program must be cut from both sides of the bale by a bonded sampler or by an employee of a public warehouse or compress that issues negotiable warehouse receipts.

Instructions and application blanks may be obtained from the county agricultural agent, from State and County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices, or from Agricultural Marketing Service Cotton Division offices.

Whatever else may be said the irrigated wheat around Hereford promises to make an extra fine yield. On the McDonald farm, north of town, the wheat is looking good and though planted late, it promises a large yield. The stand is thick and the heads are showing good size.

Beginning Friday afternoon with a heavy rain three miles south of Hereford and extending east to west for 30 miles, several good showers and heavy down pours all around give the Hereford country a good season. The rains have been general all over the Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico to the Rocky mountains. The Canadian river is on a rampant and has torn out 24 bents of the bridge.

The Rock Island road has also been crippled.

Lake Park has become so popular that daylight hours are insufficient to accommodate the children and visitors. To make the playground available at night, arrangements have been made by the city commission to light the grounds. E. S. Ireland, mayor, announced Wednesday morning. Lighting equipment will be installed as soon as the special material arrives, said Mr. Ireland. Plans are incomplete, but from four to six lighting centers will be put up, distributed to include the different sets of apparatus which were widely placed in order to have a segregation of the younger and the older children.

Fire limits within the business district have been expanded by the city commission in an ordinance which is being published this week. The regulation controls the kind of buildings that may be erected within the defined limits, providing for fire-proof structures. The new zone covers the entire nine blocks between First and Fourth Streets and Miles and Schley Avenues. The west side of Miles Avenue is included up to the middle of the block on which the Hereford Wrecking Shop is located, as well as all the frontage on West Third Street, west from Miles to Lee.

Medical Journal Publishes Article By Local Doctor

The May issue of "The American Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology" includes an article written by Dr. William Lawrence of Hereford.

Title of the article is "Some Obstetric Factors in Rh Isoimmunization" and was written from case histories of some 750 Rh negative mothers who were patients in Minneapolis last year during Dr. Lawrence's residency there.

The article discusses the relation of different types of labors, miscarriages, Caesarian sections, and blood transfusions and their effect upon the Rh factor.

Dr. Lawrence has also been notified that the journal "Modern Medicine" has requested permission to publish an abstract of the article.

Seniors Are Entertained

Members of the 1956 graduating class of Hereford High School who are affiliated with the Baptist Church, were honored at a buffet supper-party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Kester immediately following the commencement exercises held in the high school auditorium Sunday evening.

Hosting the party with the Kesters were Rev. and Mrs. Howard Scott, Messrs and Mesdames Marlin Gilliland, Jimmie Allred, Gerald Wilson, J. B. Snead and Mesdames Geo. Suggs, Tandy Legg and Bill Hutson.

All appointments and decorations carried out the graduating theme featuring the class colors of red and white. The service table was laid in white damask centered with an upturned senior's cap filled with red rosebuds, the class flower. Smaller caps graduating in size extended from either side alternating with small rolled diplomas holding a single red rose. Approximately 26 seniors and their dates attended.

Time to Spray Bagworms Again

Bagworms, which consistently plague Hereford's trees are hatching out again, and authorities point out that the time to control them is while they are small.

County Home Demonstration Agent Argen Draper points out that chemical controls do no good if applied after the worms are grown. The worms hatch in the late spring or early summer and the larvae feed on the foliage of ornamental plants. The young worms spin a silken sack and attaches bits of leaves to it as it feeds. The bag is carried by the worm wherever it goes and the bag produced by a full grown worm may be from one and a half to two inches long.

The wingless female bagworm crawls from the bag and dies after depositing her eggs. The bags should be picked from infested plants and burned for the eggs for next season's worms go through the winter in the bags.

Mrs. Draper recommends the use of either chlordane or toxaphene as a 10 percent dust. For a spray, she says 40 percent chlordane emulsion concentrate or toxaphene, 60 percent emulsion, applied at the rate of one to two tablespoons per gallon of water will give good control if used while the worms are small. Lead arsenate used at the rate of one to two tablespoons per gallon of water also is a good spray.

were popcorn balls, began to slip the apples off the plate.

