ON H.V.F.D. RESPONSIBILITY

CITY DAD'S ULTIMATUM PROMPTS COUNTY ACTION

By ROY CLARK

A curt ultimatum from the city commission to the county commission Tuesday brought prompt action on an ancient proposal for joint support of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Dept. Better fire protection for both areas is expected to result from a contract between the governing bodies.

The signing of the contract, as proposed by the city officials, resulted in their being relieved of responsibility for accidents outside the city limits in which fire department equipment and personnel might be involved. And it calls for the purchase of a new fire truck by the city.

The county board had previously failed to act on a request for such a contract proposed during a joint session on Jan. 11, and at intervals by city officials over a period of years.

of the Shamrock refinery north of Dumas brought reverberations to the Hereford City Hall on Monday night when Bayne reported on damage suits that resulted there.

A court decision has held that the mayor and council members of the City of Dumas are liable for damages that resulted from the death of several members of their volunteer fire department and injuries to other members of the DVFB who were caught in the gasoline refinery explosion.

County officials can, under existing laws, relieve city leaders of such responsibility by executing a contract in which they assume authority for fire departments operating in areas under their jurisdiction, Bayne said. This was the reason for the unusual Gray County meeting, and has prompted several such called meetings in other Panhandle counties, he continued.

SIGN FIRE SERVICE CONTRACT — Following a special session of the county commission Tuesday, Commissioners Massie, left, Sowell, just visible behind Massie, Guinn, Hicks and County Judge Homer Henslee, right, signed a contract providing for increased fire protection service for both city and county residents. Acting Mayor Raylan Evans, at the far end of the table, met with the court. (Staff Photo)

Four Candidates File for City Commission Election

(Editor's Note) No photo of Welty was available before The Brand went to press.

Four men have entered the race for three commission posts at stake in the April 2 election. Ray Godwin is seeking the mayor's position.

Neil Cooper, the only incumbent seeking reelection, filed for Commissioner's Place 2 in mid-morning Wednesday. He will be opposed by Jack Welty, who filed for the place at 11:55 a.m. Wednesday.

Godwin, 40, manager of the Crowe-Guide Cement Co., and a resident here for four years, agreed to seek the mayor's post after a series of discussions with businessmen. Mayor Henry Sears has declined to seek reelection. The candidate moved here from Amarillo. A native of Vega, he is a graduate of the University of New Mexico. Married and the father of one child, he lives at 102 Beech and is a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Hereford Lions.

Cooper, 33, now serving an appointment to the commission as replacement for Wayne Edwards, is owner of Cooper's Market. He moved here five years ago from Canyon, is married and has three children. He lives at 210 W. 5th. A member of the First Baptist Church and the Lions Club, Cooper has attended West Texas State College and the University of Texas.

for 14 years, is a graduate of Hereford High School. He attended West Texas State College in 1949, is now owner of the B. F. Goodrich store here. Married and the father of two children, he lives at 207 Star. He is a past director of the chamber of commerce, vice president of the Kiwanis, and a member of the Methodist Church.

Only Cooper, among the four candidates has previous experience in city government affairs.

BUT THE MAYOR and city commissioners had apparently not been aware they were personally liable for damages that might arise from accidents involving fire equipment and firemen operating in rural areas of the county until a court decision was outlined for Panhandle mayors and city officials in a meeting Saturday at Pampa.

Mayor Henry Sears and City Manager Dudley Bayne were present at the Pampa meeting, which reportedly resulted in a special meeting of the Pampa city fathers and an unprecedented night session of the Gray County commissioners.

Monday evening, during the regular city commission session here at City Hall, Bayne relayed a request from Mayor Sears for immediate action by the board to relieve its members of personal and individual responsibility for fire trucks operating outside the city limits. (Such immunity is provided by law inside the city limits.)

ONLY THREE of the five members of the Hereford board were present for the Monday evening session. A motion for immediate action on the matter originated with Commissioner R. R. Wills, was accepted by Mayor Pro-Tem Raylan Evans and seconded by Commissioner Troy Moore.

The motion called for a two year contract transferring liability for fire department work outside the limits of Hereford in Deaf Smith County to the county. And it specified a $4,000 annual payment by the county as its pro rata share of the $13,000 annual cost of maintenance. (Continued On Page 2)

Around Town

Up in Stanton, Neb., we learn, carrots have joined the popcorns and candies in the concession stand at the basketball games. Sales, according to our informant who wishes to remain anonymous, were "red hot." Sales averaged about 30 pounds of carrots at each game. The price: 5 cents a carrot. Concession stands might prove another market for the Hereford area's newest big vegetable crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Vasek Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hanna left Wednesday for Austin where they will attend the DeKalb awards state banquet tonight. Vasek, who averaged 122.5 bushels of corn per acre to win the state production contest for 1956, will be a guest of honor. He will receive a trophy and Mrs. Vasek is to receive a set of sterling silver.

Frank Lookingbill and his family are moving to Oklahoma March 1. They have bought a ranch near Ringland and will raise Hereford cattle. Mrs. Lookingbill and daughter Lowanna will accompany him on the move. He has been employed here for 10 years by Blanton

New Athletic Club To Promote Boxing

The Hereford Athletic Club was organized Monday to promote amateur athletics, primarily boxing, in this area.

Supporting the club are three civic clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis and Optimists.

Guy Lawrence was named permanent chairman of the club and Gerald McCaskill is secretary-treasurer.

Members of the board of directors are Dick Barnard and McCaskill, representing the Rotary; Lowell Sharp and Lawrence, representing Kiwanis; Jeff Davis and Wayne Stark, representing the Optimists.

MELVIN YOUNG and the Rev. Lester Jones also were named to the board. They are boxing coaches.

The athletic club is underwriting the Hereford boxing team's trip to Memphis where it will compete in a three-day tournament.

Each of the three civic clubs is contributing equally to finance the athletic organization.

Les Kilgore, regional Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) director from Amarillo, will be in Hereford March 1 to explain the rules of amateurism and to help the new club draw up its constitution.

LAWRENCE SAID the club is now concerned with aiding the boxing team. He said later the organization may expand and promote gymnastics and other sports.

The eight-man team from Hereford will see action tonight in the Memphis tournament. The bouts will last through Saturday. Entering from here are Gene Waits, Ed Wakefield, E. D. Fitzgerald, Wade Crist, Jeff Gomez, Carl Zimmerman, Woodrow Northcutt and R. C. Welty.

Milo Price Future Grows Very Dark

The outlook for a boost in milo price supports is not bright: This was the consensus of opinion this week of two men who follow closely the progress of farm legislation affecting the Hereford area.

R. G. Peeler, president of the regional Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., returned Sunday from a three-week stay in Washington.

"In a nutshell, it looks like we've got this deal for four years and we're going to have to live with it. The fact that Texas went Republican is seen by the administration as a testimonial to the policies of Benson."

DR. A. T. MIMS, president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce got his news in a telephone conversation with Congressmen Rogers and Lashes Benson.

Police Complete Training Course

Five members of the Hereford Police Department were awarded certificates of completion Tuesday night after finishing a 40-hour basic police course.

Receiving certificates were patrolmen Rex M. Cowart, Joel D. Newman, Morris C. Brown, Leon E. Atchley and Capt. J. T. Sanderson.

The training division of the Amarillo Police Department gave 20 hours of instruction during the course and members of the Hereford department taught the other 20.

George Heard Is Awarded Post in Iraq Oil Plant

George Heard this week announced his acceptance of a position with the Government Oil Refinery Administration in Iraq, where he will be in the testing department of a lubricating oil plant. The Heards plan to sail from New York on April 4 and will live in the south part of Bagdad, which is about 15 miles from the plant.

Final arrangements on a three-year contract were completed this week, according to Heard, who said that he will be accompanied by his family with the exception of Martha, a daughter, who will continue her studies at Texas Tech.

