HEREFORD 'SALAD BOWL' HARVEST PROSPECT GOOD

Carrot Market Seen As Fair; Grade Is Tops

Hereford stood on the threshold to becoming the nation's salad bowl this week as momentum picked up in the harvesting of some 5,000 acres of carrots and lettuce growers appraised unusually fine stands, probably to be harvested around Oct. 1.

"We have barely begun to harvest the 1956 carrot crop," said one large handler, who estimated that around 85 percent of the current yield remains to be gathered. Estimates indicated that some 235 to 240 cars have been shipped this season, while the predicted total is 1,400 to 1,500 cars from the area.

Prices "Fair" Carrot prices are "fair," according to most reports, running around $30 per ton, in the field to growers. The figure, nothing like the bonanza recorded in potatoes, does apparently leave a margin of profit to the grower. Average yields are running something like seven to 12 tons to the acre, and most growers figure a growing cost of $75 to $80 per acre. Carrot harvest, in most instances, is handled by the packer who pays the $30-per-ton price.

"Quality is above reproach," reported most packers and buyers. "Hereford carrots are consistently running U. S. No. 1 — with no seconds or culls." Good flavor and exceptionally good color are two other factors which are creating a market for the Hereford product, Biggest Crop Yet.

An estimated 50 to 60 growers are in the carrot business this year, and the 1956 crop is by far the largest scale carrot production seen in the area. Most growers have tracts of 100 acres or less. Average cars carry 500 boxes of carrots, which weigh around 56 pounds each, resulting in 12-ton cars. Packing sheds active here this year, include F. H. Vahlberg, Trautman Brothers, A&P and at Dawn, Dell Smith.

Lettuce Survey A survey of the 1956 lettuce crop indicates that this product is still in the "hoping stage." Most growers do report a drop in acreage, however, with average estimates running around 2,000 acres for the entire area. A large portion of the lettuce planting has been on potato land and those who have lettuce are reporting "quality and stands unusually good at this time." Price — always an unknown factor — is also fair to good now, but can change overnight.

Harvest Time Most growers and packers indicate that harvest will get underway somewhere around Oct. 1 and, from this point, they say: "Your (Continued On Page 2)

FIELD DAY—Hybrid grain sorghum fields in the Hereford area have this summer been a focal point for farmers' interest. State and privately developed hybrid varieties of the grain will be viewed during the farm tour in this area Tuesday. (Staff Photo)

HYBRID MAIZE-GRASS

FARM TOUR ON TUESDAY

A farm tour of hybrid grain sorghum fields, Johnson grass control plots and ending at George Warner's grass fields will be held in the Hereford area Tuesday afternoon. Sponsored by the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District and the Deaf Smith County Certified Seed Growers Assn., the tour will have J. Garland (Colton John) Smith of Amarillo as master of ceremonies. Farmers and interested businessmen will leave from the courthouse square at 1:30 p.m. for the tour.

Planned Stops Stops will be made at the farms of Earl Holt, Troyce Carmichael, Wilburn Axe, Virgil Walker and George Warner. Principal emphasis will be on comparison of hybrid grain-sorghum types being grown locally, and in seeing production methods used in production of certified and hybrid maize seeds in this area.

Fertilizer demonstrations will be an added feature at the Walker farm. Luther Lesly, SCD board of supervisors chairman, and Carmichael, seed growers president, Jim Wiman of the Soil Conservation Service, and Hugh Clearman, county agricultural agent, will serve as conductors on the tour.

Hybrid Production Clearman, noting that great interest has been displayed in hybrid grain varieties by the region's farmers, said this week that there are 100 acres of hybrid crossing plots in Deaf Smith County.

He explained that the hybrids are a cross between two strains of sorghum which in many cases give the resulting offspring additional vigor and allow the farmer to enjoy bigger yields per acre. Production of the hybrid seeds from the selected parents is done under very carefully controlled conditions in order to assure a relatively uniform type sorghum that has the desired characteristics.

1st. Cotton Is Ginned

First 1956 crop cotton was ginned here Friday evening by the Ward Gin, just south of Hereford. Bozeman and Dent brought in the cotton, 2,000 pounds of lint pulled from around eight acres on an irrigated field 10 miles southeast of the city.

Ginner J. A. Ward said the cotton is of good quality, with a staple length of around 15/16th inch and will probably be graded light spot. The bale weighed 545 pounds. The field will probably be ready for further harvest in about a week. Ward learned, although most area cotton won't be ready for harvest before October.

Two Burglaries Here Wednesday

City police Thursday began investigation of two burglaries on Wednesday night reported by Hereford firms. At the Hereford Fertilizer Co., an office was entered after a glass was broken. Objects were scattered about the room and a blanket was stolen. At the Hereford Laundry, $2.05 was taken from the cash register and between $2 and $3 from a cash box after the building was entered through a window, police said.

Friday, Sept. 21, has been designated as Children's Day in Amarillo at the Tri-State Fair. Hereford schools will not observe that day as a holiday and students that attend the fair that day will be counted absent unless it is a school sponsored trip. All students that plan to attend the fair should attend Sept. 21 and be absent on no other day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Beyer and Miss Ona Hammer returned on Monday from a weekend visit with the C. H. Dillehays of Bonham. The Dillehays were next door neighbors to the Beyers when he was superintendent of schools here.

DRIVER, AGE 12

Two Boys Injured When Truck Hits Motorized Wagon

Suffering from severe lacerations and bruises, two Summerfield lads, Joel and Billy Lytal, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lytal, were reported to be in fair condition by Deaf Smith County Hospital attendants Saturday. They were hit by a truck on a country road three-fourths mile west of Summerfield at dusk Thursday.

Billy Lytal, 14, was pushing his 10 year old brother, Joel Lynn, in a toy wagon with a motor attached to it, attempting to start the engine, when a 1952 Studebaker truck driven by Dowell Andrew Sumner, 12, struck them. The truck belongs to Chester Wiggins.

Lights Not On "Apparently the driver didn't see the boys as they left their house, and came onto the road," reported Joe O'Rear, highway patrolman.

Sumner was driving west without the headlights on, and when he saw the boys he whipped the truck over to the left-hand side of the road to avoid hitting them and at the same time the youths also moved to the left. The right front headlight was broken out, and damage to the truck was estimated by O'Rear at $35.

Total receipts for 1956 thus far are $45,437.50 which is up $1,345.12 from 1955 when receipts for the period totaled $43,992.38.

MERCHANTS AID JAYCEES

Christmas Lights Project Gets "OK"

Hereford's proposed Christmas lighting program got a unanimous "OK," along with a booster shot, Friday morning when some 25 members of the C.C. Retail Merchants Committee met in Hotel Jim Hill. The group also went all-out in support of the city "Meter Maid" plan, expressed approval of parking meters and set "Friday, 10 a.m.," as regular meeting time for the group each week.

The meeting this week was the first since the group recessed last June. It centered chiefly around the proposed Christmas Lighting and Decoration program, following a review of conditions by Gerald Hale and Bill Howard, Jaycee representatives.

Fund Collection The merchants, following general discussion, went on record to help collect funds at the rate of "$1 per running front foot" to help finance the program, and named a three-man committee to appoint block chairmen to make the collections. The committee includes Paul Harvey, Don Zimmerman and Dub Reeves.

Gerald Hale, speaking for the Jaycees, told the group that the organization is ready and willing to donate time and labor to handling and erecting the lights. He pointed out, however, that the carry-over wiring, sockets, bulbs, the lamp post figures and other equipment had been destroyed in the Bull Barn fire, except for one cable.

Needs Outlined He estimated that a minimum of $5,000 to $6,000 will be required to replace the materials and to sponsor a limited lighting program in 1956. He said that the Jaycees had contacted the City and plan to contact the County next week, pointing out that the organization can go only as far with the program as finances will allow.

W. B. Wilson, chairman, expressed appreciation for past efforts of the Jaycee organization, and opened discussion on the subject of Christmas lights.

Bill Howard explained to the group that much of the funds each year is expendable in the form of greenery, which cannot be used, some $700 for candy, nuts and fruit, and a heavy loss in light bulbs. He also told the group that any equipment to be used this year must be ordered in the near future, since each channel of lights had to be made after arrival, due to variation of lengths in the cables.

Both Howard and Hale recommended a four-year program on the $1-a-foot basis, plus sums from county and city, which might total $3,500 this year.

"This will curb the lighting program under past years," they said, "but it will give us something, and it can be improved and expanded from year to year."

Meter Maid Discussion From this point, the meeting shifted to the subject of current rigid enforcement of parking meter regulations under the new "Meter Maid" system after Bob Laum pointed out that more rigid enforcement might create customer complaints. Zimmerman and Harvey reported that the attendant "went out of her way" to warn violators, that she often looked in stores to locate offenders and that she seemed to be doing an outstanding job.

This trend brought the question of parking meters under fire and, at the request of City Commissioner Neil Cooper, a vote was taken in regard to the meters. No dissenting vote was filed against them, although several persons failed to vote.

Ticket Policy The question of smaller fines was presented by Mrs. Arthur Thompson, who said that this trend seemed to be the vague in many other smaller towns. Mrs. Bess Moore also introduced the question of giving tickets to "out of town" shoppers.

"We dropped the courtesy tickets, due to the large number of itinerant workers who live here six months or more," said Dudley Bayne. He pointed out, however, that any person who lived out of town might come to the City Hall and have the ticket revoked. He also said that merchants faced with such complaints could collect the ticket and present it at the City Hall for cancellation. C.C. Manager Bill Lenderman offered to come by and get the ticket. ## Grand Jury Makes Nine Indictments

The Deaf Smith County Grand Jury on Friday returned nine indictments after sessions during three days. Six indictments involved cases of child desertion, and three were for second offense DWIs. District Judge Harry H. Schultz said that one of the DWI indictments involved J. D. Gibbs who pled guilty to the charges and received three years probation. Eleven no bills were issued by the grand jury.

DR. RAY LINDLEY

FIRST CHRISTIAN Special Program Will Mark Start For New Church

First Christian Church services will be held at 10:40 Sunday, in order to give the congregation time to attend the ground breaking ceremony of the new church at 11:45. Services in the new church, which will be located west of the roads intersection at Harrison Highway and 25 Mile Avenue, will begin about Easter.

A roll call of classes will be held, and teachers and their class members will stand on the plot designated for the building, and each group will turn a spadeful of dirt.

Dr. Ray Lindley will give the groundbreaking services, and Billy Robinson, TCU ministerial student, will assist him. Dr. Lindley is vice-president of Texas Christian University.

A vocal prelude will be given by the choir, and Robert Veigel, chairman of the church board, Troy Moore, chairman of the building committee and Ira Scott, chairman of the finance committee, will present statements to the audience.

The congregation of the church, plus many visitors, have shown much interest in the new building, said a spokesman.

Bus, Zone Change To Adjust School Class Enrollment

Several changes in the proposed zone between Shirley and Central Schools were made this week in order to balance the crowded enrollment in each of the three elementary schools. A number of students and one bus change from the schools were also necessary, report school officials.

Shirley zone was changed West to a line extending South from 15th Street down the alley between Avenue A and Highway 51 to Park Avenue, then East to meet the original zone.

Bus No. 27, driven by W. H. Fogie, will be changed from Aikman School to Shirley School. These changes will be effective Monday morning, and students are to report to their new schools then.

Any dues or fees that have been paid will be returned or will accompany the student to his school. The average number of students in each class from grades one through six is: first grade, 24; second grade, 22; third grade, 25; fourth grade, 28; fifth grade, 25; and sixth grade, 27 pupils.

Around Town

West Texas Builders of Lubbock, contractors on the Aikman School project have again backed-off on the date for turning over the building—or parts thereof—for classes. It won't be ready for use by nine classes on Monday as previously figured: Latest guess: Sept. 15.

Revival services begin at the Assembly of God Church tonight at 8 p.m., with Rev. Clarence G. Mitchell of Fort Worth doing the preaching. There will be services each day at 10 a.m., with Rev. Mitchell conducting a Bible study. The revival will continue two weeks and services will be held each evening except Saturday, Rev. V. W. Marcell, pastor, stated.

John E. Sisson, producer of the 7. Sisson Show on KFDD-TV, has issued the last call for local talent who wish to appear on a talent show to be staged here Sept. 13. All acts will have to be auditioned before placement on the show is assured. All interested are asked to contact radio station KPAN.

