Jury Panel Dwindles To Seventy In Murder Case

Three jurors were still needed to complete the jury in the Harold Leo Roberts murder with malice trial here Wednesday afternoon, and only 70 of the original special jury venire of 240 remained to be questioned.

Two jurors were selected Wednesday afternoon to boost the total number to nine.

Thirteen members of the venire were questioned Wednesday morning, but no jurors were selected. Defense attorneys had used up 13 of their 15 challenges, however, but the State still had 12 challenges left. Only 68 members of the venire have actually been questioned, the remaining having been dismissed for cause earlier by Judge Harry Schultz.

Most members of the venire were disqualifying themselves when they voiced opposition to a death penalty, which is possible in the murder trial.

For a while it was feared that defense attorneys might possibly ask a postponement of the case when one of the four defense attorneys, Frank Edwards of Clarksville, suffered what was believed to have been a heart attack Monday night. Edwards, who has not returned to the courtroom since, is reported to be much improved, however, and it is believed that he did not actually suffer a heart attack, but rather a severe attack of indigestion.

Roberts is charged with the murder of his 17-month-old daughter, Nita Marie, Aug. 21, 1954. A Moore County jury returned the first death sentence in the history of the county in the case, but the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin ordered a new trial after reviewing the case.

When an attempt was again made to try the case in Moore County it was impossible to get a jury and the case was transferred to Stratford. Again a jury could not be secured, and Judge Schultz ordered the case transferred here.

Veniremen who disqualified during the first three days of the trial here were told to report back for more jury duty March 12. Another murder case, that of Clifton D. Potts, who is charged in the shooting death of George Thompson, and a rape and incest case against J. L. Wozencraft have been set on that date.

Members of the jury selected by noon Wednesday were W. J. Messick, Clyde Truly, Hicks Robinson, Steve Clements, Irving Alexander, Ellis Coombes, Frank Walterscheid, Dean Robbs and Curtis Barclay.

So That The Big Shots May Know

Representatives of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association who are now in Washington are making sure that persons that they call on can never again ask, "What is grain sorghum?"

Having run across that question more and more, R. G. Peeler of Hereford, president; and Melvin Glantz and Frank Moore, both of Plainview, arranged to have a special calling card made—it is a 1 1/2 by 2 1/2 inch plastic bag filled with grain sorghum. It has an attached note telling what it is and how much is grown by how many people.

DURING TEXAS PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK

Parents And Friends Of Local School To Return To Classes

Parents and friends of the Hereford Public Schools will be trooping back to the classroom next Monday through Thursday as special events are planned for them in all local schools in observance of Texas Public Schools Week, March 5-10. The local observance will center on the four-day span, since school will be dismissed on Friday, when teachers will attend the annual meeting of District Nine, Texas State Teachers Association, in Amarillo.

Highlighting special activities planned for the week are "Back to School Night," scheduled for Tuesday at the high school, and open house the same night at Stanton Junior High School. Each parent of a high school student is scheduled to receive an invitation including his child's program for the day. Activities will begin with an assembly in the auditorium at 7:30, when instructions for the evening's program will be given. Then parents and friends who are present will meet classes on a 10-minute schedule, with 15 minutes allowed for the first period, when the regular devotional will be given over the intercommunication system. One departure from the regularly enrolled students' schedule will be the serving of refreshments during a social hour in the gymnasium following the class periods.

All who are interested are being given an invitation to visit regular high school classes on Monday and Tuesday and to attend a special assembly featuring high school talent on Thursday. Visitors will be welcome on Wednesday and Thursday, Principal Beck Overall said, but they might be disappointed in that six weeks' tests will be given at that time.

The same condition prevails at Stanton Junior High School, according to Principal W. C. Quattlebaum. Special invitations are being extended to visitors during the first two days of the week, since examinations will be given on Wednesday and Thursday. All patrons and friends of the junior high school are being extended an invitation to visit the school during the open house hour on Tuesday night from 7 to 8 o'clock, when all teachers will be in their home rooms to greet them and to discuss with them the school's program.

Students of the junior high school will present an assembly program in their auditorium at 10:20 Tuesday morning. All who are interested are urged to attend, Quattlebaum said.

Principals of all schools are inviting parents and friends to eat at the cafeterias at the regular adult price of 35 cents per plate during the week. See Page 2

Colonel Williams Buried Tuesday

Burial rites for Colonel W. S. Williams, 87, of Amarillo were held here Tuesday afternoon in West Park Cemetery, under the direction of the Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Home.

Funeral services were held previously in the San Jacinto Methodist Church with Dr. H. Clyde Smith, pastor, conducting the service. He was a former Hereford resident and was well-known here.

Palbearers were J. R. McDowell, Harvey Cliver, Earl Shelton, Earl Price, Willie Thornton and Frank McMahan.

Precinct Judges Are Named By County Commissioners

Naming of voting precinct judges took up most of the time at the regular meeting of the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court here Monday, but Commissioners also discussed a right-of-way dispute and the possibility of reviewing all county insurance.

Presiding judges for the 10 precincts were named and judges appointed. The group met with Charles R. Sowell to discuss property needed for highway right-of-way purposes. No agreement was reached, however.

City Ordered To Pay $8,000 In Highway 51 Suits

A special commission Tuesday awarded two Hereford firms $4,000 each in a condemnation hearing involving the City of Hereford. Hereford Potato Growers Association and Dudley Green and Archie Scott were both awarded $4,000 for their property on Highway 51 near the Santa Fe crossing. The City filed condemnation suits against them after a settlement could not be reached. The Potato Growers property is located on the east side of the highway and Green and Scott's property on the west side. Both sides have 10 days to file an appeal of the commission's ruling. If an appeal is filed, the case will be heard in County Court.

Mrs Donald Dies In St. Louis, Mo.

Word was received here Wednesday morning of the death of Mrs. Charles Donald, formerly of Hereford, who died in a nursing home in St. Louis, Mo., Tuesday afternoon. She was 76 years old.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Hardeston-Cole Funeral Home in Fort Worth. Mrs. Donald is survived by one daughter, Mrs. ... Continued On Page 2

Underground Water Rights At Vets' Park Granted City

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion voted two to one Monday night in favor of granting the City of Hereford underground water rights in most of Veterans' Park.

The vote came following a joint meeting of the two veterans' groups with members of the City Commission, Frank Gyles Jr., chairman of the Veterans Park Board, served as moderator during the meeting, and M. R. Smith Jr., consulting city engineer; Cecil Massey, city manager; Ernest Langley, city attorney; and Henry Sears, mayor, also spoke to the group.

In gaining the permanent water rights, the City agreed to pay one-fourth cent per thousand gallons of water used to the Park Board, such money to be used only for the improvement of Veterans' Park. The City also agreed on a minimum payment of $150 per well, per year.

Town Wide Census To Be Conducted Sunday Afternoon By Local Churches

Plans were today complete for the town-wide church census which will be sponsored here Sunday afternoon by the Ministerial Alliance.

"The census drive will begin at 1:30 o'clock and will continue on through 3:30 o'clock," said Don Root, minister of the First Christian Church and publicity chairman for the drive. He also pointed out that all churches in Hereford will participate in the enumeration campaign.

"The town has been divided into zones with each church responsible for particular areas," said Bob Lawrence, organization chairman. "Plans are to complete the enumerations during the two hour drive. Representatives of each church will then meet at 9 o'clock Monday morning and distribute the cards."