George Jr., a high school senior this year, plans to enter an American University in Beirut, Lebanon, which is an hour and a half by air from Bagdad. Jane, their 11-year-old daughter, will attend the Embassy School in Bagdad. Mr. and Mrs. Heard will also be accompanied by another daughter, Leslie, age 2.

DECISION TO accept the Iraq job followed leasing of his Hereford farm a few months back, when Heard accepted an engineering post at Pantex.

Although he has been engaged in farming and dairy work here since 1940, Heard is an engineer by profession. After graduated from Hereford Schools he got an engineering degree from Texas Tech and worked in

Gentle Rains Start at Long, Long Last

The first general rain for Deaf Smith County in months and months began about midnight Sunday. Starting with light showers, the moisture continued to fall throughout the day in the form of rain, sleet and snow. And it kept coming at intervals until Wednesday afternoon when the sun at last broke through.

The total for the three day period was measured at .79 in Hereford, and gauges showed about .80 south of town, more than .60 in the northern part of the county and more than .50 in the western sections.

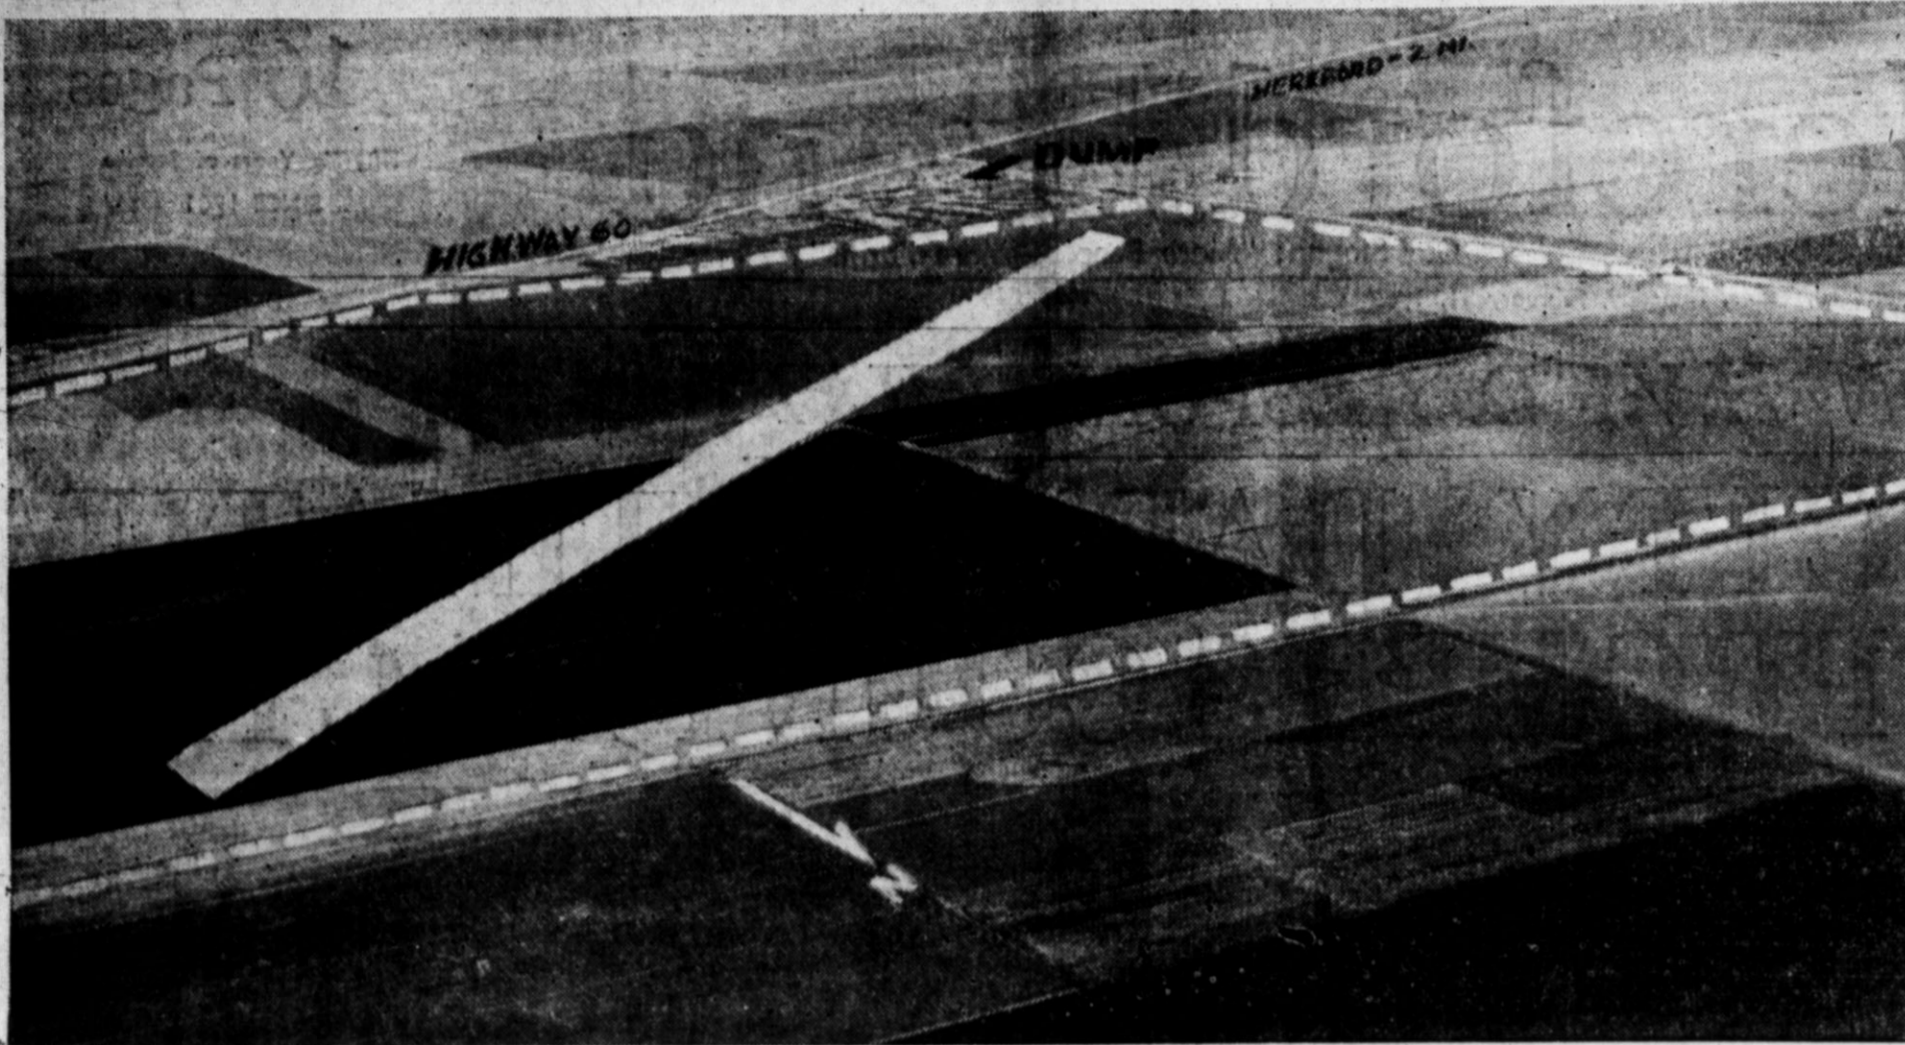

Pastures, irrigated wheat and fallow irrigated fields were expected to benefit from the long overdue moisture. Only .25 inch had been gauged at Hereford since Oct. 18.

Views of the value of the rain varied widely. Rube Adams, who drove in Monday from Norwood, Mo., reported, "It looks like the drought is broken. We were driving in rain ranging from a drizzle to a steady rain."