Another Recluse

One old recluse, which stands apart from other trees growing at the H. D. Boardman place east of town, has an interesting past, as revealed by Glenn Boardman.

This pretty tree is a river elm originally from the Solomon River in Central Kansas brought to the Panhandle by Boardman's grandfather, D. L. Boardman along with a number of others which were first heated out and later reset around the farm.

The old tree which nearly died out before irrigation water was finally routed past its trunk, arrived at the Boardman place as one of a number of little saplings wrapped, Glenn can still picture, in his grandmother's apron and strapped to the outside of the old folks' suitcase.

Early Parks

Horse and buggy days had a definite connection with our parks too as Alex Thompson recounts with a chuckle.

Alex's mother, Aunt Jennie Thompson, who died only last year, Mrs. J. T. Rutherford and Mrs. Ralph Barnett, members of a pioneer organization called the Mother's Club became civic minded and decided to set bushes to become a part of a park.

The site was the present Mother's Park named for the sponsors and the rig belonged to Mrs. Rutherford. As the women were about to stop at the location with a load of bushes to set out, the horse not exactly in accord with the idea, for some unknown reason gave a jump and threw both Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Barnett out of the buggy.

Alex says his mother was laid up several days as a result, because since she was older she didn't bounce as well as the other woman.

Catalpa Trees

Mrs. Phil Radovich still has trees in her yard which were set out years ago. The street was once lined with Catalpa trees, which gave rise to its name, and a sprout from one of the original Catalpa trees is still growing in her yard, and is, incidentally, in bloom at this time.

All that remains of the oldest tree on the place, however, is a darkened stump in the yard, which marks the spot where a fine pear tree once grew. It was given to Mrs. R. G. Sisk, by a former slave Negro, old Aunt-Bet Brooks, when Mrs. Sisk and her family moved here from Kentucky 50 years ago.

However, other pear trees, that are sprouts of the original, still grow and bear fruit.

Remember Black Locust?

Whenever trees in Hereford are mentioned many will think back to the time when Black Locust made the whole town beautiful and the atmosphere sweet in the spring with their blossoms.

Although the old-timers resent the intrusion of the Chinese Elm that they accuse of ruining our sidewalks and killing our grass, their grandchildren a half century from now will probably be assembling under the old veterans on the court house lawn to extoll the trees that gave much emphasis to a long past but also a happy childhood.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Old Timer Recalls Prairie Fires That Occurred in Last Thirty Years

Dear Editor: I just noticed in the Brand the story of the big fire in 1894 which brought to my memory a prairie fire in the fall of 1921. It was just a little fire compared with 1894, but I thought it was a big one. It was the first fire I had seen; it burned a strip about 20 miles long and several miles wide.

My brother and I came out of the house after the noon meal and noticed the smoke in the southwest. Our horses were in the corral so we hurried and saddled and by the time we got out of our yard the head smoke had passed our place.

We rode a few miles west to J. P. Collier's underwood pasture in the north part of Deaf Smith County where we met the fire. Fire fighters were already at work—the fighters followed the side fire so fast that only one of us could fight the fire; the other one followed along with the horses.

Along towards night, hundreds of people had come to help put out the fire. On the north side they came from Oldham County and on the south side quite a few from Hereford.

Along about night Carl Shirley and I went in his pickup to the George Sachie place to get a barrel of water. It was a little cool in shirt sleeves. I had left home with a sheepskin coat, but had left it in some one's car and never did find it so I put on a jumper that was in his car, as we were returning to the fire we met several of our neighbors on foot who decided there were plenty of fighters on hand and they needed to go home and do their chores.

On the way home I got off at the Lucion Owen Camp intending could see a slender forked tongue moving rapidly in the direction of his face.

"What did you do, C. R.?" Bob asked the next morning when he told the boys about it.

"Well," said C. R., "I knew if I moved that he would strike so I decided that the best thing to do would be to go back to sleep hoping that he would be gone when I woke up."

The six inches of water which fell during the storm had chased the snakes out of their holes and they had begun crawling toward high places. This particular fellow found C. R.'s bedroll and for further safety had crawled up onto his chest.

to walk three miles, but got lost and walked all night. It was too cold to stop and rest and I was almost too tired to go on, so when I did get home, a warm breakfast and a rest were sure welcome.