There will be a meeting of the Hereford Art Guild in the room of the High School Monday at 3:30 p.m. to complete plans and enrollment for the beginners course in oil painting that is being sponsored by the guild. The course will be taught by Miss Isabel Robinson of Canyon. Anyone interested in the course may call the president, Mrs. Ernest McGee, at phone 2016. The classes will start Monday, Oct. 1 at 3:30 p.m. at the (Continued On Page 2)

Football Contest Starts In Brand; Prizes Listed

The gigantic Hereford Brand Football Contest opens this week. Grand prize is four tickets to the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl clash. Weekly prizes will be merchandise at several Hereford stores.

Anyone except employees of the Brand and their families are eligible to compete. The Cotton Bowl tickets will be awarded to those picking the most winners of the complete contest.

Entry blanks are available in the Brand and must be deposited in boxes which will be in the sponsoring stores. They must be turned in by 5 p.m. Friday and are not to be brought to the paper.

Only one entry is allowed per contestant.

COUNTY DRYS SET PLAN; PETITION PRINTING OUT

Deaf Smith County Drys held their official organizational meeting here Friday night at the First Baptist Church. After naming officers of the group and outlining a campaign to promote votes against the sale of alcoholic beverages the Dry group voted to rescind a previous motion calling for publication of petitioners signatures.

Only one dissenting vote was noted on the motion that called for no publication of the local option election petition. Purpose of the organization was outlined as "to keep liquor out of our community and to get others to vote against it."

Chairman Selected There were just over 100 persons present for the organizational meeting. Protestant ministers opened the meeting.

Rev. Claude Northcutt, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene was named permanent chairman. Other officers and committee members are mostly laymen. Acting, apparently, on the assumption that the election date on the local-option alcoholic beverage sales issue will be set for an early date by the County Commission, the Dry group outlined a program calling for contacting all qualified voters of the county.

Speakers during the meeting included R. R. Holton, representative of Texas Narcotic and Alcoholic Education, Inc., Austin, and C. J. Humphrey, Amarillo attorney.

Humphrey emphasized to the audience in brief remarks that "You can't stay home... and win this election. You must be convinced that every vote counts."

Holton characterized the local campaign as one against the liquor industry, and said that "dry" should make up their minds as to definite reasons they are against legal sales.

"We need to know the truth about what's going on in our country," he declared. He cited three aims of the liquor industry that were first outlined during a convention of liquor manufacturers in 1935 at Chicago and have since been implemented with great success. The aims Holton cited as

1. Teach women to drink.
2. Make youth 'liquor conscious.'
3. Remember that nothing counts like making a profit.

Evidence Cited The TANE leader said that between 1934 and 1954 average liquor consumption per capita in the United States increased from 8.9 to 18.7 gallons.

He declared that among 68,000,000 people in the U. S. who drink "socially" today are 68 percent of the adult women.

As for the second aim he cited children's singing of liquor sales "jingles" as conclusive evidence. And as for the profit point, Holton said that Americans last year spent $9,885,000,000 for alcohol.

He declared that while Texans in 1954 received 17.5 million dollars in tax returns from legal sales of alcohol they paid out 353 million dollars for purchases of alcoholic beverages. And that 28 district judges in the state together estimated costs at 10.5 million dollars for caring for children on the state rolls as dependents because of alcohol.

I keep reading about how the post office department is going to buy a bunch of motor scooters to ease the tired, aching feet of city mail carriers. Furthermore, I believe that we should go to bat and apply for one for Baxter London. He is a good boy, and I am sure that his feet ache quite often, despite which he is most accommodating, courteous and friendly. He has heavy loads and a long route, which isn't always true in some of the larger cities. If anybody gets a scooter out of this deal, I know that Baxter needs, merits and deserves one. There may be others, too, but I think old Baxter is tops.

Since this has to be written in advance, it is impossible to know what will happen at the "dry" forces rally Friday night. However, we have been asked scores of times if we intend to publish the list of signers on the petition call.

Music To Mules Play Theatres

THE FASTEST GUN ALIVE

"The Fastest Gun Alive" showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star Theatre, is as usual as its title. Starring Glenn Ford, Jeanne Crain, and Broderick Crawford, with Russ Tamblyn heading a big supporting cast, the picture tells a story of the Early West but it is unlike any Western you have ever seen before.

It is the story of George Temple, (Glenn Ford) a quiet, mild-mannered storekeeper, and his wife, Dora, (Jeanne Crain) whose seemingly happy marriage hides a secret in his past, a secret involving the fact that George Temple is the fastest man with a gun in the whole West.

What happens to him, to Dora, and to their fellow citizens of Cross Creek when these murderous men seek out Temple to challenge his reputation with a gun, makes for spellbinding action with a twisting, surprise, finish to the plot. Also showing is Paramount News and the cartoon, "Rocketbye Baby."

BENNY GOODMAN STORY

Steve Allen and Donna Reed star in "The Benny Goodman Story," showing Wednesday and on Thursday at the Star Theatre. This is the story of Benny Goodman from the time when he was handed a clarinet at 10 years of age because he was too small to hold a large instrument, until he became a leader of his jazz band in New York. Three of the original members of Benny Goodman's quartet are in this movie. They are Teddy Wilson, Lionel Hampton, and Gene Krupa. Also showing at the Star will be Terrytoon, "Baffling Bunnies."

SATELLITE IN THE SKY

This movie took three years to film and required the assistance of many scientific and military organizations to complete. "Satellite in the Sky," shows Sunday and Monday at the Tower Drive In. The film stars Kieron Moore, Lois Maxwell, Donald Wolfitt, Bryan Forbes, Jimmy Hanley and Thea Gregory.

DOUBLE FEATURE

"Francis in the Navy" will be a delight for all the family to see Tuesday and Wednesday at the Tower Drive In. Francis, the talking mule comedy star, is teamed once again with Donald O'Connor, and they are ably assisted by Martha Hyer. The opening of the movie finds the famous mule classified as "naval surplus" and is therefore placed on the auction block. When Donald O'Connor learns of the outlandish injustice he rushes to the aid of Francis. Also showing on the same program is "Underwater" starring Jane Russell and Gilbert Rolé. A Tom and Jerry cartoon will also be shown.

SHACK OUT ON 101

Terry Moore is starred in "Shack Out on 101" showing Sunday at the Texas Theatre. She plays a straight dramatic role as the lone waitress in a small Pacific Coast highway cafe. Co-stars are Frank Lovejoy and Keenan Wynn. The action in the picture takes place in a seaside cafe along the Pacific Coast Highway near San Diego, clearing point for a ring trying to get vital defense secrets from an experimental electronics plant nearby.

The West Texas Amateur matches will start at 9 a.m. Thursday with all golfers, male or female, invited to participate whether they play in the tournament or not. Play will be based on the point system with each bogey counting one point, each par two points, each birdie counting three points, each eagle four points, and a double-eagle or hole-in-one 25 points. Each group will consist of a pro, an A player, a B player, a C player, and a lady. Ladies will receive full handicaps from ladies par up to 18 strokes. Entry fee is $5 for pros and $3 for amateurs.

The second annual Mixed Team Cup Matches will also be unreel Thursday. One pro and three ladies from each club will combine their total scores for possession of the big trophy for one year.

FOIBLES—FANCY AND PLAIN

Colleges Bust Out With The Big Ones From The Barrier

It is under three weeks before get-away day for 1956 Collegiate football and as usual, they bust out with big ones from the barrier. In the old days, it was customary to ease into the season via a breather game or three, nowadays they jump right to it.

On Sept. 22, next, Notre Dame tackles SMU at Dallas; Alabama is at Rice; USC journeys to Texas U; Villanova comes to Texas Aggies; Pitt plays at West Virginia, in what could be a rouser; Florida, a comer, visits Mississippi State; Oregon State visits Missouri; Duke does likewise at South Carolina; Syracuse goes to Maryland and that tussle could be a harbinger of things to come, and mayhap, one of the season's biggies; Texas Western against Texas Tech at Lubbock, last lap it was a 27-27 standoff; TCU ambles to Kansas U., and if the Jayhawk transfers and Buckeye imports are healthy and on hand, it could be one of those afternoons; Georgia Tech takes the wrapper off a purported good one against Kaintuck; Stanford goes to the hollow up at Pullman agin Washington State; North Carolina tunes for the Sooners with old rival North Carolina State, in what used to be a traditional game, not a lid-lifter, and Wm. and Mary vs. Wake Forest in another traditional; these few examples and many more comprise the initial offering for '56.

The preseason prognosticators, particularly the paid ones, have been active and while I haven't seen near all of them, three of the more highly regarded of the ilk have a consensus on the national ratings that looks thusly and in this order: Oklahoma, Maryland, Ohio State, Michigan State, Georgia Tech, TCU, Texas Aggies, Notre Dame, Michigan and Stanford. In their three picks the only other teams mentioned were Pittsburg, Yale, Tennessee and Army.

Just to gaze back on 1955, the preseason guess then, ran largely to: UCLA, Michigan, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Iowa, Army, Auburn, Miami, Maryland and Rice. At season's end the AP's ratings were Oklahoma, Michigan State, Maryland, UCLA, Ohio State, TCU, Georgia Tech, Auburn, Notre Dame and Mississippi.

Bowl games bore out these rates except Mississippi beat TCU and Vanderbilt, from nowhere as rated, took Auburn. The UP's final listing had the same membership of clubs but their positions were shuffled slightly, it read: Oklahoma, Michigan State, Maryland, UCLA, TCU, Ohio State, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Mississippi and Auburn.

Schedule-wise, Notre Dame faces the toughest in '56, in attempting to range thru SMU, Indiana, Purdue, Mich. State, Oklahoma, Navy, Pitt, North Carolina, Iowa and USC.

Pittsburg, back on football's main line, runs into, consecutively, West Virginia, Syracuse, California, Duke, Oregon, Minnesota, Notre Dame, Army, Penn State and Miami.

Of the SWC clubs, in addition to the always nightmarish conference slate, Texas takes on USC, Tulane, West Virginia and Oklahoma. When the Steers put the Greenies and the Mountaineers on their sked, they probably looked tender but they've toughened up considerably the last two laps. To ameliorate the statistics, leave us purloin a quip from Cousin Otey's almanac and wind this thing up, laughingly, I hope.

Quote, "John Miskovsky, umpire in the Arkansas - Tulsa game of 1955 at Fayetteville, relates that Arkansas was leading 14-6 and shooting for the clincher touchdown. A pass into the end zone was complete but Miskovsky noticed this big No. 77 Arkansas tackle down at the 5-yard line, far beyond the line of scrimmage. "What are you doing down here," asked Mr. M. "I done run a red light didn't I?" grinned the player. "Know what the penalty is for a lineman being downfield on a pass?" Miskovsky queried. "Yes-suh," says the out-sized one, "15 yards and three weeks on the bench." ...

BIG ALARM - LITTLE FIRE

WILLIAMSPORT — It took some persistence but city firemen did find out that where there's smoke there's fire.

They were called to the same location within three hours but on the first trip could find nothing.

Receiving another complaint of smoke filling a downtown hotel, they rushed to the spot and finally found a small blaze in a sealed one-foot space between two buildings. Fire Chief Harold E. Kinley said the cause was either a cigarette or the sun.

Double Ring Ceremony For Eddie Morrison, Mr. Mays

Miss Eddie La Nelle Morrison and Walter Harrell Mays were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at the Assembly of God parsonage Sept. 6, at 6 p.m., with Rev. V. W. Marcontell performing the rites.

Mrs. Mays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morrison Sr., graduated from Hereford High School in 1956. While attending school she was a member of the Pep Club, Tri-Hi-L, and D. E. Club. She was also a Rainbow girl.

Mr. Mays, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mays Sr., was formerly of Throckmorton and graduated from the high school there in 1954. He is employed with the Consumers Fuel Co-op.

For the wedding ceremony, the bride chose a fitted navy suit with pearl and satin lapel trimming. She wore a white satin hat with pearl trimmings. Her slippers were black patent leather, and she carried a white Bible topped with white carnations which was a gift of the bridegroom.

Bridesmaid was Daleine Timmin, and best man was the bride's brother, Edwin Morrison Jr.

