Mothers Plan Baseball Game

Gallantry, glamour and history will be written into the sporting annals in August. Taking time out from household duties, Little League Mothers are going to play a baseball game here.

Male Coaches Buck Hale and Bartley Dowell have been recruited to manage the two feminine teams. It was decided that one team would wear red shirts and the other white ones.

Around Town

The Plains Motel, built this year by Mark Benefield and later sold to E. V. Cavness, recently changed hands again, according to Winn Buck.

Dameron Hereford Ranch and its manager Bill Dameron were featured in the 29th annual fair and breed issue of the Corn Belt Farm Dailies.

No definite plans have been reached yet for the building of the new Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, which will be located at 314 Schley, according to Mrs. Dyalthis Benson, secretary-manager.

Seek Support Of Experiment Farm For This Region

Are Hereford's farmers and businessmen willing to help pay the costs and "call the shots" for privately financed agriculture research?

This is the question that will be posed in the courthouse here at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, when officials of the Texas Research Foundation of Renner will explain their plans to locate a sub-station on the High Plains.

Support for the plan has been readily obtained during earlier meetings on the South Plains. This week, Jesse M. Osborn, chairman of the Muleshoe State Bank, is scheduling meetings in Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer Counties.

Need Expressed R. G. Peeler of Hereford, who is arranging details of the meeting here as a member of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, has this to say about a research station to serve the particular needs of this area:

"If it will give us some research directly applicable to our area, I believe our support would surely be worthwhile."

The Texas Research Foundation, established in 1944 as a department of Southern Methodist University, was chartered two years later by the state as a non-profit institution. Texas businessmen in 1950 subscribed more than $1,250,000 to a five-year operating fund.

This year, the foundation has branched out from its 490-acre experimental farm in the north Texas blacklands near Renner to establish sub-stations in four other sections of the state.

Probation Ended For Delinquent; Case To Council

A Hereford boy who broke his probation period after just one day was transferred on Thursday from custody here to the Amarillo detention home.

Action is still pending with Juvenile Judge Homer Henslee on a second youth who was involved in an unlawful act — breaking and entering — less than 24 hours after appearing in court.

The boys are both 14 years of age. Judge Henslee said that the first youngster, who had reportedly been involved recently in cases involving burglary and damage to property, will now be in custody of the State Youth Development Council.

The judge, who earlier this week, said he felt stiffer penalties may be required to stop an outbreak of delinquent acts by juveniles here, had a suggestion to make regarding Hereford's 13 and 14-year-old boys on Friday.

"We need a program which will keep these boys occupied," he said.

"Little League baseball has done wonders for boys in younger age brackets," Judge Henslee added. "I believe Pony League baseball would sure be a help in this juvenile problem."

SHARP, RAMEY, WOODFORD WIN BIDS FOR ELECTION

Daniel And Yarborough In Run-Off

As the total state vote in the Democratic primary contest was unofficially reported early today at 701,350, the gubernatorial contest had narrowed down to Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough.

Senator Daniel was well out in front with 280,968 votes. Yarborough was very much in the race with 201,634 votes. W. Lee O'Daniel, running behind for the first time in his political career, had 156,853 votes for third place.

The remaining three candidates for governor were well behind the three leaders, with J. Evetts Haley compiling the only respectable total vote of the trio, 42,197.

For Lieutenant Governor, incumbent Ben Ramsey was ahead of his nearest competitor, A. M. Aikin Jr., polling 286,770 votes to 163,941. But he lacked the margin needed to escape the Second Primary. John Lee Smith of Lubbock was in third place, nearly 40,000 votes behind Aikin.

Slightly earlier returns showed Will Wilson and Tom Moore headed for a runoff contest for the state's Attorney General post, with Wilson leading by a margin of 179,482 to 137,300.

Other unofficial returns with an estimated 50 percent of the statewide ballots tallied, showed John C. White, incumbent, rolling up the margin needed for victory as Commissioner of Agriculture with 197,964 votes to less than 140,000 for his two opponents' combined total.

For Associate Justice of Supreme Court, place number two, Robert G. Hughes had 168,662 votes to 149,058 for James R. Norvell.

Jesse Owens was narrowly ahead of his opponent in the race for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals with 162,844 votes to 159,325.

Jesse James, veteran incumbent in the office of State Treasurer, was leading Warren G. Harding by a margin of 208,435 votes to 145,418.

Running behind in early returns, Earl Rudder climbed to a narrow 4,000 vote lead at the half-way mark in the two-way contest for Commissioner of the General Land Office. Rudder had 167,140 votes to 162,959 for Ned Price.

The veteran legislator Martin Dies had outdistanced Bill Elkins by a margin of 232,746 to 114,000 at midnight.

Judge Herbert C. Martin, bidding for re-election as Associate Justice, Court of Civil Appeals for the Seventh Judicial District appeared to have lost the race. His opponent, Alton B. Chapman had tallied 15,334 votes to 11,551 for Martin in the district.

Miss Helga Thome, exchange student from Germany who spent the past winter here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Newsom, left New York City on the Steamship Arosa Kilm Monday. She, with other students, had completed a tour of the south and east after leaving Hereford at the close of the school term.

Last Rites Held For Mr. Helmke

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon for Paul Martin Helmke, 58, a pioneer resident of the Panhandle who passed away Thursday morning at his home.

Mr. Helmke, a farmer, was born May 12, 1898, in Nebraska. He was married to Miss Mollie Renner in 1919 at Farwell and farmed near Higgins and in Parmer County before moving to Deaf Smith County in 1951.

Last rites were conducted at the Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home with the Rev. H. V. Fields, pastor of Grace Gospel Church in charge. Pall bearers were Frank Griffith, Denver Smith, Jim Cross, R. F. Day, H. J. Hollenstein and Ed Davis.

Interment was in Friona, at which place his father, Emil Helmke, formerly made his home. Survivors include his wife, one son, Paul of Hereford; a daughter, Mrs. Ruthie Longmire, of Albuquerque, three grandchildren, one brother, Fred of Friona and three sisters, Mrs. Freta Treifer and Mrs. Rose Dunnahoo, both of Shattuck, Okla., and Mrs. Fena Harper of Higgins. Another sister preceded him in death.

CITIZEN'S INFLUENCE—Early voters cast long shadows as they neared the polls in the county courthouse on Saturday morning. Election officials had a busy time, with 30 ballots being cast at one polling place during the first 15 minutes. The long shadows were a fitting symbol of the lay citizens' importance on election day. (Staff Photo)

County's Voters Force Runoffs In Two Local Races

Over 2,400 of the 3,100 qualified voters in Deaf Smith County cast ballots in yesterday's Democratic primary election. Final, but unofficial returns show that in the most closely observed local contests, Sheriff Lowell E. Sharp was returned to his post and two county commissioners led their ballots but were forced into run-offs.

Considerable interest was shown in the race for Democratic county chairman, but Louis H. Woodford piled up an early lead and when the final report came in had apparently eclipsed his opponent Dr. R. R. Wills, 1399 to 971.

In the first Deaf Smith County vote on candidates for the newly established post of Tax Assessor and Collector, Sank Ramey outpolled John J. Hastings — now serving in the post by appointment — by a margin of 491 votes. Ramey's total was 1,451. Hastings had 960 votes.

With the total county vote of over 2,400 yesterday's turnout proved the best since the record of 2,900 votes were cast in the 1952 elections. Two years ago, 2,301 votes were cast.

Steel Strike Effects Highway 51 Project

The current steel strike reaches its long tentacles clear out to Deaf Smith County and grips the Highway 51 project in a strangle-hold. According to officials of the Texas Highway Department, steel for construction of the underpass was originally promised for delivery about August, 1957; however, that was before the strike, and now the delay may be even longer.

In the meantime, both engineers of the Texas Highway Department and Ivan DeMent Construction Company, low bid winner in the project, hope to get started on the actual widening of the highway.

Assistant district engineer Charles W. Smith said this week that the contractor would like to start on the job within two or three months.

When we begin widening the highway, the City of Hereford will also do all necessary work regarding underground sewers at the same time. In order that we will not have the street torn up any longer than absolutely necessary, Smith said.

"However," he said, "we can't complete street work until we can build the underpass. Any project utilizing structural steel is being affected by the strike, and this is no exception."

Smith said the project had been designed on a 300 working days basis and estimated that a maximum of 75 men would be employed on the work at one time.

Police Get Calls, Complaints: Dogs

Summertime wanderlust seems to have affected canines in the area.

According to officials of the Police Department, they average getting a couple of calls a day from people complaining about the packs of dogs roaming the neighborhood, ruining their flowerbeds and muzzing up their lawns.

City ordinances require that all dogs be inoculated against rabies and licensed each year before they are allowed to run at large, but nothing in city laws says the dogs must be penned up.

But recent rabies scares down state, combined with enforcement of city regulations in such places as Dallas, requiring all dogs to be penned up and put on chains, has had many local people concerned over the dogs that roam free, especially unlicensed ones.

Mrs. Collier's Mother Ill Mrs. Faust Collier was called to Idalou this week by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Frank Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson, who lives on a farm near Idalou, fell at her home Monday morning, and broke her hip. Surgeons in Lubbock operated and at this time Mrs. Collier is at her mother's bedside.

WATCH FOR TRUCKS Highway 60 Will Get New Topping In Coming Month

Use extra caution when driving west of Hereford on Highway 60 in August. The final phase of its expansion to a roadway width of 40-feet is scheduled to begin Wednesday.

Inspector here, warns motorists to remember that the construction trucks have right-of-way along the stretch of pavement that is being improved.

"The contractor will be laying two one-inch applications of hot-mix (topping) on the new roadway," Clark said.

The construction area starts at Highway 60's intersection with Highway 51, and extends five miles west to the county line.

Work will be scheduled to provide a minimum of interruption of traffic. The hot asphalt surfacing will be applied to half the roadway-width along a given section during the day, with traffic being routed along the remaining hard surface.