TIME FOR TURNABOUT — The driver of the station wagon at right apparently had the wrong piece of equipment down when he became stuck in an Avenue K ditch on Monday. MUNICIPAL AIRPORT SITE—Location of the 600-acre tract of land on which the City of Hereford last week took option as the site for a $200,000 secondary airport is indicated by the dotted line in this aerial photo. White strip indicates approximate location of the main runway. The western boundary is just to the left of the picture. McMorries and Associates, Amarillo engineering consultants, were employed Monday night by the city commission to prepare plans for the facility. Federal approval of a master plan for construction at the field is expected to take at least 60 days, but preparation of a temporary landing strip is slated by city officials to begin immediately. taining fire protection service for both the city and county.

City records show one-third of the fire calls during the past two years have originated outside the city limits, Bayne said.

AS A CONCESSION for county residents the city commission will provide an additional fire truck specially equipped for fighting fires in rural areas.

It was noted that the truck, a 750 gallon pumper, which will cost an estimated $18,000, will soon be needed to maintain Hereford fire rates whether or not the city furnishes county fire protection.

The new truck will also enable the HVFD to dispatch three of its four trucks to rural fires without jeopardizing fire protection in the city. On some occasions in the past, city dwellings and business houses have been jeopardized by the dispatch of all equipment outside the city limits.

CITY OFFICIALS plight and the specifications of the proposed contract were debated at length in a special meeting of the county commission called Tuesday afternoon by County Judge Homer Henslee. The judge acted after he received a letter from the city officials signed by City Manager Bayne and a contract form prepared by City Attorney Earnest Langley. The contract is modelled, Langley said, after one approved by the Texas Attorney General.

County commission members protested the "suddenness of the city's ultimatum." They also objected to some wording in the contract. The $4,000 per year payment drew adverse comment, too.

INVITED TO JOIN the session to explain their position, Commissioners Evans and Neil Cooper, Langley and Bayne arrived within minutes after they were notified.

And a little over three hours after the special meeting convened, the commissioners signed the contract as it was originally presented. A "gentlemen's agreement" will permit the county to pay its share of the fire department costs on a monthly basis.

All points of the agreement were explained to the apparent satisfaction of the county officials. The costs may be reapportioned at future renewal periods in the contract. While the liability of city officials was assumed, the county has immunity to legal action resulting from acts of its agents.

"WELL, YOU can finally say that our two boards have reached a complete agreement on at least one matter," grinned Commissioner Otto Massie. All members of the county board, Judge Henslee, Massie, J. T. Guinn, Don Hicks and Charles Sowell signed the contract. County Attorney Ed Line was present to give legal advice during much of the meeting.

FIRE CHIEF Earl Phillips recalled, when informed of the joint action, that such a proposal has been debated at intervals "at least since 1926 — the year I joined the department.

"I hope that members of the fire department, the men who will use the new truck, will be consulted before its purchase on the special equipment needed for combating rural fires," Phillips said.

Earlier, while the issue was still unresolved, Phillips had said that HVFD members undoubtedly would go right on answering "all calls for assistance to the best of their ability whether or not they have trucks available. "I'm sure not going to tell our firemen to stay home or to stand inside the city limits and watch some neighbor's home go up in smoke just because it's across some line."

MORE FUNDS were assured the volunteer department as a result of the city-county agreement. They have previously answered "country" calls "for free" but will now be paid a fixed sum for rural as well as city fire fighting.

City Manager Bayne estimated that the new arrangement will put about $1,500 annually into the HVFD treasury — not a part of the city budget — for use as the volunteer firemen see fit. Most of the fees paid for city fire work has been spent in the past for special fire fighting equipment not provided in the city budget.

Chicago for several years, prior to returning to Hereford. A leader in community affairs, he was president of the Farm Bureau and headed several other civic groups.

HE FIRST became interested in the Iraq oil industry when the Iraq government started its first refinery two years ago to make gasoline and oil. This year, the refinery will open its first lubricating oil plant, where he will be employed.

"Those countries in the mid-east have known oil reserves which equal almost twice the known reserves in the entire Western hemisphere," he said. "They are still so far behind in development that Iraq does not even have a liquified gas industry. They are still blowing gas into the air as we did in this country 25 years ago."

County Commissioner J. T. Guinn, who lives near Bootleg Corners in western Deaf Smith County, was a bit glum about the rain and future prospects. "Unless this is followed by more moisture, we dryland boys will be in worse shape than when we were dusty."

Guinn expressed fears that the light rains will powder the surface of dryland fields and greatly increase the hazard of wind erosion from spring winds. "We had the fields in pretty good shape to withstand wind and receive moisture — all deep plowed or well chiseled — before this," he said.

Steps to Better Family Health

Every family can take steps to insure better physical and mental health in 1957, according to Mrs. Eloise Johnson, extension family life specialist. It will mean financial savings as well as happier living.

The specialist suggests seven important factors to check: good nutrition, sanitation, regular health examinations, immunization, exercise, rest and recreation, an adequate home health center, and a means of achieving the state of radiant health which is the result of complete physical, social and mental well being.

Nutrition Guide

An accepted guide for good nutrition is the Texas Food Standard. Family attitudes toward food and pleasant meal-time atmosphere are as important as kind and amount of food eaten.

Sanitation includes a healthful water supply, safe sewage and garbage disposal, cleanliness around the barn and home, as well as clean milk free from bacteria.

Regular health examinations for mother and father as well as the children are one of the most important steps in improving family health. The family physician can advise about immunization against contagious and infectious diseases.

Fifth Step

Exercise, rest and recreation is a fifth step. The important thing, is to build toward a family attitude which considers rest and recreation as essential to good health and not a waste of time or evidence of laziness.

The sixth step is the maintenance of an adequate home health center. Every family should have supplies, equipment and medicine for the minor illnesses and emergencies that must be cared for at home.

Mims said the congressman bitterly lashed the cut in grain sorghum supports from $1.97 to $1.83 (national average) as one of "the most disgusting things Benson has ever done. But it follows his previous steps aimed toward destroying small farmers and making conditions satisfactory for large farmers."

Peeler reported that Texas congressmen now hope to "ride the corn boys' coat tails into a better program for all feed grains. That's about our only chance," he added.

Executive Aiming at Money Usually Finds Only Ulcers

By EDWARD S. KITCH CHICAGO (By City the execu-

Although he lives plushly, he frequently changes jobs - often under pressure - and walks a tight rope between success and failure. To be a success, he must work more for love than money, says Lon D. Barton, 50, president of a clearing house for executives. His employment agency furnishes executive talent to industry throughout the country.

"If he works for money only, the executive is headed for trouble with his stomach and early retirement," says Barton.

"If he works for love of his job and the people around him, the money will come and he'll live happier."

Placing young executive talent in key spots at the rate of 5,000 a year, Barton's staff of 60 experts has seen executives come and go, rise and fall.

Today, the demand is for industrial executives with experience in the engineering fields - mechanical, electrical and aeronautic.

If they have specialized in sales, production or engineering design and rated in the upper half of their college class, it's a good bet that they'll land a job paying $16,000 a year, within 3 1/2 years from the time they graduate.

The man specializing in sales will have a much better chance of entering top management because 80 per cent of the executives arrived by this route.

Barton says an executive doesn't become a "big shot" until he reaches the $15,000 to $30,000-a-year bracket. But only one in 10 $15,000 per year jobs are worth taking because frequently the company offering it does not possess stature in its industry.

Barton's agency rates the company hiring the executives as well as the employee looking for a job. The firms are rated on their caliber and ability to add to a man's value in the executive field.

The average executive changes jobs every four or five years.

"The men who get ahead the fastest, change jobs when a better opportunity presents itself," Barton said.

Changing jobs also can be fatal to a man's career if he doesn't watch his step. As he moves up in the salary bracket, his prestige can diminish because the companies he joins from job to job also slide lower and lower in caliber.

PRISON ECONOMY

MADISON, Wis. (AP) - The State Board of Public Welfare has proposed closing the twine-making plant at the Wisconsin State Prison at Waupun.