During harvest in 1926 a fire started in John Nicolman's wheat field 34 miles northwest of Hereford. It burned about 320 acres of wheat. That was making around 50 or 60 bushels per acre. The wheat stood around five to six feet high. It looked for a while like a granary with 30,000 bushels of wheat and perhaps their new home would all go up in smoke. That was a hot fire to fight, but all the buildings were saved.

If the wind had been from the west that day they would have lost a section and one-half instead of one-half a section so as bad as it was, it was lucky at that.

Later in the late twenties or the early thirties one night I woke at 2 a.m. and noticed the sky red from a prairie fire a way out west. My brother and I went to a neighbor and woke them. They thought it might be in New Mexico, but we all went till we met the fire out close to the Johnnie Kemp place southwest of Adrian.

We fought the side fires and finally the head fire burned out at some trails south of the Allen Bell place near Adrian.

I have seen pictures of Buffalo running ahead of a prairie fire. That night I saw a herd of cattle running ahead of the fire with the cows and calves bawling! At times the sky was pretty well lit up, then the smoke would get so dense we could only see the feet and legs and partly up on the animal's bodies. Then the fire would die down and get almost dark only to flare up again. It was awful to see and I don't like fires yet.

Yours truly, Olle T. Larson

Poppy Sale Nets Auxiliary $269

Poppy Day Saturday netted the local American Legion Auxiliary some $269, one third of which remains here for welfare cases according to Mrs. Grant Hanna, poppy day chairman.

This was more than was collected last year, and is about average for the past several years, she pointed out.

Those who conducted the sale included Mesdames Hazel Sparks, Carlos Vaughn, Homer Logan, Carl McCaslin, Ralph Smith, C. W. Parker, Alta Davis, Ray Watson, Grady Parson, F. S. Smith, Grant Hanna, also Martha and Jeannie Logan, Jerry Don McCaslin and Steve Sigman.

Seay Is Pastor Of Local Church

The Rev. Bernard F. Seay was named pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church this weekend when appointments were announced at the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference in Big Spring.

The Rev. S. M. Dunning was re-appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church but Rev. Seay will replace the Rev. Eugene Naugle who was transferred to Southland, a community between Slaton and Post.

The Seays are the parents of two children, and he is a graduate of McMurry College. The family is expected to arrive some time this weekend.

Rev. and Mrs. Naugle came to Hereford in 1951 and he first served as assistant minister at the First Methodist Church. In 1953 he became pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church. Both have been active in church and civic affairs since they have lived here. Their only daughter, Mrs. Richard Batson, makes her home in Springfield, Mo. The Naugles expect to move to Southland within a very short time.

Less than half the antarctic continent has been explored.

Chile has made Easter Island a national park.

A FAMILY AFFAIR—Dr. Don Schultz, and his wife Norma, who is also an M. D., study an X-ray at Methodist Hospital in Dallas. The couple will soon go to McLean where they will set up practice. Their move to McLean is a result of the combined efforts of the city of McLean, who built a clinic to induce a doctor to practice there, and the Texas Medical Association, who makes a study of where physicians are most needed in the state.

Let a Sleeping Snake Lie Still Said C. R. Smith

One night Bob Higgins and C.R. Smith, cowboys of the Escarba Division of the XIT Ranch, along with 15 or 20 other cowhands were camped near what is now Glen Rio, the "breaks" country of Deaf Smith County.

Soon after the boys "hit the bedrolls" a violent thunderstorm arose. Rain poured down in torrents, but the figures in the bedrolls had camped on high ground and paid little heed to the six inches of water running through their bedroom.

The storm passed, and, except for an occasional cloud which blacked out the moon, the night was bright.

