WASHINGTON (AP) — A historic three-year tax cut hailed by President Reagan as the path to prosperity now carries the resounding endorsement of Congress, putting him on the verge of the most sweeping economic policy change in half a century.

Reagan whipped the Democrats in their own House on Wednesday, winning on a 238-195 vote that was even wider than Reagan's earlier budget-cutting victories. Forty-eight Democrats defected to the president and only one Republican strayed the other way.

Only a formal vote today by the Republican-run Senate, which endorsed a similar bill 89-11 earlier Wednesday, was necessary to send the bill to a Senate-House conference committee to work out the relatively few differences in the two versions — perhaps as early as this weekend. One possible obstacle remained there, $47 billion worth of special tax breaks for the oil industry over the next 10 years. That was the biggest deal Reagan made to convince Democrats to bolt their leaders.

Reagan's bill would reduce taxes more than $753 billion over the next five years — the largest tax cut in American history. It features a permanent 25 percent cut in tax rates over 33 months, with rich and poor alike getting the same percentage reduction.

The first cuts would take effect Oct. 1, averaging about $2 a week for a typical four-member family in the last three months of this year. Larger reductions would follow in 1982 and 1983. Starting in 1985, taxes would be adjusted automatically each year to offset partially the higher taxes caused by inflation. Reagan, who had spent much of the last few days personally persuading House members to accept his plan, was jubilant.

"We have made a new beginning," he told reporters. "We're back on the right road and we're making progress. And if we keep working together, we can reach that new era of prosperity we all want."

Senate Finance Committee

Chairman Bob Dole, R-Kan., said House and Senate conferees should be able to resolve their differences quickly. They probably will start work Saturday.

The oil provisions will be the biggest issue, and there's a chance — though unlikely — that they could delay the entire bill.

The Senate bill includes $20 billion in oil-tax cuts, and liberals have vowed to filibuster any compromise that increases that figure. Such actions, however, often fizzle quickly when Congress is ready to take a big recess, as it is preparing to do now.

The House bill has $47 billion in tax breaks for the oil industry, and reducing those could alienate some of Reagan's conservative supporters.

The Reagan bill was favorable by Congress over a rival Democratic plan that would have produced an average 15 percent cut in tax rates over 21 months, with an additional 10 percent reduction in a third year contingent on the economy performing as well as the Reagan administration forecasts. The Democratic cuts would have favored families with in-

Casey Directing CIA, Inquiry Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — William J. Casey is directing the CIA today with a new but limited endorsement from a Senate committee that nevertheless is going ahead with its investigation of him.

Two days after the Senate Intelligence Committee hired a special counsel to run its Casey inquiry, the panel unanimously pronounced him not "unfit to serve" based on what is now known.

President Reagan said that should end the matter, but the Senate panel also unanimously agreed Wednesday to continue investigating the 68-year-old CIA director, whose past business practices and management of the spy agency have been questioned.

The committee vote came after five hours of testimony by Casey behind closed doors. One source called the decision "obviously a compromise between two sharply divided factions. The beauty of this statement is in the eye of the beholder."

Chairman Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who less than a week ago called on Casey to resign, delivered the panel's decision to a crowded news conference in the Capitol Crypt. He said: "Based upon the staff review to date, and Mr. Casey's lengthy testimony today, it is the unanimous judgment of the committee that no basis has been found for concluding that Mr. Casey is unfit to serve as director of central intelligence."

"The staff will follow up on points that need clarification."

Moments later, Goldwater strode off, saying: "I'm going home." Left at the microphones, the committee's ranking Democrat, Sen. Daniel P. Moynihan of New York, announced that the minority panel members would hire their own special counsel and that Casey might be recalled to testify.

"There is a range of questions for which full answers haven't been got yet, work that hasn't been done, records that haven't been fully read and such like," Moynihan said in describing the nature of the continuing inquiry.

Moynihan added that

Lady CPAs Enhance Profession

By DEBE GRAVES
Staff Writer

For those who greet a meeting with their accountant like others might dread a trip to the dentist, or when a soft voice and encouraging smile might make the financial statement easier to digest, there is good reason.

Hereford can boast of three highly qualified Certified Public Accountants who happen to be women. They are Mrs. Diane Hoelscher, Ms. Roxanne Swertner and Ms. Billie Faye Ham.

And, as these ladies and their clients will testify, the fact they are women does not hamper the quality of work they perform as CPAs.

The requirements for becoming a certified public accountant include: graduation from an accredited college with at least a bachelor's degree, passing a four-part exam which takes two and one-half days, and 3,600 hours of practical experience with a bachelor's degree, or 1,800 hours if a master's degree is held. To maintain certification, 40 hours per year of continuing education is required.

For those of us who can't balance a check book, the thought of having to balance million-dollar, open-end business transactions to the penny is food for nightmares, but these number-loving women take it all in stride.

How did they choose accounting? How do they handle the balance between such a demanding career and personal lifestyles? Why did they choose to live in Hereford? Read on.....

For Roxanne Swertner the choice of living in Hereford was easy, she grew up here. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Oskar Swertner, and she is a 1972 graduate of Hereford High School. After receiving her bachelor of business administration degree from West Texas State University in May of 1976, Ms. Swertner broke the certification test up taking one section of it at a time until complete. She became a CPA in February.

Ms. Swertner has been employed by William E. Allen and Company, Inc. for three years and says she prefers the auditing aspect of accounting because of the variety of places she is able to work. She feels accounting is versatile work, which is not at all regimented the way most laymen see it.

"I like to work with numbers," she said, "and I was told there was no need for math teachers." Ms. Swertner adds she became interested in accounting through a high school book-keeping class her counselor recommended.

When asked how her womanhood affects her work as an accountant, she replied "I have heard it said that women sometimes make better accountants because they are more precise. I don't know how true that is but...!"

She went on to explain that when she was in college, an FBI agent came to interview accounting majors and said his agency tries to entice accountants into their organization because they're the type of people who look for details.

She expressed finding pleasure in her job and said,

"One thing that is neat is that some of the clients let you know they appreciate what you are doing."

Away from the office Ms. Swertner's interests include reading and crochet work, and her activities with St. Anthony's church. Her dislike is "mowing the lawn."

Mrs. Diane Hoelscher moved to Hereford with her husband, R.C. when he accepted a position with a local legal firm.

Mrs. Hoelscher grew up near Corpus Christi, attended the University of Texas, Texas Tech, and graduated from West Texas State University with a bachelor of business administration degree.