Work on the highway west of Hereford began Sept. 12, when contractors began widening the Tierra Blanca Creek bridge. Its completion will give motorists a 40-foot wide two-lane highway.

The roadway surface, formerly just 21 feet wide, will upon completion have two 12-foot lanes, plus 8-foot of paved shoulders on each side.

Precinct 1 Wants New Committeemen

Demands to convene in Deaf Smith County precincts drew unusually good turnouts of voters yesterday. And while the meetings lacked the fireworks of May's presidential conventions, an anti-Shivers move developed in Precinct 1.

A resolution to be carried by Precinct 1 delegates to the county convention calls for the replacement of present state committee delegates from the 18th Congressional district. Serving in the post are Lawrence Hagy of Amarillo and Mrs. James W. Witherspoon of Hereford.

No other city precinct adopted resolutions, and several county precinct meetings were reported to have proceeded calmly. Following the lively debates of the May convales, yesterday's quiet meetings were a surprise to many of the loyal Democrats who attended.

"Just Democrats" "Looks like we've settled down to being just Democrats, straight-down-the-middle-Democrats, neither liberal, conservative or Republican," said Louis H. Woodford, who late last night appeared to be county chairman elect.

Precinct delegates on Aug. 4 will name delegates to the state gubernatorial conventions.

Delegates to the state convention on Sept. 11 will take part in selecting members of their state executive committee and name state officers. Candidates for state public (Continued On Page 2)

OVER $400,000 IN SOIL BANK PLAN PAYMENTS DUE FARMERS HERE

Uncle Sam's soil bank will pay this county's farmers $407,222. This is the balance due on 436 agreements covering 68,047 acres of wheat and cotton allotment land that went into the 1956 acreage reserve before Friday's deadline.

Measurement of soil bank acres, which must be accomplished before payoffs begin, will probably start this week after Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office personnel get detailed instruction on Tuesday at a district meeting in Amarillo.

Recoup Drought Losses "banked" The amount of land "banked" in Deaf Smith County is regarded as less than half of what might have been. Designed as a surplus reducing measure, the soil bank here was used in the majority of cases to cash-out crops that already had been lost to drought and other unfavorable weather.

The drought disaster provisions of the law undoubtedly proved a god-send to some dryland farmers hard-pressed by successive crop failures. Many have reasoned that while they may lose some value from their soil bank acreage due to provisions which prohibit grazing the land before Jan. 1, 1957, the $6 per acre payment due from the government program should provide some new operating capital.

Increase Noted Extension of the deadline for the 1956 program by one week swelled the total agreements from 410 to just 438. Included in the total are 425 agreements covering 67,910 acres of wheat. Payments on these will total $406,546, according to an ASC office report.

Wheat land banked can be reseeded to grain this fall. Only 13 agreements on cotton acreage were signed. With 137 cotton allotment acres "banked," the total payments due are just $676. The law provides that growers who elected to keep allotted acreage out of production are not to be penalized on their production history for future allotments.

Six Miles Of Pipe For Farm Irrigation

High Plains research farm might be established in the vicinity of Springlake or Earth, Osborn said.

The privately financed program has been seen as an answer to the need to provide necessary services for the people without turning to the federal government for assistance. Or having the federal government step in and provide those services. Some men regard the work of the foundation as a strong expression of belief in state's rights.

Foundation Work

Here's what the Texas Research Foundation has been doing at Renner: Working on 17 different cropping systems, ranging from one-crop cotton and maize farming to rotations which include fertilized cotton, maize, grasses and legumes.

It has pioneered in development of sesame and other new-cash crops adaptable to Texas farm-lands. It developed a new strain of button clover which has found a place as a drought-tolerant, soil-building forage plant for North Texas farms and ranches.

Dr. C. L. Lundell, head of the foundation, has emphasized for several years that the research work of the Renner group does not duplicate the "normal and worthwhile functions of our local, state and federal agricultural agencies."

He has pointed out that "in terms of net return, the relatively low cost of agricultural research is not generally appreciated. Each dollar invested in agricultural research has yielded a return of about $200 in the past 25 years," he declares.

"Few, if any other, investments have paid-off so handsomely. And the future pay-off on agricultural research may well be higher, considering dollars and cents values alone," Dr. Lundell recently told a reporter.

He said he feels that the solution of land problems of individual communities "is a legitimate function of private foundations and trust funds." No community, he says, is more prosperous, over the long term, than the land which supports it.

Guests the past week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sank Ramey were their sons, Peyton of Texico and Jack who was recently discharged from the U.S. Army. A daughter, Mrs. John W. White of St. Martinville, La., who plans to spend three or four weeks with her parents, and Mrs. Ramey's sister, Mrs. M. E. Dement of Plainview.

Looking to water conservation, Hereford area farmers have laid an unusually large amount of underground pipe since harvesting their wheat this summer.

Thirteen Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District cooperators had installations placed on their farms during the first two weeks of the month. And one man, R. C. Godwin, was reported to be particularly pleased with the ease of operation that came from running water through pipe rather than ditches.

Godwin said he had been forced to shut down his well to clean out the ditch about once every 24 hours before putting in more than a mile of pipe. Being able to run the water continuously through the pipe brought time and labor savings and gets more water to the field.

Installation Rate Up

Jim Wiman, Soil Conservation Service work unit supervisor, totaled up the amount of pipe — which ranges from 12 to 18 inches in diameter — laid during early July at six miles. Just 12 miles had been installed during the first six months of the year, January through July.

Harold Banks, manager of Gifford-Hill Western's Hereford office said his company installed 28,000 feet of underground pipe in this area during the 30 days following June 15.

"A better than average irrigated wheat crop," gets the credit for the increased business from Banks. The month following the start of the wheat harvest he figured as "twice as good" as any similar period in previous years.

Agricultural Conservation Program funds are available to farmers who install underground systems. They generally cover 40 to 50 percent of the total cost of reorganizing an irrigation system for increased efficiency.

ACP Payments

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here reports that ACP payments totaling $40,178.90 have been made to date this year on 44 farms. During the entire preceding year, just 59 farms qualified for ACP funds totaling $52,279.15.

"It is very unusual to see so many irrigation system changes underway during the middle of the growing season," observes Faust Collier, ASC office manager.

Many reasons are given for changing from open ditches to pipe for transporting irrigation water from the well to the field furrow.

Offers Water Saving

Wiman gives one, however, that results in the system's paying for itself: "Replacing just a half-mile of ditch with pipe will give water savings of 10 to 40 percent."

Precinct 5 — R. L. Pinnell, Charlie Burk is chairman and Mrs. Charlie Burk is secretary.

Precinct 6 — Clifton D. Corley.

Precinct 8 — Don Guseman.

Another conservation factor is the elimination of erosion that naturally occurs when ditches run downhill.

Other reasons include the savings in labor that result, particularly when aluminum surface pipe is used in connection with the underground transportation system to spread water at the surface; better control of weeds—which are a constant problem along open water ditches, and the increased efficiency in plowing and cultivation practices that result from the elimination of ditches.

The men in Deaf Smith County who obtained SCS assistance in engineering their new underground systems during early July are C. O. Norton, W.P. Axe, Walter Paetzold, Botsford Bros., Mary Wieck, Earl DeHart, Chester McGiggins, R. C. Godwin, J. E. McCathern, Lewis Stump, J. R. Allison, J. R. Hickman and James M. Morris.

McCown Has Good Lead

With four out of five counties complete at midnight, Frank McCown of Dalhart had established a lead of 1,493 votes over Archie McDonald of Dumas in the race for District Attorney.

McCown total had 4,687 votes in the six counties as compared with McDonald's 3,194. Moore County, McDonald's home was incomplete with an estimated 1,000 votes yet to be tallied. The vote by counties follows:

	McCown	McDonald
Deaf Smith	1,440	855
Dallam	1,083	351
Sherman	434	208

Jim Neill for the office of County Sheriff. As tabulation continued, that lead was expanded to a commanding one, representing finally the greatest margin of victory recorded by any candidate in the local race. The final count showed Sharp with 1,844 votes to his opponent's 562.

In a closely contested race, Marion Rutter, incumbent, and Charles Sowell went into the run-off for Commissioner of Precinct 1. Rutter led the balloting with a total of 226 votes out of 678 cast in the two voting precincts (Hereford No. 1 and Dawn No. 7). Sowell polled a total of 158 votes in the race. S. H. Slagle was third with 124, while Frank Bezner ran barely behind with 115. Virgil Dodson polled 55 votes.

The race for Commissioner of Precinct 3 also went into a run-off. J. T. Guinn, incumbent, polled 58 votes and Chas. R. Hoover ran second with 42 votes, winning over Bernie Northcutt's 37 count by a margin of only five votes.

The two commissioner places will provide the only two run-off races in Deaf Smith County in the Second Primary in August.

A comparison of voters preference here for state office candidates can be seen in the story at left and the totals shown in the box below.

The three propositions printed at the bottom of the Democratic primary ballot, on which voters could express their desires regarding legislation to enforce legislation won a large margin of approval.

Baptist College To Experiment With Extra-Sensory Perception

PLAINVIEW, July 27 (spl.) — Have you had any dreams lately? Are you one to argue about a woman's intuition?

Then you will be interested in the psychological research laboratory that Wayland College is opening in the fall semester, which begins Sept. 10. President A. Hope Owen is announcing its establishment through the gift of an anonymous donor and Dr. John A. Freeman's appointment as head of the department of psychology and the research laboratory.

Dr. Freeman expects at the outset to have his Wayland students verify some of the findings of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Rhine, who 25 years ago established what is today the famous Parapsychology Laboratory at Duke University in North Carolina.

At Oklahoma Baptist University, from which he came to Wayland College in June, Dr. Freeman's students conducted some experiments in extra-sensory perception for Dr. Rhine. From the basic experiments at Wayland, Dr. Freeman expects his students to proceed further in helping determine practical uses to which this knowledge can be extended. Reports of findings will be made to the Rhine Laboratory.