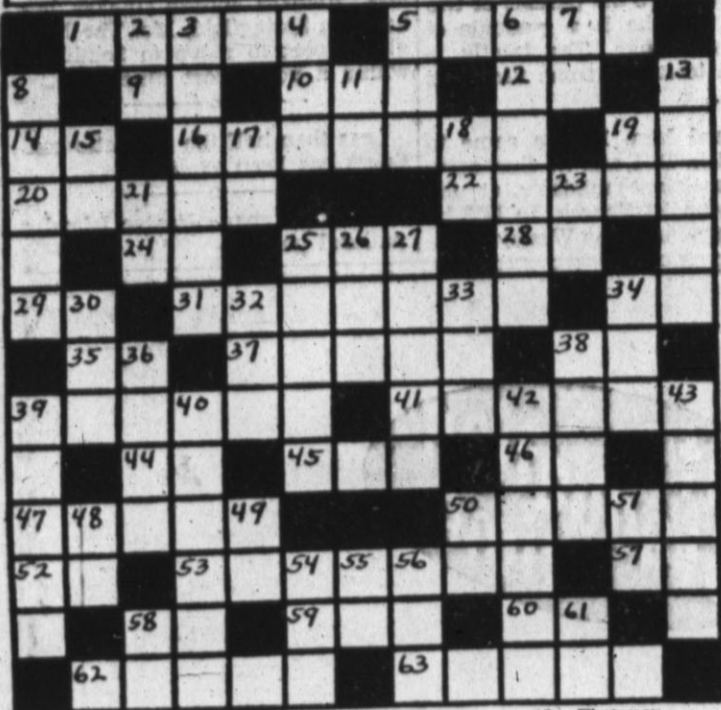

PLACES DOCTORS—Dr. Millard O. Rouse, of Dallas, president of the Texas Medical Association, who aids young physicians in the selection of communities in Texas where they can establish their practice.

C. R. was doing very well sleeping out the storm when suddenly he awoke and sensed that the warning "rattle" so familiar to the cowboy on the prairie, was unusually close—in fact, there was a peculiar heaviness and writhing movement on his chest. He cautiously opened his eyes, and by the light of the moon, he

Door Always Open At The Higgins Home

Mrs. Bob Higgins considered herself a "mother" to all the cowboys in the area.
As soon as the railroad came through Hereford, there were many herds being brought up from the south during the spring and fall that these herds would have to take turns getting loaded on cars. As a result there were many cowboys in and around Hereford.

The boys would come to her door and ask, "Mrs. Higgins, can we get something to eat?"
And they always could. It didn't make any difference what time of day or night the boys came. Some times they were tired and wanted a place to sleep.
Mr. Higgins never knew who might come along next. There used to be some Navajo Indians who came through the country close to her home. They would pitch their tepees close to the ranch house and were always fond of water-melons if they were in season.
They would have beautiful blankets, hair ropes and bridles which they were taking to the Comanche Reservation to trade for ponies. The Comanche tribe lived 10 or 12 miles northeast of what is now Vernon. Quannah Parker was chief of the tribe.

PIONEER PARADE

The Abandoned House Wasn't What It Seemed

Nath Hord, one of the cowboys at the XIT, was a great calf roper. He and his partner, Jim Ivey, were up on the Canadian River at the time. Nath told the story:
"We took up our talking again where we left off, but in a few minutes we heard, 'Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha.'
That did it. No question this time about whether we had heard anything or not. And even the storm was forgotten in our haste to get out of that house and away from it.
We took out across the prairie and in a few minutes saw a light not too far away. After about six miles we came to a ranch house. We stopped to report to the rancher what we had heard in the old house.
He was concerned but not excited and said, 'I imagine it's my mother-in-law. She's not right in her mind. She's been gone two or three days now and we didn't know where she was.'
The cowboys helped the rancher get the buggy ready, and he went back to the house, got the woman and brought her home.
Alaska has a population of about 200,000.

BANKS FOR LIFE

BOSTON (AP) - There are banks in Boston that supply almost everything but the breath of life. Hospital banks include blood banks, eye banks, cartilage banks, artery and vein banks, skin banks and bone banks.

DENVER EXPECTS GROWTH

DENVER (AP) - Denver's metropolitan area will have a population of one million by 1955, the Chamber of Commerce research division predicts. The chamber said a "conservative" projection of present trends indicates the population will hit 900,000 by 1950 and will top the million mark by 1955. The current population is 775,000.

What to WATCH for when selecting the most modern truck for your job!