Having passed the certification exam in July of 1979, she received her master's degree in public accounting in August, then began her work period and became certified in August of 1980. She is employed by the firm of Bob Gentry.

Mrs. Hoelscher comments, "We adopted Hereford. We will be here from now on because we like the area and the people."

She favors the tax accounting and financial planning aspects because she feels these areas allow her to deal with people on a one-to-one basis.

"As a senior getting my bachelor's degree I was required to take six hours of accounting and I fell in love with it," she remembers. "It is a challenging job and I like working with and helping people. I like what this job enables me to do for other people and the satisfaction it gives me."

When asked how her work affects her family life she replied, "Because I enjoy working so much, I don't feel I have any more of a problem with family responsibilities than someone who stays home."

"I have two super kids who have grown up helping me and a very supportive husband, so my working is a family affair," she adds.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoelscher have a son, Curtis, who is a 15-year-old high school sophomore and a daughter, Alisa, an 11-year-old sixth grader. Referring to her children she says, "I didn't miss out on anything. I believe in spending quality time with my children. So I have been able to balance my work with family life."

Away from the job Mrs. Hoelscher qualifies herself as a "novice tennis player," and enjoys western dancing, reading motivational books, and sewing when she has the time. She adds that her hobby in tax season is "sleeping."

Ms. Billie Faye Ham recently bought out Joe Shollenbarger to become a partner in the firm she has been employed with for four years. The firm Shollenbarger, Berry, and Company will now be Berry, Ham and Company, she proudly announces and her pride is with reason. It has been a valiant struggle on her part to become a CPA and she is now realizing a 10-year-old dream.

Spending Cuts Affect Citizens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The more than $35 billion in spending cuts approved by House and Senate negotiators for next year will leave few areas of American life untouched.

Pensioners, students, farmers, the unemployed, children, hospital patients, the poor, federal workers, veterans, mass transit users, cities and states, the arts and sciences — all will feel the impact of the 1982 budget reductions Congress plans to finalize this week.

Some programs would be eliminated altogether, such as the $122-a-month minimum benefit for Social Security recipients and public service jobs under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

Other programs, such as food stamps, would face spending reductions as a result of tightened eligibility standards.

Dozens of specific grant programs involving education and health would be lumped together into broader block grants — an approach intended to give states greater control over how they spend federal dollars.

The defense industry, however, will receive increased government largess under the budget plan originally submitted by President Reagan and approved, mostly intact, by Congress.

The shape of the budget for the fiscal year that begins Oct. 1 emerged in final form Wednesday, as the largest conference committee in congressional history finished

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says 90 percent of the friction of daily life is caused by the wrong tone of voice.

Too often a demagogue gets to thinking he's a demigod.

It was good news today to see the bipartisan tax bill passed by the U.S. House. I was mad at both parties after the television appeals the other night.

We are all getting tired of political demagoguery. Both sides used half-truths in trying to sell their plans, and both stretched the truth a little. The President termed the Demo plan a two-year proposal, while the Demos said the GOP plan was just for the wealthy. Both of these statements were a bit shy of the facts, and we knew it.

There really didn't seem to be a large difference in the tax-cut plans. We supported the President's plan because he presented it first. We're not sure the Demos would have come up with their plan had it not been for the bipartisan bill.

Wouldn't it be nice, though, if our leaders would give us some straight talk, at least now and then?

Bishop James Edward Walsh Dies At 90

OSSINING, N.Y. (AP) — Bishop James Edward Walsh, who emerged from a Chinese prison in 1970 after 12 years' confinement and was believed to be the last of some 7,000 foreign Christian missionaries expelled from China, has died at the age of 90.

Walsh died Wednesday at the headquarters of the Roman Catholic society of missionaries he was a part of for 56 years — the Maryknolls.

On Tuesday, he was released at his request from a hospital in nearby White Plains. An associate said he sensed death was near and wanted to return to his room overlooking the Hudson River.

Walsh, ordained a Maryknoll priest in 1915 and sent to China in 1918, was released from Shanghai's Ward Road prison in 1970 after serving nearly 12 years of a 20-year sentence for allegedly spying for the United States and the Vatican — charges he vehemently denied.

Clad in rumpled khaki trousers and faded checked shirt, the gaunt, aging bishop, then 79, walked alone across bordering Hong Kong's Lo Wu bridge to freedom.

He had not been allowed to keep up on news while in prison and when he emerged, he learned of the election and assassination of the first Catholic president, John F. Kennedy and the reforms of the Second Vatican Council.

On his way back to the United States, he stopped in Rome where Pope Paul VI told him in an emotional audience that he been a steadfast, authentic witness to Christ by his suffering.

Administration Considers Dropping Antitrust Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration, asking that its landmark antitrust suit against the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. be "put on ice," says it will drop the case if Congress passes an amended telephone deregulation bill backed by the company.

Assistant Attorney General William F. Baxter, who said in April that he intended to litigate the case "to the eyeballs," asked a federal judge to recess the case until next June 30 to allow Congress time to act.

"If the legislation passes, with the amendments that have been worked out, it would be the administration's intention to discontinue the litigation," he told U.S. District Judge Harold H. Greene and three AT&T attorneys during a closed meeting Wednesday.

"I can assure you that I am speaking not just for the antitrust division of the Department of Justice, but for the administration and the president," Baxter said. "The administration has concluded that there is no realistic possibility of moving (telephone deregulation) legislation through the Congress unless, in some sense, this case is put on ice."

The judge refused to recess the case, however. Green said the trial would resume as scheduled Aug. 3 with presentation of AT&T's defense because "it would be inappropriate for the court to suspend this lawsuit...simply because such suspension may have a political impact in other forums."

Schering Corp., the manufacturer, said Wednesday the inhaler using the prescription drug Vancenase is expected to be on the market as soon as its final labeling is approved by the FDA.

The medication, chemically known as beclomethasone dipropionate, has been approved for use in New Zealand, Canada, England and some other European nations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chronicle of Higher Education reports that despite a decreasing number of 18-year-olds this fall's freshman class at the nation's four-year colleges could be "substantially higher" than last year's.

The Chronicle said its annual survey of 315 institutions with 500 or more students found freshman applications up at 70 percent of them, indicating a possible 6.5 percent boost in enrollment.