Inmates started making twine in 1912 and since then the plant has turned back $2,295,307 to the state's general fund.

But officials, in their recommendation, said the twine market is so bad that even with 35 cents a day's prison labor the plant now is losing money.

Dangerous Insecticides

COLLEGE STATION — Failure to observe manufacturer's directions when handling highly toxic insecticides and miticides is risky business, warn Extension Entomologists C. F. Garner and F. M. Fuller. Certain solvents used in preparing insecticide solutions or emulsions, they add, are inflammable and most of them poisonous to humans.

The specialists say that insecticide injury to man is most common through oral and respiratory intake or by skin absorption. Continued exposure even to lower insecticide concentrations, with no regard to safety measures, can result in an accumulation of chemicals in the body and may cause eventual tissue or organic injury.

Many phosphorous compounds, such as parathion, methyl parathion, EPN, TEPP, demeton, Diazinon, Phosdrin, Thimet and Guthion, are extremely poisonous and must be handled with care at all times, assert the specialists. They add that phosphorous insecticides are much more poisonous to the warm-blooded animals than most other chemicals used for insect control.

Since phosphorous insecticides tend to reduce the cholinesterase enzyme, entomologists advise regular analyses of such chemicals to have cholinesterase tests at 10-day intervals while working with the material. Your local doctor can tell you about these tests.

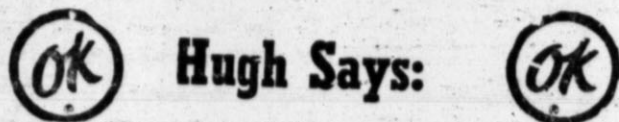

It's a good idea to bathe and change clothing immediately following a highly toxic job and not enter a home or two or three days after it has been treated, the specialists point out. Always wear gloves and freshly laundered protective clothing during handling, and stop working if a toxic insecticide is spilled on skin or clothing for a thorough bath and a change of clothes, they advise.

Other pointers to remember include the use of approved respirators; protection of all persons and livestock from drifts, sprays, or dusts; and the storage of sprays and dusts away from children, irresponsible people, and all forms of food and feed.

DETROIT (AP) — The 16 checks were bogus alright. Det. Lt. Walter Chiopan found they were drawn on a phony firm. The firm listed itself at Chiopan's home address.

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW Who Likes Rain? Most Everybody

By BETTY BABIONE
Gee, what nice weather for snoozing, reading, playing cards and lots of other things except writing a column. Don't think I tarry long at it — the latest issue of the Saturday Evening Post came today, and I can hardly wait to read this week's episode of "The Girl From the Mimosa Club." Would have perused it earlier, but Pa won the foot race to the mailbox — the conclusion of his Western thriller was in the same magazine.

I bet that nowhere in the world do spirits perk up faster than they do here after we get a little moisture. It's even exciting that the jalopy can get stuck in the mud; furthermore, Man is good-natured about those goosy tracks on the living room carpet.

GEORGE JOWELL was especially elated over the rain. This week he resumed farming operations for the first time in several years.

MR. WILL HARRIS was happily stocking supplies in hopes that he would get rain or snow-bound out at his place — said this could well be a million dollar's worth of moisture.

Social events in Amarillo have been the reason for Herefordites keeping the highway well-travelled of late. The LEE KENTS, JAY BARNETT, and the BILL DECKERS were among those who went over last week for the Jimmy Dorsy dance. . . reported the music heavenly tho' the famous band-leader was hospitalized and therefore unable to conduct it.

The Hardware Association Convention highlighted several events which attracted a sizable group from here. The DOC KIRBYS, the JIM KIRBYS, the J. C. McCrackens, ANN WOODWARD (to mention a few). There were raves over the performance by the Ink Spots and the generous use of giant orchids in the decorations and favors at one of the dinners. MAE McCracken won a few raves of her own when she was called on after the program started, to accompany a solo entertainer. It was a good bit of publicity for Hereford too.

MARY and GERALD HALE like to dance more than anyone we know. They attended the Valentine Dance here Thursday, then went over to Amarillo Friday for a big dance there.

Back to the Valentine Ball (and you knew I would be!) MARY ANNA and CHARLES LAING would have carried off the jitterbug trophy, had there been one. . . DUB and IONE REEVES were among the smoothest hoofers. Speaking of Dub, he and ROSS LATHAM (stalwart fishermen that they are) were up before the sun the morning after the dance.

'Twas an unusual feat for anyone except eager anglers being beckoned by Sugar Lake, Old Mexico. A popular sport immediately following most dances is that of par-taking of vittles, usually breakfast. Just ask the T. J. CLAYS, the JOHN KELLEYS, the JIM WHITES, the GLEN HOPSONS or the JACK BRADLEYS. The SAM NUNNALLYS and the PAUL HARVEYS appeared to be enjoying their a.m. snack too. Never did tell MARGARET HARVEY that I was simply dazzled by her red, brocade pumps. Red slippers were really in vogue at the Thursday shindig.

You may have heard about CATHERINE and CLYDE RUSSELL'S daughter, MRS. JOE NEELLEY of Amarillo. She was one of the candidates to be honored at the big "Queen of Hearts" Ball Friday night in Amarillo. And oh, she is so pretty!

Marriages in the United States increased in 1956 to 1,867,000 as compared to 1,542,000 in 1955.

Most people seem quite happy these days. Jack Brown, especially, is feeling his oats. Jack, if you recall, is the boy who predicted this rain by looking at circles around the moon.

There are one or two exceptions, of course. Gib Brown, for instance says I got him in the dog house for sure. Gib got up Monday morning and the first thing his wife did was point out that it was raining. "Naturally," replied Gib in an offhand manner, then added, "didn't you read the prediction in the Bull Column Sunday?"

Lee Kent was also doing quite a bit of carping all day Monday. "I had my work planned out for the week, but this messes it up," Lee said. "Instead of following out the plans, I first had to go out and shut off the wells; I can't plow. In fact, it has everything messed up for fair." About this time his wife, Helen, got hold of him and I never did hear the rest of Lee's complaint.

Jay Boston is another fellow who might be a bit unhappy. He called me Sunday night just before the rain started and read me a long piece out of a farm magazine about how we wouldn't have much moisture until 1960. Jay says this is the opinion of most all the farm magazines. He says every farmer should plan to hold out until '60. Jay was real nice. He said he likes to read about the rain forecasts — even if it doesn't rain. He had hardly hung up the telephone before it started raining.

However, let's keep the record straight. I do not — and never have — predicted a wet year in 1957. I always said, and still say, that 1957 is the year the drouth will start to break. I agree with Jay all the way, except I figure that 1958 might well be above normal in rainfall; it's a toss up, but it might be. However, put a big red circle around 1960 — and it should be good and wet on through 1966.

Meanwhile, let's revel in the fact that we are doing a lot better than last year, and the year before — and that that. Things will be better and better for another 10 or 11 years. The drouth has started to break.

A local mechanic called in to suggest that we consider a "drag strip" in connection with the new City Airport. He says that local kids are being forced to drag race on our streets. He figures that some place should be provided for them to let off steam. He says there are many, many souped up jalopies in this community, and that a lot of kids are truly interested in the sport. Anyway, it is an idea worthy of consideration.

Mont Baker suggests that the new Hereford boxing committee sponsor a local tournament in the County Pavilion. Mont says the Fire Department used to sponsor boxing here and that it was in fact popular. He figures they could take in enough admission to help outfit the boys. Sounds like another good deal.

Like a lot of other people, Clyde Truly is upset because he cannot find the Hereford rainfall reports in the Amarillo papers — and seldom hears them over the news-casts. Bill Lenderman says that the reports go in to the weather station in Amarillo from the official Department of Agriculture station handled by Clay Angelo. Bill says that they have spent a lot of time and effort, but can't seem to get to first base. He hopes that opening of the City Airport may lead to better cooperation along this line.