Rev. Russell Pogue, president of the Ministerial Alliance, said that the pastors and churches definitely appreciate past cooperation on the part of the public, and that the group wishes to thank each individual for such splendid cooperation.

Around Town

Talk Around Town this week mainly concerned two things: the Roberts murder trial and damages from last week's dust storm. Many smiling faces were coming down the courthouse steps Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday following the owner's dismissal from jury duty. Farmers were not smiling.

SWEETHEART AND BEAU—Donna Sue Guseman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Guseman, and Bill Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Johnson, were named sweetheart and beau at the annual Future Homemakers of America sweetheart party held recently. Both are juniors in Hereford High School. (Staff Photo) reservations be made through the children by 9 o'clock on the day they wish to visit the cafeteria so that necessary preparations may be made. At Central School parents and friends are being invited by grades to eat at the cafeteria. The schedule is for first grade on Monday, second grade on Tuesday, third grade on Wednesday and the fourth grade on Thursday.

Visitation during classes will be stressed in the fifth grade, according to L. C. Thomas, principal. As nearly as possible the regular schedule of work will be carried on, and invitations are being extended to all who are interested to visit at any time from Monday through Thursday.

At Central School, the chief emphasis is being placed on visitation at the cafeteria, but parents and friends are being invited and urged to visit their children's rooms throughout the week. D. C. Martin, principal, reports.

Members of the Rotary Club will hold their regular luncheon meeting at Shirley School Cafeteria on Monday. Principal Dan Trew reveals. The program for the day will be given by fourth graders under the direction of Mrs. Charles Hodges. A surprise for the Rotarians is being planned, too, the principal confided. Following the luncheon, the men will be taken on a tour of the schools by Supt. Fred Cunningham.

The Optimist Club will hold its regular luncheon meeting in the Shirley School Cafeteria, also on Tuesday. The program will be presented by school officials, who will conduct the group on a tour of the school plant at the conclusion of the meeting.

Special school programs will be given at other civic clubs during the week. Mr. Cunningham reports. He will speak today to the Kiwanis Club on "School Problems We Face Tomorrow." A musical program from the school will be presented for the Kiwanians next Thursday.

Dr. Morris Wallace, head of the Education Department at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Lions Club next Wednesday. He served as a consultant to the present Whitehouse Conference on Education and Youth and will give a report on that conference in his appearance at the local service club.

Plans have been completed for the meeting of a citizens study group to be held in the high school library at 2:30 next Wednesday. At that time approximately 30 laymen and teachers will gather to discuss seven questions on school for tomorrow. Dr. Wallace will serve as resource person and consultant for that meeting. He is serving as district director for the "Schools of Tomorrow" discussions. The local group will send recommendations from the local meeting and representatives to the district meeting in Lubbock later in March.

On Tuesday Miss Margaret Leverett of the second grade at Shirley School will be teaching a group of children in the show window at Dub's Man's Shop. Shirley School is making elaborate preparations to make visitors welcome during the week, the principal said. A reception committee of pupils will be in the hall to welcome and direct visitors at all hours. Children will serve as hosts in each room, where guests will be asked to register in books prepared by the children.

The school principals point out that every effort will be made to carry on a regular schedule of work during the week so that patrons who visit can get a first-hand view of the instructional program of the school. While they encourage consultation between parents and teachers throughout the school year, they suggest that parents wishing to confer with teachers on some particular problem make arrangements to do so at another time.

On Thursday night at 7:30 the Hereford Parent-Teacher Association will hold a special meeting in observance of Texas Public Schools Week. Supt. Cunningham will address the group, and Robert Wagner, president of the school board, will present awards to the teachers who have served in the system for 10 years or more. Recognition will be given also to the members of the board and former board members.

Sunday's Brand will carry a special section honoring local schools.

however. Checking over damages to cropland, many reported that Friday's storm was the worst in many years.

There has been a lot of talk around town concerning fishing at Guaythos, Mexico, but the Hodges have come up with the top story. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hodges Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Aubyn Hodges and Julian Johnson returned Saturday from Guaythos and reported they brought home 600 pounds of rock bass, sweet mouths and red snappers. Altogether, they report, they caught about 1000 pounds of fish. They said they saw Neil Cooper's car, but "were too busy counting our fish to stop and listen to their hard luck stories."

Regular meeting of the Hereford Merchants Association is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom.

The Scout leaders training program will begin Thursday night at the High School building in room 101. Everyone interested has been asked to be present at 7:30 p.m.

Friday is final day to make application for emergency feed. Faust Collier, ASC manager, reminded farmers Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Brumley are visiting in Tucson, Ariz., where they expect to remain three to four weeks. They drove to Midland Feb. 18, where Mrs. Brumley visited their daughter while Mr. Brumley went to Houston to attend a stockholders meeting of the Federal Land Bank. Following his return, they went to Tucson.

CARD OF THANKS
St. Joseph's Mission, in the name of the needy people living at the labor camp at Hereford, wishes to acknowledge with profound thanks the generous donation of $50 by the Ladies of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary. These kind ladies donated the money for the purchase of food supplies in order to help the most needy families at a time when the need is greatest. May they be abundantly rewarded for this kind gesture, and may these poor families long remember the kindness of these good ladies.

Gratefully,
Father Raymond

EIGHTY-NINE YEAR OLD TWINS — Eller Buchanan, left, and Ellen Whitten think they may be the oldest living twins in Texas. The 89-year-old ladies live in Blossom and are still spry and able to do their own housework. (AP Photo)

T. P. Hannegan from St. Paul, Minn., visited several days in the home of his sister, Mrs. John Gaetz. From here Mr. Hannegan expects to go to Wichita Falls where he will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gaetz, then continue on to California to visit other relatives. This is Mr. Hannegan's third visit here and he says "He loves these great plains here because it resembles the states he knows so well, Montana and North and South Dakota."

GOOD REASON
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—An escapee from the Arizona State Hospital was picked up and returned to custody at the mental institution. Police asked him why he escaped. He replied, with admirable sanity: "I wanted to."

CAME CLEAN
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Robert L. Manley pleaded guilty to indictments of four burglaries at a laundry. Dist. Judge Edmund Duggan asked him why he picked on that particular place. "I had a grudge against the laundry," Manley said. "I went there one day just past closing time and the man wouldn't give me my clothes." Duggan gave Manley 10 years.

ELLIS CHILE GOOD! BETTER! BEST!

SET BACK FOUR DAYS
BOSTON (AP)—A television dealer went to a Texas Tower to install a TV set. The tower is a huge radar station in the process of completion 110 miles off Cape Cod. Darrell Roberts expected to complete installation in two days but foul weather made it impossible for a tug to take him off for six days.

FAMILY OF CUTHROATS
NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—Operation Culbertson went off without a hitch—only the six Culbertsons involved couldn't talk about it. The operation was on their tonsils. Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Culbertson decided if one of the kids had to have his tonsils removed the others might as well follow suit. Grinning but finding it hard to talk were: Don Jr., 15; Judith, 13; Beverly, 12; Michael, 11; Karen, 10; and David, 8.

PUBLIC BURGLARY
HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Police have been unable to solve the mystery of a $5,000 diamond burglary in a downtown jewelry store although the crime apparently occurred before hundreds of Helena shoppers. The bold burglar snatched the loot from a display window between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. Passersby evidently thought the person was an employe changing the window, police said.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A woman who had to stand up, wouldn't pay her city bus fare. "When I sit, I pay. When I stand, I don't," she said. She didn't, either.