The newspaper added, however, that the figures could be misleading because many high school seniors — uncertain about the future of student loan programs — may have applied to more colleges this year to hedge their bets.

Prince, Princess Off On Royal Honeymoon

ROMSEY, England (AP) — Prince Charles and his bride Diana were spending their first day of married life today in honeymoon seclusion with their host and hostess and 12 servants.

As Britain basked in a glow of joy, pride and patriotism induced by Wednesday's glittering royal wedding, and revellers celebrated into the early hours, the couple spent their wedding night at Broadlands, the country estate of Charles' second cousin Lord Romsey 90 miles southwest of London.

Surrounded by 5,000 acres of fields and woodland near this small country town of 15,000 people in Hampshire county, the 18th century mansion was the home of the late Earl Mountbatten, Charles' great-uncle and Romsey's grandfather, who was assassinated by an Irish Republican Army bomb in August 1979.

The prince's parents, Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, honeymooned there after their wedding in November 1947.

The nearest public road is more than a mile from the 12-room Georgian mansion. The main guest bedroom, the Portico Room, with floral print chintz curtains and four-poster bed, looks out over landscaped gardens and the River Test.

But the away-from-it-all peace and privacy of Broadlands that began when the estate's big black gate shut behind the prince and princess of Wales at 6:11 p.m. Wednesday will last only two days.

On Saturday they fly off to a tumultuous welcome from the 27,000 pro-British inhabitants of Gibraltar. There they will board the royal yacht Britannia for a two-week Mediterranean cruise.

Charles and Diana arrived at Romsey by train from London's Waterloo station to be greeted by a cheering, flag waving crowd of 30,000 and the pealing bells of Romsey Abbey, where Mountbatten is buried.

The 20-year-old bride was in pink with a tricorn hat trimmed with a pink ostrich feather, while her 32-year-old husband wore a gray suit. They looked relaxed and happy as they waved to the crowd and smiled, then were driven in a Rolls Royce limousine from the station to Broadlands.

The rural peace of Broadlands contrasted sharply with the joyous crowds, deafening cheers, seas of waving red-white-and-blue Union Jacks and glittering pomp that surrounded the couple in London Wednesday.

An estimated million persons lined the 2-mile route of the wedding procession from Buckingham Palace to St. Paul's Cathedral, where 3,000 guests watched the couple take their marriage vows.

Yet London police reported only 10 arrests, on charges ranging from theft to drug possession, during the whole day. London police chief Sir David McNeer praised the crowds for "making the only memory which will stay with us one of joy."

One wedding picture was featured on the front pages of all nine of Britain's national newspapers Thursday morning — Charles kissing Diana on the balcony of Buckingham Palace after the wedding while thousands outside the palace gates roared their approval.

Paul Harvey News Who'll Hold The High Ground

The United States is presently preparing for "star wars."

We have to. There is no way American mothers can bear enough boy babies to police this planet with bayonets. We will rely on technology—or perish.

But again technology can come to our rescue.

Israel's recent strike against a nuclear installation in Iraq has demonstrated how modern weaponry can neutralize modern weaponry.

For better or worse, right or wrong, Israel's anti-proliferation policy is effective.

Upstairs — while the United States has concentrated on such scientific achievements as interplanetary exploration and Moon landings — the Soviets have concentrated on developing orbiting satellites with strategic military potential.

Our Army's Gen. Dan Graham, director of our Defense Intelligence Agency during the '70s, expects that as surely as Britain dominated the seven seas for two centuries, the airless ocean of overhead space will be dominated by a nation — or a consortium of nations.

He wants to be sure that we are among the dominators.

Presently the Soviets figure they can pin down our Titan and Minuteman missiles by orbiting two warheads for every one we have on the ground.

But, Gen. Graham computes, we can upset their arithmetic with a space-born ABM system which will catch Soviet missiles "on the rise."

In Gen. Graham's view, such an ABM system would restore American military superiority over the U.S.S.R. "and reduce the incentive on both sides to accumulate more and more enormously costly nuclear weapons."

The general adds that this would also be much more effective.

Traditional military strategy has always called for capturing and controlling "the high ground." Our foot-soldiers in half a dozen wars have fought their way up a succession of hills. Artillery from a hilltop can dominate everything it can see.

Now the highest frontier offers that threat — or that opportunity — whichever we choose.

Though she was raised in Amarillo, Ms. Ham graduated from Dumas High. She returned to college when her daughter, Cynthia, was in college and her son, Kenneth, was still at home.

There followed nine years of night classes, first at Amarillo College and later at West Texas State University.

During this time she supported herself and son with a job as a secretary and later as an assistant manager of a credit union. Finally able to attend college on a full time basis, she began working part-time for a public accountant and finished her bachelor of business administration degree in one year by attending two summers and two regular semesters.

"I wanted more money and a better life than secretarial work would provide me. I went to Amarillo College and took vocational aptitude tests—the kind 18-year-olds take," she laughs. "The test results showed an aptitude for accounting and statistics." She chose the accounting field over statistics because accounting would enable her to live in a small town in the area near her family.

Ms. Ham advises those who are experiencing change in their lifestyles, or who wish to achieve more than they have, to determine priorities first.

"What do you want out of life? Set some realistic goals, short and long term," she advises. "Begin accomplishing and as you reach goals, set new ones. Each time you reach a goal, you gain confidence, increase self-esteem, and have a real sense of accomplishment."

Away from the books she is involved in church work with St. Thomas Episcopal, and serves as chairman of the Deaf Smith County Child Welfare Board and member of the Regional Child Welfare Board.

For relaxation, she goes to a cabin at Black Lake, near answers to the remaining questions might change the panel's evaluation of Casey.

criticism for several years.

Like most things in Washington, what started out as a good idea for more space has turned into a monument for the elected and a nightmare for the taxpayers.

In Washington, of course, everything is done first class. Such is the case of Philip A. Hart Senate Office Building, due to open early in 1982.

The price tag is $137 million.

Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan has masterminded a $237-million coverup. Last week, he offered the following resolution to the full Senate:

"Whereas in the fall of 1980 the frame of the new Senate Office Building was covered with plastic sheathing in order that construction might continue during the winter months.

"Whereas the plastic cover has now been removed revealing, as feared, a building whose banality is exceeded only by its expense.

"Whereas even in democracy there are things it is as well the people do not know about their government.

"Therefore be it resolved that it is the sense of the Senate that the plastic cover be put back.

Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan, who has not necessarily impressed us with his deft dealings since arriving on the Washington scene, must be credited with his most impressive utterance on this one!

comes less than $50,000 a year.

A typical four-member, two-earner family with $20,000 income would realize a $333 tax cut in 1984 when Reagan's bill is fully effective. The Democrats would have provided a $431 cut.

For a $40,000 family, Reagan's bill gives $1,697, compared with $1,806 under the defeated version.

The 5 percent of taxpayers earning more than $50,000 a year would get 32 percent of the individual tax relief in Reagan's bill. The 50 percent with incomes under $20,000 would get 15.8 percent.

In addition to cutting tax rates, both the House and Senate bills would:

—Reduce the "marriage penalty," which forces 17 million working married couples to pay more tax than if they were single.

—Cut to 50 percent the current top 70 percent tax rate on investment income.

—Allow a person up to $1,000 in tax-free income from a new savings certificate.

—Wipe out estate taxes for all but a relative handful of Americans.

—Allow a special charitable-contributions deduction for those who don't itemize.

—Cut business taxes deeply through faster write-offs for resolving hundreds of differences between separate bills passed by the Republican-controlled Senate and Democrat-dominated House.

Seventy-two senators and 183 representatives, divided among 58 subcommittees, took two weeks to complete their work.

The full House and Senate are scheduled to vote on the compromise Friday, with passage virtually assured.

The original bills adhered mostly to a spending plan drawn by Reagan, who overcame strong Democratic opposition to reverse a 50-year trend of steadily expanding federal programs and spending.

Congressional leaders called the final compromise a historic turnaround in budget policy. Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr.,

R-Tenn., said the result "is one of the most important and monumental legislative accomplishments of this century."

The exact size of the budget cuts were not available Wednesday, but conference committee members estimated the total would fall between $35 billion and $36 billion.

Total reductions in the compromise are less than those proposed separately by the House and Senate, which called for cuts of $37.3 billion and $38.1 billion, respectively.

But the final bill complies with the $35 billion in cuts mandated by a congressional budget resolution in May. At the time, Congress ordered that 1982 spending be limited to $695.5 billion.

Current estimates put spending for fiscal 1981 at $661.2 billion.

Call 364-3912 Hereford Cabelvision 126 East 3rd Don't Miss Out On... HBO

Now You're Cookin'

By DEBE GRAVES
Staff Writer

We received a call this week reporting a "home-grown" peach that was as large and as beautiful as the giant California peaches occasionally found in grocery stores. On arriving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Mannon we did, indeed, find a "peach of a story."

Mr. and Mrs. Mannon not only raise prize-winning peaches, they keep their whole yard in beautiful order with flower beds, garden spots, and fruit trees. Gardening is the hobby of the Mannons, who own Truckers Diesel Service on East Highway 60. "We were both raised on farms and we are still farmers, at heart," said Mrs. Mannon.

The couple moved to Hereford from Clovis in 1968. "We love the climate, the wide-open spaces and not being congested. The people of this town are fantastic, they tend to gather around and really support one another," she commented.

They recently participated in a nation-wide survey of the way people feel about where they live and how their communities handle specific problems. Mrs. Mannon reports that the people polling them were, "Surprised at the self-sufficiency and community effort found here," citing in particular King's Manor and Westgate nursing home and the Volunteer Fire Department and she echoes the praise given by the pollers.

Mannon was born in Huntington, W.Va., and she describes him as a "humanitarian - no matter how busy he is, he will drop everything and go to help people." His interests include fishing, bowling, water skiing, and the yard and house projects the couple share as a joint effort.

Born in Stearns, Ky., Mrs. Mannon is a professional musician who spent six years playing the piano and singing at the Holiday Inn in Clovis, where the couple met. Her interests include oil painting, gardening, canning, collecting bric-brac, and raising houseplants.

Having worked at the shop for four years, she became actively interested in business. "I'm concerned and interested in business, the social security system, and the economy," she said; she keeps current on these issues through avid reading. The four peach trees in the back yard yield the fruit to make one of their favorite desserts. Here is her recipe for French Ice Cream.

Ice Cream

French Ice Cream (uncooked)

- 2 large eggs, beaten
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/2 box instant vanilla pudding
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- Milk and Fruit to equal four cups

Suggested fruits are strawberries, peaches, blackberries, or pineapple. Place all ingredients in blender, blend until relatively smooth, but not pureed. Place in freezer and follow freezer instructions. Yields two quarts. Note the recipe may be doubled for larger freezers.

BARBS

Phil Pastoret

There's nothing like a little success to make you wonder how some manage to make it truly big.

People who issue "position" papers quite likely already have theirs: Behind the 8-ball.

A nightmare's pedigree is quite apt to be: By Overindulgence, out of Pigs' Knuckles and Sauerkraut.

If you buy one and get one free, why don't they just halve the price of the first one and save all the bother?

Some welcome midsummer with open arms - others have sport shirts so tight they can't put their lunch hooks down.

Calculation of County's Effective Tax Rate

I, Nell Miller, tax assessor-collector for Deaf Smith County, in accordance with the provisions of Article 7244c, Sec. 1, VTCS, have calculated the tax rate which may not be exceeded by more than three percent by the Commissioner's Court of Deaf Smith County without holding a public hearing as required by Art. 7244c, Sec. 2, VTCS. That rate is as follows:*

- $.0960 per $100 for farm to market/flood control tax rate;
- $.2560 per $100 for the general fund, permanent improvement fund, jury fund, and road and bridge fund tax rate;
- $.0480 per $100 for public road maintenance tax rate; thus
- $.40 per $100 total county tax rate

Ann Landers Long-Live Boffo

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You said parrots and other talking birds do not know what they are saying, that they are only "imitators." Well, I must disagree.

Our parrot, "Boffo," was purchased by my husband in New Orleans during World War II. (I did not know him then.) When we married, in 1948, I had to take Boffo or there would be no wedding.

I knew at the time Boffo swore a blue streak, said some very dirty words and there was no shutting him up. But I thought pet birds lived about as long as dogs, and figured Boffo wouldn't be around long. I was wrong. Parrots can live to be well over 100 years old. That damned bird will probably bury me.

If birds don't know what they are saying, please explain why Boffo talks dirty only when we have high-class company? Also, he says "Hello" when I come in and

"So Long" when I leave. Thanks for an answer - if you can think of one. - Pittsburgh Reader.