On Clairvoyance

"Among the first tests in which Wayland students will assist are some on clairvoyance, which some people mistake for mind reading," Dr. Freeman says. "Actually, clairvoyance is an awareness of an object without the use of senses. Another phase we will explore is precognition, or knowledge of an event before it occurs."

"We hope to enlist a lot of people in our research. We are particularly interested in having persons who have had psychic experiences come to the laboratory, which is already established in Administration Building, and report personally to me. Their experiences might prove valuable in our research. Appointments may be arranged by telephone or through correspondence after Sept. 10."

Dr. Freeman says he does not expect any Bridey Murphey developments but he hopes in the future to assist with research on the connection, if any, between hypnosis and extra-sensory perception.

LITTLE'S of Hereford

By Jimmie Gilentine

The folks around Vega have just about set a new record on absentee voting. They have a potential of 600 votes—and recorded a total of 117 absentee ballots. Dalhart with some 2,800 poll taxes paid reported 70 absentees and Deaf Smith County with approximately 3,100 polls reported a total of 88 absentees. Furthermore, County Clerk Ralph Smith says that this is the greatest number of absentees ever cast in Deaf Smith.

Oldham's 19 1/2 percent in absent ballots is probably one of the largest percentages ever seen in Texas. It has all of the district and state candidates speculating. The only thing they can figure is that everyone in Vega must have decided to go fishing the past week. Anyway, you can bet that it was a fairly quiet place Saturday night.

James Edwin Schulz, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schulz, is a young man who apparently doesn't worry too much about the weather. Recently he and his parents visited several days in Kansas and, upon his return this week, was asked by a neighbor if it was hot there.

"I can't rightfully say," replied James. "I heard them say it was either hot or dry—I can't remember which."

You hear lots of talk about unemployment, but Hereford should be far below the average, according to Mr. O'Grady, representative of Montgomery Ward. He ran a "Help Wanted" ad here and then visited with the employment office. Mr. O'Grady reported that he got two replies to the ad, and that he had two applications through the employment office. The situation is far different from Dalhart, where he secured more than 50 applications the first day. Present plans still call for opening the Hereford store in September, he said, but reported that no definite location has yet been announced.

Meanwhile, if you think these Little League boys take their baseball seriously, you should talk with some of the mothers and grandmothers. Every time we print the batting averages, we hear from several of them. Truth of the matter is that the "hits" are scored officially for Little League—and we have no choice but to take the L-L figures. Mistakes, of course, are possible. However, The Brand has no more authority to change the scoring records than we would have to change the number of first downs made on a football game.

Everyone is talking about what wonderful improvement the Little League boys have shown this season. I think that the same thing might also be said in behalf of the umpires. There are several screwy rules in connection with Little League and the crew of volunteer umpires, to a man, is doing an outstanding job.

Here is some encouraging news for a lot of young girls around town. They had a pie supper in the Black Community the other night and sponsored a "most beautiful girl" contest. Top honors went to Judy Barnett with Mary Tatum running a close second. Then, they turned around and announced an "ugliest man" contest in which top honors went to Fern Barnett and Ellis Tatum, fathers of the two pretty girls. The contest pretty well establishes the fact that the beauty of a daughter seems to run in a direct ratio to the ugliness of her father, all of which gives several Hereford girls a break, if you judge by their dads. Just think, if old Streu had a daughter she would probably be "Miss America."

D. C. Martin, principal of the new Aikman School, says he doesn't see how they can possibly be ready to open by the time school starts. The contractors had a lot of trouble with their tile, it seems, and despite the fact that they plan to throw in double shifts from now on out, he is afraid they will run behind schedule. Ordinarily, they would start in the barracks, but these are being moved, all of which leaves little choice: they either go into the churches—or work out a half-day deal for Shirley and Aikman until the new school is completed.

Everyone is hoping against hope that the new Aikman School will be finished in time. Right now, however, they are afraid that such hopes are an example of wishful thinking.

Nelda Guy Ricketts was visiting here this week from Carlsbad, N. M., and was complaining about the state income tax, which soon goes into effect there. They also have a state income tax in Oklahoma these days. People pay this tax in addition to their federal income tax—and it isn't deductible on federal returns—in addition to a state sales tax on almost every item they purchase. Texas, despite its land scandals and rugged politics, has always been able to escape both of these taxes. This is largely due to our natural resources, including gas and oil. We will probably pick them up some day but, meanwhile, it is nice to live in Texas!

Pat Wederbrook, an expert on horses, says people get more warped ideas about these four-legged animals than any other single thing. They will listen to a carpenter's recommendation about a house, they will ask a sales clerk about clothes or blankets or shoes—but they usually have their own ideas about horses, about which they know practically nothing. This is due chiefly to the fact that youngsters have pre-fixed ideas about the kind of horse they want—and the oldsters generally try to humor them.

In the first place, an old boy who lives in town will find a horse pretty expensive to "board" out in the country. Pat says the best way out is to bundle up the kids about once a month and take them to the riding stables in Amarillo, where you pay $1 an hour. The horses around stables are accustomed to all kinds of riders, and are just what the average kid needs. With most kids, horse riding is a passing fancy, anyway, and the stable angle is far, far the best way out.

There are exceptions, of course, and this is where Pat comes into the picture. He knows a lot about horses and a lot about kids—and likes them both real well. He would also be the first to admit that either one can give a fellow a tremendous lot of trouble.

NOT THE RIGHT PORT
ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Our modern Navy?

Police here say worried Navy men called them recently, saying a group of girls gathered outside the Naval Reserve Armory and were "disturbing" (that's what the man said) the Blue jackets. Police sent the girls home.

Nursing Careers Attract Graduates

An increased interest in nursing careers spurred on by the number of job opportunities available to graduate nurses has attracted several graduates of the 1956 senior class of Hereford High School.

But even so there are still vacancies in the fall quotas of classes which begin on or about Sept. 1, according to the Texas State Committee of Careers in Nursing. Interested in such careers are Sue Suggs, Earle Dean Gandy, Sara Jo Smith, Dolores Hernandez, Juanita Bean, Kathryn McDonald and Jan Hargis.

Schools of nursing train vocational or practical nurses, diploma registered nurses and nurses for degrees in the specialty fields such as teaching and administration.

Both men and women interested in such careers may seek more information by writing to the Texas State Committee of Careers in nursing in care of the local postmaster.

There are enough standing trees in the U.S. to build a six-room house for every man, woman and child in the country.

Special guests attending the party were Mesdames Neil Cooper, Wm. F. McLean of Austin, Robert Lemons, Kenneth Coker, Bill Frizzell, Ronald Babione, Jim Whelan and Les Combs.

Club members present were: Mesdames W. J. Reeves, Roy Thompson, Marcus Latham, Sam Patterson, Ed Line, Gilbert Hooper, Ross Latham, A. J. Nicholson and the hostess.

Mexican Girl Is Bitten By Snake

Although an increasing number of rattlesnakes have been reported in the Deaf Smith County area, there have been no reports of anyone having been bitten by them this year.

A check with Deaf Smith County Hospital and with County Health Officer R. R. Wills reveals that so far as is known, no one has been injured by rattlers this year.

However on Thursday evening, 12 year old Lola Cortinas, who was working in Jack Renfro's potato field picking up spuds was bitten on the hand by a snake about 7:15 or 7:30 p.m. Fellow workers in the field rushed her to the hospital where emergency treatment was administered.

Her physician reported that apparently it was not a poisonous snake, although the reptile escaped without being killed and the only way it could be identified was through descriptions.

"If it was a poisonous snake, the patient's reaction would not indicate it; I have never seen a poisonous snake bite that didn't swell up 30 minutes after it happened. However, people get some reaction even from a non-poisonous snake," he said. The girl was kept overnight in the hospital and released on Friday.

Coffee has come back down to a nickel.

For awhile it took another of its periodic jumps up to the ten-cents-a-cup class, but this time it didn't last long, and now, all a-long Main Street, coffee breaks are still convening, at a nickel a cup.

But there's more to a coffee break than just conversation and hot coffee. For the caffeine addicts, who like any flavor so long as it's coffee, here are a few variations on the iced coffee theme.

Iced coffee is a superbly refreshing drink all by its tall, dark and handsome self. At the same time, there are more interesting and delicious ways to vary iced coffee than any other beverage you can think of. The happy fact is that coffee blends well with any number of other fine flavors.

Let's take spices, for example. Stick cinnamon makes a fine stirrer for a glass of frosty coffee, imparting a touch of its own fragrance and flavor. Bitters are a tantalizing blend of many spices—add a drop or two to your iced coffee and see how truly good it is. And then, of course, there is the special summer cooler called Spicy Iced Coffee. Here's the easy recipe:

Spicy Iced Coffee
3 cups hot, double-strength coffee
2 cinnamon sticks
4 cloves
4 allspice berries
Pour coffee over spices. Let stand one hour. Strain and pour over ice in four tall glasses. Serve with cream and sugar.

Cream in virtually all its forms is a good friend to iced coffee. Plain cream in the pitcher is so widely used and it looks mighty pretty swirling down among the ice cubes. Whipped cream makes a luscious topping for coffee, hot or cold, and it takes on extra appeal with a dash of nutmeg sprinkled over it. Finally, ice cream and cold coffee is a delicious combination: best leave out the ice cubes here, though—the ice cream will do the cooling as it mixes with the coffee.

For those who like their coffee sweetened, simple sugar syrup is the ideal sweetener. It goes into complete solution with the cold coffee at a touch and actually seems to improve the taste of the drink. Another sweet solution to iced coffee is chocolate syrup. A tablespoonful or two will make a fine Mocha Cooler.

Continental never drink cream in their coffee, but they often add a twist of fresh lemon peel for flavor.

POTPOURRI

Once A Herefordite, Always A Herefordite, Is Proven Axiom

By CAROL INMAN

Once a Texan, always a Texan. AND once a Herefordite, always a Herefordite! This surely must be true by the number of former residents who return to Hereford to visit friends and relatives here. Mike is back! It's summertime and Michael Fields is back in Hereford to spend his vacation. He's swimming, picnicking, and going to the movies. And like all other 15 year old boys, he says he wants to do something else while he's here. Find a girl friend from TEXAS.