Dy Benson, R. L. Thompson, Fred Baird and others connected with the Hereford Texas Federal Credit union shook a lot of hands Sunday as literally hundreds of people turned out for the open house. The new building is super nice. However, I got a real kick when I peered into the pig storage vault: it was packed and jammed with cookies.

It was also a revelation to me to discover that Bill Brady is a camera fiend. Nothing worse can happen to a fellow. Once or twice, I have entertained ideas for an organization to be called "Camera's Anonymous." It would, of necessity, be modeled after "Alcoholics Anonymous." If you don't think there is a real need for such an organization, just ask Mrs. Roy Clark, Mrs. Bill Brady, Mrs. Bill Patton, Mrs. Travis Caraway, Mrs. Elmer Patterson, Mrs. Kenneth Coker, Mrs. Curtis Traveek, Mrs. Milton Adams, or any of the other numerous "camera widows" around Hereford.

You hear very little local comment these days regarding the proposed Texas run-off bill to govern election of a replacement for Price Daniel. Lewis Woodford, however, has several ideas on the subject. He figures they have it all planned out where it will get into court, and the Shivers appointee will keep right on in the office. He thinks Shivers and Daniels planned the whole thing this way a long time ago.

Personally, I don't agree. It would take a lot of cooperation from the Senate and the House — and they seldom even agree with each other, much less the elected officials.

The big blank space where the old Catholic Church used to stand is a constant source of bother to me. After all these years, I just can't get used to the bare spot, which I usually pass four to six times a day.

I notice where the chicken people are complaining about undue competition as a result of the new soil bank plan. A lot of farmers have poked their land into the soil bank and are supplementing their income by raising chickens. California is even trying to get a law where all chickens would have to be "California grown" labeled to be sold in the state.

Also of general interest is the fact that coffee is due to take a nose-dive in price. When the dock strike is settled, it will probably happen. If it happens, housewives can mainly thank the instant coffee people for the price relief. Coffee supplies are now plentiful, according to reports.

Did you ever see a native Iraqi? Saturday night a bunch got together at the Bruce Miller home to give a party honoring Mr. and Mrs. George Heard, who are moving to Iraq. The idea was to dress in native costume and everyone, it seems, had a different interpretation. The final result, they say, looked more like a Walt Disney cartoon than an Iraqi congregation. However, they all had a lot of fun and George says that Irving Alexander gets his vote for first prize, if there had been a prize.

Look Who's New!

Ernesto Perez, a boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. David Perez of Hereford at 7:40 p.m. Tuesday. He weighed 8 lbs., 10 oz., at birth. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Rodriguez of Hereford. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Victoria Perez, also of Hereford.

Another boy, Pentecostes Robert Vega Jr., born to Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Vega at 9:11 a.m. Monday. He weighed 6 lbs., 11 oz. Mr. and Mrs. Policarrio Madrid are the maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Ferico Vega are the paternal grandparents. All are from Hereford.

Dr. E. D. Landreth, district superintendent of the Amarillo district, filled the pulpit at the morning worship hour at the First Methodist Church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Babione were guests last week of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Babione. They were on their way to their home in Clinton, Okla., from Odessa.

WORRY WARTS?

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — A psychiatrist reports that bacteria and other minute organisms find it easier to infect people who worry and fret. "All organic diseases are influenced by psychological factors," said Dr. Leo Rangell, clinical professor of psychiatry at UCLA, at a recent postgraduate seminar on psychiatric problems in general practice. "Resistance to infection may be reflected in irritations of the lining of the colon or skin surface, which in turn invite bacterial invasion.

Mrs. C. E. Bell of Plainview spent the weekend in Hereford with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell.

Garden Club Tour of South Assured

Mrs. Robert Veigel, chairman of the tour of the old south which will be sponsored on Feb. 27 by The Garden Beautiful Club, announced Friday afternoon at a club meeting that enough names have now been secured for the trip.

Twelve more are on the list ready to go if any of the 28 already signed find it impossible to make the trip.

The required number 28 for making the trip was reached last weekend with members of garden clubs from Dimmitt, Dalhart, Lamesa, Canyon, Plainview, Tulla and Hereford planning to make the tour.

The meeting of the club was held in the Friendship Room at the Hereford State Bank with Mrs. Robert Veigel and Mrs. Howard Armstrong serving as hostesses. During the business session members voted to make a contribution to the local Red Cross.

Mrs. Frank Prowell presented the program on "This is the Golden Age of Roses." She spoke at length on rose culture and named 24 that are best suited to this area. She also showed posters illustrating the roses in bloom.

Preparation of the soil and how to select and how to plant, as well as when and how to feed the plant were discussed, and proper ways of mulching were outlined.

Ceramic Club Has Program on Planters

The Hereford Ceramics Club met with Mrs. J. R. Hickman Feb. 13. Mrs. L. W. Norvell was co-hostess. Mrs. M. T. Rutter gave the program on planters and containers.

Mrs. Rutter discussed the following points: The planter should add to beauty; a basic container serves like a basic dress in neutral color and simple forms, such as a pillow shape or a brick turned on end; wall vases are useful for small apartments and around small children; having fun with arrangements; putting zinnias in Mexican pottery.

After the meeting, members went out to see Mrs. Wilma Keipfle Williamson's doll collection. Mrs. Williamson has many other antiques more than 100 years old. They are in china, cut glass and colored glass.

Present were Mrs. Leon W. Denton, Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. Glenn Boardman, Mrs. W. H. Autry, Sr., Mrs. C. A. Vaughn, Mrs. L. W. Norvell, Mrs. Carl Gilliland, and the hostess.

Mrs. Rutter and Mrs. Williamson were guests. (Continued on Page 3)

By ARGON DRAPER

Terry Boatman was real excited last Thursday morning when I saw him with his aunt, Edna Snead. Terry had ridden the taxi to the barber shop and, Edna had gone to town for him. He is still talking about his first taxi ride as that is big business for a three-year-old. He has a cute sister Sherry. They aren't twins although their names might sound like it. Their mother, Mrs. Billy Boatman and Edna Snead are sisters.

Daniel Larsen was in the office telling of their experience with blue spruce in Utah. The family would go to the mountains and look a long time until they found a perfect tree and then move it to their landscape at home. One time when they moved to a new place he moved a huge spruce; by careful planning and with the help of a bulldozer the tree thrived. Daniel is one of about 20 farmers who have sent their tree orders to the office. Others have sent the orders direct to the Texas Forest Service.

The Blue Spruce out at the Paul place on Highway 51 is becoming more of a character all the time. Annie Springer's house helps the spruce and the tree helps Annie's house.

THE BUILDING out on south Highway 51 is quite interesting. Every evening I'm anxious to see how much has been accomplished. Besides Annie Springer, Jim Loving and N. L. Wesson are building. As I don't like to dust, the insulation on the Loving house appeals to me.

This has been a big week for 4-H. Mrs. Louie Olson and Mrs. Abe Davis are new club leaders. Congratulations and let me assure you it will be the most satisfying club job you ladies will ever have. Of course, Lucile Olson has been club leader before. She was leader when Nancy was a 4-H Club member and now Becky will be in the (Continued On Page 2)

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Ray Thompson's home Feb. 26.

Allergies Subject of Bippus H.D.

The Bippus Home Demonstration Club met Feb. 13 at the home of Mrs. G. V. Hall.

The program was on health and safety. Mrs. Elmo Hall, Mrs. G.V. Hall and Mrs. C. F. Homfeld gave the program.

Mrs. G. V. Hall discussed the causes and effects of allergies and Mrs. Homfeld talked about improved nutrition for teen agers.

Mrs. Elmo Hall was chosen as a club representative to the district meeting to be held in Amarillo April 4.

Mrs. Homfeld was elected as club nominee for the outstanding H. D. club woman of the year.

Members present were Mrs. Elmo Hall, Mrs. Jimmy Perrin, Mrs. J. G. Fortenberry, Christine Fortenberry and the hostess.