DEAR PITS: I have been inundated with letters from bird lovers who tell me I am wrong, but the experts say I am right.

Maybe Boffo has strong instincts about when to mouth off in a way that will create a reaction. As for "Hello" and "So Long," he is probably responding to you - or has learned from repetition that these are the words to say on those occasions.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I met this man last summer when I came to St. Louis to work. George has been separated from his wife for over a year. We fell in love, and he wants to marry me as soon as he is free.

When George asked me to move in with him, I agreed. Things are so expensive now and we were together every night anyway. It made sense.

A few weeks ago George told me his wife wants to move to this city because his two kids miss him, and she can't raise them alone. Well, they arrived and had no place to stay, so George invited them to move in with us.

I know he doesn't care for his wife anymore and she doesn't seem particularly interested in him, but he hasn't done one thing about getting a divorce. What's more, he is using part of my paycheck to buy them groceries and clothing. I realize he has an obligation to his family, but I feel angry and foolish. Any advice? - Stumped In Kentucky

DEAR ANGRY AND FOOLISH: Move out of that apartment at once, even if it means renting a broom closet over a bowling alley. And give George the deep six. On a scale of one to 10, he is zero.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I saw this over a counter in a small business last week and copied it down because I thought it belonged in your column.

- (1) We've never done it that way.
- (2) We're not ready for that, yet.
- (3) We're doing all right without it.
- (4) We tried it once, and it didn't work out.
- (5) It costs too much.

(6) That's not our responsibility
(7) It won't work.

National Sports Festival Ends Gracefully

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The third National Sports Festival, which ended a gala six-day stand Wednesday night with championship games in basketball and ice hockey, was a colorful combination of sights and emotions.

It was: —Renaldo Nehemiah flying gracefully over the high hurdles, Ron Galimore soaring over a vaulting horse, Brian Oldfield heaving a shot, Darrell Pace letting fly an arrow to lodge in the heart of the target, and Lydia Crabtree gracefully dancing in intricate counterpoint to a curling ribbon held in her hand.

—Scott Hamilton dominating the men's figure skating to the point where one official said after the first day of competition that the only way Hamilton could lose the gold was if he broke a leg.

—The disappointment and tragedy of Suzannah Nolt fracturing her skull when she fell from the shoulders of her brother, Jeffrey, while the two practiced for their pairs ice-skating performance, and gymnast Brian Meeker slipping on his approach and crashing into the vaulting horse, sending him to the hospital for observation and ending his chances at a gold medal.

—The frustration of Olympic speed skater and former world cycling champion Beth Heiden crashing and falling to the ground as she jockeyed for position midway through the 50-kilometer cycle race.

—And, above all, a triumph for the U.S. Olympic Committee, which has made the Festival a non-Olympic year forum for 33 winter and summer Olympic sports and, it hopes, a staple event on the American calendar three out of every four years.

The Festival ended with a flourish of impressive action, as five sports closed out the Games Wednesday.

UCLA recruit Stu Gray, the tournament MVP, popped in 22 points to pace six players in double figures and lead the West squad to a 109-97 gold-medal victory over the South in men's basketball. Sam Potter and Ralph Jackson added 18 points apiece for the West, which end the two-time champion South's domination of Festival basketball.

The Midwest won its first game of the tournament, nipping the East 93-92 to win the bronze-medal men's basketball game. Steve Carfino of the University of Iowa scored 23 points to help the Midwest to a little revenge over the team that beat it 96-80 in round-robin play.

In the women's cage competition, the South stopped the East 93-84. Janice Lawrence of national champion Louisiana Tech threw in 28 points and pulled down 13 rebounds for the South, while Medina Dixon topped the East with 19 points.

Jay Wall's goal midway through the second period snapped a 1-1 tie and undefeated Great Lakes went on to defeat the Central squad 5-2 to take the hockey gold medal.

The game was marked with plenty of action and solid goaltending and was tied until Wall, from RPI, connected at 12:08 of the second period, just nine seconds after a Great Lakes power play ended.

Gloria Bogacki of Park Ridge, Ill., and Steve Merrifield of Canoga Park, Calif., each won a pair of speed skating gold medals Wednesday, giving them a clean sweep of the competition, with four apiece.

The two previous Festivals were held in Colorado Springs, Colo., where the USOC is based. The 1982 Festival will be held in Indianapolis and the 1983 Games are expected to be a dress rehearsal of the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics.

Nehemiah provided perhaps the top moment of the 1981 show, ignoring rain, gusty winds and arch-rival Greg Foster to tie his own world record of 13.0 seconds in the 110-meter high hurdles. The mark, however, will not be counted as a world record because of an illegal assist from the wind.

The marathon included women for the first time in USOC-sanctioned competition, with Laura DeWald of Arlington, Va., coming in first among the female contingent and 14th overall at 2:47.06.

Pace, acknowledge as

America's finest archer, won the overall competition in that sport, while Hamilton, the current men's world champion, and Rosalynn Summers, the 1980 world junior women's champion, both won every phase of their singles skating competition.

Crabtree finally beat nemesis Sue Soffe, winning the gold medal for all-around performance in the beautiful rhythmic gymnastics competition, which will be an exhibition sport in the 1984 Olympics. Crabtree, from Redondo Beach, Calif., had finished second to Soffe, from Azoura, Calif., four times in national championships. This time Crabtree won and Soffe finished third.

Fifteen-year-old Beth Pope, of Little Rock, Ark., won the all-around gold medal in women's gymnastics, while Galimore, from State University, took the men's vaulting with a spectacular display that included a perfect 10.0, and Meeker, from Edina, Minn., won the all-around men's title before his disheartening mishap.

Richard Savage of Monroe, La., won the feature gold medal bout in the outstanding boxing competition here, outpointing friend and arch-rival Steve Cruz of Fort Worth, Texas, 3-2, at 119 pounds.

And heavyweight Mark Mahone of the U.S. Navy knocked out Johnny Keys of San Francisco at 10 seconds of the second round for a gold medal. Tyrone Biggs of Philadelphia won the silver, despite the fact that he withdrew from the tournament after breaking his hand while winning a semifinal bout.

Unheralded Mary Wayne, from Mercer Island, Ga., stole the show in women's swimming, bagging three gold medals, including victories in the 200 freestyle, 200 backstroke and the West team's 800 freestyle relay. On the men's side, Bill Barrett of UCLA won three golds. The world record holder took the 200 individual medley, 100 breaststroke and a relay gold, as well as two silvers.