"I'm not really from Los Angeles says Mike. "I'm a true TEXAN and boy, do I hate the smog out there. Smog, smog, smog, everywhere you look!"

His family, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Fields and sister Jill moved from Hereford to California several years ago and Mike tries to come back to visit his grandparents, Mr.

and Mrs. L. E. Fields, every summer just so he can see what Texas and Hereford still look like.

Mrs. Paul Barnett of Wichita Falls, a former resident of Hereford, has been visiting this week with friends here, while staying in the home of Mrs. Helen Pipkin. She arrived Tuesday and plans to leave today.

Mrs. Harold Avery and daughter Janell of Hot Springs, Ark., are visiting here with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Rube T. Adams.

Mr. Avery is personnel officer in the Army stationed in Seoul, Korea. He will finish this overseas tour in December and will be stationed at the Army and Navy General Hospital in Hot Springs.

Some of you might remember the articles Mrs. Avery wrote from Europe for the Hereford Brand while the family was there. They visited 12 different countries during the three years they were there, and she wrote several interesting stories about the different countries, customs and the people.

Guests in the W. H. Awtrey Sr., home for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Awtrey of Melrose, N. M. O. J. is the brother of Mr. Awtrey.

A Texas Tech AF ROTC graduate of Lubbock, Lt. William Leasure, an instructor at Lowry AFB Denver, was recently transferred to Los Angeles, Calif., to enter Hughes Air Craft School M.G. 12. He will take a 12 month course in advanced electronics. The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Leasure, Lt. Leasure entered the service in June of 1954.

The Joe Smiths are in Lawrence Kans., this weekend to pick up daughter Ann, who has completed her music course at the Midwestern Music and Art Camp. At the camp, Ann sang first alto in the chorus, and Sue Springer, who was attending also, sang second soprano in the chorus and played the flute in the band.

To the market in Dallas. . . the Dick Barnards.

Irvin Burdine is visiting a few days in Shreveport, La., this week.

Among the names released from Texas Tech Agriculture Division for candidates for Bachelor's Degrees at the end of the summer session Aug. 24. . . Thomas James Carter II. . . majoring in animal husbandry.

The Charlie Calloways and children Alice and Charles have returned from their vacation jaunts to Borger and Boys Ranch Farm. They had planned a camping trip. . . but their water heater caused trouble at home, and by the time they had it fixed, there wasn't enough time left to complete their original plans.

So the family went to Borger to visit with a nephew and family. Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Strange, and then went to Boys Ranch Farm to visit Mrs. Calloway's brother, Buddy Curtsinger and his wife. Curtsinger is the manager of the Farm. Their son, Eddie Ray had returned from Germany where he was stationed in the army for several months, so the Calloways got a double treat!

The Calloways are happy about another thing also. THIS water heater is supposed to last for 10 years, and is guaranteed for at least five years, so next summer, that will be one matter they won't have to worry about come vacation time.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Pitts and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolfington were called to Lawton, Okla., last weekend to attend the funeral of Mrs. D. L. Pitts of that city. Mrs. D. L. Pitts was a sister-in-law of Joe Pitts and Mrs. Wolfington.

Family reunions are still going strong in Hereford!

The Emil A. Herrs had a family reunion last Sunday. Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herr and daughter Thelma was son Wilfred C. Herr, who is a party chief of a geophysical crew of the Continental Oil Company located presently in Slaton, Tex.

Also attending the reunion from Peabody, Mass., was son Erwin and family. He is employed as Components Circuits Engineer of the Rectifier Department of the General Electric Company in Lynn Mass. Erwin is also the president of the "Greater Lynn Chamber of Commerce" there.

Raymond, another son, and his family attended. He is presently employed in the construction business in the Hereford area.

left Tuesday to join the folks at the ranch. Mrs. Erva Whitehead, another daughter of the Fluitts, hoped to join the family in Edgewood, but was unable to get here from her home in Prosser, Wash.

Family reunion—of a sort—has been going on at the F. H. King home lately. Last Monday Geneva's mother, Mrs. Jack Montgomery of Shamrock, and her sister, Shirley Montgomery, a member of the Women's US Marine Corps, arrived to spend the week.

Shirley has recently been stationed at Camp LeJeune, N. C. and is now en route to Hawaii. And while they were in Hereford a reunion was planned for this weekend to include two other Montgomery sisters, and their husbands Mr. and Mrs. Carol Favor of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Coleman of Shamrock.

And as if that weren't gay enough, F.H.'s sister and her family came down Friday to join the fun. They are Mr. and Mrs. F.A. Kromer, Cynthia, Cathy and Bruce of Adrian.

The B. L. Wests also had a family reunion this week. Arriving on Tuesday were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. West of Lubbock; an aunt, Mrs. Sprinkle and son Dewey and Teresa of Seagraves, and a niece, Doris Hudson of Austin. They returned to their homes Thursday.

Imagine giving up two weeks in Wisconsin during the summer for two weeks in Texas — but the William Luedkes did it, and said it was wonderful. Mrs. Luedke is Mrs. Paul Conesway's sister, so the families got together for a two-week vacation, which ends tomorrow when the Luedkes and their children, Karen and Dan, go back up North.

While they were here, all the men in the clan, including Paul and sons, Stephen and Clint, and William and Dan took off up Conjos River way for fishing—a typically masculine type revolt — and the women, Irene, her sister and Karen, stayed in Hereford for a busy round of social affairs. Included among the hostesses at informal parties were Kay McWhorter and Idle Gearm.

A former Hereford resident came back home this week to visit with old friends and make new friends. Leona Bruhl, who now lives in Llano, arrived Tuesday with her children, Susan and Billy Blood, for a visit with the Les Combes, the J. R. Johnsons and others. Leona returned home on Saturday.

And the Bill Krumbeins left on Saturday for a week's vacation up in Ruidoso. There will be fishing for Bill and for Billy, for Virginia and Rhoyda, too, and plenty of relaxation, while they absorb New Mexico scenery. . . for the Krumbeins are California-bound, soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Calvert have returned from a three weeks vacation trip through the Pacific Northwest where they visited with relatives and friends. Their niece, Miss Ramona Melton of Redding, Calif., returned to Hereford with them for a month's visit with Texas relatives. She will go to Pampa with Mrs. Calvert's mother, Mrs. Ada Necase, who is also visiting the Calverts, for a visit there. Other guests this week in the Calvert home were Bert Stephens of Elk City, Okla., and Roy Sprowls of Cheyenne, Okla.

Mrs. D. C. Barnard of Tucson, Ariz., a former Hereford resident, left for her home Thursday morning after a week's visit here in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hilton Higgins. She was accompanied by Mrs. Bill Hutson and Miss Daleine Timmin.

Capt. Clifford Estes and three children, Kenneth, Jill, and Scott have returned to their home in Bryan after a visit here with Capt. Estes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Estes.

Cards Win; Yanks Take Fourth Straight

Redbirds Down Bums, 7-3 In Extra-Inning Struggle

Floundering on the shoals of defeat for five innings, the undaunted Cardinals pumped across two life-saving runs in the sixth frame to tie the Dodgers, 3-3, and then escaped with a dramatic 7-3 victory over the Bums in an extra inning on Thursday night. The Redbirds trailed most of the game 3-1.

Leading off in the Card first stanza, John Willoughby walked before Bill Nelson struck out swinging for the first Redbird out. The second out was registered when Joe Mack Hale spiraled a high fly to Bum first baseman Jerry Curtisinger. Willoughby was ripped at the plate on an attempted steal on the same play, re-tying the Cardinal side.

New Card pitching discovery, Dick Combs, set the Dodgers down hitless and scoreless in the bottom half of the first. Combs whiffed lead-off batter Billy Sands, issued Charles Calloway a free strike and then blazed a free strike by David Gray for the second out. Judon Fambrough grounded out shortstop to first to end the Bum half of the first canto.

After walking Card center fielder Tommy Coffman, Dodger starter Lynton Allred sent the next three Redbird batters down in order. Royce Turner bounced out second to first, followed by Ronnie Welty who fanned for the second out. Then Jimmy Bridges grounded out to first base.

Dodger first baseman Jerry Curtisinger doubled to center field to open the Bum second inning. Then Jimmy Haney watched a third strike go by, followed by Jackie Lee who grounded out to first base. With two away and Curtisinger on second, Dennis Rickman boomed a two-bagger into center field, scoring Curtisinger with the first Bum run. Lynton Allred was safe at first on a Card error, Rickman racing home with the Bum's second tally. Billy Sands lined out to third base to end the second stanza.

Dick Combs started the Card third frame, smacking a one-bagger to centerfield. Then Frank Cain walked, Combs being tagged off base at third for the first Card out. After John Willoughby banged a single, Bill Nelson struck out and Joe Mack Hale grounded out pitcher to first to leave two runners stranded on base.

In the lower half of the third, the Dodgers pushed across a single run to increase their lead to 3-0. Charles Calloway received a base on balls, followed by David Gray who struck out. Then Judon Fambrough walked, placing runners on first and second. Delivering his second hit of the game, Jerry Curtisinger singled to drive Calloway home with the Dodgers' third marker. After Jimmy Haney missed a third strike, Jackie Lee was safe on a Redbird-error-filling the bases. Card hurler Dick Combs sensed the dangerous predicament and got Dennis Rickman to loft a fly ball to first base, retiring the Dodgers without any more runs.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By GIL CARLYLE

Let's talk football for just a minute. With the tang of fall creeping over the horizon, the time is not long off until gridsters will don their battle equipment and pigskins will begin filling the ozone. All the color and excitement of the greatest football season in history will be with us before we realize it.

The twenty-fourth annual Texas High School Coaches School will get underway down at Lubbock on August 6th. The coaching clinic will run for five days, climaxed with the playing of the annual Texas High School All-Star game on Friday night, August 10th.