Guests at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morrison Sr., Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mays Sr., of Throckmorton; the bridegroom's brother, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mays of Hereford; the bride's grandfather, J. C. Frost of Stephenville and Rev. and Mrs. V. W. Marcontell.

For the wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride wore her wedding suit, with the corsage which had adorned the Bible during the ceremony. After the couple returns today, they will make their home at 113 West 13th St., in Hereford.

Progressive Dinner Season Opener Tuesday For LaPlata Study Club

First session of the 1956-57 club season for LaPlata Study Club was in the form of a progressive dinner given Tuesday evening. The group met for appetizers in the back yard at the Clint Formby home and then went to the Urlin Streu home for the main course which consisted of charcoal hamburgers and all the trimmings. The dessert course was served in the Jay Boston home, where the business session and program was held.

Mrs. Boston, vice president, conducted the business and distributed the new year books. Members of the year book committee were Mesdames Boston, Urlin Streu and Clint Formby.

The course of study "Horizons Unlimited" will include something of the new and something of the old: People, changing trends, the entertainment world and the unlimited world of science and medicine. Social features will include a husband's party on Thanksgiving, a Christmas party and guest night.

Mrs. Boston presented the first program on "Seeking New Horizons" dealing broadly with seeking new horizons through good books and reading for pleasure.

It was announced that last year's project has been completed with the hanging of drapes in the Camp Fire Hut, which was delayed until re-decorating could be finished during the summer months.

Members attending were Mesdames M. C. Adams, F. L. Alexander, Leroy Aven, N. D. Bartlett Jr., Johnny Blocker, a new member, Jay Boston, Dalton Criswell, Paul Dishman, S. S. Dodson, Clint Formby, J. R. Johnson, W. J. Krumbain, Don Little, Claude McDougal, Ansel McDowell, Elmer Patterson, Frank Prowell, A. J. Schroeter, T. E. Seliger Jr., Urlin Streu, Raymond White, Liston Wilson and Louis Woodford.

More than 250 chemicals from argon (a volcanic gas) to zinc chromate (yellow pigment) are used in building an atomic submarine.

Telephone companies in Canada are now giving additional training aid to their employes in microwave and radar for use in defense communications.

The average life span of American Brahman bulls is 10 1/2 years. This was determined in a test on the J. D. Hudgins ranch near Hereford, Tex.

THIRTEEN GRANDPARENTS—Posing with her mother, Julie Schroeter, week old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schroeter, has 13 grandparents. They include the immediate grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Walser. The great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Schroeter of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fullwood, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Walser and Mrs. A. O. Thompson. The great-great grandmothers are Mrs. A. E. Argo of Paris and Mrs. Jennie Fullwood of Kerrville. (Staff Photo)

DAWN NEWS
Youngsters' Sunday School Picnic Is Held Tuesday In Dameron Park

By DELLA RUTH DOW
Everyone is getting back in time with the school bells now. All the children are glad school has started because they can see their friends every day now.

The Primary Sunday School Class had a picnic Tuesday afternoon in Dameron Park in Hereford. Those attending were: Buddie Stewart, Bobby Gentry, Buddy Tucker, Gary Richardson, Beverley Lemons, Peggy Jean Lemons,
Kenneth Dale McClung, and Mrs.
Walter Galley, their teacher. The mothers present were Mrs. Edgar Lemons, Mrs. Clifford Stewart, and the Rev. and Mrs. Paul McClung.
The class presented their teacher with a gift as she is moving to Center, Colo., this fall.

Here From Dalhart
Iriene Galley's roommate for college at WTSC came to see her recently. She is Mary Beth Weckle of Dalhart.

Mrs. L. M. Harris of Amarillo is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Clifford Stewart for a few days.

The Carl Wimberleys went to Glorietta last Sunday to take their daughter, Sus, for BSU week. Then they went to Santa Fe, N.M., and saw Adial Stevenson, Keefauver, and many others at a rally there.
They also visited Taos, Cimarron and Raton before returning home.
Officer Visits Here

Second Lt. and Mrs. Clifford
Galley and Kara Sue of Lawton, Okla., visited in the Walter Galley home over the weekend. They have to be in Fort Smith, Ark.,

for duty Oct. 1.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dow and Della Ruth attended a family reunion at Elk City, Okla., over the weekend. It was held in the home of Mrs. E. L. Ray, Mrs. Dow's mother, who is 81 years old.

Four of Mrs. Ray's five living children were present. There were 14 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren present. All of the Dow's children attended and all but three of their grandchildren.
There were 34 attending and four states represented — California,
New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Galley and boys visited in the Walter and Orval Galley homes Monday, and in the Lester Galley home in Hereford.

Gene Fishing
Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Washington left Saturday with Mr. and Mrs.
Melvin Howard to go to Gunnison,
Colo., to fish.

Visitors in the Ray Polan home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Robinson, Jerry, Ann, and Juanita of Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Williamson and girls of Midland. The Robinsons are Mrs. Polan's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Trimmer went to their new home at Second Mesa, Ariz., recently. Mrs.
Trimmer was running the post office. Mrs. Dick Frye is now running it. We hope the Trimmers will like their new home.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS
Cotton John Will Be Tour Guide; Soil Bank Advantages Are Noted

By JIM WIMAN
Everything we said in last week's column about the field tour that's coming up, was right except the date. We said it would be Monday but it's to be Tuesday. The change should be for the better since most people are pretty busy on Monday.
It's too bad the date conflicts with Grant Hanna's DeKalb tour to Lubbock. By the time it was learned that the two events were on the same date, it was too late to change either. Hanna's tour will consist of a visit to the De-Kalb hybrid seed farm north of Lubbock.

County Agent Hugh Clearman tells us Cotton John Smith from Amarillo will be present for the local tour to serve as master of ceremonies. A large turnout is expected for the event which is beginning jointly sponsored by the Tierra
Blanca Soil Conservation District and the Deaf Smith County Certified Seed Growers Association.

A similar tour held in early October last year didn't draw so well but the earlier date this year should find most farm people able to get away from work long enough to attend.

Soil Bank Advice
The Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District has, since its formation, urged the planting of grass where needed to properly protect and conserve agricultural land. Only a very small percent of the land in the district is actually not suited for cultivation.

However, a lot of acres could benefit from having grass on it for a few years. Many farmers have felt it wasn't worth the effort.
Others feel that you can't plant grass here on dryland and expect to get a stand. We're wondering if the conservation reserve phase of the soil bank program will give the incentive needed to get such plantings started in the District.

The $9 per acre annual rental, plus the help given to get the grass started, will probably look better to many dryland farmers than what they have experienced in recent years. The rental contract will be for either five or 10 years, depending on the desire of the landowner. The land may not be used for any crop production
during the period of the contract and may not be grazed except by special permission.

An annual cover crop such as sudan or cane should be planted the year prior to the grass planting.
The grass then will be planted early the following spring in the cover left by the sudan or cane.

Farmers on irrigated land may find that such planting could well be used on land that is too steep or shallow for the production of the usual irrigated crops. A lot of times this is only a small part of a farm and would not upset operations if turned back to grass.

Shorts-Clad Wear Goose Bumps, Too

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By FARDY LINER

Here. We've had unusually chilly weather for early September. Papa and I debated pro and con over whether or not to turn the furnace on, and we finally compromised by turning it on. We usually end up with a top-sided compromise around our house.

What hurts me is that I bought a couple of summer dresses on sale. Have worn one of them once and the other not at all. Guess they'll still be in style next summer, but I kind of hate the thought of storing something brand new away for eight or nine months.

I suppose that boating and skiing enthusiasts are bemoaning the arrival of fall. I'd wager that the George Jewells are the last to give up the weekly jaunts over to Buffalo Lake. They enjoy lakeside camping and water sports so much that it's a rare week end if they don't go to the lake—warm weather or cool.

This summer it has been more than just a family affair for Betty, who is quite the accomplished skier, and George, who captains their boat. During the outings they've hosted countless teen-agers and any number of families from Hereford. Joyce and Dennis Lomas will be the first to praise the Jewells' congeniality along with their delicious charcoal-broiled burgers and exhilarating boat rides.

Back to the cool weather: It's a good time for jackets and sweaters. There are luscious-looking sweaters being featured for fall and winter wear. I'm thinking in particular of sweaters made of a new type yarn that's a blend of wool, fur, and nylon; is as pretty as cashmere but holds its shape better; and is ever luxurious feeling!

Four Way Split

The first day of school was hectic for teachers and mothers—probably a little more hectic than usual this year. Nedra Robinson was among the mamas who had to rush from one building to another in order to get their children situated in different schools. Nedra's task was really complicated because her four offspring attend four different schools. Talk about a mother having to be a good manager!

Most everyone went on from the school to town to take advantage of Dollar Day specials, and there were any number of groups discussing school and the sales over coffee cups. Heard one woman remark to a friend: "We live on the same block, but we have to come to town to see each other." She's right; neighbors don't seem to visit back and forth as much as we used to.

Don't know about Mary Stapp's neighbors, but I do know she was also looking for someone she knew among the shoppers. She had hurried from home, to school, to town and was definitely ready (in fact almost desperate) for a refreshing cup of coffee. Much to her chagrin, she'd left her billfold at home (and who wants to charge one cup of coffee?), but she did find a friend who was willing and financially able to "treat." Although slightly embarrassed, Mary enjoyed to the fullest extent the drinking of that cup of coffee. Know just how you felt, Mary.

Over at another table was Jerry Bainum and her mom, Mrs. Kendall. Their topic of conversation concerned the problem of transferring Jerry's daughter, Gwendell, to a different school.

Career Woman

And on down the street I overheard Nadine Wade say that she's attending Banking School in Amarillo again this fall. Career woman Nadine is a mighty busy person; but we notice that she manages to take grandson, Steve, to the movies occasionally.

Also heard that Wanda Jones is having difficulties as chairman of the Central School P-TA nominating committee. It happened that parents whom the committee had counted on to fill P-TA offices had switched their children to Ela Alkman. Do we hear Wanda's committee yelling "traitors!"?

Lorraine Jones and Sonny Deavenport couldn't tarry for social chit-chat. They both were in a hurry to get home and do some telephoning about Blue Birds.

Can't remember whether it was Tuesday or Wednesday, but Margaret Heard and Ruth Muse were both seen headed in the direction of a grocery store; and each was speaking in low tones to her small daughter—motherly instructions as to behavior of little girls in grocery stores, I suppose.

To The Victor...

That Billie Kelly gives the nicest prizes at her bridge parties! We saw the lovely baking dish with stand-holder that she was planning to award for Low score at her club. . . gee, wonder what she gave for HIGH!

And speaking of pretty gifts, Irene Latham carries the most beautiful jeweled cigarette case and matching lighter that we've PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—Judge Edward L. Oast of Norfolk County Circuit Court knows something about criminals but he has added to his experience.

Judge Oast wasn't looking down from the bench but was looking up from a sofa when a masked bandit entered his cottage at Nag's Head, N. C. He caught the bandit off guard, floored him with a right and held him down until officers could be summoned from the sheriff's office.

TRADITIONAL TUNE TOLLS TEEN'S

By CAROL INMAN

School seems to be the main topic around town this week, with students scurrying from class to class to the tune of the traditional "school bells."

Students are again growing accustomed to their classes, rushing home each afternoon with a voracious appetite, and then settling down to study or go to work.

Students out of high school are rushing around buying clothes, packing, saying farewells, and making last minute plans before leaving for the college of their choice.

Tempe Bound
Bonnie Lewis will go back to Tempe, Ariz., this fall, and to make sure she doesn't miss any of the Hereford news, she subscribed to The Brand, and got lots of promises from her friends that they would write faithfully.

Donna Buttrill decided to attend a "southern college," and she left Monday for the Bob Jones University in South Carolina. In case you didn't know, Donna was one of the "brains" in high school who graduated in three years.

Farewell Party
Honored by a farewell slumber party... in home of B. L. West... Several girls attended. Carroll and her mother, Mrs. R. W. Sparks, left Saturday for Abilene. They stayed overnight in the home of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Carroll. Mrs. Sparks returned today, and Carroll is getting settled at McMurry College.

The Presbyterian Women's Association met Wednesday to resume their luncheon and program meetings. Mrs. Fred Axe was leader of the program which was "The Whole Mission."