Home Assumes Civic Responsibility Is P-TA Topic At Monday Meeting

"The Home Assumes Civic Responsibility" was the topic discussed at the regular Parent-Teacher meeting in the high school auditorium Monday evening by a panel led by George Heard. Panel members were Mrs. V. E. Dodson, a high school teacher who was one of the first women in this county to serve on a jury; Mrs. Curtis Traweck, district Republican committeewoman; Hugh Bookout from the Rotary Club; and Loyd Lovel, representing the Kiwanis Club.

"Women should not be afraid of jury service," Mrs. Dodson commented. "I am one woman who will admit voting for that amendment, and I am glad to have been taken out of the classification with incompetents," she declared.

Mrs. Traweck stressed the importance of precinct and county political conventions and warned that citizens who refuse to participate in them lose their only chance to have a say in the nomination of candidates for their party. She observed that parents can set a pattern for their children by showing interest in politics from the community to the national level.

In discussing youth projects of the Kiwanis Club, Lovel told of sponsoring boy and girl scout troops and of their work in supplying eye care for underprivileged children. Bookout discussed the Rotary Club's exchange student program, which is operating throughout the world.

During the business meeting the association went on record as favoring the organization of local Parent-Teacher units in all local schools. The principal of each school was asked to make arrangements for calling a meeting of his school patrons to effect preliminary organization in the near future.

It was announced that the regular P-TA meeting in March will be cancelled in order for the group to hold a special session next Thursday evening at 7:30 in observance of Texas Public Schools Week. At that time Supt. Fred Cunningham will be the principal speaker, Robert Wagoner, president of the School Board, will officiate as service pins will be presented to teachers having 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30 years' service in the local school system. Recognition also will be given to citizens who have served on the School Board.

County Historical Committee Should Have Easy Time

The seven members of the Deaf Smith County Historical Survey Committee shouldn't have any trouble at all compiling a complete and correct history of the county; for together they have lived here a total of 410 years.

That point was brought out Saturday afternoon when the committee met for the first time and elected Will Harris as permanent chairman, C. R. Smith as assistant chairman and Clara Shore as secretary.

Members of the Committee have spent an average of almost 59 years in the county. J. C. Cox has been a Deaf Smith County resident the longest, having come here in 1887. C. R. Smith came here in 1890, Clara Shore in 1891, Corinne Neeley in 1900, Byrle Elliston in 1902, and Will G. Harris and Cecil Williams in 1906.

Committee chairmen were named by the executive committee at the meeting. Heading the Historical Sites and Landmarks Committee is J. C. Cox. Mrs. Neeley heads the Historical Papers and Documents Committee, Elliston is chairman of the Relics Committee, Mrs. Williams the Park Committee and Mrs. Shore the School Committee.

C. R. Anthony Co. Adopts New Profit Sharing Program

Pursuing and extending its established progressive policy, C. R. Anthony Company, by action of its stockholders in annual meeting at Oklahoma City, adopted on Feb. 23 a Profit-Sharing Plan and a Stock Issue Plan for the benefit of its qualifying employees. Paul Harvey, manager for the company at Hereford, announced today.

Based upon 20 percent of the Company's annual profits after taxes, with certain deductions for costs and capital requirements, the Profit-Sharing Plan provides that one-half of the profits to be shared shall be paid out annually direct to qualifying employees below the level of store manager with the other half to be paid annually to a Trustee to provide retirement and other deferred benefits for all qualifying employees. Employees become eligible to share after one year's service and will contribute no money to the Plan.

The Employees' Stock Issue Plan will make it possible for every employee to acquire for cash or upon installment basis up to 25 shares of the Company's capital stock. Employees' payments on uncompleted installment purchases will be refunded with interest.

Mrs. Rueben Knox and children, Rosiland, Ralph and Rosemary, left Sunday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Prickett, in Dill City, Okla.

Three Honored At IOOF Meeting Held Saturday

Patriarchal degrees were conferred on three candidates here Saturday night at the monthly District meeting of the District 18 IOOF Encampment.

Degrees were conferred on Jim Loving, James Moody and E. E. Bishop. There were 48 members present with seven encampments represented. District 18 is made up of four Encampments, Amarillo, Borger, Pampa and Hereford. Three visiting encampments were Needmore, Odessa and Clovis, N. M. Nine were here from Amarillo, four from Borger, seven from Pampa, three from Needmore, two from Odessa, three from Clovis, and 20 from Hereford.

State officers who were present for the meeting included Willis Severe, grand patriarch, of Odessa; Ben Conklin, grand senior warden, of Hereford; H. E. Hoffnagle, grand marshal, of Odessa; H. L. Schuster, district deputy grand patriarch, of Amarillo; Raymond Gage, grand warden of Grand Lodge of Texas, of Needmore; and B. R. Patton and Monroe Timmons, past grand patriarchs, of Clovis, N. M.

Grand Patriarch Severe made a talk on his program for the coming year and other talks were made by Conklin, Gage, Patton and Timmons.

Mrs. Brad Lookingbill of Plainview spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Glen Hopson.

Area-Wide Youth Meeting To Be Held Here Friday

The young people of the Hereford Church of Christ will be host Friday night to a large number of young people of the Panhandle who will meet for an area-wide meeting at 7:30. About 300 high school boys and girls are expected for the event.

The religious service will be conducted at the church building with Leon Roberts making the welcome address. The song service will be under the direction of John Rowland.

Guest speaker for the special cordial invitation to attend.

youth meeting will be Chaplain Gerald O. Fruzia of the Amarillo Air Force Base. Prior to his coming to Amarillo last July, Chaplain Fruzia was stationed in French Morocco for 30 months. He had previously served five years in the Panama Canal Zone. He has been described as a "very interesting speaker, one who has the interest of young people at heart."

After the church service, a fellowship will be held at the Shirley School cafeteria. Larry Kelly, a popular young pantomimist of Amarillo, will present a 45 minute pantomimic program. There will be other activities to promote fellowship among the group, after which refreshments will be served.

All local young people have a special cordial invitation to attend.

CONSERVATION was the program subject for members of the Home Demonstration club who appeared on the program at the Federated Women's Club luncheon meeting at the Methodist Church Feb. 24. On the left is Mrs. Bill Dunn, who described the Heart Kitchen set up at A. & M. College when she was a delegate to a THDA meeting there several years ago. Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr., conservation chairman, is seated next to her and to Mrs. Jacobsen's right is Mrs. Ira Ott, Wyche H. D. Club member who introduced those on the program. Mrs. Bess Werner, Westway H. D. Club (right) talked on Heart Care, a topic she has been asked to present to a number of other organizations in recent meetings. Mrs. C. A. Saulcy, Westway, also was on the program. (Staff Photo)

Mrs. Cox Gives Annual Report Of Federation

Mrs. Alice Cox, chairman of the County Federation of Women's Clubs has compiled the following report of the year's work.

The Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs is composed of 23 clubs, representing State Federated Study Clubs, other Study Clubs, Home Demonstration Clubs, Music Clubs and Garden Clubs. The purpose or object of this federation is to unite these clubs into closer contact for mutual benefit in keeping with the Texas and General Federation of Women's Clubs as they apply to this county.

The programs for the year's work are planned and given in quarterly luncheons and closed with a tea. These programs are headed under departments, with a chairman that provides special speakers. This year the departments chosen by the executive committee were: Communications, Mrs. P. B. Sowell; American Home and Heritage, Mrs. Lee Benefield; Conservation, Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr.; Youth, Mrs. Elmer Patterson; and Fine Arts, Mrs. H. A. Close.