If you're in the market for a new truck, you can start your "shopping tour" right on this page! The salesman shown here is pointing out modern features that increase efficiency on the job and give you more truck for your dollars.
So take a moment to follow him around in this on-paper demonstration. Then you'll know what to look for—and you'll find it right here, at your Chevrolet dealer's!

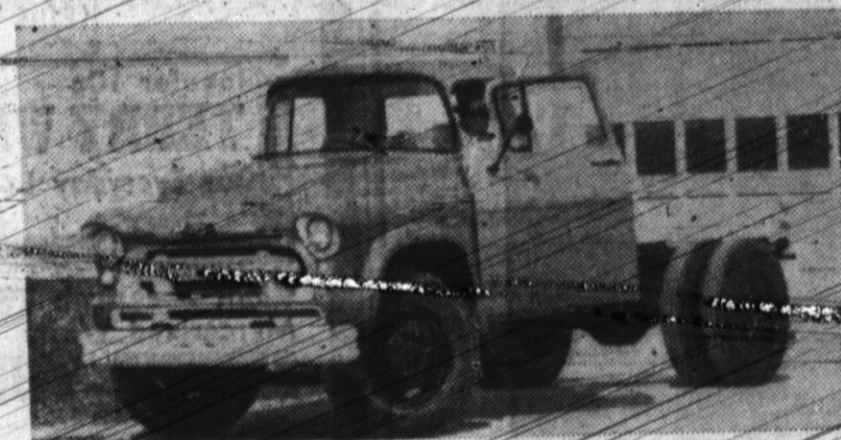

WATCH for modern cab design
Chevrolet truck cabs offer greater comfort, panoramic windshield for better vision and modern concealed Safety Steps.

WATCH for advanced Work Styling
The long, low, forward-sweeping lines of new Chevrolet trucks provide modern truck beauty that's good advertising for your business. Each weight class has its own distinctive styling.

WATCH for automatic transmissions
In 3000-4000 Series models there's famous HYDRA-MATIC. And for 5000 through 10000 Series models there's exclusive, revolutionary POWERMATIC! Both are extra-cost options.

WATCH for Ball-Gear steering
Modern Ball-Gear steering, featured in all Chevrolet Task-Force trucks, makes your job easier at every turn! In this precision steering gear, scores of polished steel balls minimize steering friction.

WATCH for modern short-stroke V8's
There's a new V8—either standard or optional at extra cost—for every model. They're compact, efficient engines, too—the leaders in their respective classes for horsepower-per-pound!

You'll find modern features everywhere! For example, there are famous Chevrolet high-compression 6's—the world's most popular truck engines! A great new 5-speed transmission, optional at extra cost, handles tough jobs with ease in a wide range of models. New Triple-Torque tandem options for heavy-duty trucks hike G.V.W.'s up to 32,000 lbs. . . . G.C.W.'s up to 50,000 lbs. Certainly, there are many things that point up Chevrolet truck modernity . . . many reasons why anything less than Chevy is an old-fashioned truck!

Be sure of a stand of small grain . . . KILL ALL SPECIES OF WIREWORM WITH A SINGLE

dieldrin seed treatment

NEWLY SEEDING FIELDS make good feeding grounds for true and false wireworms and other soil insects. If there is not enough moisture in the soil to permit quick sprouting, seeds are vulnerable to insect attack for several days. But the threat of wireworm damage should be recognized at all times.

A dieldrin seed treatment is a sure way to protect small grain seeds until they sprout.

LOW-COST PROTECTION
It costs just pennies per acre to treat seed with dieldrin, but dollars per acre to feed the wireworms untreated seed! A dieldrin seed treatment prevents "spotty" stands . . . eliminates the expense of time and money for re-planting or sowing extra seed for the wireworms to feed on . . . assures you of a longer grazing period. And dieldrin does not harm plant development.

COMPATIBLE WITH FUNGICIDES
Dieldrin is compatible with fungicides . . . can be applied at the same time to save the expense and work of a double treatment. You can buy dieldrin-treated seed from your seed dealer, or treat the seed yourself. Dieldrin can be applied as a slurry, dry, or in a grain drill. A convenient method is to apply dieldrin to the seed in the grain drill as you plant. Follow directions on the label for the particular formulation you buy.