Several discussions on the work of the church were heard, and afterward, Mrs. George Heard presided over a "buzz" session.

"Call Unto Fellowship" was given by Mrs. Lee Conklin. The Fall Presbyterial will be at Littlefield on Oct. 11. A joint meeting for the last program on the study of Christian Living - Family Style will be held Sept. 11. Mrs. Henry Hastings and T. E. Seigler Jr., were hostesses.

New Daughter
Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright on the arrival of a baby daughter born last week! The couple live in Carlsbad, N.M. Mrs. Wright is the former Miss Marlene Hudson. Her mother, Mrs.

Jack Hudson spent last week with them and she reports mother and baby are doing just fine.

Kit Sanders will be editor of the West Texas State College newspaper this year. And he's sure he's going to make "The Prairie" editions this year the best yet! To make even surer, he's recruited little sister, Verita, who will be a freshman, to be a reporter for the paper. Verita has won several essay contests in high school and she's very interested in creative writing.

E. E. Fridley left Sunday for Hot Springs. He expects to return in mid-September.

Mrs. Alexander Visits
An old-time resident of Hereford came by the office the other day. Mrs. W. L. Alexander, known by many folks here, is now living in Orlando, Fla., and she wanted some way to greet all her friends here, since she didn't have time to visit them. She has been living in Merced, Calif. with her daughter, Mrs. Beverly Bloch, and they stopped in Dimmitt for two days to visit with relatives, the Robert Springer family.

They stopped at Tulsa, Okla., to get Lt. Bloch, and drove through to Florida. Mrs. Alexander lived in Hereford for 30 years, and many folks probably drank lots of her famous coffee when she owned City Drug Store.

Holiday Visitors
Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nipper over the Labor Day holidays were Miss Earlene Nipper, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ray Smith and Pam of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Nipper of Amarillo, and Mrs. Floyd Nipper of Tullia.

Mrs. Bess E. Givan returned home Monday after a three week visit and vacation trip with relatives at Shelbyville and Hannibal, Mo.

Mike Fields left this week for California. "Back to the smog," says Mike. He has been visiting this summer in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Fields and daughter, Sandy. During the summer, Mike "made the most of Texas" by swimming, picnicking, going to LL ball games, and traveling to other towns in the Panhandle. He will enter high school in Los Angeles as a freshman next Monday.

Among the folks at the Boys Ranch rodeo last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sparks and boys Buddy and Warren.

Deep Sea Fishing

The Lawrence Kendalls and daughter Vickie left Monday for a vacation trip to North Carolina and Florida. They plan to spend about three weeks visiting relatives in Lenoir, N.C. and will visit Kendall's sister in Niceville, Fla., Lawrence also plans to try his hand at deep sea fishing while in Florida.

Mrs. J. W. Melver, Johnny, Mrs. J. T. Melver, and Kathryn Jenkins left today for Gallup, N.M. They will visit the Manson Jones family on their ranch near Gallup. Then Mrs. J. W. Melver will go to California where she plans to visit relatives in Riverside and San Francisco. She will visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ham White, who are formerly of Hereford, sister, and family Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Blair, and in San Francisco she will visit with her brother and family, the Hugh Whites. Mrs. Melver also plans to visit with Mrs. James Hale, the former Miss Bobby Jean Drury of Hereford, and her mother, Mrs. W. F. Drury.

She - unlike most Texans - doesn't plan on visiting Disneyland at all. But she declared she's going to "hogtie someone into taking her to see "Top of the Mark," in San Francisco," the place she has always wondered about and wanted to see.

Off For Germany
Mrs. R. L. Parvin and son Harley Ray, left Friday for New York where they will meet R. L. Parvin. From New York, they will go to Germany where he will be stationed in the armed services in Ulm, Germany for three years. Mrs. Parvin is very happy about it though, since they will be in the town she grew up in, and she will have her mother, Mrs. Bertha Manz, to keep her company.

The Liston Wilsons are now grandma and grandpa! Mrs. Wilson received the news this week that her granddaughter was born Sept. 6 in Wurtzburg, Germany. The proud parents are Lt. and Mrs. Dwight L. Wilson. The Liston Wilsons are now planning on a trip to Germany next spring to see their new granddaughter, since their son will be stationed there for two more years. "And I'm not going to wait that long to see my first grandchild!" says Pauline.

Look Who's New!

BONNIE LEWIS—The strapless bodice of this formal, at left, is topped with nylon net and frosted with rhinestones and seed pearls. Fashioned of beige cotton lace over taffeta and net the bodice extends to a point at each side to emphasize the Princess lines. The waltz length skirt of nylon net billows out with layers of net with the top layer repeating the pointed effect at the waist line. With this she wears pearl and rhinestone earrings and white satin slippers. Bonnie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Lewis. She has attended the summer session of Arizona State College and will return to Tempe to resume her studies there this fall.

DOROTHY VEIGEL, who will be a junior at West Texas State College this fall, has on a waltz length gown made along graceful, simple lines in all-nylon lace over ruby red taffeta. Sweetheart neckline, bare shoulders, and the full, full skirt has layers and layers of lace, and the back is just as pretty as the front. She wears strapless and backless silver sandals and for costume jewelry she chooses rhinestone bracelet and earrings. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Veigel. SAMMIE McLALLEN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McLallen, is modeling the dress sent to her by General Mills when she won the title of Miss Texas in the Betty Crocker Homemaking contest last May. The dress is of powder blue nylon lace over taffeta fashioned with fitted torso meeting the waltz length bouffant skirt in petal points. The top of the bodice has layers of ruffles of net to form the neckline offset by a blue velvet ribbon bow. The full lace skirt features panels of nylon net ruffles over net and taffeta underskirts. She is wearing blue earrings, necklace to match and slightly darker blue satin shoes. As Miss Texas, Sammie won a $1500 award. She will continue her study of home economics at Hardin-Simmons University. MARY DURHAM, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Durham, is wearing a floor length dress in pale pink nylon net over taffeta—lavishly decorated with bands of lace and finely shirred net covering the bodice. The sweetheart neckline with dropped shoulder effect is accented by the gently sloping waistline which drops to a "V" in the front creating a smooth torso line. The full skirt is made of layers of net forming a tiered effect alternating with wide full ruffles which repeats the new style of the sleeves. Her shoes are white satin. Mary will be a third year student at West Texas State College. PATSY JACK-

SON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson, will be a senior student at West Texas State College. She has chosen a formal of cerise nylon net and lace over taffeta. The strapless bodice of lace features a fold of shirred nylon net at the top and the full-length skirt is made of tufts of shirred nylon net gathered up by panels of lace. The ruffle at the bottom of the skirt has been caught up by the tiny cerise rosebuds. She wears crystal earrings and white satin shoes. DALEINE TINNIN—Tiny tucks shape the bodice of this lovely gown of cherry red net over taffeta. The full length skirt is fashioned of net ruffles extending from the waistline to the floor. This formal is definitely designed for a party future. Her white brocaded satin slippers are touched with glitter and she wears rhinestone earrings. Daleine, who will be a freshman student at West Texas State College, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Tinnin. (Staff Photos)

L. A. E. Study Club Opens 25th Year

L.A.E. Study Club opened the 1956-57 season at a regular meeting held in the home of Mrs. T. W. Roberson Tuesday afternoon.

Members answered roll call by telling of summer vacation trips. States visited included Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona.

New year books were distributed by the year book committee and assignments discussed. The committee was made up of Mrs. Roberson, Mrs. Jim Loving and Mrs. Luther Lesly.

Silver Jackets

Jackets for the yearbooks are done in silver, in observance of the club's 25th year of activity. The club was organized and federated in 1931 with most of the members living in the rural area and having to drive 30 or 40 miles to meetings. But the members were interested in improving themselves and the community and even during the depression the club continued to grow.

During the years a variety of study courses have been pursued. This year the study course is "The World's Great Religions" and programs will also include topics required by Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Texas Day and Guest Day will be observed along with social functions interspersed through the season.

Members attending were Mesdames C. E. Beauford, Max Dreyer, Gordon Elliott, R. H. Hale, Alta Higgins, Boyd Knox, Jim Loving, Jessie Radovich, B. A. Reddell, Sanford Smith, George Suggs and the hostess.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGehee were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cowart of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Long and children of Olton.

MISS FAYE NOYES

Miss Faye Noyes Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Noyes are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Faye, to Wilbur Keener, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Keener of Chatsworth, Ga.

The bride-elect is a 1956 graduate of Hereford High School. The date for the wedding has not been set.

With 27,600,000 gross tons, the U.S. leads the world in merchant-ship tonnage, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

WCS Features Luncheon Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church held its first regular luncheon meeting of the new church year in Fellowship Hall on Wednesday. Seven tables were arranged for members of the seven circles with roses and other fall flowers used in decoration.

Hostesses were Mesdames Tom Alderson, Lee Curry, Donald Shipley, Homer Henslee, Hershel Miller, Bill Bradley, and Jimmie Bownds.

After the luncheon the business meeting and program was held in Ward Hall with the president, Mrs. Grant Hanna, presiding.

Mrs. Alby Cockrell was appointed spiritual life leader and members voted to sell Christmas cards again this year. All members who have not turned tea towels or dish cloths in for the kitchen were urged to do so. Mrs. Phillip Barkley, vice presi-

Troy Moores Are Honored On Wedding Anniversary

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Moore honored their parents at a reception given in their home on Sunday afternoon in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary. Approximately 100 guests called.

In keeping with the silver anniversary theme all appointments were in silver and white. Large white chrysanthemums, interspersed with miniature mums and silvered foliage, were used on the refreshment table which was laid with a white organdy and lace cloth over white. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Bess Moore, Mrs. James W. Witherspoon, Mrs. Sylvester Slagle and Mrs. Jack Bradley. White tapers in candelabra gave soft illumination on the buffet.

Others in the house party were Mesdames Lee Benefield, J. D. Neill, C. S. Gunter, R. R. Wills, T. J. Clay and Ivan Block. Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Moore and their three children, Sharon, Martin Reed and Troy Don.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore have lived in Hereford since their marriage in 1931 and have been closely connected with the social, business and church life of the city through the years.

AUXILIARY SEES FILM
The Auxiliary to the American Legion saw a film presented by Sgt. Wm. E. Swope of Amarillo Air Force Base at the regular session of the group held Tuesday night at Legion Hall.

The film dealt with the ground observer corps of civil defense and Sgt. Swope as commentator urged the group to join and encourage others to become interested in this "vital phase of civil defense."

Hugh Swanson of Denver, Colo., has been a guest of Sharon Moore in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Moore, the past week.

YOUR RED CROSS ON THE JOB

By CORINNE J. NEELY

August ended the summer Water Safety Program of Red Cross, in cooperation with the City Management, in an outstanding community service, we think. It was required by the management that your life guards, John Poindexter and "Cubby" Kitchens be Red Cross trained for their jobs. Two instructors, J. B. Wills and Jack Ramey also have this qualification, as well as the aides helping in the program. The aides, Texie Gyles, Betty Roberts, Pat Hill and Barbara Dameron help make possible for J. B. to put over the extensive swimming program of the summer. A total of 171 boys and girls finished satisfactorily their class work to earn certificates. Of this number 151 were beginners, 11 were intermediates, four were Jr. Life guards and five completed the Senior Life guard course to earn their patches. At least half this number began the classes but dropped out when their families went on vacation or for other reasons did not finish their work.

(We believe this program ranked with the Little League in accomplishment — for pleasure, pastime and benefit to the youth of the community. And so worth while that one teacher, Mrs. Hill, said that it had been one of the best summers of her life.)

Although the class in Mother and Baby Care under Mrs. Earl Springer, instructor, was small it was worth while and she plans two classes for October, if as many as eight couples will sign for each class. Call Red Cross, phone 664 for information and to register NOW.

A First Aid Class — the fifth this year—will this time be taught by Marlin Gilliland and the class roll is now complete with the whole group being from Southwestern Public Service, as a part of their safety program. Plans for an Advance Class to follow is at this time nearly complete.

Under Home Service — Cases included 8 servicemen, 2 veterans and not counted as cases but limited service were 19 civilians. Only one serviceman was given financial aid, all other services were other types. The committee headed by Pauline Howard had one meeting.