CREDIT UNION OPEN HOUSE—The lobby was crowded at The Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union Sunday afternoon as nearly 500 visitors streamed into the new building for an open house. Visitors and officials visited briefly before guests moved on to view the facilities of the new building.

RIGHT—Chief greeters at the open house were R. L. Thompson, credit union president, and Dyalithia B. Benson, treasurer-manager who was co-founder of the group in 1936. (Staff Photos)

Club To Welcome New Residents

Hereford Woman To Preside at Legion Auxiliary Meeting

Mrs. C. A. Sauley and Mrs. Edna Smith, both of the Hereford unit of the auxiliary, will be color bearers in the opening ceremonies.

Cupcakes and coffee were served after the meeting. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Bussell, Mrs. S. G. Perrin of Haskell, Gene Pope of Friona and E. M. Sessums and Mrs. Orpha Nickerson of Hereford.

"The Walcott Westerner," school newspaper, was printed Friday. Betty Lockhart and Edna Steward assisted T. L. Collins in editing the paper.

School pictures came in Friday and the students took them home so parents could decide whether to keep them.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Shelton and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Collins went to Central School Saturday to look over books on display. Publishers had sent the books to be selected for adoption as basic readers.

A suggestion: Put your pillow at the foot of the bed and see what a comfortable rut you have been in. Or can you sleep just as well?

I've been told of a farmer who sleeps through the most exciting of television dramas but as soon as the program is turned off he wakes up. What's the explanation?

IS THERE any way to be sicker than with food poisoning? If so, I sure want to dodge it. Soon we'll make up the two meetings we missed at the Dawn Club. Another thing I missed was a birthday party at Anton for a friend who was 89 years old Sunday. She says the only thing bad about getting old is seeing her children become middle aged.

My vote for weather forecasting goes to Foy Huff. He told me last Saturday that the weather was going to change by getting some moisture. It seems his corn hurt more than usual. This may not be the most scientific but it is a most effective way of forecasting.

There's a lot of talk in all circles about who will win the television moisture guessing contest. In my opinion Johnny Turrentine should get honorable mention by simply guessing graduation day.

The Johnson Grass Farmer's wife says everyone at home is so happy over the moisture that she thinks she will go to town and buy something else on the Easy-Pay Plan.

Politics Out of Bounds in Wives' Club Voting

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Wives of Congressmen had an inauguration of their own to launch the opening of the new Congressional Club year, but the fact that the new president is a Republican had nothing to do with party politics. It's a club rule that the office alternate between the two major parties.

Mrs. John J. Williams, wife of the Republican senator from Delaware, elected to the two-year term, succeeds a Democrat, Mrs. Omar Burleson, wife of the congressman from Texas. Members of the new board are representative of both parties from all parts of the United States.

Mrs. Williams, a handsome and friendly woman, has been active in the club since 1947 when her husband, the wealthy owner of a grain and poultry business, was first elected to the Senate.

The Williamses met at a dance in their home town of Millsboro, Del., and were married in 1924. They live in a 12-room white clapboard house to which they commute by motor from Washington every few weeks while Congress is in session.

In the Capital they maintain an apartment at the Mayflower Hotel. They have a summer home at Rehoboth Beach, Del. Their daughter, Blanche, is married to J. R. Baker Jr., of Millsboro, and has three little girls, Janet, 11, Lora, 8, and Holly, 5.

Mrs. Williams collects dolls and now has more than 200, mostly foreign ones picked up on travels in Europe and South and Central America. Pat Nixon, wife of the vice president and head of the Senate Ladies' Club, recently gave her a doll she brought back from Korea.

As a Senator's wife, Mrs. Williams has had to cut down some of her activities, but she still finds time to keep up the weekly column on her Washington activities she has been writing for eight years for the Wilmington Morning News.

Right now, the new club president is deep in program plans for the next two years, including the 1958 golden jubilee celebration of the club. Among this year's special events will be a reception for President and Mrs. Eisenhower, a reception for the chief justice, a spring "brunch" for Mamie Eisenhower and a Founders' Day luncheon.

Other new officers of the club include the wife of Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, (R-Utah) and the wives of Reps. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), Michael Feighan (D-Ohio), Walt Horan (R-Wash), L. H. Fountain (D-NC) J. Arthur Younger (R-Cal) Paul C. Jones (D-Mo) and Clifford G. McIntire (R-Maine).

The annual presentation of an operetta by the boys' and girls' glee clubs will be given Friday night of next week in the high school auditorium, under the direction of Miss Lucille Hicks, music instructor. Title of the operetta is "Up in the Air" by Morgan, and it concerns the ambitions of a studious young man to win the hand of Betty Burbank whose father is looking for a son-in-law of a more muscles-and-brawn type.

The greater number of influenza cases has been reached in the epidemic and fewer patients are reported each day. The majority of cases seem to be among adults this week. Not many critical cases are reported, the worst affliction apparently being a continued weakness from which recovery is difficult.

Funk, Rogers Will Meet Brother Team

DORY FUNK and Rip Rogers, after two straight wins, tangle with a pair of brothers Saturday night in the coliseum in another tag team bout. Rogers and Funk whipped Leo Newman and the Great Bolo last Saturday.

This time they will meet Chris and John Tolos in a two out of three falls or one-hour time limit

PRISON AUTHORS

JACKSON, Mich. — Behind the bleak walls of Southern Michigan Prison, a convicted slayer and a forger are writing tales of the outdoors and children's stories. They're getting about 40 percent of their stories accepted for publication. Right now a team is working on an illustrated book for children, "Timothy, the Timid Tiger."

The inmate authors are William Morey, 22, serving life for murder, and Robert Dale, serving 5 to 14 years for Forgery. They write under the pen name of Dale Morey.

The two said most of their earnings go into art supplies to illustrate the new book.

John Tolos has wrestled in Hereford several times, but this will be the first local appearance for Chris.

Rogers and Funk hold the world's championship in tag team wrestling. This will not be a championship fight.

IN THE TWO events preceding the main bout, Funk will meet John Tolos in a one-fall, 20-minute match and Rogers will take on Chris in another short bout.

Between 600 and 700 fans saw last Saturday's fights. Harold Wester, promoter, has promised "some surprise cards" in the near future.

TELEPHONE TALK

by W. L. Leavy, Manager

A Look Ahead

This is the first opportunity I've had to talk with you this way, this year, so I'd like to take time to look at 1957.

We at the telephone company are planning to make it a good year—even better than last year, when it comes to the speed, dependability, and value of your telephone service.

This will be the year of the Big Change for us... A change of all telephone numbers and a change in the system of handling calls.

Our telephone numbers will begin with "EMerson," followed by five numbers. Your new number will go into effect toward the last of this year. We don't know what numbers will work for you, individually, until the dial equipment is installed. We'll tell each of you as soon as we know.

The dial system to be installed will be called Crossbar. It's a new idea in telephone systems—both local and long distance. There are only a handful of such exchanges in the entire country. Calls here in town will go through with great speed. Long distance calls can be dialed by you, without even calling the operator.

It's our feeling that our most important job is to give you the kind of telephone service you want and need—in 1957 and the years ahead. So if there is anything we can do to make your service more pleasant and helpful, please don't hesitate to call on us.

Three for Two's a Bargain

Hereford people made more out-of-town calls last year than in any previous year—a fact which speaks well of the value of our Long Distance service.

Many of you who made these calls realized big savings, too, by placing your calls station-to-station. That way, you saved up to one-third, because you can make three station-to-station calls for about the price of two person-to-person calls.

Here's an example of what I mean. You can make three station-to-station calls from here to Amarillo for only $1.35. Two person-to-person calls to the same city will cost $1.40. That's using the bargain rates available every evening after six and all day Sunday.

This year, why not call station-to-station when you call Long Distance? You'll save money. And you'll save time, too, if you'll always call by number.