LESS WORK AT PLANTING TIME
Seed can be treated now and stored until planting time. Dieldrin eliminates the rush of treating seed and planting within a few days. Dieldrin formulations are available throughout the small grain growing area. See your local supplier.

The Best Crowd to Follow... Is the Crowd Going to Church.

"You must not follow a multitude to do evil; nor go with a multitude to prevent justice," Exo. 23:2. What do you see in a crowd? Kings and tyrants have seen riot, rebellion and bloodshed. Jesus saw helpless, oppressed humanity as sheep not having a shepherd. Great crowds always mean some kind of hunger. Don't criticize them, try to understand and help them. When the multitude was hungry, Jesus fed them; when they were confused, He taught them; when sick, He healed them; when in trouble, He helped them. Help your friends by inviting them to church.

ILLITERACY CONTINUES MEXICO CITY (AP) — At the rate things are going now, it will take another 25 years to wipe out illiteracy in this capital, not even counting the ever increasing population growth.

That is the estimate of Concepcion Espino Barrios, of the Social Security Institute, who is seeking to step up a campaign for each educated person to teach at least one other the elements of reading and writing.

This district of around four million has a half-million who cannot read and write she says. Present rate of teaching is 20,000 per year, not including ordinary instruction of children.

ask him: "What's new on the Santa Fe?"

Your local Santa Fe agent has a wealth of answers to this question. Santa Fe is constantly adding the "new" to all its services and facilities to keep abreast of growing transportation needs in the many communities it serves.

Regardless of where on the system these improvements are made, the people and communities all along the line feel the benefits of a stronger, more efficient rail service.

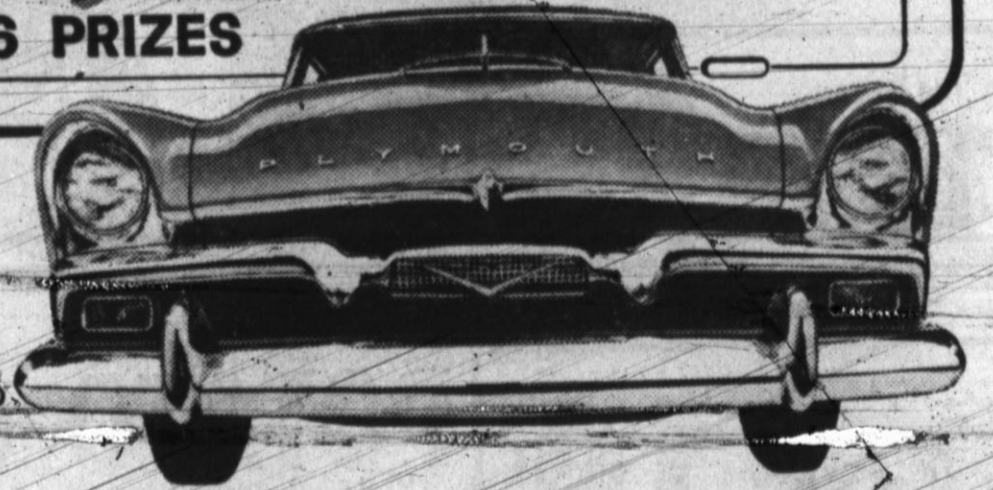

New cars, new trains, new Diesels, new tracks, new freight services and many other new features help Santa Fe provide shippers and travelers the best possible transportation service. Santa Fe System Lines

Maps Showing Acre Feet of Ground Water in County Now Available

According to the High Plains Underground Water District maps of Deaf Smith County showing the acre feet of ground water available for pumping are now available through the office in Lubbock.

These maps and studies of this type are parts of the regular hydrological work in progress by the staff of the Water District. Similar maps and information will be prepared as rapidly as practicable for all counties within the district.

The approximate quantity of underground water in storage, available for pumping, beneath an individual farm may be determined by multiplying the number of acres in the farm by the thickness of the water-bearing strata underlying the farm and then multiplying by the storage coefficient of 15 percent.

Suppose the farm consists of 160 acres and has 150 feet of water-bearing strata underlying it, then 160 acres x 150 feet x 0.15 percent equals 3600 acre-feet of water available for pumping. An acre-foot of water is the quantity to cover one acre to a depth of one foot, and it is also equal to 43,560 cubic feet or 325,829 gallons.