Other chapter activities: Budget and Finance committee with Jimmie Allred met and discussed next year's budget. Auditing of the chapter's books by Dub Hair, was a donated service. Three more clubs returned their applications to enter the October project. They were Dawn H. D., L'Allegro Study and La Madre Mia. Others are still needed to make this a success. Although Jr. Red Cross is usually inactive in summer, they had an opportunity to follow through on a project to contribute gifts as prizes to a V.A. and A.F.B. Hospital. This was done under the leadership of Mrs. Millard Nobles, chairman; a trained Jr. worker, Dorothy Faye Daniel and one Council member representative, Jackie Brown.

Beta Sigma Phi Season To Open

Members of Kappa Iota, Beta Sigma Phi sorority were entertained in the home of the sponsor, Mrs. James W. Witherspoon recently at a salad supper. Mrs. Arthur Dean and Mrs. Harold Beauchamp were cohostesses.

Plans were made for the fall rush season and projects for the coming year were discussed. The members decided to sell Christmas cards again this season as a fund raiser project.

The fall and winter season will be officially opened on Sept. 18 when a meeting of the sorority will be held at the Jaycee Clubhouse.

Those in attendance were Mesdames Ann Woodward, Ray Johnson, Carl Hollingsworth, T. M. Cox Jr., Glenn Nelson, Arthur Dean, Bob Brotherton, Neill Cooper, Jess Robinson, Harold Beauchamp, J. H. McDonald, Clyde Russell, M.G. Duvall, Max Stipe and the hostess, Mrs. Dudley Bayne was a guest.

LONE STAR CLUB TO MEET TUESDAY

The Lone Star Study Club will open its new season with a breakfast held Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Frank Lookingbill at 9. Members are requested to inform the hostess by 8 a.m. Tuesday if unable to attend.

Rites Unite Mr. Roberson And Miss Irene Helgeland

In a garden setting of flowers, shrubs and trees, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Roberson, on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 1, Clinton Eugene Roberson claimed Miss Irene Delores Helgeland as his bride.

Rev. Gene A. Oesch of Lariat, vacancy pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Hereford, read the double ring ceremony as the couple and their attendants stood before a rock garden backed by arches of greenery and flowers. Tall baskets of white asters and bells of Ireland with canna leaves flanked the nuptial space. Soft recordings gave traditional wedding music in the background.

Attendants
The bride's attendants were Miss Joy Kreigman, and Charis Westgate of El Paso and Jeanie and Sharon Roberson, small nieces of the bridegroom of Hereford, flower girls. Miss Kreigman as maid of honor, wore a pale yellow shantung tailored dress with a corsage of white asters. Charis Westgate wore pink organdy and Jeanie and Sharon Roberson wore pale yellow.

Best Man
Edward R. Roberson served his brother as best man and ushers were Oliver Streu, and Glenn Hopson.

The bride, who was escorted and given in marriage by John Lane of El Paso, wore a pale aqua glazed cotton frock styled with sleeveless bodice having a high neck line. Attached to the bodice was a full gathered street length skirt and she wore a small white hat. Her corsage was of white asters.

The bridegroom's mother wore a navy silk dress with a pink and white aster corsage. Reception is Held

Following the wedding the couple was honored at a reception at the Roberson home. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth over aqua, with pale yellow candles in candelabra and pastel shaded garden flowers used to carry out the garden theme in decorations.

Agnes Westgate of El Paso presided at the punch service and Mrs. Bobby Owen served the wedding cake which was decorated in pale yellow rosebuds and topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. E. R. Roberson registered the guests.

Live In El Paso
Following a short honeymoon trip the couple returned to El Paso where they are now making their home at 1427 Apt. 8.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Helgeland of Thief River Falls, Minn. She was reared in Thief River Falls, graduating from high school there and she also received her degree in teaching there. She taught in the Thief

MR. AND MRS. C. E. ROBERSON (Travis Caraway Photo)

River Falls schools before going to El Paso where she was also a teacher. She is presently employed with the El Paso Electric Company in El Paso where she has made her home for the past five years.

Bride is Honored
Before leaving El Paso, the bride was honored at a miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. Agnes Westgate Friday evening.

Roberson is employed with the Universal Credit Corp. of El Paso. He graduated from Hereford High School and attended Texas Technological College for one year before entering the service. After two years in the Army he attended Texas Western College in El Paso.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Joy Kreigman, John Lane, Mrs. Agnes Westgate and daughter Charis. Other guests were members of the Roberson family and high school classmates and their wives of the bridegroom.

EXTRA GUEST
HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—The Rev. E. Paul Smith was watching television. He was joined by a ring-neck pheasant, who flew through a window. The window had been closed.

The bird was not hurt. Its next stop was Nav Aug Park accompanied by zookeeper Jack Davis.

SAD PRIZE
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The same day that John Dorman, high school senior, received a mural enlargement as part of the award for a prize photograph of his cat, the cat was killed. It was hit by a car while crossing the street.

Church Functions And Study Club Meetings Attract Area Residents

By JUDY GRETCHEN PINNELL

The Simms Study Craft Club had its opening meeting — a coffee — in the home of Mrs. R. L. Pinnell Thursday morning. Plans for the new year were discussed under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Jim Stocks. Those attending were Mesdames Jack Weaver, Jim Stocks, M. W. Blankenship, Glenn Hetzler, and R. L. Pinnell. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Hetzler at the Community House for an all-day quilting on Sept. 20.

Mrs. Claude Bogle was an all-day guest in the T. A. Sullins home in Hereford Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stocks visited Mrs. Paul Truell, sister of Mr. Stocks, at Clovis, N.M. Saturday.

Has Surgery
Mrs. Bobby Banks, nee Ester Gruhkey, underwent surgery in Northwest Texas Hospital Thursday. Lee is with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Gruhkey. She is reported doing nicely.

Labor Day visitors in the N. L. Jacobsen home were Robert, their son, and Precilla Baumgartner of Wellington. Robert is stationed at Hensley Field, Grand Prairie. He enjoyed visits with his sister, Mrs. Meb Bolen and children of Austin, who are here for several days.

The "This is Your Life" baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Creitz Thursday! Mother and seven pound daughter are resting very nicely at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kemp of Amarillo, mother of Gal Jackson, were Sunday afternoon guests in the Jackson home.

BWVU Meeting
The Baptist Women's Missionary

Union met Wednesday in the church. Mrs. E. B. Pounds was the leader and a very interesting program was held by Mesdames Shag McCown, Irene Brown, R.M. Gruhkey, Horace Betts, Earl Brown, Bill Lewis, E. B. Pounds, R. L. Pinnell, and visitors Mrs. Pool Doherty and Mrs. Earl Croff.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glass and family of Glenrio, N.M., were Sunday morning guests in the Cal Jackson home. They were returning from a visit to Tulsa, Okla., with the parents of both the ladies, who are sisters.

At Seminar
Mesdames Homer Ehresman, Edd Jacobson, Leland Burns and Jonnie Williams attended the district seminar held in the Methodist Church at Claude Thursday. The meet was to give instruction for the year's work in the local W.S.C.S.

Dan Asbury of Tucumcari, N.M., grandfather of Mary Jean Jackson, was a visitor in the Jackson home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bogle went to Friona Sunday afternoon to visit Mr. and Mrs. Cord Hammock, former Adrian residents.

Off To Rodeo
Earl Brown and Gripp Spicer of Hereford left Wednesday to rodeo in Kansas.

A candle-light installation service was held Wednesday in the Methodist Fellowship Hall. Rev. Johnnie Williams was in charge. Officers installed for the coming year were Mrs. Leland Burns, president; Mrs. Lorin Creitz (by proxy) vice president; Mrs. E.N. Jacobsen, treasurer; Mrs. Jo Culender, recording secretary; and Mrs. Norman Jacobson, promotional secretary.

MRS. DONALD RAY MEIERHOFF

Miss Jo Williams Marries Mr. Meierhoff In El Paso

Mr. and Mrs. Purris F. Williams, formerly of Hereford and now of El Paso, have announced the recent marriage of their daughter, Jo Williams, to Donald Ray Meierhoff, in a quiet ceremony held in the Williams home, 2718 Louisville Ave.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Meierhoff of Atchison, Kan.

The wedding was solemnized on Aug. 26, before an improvised altar banked with greenery and gladioli and flanked by branched candelabra holding lighted wedding tapers. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Don Schooler, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church. Miss Lou Presley of Crane presented the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace and tulle embroidered with seed pearls. Her headdress was of rhinestones and pearls and held a fingertip veil of tulle and lace embroidered with pearls. Her bouquet was of white feathered carnations centered with a white gardenia.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home. Miss Lou Presley and Miss Phyllis Akin presided at the bride's table.

For her going away dress, Mrs. Meierhoff chose a brown two-piece suit with white accents and white accessories. Her corsage was the gardenia detached from the wedding bouquet.

The couple is now at home at 1403 N. Florence St. in El Paso where both are attending Texas Western College.

The bride is a graduate of Here-

Training Skit

A brief officer training skit was shown to the officers and to Mesdames Johnnie Williams, Geo. Baucum, Nellye Davis, Ernest Frank, Homer Ehresman, Earl Kromer, D. W. Morgan, Fred Harwood, and Vick Lemke. Refreshments were served from a lovely tea table by hostesses Mrs. Jo Culender and Mrs. E. N. Jacobsen. The next meeting will be Sept. 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Voyles visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson at Higgins and with Mrs. Donnigan Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Donnigan is in the Shattuck Hospital.

Mrs. Jessie Jordan and Mrs. Earl Croff visited in the Jim Voyles home Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucky Monk of San Jon, N.M., visited in the T.N. Monk home this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Morgan and boys fished in Conchas Lake from Tuesday to Sunday.

Past superintendent for 13 years in Adrian School, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Symms and son, Adrian, who is named after the town, visited many friends in Adrian Wednesday. They were returning from a fishing trip at Pecos and they were on their way to visit Mr. Symms' mother in Amarillo. They are now making their home in Fort Worth.

Brown Brothers Wheat 'Up And Pretty'

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT
Wheat sowing was the main event for the Brown Brothers this past week. They sowed 3,000 acres in six days and it's up and looking very pretty.

Mrs. Ruth Ferrin visited in the home of Mrs. Phillip Miller Friday afternoon. She lives in Canyon.

At Boys Ranch
Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown and Tommie, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barbara, David and Bill attended the rodeo at Boys Ranch Sunday afternoon.

The participants were boys from the ranch, ages 6 to 16. Most of the little fellows were as good a rider as the large ones.

There were people from 17 states present at the rodeo—even "Snow Cone" Shelton of Hereford. We took our lunch and ate picnic style by the river.

'Boy It's Dry There'
The Frank Fords had friends from Llano visiting them last week. They are having to haul water by train for the people there to use because it is so dry. They are using as little as they can to get by on, and waterbills run from $50 to $90 a month.

We're dry here, but when it gets that bad around Deaf Smith County, there better be more people get on their bended knee and see if the good Lord will be kind enough to lend a helping hand. In fact, I think maybe it would be a good idea to start before it gets that bad.

Ford's Children
Frank Jr. and Davis Ford, sons of Frank Ford, spent Friday at the ranch. They all went to their home in Lubbock the next morning. Susan will enter high school, Johnnie will take up where he left off in May, Davis will enter Tech, and Frank Jr. will enjoy visiting before returning to Ft. Sill.

Of course Mother Ford will set herself to the usual routine, keeping things in order. Mrs. Ford and children will be missed at the ranch as Frank and Ernest have gotten out of that bachelor rut these last couple of months. The family hopes to return next summer at the end of the school term.

H.D. Club Meeting
The Messenger H.D. Club will meet with Mrs. Elmer Northcutt Sept. 14 at 2:30 p.m. So, girls, get all your club clothes on and be present. The year book will be finished. The program will be "Insect Control" by Argen Draper. This will be the first meeting since we disbanded for the summer months.

Mrs. J. E. Rouse has received a nice long letter from her grandson, Dwight Jr. Rouse of the U. S. Navy. His home base is Pearl Harbor, and his ship is the A.T.F. —U.S.S. Moccasin.

Mrs. Richard Vaughn of Rosedale was a guest of Mrs. Floyd Brown Wednesday afternoon.