All Clubs take part in being hosts during the year.

Guest speakers for this year were:

Dr. Glendenning spoke on Mental Health.

Mrs. D. H. Alexander spoke on Indians of Texas.

Mrs. F. L. Alexander and Camp Fire Girls in Cereemonial.

Sgt. Higginbotham, of Amarillo Air Base, Civil Defense. Also a film. Assisted by James R. Kirkwood, Texas highway patrolman.

Alex Thompson showed film on child delinquency.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, district chairman of communications.

Virgil Moore, press.

Clint Formby, radio.

Francis Hardwick, movies.

Miss Roberta Campbell, news reporting.

Dr. M. C. Adams, chairman of Toastmaster's Club, Constitution of the United States.

Attorney Bruce Miller, "Inconsistency of Political Parties."

Sidney Fuller, "Constitution, a Product of Evaluation."

Virgil Dodson, spoke on "Criticism."

Mrs. M. T. Rutter, Cecil Massey, City Manager, and Mrs. Alice Cox took part in a 15 minute radio program during Safety Week. All club ladies had a part in telephoning people of this county to drive carefully.

The Shadow Players gave a skit on Committee Meeting.

Friendship Day was observed last March. Taking part were: Mrs. P. B. Sowell, chairman, Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr., Mrs. Alex Thompson, Mrs. Tom Draper, Mrs. O. G. Hill, Mrs. Will S. Kerr and Mrs. M. T. Rutter.

Special music was furnished by Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, Mrs. Cecil Parker, Mrs. Frankie Ridgeway, Mrs. O. H. Culpepper, Mr. Taylor Sims, Mrs. Wayne Thomas, Mrs. J. T. Sims and Miss Glenna Gault.

Deaf Smith Home Demonstration Choral Club sang, and the High School Girls Quartet sang.

Both District and State Convention were attended and reported.

A shrub was given, to be planted at the new high school building. A $10 tuberculosis bond was bought and $10 was donated to the Camp Fire fund.

Home Demonstration Clubs In Area Make Up Postponed Meets

Disrupted schedules due to bad roads caused some of the Home Demonstration Club programs to be reported later than planned in yearbooks. Clubs reporting are:

SOUTH HEREFORD

"The Living Room is a family room" Argen Draper, CHDA, told members of the South Hereford Home Demonstration Club who met with Mrs. S. S. Williams Feb. 21, for a program on "Purpose of the Living Room."

DAWN

Mrs. LaNor Tooley led a group discussion on "Health and Safety" and "Heart Care" when members of the Dawn H. D. Club met with her recently.

Some of the points brought in the discussion were that after learning good driving habits one must also practice them.

Drivers should protect each other and watch the car behind the car in front of you and avoid hurry as a contributing factor to heart trouble.

Those attending the meeting were: Mesdames Marion Russell, Walter Galley, Jim McCabe, A. L. Bell, Payne, H. S. Fuller, Zed Stewart, Walter Beavers, Muri Little and the hostess.

WYCHE

Health and safety was the program subject for the members of the Wyche H. D. Club who met with Mrs. H. L. Ward Feb. 18.

Roll call was answered with one of the suggestions in the yearbook.

Mrs. Howard Hill acted as leader and introduced the program and speakers. Mrs. W. P. Axe discussed "Care of the Heart."

"It is much easier to prevent heart trouble than to cure it," Mrs. Axe told the group. She also pointed out that general care in our daily household tasks can minimize the strain on the heart. Some of the things listed were: avoid worry about things you can't help allow yourself enough time to do things so you don't have to rush madly at the last minute; keep your weight normal; plan work so you do not get over-tired or have to rush yourself to get a job done; avoid lifting or carrying heavy objects; and avoid running up and down stairs.

Mrs. Ira Ott talked on "Regular Physical Examinations." The speaker pointed out that the proper time for physical check-ups by the family doctor should be made when the person is feeling well because they make better patients and will avoid fear. Complete physical examinations should be given persons under 35 every two or three years and over that age every six months to one year she concluded.

Mrs. C. R. Darnon, president, presided over the business meeting at which time it was announced

Plain Bread Muffins Are Studied By Caprock Club

The Caprock 4-H Club met Feb. 13 in the Adrian School lunch room.

The meeting was called to order by Kathleen Kromer, president. Roll was called by Cynthia Kromer, secretary and the 4-H Trail was led by Carol Fortenberry.

The demonstration on "Plain Bread Muffins" was given by Mrs. Dorothy Prowell, assistant H. D. agent.

Several members were absent including Jany Taylor, Glenda Homfeld and Glenda Fuhrman.

Refreshments were served by Kathy Kromer, hostess, to: Carole Fortenberry, Cynthia Kromer, Mrs. Prowell and Mrs. Kromer.

The next meeting will be March 7 at the school.

Walcott 4-H

The Walcott 4-H Club met Feb. 24 for a make-up meeting. The leader was Mrs. Glenn Burrus. The meeting was called to order by Mary Dufur. Members present were Mary Dufur, Mary Kay Pruitt, Genelle Weaver, Katherine Burrus, Royce Lee Pruitt, Betty Lockhart, Edna Stewart, Cecelia Burrus and Mrs. Glenn Burrus. Discussion was held about their 4-H record book.

After the meeting was adjourned Betty Lockhart and Mary Kay Pruitt served refreshments.

Sadie Lee 4-H

The Sadie Lee 4-H Club met Friday afternoon at the Westway community house. Mrs. T. B. Thomas gave the program on record books. The business meeting was brief due to the weather. Sandra Green led the group in the Club ritual. Carol Rickman led the Club song. Each member answered the roll call with some item concerning the record book. The record book was discussed as a major project. A good record book counts much when entering the bake show and the dress reviews.

Ice cream sticks were served to Nancy Green, Diedra Thomas, Sandra Green, Carol Ann Rickman, Mary Lynn Morrison, Sandra Campbell, Mrs. T. B. Thomas, leader and Deborah Thomas, a visitor.

New H. D. Council President Chosen

Mrs. T. J. Parsons was named new Texas Home Demonstration chairman for Deaf Smith County at an election that followed the regular Home Demonstration Council meeting at the Veterans Club House Feb. 27.

Mrs. Dwaine Walker, Mrs. Cecil Boyer and Mrs. M. W. Sumner were elected as delegates to the District THDA meeting to be held in Hereford in April and Mrs. Bob Howard and Mrs. Johnnie Caraway were named as alternates.

Mrs. N. A. Brown, chairman, presided at the business meeting and called for committee reports. Those reporting were: Mrs. L. J. Straufuss, finance; Mrs. Paul Hoff, yearbook; Mrs. Alice Cox, expansion; Mrs. Dwaine Walker, recreation; Mrs. R. C. Childers, marketing; Mrs. Earl DeHart, reporters; Mrs. Taft McGee, chorus; Mrs. Dorothy Prowell, 4-H; and Mrs. A. E. Hodges, THDA.

Final plans were made for the district meeting with Mrs. Hodges in charge of the discussion. Club presidents were asked to serve as a committee to register delegates and guests. Lunch tickets were distributed to club presidents for sale of those wishing to attend the luncheon. Mrs. Alice Cox, Mrs. Earl DeHart and Mrs. R. C. Childers presented designs for badges which were accepted by the group.