An individual may use this information to determine, within reasonable limits, how long the quantity of underground water in storage beneath his farm will last at any annual rate of withdrawal. This assumes of course, that his neighbors pump a comparable amount of water per acre on their farms.

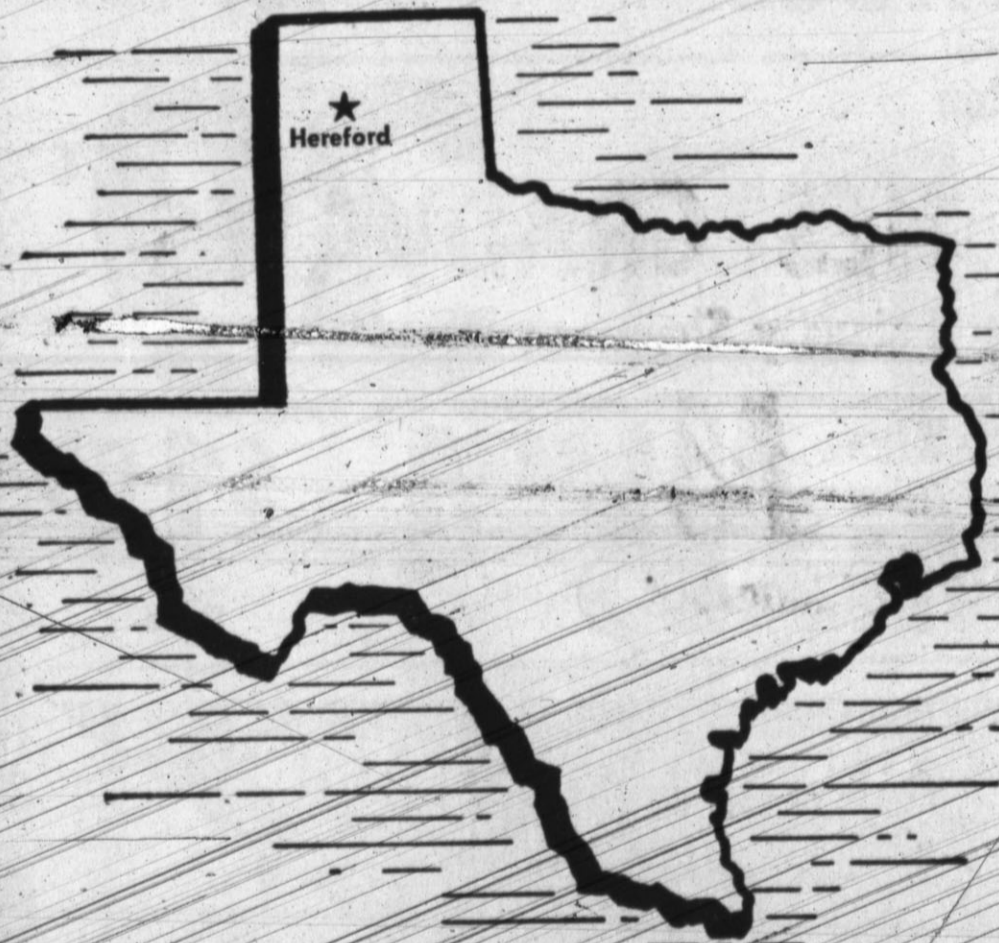

INDIAN SIGN!

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Dick Albain, a special effects man working on the filming of a movie here learned about life in the rugged outdoors. While he was making Indian smoke signals with a pan of burning powder the wind shifted and blew the burning powder on him. He was hospitalized as a victim of first and second degree burns.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Rain Gauge Is Repaired; Finally Gets Put To Use