The high school All-Star game is expected to draw the largest crowd ever. This will be a grand opportunity for Hereford grid fans to see one of the greatest arrays of high school football talent ever assembled.

Hereford coaches attending the school will be L. B. Russell, Cubby Kitchens and John Poindexter. Paul (Bear) Bryant, Texas A & M, and Abe Martin, TCU, will talk on the split-T formation at the clinic.

What's this business about Archie Moore claiming "heir" to the vacated world heavyweight boxing throne after his Wednesday night TKO over Canada's James J. Parker? The Canadian youngster hasn't even been ranked in the top 10 heavyweight contenders.

Archie Moore is the light-heavyweight champ of the world. But he'll have to prove he's the heavyweight titlist by beating someone other than a non-rated challenger like Parker.

According to the August issue of the Boxing & Wrestling magazine, Floyd Patterson is ranked 'as the No. 1 heavyweight with Moore in the No. 2 slot. Archie Moore is the lad who shouted to the world that he'd knock out Rocky Marciano in the last heavyweight title fight. After taking a terrific pounding from Marciano, Moore didn't shout much for awhile.

Now he's back at it, claiming the heavyweight title. Mr. Floyd Patterson might be just the one to quiet Moore again, come September.

Coaching School Scheduled At Lubbock

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

In 1930 a scattering of Texas high school football coaches got together in Houston and formed an association. Three years later they decided there should be a coaching school. So they held one at San Antonio, with 65 coaches attending. D.X. Bible, then coach of Nebraska, was the only lecturer.

Ten days from now the twenty-fourth annual coaching school will be held at Lubbock. There now are 1,972 members of the Texas High School Coaches Association. That's the same number that brought a record enrollment of the coaching school at San Antonio last year. Indications are that a new record will be hung up at Lubbock.

Today the Texas coaching school is the largest in the world. There just isn't anything to compare with it anywhere.

games draw huge crowds and the clinic has a jammed schedule all five days of its run.

At first the school was only for football. But in 1941 it was thrown open to other sports. Basketball, baseball and track were added. This year baseball will be missing because it was found there just wasn't enough interest to support it.

The biggest crowd ever attracted for the all-star football game was 19,657 at Houston in 1953. Fort Worth pulled the largest crowd for the all-star basketball game—4,034 in 1952.

Chances are that both of those marks will be broken at Lubbock. They are looking for 20,000 in football and with a new coliseum will anticipate perhaps 5,000 in basketball.

The coaching school "faculty" is quite attractive. Paul (Bear) Bryant of Texas A&M and Abe Martin of Texas Christian will lecture on the split T formation in football. These two coaches are strong rivals in the Southwest Conference. A&M beat Texas Christian last year—the only game the Horned Frogs lost in rolling to the championship.

Jess Hill of Southern California will take about his multiple offense that so impressed Coach Ed Price of Texas last season that Price is installing it.

E. O. (Doc) Hayes of Southern Methodist, who has built himself a basketball dynasty and appears ready to cut a wide swath in national ranks, and Ken Loeffler, the colorful Texas Aggie coach, will bring everybody up on the latest in the cage sport.

Big Top O' Texas Rodeo To Feature Local Performer

Hereford's Sally Skelton will share honors with Smiley Burnette at the annual Top o' Texas Rodeo scheduled for Aug. 6-11 in Pampa. Aug. 6 and 7 will be devoted to the big Kid Pony Show with the rodeo proper getting underway on Wednesday night, Aug. 8, and running through the 11th.

General admission, reserved seat, and box seat tickets are on sale at the rodeo office in Pampa.

Smiley Burnette, America's No. 1 Cowboy Comic, will be the featured attraction along with Sally Skelton, rodeo trick rider, Tab Evans and his "Pork Chop" act, plus all the regular rodeo events.

Delmer Brown of Texas Tech will tell about prevention and treatment of injuries. Brown is an expert trainer.

It will be a month before football season officially starts but for all purposes the gridiron game will be with us as the coaching school is held. Football will be about all you'll hear from then on.

Hereford Riders Club Will Hold Gigantic Fun Night On Thursday

If you don't own a horse, beg or borrow one, because the Hereford Riders Club is going to stage a horseback Fun Night on Thursday at the Riders Club Arena, beginning at 8 p.m. There will be events for every member of the family.

The evening's program will be ushered in with a grand entry of all participants on horseback, highlighted by an introduction of all Hereford Riders Club members. Mal Stewart will do the announcing.

Also there will be a Trailer Race, Mutt Wheeler chairman; Sparring The Rings, Ky Lawrence, chairman; Keg Race, Jack France, chairman; and a Regular Relay Race, the original horseback relay race.

Boy Scouts To Hold Annual Council Swimming Meet

Boy Scouts will hold their annual council swimming meet this year at Camp Don D. Harrington in spite of the fact that the camping and activities committee for a while decide to cancel the 1956 meet. It is scheduled Sept. 8 at 2:30 p.m.

Last year no scouts from Hereford entered the gigantic water competition, but scout leaders are in hopes that this year there will be better response.

Notice of entry to participate should be made before Sept. 4 at the Scout Office. The committee has suggested that district swimming meets be conducted beforehand to help select and train troop and post representatives to the council meet.

The events will include: 40 yard free style stroke; 40 yard breast stroke (Butterfly acceptable); 40 yard back stroke; 40 yard medley, first lap back stroke, second lap breast stroke; 20 yard egg in spoon race, breast stroke, start in water from the bank; 240 yard relay, each swimmer swims 40 yards. This event on a section rather than a class basis.

Bombers Bop Giants, 10-0 To Record Second Shutout

Ticking like the precision mechanism of a petite Swiss watch, the Yankees eased to a five-inning 10-0 shutout triumph over the hapless Giants on Friday night. It was the once-beaten Bombers' fourth straight win. Traveling the distance, Yankee hurler Bill Overall faced 18 Giant batsmen in the contest, striking out 11 and walking one.

Ronnie Duncan led off for the Giants in the top half of the first inning, striking out swinging. Larry Hair and Dwight McGee followed down to the infield to leave the Giants runless in their first turn at bat.

Yankee clockwork swung into motion quickly in the bottom of the first frame. The Bomber lineup batted around in the first, producing four big tallies. John Buck, S. D. Baize, Danny McDowell and Bill Overall each scored a run in the payoff stanza.

Ken Loerwald started on the Giant mound, giving up six runs, six bases on balls and four hits to the Bombers before being relieved by David Dowell in the fourth inning with none away. Dowell allowed four runs, two walks and four base hits during his stint on the pitching platter.

Getting into the two hits recorded off Bomber pitcher Bill Overall, Eugene Jennings led off for the Giants in the top of the second canto with a resounding double into the deep right field corner. Then Randy Dowell bounced out to first base, followed by teammates Mike Kelly and David Dowell who both struck out, leaving Jennings stranded at the third island.

In the bottom of the second the Yankees pushed across two more markers to increase their lead to 6-0. Baize started the Bomber second with a one-base smash to center field. After McDowell popped up to Giant third baseman Randy Dowell, Overall slapped a stand-up double off the center field barrier to score Baize. Overall tallied on Ronnie Greenway's ground ball. With two away, Butch McCaslin whiffed to retire the Bomber side in the second.

The Giants sent four batters to the plate in the top of the third. Leading off, Tommy Powell looped a single into right field, followed by Loerwald and Ronnie Duncan who both went down via the strikeout route. First baseman Larry Hair ground out to first base, ending the Giant half of the third stanza.

Failing to score in the bottom of the third, the Bombers loaded the bases before being cut down by the blazing right-handed slants of Giant pitcher Loerwald. With one away, Buck walked, followed by Baize who missed a third strike to record the second Bomber out. McDowell was safe on a Giant fielding mishap and Overall singled to fill the sacks. Striking out, Ronnie Greenway set the three runners marooned.

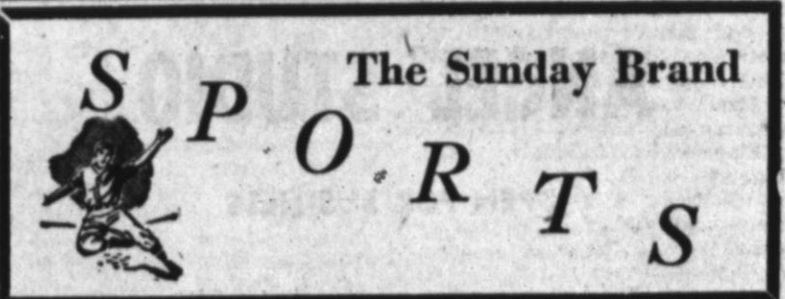

Gaining strength as he wheeled along, Yankee tosser Overall fired-balled nine strikes by three Giant batters in the top of the fourth.

Only three Yankee hitters stepped to the plate in the lower half of the fourth. Jay Boynton and

Her Point Of View

By PARDY LINER

"Step right up, ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls... try your skill! Win a doll! Win a cane! Win a bee-u-ti-ful, gen-u-wine, simulated, guaranteed not to tarnish, crystal do-ma-jiggy!"

When it comes to carnival barking, those Lions Club members certainly have a spiel.

Things are going to seem mighty quiet around the south end of Sampson Street now that the Lions Club Carnival is closed for another year. It will also seem a lot quieter around more than a few Hereford households, I'm thinking.

I'm thinking also that our town gets a bit of a "lift" during this annual carnival week. Spirits do seem a little gayer; activity seems more invigorated; and the whole scheme of things seems more pleasant.

Don't know just why... maybe it's because the carnival affords us something new to talk about, or maybe it's because we enjoy sharing with our youngsters the excitement of it all; maybe the reason is that it's a civic club project with the profits going to a worthy charity, but whatever the reason, the existence of the carnival is responsible for added zest in life, and I'm all for it.