Reports Rain
Bruce Coleman was in Friona Wednesday and he reported that it rained all the way from Friona to his house one mile south of Bootleg. He received 1 1/2 inches.

The S. N. Thweatts received

2.80 inches; Frank Fords, 1/4 inch; Floyd Brown, one inch, and Don Guseman 1/2 inch.

The rain was nice but the hail that fell wasn't so good. It damaged gardens and feed, and there was almost as much hail as rain. Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt Wednesday night. They enjoyed watching TV and three games of 42, with the women winning out over the men.

Repaired Tank
Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt visited the Phillip Millers Monday afternoon. Mr. Miller was losing water from his overhead tank because of a hole in the bottom and the men fixed it.

Mrs. Phillip Miller received the news Saturday that her cousin in Missouri had recently died. She also had word from her mother that she had fallen and been paralyzed. Her mother is now at home and doing very well.

WALCOTT NEWS

9 Children In Rural School's First Grade

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS
Monday morning Walcott School opened and all teachers were on hand to welcome the pupils. The teachers for this term are: Principal, seventh and eighth grade teacher, Thomas L. Collins; A. L. Shelton, fifth and sixth grade; Mrs. T. L. Collins, third and fourth grades; Mrs. A. L. Shelton, first and second grades. Mrs. Joe Rader is the cook for the cafeteria, and Joe Rader is the custodian and bus driver. Other bus drivers are Mrs. Jim Stocks, Eldred Brown, and A. J. Hudson (driver of the high school bus.)

Mothers present were Mesdames Bertram Jack, N. E. Tyler, V. K. Hutson, Bob Wyly, Jack Weaver, and Melvin Henderson.

First Year Students
New first grade children enrolled are: Maria Jack, Mary Ruth Weaver, Ronnie Henderson, Alice Myers, Clifford Lockhart, Rodney Lacewell, John Hall, Kelly Tyler, and Ernie McKee.

New pupils in Walcott School are Barbara Ann Swinney in the eighth grade, who attended the schools at Silverton last year. Diana Bias in the sixth grade, and Linda Bias in the third grade, who attended schools in Florida last year. We hope these girls like Walcott School.

Nancy Tyler is still having to be careful with her arm, which she broke three weeks ago. She was in Deaf Smith County Hospital again last week.

P.T.A. Meet Scheduled
Mrs. N. E. Tyler, new P-TA president, announced the first meeting for Sept. 21. An ice cream and cake social will be enjoyed by all who attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Jack, Dianna, Maria, Galen and Kent left home Friday, Aug. 24 for El Paso to attend a Nutritive Convention which was quite interesting. They made a trip over to Juarez, Mex., and the children had fun playing in the White Sands near Alamogordo, N.M. They rode in a boat on the lake at Elephant Butte. Relatives and friends were visited at Los Cruces, Hot Springs, Albuquerque and Santa Fe. Miss Veri Miller of Floydada accompanied

County Pioneer Dies In Wyoming

Death of Leslie Moreman, 69, early resident of Deaf Smith County, was reported this week by his niece, Mrs. Ruby Virden. Mr. Moreman died suddenly at his home in Casper, Wyo., Friday.

He came to this county with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Moreman, in 1898 and resided here until 1914, when he moved to Casper. He is survived by his widow, two sisters, Mrs. Norine Gough of Dallas and Mrs. Exa Kendrick of Sweetwater; also by numerous nieces and nephews.

Funeral services are scheduled for this afternoon in Denton, Tex.

the family on their trip.

Extended Visit
Miss Dorothy Read of Downers Grove, Ill., made an extended visit with the T. L. Collins family this summer. Dorothy accompanied the Collins family to the petrified forest, Grand Canyon and Los Vegas, Nev. This was Dorothy's first trip west of Amarillo. In Santa Paula and Oxnard, Calif., they visited relatives. Various beaches along the Pacific Ocean were enjoyed, and a trip to Catalina Island was exciting. In the Los Angeles area, friends were visited, and the Collins saw L. A. International Airport, Coliseum, Planetarium, Disneyland, and Knott's Berry Farm.

On Sept. 1, Dorothy started on her return trip home. With the T.L. Collins family, she made a short visit to the O. R. Sanders family in Hereford. In Amarillo the Harold Read family were visited, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Read of Kingman, Kan., were also visiting there. All of the group saw Dorothy off on the train.

IT'S TIME TO FACE FACTS

An Automobile Is A Deadly Monster If Your Child Stays In Its Path

Acting on the expressed phrase, "We want to do something before a child is killed," the City Commission of Hereford this week voted to hire additional part time officers to enforce speed and traffic regulations for protection of students.

The action followed a review of conditions with school officials who, like city officials, expressed grave concern over safety of school children in the vicinity of all school areas in the city. Fast driving was cited as possibly the most dangerous of all current practices, while pulling away from the curb during rush periods seems to present the second greatest hazard faced by our children.

Laws governing violations should be enforced, of course, but when you consider the question carefully, it boils down to a matter of driver responsibility. In other words, The Brand unquestionably agrees with the city and school concerning an urgent need for more officers. At the same time, it is apparent that careful observation of traffic regulations can do even more toward curbing any possible accidents.

Emphasizing this fact is a timely report from the National Safety Council which says that 2,000 children are killed and 140,000 injured each year in motor vehicle accidents. They further review the existing conditions as follows:

We shouldn't have to keep reminding adults of their responsibility for keeping children safe in traffic—but we do.

Admittedly, the heedless actions of many child traffic victims thrust them into dangerous situations. But even in such cases, adults must accept the blame.

By their very nature, children are excitable, heedless and unthinking. We, as adults, know this. Yet, somehow, we expect every child to realize instantly that an automobile is a deadly monster if he strays into its path.

We expect the child to know more about stopping distances and speed than most drivers know themselves.

If you think that's stretching a point, think back how many times the excuse is used, "I couldn't stop in time," or "I didn't see him soon enough."

Any driver who has run down a child knows the "ifs" that are on his conscience. "If I had been going a little slower!" "If I had been more wide awake." "If . . ."

It's time for all adults to face up to their full responsibility for our shamefully high child pedestrian toll. It's time for all adults to adjust their driving, increase their alertness when driving in any area where children may be walking or playing. It's time for all drivers to keep a sharp look-out for children and to be ready to protect them from their heedless behavior when necessary.

It's time for every parent to try harder than ever before to prepare his child for the dangers of traffic . . . by his own teaching and his own example.

Half way measures are not enough; and we just haven't done enough.

We as adults must accept fully and without reservation the fact that we must "be our brother's keeper" when it comes to children in traffic.

The Texas Safety Association says that's not just a high minded goal to strive for. It's an absolute minimum requirement for every adult who wants to be able to live with himself!

Volunteer Firemen Collect Aid Funds

In a release this week State Firemen's and Fire Marshals Association of Texas expressed appreciation to members of the volunteer fire departments of the state for donations and for collection of funds to aid families suffering as a result of the Dumas-Sunray disaster.

The report showed a total of $39,212.17 in contributions with $20,913.16 going to Sunray families and $18,299.01 to Dumas families. Object of the drive was to collect money to provide immediate aid to widows and children who lost husbands and fathers in the line of duty.

"The generous response made to this appeal for assistance to the families of our deceased fellow firemen is proof positive of the goodness of heart of the people of Texas, and particularly the firemen," said Olin Culberson, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

And The Brand would like to second Mr. Culberson's statement. Once again, the volunteer firemen have come through in fine shape. The organization is by nature one which functions only in case of disaster and extreme need. Regardless of how you may feel today or tomorrow, the one day your house bursts into flames is the day when that big red fire truck and those firemen are the most beautiful sight you ever behold.

We Americans are entirely too careless and we pay for it with human lives.

If everybody obeyed the law there would be no need for sheriffs and judges.

What the nation needs is a Congress able to vote courageously in an election year.

There are always friends who stick to you through your prosperity and good fortune.

Garcia Writer, Mrs. Thweatt, Finds Phone A Useful Thing

PROVERBS 21:2—"Every way of a man is right in his own eyes, but the Lord weighs the heart." (RSV)

This verse from Proverbs has implications for us in regard to temperance.

The problem with alcohol is that its results are not immediate except in large doses. For many years a person may use it with little apparent difficulty. He therefore assumes that all the talk about moderate drinking as a great evil is gross exaggeration. He also assumes that since it apparently does not harm him, it harms no one else.

The Christian is a person who is sensitive to the direct and indirect effect of his acts. The answer seems to me to be found in the second part of the Scripture quoted, "...the Lord weighs the heart." If we do not think through ultimate results, drink will seem a right way in our own eyes. But if God weighs our hearts our compassion reaches beyond selfish indulgence to Christian concern.

Dr. Merle E. Fish, Jr., First Christian Church North Hollywood, Calif.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Patrolmen In School Zone Is Given Mixed Reception

What steps should be taken to insure the safety of children on streets in school areas? Do you think assigning patrolmen to the school zones a wise move?

MRS. ROSS LATHAM—(one son in second grade) I think the assigning of patrolmen to the area is very wise, and from my viewpoint, the steps that should be taken to insure the children's safety are just to follow the ones that are already named.

MRS. CHARLIE OWENS—(one child in fourth grade) The idea of the patrolmen is definitely a wise move, and we have always needed one. For the other safety factors, I don't know just right offhand.

KENNY GEARN—(two sons in school) I think in the past the problem has been handled very nicely with the student patrol, and they have also been getting student safety training. We could continue this practice rather than having a person at the schools at all times. A police car could probably rotate and encourage motorists from speeding, or driving reckless. No more of a problem than it is, I don't think it will necessitate the patrolmen on duty there at all times.

MRS. K. E. STRAIN—(four children in school) I certainly do think assigning patrolmen would be a wise move. Go ahead and use the student patrolmen too, as they've been used in the past, since that seems to help control the students.

MRS. BAKER C. WOMBLE—A patrolman helps people to respect the law more. When I see a patrolman I just naturally try to be a little more careful. The parents and school officials should talk to their children about being more careful and take more caution.

MRS. GLENN WITHERSPOON—A patrolman is the best idea they have had yet, because a patrolman seems to have more effect on more people than does a stop sign. The people should promote a publicity campaign in order to project the importance of the rules of safety to students, both those who drive, and those who walk to school.

It's Your AMERICA

ORIGINAL "COONSKIN" IN THE RING

ANDREW J. JACKSON, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES IN 1829—EVEN THOUGH HE HAD RECEIVED THE LARGEST POPULAR VOTE OF THE FIVE CANDIDATES, HE BECAME PRESIDENT IN 1829 AND WAS RE-ELECTED IN 1832.

LIBERTY QUOTES

"WE BELIEVE THAT THIS COUNTRY WILL NOT BE A PERMANENTLY GOOD PLACE FOR ANY OF US TO LIVE IN UNLESS WE MAKE IT A REASONABLY GOOD PLACE FOR ALL OF US TO LIVE IN."
—Theodore Roosevelt

AMERICANS ALL

IN THE WAR OF 1812, NEW ORLEANS WAS A DEFENSELESS CITY OF STRANGERS WITH DIFFERENT HABITS AND SPEECH. JACKSON COULDN'T UNDERSTAND OR SPEAK THE LANGUAGE OF MANY OF THE PATRIOTS. YET HE AND THEY FOUGHT FOR THE RIGHT OF THESE PEOPLE TO BE FREE, INDEPENDENT AND AMERICAN—UNITING RACES, CREEDS AND LANGUAGES UNDER THE MOTHER TONGUE OF DEMOCRACY.

Wiry, vivacious Mrs. S. N. Thweatt is the country correspondent for Garcia, a community which has been her home since November, 1948.

Mrs. Thweatt, who just naturally likes people, also likes her job, and apparently the people of her area are pleased with Mrs. Thweatt.

"Whenever I fail to get my news in the paper in time to print," she says, "my phone begins ringing or when I meet them they say, 'I missed your news this week.'"

ONE OF SEVEN CHILDREN

Mrs. Thweatt was born in Union, Miss., one of seven children. She has five brothers and one sister. Her father, J. R. Hagan, a sister, and a brother now live in Leveland, two brothers live in Lubbock, one in Monahans and one in Stinnett. Her mother died in 1949.

The correspondent attended the schools in Slaton and New Hope prior to her graduation from Bu-la High School. In addition, she took special courses in art and studied secretarial work. Today her hobbies are copper tooling and piecing quilts.