In diving, Dave Burgering of Mission Viejo, Calif., upset silver Olympic medalist Greg Louganis in the men's 3-meter event, while Chris Seufert of Ann Arbor, Mich., became the first diver to win the gold in both the 3- and 10-meter women's events in the same year.

Silverman Goes for Triple Crown With 'Computer'

By HAL BOCK AP Sports Writer

There are no printouts to prove it, but if you ask trainer Jerry Silverman about his prize pacer, Computer, he'll tell you this colt is entirely capable of achieving true greatness.

Silverman would know something about that subject because in 1966, he trained Romeo Hanover to pacing's Triple Crown.

On Friday night, Computer will begin his drive for the same title in the $225,000 Messenger Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway. After that, the Triple Crown targets are the Cane Pace on Aug. 22 and the Little Brown Jug on Sept. 24.

It's no accident that in conversation, Silverman often calls Computer "Romeo." On the track, there are striking similarities between the two horses. In the barns, though, Silverman has noticed differences.

"Romeo Hanover was impeccably bred," he said. "He had incredible speed and a marvelous disposition. He had a flawless gait and seemed to float through the air. He took care of himself. He'd lay down all day in his stall."

"Computer is a totally different individual. Romeo won with sheer speed. Computer was slow coming around but he has incredible competitiveness. He just wears the other horses down. And then, when you ask him for speed, he responds."

"Romeo was a more spirited horse than Computer. At the track, though, he was all business. Computer is the perfectly mannered horse. In the paddock Friday night, he will look unprepared. But at the starting gate, he'll know what it's all about."

A year ago, Silverman was not terribly pleased with Computer's progress. The horse was 1-2-1 in 12 starts, compared with his 6-3-3 for 12 races this year.

"Frankly, he was a rather backward 2-year-old," the trainer said. "But he's learned what racing's all about. Now he knows what's expected of him, and right now, he's the finest dispositioned horse in the country."

Plenty has changed in harness racing in the 15 years since Romeo Hanover's Triple Crown. Silverman knows that, but he also knows that Romeo's best time for pacing the mile was 1:56.1-5. Computer already has knocked two full seconds off that clocking.

"Today, Romeo would have been a $2 million earner," Silverman said of the horse who made an entirely respectable $650,000 during his career, winning 36 races and finishing out of the money only twice in 44 lifetime starts.

"Computer could be better," Silverman said.

Ex-Colt Dutton Happy As Cowboy

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — John Dutton, the Dallas Cowboys' big defensive tackle, says he hasn't felt so good about his football career since 1975, when he was a Pro Bowl defensive end for the Baltimore Colts.

"I feel better than at anytime since my first and second years with the Colts," Dutton said Wednesday between practices at the Cowboys training camp.

"I know there are some people who think I've lost a step or two, but I'm not so sure. I do know that I've picked up some things. I've learned a lot about the game since coming to the Cowboys. I think I'm a better player because of it."

Dutton's dispute and holdout with the Colts in 1979 led to his being traded in mid-season to the Cowboys, who needed an emergency replacement at defensive end for Ed Jones, who was trying to become a professional boxer.

When Jones returned to the Cowboys last year, Dutton was switched to tackle and shared the position with Larry Cole, although Cole was the starter.

With Cole's retirement in March, Dutton took over the job at left defensive tackle.

"When I was in Baltimore, all I did was just rush the passer, not worrying about thing like technique. Fortunately, I had the size and ability and I was able to do the job without much else. Now, I have a much better understanding and knowledge of the game."

Ernie Stautner, the Cowboys' defensive line coach, is confident Dutton will become a top defensive tackle.

"People shouldn't be worried about John Dutton," Stautner said. "He's going to do an outstanding job. He's a hard worker and has one of the best attitudes I've ever come across since I've been coaching. There's no doubt in my mind that he's going to be a good tackle."

Gold Sox Win Close Game Over Mets, 3-2

By The Associated Press

Jeff Pyburn drove home the winning run with a sacrifice fly and had four hits in four plate appearances Wednesday night as the Amarillo Gold Sox edged the Jackson Mets, 3-2.

In other Texas League baseball action, San Antonio defeated Tulsa, 6-3, and Arkansas whipped Midland, 6-1. Shreveport's scheduled game at El Paso was postponed because of rain.

Pyburn's big night helped Mark Thurmond, 8-5, pick up the pitching victory. Dave Smith, 2-2, was the losing hurler.

Mark Bradley kept swinging a hot bat as the San Antonio Dodgers defeated the Tulsa Drillers, 6-3. Bradley had a two-run homer, one of three hits in five trips to the plate, as he kept his 12-game hitting streak alive.

U.S. Places Third in World University Games

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — All-American Kevin Magee led the United States basketball team to a 93-87 gold medal victory over the Soviet Union and swimmer Jill Sterkel won her fifth gold medal as the World University Games came to an end.

The Games officially closed today with a ceremony, but no events were scheduled.

The Soviets finished the 10-day games with 38 gold medals. Romania downed Cuba 3-2 in men's volleyball Wednesday, increasing its gold medal total to 30. The United States finished with 29 gold medals.

Magee, a 6-foot-8 forward from California-Irvine, scored 31 points to pace the American basketball victory. Working inside against 7-4 Vladimir Tkachenko and 7-foot Alexandr Belositeni, Magee fouled out with 3:59 remaining in the game and the Americans holding a seven-point lead.

The Soviets pulled to within one point a minute later before guards John Bagley of Boston College and Sidney Lowe of North Carolina State took over. Steals and driving layups put the game out of reach of the frustrated Soviets, who had played the Americans close all night.

Nikolai Deriughin led the Soviets with 21 points. Tkachenko added 16, most on them on flat-footed short shots. "Magee was playing against two of the finer big men in the world," said U.S. Coach Tom Davis of Boston College. "It's very tough to play against men of that caliber."

Magee, who had averaged less than 10 points a game throughout the tournament, said: "I didn't do anything different. The coach told us to come out and hustle and play defense. That's what we did."

Howard Carter of Louisiana State scored 17 points for the Americans.

Sterkel, a University of Texas student, matched Romanian gymnast Nadia Comaneci's feat of winning five gold medals. Sterkel gave the U.S. women's 400-meter medley relay team a clear-cut lead by turning in a stunning performance in the butterfly leg. The United States won the gold in a record-setting 4 minutes 18.85 seconds.