Kitchen Helpers

There's a lot of truth in saying, "The kitchen is the heart of the home." It's certainly true that a homemaker spends about as much time in the kitchen as in any other room in the house.

I guess that accounts for the popularity of some of the wonderful new "kitchen helpers," like dishwashers, waste disposals, and freezers. No wonder they're popular! Think of how much drudgery these conveniences save the homemaker.

There's another "kitchen helper" I'd like to mention that's growing in popularity, too. That's an additional telephone. Kitchen phones save time and steps for busy housewives, and make it easier to keep in touch with friends.

Additional telephones for any room in the house are low in cost—just $1.00 a month, plus tax and a small one-time installation charge. Just call the telephone business office.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Women's Who's Who Seeks Nominations

By EDWARD S. KITCH
 CHICAGO (AP) — Editors of the forthcoming "Who's Who of American Women" are looking for new names of distinguished women to include in the volume.

Women who have achieved distinction in any field are eligible, says Wheeler Sammons Jr., associate publisher of "Who's Who in America" and nine other biographical volumes published by the A.N. Marquis Co. The new distaff volume is scheduled to appear in October 1958.

"For several years we've had women's organizations wondering why there was no biographical book on women," he said.

Many national women's organizations since have volunteered to contribute names of outstanding women in civic, cultural, scientific and religious fields for listing in the special volume. Some 800 colleges have been requested to submit names.

Many new names already are up for consideration as entries by James M. Ethridge, director of research on the project.

Although women of achievement have been listed in Who's Who in America since its first edition in 1899, the new volume will be the first devoted to women alone.

Suggestions Welcomed

All women now listed in the Who's Who in America volume will be carried in the new book. About 2,500 names, plus 2,000 names in other books published by Marquis-Who's Who, Inc., will be added to some 15,000 names still to be suggested and processed.

"We've sent out 3,300 requests for data as a start on the project," Sammons said.

The Women's Who's Who will follow the basic rule established for the selection of entries in Who's Who in America, which says: "Who's Who in America shall endeavor to list those individuals who are of current national reference interest and inquiry either because of meritorious achievement in some reputable field of endeavor or because of positions they hold."

Thus, any woman who may be inquired about stands high as a candidate for entry in the volume.

"We plan to be more liberal with the Who's Who for women, although we are a bit more strict what names go into the regular Who's Who," Sammons says.

"There are a great many women who are not entered in Who's Who in America but who are in very important positions, so we plan to select women as women on their own merits. They can be successful in the fields of women's activities, or they may have achieved distinction by moving into a professional area formerly considered only a man's world," he said.

Agas Secret

Sammons estimates the cost of the new volume will run about $150,000. It will have 1,000 pages.

He says editors will not press feminine biographies for their ages.

"That's a secret they can keep if they're sensitive about it. But if they want to be considered businesslike and the professional equals of men I think they'd want to be as accurate as possible. We'll ask them for their age, but we won't force them to give it. How could we?" Sammons asked.

February Is Heart Month

AUSTIN — February is National Heart Month. During this period most Americans will be made aware, through one way or another of the tremendous strides made during the last few years in the battle against heart disease.

Recently, a nationally televised program dramatized an operation that replaced a damaged heart valve with a plastic counterpart—a modern medical miracle.

And yet diseases of the heart and the cardiovascular - renal system are still the number one killer of Texans and Americans today.

During 1955, over 32,000 Texans died from these causes alone. This accounts for almost 50 per cent of the total deaths from ALL causes in Texans.

Figures for 1956, not yet complete, appear to indicate a rise in this figure.

The exact causes of the conditions which produce the high death rate from heart disease are still unknown to medical and scientific researchers.

However, on one fact they all agree; early warning of heart trouble or physical conditions that could lead to heart breakdown, makes cure much simpler for the physician.

On those conditions where cure is impossible, early diagnosis usually makes it possible, with proper medical attention, for the patient to lead a long and nearly normal life.

Toughest Muscle

The heart is the toughest, strongest muscle in the entire body and is more efficient than any man-made machine. It even had its own complete maintenance and repair system.

About the size of a fist, the human heart produces enough energy in its lifetime to lift a battleship 14 feet out of the water.

This reservoir of power is specifically intended for strenuous exertion because it must pump every drop of blood to body tissues and back, once every minute.

The marvel of the heart is that it doesn't break down easier and more often. However, it does often break down without warning.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, commissioner of health, urges Texans to check regularly with a physician and follow his advice, especially if they are past 40 years of age.

Take advantage of the free mobile chest x-ray unit provided by the Texas State Department of Health when it visits your community or neighborhood.

Chest x-rays, as well as uncovering chest cancer and tuberculosis, can also show up certain heart conditions in their early stages.

CAREER NAMES WANTED—Wheeler Sammons, Jr., publisher of the forthcoming "Who's Who of American Women," confers with chief editor Anne Schaff, seated, and Beverly Wendland.

HINDSIGHT

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A former assistant director of Temple de Hirsch says it was easy to decide the most disgruntled group of persons he met during a summer visit to Israel.

In the Negebe community of Mordecai, Rabbi Albert Plotkin talked with Israelites who claimed they once held Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser as a prisoner-of-war.

It was during the Israelite-Egyptian hostilities of 1948 and Nasser, then a lieutenant colonel, had been captured. However, under United Nations terms, he was released within a month.

"As you can imagine," said Rabbi Plotkin, now chief rabbi of Temple Beth Israel at Phoenix, Ariz., "the people of Mordecai are very unhappy he did not remain behind barbed wire."

COLLECTIVE GUIDANCE

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The men whose business it is to collect delinquent accounts don't want to be known as bill collectors. They rather would like to be thought of as "guidance workers" helping people who have mismanaged their budgets.

That was the opinion expressed by collection agents attending a central states conference of the American Collectors' Assn.

"People need assistance to get out of debt and modern collectors try to help those people," said Paul A. Root, operator of a collection bureau at Ann Arbor, Mich.

DEEP YEARNING

... for God, or is it hero-worship, or is it a desire to be shown the way... is it a dream? Well, heroes are God's occasion for awakening in His children a yearning to be one. Dreams are the doorsteps up which one must climb to reach this higher elevation. Be it hero-worship or a longing for God, it is his dream and a child is at his best when he dreams. His dreams are his prayers. God and your son, together, can do great things. But they can do better if a father joins God and his son in the dream-prayer. Here a father meets, face-to-face, one of the finer experiences of life... his own son in fervent prayer. Scenes like this cause a father to be interested in things that have to do with life rather than just a living. A prayer life is the result of church teaching and good raising... has your child learned to pray??? To be good and kind and patient are fine but add church attendance to the list and you'll have the ingredients which go into every good man.

The CHURCH in you

These Hereford firms believe that strong churches are an asset to any community. They make this feature possible with the hope that both we and our churches may be strengthened.

Lest we forget: "All property has been given us by God. God bestows His goods as He pleases. Rich and poor will always be among us. The property of our neighbor should be sacred to us, because God has given it to him. We should therefore not take our neighbor's money or goods against his will, neither by robbery and theft, nor by defrauding him with poor wares or crooked dealings. Always be honest! We should rather help him to improve his property and business and to preserve it from danger and harm." A most cordial welcome to you.

Little Change in Dairy Income Seen

COLLEGE STATION — Higher production costs and large milk supplies will prevent any general uptrend in the 1957 net income for dairymen, says Extension Economist John G. McHaney. This year's national production of dairy products will probably top the 1956 record high by about three billion pounds.

Improved technology and quality of cattle point to a higher rate of milk production per cow in 1957.

Milk and butterfat prices paid to farmers in 1957 will depend primarily on support levels which won't be revised until April 1. New support levels will be announced shortly before that date and will be between 75 and 90 per cent of parity unless an emergency arises, placing them out of this range, McHaney says.

Expanding incomes and an increasing population indicate a very strong consumer demand for dairy products in 1957 and the Agricultural Act of 1954 has greatly aided in reducing CCC stocks.