Most families in Hereford were represented one night or another at the carnival this week. Among them, we saw Margaret Decker as she helped her two cute tots aboard the miniature car ride. I simply have to mention that Margaret has swapped her ponytail for a pretty, short hairdo.

At the same time, Ruby Don Nunn appeared almost as excited as her children, while she watched them take a turn on the Ferris wheel.

The John McLean's attractive daughter-in-law from Austin, let her young sprouts talk her into a ride on that most daring of all rides, the tilt-a-whirl. With Mother and Dad McLean standing by, Mary Katherine proved herself to be a good sport and will probably have the lasting admiration of son, Mike, and daughter, Laura; but she doubts that she'll be going it again, soon.

Across the grounds from the rides, the John Douglas Pitmans with Jaime and Marsh created quite a flurry of excitement. Young Marsh, looking wide-eyed and eager, was having a fine time at the rate of three balls for a dime in the target throw. Then John noticed a couple of little Latin-American boys wistfully observing, and he decided to treat them to a game. However, before John had time to get change back from his bill, he was surrounded by so many other hopeful participants that he treated them all—and got no change at all.

Ambling toward the concession stand to buy popcorn were Ione Reeves with daughter, Debra, and Irene Latham, with son, Dennis. These two girls were surely steady customers. (How many nights did you attend the carnival, girls?) I would guess that they went more to give their husbands moral support than anything else. Anyway, they both looked quite chic in cotton tunic outfits, Irene's in myriad colors; Ione's in black.

At the 'Bingo booth, Dan Trew won a dandy electric iron. Heard Dan say later that it was just what he needed; the one Elaine has been using was borrowed—weren't they lucky?

Seeing Marcus Latham smiling from behind the Bingo counter reminded me of a Bunstead-like incident that happened this week at the Latham household. To wit: The Lathams are housing and feeding five piglets in their garage (mamma pig had too many children to take care of herself) so Marcus, while providing their supper one night, spilled an entire can of milk all over the garage floor.

Wanting to keep in wife, Blanch's good graces, he immediately started to mop up the mess; in fact, he mopped up the whole garage floor. However, unknowingly, he used her new, specially treated linoleum mop, and in his haste to dispose of all signs of the mess he put the mop away, unripped in the water heater closet.

When Blanche walked in the first thing she smelled was milk, drying or burning! she couldn't tell which. Tumult ensued. And Marcus, no doubt, felt like Dagwood, who frequently sighs "And a fellow asked me today if I was married."

Mary Anna Laing was wondering who else had his mind on the carnival. As bookkeeper at Hereford Farm Equipment, she was rather stymied when the safe somehow got locked with her account books inside. Owner John Kelly is out of town and no one else seems to know how to open the safe; so Mary Anna is having to keep the accounts as best she can, without her set of books until John gets back to open the safe. He, incidentally, is in Dallas with his wife, Billie, who is hospitalized there.

But the children, at least, know the carnival is the biggest news in town. The fact was emphasized

Look Who's New!

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Roy Thompson are the parents of a son, Ricky Roy, born July 26. He weighs six pounds and eight ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Frerich of Friona, and Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson.

A daughter born to Martha Jones July 26. Brenda Marie is the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Burdine. She weighed six pounds 15 1/2 ounces when she was born July 27. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Gunstenson, and paternal grandparents are Mrs.

more than once in various Hereford homes, but it probably took the prize at the John Aiken residence. John and Mel Ruth became parents of a new son this week, and John went home to tell Jack, 7, and Martha Kate, 5, about the new arrival. Eagerly anticipating their first remarks concerning the baby, he was somewhat dismayed when Jack's only comment was "Well, NOW can we go to the carnival tonight?"

To be sure, carnival week has been fun for all, and children, whether in their first childhood or second, will look forward to it again next summer!

Ella Burdine of Hereford and C.B. Burdine of Lubbock. Mrs. Sally Frye of Brownsboro is Brenda Marie's great grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maxwell are the parents of a new baby boy, born July 28. He weighed six pounds and eight ounces on arrival. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Buford Chandler and paternal grandmother is Mrs. Lela Maxwell, all of Wellington.

Household Tips

Have you tried frozen kale? It's delicious seasoned with onion and teamed with a cream sauce.

Birthday party coming up? Just frost a layer cake and mark the initials of the birthday boy or girl in the center of the cake with small pieces of semi-sweet chocolate. Add birthday candles!

Brighten up that cooked rice to serve with chicken or ham! Add sliced pimiento - stuffed olives, minced parsley or green onions, strips of green pepper and pimiento or a little chill sauce or catchup.

Crush half a dozen rusks and mix them with a good dash of salt and pepper. Beat an egg with a couple of tablespoons of water just enough to mix yolk and white. Dip a pound and a half of scallops in the crumbs, then in the egg and again in the crumbs. Fry in deep or shallow fat to a beautiful golden brown. Serve with Tartar Sauce.

Fewer Than One Percent Of County's Boys and Girls Have Been in Trouble

Suddenly, Hereford is faced with a serious juvenile problem.

We have read about these things in other places from time to time; occasionally, we have even seen small flurries of delinquency break out in our own community. This is it, however, according to Sheriff Lowell Sharp and Juvenile Judge Homer Henslee.

"What to do?" is the big question and, as in other communities, none of the answers seem to be conclusive.

The state reformatory offer one answer. And in cases of extreme delinquency, this may be the right answer. For "first offenders" and for boys who offer possibilities, however, the state reformatory is possibly the last place to be considered. The reformatory, too often, provides a college education in criminology for the misguided youth—and to substantiate the fact is the record of reformatory "graduates." Releasing juvenile offenders without punishment, on the other hand, would prove equally foolish.

The one clue to a practical answer could lie in the fact that 95 percent of all juvenile offenders in Deaf Smith County come from broken homes. Most of the cases reported by officers were those where the father is absent and the mother is overburdened with an outside job and several children.

Sheriff Sharp, who has studied the condition carefully, is wondering in this connection if an organization, acting in cooperation with interested farmers and civic clubs, might not be able to establish and sponsor a work program whereby youngsters of this type could be employed in farm work during the summer months. The idea is based upon the theory that a boy who is busy is less likely to find his way into trouble, and it is one which appears to be basically sound. Considerable thought and many details would have to be ironed out before such a plan could be established but, all in all, it sounds workable and feasible. Such a basis, at least, has been the foundation of the few other methods which have helped to curb delinquency, including that of the world famous Boy's Ranch.

Meanwhile, it is equally important that the public in general does not condemn all youth as delinquents. Deaf Smith County today is populated by approximately 1,800 teenage boys. So far, only three have reached the point where they might be classed as candidates for reform school—and fewer than 12 have even appeared in serious trouble. Percentage wise, the number is extremely low—far less than one percent. The youth of today, in fact, probably carries a much lower delinquency rate than that of any past generation in this county. It is just as important to recognize this fact as it is to plan to help or assist those less fortunate.

All in all, we have a group of boys and girls of which we can well be proud.

School Trustees Have Tough Job

While trustees of the Hereford school district sweat through long sessions concluding at 2:00 a.m. almost every week, there are actually very few citizens who fully realize the extent and scope of the problems which occur in the operation of the area's school system.

To begin with, the rural high school district has an unusual situation in that it serves practically all of Deaf Smith County—and Deaf Smith is the fifth largest county in this vast State of Texas. Transportation alone bids for its place as one of the most expensive businesses in the entire area. The schools, with more than 110 teachers, provide the territory's largest payroll—and with it goes untold problems.

Add to these operational problems that of capital investment, debt and bad retirements, and you begin to get a glimmer of why the trustees often meet four times each month—and seldom get away before 2:00 a.m. In addition, there is always the fact that no decision will please the entire public, regardless of its wisdom or error.

When you boil it all down, our public schools are unquestionably one of the most expensive of all public operations. Growing population and improved standards are making them more costly than before—and every indication points to the fact that they will continue to increase in per capita cost. Physical education, once a sideline, has become increasingly important in schools, chiefly because people ride in cars so much that they fail to get sufficient exercise. From a strictly practical standpoint, physical education could be even more important to your boy or girl than spelling or arithmetic. And there are many other often-criticized categories which, when properly analyzed, present an entirely different vista to the average tax payer.

School trustees learn about these things. They discuss them and talk about them—often until 2:00 a.m. in the morning. Trustees are elected by the public and, too often, are paid only in criticism and with complaints. They are, in fact, one of the few governing groups which draws no salary at all. They work 100 percent for the welfare and future development of the entire community.

School trustees have a difficult job. They are bound to make mistakes from time to time but, we feel sure, they will make them in a sincere effort to serve you, your children and your community. With these things in mind, we hope that people will think twice before they crack down and "take dead aim" at any member of the group. After all, it's still a free county and, if things get to looking real bad, you can always run for a place on the school board.

Miss Rigler Has Taught HHS Students for 30 Years

By CAROL INMAN

With a lot of meekness and even more fear, Miss Sadye Rigler applied for her first job in Hereford High School 30 years ago.

"I'd just as soon that Gabriel had blown his horn right then," declares Miss Rigler, referring to her interview for the teaching position. "Maybe teachers were scarce even in those days, or I had more to offer than I realized, but I was hired."

Miss Rigler believes she did her best teaching during her first year. Some of her pupils were almost as old as she, most of them much larger, and maybe even smarter. She had to do a lot of studying to keep ahead of her classes.

Born in Waco

A native Texan, she has spent most of her life in the Panhandle. Miss Rigler was born in Waco, and was the youngest of 13 children, eight of whom are still living. "Does it really matter what year this event took place?" asked Miss Rigler. "Oh well, in the early 1900's."

Her family moved to Plainview when she was in the sixth grade, and she graduated from high school there. In the spring of 1926, Miss Rigler received her B. A. Degree from West Texas State College in Canyon. She has also done some work at Tech toward her Master's Degree.

Her majors in college were Spanish, English, and French, with an assortment of other subjects. She declares she would rather forget the "other subjects" because of some not-so-good grades.