Roberta Campbell announced that only four clubs participated in the newspaper fund raising contest and that North Hereford Club won with more sales than the other three combined.

Mrs. DeHart reminded club reporters about getting in material for the special edition of The Hereford Brand for the District THDA meeting and a deadline of March 15 was set. Reports are to be sent to Roberta Campbell at the Hereford Brand and may be mailed in or delivered to The Brand office.

Those attending were: Mesdames Tom Draper, Dorothy Prowell, Elmo Hall, R. C. Childers, Edgar Telchik, M. W. Summers, Grady Parsons, Earl DeHart, H. S. Fuller, Marion Russell, Zed Stewart, Cecil Payne, LeRoy Williamson, L. J. Straufuss, Dwaine Walker, R. J. Coleman, Ernest Brown, N. A. Brown, S. N. Thweatt, Roberta Campbell, Paul Hoff, A. E. Hodges, T. J. Parsons, Taft McGee, Cecil Boyer, W. H. Goetsch, A. E. Douglas, Alice Cox, Bess Werner, C. C. Ellis and C. R. Darnon.

and Frankie gave a declamation. Other high school students appearing on the program were: Mary Ruth Oswald and the Girls Quartet, who sang several numbers. Singers in the quartet are Mary Anne Young, Clydene Allred, Carla Sue Crosthwait and Molly Price. (Staff Photo)

Junior Red Cross Sends Gifts To Foreign Lands

Pencils, paper, soap, toys, tooth paste, combs and just about anything else you can think of, were contributed to the Junior Red Cross recently at a talent show at High School.

About $25 was contributed to the worthy cause, reported Mrs. Billye Buck, this year's sponsor.

In exchange for the Red Cross boxes given each year, many foreign countries have sent HHS a collection of different hand-made gifts—the majority of these are made of straw—bright materials. They include shoes, strainers, dolls, fans and other articles. Gifts have been received from Guam, Samoa, Iran, the Philippines and other countries, thanking HHS for their Junior Red Cross boxes.

Enough material was given this year to fill about 50 boxes for the Junior Red Cross, which will be about the same as last year's contribution from Hereford High School.

Club members present were: Mesdames C. D. Kelton, S. S. Williams, W. S. Fluit, Jeff Gilbreath, E. Ramey, R. L. Crisswell, John Jacobsen Jr., W. C. Hromas, E. W. Young, M. T. Rutter, Ralph McCullough, Glenn Boardman and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand Morton are the proud parents of a baby boy, Gary Lynn, born Feb. 23. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Morton, Hereford and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sims of Happy.

Farmers in the United States use more than 60 percent of the world's tractors.

Recital Slated For Sunday, Mar. 4

Pupils from the piano class of Mrs. Ellis Coombes will be presented in public recital on Sunday March 4, in the afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Christian Church. The program will be made up of selections to be played in the West Texas State College Piano Festival scheduled for on March 10, and at the National Federated Music Festival to be held in Hereford March 17.

Those who will appear are Virginia Krumbain, Mary Culp, Lois Christman, Nina Mae Gragg, Maribeth Gilliland, Kaye Shirley, Sheri Patterson, Linda Russell, Dorothy Williams, Donna Rae Williams, Joyce Linderer, Kay Packerd, Carlyn Williams, Phyllis Sumner, Betty Scott, Joan Brown, Dianne and Nannetta Clearman.

Ushers will be Paul Christman, Billy Krumbain, Kaye Lynn Scott and Verita Sanders.

All persons interested in hearing the students play are invited to attend.

EVIDENCE CONSUMED
MANILA (AP)—Police took a dim view when Cornelio Turlay Guinoto, 21, in jail for impersonating a policeman, slipped into the jail store room and consumed a can of meat and a bottle of gin. Their testimony brought a stiff addition to his sentence. He had consumed all the evidence in another case.

By Argen Draper

The happiest people of the week are Irene and Raymond Holt as they are leaving for Gonzales to visit with Wanda Gail. Her birthday was Feb. 28 and her parents and grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Brownlow, spent the day with her. Incidentally Wanda Gail loves to get cards and letters. Her address is Box 58 in Gonzales.

Ethel Layman came to club wearing a pretty grey broadcloth dress that her youngest son, Jay, had given her for her birthday. He made the selection and it was very becoming to Ethel. She seemed to enjoy having a birthday.

Saturday morning Mrs. Dorothy Prowell, Jack McCracken and I helped Sharon and Jody Beznar plan a yard demonstration. Doc Beznar said the last five inches of snow that melted had 1.45 inches of moisture in it. That's why a lot of people were pleasantly surprised in the amount of moisture received from the snow.

About the trees—we were told at a meeting in Amarillo Friday that more trees had been ordered than this district had been allotted by the Texas Forest Service. I don't know just how the orders will be filled but I'm hoping we get in Deaf Smith all we've ordered. After Friday we see how much a windbreak or hedge will help in stopping some wind and sand. A hedge close to the house would help if you do not have enough room for or to give to a windbreak.

The trees will be delivered by truck soon after March 1. To get ready for the windbreak or to replace trees in the windbreak, the ground should be worked as well as a garden. Trees set on the edge of a ditch will make it easy for irrigating. Plan to protect the seedlings some way when you set them out. Either put cans around the seedlings or shingles to protect them from the wind. Some have put the trees out in the garden in a tree row and have let them grow from a year to three years and then put them in the windbreak. The picture in the paper of Oct. 1, of the tree row out at Augustine Gregory's is a good demonstration of protecting the trees.

Club leaders will give the program in March on Color Schemes in the living room. The programs will be good so I hope there will be good attendance.

Remember the District meeting in Hereford April 5 at the High School Auditorium. Every club woman in Deaf Smith County should plan to attend. This is one meeting when we won't have to do any work. Just go and enjoy the meeting. Congressman Walter Rogers is going to make the main address soon after lunch. There have been times at the District meetings that Deaf Smith County has had more women present than the hostess county. It would be wonderful if we could have at least 200 of our club women present. It's going to be a good one.

Mrs. Ruth Coleman and Mrs. N. A. Brown discussed heart care. Suggestions were made for a fund-raising project but no action was taken. A date is to be reset for the all day quilting postponed due to bad weather.

The opening exercise prize was won by Mrs. Ernest Brown. Mrs. S. N. Thweatt won the floating prize. Refreshments of fruit salad, coffee, cake and punch were served to: Mesdames Fred Northcutt, a visitor and Ruth Coleman, Ernest Brown, N. A. Brown, S. N. Thweatt and the hostess.

Mrs. Bruce Coleman will be hostess at the next meeting on March 1.

RANCE
Mrs. H. G. Behrends was hostess for the Rance H. D. Club Feb. 23.

The program on "Craft" was of so much interest that the members decided to take up a new craft for the year.

A surprise pink and blue shower was given Mrs. Clarence Behrends. The club also voted to serve sandwiches, pie and coffee at the farm sale of L. J. Counselman on March 1.

Members present were: Mesdames George DeLozier, Jack Streun, E. J. Hodges, L. J. Counselman, Clarence Behrends, A. A. Goolsby and Paul Rains, new members, and Mrs. Horace Ewing a visitor from Dimmitt and the hostess.

WESTWAY HD CLUB
The Westway H. D. Club met on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 23. Mrs. P. B. Sowell was hostess, and the club meeting was held at the Westway community house. Argen H. Draper gave the program which was on "Living Room Improvement."