Supplies of both feed concentrates and roughages in the United States are large relative to the number of cattle and other livestock. However, this is not true in Texas, which has gone through several years of drought. Roughage supplies are especially scarce and feed costs may have a definite influence on net income for Texas dairymen.

Spanish Partridges Loose in Panhandle

AUSTIN — A third shipment of Spanish red-legged partridges has been released in the Panhandle, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

The consignment, comprising 96 birds, was turned loose near Childress in Cottle County and near Canadian in Lipscomb County, where two previous batches were planted in 1955 and 1956.

THE DIRECTOR said favorable reports have been received from ranchers about the previous releases and added that "hopes are high" that the comparatively large partridges will take hold.

Red-legged partridges are about twice the size of ordinary quail, are fleet on the wing and are considered prime game birds in their native Spain. All three consignments of the redlegs were flown to Texas.

Another step in the effort of the Game and Fish Commission to augment Texas wildlife species will be taken shortly when the second shipment of seese partridge arrives by air from Pakistan. This bird is just slightly smaller than bobwhite quail and, like the redlegs, is accustomed to semi-arid climate.

The seesees will be released near Palo Duro Canyon southeast of Amarillo, in the same general area where a foundation stock of aoudad sheep was established recently in an effort to introduce this prize game animal to Texas.

The first shipment of 67 seesees was placed in the Canyon country last summer. Several reports have been received about ranchers observing some of the newly transplanted game birds.

CONCERNING the larger redlegs which approximate in size species of partridge which occur in northern states, Wildlife Biologist Richard DeArment said it has been established the native Spanish birds are fond of "green stuff."

DeArment said activities of these exotic species from two previous releases had been noted by one Cottle County rancher who has been irrigating a field and thus providing vegetation which was found to be a part of the birds' diet.

The director said it had been previously determined that the red legs were fond of greens and that they did not depend greatly on wild seeds and thus were not in competition with native game, such as quail which prefer weed seeds.

The stock of game birds from foreign lands was obtained through cooperation of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and the Wildlife Management Institute.

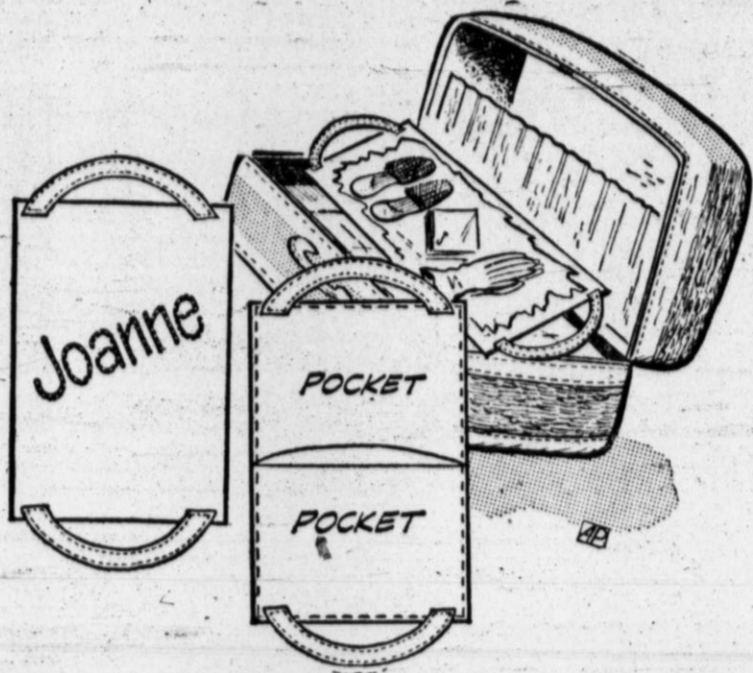

"Our interest in these imported birds is part of an endless research pattern to locate wildlife that can be adapted to Texas climatic conditions as a means of augmenting native stock," said the director. "It is a slow process but there always is the hope that the fabulous success of the Chinese ringneck pheasant, introduced to North Central states about the turn of the century, can be duplicated in this area."

Streamlined Suitcase Living

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Seasoned travelers have learned it's wise to streamline your suitcase living. Well-organized packing can make all the difference between happy traveling and chaos.

Plastic dividers, that you cut and machine stitch yourself, will solve certain packing problems by separating different outfits and keeping small items from sliding between the folds of dresses. As you unpack, each layer can be lifted out separately. When you've taken out what you need at any given time, you can replace all the other sections of clothing as units. The lining of your suitcase is protected, too, when you keep shoes and soiled clothing between these plastic sheaths. A sudsy sponge between trips — or they can be submerged safely in soap or detergent suds, if necessary.

SUITCASE ACCESSORIES—Plastic dividers, easy to make.

Now, while your trip is still in the planning stage, lug out your luggage and measure the dimensions of each piece. Local sewing center experts tell you how to make these dividers on your sewing machine.

Cut sheets of clear plastic to suitcase dimensions, as many as you wish. To make the handles, place a dinner plate over a double layer of plastic, draw around the edge with a soft pencil or chalk; center a small plate inside the first circle and trace its outline also. These circles should form a circle about one inch wide.

Machine stitch over these two pencil lines, using a fine needle and light pressure, then trim close to the stitching. This will leave a doughnut-like ring with a hole in the center. Next cut this ring in half and clip a couple of inches off the ends of each piece to bring the arc of the handle closer to the edge of the divider. The reason for using a large plate for a pattern is to make the handle long enough to be stitched near the edges of the divider's width, thereby distributing the weight and making each section easier to lift. Tape the handles to the sides of the flat oblong of plastic and then machine stitch in place — and you've made a very practical suitcase accessory.

Another tidy trick is to add pockets to your dividers. Besides being ideal for stockings and other dainties, pockets are a lifesaver when the few things you've washed are still slightly damp.

To make the pockets, take a sheet of plastic the size of your suitcase. Cut it in half. Place these two smaller pieces on top of the divider. Then stitch each pocket piece around three edges, leaving the top open. Thus you have one divider with two convenient pockets.

With these plastic dividers, suitcase living is a pleasure. And if it's not vacation time for you stitch a set as a going-away present for a lucky friend.

Brothers Reunited After 43 Years

TYLER (AP) — Brothers who had been separated by a War Department (now Defense Department) mistake for 43 years were united here early this year.

The two are Lawrence D. Allen, 61, of Tyler and J. E. Allen, 65, Huron, S. D.

During the 43 years of separation, both had sought to make contact.

Gives Up Hope

In 1926, Lawrence gave up hope when he was told by the War Department that a J. E. Allen of Luling, Tex., their birthplace, had been killed in France in World War I.

He returned home recently from the drug store where he works part time and found a message. "My brother's son had called my son, with whom I live, and told him Dade (J.E.) was alive and trying to get in contact with me. It was like hearing a voice from the grave."

"I sat by the phone a long time, thinking about it. I didn't want to call because I felt it might not be true and I couldn't be let down after having my hopes built up again after so many years."

But the telephone confirmed that Dade was alive.

Within a short time, Dade and his wife arrived for a week's visit.

Separation Explained

Lawrence Allen had one explanation of the separation:

"I guess I lived the life of a Gypsy. I've resided all over this country and spent a lot of time in Mexico and Canada. Usually, I wouldn't stay in a place over three months — not even long enough to get acquainted."

Strangely enough, Dade hadn't ever seen service in World War I. The separation began when Dade went north in 1914 to Minnesota, working as a railroad dispatcher, a job he has held almost all his life.

For a time, the brothers corresponded. Then came a period of not writing, both moved to other cities, and the trail was lost.

Dade, who unlike Lawrence has no reason to believe his brother dead, sought Lawrence but without success.

"I found places where he had been, but couldn't quite catch up with him," said Dade.

They finally were brought together through a friend of the brothers, request that police try to locate the brothers, and final success through the sons.

Beef consumption in the United States was 160 pounds per person last year, highest since 1908.