Taught 30 Years

Now that her 30th year of teaching has passed, she doesn't regret her chosen profession at all. Naturally there have been many heartaches, lots of disappointments, but a world of happiness and satisfaction.

Pupils often resent her discipline when in her classes, but later she can usually count them among her best friends. She is a strict disciplinarian, but she couldn't have it otherwise.

She thinks it's a real tribute to have pupils of years ago still remember and mention little happenings when they were in her class.

"One boy, while in the Seebes on one of the islands, sent me a chambered nautilus because he couldn't forget our study of the poem by the same name," states Miss Rigler. "Someone may jokingly say, 'I haven't split an infinitive nor dangled a participle since I got out of your class.' Another asked, 'Are you still telling those old corny jokes?'"

She has taught classes in the first three years of English, in Spanish, Latin, civics, and economics. The first two are her preference.

Tri-Hi-Y Sponsor

Tri-Hi-Y, a high school girls' club, has been sponsored by Miss Rigler for 10 years, and she feels that it has great possibilities for helping the girls to grow spiritually. She has accompanied the girls to their state conferences for five years. She also received a plaque for distinguished service at the Hi-Y Conference in Wichita Falls in February, when her Tri-Hi-Y club was recognized as an honor club.

The gray-haired lady has served as class sponsor of high school classes many times, accompanied the seniors on the annual senior trip twice, and was sponsor of the school paper, "The Whiteface," for three years.

She shared a home with her mother until Mrs. Rigler died in 1944. The following year, her cousin, Mrs. Bonnie Kelly, and her son, Michael, came to Hereford from Waco, and they have lived together since then.

Miss Rigler enjoys traveling, working in her home and yard, and playing with her two Siamese cats, Jo San and Tiny Bit.

Honored at FTA Party

One of the nicest honors ever bestowed on her was a party given by the F.T.A. this past fall. It was modeled from the TV show, "This Is Your Life." She received much earned praise at the reception given in her honor by the students she had taught in high school.

Marlin Gilliland, who was one of Miss Rigler's first pupils, attended the reception, and told of incidents and happenings in her English class while he was a student in HHS.

Last spring, Miss Rigler was given a service pin for having taught here 30 years.

Miss Rigler has been a member of the Presbyterian Church most of her life. She was born into a family of Democrats, but doesn't take an active part in politics.

Last year, she was president of the B&PW Club. Special projects of the club during her administration was the awarding of a scholarship to a graduating senior, and raising funds for a hearing aid for a local girl.

"About our youth. Is it going to the dogs? — No, I don't think so," declares Miss Rigler. "Some of them are headed in that direction, but look at the adults!"

She believes the teenagers need some good counseling, some Christ-belief, and a "heap of understanding."

"If I've helped this community in any way in these 30 years, I haven't lived in vain," she says. "Hereford is a splendid little city with prospects for a great future. I've chosen it for my home."

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Quizzed on Delinquency, People Blame the Parents

How do you think the people of Hereford should handle the growing problem of juvenile delinquency?

MRS. ROSA SPEER

I think the parents are mostly to blame. If the parents would take care of their children, there would be no problem.

MRS. IDA RICKETTS

I think that neglect by parents of their children is the chief blame. The parents should look after their children more than they do.

THE REV. ALBY COCKRELL

The greatest thing that can be done is parental participation with youth in various activities. Families need to take more time out of their busy lives to spend more time together.

THE REV. NATHANIEL MADDEN

Juvenile delinquency certainly begins with the parents. If the parents would fulfill their obligations to their children, there would be no problem.

MRS. C. F. MOORE

I think that our schools, churches and organizations provide enough activities for the children, so it seems that more supervision at home would solve the problem.

KEN KENDRICKS

More activities like the Little League baseball program should be provided for the youngsters, especially for the age groups over 12. A boys club or youth center would be a great help.

RED FORGIVENESS DOUBTED

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Richmond Public Library held what it termed "Forgiveness Week"—a whole week when the library charged no fines for overdue books.

One book which turned up was "Grammar of the Arts." It was borrowed from the library 21 years ago.

A bound file of 12 anti-Communist periodicals of 1930 vintage was also turned in. It was marked "Moscow Public Library," but apparently the prankster didn't believe in "Forgiveness Week." The file, devoted to art and literature and published by Russian exiles in Manchuria, had this written on it:

"Five rubles for each day overdue. Six months overdue — Siberia. Twelve months overdue means public trial. Defendant furnished with complete confession."

THANKLESS JOB

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Muskegon Coast Guardsmen worked two weeks in snow, sleet and freezing rain to reshingle their old boathouse. Now they have been notified the boathouse will be torn down to make way for a new one.

PRINTING CONTRAST

ASHTON, Idaho (AP)—Ralph Hunter, editor of the Ashton Herald, received a letter from Heber Hartvigsen of the San Diego Union, who published the first newspaper in Ashton. Hartvigsen sent a letter stating that the Union's new presses could turn out 52,500 copies of a 96-page newspaper in an hour.

Hunter made some computations and wrote back that at that rate, one edition of the weekly Herald could keep the Union's presses humming for exactly three and one third seconds.

POWER OF A WOMAN

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—Patrolmen Paul Hawkins and Elmer Grossman retreated to the safety of their patrol car when the 175-pound St. Bernard dog crept toward them menacingly.

Then the power of a woman asserted itself. Mrs. William Koonce, who had called police to pick up the stray dog, patted the pooch on the head, led him to the car and sat beside him on the rear seat. Then it was off to jail, where the dog was placed in a cell for safekeeping.

Sunday was the big day in Floydada telephone history. It "rang out the old" and "rang in the new" Sunday morning at 12:01 a.m. when Floydada's new dial telephone system was put into operation by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. "Ringing in the new" heralds the advent of the automatic telephone system—a magnificent milestone in the city's communications history. LIGHTNING KILLS FARM LABORER

Probably the worst hail storm in the history of Lamb county ruined 2,000 acres of the "best cotton here since 1949" and a vicious thunderbolt killed a Mexican farm laborer Thursday night as a crop-destroying storm front moved past the Littlefield area. Pounding ice leveled two-foot-high cotton and ripped wide-spread destruction in a nine-square mile area west of Littlefield near Lumsden-Parkins Gin. Hail piled up as high as eight inches, burying the best cotton outlook there in years. Striking at 6 p.m. Thursday, the storm sent down an estimated five inches of moisture in the most heavily stricken parts of the area.—COUNTY WIDE NEWS.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR SHAMROCK HIGH SCHOOL

Contracts for general construction, mechanical work and electrical work of Shamrock's new high school building were let Thursday afternoon. The three contracts total $436,200.07, well within the budget allocation for the project, according to Glynn Bell, president of the board of trustees of Shamrock Independent School District. The contracts were awarded at a meeting of school trustees and administrators and contractors held at the Dixie Cafe Thursday afternoon. The successful bidders will begin stock piling materials within a short time. Completion date has been set as August 15, 1957.—THE SHAMROCK TEXAN.

RAILROAD INSTALLS SIGNAL LIGHTS AT PADUCAH

According to a statement made to this newspaper Wednesday by Quinn Baker, General Manager, QA&P, a work order has been issued for the installation of signal lights at the intersection of Highway 83 and QA&P railroad near the depot here. Baker said that work would get underway next week on the signal lights, and it would take from 10 days to two weeks to complete the project. The flash light signals will be the most modern obtainable, Baker said.—THE PADUCAH POST.

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his quack grass farm is writing about fences this week, instead of mending his own.

Dear editor:

Occasionally I like to look over the international news, to get my mind off the farm problems, and while I don't understand much about foreign affairs, I notice there are a lot of experts in the same boat with me. In fact, probably the more foreign affairs you know about the less you understand.

At any rate, I read in a newspaper last night where the Prime Minister of India, a man named Nehru, was complaining because, he said, "the United States expects other countries to take sides and leaves no room for any country to sit on the fence."

This just goes to show how little that Prime Minister understands about the United States.

In this country, we believe in private initiative, and a man, doesn't make any difference whether he's a justice of the peace or a state office holder or a Congressman, who can't find room to sit on the fence, just ain't trying.

I'll admit that at times the fence gets a little crowded, but I've always had faith in politicians and believe that when they can't find a fence to straddle, they'll build one.

Now you don't mean to tell me India and the other foreign countries are now going to expect the United States to build their own fences for them so they'll have something to sit on? Isn't that carrying foreign aid a little far?

I say it's one thing to lend them money, send them weapons and ammunition, ship surplus food to them, but if they can't manage to find enough fences to sit on, let 'em sit on the ground or, if they're afraid of catching cold, take sides and declare themselves.

In the United States, when a man can't find a fence to sit on, he just doesn't have any business running for office, and as far as I'm concerned foreign countries are going to have to build their own if that's where they want to sit.

I say not one dime of U. S. money to build fences for foreigners to sit on.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Glenda Meeks, Floyd Schueller Are Wed in Formal Ceremony

Miss Glenda Meeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Meeks of Vega, became the bride of Floyd Schueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schueller of Friona, in a ceremony read at 3:30 p.m. July 22 in the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Hereford.

Rev. Gene Oesch of Larlet read the nuptial ceremony. Mrs. Clyde Swartzell of Mississippi, organist, and Franklin Springer and Pluma Metcalf, vocalists provided wedding music. Miss Metcalf sang

"Blest Be The Tie That Binds" and Franklin Springer sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The altar was banked with appropriate greenery, gladioli, majestic daisies and seven branched candelabra holding wedding tapers.

Carolyn Sell of Littlefield, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Sandy Purcell, Judy Pinnell and Mrs. Raymond Schueller. Their dresses were made identically of ruffled net over taffeta in different colors. Miss Sell wore pastel pink, Miss Purcell, a delicate green, Miss Pinnell, pale blue and Mrs. Schueller's dress was in yellow. They all carried miniature white Bibles topped with white carnations.

Kathy Schueller, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Her dress was of orchid net and she carried her flower petals in an orchid basket. Ring bearers were Dale Schueller and Terry Schueller, nephew and niece of the bridegroom. Candle lighters were Wilbur and Barbara Meeks.