"Considering all the things that are done in the living room we have to consider all the factors when choosing our furniture," she said. "These things were named that are done in some of our living rooms: piano practice, record playing, television, eating (in the dining area), hobbies (knitting and crocheting), painting, children's pets, and all kinds of toys are brought in to be played with. (reading), desk (the business center) or the study area for children) and some women have a sewing center in the living room. We have to have practical fabrics for our upholstery, a suggested fabric that is new and very durable is naugle hide something similar to plastic but has a knitted back."

Each member present decided what kind of project each was going to attempt for the coming year in the living room improvement programs. The additions of bookcases seemed to have the lead and new desks came second.

The makeup meeting for the Heart Program will be made up in March. All members are urged to make plans to attend and invite all neighbors and friends.

Mrs. R. L. Wilson lead the group in a short flower and color ribbon quiz.

Mrs. C. A. Sauley reminded the members of the coming events, the B&PW Style Show and the District meeting to be held in Hereford.

Mrs. L. E. Taylor and Mrs. Dee Johnson were welcomed as new members.

Refreshments were served to: Mesdames Paul Rudd, R. L. Wilson, T. B. Thomas, Joe Waggoner, C. A. Sauley, Jesse Odum, Troy Smith, George Turentine, Bess Werner, Mayo Phipps, Tom Draper, Dee Johnson, L. E. Taylor, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Jesse Odum March 8. The program will be on "Jury Service."

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pinnell arrived Sunday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Pinnell. He is helping Pinnell on the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holden of Amarillo visited Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heaton with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fires of Wellington and Mrs. J. A. Leslie Sr. of Childress visited Sunday with Mrs. Fires' brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Leslie and girls. Mrs. Leslie remained for a longer visit.

Mrs. John Horton and Mrs. John Skaggs visited Sunday afternoon with the R. L. Pinnell family.

The Adrian High School boys attended the Class B. Regional boys' tournament in Canyon Friday.

C. S. Tomlinson of Coleman came Sunday to attend to farming interests. He is staying with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Tomlinson.

Roscoe Pinnell was in Hollis, Okla., last Tuesday on business. Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Odom and children were supper guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kidder of near St. Louis, Mo., left last Wednesday after a five-day visit with her brother, Jess Fincher; her son Jackie Smith; and other relatives.

Dinner guests of Mrs. Hazel Chilton Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Lemke and Mrs. Plum.

The Adrian Junior High basketball teams are entered in the Junior High Tournament at Channing March 1-3.

Mrs. Clyde Williams, Adrian High School English teacher, was ill this week and unable to teach school. Mrs. R. L. Pinnell substituted.

Raymond Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Jones, celebrated his fifth birthday Sunday at a little party given by his parents in their home. Sharon McCown and Timothy Odom were Raymond's guests. Refreshments of cake, ice cream and soft drinks were served.

Adrian School children were held in the school building Friday evening because of the dust. Supper was served to those children who ride school buses and the students had to stay overnight in town with various families because of driving conditions.

The Adrian P-TA met Monday in the school auditorium. In a short business meeting a discussion was held to try to decide on a way of earning money to finance the annual athletic banquet. The final decision was left to the finance committee. Mrs. Hazel Chilton's seventh and eighth grade pupils presented the program. The eighth grade presented "The Writing of the Constitution," enacting the first constitutional convention. The students wrote the script themselves. The seventh grade students presented choral readings. Following the meeting, those present enjoyed refreshments of coffee or cocoa and doughnuts, served by the hostesses, Mesdames Osea Bronniman, Ernest Frank and John Proctor.

Mrs. W. C. Briggs visited in Olton Sunday with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Briggs and son, Jim Bob. Jim Bob was christened at the Methodist Church in Olton Sunday.

LABOR LOST

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A Navy plane reported a 60-foot vessel swamped near Fisherman's Island. Three minutes later a Coast Guard patrol boat was underway to render assistance. Within five minutes a buoy tender was off to help. The Navy sent a helicopter. Then came the embarrassing report: the "swamped" vessel was only the barnacled hull of a long abandoned boat. The buoy tender removed it as a menace to navigation.

Walcott News

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS
Mrs. Herschel Burrus attended a Red Cross training meeting in Hereford Tuesday night.
Mrs. N. A. Brown is Walcott Red Cross chairman. Mrs. Walter Neinst and Mrs. Herschel Burrus are her co-workers. Anyone desiring to make Red Cross donations may see either of these three ladies.

Margaret Burrus and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Collins and Bruce went to see the all school play, "Room for One More," in Hereford High School Auditorium Tuesday night. The Collins family stopped at Westway to see and visit with Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Alston. Mrs. Alston has just recently had surgery in Deaf Smith County Hospital. She is doing nicely.

Three business men, representing the Gideon International, came from Hereford to Walcott School Wednesday afternoon. They gave New Testaments to the fifth and sixth grade children.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boggan from Lamesa spent Thursday night in the O. A. Woods home. Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Boggan are sisters.

Walcott community sure did get a real dirt storm Friday afternoon. Real estate exchanged hands quickly. We seemed to have borrowed some New Mexico soil that day, but we'll probably pay it back soon.

Driving cautiously in the high wind and dirt, our high school bus and driver, S. O. Perkins, arrived at Walcott School about 30 minutes late, but each driver decided to try getting his load of children to their homes. I'm sure each will remember this school bus ride home for some time.

Bob Northcutt drove much of the way with the door of his bus open so he could watch the edge of the black top. He picked up a man whose car stopped along the way. He spent the night in the Northcutt home.

Mrs. Wallace Lumpkins got each child safely home but ran into real trouble returning to her own home. She said, "I could get out of the bus and feel the road, but couldn't see it at all. Lights helped none." Her bus stalled and got stuck. Billy Dameron came along in his pickup. They were about an hour getting a mile to the Herschel Burrus home. Here Mrs. Burrus treated eyes and otherwise helped to relieve pain. About 10 p.m., Wallace Lumpkins went in his car to the Burrus home for his wife. The men folk checked on the school bus, the dirt had blown away from the wheels.

O. A. Woods walked about three-fourths of a mile with Keith Henderson, a second grade boy, to his home after his bus ran into the ditch, since he couldn't see where he was going, and stalled. Mrs. Woods and Dell went to look for husband and father. He got home about 11 p.m. with eyes and head still feeling effects of the dust.

Saturday morning O. A. Woods and Thomas L. Collins went to get his bus. They found it setting knee deep in dirt. They pulled it out and it was taken to the garage to have the dirt cleaned out of the starter, etc.

We agree with the weather broadcasters who said, "In Texas we never do things half-way." So short a time ago we couldn't have school, too much snow on the roads.

Linda Gay Lumpkins was seven years old Saturday. Her mother, Mrs. Wallace Lumpkins, came to school Friday afternoon. She had made a pretty chocolate cake that she brought, which had "Happy Birthday" on top, and there was punch and other party things. Linda's classmates enjoyed a nice party together.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Miller had dinner guests in their home Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dixon of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prahm of Hereford.

At The Movies

VIOLENT SATURDAY

The new CinemaScope drama "Violent Saturday," which will show Friday and Saturday at the Star, has that electric quality found in nature before the break of a summer storm. Pitched to the 24-hour period before a daring bank robbery is effected in a thriving copper mining community, the tenseness is built in the separate studies of the various citizens wrestling with personal problems that are at a point to coincidentally ignite with the violence of the noon holdup.