By JIM WIMAN

Several months ago we repaired our recording rain gauge, got a new supply of recording sheets and made complete preparation for the wet spring every one knew we would have. With the exception of the snow, which doesn't measure out very accurately in a rain gauge, we haven't been privileged to file away a single sheet with any moisture recorded on it until Wednesday night when we recorded 87 inches. According to the records, we should have had, for the period of January first to May first, 3.6 inches. We should in addition, get 3.1 inches in May. Of four gauges scattered over the District, two showed less than 10 inches of rain in 1955. Phillip Miller, who lives about five miles east of Walcott School and Carl Wimberley, who lives near Dawn, each received less than 10 inches. Charles E. Hoover and E. K. Pinnell reported 13.33 and 15.33 inches respectively. Miller has received less than 10 inches in two of the last three years. The Weather Bureau at Amarillo reports no single year in the history of their record keeping, with less than 10 inches. The low was in 1910 when 11.25 inches were recorded. Of course our drought can end over night. One thing we can be sure of is that it will end sooner for the man who farms the conservation way than for the one who disregards those things that are so important in keeping water where it falls.

Three cooperative agreements have been signed during the week. Ed Barbee, who bought a small tract of land at the north edge of town, became a cooperator as did W. A. Green and Glyn Carroll of Plainview. Green and Carroll recently purchased the T. B. Cox place northwest of Hereford. J. B. Snead operates the farm. The Soil Conservation Service assisted in working out the conservation plans that served as a basis for the cooperative agreements between the farm owners and their soil conservation district.

Al L. Lee began work on last Monday with the local office of the Soil Conservation Service. Lee comes from Nolan county and is new with the S.C.S. His wife and two children will join him in Hereford in the next few days following the closing of school at Divide, where they now live. He will serve in the position of conservation aid.

Lee Cocanougher and Maurice Tannahill, who are cooperators of their soil conservation district, are making plans for building diversion terraces on the farms they operate. The diversions will intercept excess water that is coming on their cropland and conduct it safely onto adjoining grassland where it can do no harm. Tannahill built a similar structure on another place on his farm last year.

According to a recent news release, there is to be a national inventory of soil and water conservation needs completed within 3 years. The S.C.S. has been directed to carry out the study with the help of the Agricultural Conservation Program Service, Agricultural Research Service, Farmers Home Administration, Commodity Stabilization Service, Federal Extension Service and Forest Service. The cooperation of soil conservation districts is being solicited in the making of the survey.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Soehngen and daughter Jacque Susan left Sunday after spending the past 10 days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Criswell. They were en route from Denver, Colo., to Jersey City, N. J., where they will make their future home.

Early Day Nurses Often Served Entire County

There were no doctors in this area when the first settlers came, according to Mrs. Harvey Cash, but there were some pioneer women who served as both doctor and nurse.

Among the women who served this were Mrs. B. T. Bell and Mrs. Jim Carter of Castro County. Both were the accepted nurses all over the country, and many of the settlers owed their lives or that of their children to the ministrations of these two faithful women.

Doctors Wayland of Plainview and Patton of Canyon were the only doctors anywhere close, and they came only in case of extreme emergency. Once in a while if there was an epidemic, one or the other would stay in the community. At one time, Dr. Patton stayed three weeks at the Bell home.

Of diphtheria. Of course, there was no anti-toxin or anything with which to combat it. Judge J. L. Gough lived on the section line two miles south of the Bells. He lost two children during the epidemic, and they were buried at night so as to ward off any danger of spreading the contagion.

Mrs. Bell was away from home six weeks during the siege. Hester, who was 15 years old, took charge of the home, doing the cooking, washing, ironing and had the care of the children. Herb, brother Grayson, helped her as much as he could.

Cared for Baby
It was during this time that Hester exhibited her nursing ability in the care she gave her baby brother when he had spasms.

Calvin, the baby, began running a very high fever. Since Mrs. Bell was gone, it was up to Hester and her father to doctor him. Hester knew what to do, for she had seen her mother take care of cases like this.

The kitchen was in the dugout, and Mr. Bell kept the fire going and kept hot water always ready on the stove. Calvin's fever continued to mount and he went into spasms. Hester put him into a tub of hot water and kept cold packs on his head. She kept this up until he got relief and his fever cooled.

Notes Under Rocks
Mrs. Bell was very careful not to carry the contagion in any way to her family. When she wanted to contact them, she'd send a note with a cowboy to the home. There was a big rock out beyond the front gate. The cowboy would put the note under the rock. Mrs. Bell would caution them to read it, burn it and then wash their hands in the strongest antiseptic they had. They were careful to carry out the instructions and none in the family contracted it.