Raymond Schueller, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were Jay Dean Meeks of Lubbock, Norbert Schueller and Arnold Schueller, both of Friona.

Bride Wears Chantilly Lace
The bride's father escorted her to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her gown was fashioned of white Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The fitted bodice had a portrait neckline edged in lace scallops touched with seed pearls and long fitted sleeves that came to petal points at the hands. The bouffant skirt featured a back panel made of lace and tiers of ruffled net that swept into a cathedral train. Her veil of illusion fell to fingertip length from a scalloped band of lace and flowers.

The wedding bouquet was of bride's roses and stephanotis with cascades of ribbon and net, carried on a white Bible. Traditional wedding customs were carried out in accessories.

The bride's mother wore a dress of sky blue crystalline and the bridegroom's mother wore true blue crepe. Their corsages were fashioned of pink roses.

Reception in Church Parlors
Following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was decorated with gladioli and lighted tapers. Members of the house party were Dolores Hernandez, Rebba Pinnell, Joy Price, student at Wayland College, Plainview, and Mrs. John L. Wilson of Vega.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride was wearing a pink suit with pink accessories and a corsage of white roses from the wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Vega High School and was employed in Vega at the time of her marriage. Mr. Schueller graduated from Friona High School, and entered the armed service in 1955.

After the honeymoon trip the couple will go to Leavenworth, Kansas, where he is stationed. They will return to their farm near Friona when he is released in February.

Relatives and friends from Clovis, N.M., Littlefield, Canyon, Adrian, Plainview, Lubbock, Friona, Larlet, Bovina, Vega and Hereford, attended the wedding.

Feuds, Fights, Reruns of Favorites Mark Theatre Calendar of Events

JOHNNY CONCHO
Frank Sinatra stars in his first Western film when "Johnny Concho" shows at the Star Theatre Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. The blue jeans set will probably like this picture as Sinatra dons Western Garb portrays the cowardly brother of a dreaded gunslinger in the Old West.
This is the story of a coward who becomes a hero at a crucial time in his life. Co-starring in the film are Keenan Wynn, William Conrad and Phyllis Kirk.
SCARLET HOURS
Showing Wednesday and Thursday at the Star Theatre, "Scarlet Hours" is a good old-fashioned melodrama. It is about a ruthless woman with a loveless marriage and displays her desire to escape. As the picture progresses, robbery and murder enter for money to run away with her husband's employee. Carol Ohmart and Tom Tryon star in "Scarlet Hours." Adults may enjoy the picture, but only mature children should see "Scarlet Hours."
DOUBLE FEATURE
"Destiny" starring Audie Murphy and Mala Blanchard, shows Tuesday and Wednesday at the Tower Drive In. This classic story of the west is one you won't forget. Also showing on the same program is "Jivara," starring Fernando Lamas and Rhonda Fleming. This is an adventure tale of the wild jungles, as a fortune of hidden gold is found by a group of men. Lamas and Fleming are linked as the romancers in this film.

THE TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE
Fred MacMurray, Sylvia Sydney, and Henry Fonda co-star in the movie showing Sunday and Monday at the Tower Drive In. "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is patterned on a famous feudist, "Bad John" Wright, who died not so long ago in his Cumberland Mountain home. The movie is a great drama of the mountaintop people and, although it has violence in several scenes, most people will enjoy seeing this movie.

Five Minor Automobile Accidents Occur In Hereford In Past Few Days

Five minor automobile accidents in Hereford earlier this week caused an estimated total of $1,515 in damages, according to city police records. No injuries were reported in any of the mishaps.

The first accident occurred July 21 when Otho Noland of Alamogordo, N.M., driving a 1953 Ford crashed into a 1955 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Joe E. Rodriguez on Highway 60. Rodriguez was making a left turn off Highway 60 onto Gough Street when Noland, failing to see Rodriguez's signal, attempted to pass and hit the left side of the Rodriguez vehicle.

Damage to both vehicles was estimated at $500. Noland was charged with negligent collision and Rodriguez was given a ticket for not having a driver's license.

Sunday Accidents
Two of the accidents happened on Sunday. Jose Arturo Gonzales, driving a 1953 Ford, was going west on Second Street when he collided with a 1954 Pontiac, driven by Harley Glenn Griffith. Gonzales had stopped at main and then pulled out into the path of the Griffith car which was going north on Main. Gonzales was given a ticket for failure to grant right-of-way. Damages to both cars was estimated at $270.

R. E. Phillips of Vega was driving a 1956 Ford pickup, going north on 25 Mile Avenue, when he slowed up for a car in front. When Phillips reduced his speed, he was hit from behind by a 1953 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Lala Griego. A ticket was issued to Griego for following too close. Damages to both trucks was estimated at $45.

In a minor mishap Monday, Mrs. Vela Gray McDowell who was driving a 1955 Oldsmobile, struck the left side of a 1950 Ford, driven by Edlie Lanelle Morrison at the intersection of West First and Lee Avenue. The damage to both cars was estimated at $110.

Two-Car Collision
The Dairy Road intersection at

Highway 60 and Park Avenue was the scene of a two-car collision on Tuesday. James Maxwell Donnell of Oklahoma City was driving a 1952 Ford, going west on Highway 60 when he hit the right side of a 1954 Pontiac going east on Highway 60, driven by James Lewis Park.

The two automobiles hit head on when Park made a left turn in front of the oncoming Donnell car. Damage to the Donnell car was estimated at $390. No estimate was given on damage to the Donnell car.

Hereford Schools Escape State-Wide Plague Regarding Teacher Shortages

Although schools all over Texas are complaining about the teacher shortage, with the opening of school only about six weeks away, Hereford Rural School District has only three vacancies in the faculty, and several applications for each of those jobs.

The faculty had been complete until about two weeks ago when Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Criswell resigned. Since then Elbert Ashby has also handed in his resignation.

At this time a high school librarian, high school science teacher and junior high school teacher are needed, according to Superintendent Fred J. Cunningham.

Several Applications
"We have several applications for each of these positions and many applications for jobs where no vacancies exist here. I believe we shall be able to announce our new faculty appointments no later than the middle of August," he said this week.

But apparently the ease in filling vacancies in Hereford is not repeated throughout Texas. According to recent reports of the Texas State Teachers Association based on statistics compiled through July 20, the TSTA estimated that 7,615 teaching positions still are vacant in Texas, with only 1,310 teachers available to fill them. This means almost six openings for every teacher wanting a job.

Mr. Cunningham said he believes Hereford's favorable situation was due to the fact that it was a clean, growing, progressive town, well situated geographically.

"Hereford has a good reputation as a church-and-school town. The school system here is modern and growing. Teachers like to be associated with an up-and-coming institution. Also the town is a good size, not too big to be impersonal, not too small to be inadequate," he declared.

WT Aids U's
He pointed out that its proximity to West Texas State College in Canyon was also an advantage. "West Texas not only provides us with teachers because it graduates so many each year, it also enables teachers who live here to continue their education, studying at night or on Saturdays. If we were much further away, it would be impossible for them to drive back and forth.

"Besides," he said, "Hereford has a reputation for being the kind of town you'd like to rear your family in. Most of our applications come from family people who are interested in a good environment for their children."

State Picture Different
But throughout the state, the picture was different.

Charles H. Tennyson, TSTA executive secretary, explained that 371 school districts — representing 20 percent of school personnel — still have 1,523 teaching jobs listed with TSTA's registration service. Only 262 teachers have offered themselves to fill the jobs. The TSTA does not operate an employment agency; administrators and teachers must contact each other from lists furnished by the association.

Supporting this general condition Tennyson reported specific instances such as Brownsville, with 46 of its jobs vacant, and Mineral Wells, where one-third of the teaching jobs still are without any takers at this crucial stage. Midland, which has already employed over 100 teachers as replacements this summer, still has 16 vacancies. Teaching contracts normally are about completed by this time, he noted.

More than half the teacher vacancies exist in high and junior high schools, TSTA records show. Most of the others are in primary and intermediate grades, with the remainder in administrative and special service positions.

Demand for Talents Vary
Demand is greatest for teachers of science, mathematics, English, music, home economics, physical education, and commercial subjects. On the other hand, supply exceeded demand for such subjects as history, social studies, Spanish, Latin, and industrial arts.

A recent survey by TSTA's research division adds weight to the alarming figures. Eighty-six percent of Texas school districts, representing 98 percent of the professional personnel, reported:

The 98 percent figures show 12,848 school employees "new to the district," or in jobs with that school district for the first time last year. Of that number, 5,512 transferred from one school district to another, 1,223 came from teaching experience in other states, 4,097 were beginning teachers, and 2,016 returned to the classroom after an absence.

At the same time, almost 4,000 teachers were completely lost from the profession last year, Tennyson explained.

Professional school personnel employed last year (98 percent) totaled 70,970, an increase of 3,487 over the previous year. At the same time, the scholastic population increase was 80,484, or about 25 for each additional person employed.

FLY IN THE CAR
SAN DIEGO, Calif. — A housefly cost James Horn $400. The fly got into Horn's car and distracted his attention from driving.

Police said the car ran off the road and hit a street sign and a small building.
Damage to Horn's sedan—$400.

FAMILY OPERATION
McCOOK, Neb. — Within a period of a few months Diane Remington, a kindergartener, her sister Connie, a second-grader, and their father, Doran, underwent appendectomies. A couple of years ago their mother had her appendix removed.

SHELTON ALEXANDER was honored on his fifth birthday July 24 with a cowboy party given in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Alexander. Shelton and a guest, Robert Messick, look at the birthday cake, which is decorated with cowboys and a XIT design. Deceiving favors of Indian headaddresses and balloon noise-makers were Kay Lynn Alexander, Beth, Amy and Susan Ballard, Danny and Katherine McCaskill, Terri Lynne Fizzell, Sabra Traweek, Robert and Jane Messick, and the honoree.