Kim Linehan, also of the University of Texas, captured the women's 400-meter freestyle in a record 4:15.27. Linehan, who also won the 800-meter freestyle on Monday, was followed by the Soviet Union's Irina Laritscheva in 4:15.50 and Hanna Sherri of Stanford University in 4:21.01.

The Soviet Union took the men's 400-meter medley relay in a Games record 3:48.75. The United States was second in 3:49.55 and Brazil third in 3:55.10.

Daniel Machek won the men's 400-meter freestyle in a record-setting 3:58.08, collecting Czechoslovakia's first gold medal of the Games.

The United States dominated events throughout the week-long swimming competition at the outdoor August 23 swimming pool, winning 16 gold medals to the Soviet Union's 10.

"It's been a good week — the whole team's done really well," said head Coach Nor Thorton of the University of California. "But wait until you see some of their times next month."

The U.S. Nationals will be held in Milwaukee in August.

Negotiators Return For Continued Bargaining

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's negotiators were scheduled to return to the bargaining table today after a seventh-inning stretch of sorts that consumed most of the seventh week of the strike by major league players.

Marvin Miller, director of the Major League Players Association, returned from Los Angeles Wednesday night after briefing some 75 players on the status of the negotiations. Ray Grebey and the owners' Player Relations Committee already were here where the 26 club owners also met Wednesday, first separately, then jointly for about two hours.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Conference of Mayors got into the act where the federal government has thus far struck out. The mayors sent a telegram to Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn urging the parties to settle the strike.

"As of July 27, the cities have lost a minimum of $10 million in tax revenues," said the telegram, which was signed by Helen Boosalis, mayor of Lincoln, Neb., and president of the Conference of Mayors. "The loss to the cities' economies is in the hundreds of millions."

"This strike must be settled and we will do our part to move the negotiations forward," added Mayor Maynard Jackson of Atlanta.

Today marks the end of the walkout's seventh week — the 49th day — and the first bargaining session since the talks collapsed last Thursday in Washington, D.C., where they were moved at the request of U.S. Labor Secretary Raymond J. Donovan.

While there appeared to be no reason to expect a settlement in the immediate future, both sides kept insisting that they wanted to reach an agreement. The strike has wiped out approximately 25 per cent of the season, which has barely two more months to run.

"No votes were taken, but the overwhelming consensus was that the clubs want to bring the strike to a rapid conclusion and reopen the season," said Ed Fitzgerald of the Milwaukee Brewers, chairman of the board of the PRC. "We hope to achieve that end through the process of collective bargaining."

Watson Disappointed in Performance

OAKVILLE, Ontario (AP) — Tom Watson has had the kind of season most of golf's touring pros dread about — three victories including the Masters and $335,000 in winnings.

Watson is disappointed. "I'm not disappointed in the season, but I am disappointed in the way I've played," Watson said before teeing off today in the first round of the 72nd Canadian Open Championship.

"I've played pretty well at times, but I haven't been nearly as consistent as I'd like," said Watson, who is nearing the end of his season. After this national championship, Watson has only two or three other PGA Tour events on his schedule.

He's running well off his usual pace. In the four previous seasons, he's won a minimum of five tournaments a year, to a high of seven last season.

He's led the tour in winnings in each of the past four seasons. He leads again this year, but Ray Floyd and Bruce Lietzke are within easy striking distance, Floyd with $324,000 and Lietzke with $275,000.

Both Lietzke and Floyd are definite threats to break Watson's 4-year reign as Player of the Year. Each has won three times. A triumph in one of the remaining big-money tournaments, like the Canadian, could put either Lietzke or Floyd ahead, not only in money but also in the race for Player of the Year. The Canadian tournament offers a $72,500 first prize and the spectacular Peter Jackson trophy.

Going into the Canadian Open, Lietzke and Floyd were in a dead heat for low scoring average at 70.10. Tom Kite was at 70.11 and Johnny Miller had 70.33.

Watson, who has led in scoring average three of the past four seasons, is well back in fifth with 70.43 and little chance of making up the difference in his remaining schedule, which also includes next week's PGA championship and the World Series of Golf.

He faces an exceptionally strong field in this national championship.

In addition to Floyd and Lietzke, the key figures are Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino, who is seeking a record-matching fourth Canadian Open title.

Nicklaus, who designed the 7,060-yard, par-71 Glen Abbey Golf Club course in suburban Toronto, has yet to win this national title and ranks it among his major goals.

Some other outstanding performers include Hale Irwin, Jerry Pate, Miller, Kite, U.S. Open champ David Graham of Australia, South African Gary Player and Seve Ballesteros of Spain.

Portions of the final two rounds will be televised nationally in the United States by CBS and in Canada by CTV.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

If there is anything more frustrating to a woman than being married to a man who maintains his closet for all seasons, I don't know what it is.

For centuries, women have gone through a ritual every spring and fall called "The Changing of the Closets."

It's as traditional as pumpkin pie at Thanksgiving. It has the pomp of the changing of the guards at the tomb of the unknown soldier. It's as predictable as the buzzards' return every spring to Hinkley, Ohio.

In the fall, I ceremoniously remove all the sunback dresses, shorts, see-through blouses and open-toed sandals from my closet and store them in boxes in my husband's closet. I replace them with winter dresses, coats, sweaters, long-sleeved blouses and boots.

In the spring, I remove all the winter dresses, coats, sweaters, long-sleeved blouses and boots from my closet, store them in boxes in my husband's closet and replace them with sunback dresses, shorts, see-through blouses and open-toed sandals.

The rite has not changed in 30 years. Somehow, I have never sold my husband on the advantages of playing musical closet.

I do not understand his logic at all. He says:

"If you don't wear something you should throw it away."

"The world will not come to an end if you wear a short-sleeved shirt in November."

"You should never own more than one suit at a time unless you sweat a lot or you eat sloppy."

"There is never a time to wear white shoes. It's either too early or too late."

"Closets and hemorrhoids should never be discussed in a public forum."

"You should dress to be comfortable."

Now, how in the world am I supposed to make a fashion plate out of a man like that?

The other night there was a lull in an argument and I said,

"And I suppose you're not going to change your closet over again for winter."

"I certainly am," he said. "I'm storing some waders, a fatigue jacket, three pink Mexican shirts, four golf sweaters, a beach robe and five pairs of shoes that I'm supposed to keep on with my big toe. I've stored them in your closet."