Mr. and Mrs. Thweatt were married on Christmas Day, 1940, in Clovis, N.M. Their courtship started while she was working in a cafe in Littlefield. Mr. Thweatt is now farming in the Garcia community. They like Garcia, but think it could be improved by having more community entertainments.

WAS HD REPORTER

An active member of the Messenger Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. Thweatt got her job writing for the Brand by being reporter of that organization. She says her work on the column takes about 10 hours per week, and says it's much easier to do during the months when the home demonstration club is meeting.

It's harder to do in the summer, she says, when people are much busier, and don't visit as often. She's been Garcia correspondent since January, 1955.

Most of her news she finds by telephoning her neighbors or by going to different meetings.

HAY LIFT INTERESTING

"I get lots of fun out of showing people their name in the paper who never had their name in the Brand before, and I like them to see in print what they are doing and things they have done," she says. "The hay lift, however, was one of the most interesting things that ever happened during my writing."

She likes her job, especially the different people she meets and finding out what they are doing and where they are from. But there are unpleasant things about it also.

"It makes me very sad to report the death of some loved one or an accident where someone is injured," she decided.

But the good overshadows the difficulties and her family appreciates her work. "They must be well pleased," she pointed out. "My column is the first thing they look for when the paper hits the front door."

TOO MANY

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Too many cats to move to California prompted Miss Agnes Heintzelmann to give away 46 Siamese felines.

"What has happened to me, fulfills an old legend in Siam," she said.

The story goes that those who own Siamese cats will face economic ruin.

"Well, these cats have just about broken me," she said sadly. "They cost $5 a day to feed and there's always worm pills, distemper shots and veterinarian fees."

She's keeping two cats. She loves dogs, but is allergic to them.

NO MORE THEIEVERY

MEMPHIS (AP)—From now on the guy that gets the sabre from Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest's bronze side will need a good blow torch and plenty of patience.

After several irritating sessions of "who's got the sabre?" the city has ordered the over-size weapon welded into the scabbard.

HUH?

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Emanuel Welch, 29, of Detroit. Arrested and charged with drunk driving, told police under questioning that he sometimes used an alias: Sebastian Bogankinzenell-grinzinskiyork. And he was able to pronounce and spell it three times without trouble, officers related.

FLYING POODLE

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP)—You may complain of the high price of haircuts, but what about Saucy? He has to travel 160 miles for his.

The young French poodle belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beneke of Columbus. When haircut time rolls around Mrs. Beneke and Saucy head for the airport and board a plane for Memphis, an hour's flight to the northwest.

"I have him groomed about every six weeks," said Mrs. Beneke. "He's a wonderful companion on a plane. He loves flying."

Panhandle Paragraphs

PARKING METERS APPROVED FOR SPUR

A five-to-two majority for parking meters in Spur in the recent referendum election virtually cinched their continued existence, at least for the near future. A total of 620 ballots were cast in the election, by both rural and city residents. There were 445 votes to keep the meters and 175 against them. Broken down by city residents and rural residents, the results were as follows: City: 261 for and 107 against; Rural: 184 for and 68 against.—THE TEXAS SPUR.

INTERCOM SYSTEM IS INSTALLED

A new intercommunications system has been installed in the high school building in Perryton, and the systems will be installed in all school buildings as soon as possible. Supt. Gilbert Mize said that the installation was complete in the 20 classrooms and principal's office in high school. The system will be put in all existing buildings and in the new ones now under construction. With the intercom system, announcements may be made from the principal's office to any or all the rooms, and from the rooms to the office.—OCHILTREE COUNTY HERALD.

FLOYD COUNTY VEGETABLE RUN BEGINS

The vegetable business holds the focus of business interest at Floydada, Lockney, and Barwise this week, what with tomato grading, sizing, and waxing machines setting up for business in Floydada Tuesday and also readied for operations beginning almost immediately at Barwise and Lockney. Quickened interest in the vegetable business came to Floydada when families began to hunt living quarters and labor camps began to fill up with skilled and semi-skilled labor over the weekend. Tomatoes are being grown in large quantities, but cabbage lead, the list in acreage. One farm also began to pick bell peppers Wednesday.—THE FLOYD COUNTY HESPERIAN.

HOSPITAL RATES WILL INCREASE

Room rates at the Farmer County Community Hospital will be increased when the new building is occupied sometime within the next few weeks. However, Jimmy Baxter, manager of the hospital, points out that the rates that will be in effect will be still lower than national averages.—THE FRIONA STAR.

LITTLEFIELD ROAD BOND ELECTION SOON

County commissioners Monday ordered a $275,000 road bond election for Road District 1-A of Lamb County and set the balloting date for Sept. 22. The action came after a hearing on a petition for the election and swung the gates wide open for voters to say whether they approve the issuance of bonds to purchase right-of-way for widening Highway 84 to four lanes. Under the proposal, Highway 84 would be widened to a four lane divided highway from the Hockley County line to a point four miles northwest of Littlefield.—LAMB COUNTY LEADER.

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his hindwood farm may be going out of his way to find something to worry about, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in yesterday's paper, well it wasn't yesterday's paper according to the date, which was about a week old, but any paper I read yesterday, if I haven't seen it before, is yesterday's paper as far as I'm concerned, scientists are predicting they'll have an atom-powered airplane ready to fly in a couple of years.

They said they based this on the fact the atom-powered submarine, which has now traveled 50,000 miles without refueling, is such a great success.

And furthermore, they said, after the atom-powered airplane will come atom-powered automobiles.

Now I don't know what this will do to filling station operators, there won't be much for them to do if they can fill up your car with atomic energy and you won't have to come back until fifty or seventy-five thousand miles later, sounds like the hours would be fine though the pay might be low, but I guess they'll think of something, maybe join the small family-size farmer as a political problem and let Sec. Benson worry about them.

However, what's worrying me is that science isn't going to be satisfied to leave well enough alone and after they get airplanes and cars and trains running indefinitely on atom power, some smart alec will turn his efforts to tractors.

Now a tractor that'd run almost forever with one handful of atom power sounds all right, for the man who just can't seem to get enough plowing, but I'd like to point out there are some farmers who look on a stalled tractor as one of the handiest things you can have on a farm. You take a man who's powered with old-fashioned food three times a day and put him on an atom-powered tractor that'll run forever on one dose, and you can begin to see that science is no un-mixed blessing.

I don't want to stand in the way of progress, and while I don't believe science can ever invent a machine so efficient I'd want to run it all the time, you can see that this idea of an endlessly running tractor operated by a fast tiring man needs some careful thought before it's brought out. It's a question of who's going to be in charge, a man or his tractor?

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Blonde Has Place In Science World

By SANKY TRIMBLE

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. — Woman's place is in the world of science as well as the home, according to a striking blonde.

Eleanor Pressley — better known as Debbie to her associates — has no quarrel with the importance of maintaining a home and raising a family.

But her world of reality lies in the stars.

Debbie, a statuesque scientist, is one of the free world's few — if not the only — rocket ballisticians. And she can talk windage, fueling, propellants, fins and the lingo of the rocket world well enough and fast enough to make a layman's head spin.

For two and a half years Debbie has had a very special sort of job. She has been involved up to her pretty neck in the Navy's Aerobee-HI research program, one designed to pierce the upper atmosphere in search of information which may someday lead man to space flight.

Perhaps a romanticist at heart, Miss Pressley outwardly is all cold facts and figures.

Her job with the Naval Research Laboratory and the Aerobee-HI laboratory lies in the winds and their BRAND BABIES—"Hi there! Want to come in?" asks Lila Dorletta Baize, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Baize. The two year old blond headed girl's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Baize of Lubbock, and Mrs. Perry Roberts of Crosbyton. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wiggins of Gatesville, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McDonald of Crosbyton, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Roberts of Crosbyton.

shifting and turning. Her job for two and a half years with Aerobee-HI has been to determine wind effects on the research vehicle, to measure the point of the expensive needle-nosed rockets as they flare from the southern New Mexico desert at this proving ground into the skies.

At the age of 37 — and Debbie is not coy about the figure — she has been with the nation's rocket research program for more than 10 years — and expects to be in the same post for a few more years.

Just where the interest in rockets sprung, Debbie is not sure. She remembers that she has always had a scientific bent. A native of South Carolina, she was educated in Due West, S. C. and taught for a bit in Conway, S. C.

She also taught for six years in Winthrop College — frankly, to get money enough ahead to continue her scientific education, she says. She got the money — and the education. Along with it she got a degree from Duke University, a spot at Cambridge in Boston, and a position with a radio research laboratory during World War II.

After the end of the war she went to her first love — the Naval Research Laboratory and the rocket program.

Since that time, Debbie has been involved in such intricate subjects as rocket ballistics, wind ballistics, predicted performances of various rockets or research vehicles, telemetering records, cumulative data computing and the like.

Her habitat is a block house at this southern New Mexico testing area — or the machines and test tubes of a laboratory. She usually wears blue jeans and a plaid shirt.

During a recent visit Aerobee HI firing, one which turned out badly much to Debbie's disappointment and that of other Naval scientists, she sat calmly on the floor of an imposing concrete block house, clipboard and pencil in hand, and watched the weather station's report on winds on the surface and aloft. She gave orders about tilting the launching tower as quietly and efficiently as the average woman gives directions about how much salt to put in a stew.

Debbie lives in a world of figures — calculations, estimations, and the like — and she has a figure to go along with her job. On rare occasions she blossoms forth into evening clothes and becomes, not the laboratory or field service scientist, but a woman.

But she wouldn't trade the evening dresses for her clipboard, pencil, blue jeans and the answers to space flight.

FISHY STORY

ELY, Minn. — Guide Ernie Landgren picked up a daily double the easy way. While one of his guests was reeling in a whitefish a big 10-pound northern pike clamped his jaws on the hooked finny. The pike was persistent. He stayed with the whitefish until both reached the boat. Landgren calmly swooped both in with a net.

The six school buses that stay parked at the southeast corner of a school building during the 16 weeks of summer vacation is mystifying.

The silence has the effect of numbing a person as he enters the school building.

That silence was broken Monday morning as everyone came to the school for the new term.

The Freshmen The graduated eighth grader, now a freshman, arises still wondering. "What is high school like—I wonder if I'll like it there."

High school students are the latest risers, realizing that they no longer get to sleep late, but have to go back to the "old grind."

Household Tips

Top cupcakes with this pink frosting: Melt one-third cup currant jelly over hot water; add an egg white and three tablespoons of sugar plus a dash of salt. Beat over hot water until frosting will stand in peaks. Remove from hot water and continue to beat until good spreading consistency.

Add dry mustard, Worcestershire sauce and curry powder to a cheese soufflé for interesting flavor.

A dash of sugar, sprinkled over thin onion rings as you cook them in butter, make for good flavor. Serve with hamburgers or steak.

Quick sauce for dried beef: condensed mushroom soup, diluted with a little milk or cream.

Moisten finely chopped chicken or ham with a little mayonnaise and season with finely grated onion. Spread on rounds of cucumber, sprinkle with paprika and center with tiny sprigs of parsley. Nice with tomato juice when company's coming.

Butter sauce for fish. Heat a quarter cup of butter in a small saucepan or skillet until it foams; remove from the heat and stir in one-and-a-half teaspoons of lemon juice. Pour over the fish and sprinkle with minced parsley.

Ready-to-use sheets of strudel dough now come frozen.

Hollow out crusty rolls and fill with ham salad. Wrap in aluminum foil and bake in a moderate oven until hot through.

A cream soup and a jelly omelet, plus bread and butter of course make a fine lunch for small fry.

Spoon hot cheese sauce over baked eggs arranged on toast; top with crisp slices of bacon. Wonderful for Sunday brunch!

Kitchen economy: the uncooked heart and gizzard of a small broiling chicken may be brushed with melted butter or margarine and broiled with the rest of the chicken during the last 15 or 20 minutes of cooking. Turn the heart and gizzard as necessary.

Natural cheddar cheese comes rind-free in air-resistant wrappers these days. It may be had in 8-ounce, about 14 ounces and 1-pound packages.

Simmer beef knuckle in cold water with onion and seasonings. Add canned tomatoes, diced celery and carrots for a good soup.

Add grated cheese and minced onion to mashed potatoes for flavor or change.