Leading the cast of eccentric characters is Victor Mature, Richard Egan, Virginia Leith, Tommy Noonan and Sylvia Sidney. Stephen McNally, Lee Marvin and J. Carroll Nash represent the three who bring the end of the world to these people when they riddle their way through Saturday noon.

"Violent Saturday" manages to provide all the suspense features of an out-and-out action drama with the intensity of a psychological melodrama — and it comes off with stunning effect.

THE MCCONNELL STORY
 The heroic and romantic personal story of Capt. Joseph McConnell Jr., is dramatized by Warner Bros. in "The McConnell Story," which will show Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star. Alan Ladd and June Allyson co-star in the CinemaScope and Warner-Color film. James Whitmore also stars.

"The McConnell Story" is an intimate account of America's first triple jet ace, one of the nation's great flying heroes. McConnell was known as a tiger in the sky and the film reportedly depicts the drama and happiness of his life on the ground as well as his moments of flying glory. The film story moved from an army camp in New England, where Pvt. Joe McConnell dreams of being a pilot, to the skies over Korea, where Capt. McConnell flies the most advanced aerial weapon of the day—the Sabre Jet. The story shows McConnell as the impulsive young man who falls in love with and marries the girl he called "Butch."

Garcia News

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT

Friday was some stormy day out and around Garcia. The wind started blowing around 10 a.m. and by 1:30 p.m. you could hardly see any place. By 2 p.m. it was so bad, in places you couldn't see. Mrs. Ruth Coleman started to the club meeting at Elmer Northcutts, she only got one mile west of Bootleg. There she lost all sight of the road and took to the ditch, but no damage was done. Elmer and Fred Northcutt came by and picked her up and she made club.

It was some time during the night the wind and sand stopped and this morning we had a big killing frost.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Northcutt, Jerry and Wanda visited with the Jack Clarks of Sumnerfield last week.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown attended church at Rose Dale, N.M. Sunday. After church they went home with the Joe Heads and had Sunday dinner.

The Raymond Browns have a new baby, another boy, born last week.

Mrs. Johnnie Northcutt is in the Frio Hospital. She was to have surgery Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Brown and son, Larry, of Hereford spent Sunday visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. Bruce Coleman.

Juanita and Tommy Northcutt of Espanola, N. M. are visiting with Jerry and Wanda Northcutt. Their mother underwent surgery in Clovis Hospital Friday.

Charlie Kemp of Snyder visited in the home of Elmer Northcutt three days. He's the father of Mrs. Northcutt.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Coldron and sons, David and Ronnie, of Amarillo spent Sunday visiting in the home of her mother, Mrs. R. J. Coleman.

Mrs. J. V. Mulhore, Peggy and Johnny of Clovis spent Saturday night with the Ernest Browns and then on Sunday, S. B. Pulliam, father of Mrs. Brown came by on his way to White Deer to get Mrs. Pulliam, who was staying with Mrs. I. J. Broxson, sister of Mrs. Brown, and they all accompanied him there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Coleman and boys left Thursday for a few days visit in Oklahoma. They were visiting in Elk City with Coleman's grandmother, Mrs. G. E. Pinkerton and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Pinkerton, in Woodward, and Mrs. Coleman's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Walker, in Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown and son, Tommy, were in Clovis Tuesday and heard the reading of the late C. W. King's will. Mr. King was the father of Mrs. Brown. After hearing the will read they visited in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cleland.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt spent the first of the week in Levelland repairing rent houses, and visiting Mrs. Thweatt's father, J. R. Hagan, and sister, Mattie Lue Hagan.

Mrs. Thweatt became great aunt for the third time while there. Her niece, Mary Loe Howard, presented her with a little niece, born Feb. 21. She weighed six pounds and one-half ounce and they named her Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown and Tommy visited in the home of Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. Clyde Shadix, Sunday.

Messenger H. D. Club met with Mrs. Elmer Northcutt Friday at 2:30. There were five members and one visitor, even though the storm was bad. The next meeting will be March 9 at Mrs. Bruce Coleman's.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and sons, Earl and Roger, visited Mrs. Brown's mother and sister, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sy-Elliot, Suzanne and Willa Jane, and Mrs. Helen Bennett of Happy were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Scott and children.

Mrs. C. W. King and Geneva, Sunday.
 Mrs. Floyd Messenger was in the Hereford Hospital Saturday.

There is probably nothing that makes you feel more stupid than to write a column with a Mexico date line—and then get back home before it gets into print. All day Sunday people stared at me as if I were a ghost. I don't know why, but it sure alters the outlook for the reader. As for me, I know how Cinderella felt when she lost her glass slipper.

The situation, however, is a good example of the Mexican postal service. I wrote the column Sunday, Feb. 19, and posted it "Air Mail" at around 7:30 Sunday night. I was assured that it would leave out on the plane at 8 o'clock Monday morning; by every rule it should have arrived in Hereford on the morning mail Tuesday, since service between Tucson and Arapahoe is plenty fast. Instead, it got to Hereford in the afternoon mail on Friday, Feb. 24.

On top of other things, the stamps cost me $1.25. Fact is, they need Elmer Petterson and some of these other Hereford post office boys down there to reorganize things. In our hotel they would pile out big stacks of mail on the counter and everyone who came along would rummage through the stack. Sort of a helpy-selfy proposition. Certainly Mexico has no traditions about "the mail must go through." The best thing you can say about it is that it is far superior to their telegraph service.

Making a telephone call is another major chore, even if you speaking the language fluently—which we didn't. It took around two hours to get through on a call. They have an absolute policy on "No Collect Calls." This applies to the telegraph as well as to the telephone service.

ABOUT FISHING. . . . It's a different country, different people and different customs, but Mexico has one thing in common with the United States—and this especially applies to the state of Colorado: when you go fishing, it was "always good last week, and they expect it to be good next week. Right now, though, they just aren't biting!" Such, at least, was what happened to the Goodwill Expedition of the six ambassadors from Hereford.

Due to the telegraph service already mentioned, our boat reservations failed to materialize because our telegram was not delivered. We never did locate it, in fact, and we really tried. We did get to go out for two days, however, due to the courtesy and cooperation of Dr. Sid de Betere of Las Alamos. As soon as the doctor found out that we were from Hereford and that we knew Dr. Roy Grubbs, he went all out to help us by changing the schedule of his own party. The two medics worked together in a Denver hospital a couple of years back—and he seemed to think all of the world of Roy.

We took off around 7 o'clock Monday morning—and the longer we stayed out, the rougher things got. We all turned a little white around the gills after an hour or so—and T. J. Clay was the first boy to turn up his toes. The little 27-foot boat was riding swells 8 and 10 feet high with systematic regularity and when it dropped down all you could see was a wall of water on all four sides. To complicate matters, we did not catch a single fish that first day out. This, our "Capitan" said, was due to the weather. Just before dark we anchored in a little cove about 30 miles out from Guaymas to spend the night.

We had slipped eight extra blankets out of our hotel rooms, but during the night all six of us got pretty cold. In addition, the continual rocking of the boat is quite different from being in bed at home—and none of us slept very well.

The second day out we caught our first fish when we hit a small school of Rock Bass. Dale Tinnin hooked a big fish while trolling, and it must have been a whopper because the steel line broke. At least, that is Dale's story—and we are all backing him up. In fact, we have an ironclad agreement that each of us will stand behind anything the other one tells. And we know it will work, because everyone will have to cooperate in self defense. T. J. also hooked a "big one" while we were anchored. The "Capitan" said T. J. apparently caught a small fish, which served as bait for the big one. This one was also lost when the steel line snapped.