Sometimes I don't know when to shut up.

Pathologist Gives

Important Testimony

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — A pathologist has supported earlier testimony that slain Amarillo police officer Barry Joe McGuire was lying on the ground when a gunman shot him three times last Christmas night.

Dr. Jose Diaz-Esquivel testified Wednesday in the third day of the capital murder trial of Victor Gutierrez, 24 and his brother, Guadalupe Gutierrez, 20.

The Amarillo pathologist, who performed the autopsy on the slain officer, said the trajectory of the bullet wounds made it inconceivable that McGuire was standing when he was shot three times.

And he said the officer died instantly from massive brain damage caused by a bullet that traveled from the right side of the head to the left ear.

Witness Says He Was Told Of Death Plot

HOUSTON (AP) — A former bail bondsman has testified he might have saved three lives if he had gone to police in 1976 after Markham Duff-Smith told him he was responsible for his adoptive mother's 1975 "suicide."

Duff-Smith is accused of arranging the 1975 strangulation death of his adoptive mother, Gertrude Zabolio. He also is accused of contracting the 1979 shooting deaths of his sister, Diana Wanstrath, her husband and their baby.

In the fourth day of testimony in Duff-Smith's capital murder trial, Donald Wayne Chaline, 34, Wednesday told jurors he was afraid to tell what he knew until he read about the Wanstrath deaths in 1979. "I felt some guilt," Chaline said. "If I'd said something sooner, all of this might not have happened."

Chaline said he sold insurance with Duff-Smith in 1975. The two met for drinks one afternoon, Chaline testified, and Duff-Smith "made a very harsh, brutal statement" as he complained about his financial problems.

"He said, 'I should have my mother killed.' He said it was going to be his money someday anyhow," Chaline said.

After Duff-Smith quit the insurance agency, Chaline said, he did not see him again until 1976, when the two men passed each other driving along a southwest Houston street and pulled over to talk.

Duff-Smith told him "he had gotten someone to kill his mother," Chaline testified. "He laughed about that police thought it was suicide. He thought that was kind of clever."

Asked why he did not go to police then, Chaline said, "I thought maybe I was implicated because of prior knowledge. It was just difficult for me to tell someone about it."

Chaline said after he read about the Wanstrath shootings, he anonymously contacted a newspaper reporter because, he said, "that way, police would investigate and I wouldn't have to get involved."

Wednesday's session ended mid-way through prosecutors' questioning of Chaline. In the hallway, defense attorneys Victor Blaine and Candelario Elizondo said they planned to cast doubt on Chaline's honesty when they got a chance to cross-examine him Thursday.

Mrs. Zabolio's strangulation with a pair of pantyhose was originally ruled a suicide. Then in another strange twist in the story, the 1979 shootings of the Wanstraths officially were ruled a murder-suicide.

But rulings in both cases had to be changed to homicide after Houston detective Johnny Bonds' 19-month investigation of the Wanstrath deaths turned up admitted killers in both the Wanstrath and Zabolio cases.

Two confessed "middle men" — Florida investor Paul MacDonald and one-time associate of Duff-Smith Walter Waldhauser Jr. — have agreed to testify against Duff-Smith in exchange for lighter sentences.

MacDonald already has testified that Duff-Smith "contracted" for the Zabolio killing. But Waldhauser, who was to have been a key witness, may not be called to testify after all.

Prosecutors will not say why, but defense attorneys say Waldhauser has said he intends to perjure himself.

State District Judge Wallace Moore said if Waldhauser does not testify, he may have "blown his agreement" with prosecutors.

National Briefs

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Amway Corp. has been ordered to pay $180,000 to a girl who was raped by a door-to-door salesman.

A Superior Court jury Monday found Amway liable for the actions of its distributors, even though the company claimed distributors are independent contractors.

According to court records, the girl was 12 when she opened the door to an Amway salesman Oct. 4, 1976. The records said the man discovered the girl was alone and raped her. He since has been declared a mentally disordered sex offender and been treated.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A judge says he will convene a grand jury this weekend to begin looking into the vigilante-style shooting death of a Skidmore man who angered his town by wounding an elderly man.

Boone County Circuit Judge Frank Conley said Tuesday the jury will begin Saturday to investigate the July 10 death of Kenneth Rex

McElroy, 45. McElroy was shot to death as a crowd of 60 people surrounded his truck outside a tavern. A few weeks early, McElroy was convicted of wounding the town's elderly grocer.

NEW YORK (AP) — The number of people who believe Jews "have a lot of irritating faults" has declined nearly 50 percent in the past 17 years, a new poll says.

The national poll, commissioned by the American Jewish Committee and released Tuesday said bias against Jews in America is falling "as an older, more anti-Semitic generation" is replaced by a younger one.

Ruth Clark, vice president of Yankelovich, Skelly and White which did the poll, said 45 percent of the 1,041 non-Jews interviewed were "relatively free of anti-Semitic beliefs" compared with 34 percent in a similar 1964 study. It said the number who believe Jews have irritating faults dropped from 48 percent to 29 percent.

Gasohol Being Phased Out By Major Gasoline Retailer

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A major gasoline retailer that moved to the forefront of marketing gasohol during 1979 motor fuel shortages has begun phasing out the alternative fuel after less than two years.

Gasohol, a 10 percent to 90 percent mixture of alcohol and unleaded gasoline, was touted as one promising answer to U.S. dependence on foreign oil during the gas-line days of 1979.

The Sigmor Corp., the nation's largest gasoline retailer whose sales topped $1 billion for the first time last year, had pledged one of the largest commitments to gasohol in the United States when it announced plans to market the alternative fuel in November 1979.

But Sigmor officials said an abundance of gasoline has cut drastically into the popularity of gasohol, which now accounts for only 1 percent to 2 percent of vehicle fuel sales in the United States.

Gasohol costs a few cents more per gallon than unleaded gasoline, but company officials say it has a higher octane rating that reduces engine knock.

During peak sales period, gasohol accounted for 16 to 17 percent of the fuel sales at Sigmor stations, Turner said.

But the stations began experimenting with a premium no-lead fuel which took the place of gasohol in popularity, rising to about 15 percent of sales volume, while gasohol dropped to between 4 and 5 percent, he said.

The fuel was marketed in the San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Austin areas, but was phased out first in Corpus Christi and currently in San Antonio and Austin.

The abundance of gasoline was not the only problem facing gasohol, Turner said.