Put thick strawberry or raspberry jam on top of muffin batter-about a teaspoon for each muffin. Swirl it into the batter lightly with a teaspoon, then bake as usual.

Add small cinnamon candies to the syrup in which you are poaching apples.

Bananas and rhubarb make a delicious pie filling.

Thicken a can of stewed tomatoes with a little cornstarch and serve as a sauce for fish filets.

Cook diced celery just until tender-crisp and drain; mix with another cooked vegetable — carrots, peas or snap beans — for variety.

DISRUPTION FORT PIERCE, Fla. — A five-foot alligator disrupted play in a hurry when he waddled on to the diamond during a boys' Pony League baseball game.

There was an immediate uproar which subsided only after Ken Gordy, a team manager, managed to lasso and tie the reptile and turn him over to police.

The saurian apparently was flushed from a nearby drainage ditch by dogs.

An elephant heart beats 30 to 40 times a minute.

Mom Tags Daughter To Stage

When Cynthia Price left Muskogee, Okla., after high school graduation to try show business in New York, her mother followed.

But not to take her back. Mother, Rachel Price, wanted to try show business herself.

"You see," Cynthia explains, "I came and studied, and then I dragged her into summer stock with me. Mother gave me my basic acting training in the little theater at home. We've always been very close, and take suggestions from each other."

In the few years since their arrival, the pretty blondes have appeared in radio and television drama, and sung, danced and acted on the stage. "We've even done commercials," says Rachel.

The latest activity is summer stock this season, in addition to 23-year-old Cynthia's portrayal of a lady of the night in Kurt Weill's "Threepenny Opera," enjoying a smash run, and Rachel's prominent role in a Greek play.

They act as sort of tandem talent agents for each other in making rounds. For example, when there's nothing on tap for a Size 12 blonde with hazel eyes and an age range of 32-up, Rachel asks if by any chance they need a Size 8 blonde with an age range of 17-25, and if so she knows just the girl.

"In Muskogee," Rachel says, "I gave private lessons to 200 pupils a year in art, ballet, drama and voice."

Cynthia breaks in with, "We used to have so much excitement in Oklahoma — something was always going on that was a big deal — that New York gets kind of dull."

Rachel shares an apartment with another actress. Her daughter lives in Greenwich Village with her husband of a year and Princess Aurora, a Persian cat. "I'm still starry-eyed about Joe," Cynthia sighs "but he does prefer Mother's meat loaf."

Rachel laughs. "Cynthia is a wonderful cook. I taught her myself, along with how to sing, dance, act, sew and teach. I thought she might need to know how to teach someday as a side career. At 13 she taught music in a one-room school in Oklahoma."

"Mother has always given me responsibility," Cynthia says. "Mothers and daughters often don't get along because they have no respect for individuality. But Mother has always understood all about it. That's why my friends were always taking their problems to her."

"I guess I was always stumbling over somebody with a problem," Rachel adds.

"And she's so young — looking too," Cynthia goes on. "When she first came to town I introduced her as my sister because, well, you can sometimes put a wet blanket on things if you take along your mother to a party. So you know what happened? All the boys tried to date her."

"But it's really Cynthia who has the talent," says her mother. "She is terribly gifted. . . she. . ."

The Prices, mother and daughter, are obviously devoted.

"WATCH THAT WRIST!"—Cynthia Price assumes a ballet position under the watchful eye of her mother, Rachel Price. Rachel taught Cynthia in Muskogee, Okla., before they came to New York show business.

Americans Find German Opera Starting Point

By HERB ALTSCHULL
WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—Thwarted by the "closed shop" in U.S. opera, dozens of young Americans are pouring out the music that is in them in German opera houses.

They're getting valuable experience and they're working in their beloved opera—but whether they will achieve their ambition of returning in triumph to the stage of the Metropolitan is another question.

In the United States, where there are few opera companies at the moment, the Metropolitan, there is a brood only at the top. Not so in West Germany, where there are 70 opera houses, playing as often as 10 months of every year. There are so many American singers that the Theater Union, monarch-organ of German's Stage Artists Union, recently let out a blast at them. The magazine claimed Americans had "invaded" the traditional German operatic arena.

Now Americans singing in Germany as well as the rest of Western Europe are being squeezed out by trade union restrictions. There are at least 30 Americans performing in Germany today.

Typical of them is a young basso from York, Pa., who has been singing at the Hesse State Theater in Wiesbaden for the last three seasons. Born Leo Wolovsky, he sings under the name of Leonardo Wolovsky.

While pointing out that "of course I want to sing at the Met—who doesn't?" the 33-year-old singer is realistic enough to recognize it as a long, tough fight.

Wolovsky sang 120 performances at the Wiesbaden Opera House last season, plus numerous appearances in nearby houses. Of his 60-opera repertoire, one of his principal successes is his role in the company's premier of Verdi's "Don Carlo." He sings the difficult role of King Philip.

Wolovsky has been in Europe for 10 years. He speaks fluent German, Italian and French.

"A singer can establish a better future for himself here than anywhere else," he says. "Not only are there many opera companies to choose from, but you come under German insurance laws and get many more social advantages."

Wolovsky is quite enthusiastic about the assistance given him by the company's Friedrich Schramm who doubles as general manager and artistic manager.

Schramm is also an enthusiast: "Germany is the best country for opera in the world."

Operation of the Wiesbaden house costs a million dollars a year. The city and the state make up the deficit of three-quarters of a million.

"Of course I welcome American singers," Schramm says. "I want the best talent I can get, and I don't care where they come from."

But Schramm does have some criticism of American singers in general. Emphasizing that he was not criticizing Wolovsky or other American singers in particular, he says:

"They have the head. They don't have the heart. It is simply diffi-

A DEAD CEDAR tree gets green paint, not water, from the hose held by caretaker Eugene Nelson on the landscaped top of Kansas City's underground auto park.

Dead Trees Remain Green—With Help Of Little Paint

KANSAS CITY (AP)—All is not what it appears to be atop Kansas City's municipal underground auto park.

Four of those cedar trees adorning it are dead and remain green only through the efforts of caretaker Eugene Nelson who sprays them liberally with paint.

The trees can't be replaced until fall, Nelson explains. "They are native red cedars and it is difficult to transplant them successfully. It's natural to lose some trees."

cult for Americans to show emotion. They think—but they don't feel."

He is quick to point out, however, that "American musical preparation is better. They know more about the science and history of music."

in any transplanting operation. Dead trees wouldn't have looked good in the midst of live ones, so we decided on the spraying idea."

Nelson, a spry 64, defies anyone to tell "the painted trees from the others, unless you get real nosy and start fingering the leaves."

He has found early morning the best time to repaint and touch up his trees.

"There aren't so many curious and inquisitive people around at that time," he explains.

CIVIL DEFENSE WEEK

Defense Training Benefits Given By State Leader

Civil defense training has saved—and will continue to save—hundreds of lives in Texas even though Texas never suffers a defense emergency, William L. McGill, state coordinator of civil defense and disaster relief, said today.

In urging Texans to observe Civil Defense Week Sept. 9-15, McGill said "The training received by civil defense officials and volunteers is not something to be shelved like military warfare material, to be used on some future fateful day."

"It can be used—along with the skills attained in techniques of survival—in our daily life, in preserving our property, in saving our neighbor's life, in maintaining the human and economic resources of our nation."

Civil Defense Week will be inaugurated Sunday, Sept. 9, with an hour-long television program featuring an appearance by President Eisenhower. It will pay tribute to civil defense volunteers. Many Texas communities are planning local celebrations, McGill noted.

McGill pointed out that the training courses emphasized in civil defense, such as first aid, home nursing, fire prevention and home safety, are valuable in every day living.

"I am reminded of the two small children in Hamilton County who are living today because of the civil defense training their mothers received in home nursing courses," McGill said.

"A one-year-old child almost drowned in a stock pond. Before the doctor arrived, the child was given artificial respiration and was revived."

"In the second instance, a little girl received a severe cut that severed an artery at the ankle. The nearest hospital was 20 miles away. The girl's mother used her home nursing training to render first aid during the long, frantic journey, thus helping to save her child's life."

McGill said these were only two of many cases reported to the State Defense Office in Austin in which civil defense training helped to save lives.

"It doesn't take a national civil defense emergency or a disastrous flood or tornado to make civil defense training a vital part of every citizen's life," McGill said.

McGill urged Texans to pay tribute during the week-long observance to the civil defense volunteers of their community for the superb job they have done.

Founded by Texas Scottish Rite Masons 32 years ago, and supported by public contributions and bequests, the hospital is dedicated to an effort to provide a chance at a normal life for the handicapped child, and has accepted almost 100,000 children for treatment since 1925.

White walked away with a slightly puffed lip.

STATE FAIR ART FEATURE—Portraits and sculptures of all 33 presidents of the United States and some of the nation's first ladies will be displayed by the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts in its "Mr. President" exhibition during the 1956 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21. To be included in the show are (above) the famous "Parthole" portraits of George and Martha Washington, flanking the bronze model of "Lincoln Seated," from which the monumental statue in the Lincoln Memorial at Washington, D. C., was reproduced.

Martha was diapering her two month old baby, Tim. The phone rang. She ran to answer it. While she was talking she heard a dull thud, and nothing more. She dashed back, and there was Tim lying on the floor, not even crying. She picked him up, he was limp. Martha was terrified. She shook him, and presently he gave a weak whimper. She phoned her doctor, who told her to take Tim to the hospital. Tim had a brain concussion. With skillful treatment in the hospital he recovered, and was none the worse for his accident. Martha was lucky that nothing more serious had happened. It could have been worse.

Save Your Child By 'Vaccinating' For Safe Homes

The greatest killer of children today is accidents. In this country around 5,000 children between one and four years of age die every year from accidents. In the larger group of children between 1-14, accidents cause around 11,000 deaths every year. As many children die from accidents as from pneumonia, diarrhea, measles, diphtheria, meningitis, poliomyelitis, whooping cough and scarlet fever, all combined.

The highest accident rate is in the pre-school children — the children who spend most of their time at home — under parental supervision.

Accidents don't "just happen" — at least 90 percent of them are preventable. We need to study how to prevent accidents, just as we have studied how to prevent disease. Parents need to understand what causes accidents and how they can be avoided. Safety education is the "vaccine" against accidents.

Many a mother has said, as the doctor was about to give her baby an immunization, that she wished she could take that shot for her baby. Well, here's one every mother can take. It's up to mother to become aware of the threat that accidents are to her children and take steps to see to it that they live as safe a life as possible.

Safety education begins when mother understands what her baby is likely to do. She must arrange his life so that he cannot do those things that will hurt him.

A newborn baby is a helpless little mite and needs absolute protection. He needs a mattress to lie on so firm and hard that he cannot bury his nose in it and suffocate. He needs clothing that cannot pull tight around any part of his body. Soon, sooner than most parents think, the baby will be able to wiggle and roll from side to side.

From the beginning the baby must not be left for a single minute on a place from which he might fall. Never, never, leave a baby on a bed or a dressing table even when you go across the room to get a forgotten item or answer the phone as Martha did. One roll, quick as a wink, and your baby is on the floor.

These are just a few cautions for the very young baby. As the baby grows into a toddler and can get places on his own your vigilance too must grow.

Mechanized Tobacco Plucker

By PAUL BECK

PERRYVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A tobacco farmer's back-breaking job ended when he designed a machine that lets him sit down and work.

Of simple construction, the machine invented by W. C. Hundley, 27, creeps along at about a mile an hour between rows of tobacco. It is steered with the feet.

Hundley, astride a mowing-machine type saddle seat, merely yanks off the lower leaves of tobacco from the stalks on each side as the machine moves between them. These leaves then are stored to cure.

This process is called priming, or the removing of ripe lower leaves which otherwise would be wasted because they dry up and drop off. Priming permits the top leaves to ripen and tends to improve the quality of the leaf later cut and cured.

Not only does the $150 machine save his sacroiliac, says Hundley, but it also should increase his yield from 500-700 pounds per acre.

"Everyone knows," says Hundley, "that you can't walk through tobacco without breaking off the upper leaves. But with this machine and its low-slung design, it is a cinch. For years, farmers have been forced to crawl on hands and knees to do the priming, he adds. "I hope my machine will end this back-breaking chore."