Clay had already avowed that no one ever caught fish when he went with them; in fact, took a dim view of the deal, especially after he got seasick. Just hooking this one, however, really changed the boy into a confirmed angler. All in all, we turned out like true Texas fishermen in that the big ones got away. We did come in with some 200 pounds of Red Snapper and Rock Bass, however.

ABOUT GUAYMAS. . . . Despite the fact that you get 125 Mexican dollars (pesos) for an American $10 bill, we continually kept having money troubles. To us, a peso was very much like a piece of toilet paper—and we handled them freely. Most Americans do, it appears—and the Mexicans really love it.

Guaymas, they say, is a town of some 30,000 people; elevation 2 feet. In area however, it is maybe not so large as Hereford. There are very few nice homes in the town such as we saw in Hermosillo (around 60,000 population). The stores were generally squalid and many times filthy. And it is the only place I ever saw where they can make ham and eggs taste like enchiladas.

We found it most difficult to talk with the people we would like to have visited. Most of those with whom we talked were hotel employees, taxi drivers, waiters and the like. Honestly, I am afraid we learned very little about the country—except to re-emphasize the fact that Mexico has no middle class; people are extremely wealthy or extremely poor. Guaymas has no paving even on its Main Street. They were putting down some pipes, sewer or water, we could not decide which.

At nights we would gather around and talk things over. Each of us seemed to have a distinct feeling that the average Mexican was afraid of something. We could not put our finger on the feeling, but it was always there; we sensed it in stores, in restaurants, in hotels and in the streets. We also decided that most Americans, including ourselves, were rather swaggering and overbearing as a class. We tried to be otherwise, but usually lost patience. The people of Mexico, everywhere we went, consistently treated us with respect and consideration.

At one of these nightly "post mortems" we discovered that it always cost the six of us $10 American money to eat. This was true whether the meal was breakfast, lunch or evening. Dub, who was banker, decided we should go out and buy some groceries and eat at the hotel. We protested, but he and Neil took off, despite the fact that there was a Spanish sign in our room—and we translated it for him. "Absolutely no Eating in these Rooms." When they got back and checked up, it cost exactly $9.82 American money, effecting a saving of 18 cents. Span cost 12 pesos ($1) per can, and everything else was pretty well in line.

Ross Latham ordered a $25 steak that night ($2 American money) and it ruined the meal for Dub. I ate shrimp most of the time at the rate of $15 a plate (about $1.40 American money). They have those large Blue Plate shrimp which are about the size of a pork chop—and they are delicious. You can buy them packaged at 50 pesos, or $4, for five pounds. Guaymas, incidentally, is one of the largest shrimp points in the world. They have five huge processing plants which furnish employment for around 6,000 to 8,000 people, about half girls.

Another interesting thing is that they usually have about three people to do each one-man job. They were building onto the hotel where we stayed and we spent quite a bit of time observing their methods. For more than two hours three men mixed on one wheelbarrow of concrete. It was a large building, too. While we watched the Mexicans work, they mostly watched us watch them work. If the building is finished within the next three years, it will be surprising to me.

ABOUT MEXICO. . . . We got a taste of the Mexican sense of humor one night while eating at the Guaymas Inn. Three strolling troubadours came to our table and wanted to know what we would like to hear. We asked for "Yellow Rose of Texas," which they didn't know. Finally, someone yelled, "Davey Crockett." I didn't think it was exactly the time and place to be remembering the Alamo, but the leader smiled real big, signaled his boys and started playing the tune. The difference was that "Davey Crockett" in Mexico had been adapted to a character named "Pancho Lopez." We could not understand all of the words, of course, but it sounded for all the world like our own Davey. The troubadours grinned from ear to ear—and we likewise got a big bang out of the episode.

Another time was out on the boat. Someone noticed harpoon gear on the front and asked Louis, our bait boy, what it was for. Louis said "for harpoons," and we asked him what they harpooned. "Oh, Senor," he replied, "whales, dolphins—and tourists!" His gleaming teeth and broad smile indicated that he enjoyed the joke almost as much as did we.

One difficult thing to overcome was the markings on the water taps. "C" instead of meaning cold, means "Caliente" down Mexico way. It took several scaldings before we began to remember the difference.

I think everyone in our crowd had a wonderful time, although it was decidedly different from just what we expected. Certainly, it was a radical variation from a run across the border into Juarez, Tia Juana, or any of the border towns. After about two days, we developed the "Manana" attitude. We hated to get up. We liked to take siestas—and we had a hard time deciding what to do. This was because no one really cared enough to suggest or argue.

Dub, in fact, was the only one who worried much—and he worried all of the time. This was because he was banker. He tried to resign four times, but we always patted him on the back and then re-elected him. Finally, he talked us into putting aside $100 in a special "get-out-of-Mexico" pot, which he hid away—and then almost couldn't find. When we got down to this amount, it would be time to start home. Just to show how good an idea it was, let me add that we did start home one day sooner than we originally planned.

MORE ABOUT MEXICO. . . . We ran into a taxi driver guide, who said he would take us out to eat in the "Mexican manner." He said that few outsiders could operate a successful business there, but that a fellow named "Nick the Greek," had opened a restaurant and was drawing the "best families in Guaymas." It was a "dump," as he said but the food was really wonderful.

We called this boy "Pancho" for short. He spoke excellent English and had worked three years in L.A. as a shrimp grader, a trade he learned in Guaymas. He also had worked for a large cotton export firm. We asked why he left the US and went back to Mexico, and he said it was because his money went so much further.

"I like the cars, I like the telebut I would rather live in Mexico," said Pancho. He readily admitted that his own country was 300 years behind the United States, but added: "The thing I don't like about America is that the women run the country. Here in Mexico, it is still controlled by the men."

We asked what he thought of tourists like ourselves and Pancho just shrugged his shoulders. Our general opinion was that the average Mexican definitely resents the high-handed manner of Americans, that he is a little bit afraid of them—also that he likes those American dollars.

I thought that Pancho had a particular good point when he said "I go to San Francisco. I take pictures of the big bridge. I take fotografias de skyscraper. I try to build up your country. But you come to my country. What do you do? You take pictures of the old woman carrying sticks. You photograph the half-naked children—even the burro and the cart."

"Is this fair?" asked Pancho. "Is this being the good neighbor?" Pancho was loyal and proud of Mexico.

We tried to explain to him that we were both looking for the unusual, but Pancho never seemed to understand. We consoled him, however, by telling him that we would come back, organize a new party and run him for "El Presidente." His eyes beamed at the thought—but he shrugged his shoulders and tried to explain to us why it would never work in Mexico. The people, he said, just didn't understand.

Pancho was an anti-Communist. However, he held the firm opinion that Communism is entirely possible in Mexico. It has, in fact, a fairly good foothold, according to our friend.

GETTING HOME was the best of all. We crossed into Nogales, Ariz., about 7 o'clock and went out to eat at around 8 o'clock. As soon as we were seated in the restaurant, each of us ordered a glass of milk. We sat there and drank three glasses each before we placed our orders. The meal which followed was one of the very best I ever ate in my life.

ABOUT FISH. . . . If anyone would like to buy a few pounds, I will be glad to sell mine—at exactly what they cost me! I won't say how much because I can't afford to let my wife and that banker find out. However, I don't think anyone can afford very many pounds.
